THIRTY-FIVE CONVICTS DIE IN CAGE FIRE

Negroes on Mississippi Penal Farm Have Horrible Death.

Old Frame Building Without Protection Is Destroyed.

Onlookers Are Unable to Get Help to the Prisoners.

Jackson, Miss., July 22.—Trapped by flames in the second floor of an antiquated convict cage, thirty-five negro prisoners were burned to death at the Oakley convict farm, twenty miles from here, late last night.

While the flames ate away the only stairway leading to the second floor, the prisoners frantically tore at the heavy bars that securely covered the jail windows. Their screams brought guards and other prison attaches, but the flames drove back members of the rescue party each time they attempted to liberate the negroes, who, one by one, fell back into the flames and perished.

No Fire-Fighting Apparatus.

The building was constructed ten years ago of lumber taken from a discarded penitentiary, there was no fire-fighting apparatus at the farm, and the first floor of the building was filled with inflammable matter. Farmers living nearby hurried to the jail to help the fire-fighters, but the fire burned so rapidly they were of no assistance.

The convicts all were worked in the cotton fields of the state farm and were housed in the "cage" for the night. Among them were some desperate criminals serving long sentences.

The Oakley farm is one of the most important in the state, the state prison hospital being located there.

RIVAL WIDOWS WILL HAVE COMMON HOME

Both Deceived By Same Man, Whose Death Revealed Acts.

La Crosse, Wis., July 22.—A sequel to the exposure of the double life of Wilfred B. Frost, which came out at the time of his death in a Chicago hospital on Feb. 28, came today when the Chicago widow of Frost came to La Crosse, effected a reconciliation with the La Crosse widow and left with her and the latter's children for Chicago, the two women agreeing to make their home together for the rest of their lives.

At Chicago, Frost had a wife and two children, a son of 21 and a daughter of 19. At La Crosse, where he was known as Dr. Wilfred B. Montclair, he had a wife and two boys of 3 and 2 years. Until his death each family was in ignorance of the existence of the other, and Frost, or Montclair, was considered a model husband and father whose business took him away from home much of the time. The revelation of his double life prostrated both widows.

After reflection, the Chicago widow decided to do what she could to repair her husband's offense, by taking care of the La Crosse widow, young enough to be Frost's daughter, and his babes. The younger woman was persuaded to accompany the older to Chicago, where she was promised a good home and proper bringing up for her little ones, and the two heart-broken women left for that city together.

MORE RETURNING TO WORK AT PATERSON

Silk Weavers Will Vote Wednesday on Continuing Strike.

Paterson, N. J., July 22.—More employes returned to work at the silk mills today. Manufacturers declared that the strike of the dyers was over, that only a few small shops still were idle and these because of lack of work. The weavers will vote tomorrow on the question of continuing the strike. Many of the weaving mills are running and the employers hope that the rest will be in operation by next week.

SCHEIBE CONFIRMED FOR CLOQUET OFFICE

Other Minnesota Appointees Approved By the Senate.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, July 22.—The senate late yesterday confirmed the following Minnesota postmasters: M. Brixius, Watkins; C. H. Dickey, Wayzata; Erick Erickson, Murdock; William H. Franklin, Dodge Center; P. O. Fricklund, Badger; Alfred W. Johnson, Sebeka; C. F. Lieberman, Clarkfield; E. S. Scheibe, Cloquet; Louis A. Schwantz, Evansville.

CORN PRODUCTS PLANT CLOSES

Waukegan, Ill., July 22.—The local plant of the Corn Products Refining company, employing 500 men, was closed today for an indefinite period. Supt. Charles E. Bert declines to discuss the reasons for the action, but admitted he did not know when the plant would reopen. Many of the employes think that the shutdown may be permanent. The company established the plant here twenty-five years ago.

NO TALK BY DEMOCRATS

They Will Leave the Tariff Speeches to the Republicans.

Smoot of Utah Resumes Criticism of the New Bill.

Washington, July 22.—Senate Democrats declared today that few set tariff speeches would come from their side of the chamber. Senator Gallinger, leader of the Republicans, was in difficulty finding Republican senators ready to speak in opposition to the bill, following Senator Smoot.

"We are not going to take up time debating this bill," said Chairman Simmons of the finance committee. "If the bill proves not to be for the benefit of the country, it will demonstrate that our ideas of the tariff are wrong; if it proves to be well for the country, it will demonstrate that the opposition is wrong. That is all there is to this proposition, and we are ready and anxious now to pass the bill. It is going to pass."

Smoot Resumes Speech.

Senator Smoot today resumed his argument against the Underwood-Simmons tariff bill. He discussed first the agricultural schedule.

"The provisions of the house bill" he said, "to admit meat, hides, wool and so forth free, while imposing a duty on cattle and certain other live stock, were so clearly an attempt to deceive the farmers that the majority party in the senate is to be congratulated for seeking to make the provisions more consistent. In doing this they have, however, added to the injury already provided for by the house, and instead of making meats, etc., dutiable, the bill now adds livestock to the free list.

"With meats free it will help concentrate the control of those products in the hands of what are known as the beef barons, and will help kill off small dealers and throttle competition. The expense of feeding and the shrinkage of carcass are eliminated in transporting beef, hence a large corporation with facilities for importing dressed beef can save a good deal in labor, feeding, etc. When no duty is imposed it will be a discrimination against the farmer and others raising livestock in this country.

"But if meat, etc., is to be admitted free, it is better that the deception should be done away with and livestock also allowed to come in free. Eighty-five per cent of the corn raised in this country is used for livestock. The importation of meats and of live cattle will give a tremendous advantage to Canada, Mexico, Argentina and other such countries at the expense of the home producer. It will strengthen the grip of the large packer and will not, in any probability, reduce the cost of meats a particle to the consumer."

TAKES BOSS' CAR ON 1,200-MILE JOY RIDE

First Stocks It for Two Years at Owner's Expense.

Kansas City, Mo., July 22. — Ralph Reynor, under arrest at Portsmouth, Va., charged with the theft of a motor car valued at $3,600 from his employer, Col. Willis Wood, a capitalist of this city, is believed to have established a record in long distance joy riding. News of Reynor's arrest was received by the local police last night.

The police say that Reynor was driving Col. Wood's seven-passenger car when arrested, and that he had traveled a distance estimated at 1,200 miles in less than twelve days.

Before leaving here, Reynor equipped the car with all accessories needed for a 2-year journey and charged them to his employer. He also obtained 500 choice cigars on Col. Wood's credit.

SHOOTS ESTRANGED WIFE AND HIMSELF

Kansas City Man Asks for Kiss and Fires Bullet.

Kansas City, Mo., July 22.—"Kiss me good-bye, and I'll go away and never bother you again."

With this request, Albert Snyder, 36 years old, approached his wife, Olivette G. Snyder, today, as she was about to enter a downtown store where she was employed as bookkeeper. He threw his arm about her neck and fired a bullet into her forehead. He then fired a bullet into his own brain.

At the general hospital it was said recovery of either is doubtful.

The Snyders had not been living together, and recently Mrs. Snyder had instituted proceedings for divorce. Snyder is a machinist.

NEW FLOUR RATE IS TO BE LOOKED INTO

Commerce Commission Will Study Advance in West.

Washington, July 22.—An increase in the freight rate on flour from points in Kansas and other Middle Western states to California terminals from 65 to 75 cents per 100 pounds, today was suspended by the interstate commerce commission until Nov. 22. An investigation of the proposed advance will be made.

KILLED BY FLYER THAT NEVER FLEW

Chalons, France, July 22.—Lieut. Gabriel, French military aviator, was killed today and his comrade, Sapper Malarte, was badly injured while experimenting with a new aeroplane at Mourmelon. As the men started the motor one of the wheels of the aeroplane caught in a rut. The machine toppled over and the motor fell on top of them.

FEAR MURDER OF HEIR TO THE THRONE OF NORWAY

ROYAL FAMILY OF NORWAY.

Christiania, July 22.—It is reported that the king and queen are greatly disturbed over reports of plans to murder Crown Prince Olaf. An armed man was found hiding a week ago in the gardens where little Olaf plays. The queen is said to be anxious to leave Norway, particularly because a bill now before the storthing virtually, it is claimed, puts a premium on Olaf's head. The bill provides that if the king and queen die without a male heir Norway shall become a republic.

HOLY WAR PREDICTED

Calcutta Papers Warn England Against Coercing the Turks.

Occupation of Adrianople By Turkish Troops Is Denied.

Calcutta, India, July 22.—The advance of the Turkish troops across the frontier line from Enos on the Aegean sea to Midia on the Black sea, which was arranged between Bulgaria and Turkey after the recent war, has been received with hearty rejoicing by the Mohammedans of India.

The newspapers here assert that any attempt on the part of Great Britain to coerce Turkey into abandoning her new projects will lead to a dangerous Mohammedan agitation.

Asquith Scores Balkans.

Birmingham, England, July 22.—The prime minister characterized the spectacle presented by the Balkan states as "disheartening and repellant" in a speech at the chamber of commerce centenary banquet here last night. On the one hand, he said, were the Balkan states drenching with another's blood the territory their united efforts had freed from Turkish rule; on the other hand was Turkey disregarding the treaty of London, on which the ink was scarcely dry, and taking advantage of the difference between her late enemies to recover her lost territory.

The powers, continued Mr. Asquith, were doing everything possible to bring the disputants to a peaceful con-

WAR PALSIES SOUTH CHINA

Trade is Paralyzed and Canton Business Houses Close.

Hongkong Merchants Believe Republic Will Crush the Revolt.

Canton, China, July 22. — Trade throughout Southern China has been paralyzed by the proclamation of the independence of the province of Kwang Tung. The incident has created a feeling of great anxiety in this city. Stores have been closed and many of the merchants have telegraphed to shippers not to consign goods here for the present.

A great many people have left the city in junks, and others have gone to the north on foot. Thousands more have flocked into the Portuguese colony of Macao and into Hongkong. Among the latter are many officials, who have retired from their posts carrying with them millions of dollars in silver and paper money.

Expect Early End to Revolt.

There is a strong feeling of resentment throughout the southern provinces against the policy of Provisional President Yuan Shi Kai, but it is felt in most quarters that it will be impossible to resist him long, as he commands a large trained army, possesses money and has the support of the great powers.

The fact that the merchants of Hongkong do not sympathize with the independence movement is regarded

McCARTER IS GAGGED

MULHALL RETRACTS PORTION OF CHARGES.

Washington, July 22.—Martin M. Mulhall, the lobby witness before the senate committee, today retracted his charges that Former Representative Watson of Indiana was employed by private interests while a member of congress, to work for a tariff commission bill. Mulhall said he "was mistaken."

Washington, July 22.—Attorneys for the National Association of Manufacturers may not be permitted to cross-examine Martin M. Mulhall, the confessed lobbyist, before the senate investigating committee.

When Attorney Robert McCarter, for the manufacturers, today suggested cross-examination of Mulhall on his story that Former Representative James E. Watson of Indiana had been paid a retainer of $500 and a weekly salary of $250 to work for the passage of a tariff commission bill, with a promise of an additional $10,000 if the bill was successful, Senator Reed, the committee's leading questioner, declared himself against cross-examination, but proposed that questions be submitted to the committee. The point was not finally decided.

Mulhall today swore that he drew $500 from a Baltimore bank to be paid to Watson.

Hemenway's Name Mentioned.

Mulhall swore that Watson had made the office of James A. Emery here his headquarters after he was defeated for governor of Indiana in 1908. Emery, Mulhall swore, was the "chief lobbyist" for the manufacturers. The witness declared today that Former Senator Hemenway of Indiana occupied rooms

NO ACTION ON MEXICO

President Wilson Spends Day Studying Reports of Situation.

Ambassador Will Not Reach Washington Until Saturday.

Minnesota Historical Society ST PAUL Minn

WANTS INTERVENTION.

Washington, July 22.—Representative William H. Murray of Oklahoma, known as "Alfalfa Bill," introduced an elaborate set of resolutions today in which he invites the senate to concur, directing intervention in Mexico if order and peace are not restored within thirty days after President Wilson shall issue a proclamation to that effect. Murray's resolutions characterize Provisional President Huerta as an "usurping marauder," "a black handed murderer" and his regime as "founded upon treachery, duplicity and murder."

Washington, July 22.—The regular cabinet meeting slated for today was not held because at the last moment it was discovered that most of the secretaries were out of town. President Wilson denied himself to callers and remained in his study, taking up state department reports and papers on the Mexican situation and considering the proposed Nicaraguan treaty.

Changes in the plans of Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson, now hurrying north from Mexico City, so that he will continue from Havana to New York by sea instead of landing at Key West and proceeding by rail to Washington, are expected to make a day's difference in the time of the ambassador's arrival. The conference at which Mr. Wilson is to lay before the president and Secretary Bryan a first-hand report of the situation in Mexico, upon which some important development may be based, probably will not take place before Saturday.

Meanwhile the situation, so far as the United States is concerned, seems to be unchanged.

Changes His Plans.

Havana, July 22.—The United States ambassador to Mexico, Henry Lane Wilson, instead of proceeding to Washington by way of Key West as originally planned, has decided to go to New York on board the Mexico, sailing at noon.

Louisiana at Tuxpan.

Washington, July 22.—The battleship Louisiana, which sailed from Vera Cruz under rush orders, has arrived at Tuxpan to protect Americans whose lives and property are endangered by fighting between the Federals and the revolutionists.

Cities Threatened.

Coahuila, Mex., July 20, via Eagle Pass, Texas, July 22.—Constitutionalists are operating from Coahuila against the following cities held by Federals in North Mexico: Torreon, Saltillo, Monterey, Lampa-

BUST STOLEN FROM ATHENS IS RECOVERED

Treasure 3,000 Years Old Is Dug Up in Baltimore Cellar.

Baltimore, Md., July 22.—A piece of Greek sculpture, the bust of a female child of about 5 years of age, stolen from the National Museum at Athens fifteen years ago and said to be of priceless value and 3,000 years old, was recovered by the local police today. The figure was dug up in the cellar of Charles Nemphos, a Greek confectioner at Hampden, a suburb.

PROBE ORE RATES ON SOUTH SHORE ROAD

Commerce Commissioners Hear Statement By Auditor Delf.

Chicago, July 22.—An investigation into the operating expenses of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railroad was made today before the interstate commerce commission to determine the reasonableness of the company's rate of 30 cents a ton on iron ore.

A. E. Delf, auditor of the road, submitted a report showing the mileage of the railroad and the extent of its iron ore traffic. He testified that the railroad had 597 miles of trackage, only 88 miles of which were used exclusively in the handling of its ore trade. He stated that the total cost of handling the ore traffic on the line in 1911 amounted to $10,828.88.

MEET TO TALK ABOUT MELLEN'S SUCCESSOR

Six Directors of the New Haven Road Gather at New York.

New York, July 22.—A committee of six directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, recently appointed by the board, met today to choose a successor to President Charles S. Mellen, whose resignation will take effect not later than Oct. 1.

Theodore N. Vail, chairman of the committee, said the matter required careful deliberation, and that no selection might be made today.

Among the prominent railroad men who have been discussed in connection with this office are Edward E. Loomis, vice president of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western; Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio; Howard Elliott, president of the Northern Pacific; Ralph Peters, president of the Long Island, and W. W. Atterbury, first vice president of the Pennsylvania.

TWO DIE IN WRECK ON THE IRON RANGE

Ore Trains Come Together on Double Track Near Colby.

One Train Had Traveled on Wrong Track Five Miles.

Both Firemen Killed and Four Other Men Are Injured.

Two men were killed and four injured early today in a head-on collision between two ore trains on the Duluth & Iron Range railroad near Colby station, five miles from Allen Junction. Downright carelessness by the men operating the upbound train, which was light, is given as the reason for the collision.

There is a double track at the place where the accident occurred. The northbound train was on the wrong track and had been for five miles.

The dead are:
GUST CARLSON, fireman.
ALBERT HAPPLEBACH, fireman.
Seriously injured:
W. M. Fortman, brakeman.
Slightly injured:
Harry Moe, brakeman.
William Blake, engineer.
I. W. Foote, engineer.

The accident occurred at 3:10 this morning. Conductor L. M. Forgy was in charge of the southbound train, which carried a heavy load of ore. William Blake was at the throttle of No. 203. Edward C. Gallagher was the conductor on the upbound train, which was made up of a long string of empties. The engineer was Foote.

There is a slight grade near Colby and the trains came together with a terrific crash. The light train was on the southbound track, and later investigation developed that it had been traveling on the wrong rails for five miles.

Nine empty cars left the track. There was little chance to jump. The engineers got away by a leap but a remarkable feature of the collision is that the fireman on each train was killed. It is surmised that they might have been throwing in coal at the moment before the collision and had not the slightest chance to jump, while the engineers, with their heads out of the cab window, used the moment's opportunity to leap. Fourteen lengths of rails were torn up.

Thomas Owens, superintendent of the Duluth & Iron Range, was quickly notified and began an investigation. Then it was learned that for five miles before the terrific crash occurred the northbound train had been traveling on the wrong side of the railroad.

"How any sober or sane railroad men could have gone that distance without discovering their mistake is more than I can understand," said Mr. Owens.

THIEF IS BETRAYED BY JEALOUS SPOUSE

She Hunts Him Down for Police When Other Woman Appears.

Chicago, July 22.—How a wife's jealousy caused her to supply information which led to her husband's betrayal to the police was revealed today when Detective Charles F. Mellen of New Orleans left Chicago for the Southern city with Jules A. Zatarain, 32 years old, who is wanted there on a larceny charge involving $3,700. Zatarain was arrested here yesterday.

Zatarain formerly owned a tailor shop in New Orleans and succeeded in obtaining $3,700 worth of cloth from a Chicago firm without paying for it by gaining the confidence of an employe of an express company.

The goods had been shipped C. O. D., but Zatarain is said to have induced the express company to deliver them without collecting the amount due. Later Zatarain disappeared, but subsequently was seen in New Orleans in company with a woman not his wife. The wife traced the couple to Chicago, notified the police and his arrest followed.

NINE INJURED WHEN BUILDING COLLAPSES

Pittsburg, Pa., July 22.—Nine workmen who were crushed by the collapse of Kaufmann Bros.' department store building last night will survive their injuries, which consisted chiefly of lacerations and bruises. The building is located in the busiest downtown section, and is being dismantled preparatory to erecting a new structure.

After the crash the streets were roped off while firemen and police surgeons dug out the men who had been buried by the debris that had been carried down from the fifth floor. Street cars were re-routed because of the unsafe condition of the walls that were standing.

DYNAMITE BLOWS WRESTLER TO BITS

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., July 22.—A stick of dynamite in the hip pocket of Martin Funk exploded and blew him to pieces when he fell today during a playful wrestling match with his brother near Germantown. Rowland Funk, the brother, suffered the loss of his left hand. Martin was 18 years old. Both boys resided in Hudson.

FORTY GIRLS MAY BE DEAD IN FIRE

Binghamton, N. Y., July 22.—Forty girls are believed to have lost their lives in the burning of the Binghamton Clothing company's building here this afternoon.

POEMS ON JAIL WALLS

Muse Lures Men Behind Bars in Duluth's City Lock-up.

Solitary confinement in jail or prison has been the cause of many an epic or prose masterpiece in the past 1,000 years, and while the city jail is much better than the old dungeons, it still houses many a poet and author.

On almost every wall in the city jail are poems written by the prisoners, who almost always become homesick and lonely sitting in their dreary cells. Many of these poems lack polish and proper arrangements, but they are nevertheless commendable for the good, clean thought they express.

Among the poems and warnings given young men by these prison-authors are the following, the first of which, "Ten Years in Sing Sing," is interesting:

Ten Years in Sing Sing.

"As the evening twilight shadows fall
Around the old gray wall;
And as I lay down to sleep within my prison cell,
I think of one kind heart
'Twas hard from her to part,
And on my mind home and liberty do dwell.
'Twas on a Thursday night, the moon
was shining bright;
How little did I know, when I struck that fatal blow,
It would land me in a lonely prison cell.

"Now, come all young men, take heed
From a poor outcast, in need,
Don't leave that dear old home you love so well.
Don't ramble 'round at night,
Don't gamble, steal or fight,
For you will find yourself locked in a lonely prison cell.

"Last night I had a dream,
How happy I did seem,
As I sat upon my dear old mother's knee;
As she sat in her old armchair
She gently brushed my hair,
And blessings of advice she gave to me.
She prayed to God above, to guide, protect and love
Her only son, the boy she loved so well.

"But alas, when I awoke,
I found it was all a joke,
For I was still locked in a lonely prison cell.
"GEORGE KID."

"Here's to our fathers and mothers,
Here's to the old folks at home,
Here's to the kiss that they gave us
When first we started to roam.

Here's to our fathers and mothers,
As they sit by the fire so bright,
And tenderly say, as they kneel down to pray,
'Where is our boy tonight.'
"GEORGE KID."

"Take advice from me, when you are a crook, you are bound to get caught sometime or other. Wiser crooks than you have been caught. I will tell you where all the wise crooks
are. They are in the penitentiary,
Sing Sing or Stillwater. When you are only a rummy, you are far better off than a crook. A rummy lives to 73 years of age, anyway.

Bible Lectures.
A series of Bible lectures is being conducted this week by Evangelist B. C. Hall in a waterproof tent at Thirteenth avenue east and Fourth street. The subjects for the week are: tonight, "Returning to Father's House;" Wednesday, "The Sanctuary and Its Services;" Thursday, "The 2,300 Days of Dan. 8:14;" Friday, "A Court Scene in Heaven." Services are scheduled to begin at 7:45 o'clock every evening. A question box will be one of the features of the meetings.

Park Point for Picnics.
Park Point offers the best spot in Duluth for family picnics. The children enjoy romping in the sand and along the lake shore. The Park Point street railway gives splendid service and a trip over the line is enjoyed by young and old.

At Summer Home.
Judge C. L. Lewis, who has been suffering from an attack of neuritis is now at Shell Lake, Wis. He was in a sanitarium at Shakopee, but has recovered sufficiently to go to his summer home at Shell Lake.

Memorial Exercises.
Memorial exercises will be conducted Sunday evening at 8 o'clock at Adas Israel synagogue, Third avenue east and Third street, in honor of Dr. Theodor Herzel, founder of political Zionism. Admission will be free and no collection will be taken.

Must Get Licenses.
Safety Commissioner Hicken has announced that the law relative to the sale of cigarettes will be enforced in Duluth. It is claimed that a number of dealers are selling the "pills" and the "makin's" without having paid the required license fee of $25 for two years. Some have made their applications but have not paid in the money. But one warning will be given after which the delinquents will be arrested.

Boy Left Home.
Ben Kisner, 20 years old, who left his home early last week, has not yet returned and his parents are anxious. Young Kisner did not say where he was going when he left home and the members of the family have appealed to the police.

Wife Seeks Divorce.
Ida Ellen Higgison, 25 years old, filed suit for divorce and alimony against her husband William Higgison, 42, in district court yesterday afternoon. The action is brought on the grounds of cruelty. Not only has he slapped and attempted to choke her on various occasions, she says, but has also wrongfully accused her of infidelity. Since April 1, she claims, he has contributed nothing towards her support or the maintenance of the children. She asks for the custody of their two children. She has one child by a former marriage. The Higgisons were married at Winnipeg, Nov. 5, 1905.

Dies in Chicago.
News has been received in Duluth of the death in Chicago of Charles Leland, who was formerly in the grain business here. He was a son of the late G. A. Leland.

Judgments Entered.
In district court this morning two judgments by default were entered by the clerk of the court. Schulze Bros. company, doing business as J. H. Constantine company, have judgment against Charles Ely for $60.93, and the Rust-Parker-Martin company have J. Schmolke & Son as judgment debtors to the amount of $145.94.

Young Man Missing.
Julius Heinecke of Olivia, Minn., has sent a communication to Chief Troyer asking the latter to locate his son Percy, 18 years old, who has been missing from his home since last fall. Young Heinecke left his home last September to work in a lumber camp near Duluth. Two young men who were with him have returned home, while Percy has not been heard from since March. His parents are very anxious to learn of his whereabouts.

"Broke" and Injured.
John J. Archer, 26 years old, walked into the office of the clerk of the poor commission this morning, declared that he was "dead broke" and that he was suffering from a broken hand. He stated that he was from Aurora, Minn., and that while in a livery stable there a horse kicked him, breaking the bones in his left hand. He will be taken to the county hospital this afternoon for treatment.

License Suspended.
The local vessel inspector has suspended the license of Capt. James A. Fleck for fifteen days. Capt. Fleck was in command of the steamer Charles Weston when she went ashore near Two Harbors on June 27 last.

Prisoners From Virginia.
Capt. D. E. Stevens, deputy sheriff, left this morning for Virginia, where he will take charge of Joseph and Tony Ivankolch, two men under arrest for assaulting a police officer. The prisoners will be brought to Duluth and placed in the county jail to await trial at the range term of court.

GOLF STARS IN CLOSE CONTEST

Patrick and Leith Play Even With Legg and Dowd George.

R. S. Patrick and Willie Leith have returned from Minneapolis, where the Northland pair met Harry Legg, the state amateur champion, and Dowd George, the famous professional instructor of the Interlachen Club of Minneapolis.

On Sunday at Minneapolis Patrick and Leith defeated their rivals, the Duluthians winning out by the very narrow margin of a 10-foot put, and in the defeat on Sunday of the Duluth pair the margin of victory of the Minneapolitans was also very close.

The return match will be held on the Northland links, next Saturday and Sunday.

As these games should provide by far the best golf that has been seen on the Northland links during the present season, it is expected that there will be much interest shown in the games and that a very large and enthusiastic gallery will be on hand to witness them.

FORMER PITCHER VIOLENTLY INSANE

"Wee Willie" Sudhoff Taken to St. Louis Hospital.

St. Louis, Mo., July 22.—"Wee Willie" Sudhoff, one time star pitcher of the St. Louis Browns, is reported to be violently insane in the observation ward of the city hospital. The strength of two policemen was required to remove him from his home to the hospital last night.

Physicians who examined Sudhoff today declared that his present mental condition was due to some old injury to the head. Baseball players assert that "Wee Willie" was one more added to the list of "beam ball" victims, recalling that he was hit on the head with a pitched ball while playing with St. Louis in 1905.

Sudhoff's mania takes the form of trying to divest himself of all his clothing, which is regarded by his former associates as a strange reversal of a whim which he had after being injured in a railroad wreck when traveling with the Browns to Cleveland in 1904. President Hedges of the Browns said today that never after that wreck would Sudhoff remove his clothing when traveling.

In 1903 Sudhoff was in his prime as a pitcher. He retired at the end of the season of 1905 and went into the clothing business. For the past three years he has worked as an oiler at one of the waterworks stations. He is 38 years old and married. It was at the request of his wife that he was taken to the hospital.

NEW GOLF RECORD IS ESTABLISHED

Milwaukee Man Holes Out in One From First Tee.

Chicago, July 22.—A world's golfing record was established in the elimination play of the Western championship tournament at the Homewood Country club by E. P. Allis, III, of Milwaukee. The young man holed out in one from the first tee, the first time in recorded annals of the game that such a feat has been accomplished at the distance —290 yards. Allis' drive was perfect, according to experts, who said the ball would not have rolled six inches further, had it missed the cup.

"Chick" Evans, present Western champion, scored a two on the Eighteenth green, his brilliant work netting him a 73, the best thus far of the tournament. Yesterday his card totaled 78, so his total of 151 for the complete 36-hole qualifying round put him ahead at least temporarily for medal score honors.

FORKERS WIN MORNING GAME

Handschu Is Hit Hard and Minneapolis Bronks Drop Contest.

Grand Forks, N. D., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Grand Forks defeated Minneapolis, 6 to 4, this morning. Handschu was hit hard in four innings and wild baseball back of him gave him little chance to hold Grand Forks. Paul Morse had one bad inning, allowing two singles, a double and walking two in the seventh, the result being four tallies. The Grand Forks outfield played spectacular ball. Score:

Batteries—Handschu and Handschu; Morse and Edmunds.

CUP IS PRESENTED.

T. F. Cole Turns Over Golf Trophy to Northland Games Committee.

The magnificent loving cup that has been presented to the Northland Country club by President Thomas F. Cole, and which will be played for by the Northland and Portage Lake Club of Houghton, just as the Calverey cup was contested yearly between the two clubs, until it became the permanent property of the Duluth club, has been turned over to the games committee of the Northland club.

There will be a meeting of the members of this committee to formulate the rules under which the trophy will be played for. It is believed that the first game for the permanent possession of the cup will be played sometime this fall.

As in the case of the Calverey cup, it will require three wins to gain permanent possession of the trophy.

SECOND RACE OF WHITE BEAR SERIES

St. Paul, Minn., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Cloudy skies and puffy winds made the outlook for the second event, the race late today between the yacht Nomad of White Bear, and the Verve of Winnipeg, promising of sensational sailing. The American boat yesterday won the first event over the 12-mile course, and if it can repeat the performance today, again will win the Cameron cup, which it now holds from last year.

If the Canadian boat wins today, the third race will be held tomorrow.

Shannon Out of Game.

Grand Forks, N. D., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—"Spike" Shannon, who has been with the St. Paul Colts a week, left that aggregation here and departed last night for his home in Minneapolis. Shannon, six years a star with McGraw of the New York Nations, erstwhile manager of the Virginia club in the Northern league, is having trouble with his feet and decided to abandon the game for the remainder of the season.

Joe Gerlach, catcher for Grand Forks, was also released last night.

ST. PAUL SHOPLIFTER PAYS FINE OF $50

Saintly City Police Tell Chicago Officers They Do Not Know Her.

Chicago, July 22.—"Mary Doe," aged 29, who yesterday said her name was Mary Boudin of St. Paul, was fined $50 and costs by Municipal Judge Williams today on a charge of larceny. She was charged with stealing silk waists valued at $60 from a downtown department store.

St. Paul officials wired the police that the woman was not known in that city.

When shown the telegram in court the woman admitted having given an incorrect address, but insisted she lived in St. Paul and that her husband was a wealthy real estate dealer. She paid her fine and said she intended to return to St. Paul.

PEDDLER ALLOWED TO LEAVE THE CITY

Mayer A. Fingole, who was arrested last night for violating the hawking ordinance, was discharged in police court this morning. Fingole has agreed to leave the city at once, co the case against him was dismissed.

Fingole was operating a stand at Second avenue west and Superior street, and had procured a license when he came here allowing him to peddle on the streets. He was arrested by Sergeant Roberg last evening for selling after 7 o'clock at night. Fingole claimed he knew nothing about a time limit and was very much incensed at his arrest. His ball of $15 was returned to him this morning.

MISSISSIPPI SUES FOR FIFTY MILLION

Demands That I. C. and Y. & M. V. Roads Leave the State.

Clarksdale, Miss., July 2..—The state of Mississippi today brought suit here against the Illinois Central and the Yazoo & Mississippi Valley railroads, asking $50,000,000 in penalties for alleged violation of a law forbidding consolidation of parallel and competing lines of railroads, and demanding that the two roads be ordered to cease doing business in the state.

SUFFRAGETTES BURN VACANT MANSION

Leave Placards Demanding the Release of Mrs. Pankhurst.

London, July 22.—A militant suffragette "arson squad" early today set fire to a large unoccupied mansion at Perry Bar near Birmingham and burned it to the ground. Placards were posted in the vicinity bearing the words "Asquith is to blame" and "release Mrs. Pankhurst."

Sylvia Pankhurst, whose license expired Sunday, dramatically defied the police by appearing at the Bromley town hall last night, where she was arrested a fortnight ago. She and other suffragettes, made inflammatory speeches, and left the hall accompanied by a protecting body guard. There was a violent collision with the police, but Miss Pankhurst escaped.

SHOGRAN DID NOT BEAT WIFE

Poor Commissioner Freed From Charge in Municipal Court.

In municipal court this morning, the case against Charles Shogran, clerk of the poor commission, charged with having assaulted his wife, was dismissed on the grounds of insufficient evidence.

Mrs. Shogran, it developed, has been suffering from a mental derangement for several months and labors under the impression that she is being abused. About a week ago she brought her story to Frank Hicks of the free legal aid bureau who advised her, she says, to swear out a warrant for her husband's arrest. When the facts were laid before the court this morning, the case was immediately dismissed.

Mrs. Shogran made a demonstration in the court room and had to be removed by four officers. She has been before the probate court once to be examined as to her sanity and she may be brought up again.

CHOOSE NAME FOR EXPOSITION WEEK

Sept. 22 to 27 Will Be Busy Time in Zenith City.

"Second Annual Duluth Exposition Week" was the name selected by the general committee today for the period Sept. 22 to 27. The name covers the second industrial exposition, agricultural and cattle show, home products dinner and the fall openings of the Retail Merchants' association.

The committee which had charge of the laying out of booth space reported that seventy-eight booths may be arranged on the main floor, and the total number will be about 100 when all of the space is utilized. The committee to interest exhibitors will be appointed next week.

The finance committee appointed today consists of H. V. Eva, George M. Peterson and George H. Bate. The committee in charge of the construction of booths consists of George M. Peterson, Alex Anderson and Clyde W. Kelly.

The chairmen of the sub-committees will act as the executive committee.

WILL MAKE MOVIES OF DULUTH AND MINES

State Immigration Board Will Send Films on State Car.

St. Paul, Minn., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The state immigration board today decided to send out men Aug. 1 to take 10,000 feet of moving pisture films showing Minnesota's resolrces. The films will include scenes in the iron mines in St. Louis county, the lake shipping scenes of Duluth, plowing, seeding, harrowing and marketing on Minnesota farms, and a creamery scene.

These films will be shown in connection with the exhibit car which the commission will send out this fall to the states south and east of Minnesota.

FIGHT EXTENSION OF THE PARCEL POST

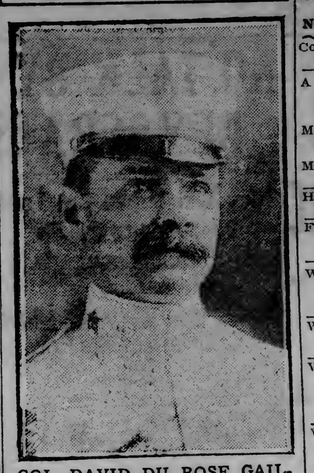

Burleson Is Ordered to Show Authority for His Plans.

Washington, July 22.—Postmaster General Burleson was summoned today to appear before the senate postoffice committee Thursday to explain by what authority he proposes to reduce parcel post rates. The summons is believed to be the start of a fight to prevent the extension of the parcel post system as proposed in plans recently announced.

BIG MINE ROYALTIES.

St. Paul, Minn., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Remittances aggregating $223,000 for iron ore royalties from state mines were received yesterday and today by State Auditor Iverson, and by him turned over to the state treasurer. These cover the royalties during the quarter ended June 30.

IS CANDIDATE FOR GEN. BIXBY'S PLACE

COL. DAVID DU BOSE GAILLARD.

Col. David Du Bose Gaillard, who has charge of the Pacific division of the Panama canal, is a candidate to succeed Brig. Gen. W. H. Bixby, chief of engineers, U. S. A., who will retire Dec. 27. Other men mentioned for the position are Lieut. Col. William L. Sibert and Col. George W. Goethals.

Col. Gaillard was born at Fulton, Sumter county, South Carolina, Sept. 4, 1859. He is a graduate of the United States military academy.

Capt. Gaillard formerly was stationed at the United States engineer's office at Duluth, Minn.

WILL ABIDE BY DECISION

Great Northern Road Not Planning to Dodge Low Rates.

Notwithstanding reports to the contrary, the Great Northern railroad has no intention of "bucking" the two-cent rate as laid down by a decision of the United States supreme court. The point is simply this—it takes a long time to readjust tariffs, particularly where the railroads felt confident that they would win and several roads took no steps to abide by a decision against them until the mandate was actually made.

As a matter of fact, more than half of the Great Northern tariffs have been made. But the Soo and Northwestern have been just as deficient in bringing out new schedules. The fact that these railroads go through Wisconsin has little to do with it. A 2-cent rate prevails there.

Notwithstanding all this clamor, it can be said that the Great Northern is to adjust its tariffs according to the spirit of the law. Those in effect now are temporary, according to the bulletin from headquarters.

TALKED HIMSELF INTO ASYLUM

James Flannigan, 54 years old, is a human chatterbox, capable of talking on three or four subjects at the same time and at the whirlwind speed of 400 words a minute or thereabouts.

Anyway, Flannigan talked so fast yesterday afternoon in the office of the Associated Charities that five minutes of his rapid lingo seemed like a three hours' sermon.

It was impossible to follow him. Every now and then he would let out a tirade on public officials, in which some choice adjectives were brought into play.

No one has discovered what he came into the charities' office for. He talked incessantly but incoherently and stopped only to catch his breath.

Flannigan was finally removed to the probate court. There he was examined as to his sanity and committed to the state hospital for the insane at Fergus Falls.

13 13-YEAR-OLD BATHERS PINCHED

St. Paul, Minn., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Thirteen boys, nearly all of them 13 years old, were arrested last night for violating the bathing ordinance, the specific charge being that their attire was too scanty. "De minnit I counted de gang and saw dey was thirteen of us I knowed somethin' would happen," said one lad at the police station.

The boys are to appear in juvenile court.

POUNDMASTER IS TUG-OF-WAR VICTOR

Pulls on Ram's Horn Against Irate Owner of Animal.

A tug-of-war, with the instrument of warfare a pair of horns on a male sheep, was the interesting contest which took place between the wife of a foreigner and West Duluth's well-known poundmaster, Capt. Jacob W. Mann, late yesterday afternon. The hardy captain won out after a riot call had been sent to the police station which brought Patrolman Root and other officers to the scene.

While the contest lasted, which was for about fifteen minutes, the ram was tugged and hauled backwards and forwards as each contestant would gain a small advantage. Neighbors looked on and cheered each contestant as an apparent victory was swinging from one way to the other.

The contest started because of a complaint made to the poundmaster that the sheep was sampling freely the garden stuffs growing in the yards of people living in the vicinity of Fifty-eighth and Raleigh street. The sheep was not particular what he sampled, delicious radishes and young cabbages being preferable to the ordinary weeds. Capt. Mann cornered the animal in one of the back lots, and when so doing was seen by its owner, who protested vigorously.

The appearance of other officers on the scene enabled the poundmaster to take the animal to the pound, and he claims the owner will have to pay for its redemption.

ISSUE PERMIT FOR NEW CHURCH

A $9,000 permit was issued this morning by the city building inspector's office to the St. Elizabeth's parish of New Duluth for the construction of its new handsome edifice. The work started about ten days ago, and is now well under way.

The church is being erected on property owned by the parish located on Grand avenue at a distance about half way between Gary and New Duluth. It is estimated that when completed it will have cost about $12,500.

The building will be constructed with a stone foundation and brick superstructure. It will have a full basement part of which will be equipped for club rooms for the church's various societies. The main auditorium will have a seating capacity for about 350 people, while the balcony will give an additional seating capacity for 350.

It is expected that the building will be completed so that the church can be dedicated late this fall. This ceremony will be made the occasion of a big celebration by the New Duluth congregation.

Funeral Postponed.

The funeral of Mike Bagich, 26 years old, who died Sunday at St. Luke's hospital, and which was scheduled for this afternoon has been postponed until tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. It will take place from Fillatrault's undertaking rooms. Interment will be made in Oneota cemetery.

SIXTY CANS OF FISH FRY RECEIVED

Sixty cans of fish fry were received yesterday from the state game and fish commission by Deputy Game Warden Archie Boyd. The fry was distributed among the various streams in the vicinity of West Duluth.

Among the streams into which the fry was dumped were Mission, Rocky Run, Midway, Hay, and Keene's creeks. The fry is said to have been of a larger size than formerly sent. Those who assisted in taking the cans to the various creeks and lakes were W. F. Hurst, Dr. C. R. Keyes, Elim J. Zauft, Dr. W. E. Judson, Walter M. Evered and a number of other automobile owners.

Royal League Picnic.

At a meeting of the West Duluth and Pocahontas councils of the Royal League to be held this evening at the West Duluth Commercial clubrooms, final plans will be made for the annual picnic to be held next Sunday at Fond du Lac. Following the business session this evening a social program has been planned and it is expected that a large percentage of the members turn out.

The committee in charge of the picnic has planned to have a ball game between the West Duluth and the Zenith councils. Basket lunches will be carried by the members. The members will take the Fond du Lac train, leaving the West Duluth station at 8:45 a. m. and spend the entire day at the picnic grounds.

The committee in charge of the arrangements is composed of: M. J. Murray, chairman; Carl Nelson, E. G. Kreidler, T. F. Olsen and E. W. Lund from West Duluth council, and Mrs. M. J. Murray, Mrs. E. W. Boerner, Mrs. E. J. Zauft and Miss Merle Wright from Pocahontas council.

Picnic for Children.

The little folks, children of members of the lodge, will be the guests of honor at an entertainment to be given by Zenith camp No. 1027, Royal Neighbors of America, Friday evening at the Great Eastern hall, 210 North Central avenue. The program is being arranged under the direction of a committee composed of Mrs. D. Middlecoff, Mrs. A. R. Armstrong, Mrs. H. F. Smeryage, Mrs. Edna Beck, Mrs. Rose Murray, Mrs. John Dalton, Mrs. John Winton and Miss Ethel Braskella. The program will consist of musical numbers, recitations and games, followed by refreshments.

Hiking Party.

The Epworth League of the Asbury Methodist church enjoyed a "hiking" party last night. The members met at the church at 8 o'clock and hiked to Fairmount park. At the park the members were entertained at a marshmallow roast.

BOOSTERS IN BIG CARNIVAL

Trade Excursionists Will "Arrive" at Union Depot Saturday Evening.

Parade and Boosting Program to Be Given on Superior Street.

The Duluth boosters, 100 strong, will arrive in Duluth Saturday evening at 7:30 and will be the feature of the Lark o' the Lake carnival on Superior street.

The special train carrying Duluth's friendship squad will pull into the Union station at 7:30. Immediately the boosters will form in line behind Frank X. Gravel, booster extraordinary, and the Third Regiment band and will march up to Superior street.

The boosters will be decked in their linen dusters and white caps, and will carry canes and Duluth pennants. They will be well supplied with literature boosting Duluth, and advertising souvenirs from the various business houses.

At each corner, the boosters will stop, form a ring around the band, dance and sing. They will distribute souvenirs with lavish hands and put on their boosting program just as it is carried out when the boosters are on the road.

Duluth people who have never realized just what the boosting trips conducted by the trade extension committee of the Commercial club mean will have an opportunity of judging Saturday night. The body of men will be the same as that which travels through the country on the trade trips, and one may tell by their activities Saturday night what the effect must be on a small town in Duluth's trade territory.

Wilson Nominates.

Washington, July 22. — President Wilson nominated Preston C. West of Oklahoma to be an assistant attorney general attached to the interior department, and Royal Meeker of New Jersey to be commissioner of labor statistics.

SENATOR FALL SEEKS ACTION THAT AIMS TOWARD MEXICO

Declares Conditions There Are Due to Washington's Delaying.

Calls Up His Protection Resolution for Immediate Passage.

SENATOR A. B. FALL
Of New Mexico.

Washington, July 22.—Senator Fall of New Mexico today called up his resolution for the protection of American citizens in foreign countries. It refers to conditions in Mexico. Chairman Bacon of the foreign relations committee demanded that it be sent to that committee that its terms might be carefully weighed.

"Words are very serious things at times," he said, "and this is one of the times."

Senator Fall asked that it be passed at once, asserting that it was thoroughly understood by every senator.

Senator Bacon insisted that the people of the United States were in a grave position of responsibility "at this time, and any enunciation of principle such as this should be thoroughly considered. As to whether this resolution enunciates the truth should not be discussed at this time," he said.

Would Favor Mexican Intervention.

Senator Bacon asked if the resolution did not mean that the United States should send an armed force into Mexico to protect American citizens. Senator Stone, reviewing certain conditions in Mexico, declared he would favor sending an armed force.

Senator Williams maintained that a citizen of the United States had no constitutional rights in foreign countries. Amended, he thought, such a resolution ought to be passed "to strengthen the arm of the secretary of the state."

Senator Works asked: "Are we prepared now to declare this government, as set forth in this resolution, prepared to give full protection to her citizens in Mexico? Full protection must necessarily mean that if our citizens in Mexico cannot be protected by diplomatic means, we are prepared to go to war with Mexico.

"I submit that before the senate makes a declaration to that effect, the question should be thoroughly and seriously considered."

Reply By Fall.

Senator Fall, aroused by what he termed intimations from senators that he was seeking to precipitate war with the resolution, made a stirring reply.

"My sole purpose," he said, "throughout this and the former administration has been to prevent war with Mexico. But matters have dragged on until now we are told the situation is so delicate that we should not make a declaration of this broad principle.

"The senator from New Mexico is not responsible for conditions in Mexico. It is the delay, the failure of the administration to act, the failure of the administration to carry out its warnings to the people of Mexico, that is responsible for conditions that will continue so long as this policy of delay continues.

"It is in our power at the present time to prevent war. If strong action had been taken by this government two years ago it would have prevented war. Protection of Americans held for ransom and killed at that time, extended through arms, if necessary, would have prevented, instead of precipitated war.

"This policy of the United States of delay in the hope that something might happen, is responsible for the present situation. Prompt and strong action would have avoided the necessity for such a declaration as is proposed here."

MARINE NEWS

ORE BOATS ARE ACTIVE

Shipping Again in Full Swing After Temporary Slump.

Big Day in Passenger Business---Three Large Boats Arrive.

Ore boats got away with good dispatch today and that the mines are now worked to full capacity is apparent. The rains of last week flooded the open pit mines. One big company operating a mine in Chisholm, and having two of the greatest boats on the lakes was carrying grain. The condition was put down as a temporary slump.

This too despite the fact that no boat will carry a big cargo of grain when it can get ore.

However, conditions were much improved today and while two boats were at anchor in the harbor they had loads of coal and were waiting for dockage. There were many arrivals of grain boats yesterday. Five or six came in and each headed for an elevator, so apparently there was no trouble about getting a cargo. The last rate quoted was 1½ cents for medium-sized boats while the big fellows were asking only 1¼ cents. Activity at this time is unusual for there is always a slump in the grain movement between July 10 and Aug. 15.

This was Tuesday, the big day in passenger business. The Hamonic, Lakeland and North American came into port. As usual the North American was late, but at that the passengers had a better opportunity of seeing Duluth than those who have come before. The Chicago boat, due at 6 o'clock, arrived at 8:15, the best time made so far, but it was on its way again at 10 o'clock. But even so the people were given a chance to walk uptown. Last week the feature of the arrival was the number of men at the Northern Pacific wharf to sell passengers mackinaws "made in Duluth."

The mackinaw men were still there today—in fact a stand was established—but business wasn't so brisk as a week ago. At that time passengers didn't venture further than the end of the pier and on the Sixth avenue viaduct took "views of Duluth."

The Lakeland brought nearly 200 and they started uptown immediately for they have until tomorrow afternoon for returning. The Hamonic brought a big crowd and as usual made its liberal stay.

Construction of the first section of the enlarged Welland canal has been provided for.

The government has accepted the offer of the Dominion Dredging company of Ottawa to build the first section. The firm offered to do the work for $3,500,000.

This is the lowest tender. It provides for the construction of the first few miles of the canal from the Lake Ontario end. Tenders for other sections of the canal which is to have a depth of thirty-four feet, will be called shortly. When completed the canal will allow the largest lake boats to reach the St. Lawrence with full grain cargo from the west.

Capt. James Low, walking in safety alongside the track at Port Dover, became confused and stepped in front of an incoming train, receiving injuries that caused his death two hours later. He had sailed the lakes many years. He had devoted his attention recently to his large interest in a fishing industry here.

A 22-foot channel now leads to the Pittsburg & Ashland coal dock at Ashland, as the result of dredging operations which are near completion. This will allow 6,000-ton carriers, nearly twice the size of those that have heretofore been able to reach the dock.

The dredgers probably will go to Bayfield to dredge for the Wachsmith Lumber company and may do some dredging at the blast furnace later.

WILL GROW ITS OWN TIMBER

The lighthouse service, so far as the Great Lakes are concerned, proposes to grow its own timber for the manufacture of spar buoys, piling and the other wood essentials necessary to the service. In this, the service and expert foresters are preparing to make an investigation of the reservations on which the lighthouses stand, with a view to their forestation.

An investigation already made by the forest service has disclosed that the lighthouse reservations in the lumber states of Michigan and Wisconsin alone total nearly 5,500 acres. On a number of these reservations, white and Norway pine will be planted, while cedar and pine will be planted on the others.

The work involves co-operation of the two services of the government for the planting of trees in positions, where they might obscure the beacon light, would prove a serious menace to navigation. It is believed two or three of the reservations will have to be left entirely bare, as at present.

New Lighthouse.

A new lighthouse will be established the first week of August on the St. Clair river between Lakes Huron and Erie. It will be called Recors light and will have an occulting white light of 210 candle power standing thirty feet out of the water.

The latest hydrographic bulletin also announces that the Martin Reef light vessel, No. 89, will be temporarily withdrawn. It is now stationed in the north channel of the Straits of Mackinac. The light boat will be replaced by a gas buoy.

Big Fleet in Port.

The past few days have seen an enormous fleet of freighters at the Head of the Lake, more than sixty having arrived in less than forty-eight hours up to yesterday morning. Coal boats have been delayed waiting for docks but the ore docks have been giving splendid dispatch. Still there is a limit to capacity and when the boats bunch here there is bound to be more or less difficulty in getting away readily.

CLOUDED BRAIN.

Clears Up on Change to Proper Food.

The brain cannot work with clearness and accuracy, if the food taken is not fully digested, but is retained in the stomach to ferment and form poisonous gases, etc. A dull, clouded brain is likely to be the result.

A Mich. lady relates her experience in changing her food habits, and results are very interesting:

A steady diet of rich, greasy foods such as sausage, buckwheat cakes and so on, finally broke down a stomach and nerves that, by inheritance, were sound and strong, and medicine did no apparent good in the way of relief.

"My brain was clouded and dull and I was suffering from a case of constipation that defied all remedies used.

"The 'Road to Wellville,' in some providential way fell into my hands, and may Heaven's richest blessings fall on the man who was inspired to write it.

"I followed directions carefully, the physical culture and all, using Grape-Nuts with sugar and cream, leaving meat, pastry and hot biscuit entirely out of my bill of fare. The result—I am in perfect health once more.

"I never realize I have nerves, and my stomach and bowels are in fine condition. My brain is perfectly clear and I am enjoying that state of health which God intended his creatures should enjoy and which all might have, by giving proper attention to their food." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

REFUSES RELIEF FOR BADGER SALOON MEN

Wisconsin Assembly Refuses to Consider Legalization of Licenses.

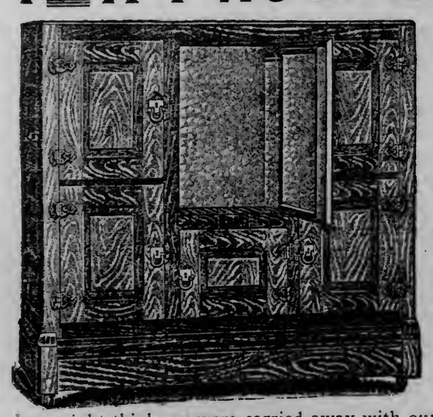

Madison, Wis., July 22.—Relief for about 1,000 saloonkeepers in Wisconsin whose licenses are illegal was refused by the legislature today when the assembly voted not to receive a bill by Assemblyman Walsh of Milwaukee, which would validate them. The vote was 50 in favor of introduction of the bill to 35 against, but a two-thirds affirmative vote was necessary.

Assemblyman Hedding of Milwaukee then introduced a bill seeking to validate the licenses of three hotels. The assembly refused to receive this bill by a vote of 56 to 29.

The assembly voted to return to the senate the Axel Johnson bill, making it easier to get new parties on the ballot. This is the bill which Governor McGovern desired revived and passed.

THE X-Y-NO Stone Lined REFRIGERATOR

Twenty Years Ahead of the Times

The Rhinelander X-Y-NO Stone-Lined Refrigerator has solved the careful housewife's most difficult problem. It affords her the services of a distinctively high quality refrigerator at a price the average family can afford to pay for such protection — a refrigerator that in every respect has proved efficient.

If we told you that this refrigerator would actually consume less ice than any other refrigerator of equal capacity manufactured—if we told you that it would preserve your food better, was more sanitary, could be kept in that condition with less labor than any other refrigerator—if we told you that it was better built, more beautiful, and would in all probability outlast all others—if we thus compared the Rhinelander with all others regardless of price, and furthermore told you that you could save from one-third to one-half on your purchase, you might think we were carried away with our own enthusiasm. You would say, "show me."

That is the opportunity we seek—to show you—and to let you draw your own conclusions.

Lining—The Wonderful and Exclusive Feature of the Rhinelander X-Y-NO.

The one-piece lining is the distinguishing feature of the Rhinelander X-Y-NO Stone-lined Refrigerator. It is the most sanitary, most durable and at the same time most beautiful food receptacle in existence.

This lining is made out of one solid piece of X-Y-NO stone. Please bear in mind that this lining is one solid piece of stone—not a number of separate pieces or slabs put together to appear like a one-piece construction. As it is all one piece there can be no joints, cracks and crevices. So there are no places where disease germs can accumulate. The riddance of these places of filth, now and forever banishes the danger that has contributed heavily to the weakness of many of the refrigerators now on the market and which are both unsafe and unsanitary.

TEXT BOOK IN OPTIMISM

Full Text of Lake and Rail Descision Is Received.

Duluth Is Acknowledged as Real Head of Water Navigation.

The decision of the interstate commerce commission in the Duluth lake and rail case might be made a text book in optimism for Duluth citizens.

The copies of the complete text of the decision received today more than bear out the promise of the press dispatches. Duluth is hailed as the real head of lake navigation, entitled to the full benefits of its geographical position, and the railroads are ordered to restore those benefits arbitrarily conferred upon the Twin Cities.

At the same time the door was opened for other Minnesota cities to obtain the benefits of their location with respect to Duluth at the head of lake navigation. When Albert Lea, Owatonna, Mankato and other Southern Minnesota cities intervened in the lake and rail case in favor of the Duluth contention, the Twin Cities endeavored to win them away. Minneapolis claimed it was making a fight for the whole Northwest, yet the commission says in supporting Duluth's contention:

Must Not Continue.

"Examining this rate structure from that point of view (its effect in the light of present conditions) there can be no doubt, and we so find, that it is unduly discriminatory of the port of Duluth and unduly preferential of Minneapolis and St. Paul and, in justice to Duluth and the shipping interests centered there, can not longer continue.

"We make the same finding with respect to the questions raised on the intervening petitions of a number of communities that surround the Twin Cities and take rates based on that point. The present adjustment works an undue discrimination against them in that the Twin City rates grow out of the proximity of the Twin Cities to the Head of the Lake, while the rates to these communities are based on their proximity to the Twin Cities. In other words, the benefits of proximity to the Head of the Lakes is centered more or less on the Twin Cities and accrues to these other towns, not directly, and in accordance with their distance from the Head of the Lakes, but only indirectly through the Twin Cities. While we have not had an opportunity closely to examine the situation, it can not be doubted that through rates to these points from the East, on differentials over the Duluth rates bearing a proper relation to the Twin Cities' differentials, would give them better through rates than they now enjoy."

Forced Traffic.

The railroads are charged by the commission with deliberately forcing traffic in favor of the Twin Cities by the acceptance of a lower division of the through rate west of the lakes than they would accept for the same service anywhere else on their systems.

The commission's report says:

"The only earnings the northwestern lines now receive on through traffic is for their service to and from the port, and when these differentials are considered, in the light of their testimony in the Minnesota rate case, where they declared the 41-cent scale of local rates to be confiscatory, strong support is lent to the testimony of record here to the effect that the Great Northern and the Soo line deliberately adopted the policy of shrinking their earnings from the lake ports in order to build up the Twin Cities into a great trading center, from which those lines could have the benefit of the outbound distributing rates."

While the report of the commission is based for convenience on the New York rates, the carriers are ordered to reduce their rates from Central Freight association territory relatively as ordered in the case of the New York rates, and also to apply the same relative reductions to the commodity rates.

The extent of the Duluth victory is even more evident from the complete report of the commission, and the defeat of the Twin Cities is almost complete.

MEDIATORS STUDY ERIE ROAD'S CASE

Strike Against That System Threatened By Labor Leaders.

New York, July 22.—The refusal of the Erie to join the other Eastern railroads in laying its difficulties with conductors and trainmen before the Federal board of mediation, caused the board to suspend negotiations with the managers and the employes today and devote attention to this minor problem.

The board invited J. C. Stuart, vice president of the Erie, to discuss the position of that road. Mr. Stuart was told that the situation required immediate action. Some of the labor leaders said that if the Erie maintained its stand a strike would be declared on this line as soon as arbitration proceedings with the other roads were under way.

JOHNSON GUILTY IN CALLAHAN'S MURDER

Kentucky Feudist Given Life Sentence for Complicity.

Winchester, Ky., July 22.—Andrew Johnson was found guilty of complicity in the assassination of Ed Callahan, former sheriff and noted feudist of Breathitt county, and was given a life sentence here today.

The trial of Fletcher Deaton, also charged with conspiracy in the assassination plot, will begin tomorrow.

ALEX FRASER HEADS EQUALIZATION BOARD

Alex Fraser, county commissioner from the First commissioners' district, was elected president of the county board of equalization at its organization meeting yesterday. Odin Halden, county auditor, under the law is secretary of the board. The usual resolution requiring all protests against valuations to be filed with the auditor in writing was passed and the board adjourned until this morning. At 10 o'clock this morning, the board met and adjourned until tomorrow. The board will probably not get down to business until next Monday when the auditor's office will have abstracts of the assessment rolls ready. In the meantime, the board will meet and adjourn daily.

"KER-CHOW," "KA-CHEW"

Hay Fever--"Ra-shoo"--Sufferers Arrive in---"Ka-chew"---Duluth.

Great American Sneeze Convention Due to Open Here Soon.

"Ker-chew," sang the fat man in the Spalding lobby this morning. Then he wiped his brow. He wasn't addressing anybody in particular. He seemed alone in the world. Frightfully miserable, too. Then the tears moved out from his eyes. He cried like an old-time drunk talking of the boy he left at home. Once more he sponged his reddened eyes and then "Ker-chow" again.

"Ka-ka choo" came back from one of the crowd. He, too, brought forth his handkerchief. Thetears were coming from his optics in rivulets.

Gazing dimly through his tear-dropped eyes he made his way through the crowd and offered his hand to the first man. He grasped it. No one knows the grip, but it was the royal entrance to the "Order of Hay Fever."

For, believe me, all who pursue this more or less accurate account, the hay fever season is on. They're coming, yep, and they're coming to Duluth. Only the vanguard has arrived, probably not more than a score or more, but they make more noise than any bunch in the world. It isn't all voluntary noise either. It's the sneeze boys; that's the thing that gets you and no person in the world can sneeze like a hay fever man.

There are sneezes and sneezes, to be sure. None, it is repeated like the hay fever sneeze. There's the old-fashioned sneeze that we had in onur youth and came from a cold. And when father sneezed a mile away it was as electrifying as a dinner bell.

Then there's the sneeze of the souse. He's got a cold, too, and been trying to cure it. His is more of a squeeze. Then there are those who can cry when they will. But take an old-fashioned chap who only sneezes once a year and doesn't weep oftener—why put him down as a hay fever victim pure and simple. Many have gone wrong on the hay fever fellow. Ask him to take a drink and he'll cry in your face.

Tell him he should quit using that strong snuff and he'll give you battle.

Season Is Here.

Notwithstanding these few statements the hay fever season is about here and Duluth is coming into its own. This is the place, say all experts, where anyone can breathe without sneezing. From Kansas and Missouri they mostly come. You know scientists discovered some years ago that a bit of bloom blown from a sunflower would give you hay fever. Kansas is the sunflower state. Naturally Kansas not only was in bad, but there was a movement on to change its nickname. Then Missouri got a touch and away they came.

Exodus to other parts starts late in July and by Aug. 1, the vacation season is on. You simply must have a vacation for if the boss insists on your working you can do more to erupt a well conducted office than any one in town. And it so happens that everybody with fever hikes north and many hundreds to Duluth.

Now here is a strange thing: Some few people in this city get the fever and then they must go away. A few miles down the line and all is well. But pity the poor fellows at sea in some distant state. No chance for a cure by an interurban ride. Nothing but Duluth and those chilling breezes of Lake Superior seem to answer. That's why they'll all be here about Aug. 1.

The immigration has begun, but only in a modest way. But by the first of next month—"Ker-chow and a couple of ker-choos." We'll all be here to sneeze with them.

SOME RIPENING GRAIN LODGED

Wind Accompanying North Dakota Storm Does Damage.

Fargo, N. D., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Except in the western edge of the state rain was general last night and this morning all over North Dakota with the heaviest precipitation at Fargo, where total for last night and this morning was more than three-quarters of an inch. It was raining in several sections early this forenoon. In some localities rain was accompanied by heavy electrical storms and considerable wind which lodged ripening grain but the damage is not reported serious in any locality.

EXPLORER RADFORD FINALLY HEARD FROM

Two-Year Silence Is Broken From the Far North.

Winnipeg, Man., July 22.—After a silence of two years, word has been received from Radford of New York, the Arctic and Barren land explorer. His half-breed guide has reached Herschell island for supplies, according to word received here today. Radford is said to be in good health.

According to the report, the explorer has collected splendid specimens of wild animal life and vegetation, but expects to go further north to remain two years longer. He has been exploring continually for four years, and two years ago was placed in hard straits by the desertion of his guides in the Barren lands.

HAYDEN RESIGNS AS FEDERAL PROSECUTOR

Offers to Withdraw From Diggs-Caminetti White Slave Cases.

Washington, July 22.—Thomas E. Hayden of San Francisco, associate counsel for the government in the Diggs-Caminetti white slave case, against whom vigorous protests recently were made on the ground that he was too inexperienced as a criminal lawyer to participate in the case, today tendered his resignation to Attorney General McReynolds.

COMMISSION ON JUNKET

Part of New Duluth Street Railway Extension Is Inspected.

Other Improvements in Western Suburbs Investigated By City Officials.

Duluth's city commission, accompanied by the city engineer and the city attorney, left this morning for New Duluth and Fond du Lac.

They will personally inspect the route of the proposed street car extension to New Duluth, including the fill at Eighty-first avenue west and the several locations which have been submitted for subways under the tracks of the Northern Pacific at Smithville. In addition to that they will examine the new road which property owners offered the city in exchange for the vacation of a portion of the old road, which is still in use. The vacation was made three years ago but thus far the property owners have failed to fulfill their part of the agreement. The city officials expect to go over much of the ground in question on foot in order to get as much definite information as possible.

After this has been done they have arranged to go to Fond du Lac to view the damage which was done by the heavy rain storm last May. At that time Mission creek overflowed and damaged considerable property. The owners have filed damage claims of $6,000 to $7,000, for which they will try to collect from the city, holding that the city is responsible for not having so confined the creek that it would not leave its banks.

SENDS CIGAR MONEY ON BIRTH OF SON.

Robert Forsythe of the navy recruiting office at Minneapolis, certainly appreciates his newly-born son.

This morning Chief Quartermaster Erickson of the local station received a letter from Mr. Forsythe informing the former of the birth of a son and also containing a dollar bill for the cigars.

"I can't buy them for you, so go to it yourself," writes Forsythe.

COMMISSION MEN OFFER PROTEST

Object to Chisholm Regulation Against Shipments of Underripe Fruit.

The health department of Chisholm recently ordered that all underripe, over-ripe or decayed fruit or vegetables received in the village shall be destroyed, and the Duluth fruit commission men have entered protest in the shape of a letter to their customers at Chisholm and to the health board of that municipality, in which they explain their position in connection with the matter.

The letter is signed by the Fitzsimmons-Palmer company, Knudsen Fruit company, Worley Fruit company, Culbertson Brothers company, Stacey-Merrill company, the Victor company and the Shapiro-Tucker-Faust company.

The Duluth concerns claim that the movement to destroy decayed or rotted fruit and vegetables is a good one and has their entire sympathy, but that it is a mistake to refuse to accept underripe goods. They assert in their letter that the cases are not infrequent where it is necessary or advisable to ship under-ripe fruit in order that it may reach its destination in good condition; and unless the order of the Chisholm health department is amended to cover such cases it may be that the Duluth dealers will require inspection here before shipping goods.

BRYAN DODGES AUTO IN CHICAGO STREET

Invites Newspaper Reporters to Eat Quick Lunch Canteloupe.

Chicago, July 22.—Secretary of State Bryan said here last night that he had received no communication from Washington that would cause a change in his itinerary, and that he expected to fill his engagements and be back in Washington Friday, according to his original schedule.

"Nothing has occurred to cause me to change my plans," said the secretary. "I don't wish to say anything at this time about international questions. These matters are delicate and cannot be discussed freely, as can our domestic affairs. I think all men should be too patriotic to rush into hasty talk on matters affecting our relations with other countries."

Secretary Bryan looked over late dispatches from Mexico and Washington, and heard with interest that Ambassador Wilson probably would be in Washington Friday, the same time as himself.

Mr. Bryan left last night for Oelwin, Iowa, where he has a lecture engagement. He arrived in Chicago on a midnight train from Gary, Ind., where he spoke last night.

Ate at Quick Lunch.

The secretary got off the train by himself, carrying two heavy suitcases. Members of the waiting group of newspaper men relieved him of them until a porter could be found. Mr. Bryan bought his ticket for Oelwein and then said he wanted to find a restaurant. A nearby hotel was suggested, but on the boulevard Mr. Bryan caught sight of a quick-lunch cafe.

"That's good enough for me," he said, and started across the boulevard. Several speeding automobiles rushed past and the secretary had to jump nimbly to get out of the way of one of them. He was not disturbed by the occurrence, but led the way to the lunch counter, where he purchased a canteloupe and invited his bodyguard of newspaper men to join him, which they did.

Sitting in the armchair of the lunch room, Mr. Bryan ate his canteloupe and told the reporters not to build an interview on international subjects on anything he had said.

"When the time has come for these things to be talked of, the subject will be fully understood," he said. "Meanwhile no good citizen will jump at conclusions about matters affecting our relations with other countries."

Then Mr. Bryan walked back across the boulevard and went to bed in his sleeping car.

TRUE LOVE OR ECONOMICS---WHICH?

Were Port Arthur Man and Woman True Soul Mates or Were They Simply Trying to Cut Down Cost of Living?---Problem for Uncle Sam to Solve.

Was it a guilty love—the true soul mate stuff Robert W. Chambers tells us about—which made Antti Markkula, a native son of Finland, forget that he ever had a wife and children in the old country, and to become so infatuated by the wiles and charms of 22-year-old Flina Palmu, a dainty bit of femininity, formerly connected with the culinary department of a Port Arthur hostelry, that he eloped with her across the border?

Maybe it was, and then again, maybe it wasn't. In the county jail, where they found themselves shortly after they landed in Duluth Saturday afternoon on the steamship Huronic of the Northern Navigation company's line, Markkula is being held on a white slave charge preferred by the Federal authorities and the woman is detained as a witness. They tell a different story.

With them, it was not a question of romance. There was no elopement, no soul mating, according to their story. They were simply trying to give the laugh to the high cost of living and transportation and to demonstrate that the old joke about "two can live as cheap as one" is not a joke after all but a cold stern fact. All of which may account for the fact that they occupied the same room on the trip from Port Arthur to Duluth and for attempting to pass themselves off to the immigration inspectors as man and wife. This alone would have meant a saving of $4 in head taxes.

Flina is a small and neatly dressed girl. She speaks some English having been on this side of the water about eighteen months, most of which time she has been employed as a domestic in a Port Arthur hotel. Markkula knew the girl in the old country and when he came over about eight months ago he renewed the acquaintance.

Last week, both decided to go to Butte, Mont., where they had relatives. They tried to figure out the cheapest way. Friends posted them as to what the fare would be and advised them to go by the way of Duluth. One friend was kind enough to lend Markkula his certificate of citizenship in Canada. This was intended to be equivalent to a passport.

When the Huronic pulled in Saturday, Immigration Inspector Daly was not quite satisfied with the credentials furnished by Markkula, who was about to land. Markkula and the woman, who told the inspector in broken English that she was his wife, were together. Markkula was unable to speak any English and this looked queer to Inspector Daly in view of the fact that the passenger exhibited a citizenship certificate.

The inspector detained both passengers and took them to his office, where both were put through a rigid cross-examination. Both at first insisted that they were married. Finally, they were examined separately and they told different stories. Through an interpreter, Markkula finally confessed that the woman was not his wife. Later the woman admitted it.

Markulla was turned over to the United States district attorney's office, which is holding him on a white slave charge. The woman is also held as a witness. Markkula insists that although they occupied the same room on the boat that there were no wrongful relations between them. The woman tells the same story.

Whether the white slave charge will be pressed against Markkula or not is said to be a question with the United States district attorney's office. It is possible that both the man and the woman will be deported to Canada.

The name of the man from whom Markkula borrowed the naturalization certificate is Johan Wirdin. The Canadian government, it is said, may interest itself in lookng Mr. Wirdin's case up.

GETS STIFF FINE FOR BREAKING CAR WINDOW

Felix Koske was yesterday afternoon fined $75 and costs or sixty days in the county jail for throwing rocks through a street car window. Koske got into an argument with a Woodland conductor Sunday night and upon leaving the car picked up a rock and hurled it through the window. The conductor ran after Koske and turned him over to an officer. Koske was arraigned on a charge of disorderly conduct yesterday morning. He pleaded not guilty at the time and his case was set for the afternoon.

WOMEN KEEP TAB ON CITY FATHERS

Chicago, July 22.—Chicago women who expect to take advantage of the right to vote, granted them by the legislature recently, "stormed" the city council last night with a determination to be a systematic study of the actions of aldermen, preliminary to the elections next spring. Every available chair on the council floor was occupied by women, and the galleries were crowded with them. It is the purpose of the women, at every meeting of the council, to make notes on the aldermen from their respective wards. Many of those present last night were prominent in the fight for suffrage in Illinois.

13-YEAR-OLD DRIVER KILLS GIRL OF 16

Chicago, July 22.—A 13-year-old automobile driver ran down and killed a 16-year-old girl here yesterday. George Prusener, 13 years old, in a car with Roland Towne, 16 years old, ran over Mildred Gloy. The girl was picked up with a broken leg and fractured skull. She died in a hospital last night. Witnesses said the accident was not the boy's fault.

Two Marquette Deaths.

Marquette, Mich., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—W. R. Wright, a native of England, aged 73, and a resident of Marquette since 1872, who conducted a bakery here many years, died Sunday. His only daughter and two grandsons, the latter, Fred W. and Norman H. Sackrider, of New York city and Duluth, Minn., respectively, survive. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock with services at the residence of Mrs. Sackrider. Members of Albert Jackson post, G. A. R., of which the deceased veteran was a member, attended.

Mrs. Hallam, wife of a building contractor, died Sunday evening, aged 61. She was the daughter of the late John F. Mack of Collinsville, Mich. The surviving relatives are three sisters, Mrs. Manthei of this city, Mrs. W. H. Malburgh of Detroit, and Mrs. Charles Lange of Houghton, and two brothers, Henry Mack and John F. Mack, Jr., the latter of Detroit.

BAR BANQUET NEXT SATURDAY

Details of Lawyers' Annual Gathering Are Kept a Secret.

Charles F. Amidon of Fargo, judge of the United States district court, will be the principal speaker at the bar banquet of the Eleventh judicial district, which will be held at the Flemish room of the Spalding hotel at 7:30 Saturday evening.

Before the banquet there will be the business meeting of the association, which is called for 6 o'clock and which will be held in the grill room of the Spalding.

The details of the program are being kept a secret by the members of the committee. When the attorneys of Duluth and the visiting attorneys pick up the bill of fare they will have their first intimation of what has been arranged for them, if the members of the committee on arrangements have their way.

It was said today that there is a possibility that Frank B. Kellogg will be among the illustrious ones present, and that he will also be one of the speakers in the event that he attends the gathering.

WOODSMAN IS SHOT.

Alger County, Mich., Man Dangerously Wounded; Assailant Taken.

Munising, Mich., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—William Doone, a woodsman, is in a local hospital, seriously wounded as the result of being fired upon two days ago by Stephen Krube, an Austrian, living near the Soo.

It is believed Krube mistook Doone for another when he opened fire upon the woodsman within a few hundred feet of the Shingleton station of the South Shore. The assailant, who fled to the woods after the shooting, was captured half an hour later by William Tidd, justice of the peace and Elmer Clement, brother of the deputy sheriff, both of Shingleton, who handcuffed the man and took him into Shingleton to await the arrival of Sheriff Peilissier of Alger county, who, accompanied by an undersheriff, drove from Munising in an automobile and soon had landed Krube in the county jail.

The shooting and the report of Krube's arrest before the man had been identified led to a belief that the assailant was Joseph Tobias, the man wanted for stabbing an Indian named Teebels at Brimley, near the Soo, and for shooting dead two deputy sheriffs sent to arrest him.

The cause for the shooting only Krube appears to know, and he talks no English. Doone has said that he did not know the man and believes Krube mistook him for some one else Those who claim to know Krube and who have talked about him say he had had trouble with another man in the vicinity.

While being chased Krube emptied his gun of the last three shells and then opened a new box of shells and attempted to reload. He found that the new shells would fit only an automatic pistol, but before this mistake was discovered the two pursuers were upon him.

THIRD FIRE AT AT POCANTICO HILLS

Tarrytown, N. Y., July 22.—Flames were discovered under the main stairway in a cottage on the Rockefeller estate at Pocantico Hills yesterday, the third fire on the property within twenty-two days. The authorities of the town believe incendiaries have been at work. Mr. Rockefeller had a great deal of trouble with foreign laborers during a strike on his estate last fall, and it is suspected that some of the disgruntled employes, scores of whom have been discharged, have sought revenge by committing arson.

WILL NAMES SON NOT KNOWN ABOUT

Meriden, Conn., July 22.—When the will of Maj. Theodore Byxbee, a well known Civil war veteran who died Tuesday, was offered for probate, it was disclosed that he had bequeathed a half interest in property valued at $110,000 to "my son," although the fact that he had a son was never known even to his relatives. Maj. Byxbee raised the first Connecticut company to go to the Civil war, and served with distinction. He married during the war, but his wife died within a few years. He later re-married, his second wife dying some years ago.

CLEVELAND PARK BAN ON SPOONING

Cleveland, Ohio, July 22.—A separate section of the Edgwater Park municipal bathing beach will be roped off for the use of women and children only, it is announced by Park Superintendent Fred C. Alser as part of a campaign to prevent objectionable actions in the city's public parks. Women still will be permitted to go bathing on the men's side, but men will be kept out of the newly established section.

All the benches in each of the parks will be moved out under the arc lights and kept there, also was stated, so that the greatly increased park police force will be able to better keep watch over and suppress "spooners."

PARENTS GIVE PLEDGES

That Children About to Wed Will Live Up to Promises.

Rochester, Minn., July 22.—That the son will make a model husband, and the daughter a faithful and obedient wife, are the pledges of the fathers of Cassian Bart, aged 20, and Elizabeth Bloji, 17, members of well known families living near here, who are soon to be wedded. No objection has been raised to the marriage, and while the prospective groom and bride declare that the eternal love for each other assures a happy wedded life, the parents have decided to do all in their power, in a legal way, to prevent divorce or any other pitfalls for the young married couple.

Accordingly a bond has been signed by each father, the elder Bart promising that his son will not loaf, gamble, drink, play pool or dance with young women other than his wife, his pledge being a $700 farm. The father of the bride-elect deposited a cash bond of $700 that his daughter will make a model wife, will not gossip, run around with other men and will cook to her husband's satisfaction.

TRAIN LOAD OF IMMIGRANTS

Sixty-three immigrant families, 243 persons in all will pass through Duluth tonight on their way to Western Canada, where the Canadian Northern officials have selected homes for them. Every male member of the party has had farming experience in Germany, while many of the women are graduates of dairy and industrial schools in the old country.

The train is coming over the Omaha road and an hour's stop will be made here before starting on the second long rail trip west.

Flasher, N. D., Elevator Burns.

Flasher, N. D., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—An explosion in a wheat bin resulted in the burning of the Farmers' elevator here. The agent was lowering a lighted lantern into the bin to see how much grain was there when an accumulation of some kind of gas was ignited. The building and the contents were entirely burned. The loss was $18,000 with $10,000 insurance.

Resigns From Minnesota U.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 22.—Dr. Charles Lipp, for the last ten years professor of comparative physiology department of veterinary science in the University of Minnesota, has resigned to become head of the veterinary science department of the South Dakota agricultural college at Brookings, S. D. Dr. Lipp will leave for Brookings, Sept. 1.

More Land For Entry.

Williston, N. D., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Large additions to North Dakota lands open for entry under the enlarged homestead act will be forthcoming almost immediately, Register T. B. Murphy of the Williston land office, having been advised of the intention of the department of interior to designate additional 320-acre homesteads.

Inexpensive Oatmeal Shampoo Easily Made

(The Woman Beautiful)

Those who have been seeking a shampoo which will really make the hair soft and lustrous, will be glad to know of a truly beneficial oatmeal shampoo which they can prepare themselves. A teaspoonful of caxined oatmeal compound put into a cup of hot water and stirred well, makes the most cleansing and healthful shampoo to be had. It is of a creamy consistency, slightly foamy, but very unlike the copious lather of preparations and soaps heavily laden with alkalies.

Alkalies, borax and ammonia may aid in cleansing the hair, but they also affect its color and health. Nothing makes the hair fluffier and glossier than the oatmeal shampoo, without making it harsh, brittle or straggly. It doesn't take away the natural oils or make the scalp scaly and itchy. Many who use it report they are never troubled with dandruff now, splitting, breaking or falling of hair. Fifty cents will buy a good quantity of the caxined oatmeal compound at any drug store.

NEW LINEN FACTORY WILL COVER ALMOST A BLOCK

One of Lost Arts of Linen Making Has Been Discovered.

Rugs and Other Products From Threshed Flax Straw.

Is Duluth on the road to the discovery of some of the lost arts of linen making?

Certain of her citizens have discovered how to make linen from flax straw after the seed has been threshed, which is a discovery of importance, and the process is one that has never been known before, or at least since the age of the Pharoahs. This art is being employed by the Western Spinning company of Duluth, now operating two spinning establishments where rugs are made of the linen so manufactured. It is a secret process and is done with a patented machine, the rights to which are held here.

By Jan. 1, the company will be occupying its own building, to be erected on a site in the western part of the city, chosen but not yet announced, and for which structure the plans are now being completed. This new building will be fireproof, two stories high and will occupy ground space to the extent of almost an entire block. About forty-five people will be employed in the manufacturing of rugs, to begin with and the force will be increased later.

Duluth, like other American cities, likes to deal in superlatives, but unlike many American cities, has the opportunity in more cases than most of its citizens know of. This factory adds another case to the large list already available. This factory will be the only one of its kind in the world.

There are factories that manufacture linen rugs, of course, but they manufacture rugs that cost more, for the reason that they have to take the flax-straw before it is threshed and therefore have to pay for the seed as well as for the straw that is used in the rugs. Consequently the buying public has to pay for the seed that it does not use.

Thresh Flax First.

The new process discovered and employed by the Duluth company, gives the farmer a chance to thresh his flax first and then utilize the straw that he has been accustomed to waste or let scatter, and make a reasonable profit out of it; at the same time furnishing the material for a durable rug that can be manufactured and sold at a very low price. That there is plenty of material for the work, there is no question. For a time the farmers of Minnesota could sell their flax straw to a twine company in the Twin Cities, but recently the company went out of business because it was found that flax-straw twine is far from efficacious in binding grain, grasshoppers and other insects soon eating it up, and the farmers then find that their grain has no binder. That firm used 36,000 tons of the straw annually, but since they have quit, the farmers who furnished the straw to them have no place to send it. However the Duluth concern will take it and more too.

Display of Rugs.

There is a fine display of these rugs in the large corner window of French & Bassett's store at Third avenue west and First street just now, and it is attracting a great deal of attention. Rugs of all sizes and color combinations are shown, and the smallness of the price marked on them is causing much comment, for it seems hardly possible that they can be made for the price affixed.

Such rugs seem to be the very thing for porches, for kitchens, for aisles of churches and other public places, and larger ones would seem to be pretty good things for many rooms inside of houses where floor covering is needed and yet where the more expensive kinds are not desired. The rugs are now manufactured up to dimensions of 9 by 12 feet, and for larger rooms would have to be constructed in sections. The rugs are claimed to be longer-lived than grass rugs and therefore are good for porches. The cheapness of cost is an attractive part to be considered, and the further fact that besides their durability, they are washable and mothproof as against woolen rugs, makes them desirable for places where floor-covering is likely to get dirty. They seem to improve with washing for they get softer and better. They can be made up in any color combination to match a room.

It is believed that the factory of the Western Spinning company will prove before so very long, to be one of the greatest industries of the Northwest, entering as it does an almost virgin field and with a money and material saving process hitherto unknown. The looms of the company are now quite busy and by the time the work will be done in the new factory to be built, it is believed that the present briskness will seem tame beside the business then. At present there is one factory in the alley just back of the Board of Trade building, and another at West Duluth.

next to Emery, and that Watson was in one office or the other much of the time.

On Feb. 4, 1909, in a letter to Schwedtman, Mulhall got into Illinois politics and brought in Former Senator Hopkins, who was defeated for re-election by William Lorimer. Mulhall wrote of the senatorial deadlock at Springfield.

"We are spreading the impression that on account of the contemptible stand taken by Hopkins in the convention at Chicago last June, wherein he was extremely unfair to the manufacturing interests in refusing them a hearing before the committee on resolutions and packing that committee in favor of the Gompers crowd, has in a large measure, brought this fight upon his own shoulders."

Nelson and Clapp on Stand.

Two senators, Nelson and Clapp of Minnesota, last night took the stand before the committee of their colleagues investigating the lobby and delved into the truth of statements made by Mulhall.

In letters read into the records yesterday, Mulhall told of conversations with Senator Nelson, a member of the lobby committee, in relation to the reelection early in 1909 of a bill amending the Sherman anti-trust act by a senate sub-committee of which Mr. Nelson was chairman.

Mulhall wrote to F. C. Schwedtman, secretary to James W. Van Cleave, president of the association, that he had seen Senator Nelson and that the senator had told him what transpired in his sub-committee. He swore on direct examination by Senator Cummins that Mr. Nelson had suggested that the association send a copy of the sub-committee's adverse report on the bill to the president, "Mr. Roosevelt."

In one letter Mulhall spoke of being introduced to Senator Clapp by Mr. Nelson, and of talking with both men about a recent decision under the Sherman act.

Changed His Story.

Questioned closely by Senator Cummins, Mulhall first swore he had been told by Mr. Nelson what had occurred in the committee, even to how its members voted on the proposed amendment; pursued further, he agreed that possibly he had not received such information, and then switched again and declared that if he had reported that he had received such information it must be correct.

"I have no recollection of seeing Mr. Mulhall or talking to him about this bill; and I certainly would not have talked to him about what transpired before the judiciary committee," said Senator Nelson. "It is possible that he may have stepped inside my office and gotten information from my clerk. Mr. Hicks, my clerk, who was with me then and is with me now, says that he cannot recollect ever having seen Mulhall in our rooms.

"So far as the report is concerned, you all know that Mulhall could get these reports from the document room. I have no recollection of ever meeting Mr. Mulhall or talking to him on these subjects or anything else. Ever since Mulhall appeared here before the committee I have been racking my brain to think or recall if I ever saw or had a talk with him. There is a possibility that I may be mistaken. I understand he had a moustache then, and perhaps that may account for the fact that I do not recognize him now."

Clapp Never Saw Him.

"I have not the slightest recollection of ever seeing Mulhall, and certainly I have no recollection that Senator Nelson introduced me to him," swore Senator Clapp. "It is very clear in my mind that if I had I would have recollected it."

The Nelson matter came up when Senator Reed introduced a latter dated Jan. 19, 1911, from Mulhall to Schwedtman.

"I sent in my card to Senator Knute Nelson of Minnesota, who made the adverse report as chairman to the senate on the amendment of the Sherman law" read the letter. "The senator came out and took me to his room and gave me a complete statement of what took place in the judiciary committee room before they made their adverse report."

Senator Nelson was not in the room at the time, and Senator Cummins declared that he had been requested to ask that all letters bringing in Mr. Nelson's name be read at once. Two others were put in the record—one referring to the same bill, another to the anti-injunction bill, which did not figure in the later testimony.

Upon cross-examination Mulhall said he became acquainted with Senator Nelson at the time he wrote the first letter.

"I was sent there by Mr. Emery, the chief lobbyist for the association," he said.

Did Not Influence Nelson.

"Nelson's report on this bill was made three days before your call; you do not mean to say that you influenced him?" said Senator Cummins.

"No sir, not at all."

Senator Cummins pressed the witness as to the statement that Senator Nelson had given him information about what occurred before the bill was reported adversely. Mulhall was certain that he had gotten such information; then "was not clear on that," and later showed signs of anger.

"You don't expect me to remember details of conversations which occurred so long ago?" he asked.

"I would be very much surprised if you did," said Senator Cummins.

Senator Nelson reviewed the history of efforts to amend the Sherman act, and said that he had always opposed such a proposal, believing that it was desired by the great interests and the trusts. He told of President Roosevelt's message urging an amendment to this act, and said that his report had been prepared with an idea of forestalling an administration bill on the subject. He told of his opposition in 1910 to the bill "from the department of justice," amending the Hepburn act, which, he said, in its original form would have relieved railroads of the penalties of the anti-trust act.

Watson and Tariff Board.

Aside from Senator Nelson, Mulhall's letters read yesterday dealt largely with what the National Association of Manufacturers were going to do for Former Congressman James E. Watson of Indiana, toward getting him a place in President Taft's cabinet, and of how the association began work for a tariff commission.

According to the letters, Mulhall, Schwedtman and eventually President Van Cleave and others high in the councils of the association wanted Watson in the post of secretary of commerce and labor, after he had been defeated for governor of Indiana. In one letter Mulhall wrote:

"If Mr. Watson is selected for the appointment of secretary of commerce and labor he will be much more powerful in the cabinet of President Taft than he would as governor of the great state of Indiana."

On Dec. 26, 1908, Schwedtman wrote to Mulhall about what might be done for Watson, speaking of him for President Taft's cabinet.

"To urge the appointment of a cabinet officer by public sentiment is hardly the right thing," he wrote. "As Mr. Watson said in a letter some time ago, the position of a cabinet member is very much like that of a member of a man's family, and unless a man is thoroughly acceptable to Mr. Taft personally, it would be wrong to urge his appointment. Mr. Van Cleave feels that he must leave it to Mr. Watson's judgment entirely as to what can be done for him.

"There cannot be any reasonable doubt as to the desirability of having Mr. Watson in the cabinet, and all the association's reasonable efforts will be exerted for Mr. Watson on his request."

"Would Feel Safe."

On Jan. 26, 1909, D. M. Parry, one time president of the association, wrote to Mulhall:

"I would personally feel just as safe with Mr. Watson in that job (secretary of commerce and labor) as for Mr. Van Cleave or myself to have the chair."

The letter showed that Mulhall thought at least that Vice President Sherman, Speaker Cannon and many prominent Republicans were interested in Watson, and that while at first the latter had regarded the cabinet job as one which the president should be allowed to fill as he pleased, he had eventually become a more or less open candidate. Mr. Sherman was quoted by Mulhall as being particularly desirous of helping Watson, and promised to use all his influence with Mr. Taft to get the job.

All through the day the letters told of the interest of Mulhall in a tariff commission. He swore that he was instructed to find out the views of every member of the house and most senators on this matter, and letters were read giving the standing of scores. He finally mixed Watson up with the commission, testifying that Watson was employed in 1908, while a member of the house, to help "put through" a tariff commission bill at a retainer of $500, $250 a week and $10,000 if he got the message through congress. Mulhall did not say who was to pay.

On Nov. 23, 1908, Mulhall turned his attention away from politics and wrote to President George F. Baer of the Reading Railroad company, on instruction of President Van Cleave, about an "intended strike in the anthracite coal regions this coming year unless the labor unions are granted concessions and are recognized after the first of next April."

Mulhall offered the aid of the National Association of Manufacturers "without cost" to help win the strike, saying that it much desired to see the open shop prevail throughout the Pennsylvania coal regions. He said the organization had many men in its employ who had been in touch with the miners' union.

zazos, Monclova and Nuevo Laredo. They claim to have Gen. Maas completely surrounded at Monclova and the Federal detachments in the other cities cut off so that they cannot unite with each other.

A small detachment of Federals from Monclova, out on a scouting trip, was reported to have killed its officers, left their bodies by the roadside and dispersed to the hills.

Federals are forcing many residents of Monclova to join the army, under stress of punishment for refusal, it is charged. The Constitutionalists' outposts are a mile from Monclova, which it is claimed is completely shut off from supplies.

Governor Carranza, Constitutionalist leader, has gone to Torreon, which Constitutionalists claimed to have surrounded with 8,000 or 10,000 men.

Officers here assert it will be impossible for Huerta to send Federal relief from Torreon to Durango to protect American citizens there against bandits, as requested by the American government.

Rebel Captain Stabbed.

Douglas, Ariz., July 22.—Gabriel Aguilar, formerly a captain in the Mexican Constitutionalist army, was stabbed to death on the main street here last night by a Huerta sympathizer. The entire garrison of Agua Prieta, the Mexican town opposite Douglas, is guarded to prevent the escape of the assassin across the border.

Obregon Fears to Cross Line.

Nogales, Ariz., July 22.—Frederick Simpich, consular agent at Nogales, Sonora, has communicated with the state department on behalf of Gen. Alfaro Obregon. The Constitutionalist leader remained at the border here, insisting that he would not cross the international line until assured of his safety from arrest.

Military authorities had given Obregon permission to be treated in a hospital here, explaining that his return into Mexico would come under the jurisdiction of the state department.

The Sonora insurgent state troop leader intended visiting Los Angeles for two weeks. He said he would be operated upon for an abscess.

The prime minister warned Turkey that if she were ill advised enough to set the provision of the treaty at London at defiance, she must be prepared for the introduction of questions, which it would be by no means to her interest to bring into the debate.

Peace Delegate Named.

Athens, Greece, July 22.—M. Panas, director of political affairs at the Greek foreign office, has been appointed chief of the Greek delegation which is to arrange terms of peace with Bulgaria. He started for Nish, Servia, today and will be joined on the way there by the other members of the peace commission.

Adrianople Not Taken.

Sofia, Bulgaria, July 22.—The report of the re-occupation of Adrianople by Turkish troops was shown today to be false. It was spread by fugitive Bulgarian officials from that city who heard that a reconnoitering force of Turkish cavalry commanded by the notorious Enver Bey had been seen in the vicinity. At this news the officials fled panic stricken, believing that the entire Ottoman army was about to descend on the place.

Communication was restored today between the Bulgarian capital and the citadel of Adrianople. Official reports from the Bulgarian commander there showed that the Turkish troops retired after reconnoitering the position.

The Bulgarian government has ordered the fugitive civil functionaries to their posts. Similar instructions have been sent to Bulgarian officials who fled from various places in the province of Thrace.

Governor Named in Advance.

Constantinople, July 22.—In anticipation of the re-occupation of Adrianople by the Turkish troops, Hadji Adil Bey, former minister of the interior, has been appointed governor of that city and left today to assume his post.

Americans Are Safe.

Washington, July 22.—All American missionaries in Sofia, Bulgaria, are safe, according to a state department report from the secretary of the American legation to Bulgaria, Roumania and Servia today.

New Premier Named.

Washington, July 22.—Hsiung Hsi Ling has been appointed premier of the Chinese cabinet to succeed Chao Ping Chun, who was removed by the constitutional assembly. The charge was reported to the state department today.

Navy's Loyalty Secured.

Shanghai, July 22.—The government has secured the loyalty of the navy by arranging with the five-power group of bankers for the regular payment of the crews. The southern general, Chen-Pi-Kai, has been assassinated near Kiu Kiang by his troops, 3,000 of whom have joined the northern troops.

RED RIVER VALLEY CROPS DOING WELL

Wheat Heads Filling Out Well and Rye Harvest on.

Crookston, Minn., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Copious rains have made wonderful improvements in the Red river valley crops, the recuperation having been especially notable during the past ten days. Early wheat, which started heading very low, has shot up and can be very easily handled by the binders, and the heads are filling well. While the heads will be short on the early wheat, they are filling to the tip, and with weather such as is prevailing now the kernels will be very large, thus making up in great measure for the short heads. The crop, which is not running to straw, will be a very economical one to handle, requiring less help to shock and greatly reducing the cost of threshing.

Rye Being Harvested.

The rye harvest is on throughout the valley. The rye crop will be just average. While there are some exceptionally good stands, there is a considerable acreage that is thin because of the dry weather early in the spring when rye needs moisture to make the best crop. The flax and barley is showing a fine growth, and in many instances will make much better than an average crop. The general crop at the present time will average very close to the yield of last year generally, though on the Fosston-Bemidji line it will be very much heavier, and in some other sections it will average better than last year. There is a territory near Warren and Argyle which will run below last year considerably.

The feeling is optimistic in business circles, and the volume of business throughout this section will be very satisfactory for the season.

DUNNE IS BACK.

Illinois Governor Returns From a Cruise on the Lakes.

Chicago, July 22.—The United States steamship Dubuque, on which Governor Dunne has been cruising Lake Michigan for a week, reached Chicago today. Instead of going to a hotel for breakfast, as had been previously planned, and where it was expected by politicians the governor would make known his list of appointments, the state executive remained on the warship for the morning meal and conferred with County Treasurer William O'Connell and others.

Governor Dunne expects to go to Springfield tonight. He told his friends that he would announce no appointments until next week.

Poe Landmark Destroyed.

Richmond, Va., July 22.—Marching progress has laid hands upon the last landmark in Richmond of Edgar Allen Poe. His boyhood home, the house of the Allens, long ago gave place to commercial buildings; the Swan tavern and the Bird in Hand have passed away, and now the city has begun razing the old-fashioned brick building in which the poet edited the Southern Literary Messenger. Approaches to a new concrete bridge over the James river will take it place.

Youthful, Wrinkleless Skin Easy to Have

(Elberta Reid in Women's Tribune)

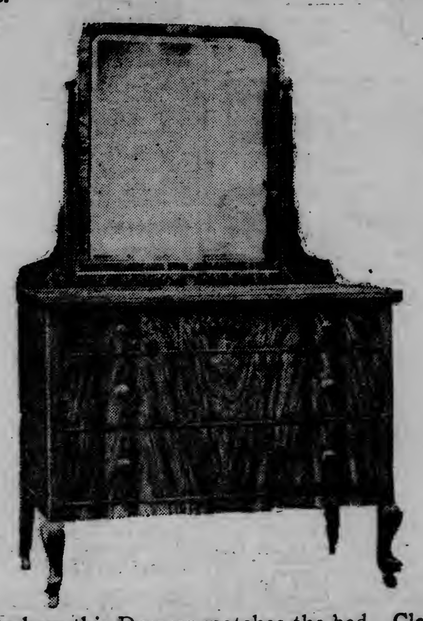

You who desire to gain a youthful appearance will do well to make the acquaintance of the two simple, but valuable, prescriptions here given.

To make an effective wrinkle-remover, mix an ounce of powdered saxolite and a half-pint witch hazel. Bathe the face in the solution—immediately every wrinkle is affected. It acts wonderfully on sagging facial muscles, also, the lotion possessing remarkable astringent and tonic properties.

To get rid of an aged, faded, freckled or discolored complexion, buy an ounce of common mercolized wax at any drug store and apply nightly as you would cold cream, erasing this mornings with soap and water. This will slowly absorb the undesirable surface skin, revealing the younger, brighter, healthier skin underneath. I know of nothing to equal this treatment as a facial rejuvenator.

ONE OF NEW YORK'S PRETTIEST CHORUS GIRLS

ALLEYNE PICKARD.

There is keen competition among the producers of the "summer shows" of New York in presenting to the public the prettiest set of chorus girls on exhibition. Usually when the same shows take the road in the autumn the supply of pulchritude is much diminished. Lew Fields has a reputation for picking pretty women for his chorus and Alleyne Pickard of the "All Aboard" company is just one degree above anything Mr. Fields has heretofore set before an eager audience of tired business men. She has a fine profile and also, as will be noticed, a left shoulder blade which people come all the way from Tuckahoe and White Plains to see.

MRS. J. A. STEVENSON AND MISS HELEN.

Miss Helen Stevenson can claim the title of Queen of the Ocean. She is a pretty Garden City belle who was a passenger on the last first voyage of the "Imperator." There were so many pretty women aboard that it was a matter of comment and discussion as to their relative beauty grew so warm that a vote was taken among the passengers for the election of a Queen of Beauty. Miss Stevenson won by a large majority. As the Queen of Beauty on the biggest and most beautiful ship afloat, Miss Stevenson has the right to call herself the Queen of the Ocean. OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Care of the Teeth Should Be Taught Children Early.

On reading the statement of a dentist who holds the position of dental inspector in the public schools of one of our large cities, recently, I was struck with the almost universal neglect of the teeth on the part of children which he said existed.

According to his statement, made following an inspection of the school children of the city by himself and his assistants, fully 90 per cent of those children are "dental cripples," that is, have something or other the matter with their teeth or gums.

To me that was an astonishing assertion, but of course its truth cannot be challenged. If such conditions exist there, I presume they exist, in greater or less degree in other cities, as there is no reason that I can see why the percentage should be much higher there than elsewhere.

This dentist official declared in favor of municipal dental offices, and laws making the care of the teeth compulsory, so that, following periodical inspection, defects in the teeth of school children could be corrected in timely manner, and not allowed to run on until it is too late.

Early neglect of the teeth, he declared, may produce permanent defects, both in body and mind. "It is my firm belief," he said, "that the detection and correction of such troubles during the shaping period of childhood offers the greatest opportunity and fulfills the highest mission of the dental profession."

This undoubtedly is a lofty professional view to take of the matter, and is to be highly commended. But it seems to me that it is going at the problem wrong end to. The proper way to care for the teeth of children is in the home; the parents should watch their children's teeth carefully, and have the earliest and slightest defects attended to at once. They should teach their children how properly to care for their teeth, and this cannot be begun too early. The child should have its teeth cared for by the mother until it is old enough to handle a brush itself, when it should be charged with the duty of caring for its own teeth, under the parents' guidance and assistance.

Undoubtedly such a plan as this dentist suggests is a splendid one, for most children's teeth are bound to be neglected through their parents' carelessness, and it would check this evil. And of course those children whose teeth have proper care would not suffer by having to undergo inspection.

EMPRESS—Vaudeville.

Amusement Notes.

Pickett's thrilling and famous charge in the battle of Gettysburg, and all of the terrible incidents that made real history in that noted three-day conflict between the Northern and Southern forces in the Civil war are reproduced in spectacular realism in the motion pictures of this great battle at the Lyceum this week.

As an added attraction the Third regiment, Minnesota National Guard, including Companies A, C and E and the Third Regiment band of Duluth are shown in two interesting reels of pictures taken at Lake City at the annual encampment. The regular Kinemacolor program is also shown.

Ever since it was announced that "Fine Feathers," the biggest dramatic success of the century, would be presented at the Lyceum next Monday and Tuesday, local playgoers have been wondering of they would get the same cast of stars that distinguished its remarkable runs in New York and Chicago, and the manager of the Lyceum wishes to assure all his patrons that such is the case.

A pleasing program of vaudeville acts is entertaining Empress theatergoers the first half of this week. The headline honors go to the Jean King Quartet, the members of which give an excellent selection of songs and popular numbers. The individual solos are pretty and the harmony of the quartet excellent. A great comedy acrobatic act is presented by Delavoye and Frits with their trick house. The chase of policeman after the clown is replete with comedy falls and situations. A very clever dancing act is put on by De Hadde and Edwards. They do the famous Texas Tommy, the beautiful "Kiss Waltz" and their latest and American idea of "The French Apache." Their actions are graceful. Stone and King are the two neat appearing young men who have a comedy singing and talking act. The talk is bright and secures many laughs. The songs are of the parody sort and are very comial. The photo plays which open and close the bill are of the best.

The new program will open Thursday matinee, July 24, and as an added attraction a "Duluth Baby Show" will be given. A real, live baby, not an animal or a pig, but a baby of good parentage and under a year old will be given away free.

INJURED IN STREET CAR COLLISION

Norman Matheson Sues for $500 in Municipal Court.

Alleging that he was seriously injured when two street cars collided on Jan. 18 last, Norman Matheson began suit in municipal court this morning against the Duluth Street Railway company. The plaintiff seeks $500 damages, together with the costs of the trial.

The case is the first on the present jury calendar, several other civil cases being scheduled for this week.

The plaintiff claims that he was standing in the rear of an aerial bridge car coming from the canal, when it ran into an eastbound car at the intersection of Lake avenue and Superior street. He was thrown to the side of the car and bruised about the head, arms, shoulders and spine.

John Jenswold, jr., is appearing for the plaintiff and Thomas S. Wood, attorney for the street car company, is representing the defendant concern.

The case against O. W. Westlind, who is charged with practicing medicine without a license, has been continued over to the next jury term, which begins on Aug. 5. Charles Shogran, who was charged with assaulting his wife, was discharged without a trial this morning.

Other cases on the present calendar are: Mattson versus Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific Railroad company; Cooles versus Cooles; Way versus Brown; United States Land company versus Knox, and Botten versus Botten.

Superior

Cat Upsets Lamp.

Fire, started by the playing of a pet dog and cat, caused a $300 fire in the home of Ed. Osen, 1701 North Sixth street, yesterday afternoon. The two had been left alone in the room, and in a frantic effort to escape from the dog, the cat had overturned a lighted lamp. The interior of the house was badly damaged.

Silver Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Leraan celebrated their silver wedding anniversary as guests of the Swedish lodges of the city at a surprise party at the Sons of Norway hall last night. A program of music and addresses was given, followed by a presentation of a handsome silver set to the couple. A number of out-of-town guests attended the affair.

Empty Cars Wrecked.

A collision between a switch engine and a train of empty box cars, caused a wreck which threw the tender off the track and demolished a part of the engine last night. The valve of the whistle was broke off causing the whistle to shriek for a half hour following the accident. The steady whistle of the engine caused many people to flood the telephone centrals and police station with inquiries, thinking some place was on fire.

Larson Not Guilty.

Louis Larson, proprietor of the Child's hotel, whose place was raided recently, and who was charged with operating an immoral place, was found not guilty of the charge by a jury in the municipal court yesterday afternoon. The police failed to show the jury satisfactory evidence that such a place was being operated with the knowledge of Mr. Larson and his wife. It is intimated that similar charges pending against other hotels may be dropped.

OFFICE ASSIGNED TO WORK FARM BOARD

Room 212, courthouse, has been set aside by the county building commission as office headquarters for the newly appointed work farm commission. The new board is expected to hold its first meeting the latter part of this week.

Fred B. Myers, one of the members of the commission who resides at Biwabik, has been out of the state on business. He is expected to return before the end of the week, in which event it is probable that a meeting will be arranged and the commission organized. The other members of the board are A. P. Silliman, Hibbing; Thomas Olafson, A. H. Crasswoller, and Bishop James McGolrick, all of Duluth.

The United States imports from the Orient, including all of Asia and all of Oceania under the general title, show an increase of 75 per cent in the last ten years, and exports thereto an increase of 100 per cent in the same period.

PAGEANT DELIGHTS BIG AUDIENCE

More Than 1,000 People See "A Dream of Many Lands" in Outdoor Amphitheater.

More than 1,000 people were delighted with the pageant, "A Dream of Many Lands," which was presented at Hunter's Park last evening under the auspices of the Ladies' Guild of the Glen Avon Presbyterian church, the arrangement of the grounds, lighting, music and the work of the players themselves combining to make a most artistic whole.

Master John Mitchell, as a little Woodland elf, opened the performance, and in obedience to the waving of his wand the actors in a series of pictures representing life and customs in the different lands, passed in review before him while he was hidden in a tree that he might choose the one he liked best.

The first picture was that of France with depicting "Playtime in Brittany," with scores of pretty peasant girls in bright red costumes with aprons and caps at play and work, a number of them mending a fisherman's net. In this James McGhie, in oilskins and fisherman's hat, sang a song of the sea with good effect and the scene closed with a sprightly dance by the girls, gracefully done.

Scene From "Robin Hood."

A little scene from "Robin Hood," given by a group of boys from the Daniel Boone club, represented England, the boys taking part being Frank Jensen, as Robin, and his merry men, Robert Hulsick, Harold Larson, Morris Olson, Alfred Mellin and William Aronson, assisted by Miss Charlotte Warner, as "Maid Marion."

One of the most exquisite bits of the program was Miss Maude Matteson's interpretation of a little Scotland scene, "The Well in the Glen." In highland costume she came to the well for water singing "My Luv She's But a Lassie Yet," her sweet, pure soprano voice charming her hearers and a dainty little dance finished the number, after the appearance of five hunters on horseback, who were given water by the dainty little maid. The hunters were Melvin Hoff, Harold Quigley, Howard Quigley, Philip Wood and Roderick McLeod.

An Irish picture closed this group for the English Isles. Twelve little fairies frollicking in the wood are frightened away by a group of mortals who dance. This group included Misses Marguerite Culkin, Marjorie McKillop, Mildred Washburn, Marjorie Congdon, Helen Congdon, Marjorie Morrow, Julia Hunter and Katherine Hunter. After the mortals left the fairies tried to play as they had done.

Scene in Holland.

A scene in Holland was next on the program, venders coming to market with their fruits and vegetables and then the shoppers appearing to buy the wares. Little Miss Verna Appleby sang a pretty little song, "Flowers, Nodding Gaily," and the scene closed with a baloon dance by a group of girls.

A scene in a German camp showed soldiers seated around their campfire and Miss Elizabeth Maddox as a strolling gypsy violinist played while they sang, "When I Come, When I Come, When I Come Back Again." James McGhie as officer in charge of the soldiers convulsed the audience with his commands to his men, who were: John Miller, John Staacke, George Hathaway, Ford Wiltse, James McGhie, Charles Cameron, Stanley Coward, George McKaskill, Tom Beatty, Duncan McDonald, Charles Staacke, Phil Wood, Harold Matteson, Simon Clark.

Japanese Wedding.

One of the most elaborate scenes was the Japanese wedding procession, the ceremonies before the temple, the lighting of torches and the entertainment afforded by Stanley Lamb as a ragged jap and four little Japanese dancers. Beatrice Miller, Ruby Morterude, Edna Morterude and Janet Wellbanks.

The other participants in this number were:

Sam Frantz, Victor Eva, priests; Edson Miller, Arthur MacMillan, Kenneth Harris, Harold Matteson, Dean Blakely, Lester McCabe, Dwight McCabe, Dorothy Nolan, Alice McCabe; bride, Beulah Hubbard; groom, Lawrence Dow; maids, Eva Alford, Mildred Miller, Marjorie Peck, Hazel Forbes. Chorus, Myrtle Hobbs, Marion Engals, Elizabeth Lawrence, Marguerite McDonald, Pauline Alford, Elfva Smith; Messrs. Nichols, Scanlon, Johnson, Pond Solheim, Rittenhouse.

Grecian Dance.

Another part of the program which was especially pleasing was a graceful, poetic Grecian dance of worship to Diana by six young women before the statue of Diana, posed by Miss Kathryn Denfeld. Other statues in the grove were posed by Miss Eloise Morrison and Miss Margaret Johnson. The dancers were Misses Marjorie McKillop, Genevieve Washburn, Dorothy House, Anna MacFarland, Julia Morrow and Katherine Hunter.

The closing picture worked up to a pretty climax with scenes representing American history and progress in seven periods. The children of the forest, Miss Winnifred Morterud and Miss Edna Morterud, as Indian maidens, expressed the wild, free joyousness of the land before the coming of the white people; then came A. McC. Washburn, typifying the explorer buying from the Indians their lands with beads and then driving them out. A party of Puritans was next in the procession, singing an old hymn during their passage through the scene. The next period was that of "Strife," presented by Mrs. Ralph Paddock of Chicago in an interpretive dance which was most artistic and was warmly received. She danced in smoke and flame-colored garments. Progress westward bound, was depicted by "Progress," riding a horse led by the pioneer. Spirits of War, again conveying the idea of the Civil war, were presented by Miss Marjorie McKillop for the North, and Miss Mildred Washburn for the South, in blue and gray draperies. This was followed by the "Age of Prosperity," danced by Mrs. Paddock, and the pageant of resources, agriculture, ore, coal and cotton wound up the entertainment, which was one of the most successful of its kind ever given here.

To the women in charge great credit is due for able execution of effective plans. Mrs. R. E. Denfeld is president of the guild and Misses Anna Macfarlane and Delia Smith were general chairmen. Those who had charge of the preparation of the grounds were Ronald Hunter, Mrs. A. R. Macfarlane and Mrs. William Sherwood.

Mrs. F. C. Marshall was chairman of the committee which prepared the 200 costumes used, and various girls had charge of the various scenes.

THE QUICKER THE BETTER.

It is related that the Republican minority in the senate has sent to the Democratic majority the reassuring message that it will not delay the passage of the Underwood-Simmons tariff bill; that while it will propose amendments and make speeches against the bill, it will do no filibustering and will not unduly consume time.

That's a sensible decision, and it is to be hoped that the announcement of it is sincere.

The country at large is impatiently waiting the final enactment of the tariff bill. It recognizes it as a thoroughly honest response to its demand for tariff revision downward. Even that part of the public still victimized by the delusion that there can be no prosperity without taxing the people more than they can bear to create it are reconciled to the proposed reductions, and anxious to have the element of uncertainty eliminated as quickly as possible.

There was a hint the other day of what undue delay in passing the bill means. The Yantic Woolen company of Connecticut, a large textile concern, went into the hands of a receiver for no other reason than that it was embarrassed by the fact that purchasers of its goods are waiting for final action on the tariff bill before committing themselves to large purchases.

The Philadelphia Telegraph, one of the most ardent protectionist newspapers of the East, confirms this explanation thus: "It is agreed by all concerned that the company does not owe its troubles to mismanagement, or even to the prospective reductions in the duties on wool and woolens, but to the semi-paralysis caused by the procrastination in tariff legislation at Washington."

There has been no procrastination thus far. A sharp reduction in tariff duties without harm to any legitimate industry, made for the first time in fifty years, was not a job to be done in a day, or to be done hastily. It has been done carefully, and not a day has been wasted.

But now it is done. The bill as it will pass the senate and be signed by President Wilson is before the senate. The Democrats have framed it to their satisfaction and that of the president, and they have votes enough to pass it and to defeat all proposed amendments.

The Democratic majority is ready for a vote today. Nothing prevents a vote being taken tomorrow except the fact that the Republicans and Bull Moosers in the senate feel that they must consume time laying the foundations for the congressional campaign of 1914 and the presidential campaign of 1916.

The length of time the country has to wait, and to have its business enterprises imperilled by delay, depends wholly upon the amount of time the Republican standpatters, of the progressive, reactionary and Bull Moose types, consume in making political thunder for future use.

Now China is having a war of secession. How do you say "Gettysburg" in Chinese?

THE CIRCUS LICENSE.

Duluth now charges circuses two hundred and fifty dollars for a day's license, and it has been proposed to the city government that it raise this figure to five hundred dollars or a thousand.

Those who propose this increase mostly are frank enough to admit that they hope to make the license prohibitive, because the circus takes money out of town.

So does every entertainment from out of town, and even many which are largely put on by local talent.

It is true enough that while the circus does a good deal of local buying from which local dealers profit, it takes out of Duluth more money than it leaves. If it did not expect to do that of course it wouldn't come here. But until Duluth grows great enough in every line to provide all its own entertainment, somebody will have to be coming in to provide it, and with the hope of profiting by it.

Consideration of the circus license has two angles—as a revenue measure and as a prohibitive measure.

As a revenue measure, we should say that the license fee is high enough. It seems to be much higher than most cities, even cities much larger than Duluth. For instance, Milwaukee recently got a notion that its entertainment licenses were too low, and raised them so that the license for a show with a seating capacity of ten thousand and over is now two hundred dollars—fifty dollars less than Duluth's present figure. With few exceptions, the prevailing rate is ten to a hundred dollars.

Considered as a prohibitive measure, the question is does Duluth want to bar out circuses? We think it doesn't. The circus is good entertainment, wholesome and even educational. It is clean, and everybody enjoys it. We have taken the old-fashioned Fourth away from the young people. Shall we take the circus away from them too? We, for our part, think we should not.

It is the common people's best form of entertainment. Nowhere on earth can they get so much of it for fifty cents as they can at a circus, especially these modern circuses so full of entertainment that you need three or four pairs of eyes to take it all in. It comes but once a year, as a rule, and they are poor indeed who cannot afford to indulge themselves and their families in the rich entertainment the circus offers.

No, let's not shut out the circus!

And then, if Mulhall is all the different kinds of a liar some folks would have us believe, he's all the more interesting as a curiosity.

THE WISER CHOICE.

There can be very little question that the city commission is acting wisely in deciding to begin condemnation proceedings to acquire for park purposes the riparian rights along the lake shore from the north pier of the canal to the mainland; and, such proceedings having been begun, the additional cost will be very little if the condemnation continues down the lake shore of Minnesota point to the Superior entry.

This is the suggestion made by Francis W. Sullivan and indorsed by the city planning committee of the Duluth Commercial club, and it is so important that it be carried out that The Herald is glad to see that the city commission proposes to take steps at once.

It would be necessary to do this even if the proposed contract with the Northern Pacific were entered into, because otherwise all the work the city might do in filling in east of the point between the canal and the mainland would simply increase the area owned by those who now hold the shore rights.

But a little counting of the cost of carrying out the proposed contract with the Northern Pacific makes it clear that the commission is making no mistake in deciding not to enter into such a contract at present. It is true that the contract would bind the city to nothing except to "begin work" within three years. It is also true that a technical compliance with this provision might be made, as has been suggested, by "starting work" on the last day of the three-year period. But it is also true that taking advantage of such a technicality would be a piece of sharp practice not worthy of a great city, and that if Duluth entered into such a contract it should be only with the full determination to carry it out to the letter.

And have those who become impressed with the advantages of the proposed contract with the Northern Pacific counted the cost? In the first place, it means building a breakwater for a distance of about a mile, from the north pier of the canal to Fourth avenue east and from there to Ninth avenue east. In the second place it means the filling in of this area of more than a hundred and fifty acres. Whether the cost of this would have to be expressed in six figures or seven we do not know; but it is certain that it would be very large—much larger than the city could handle for a few years.

The shore rights acquired as a preliminary step, extensions can be made by contract, purchase or condemnation; but even if the Northern Pacific contract were to be entered into, the plan now proposed by the city commission would be an essential preliminary.

And when you come to figure it all down, what is the interstate commerce commission but a kind of a public utilities body?

SECRETARY DANIELS AND THE SEATTLE INCIDENT.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels is the subject of a memorial to the president, adopted by the radical wing of the Socialists of Seattle, in which the charge is made that his utterance at a banquet was responsible for the outrages perpetrated by sailors and marines of the United States navy in Seattle last week.

We guess that Secretary Daniels will be able to survive a lot of criticism of that sort.

In a speech at a banquet Mr. Daniels glorified the Stars and Stripes and condemned the red flag and its followers. By that, of course, he meant those who put the red flag higher than the flag of their country or the country of their adoption—our flag. He said that there was no room in this country for such a flag or for such people.

The fact is that this innocent and praiseworthy sentiment, to which every true American will subscribe, was caught up in the streets and twisted, apparently, so that the sailors and marines took it as the excuse for the rioting that followed.

Mr. Daniels need make no apology for his sentiment. It is one that his fellow countrymen will applaud, not censure.

The flag of this country has three colors. They are red, white and blue. No flag of a single color can take its place, and there is no room here for those who would tear down the red, white and blue and run up the red in its place.

The case of that Connecticut chap who lost fifteen pounds in a swim of thirty-five miles may encourage some of those who are seeking to reduce their weight. And then again it may not.

INCREASING THE BENEFITS OF THE PARCEL POST.

The Herald predicted, when congress authorized the parcel post and gave the postoffice department power to extend it, that the first form in which this splendid service was offered to the people would prove to be only a nucleus.

And Postmaster General Burleson is showing a commendable enterprise in pushing extensions of the parcel post service as rapidly as they are found feasible.

The latest extension—or rather set of extensions—is the best yet. Under it, after Aug. 15, these changes will be made:

1. The first zone will be enlarged to include a part of what is now in the second zone, thus expanding the area through which the cheap first zone rates are applicable.

2. The local rate will be extended throughout the enlarged first zone.

3. The rates within the first zone will be reduced from five cents for the first pound and one cent for each additional pound to five cents for the first pound and one cent for each additional two pounds. Thus the old rate on an eleven pound package was fifteen cents, and the new rate will be ten cents.

The second zone rate will be reduced from six cents for the first pound and four cents for each additional pound to five cents for the first pound and one cent for each additional pound; or from forty-six cents to fifteen cents on an eleven-pound package.

The maximum weight of packages within the first two zones will be increased from eleven pounds to twenty pounds.

These are highly valuable concessions that will greatly increase the usefulness of the parcel post, and they are an earnest of more to come.

THE HILLSIDE SCHOOL.

To the Editor of The Herald:

It is understood that the school board is to have a new school built on Eighth street between Eleventh and Twelfth avenues east, to be known as the Roger S. Munger school. It is rumored that the school is to be a four-room building which many of the hillsiders believe to be inadequate for the growing needs of the community, if not for the present needs. As one who is interested, I would like to know the limits of the proposed Munger school district. I believe that many of the hillsiders would appreciate it if the school board would set a date and designate a place where we could meet with their building committee to discuss the plans, as from what I've heard these are not very satisfactory to some of those interested. I would also like to know if the school board has any idea as to the number of children who would attend this school when completed, and if not, if they would set a date for an evening meeting and advertise same, we hillsiders would endeavor to supply a list after we have learned the size of the district. Signed

A Hoss in Its Day

By Savoyard.

Washington, July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Whatever else he is, Theodore Roosevelt is a dextrous, a consummate politician. He has that instinct that was the gift of Andrew Jackson and Abraham Lincoln and it teaches him what the people think, what they long for, what they intend to have. Clay, Webster, Blaine, Douglas, were denied this most formidable equipment of the statesman. Woodrow Wilson expressed it admirably when he spoke of the "voiceless majority, or words to that effect—and you may be sure that Wilson is surer and swifter in arriving at what the people want and intend to have than Teddy himself.

Roosevelt has given the opinion that there can be no merger of the Bull Moosers and the standpatters. He knows that you can't make a political party to order. Men—that is, honest men as most men are—must think alike ere they act together. In the senate, Penrose hates La Follette, Gallinger despises Cummins, Lodge scorns Bristow. How can they act together, differing as they do on public questions? It is true that they oppose the Democratic idea, which is the constitutional idea, that tariff taxation shall be for public purposes only, but they are not at all agreed on the tariff—one set demanding that the graft be wholesale and the other protesting that retail will do. The standpatter is a plunger—the Bull Mooser is a piker—when it comes to the tariff.

"West is West and East is East,
And never the twain shall meet."

And what a party it was when it lived—the G. O. P.! What an admixture of glory and infamy, of valor and cowardice! In 1859 it was craven when the name of John Brown was uttered; by 1863 Brown was its patron saint—this maniac who could have put the knife to the throat of every man, woman and child of the white race south of Mason and Dixon line to free a single African slave! And how glorious was the G. O. P. at Gettysburg in 1863, and there Lincoln, its greatest son, made a classic that will survive the tongue he spake and will live as long as the heroism displayed by blue and gray on that gory field is recorded in the story of the nations.

The infamy of Reconstruction will be the wonder of ages to be. Proclaiming liberty throughout the land the Republican party deliberately perpetrated the crime of making politically subordinate the Saxon to the negro in eleven states of our republic. Burke said of the maniacs who rendered the French revolution so terrible that they were the greatest architects of ruin the world ever saw. But Thad Stevens and Charles Sumner, a combination of Hell and Utopia, surpassed them.

Every moment of its existence the Republican party was sectional—at no time national. It is true that in 1829 the president and vice president were Southern men, residing at the South, but both Jackson and Calhoun had received the votes of Northern states. It had been a hundred thousand times predicted that when a party entirely sectional should attain power in our republic civil war would follow, as it did when Lincoln was chosen president without a single vote in the electoral college from south of Mason and Dixon line, and the event justified the prophecy.

Lincoln was the wisest man of his generation, perhaps the wisest man of our entire history, though there have been greater intellects. And Lincoln forced the nomination of Andrew Johnson for vice president in 1864 because he wished to make his party national. Of all the political calamities that have overtaken our people the greatest was the death of Abraham Lincoln. And in all history he will always be one of the grandest figures. Thank God every drop of his blood, every fiber of his body, was Southern, and Kentuckian, too. Isn't it a curious fact that his mother was a native of South Carolina?

But our government is now become national. The G. O. P. has passed in its checks. No sectional party will ever again be enthroned in this country. Had Lincoln lived the Republican party would have been nationalized, and thus become as immortal as the Democratic party. Man can forgive injury; he never yet forgave or condoned insult. Under the lead of those madmen, Stevens, Sumner, Wade, Chandler, "Beast" Butler, Logan, Morton, Stanton and others, the Republican party added insult to injury and thus it could get no lodgment at the South. And so the time had come for the G. O. P. to die and it died.

There is no doubt that there is a very strong sentiment at the South favorable to tariff protection, but the prejudice against the Republican party at the South is much greater than the belief in a tariff for protection. Clay was a Southern man and a protectionist. In 1844 he carried Tennessee against Polk on that issue, although Andrew Jackson was yet living. In North Carolina and in Virginia there has always been the poison of protection flagrant and formidable. So it is in Louisiana. We see it even in grand old Texas, not many years hence to be the "Imperial" state of the American sisterhood.

But the G. O. P. must stay in the grave before the dogma of protection can make any headway down South. Teddy knows that, and hence his order that there must be no merger of standpatter and Bull Mooser, and it is well enough.

The Sense in Cursing.

Youth's Companion: Two men entered a train at a small station out West and took seats facing an elderly man. They fell to telling hunting stories with great animation and many oaths.

Noticing that the old man was an interested listener, one of the men spoke to him and asked whether he, too, were not a hunter, with a story or two worth hearing.

The old man thought he could tell one and this is what he said:

"One day I thought I would go hunting; so I took my tin pan tinder box gun and went up into a tin pan tinder box woods on the side of a tin pan tinder box mountain, and I waited a tin pan tinder box long time; and then I saw a tin pan tinder box fine buck coming toward me, so I put my old tin pan tinder box gun to my shoulder and fired. And that tin pan tinder box buck fell right in its tin pan tinder box tracks; and it was the finest tin pan tinder box buck I ever killed." After a pause he said, "How do you like my story?"

"Oh, the story is all right, but I don't see what all that 'tinpan tinder box' has to do with it."

"Well," replied the old man, "that is just my way of swearing."

"I don't see much sense in swearing that way," said the other, with manifest disgust.

To which the old man responded: "There is as much sense in my way of swearing as there is in yours, young man."

Getting the News

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Louis Ludlow could have come only from Indiana. He is just as indigenous to Hoosier soil as Daniel Webster was to New England. No one but Louis could have set out from the farm, wearing a pancake hat and mottled socks visible to the naked eye between his trousers and shoe tops, and have gotten a job right off the reel on a big city newspaper.

Louis was born in a log cabin, and had never been more than four or five miles from his father's farm when he got it into his head that his life work should be in journalism. Having got the idea he immediately packed up his little kit and started to Indianapolis. Arrived there, he began to behave like a man trying to act out all the Juck and Pudge pictures of rubes in cities. For instance, he actually tried to light the incandescent lights at his boarding place with a match, drank freely from finger bowls, and asked entire strangers how the trolley cars managed to get along without horses.

Now just pause to imagine how it would strike you if you were the editor of a big newspaper and a young man such as Louis Ludlow was then came in to ask for a job. This editor looked Louis over and then laughed—not a mild laugh either; he slapped his thigh and laughed boisterously.

Louis stood patiently by, fingering his little pancake hat, until the editor had laughed all he wished to, and then he repeated his declaration that he believed he was the making of a corking news gatherer.

"I am fortunately endowed with a great power of observation," remarked Louis; "for example I have been greatly interested since I came to your city in the horseless street cars. People here don't seem to notice them at all."

The editor laughed some more, and turned Louis over to the associate editor, and the latter gave him an assignment, with a long list of instructions, thinking that the most humane way to get rid of him. But Louis returned. Moreover, he had what he was sent after. Not only that, but he was able to write it in first-class English, which even in those days was beginning to be found advisable in many large newspapers. So Louis stuck—at $10 a week. He had one great advantage as a newsgatherer. He looked so funny that everybody was glad to tell him news just for an excuse to talk to him.

The story has already been told about how Louis went out to see a priest one night, and finding the priest away from home, insisted on seeing his wife.

That was just one of a lot of comical little things he did. But the point is that he kept right on holding his job. Today he is one of the most capable political writers at Washington, and probably knows more Hoosiers by their front names than any man in the world, not excepting Tom Taggart. He has been on close confidential terms with practically every prominent Indiana man on the political stage in the last twenty years, and it is a dull day when Louis does not pack about with him several important political secrets.

When he still was comparatively new to the ways of the big, wide world, Louis was sent to interview Benjamin Harrison, who could say less to a reporter when he wished to than any man of the time. Gen. Harrison had been spending the summer in the Adirondacks, and was due to arrive home. A mayoralty campaign was on and Preston Trusler, the Republican candidate for the office, had voted against Harrison when he was a candidate for president. It was believed that unless Harrison forgave and helped to pull the Republican elephant along, Trusler was in for a drubbing. Louis had had impressed upon him the importance of inveigling Harrison into telling what his attitude would be. So the moment the ex-president stepped off the train, Louis was right at his heels, and he followed him through the station to his carriage, all the while trying to summon enough nerve to ask him the question.

At the carriage door, Louis cleared his throat and said:

"General, it is rumored that your influence will be felt in the city campaign in behalf of Mr. Trusler."

Whereupon Harrison looked Louis Ludlow squarely in the eye and said: "Is that so? I shall have to investigate that rumor."

And the carriage bore him away.

The remark recalls one by President Wilson at one of his conferences with the newspaper correspondents a few weeks ago.

"Mr. President," suggested the writing man, "there is a great deal of interest in what your attitude is going to be with regard to Federal appointments." Which was a tip for the president to open up and tell just how much he was going to leave to others, and how much he personally was going to have to say about Federal appointments. His actual reply, however, was as follows:

"So I understand."

Some little time after Will Irwin, the writer, had resigned his place on the New York Sun he happened to drop into the local room of that paper early one afternoon before the city editor or any of the staff had reported for work. He sat at the city editor's desk looking at a paper and toying with the shears while waiting for somebody to show up.

The first man on the scene was a young reporter whose actions showed that he supposed Irwin was a new city editor. That gave Irwin the idea for a little joke.

He called the reporter to the desk, looked him solemnly in the face, and said:

"There is an unconfirmed rumor that Harry Thaw has shot Stanford White at Madison Square Garden. I wish you would run right down there and investigate."

And, mind you, this was some months after Thaw's second trial for the shooting of White.

The reporter gave one look at Irwin and then ran wildly out the door.

He thought he was dealing with a madman.

A Night Call for the Domine.

Woman's Home Companion: A clergyman's small daughter was sent to bed supperless just before her father's return from a short trip. Hearing him enter, some time later, the young lady called down:

"Mamma, I want to see Daddy."

There was no response from below. A moment later:

"Mamma, please let Daddy get me a drink of water."

When that, too, failed, a small white figure came to the head of the stairs and said sternly:

"Mrs. Hastings, I am a very sick woman. I must see my pastor at once."

Needless to say, her pastor went up.

Minnesota Opinions

Comments of the State Press.

It's Here.

Princeton Union: "Ragtime is the coming music," says an authority on matters of this sort. Coming? The cussed stuff is already poisoning the atmosphere.

Yes, Who?

Le Sueur News: The New York Sun says that Woodrow Wilson "is not the leader of the nation. He is the president of the nation, the leader of a minority party." Well, Mr. Sun, you are too big for us to offer any argument, but please tell us who is leader of the nation just now?

Wise Counsel.

Albert Lea Standard: Jane Addams judiciously says that women ought not to try to jump into office too quickly. Well, not so long as the present fashion in skirts prevail.

It Would Help.

Madison Independent-Press: There has been so much said by the newspapers about the franking privilege and its abuse that Mr. Kenyon has introduced a bill providing for its abolition. Such a law would wipe out the postal deficit and create a surplus within a period of three months.

Step Forward.

Fairmont Sentinel: Abandonment of the compulsory use of parcel post stamps on merchandise is another step towards making the parcel post system popular. The chief drawback still left is the necessity for going to the postoffice to mail packages, instead of dropping them into a box. This is a result of the zone system, which makes the figuring of the proper rate somewhat complicated. Yet, even this will be overcome, probably by a system of collecting any shortage of postage from the consignee, as is done with first-class mail. The freest possible use of the parcel post is what is needed.

Justice to All.

Alexandria Post-News: The abolishment of the unanimous court verdict in Minnesota means that justice will be more evenly administered in civil actions, removing, as it does, the necessity of cutting down verdicts to win over one or two who disagree with the majority. The opinion of ten men on any jury is nearer the true verdict than a compromise. Possibly the jury "fixer" will now seek some honorable calling.

Senatorial Talk.

Cass Lake Times: Senator McCumber of North Dakota, having worn the seat of his trousers bare listening to the modern ideas of government is now tearing around trying to make the farmers of this state believe that unless the government maintains a duty on wheat and other cereals the whole agricultural contingent of the state will go bankrupt. We were not aware that our contiguous state was in such a precarious condition for it is not an unusual incident in Minnesota for a well-balanced farmer to realize $25 per acre for his crop, and it has been found that the largest share of the bank deposits of the state belongs to the farmers. Farmers were never in such a prosperous condition, but this prosperity has not been reached by grain growing; the cow and the clover has done it and where wheat has been the main dependance as a money crop the farmer, even with a prospective duty of 25 cents per bushel has remained poor. Looks quite a little like political buncomb and will be so considered by the country.

Convert Him.

Hibbing Tribune: The fellow who doesn't believe in the farming possibilities of St. Louis county will not be able to stop the good work but he is quite a lot in the way.

What A Change!

New York World: Difficult as it is in most cases, it appears that a man, if a lobbyist against eight-hour, child-labor and tariff-reform bills, may easily serve two masters. Col. Mulhall's testimony as to his operations in the sixth Indiana district in 1906, when James E. Watson, Republican, was a candidate for re-election, shows how it may be done. As is usual with his statements, he is supported by documentary proof, in this case by a letter from the late James S. Sherman of the Republican congressional committee, saying:

> While you are not now employed by the Republican congressional committee, nor were you employed during the last campaign, you did render us very material assistance and I found you at all times reliable, trustworthy and effective.

After this letter had been read, Col. Mulhall's examination proceeded:

"Did Mr. Sherman know that you were being paid for your work by the National Association of Manufacturers?" asked Senator Reed.

"Oh, yes," said Mulhall. "I took orders from the national committee almost as much as from Mr. Cushing, secretary of the National Association of Manufacturers."

When a man "takes orders" from two sources there is likely to be friction, but there was none in this instance. The National Association of Manufacturers and the Republican congressional committee were enlisted in the same cause. They worked harmoniously. Col. Mulhall was as much the servant of the one as of the other.

It is not to be supposed that the lobby had more regard for true Republican principles than for true Democratic principles, but it happened that when its activities were greatest the Republican party organization had fallen under the influence of the buccaneers of "business." It had become a clearing-house for privilege and graft. It sought campaign contributions and in return it gave favoring laws. It turned over the government to a class which made war upon a much more numerous class.

If the Republican organization had not been engaged in these practices the National Association of Manufacturers probably would have been a legitimate combination devoted to perfectly reasonable objects. Its lobby fell into the bad habit of supplementing the labors of the corruptionists of the party. In most places where selfish interests were conspicuously arrayed against the people's interests, lobby and party were indistinguishable; they fought shoulder to shoulder, they rejoiced in the same victories and shared the same plunder; they mourned the same defeats.

Col. Mulhall took orders, indeed, from two great organizations, but as they were one in spirit and purpose, he had no difficulty in serving them both, as the man who later became vice president said, reliably, trustworthily and effectively.

What a change there has been at Washington, where now, with another tariff bill under way, the lobby is shunned as might be a leper!

Nobility.

Lowell: Be noble! and the nobleness that lies in other men, sleeping, but never dead, will rise in majesty to meet thine own.

Concerning a Mr. Gilliecuddy.

They speak of Baker's batting and they rant of Collins's speed;
They'll tell you Plank and Bender frame the proper pitching breed;
They'll rise to young McInnis and to Barry on the job,
And they'll make you see that Oldring has a shade on Tyrus Cobb.

In the meanwhile there's one sitting quite obscurely in his place;
He never bats Three Hundred and he never steals a base:
You rarely look upon him and you never hear him yelp,
But he's always got one planted when he needs a bit of help.

It may be in some college that you've never heard before;
It may be in some water tank along the Western shore:
But when the proper time arrives and someone's needed quick,
It's merely then the question of the bloke that he will pick.

Where rivals say they can't be got for blandishment or gold,
Though countless ivory hunters beat the bushes through the fold,
Where others spend ten thousand for an option on a lime,
He goes and grabs a Collins and a Barry for a dime.

He has them growing up in Maine and down in Tennessee;
He has them planted in the bush from Lynn to Kankakee;
And when Baker's smash is over and when Bender leaves the hill,
He'll go and grab their equals while he cracks a dollar bill.

—Grantland Rice in Collier's Weekly.

A Meaningless Society.

George D. Herron in the Metropolitan: Unless in some unrecorded prehistoric era, there has never been an organization of life and labor answering to any true conception of society. There is no record, racial or national, of a harmonious and equalizing association of men in work and wealth, in freedom and conduct. We have no knowledge of a conscious and directed human evolution, of a coherent and chosen arrangement of the world. Society has yet but a phraseological existence: there is no body of fact or experience to which the term can be truthfully applied. However conventional or convenient it may be to assume that society is, the assumption has no warrant in the common condition or the average circumstance. Society is yet to become—has yet to be made—through the grounding of life in social certainty, and through trustfully following the freedom that therefrom issues.

The DOCTOR'S HELPS

By DONALD McCASKEY, M. D.
Member of Staff, General Hospital, Lancaster, Pa.; Fellow of the New York Academy of Medicine

HOW TO WIN BACK YOUR HEALTH

I have received an earnest inquiry from a correspondent, "G. C.", asking if some form of simple treatment cannot be prescribed for him that will reinvigorate his shattered, unhealthy body. A portion of his letter says:

"I have been treated for many years without relief, am all run down and exceptionally nervous. Upon the least excitement and following my meals a palpitation of my heart occurs. During the last year I have lost 20 pounds in weight. My feet and hands are always cold and my stomach and bowels show signs of catarrh. I have been dieting, taking deep breathing exercises and the cold bath treatment. No medicine has passed my lips except olive oil."

From your symptoms, my advice to you would be as follows: Procure from your druggist a six-ounce bottle of diluted hydrochloric acid. This, of course, must be labeled "POISON." Of this preparation, take one-half a teaspoonful before each meal, and before bedtime. Do not drop this medicine in water. Drop it on two or three small pieces of bread, which you have previously rolled up into the shape of bread pills. Saturate these bread pills with the medicine and place each pill as far back in your throat as you can. Then swallow them, washing the whole down with a full glass of water. This will save your teeth, for the medicine has a very hard and destructive chemical action on teeth. Even after the medicine has been swallowed you should rinse your mouth out with a quarter of a teaspoonful of bicarbonate of soda and water. The teeth should also be given a good brushing.

It will require three or four days of this medication before your system will have become thoroughly saturated. Then the quantity of each dose of the above acid can be reduced to one-quarter of a teaspoonful. This equals fifteen drops. After several additional days you can cut out the dose at bedtime. After two months stop it altogether. Stop putting olive oil inside of your stomach.

A far better nerve medicine and strength rejuvenator is pure water. You must drink three or four quarts of this each day. Ordinary bottled seltzer water will be helpful at mealtimes and bedtime. The water will dissolve many accumulated waste products which are lodged within the substance of your flesh cells and are acting as depressing poisons. Once these are dissolved, they will begin to be eliminated through your kidneys, skin and bowels. It is this effete poison which is mainly responsible for your disordered health. You have been loading energy-producing material inside of you, with the idea that it will be assimilated and translated into vigor and solid flesh. Instead of this, it has become chemically perverted within your stomach and bowels and has been emanating poisons which have been absorbed and circulated throughout your entire body.

Somehow, you must procure pure graham bread or whole wheat bread. Eat a loaf of this at a meal if it tastes good to you. Eat honey with it, and pure butter. Be sure the honey is pure also. The safe course would be to buy only that which is in the natural comb shipped direct from the beehive. With a little inquiry and persistence you can have your dealer procure this, or you will have to search it out for yourself. The point is GET it.

For the next six months let meat and all the albumen foods alone. I mean by this, avoid all cheese, milk, eggs, meat. Live upon the various preparations of wheat, in addition to your bread. Get some cornmeal, preferably the white, also some oatmeal and bran flour. Have muffins and flap-jacks and corn pone with honey made out of these. Eat at least half a dozen banana souffles each week, each souffle being made out of two bananas. Let your dinner and supper be your bread, vegetables, fruits and nuts. Cut out the cold bathing and deep breathing until you regain that twenty pounds you have lost. Then use your common sense as to your future habits.

MINNEAPOLIS MAN GETS TWELVE YEARS

Los Angeles, Cal., July 22.—James L. Murphy, formerly a Minneapolis policeman, convicted of second degree murder for the killing of Mrs. Irene Mattie Smith, a chorus girl, was sentenced to serve twelve years in the penitentiary at San Quentin. The case in which Miss Stella Moore, Murphy's niece, was charged with complicity in the slaying of Mrs. Smith, was dismissed.

Murphy killed Mrs. Smith with a bullet intended for his nephew, of whose attentions to the young woman he was jealous.

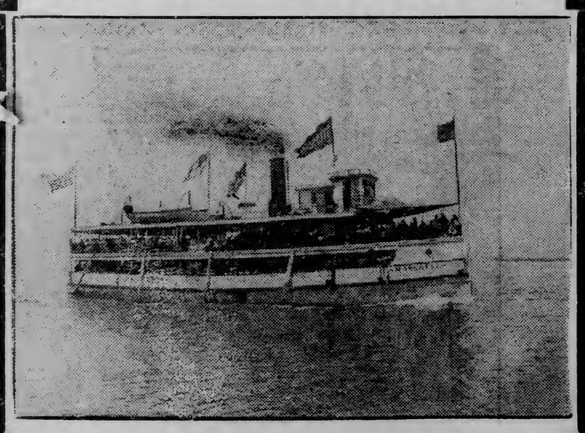

Cobb Resigns Federal Job.

Washington, July 22.—Charles W. Cobb, assistant attorney for the interior department, has tendered his resignation to President Wilson. He was appointed by Mr. Taft from San Francisco in May, 1911. At Secretary Lane's request he will continue in office until Sept. 15.

L. S. LOEB IS HONORED BY JEWISH PEOPLE

Louis S. Loeb of Duluth has been signally honored by the Jewish residents of the United States in being elected to the directorate of the Jewish orphan asylum of Cleveland, Ohio, the largest Hebrew charitable institution in America.

This is the first time that a Minnesota man has ever been chosen to the directorate. The honor is even more creditable to Mr. Loeb in that he was elected by a vote of 6,482 ballots, the highest having been 9,000 and the lowest 2,800, under which the names were not considered.

There are twenty-five directors chosen at the elections every three years, so that Mr. Loeb will be a member of the directorate until 1916. He was notified yesterday of his election by Louis S. Levy of Cincinnati, president of the institution. In all there were over 110 candidates for the office from nearly every large city in the United States. Mr. Loeb's candidacy was backed by prominent business men in the West and the local B'Nai B'Rith lodge, of which he is a member. He has been a member of the institution for many years, having contributed liberally for its support each year.

The orphan asylum is the largest Hebrew charitable institution in America and one of the largest in the world. There are now 528 children being cared for at the asylum, which is wholly supported by contributions from Hebrew citizens of this country. Every B'Nai B'Rith lodge in America also contributes to the institution, a certain amount being given each year by each member. The Independent Order of B'Nai B'Rith originated through this asylum and it is now the pet institution of the order. Only credited contributors are allowed to vote, however, the ballot being sent by mail.

Mr. Loeb has been a resident of Duluth for the past thirty-two years and is very well known throughout the Northwest.

Mrs. Eaton Loses Move.

Boston, Mass., July 22.—Mrs. Jennie May Eaton, charged with having murdered her husband, Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, has failed in an effort to force the government to show its hand before her trial in October. The court denied motions made by her counsel to compel the district attorney to furnish him with a transcript of the grand jury testimony to grant access to all exhibits to be used at the trial.

HOUSING CODE IS ADVERTISEMENT

Duluth Gets Publicity From New Regulations on Building.

Duluth is still finding its housing ordinance a big advertising feature.

Every now and then, the Duluth housing code is made the subject of a special article appearing in some magazine or outside paper.

The latest comment upon local housing standards appears in a recent issue of the Chicago Daily News. Under a column headed, "The Human Side of Things," the following appears:

"Method is the hinge of business and there is no method without order and punctuality."—Hannah More.

"'By the street of By-and-by one arrives at the house of Never.'—Cervantes.

"Duluth's Housing Standards.

"Various cities in recent months have taken cognizance of the importance of good housing conditions. One of the first to take constructive action by a complete revision of its housing code, following a searching investigation, was Duluth. Like every other city which has been careless with respect to the way its people live, Duluth had been housing some of its population in dark interior rooms and dark, damp basements; it had room overcrowding and lot overcrowding; and its toilet facilities were in many instances not conducive either to decency or to health.

"The first result of these discoveries was the appointment by the common council, on the recommendation of the mayor, of a housing committee. This committee at once set about the task of drafting an ordinance based upon a model law. A draft of this ordinance was submitted to the National Housing association for comment. It was made the subject of several public hearings in Duluth and finally passed by a vote of 9 to 6.

"Hereafter in Duluth both tenement houses and single family dwellings must have enough open space on their lots to light and ventilate every room. rooms must be large enough for habitation and must have windows opening to the outer air, the height of wooden tenement houses will be limited and other safeguards provided against fire. Every new tenement house must have within each apartment a proper sink with running water and a water closet located either in a bathroom or in a separate compartment. Every dwelling house, when water main and sewer are accessible, must also have running water and a water closet within the house.

"For existing houses the regulations, of course, are not so strict as for new buildings: but for them also the standards have been raised in the interests of decency and health."

BODY OF MAN IS FOUND IN BAY

Possessions Give Name of Carl Berglund of Superior.

The decomposed body of a man, who is supposed to be Carl Berglund of Superior, was washed ashore at the foot of Fifth avenue west yesterday afternoon. It was found by dock employes, who notified Coroner McComb.

The only theory advanced is that Berglund committed suicide about a month ago. Nothing can be learned about the dead man, except the information found in a small handbook, which gives the names of Carl Berglund and "Curly" Berg, 409 John avenue, Superior. A razor found in the dead man's coat had a small name plate, with Carl Berglund, Superior, engraved on it.

Investigation made at Superior last evening by James L. Crawford, undertaker, who has the body in charge, disclosed the fact that there was a William Berg, who formerly lived at 407 John avenue, but that he left about a month ago. His whereabouts are now unknown. There is a Carl Berglund living at 1809 North Twenty-first street, who knows nothing of the dead man.

The body is in a badly decomposed state, and owing to its condition, will be buried this afternoon. Interment will be at the Forest Hill cemetery.

Berglund was about 40 years old, five feet nine inches tall, and smooth shaven, was clothed in black lace shoes, brown trousers and a black coat. It is believed that the body was in the water about a month.

BOY CONFESSES EXPRESS ROBBERY.

Lake Charles, La., July 22.—A 17-year-old express wagon driver, Herschel Pierce, has confessed that he stole $23,000 in currency from a Wells Fargo chest in a railroad station here last November, according to the police. His arrest came as the sequel to the apprehension of his uncle, A. E. Amy, on Saturday.

The police said Pierce told them he had no assistance in planning or executing the robbery, and that voluntarily he divided the currency with his uncle. It was Amy's lavish spending that directed suspicion to him. Pierce appeared to have spent almost nothing of his share.

He led officers to a cache of $7,000, and $2,000 was found in Amy's garage at Eunice, La.

PRIMROSE PATH LEADS TO SUICIDE.

Knox, Ind., July 22.—Martin Strausburger, son of Frank Strasburger, a wealthy Chicago manufacturer, shot his step-mother through the head and then committed suicide at the summer home of his father near here yesterday. Mrs. Strasburger is not expected to live. Young Strasburger, it is said, had been living a fast life in Chicago and this is believed to have caused him to become mentally deranged.

YEOMEN OF STATE TO HOLD PICNIC

Crowd From Twin Cities and Southern Minnesota Will Attend.

At a meeting of Duluth Homestead No. 3131, Brotherhood of American Yoemen, held at the Woodmen hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street last evening, plans for the second annual state picnic of the order, to be held on Aug. 31, was made. It is planned to work jointly with the Two Harbors homestead in entertaining a train load of visitors from the Southern part of the state.

According to advices received yesterday by J. A. Bellmeur, local district manager, many of the head officers of the order will be here to attend the picnic. Among these will be William Koch of Des Moines, Iowa, grand foreman; William Davy of Des Moines, chief correspondent; J. H. Murphy of Owatonna, Minn., state manager, and O. G. Winters of Des Moines, chief physician.

It is planned to charter a train which will leave St. Paul with the Twin City and Southern Minnesota contingent at about midnight on Aug. 30, arriving in Duluth about 7 o'clock Sunday morning, Aug. 31. Two hours will be given the visitors to get from the train to the steamer, which will be chartered to take the crowd to Two Harbors where the picnic will be held.

An elaborate program of sports and other features of entertainment is being planned by the local committee assisted by a committee from Two Harbors. The local committee consists of J. A. Bellmeur, J. J. Hughes and J. C. Wesenberg.

The committee expects to have a large delegation of Duluth and Superior Yoemen at the station to meet the incoming train from the south on the morning of the picnic

ENTERTAINMENT FOR FRENCH CLUB

Wrestling Match Between Heavyweights Feature of Athletic Program.

Plans are being made for a big program for Friday, Aug. 8, by the French Naturalization club at the French hall, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Third street. A feature of the evening's entertainment will be a championship wrestling match between Patrolman Henry Brouillette and Umbious Burdash.

The two men are said to be about evenly matched and are expected to prove a big attraction. Each has been claiming superiority as the best man for some time past and only recently have the other members been able to get them to agree to get together.

Patrolman Brouillette claims to hold the championship as a wrestler for the entire police department. He has had a number of encounters in the past with members of the department as well as members of the French club. In each case he is said to have been given the decision.

Burdash is about the same weight and build of Brouillette and has appeared on a number of occasions before the club in matches with other men, each time proving the victor. The winner of this match intends posting a challenge to wrestle any man in the city for the city amateur championship.

The evening's entertainment will also include a number of other entertainments. This is one of a series of monthly entertainments given by the club for its members. The club has a membership of about 500 French residents of the western end of the city. It has been instrumental in the naturalization of new comers and has for its object this feature as well as that of instructing new arrivals in becoming good American citizens.

First Monthly "Spread."

The Epworth League of the First Norweglan-Danish M. E. church will hold its first of a series of monthly "spreads" this evening at Grassy Point. The spread will be held following the picnic of the Sunday school of the church which is being held at that place today.

A program of a literary and social nature will be given by the young people. They will gather at 7 o'clock taking the Grand avenue car to Seventy-first avenue and then walking to the picnic grounds.

About 200 children are enjoying the picnic today. The program which was prepared for July 4 at which time the picnic was originally planned for, is being carried out as nearly as possible. This includes races, games and other sport features.

Societies of St. Clement's Catholic Church Combine in Outing.

The annual picnic of the societies of the St. Clement's Catholic church, Twenty-first avenue west and Third street, will be held tomorrow at Lincoln park. Plans have been made to make the affair the biggest ever given by the joint organizations.

An elaborate program of sports and games has been planned for the afternoon. The program has been arranged under the direction of the assistant pastor, Rev. Raymond Basil.

The sports will include races for members of the congregation and Sunday school. In the evening a dance at the pavilion is planned. The music for this will be furnished by Blewett's orchestra.

The sports program includes the following:
Boys' race under 10 years.
Girls' race under 10 years.
Boys' race, 10 to 16 years.
Girls' race, 10 to 16 years.

OIL TRUST SETTLES FOR HALF MILLION

Texas May Put Penalty Money Into Its School Fund.

Greenville, Tex., July 22.—Half a million dollars and a penalty and the transfer of 21,596 of the 24,500 shares of stock in the Magnolia Petroleum company of this state from the individual control of H. C. Folger, Jr., and John D. Archbold to a trustee mutually agreed upon, has been accepted by the state of Texas in settlement of the state's $102,000,000 penalty and ouster suit.

This action was instituted here recently by the state attorney general against the Magnolia and Corsicana Petroleum companies of Texas, the Standard Oil companies of New Jersey and New York and twenty-eight individuals. Judge R. A. Williams of Austin was named as trustee for the stock in question. The penalty was paid under telegraphic instructions from the Standard Oil company of New Jersey.

The agreed verdict holds the Magnolia company, the chief Texas interest in the suit, not guilty of anti-trust law violations, and it is privileged to continue business with the proviso that the stock owned by Messrs. Folger and Archbold shall be administered by the trust, under guarantee by the trusteeship of complete and independent operation of the company. The Corsicana company is also given the right to continue operation.

The penalty assessed is based on alleged violations of the anti-trust laws prior to 1909.

This action makes the fourth time in six years that oil companies have been penalized in this state, but the first instance in which any of the companies sued have been permitted to continue in operation.

Governor O. B. Colquitt, in a special message to the legislature, recommended that the $500,000 penalty received be applied to the state school fund. Legislative leaders indicated this would be done.

"LAWSON VICTIM" DIES A CONVICT

Death Ends Spectacular Career of Cardeni F. King.

Bridgewater, Mass., July 22.—A spectacular career was ended under pathetic circumstances yesterday when Cardeni F. King, once widely known as a financier and newspaper publisher of Boston, died a convict at the state farm here in the very hour that friends, aware of the approach of death, were making desperate efforts to obtain his pardon.

Only a legal technicality prevented his last hours from being those of a free man. Governor Foss attempted to issue a pardon secured by telephone, but was advised by the attorney general that this was not a legal procedure.

King was convicted of obtaining $22,000 under false pretenses from persons who had entrusted him with funds for investment, and was sentenced to from ten to fourteen years. In January, 1909 he began his term at Charlestown, but became seriously ill and was removed here. A chronic intestinal trouble still pursued him, and Sunday night his condition suddenly became critical.

Began Operations in 1904.

King began his financial operations in Boston in 1904. In 1907, he began publication of the Boston Daily Tribune, but it was discontinued after it had been published for several months at an expense estimated at a half a million dollars. In 1908 King's customers began to complain that stocks for which they had sent him money had not been delivered. Bankruptcy followed, with the discovery that his liabilities were nearly $300,000 and assets less than $14,000.

A warrant for King's arrest was issued, but the financier had disappeared. He was traced to New York, London, Paris and finally to Colombo, Ceylon. He returned to Boston and surrendered in June, 1908.

Sentence was pronounced upon him following a dramatic recital in which King declared he was innocent of any wrong intention, and accused Thomas W. Lawson, the Boston financier, of secretly fighting him and bringing him to financial ruin.

BOARD MAY SELL BONDS

N. J. Upham & Co. Make Offer That Will Be Considered.

Mrs. Davis, W. B. Getchell and J. R. Mc Giffert Declared Elected.

The school board met last night chiefly to canvass the vote cast at the school election of last Saturday, but as a result of the meeting arrangements may be made with N. J. Upham & Co., to dispose of the $200,000 worth of 4½ per cent school bonds which the board desires to sell to obtain money with which to build the Denfeld and Munger schools. The matter was placed in the hands of the finance committee and that committee is expected to be able to make a report some night during this week, for which President Magner will call a special meeting.

Among the bids recently rejected by the board was one by the Upham company in which it was agreed to take the bonds at par, provided the board would purchase temporarily from the money in the sinking fund $125,000 worth of them at 3.9 per cent. This was later referred to the board attorneys, Baldwin & Baldwin, who last evening submitted a report declaring that under the state laws such a purchase could not be legally made. The offer made by Mr. Upham, who was present at the meeting last night, was to purchase the bonds or, rather, take them under assignment, with the understanding that the Upham company is to place them as rapidly as possible, the arrangement not to interfere with the sale of the bonds or any part of them undisposed, at any time that the board finds it convenient to so dispose of them.

Offer Received With Favor.

The offer was evidently received with favor by the members of the board present, but as there was not a full attendance, Director Brewer made the motion to refer to the finance committee, which is to confer with the board's attorneys. In the offer the Upham company also agrees to have the bonds passed on by the highest legal authority in the country regarding bonds.

E. R. Cooper, manager of the bond department of W. M. Prindle & Co., who was present, had nothing to say regarding the bond issue, but in a communication that he presented to the bord, offered to sell to the board bonds of the board to the amount of $100,000, drawing 5 per cent and maturing June 1, 1914, agreeing to deliver the bonds on a 4 per cent basis figured to date of maturity. This matter was also referred to the finance committee.

The committee on schools reported that it has cut down its request for further equipment in the schools until the bond matter is disposed of, and now plans equipment of only the Whittier and Lakeside schools, the cost to be $1,520; also that it requests $6,162 worth of supplies for the schools, most of which is sold back to the pupils, so that the ultimate cost is much less than it appears on the face.

The following resignations of teachers were received: Miss Hilda Swanbeck of Ironwood, Mich., Miss Clarissa A. Miller of Minneapolis and Miss Sadie F. Stevens of Duluth. No reasons were given.

The canvass of the vote resulted in the declaring of Mrs. T. J. Davis, W. B. Getchell and J. R. McGiffert elected members of the school board to serve a term of three years, beginning Aug. 2.

OLD HEAD OF U. S. PARK IS EJECTED

Klamath Falls, Or., July 22.—W. Frank Arant was ejected yesterday from the superintendency of the Crater Lake National park by United States Marshal Scott of Portland, acting on instructions from Washington. Will G. Steele of Portland, whose appointment as Arant's successor led to a controversy over the right of Secretary Lane to remove the superintendent, is now in charge of the park.

When Arant was first notified last spring to vacate the position in favor of Steele, he refused to comply on the ground that he was subject to civil service regulation. The repeated demands of Secretary of the Interior Lane for Arant's resignation have been ignored, and both Arant and Steele were at headquarters for several weeks before the marshal was sent to break up the dual regime.

TWO NEVER IN PRISON.

Violators of National Bank Act Are Pardoned.

Washington, July 22.—President Wilson has pardoned T. F. Baker and John Wisherd, convicted at Abilene, Tex., April 13, 1912, of violation of the national bank act and each sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. No portion of the sentences had been served and the president's action was based on the ground of innocence.

Baker was convicted of misapplication of the funds of the First National Bank of Snyder, Tex., of which he was cashier, and Wisherd, a reputed millionaire, was convicted of aiding and abetting the alleged offense. The circuit court of appeals affirmed the judgment Feb. 13, 1913, and the supreme court of the United States on April 28 last denied a motion for a writ of certiorari.

Wisherd, who owned extensive tracts of land in Texas, Wyoming, Nebraska and elsewhere, negotiated a $60,000 loan with the Snyder bank, although the bank's capital and surplus permitted under the law a loan of only $8,000. The loan was paid in full with interest, and while excessive loans are forbidden, there is no penalty in the law for their negotiation, and the men were not tried on that charge.

The department of justice, after investigation of the applications for pardon, held that the men were not guilty of misapplying the funds of the bank, because there was no fraud in connection with the loan.

Discovers How to Get Skin Really Clean

"I never knew what it was to have my face, neck and arms really clean until I began cleansing them with buttermilk," writes Emily Coulson. "Always much given to scrubbing and soaping, of course after each ablution I imagined myself thoroughly clean. One evening after washing in the usual way, I put on a coating of presolated buttermilk paste. After this had dried I wiped it off with a soft towel and was surprised to see how soiled the towel was. The paste had gone deep into the pores and taken out what remained of the grime accumulated during the day—and which I had not realised was there. Next day I began using the paste instead of soap and water. My skin now has an appearance—and feeling—of cleanness such as it never used to have. The presolated buttermilk paste, which I get at my druggist's, because of its natural bleaching and softening properties, has made my complexion satiny, smooth and beautifully white. It eliminates both soap and face cream from my toilet requisites." —Society World.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

BIG CROWDS LOOKED FOR

Opening Day of North Dakota Fair Expected to Be Large.

Today Is Grand Forks Day and Whole City Has Taken Holiday.

Grand Forks, N. D., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual North Dakota state fair opened at 10 o'clock today. This is Grand Forks day and officers expect opening day attendance records will be broken. This is a holiday here and business places are closed.

Governor L. B. Hanna participated in the opening exercises.

"I believe," said President A. L. Hunter, "that we will be able to give the best fair we have ever attempted."

Today's program includes the opening festivities, a race card composed of the 3:00 early closing pace, the 2:19 pace or 2:14 trot, and the half mile running dash, interspersed with track events by the Irwin Bros., Wild West Shows, which are being staged as a free attraction during the week. Judging in only one department—the culinary—commenced today, but the judging in all departments will begin tomorrow morning.

Over 100 boys are here for the third encampment conducted under the direction of the North Dakota Better Farming association. It is being handled by O. D. Center and during the five days, a regular school of instruction for the boys will be carried out.

Two companies of the North Dakota National Guard, C of Grafton and L of Hillsboro, were today delegated to do police duty on the grounds during the entire week.

Minnesota Stock Exhibitors.

In the cattle department the exhibits are unusually extensive. Among the Minnesota horse exhibitors are the Hurdcroft Farm of Monticello, Carlson Bros., of East Grand Forks, Jean Duluth farms, Duluth, F. W. Kolars of East Grand Forks, while leading North Dakota horse exhibitors include Finch Bros., of Fargo, C. H. Olson & Son, Cando; W. J. Hobbs, Walshville; John Hay, Hannah; L. Fitzgerald, Grand Forks; Crystal Springs Stock farm, Larimore; E. Toussaint, Grand Forks.

Among the cattle entrants are: T. J. Crouch, Grand Forks; George A. Smith, De Smet, S. D.; W. W. Brown, Amenia, N. D.; Jean Duluth farms, Duluth; G. D. Arnold, Galesville, Wis.; Bastgate Bros., Larimore; W. O Bohart, Bosemman, Mont.; North Dakota agricultural colleg-; Farmer farm, Farmington, Minn.; M. L. Enright, East Grand Forks; J. T. Tweeten, Rolette, and J. C. Hart, Manvel.

Two motorcycle race cards will be staged during the week, limited to amateur drivers only.

Tomorrow gives promise of being a big day. A county horse fair will be one of the features, and competition is limited to farm work horses. Five district prizes, together with a sweepstakes prize, have been provided, and the indications are that there will be over 100 competitors.

Wednesday will be known as Western Grand Forks county, Hanna and Soo Line day. There will be special trains from Bisbee, N. D., on the Soo, and Hannah on the Great Northern. There also will be several automobile tours from the western part of this county, including Inkster, Larimore and Northwood.

Moorhead Dentist Killed.

Fargo, N. D., July 22.—Dr. Louis Nelson, a dentist of Moorhead, Minn., was instantly killed and his four companions were injured when the automobile in which they were riding upset near Lake Park, Minn., early Sunday. The accident was due to a broken rear wheel. Dr. Nelson was pinned beneath the overturned car and crushed to death.

Jelly Mask Restores Facial Contour

(The Woman Beautiful.)

It has been found that a face mask made of a perfectly harmless substance known as parafied plastold jelly, has a wonderful effect on tired, flabby, faded and aged faces. It is said to actually rebuild facial tissue, besides noticeably restoring youthful contour, color and appearance instantly. If this be true, none of us need worry over the "ravages of Father Time."

Its harmlessness, inexpensiveness, its prompt action, are other commendable features. You get this substance at your druggist's, cover your face completely with a thin layer of it and keep it on for at least fifteen minutes. The jelly dries quickly and you must not talk or laugh or you will crack the mask. It soaks off easily with cold water. Then you are perfectly astonished at the transformation. Your face feels so smooth, firm, beautifully moulded and girlishly robust, you appear to have lost ten or fifteen years from your age. To obtain the desired cumulative benefits, in addition to the temporary effects, use the treatment two or three times a week for awhile.

RED JACKET, MICH., GREETING FIREMEN

Upper Peninsula Association to Be in Session Two Days.

Calumet, Mich., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village of Red Jacket is gay with bunting in preparation for the annual tournament of the Upper Peninsula Firemen's association, which will begin tomorrow and continue till Friday. Many delegates arrived today.

The Miller shows, which were at Hancock for the Sons of St. George reunion last week, will be the amusement attraction.

The program of races in connection with the tournament has been augmented by the addition of a ladder climbers' contest and a tug-of-war, the prizes for which will be $15 and $10 for the former and $10 for the latter. Five men will constitute each team. Both events will take place Friday afternoon.

The events will be as follows: Thursday—100-yard dash, firemen; flag race, 100-yard dash, free for all. Friday—100-yard dash between winners of free-for-all and firemen's dash, couplers' race, tug-of-war, ladder climbers' contest.

All races will be conducted under the regulations of the Upper Peninsula association.

BIG HAIL DAMAGE NEAR BEACH, N. D.

Crops in Strip Twelve By Three and Half Miles Are Ruined.

Beach, N. D., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—One of the most destructive hail storms that ever occurred in the western part of the state, hit the country north and west of here. A strip about three and one-half miles wide and twelve to fourteen miles in length was laid waste. Hundreds of thousands of dollars' damage was done and many farmers lose their entire crops. The hail was so heavy that ice could be found in heaps twelve or fourteen hours after the storm had passed. Little hail insurance was carried by farmers of the stricken district.

ALLEGES FIGHT ON EQUITY EXCHANGE

Secretary of North Dakota Concern Accuses Mill City Concern.

Omemee, N. D., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—That the Minneapolis chamber of commerce is engaged in an organized campaign against the Equity Co-Operative exchange, an association launched by the North Dakota Society of Equity and having for its purpose the handling of grain, is the contention of John M. Anderson, secretary of the corporation, who is here today addressing a meeting.

"Fifteen representatives of brokers associated with the Minneapolis chamber of commerce were present at a meeting held by myself at Walford, N. D., last week," he said. "They were sent there for the purpose of opposing our organization, and the result was a ten-hour heated session, lasting from 2 in the afternoon till 1 in the morning, with an hour's intermission for lunch.

"The fight is being levelled against us because we have refused to join the Minneapolis organization. We contend that grain is a free product and that it is not essential that we should become associated with any organization."

Error in Bookkeeping.

Mr. Anderson contends, too, that the testimony leveled against the Equity Co-Operative exchange by officers of the Voltaire Farmers' company, before the Minnesota investigating committee last winter, was the result of an error in bookkeeping, and that men who testified against the organization knew that to be the fact.

At the present time the organization is handling about 1,600,000 bushels of grain a year, and is associated with a line of over fifty independent elevators in the state.

"MOVIES" IN MADISON

May Be Given Sundays If Uplift Pictures Are Displayed.

Madison, Wis., July 22.—Judge John Fehlandt of the municipal court ruled in an opinion Monday that the motion picture theaters in Madison may remain open on Sundays without fear of arrest, if pictures of a religious character, or which the court might rule as morally uplifting are displayed, and a percentage of the receipts are given to a charitable organization. District Attorney Nelson announced that he will enforce the court's ruling to the letter.

MAJ. BUTTZ DYING.

Lisbon, N. D., Pioneer and War Veteran Suffering From Cancer.

Lisbon, N. D., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dying of cancer, Maj. C. W. Buttz, one of the earliest pioneers of this locality, is in a local hospital. The major was a veteran of the Civil war from New Jersey and after the struggle located at Charlestown, S. C., from which place he was sent to congress. Later he located in this county and the town of Butzville was named after him. He has always been an active factor in the politics of this county and the state.

WOMEN TO CAMPAIGN.

Will Tour North Dakota Favoring Suffrage Amendment to Constitution.

Fargo, N. D., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—To arouse interest and support in favor of the constitutional amendment giving women votes, Mrs. E. M. Darrow of Fargo, president of the State Vote for Women club; Mrs. C. F. Amidon, wife of the Federal judge of this district, and Miss Jeanette Rankin of Montana have started an auto tour of this state for votes. Speeches will be made between Fargo and Grand Forks, then west to Leeds, south to Jamestown and back into Fargo. Later other sections of the state will be covered. The women of the state, suffragettes and others, are greatly interested in the movement.

CHILD FALLS INTO WELL AND DROWNS

New England, N. D., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Falling into a well on the farm of her parents south of here, Eva Jung, aged 8, was drowned. Her head is thought to have struck the curbing or the bucket in the fall rendering her unconscious and the body did not rise to the top even once.

DRAGGED TO DEATH.

North Dakotan Ties Halter to Arm With Fatal Result.

New Rockford, N. D., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dragged for hours across the prairie, Charles Fiege was found in an unconscious condition and died soon afterwards. He was berrying and had tied the horse's halter strap to his wrist. The animal became frightened and ran away. The young man was evidently rendered unconscious early and was unable to release himself. His body was terribly mangled.

LOOSE SHOE LEADS TO DEATH OF CHILD.

Starkweather, N. D., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—A loose shoe, which rubbed her ankle, creating a sore, resulted in the death yesterday of Laurina Vogeler, aged 4, daughter of John Vogeler of this city. Blood poisoning resulted from the sore and she lived but five days.

Menomonie, Wis., July 22.—Carroll Lucas, 83 years old, committed suicide Monday by shooting himself through the stomach. For many years Mr. Lucas was treasurer of Dunn county.

Find Big Fossil.

Marmarth, N. D., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The petrified vertebrae of some animal that must have been large as a whale, was found north of town by Harry Duncan. The specimen is remarkably perfect. The locality is rich in fossils and several interesting specimens have been secured there in recent years.

New Rockford Lighting Plant.

New Rockford, N. D., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The long expected electric plant is now in operation, furnishing a day as well as a night current. A white way is to be established at once. The council also let a contract for $35,000 worth of sewer mains.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Hancock—Emil Hyvonen, 16 years old, lost the middle finger of his right hand at Quincy while feeding a wood sawing machine and in some way got his fingers in front of the teeth of the saw.

Menominee—Leo Martin, the Menominee youth arrested on the charge of destroying an electric sign, must spend his summer vacation working to pay for the damage done. This was the sentence passed by Judge John Stiles in juvenile court.

Hancock—Jonas Mattson of Arnheim has been missing since July 6 and his friends are apprehensive lest he met with foul play. Mattson followed the life of a woodsman in winter and usually worked on farms near Arnheim during the summer.

Sault Ste. Marie—Everything that will make for a successful program has been prepared by the committee in charge of the annual state convention of chiefs of police, sheriffs and prosecuting attorneys which will be held here for three days beginning Wednesday. Governor W. N. Ferris will be here if possible.

Calumet—It is very likely that the Calumet Italian societies will hold a public observance of Columbus day Oct. 12.

L'Anse—T. M. Brady, the first prosecuting attorney of Baraga county, has been here meeting with old friends. Attorney Brady is now located at St. Paul.

Crystal Falls—Work at Alpha, the new mining town, is going on rapidly and it will not be long before iron county will witness the opening up of one of the biggest mining properties in its history. Contractors are getting things in readiness for handling the ore after the big property is opened up.

Negaunee—The oiling of the county road from East Main street in this city to the Negaunee cemetery has been finished. The road is now in splendid condition. A force of men were employed for several weeks on the work.

Ishpeming—Jerry Morrisette, Jr., of the Barnum location, narrowly escaped death Sunday afternoon, when he was caught beneath a fall of ore while working ahead of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company's No. 3 steam shovel.

Marquette—Carter Harrison, mayor of Chicago, who with his wife and family arrived in Marquette last week to go to Huron Mountain club, left Sunday evening for his home, having left the other members of his party at their summer cottage.

Calumet—The annual convention of the National Temperance association for the Upper Peninsula district was held in Calumet Saturday. Officers were elected as follows: President, Carl Condlad, Calumet; vice president, Ingebred Nordtonne, Ishpeming; secretary, H. O. Hagen, Calumet; treasurer, Miss Clara Olson, Ishpeming. No place was selected for the next annual convention.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Stevens Point—Thomas Norton had an ear nearly severed and his face and body badly bruised Sunday when struck by an automobile as he was crossing a business street. Norton is partially deaf and did not hear the car.

Malden Rock—Three golden weddings were celebrated in this neighborhood within a day of each other. The children of these three couples number thirty.

Milwaukee—Attacked with a cramp as the result of encountering one of the cold springs in the Milwaukee river Sunday afternoon, William Hunt, 17 years old, was drowned in sight of hundreds of people near Evergreen park.

Menomonie—Judge John H. Steele of the fourth district court of Minnesota has set Tuesday, July 25, as the day for hearing of the creditors in the suit of J. E. Pulver vs. the Segerstrom Piano Manufacturing company, whose big plant is located in Menomonie.

Mosinee—Edward A. Rogers, 80 years old, a resident of Marathon county since 1868, is dead. He was born in New Brunswick, and in 1858 crossed the country in an emigrant train to California.

Merrill—Thomas Alery, a prominent resident of Copper River, died from blood poisoning caused by handling poisonous chemicals in the tannery business. He was the senior member of Alery Bros. Tanning company.

La Crosse—William Deutrich, wealthy farmer, before he married the last time, took the precaution to so tie up his fortune that Margaret Deutrick, his present 69-year-old bride, could get no legal hold on it. That is the chief reason, according to Mrs. Deutrich, why she brought suit for divorce. She further alleges that he is stingy.

Eau Claire—Some children started a fire in one of the upper story rooms of the August Reiss warehouse in the corner of Gray street and Grand avenue, Monday afternoon, but it was so small that it was extinguished before the fire department arrived.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Beech, N. D.—After an 18,000-mile motor trip, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Williams of Bristol, R. I., reached here. They have been on the Pacific coast and made the drive from Deadwood, S. D., to this point in one day. They intend to tour the Canadian Northwest, then head for Florida, after which they will return to their home.

Edgeley, N. D.—The first La Moure county man to be sent to the state penitentiary under the new law making bootlegging a penitentiary offense, was William Muldoon, who pleaded guilty and was sent up for six months.

CORSAIRS TAKE OPENER THROUGH AID OF DOOKS

Peggy Rhodes Pitches Great Ball But Is Beaten, 2 to 1.

Ragged Playing of Sox Responsible for Pirates' Runs.

Members of the White Sox tribe yesterday appeared upon the field clad in the uniforms of 1912, thus hoping to chase the jinx, real or imagined, that has been following the team for the past two weeks. The majority of the fans failed to ascribe defeat to any jinx, but let it lay. Peggy Rhodes held the visitors to five hits and yet lost the game by the score of 2 to 1.

Playing like that of yesterday won't win very many games for the Sox. Rhodes was entitled to a shutout, both of the scores of the visitors coming as the result of misplays. With the kind of support that was accorded the less illustrious pitching of Toraason, the Blair, Wis., recruit, the result would have been vastly different.

It is the mild truth to state that the Sox lack pep and snap. Something is the matter and it is up to the management of the team to find out just what it is. Fans don't mind losing games when the team is out there trying and fighting for every advantage, but the one thing that will turn the mind of the supporter of the home gang from enthusiasm is indifference and sluggishness.

In only one round of yesterday's conflict did the visitors get more than one hit, this stanza being the fifth. Errorless baseball would have retired the Corsairs in the fifth round runless, while it was an error that caused the second and winning count.

Winona secured one hit in the first, the runner failing to reach second base. The visitors went out in order in the second. In the third one man reached second. In the fourth the first run of the visitors came over and was the result of an error.

Croake singled and then attempted to theft second. He was pegged out, but Schreiber dropped the throw. The next two men went out and this would have retired the side. Murphy hit a long fly to left and Percy Monahan fell down and the hit went for two bags, Croake counting.

In the next round Monahan dropped an easy fly from the bat of Toraason and then threw the ball to the stand in the possible effort to show he is the possessor of a sterling whip. The visiting pitcher went to second on the vigorous heave.

In the sixth Bud Croake singled and pilfered his way to the second bag. While Collins was going down the initial sack guardian advanced and later scored when O'Brien made a nice little boot on the offering of Murphy.

The visitors could do nothing in the remainder of the game, but as they had accomplished quite enough for the day, it would be perhaps be quite superfluous and beside the mark to expect it from the Davis gang of pillagers.

We got a runner to second in the second and had the bases full in the fourth and all this without scoring. We had men on second in the sixth and seventh and they remained there. Our first and only score came in the eighth round.

With one down Miller tripled gingerly to left center and counted when the about-to-depart Smith shot off his third hit of the afternoon. Meniece singled and Smith rounded up at third. The next two hitters failed to hit and the score remained at one.

McGraw was out of the game because of a general let down in hitting. As has been previously stated the uniforms were also changed, and it is rumored that in the very near future there will be some drastic changes in the effort to coax victory to the standards of the local club.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Giants Continue Streak.

New York, July 22.—New York, defeating St. Louis yesterday by 8 to 4 made it four out of six of the series. Of four pitchers sent in to stop the league champions, only Doak, who pitched the seventh and eighth innings, showed ability. Wiltse, the veteran New York left-hander, started in his first game of the season on the Polo grounds. He was poorly supported. Crandall relieved him after the visitors had tied the score in the fourth, and was very effective, holding St. Louis to three hits in the last five innings. Burns' hitting and running featured. In five times up he hit two doubles and a single and drew two passes. He also stole two bases. The score:

St. Louis .....1 0 0 3 0 0 0 0 0—4	6	0
New York .....0 3 1 1 0 3 0 0 x—8	11	3

Batteries—Harmon, Burk, Doak, Geyer and Wingo; Wiltse, Crandall and Meyers, Hartley. Umpires—O'Day and Emslie.

Errors Lose Game.

Brooklyn, N. Y., July 22.—Errors of omission by Pittsburg in the seventh inning yesterday gave Brooklyn the opportunity to turn an apparent 6 to 3 defeat into a 13 to 6 victory. Stengel batting for Fischer was thrown out at the plate. Stengel fell running to first and should have been doubled up but Simmons was not watching.

Hendrix lost control and forced two runs in with passes. He was relieved by Robinson and two hits off him sent in three runs. In the eighth inning Wheat singled, Daubert was safe on Byrne's error and Smith drove the ball to center for a home run, Kirkpatrick singled and Pittsburg sent in Cooper to pitch. Allen walked and Cutshaw's long double brought in the last tally.

Simmons caught a poor game, Brooklyn stealing six bases. Moran had a peculiar batting record, getting four hits, a pass and a sacrifice in six trips to the plate, but failed to score. Ragan is credited with the game. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Pittsburg .....0 1 1 1 3 0 0 0 0—6	8	5

Phillies Win Game.

Philadelphia, July 22. — Seaton's twirling, backed up by splendid support, especially by Becker and Doolan, enabled Philadelphia to defeat Cincinnati yesterday by 3 to 1. Lobert's stick work played a prominent part in the victory. He made three safeties, including a home run and a double in four times at the bat, and scored two of the home team's runs. Manager Tinker was ordered to the clubhouse by Umpire Orth when Paskert was given safe at first base in the fourth inning. Score:

	R.	H.	E.

Divide Series.

Boston, Mass., July 22.—By bunching hits in the sixth, seventh and nine innings, Chicago evened the series with Boston by winning yesterday 6 to 2.

Good base-running gave the locals the lead during the early part of the game, but after the sixth inning Overall's curves were a puzzle which the Boston batsmen could not solve. Mann and Meyers scored Boston's only runs by coming home from second base on infield outs.

Needham's two-base hit in the sixth inning started the run-making for Chicago, and another double by him in the ninth added to the visitors' winning total. Score:

Chicago .....0 0 0 0 0 2 2 0 2—6	10	2
Boston .....0 1 0 0 1 0 0 0 0—2	8	2

Batteries—Overall and Needham; Rudolph and Rariden. Umpires—Brennan and Eason.

Almeida to Toronto.

Philadelphia, July 22.—Almeida, the Cuban player who has been with the Cincinnati National league club for some time, was released yesterday afternoon to the Toronto team of the International league.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Yankees Field Bad.

Detroit, Mich., July 22.—New York's fielding yesterday was little short of atrocious and Detroit had an easy time winning, 6 to 1. Willet for Detroit was in good form, holding the visitors to three singles, one of which followed a pass and steal in the ninth inning. Battery or fielding slips helped the Tigers to all their runs.

Willet got credit for an unusual assist. Wolter hit a hard liner which the pitcher deflected, Bush catching the ball with one hand.

The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Detroit .....0 3 0 1 0 2 0 0 x—6	9	1

Batteries—McConnell, Caldwell and Gossett, Smith. Willett and McKee. Umpires—Connelly and Ferguson.

Sox Are Beaten.

Chicago, July 22.—Walter Johnson's pitching coupled with opportunte hits and errors by Weaver and Russell allowed Washington to make it two straight from Chicago yesterday. The score was 2 to 1. In the opening inning Moeller singled off Russell and stole second and scored when Weaver threw Gandil's grounder wild to Chase. In the next inning McBride singled, Ainsmith sacrificed and Russell threw wild to Chase, Moeller walked and Foster hit a bounder to Collins who forced Moeller at second and McBride scored. Russell retired in favor of Benz, who pitched a good game but gave way to Cicotte when a pitch-in ball went wild. Chicago was saved a shutout when Lord drove the ball down the left field line for a homer. Chappelle got on bases three times, the first time on Gandil's error, the second time on balls and a third time on a single. His fourth time up he grounded out. Score:

Chicago .....0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0—1	4	6

Batteries—Johnson and Ainsmith; Russell, Cicotte and Schalk, Easterly. Umpires—Dineen and Egan.

Easy for Naps.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 22.—Cleveland easily defeated Boston, 8 to 1 yesterday. Blanding, although wild, held the visitors to five hits, while Cleveland drove Mosely from the box and Hall lacked control.

Boston's only run came in the fourth, when Hooper and Speaker walked and advanced on an infield out and the former scored on Lajoie's wild throw to first.

Leibold scored Cleveland's first run in the third on a single, Chapman's sacrifice, Johnstone's out and a wild pitch. The next three were the result of singles by Lajoie and Turner, a pass to Graney, O'Neil's single and sacrifice flies by Blanding and Leibold. Hall passed Leibold, Chapman singled and Johnstone tripled, scoring two more for Cleveland in the seventh.

The score:

Cleveland .....0 0 1 3 0 0 2 0 x—6	11	1

Batteries — Blanding and O'Neil; Mosely, Hall and Thomas. Umpire—O'Loughlin and Hildebrand.

Athletics Win Second.

St. Louis, Mo., July 22.—Philadelphia, by bunching eight hits with a sacrifice in the sixth inning yesterday, won a wierd contest, 11 to 8, from St. Louis and made it two victories in succession. St. Louis started the scoring with a run in the second when Austin was passed and stole second. He took third on an out and crossed the plate on a wild throw by McInnis. In the next inning Compton hit into the right field seats for a home run. A single, a pass, Baker's sacrifice followed by a single by McInnis and D. Murphy netted the visitors' three runs in the fourth. In the sixth inning, after three runs had been scored off Wellman, Stone was sent in to take his place but he failed to stop the slaughter and when the inning was over the leaders had scored four more runs. In this inning Baker singled twice and scored once, his last single, on the hit and run, driving in three runs.

Singles by E. Murphy and Barry, followed by Shang's double, counted one more for Philadelphia in the final inning. St. Louis tried hard to win in its half of the ninth inning, but four more runs was the best the locals could send across. Score:

Saints Lose First.

St. Paul, Minn., July 22.—Columbus defeated St. Paul yesterday in the first game of the series, 6 to 4. Columbus obtained a winning lead in the third inning when a home run by Benson and singles by Gerber, W. Hinckman, Miller and Perrin scored four runs. James for St. Paul hit a home run, a triple and a single in three times up. His home run was one of the longest hits made at Lexington park this season. Both Cole and Walker were effective during the greater part of the contest. Score:

	R.	H.	E.

Sensational Playing.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 22.—Louisville yesterday defeated Minneapolis, 3 to 1, in a contest replete with sensational catches and heavy hitting. Mogridge and Jack Powell were the opposing pitchers and while the local twirler worked well in eight innings, he suffered his usual reversal of form and that slump came in the fourth when the Minneapolis pounded out sufficient hits to line up three tallies. Powell was in great form and only six hits were registered by the locals. Score:

DRAFTING RULES ARE ANNOUNCED

Chairman Farrell Makes Public Sale and Drafting Regulations.

Auburn, N. Y., July 22.—Chairman Farrell of the national board of arbitration governing minor baseball yesterday gave out the following orders relative to the sale and trading of players among major and minor leagues:

Option agreements must be exercised on or before Aug. 15.

The sale or the release of players within twenty days of the commencement of the major league drafting period or within twenty days, of the close of the season of the club disposing of the player is prohibited.

The sale of a player's release by one National association team to another shall be null and void against the selection by draft of the player by a major league club from the selling club, unless he be in the actual service of the purchasing club for twenty days before the opening of the drafting season for major league clubs.

The following announcements were made:

The franchise and players of the Seward, Neb., club in the Nebraska State league have been transferred to Beatrice, Neb.

The franchise and players of the Vallejo club in the California league have been transferred to Watsonville, Cal.

Claims allowed: Player Gaston against Norfolk.

Claims disallowed: Umpire Williams against Southeastern league; Louisville against Montreal, (Richter.)

Services awarded: Player Schuesler to Columbus, Ga.; Elmer Smith to Jackson, Mich.

TY COBB WANTS TO LEAVE DETROIT

Boston, Mass., July 22.—Despite his $12,500 salary, Ty Cobb is dissatisfied. He would welcome a change which would make him a member of some team other than Detroit, he wrote to a friend in a letter which was received here yesterday. Discussing the report that he was to be traded for Speaker of the Boston Red Sox, Cobb said he would like very much to play in Boston, but did not think Boston could part with Speaker. "There are two other American league cities in which I would like to play," he added.

Tannehill Released.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 22.—Pitcher Joss Tannehill, former major leaguer, has been unconditionally released by Manager Holland of the local Western league club. Tannehill has been a member of the St. Joseph team since the season opened, but has pitched in only six games.

Play Ten Innings.

Kansas City, Mo., July 22.—A walk, stolen base, sacrifice fly and a single, gave Indianapolis a 10-inning game with Kansas City yesterday, 3 to 2. The locals made six errors. Indianapolis put across a run in the opening inning. Reilly was safe on Breton's high throw. Downey singled and Reilly scored on Niles' single. The locals evened things in the same inning on Roth's single and Walker's double. In the third Breton's triple and Walker's hit added another run for Kansas City. Indianapolis evened things in the eighth when Niles walked, stole second, and scored on Stewart's single. In the tenth Niles stole second, reached third when Flynn lined to Payne and scored on Stewart's single. Score:

CHANGES WILL BE MADE IN RANKS OF WHITE SOX

President Blume Trying to Purchase Smith From Jackson; First Baseman and Pitcher Coming--- Monahan Draws Release.

If President Harry Blume has his way the White Sox will be back in the race and will be playing winning baseball before the lapse of many days.

The president of the Duluth Baseball association gave out a statement today which plainly indicates that he is going to do everything in his power to put the team back where it was before the start of the present slump.

"We are at the present time negotiating for the purchase of Elmer Smith," said President Blume. "If there is any way of getting this player the fans can rest assured that Smith will continue as a member of the White Sox. Elmer is one of the best players on the team and he has started hitting the ball again. We want good players and are willing to pay real money to acquire them. If it is possible by the spending of a large amount of coin to buy Smith, he will be in the outfield for the remainder of the season."

Monty Platt, a first baseman, is to report here, and in the event of his making good it is the present plan to play Sam Meniece, the well known city bred farmer, in the outfield, probably in the right field garden.

McLean, a pitcher of the American association, is also expected here today or tomorrow, and he will be given a trial on the knoll. The box man is said to be a good man.

Percy Monahan has played his last game with the Sox. The erratic one drew his release today. While Percy showed some radiant flashes of commission and omission dominated the glitters of real ability, and the work of yesterday decided the management.

In addition to the pitcher and first baseman who are coming to the team, O'Brien is negotiating for the signing of a catcher. There are several men in sight, but the player the Dook is after has not been rounded up.

A wire from Charles Comiskey was received at the baseball headquarters early todoay. There will be a scout at the game of today, and his presence here is for the purpose of getting a view of the work of Elmer Miller.

It has been believed for sometime that the Old Roman was sweet on the playing of the center fielder of the Sox, and the announcement that he will have a scout here to get a line on the star outfielder of the league is confirmation of this belief.

Unless the season of the Northern league is extended the fourth of August will mark the close of the purchase season. After the fourth, the draft will open and it is expected that if one or two of the Sox are not sold before the passing of the fourth that they will go up by the draft route.

It's a cinch that Miller will go up, and it is nearly certain that he will be sold before the draft becomes operative. Schreiber may also be sold. Huff liked the playing of the youngster and it may be that Bunny will be given a trial in faster company.

BATTLE FOR GOLD MEDAL

Close Scores in Elimination Round of Western Golf Tournament.

Phelps, Hunter and Wood Lead Field in Eighteen Holes.

Chicago, July 22.—Sixty-four golfers were to play over the Homewood course this morning in the qualifying round of the Western championship tournament. The thirty-two with the lowest scores will be paired for the first round of match play in the afternoon. Weather conditions were almost perfect and better cards than were turned in yesterday after the elimination round, were looked for.

Three well known players made the course yesterday in 77 and a merry battle for the gold medal for low qualifying score was expected this morning. With more favorable playing conditions it was expected that something much better than the best mark of yesterday would be made.

Champion Evans frittered away a chance for first place by his wild putting on the seventh hole. He put his tee shot on the green and took four more to hole out. He was so close on his fourth shot that he gave the ball a back handed put—and missed. The greens were unusually fast and over-putting was one of the principal causes for the high scores of the day.

The losers in the qualifying round today will continue match play for the vice president's cup. Players who failed to reach the first sixty-four places in the elimination round will play for the Directors' and Committees' cups. Sixteen will qualify in each of these flights.

Mason Phelps, Midlothian, formerly Western champion; Paul Hunter, Midlothian, and Warren K. Wood, Homewood, led the field with 77 each in the elimination round yesterday.

"Chick" Evans, present Western champion was next with 78. John Simpson of Galesburg, Central Illinois champion, D. B. Douglas of Wheaton and Jerry Magee of Omaha, were next with 79 each.

There were fourteen cards of 88 and six of 89. When the fourteen men who had scored 88 were called on to play off the tie for the last eleven places of survivors for the second round of medal play, only seven responded and they were declared survivors. They were Frank Hale, Omaha; Hugh Vaughn, Windsor, Ont.; R. Hinely, Milwaukee; H. N. Moren, Chicago; F. Thompson, St. Paul; D. T. Denman, Chicago; H. R. Walton, Champaign.

That left four places to be filled from the six contestants who had turned in totals of 89. The survivors from these six were Thomas Burr, Chicago; L. M. Barr, Chicago; H. R. Louden, Chicago; R. B. Scribner, Chicago.

WOOD'S THUMB IS BADLY INJURED

Boston, Mass., July 22.—Joe Wood, star pitcher of the Boston Americans, will be out of the game for some weeks. Examination of his injured right thumb under the X-ray yesterday showed that there is a crack in the end of the big bone, and indications are now that a piece of the bone has been chipped off. Unusual care is being taken in the treatment of the injury to guard against stiffness in the joints, which would put an end to Wood's usefulness as a pitcher.

ATHLETIC MEET AT MINNEAPOLIS

Minneapolis, Minn., July 22. — The biggest athletic event in many years for Minneapolis is planned to take place on Saturday, Aug. 2. Leading athletes from nearly every college and university in the Central West and Northwest are expected to participate in the events that are to follow the laying of the cornerstone of the new building to be constructed by the Minneapolis Athletic club in the forenoon of that day. Edward Payson Weston, who is now walking from New York to Minneapolis, will place the stone in position.

The program which is to follow will be held on Northrup field, the athletic field of the University of Minnesota and is under the auspices of the Baby Welfare league of this city. Several society women of Minneapolis planned and are boosting the affair in the interest of the league.

DULUTH IS SURE TO SEND A CREW

At Least One of the Eights Will Be Sent to National at Boston.

At least one of the eights of the Duluth Boat club will be sent to the National. This decision has been reached.

It is possible that both of the eights will be sent, or that the better eight of the two will be sent and four men out of the other eight.

Starting with this evening the two crews will be raced for sometime. An endeavor will be made to definitely learn which is the better eight—something, by the way, that is not known at the present time.

If the juniors prove that they are the fastest crew, then it is probable that this gamy eight will be sent to the national and started in both the intermediate and championship events just as the present senior eight was entered last year at Peoria.

But in the event that the senior eight is able to prove that the victory last Saturday at St. Paul was not in the nature of something that is not liable to occur again, it is possible that Duluth will be represented with two eights at the great meet that will be held at the Hub.

As the best crews of the United States will be entered at Boston, and the going will be very much higher class than the quality of competition encountered at Peoria last season, for the simple reason that many of the crack crews of the East did not journey west, it can be readily seen that the Duluth crews will be up against stronger competition than any of the regattas of the past have ever provided.

A win at Boston will be one of the best advertisements this city can secure, as it will mark the crews of Duluth as the very best in the entire country.

ARMSTRONG WINS FROM OMAHA MAN.

Omaha, Neb., July 22.—The preliminary, the first round and part of the second were played off in the fourth national clay court tournament, which opened at the Omaha Field club yesterday. Ninety-six players entered from all parts of the country. Among the important matches in the first round were: J. J. Armstrong, St. Paul, beat M. T. Swartz, Omaha, 6-2; 7-5.

WHITE BEAR YACHT DEFEATS CANADIAN

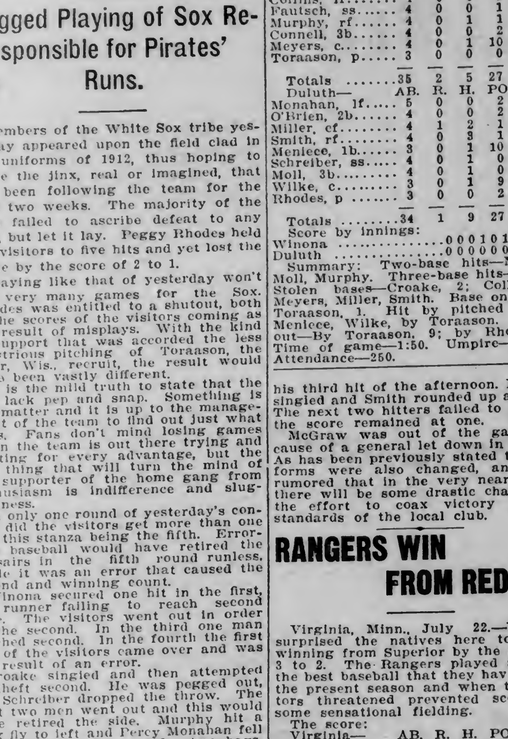

St. Paul, Minn., July 22.—The Nomad, flying the United States flag, and the colors of the White Bear Yacht club, yesterday defeated the Verve, bearing the Union Jack and the colors of the Lake of the Woods Yacht club, Winnipeg, in the first event of the contest for the Cameron cup. The local boat finished 11 minutes, 34 seconds ahead of its Canadian rival over the 12-mile course. The Nomad's time was 2:19:16.

The winner of the cup must take two out of three events, the second event to be held this afternoon.

The Canadian boat got away to a bad start and lost considerable time because of the crew's unfamiliarity with the course.

ARGENTINE RIFLEMEN ARRIVE FOR MATCH.

SAILORS WILL MEET AT CLUB

New Schedule of Races to Be Arranged for Novices.

There will be a meeting of the captain and aides of the sailing department of the Duluth Boat club at the main house this evening at 7:30. The object of the gathering is to arrange a new schedule for the remainder of the sailing season, the older sailors desiring to get more of the younger members of the club interested in the sailing races, and believing that the arranging of a new series of races would accomplish this desire.

This schedule will embrace the next six Saturdays and it is planned to promote those who have been sailing in the Toledo cat boats into the 18 and 28 foot boats. This will leave a number of places in the cat boat vacant and it is desired to get a number of young boys out to sail these boats for the remainder of the season.

This has been one of the best years in the history of the sailing department and it is planned to make the remainder of the sailing season even better than the first half. Harold Caulkins, Bert Bellepersche and Earle McNally are members of the committee appointed to get a number of boys interested in sailing, and it is believed that there will be a number of youngsters at the meeting of this evening.

GOOD TENNIS ON LONGWOOD COURT

Boston, Mass., July 22.—With twenty matches in doubles and nearly thirty in singles to be run off there was plenty of good tennis at Longwood today.

All of the first and second rounds in the Eastern championships in doubles were to be played during the day. Interest centered in the struggle between W. J. Clothier of Philadelphia and George G. Gardner, Jr., of Boston, who met N. W. Niles and A. S. Dabney, both of Boston, in the first round. Clothier and Gardner are the present Eastern champions and Niles and Dabney are former title holders.

GRAND CIRCUIT MEET AT BUFFALO

Buffalo, N. Y., July 22.—The feature of today's card at the Fort Erie-Buffalo Grand Circuit meet was the Dominion of Canada purse for 2:12 trotters. The entries included Lon MacDonald's Tommy Horn, 2:07¾; the Philadelphia gelding, Dago, 2:10¾; Walter Cox's Lady Grattan, 2:09¼; Peter McCormick, 2:08¾; W. J. Andrew's Tenora and others.

Circuit followers who arrived early for the opening day's program predicted a hot contest in the 2:20 trot between Star Winter and the Canadian trotter, Creosote. O'Brien Boy, 2:06¾, was the favorite for the 2:18 pace. Walter Cochato, 2:04, the fastest pacer of the year, was carded in the 2:05 pace in fast company.

WESTON GIVEN OVATION AT ELROY

Elroy, Wis., July 22.—Edward Payson Weston made an even forty-three miles yesterday, arriving at Elroy last night. Early this morning he took the road for a jaunt of twenty miles in the early morning air. The veteran pedestrian was given an ovation when he arrived here last night, nearly the entire population of Elroy having turned out to meet him as he entered the town. A message was received en route yesterday from Governor A. O. Eberhart of Minnesota, tendering him his summer cottage for two months.

A note was dropped from a passing railway train which read:

"Round her out, old scout. The world looks on in wondering admiration."

It was signed by Ed F. Fahey of St. Paul.

New Mayflower Commander.

Washington, July 22.—Commander Newton A. McCully, commanding the presidential yacht Mayflower, has been transferred to the cruiser California of the Pacific fleet, relieving Capt. Alexander S. Halstead, whose tour of sea duty has expired. Commander William D. McDougall, commanding the gunboat Nashville, has been promoted to command the Mayflower.

CIRCUS "GRAND ENTREE" HAS BEEN DISCARDED IN FAVOR OF GREAT HISTORICAL SPECTACLE

THE BASEBALL ELEPHANTS AND BIRD MILLMAN

With the Barnum & Baily Circus.

Marc Antony has knocked out the wild man of Borneo. Cleopatra has handed the poison cup to the bearded lady. When the Barnum & Bailey circus comes to Duluth Thursday, July 24, the "greatest show on earth" announces as its premier feature a spectacular reproduction of scenes in the life of Cleopatra in which the luminous stars of mediaeval history put the eternal kibosh on the heretofore stellar attractions—the wild man and the whiskered lady.

The hackneyed "grand entree" which has been doing service with circuses for, lo, these many years, has been discarded by the Barnum show, and the innovation promised by this circus will be the spectacle of "Cleopatra," a wordless play based upon the story of Antony and Cleopatra, and produced with a brave display of horses, chariots, soldiers, courtiers, fair women and glittering grandeur. The entrance of Antony into Alexandria will be shown—his yielding to the wiles of the temptress, and his final fate when Caesar's avenging legions surround the city—all will be portrayed in vast pantomime. Hundreds of people take part, and there will be a large ballet of attractive girls especially recruited and drilled by Ottakar Bartik of the Metropolitan Opera house. The resources of the show in horses, elephants, camels and other animals pertinent to the story and period involved are drawn upon for what is characterized as the most pretentious offering ever attempted under canvas. Some 2,000 costumes are utilized, and the music is especially arranged for this production. The circus people place especial emphasis upon the newness and novelty of the arenic features of the circus.

Most of them are being seen for the first time in America, and such of them as seem familiar are seen in new surroundings and dressings which give them the tinge of newness and unusualness. Among the new trained animal numbers the elephant baseball game takes the first rank. The huge creatures are equipped with all the paraphernalia of the game, which ends with one of the beasts making a home run with a lumbering slide into the home plate. The mikado's royal troupe of athletes, comprising champion wrestlers and jiu jitsu experts, are another new item on the program, and give an exhibition of engrossing interest, as does Josefsson's troupe of Icelandic wrestlers, also making their first American appearance. The riding corps is especially strong and includes this year's sensation of the Barnum circus, May Wirth, a dashing young Australian miss, whose bareback somersault riding creates a furore. Other novelties are offered by the Berne brothers, Switzerland's champion strong men, one of whom engages in a pulling match with one of the largest elephants; Bird Millman, "the queen of the wire;" Mlle. Berzac's comedy mules and ponies; Roland and Adriel, the Weiss troupe, Lupeta Perea, Julia Gonzales, the artist model horses, the Schiavoni's, the Siegrist-Silbons, the De Koe troupe, the Les Jardys, Bradna and Derrick, the Davenports, Stella Wirth, the Fortuni trio, Maximo, and many others, the aristocracy of the arenic world.

The menagerie has been enlarged, and here the chief attraction is an entire family of giraffa.

All in all, the Barnum & Bailey people promise a perfect circus, with novelty as the dominant note. There will be a parade the morning of show day, Thursday, July 24.

Mayor Prince and Commissioner Voss Begin Pruning Payroll.

Shade Trees, Saloon Licenses and Advance Assessments Discussed.

MONDAY'S COUNCIL MEETING.

Granted license for third saloon at Gary without discussion.

Mayor Prince urged commissioners to reduce the payroll as far as possible.

Finance Commissioner Voss recommended that if the liquor ordinance is to be submitted to a referendum a charter amendment be offered at the same time enabling the council to make advance assessments for street improvements as under the old charter.

Recognized that overhead wires are destroying shade trees.

Passed curative resolution authorizing mayor to make necessary repairs to the city hall, except plumbing, electrical work, painting and decorating.

Transacted other routine business.

Mayor W. I. Prince called upon the members of the commission to cut down running expenses of the city by pruning the payroll as much as possible at the conclusion of the council meeting yesterday afternoon.

The city's executive stated that each division should economize to the fullest possible extent. He explained that he has changes in view which will mean a reduction of about $2,100 a year and added that he understood that Finance Commissioner Voss contemplates cutting down his payroll to a somewhat greater extent.

The mayor asked Commissioner Hicken if the smoke inspector, employed under the health department, has completed his investigations in order that a saving might be made in that direction. Commissioner Hicken said that he would take the matter up with Dr. Webster at once. The mayor further suggested that the city clerk could get along with one less employe.

License Transferred.

Contrasting with the furore which seethed in the council chamber when the matter of allowing a third saloon at Gary was refused, a deathlike stillness prevailed yesterday afternoon when the application of C. N. Inforzato to transfer a saloon to 1503 Commonwealth avenue was read. The resolution included two other saloon license grants, but no one asked for a division of the resolution. City Clerk Palmer called the roll on the resolution and the vote granting the transfer was unanimous. At the former meeting when the same transfer was considered Commissioner Merritt delivered a lengthy peroration against allowing another "doggery" in the suburb and his negative vote was supported by Commissioners Murchison and Voss. No one appeared at the meeting yesterday to protest against the transfer.

Shade Trees Killed.

M. Douglas sent in a communication stating that overhead wires have killed one large shade tree on Fifth avenue west, and that the loss of others is threatened the same way. Commissioner Voss asserted that that is the condition in all parts of the city, and said that it is deplorable. He referred to one section of London road where he said a dozen trees are being killed, probably solely because of overhead wires. Mayor Prince informed the commissioners that the matter is now being investigated by the electrical inspector. He declared that the only solution is in having the wires placed underground as rapidly as possible.

Weak Spot in Charter.

Finance Commissioner Voss said that it appears as though it will be necessary to call a special election for the referendum on the liquor ordinance. In that case he said that it would be well to offer an amendment to the charter giving the city power to levy advance assessments for street improvements. Under the old charter the amount paid in advance was 80 per cent of the cost, as estimated by the city engineer. The finance commissioner explained that such an arrangement is needed to save the revolving fund from depletion. Under the present system the city has issued $420,000 of certificates against the fund. This was done in compliance with the authority conferred in the section spreading the time for the payment of the assessments over a period of three years. The theory was that all of the property owners would take advantage of the time extension. In that case the property owners would pay interest on the full issue of the certificates. In fact the majority of the property owners have paid their assessments in full. The city has to pay the interest on the outstanding certificates, and is receiving no interest from the property owners to offset it. This year the interest which the city must pay amounts to approximately $20,000. At that rate it would not be many years before the interest would entirely consume the fund. It is to remedy this dangerous condition that the finance commissioner wants the council to have power to make advance assessments. He would not eliminate the time extension feature, but would have it so arranged that only sufficient certificates to accommodate those who wish to take td vantage of it would be issued.

City Attorney Harvey Clapp rendered an opinion that the city cannot require property owners to lay water and gas mains a year or two in advance of street improvements, but that the city can lay connections from the main to the curb and charge the same to the property benefited. He said that the latter half of the opinion referred only to the connections and not to the mains, but that he presumed the entire question would be handled in an ordinance which would be presented to the council at an early date.

The council passed a curative resolution offered by Mayor Prince granting him authority to make the necessary repairs to the city hall by day labor, except the plumbing, the electrical work and the painting and decorating. It was stated that, although the sense of the council had been that the work was to be done in that manner, no resolution to that effect had been passed.

"Residence Districts."

An ordinance defining the steps necessary to have a certain district become a residence district was given its first reading. The ordinance states that the petition must have the necessary signatures and be accompanied by a certificate from an abstract company verifying the titles of the property owned by the petitioners. The petition must be published in the official paper at least four times and name a date for a hearing on the petition not less than ten days from the date of the last publication. The ordinance must have a four-fifths vote to be effective.

P. McDonnell was granted an extension of time to Sept. 15 to complete his contract for the paving of East Fourth street between Twenty-third and Twenty-seventh avenues. The contract was let last year, the original time of expiration being June 15.

The Oneota and Hazelwood Improvement club sent in a communication asking that the city secure the property necessary for opening West Superior street between Thirty-fourth and Thirty-eighth avenues and Thirty-eighth avenue from Oneota street to the dock line. The club stated that it would be well for the city to take this step before the property is improved and the price advances.

Ordinances appropriating $320 for sandstone blocks for the works division and $108 to pay for liability insurance at the rock crusher were given their first reading.

Mayor Prince proposed that if a special election is to be held an amendment should be admitted to allow the city to make purchases up to $200, instead of $100 as at present, by resolution instead of ordinance. The present system is the cause of much delay and red tape, those making sales to the city being obliged to wait forty to sixty days for their money.

WARNING TO CONTRACTOR

Commissioner Murchison Notifies P. McDonnell No Extension Will Be Given.

Penalty Will Be Exacted If Work Is Not Completed on Time.

Roderick Murchison, commissioner of public works, yesterday sent a letter to P. McDonnell informing him that he will be granted no extensions of time on the contracts which were awarded him this year.

The commissioner stated that the penalty clause specified in the contracts, $10 a day, will be collected on all jobs which run overtime.

At the council meeting yesterday afternoon Contractor McDonnell was allowed an extension to Sept. 15 for the completion of his contract for the paving of East Fourth street between Twenty-third and Twenty-seventh avenues. The contract, involving about $60,000, was let last year. The commissioner says that such clemency will not be shown on jobs awarded this season, however, as he feels that ample time has been allowed for each of them. One of the ailments of the old regime was that time extensions were allowed practically whenever asked by the contractors.

Commissioner Murchison said that the East Fourth street paving between Fourteenth and Twenty-third avenues must be put in first-class shape. Depressions are showing in some places and in others the asphalt is below the level of the combined cement curb and gutter, which must also be remedied. The city has held back a guarantee of $3,000 on the contract to make certain that the needed repairs will be made.

Thus far no asphalt has been laid by Contractor McDonnell on any of the streets for which he has contracts. Several of them are practically ready for the laying of asphalt, however. Part of the delay is ascribed to the fact that one batch of asphalt was rejected as it did not come up to the required specifications.

The letter sent by Commissioner Murchison to Contractor McDonnell reads as follows:

"Duluth, July 21, 1913.—Mr. P. McDonnell, Contractor, City—Dear Sir: Specified dates for the completion of your paving contracts are as follows:

"Twenty-second avenue east from Third street to Eighth street, Aug. 1.

"Seventeenth avenue east from Fourth street to Seventh street, Aug. 15.

"Sixth street from Eighteenth avenue east to Woodland avenue, Aug. 15.

"First street from First avenue east to Sixth avenue east, Sept. 15.

"Fourth street from Sixth avenue east to Fourteenth avenue east, Oct. 1.

"It was clearly understood and notice given personally to every contractor that no extension of time would be granted for contracts let this year. At this date there is no apparent reason why any such extension should be granted, and you are hereby notified that unless each job be fully completed at the specified time, the penalty specified in the contracts will be exacted in each case. Yours truly,

"R. MURCHISON,
"Commissioner of Public Works."

SOCIALISTS PRESENT BILL TO COTTERILL

Sailors on Pacific Fleet Plan to Reimburse Wrecked Mission.

Seattle, Wash., July 22.—A committee of the Moderate Socialists, whose headquarters in an old church on Olive street, near Seventh avenue, was wrecked last Friday night, has presented an itemized bill of $668.75 to Mayor Cotterill and asked that the city pay it. The Radical Socialists will meet in Labor Temple tonight to decide on a plan of action. Their bill against the city totals $2,035.

The sailors on the Pacific reserve fleet are said to have decided to take up a collection to compensate the Pearl mission, whose chapel was partially wrecked by the sailors under the supposition that it was a reading room of the Industrial Workers.

Great preparations are being made for ex-Congressman Victor Berger's meeting here, Aug. 5.

Councilman August E. Griffiths introduced a resolution in the city council setting forth that Mayor Cotterill's action Saturday, when he ordered the saloons closed and the publication of the Times suppressed, "although taken with the best of motives, ought not to be accepted as a proper or lawful precedent." The resolution was referred to the public safety committee.

GRAND UNION MINE CASE NEARLY OVER.

Colorado Springs, Colo., July 22.—Litigation extending over five years and involving $10,000,000 worth of mining property in Mexico has been practically settled in the district court in favor of Edward R. Tufts. District Judge W. S. Morris declined to accept the report of Referee O. E. Collins, awarding Dr. J. C. Hollingsworth of Kansas City title to 1,500,000 shares of stock in the Grand Union Mining company, having a value of more than $1,000,000, and a personal judgment of $471,000 against Tufts.

Admits Murdering Children.

Saginaw, Mich., July 22.—According to the police, Mrs. Agnes Yoder, aged 27, has confessed that she killed her two small children by smothering them. The woman's husband has filed application for her admittance to the state asylum for the insane. The family lost two other children in a fire in Oscada county a few years ago.

EVELETH DUE FOR CLEANUP

Civic League Expected to Start Something Before Council Tonight.

Two Saloonkeepers on Carpet and Officials May Be Panned.

Eveleth, Minn., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city council will meet in an adjourned session this evening, when a report will be received from the committee of three appointed to ascertain the sentiment of the property owners on Adams avenue in the matter of paving the street this year. The committee has been out interviewing the property owners.

The matter of putting in a storm sewer to carry off the flow from the hill and preventing it from running over Grant avenue will also be considered. During the late heavy rains many of the basements on Grant avenue were flooded and considerable loss of property resulted.

After Saloon Fair.

Fireworks are expected as a sequel to the disclosure of illegal practices of two saloon men, in connection with their places of business. A prominent member of the Civic league, it is said, will present a petition setting forth the fact that one Nick Constantine and a woman pleaded guilty of having been together illegally in a room in Theodore Oakman's place, over his saloon. On the grounds that this place harbors women, the revocation of Mr. Oakman's license will be asked. The license of Louis Bandek, at 116 Grant avenue, will also be attacked on the grounds that Bandek pleaded guilty in court to selling liquor to a posted inebriate. The civic league is becoming aroused over the fact that Eveleth is apparently becoming one of the several places of shelter on the ranges for the inmates of the recently abolished red light districts of Duluth and Superior.

Allege Authorities Are Negligent.

They declare that in Eveleth the authorities are cognizant of one resort in particular on a main business street, a place known not only as an assignation house but also as a white slave fence, and yet no attempt is being made to put a stop to its nefarious business. People generally are becoming aroused over the situation, and sentiment against the existence of such places in town, and of the operation of the road houses adjacent to town, in defiance of the state laws, is pronounced. The attention of County Attorney Green will be called to the operation of the road houses.

WHY WAS LICENSE NOT REVOKED?

Court Will Probe Selling of Liquor to Children in Chisholm.

An action in mandamus to compel the village of Chisholm to revoke the license of Peterson & Haggbloom, saloonkeepers, who have been arrested and convicted of selling liquor to minors within the past few months, was started in district court yesterday afternoon.

Judge Dancer issued an order directing the city councilmen and officials to show cause why the license was not revoked. The order is returnable July 29, before Judge Martin Hughes. Copies have been served upon D. C. Hackett, president of the village, George Donahue, chief of police, and C. M. Tramontin, J. H. McNiven, Matt Borin and William Ritchell, councilmen.

The saloon keepers, Gus Peterson and Oscar Haggbloom, the application for the writ states, have been indiscriminately selling liquor to minors. The last case, was the sale of liquor to a 12-year-old boy.

NASHWAUK WOMEN CAUGHT IN RAID

Grand Rapids, Minn., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Deputy Sheriffs Gunderson and Carson visited Nashwauk Saturday night about 11 and raided the house kept by Jessie Wilson. They arrested the proprietress and four other women, who gave the names of Mertes Peterson, Gladys Brown, Amelia Gardner and Dolly Gibson.

All were arraigned before Justice Charles Kearney and pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct. Fines of $25 each and costs, amounting to $19.50 each, were imposed. The Wilson woman paid her fine and left for Nashwauk in quest of cash to release the others.

CHISHOLM MAN AGAIN CONVICTED

Chisholm, Minn., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank Lucas, confectioner and ice cream parlor manager, yesterday was convicted in municipal court by a jury, of fighting. Sentence will be passed later. Last week he paid a fine for disturbing the peace and the week prior paid a fine for selling cigarettes and tobacco to minors.

THEIR CHILDREN ARE WITNESSES

Novel Feature in Two Citizenship Cases on Mesaba Range.

Virginia, Minn., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—When Matt Mollan was admitted to citizenship recently, his two sons Fred J., alderman, and Andrew, deputy sheriff, both of whom were born in Minnesota, were his witnesses. There has been no other case like this since the range court was established but even more unique will be the case at the next session of the court when a homesteader of the north country, a woman, will present herself for admission to citizenship, with her two daughters as her witnesses. The elder Mollan resides on a farm a short distance out of Eveleth.

ALLEGE BREACH OF AGREEMENT

Hibbing Firm Claims Virginia Rival Broke Its Contract.

Hibbing, Minn., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—An interesting case was heard in district court by Judge Hughes, between Bubley & Edlestein, proprietors of the Royal Dye House and Latz Brothers, formerly of Hibbing but now of Virginia.

A year ago Bubley & Edelstein bought out the interest of Latz Bros. who were to move to Virginia with the agreement that Latz Bros. were to get work of a certain grade sent to them at Virginia and in consideration of that agreement were not to solicit business in Hibbing.

For three months the agreement was kept, then the Royal Dye House stopped shipping certain work to Virginia and Latz Bros. began active work in soliciting work here. This was brought out in district court, and the Royal Dye House want damages.

Judge Hughes took the matter under advisement and the arguments will be filed by brief next Friday.

DELEHAUNTE NOT BADLY WOUNDED

Man Shot While Trying to Escape Expected to Recover.

Hibbing, Minn., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—M. Delehaunte, who was shot by Chief Donahue of Chisholm, while trying to escape after being placed under arrest for robbery, is expected to recover at a local hospital.

One of the two bullets took effect in his right shoulder and the other in his left leg. His physicians say that he will recover from both wounds and that he will be crippled only to a small degree if at all.

Herman Herbert, Delehaunte's companion in the alleged robbery is confined in jail here. His hearing was set for yesterday afternoon but because he wanted to obtain an attorney Judge Brady of the municipal court granted him until Wednesday to secure one.

Delehaunte will be arraigned as soon as he is able to be in court.

HIBBING MOTORISTS INVITED TO RAPIDS

Hibbing, Minn., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hibbing owners of automobiles have been invited to attend the annual picnic of the Grand Rapids Band and Clerks' association at Lake Pokegama July 29.

The matter is being discussed among the Hibbing automobilists and from present indications several will attend the banquet.

FORMER MOUNTAIN IRON MAN VISITS

Virginia, Minn., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. D. Gilchrist, who was superintendent of the Mountain Iron mine, years ago when it was the wonder of the range and which for three years has been idle, is spending the week on the range visiting the mines. He is now with the Colorado Fuel & Iron company of Denver.

Visiting in Virginia.

IMPROVEMENT IN FRUIT RECEIVED

Chisholm's Notice on Duluth-Superior Fruit Dealers Has Effect.

Chisholm, Minn., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—While Duluth and Superior fruit dealers, in a letter to local merchants, maintain that the order of the local health board against shipping bad fruit here is working a hardship, it is said that since the order was issued a noticeable improvement in the quality of the shipments from the Head of the Lakes is noted.

It is said that other range towns will join Chisholm in the campaign for better fruit.

FIGHT WITH OLSON WILL REACH COURTS

Two Harbors' Efforts to Raze Burned Building Still on.

Two Harbors, Minn., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Olson again came into the lime-light at the meeting of the city council last evening with his building on Second avenue. A hearing was had under a new ordinance to determine the damage done to the building by a fire on July 16, 1912. The ordinance requires the tearing down of any building which is more than 50 per cent destroyed. From the evidence received at the hearing last evening the council will order the building razed and from the attitude taken by Olson in the former hearings there is little doubt but that he will appeal the case to the courts.

The council also took up the matter of installing a sewer on South avenue from Hazel to Willow streets. No bids were received for doing this work and the city attorney was instructed to draw an ordinance allowing the work to be done by the street commissioner with day labor.

Electric Lamps Bought.

A contract was entered into by the city with the Westinghouse Electric company for a year's supply of electric lamps. A much better price was obtained for this year and the city expects to sell 40, 30, 25 and 15-watt Mazda lamps at 35 cents each. The city started handling electric goods for the benefit of the citizens.

In allowing bills against the city an exception was taken by the council to the bill of the Gogebic Steam Boiler works of Duluth for repairing one of the city's boilers. The job was done on a contract with a penalty of $15.50 per day for all delays caused by the company after June 18. The city claims that through the delays of several days caused by the Duluth people the city was put to the expense of about $61.20 and the council allowed the bill last evening less that amount.

STATE EIGHTY CASE.

Controversy Between State and Virginia School Board Is on.

Virginia, Minn., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—C. L. Hilton of the attorney general's office, will fight the Virginia school board in its efforts to have the state eighty in the northwest part of the city appraised and condemned. In the hearing before Judge Dancer in Duluth, Mr. Hilton contended that the state can not be sued and that state school lands can not be condemned. The judge directed that briefs be submitted and these will be filed within a few days. The school board wants the land for use in the course to be established in practical agriculture. A strip across the land has already been sold to the interurban road for a right-of-way. The mayor also has recommended that the city acquire the property to be used for park purposes, for athletic grounds or factory sites. The city will not attempt to obtain the land in opposition to the school board.

To The Young Expectant Mother

Women of Experience Advise the Use of Mother's Friend.

There is some trepidation in the minds of most women in regard to motherhood.

The longing to possess is often contradicted by the fear of distress.

But there need be no such dread in view of the fact that we have an effective remedy in what is known as Mother's Friend.

This is an external application that has a wonderful influence and control over the muscular tissues of the abdomen. By its daily use the muscles, cords, tendons and ligaments all gently expand without the slightest strain; there is no pain, no nausea, no nervousness; what was dreaded as a severe physical ordeal becomes a calm, serene, joyful anticipation.

In almost every community there are women who have used Mother's Friend, and they are the ones that recovered quickly.

Mother's Friend is prepared after the formula of a noted family doctor by the Bradfield Regulator Co., 238 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Write them for their instructive book to expectant mothers. You will find Mother's Friend on sale by all drug stores at $1.00 a bottle.

RUNAWAY CABOOSE JUMPS INTO LAKE

Iron Range Car Dashes Through Two Harbors Yards to Water.

Two Harbors, Minn., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Yesterday afternoon about 3:30 an Iron Range caboose belonging to the train of Conductor Olof Larson got away from the man in charge and took a wild ride through the local yards and ended by taking a jump into Lake Superior at the city pumphouse.

The caboose ran past the passenger depot but at the time there were very few people on the platform and a warning had been given by the engines working in the yard.

BOND CASE MONDAY.

Supreme Court Will Be Asked to Hear Backus' Appeal Early.

Virginia, Minn., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Next Monday Attorney L. C. Harris of Duluth, representing the city, in conjunction with City Attorney D. D. Morgan, will ask the supreme court for an early hearing of Joseph Backus' appeal from the Judge Hughes order dissolving the water and light bond injunction.

Mayor M. A. Murphy has submitted affidavits that it is of vital importance to the city that there be a hearing at an early date as the option for purchase which the city has on the plant expires Oct. 1. Arnold & Pickering representing Joseph Backus, will appear at the hearing.

MUNRO IN MILWAUKEE.

Former Duluthian Hoping Eye Specialist Can Relieve Him.

Chisholm, Minn., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Munro are in Milwaukee to meet Mr. Munro's father, who is coming from the West to see a specialist regarding his lost eyesight. The senior Munro was stricken blind while conducting some underground mining operations near Goldfield, Nev. Mr. Munro is well known in Duluth and Superior, where he lived for a number of years.

TO LIVE ELSEWHERE.

Two Pioneer Chisholm Families Leave Range Village.

Chisholm, Minn., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Chisholm lost two of her old citizens yesterday when Mat Matzele and family left for their future home in California and Frank Helene and family left for Finland. Both men came to Chisholm before the organization of the village, remaining ever since and being good citizens. Mr. Matzele has his business affairs in such shape that he will not need to return here except at intervals.

Mr. Helene came to Chisholm fifteen years ago and worked in the woods. Later he went into the mines and having his money has laid up enough with the sale of his home recently, to go back to Finland and live comfortably. The family will sail from Quebec on the steamer Empress.

BENEDICTS CHALLENGE.

Married Elks, Who Were Beaten at Eveleth Sunday, Want Revenge.

Eveleth, Minn., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The married Elks, who were defeated by the single men of the Eveleth lodge in a game of baseball Sunday by the score of 6 to 5, have challenged the victors for a return game. The challenge has been accepted and the game will be played Saturday afternoon. The Sunday lineup, which will be about the same for the next game, was as follows:

Pickard of that church officiating. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Mercer and after the ceremony returned to Knife River where they will make their home. Mr. Bissell is employed by the Duluth and Northeastern railroad at that place.

ITASCA COUNTY LANDS ARE SOLD

Grand Rapids, Minn., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Six hundred acres of land were sold here Monday at the regular monthly sale of state lands. The tract of land improved by the state, twenty acres having been put under the plow, was bought by Marie Farrell of this village for the sum of $17.50 an acre. She also took the northwest quarter of the southeast quarter of the same section at $5 an acre. The east half of the southeast quarter of this section was purchased by Dr. John Shellman of Nashwauk.

Other purchasers were Clarence C. Rose of Bear River, James Taranta of Nashwauk, Tony Palumbo of Nashwauk, Ernest L. Barlow of Chester, Iowa, Joseph McVeigh of Grand Rapids, Bertha Allen of Grand Rapids and William L. Hutchins of Rosy.

MAYOR TREZONA GIVES WELCOME

Ely Executive Greets Delegates to Big National Finn Meet.

Ely, Minn., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mayor Charles Trezona today welcomed the delegates and others who are attending the grand lodge of the National Finnish Brotherhood which began its meeting at Finnish Lutheran hall at 10 a. m. with delegates representing many of the lodges present. A response was made after which routine business was taken up appointment of committees, reports of officers, etc.

Not only lodges in the United States but some in Canada are represented. The city is decorated in honor of the visitors and the concerts to be given each evening starting tomorrow when popular programs will be rendered are expected to draw many more visitors here.

AURORA IS READY.

Advance Guard for Tournament Already on the Ground.

Aurora, Minn., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—This afternoon some of the advanced guard of those who will attend the Mesaba Range Volunteer Firemen's tournament association gather here Wednesday, Thursday and Friday arrived and the big bulk of those attending are expected in the morning. The village is gaily decorated and if the weather is favorable a splendid time is expected.

RESULTS ARE BETTER.

Farmers Working on Local County Roads Beat Imported Laborers.

Chisholm, Minn., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—County Commissioner Ralph S. O'Neil has eighteen crews of men working on different pieces of road building in the north country. Mr. O'Neil says the road work is progressing very satisfactorily and that the results obtained by labor procured near where the work is being done is much more satisfactory than taking the men from the towns. The wages paid are the same, but the farmers are more conscientious about their work than ordinary laborers. Mr. O'Neil expects to have the roads in this district much improved before the season closes.

Virginian Takes Bride.

Virginia, Minn., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Prof. J. M. Partridge of the high school who spends his vacations on his farm at Grand Rapids was married a few days ago to Miss Winnie L. Marth of Barnesville.

Like Chisholm Concert.

Chisholm, Minn., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—The band concert, given Sunday evening at the bandstand across from the city hall, was unusually well rendered and a large crowd listened to the music.

FOUR "LIFERS" TO BE FREE IN YEAR

Washington, July 22.—T. A. Keating, Arthur Hewitt, Bob Clark and Gilbert Mullins, serving life imprisonment sentences for the murder of a guard in the Leavenworth prison in 1901, when they, with twenty-two other prisoners, mutinied and escaped, will be released after the expiration of a year if they continue on their good behavior. President Wilson has so commuted their sentences. It is not known who fired the shot which killed the guard.

In 1906, after having served three years of their sentence for the murder of the guard, Keating and Hewitt attempted to escape from the prison on a locomotive, compelling guards and trainmen, at the points of dummy revolvers, to run them to liberty. They were recaptured and have not offended since.

MOTORCYCLE SETS DRESSES ON FIRE

St. Louis, Mo., July 22.—After witnessing two other girls narrowly escape incineration on the same machine, Mrs. Minnie Daum mounted the motorcycle of Julius Schneider of Edwardsville, Ill., and was burned, probably fatally, when her skirt took fire from the cycle's exhaust.

Excited by the third accident of its kind within an hour, Schneider lost control of the machine. At the bottom of a hill he ran the motorcycle against a terrace and attempted in vain to beat out the flames on his passenger's dress.

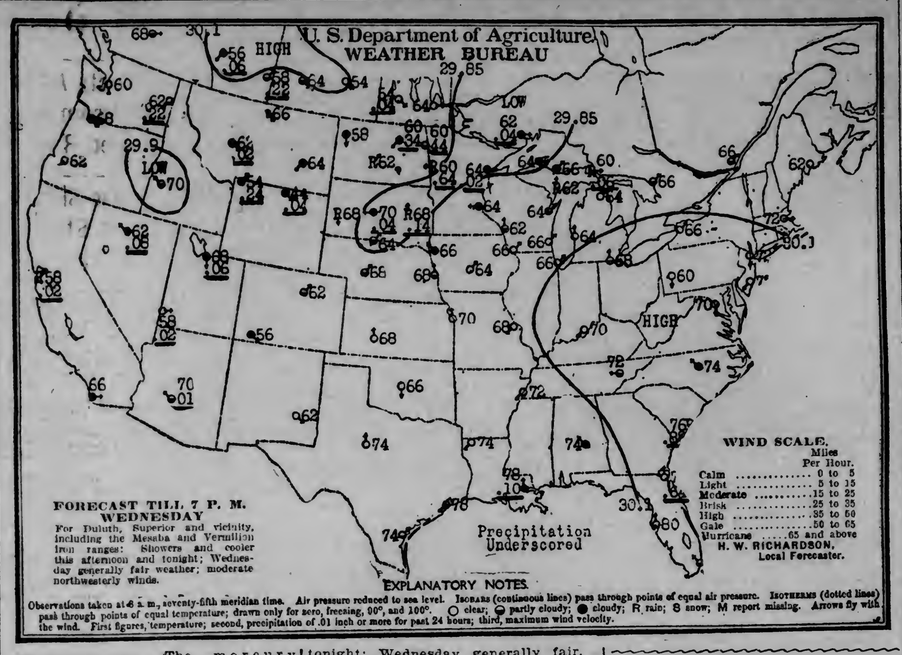

C. W. Fiegebaum, chief of the fire department, who was awakened by her screams, came to the woman's rescue with a chemical tank. Every inch of her body below the waist, however, was seared by the flames. Her recovery is doubtful.

Schneider was exhibiting his machine to a party of girls and invited them for rides. The skirts of the two women preceding Mrs. Daum took fire, but the blaze was speedily extinguished each time.

CHINESE MUTINY ON STEAMER COMUS

New Orleans, La., July 22.—Mutiny of twenty-five Chinese on the steamship Comus, arriving from New York, resulted in a panic among the passengers, the probable fatal shooting of one of the mutineers, the wounding of three others and slight injuries to First Officer M. L. Proctor of the Comus. The general fight occurred on the forward deck of the steamer. Proctor probably owes his life to the bravery of Mrs. Florence Shaw, a stewardess, who saved him from being thrown over the rail by the infuriated Chinese. The Chinese were being brought here to act as strikebreakers for the United Fruit company, whose seamen recently walked out. Each is under $500 bond.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

RAIN

The mercury went to 78 deg. yesterday and some Duluthians found it uncomfortably warm in the downtown district. The predicted showers fell early this morning, and another lot of them are due tonight.

Cold, damp weather prevailed a year ago today.

The sun rose this morning at 4:35 and it will set at 7:53 this evening, giving fifteen hours and eighteen minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Temperatures in the 90's prevailed Monday in British Columbia, Washington, Oregon, Eastern Montana, the Western Dakotas, Wyoming, Texas, Louisiana and Tennessee. During the last twenty-four hours showers or thunder storms occurred over South Atlantic and East Gulf states, the Northwest and Far West and the Lake Superior region. Indications favor showery weather and cooler weather this afternoon and tonight in St. Louis and Douglas counties."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, July 22.—Forecasts for twenty-four hours, ending at 7 p. m. Wednesday:

Upper Michigan—Showers tonight or Wednesday; cooler tonight in west portion.

Wisconsin—Unsettled weather with showers tonight or Wednesday; cooler Wednesday and in west portion tonight.

Minnesota—Showers and cooler tonight; Wednesday generally fair.

Iowa—Showers tonight or Wednesday; cooler in west and central portions tonight and in east portion Wednesday.

North Dakota—Generally fair tonight and Wednesday; cooler tonight.

South Dakota—Cloudy and cooler tonight; Wednesday generally fair.

Montana—Generally fair tonight and Wednesday; cooler in east portion tonight.

Upper Lakes—Moderate southerly winds becoming variable; unsettled weather with showers tonight or Wednesday.

When the Landlord Comes

A HARD luck story won't go. It's pay or get out. He cares nothing about the suffering of YOUR family, so long as HIS family is well cared for.

But how about YOU?

Are you always going to stand it, to be kicked around like a dog, just because you'd rather spend your money for a good time than save some of it?

Take this tip:

A bank book will get you more respect and be a better recommendation than a dozen letters from former employers.

Brace up and make the start next pay day—if it's only a dollar that you can "salt" down. It'll grow all right.

ERUPTION ALL OVER CHILD'S BODY

Began With Small Red Spots. Cried Almost Day and Night. Used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. Well in One Week.

R. F. D. No. 2, Jackson, Mo. — "Our daughter who is ten months old was suffering from an eruption all over the body. In the beginning they were small red spots and afterwards turned to bloody sores. We tried all sorts of ointments but they did not procure any relief for our child. She had no rest day or night and we tried everything to procure relief for our baby. She cried almost day and night and we scarcely could touch her, because she was covered with sores from head to foot.

"We had heard about the Cuticura Soap and Ointment and made a trial with them, and after using the remedies, that is to say, the Soap and the Ointment, only a few days passed and our child could sleep well and after one week she was totally well." (Signed) August F. Bartels, Nov. 25, 1912.

TO REMOVE DANDRUFF

Prevent dry, thin and falling hair, allay itching and irritation, and promote the growth and beauty of the hair, frequent shampoos with Cuticura Soap, assisted by occasional dressings with Cuticura Ointment, afford a most effective and economical treatment. Sold by druggists and dealers everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address postcard "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

Obese Should Lose Fat Gradually, Says Henkel

(From Men and Events)

According to Prof. Francis Henkel of the Paris Academy of Medicine, it is a mistake for corpulent persons to attempt to lose flesh rapidly. Emptying the tissue of its fatty element too suddenly causes the skin to become flaccid, instead of firm and wrinkleless. Besides, any means by which this is accomplished, takes too much of the patient's energy, the obese being least likely to be energetic. Though the average loss of weight desired is from 40 to 60 pounds, one should not lose more than 6 to 8 pounds a month.

Drugs which cause speedy reduction are objectionable not only for the reasons given, but because they affect unfavorably the stomach, kidneys, heart or nerves. It is safer to use only boranium jujubes, which have been found wonderfully effective in all obese conditions. They do not injure healthy tissue or any organ and, if three or four are eaten daily, will not produce too rapid reduction. Boranium jujubes, obtainable at any drug store, act both as an absorbent and an eliminant of fatty matter.

WHEAT OFF AT CLOSE

Heavy Receipts at All Points Offset Reports of Rust.

Flax Has Slight Advance on Buying By Crushers.

Duluth Board of Trade, July 22.—The weakness of the entire session in wheat was not changed toward the close and the net losses were: July, ½c; September, ⅞@1c; December, ⅝@¾c; September durum, ½c; July durum, unchanged. Oats lost ⅜c and corn close ⅞c off. Rye and barley remained unchanged.

September puts, 80⅛@¼c; calls 89⅝c bid.

The tendency in the wheat market today is toward weakness. Despite reports from the wheat growing Northwest that black rust is spreading and that other things that militate against a good crop are developing, the wheat this morning has been weak throughout the session. For the first part there was not much doing at all, September spring wheat being the only option that had anything to show for the session, and it holding steady at the opening, which was the only opening figure in the wheat list.

The weakness is caused by the tremendous receipts of wheat at all points. They are unusually heavy and far outclass those of a year ago. Receipts at Duluth amount to 100 more cars than a year ago, at Minneapolis, 60 more cars; at Winnipeg, 230 more cars; at Chicago, 569 more, and at Kansas City and St. Louis, 68 more. Chicago estimates that it will receive 700 cars tomorrow. Primary receipts are 700,000 bushels more than a year ago. These things, taken altogether, have given the market pause, and the bad reports from the Northwest have not the weight that they otherwise would have.

July spring wheat in the last hour was ¼c off, September was ⅛c off, December was inactive, July durum was steady at yesterday's close and September durum was inactive.

Small Gain in Flax.

Fairly liberal buying by crushers and others this morning strengthened up flax, and while nothing radical in an advance resulted the gain was comfortable. July gained ¾c; September advanced ⅝c; October, which was dealt in more than the others, is only ⅛c higher; and November and December advanced ⅛c each.

B. W. Snow wires from Omaha:

"Corn crop of Nebraska south of Platte and west of Lincoln already badly hurt and all is in critical position. Portion of Republican valley received some rain and crop is holding out, but fully fourth of state is over the danger line and losing ground fast every day. From Hastings to Holdredge and south almost to Red Cloud, fields already largely fired. Have seen places today where hot winds last week killed leaves on trees. From Hastings to Crete, corn showing white and now coming to tassel at four feet. East of Lincoln small damage but some white heads showing. The hopeful possibility lies in the fact that crop was not in tassel during last weeks blistering weather, but many tassels now unrolling are coming white. Sections of state covered is now in worse shape than Northern Kansas."

George M. Lecount wires from Clinton, Minn.:

"Today was splendid for wheat, and crop is coming on fine. Lots of wheat will be cut this week. Lots of rust but it is making no progress these days. Wheat is filling fine and I think the rust scare is over."

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Wheat Declines Moderately After Early Firmness.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 22.—After an early firm and narrow market wheat declined moderately in late session. Private reports indicated there was little danger of black rust damage in the Northwest. July closed ⅜c lower than yesterday, September ⅞c lower and December ¾@⅞c lower. Local elevator stocks decreased 515,000 bu for three days.

July opened 87⅝c; high, 87¾c; low, 87¾c; closed 87⅜c.

September opened 90c; high, 90c; low, 89¼c; closed, 89⅝c.

Barley—Receipts, 58 cars, year ago, 7; shipments, 40. Demand good. Prices unchanged.

The flour market was quiet but steady. Prices unchanged. Shipments, 64,732 bbls.

Bran prices unchanged.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Is Easier on Good Weather and Big Receipts.

Chicago, July 22.—Wheat eased off today on account of fine weather and large receipts Northwest and here. There were also bearish crop advices from Russia. The opening ranged from ⅛c lower to a shade advance. September which started at 87¼@87⅜c to 87⅜c, unchanged to a sixteenth higher, declined to 87⅛c.

Although absence of rain made corn firm at the outset, general selling soon caused a reaction. September opened ⅛c to ¼c up at 63⅜c to 63½c, but fell to 62⅞c.

Good export call brought about a subsequent rally. The close, however, was easy with September ¼@⅜c net lower, at 87c.

Oats patterned after corn, showing strength first, and then developing weakness. September started unchanged to ¼c down at 41⅛c to 41¼c, touched 41⅝@41½c, and sagged to 40¾c.

A further decline ensued on account of rain predicted for Nebraska and elsewhere. The close was steady at 62¾c for September, a net loss of ⅛c.

Slowness of demand allowed provisions to droop. First sales varied from 5c lower to 2½c advance, with September options at $21.50 for pork, $11.95 for lard and $11.90 for ribs.

Cash wheat—No. 2 red, new, 87½@87¾c; No. 3 red, new, 86½@87c; No. 2 hard, new, 88@88¼c; No. 2 hard, old, 89½@90c; No. 3 hard, new, 87@87¼c; No. 3 hard, old, 88½@89c; No. 1 northern, 92½@93c; No. 2 northern, 91@92c; No. 3 northern, 89@91c; No. 4 northern, 82@89c; No. 2 spring, 91@92c; No. 3 spring, 89@91c; No. 4 spring, 82@89c; velvet chaff, 88@92c; durum, 84@91c.

DECLINES IN STOCKS

Market Reacts After Opening That Promised Continued Rise.

Activity in the Shares of Independent Steel Companies.

New York, July 22.—Stocks were inclined to react today, after an opening that promised a continuance of the recent advance. London sent over a higher level of prices, but quotations from that center were accepted with reservation.

Of the local leaders, Canadian Pacific alone manifested some strength, Steel, Union Pacific, Reading and Amalgamated yielded under pressure. New low records were made by Wells-Fargo and California Petroleum common and preferred.

The weakest issues were the New Haven 6 per cent convertibles, and stocks, the former declining almost 4 points, with more than 2 points for the stock, Bonds, particularly government issues, were heavy.

The market opened with a show of considerable activity, but price changes were nominal except in the case of Missouri Pacific, B. & O., and several of the specialties. Some of the leaders, including Steel and Reading, were unchanged. Trading was in fairly large volume but suggested a continuance of professional operations.

Realizing and short selling followed the opening rise, and the market became heavy. Features of weakness included New Haven convertible 6's which fell over 3 points and Wells-Fargo, which added another 5 points to yesterday's loss of 11, selling at 95. Government 2's and Panama 2's also were quotable lower.

The noon hour was marked by considerable activity in the shares of the independent steel companies, notably Republic Steel, whose semi-annual statement showed a large gain in net profits for that period. The preferred stock jumped 7 points and the common 2½.

Reports of another break in the negotiations between the Eastern railroad men and their employes served to further restrict operations in the market. Prices again yielded slightly and trading became negligible.

The market closed easy. Operations on the long side advanced Reading and Steel to the best. The response elsewhere was disappointing and prices weakened. Canadian Pacific suffered from active realizing and the absorption of minor specialties ceased.

STRONG TONE TO COPPERS

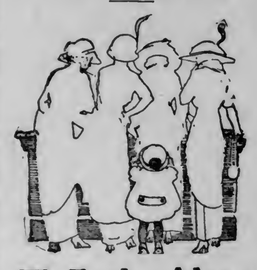

The copper market continued the strength which began in yesterday's session all through today, and closed at or around the closing price of yesterday in almost all stocks. Some slight advances were registered in some of the leaders and a few of the minor stocks began an upward movement during the day, notably East Butte, in which vigorous buying was caused by a statement from authentic sources that development within the last few months in the lower levels of the mine has placed in reserve more ore than has been extracted in the past year.

TAFT WILL BE THE U. S. ORATOR

Put-in-Bay, Ohio, July 22.—Ex-President William Howard Taft will be the speaker representing the United States at the international celebration at Lake Erie, to be held here on Sept. 10, on the 100th anniversary of the battle and the day following, according to announcement here. Canada's speaker has not yet been selected.

On the second day of the international celebration, transfer of the remains of the American and British marines and sailors killed in the battle of Lake Erie will be made from their present resting place on Fut-in-Bay Island to the crypt of the Perry Memorial monument, now being erected.

SENTENCE PLEASES BOY

Boris Slovut Delighted When Given Term at Red Wing.

Writes His "Girl" That He's Off for "Prison."

Sixteen-year-old Boris Slovut danced a jig for joy yesterday afternoon when Judge Fesler, sitting in juvenile court, told him that he would have to go to the Red Wing training school as punishment for stealing a pair of trousers and some shirts from the Yale laundry Saturday night.

When he learned that he had been committed Boris broke out in smiles. In fact, he could scarcely contain himself. So delighted was he that he asked the probation officer in whose custody he was remanded for a pen and paper with which to write a letter to his girl.

After he had finished the message he read it aloud for approval. It went something like this:

"Dear: I am writing to you to tell you that I have been sent to Red Wing prison and will leave on the train tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. Don't know how many years I will be gone and when I come back I may be a soldier with a gun. I should worry. Goodbye. I love you sometime. Goodbye."

Young Slovut is a Russian. When the police arrested him and held him for the juvenile court, they telephoned the court officers that in their opinion the boy was a subject for the feeble-minded asylum.

On the contrary, the boy appears to be very bright. He gave intelligent answers to every question put to him and was quite talkative. Although he has been in this country but eight months he speaks rather good English and understands everything that is said to him.

No Money in Going to School.

Boris went to school for seven months and then quit to go to work. He told his parents, who reside at 710 East Second street, that there was no money in going to school and that he was going to strike out for a job. He worked at a number of places in Duluth, always quitting when he had a new job in sight with more money in it. The last place has was employed in Duluth was a motion picture show.

Boris says that he is fond of motion pictures, especially the ones with soldiers in them. He declares that while he is at Red Wing he is going to learn to be a soldier.

About a month ago Boris thought that Duluth's field of endeavor was too narrow, and he ran away to St. Paul. He declared that he would have been there yet if he hadn't been fool enough to tell another "guy" that he was from Duluth.

"The guy squealed on me to a cop, and he pinched me because I hadn't got a job yet," said Boris.

He spent nine days in the St. Paul police station. When his parents in Duluth finally located him, they had him released and sent back.

When Boris arrived at home he again set out to find a job. Every place he applied he was turned down because of his youthful appearance. Finally a brilliant idea struck him. He asked his mother to get him a pair of long trousers. They would make him look older.

When the trousers were not forthcoming, Boris set out to get a pair anyway. Saturday night he broke into the Yale laundry, and after rummaging around finally selected two suits of clothes from the cleaning department. He opened a number of laundry bundles and picked out a few clean shirts.

His mother discovered the stolen property the next morning and made him return them to the police station. He was arrested and held for the juvenile court. Col. F. E. Resche took the boy to Red Wing this morning.

COLOMBIA WILL ASK FOR A SETTLEMENT

President Restrepo Devotes Much of Message to Canal Affairs.

Bogota, Colombia, July 22.—References to the Panama canal occupied a prominent place in President Carlos Restrepo's annual message today to the Colombian congress.

The president said that the approaching completion of the isthmian canal, the development of the country at large and the special interest of the coast provinces rendered daily more important an understanding with the United States.

"The Colombian government," he continued, "has refused the propositions made by James T. Dubois, the United States minister, as not affording that reparation and justice desired by the nation. The new administration at Washington under President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan has inspired the Colombian people with great hopes. After the arrival of the new American minister, Thaddeus Thompson, the president hopes to suomit satisfactory terms for a settlement of the Panama affair to this congress."

RIVAL CURRENCY MEASURE APPEARS

Democratic Opponents of Glass Bill Frame New Provisions.

Washington, July 22.—A rival to the administration currency bill appeared today—the creation of those Democratic members of the house banking committee who have opposed various features of the administration bill. It is largely a rewrite of the Glass plan. It would embody many recommendations of the old money trust investigating committee.

The bill will not be introduced in the house immediately, but first will be submitted to President Wilson and Secretary McAdoo in an informal way. If substantial amendments make up the Glass bill conform to the suggestions of its opponents, the new bill may not be introduced.

JAPANESE ORATOR TO TOUR IN EAST.

Chicago, July 22.—George J. Kasai, a student from Kofu, Japan, who was graduated from the University of Chicago last month and whose oration on "The Mastery of the Pacific" won the Julius Rosenwald prize in oratory, will be sent out by the world peace foundation to deliver his oration in Eastern cities. Kasai's oration dealt with the Japanese question in California, and was an appeal for peaceful relations with Japan.

NEW PHOTOGRAPHS OF ZENITH CITY

Huge Panoramic Views Will Be Shown Real Estate Dealers.

The most comprehensive photographic exposition of Duluth ever prepared, has been completed by Louis Gallagher, the photographer, for the real estate men who will go to the international convention at Winnipeg the latter part of this month.

Mr. Gallagher has taken about fifteen views of the city, each one being a panoramic view, some of them being more than eight feet in length. The smallest are about five feet square. Each photograph is from some new viewpoint, and each is copyrighted. The two largest panoramas show Duluth from the top of the Patrick building, and from the point of rocks. The former is probably the most comprehensive picture of the city ever taken, and is remarkably clear and distinct, showing the city in minute detail from the point of rocks to beyond the normal school.

These pictures will be framed and taken along by the real estate men to show the other delegates to the convention the picturesque topography of the city, and its varied industries. On the return of the real estate men the pictures will be on display in some Superior street window.

Railroads IN UNIQUE POSITION.

Great Western to Charge 3 Cents, Competing With 2-Cent Roads.

St. Paul, Minn., July 22.—The Chicago Great Western railway during the present summer will try the experiment of maintaining a 3-cent fare in the state when other competing roads are carrying passengers at 2 cents a mile.

This was the announcement made late yesterday after a conference between representatives of the road and the state following the modification of the injunction against the road by the Federal court to permit it to meet competition. The road, so representatives stated, probably will reduce its passenger rate in the near future, after the experiment has been tried and the road freight rates, both merchandise and commodity, will be reduced at once to meet competition.

The trial of the Great Western case to determine whether the legislative rates are confiscatory as applied to the road, informally was discussed, and the desire expressed by both representatives of the road and the state to expedite the case. Instead of trying the case on the basis of one year's earnings, as in the three cases tried before, the earnings for several years will be taken.

A further conference is to be held Friday.

TRACTION ENGINE HOODOO FOR SOO

Columbus, N. D., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—A steam traction engine has proven a great hoodoo for the Soo road. It was shipped from Minneapolis and when within a few miles of here it upset the flat car upon which it was loaded, causing a wreck. Its pieces were gathered up and it was sent back to Minneapolis for repairs, later being shipped here. Recently while it was crossing the track it was struck by a passenger engine. Both engines were badly wrecked.

MAN AND WOMAN WILL BE DEPORTED

White Slavery Case Dismissed and Immigration Bureau Will Act.

The case against Antti Markkula, who was charged with white slavery was dismissed before United States Commissioner Thomas H. Pressnell this afternoon.

Both Markkula and Filna Palmu, an alien woman, whom the former was charged with bringing into this country for immoral purposes, will be deported to Canada within the next day or two. The case of Markkula was to have come up for trial before Commissioner Pressnell tomorrow morning.

Markkula and the Palmu woman were found living together last week and were arrested by Deputy United States Marshal George J. Mallory Saturday afternoon. Markkula was arraigned on a charge of white slavery, but he pleaded not guilty and his case was set for tomorrow.

The couple have been turned over to the immigration authorities and they will be taken back to Canada some time tomorrow.

FORESTS IN WESTERN CANADA ARE ABLAZE

Loss of Life Is Likely Unless Flames Are Checked Soon.

Edmonton, Alta., July 22.—Forest fires are raging fiercely between Tete Jaune, Cache and Jasper in Yellowhead pass of the Rockies, and much of the country has been devastated, according to information received here today. The burned over territory now is about ten miles in length and two miles wide. The flames are said to be traveling at high speed, and unless checked soon, threaten loss of life.

In the vicinity of the Nacacho river the fire is said to be at its height.

Missing Man Located.

Hettinger, N. D., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Andrew K. Warsla, who mysteriously disappeared several months ago, has been located in Canada. He made an affidavit as to his location but refused to state his reasons for going.

Lodge Swindler Sentenced.

Valley City, N. D., July 22.—(Special to The Herald.)—Claud A. Price, who canvassed this field, palming himself off as a representative of a fraternal order, landed in the state penitentiary yesterday to serve a year's sentence. Price pleaded guilty to charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

Mill City Daylight Robbery.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 22.—Detectives are searching for a daylight robber who entered a grocery store yesterday afternoon at 3200 Bryant avenue south, attacking Miss Anna Gardner, the only clerk in the store, thrust a revolver in her face and compelled her to stand in a corner while he rifled the cash drawers and fled. The store is located in a thickly settled residence district.

138 Years Ago

One hundred and thirty-eight years ago Paul Revere took the famous ride that linked his name forever with the heroes of American Revolutionary history.

A lone man on horseback stirred up a whole countryside—"every Middlesex village and farm," as we are told.

If newspapers had been more generally circulated the Middlesex folks would have known all about the movements of the king's troops. They would have been prepared for the news that Revere might have sent over the 'phone to ten times as many in one-tenth the time.

In every corner of this great country people know what's going on in all other corners through the medium of the daily newspaper.

And the newspaper is the medium that the business world employs to bring together buyer and seller.

When you read the advertisements in THE HERALD remember that this department represents a distinct service to you. It is the means of communication between the reliable store and your home. Use it carefully and systematically.

TWENTY COPPER MINES IN MICHIGAN ARE SHUT DOWN BY UNION STRIKE

Western Federation of Miners Calls Out Its Men.

Some Mills and Smelters Are Running With Light Supplies.

Isle Royale Mine Is Closed to Avoid Possible Trouble.

Calumet, Mich., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—A strike was called this morning on the copper mining corporations of Houghton, Keweenaw and Ontonagon counties, owing to their refusal to meet the demands of the Western Federation of Miners for recognition of the union, an eight-hour working day, abolition of one-man drilling machines and better general working conditions.

Although only from a fifth to a quarter of the men are affiliated with the federation, it has been found necessary to close all the mines, some twenty being affected. Fifteen thousand men are affected by the strike order. There has been no disorder at any point.

Four shafts ranging from three-fourths of a mile to one and one-fourth miles deep on the Calumet Conglomerate lode are working. The Ahmeek, Kearsarge, Wolverine, Mohawk, Quincy, Three Copper Range mines, the Tamarack, Allouez, Osceola, La Salle and Hecla, branches of the Calumet & Hecla, are closed.

The mills and smelters are working. If the Conglomerate shafts are forced to close any length of time it will mean a heavy loss because of water coming into the shafts.

It is expected the Hecla branches will resume work today.

The Franklin, Hancock and Winona mines, now have a full force of men at work. The men are not going out at the Franklin and Winona, but all those at the Quincy are out. The Centennial men are out, but the Keweenaw copper mine is working.

The surface crews of the Allouez, Mohawk and Wolverine have been sent home because there is no work for them. With the underground forces out, the mills and smelters are working, but the Calumet & Hecla railroad, Mineral Range road and Copper Range road are hauling little or no rock from the mines to the mills.

The Isle Royale mine had shafts Nos. 4 and 6 working this morning. But the men were called up by the management and sent home to avoid possible trouble.

This afternoon it looks as if the strike may last an indefinite period. Both the corporations and the fraction of miners refuse to budge from their stand. The mining companies claim they have done everything possible in the past for the men, including a raise of 10 per cent in wages a year and a half ago, with provisions for a free hospital and medical service, etc. The Calumet mining community is especially regarded as a model one.

Federation officials say they will permit no violence on the part of the men, but will hold out till their demands are granted.

The strike is the culmination of six years' effort by the Federation to gain a foothold in this district. The membership, however, is less than 4,000 out of a total of 18,000 mine workers of the region.

The men not striking, except at the conglomerate shafts of the Calumet & Hecla, Franklin, Hancock and Winona, were sent home to prevent possible clashes with the strikers.

It is claimed the lowest wage received by striking trammers in the Calumet & Hecla during June was $89 for the month, some going as high as $117 on contract work.

WISCONSIN TO HAVE SIX FROST STATIONS

Weather Bureau Is Planning Protection for Tobacco Crop.

La Crosse, Wis., July 23.—With the object of protecting the tobacco crop during the season when frosts are likely, the United States government is to establish six special weather stations in Western Wisconsin, according to official word received by Congressman Esch today. They are to be located at Viroqua, Chippewa Falls, Soldier's Grove, Deerfield, Janesville and Egderton. They are especially to be employed to send out notices against frost.

GETS SARCASTIC OVER WILSON PLAN

Berlin, July 23.—The proposed treaty between the United States and Nicaragua evokes a few sarcastic comments in the German press on President Wilson's "return to the system of dollar diplomacy." Government circles, however, express themselves as perfectly satisfied that the proposed protectorate over Nicaragua will diminish the chances of international disturbance, and improve business conditions and the financial stability of the country.

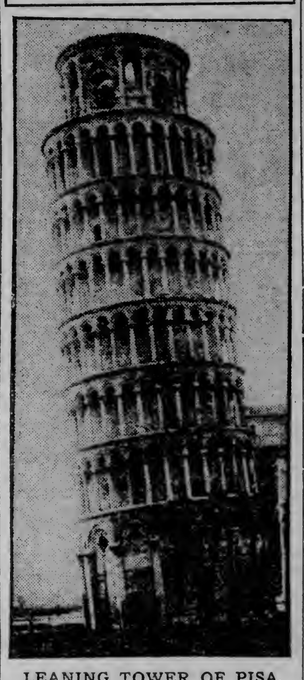

NEGOTIATE PEACE AT BUCHAREST

Sofia, Bulgaria, July 23.—Servia and Greece today agreed that peace negotiations with Bulgaria should take place in Bucharest. An armistice is being arranged in Nish, and will probably be concluded within a couple of days.

Greece insists that an armistice and arrangements for peace negotiations be signed simultaneously. Roumania has refused Turkey's request to participate in the peace conference. The powers have consented to these arrangements.

Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles, U. S. A., retired, has made an appeal to the American Red Cross for funds for Macedonian refugees.

ARCHITECTURAL FREAK IN DANGER OF FALLING

LEANING TOWER OF PISA.

Pisa, Italy, July 23.—Arrangements were made today by the authorities to strengthen the famous leaning tower of Pisa. The tower is inclining more out of the perpendicular every year, and its condition is becoming dangerous. It has been decided to drain the foundations, into which water from the River Amo has penetrated. The base also is to be widened and filled up to the level of the square.

MEDIATORS HAVE HOPE

Expect to Make Rapid Progress in Railroads' Case.

Erie's Return to Conference Gives Basis for Action.

New York, July 23.—The Federal mediators expected to make rapid progress today toward establishing grounds for peaceful arbitration of the difficulties between the Eastern railroads and their conductors and trainmen. The satisfactory disposal yesterday of the side issue involving the Erie left only the problem of getting the railroad managers and the labor leaders to agree upon specifications of the points to come before the arbitrators to be chosen under the Newlands act.

The board of mediation and arbitration today planned to determine whether these articles for arbitration should include the eight grievances stated by the railroads against the men. If the roads persisted in their refusal to withdraw these, the mediators hoped to persuade the employes to consent that the demands of the railroads should be taken up immediately after the board of arbitration had decided the questions involved in the demands of the men.

Erie Rejoins Conference.

The Erie road informed the board of mediation last night that it would return to the conference committee of managers. Through President F. D. Underwood, it was announced that the system was prepared to accept any awards made by any Federal arbitration board appointed under the Newlands act.

CLEARS NEW HAVEN OF BLAME FOR WRECK

Death of Passenger Purely "Accidental," Declares Coroner.

Bridgeport, Conn., July 23.—Neither Engineer Doherty nor the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad was guilty of criminal negligence in connection with the wreck at Stamford on June 12, according to the finding of Coroner Phelan of this city today.

The finding is based on the death of Ada Pearl Kelley of Chicago, one of the six passengers killed in the Pullman car Skylark, which was telescoped. Her death is classed as "accidental."

SHEET AND TIN PLATE WORKERS WALK OUT

Clarksburg, W. Va., July 23.—Three hundred employes of the Phillips Sheet & Tin Plate company here walked out this morning in sympathy with the striking employes of the same company at Steubenville, Ohio, and Wierton, W. Va., plants. Eight hundred men remained in the local mills.

MACVEAGH "MUGWUMP"

Former Secretary of the Treasury Branded in Mulhall Letter.

Senate Lobby Committee May End Readings Thursday.

Washington, July 23.—With three-fifths of the Mulhall letters in the record, the senate lobby committee today hurried along in an effort to finish the reading by tomorrow.

The committee decided to expedite things as much as possible by putting scores of letters in the record without specific identification. In answer to a blanket question by Senator Reed, Mulhall swore to the authenticity of the whole correspondence turned over to the committee.

Former Secretary MacVeagh was dubbed a mugwump in a letter from Former Representative Watson to Mulhall on Sept. 18, 1909. Watson, evidently trying to land Secretary Schwedtman of the manufacturers on the tariff board, wrote that President Taft was appointing only men recommended by MacVeagh.

"No Right to Kill Him."

"If he were a Republican we might reach him," wrote Watson of MacVeagh, "but he is a mugwump and I am not hopeful of final success, for I will swear I never on earth knew what to do with a mugwump, inasmuch as I have no right to kill him."

Mulhall, writing to General Manager Bird of the manufacturers, advised him to be "in good fighting shape on Sept. 12, to visit the White House at Beverly with me."

Retracted Part of Charges.

One of the most interesting developments at yesterday's hearing was when Mulhall retracted the most serious charge he has made before the senate investigating committee. He had sworn that Former Representative James E. Watson of Indiana had been employed by private interests in 1909.

IOWA WHEAT CROP IS HEAVIEST ON RECORD

Quality Is High and Yield Reaches Forty-Seven Bushels an Acre.

Council Bluffs, Iowa, July 23.—Production of wheat in Western Iowa is the heaviest this year ever known. Quality is also the finest, and the railroads are being taxed to haul the grain, most of which is being marketed from the field. Yields of as high as forty-seven bushels per acre are reported.

JERSEY DEMOCRAT GOING TO CONGRESS

Sussex, N. J., July 23.—Archibald C. Hart, Democrat, was yesterday elected to the house from the Sixth congressional district, to succeed the late James Martin.

Indorsed By Wilson.

Washington, July 23.—President Wilson, who was greatly interested in the result of the congressional election in the Sixth New Jersey district, retired near midnight, just before the White House received definite news that the Democratic candidate had been elected. The president had publicly indorsed Hart's candidacy, and was naturally much elated.

SENATE DROPS TALK ABOUT SITUATION IN MEXICAN REPUBLIC

FIGHT PARCEL POST SCHEME

Members of Congress Seek to Head Off Proposed Extension.

Burleson's Order Is Based on Section of Postal Act.

Washington, July 23.—Concerted opposition has developed in congress to Postmaster General Burleson's order reducing parcel post rates and increasing the maximum size of packages to be handled in the service. The order was issued Sunday, to become effective Aug. 15, and yesterday the senate committee on postoffices requested Mr. Burleson to appear before the committee next Thursday with an explanation of the authority for his action.

This was the first step in which promises to be a bitter contest. When the postmaster general has been heard, the committee is expected to undertake to have withdrawn before Aug. 15 any authority he may claim congress has given him to change rates and sizes.

It was contended in the committee that the proposed changes would entail an enormous loss to the government, and some of the members complained strenuously that the postoffice department had failed to furnish congress with data concerning the operation of the parcel post.

Claim Congress Should Act.

Apparently there was no difference in the committee as to whether the postmaster general should change the rates, Democrats and Republicans agreeing that only congress ought to have this power.

The controversy has aroused extraordinary interest at the capitol and in

DEMANDS OF VATICAN GUARDS ARE REFUSED

Men Are Told They Can Quit and Leaders Will Be Dismissed.

Rome, July 23.—The mutinous Swiss guards at the Vatican today received an ultimatum rejecting their demands.

They were assembled in the inner court of the Vatican and notified by their commander that their memorial of Monday, in which they laid down their terms, could not be accepted by the holy see, as it was destructive of the principle of discipline. He added that those who could not submit to the present military rule were at liberty to return to their homes as freely as they had enlisted. He concluded by declaring the organizers of the agitation would be dismissed from the corps.

The guardsmen received the statement with murmurs of dissatisfaction, and afterwards applied for an audience with Cardinal Merry Del Val, saying that their requests had been misunderstood.

Reports Asked of Naval Officers in That Part of World.

Americans at Madera Are Being Protected By Rebels.

Washington, July 23.—No further discussion of Mexican affairs occurred today in the senate. Senator Fall's resolution for protection of Americans there had gone to the calendar, and Mr. Fall did not attempt to renew the request for action upon it.

Acting Secretary Roosevelt of the navy today called upon Rear Admiral Cowles at Guayamas, to investigate the report that Thomas Hind, assistant general superintendent of the Southern Pacific railroad in Mexico, is held for ransom by Mexican Federals there. The state department was without information on the incident.

The supply ship Buffalo has gone from Guayamas to Topolobampo and reported conditions quiet at the latter port, and the battleship Louisiana, which went to Tuxpam, has returned to Vera Cruz. This latter movement leads navy department officials to conclude that a measure of order has been restored at Tuxpam, relieving Americans of the danger they were in when the battleship was sent there under rush orders.

Madera Conditions Strained.

State department reports today say

RISE IN COAL PRICE TO BE INVESTIGATED

Philadelphia District Attorney Says He Will Act.

Philadelphia, July 23.—District Attorney Samuel P. Rotan of this city said today that he would investigate the raising of the price of anthracite coal by retail dealers in Philadelphia.

Recently the legislature passed a bill, which was signed by Governor Tener, levying a tax of 2½ per cent on the value of each ton of anthracite coal mined, or approximately 5 cents a ton. The coal operators immediately raised the price of coal at the mines to cover the tax, and yesterday Philadelphia retailers announced that, beginning Aug. 1, they would add 10 cents to each ton of coal used for family purposes and 5 cents for steam sizes.

The Philadelphia coal exchange, composed of retail dealers, passed resolutions yesterday declaring that the price of coal will have to be increased because of the tax, and requesting the public to join with it in testing the tax's constitutionality.

FULL HORROR OF FIRE AT BINGHAMTON MAY NEVER BE REVEALED

Death List May Reach Sixty, According to Estimates.

Strict Inquiry as to Cause and Responsibility Is Planned.

Only Six Charred Bodies Taken From Ruins Are Identified.

Binghamton, N. Y., July 23.—The exact number of persons who perished in the fire in the factory of the Binghamton Clothing company yesterday may never be known. The list of employes is in the ruins. Only six of the bodies recovered have been identified.

A careful estimate today places the number of those in the building at the time the fire started at 111. Of those only 53 are known to have been saved. Fifteen bodies, charred beyond recognition, are at the morgue; seven injured are in the hospitals; forty-six, less seriously hurt, are at their homes. Eleven have been reported by relatives as missing and twenty-six others are unaccounted for.

Mrs. Ida Prentiss, who suffered terrible burns about the head, died today, and Mrs. Mary Benny, another of the injured, is not expected to recover.

May Be Sixty Dead.

The belief was expressed that the bodies of several of those lost in the center of the building would never be found. The death list is estimated at as high as sixty.

Shortly before noon a body was recovered, burned beyond recognition.

A revised list of the dead and missing reported up to noon was as follows:

MARY PRYOR, Wilkesbarre, Pa.
JOHN E. SCHOEMAKER, Philadelphia.
MARGUERITA DIAMOND.
MRS. HOMAS DORAN.
IDA GOLDEN.
NELLIE GLEASON.
MRS. ANNA GLEASON.

District Attorney Frederick J. Meagher announced today that a thorough investigation would be made as to the cause of the disaster and to determine the responsibility, if any, for the loss of life.

Mayor Irving said that, owing to the fact that many of the bodies are unrecognizable, a public funeral will be conducted by the city and the un-

CARDINAL GIBBONS.

Baltimore, Md., July 23.—Cardinal Gibbons is 79 years old today. In the chapel of the home of T. Herbert Shriver, near Westminster, Md., where he has spent his birthdays for many years, the cardinal celebrated the mass of thanksgiving, marking the anniversary. The remainder of the day he planned to pass in quiet and repose, perhaps taking a stroll or an automobile ride in the late afternoon. He is in good health.

Telegrams and letters of congratulation in large numbers have been received at the cardinal's home here. Some of the messages are from fellow members of the Sacred College of Cardinals. The pope's message is included in the cablegrams, as are congratulations from some of the rulers of Europe.

YOUTH 20 YEARS OLD BOASTS 500 CRIMES

Walter Novak Confesses to Career of Reckless Acts.

Tells Chicago Officer He Has Been Thief Since 9 Years Old.

Chicago, July 23.—In a statement made to Detective Edward Sullivan, Walter Novak, 20 years old, arrested with four companions today after they had fatally wounded Patrolman Samuel W. Sowers and beaten Patrolman Frank Walpole, admitted having taken part in more than thirty robberies in two months, and boasted of his career of crime.

"I was born a thief and I've been a thief ever since," said Novak. "I don't care whether I go to the gallows or not. I started when I was 9 years old, stealing pennies from kids. I have been put in all kinds of institutions to reform me, but they only made me worse.

"I don't want any member of my family to come and see me. If they come I will kick them out. There is only one good thing I can say for myself and that is I never robbed a man dressed like a workingman.

LAMAR IS READY TO FACE ALL CHARGES

Attorney Appears for Him Before Federal Commissioner.

Washington, July 23.—Henry E. Davis, attorney for David Lamar, the Wall Street operator who recently testified before the senate lobby committee to having impersonated various congressmen in telephone talks with New York financiers, appeared before United States Commissioner Taylor here today and said Lamar was ready to appear before the commissioner if wanted.

After the United States attorney's office here had been in communication with the United States attorney's office in New York, Commissioner Taylor said Lamar would not be asked to appear today. Attorney Davis said he was proceeding on the information that the Federal authorities were contemplating action against Lamar, and wanted to have his client ready. Lamar is stopping at a hotel here.

WOULD ENJOIN STATE ROUND TRIP ORDER

Iowa Railroad Companies Argue Against Cut Rates to Fair.

Council Bluffs, Iowa, July 23.—Attorneys representing eight railroads operating in Iowa appeared in United States district court here today to argue for their petition asking that the state of Iowa be restrained from enforcing a reduced round trip passenger rate to people attending the state fair. The case is upon the question of the right of the state to require a discrimination as to classes of travel, and if the rates are confiscatory.

Judges Walter I. Smith, Smith McPherson and A. S. Van Valkenburg are hearing the arguments.

WILL DESTROY LAST BOOKS BY TOLSTOI

St. Petersburg, July 23.—Emperor Nicholas has approved of the decision of the holy synod to destroy the three posthumous works of Count Leo Tolstoi on the ground that they are unorthodox comments on the Old Testament.

The protest of Count Tolstoi's relatives against such action has proved unavailing.

OH, BUT SOME MEN ARE WRETCHES.

WOMEN WILL JOIN PARTY

Will Take Part in Annual Inspection of Fire Department.

Jobbers and Insurance Men Also Interested in Tests.

For the first time in the city's history, the gentler sex will be represented in the party which will make the annual inspection of Duluth's fire halls.

Among those who have been invited are members of the Woman's council and it is understood that a number of them have signified their intention of accepting the invitation.

Others who will accompany the city officials are representatives of the jobbing and wholesale houses and of the large insurance companies. The party will journey in automobiles, leaving the city hall at 1:30 o'clock next Friday afternoon. The first hall to be visited will be at Lakeside. Thence the party will travel to No. 4 at Fourteenth avenue east and First street and from there to No. 7 at Seventh avenue east and Ninth street. Headquarters will be inspected next and then No. 2 at Piedmont avenue and First street and No. 3 at Central avenue and Cody street, West Duluth.

The rivalry between the various departments is keen as each of them wishes to carry away the honors. There will be hose hitches, with the teams galloping at full speed; harness hitches; pompier ladder drills and the night hitch at headquarters, and other demonstrations of work which are part of the routine of the city's fire fighters. The night hitch at No. 1 is among the most interesting. The men all retire as they would at night. The alarm is sounded, they jump into their clothes, drop down the poles, make their hitches and start for the street in a remarkably short period of time. The fire department inspection is always interesting and all who can get away will undoubtedly be present next Friday.

MORE GARBAGE WAGONS IN USE

City Has Two Additional Carts Ready for Service.

The city now has two additional garbage wagons ready to put into commission.

The old single-horse cart, abandoned about a year ago, has been remodeled into a two-horse cart, a set of wheels having been added to it. The whole has been repainted and except that it is smaller than the others, looks like a new outfit. Just where this wagon will be placed has not been definitely determined.

The new wagon which was bought recently will be installed in the West end, where it will cover a considerable amount of territory. With the wagon now used in the central section, the city has three garbage wagons. Because the funds are not available for a municipal collection of garbage, paid by general taxation, the wagons will be operated on a fee basis. A small charge is made for the service rendered. The one wagon which has been in operation has been self-sustaining and there is little doubt but what the others will pay for their maintenance. The additional horses are to be secured from among those owned by the fire department which are no longer fit for such strenuous service.

Weather—Fair weather tonight and Thursday; slightly cooler tonight.

OBITUARY

Nelson Bennett, aged 70, railroad builder and banker and at one time owner of the Tacoma Ledger, died at Tacoma, Wash., July 22.

D. A. Thayer, a well known resident of Mankato, Minn., and a lecturer on Socialist subjects, is dead. He was the Socialist candidate for congress several times in this district. He was born at Jamestown, N. Y., in 1827, and came to Mankato in 1858, and during the Sioux Indian outbreak enlisted as a minute man and took an active part against the Indians. His wife and one son survive him.

Anthony Nicholas Brady, widely known as a financier, died suddenly of angina pectoris Tuesday evening at the Hotel Carlton in London, England, following a week of acute indigestion. He had extensive holdings in New York corporations. He was 70 years old. Mr. Brady left New York for England a week ago in good health. His body is to be shipped to America on board the Olympic tomorrow.

FORTMAN IS DEAD.

Young Man Injured in Iron Range Collision Is Summoned.

Two Harbors, Minn., July 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—William Fortman, the young man who was injured in the wreck on the Duluth & Iron Range railroad yesterday, and who died a few hours after as a result of his injuries, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Fortman of this city and a well known young man about town, having lived here the larger part of his life. He is a graduate of the Two Harbors high school class of 1912, and a member of the debating team and football team for that year. As yet no arrangements have been made for the funeral, but in all probability it will occur at Two Harbors, and the interments made in the cemetery here.

MAY BUILD COAL AND ORE DOCKS AND ELEVATORS

Rumors That the Canadian Northern Has Let Contract Not Confirmed.

Contracts for an ore dock, coal dock and two elevators, the construction of which will commence after Jan. 1, 1914, are rumored to have been let by the Canadian Northern railroad company. The improvements, it is reported, will be put in at the terminal property of the company between the foot of Ramsey street and Forty-seventh avenue west.

The agreement to let the contract is said to have been reached last week during the visit in the city of a number of the higher officials of the railroad. The cost of the construction of the two docks and the two elevators will amount to close to $2,000,000.

The ore dock will be located west of the newly constructed lumber dock. This dock will extend from the shore line for a distance of about 2,000 feet to the channel. The coal dock will be built east of the lumber dock. A dredge has already filled in considerable land at this point and in further dredging of the channel the dirt will be used in further filling in of this place.

The elevators will be located near this point and will be accessible to the largest lake steamers. These elevators, it is said, will be ready for receiving wheat for storage before the last of September, 1914.

It is rumored that the contract has been let to the Barnett & Record company, although no official confirmation of this can be secured locally. The local manager of this company stated that he had not heard of it, but that such a deal might have been closed through their Minneapolis office. Members of the engineering department of the railroad would give out no information regarding the letting of the contract. It is understood that the matter was to be kept secret until late in the fall.

FARM SHOW IS PLANNED

West Duluth Will Have Agricultural Exhibition of Its Own.

An agricultural exhibition at which the best of the farm will be shown is being planned for early in September to take place at the West Duluth public market. The exhibition will be held under the auspices of the West Duluth Commercial club which has already appropriated $25 for prizes.

The exhibition will not be limited to the farmers of the community alone. The members of the committee expect a number of the amateurs who own small gardens in West Duluth to also take part.

While the date of the affair has not been set, and probably will not be set until after the middle of next month, it is generally believed that the first or second Saturday in September will be chosen. At that time all the farmers of Midway, Adolph, Hermantown and other nearby communities and their families will be asked to take part.

The market place is being put in first-class condition for the accommodation of the farmers. It is expected that the final work in this connection will be completed today. The ground has been well covered with slack and the buildings and sheds are being given a new coat of whitewash.

It is expected that the market place will prove more popular with the farmers as well as the residents this year than last year. During last season the place was patronized on Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays. This year it is expected that some farmers will be at the place daily. The first of these are expected in early on Saturday morning.

POSITION FOR EACH GRADUATE

School Employment Bureau Proved to Be Big Success.

The free employment bureau established by S. A. Foster, principal of the Duluth Industrial High school, has proved a success from the start. Every member of the senior class who has applied for a position through the bureau has been given a position, and Mr. Foster states that he could have placed several more members of the class if they had applied.

"Efficiency is what counts in getting a position," said Mr. Foster this morning. "When an employer knows that he can get an efficient person to fill the position he has to offer he readily takes that person. Such I consider the boys and girls who applied to me for positions. I have had a number of inquiries for help. I am also keeping in touch with the various members of the class with a view of ascertaining how they are getting along."

ROAD WORK IN WESTERN SUBURBS

A large amount of work is being done in the western end of the city by the county commissioners in rebuilding highways. Commissioners Charles Kauppi and Walter Swanstrom have just completed resurfacing the New Duluth-Fond du Lac road. Today a crew of men started work in making extensive repairs of the Thomson road leading out of the city.

Considerable money is being expended on many of the roads leading into the western end of the city. Among these are the Getchell road, $2,000; Thomson and Pine Hill roads, $1,600; Midway and Pike Lake roads, $3,000; Hermantown, $1,000; Midway and Martz to the Nopeming hospital, $700; Martz, $400; St. Louis river road, $700.

Much of the work outside of the city has been let to farmers in the vicinity, owing to the scarcity of men for common labor. The farmers are now putting in much of their time in road building, and are said to be giving good satisfaction. The work is being done by the farmers under contract.

Games were played. NEW PRESIDENT OF STANFORD UNIVERSITY

DR. JOHN C. BRANNER.

Dr. John C. Branner is the new president of the Leland Stanford, Jr., university. He was born in Newmarket, Tenn., July 4, 1850. He holds degrees from Cornell and other universities. He was geologist of the imperial geological commission of Brazil, special botanist in South America and has held positions under the geological survey of Pennsylvania and the state of Arkansas. He has been professor of geology with Stanford since 1892 and during that time has been at times acting president and vice president. He succeeds Dr. Jordan as president of the university.

MEAT INSPECTOR ON THE WARPATH

Meat Inspector Leo Bernhardt is on the warpath for certain peddlers whom he says have persistently refused to comply with the city ordinances.

He declares that they not only are without licenses to peddle but are selling meat which has not been inspected, either by the city, state or government authorities. He says that this is particularly undesirable during the warm weather, as the meat is liable to spoil rapidly, thus becoming a menace to public health.

The meat inspector said this morning that as they refuse to pay any attention to warnings he will swear out warrants for their arrest.

Women Help "Drys."

Benton, Ill., July 23.—The first local election in which women were allowed to vote, resulted in an overwhelming majority for the anti-saloon forces. The proposition defeated was a bill authorizing the issuance of dramshop licenses.

APPLES SO NEAR AND YET SO FAR.

Farm and Fireside: No other product of the soil needs more reform in selling methods than apples. A certain Western grower traced a shipment to the consumer in order to find out what that worthy individual paid for his product. This investigation brought to light the interesting fact that the apples had passed through no less than five hands before reaching the consumer, and while the grower had received only 85 cents per bushel box for them they had been retailed to the consumer at $4.50 per box.

For this reason we have, every season, apple orchards full of rotting fruit, while the cities are full of hungry people who would gladly buy this product if the price was right.

TAKE FIRST STEP TOWARD BUILDING MODEL TOWN

Bids Asked on the Sewer, Water and Gas Mains.

Streets Are Laid Out—Work Will Begin at Once.

Surveys have been completed and much of the preliminary work has been done for the "Model City" which the Minnesota Steel company will erect for its workmen adjacent to its Duluth plant.

Bids are being advertised today by Morell & Nichols, the engineers in charge of the work, for the grading of streets, laying of the sewer, water and gas mains. An idea of the magnitude of the work and the thoroughness with which it is being planned may be gained from the fact that approximately seven miles of water and gas mains and five miles of sewer are included in the job, which is being advertised today.

A system of duplicate water pipes will be laid. One pipe will supply water for drinking purposes from a large spring and the other will furnish water for all other purposes, which will be pumped from the bay.

The territory embraced in the present work is over half a mile in length and one-quarter of a mile in width. The streets and avenues have all been systematically laid out and when the pipes have been laid and the grading done, the construction of the houses will commence. The work which is now being advertised is but a small fraction of the whole, estimated in the vicinity of $100,000.

The approximate quantities named in the bid are: 75,000 cubic yards earth excavation, 25,000 cubic yards earth in trench, 35,000 lineal feet water and gas mains, 23,000 lineal feet sewer pipe, 73 manholes and 74 intakes, together with house connections, hydrants and all details of such construction as outlined on the plans and specifications.

GOOD SAMARITAN TELLS HOW MAN HE BEFRIENDED ROBBED HIM

Frank Lynch, arrested at Springfield, Mo., last Tuesday on a charge of having stolen $194 from his employer, W. A. Spencer of the Wortham & Allen shows, when they played in Duluth during the first week of July, was this morning bound over to the fall term of the grand jury on a charge of grand larceny in the first degree, after a preliminary hearing before Judge Cutting.

Mr. Spencer was the only witness called by County Attorney Warren E. Greene, who conducted the case for the state. The complainant told in brief the story of how he had taken Lynch to his stateroom on one of the company's trains, given him dry underclothing and permitted him to sleep in his bed and when he awoke on the morning of July 5, Lynch was gone and with him all the money in the room.

"I have known Lynch about a year and a half," said Mr. Spencer in his testimony, "but met him at Leavenworth, Kan., about four months ago and gave him a job as barker for my private show. I am the electrician for the company, but also operate a mechanical show myself. On the afternoon of July 1 Lynch came to me and asked for some money. He said he wanted to buy a suit of clothes. I refused him any money, as he had already overdrawn his account, but I told him he could come and stay with me on the train and thus save enough in a couple of weeks to pay for a suit. This he agreed to do and I told him to come over to my stateroom and use it whenever he wished.

"On the night of the Fourth I returned to the stateroom about 1 o'clock in the morning, and there found Lynch soaking wet. He had been out in the rain all day. I gave him a dry suit of underclothes and he went to sleep. William Dresman came in with me and he also went to sleep in the upper berth. In the meantime I closed the doors and put my money, $194 and the nights receipts, which amounted to about $30, into my coat pocket. I hung the coat on the wall and over that my overcoat.

"When I awoke in the morning Lynch was gone; the two coats were lying on the floor, empty, while Dresman's pockets had also been emptied of about $4. I immediately notified the police and swore out a complaint for Lynch's arrest."

FRANK LYNCH.

Lynch disappeared on July 5 and was lost sight of for several days. Early last week Chief Troyer learned that Lynch's home was at Springfield, Mo., and he immediately notified the police there of the local robbery. Lynch was arrested last Tuesday and was brought back here Monday morning by Deputy Sheriff Schubisky.

Lynch is 28 years old and is very well known among the show people throughout the country. His home is in Springfield, where his father was formerly a member of the police force. Spencer's home is in Kansas City.

LOOKING INTO BARREL OF SIX-SHOOTER NOT A JOKE

Otto Erickson Could Not See Comedy in Playful Acts of Special Officer and Complains to Police.

Looking into the barrel of a six-shooter which suddenly and unexpectedly confronts him, has ceased to be Otto Erickson's idea of a joke, even if the perpetrator of the playfulness is Special Railroad Detective Alexander M. Worthington.

And a little one-act comedy which was enacted yesterday in the agent's office at the Missabe Junction station on the Duluth, Missabe & Northern, in which the well-known sleuth assumed the role of a practical joker, will probably have a sequel.

Mr. Erickson is a car inspector employed jointly by the Duluth, Missabe & Northern and the Northern Pacific Railroad companies. Alexander M. Worthington has been special agent for the D., M. & N. for the past five years or more.

In a moment of playfulness, Special Detective Worthington "snuck up" behind Mr. Erickson, who was at work at his desk. From his hip pocket he carefully and deliberately pulled his trusty six-shooter, which he placed in a position in the rear of one of Mr. Erickson's ears. The climax is about to come. He calls gently and softly to his victim. Mr. Erickson turns his head only to look down the barrel of an automatic.

With Mr. Erickson it was the last straw. After pie had ceased shuddering—he always shudders, and that is perhaps why the joke is good in the estimation of a well-known detective—he told him that he would have to "cut it out."

Special Detective Worthington laughed. It then occurred to him after he saw that Mr. Erickson was in earnest, that the latter was a "poor sport" because he couldn't take a joke.

The irate car inspector then informed Special Detective Worthington that he didn't need to have a gun stuck in his face every day to impress upon his mind that Worthington was a special railroad detective, fully authorized to make arrests and permitted to tote a gun. He declared that the matter would be taken up with the police and with the superintendent of the railroad.

"Go to it" was the defi hurled back by the special officer. And Mr. Erickson went. All of which is responsible for Special Detective Worthington's "call on the carpet" and a possibility that his commission as police officer may be revoked so far as the city is concerned. Mr. Erickson has appealed to Chief Troyer against being molested further.

Worthington was appointed a deputy sheriff in September, 1911, but was not reappointed this year, when Sheriff Meining renamed his deputies.

SAVE THE PIE JUICE.

Kansas City Star: How provoking it is to a housekeeper when baking rhubarb pies, or any fruit pies, to have the juice overflow, and what a burnt, sticky mess it makes on the bottom of the oven!

We should like to have all that juice in the pie, and it may be kept in by taking a short piece of uncooked macaroni and inserting it in the pie, like a little chimney stack. Some people make paper funnels to answer the same purpose, but the macaroni is better. Of course, it should be removed after the pie is baked, as its presence is purely useful, not ornamental.

MINING MEN ARE COMING

Annual Meeting of Lake Superior Institute Aug. 26 to 30.

About 250 Distinguished Visitors Will Be Here for Meeting.

About 250 prominent mining men of the Lake Superior district, including Northern Michigan, Northern Wisconsin and Northern Minnesota, will visit Duluth and the iron ranges from Tuesday, Aug. 26, to Saturday, Aug. 30, for the annual meeting of the Lake Superior Mining Institute.

Present plans provide for a visit to the steel plant here Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 26, and a special train will leave for the range the following morning. The train will run first to Biwabik and the first inspections will be made there. The first night's stop will be made either at Eveleth or Virginia and a business meeting held. The following evening the stop will be made at Hibbing and a social entertainment will be provided. Friday the delegates will go to Coleraine, where a business meeting will be held Friday evening, and the trip will end there the following morning with a visit to the washing plant. The train will return in time for the delegates to catch trains Saturday for their homes.

Many prominent men from outside of the Lake Superior district are expected to attend the meeting, as the annual meeting of the American Institute of Mining Engineers will be held at Butte Aug. 18 to 22 and many engineers who attend that meeting will return to Duluth for the meeting here.

The following committee on arrangements has been appointed by Pentecost Mitchell of Duluth: J. H. McLean, chairman; C. H. Munger, D. M. Philbin, George D. Swift, George H. Crosby, R. M. Sellwood, W. J. Croze, D. E. Woodbridge, D. L. Fairchild, W. H. Cole.

LEAVE THE WAX IN THE EAR.

The Family Doctor: The upper passtakes the task, and in a healthy ear clearing by its owner. Nature undertgakes the task, and in a healthy ear does it perfectly.

Nature's means for clearing the ear is the wax, which dries up into thin scales and peels off and falls away imperceptibly. In health the passage of the ear is never dirty, but an attempt to clean it will [illegible] make it so. Washing the ear out with soap and water is bad; it keeps the wax moist when it ought to become dry and scaly, and makes it absorb dust.

But the most hurtful thing is the introduction of a corner of a towel, screwed up and twisted around. This proceeding irritates the passage and presses down the wax and flakes of skin upon the membrane of the tympanum, producing pain, inflammation and deafness. The washing should only extend to the outer surface, as far as the fingers can reach. An old doctor used to say, "You will be on the safe side if you don't put anything smaller than your thumb in your ear."

"CELESTIAL" AS APPLIED TO CHINA

Toronto Globe: Everyone knows the epithet "Celestial" applied to China, but few know its origin. According to a very old legend, Thibet is a fragment of a planet, once peopled by a yellow race, which in some way became detached and fell on the earth. The dazed inhabitants of the fragment were uninjured, and, cold and hungry, they made their way toward China, which they peopled. This origin of the Chinese race led to their calling themselves "Celestials," and it is for this reason that the emperor calls himself Son of Heaven. Such, at least, is the legend.

AMBASSADOR'S SON BECOMES BANK CLERK

CHRISTIAN GUNTER VON BERNSTORFF.

Christian Gunter von Bernstorff, son of the German ambassador at Washington, has entered a banking house as a clerk and is learning the business. He says he is ambitious to follow in his father's footsteps and become a diplomat, but meantime he will prepare himself for his battle with the world by gaining a practical knowledge of business. He arrived in New York June 10 and immediately took a position as junior clerk with Speyer & Co. He expects to remain there for about a year.

ADDITIONAL SPORTS

CREWS WILL GO TO BOSTON

Twenty-four Oarsmen Will Be Entered in Big Regatta.

Full Representation of Duluth Boat Club Is Assured.

Twenty-four oarsmen will represent Duluth at the National regatta to be held at Boston, Aug. 8 and 9.

Intermediate and senior eights, intermediate and senior fours, and a championship four will carry the colors of Duluth in the national rowing events.

The twenty-four oarsmen and Coach J. E. Ten Eyck, Jr., will leave over the Omaha Sunday evening, Aug. 3. They will arrive in Boston in time to put in a few days in familiarizing themselves with the course before the big events are rowed.

There was some question as to whether the oarsmen would be sent to the national, but it was cleared away this morning and reservations were made for the party. Both eights will probably be entered in the senior eight event.

Last year at Peoria, the Duluth juniors, now the seniors, captured the intermediate eight event against some of the best crews in the country. This year the seniors and juniors are both fast and new honors are hoped for.

OARSMEN MAY BE IN PARADE

Plans Being Made for Victors to Take Part in Lark o' Lake.

Plans are being worked out at the present time for the entertainment of the victorious oarsmen of the Duluth Boat club. It is certain that the boys will be tendered a banquet, and it is believed also that the members of the winning senior and junior eights, the bantam and junior fours and the working boat four will also take part in the Lark o' the Lake celebration of next Saturday evening.

One of the plans that is being considered at the present time is to have each man occupy a float in a water parade and to have floats bearing the trophies that were won at the annual Northwestern International regatta.

The officials of the club are working on the plans at the present time. Only the banquet is definite. It is very probable that each member of the crew will be privileged to invite one friend, and the crews, their friends, the officials of the club and a few guests will make up those attending the dinner in honor of the greatest crews that have ever been developed at the club.

GRAND FORKS WINS IN CLOSE CONTEST

Minneapolis Bronks Lose in Morning Game By 2 to 1 Score.

Grand Forks, N. D., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Grand Forks defeated Minneapolis, 2 to 1, this morning in a game featured by brilliant pitching by Wilson for Grand Forks and Larson for Minneapolis, both being backed up by thrilling fielding. Each pitcher held the opposing batsmen to five hits, and there was not a stolen base in the game. Each pitcher fanned three, Wilson walked three and Larson walked one, while Larson was charged with two wild pitches. A double play in the fifth with the bases crammed and one down, and another double play in the third, when two were on with one down, featured Grand Forks' fielding and held the Bronks scoreless until the eighth.

BOAT CLUB TENNIS TOURNEY ON NEXT WEEK

The Duluth Boat club tennis tournament will open Monday on the Oatka courts. Entries will close Saturday noon. Those desiring to enter the tournament can send their names to Dennis Deighton at the board of trade, or at the Oatka branch house of the Duluth Boat club.

Following so close after the state tournament the local tourney should find all of the Duluth players in the very best of condition. It is believed that the play starting the coming week will rank far ahead of other tournaments held by the boat club in the past, both from the point of interest and in the quality of play.

TAKE UP BILL BY SECTIONS

Senators Begin Work on Amendments to Tariff Schedules.

No Democrats or Republicans Ready With Speeches.

Washington, July 23.—With no senator, Democrat or Republican, ready to speak on the tariff bill, the senate today took up the measure, section by section, for amendment.

No Democratic speeches have been made since the debate opened last Friday except Senator Simmons' formal statement in behalf of the Democrats of the finance committee. The Republicans offered no opposition today to the consideration of the bill section by section.

Senators Weeks, Borah, Townsend and Works, all Republicans, are expected to make general speeches this week.

Public discussion of the proposed new income tax came for the first time yesterday, when Senator Borah began an analysis of the income tax provision of the tariff bill, and a comparison of conditions in this country with those in England, France and other nations, where immense revenues are obtained by direct taxation.

This was the first break in the program of tariff rate discussion which began Saturday. It followed the address by Senator Smoot, who for two days had analyzed the new rates and duties of the Simmons-Underwood bill, and had criticized the measure because of its departure from the protective policy and because of alleged inequalities.

Should Touch Every Citizen.

Senator Borah's address held the close attention of Democrats and Republicans alike during the hour he had the floor. He declared an income tax, to be an effective restraint upon the extravagances of a nation, should be distributed over the small incomes so every citizen would feel its effects. Because of the direct burden of indirect taxes borne by American citizens, however, Senator Borah said this principle could not be applied in the United States. On the contrary he urged that the $3,000 exemption fixed by the senate committee be raised to $4,000, the figure fixed by the house under the leadership of Chairman Underwood.

"Under this income tax provision there will be no relief for those who ought to have relief," said the senator. "It will be a new source of revenue, but the old sources, the indirect tariff and internal revenue taxes will still be worked to the limit. Until there is a reduction in the revenue from these other sources, this would simply be an additional burden. It will simply be another means of securing revenue to gratify our scandalous desire to spend money."

Three Per Cent Hit.

Less than 3 per cent of the American people have incomes above $4,000, Senator Borah said.

The income tax burden should fall upon these wealthier citizens, he declared, rather than upon the poor man already paying a heavy tax through tariff and internal revenue channels.

Senator Bristow interrupted to urge that the graduated tax be increased more heavily on the larger incomes. He suggested a tax as high as 10 per cent on incomes of $100,000 or more.

More than seven-eighths of the revenues of the government still would be collected through indirect taxes, the senator added, even with the new income tax in operation.

So that it can be used in the dark a fountain pen has been equipped with a tiny electric searchlight and a storage battery by its English inventor.

WAS EJECTED FROM TRAIN

Railroad Attorney Says the Passenger Was Drunk and Disorderly.

Because he was thrown off a Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific train on Feb. 8 last, Charles Mattson of 920 Mesaba avenue this morning began suit in municipal court for $499.99 damages against the railroad. The case is the second on the present jury calendar.

Mattson claims that he had purchased a ticket at Duluth for Hagstrom's landing, a small station on the line, about fifty miles out of this city, and that when he reached Ellsberg, he was thrown off the train by the conductor. In his complaint the plaintiff states that he was sick for several weeks and that he was unable to work during that time. He sues for $499.99 and the costs of the suit.

A. G. McKnight is appearing for the plaintiff, while Hector Baxter is representing the railroad.

The defense claims that Mattson was drunk and that he had been told to keep off the train when it reached Ellsberg. When he attempted to get on the rear coach just as the train was pulling out of Ellsberg, the defense claims, the conductor pushed the plaintiff off the steps.

SAYS PORT HURON IS HAVING BOOM

"Port Huron is on the boom," said Gus Hill of that city aboard the Lakeland before it sailed today. Mr. Hill is cashier of the First National bank in that city.

"You know bankers are supposed to know all about business in their home towns," he continued. "We have a new factory there, a big casting plant that is making automobile castings for the Ford people. They are turning out 300 big castings a day and a thousand smaller ones. The factory employs a great many men. Then a creamery separator plant is another new outfit. All of which helps Port Huron. Then look out for a mammoth crop of beans. You know Michigan is a bean state and this year we will break all records."

BULL MOOSE TICKET FOR NEW JERSEY

Roosevelt and Pinchot Will Be Among Campaign Orators.

Jersey City, N. J., July 23.—The Progressives of New Jersey will put a complete ticket in the field at the coming state election. Theodore Roosevelt and Gifford Pinchot, it was said today, would be among the campaign speakers. The organization in Hudson county last night indorsed Edmund B. Osborne for governor.

SHIRT TORN OFF AS BOMB EXPLODES

Grand Forks, N. D., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—By the premature explosion of a bomb, which he was experimenting with at the fair grounds yesterday, Frank Griffith had his shirt torn almost completely off, but he escaped with only slight burns. Griffith was running away from the bomb when it exploded. He was thrown to the ground and when picked up, the entire back of his shirt had been ripped out.

GRAIN RATE HOLDS FIRM

Half a Dozen Big Boats Clear With Wheat Cargoes.

Ore Carriers Reported to Be Getting Better Dispatch.

While half a dozen big boats cleared with grain yesterday, and early today there was no break in the rate according to reliable information. They are getting a cent and a half, according to one vessel agent, who adds that there are no more boats on the market at a lower figure.

This is rather surprising after the news of ten days ago when the mammoth William P. Snyder, Jr., and its sister ship, the Schoonmaker took out record breaking cargoes at what was called one and one quarter cents.

Today the current rates quoted were a cent and a half to Buffalo and a quarter cent less to Georgian Bay points.

Among the boats that cleared with grain during the past twelve hours were the S. N. Parent, which loaded at Elevator B., the Joseph Keefe, which got her cargo at the Great Northern, the H. B. Nye which loaded at Elevator E, the Sinaloa, which loaded at the Capitol elevator and the Collingwood which took on a cargo at H.

In addition to these the Heffelfinger arrived today for grain.

A better dispatch in regard to ore carriers was noted today.

ALONG THE LAKES

The largest coal conveying bridge and unloading clam on the Great Lakes is being erected on the Northwestern Coal company's dock No. 1 at Superior, by the Brown Hoisting & Conveying company.

The conveyor will span the entire dock and the new clam will take ten tons at a dip. The new unloading machinery will operate on the north side of the docks, while the old rigs will still do business on the south side.

The Brown Hoisting & Conveying company has erected two monster unloading and conveying rigs on the Pittsburg Coal company's dock No. 5 at Allouez. Each rig has a seven ton clam operated by the latest rapid handling machinery. Storage capacity has been increased on this dock and it will now take its place as one of the largest and most rapid coal-unloading plants on the lakes.

This dock and the company's dock No. 7 at Duluth, completed a year ago, will handle most of the business of the Pittsburg Coal company at these ports, several smaller docks being abandoned.

Divers in the employ of the Trotter Towing & Wrecking company of Amherstburg, who placed a cement patch on the steamer Frank C. Ball of the Tomlinson fleet, in temporarily repairing damage sustained by the steamer when she struck an obstruction outside Sandusky a week ago, are reported to have found a good sized boulder firmly imbedded in the vessel's bottom.

Being unable to remove the stone the divers are said to have placed cement around it, closing the leak to enable the Ball to proceed.

Yesterday Steff appeared before Judge Leighton, filing an affidavit of prejudice against Ward county, securing removal to this county. There will be no delay in the trial, however.

SYMPHONY IN WHITE WILL LEAD THE DULUTH BOOSTERS

Zenith City Will See How They "Knocked 'em Off Fence" in Sherwood, N. D.

Frank X. Gravel, chairman of the trade extension committee of the Commercial club, is lining up his boosters for their first home appearance in the Lark o' the Lake carnival on Superior street Saturday evening.

Mr. Gravel has promised to appear in his white linen suit, which is saved for special occasions on the booster trips. Ordinarily Mr. Gravel leads the procession garbed as are the ordinary boosters in a linen duster, but for special occasions, such as the Fargo fire festival and other exceptional gatherings, Mr. Gravel appears in a suit of spotless white that fits his rotund form like the proverbial paper in the front parlor back home.

The parade Saturday night will be led by Mr. Gravel, a symphony in white—white suit, white cap, white parasol and perhaps white shoes. He has never carried the color scheme as far as the shoes to date, but there is time for that.

Following Mr. Gravel will come the Third Regiment band, which has always been a feature attraction with Duluth's traveling advertisers and hand-shakers. The band has scored tremendously in every town in Northern Wisconsin, Northern Minnesota and Northern North Dakota with the Duluth boosters and the lively airs that electrify the smaller towns around will be played to set Duluth crowds keeping time to the music Saturday night.

Behind the band, strung out in orderly fashion, will come one hundred Duluth business men, who in days past have given freely of their time, money and effort to make Duluth better known and appreciated in the surrounding territory. Count 'em, men.—100 of them stepping along, uniformed in tan linen dusters and white caps, and jauntily carrying canes and pennants draped over their shoulders.

The boosters stepping down Superior street to the strains of "Row, Row, Row," "Moonlight Bay," or some such classic, will be a sight worth seeing, but there will be more. On each corner in the downtown district, the boosters will put on the show that knocked 'em off the fenceboards at Sherwood, N. D., and various other towns. The boosters have had impressed upon them that the show must be put on in all its details. Nobody will stand for every-day Duluth dignity. The mantle of dignity must be doffed for one night, and the Duluth booster must for once be the same at home as he is abroad.

There will be weird and wonderful dances, singing that would put a college glee club to shame, antics that nobody in Duluth knew were in those who put them on. The crowd will have to get into the spirit of the thing. The boosters can't expect to do it all, but if the people will put themselves in the attitude of being visited by a crowd of business men from another city, they will get the full benefit of the boosting party.

The boosters will be loaded down with souvenirs. Duluth people will be assured through literature that Duluth is their natural market, the best city on earth, the big brother of the smaller towns in its trade territory. It will be a novel parade, a novel entertainment, and Duluth people will be more appreciative after they see it of the strenuous efforts put forth by the trade excursionists on the road.

PLAINSMEN ORGANIZE

Duluth Man Is Temporary Secretary of the Insurgent Woodmen.

George M. Peterson, 510 North Twenty-fifth avenue west, has been elected temporary state secretary of the Plainsmen, under which the new organization of Minnesota Woodmen will be known. Temporary officers have been elected whose duties will be nominal and who will serve until after the state convention which will probably be held in St. Paul during the first week in September.

The officers whose names will go on the articles of incorporation which will be filed with the secretary of state, are as follows:

President, D. P. O'Neil, Thief River Falls.

Vice prestdent, W. S. Gulkerson, Minneapolis.

Secretary, George M. Peterson, Duluth.

Treasurer, C. L. Swenson, Albert Lea.

Field manager, G. L. Sundean, Minneapolis.

Directors, D. P. O'Neil, F. F. Ellsworth, Mankato; C. M. King, Deer River; McD. Williams, Dodge Center; J. Graves, Glencoe; James A. Larson, St. Paul; R. E. Braden, Minneapolis; E. P. Bacon, Pillager; G. B. Bjornson, Minneota; and T. G. J. Pease, Anoka.

It is proposed to elect permanent officers at the convention. A constitution and by-laws will also be ready to be presented for adoption at this meeting. Before that time it is expected that many M. W. A. camps within the state will have voted to join the new organization.

An interesting feature in the development of the situation is the ruling of Former Attorney General George T. Simpson, and a great number of other lawyers, to the effect that the Woodman bill was left in such form after its amendment in the senate that members who join the state society can still retain their membership in the parent order, thus enabling them if they so like to double their insurance. It is understood that the majority of the members who join the state society intend to drop the parent order, but those who want to remain in the parent order until conditions there become more unsatisfactory may do so according to these rulings of the attorneys.

At a conference with the Insurgent Woodmen the insurance commissioner agreed to keep his mind open on this subject and pass on it when the application for license is presented to him.

However, if the Minnesota Woodmen desire to keep policies in both orders and in case the insurance department should rule against them on the subject it is proposed to take the question into the special session of the legislature and there clear up this matter and any other question of doubt.

Should the plan prevail under which the Woodmen may double their insurance, it is considered that the outcome will be a great advantage to families of Woodmen in the state of Minnesota, and this plan will eliminate in a large measure the bitterness between the factions in this state.

Railroads

TROUBLE PREDICTED

For Milwaukee Road Unless Discharged Rate Clerk Is Reinstated.

La Crosse, Wis., July 23.—Because R. C. Eldridge, general superintendent of the Milwaukee railway discharged W. W. West, rate clerk and president of the Clerks' union for "union activity," serious complications and a strike may result. The union embraces all branches on the La Crosse division.

Union officials left yesterday for Chicago to confer with President A. J. Earling of the railway and to demand West's reinstatement.

SAYS WALSH ROAD IS NOT FOR SALE

Marquette, Wis., July 23.—According to S. N. Harrison, general manager of the Wisconsin & Michigan railway, the future of which has been a matter of speculation for several years, the railroad no longer is for sale.

The road is a former John R. Walsh property.

Harrison says John Marsch, Chicago, the present owner, is satisfied with the road's earning capacity and will keep it as an investment.

Drowns With His Son.

Onion Lake, Sask., July 23.—Swan Johnson, a ferryman, and his 6-year-old son were drowned while crossing the river at Lapak, eighteen miles west of Onion Lake. The boy fell from the ferry boat and Johnson jumped overboard in an attempt to save him, but both drowned.

Superior

Better Car Service.

Late car service between Superior and Duluth will be improved according to an announcement made yesterday by officials of the Duluth-Superior Traction company. It is proposed to put on an additional car to follow two minutes behind the regular last car on Saturday nights leaving Belknap street at 12:23 a. m. The crowds taking this car are said to have more than taxed its capacity, several passengers being required to ride on the rear and in other ways hang onto the car.

Police Incensed.

Superior police officials are much disgusted with the outcome of the trial of the proprietors of the Child's hotel who were discharged in police court by a jury yesterday. The cases against all of the inmates caught in the raid at this hotel have also been dropped. The police refer to the discharge of the prisoners as a "miscarriage of justice."

Y. M. C. A. Campaign.

Fifteen prominent business men were named yesterday to have charge of the campaign to raise funds for the construction of a Superior Y. M. C. A. The campaign will start at once. The members of the committee are: T. J. Roth, P. G. Stratton, W. S. Wingate, C. B. Hudnall, A. W. Highfield, Frank Hayes, A. J. Wentzel, Prof. J. A. Williams, O. F. Eick, E. R. Short, Fred Van Buren, Robert Nye, Peter Elmon, Andrew Eckstrom and Fred Downing. Rev. D. B. Cheney is temporary general secretary of the association.

RECOVERS $250 FROM TRACTION COMPANY

Norman Matheson was yesterday afternoon awarded a verdict of $250 against the Duluth Street Railway company by a jury in municipal court. Matheson sued for $500 alleged damages as the result of a street car collision on Jan. 18 last, when the plaintiff was thrown against the side of the car and bruised about the head and body.

In his complaint Matheson claimed that he was standing on the rear of an aerial bridge car and that he was bruised when the car ran into an eastbound car at the intersection of Lake avenue and Superior street.

The jury returned a verdict in behalf of the plaintiff for $250 and the costs of the suit. John Jenswold, Jr., appeared for the plaintiff, while Thomas S. Wood represented the street car company.

WILL OPEN BRANCH OFFICE IN DULUTH

E. A. Neil of Toronto, Canada, manager of the Western Canada Real Estate company, was at the Lenox today. Mr. Neil is here for the purpose of superintending the opening of an office in Duluth at No. 606 Alworth building. A. J. Peterson, a former Duluthian, will be in charge of the office.

"Our business is the selling of townsites in Western Canada," said Mr. Neil today. "That section of Canada is booming. Just now we are devoting most of our time in Swift Current in the Saskatchewan, where the population has doubled each year for the past six years.

"I know men personally who have made thousands in a few years' time simply by buying townsite land in those flourishing western cities. We are also dealing in Carmangay in Alberta province."

J. C. Russell of Minneapolis Pleads Guilty to Horse Stealing.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. C. Russell, once a candidate for mayor of this city on the Prohibition ticket, today pleaded guilty in district court to a charge of horse stealing. He was sentenced to an indeterminate term in state prison. This will make the third term that Russell has served in the state penitentiary. Drink, he says, was the cause of his downfall.

James Riley pleaded not guilty to the same charge, being accused of having been a partner of Russell in the crime.

Chicago Harbor Facilities Not to Be Compared to Zenith City.

This Overcomes 96-Mile Shorter Haul, Says Commerce Commission.

Duluth's splendid wharfage facilities as compared to Chicago played an important part in the rail and lake decision just handed down by the interstate commerce commission and which at last brings Duluth into its own.

Much stress is laid on the quick loading and unloading given boats here and this advantage, the commission points out, quite overcomes the Chicago claim for its 96-mile shorter haul.

Deepening of the channel of the Soo canal is also emphasized as another feature strongly in Duluth's favor. On this point the decision reads:

"Prior to 1902 the date when the present rates were established the depth of the Soo canal limited the vessel loading to all harbors on Lake Superior. Boats drawing more than 14 or 14½ feet could not pass through it.

"At about that time dredging operations gave the canal a 16-foot channel. At present the depth is between 18 and 19 feet. Whatever disadvantage resulted to Duluth from the limited depth of the channel in former years has therefore now in large measure ben eliminated, and at this time Chicago and Duluth stand on a practical equality so far as concerns the capacity and loading of the boats in service on the lakes.

Harbor Conditions.

"With respect to harbor conditions, Duluth at this time has an advantage resulting from natural conditions and from the development and improvement accomplished under large appropriations by the national government. Its harbor may be entered and docks reached by steamers without difficulty and, ordinarily, without the aid of tugs. The difficulties at Chicago, on the other hand, have not yet been entirely overcome, and large steamers, as a rule, require more or less assistance in getting in and out of the harbor and is tying up at the docks.

"In consequence of local conditions it also takes substantially more time for loading and unloading at Chicago than at the better harbor of Duluth. As a matter of tact the conditions at Chicago, as disclosed of record, have made it desirable for the boat lines to use the port of Milwaukee to a large extent, in preference to the harbor at Chicago, even for traffic destined to the latter port; they use that port, however, only for traffic upon which the boat lines absorb switching charges at Chicago. But when using the Milwaukee port for such traffic the boat lines must absorb the charges of the rail lines to Chicago to the extent of the divisions that those lines receive to that point on through all-rail traffic from Milwaukee to the East. It is our understanding that these absorptions on class traffic are on a 7½-cent scale. It may be noted here, in passing, that at Chicago the terminal facilities are very largely furnished by the boat lines, whereas the rail lines for the most part provide the terminals at Duluth; the boat lines to Duluth are therefore at very little expense for terminals."

Comparative Time.

The commission found some conflict of testimony regarding the time required for the journeys between Buffalo and Chicago and Buffalo and Duluth. Vessels of several lines run both to Chicago and Duluth at intervals. The commissioners noted an exception in the case of the Western Transit company which assigns its steamers either to the Duluth or the Chicago service. When it came to running time, however, the governmental reviewers learned that seventy-hours were allowed for both runs to Chicago and this port.

Here the decision continues:

"On the other hand, three captains, long in service on the lakes, expressed the view that the time consumed in a round trip from Buffalo to Duluth was from 10 to 12 hours longer than in a round trip to Chicago. But the weight of the testimony shows that the round trip to Duluth is usually from 4 to 6 hours longer.

"It is at a disadvantage in distance when compared with Chicago by only 96 miles when reckoned from New York by rail-and-lake. The difference in time in favor of the Chicago service is not ordinarily sufficient, however, to enable the boat lines to make an additional trip to that port during the season of open navigation; and this is the more controlling feature in the situation so far as the element of time is concerned. That the difference in time for a single trip is not regarded as important is shown by the fact that the bulk freighters, operating independently of the trunk lines, make little distinction between the two ports, and in many instances contract for freight from Duluth at a lower rate than from Chicago. Moreover, on package freight a blanket rate is maintained to all Lake Michigan ports, although the distance to Milwaukee, Manitowoc, Green Bay and Gladstone is considerably less than to Chicago.

"Much is said as to fogs and smoke from forest fires on Lake Superior and of the great hazard of navigation resulting from these and other conditions on that lake that are not encountered on Lake Michigan. The evidence on this point is not convincing, and the force of the contention is somewhat minimized by the fact that the insurance rate is no higher on Lake Superior than on Lake Michigan.

"The operating cost of the water lines is also discussed of record, but not altogether satisfactorily. The testimony offered in behalf of the complainant tends to show that the operations of a package freighter to Duluth, at a schedule of rates lower than those in effect to and from Chicago, can be maintained at a profit of approximately 45 per cent on the investment in the boat; in these computations, however, no allowance was made for shore costs. The water lines offered evidence to rebut that view; and the captains who testified claimed that the marine risks were greater on Lake Superior than on Lake Michigan.

"There was no affirmative testimony offered by the lake carriers at the hearing to enlighten us on the matter of shore costs, but they subsequently submitted statements purporting to show the average cost per ton for shore and administrative expenses. The bases of these computations were not given, and the water lines expressly declined to furnish them on the ground that they ought not to be required to disclose information of that nature to their competitors.

CHICAGO BANK PAYS.

Depositors' Checks Are Honored as Fast as Presented.

Chicago, July 23.—A large crowd had collected before the opening hour today in front of the Kenwood Trust & Savings bank, Grand Boulevard and East Forty-seventh street, on which a run was started yesterday following vague and unconfirmed rumors as to the bank's condition.

When the run began yesterday the bank made payment promptly to all depositors requesting it and remained open one hour after the usual closing time in order to accommodate them. State Bank Examiner Rutledge issued a statement that the bank depositors need have no cause for alarm, and this was supplemented by a statement from President A. K. Brown that the institution was perfectly solvent. The bank yesterday paid out about $100,000.

Fifteen minutes before opening time today an automobile from the Fort Dearborn National bank arrived with $200,000 in cash to meet the demands of the depositors today. The doors opened promptly at 9 o'clock, but before any one was admitted, A. K. Brown president of the institution, made the following announcement:

"We are going to open the bank now, and pay every one dollar for dollar.

"The Fort Dearborn National bank is behind us, and we have engaged extra tellers, so we can assure you there will be no delay in cashing your checks."

Several depositors were paid during the morning hours and excitement in the vicinity of the institution subsided.

Why Endure Sore Feet Here Is Positive Easy Cure

The following is said to be the surest and quickest cure known to science for all foot ailments: "Dissolve two tablespoonfuls of Calocide compound in a basin of warm water. Soak the feet in this for fully fifteen minutes, gently rubbing the sore parts." The effect is really wonderful. All soreness goes instantly; the feet feel delightful. Corns and callouses can be peeled right off. It gives immediate relief for sore bunions, sweaty, smelly and aching feet. A twenty-five cent box of Calocide is said to be sufficient to cure the worst feet. It works through the pores and removes the cause of the trouble. Don't waste time on uncertain remedies. Any druggist has Calocide compound in stock or he can get it in a few hours from his wholesale house.

LYCEUM—Motion pictures.
EMPRESS—Vaudeville.

Amusement Notes.

Judging from the number of inquiries by mail, telephone and in person received at the box office of the Lyceum, where "Fine Feathers" plays a special engagement of two days, beginning Monday, there will be a record-breaking crowd in line tomorrow when seats for the engagement go on sale. Never before has any dramatic offering been sent to this city which holds forth so much promise as "Fine Feathers," with its original cast of famous stars. The play comes here direct from its remarkable run at the Astor theater, New York, where it even made the blase Broadway patrons sit up and take notice. The company comes here with not a single name changed, and including all its original celebrities, such as Robert Edeson, Wilton Lackaye, Max Figman, Rose Coghlan, Lolita Robertson and Amelia Sumers. As many local playgoers saw the performance during its Chicago run, the word has already been passed that "Fine Feathers" is a play not to be missed.

Today will be the last day of "The Battle of Gettysburg," at the Lyceum and also the last day the Third Regiment at Lake City pictures will be shown. The splendid and realistic battle scenes in the Gettysburg picture brings forth applause at every performance and is admitted by all who have seen it to be the greatest motion picture ever taken. A new Kinemacolor program was shown yesterday, headed by a very funny comedy entitled "An Awkward Mix-Up."

Thursday, Friday and Saturday Blanche Walsh in Tolstoy's "Resurrection," and a three reel Kinemacolor feature "Steam," will be shown.

Tonight will mark the close at the Empress of a very good bill of vaudeville. The acts that are supplying much amusement to theatergoers are the Jean King quartet, a quartet with splendid voices and excellent selections of songs; Delaveye and Frits, a remarkable team of trick jumpers; De Halde and Edwards, in dancing, gracefully and artistically presented, and Stone and King with funny songs, talk and parodies. The photo plays are of the usual high Empress standard.

A new program opens with the matinee tomorrow for three days. The acts are: The Imperial Japanese troupe, jugglers and balancess; Isabelle Miller and company in the playlet of fun, "The Other Boarder;" Josephine Edwards, a comedienne of exceptional ability; Shaw and Everett, who present their oddity, "The Captain and the Tar," and as an extra added attraction to cap a good bill, the Empress management offers a "Duluth Baby Show." The best of photo plays will open and close the bill.

MINISTER IS STRICT INTERPRETER OF LAW

Segrud Syverson and Salma Vasonja were not married yesterday according to schedule.

Although Miss Vasonja, the prospective bride has worked in Duluth for the past three years and considers the Zenith City her home, the minister to whom the couple went to be married, held that Carlton county, the home of the girl's parents, was her legal residence.

The minister didn't want to violate the law which requires that the license be secured in the county in which the prospective bride is a resident.

The young people turned the license back to the clerk of the district court. They will apply for another in Carlton county, today. The girl's parents reside at Cromwell.

WANTED

One shingle sawyer, one packer, one knee bolter. BRADLEY TIMBER RAILWAY SUPPLY CO., Palladio Building.

NEEDS LICENSE TO PLAY HIS ACCORDION

Because he would need a license to play his accordion on the city streets of Duluth, H. N. Macoldin, a blind man, left the city late yesterday afternoon after he had been arrested by Sergeant Butchard.

Macoldin, his wife and small child, who travel with him, were also taken into custody at the time. The police explained the city statute to Macoldin and as he does not think it worth while to purchase a license, he left with his family for Superior.

IDENTIFIES BODY OF DROWNED MAN

O. A. Olson of 517 K avenue, Superior, yesterday afternoon identified the body of Carl Berglund, which was found in the Fifth avenue slip Monday afternoon in a badly decomposed state.

The theory that Berglund had committed suicide about a month ago, is partially confirmed by Mr. Olson, who stated yesterday that Berglund had left his home in a very depressed state of mind, and short of funds. Berglund had roomed at the Olson home for several months and was very well known to the family. Mr. Olson also identified the booklet and razor, which were found in the dead man's clothes.

According to Mr. Olson, Berglund has an uncle living in Cumberland, Wis., and is also survived by his parents in Sweden, whom Berglund was to have gone to visit this coming Christmas. This is what Berglund told Mr. Olson shortly before leaving the Superior boarding house about a month ago.

Owing to the decomposed state of the body, it was buried yesterday afternoon at the Park Hill cemetery.

OLD SETTLERS PLAN PICNIC

Pioneers at Head of Lakes Will Gather at Billings Park.

Members of the Old Settlers' association will hold their annual picnic Saturday in Billings park, Superior. Men who had to carry their food supplies in packsacks in the early days are simply requested now to sling their lunch baskets over their arms and be on the grounds at 11 o'clock in the morning.

It's to be one great jollification with no extended amount of time wasted in speech-making. President Butler of Superior will give a short welcome address. The committee in charge is made up of John A. Bardon, Michael S. Bright, Charles H. Sunderland, John P. Johnson and William S. McCormick. The secretary is Walter Van Brunt.

Ashley, N. D., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The explosion of gas in a well under the Soo hotel here burned the faces of several workmen when a flame shot up from the depths and also wrecked the curbing inside. The well was being cleaned out and workmen lowered a lighted lantern to see its condition. It is thought gasoline oil had dripped into the well, forming the gas.

DECISION READS LIKE A DULUTH BOOSTER ARTICLE

Commission Relates How Duluth Progressed in Face of Obstacles.

Calm, Dispassionate Decision Is Best Advertising City Ever Had.

There's nothing the matter with Duluth, and apparently nobody recognizes that fact better than the interstate commerce commission, whose recent decision in the lake and rail case reads like a "booster" article for Duluth.

For twenty years Duluth labored under the disadvantage of freight rates that are declared by the interstate commerce commission to have been built up with the object in view of making a great commercial center of the Twin Cities.

A proper freight adjustment is the life-blood of a city and Duluth has been denied it. Duluth was ignored by the railroads. Water competition was given full value at a point 150 miles inland and was minimized at Duluth where the water competition existed.

Duluth's handicaps and Duluth's progress in spite of those handicaps have never been summed up better than in the decision of the interstate commerce commission in the lake and rail case. The commission was given evidence by all parties. Its decision is not an ex parte statement by a Duluth booster. It is a calm, dispassionate decision by a judicial body and it carries weight that has not been given to the statements of enthusiastic Duluth citizens who realized that Duluth was making progress in spite of its handicaps. Witness the commission's view of Duluth's position twenty years ago:

"In his argument in behalf of the Twin Cities, counsel points to the location of Duluth near the Canadian border, and says that it was but a mere hamlet when the Twin Cities were fighting for the present adjustment; that it was neither a producing nor a consuming market at that time and was not large enough even to attract attention. This undoubtedly was the case. The interests of Duluth were not even considered at that time and have not had much consideration since that time; the record makes it clear that all the factors that ordinarily enter into the making of rates have been compelled to yield and bend to the interests of the Twin Cities. The result of the influences in large communities tending to produce low rates was the subject of some comment in one of our early annual reports, where we said that these influences were often so strong that the carriers did not find it easy to resist them. We also pointed out that the interest of the carriers not infrequently was so far identified with the interests of certain towns that it becomes a matter of choice with the carriers to give them exceptionally low rates. These conditions existed here in that the interests of the Twin Cities and of the carriers were largely the same and produced the adjustment of which Duluth complains. As the water transportation ends at Duluth it would be natural to expect to find the rates breaking on that port instead of being based on the Twin Cities. But this is not the case."

Just a Port for Twins.

That was Duluth's position. It was not considered when the rates were made, and it has not been considered very much by the railroads since. Duluth was simply a port of entry for the Twin Cities, and the rate adjustment was made on the Twin Cities. But the rate adjustment would not have been possible without the great water highway of the Great Lakes, of which Duluth is the head. The commission says:

"There can be no doubt, then, from what is disclosed on this record, that the competition that has manifested itself most strangely in the last, as it does today, is through the port of Duluth. It is this rail and lake route that actually and potentially controls rates to the Northwest."

But Duluth has been denied the advantages of its position on that water route: The commission's report says:

"Notwithstanding this fact, Duluth has practically been denied the benefit of its location at the Head of the Lakes. This results from several circumstances. In the first place, as we have explained, it was much to the advantage of the Great Northern—having its terminus at the Twin Cities—to lend its efforts to the building up of a great distributing center at that point. In the next place Duluth had no outlet in the early days except through the Twin Cities. The northern part of Minnesota was then sparsely settled, the greater part of the population of the state being south and west of the Twin Cities. Under such conditions there was little inducement for building lines radiating into the state from Duluth."

Conditions Changed.

But all that is changed. Continuing the commission says:

"In recent years, however, great iron ore mines have been developed in the territory just behind Duluth; and this followed by a rapid increase of population in the northern counties and by extensive railroad construction. Railroads now reach Northern Minnesota by direct lines from Duluth without passing through the Twin Cities. The Soo line has five different main tracks radiating from Duluth and seems completely to have changed its policy with reference to that port. Apparently its present purpose is to abandon, in favor of the port of Duluth, the effort to develop traffic through the port of Gladstone. It is doubtful also whether the best interests of the Great Northern will longer best be served by the continuance of its former aggressive policy in favor of the Twin Cities. * * * Whatever may be the future policy of the Great Northern and the Soo line, or the policy of other lines serving both Duluth and the Twin Cities, with respect to the traffic from the East to the latter point, it is clear that we cannot permit them to continue a rate discrimination that is undue. The mere bigness of the Twin Cities cannot destroy the opportunity of Duluth."

Demands Recognition.

The commission pays a tribute to Duluth's advance under handicaps of discrimination, and calls attention to the fact that Duluth has reached commercial importance that demands for it recognition. The report says:

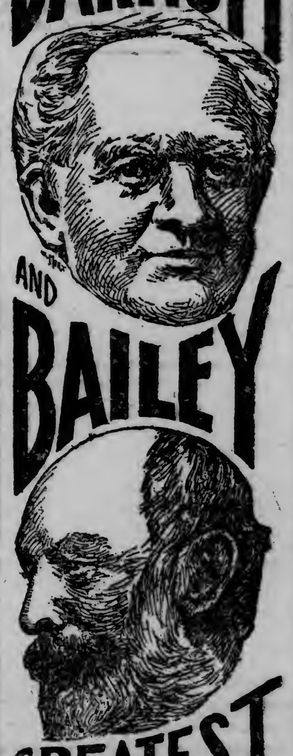

"Although we have had occasion in numerous cases to consider individual rates to and from Duluth, and the relation of those rates to rates to and from other points in the Northwest, and particularly the Twin Cities, the position of Duluth on the rate map of that territory has never been laid before us so fully as upon this record. In explaining Duluth's contentions and the remedy it proposes, we have found it necessary to go into certain features of the situation at some length. The conclusion we have arrived at upon a careful study of the whole record is that this rate structure undoubtedly puts Duluth at an undue disadvantage. The adjustment is to some extent similar to the relation of rates described and condemned in Harbor City Wholesale Company of San Pedro, Cal., vs. S. P. Company, 19 I. C. C., 323; and there is little of record here to justify its continuance except that it has been in effect through a long period of years without any very substantial protest by Duluth against it.

"In spite, however, of the adverse rate conditions under which it has labored, Duluth has now reached a position of commercial importance that has led it to assert its rights, and the record shows that it is entitled to some measure of relief."

The Head of the Lakes has returned to Duluth, and Duluth people have ample justification for taking hold with new faith to build the city of destiny at the geographical location of the head of deep water transportation.

"SPECIAL" TELEGRAM HAD 2,210 WORDS

Herald's Dispatch From Washington on Lake and Rail Decision a Record Breaker.

The Herald last Saturday published 2,210 words quoted from the decision of the interstate commerce commission in the lake and rail case.

The special dispatch to The Herald gave the only complete report of the decision that was received in Duluth up to the time the printed copy of the decision was received yesterday. The complete decision showed that The Herald had given verbatim all of the important paragraphs in the decision.

The dispatch was one of the longest The Herald has ever received from its Washington bureau, and one of the longest "specials" ever received by any paper in the Northwest.

From the dispatch in The Herald, the Duluth people were able to judge of the extent of Duluth's victory. The Associated Press also carried a message of several hundred words on the decision but The Herald discarded this in favor of the more nearly complete report from its Washington correspondent.

Frank Sommerling, Frank Shiblawski, Ewald Shiblawski and Thomas Schultz, who were hanged last February for the murder of Fred W. Guelzow, the truck gardener, I did several jobs with those boys before they were caught."

Hid in Bed.

Hiding in the bed occupied by two friends was the novel but ineffectual method adopted today by the two hold-up men to escape arrest after one of their party of four had shot and probably fatally wounded Policeman S. W. Sowers at Milwaukee avenue and Noble street.

When the four men attacked Policeman Frank Walpole, and began shooting at him he seized one of them, Adam Chlebanowski, and used him as a shield, calling at the same time for help. Policeman Sowers ran to his assistance. Walpole's assailants then turned on Showers and shot him in the abdomen and in the right thigh. Three of them then ran, and one is still at large.

Acting on information furnished by Chlebanowski, police searched the home of Frank Rozinski and there found George Smith and Walter Novak in bed with two others, who were pretending to sleep and were trying to hide the suspects from the police.

When Smith and Novak were arrested Rozinski and his wife were also held pending examination. Smith is charged with the shooting of Showers.

FIGHT PARCEL POST SCHEME

official circles, since the parcel post touches more or less directly nearly everybody in the country.

Those who are supporting the postmaster general in his stand insist that the only loss imminent under the proposed changes would be to the express companies, which now carry the profit-making, large-sized packages while the government transports the unprofitable small ones.

Although members of the committee contend that it is a mere ungrammatical jumble of words without sense or power, department officials say the postmaster general is given ample authority for his order by the following section of the parcel post law:

How the Law Reads.

"The classification of articles mailable, as well as the weight limit, the rates of postage, zone or zones and other conditions of mailability under this act, if the postmaster general shall find on experience that they or any of them are such as to prevent the shipment of articles desirable, or to permanently rented the cost of the service greater than the receipts of the revenue therefrom, he is hereby authorized, subject to the consent of the interstate commerce committee, after investigation, to reform from time to time such classification, weight limit, rates, zone or zones or conditions, or either, in order to promote the service to the public or to insure the receipt of revenue from such service adequate to pay the cost thereof."

This language was put into the bill in conference just at the close of congress.

Friction between congress and the postmaster general is said to have arisen over several points. The senate committee is said to be chagrined because the postmaster general announced his proposed changes before sending the committee a reply to a request for his opinion on the Bryan bill. Consideration of the bill had been delayed pending his response.

that while activities of American cowboys at Madera has strained conditions there, there is said to be little danger except to the persons responsible for the killing of two of "El Mooho's" bandits. Gen. Pancho Villa of the Constitutionalist forces is reported to be taking an interest in the safety of Americans at Madera, the Federals having no force in the vicinity.

Suspension of communication between Saltillo and Monterey and Torreon is reported from Saltillo with no communication over the National railway to the south.

Gunboat to Frontera.

The gunboat Wheeling has been ordered to Frontera, Tobasco state, where revolutionary activity has endangered the lives and property of Americans. She sailed from Key West this morning. The gunboat has 150 bluejackets, but no marines.

While official statements were lacking today as to what support President Wilson has given to the project, a partial canvass of the house and senate foreign affairs committees today led those interested in the move to believe that the prohibition against shipments of arms could be repealed with little delay.

Help Them Fight It Out.

It is understood to be the belief of administration officials that should free exportation of arms be permitted to all factions in Mexico, the present situation might adjust itself. The Constitutionalists have repeatedly claimed that lack of arms was the only bar to quick victory.

The repeal is proposed on the ground that there is no recognized government in Mexico, and that when the prohibition was enacted a regularly constituted government, recognized officially by the United States was in existence.

American Engineer Killed.

El Paso, Tex., July 23.—U. G. Wolf, an American mining engineer, whose home is in this city, was killed by Mexican outlaws at the Creston, Colorado mining camp in western Sonora in June, according to a letter received by Mrs. Wolf from a Mexican miner named Jesus Hidalgo of Creston. The informant says Wolf was buried on July 17. The engineer's wife last heard from her husband in a letter received here the 19th.

Call Admiral to Washington.

Newport, R. I., July 23.—Rear Admiral Frank E. Beatty, commander of the Fourth division of the Atlantic fleet, today received orders to report at Washington.

The admiral arrived here Monday with his flagship, Minnesota, from Vera Cruz, Mexico, where the battleship had been stationed for more than two months. It is understood that administration officials wish to consult him regarding conditions in Mexico.

TWO ARE SENTENCED ON DAY OF ARREST.

Hastings, Minn., July 23.—Officer Oscar Stromberg arrested a negro and a white man in the act of robbing N. M. Pitzen's shoe store at an early hour Monday morning. When arraigned they gave their names as Charles Hill and Edward Lane, respectively. The former was sentenced by Judge William Hodgeson in the district court to the state prison at Stillwater and the latter to the state reformatory at St. Cloud.

LEAVES FORTUNE TO SECOND SON

London, July 23.—The late Baron Ashbourne, the noted unionist leader, whose death occurred on May 22, has left a fortune of $460,000 to his second son, Edward Gibson, and only $4,000 to his eldest son, William Gibson. The latter is an enthusiastic Nationalist, wears the ancient Irish dress and speaks the Irish language and was converted to Catholicism.

HAS TO LET BROTHER FALL TO HIS DEATH

Peoria, Ill., July 23.—While looking out of a window on the seventh floor of the Jefferson building, Henry Winneke, aged 53 years, became dizzy and fell headlong to the roof of a one-story building. A sister grabbed one of his legs as he started to fall, but her strength gave way before help arrived.

A few minutes afterward, within thirty feet of the spot where the victim fell, Mrs. Annie C. M. Haenig, 63 years old, was found dead in her room.

An Unheard-of Sale of Hall-Borchert Dress Forms

We'll Cut and Slash Factory Prices on Slightly Marred Forms

You've probably long wanted a dress form of your own—and this is your chance to get one at a great saving over factory prices! And there's no express charges from New York to pay, either!

These Really Are Genuine Hall-Borchert Forms!

They're the kind professional dressmakers and wise women generally use to save time and trouble—to insure style and fit! The regular prices are fixed by the company—they do not allow price-cutting, but these forms are slightly shopworn or are in some manner not quite up to Gray's standard of freshness—hence we offer them at surprising reductions for a quick clean-up.

$3.98 for $5.00 adjustable or non-adjustable Dress Forms.

$1.48 FOR $1.98 BUST FORMS
$4.25 FOR $5.50 DRESS FORMS
$2.98 FOR $4.50 BUST FORMS

$7.50 for choice of two $15 dress forms as they are.

$3.50 for any of our Anderman $4.50 Dress Forms.

$1.98 for $2.50 Bust Forms—all sizes from 32 to 44 (except 38).

The above prices are for forms that are worth every penny of their regular price to you—but which were slightly damaged in shipment or in stock.
Other forms—perfect in every way—at $1.98 to $18.00.

WE SELL "PNEU" PNEUMATIC FORMS AT $14.00.

Woman's Realm

The King's Daughters have planned a reception for Thursday afternoon and evening of next week at their day nursery at the new Patrick factory, Twenty-ninth avenue west and Superior street, and the public is cordially invited to call any time between 3 and 9 o'clock to see the rooms and learn of the work there.

The members of the King's Daughters society have established this nursery where mothers who work can leave their babies and little children in good care during the working hours and the girls of the society will take turns in presiding over the rooms.

Refreshments will be served during the reception hours and all interested will be welcome. The members of the society will be there to explain the work and welcome the visitors.

Miss Dorthy Olcott is chairman of the day nursery committee of the society and the new officers of the King's Daughters, elected last week, are: President, Miss Katherine Hubbell; first vice president, Miss Esther Adams; second vice president, Miss Julia Morrow; secretary, Miss Judith Hartley; treasurer, Miss Lucille Bradley; custodian, Miss Helen Wall. Miss Mary Paine is chairman of the relief committee and Miss Barbara Rupley, chairman of the junior league.

The county fair, which is planned for this summer, has been set for Aug. 13.

McLEOD-McKAY.

Wedding of Duluthians in Minneapolis.

The marriage of Miss Nina Theresa McLeod and W. H. McKay of Duluth was solemnized last evening at the North M. E. church at Minneapolis. The bride was a graduate nurse in this year's class at St. Luke's hospital here and left for her home in Minneapolis only a short time ago. Mr. and Mrs. McKay will take a motor trip to Detroit, Mich., and will be at home in Duluth later in the summer.

PICNIC AT NOPEMING.

Red, White and Blue Society Will Have Outing.

Members of the Red, White and Blue society will have an all day picnic on Friday of this week at the Nopeming sanitarium. Many of the mothers will go with the members for the day's visit at the anti-tuberculosis sanitarium, where the girls of the society will give a program of folk dances, songs and readings for the entertainment of the patients out there. The train leaving for the sanitarium leaves the Omaha station at 7:40 a. m. and the members are asked to meet there at 7 o'clock.

A feature of interest planned for the return trip is a hayrack ride from the sanitarium to New Duluth where the party will take the train for Duluth.

AT BETHEL.

Miss Margaret McGiffert Will Speak.

"The Thing We Need the Most of All," will be the subject of a short talk to be given by Miss Margaret McGiffert tomorrow afternoon at the weekly women's meeting at the Bethel, Mesaba avenue and West First street at 2:30 o'clock. A social half hour will follow the meeting and all women interested are cordially invited to attend.

AT LAKEWOOD.

Lawn Party—Supper and Auction Bridge.

Mrs. Wilson Palmer entertained at a lawn party this afternoon which will be followed by bridge this evening at her home at Lakewood. Thirty guests have been invited and following the lawn party a supper will be served on the lawn and the evening will be spent with auction bridge. Garden flowers in profusion are arranged about the house and on the supper table nasturtiums will be the flowers.

DRAMA CLASS.

Children Will Receive Instruction in Standard Plays.

The formation of a drama class for children is a project which will be developed by the Drama class of the Twentieth Century club this year. The plan is to have a class for children which will meet weekly for the reading of the good plays which would be of interest to them, the work to be a training of their tastes and to awaken an interest in literary work. Mrs. O. A. Oredson has been appointed chairman of this work and an invitation has been extended for a preliminary meeting at her home on Friday afternoon of this week. Evangeline will be the first play to be read.

Mrs. Pennybecker, president of the National Federation of Women's clubs in her talk before the Eighth district federation last spring deplored the fact that training in work of this kind was not made a larger part of the child's education and she spoke of the deficiency in reading among the school children. It was from a discussion of her talk that the idea of forming this class for children here was evolved and the women interested hope that it will be a success.

Dinner Dance.

This evening a large number of the younger set will be entertained at a dinner dance at the Country club with Kimball Finkensteadt, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Finkensteadt, 2025 East First street, as host.

At the Clubs.

Several informal picnic parties are planned to precede the usual mid-week dance this evening at the Oatka branch of the boat club and an informal program of water sports will be given there early in the evening. Tomorrow afternoon social affairs will center around the weekly bridge and dinner dance at the Northland Country club. Entertainment of visitors at the club is a special feature of the week's society generally enjoyed by the visitors as well as the club members.

WANTS $25,000 FOR A PORTRAIT

PRINCESS IVOFF-PARLAGHY.

The Princess Ivoff-Parlaghy has sued J. B. Haggin for $25,000 for painting a portrait of him. Mr. Haggin is about 92 and the Princess threw so much bloom of youth into her painting that he looked about 65. This probably accounts for the high price she puts on her work. The aged defendant says he understood he was being painted free of charge.

FOR TRAVELERS.

Mrs. Merrill Hostess at Club.

Mrs. T. D. Merrill of 2626 Greysolon road was hostess at a luncheon of fifteen covers this afternoon at the Country club in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Severance of St. Paul and three guests from New York, who are in Duluth for a trip on the range. The party left this afternoon for the northern part of the state.

FIRST WEDDING IN NEW CHURCH

Miss Margaret McKindley Is Bride of Walter G. Amundson in St. Paul's Cathedral.

One of the prettiest social affairs of the season was the wedding of Miss Margaret McKindley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. McKindley, to Walter Gilmore Amundson which took place last evening at the new St. Paul's Episcopal church at 8:30 o'clock, Dr. A. W. Ryan, rector of that church, officiating. This was the first wedding to be performed in the new edifice and the friends of the bridal couple completely filled the church.

Miss Isabel Pearson played a program of organ music during the seating of the guests—Wagner's introduction to the third act of "Lohengrin," and the Mendelssohn wedding march from "Midsummer Night's Dream" being played for the entrance and exit of the bridal party. During the ceremony she played Nevin's "The Rosary." The other organ numbers were:

"Vorspiel to Lohengrin".....Wagner
"Spring Song" .....Hollins
"At Twilight" .....Frysinger
"Bridal Song From Wedding Symphony" .....Goldmark
"To a Wild Rose" .....MacDowell

Bridal Procession.

The bridal procession was led by the six ushers, Fred Wolvin, Miron Bunnell, Edwin Sykes of Canton, N. Y., Carlisle Helmbach, Earl Maul and Otto Davies of Minneapolis, followed by the six bridesmaids, who wore gowns of white satin with shadow lace and tulle over drapes fashioned alike. Tiny rosebuds adorned the accordion pleated lace flounces put on midway to the hem and the skirts were caught up in front with rhinestone ornaments to show accordion-pleated tulle. Ribbons caught in a bow just above the waist in front were draped to the tip of the train ending in a square bow, and the bows on their shower bouquets of white sweet peas matched. Miss Dorothy Dowse and Miss Dorothy Baker were the first of the bridesmaids, their ribbons being blue. Miss Leslie Brown of Lexington, Mass., and Miss Helen Gallup of Sandusky, Ohio, were next, green being the color of their ribbons, and Miss May Jeffery and Miss Elizabeth Congdon, with pink ribbons on their gowns, were last.

Miss Ruth A. Gibbons of Ardmore, Pa., maid of honor, followed, and her gown was of pink satin with draped overdress of chiffon and she carried an arm bouquet of white daisies.

The bride entered on the arm of her father and she wore an exquisitely becoming gown of white satin with court train, the drapings caught with orange blossoms and her veil, which fell to the hem, was caught in cap effect with the blossoms. Her bouquet was a shower arrangement of brides' roses and lilies of the valley.

Mr. Amundson, attended by his brother, Dr. F. A. Amundson, awaited the party at the foot of the chancel, where the betrothal service was performed, the party then proceeding to the altar for the wedding service.

Ferns, palms and white flowers were used in decorating the chancel and altar and bouquets, of white flowers tied with long bows marked pews reserved for the family.

Intimate friends of the bridal couple were invited to a reception at the McKindley home, after the ceremony, where they were received by the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. McKindley and the bridegroom's mother and sister, Mrs. C. Amundson and Miss Lyda Amundson of St. Peter, Minn.

American beauty roses, Easter lilies and daisies were used in decorating the home, and assisting were Mrs. A. B. Wolvin, Mrs. James E. Granger, Mrs. B. S. Myers of St. Paul, Mrs. C. E. Lum, Mrs. A. C. Hubbell, Mrs. Margaret Copeland, Mrs. T. F. Cole, Mrs. John Millen, Mrs. Frederick W. Paine, Mrs. Homer Collins, Mrs. Charles A. Duncan, Mrs. John H. Dight, Mrs. Frederick B. Spelman and Mrs. Katherine Van Loo.

After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Amundson will be at home in Duluth, no date having been set.

BALTIMORE WOMAN WAS HEROINE OF ELOPEMENT

MRS. RICHARD R. SINCLAIR, JR., ON THE YACHT ALVINA.

This is Mrs. Richard R. Sinclair, Jr., whose husband was rejected for membership in the exclusive Atlantic Yacht club recently. Mrs. Sinclair was Miss Helen Compton Marts of Baltimore before her marriage to Sinclair. Her father objected to the marriage and the young couple eloped and were married in New Jersey after zigzagging about the state in an automobile. The objection to Sinclair is based upon a story published in 1906 when Sinclair collected $900 for the rent of a cottage which did not belong to him and the next morning was found bound and gagged near Surf avenue. At that time Sinclair claimed to have been robbed. Later he confessed that the holdup story was not true. The money was recovered and Sinclair was not prosecuted. His family is wealthy. This photograph of Mrs. Sinclair was made at the time E. C. Benedict, the wealthy yachtsman, left New York with a party of friends for a trip up the Amazon on the yacht Alvina.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Here's a Good Example for Other Millionaires.

Did you read the other day about what that Oklahoma millionaire is doing?

Well, he is reputed to be worth $5,000,000, and what do you suppose he's doing to discharge his obligation to his fellow men and to his Maker for allowing him to accumulate so much money?

Building a great library for his home town, and others? Endowing some struggling college with a sum sufficient to put it on its feet? Or doing any one of the other stereotyped things that millionaires do who have more money than they know what to do with?

Not at all. If it were this, why should I be bothering to write about it, for these things are being done every day.

Well, he has done this: He has "adopted" 300 poor children, and hopes to increase the number to 1,000; and has provided that at his death the bulk of his estate shall go toward helping these children, and maintaining a home for them which he has established.

Connected with the home, he runs a farm and canning factory, where the boys and girls can work at odd hours, and every branch of manual training and domestic science is taught by skilled teachers. The children are given a good education in the ordinary lines, too, and he has also provided that any boy or girl who desires a college education after he or she has completed the course there, may select the college, and he will defray all the expenses.

Now what do you think about that? I think it is one of the very biggest and best and finest things I have heard of in my experience upon this earth! This man's name is Page—Charles Page—and it doesn't sound very big alongside of Carnegie and Rockefeller and a few other men who have built great libraries and universities and perpetuated their names in marble and stone.

But in my mind, this good man is head and shoulders above his more famous colleagues, for he is doing an intensely godly and human thing. Remember the biblical story of the ten talents? Of course you do. Well, don't you think this man is making a good account of his?

The trouble with most so-called charity and philanthropy is that it lacks humanity, and is too cold-blooded and indirect. And work of this kind which gives children a chance they would not have otherwise is more than worth while. Just think of the returns this man will get from his investment!

SINGS WICKED SONGS; LOOKS DEMURE AS NUN

YVETTE GUILBERT.

Yvette Guilbert is coming to see us again—Yvette of the innocent expression and the suggestive tongue. She has been in America several times before, and has many friends and admirers here. Yvette can sing a wicked song with all the demureness of a nun. But of course it is all in French and most of her auditors don't know what it is about.

WHERE STRAWBERRIES ARE NUGGETS.

In Farm and Fireside appears an interesting account of the production of strawberries in Southern Missouri. In that part of the country, the business has been developed to a point where the producers are making a great success, owing in part to the excellent marketing facilities provided by the Ozark Fruit Growers' association. Following is an extract from the article:

"Throughout this berry belt the profits obtained annually by the growers are very attractive, the average range being a gross return of from $100 to $300 per acre. A man can gain a pleasant and profitable livelihood from his $100 per acre crop, as the cost of production is not at all exorbitant in the case of the berry crop. There is a notable example of one experienced grower who recently conducted an experiment on his home berry-patch to ascertain just how large a profit it was possible to obtain per acre.

"This producer used the best and most vigorous of plants for his sets and started them in a well-prepared seed-bed of excellent condition and tilth. His soil was rich in plant-food elements in consequence of generous applications of bone-meal and carefully conserved and thoroughly rotted manure. He protected his seedlings from the ravages of insect pests by intensive spraying and the use of poison baits, so that the crop matured to a bountiful luxuriance productive of large, uniformly shaped, luscious berries.

"This fruit-grower kept accurate account of the expenses, involved in the production of his crop, as well as the income from the sale of the barries which were marketed under the direction of the Fruit Growers' association. At the end of the season when he figured out his net return from the strawberries he found that his profit amounted to $1,600 per acre, his gross income being $1,440 per acre.

"He had successfully raised 800 crates of berries per 160 square rods of area, and this fruit had sold for $1.75 per crate."

A REFRIGERATOR SUBSTITUTE.

Woman's Home Companion: Anyone who cannot afford a refrigerator will find this a good substitute: If you have a good cellar, procure a box, the larger the better; knock the bottom out, then dig a hole in the cellar just large enough for the box and fit in. About twice a week clean it out, strew borax around, and you will find everything nice and cool.

ACCUSED OF THEFT.

Former Mill City "Dry" Candidate for Mayor Under Arrest.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 23.—J. C. Russell, once a candidate for mayor of Minneapolis, and James Riley, said by the police to have been a partner of Jerry McCarthy, noted outlaw, were arraigned in court here late Tuesday, accused of stealing a horse and wagon. They waived examination and are in jail awaiting action of the next grand jury. Both men won considerable publicity a few years ago. Riley is claimed to have been in company with McCarthy when he was killed in a pistol duel two years ago, with Patrolman Olinger, the officer also being killed. Russell was the nominee of the Prohibition party several years ago.

St. Paul Man Killed.

St. Paul, Minn., July 23.—Harry Cowles, a well-known local real estate dealer, was fatally injured when an auto truck collided with his automobile in Minneapolis last night. Instead of permitting medical attention, he boarded a street car and came to his home here, dying almost immediately. Leonard Fozy, driver of the truck, has been arrested. An inquest will be held.

BOGUS PEARLS MADE FOR ACTRESS

Paris, July 23.—A necklace of imitation pearls taken by a student to the police station at Neuilly Sunday, which it was at first thought possibly might be a $650,000 necklace which disappeared from the registered mail, has been claimed by a manufacturer of imitation jewelry. He said he made the necklace for a provincial actress and had hesitated to come forward earlier, fearing complications.

Kill Day of Rest Bill.

Madison, Wis., July 23.—Following three calls of the house the senate yesterday afternoon killed the bill providing for one day's rest in seven for all employes not specially exempted. The vote was 17 to 13.

NO SCARCITY OF MEN YET

Laborers Advised Not to Start for the Wheat Fields.

Farmers Have Had Little Difficulty Getting Help to Date.

According to the statement of G. S. Richards of the National Employment company, there are enough laborers in the two Dakotas right now to satisfy immediate demands. In the opinion of Mr. Richards, it would be very foolish for the laboring man who annually harkens to the call of the threshing season, to go to that section of the country with the idea of getting work.

"The shutting down of a very large amount of railroad work left many laborers in that section of the country temporarily out of employment," said Mr. Richards. "While many of these men have secured employment, there is no need until the cutting of grain starts, which will be in something like three weeks, for additional men.

"We have received a number of letters from the large employers of men, and it is after getting their statements upon the situation that we have sent out notices advising the laboring men of Duluth and Minnesota in general not to leave for the Dakotas at this time."

Mr. Richards says the starting of a large amount of railroad work took a great number of men out to North Dakota. A large amount of the work was suddenly abandoned, and the result was that many men were left there to seek employment. Consequently there is a surplus of men, according to Mr. Richards, which will not be exhausted until the harvest starts.

Year after year the call of the wheat gets into the blood of countless numbers of laboring men. They will throw up their positions and pour into the wheat-raising sections of the West, picturing to themselves big wages and work in plenty; so much work, in fact, that the farmers will be bidding for their services.

Some of those who harken to the call have not forgotten the years of bumper crops and a scarcity of men, when trains were literally held up at the point of the guns of the farmers, also the points of their pitchforks, and all able-bodied men were impressed into the service of cutting the golden grain.

If the reports gathered by the system Mr. Richards has employed for many years to ascertain the number of men that will be needed for the cutting of grain are accurate in this instance, there will be no call this season for as many men as have been used in some of the seasons of the past, though some of the localities of the two Dakotas have already reported that about the same number of men that were used last year will be wanted when the cutting of the grain starts.

identified dead will be buried in a plot upon which a shaft will be erected.

At daybreak today a big force of city employes began to search for the dead entombed beneath the smouldering ruins of the overall factory of the Binghamton Clothing company. Not until the tangled mass of brick and steel has been removed will the full extent of yesterday's tragedy be known.

Damage Over $200,000.

The list of the 134 employes of the company who were on the payroll Saturday, some of whom were on vacation, is in the safe under the ruins, making the task of compiling the list of dead more difficult. The loss by fire and water to the buildings and stock of five concerns is estimated at more than $200,000, largely covered by insurance.

The postoffice, built about twenty years ago, was badly damaged, but the mails were saved. A temporary office has been established in a nearby garage.

The loss of the Binghamton Clothing company, of which Reed B. Freeman is president, is estimated at about $40,000, all covered by insurance. This does not include the building, which was rented.

Thought It a Fire Drill.

The heavy loss of life is believed to have been largely due to the fact that the employes, believing that one of the frequent fire drills was being held were slow in leaving the building. Even when it became known that the building was on fire many returned to the dressing rooms on the upper floors for clothing and valuables.

The flames spread rapidly and the intensity of the heat prevented the firemen from getting within fighting range of the building until rescue was impossible. Women and girls, too weak to go further, dropped exhausted on the single fire escape in the rear of the building and literally roasted to death, portions of the bodies dropping into the street. Others jumped and were killed.

Death in Elevator.

Half a dozen of the panic stricken girls rushed into the elevator which was standing on the fourth floor. A moment later all dropped to their death.

Only the efficiency of the Binghamton fire department prevented the spread of the flames to business blocks lining Water street between Court and Henry streets. In the building occupied by the McAllor Drug company was a large amount of highly explosive chemicals. Steel doors and shutters prevented the fire from reaching this building.

Volunteer firemen employed in the shops along the line of the Erie railroad, who were in the city for their annual tournament, aided the local firemen. In holiday clothes, they assisted in running lines of hose to the top of buildings that were threatened. A band concert scheduled for last night was abandoned.

Girls Mostly Americans.

Reed B. Freeman, president of the Binghamton Clothing company estimates there were 120 employes in the building when the fire started. Eighty per cent of the girls employed were Americans.

The girls are said to have disliked the fire drills, which forced them to appear in the streets in their rough working clothes. Many of them, it is said, were proud spirited and did not like this.

"When the alarm sounded," said Mr. Freeman, "most of the girls took their time, some to don their coats, others to get their purses and other belongings.

"But for this fact I believe nearly all would have been saved. In the last fire drill we had the entire building emptied in twenty seconds."

Lays It to Cigarette.

"I was in the offices when Mrs. Freeman called to me that there was a fire," said Mr. Freeman. "I ran out on the main floor and saw flames coming out from under the open stairway.

"Some of our employes are so addicted to cigarettes that, smoking being forbidden in the building, they went out into the alley every hour or so for a puff. I believe one of these, on returning to work, threw his cigarette under the stairway."

According to the officials of the Binghamton Clothing company, all the fire laws had been observed. Fire drills had been held at regular intervals, and the regulation that all lint be swept from the floors at least once a day had been heeded.

Fire Chief Hogg, as he left the ruins early today to get a few hours sleep, declared that in his opinion the fire escape was adequate.

"The girls simply withered from the heat when they got to it," he said.

Built Eighteen Years Ago.

The building was a four-story, brick structure 44 feet wide by 130 feet long, and was built eighteen years ago as a cigar factory. The fire escape was at the rear. There were two stairways from the top floor, one to Center street, at the rear, and the other to Wall street, at the front. The interior of the building was of wood.

The offices and stock room were located on the first floor, but most of the operatives were working on the third and fourth floors.

The doors and windows were open at the time the fire started, and created a draft which contributed to the rapid spread of the flames.

A fund for the survivors has been started.

Promises Rigid Probe.

A thorough investigation into the cause of the fire at Binghamton, N. Y., will be made by Dr. W. H. Wilson, coroner of Broome county, New York, on his return. Dr. Wilson is now visiting with his brother in Superior, Wis.

"I shall make every effort to ascertain who is responsible for the conditions which caused the death of the factory workers, just as soon as I can get back," said Dr Wilson.

while he was still a member of the house, to work for a tariff commission bill. He testified yesterday that what he had sworn to was wrong; that Watson was not a member of the house at the time.

Reports that Watson, who is in Washington, is about to ask the District of Columbia grand jury to indict Mulhall for criminal libel were heard about the investigation room.

The committee did not question Mulhall about the discrepancy in his sworn testimony, but Watson is already under subpoena and will take the stand later.

Just before the close of the session the Mulhall letters began to refer to efforts to secure Cardinal Gibbons, Presiding Bishop Daniel F. Tuttle of the Episcopal church of America, Ambassador James Bryce, the late Chief Justice Brewer, Vice President Sherman, Senators Borah and Dolliver and other prominent men to speak in St. Louis during a course of lectures to be given by the Citizens' Industrial association. Cardinal Gibbons was mentioned in several letters between Mulhall and F. C. Schwedtman, secretary to President Van Cleave of the National Association of Manufacturers. Finally Chairman Overman asked for an explanation.

"I don't believe I saw the cardinal on that mission. I only saw him once," said the witness.

Would Make Tools of Speakers.

Mulhall said the association was organized to deliver educational lectures and keeping the side of the people interested in it before the house.

"Has it anything to do with lobby work," he was asked.

"Yes, sir, it was organized to protect its members or to work for legislation it wanted."

"Legislation against labor?"

"Yes, sir, against labor."

"Is it on the same line as the national council for industrial defense?"

Mulhall swore it was, and that it was a constituent member of that body.

"Cardinal Gibbons and these other distinguished men didn't know what the association wanted them to make lectures for—they didn't know the real object of the association?" asked Senator Nelson.

"No, sir," said Mulhall.

The committee did not ask him further about the one visit he said he had made upon the cardinal.

When Mulhall was up in Danbury, Conn., in June, 1909, working on the famous strike of the Danbury hatters, he wrote Schwedtman about the case.

"I have had several long interviews with these men and have won. Father Shanley is one of the most noted Catholic clergymen in the East, and we can count on him."

He said Father Shanley, he was sure, would be delighted to deliver a lecture in St. Louis.

Mulhall's activities detailed in letters put in the record were directed early in 1909 to work in behalf of a tariff commission bill, although he told of occasional excursions to break strikes and do other odd jobs for the National Association of Manufacturers.

Letter From Racine Man.

One of the letters on the tariff commission bill, written by H. E. Mill, manufacturer of Racine, who was prominent in the fight, declared that Speaker Cannon was the main obstacle. The letter was dated July 21, 1910, when the Payne-Aldrich bill with its tariff board provision had gone to conference. In it Mill said:

"The president is said to be absolutely bent upon his program and wonderfully unyielding. The entire opposition, so far as it resists him, is in Speaker Cannon as the one opposing unit, and behind him a majority of the house conferees.

"I am perfectly satisfied that if Speaker Cannon could name the personnel of the proposed commission, he would grant it instantly and would undoubtedly name the the sort of men he packed the conference committee with. If we don't get this commission, it will be because of Speaker Cannon and the influences he stands for. The president will be as disappointed as we; I am sure he sees a dreadful party defeat and a new revision within two or three years, unless his policy now obtains, including the commission; but, of course, he has not said this to me."

Showed "War List."

A "war list" including six congressmen, said to have been marked for defeat by Former Speaker Cannon and Former Representative James R. Watson, was offered in evidence by Mulhall.

August Gardner of Massachusetts; Gilbert N. Haugen of Iowa; Victor Murdock of Kansas; E. A. Morse, J. M. Nelson, and Irvine L. Lenroot of Wisconsin; were the marked six. Mulhall on March 17, 1907, wrote Secretary Schwedtman of the manufacturers to that effect.

"Watson says these people always have been against anything we ever wanted since he has been a member of the house," Mulhall added. A dozen names of other congressmen marked for "war" and which have been included in other lists Milhall has given the committee were included.

Mulhall went back to the Portsmouth, Ohio, shoe strike in April, 1909—the same strike which he had testified before involved 3,000 men and he settled in three days. He wrote to Henry W. Bannon of Portsmouth on April 21, stating that he enclosed a letter for Mitchell Jordan, district master workman of the Knights of Labor of that city. In the enclosed litter he told Jordan be sent therein a money order sent to have the strike called off and that Jordan did call it off.

Wrote to Miles.

On June 8, 1909, Mulhall wrote to H. E. Miles, chairman of the executive committee of the tariff commission at Racine, Wis.:

"I have continued to keep in touch with the situation and with the leaders of the Republican party in Washington since I saw you last and I can see nothing but success for our bill as drawn by Senator Aldrich. I have been in close touch with a number of leaders from Wisconsin and I have mixed freely with the members from that state, gradually feeling them ont in relation to senatorsh'p next year and from the information I am getting I am fully convinced that you are the man to beat La Follette for the senatorship in 1910.

"The senior senator from Wisconsin is losing ground every day, and his joining the free trade Democrats of the senate, I am given to understand, will not help him in his own city to make the fight."

CITY COMMISSION AND PLUMBERS CLASHING

Fargo, N. D., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The clash between the members of the city commission and the plumbers over licenses has reached the stage where no more permits will be issued for work on buildings to any unlicensed plumber. The plumbers have ignored the ordinance requiring licenses and they threaten to carry the matter into the courts to determine whether the city has a right to compel them to secure licenses.

Negro "Comes to" After Body Is Placed in Coffin.

Starke, Fla., July 23.—Harsey Mitchell, a negro, was hanged in the jail yard here today for the murder of another negro, and was declared dead at the end of thirty-eight minutes by two physicians. After his body had been placed in a coffin, Mitchell, whose neck had not been broken, revived and lived three hours.

Says Sponge Never Bathes.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 23.—To ask his wife to remain faithful when he refuses or fails for 26 years to bathe is too much, thinks Mrs. Maggie Verdun. She has brought suit for divorce in circuit court. Never since they were married has John ever paid his respects to the bath tub, she charges. He earns $12 a week as a laborer.

Plant Has Third Fire.

Dayton, Ohio, July 23.—For the third time in the last seventeen years, the plant of the West Side Lumber company was burned last night with an approximate loss of $350,000. The main section of the plant, where all woodworking and cabinet work was done, was burned and thousands of dollars worth of hard woods and trimmings were destroyed.

FATAL PUNCTURE IN ROOF OF HER MOUTH

Woman's Death Explained and Police Seek Her Husband.

Newark, N. J., July 23.—An autopsy today disclosed the wound that caused the death of Mrs. Emma Corduan, found dead last night in her home. The coroner's physician said that a sharp, round instrument had been driven through the roof of the woman's mouth into her brain. The police are hunting for William Corduan, the murdered woman's husband, who is a filemaker.

Mann Filibustering.

Washington, July 23.—In an effort to force house Democrats to allow the Republicans opportunity to discuss the Diggs-Caminetti white slave cases at San Francisco, Republican Leader Mann began a filibuster against all business in the house, and as a first move caused an hour's delay yesterday in the approval of the journal of Friday's meeting.

Found Dead at Hastings.

Hastings, Minn., July 23.—A stranger died in the "jungles" at Lake Isabel at the foot of East Sixth street Monday afternoon. Dr. R. H. Wald, deputy county coroner, deemed an inquest unnecessary, the man's death being due to alcoholism. In his memorandum book was the following: "My name is J. E. Kelly, home at Butte, Mont.; trade, a blacksmith."

Is Your Power Plant Worth What It Costs You?

At any time some slight defect may disable your private power plant. Are you prepared to meet such a contingency? Of course you realize that, without power, your business would be at a standstill. But, you continue to risk the loss which is bound to follow, if your private plant is incapacitated. Is it really worth the chance you take, when you can get absolutely dependable power much more cheaply than you can generate it?

NO OBSTACLE TO EXTENSION

City Commissioners Inspect Route for Street Railway to New Duluth.

Problem of Crossing N. P. Tracks at Smithville Is Considered.

The city commissioners know of no obstacle to prevent the Duluth Street Railway company from immediately extending its car tracks from their present terminus at Seventy-first avenue west to Smithville, as urged by The Herald.

The commissioners, accompanied by the city engineer and the city clerk, personally went over the route of the proposed extension yesterday.

They found that the fill at Eight-first avenue west is nearly completed and were informed that the contractor expects to have it ready for the gravel by the end of the week. Commissioner Murchison, head of the works division, has been investigating with a view to getting the necessary gravel for the surfacing and is planning to spread it without loss of time. By the time the last work has been done on the fill the company will not have laid tracks further than Eighty-first avenue if work is started immediately. By the time the tracks reach Eighty-first avenue the job will be finished so that the extension can go right ahead. Past Eighty-first avenue, as far as Smithville, the road is in good condition.

N. P. Crossing Is Problem.

The first problem is met with at Smithville, which is some distance this side of New Duluth, where the tracks of the Northern Pacific must be crossed. To go over them on grade on the route followed by the present road would be extremely dangerous, as the tracks cross the highway of quite a steep grade. The sentiment is that this should be avoided if possible.

The most feasible place to cross the railroad property is via the gulch at Gogebic street, in the opinion of City Engineer John Wilson. The street car tracks would begin to drop about 500 feet east of Gogebic street, getting down to the necessary level on a favorable grade. At the railroad tracks a subway could be built, eliminating the grade crossing. This could also easily be put in shape for team traffic. Shortly beyond the Northern Pacific right-of-way the street car tracks would swing onto Kildare street, go on Kildare street to Beaudry street, on Beaudry street to Grand avenue, and on Grand avenue to Commonwealth avenue.

Three years ago the city council vacated a portion of the Fond du Lac road. It is still in use. The property owners who were getting practically all of the benefit of the vacation promised a substitute road, eighty feet in width. Although they have had three years in which to provide it, the road is still a long ways from finished. The brush has been cut from the route but nothing more has been done. With some comparatively small changes the old road could be put in shape for street car tracks. Although the grade is not quite so favorable the old route has the advantage that it is considerably shorter than the substitute road, which is still far from completion.

At Fond du Lac the commissioners went over the territory which was damaged when Mission creek overflowed at the time of the heavy rain storm the latter part of May. Property owners have filed claims for damages aggregating $6,000 to $7,000. The commissioners were not wholly satisfied that the city can be held for the alleged damages.

Approaches to Bridge.

The commissioners looked at two routes for an approach to the Minnesota side of the steel plant bridge, one swinging in from the west, or the side nearer New Duluth, and the other swinging in from the east, or the side nearer Gary. The charter of the Minnesota Steel company requires the company to construct the approach but the road leading to it would have to be built by the property owners or the city. Building the road from either side would be an expensive proposition as a large amount of filling would have to be done. The bridge, from the approach to the Wisconsin side, is a double decker, with one deck for teams, pedestrians and street cars. The engineer will make surveys of both suggested routes in order that more definite information may be had as to their feasibility.

The commissioners tramped over much of the territory between Sixty-sixth and Seventy-first avenues west, below Grand avenue, in response to complaints from residents that they are shut off from town connections with streets and avenues. They have to carry their fuel and supplies considerable distances to get them to their homes. The engineer will make surveys with a view to determining the best way to remedy the conditions.

SHERIFF WILL TEST BLUE SUNDAY LAWS

Hutchinson, Kan., July 23.—Following his arrest on a charge of violating the Sunday labor ordinance, Koon C. Beck, sheriff of Reno county, announced that he would stop all Sunday labor in this city. He swore out complaints against 360 persons who work on Sunday, including all street car employes.

John Beck, brother of the sheriff, and the members of a musical comedy company also have been arrested. The Beck brothers are proprietors of an amusement park, and shows have been given there on Sunday. Local ministers and church members made the complaint against the park.

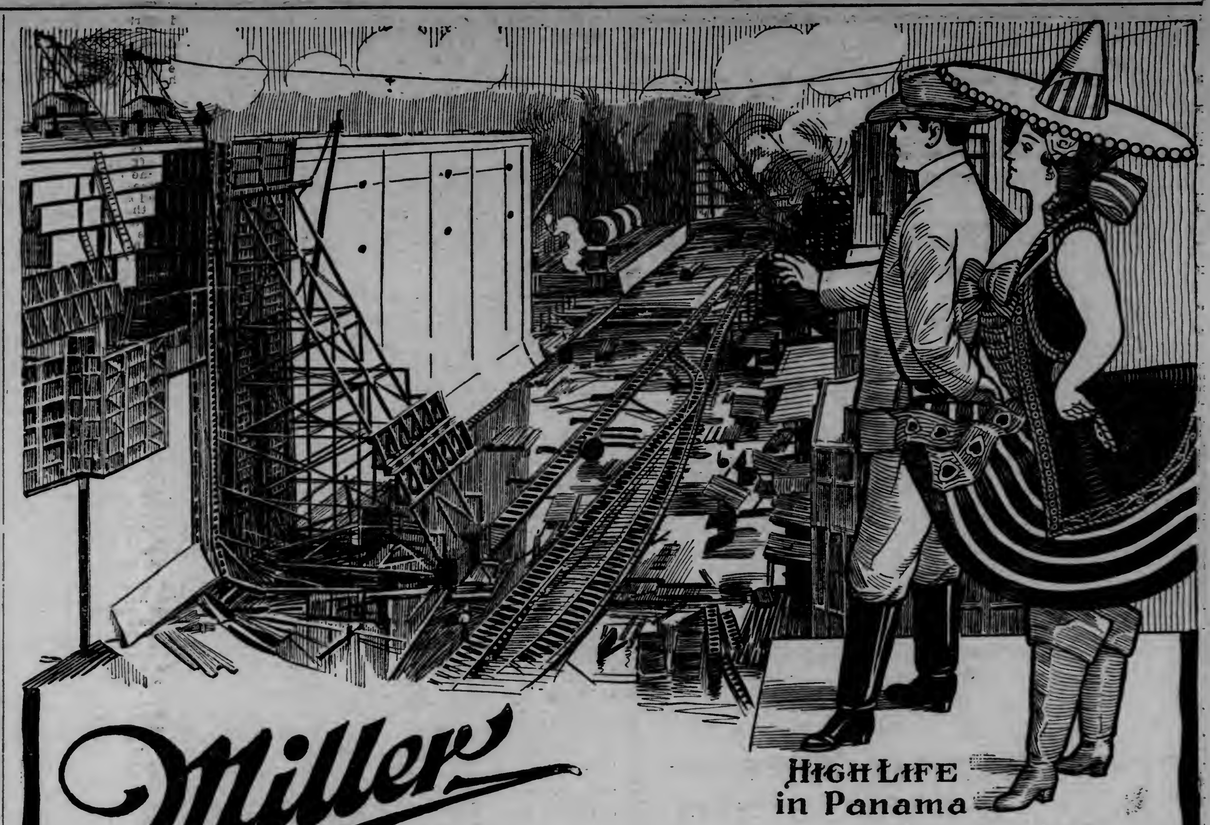

"If they want a blue Sunday, I'll give it to them," said Sheriff Beck, as he began swearing out complaints against other Sunday workers. "I want the Sunday labor ordinance tested thoroughly."

KANSAS CITIES SHORT OF WATER

Topeka, Kan., July 23.—A shortage of water has been reported in eleven cities of this state, due, the state health officials say, to the fact that there has not been a heavy general rain in the state for almost two months. The following cities have given the state board of health official notice that they have not sufficient water: Washington, Onaga, Marysville, Hays, Caldwell, Strong City, Wichita, Wellington, Plainville and Kanapolis.

STOLE MOTOR TO HELP BURGLARS

New Westminster, B. C., July 23.—John McNamara, arrested in New York more than a year ago in connection with the robbery of the New Westminster branch of the Bank of Montreal, Sept. 15, 1911, when more than $271,000 was stolen, was found guilty by a jury in the assize court last night of having stolen an automobile the morning of the bank robbery. This automobile, it is alleged, was used by the bank robbers to make their escape.

Miller's HIGH LIFE

The Champagne of Bottled Beer

HIGH LIFE beer is pure.

Chill a bottle on ice and note its clarity—a severe test of quality, no cloud of sediment in it—just liquid purity.

This beer is suited to cultivated tastes—it is a delightful blending of the best materials in proper proportions—and aged in wood—comes to the consumer with all the goodness possible to put in bottled beer.

It is the "finest tasting beer ever produced."

Convince yourself—order a case today. On sale at leading Buffets, Dining Cars and Steamship Lines.

We use light bottles exclusively for this high grade beer—common beer comes in dark bottles

Brewed in Milwaukee by Miller Brewing Co.

BROWN BOTTLE FACTS

The fact has been fully established that brown bottles are used to protect common beer.

High grade beer does not need the protection of brown bottles, because its quality makes it immune from deterioration by ordinary influences.

Remember this—HIGH GRADE BEER COMES IN LIGHT BOTTLES, and that light bottles are always absolutely clean.

Discriminating beer users invariably order high grade beer in light bottles, not only for their homes, but insist upon it when in the cafe or restaurant. Have you ever noticed how little the brown bottle is served in the better class of public places? The public knows what it wants.

Referring to high grade beer, Wahl-Henius Institute of Fermentology, the world's greatest authority on brewing, has this to say—it certainly settles the question of what beer is best for the consumer to use!

To our Clients:— Chicago, November 12, 1912.

Please take note that we have recently given our opinion to one of our clients as to the relative merits of the white and the brown bottle for beer, as follows:

"Referring to your recent request for our opinion on the relative merits of the white and the brown bottle for beer, we wish to say that the ONLY advantage of the brown bottle over the light bottle consists in the protection it affords against the influence of light WHERE BEERS ARE NOT OF SUCH QUALITY AS TO BE IMMUNE.

"Where, however, bottle beers have attained A HIGH DEGREE OF STABILITY so that they are practically immune to such influences as prolonged chilling and prolonged storage at summer temperature, they also become less sensitive to the influence of light, so that with the usual precautions no bad effect need be feared.

"FOR SUCH BEERS THE LIGHT BOTTLE IS PREFERABLY EMPLOYED because it can more readily be inspected before filling to insure thorough cleanliness, and because the finished package reveals at a glance whether the contents meet the requirements of the consumer as to color, clarity and freedom from sedimentation."

"Yours very truly,
"WAHL-HENIUS INSTITUTE OF FERMENTOLOGY."

HOTEL MEN LIVE WIRES

Duluth Will Entertain Great Crowd of Boosters in August.

Fame of City Has Spread and Visitors Will Be Numerous.

For three days beginning Aug. 19 Duluth will have as guests the greatest live wire bunch of boosters to be found anywhere in the country—the Northwestern Hotel Men's association. It is the annual convention and was brought here through the energetic endeavors of Edwin H. Lee, managing director of the Spalding. Mr. Lee did not live in Duluth always. But when he did arrive it didn't take him long to find out what an attractive place it is. And he's been telling everybody else about it ever since. That's why he pleaded with his fellow hotel men last year, and got their consent to hold the 1913 meeting in this city.

They'll all be here—the hotel men of the West, 250 strong—but this only makes up a part of the crowd that will come. Big hotel men from cities as far east as New York are arranging their affairs to make the trip. The plea of "business" won't be allowed to keep anyone away for as one hotel writer remarked: "When the baby is sick you take time to skip to the drug store for paregoric."

Great interest is taken in Duluth as a city and is already coming in for its share of bountiful praise. This is shown by the following from the National Hotel Reporter, of Chicago, a daily journal devoted to hotel men's interest and the first to be established in this country:

"Edwin H. Lee, managing director of the Spalding hotel, Duluth, Minn., is a firm believer in the efficacy of hotel organization, and he is one of the strongest supporters of and biggest boosters for the Northwestern Hotel Men's association, which is to meet in annual convention in Duluth next month. This association comprises hotel proprietors and managers in Minnesota, Nebraska, Iowa and the two Dakotas.

"Great interest in the forthcoming convention is being taken by the members in the various states, and it is believed that the attendance will be the largest in the history of the association.

Proctor Knott' Speech.

"Duluth is one of the most enterprising and, indeed, one of the most remarkable cities in the United States. Long before it was a real city it became known as such through the speech of Hon. J. Proctor Knott, then member of congress from Kentucky, delivered in the house of representatives at Washington in 1871. Its object was to ridicule the grant for a railroad in that section, and he made such a humorous speech and of such length that when it was finished the time had expired for taking a vote and the land grant bill did not pass the session. Duluth was then a small but ambitious town, the citizens of which were against passing the grant. This speech of Proctor Knott, although it may not be termed a classic, was published and republished all over the country, and it today finds a place in the literature of Duluth boomers and promoters, because of the fact that a speech delivered more than forty years ago in ridicule and derision, has turned out to be a reality so far as the city of Duluth is concerned.

"During recent years Duluth has made wonderful strides in manufacturing, mining, railroading, steamboating, etc., and traveled people do not hesitate to say that there is more of interest and importance to be seen in Duluth than in any city of its size in the United States. As a summer resort Duluth may lay claim to possessing great and enormous advantages.

"Although it is located away up at the head of Lake Superior, it is extremely accessible, for, as one writer has said: "A short trip on the Great Lakes or a swift rush on any one of the fifteen railroad radiating into Duluth as their common center, and summer in all her soft enchantment welcomes the delighted visitor."

The Spalding is one of the finest hotels in the Northwest. This commanding hotel structure, affording as it does magnificent views of Lake Superior and the surrounding country, offers with its famous sun parlor and observatory a summer home for tourists, the equal in attractiveness of which it would be hard to find, either in city or country. The Spalding is conducted wholly on the European plan and has in connection several fine restaurants, a handsome buffet, Flemish room, Palm room, men's grill, ball room, banquet room, private dining room, etc.

WILL TAKE FLEET THROUGH CANAL.

San Francisco, Cal., July 23.—The Evening Post prints an interview with Secretary Daniels of the navy department in which he is quoted as saying that he intends to bring the entire Atlantic fleet through the Panama canal, as soon as the canal is opened.

The reasons given are that the transfer would be instructive to the fleet and would at the same time demonstrate to the Pacific states how well equipped the canal is to handle heavy emergency duty.

BIGAMIST'S WIDOWS LIVING TOGETHER.

Chicago, July 23.—The widows of Wilfred B. Frost, bigamist, whose death on Feb. 27 exposed his double life, have begun life over again together. With their four children, they took up their residence on the North side.

"We will live together and teach the children to respect the memory of their father," said the Chicago Mrs. Frost. "It is our work; we both loved him, and if he made a mistake, it is our duty to rectify it."

Upon their arrival here they were met by the Chicago children, a son aged 21 and a daughter of 18.

NONE WILLING TO TAKE LEPER AWAY

Cleveland, Ohio, July 23.—In spite of appeal after appeal to immigration authorities, railroad officials and steamship companies, Dehad Hsain, a Syrian leper, still occupies a ward intended to accommodate twenty-five persons in a hospital here, as the city's guest. Immigration Inspector Fluckey believes he will be able to find some means of getting him to New York within two weeks, but admits that railroad officials and steamship companies have refused to take him as a passenger.

THE STEEL PLANT EXTENSION SHOULD BE MADE THIS FALL.

After a thorough examination of the route of the proposed extension of the street car lines to the steel plant, the city commission sees no reason why the company should not begin work immediately, and presumably the commission will insist that the company does begin work.

There is, in fact, no excuse whatever for a day's delay.

The company cannot say that there is no demand for the extension, and no need of it. There has been need for it and a demand for it for several years.

The company cannot say that the city's work is delaying it, because if the company began work at this end tomorrow, the city would be through with its work on the Eighty-first avenue fill before the tracks could reach that far.

Duluth needs that extension, and it wants it. It is the duty of the street railway company to provide it. There is no excuse whatever for putting it over to next year. It is needed now, it can be built now, and it SHOULD be built now.

If the company or the city wishes to raise the issue of whether the company's convenience or the city's need shall predominate, this is a mighty good situation on which to raise it.

The city commission should be firm and aggressive in this matter. It should demand that the street railway company serve the city as the city needs to be served, and there is no greater immediate need than the extension of the street car lines to the steel plant.

That woman who got so scared by the appearance of a little ordinary sparrow has a right to be simply flabbergasted when she sees the lark o' the lakes.

THE PENALTY OF CARELESSNESS.

Upward of fifty are dead—it may be a hundred—and many are injured and much property is destroyed in a factory fire at Binghampton, N. Y., for so small an occasion as that somebody idly tossed aside a burning match or a lighted cigarette stub.

It is a little thing, to throw away a match without making sure that it is out, or to drop a live cigar or cigarette stub.

But the consequences may be, as they were in this instance, mighty and tragic.

We pay a heavy price, in this country, much greater than in any other, for carelessness like that.

The pity of it is that Senator Burton's complaint that the U. S. tariff bill favors the consumer typifies the Republican attitude on the tariff generally.

STRIKERS NOT ALWAYS TO BLAME.

Disorder during a strike is always blamed to the strikers, but not always justly.

There was rioting during the recent strike of the garment-workers in Cleveland, and some very disgraceful scenes for which the strikers were blamed and which had much to do with defeating the strike.

Now it develops, through the breaking down on cross-examination of one David Lubin, that the strikers were innocent.

Lubin has confessed that he posed as a garment-worker and striker, though he was neither. He gave weapons to boys that he corrupted. He led them to an attack that resulted in the death of a strike-breaker. And all this time he was the paid agent of a detective agency which had been employed by the Cloak Manufacturers' association.

The inference that this wretch was hired to do things to discredit the strikers and thereby to break the strike is inescapable. And the plot succeeded. The strike failed largely because of public indignation aroused by the outrages perpetrated by the man Lubin.

Perhaps such things are uncommon. It is to be feared that they are not so uncommon as they should be. At any rate it is only fair, where rioting and disorder accompany a strike, to require evidence that the strikers, and not fool sympathizers or the employers, are responsible.

And so there is to be a fight against extending the parcel post service. Apparently the express trust isn't entirely dead yet.

PASS IT!

The Underwood-Simmons bill, which it would not be unfair to call the Wilson-Underwood-Simmons bill, proposes an average reduction of 27.64 per cent from the level of the Payne-Aldrich-Taft bill.

As it was reported to the senate by the committee, the average of the duties is 4.22 per cent lower than it was as the bill passed the house.

This is an unprecedented thing, and the fact that United States senators are hereafter to be elected by the people is not unrelated to it.

The bill as it now stands, and as it doubtless will be passed and signed, is what the people have demanded for years, and what they had to bring about a political revolution to accomplish.

It does not provide free trade. It leaves every industry that is entitled to protection with all the protection it is entitled to.

It DOES abate the excesses of the protective tariff, and it DOES reduce very largely the tariff tax imposed upon the many for the exclusive profit of a few.

The country needs this law. The country is ready for it. Delay means only confusion and unsettled industrial conditions. Those who for reasons purely political delay its final enactment are working against the interests of business and depriving the consumers of relief amounting to millions of dollars every day.

Congress should finish with the tariff without delay, and turn to the currency bill.

Commissioner Murchison says city contracts must be completed on time. Which is an indication that the new regime in Duluth affairs is most thoroughly on the job.

CONGRESS AND THE PARCEL POST.

Congress shows a disposition to resent the action of Postmaster General Burleson in extending the facilities offered by the parcel post, and it has instituted an inquiry into his authority to take such action.

There can be no question as to his authority. After the parcel post bill came from conference, it was reported that teeth had been put into it. These teeth took the form of a provision authorizing the postmaster general to make such alterations as he thought best for the good of the service. The extensions proposed by Postmaster General Burleson are pursuant to the authorization of this provision.

Congress should have a care.

Congress should realize that when it comes to extending the parcel post, as it was when it was being established, the people are all on one side and only the express companies, with such influence as they can muster, are on the other side.

Postmaster General Burleson has chosen the people's side.

Congress will be treading on dangerous ground if it chooses the side of the express trust.

With La Follette threatening to talk for a week about the tariff, the Democrats can't be blamed for deciding to keep still on the subject.

CANADA'S BANKING SYSTEM.

For years the Canadian banking system has been held up to the people of the United States as a model of efficiency.

An article in the current Forum by Peter McArthur proves that this is so, and also proves that because the system lacks the saving grace of regulation in the public interest its very efficiency turns it into a public menace.

It is a highly efficient machine, but because it is wholly under private and therefore selfish control, the temptation to misuse it for private benefit is irresistible.

The Canadian banking system is, indeed, a pretty fair parallel of what this country would have had if the Aldrich scheme had gone through; and the very timely McArthur article is additional evidence, if evidence were needed, that President Wilson is most emphatically right in his firm stand for government control of whatever banking machinery is created by a new banking and currency law.

The Canadian system is a system of branch banks. There are between twenty-five and thirty banks in Canada, but these few have thousands of branches all over the dominion. This system makes for strength, and it also makes for fluidity—that is, money and credit flow naturally wherever there is a demand for them. It is a strong, efficient and powerful machine—but it is operated for private benefits first, and public and common benefits second. There is not even anything like effective public regulation of banking methods in Canada.

The Canadian system, in the light of this explanation, appears to be something this country should by all means avoid instead of copying.

Just the same, a "holy war" in India would be a very effective cure for any lurking sentimentalism about "the poor benighted Hindu."

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

HONEST! WE WANT TO STOP THIS, BUT WE CAN'T.

Hon. Ed. of Japanese Section of Evening Herald:

Muchi Stuffi, wise Japanese philosopher, have say with much truth, twenty-eight thousand years ago this little verse:

"Whe nonew isem,
Anspea ksath ous,
Andfo olsrep ly."

These are Japanese way of saying it, but to translate to the English are difficult to get exact meaning. Meaning is English word rhodomontade, which also requires more translation and explanation but can be found in dictionary by uneducated man.

Everybody knows other man's business better than other man knows it. This are universal fact with no exceptions. Such is easy to proof, as follows:

Everybody can cure colds, coughs, rheumatism and other pleasures of sickness better than Hon. M. D. Doctors. More incurable are diseases by Hon. M. D. Doctors, more easily are cured by everybody else.

Everybody could run newspaper better than Hon. Editor who are making business of such foolish job, only for one thing—they can't.

Everybody can put out fire quicker than Hon. fireman. Everybody can sleuth criminals better than Hon. policeman. Everybody can motor street's car better than Hon. motormans.

These facts are truth, except as to one point—they can't; but such minor point is of no consequence to everybody what think they can.

Thus, everybody can write better poetry than gifted Japanese poet what graduate from Nosucha Japanese College with highest honors, collar, hat and opinion of his abilities.

Sometimes is Hon. everybody taking place of Hon. Editor with result of stringency in financial columns of newspaperman's bank book. Sometimes everybody is taking place of Hon. fireman, with result of great loss to insurance company. Sometimes—most always now—everybody is taking place of Hon. motorman, with results of great mixing of nationalities on interior of car.

And sometimes everybody is taking space of Hon. Japanese poet in Evening Herald paper, with result of calamitous befallings to thousands of innocent reader people, such as apoplexy, suicide, insanity, fits and misfits, indigestion of interior, brainstorms, countervailing of subscriptions, and other results from violation of pure brain food law by everybody, what have belief that they can write better poetry than Japanese poet from Nosucha Japanese College. Ignorance of pure brain food laws is no excuse is true saying of Hon. Judge, which applies equally in these case to which I am referring.

Poem of Japanese poet are classical ode, made in poem foundry by skilled workman with Union Label attached. Everybody, who calls himself Hon. Japanese Scholar, writes "poem" which are best described by Japanese sentence as follows: "Sen sel ess idi otic nons ense," which means, in English language, about the same as in Japanese. In other words, of less dignity but more forcibleness, efforts of Hon. Japanese Scholar are not a poem at all, but a weather report, which are not accurate or truthful and could be better done by weather man who are better qualified to make weather reports than Hon. Japanese Scholar are.

Respectfully, with regrets for such unpleasant truth to be told,

OYESI SOAKUM,
Graduate from Nosucha Japanese College.

ALL MERCHANTS DO NOT FAVOR HIGH LICENSE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

With your kind permission, I want to say a word from a merchant's standpoint about this question of high licenses for circuses. There has been an impression created that the merchants of Duluth generally are behind the movement to demand a prohibitive license fee from circuses and shows like that. I want to deny that, most emphatically, both for myself and in the name of some other merchants here.

I think one of the best things I ever saw was the "come-back" of the man who wrote to the Open Court about the circus and the wage-earner, when he said it was no more unfair that the wage-earner spend his spare money to see a circus than for a richer man to spend his traveling. As that man said, they both take money out of Duluth. I want to see the people here enjoy themselves, and if I am not furnishing the means to that enjoyment that somebody else is, I must expect the people will patronize that other party. And I would be the last person on earth to begrudge the people the right to all the enjoyment they can get.

As a matter of fact, that high license business doesn't emanate from Duluth men at all. It originated in the head of a man who has a store in Superior and one in Duluth.

I want to make it clear to the people that many of us Duluth merchants are not in favor of shutting out things that will help amuse and instruct the people, young or old. It seems to me that Duluth is sufficiently progressive to continue to advance of its own initiative, instead of going backward by beginning to accept such suggestions sent or brought to us from across the bay.

A PLEA FOR THE CIRCUS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Supposing, Mr. Editor, you were a school kid and you wanted to go to the circus, and your parents were willing you should go, and you found that some influential men in your city were trying to keep the circus away from town so you couldn't go, how would you like it? You'd be pretty mad, wouldn't you? And if you wanted to take your own kids to see the lions and tigers and elephants and things and those same men said no, you shouldn't, you'd just about size them up for pretty small calibre animals, wouldn't you? Sure you would. And you'd be right. We want the kids of Duluth to see these foreign animals, and we know they will get that chance by going to the circus, and probably won't get that chance if we let these people keep the circus away. So let's let the circus come.

We don't want to copy Superior's bad things. If we can find anything good there, let's copy that, and leave the bad things to their originators. If Superior wants to raise the price of circus licenses to $1,000, all right. Let her. Or if she wants to raise them to $3,000 let her do that. As a matter of fact, it wouldn't make any particular difference if she put them down to $50, for Superior is known as the poorest amusement town in the country, anyway, and she couldn't get the big shows there unless she paid them a bonus, and a big one at that. Duluth doesn't need to copy any town, but if we've got to copy somebody on this circus business, let's copy Minneapolis, where the merchants encourage the coming of circuses. The Minneapolis merchants are even planning on making circus days "gala days" for the whole city. Now, that's something like. Duluth ought to be a two-day stand for the big shows, and we can make it that if we go at it right and reasonably. But we'll only drive the shows away and deprive the kids and the old folks of a real right and privilege if we make monkeys of ourselves on the circus question. I'm for the kids and the shows. I was a boy once myself, and I haven't forgotten it.

THE STEAM ROLLER OF THE "FEATHER TRADE."

To the Editor of The Herald:

The American people are now being treated to the amazing spectacle of the steam roller of the wild-bird feather trade being run through the United States senate in defiance of the appeals and protests of the bird lovers of the United States. It is a case of about thirty importing millinery houses, a few hundred milliners, and a strong lobby of New York lawyers against about 50,000,000 American people. At present the steam roller is going over all opposition, and the indications are that the program of the wild-bird milliners is to be railroaded through the senate as a strict "party measure."

The friends and protectors of birds are striving to end, once for all, the odious and cruel slaughter of the beautiful and interesting wild birds of the world for the cash benefit of the millinery trade in America. The best women of America do not want any more dead-bird hat decorations, and have appealed to congress to stop all such importations. The practice of bird slaughter for the millinery trade is essentially barbarous and cruel, and it has now become odious and detestable.

The ways and means committee of the house inserted in the tariff bill a clause designed to stop this odious traffic in wild birds' plumage. Ostrich feathers do not come from wild birds. The movement has the support of many bird-protecting societies of the United States, the state and national societies of the United States, the state and national federations of women's clubs, various state game commissioners, and humanitarians generally. It is supported by 130 newspapers and magazines and opposed by only one newspaper.

The senate is resolutely carrying out the program of the feather importers who "want the money." The Democratic caucus of the senate, by a vote of 3 to 1, struck out of the tariff bill, except as to aigrettes, the whole bird-protecting clause! The milliners' lobby of five New York lawyers has done its work well. It is reported that one of its workers in Washington has said: "Those bird men are not going to get another peep at the senate!"

The vote in the senate, as a whole, is yet to be taken. Without the deadly unit rule, I think that a majority of senators would today sustain the cause of the birds. This is now a world-wide fight. Two European nations have already promised to "clean house" as soon as England does so; and in England the bird bill has passed the house of commons by a large vote. The fight is to an absolute finish. As for ourselves, we will accept no amendments, and make no compromises of any kind with the enemy. We are going to insist upon our clause, unchanged; and we hope that every friend of the birds will join in this fight. Senators who are wrong are not invincible.

MR. BRYAN'S VACATION.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I would like to voice my sentiments along with the rest on the subject of whether or no a public official should enjoy the pleasure of spending his vacation as he sees fit.

The question of not being allowed a vacation seems not to be an issue. Every man should be allowed a vacation, an opportunity for recreation, enjoyment, a period of leisure, and especially if he can afford it and so desires.

Franklin had as a motto: "Leisure is time for doing something useful."

What can be more consistent for an official whose capacity is so great as the secretary of state, to follow the motto of Franklin and set an example of usefulness in time of leisure? Would it be a wise move for an able person to crawl off in the woods or take a little yacht and steam away from business cares, in order to be consistent?

Is it not more American-like for him to come out in a time of leisure and let the people know what ideas have been conceived in his fertile mind during his term of office, and, if he sees fit, to deliver all the lectures, talks and speeches that lie cares to, so long as he is having a vacation?

It is safe to say that any talk he would indulge in would be of such a nature that millions would enjoy reading a full report. It is also safe to say that the machinery of the government, having been organized for over a century, and having had greater questions than confronts us today to deal with, would not crumble and fall because one man was having a vacation of six weeks, and was within telephone call at any time.

A. G. C.
Duluth, July 21.

Placing Him.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: An A. P. correspondent in Morgantown, W. Va., relates that a man down that way has produced from lightning bugs a light surpassing the Edison electric, and we believe this is the same man that is annually treed by a moose within the city limits of Duluth.—Chicago Tribune.

We think we remember him. He lived in Winsted, Conn., in his early youth, didn't he, and wrote the advertising matter for the company that extracted virgin gold from plain salt water.

Getting the News

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—When Sam Blythe was editor of one of the Buffalo papers, some years ago, a young chap came to him wanting a job. The paper didn't need any more men just then, but to get rid of the young man in pleasant, off-hand fashion, Sam pointed to the headline in an afternoon paper about a beautiful young girl lying unidentified at the morgue.

"Find out who that girl is," suggested Sam, "and I'll take you on."

"Certainly, sir," said the young man. And he started out with the air of one who thought nothing of solving just such mysteries.

The young man took the thing seriously, too. He went to the morgue and asked to see the young woman's effects. There were no marks on her clothes that helped to tell where she hailed from, but she had carried a little purse that contained a rusty trunk key.

The applicant for the newspaper job took this key and went to the railway station, where he persuaded the baggage man to let him try all the trunks until he found one the key would fit. This was slow tedious work, but the key did finally unlock a small trunk containing a woman's wearing apparel and other articles. From the stuff in the trunk the young man got sufficient clews to telephone to a near-by town and ascertain the girl's name.

So the young man got his job. Today he is successful playwright. His name is Paul Armstrong.

Arthur B. Krock, the Washington wit, and correspondent of the Louisville Courier-Journal, is another shining example of a newspaperman whose initial adventures were like those of cub reporters in the story books.

Arthur was sicced on to the police beat with a parting injunction that he was strictly on probation and must make good or be fired very shortly.

He was accosted by a panhandler on the way to the police station. Instead of giving the poor man the paltry dime he asked for, Arthur merely talked to him and asked him how he came to be so far from home without money.

"Why don't you wire home for money?" inquired Krock.

"Ah," grunted the man, "I have no home, and the only man I might wire to probably wouldn't pay any attention to me. He's too busy a man."

"And who is that, pray?" asked Krock.

"Pierpont Morgan," answered the man, and blamed if he didn't pull out a letter purporting to be a letter of recommendation from Pierpont Morgan. The letter said the "bearer had shown himself to be a brave man."

It seemed, according to the man's story, that he had been walking the ties one night, when he found a washout in the railroad right-of-way, and he flagged the next train, which happened to have Pierpont Morgan for a passenger.

True, it was a pretty pipe-dreamy story, but Krock got his office to wire to New York, and the story was verified at Morgan's office. Also, the signature on the letter proved to be genuine. The account of the man starving with a letter of indorsement from Pierpont Morgan in his pocket—that and a facsimile of the letter—formed an important feature in Krock's paper the next morning.

And young Mr. Krock was almost immediately proclaimed a bright young person.

Robert H. Patchin, chief of the Washington bureau of the New York Herald, used to do the White House news for one of the Washington papers in the days before he was as experienced as he is now.

He lived always in horror of missing something, and for that reason aimed to talk to everybody that came out of the president's room, no matter how unimportant the person might appear.

One day a quiet, elderly man came out from a brief talk with the president, and Patchin noticed him. Patchin had no way of knowing right offhand who the man was, but he hastened to catch step with him and draw him into conversation.

"Ah, we talked about nothing in particular," said the elderly caller; "I simply happened to be here and called to pay my respects to the president."

"There was no talk of a political nature?" asked Patchin.

"Oh, no."

They kept walking along down the driveway until they had reached the White House gate, Patchin wondering all the way who the man might be, and yet not knowing how to ask him without seeming abrupt, for the man seemed to assume that Patchin knew him.

Finally as they were about to separate, Patchin put out his hand and said:

"My name's Patchin. You know, I can't just recall your name, mister."

"White," the elderly man told him, modestly, "Andrew D. White."

Then Patchin went and used his head for a battering ram and tried to knock over a couple of trees.

Patchin tells of another funny little caprice of his.

When Wu Ting Fang was the Chinese minister, Patchin's office desired to know China's attitude regarding certain diplomatic affairs which Minister Wu had thus far declined to discuss. Patchin was young and full of enthusiasm, and he suggested a scheme.

"I'll write out a cablegram setting forth what might be the facts," said he, "and I'll take it and show it to Wu and make him believe we got it from China. Then he'll think that so long as we know about the thing anyhow, he might as well tell the whole story, and I'll get a corking interview out of him.

The editor bade Patchin go try it.

Armed with his fake cablegram, Patchin went.

Wu listened to Patchin's statement, read the message and then with a funny little tweak about the eyes, inquired, casually:

"Young man, how many days have you been a reporter?"

Duluth and The Herald

Bouquets and Brickbats from the State Press.

That Story Voted for Grant.

Wadena Pioneer Journal: The latest slogan of The Duluth Herald is: "It's Cool in Duluth." This reminds us of the story of the man who stopped a newsboy on the streets of Duluth and asked: "Sonny, do you ever have any summer here." "I dunno," responded the lad. "I've only lived here eleven months."

Confidence.

Fertile Journal: It is reported that the United States Steel corporation is expending upwards of twenty million dollars at Duluth. This would seem to indicate a confidence of that great corporation in the Zenith City and its contiguous territory and in the seemingly inexhaustible ore supply of the upper lake regions.

It's Enough.

Hill City News: The last of the week we have enjoyed (?) a few days of typical Duluth summer weather. The kind the Duluth papers tell you is the ideal summer climate. Practically the only difference we could see between the weather here and in Duluth was that it was colder in Duluth.

Needs of the Present.

Gheen Record: The automobile owners of Duluth and the range are after a concrete road from Duluth to the range, and will, no doubt—and should—get it. But in the meantime a few ordinary dirt roads, that do not now exist, could—and should—be built for the use of the farmers of the districts north of the range.

Accepted on Faith.

Crosby Crucible: The Duluth Herald reports that a St. Paul man was thrown 600 feet in the air when his automobile skidded and overturned. We'll take your word for it, as we haven't the time to take measurements.

Whose Discount?

Hibbing Mesaba Ore: Gas and electric light bills in Duluth must be all-fired high, judging from the amount of space that the two papers in the city are devoting to the discussion of discounts.

Practical Questions.

Rush City Post: A distinctively important assemblage was the session of state bankers at Duluth last week, in which great financial questions divided attention with such practical matters as road-making, agriculture and dairying.

The Lark for Him.

Princeton Union: Duluth certainly had its share of big conventions last week—the musicians, bankers and coal dealers. And then there was the "Lark o' the Lake.' Let those whose fancy so inclines sit around in stuffy convention halls and listen to dissertations on ragtime, currency, coal screenings and other stuff, but give us the "lark" every time.

What Has Become of the Young Girl?

Pictorial Review: This is a straight-from-the-shoulder talk to the fathers of young girls. We hope mothers will read it also, but we want them to pass it on to their husbands without fail. The American father needs a jolt. And this is a jolt handed from one father to another.

We are not given to deploring the passing of "the good old days." We believe that many decayed and useless customs have been cast aside, and that today carries much to admire and rejoice over. But we have made a mistake in letting our girls grow up too fast. There is neither meekness nor shadow in the eyes of Miss Sixteen today. Neither is she exactly what you would call "sweet." She is "smart" and amusing, but she does not bring a tremulous smile to the lips of old age nor fill the hearts of men, young and old, with the fine old desire to protect and screen her from all that might hurt or contaminate. Her eyes invite and challenge. Her bearing announces an independence that is too assertive. There is nothing reluctant about her feet. Rather they press eagerly toward the dress, manners, customs and pleasures designed for those who have plucked ripe fruit from the Tree of Knowledge.

We men are proud of this new girl's spirit, of her achievements in the classroom, of her resourcefulness and adaptability when economic conditions force her into our factories, stores and offices. We smile at her good-humoredly and say, "Go to it, girlie," when she elbows her way into the crowded lunchroom or trolley. But we miss the shadow in her eyes, the lily in her hand, and we do not like to think of her as a wife for our son. If we stop to analyze her position in the general scheme of life, we thing vaguely that she belongs in a class of her own, the class that must hold its own in the stern workaday world. Perhaps in preparing their daughters for the grinding, pitiless contact with those who toil, parents have taught girls at once too much and too little—too much of how to protect themselves from evil in others, too little of how to flee the evil in itself. And so, flaunting her preparedness, this type throws off the mysterious veil of maidenhood, melting into womanhood.

We are sorry for this girl, sorry for her parents, and we say smugly to ourselves that we are glad our daughters are not as this poor, world-worn little creature. That is because we really do not know our own daughters. We have not time to follow our girls into what we fondly believe to be a sheltered, refined life. Suppose some of you fathers put market prices into the background and for a few hours walk the sheltered path which you imagine your hard-earned dollars provide for your daughters.

Reasonable.

New York Globe: The old farmer was making his usual weekly call on Mrs. Wiggins.

"P'taters is good this mornin', madam," he said, casting an admiring look at the basketful he had brought.

"Oh, is they?" retorted Mrs. Wiggins. "That reminds me. I wants to have a word with you about them you sold me last week. How is it that them at the bottom o' the basket is so much smaller than them at the top?"

"Come about like this," replied old John, a knowing look on his face. "P'taters is growin' that fast now that by the time I get a basketful dug the last ones is about twice the size of the first!"

Ironic.

New York Globe: The motor 'bus stopped and the conductor looked expectantly up the steps. But no one descended, and at last he stalked up impatiently.

"'Ere, you," he said to a man on top, "don't you want Westminster Abbey?"

"Yes," was the reply.

"Well," retorted the conductor, "come down for it. I can't bring it on the 'bus for you."

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1893.

Everything that would float was out to see the tug race on Lake Superior off the east side of Minnesota point yesterday afternoon. The contestants were the Helm tug Mystic, the Inman tug Record and the Smith-Fee tug A. C. Adams. The judges, timekeepers and members of the press were allotted to the tug Ed. Fiske. The judges were Capt. Allen of the steam yacht Comanche, C. C. Brown and B. H. Bronson. J. L. Eddy and C. F. Macdonald acted as timekeepers and L. J. Hopkins was starter. The race was won easily by the Record. The Mystic crowded her closely, but broke a feed pipe before reaching the turn and was compelled to withdraw. The Adams was far behind.

Dan McDonald, who will row in the junior single, and Dan Mahoney, Murray Peyton, Hamilton Peyton and George Gibson, the four-oared crew, are getting in excellent trim for the Minnesota & Winnipeg Rowing association regatta at Lake Minnetonka. They will be accompanied by thirty or forty members of the boat club.

The swarms of grasshoppers which have bothered Duluth people the past week may be a nuisance, but they are good bait for trout and black bass and the anglers are saved much hard work in digging worms.

The first whaleback steamer built in England under the McDougall patents has been launched from the yard of William Dosford & Sons at Sunderland and bears the name Sagamore. She is 320 feet in length, 38 feet beam and 26 feet depth.

Rehearsals are going on for the National Pageant to be given for the Duluth Bethel on Aug. 4 and 5 at Temple opera house. One of the features will be the minuet after the reception to Washington and La Fayette. The participants will be: George Washington, Charles E. Bassett; Martha Washington, Miss Bertha Bull; John Adams, Willard B. Cross; Mrs. Adams, Miss Fannie Mattocks; La Fayette, A. W. Hartman; soloist, Mrs. Charles P. Craig; dancers of the minuet, Misses Ray Culver, Gertrude Markell, Fannie P. Upham, Maren Miller, Marian Phillips, Rosalie Slaughter, Ida Boyce, Ophelia Sellwood, Messrs. Frank Williamson, Martin Watrous, Wells S. Gilbert, B. F. Deacon, S. S. Bradley, John P. Gordon, L. E. Judson.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Harrison of Duluth Heights were to have given a reception this week in honor of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Lena Harrison, to William P. Farrell, but it was abandoned because of the death of Mrs. Harrison's father. The couple were quietly married by Rev. D. B. Cheney of Superior.

Mrs. Clark L. Poole is doing the world's fair and will be absent until the middle of August.

The man drowned in the lake by the capsizing of a boat which he and John Clarke were rowing was Will B. Gregg, not William Craig. He was 25 years of age, had a wife in St. Paul, and had been here about two months.

The Currency Bill.

Now Jones was a man of a marvelous mind
To which nothing was foreign or strange,
He could talk by the hour,
With a singular power,
On topics the widest in range.
There was nothing in heaven and zero on earth
That baffled his toppiece, until
He rashly, one day,
In a confident way,
Attempted the Currency bill.

The tariff to Jones was as plain as a church:
He threaded its mazes with ease,
While the weight of the stars
Or the ditches on Mars
Were trifles for afternoon teas
The color-line problem, the Japanese row,
He discussed with exceptional skill;
But his brain had a storm
When he tried to inform
His friends on the Currency bill.

That got him. His wits were reduced to a pulp,
All crumpled the cells of his brain.
They took him away
In a wagon next day.
To a place for the cureless insane.
He sits on a bench and makes figures and things,
And all men may obtain, if they will,
From this bug financier
A remarkably clear
Account of the Currency bill.

WEST END

HERALD BRANCH:
Herman Olson, Manager, 1823 West Superior Street.

WRECK VICTIM LIVED IN DULUTH

Body of Gust Carlson Is Brought to West End for Funeral.

The body of Gust Carlson, one of the firemen who was killed in the collision of two ore trains on the Duluth & Iron Range railroad yesterday, was brought to Olson & Crawford's undertaking rooms last night.

Carlson was 35 years old and had made his home every winter with his brother, Louis Carlson, 2128 West Third street. He was well known in this end of the city and belonged to several of the Swedish lodges.

Carlson was the fireman on the southbound loaded freight. He is believed to have jumped a short time before the collision took place. His body was found in a ditch several feet away from where the two engines collided.

He leaves, in addition to his brother, his mother, living at Lake Nebagamon. Arrangements for the funeral will be made this afternoon.

WANT DEPOT IN THE WEST END

Merchants Say Soo Line Could Get Their Business.

With the possibility of the Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie railroad (Soo line) conducting a large part of its traffic to the West through the West end, the merchants of this end of the city intend asking that the railroad plan at least a freight depot for this end of the city.

According to information received by business men of the West end, the greater part of the traffic to the western part of the state will pass over the company's rails running through the West end. They aver that if such is the case, then it will pay the railroad to establish a depot of this kind for the accommodation of the West enders.

The subject will be taken up at the next meeting of the West End Commercial club. The business men claim that such a station could be built in the vicinity of Twenty-first avenue and Michigan street. The contention of the business men is that at present they have to pay for long drayage hauls in order to get their wares, and that they could have these goods routed via the Soo line, if such a station is maintained at this point.

SAY BILLBOARDS ARE UNSIGHTLY

West End Business Men Want City Commissioners to Take Action.

If the signboard between the city hall and the city jail is unsightly, then so are those scattered along the business streets of the West end.

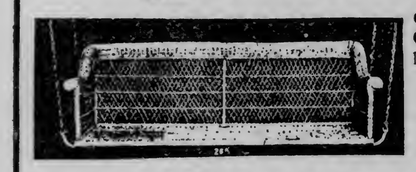

Such is the contention of business men along West Superior street, who want the signboards removed. They say that if the city commissioners can order the removal in one place, they should have the same authority in other sections of the city.

The billboards are said to be a nuisance, constantly carrying some glaring poster, many of which are said to be offensive to the passerby as well as those who always have them in front of their business places or residences.

Members of the Second Presbyterian church, 1515 West Superior street, say that their house of worship is hemmed in by these boards on all sides, that it is impossible to go to the church without passing some sign telling of the virtues of someone's beer or the quality of somebody else's tobacco. This, they say, is not encouraging to the younger people whom the church is constantly trying to save from the liquor and tobacco habit.

FOUNDATION FOR BRICK IS LAID

Good Progress Is Made on Twenty-Third Avenue Paving Contract.

The laying of the brick paving on Twenty-third avenue between Michigan and Third streets will commence tomorrow or Saturday. The concrete foundation for the paving has already been put down to a point above Second street and the first two blocks are now ready for the finishing article.

The paving of the thoroughfare has had considerable setback on account of the wet weather. This has hindered pushing the work as fast as the property owners wished.

The brick will be laid on this street for the first four blocks. Between Third and Fifth streets the avenue will be paved with sandstone and above that point to Tenth street, crushed rock will be used.

Paving on Twenty-seventh avenue is also going rapidly. The concrete curbing has all been made and the foundation for the paving is now being put in. This thoroughfare is being paved between Michigan and Fifth streets.

EPWORTH LEAGUE HAS OUTING AT PARK

The Epworth League of the First Norwegian-Danish Methodist church, Twenty-fourth avenue west and Third street, entertained last evening at its first of a series of outings to be held this summer at Duluth's parks. The affair was held at Grassy Point and was attended by about fifty young people.

An informal program was given, in which the crowd sang songs and played games. A marshmallow roast was a feature of the evening's entertainment. The Sunday school of the church held its picnic at this place yesterday.

Annual Picnic.

The various church societies of the St. Clement's Catholic church, Twenty-first avenue west and Third street, are holding their annual picnic this afternoon at Lincoln park. The affair is being featured with a sports program for the younger people, as well as a few contests for the older members. This evening the societies have arranged to entertain at a dancing party in the pavilion. Blewett's orchestra will furnish the music for the dancing.

Camping at Pike Lake.

County Commissioner Walter Swanstrom and Mrs. Swanstrom and family are camping at Pike Lake. They will remain there for about a month.

West End Briefs.

Miss Noame Johnson and Miss Alfie Johnson, 1909 West First street, have left for a short visit to relatives at Ashland, Wis.

The Sunday school teachers of the Swedish Baptist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, will hold a business meeting in the church Friday evening.

Miss Alice Hulet of Bemidji is a guest at the home of her brother, L. M. Hulet, 1824 West Second street.

Miss Hilda Larson and Miss Mattie Daw of Negaunee, Mich., are guests at the home of Mrs. J. S. Johnson, 217 North Nineteenth avenue west.

Miss Lottie Swanstrom, 2527 West First street, is expected home today from a week's visit at Hibbing.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl M. Johnson, 329 North Twenty-eighth avenue west are spending a month at Williams, Minn.

The choir of the Swedish Baptist church will hold its regular rehearsals this evening.

NEW BUDGET PLAN.

Hardwick of Georgia Offers Substitute for Earlier Plan.

Washington, July 23.—A new budget system plan is embraced in two resolutions introduced in the house by Representative Hardwick of Georgia, designed to overcome the objections which resulted in the rejection of the scheme presented to the Democratic caucus recently by Majority Leader Underwood.

The resolutions would create a house committee on estimates and expenditures of twenty-one members, who should be ineligible for service on any of the other committees of the house.

This committee would outline and report to the house, within thirty days after the convening of each session of congress, the amount of revenue available for expenditure during the next fiscal year, and would apportion to each of the appropriating committees of the house the amount available for its particular line of expenditures.

FELLS FOREMAN AND BEHEADS HIM.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 23.—Thomas Hutchins, foreman of a gang of laborers, was decapitated yesterday by one of the workmen, a foreigner, in Plymouth township near here. The man knocked Hutchins unconscious with a shovel and then cut off his head with a hatchet.

The laborer fled to his boarding house and returned to the scene of the killing, dressed in his best clothes. Fellow countrymen secured a rope and threatened to hang him, but other workmen prevented them. The man, who was arrested, is believed by the police to have gone suddenly insane.

WOMEN VOTE AND TOWN STAYS "DRY."

Elgin, Ill., July 23.—Effects of woman's suffrage on local option was given its first test in Illinois yesterday at Carpentersville, a village six miles north of here, the "drys" winning more decisively than they had won at the three previous local option elections in the village. The vote was 172 to 155. One hundred and fifty women voted. It is estimated that the "dry" women outnumbered the "wets" 2 to 1. Miss Alma Masters carried women voters to the polls in her automobile from early morning until the booths closed. Women representing three generations in one family voted. At each of the last two local option elections in Carpentersville, the "dry" forces won by one vote.

Sues for Crushed Vessel.

New York July 23.—The Pacific Mail Steamship company has sued the Panama Railroad company to recover $800,000 for damages received by its steamship, the Newport, at Balboa, in the canal zone, Aug. 17, 1912. The Newport, a passenger and cargo vessel of 2,735 tons, was crushed at her wharf by the collapse of a bulkhead and the fall of two huge cranes belonging to the defendant. The suit was brought in admiralty in the Federal court.

Probe Minot Woman's Death.

Minot, N. D., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Officials investigated the death of Mrs. Neal Brownlee, and ordered an analysis of the contents of her stomach. Retiring in the evening apparently in the best of health, Mr. Brownlee says he was awakened after midnight by a noise in the kitchen. He found his wife in terrible agony, lying on the floor and almost unconscious. Within five minutes she died. The body was shipped to Brookville, Pa., for burial.

MILLER ROASTS BOARD OF HEALTH

North Dakota Attorney General Claims State Body Fails in Duty.

Bismarck. N. D., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The charge that the North Dakota board of health has failed during the past six years to properly perform its duties is made by Dr. F. B. Smyth, commissioner of public health of Bismarck, and in a letter to Attorney General Andy Miller.

He contends that North Dakota cities have an exceptionally high death rate, and that such excessive death rate is due to improper law enforcement.

Dr. J. Grassick of Grand Forks, former secretary of the board of health, denies that the death rate is higher; contending that it is about the average, and that figures indicating high rates include the deaths of non-residents brought to the cities for treatment in hospitals.

In respect to the expenditure of funds for collection of vital statistics, Dr. Smyth contends that a large sum is expended by every county in the state, and that there is no excuse for the state not having complete figures.

"MAN MADE" LAWS CALLED UNFAIR

Montana Woman Suffrage Worker So Tells Devils Lake People.

Devils Lake, N. D., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—"It is unfair for you men to make laws to rule both men and women, and give us nothing to say about the making of such laws," declared Miss Jeanette Rankin, suffrage speaker of Missoula, Mont., in an address delivered here from an automobile in which she and officers of the North Dakota Votes for Women league are making a tour of the state.

Improvement in child and women labor conditions were promised by equal suffrage, the speaker declared.

It was their third day out, and yesterday they held open-air meetings at Larimore, Lakota and this city. This morning they departed for Minne-Waukan and the central section of the state.

PROPOSED ROAD HELPS BRAINERD

Minnesota Central Railway Idea Proving Good Thing for City.

Brainerd, Minn., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The construction of the proposed Minnesota Central railway by George Reid and others of Duluth, to place all of the Cuyuna range towns in connection with Brainerd by trolley, is already having a good effect on local real estate, and a boom is expected.

There have been received many inquiries for property. Hibbing people bought eleven lots near the West Brainerd bridge. George H. Gardner has optioned the corner of South Sixth and Laurel streets. On the opposite corner, J. M. Hayes of Brainerd is about to erect a two-story brick building, the main floor of which is to be leased to Edwin Harris Bergh of Minneapolis. Recently Mr. Ross of International Falls, who was formerly in the hotel business there, visited Brainerd and offered Mr. Bergh $1,000 or more for his lease. Lots are selling freely in the Cuyuna range addition to Brainerd, platted by Duluth people. Many Mesaba and Vermilion range people are investing here. There are rumors that a shaft is to be opened up near South Sixth street.

COUNTY HORSES ARE ATTRACTION

Grand Forks County Animals Feature of State Fair Today.

Grand Forks, N. D., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Good attendance marked the second day of the North Dakota state fair, today the arrival of two special trains and several organized automobile tours bringing large out of town crowds. Yesterday, Grand Forks day, brought out about 8,000, while today fair officials are confident that the opening day attendance would be equalled.

A striking feature today is the Grand Forks county horse fair, over 100 county owners of horses having exhibits in competition. Five district prizes will be awarded in addition to the general sweepstakes honors.

Big Machinery Display.

Though increased facilities were obtained by the association this year for housing its exhibits, the space has been more than filled. The machinery display is one of the biggest ever seen in the state, with a total of fifty companies making exhibits. They cover a ground space of ten acres in addition to the space used in the machinery buildings.

An exhibit in the livestock department that is attracting a great deal of interest is from the South St. Paul stockyards, showing the manner in which cattle are handled.

In the butter department R. F. Flint, dairy commissioner of the state, is in charge. There are over 100 different exhibits and the competition is keen as a result of fine prizes that have been offered. The scoring of the butter will take place tomorrow.

Governor Hanna yesterday addressed the North Dakota Boys' encampment, pointing out the advantages they were obtaining by attending the camp. Today the boys studied beef cattle, corn, and alfalfa growing and soils.

Best Bread Maker.

Bread making contests were decided yesterday. Mrs. S. H. Bakke of Grand Forks was declared the best maker of bread, using North Dakota flours, while Mrs. B. T. Smith, residing near Grand Forks, was declared the best maker of bread in Grand Forks county outside of the city of Grand Forks.

Judging in all departments is under way today and by tomorrow evening it is expected that all awards will be completed. The judges in the several departments follow: heavy horses, W. B. Richards, North Dakota A. C. and Alexander Calhoun, Grand Forks; sheep, E. J. Tropser, Grafton; dairy cattle, Prof. C. Larson, Brookings, S. D., and George Grout, Duluth, Minn.; poultry, Harold Norse, St. Paul; breeding cattle, E. R. Silliman, Colo, Iowa; light horses, W. B. Richards, North Dakota agricultural college.

Come and "talk" with the Cartercar itself!

I can tell you all the good features of the Cartercar, but you simply cannot realize what they mean to you until you see for yourself what this remarkable car will do.

So I ask you to come to my salesroom and let the Cartercar speak for itself.

Let me take you out on the road—on any road you choose—and the Cartercar will show you motor car service that will open your eyes.

It will show you that a car does not have to have weak, complicated gears. That it does not have to give away when in a tight place.

When you ride in a Cartercar over steep hills, through bad mud and sand, again and again, then you will realize that the car which is good only on the boulevards is expensive at any price, no matter how low it may be.

And you will understand that a car can be made simple, easy to drive, without jerks and jars. You'll see that it isn't necessary to make a car with crashing, grinding gears.

I'll take you on crowded streets, on the narrow country roads, anywhere you like, and show you that a car can be made that will travel anywhere, and keep doing it continually.

I want to acquaint you with the Cartercar gearless transmission—a feature which makes this car different from all gear cars—and better than all gear cars, as I can easily prove to you.

This may sound rather strong, but it is up to you to come and make me prove these statements. But I know the Cartercar will make good everything that I have claimed for it.

And how do I know it? Not by any theory of an engineer—or of a designer—but by the actual results which the Cartercar car has produced during the last ten years. I know that it will make good for you, because it has made good for every owner to which I have sold a car.

Doesn't that sound like business? Doesn't the Cartercar sound like a business buy for you You're not simply throwing your money in a well—and then hoping for the best. You know what you are going to get.

If you ask a gear car salesman about the Cartercar, he will probably tell you that it is a fair car, but to stay away from it. Why? Because he is selling gears. Now I ask him to bring his car out on the road and try to follow me in a Cartercar. That will be proof as to the qualities of the two cars.

I ask him to climb the hills that I will climb in a Cartercar, to go through sand and mud. Will he do it? Well, no gear car salesman has every dared do it yet.

Come and find out for yourself about the Cartercar. Let me prove its advantages to you. If I can't satisfy you I'll not ask you to buy. Just phone and I'll be glad to send a car up to your home or office.

Dealers Given Refund.

Grand Forks, N. D., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Former cigarette dealers, last night were given a refund by the city council of a portion of their license money. July 1 the new anti-cigarette law became effective, and as the cigarette dealers only had their licenses a half year, they secured a refund of half the amount originally paid to the city.

Wanted in Manitoba.

Granville, N. D., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mounted police of Northwest Canada were in Granville yesterday searching for Lloyd Atz, wanted in connection with a brawl, the victim of which is lying in a Brandon hospital, nearly dead. Atz was traced in this direction.

NEW AITKIN CHURCH.

Methodist Congregation Votes to Erect $10,000 Edifice.

Aitkin, Minn., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The members of the Methodist church adopted a resolution in favor of erecting a new brick church building at a cost of $10,000. The old church will be disposed of and the new one to be erected on the present site will be thoroughly modern with auditorium and Sunday school rooms on the ground floor and kitchen and dining room in the basement. Work on the structure will begin Aug. 1.

At the annual school meeting, George T. Williams was re-elected a member of the board of education and Elmer E. Searey was elected to succeed F. M. Shook, who was not a candidate for re-election.

Why is the soda cracker today such a universal food?

People ate soda crackers in the old days, it is true—but they bought them from a barrel or box and took them home in a paper bag, their crispness and flavor all gone.

Uneeda Biscuit—soda crackers better than any ever made before—made in the greatest bakeries in the world—baked to perfection—packed to perfection—kept to perfection until you take them, oven-fresh and crisp, from their protecting package. Five cents.

MYSTERIOUS TALK HAS ITS EFFECT ON THIE SOX

After a Lecture the Dooks Beat Pirates By 9 to 3 Score.

(BY BRUCE.)

After Henry Howard Brackett had retired in the first round with two gone and two runs in, Montgrief Woods, whose political aspirations are wrapped up in Bottineau, N. D., mounted the knoll with one foot and held the enemy to six scattered hits and one score for the remainder of the matinee, thus enabling the White Sox to win the second of the series by the score of 9 to 3.

Opposed to the sawed-off Apollo form of our pitching hero was the elongated Meyers. This chap was formerly of Grand Forks, and in the clothes of the Flickertails worried along for several seasons. Since joining the horseshoe brigade conducted by that frisky youngster, "Lefty" Davis, this sad-faced youth has experienced a new lease of life and has been winning games. Yesterday we copped him for ten smashes and they came at times when they were of the most account, at least for our side.

Yesterday was a very hot and murky day, as slews of citizens will testify. It is said that Mr. Meyer ate pickled beets, three dill pickles and some horseradish salad with some stewed cabbage for his lunch, Mr. Meyer being of German extraction. Be that is it may, suffice it to say that the alibi is not sufficient to save the pitcher in the present case.

There was a scout present yesterday, having paid his way, under the new 2-cent tariff, from Chicago for the express purpose of seeing Elmer Miller in his working clothes.

It must have made the hearts of the genial board of directors exceedingly glad to notice the way Elmer performed during the murky afternoon.

Miller "Goes Some."

In the eighth round Mr. Ewaldt came to bat and slammed one whose terminal point seemed to be the fence in deep left center. With the crack of the bludgeon our Elmer was away, speeding across the sand lots in the outfield. Galloping with the ball he pulled it down from over his shoulder and brought vast applause from the grandstand. In addition to this feat the star outfielder of the league hit a home run and a single and had two walks. Fairly good for one afternoon.

Before the curtain was rung upon the festivities of the afternoon Darby O'Brien and his ragged crew—for the players still wear the old uniforms of last season, and they are torn and frayed and ragged—marched in single and sad-faced file into the office at the right of the gate as you enter, which is reserved for cans and other junk. Some of the boys, it is rumored believed that they were going to get canned when they entered this seldom used sanctum, leastwise they looked saturnine and far from serene.

The call from the chiseled lips of that grand old man, Darby O'Brien, must have been extremely effective. The change from the sluggish playing of the previous day to the snappy and gladsome endeavor of yesterday was so extremely relieving that the guests of the management, the fans, were kept in a joyous mood and the afternoon was unanimously voted as one well spent.

Henry Howard Brackett was not himself yesterday. All pitchers have days when mounding is anything but a happy job. Davis flew to center and Ewaldt singled past the second bag. Croake forced his club mate at second, but went to second when Schreiber made a wild throw on the play to get the runner at first. Collins singled and Croake was in. Collins thieved and scored when Meniece erred on the offering of Fautsch.

In the seventh round the enemy scored their final run. Murphy singled and when Woods threw wild on the small offering of Connell, the Harp rounded up at third. Myers hit one far out to Miller and the run was over.

Cy Bennett is with us for the time being. Yesterday being in the "being," Cy played and right merrily. First up in the opener, the globe trotter walked and swiped second after O'Brien had flown to left. With McGraw down Miller cracked one to left and Cy came home before the heave and Miller beat Myers' throw to second.

With McGraw down in the fourth Miller walked and stole, went to third on Meniece's single and then counted when Lefty Davis heaved over the onion of his own little catcher. Meniece went to second while this performance was taking place, advanced to third on Schreiber's out at first and then deliberately and with malice aforethought stole home. Great and sustained applause.

In the sixth Doc Miller belted the pill over the left field fence. More, greater, and sustained applause. It was good that yesterday wasn't the fourth, because the namby pamby authorities might have thought that some of the fans were violating the safe and sane regulations and safe guards.

After Moll had whiffed in the seventh, Percy Monahan, who was released and then hired back again for one day at least, hit one to third which he beat out by speed and brute force. Woods surprised the spectators and himself by singling to left. The habit seemed contagious, for Cy Bennett singled by the first station and Percy was in. Darby O'Brien also singled and Woods and Bennett were in, though the grand old veteran was caught at second on the play.

Miller strolled in the eighth and Meniece singled. With this promising layout ahead Bunny Schreiber doubled up against the fence in left and the final two runs of the afternoon were in.

Little drops of rain descended during the afternoon and wet the new extension shirt of Claud Elliott, the handsome umpire. The new straw hat of the scout from Charley Comiskey's employment bureau, was also dampened during the hours of his vigil, but it is hoped that this will not in the least prejudice his vision. The directors did everything in their power to square this little grievance with the weather—after the game.

There is a rumor that the 1913 uniforms will be worn today.

RANGERS VERY EASY FOR RED SOX

Virginia, Minn., July 23.—Superior had very little difficulty in winning the second game of the series with Virginia here yesterday, by the score of 10 to 1. Rube Schauer was on the mound for the visitors and allowed but five hits. Tedisco, a recruit from the Trolley league, was given a trial in the box, and was found very easy by the hitters of the Red Sox.

TED CORBETT PITCHES A GREAT ONE-HIT GAME

Winnipeg, Man., July 23.—St. Paul was beaten here yesterday by the count of 6 to 2, Ted Corbett allowing the visitors but one hit. In the second inning Nedenfuhr hit a single in the second inning of the game and this was the only semblance of a blow gathered by the Saints during the contest. This hit scored two runners that had got on through the errors of the locals. The Maroons had little difficulty in finding the curves of Nedenfuhr and won the game easily.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Giants Win Both.

New York, July 23.—The Pittsburg team's hope of winning the National league championship, received a severe blow yesterday when the New York champions twice defeated Clark's men in a double-header. The first game was won easily by the home club, 8 to 3, but the locals had to go eleven innings to win the second, 2 to 1. A crowd of world's series proportions, the greatest that ever saw a midweek game in New York, was present.

The first game was a walkover for the champions. Camnitz held his own with Demaree for four innings, but fell in the fifth after Kommer muffed Myers' easy fly. This error was followed by Snodgrass' infield single. Burns' triple and Shafer's home run, the inning netting New York four runs. Camnitz had another bad inning in the seventh, when the champions doubled their score on singles by Myers, Demaree, Shafer and Doyle, a pass to Fletcher and errors by Viox and Simon. Demaree held the visitors to two singles in the first seven innings, but eased up after he got an eight-run lead, and the visitors hammered out five hits in the eighth and ninth innings, and scored three runs.

The second game was a pitchers' battle between Mathewson and Fromme on the New York side and Adams for Pittsburg.

The visitors scored in the first half of the eighth when Gibson tripled with one out. Adams popped to the infield and Snodgrass made a three-base muff of Byrne's line drive, scoring Mensor, who ran for Gibson. Burns tied it up in the second half when he hit a home run into the left field bleachers. In the tenth inning, Pittsburg filled the bases, but failed to score. Burns again led the Giants to victory in the eleventh. His single opened the inning, and Shafer was passed. Fletcher popped to Miller and Viox fumbled on Doyle, filling the bases. Burns then scored on Merkle's sacrifice fly. Wagner was back in the game after a long layoff and struck out four times, twice in each game. Burns' batting and Fletcher's phenomenal fielding, featured both games.

Cubs Lose Double-Header.

Philadelphia, July 23.—Chicago lost both games of a double-header to Philadelphia yesterday, the scores being, 6 to 5, and 8 to 6. Chicago took a good lead in the first game, largely on drives for extra bases, and extra sacrifice flies, but the home team tied the score in the seventh inning by bunching three hits with three passes by Lavender. Cravath's home run into the center field bleachers in the eighth inning won the game.

In the second contest, Philadelphia knocked Humphreys off the rubber in the first inning by scoring four runs on an error by Phelan, a single by Paskert and home runs by Lobert and Luderus. Chicago followed up two passes by Rixey in the third inning with two hits and a sacrifice fly. Chalmers then went in to pitch and a double by Mitchell and a single by Bresnahan ran the visitors' total for the inning to five tallies. The home team tied the score in the same session on Cravath's double and a single by Muller, who batted for Chalmers. Philadelphia won the game in the fourth by bunching four hits off Reulbach with three errors and scoring three runs. Mayer finished the game for Philadelphia in good style.

Reds Take Two.

Boston, July 23.—Cincinnati won both games of a double-header from Boston yesterday by one run margins, the score of the first contest being, 4 to 3, in ten innings, and the second, 3 to 2. "Three-Fingered" Brown went to the pitcher's box in the final inning of each game when Cincinnati seemed in danger of losing, and both times stopped the Boston rallies.

A home run drive into the right field bleachers and Bates in the fifth inning of the second game, while there was a man on bases gave Cincinnati the winning run.

Cardinals Beat Brooklyn.

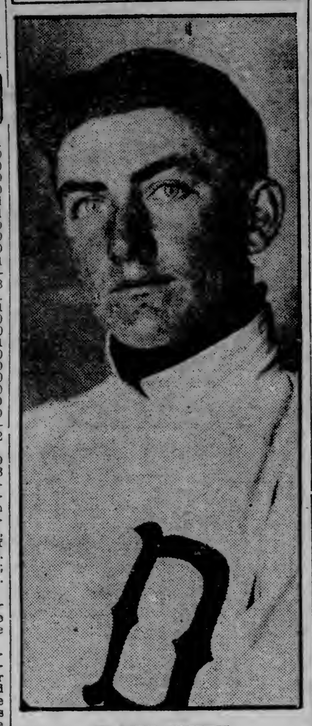

Brooklyn, July 23.—St. Louis with Sallee in the box won its first game of the season from Brooklyn yesterday, 3 to 1. Although the Superbas rolled up a total of eleven safe hits, it was not until the ninth inning that they were able to send a runner across. Then they got the bases full with nobody out, Wheat alone scoring on a force out. Miller flied to Magee, and Phelps batting for Stack grounded out, ending the rally. With Manager Huggins back after his long lay-off, the visitors fielded in splendid style.

Curtis pitched well, but received poor support at critical periods. Sallee singled in the third, took second when Fisher fumbled Huggins' grounder, advanced to third on Magee's long fly and scored on a double steal. Whitted's run in the fourth wasc earned on his single, Konetchy's out and Evan's hit. With two out in the fifth, Magee walked, stole second, took third on Oakes' scratch hit, and come home on a wild throw to catch Oakes stealing. After that the visitors retired in order, Stack pitching the last two innings.

BIG PRICE ASKED FOR ELMER SMITH

ELMER SMITH.

At the present time the wires are being kept hot between Duluth and Jackson in the effort to get Elmer Smith back in the game. Jackson has made the price on the heavy hitting fielder very high, so unreasonable that it would be foolhardy for the local officials to think of paying it. It is nothing less than a holdup. President Blume has made a very big cash offer for Smithy, and if Jackson is willing to part with the player for more than a big league would pay, Smith will be back in a Duluth uniform before the expiration of very many hours.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Athletics Are Blanked.

St. Louis, Mo., July 23.—With Mitchell steady in the pinches and receiving sensational support, the local team hit Brown when hits meant runs and ran the bases in great style, winning the third game of the series with Philadelphia, 4 to 0.

The leaders had men as far as third base on three different occasions, but each time Mitchell tightened and retired the side. In the seventh inning with one out and men on first and third, he fanned two.

St. Louis tallied its first run on Shotten's single, a sacrifice and a single by Pratt. In the second inning Austin singled and stole second, taking third on an out, after a great slide. A wild pitch enabled him to tally. In the fifth Austin walked and scored when Lavan singled sharply to center. The last local run came in the fifth when Compton singled and crossed the plate on Pratt's two-base drive. Shortstop Bobby Wallace, will not be able to play again for a month or more because of a broken bone in his left hand, the result of being hit by a pitched ball by Bush when he batted in the pinch during the last inning in yesterday's game.

Lavan, Barry and Austin featured in the field. Catcher Schang was relieved in the seventh inning after one of his fingers was knocked out of place by a foul. The score:

Philadelphia .... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 7 3
St. Louis ..... 1 0 1 0 1 0 0 0 x—3 9 0

Batteries—Brown, Houck and Lapp, Schang, Thomas. Umpires—Evans and Sheridan.

Champs Lose Out.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 23.—With a changed lineup, Cleveland defeated the world's champion Bostons, 8 to 5, yesterday. The pitching on both sides was mediocre, Gregg was wild while Cleveland drove Leonard and Maloy from the box. Boston scored the first run in the second inning and tied the score in the third and again in the fifth. In the eighth, Speaker's double and passes to Gardner, Wagner and Carrigan forced in a run, leaving the bases full with two out, but Gregg struck out Cady. Again in the ninth the bases were filled with two out on singles by Hooper, Lewis and Gardner and Gregg struck out Yerkes.

Of Cleveland's thirteen hits, three were triples and three were doubles, and Joe Jackson, league batting leader again went hitless.

Pitcher Bashner of the Ohio state league, reported today to the Cleveland team and Pitcher Cheney of the now defunct Interstate league reported to the Red Sox. The score:

R. H. E.
Cleveland ..... 0 3 0 1 2 0 2 0 x—8 13 1
Boston ..... 0 1 2 0 1 0 0 1 0—5 9 1

Batteries—Gregg and Carisch; Leonard, Maloy, Hall and Carrigan. Umpires—Hildebrand and O'Loughlin.

Ninth Inning Rally.

Chicago, July 23.—A ninth inning rally by Chicago yesterday when they were almost beaten, turned the tables on Washington and the locals won, 6 to 5. With the score 5 to 3, in favor of the visitors, Collins doubled and scored on Fournier's double, Weaver was an easy out and Bodie, batting for Cicotte, drew a pass. Chappelle was purposely walked, filling the bases. Rath, who came up with two out and the bases filled, sent a long single to left, scoring Fournier with the tieing run, and also Mattick, who had run for Bodie, with the run which won.

Groom was touched for a total of eleven hits, but the fielding behind cut down the runs of the opposing team. The score:

R. H. E.
Washington .... 2 1 1 0 0 1 0 0 0—5 11 0
Chicago ..... 1 0 1 0 0 1 0 3 x—6 11 1

Batteries—Groom and Henry; Russell, Cicotte and Schalk. Umpires—Egan and Dineen.

Tigers Score Shutout.

Detroit, Mich., July 23.—The New York Americans could not hit George Dauss' delivery yesterday, and Detroit won again, 2 to 0. Twice the visitors had a man on third, but sharp fielding prevented a tally. Ford pitched fine ball in all except one inning, the seventh, when he was found for three singles, and a sacrifice hit. In this same period, he muffed a pop fly, but all this netted Detroit only one run. The Tigers' other tally grew out of Gainer's double and an error by Ford. The score:

Detroit ..... 0 0 0 0 1 0 1 0 x—2 7 1

Weston Nears End.

Wyeville, Wis., July 23.—Edward Payson Weston made twenty-three miles of his walk from New York city to Minneapolis yesterday, reaching here from Elroy at 6:40 o'clock last night. He is now within 182 miles of his destination.

DOOKS ARE EXPECTED TO TAKE A BIG BRACE

Winnipeg Comes Wednesday for Series and White Sox Should Take the Long End---New Players Are Coming.

Winnipeg, playing the best baseball the Maroons have shown the present season, comes tomorrow for a series of three, possibly four games.

If the work of yesterday is a lasting criterion, the White Sox have braced. It is hoped by the fans that the brace will last until the end of the season, for the Sox have a fighting chance to win the flag and a most excellent opportunity to beat out Minneapolis and Superior for second place.

Several new players are expected to join the team today. In the event that the Jackson club is willing to part with Elmer Smith for a cash consideration, the heavy-hitting rightfielder will be back in the game in the near future.

It is not at all certain that the schedule of the league will not end Aug. 24. Several of the club owners are opposed to the proposed extension of the schedule to Labor day, which comes Sept. 1.

President Blume of the Duluth Baseball association and Will Sommer of the Superior club are in favor of the holding over of the schedule until Labor day, at least, and these two magnates may succeed in lining up a sufficient number of votes to cause the extension.

Fans who have been disposed to knock during the slump of the team would do well to remember that the present members of the Duluth Baseball association have shown themselves more than willing to part with the coin of the realm to give the town the best team that can be obtained.

The wires have been kept hot for the past month in the effort to secure a catcher. A good round sum of money has also been spent in the effort to get two pitchers that have been recommended to the club. Baseball players are very hard to get at the present time, for it has not been the disinclination of the men behind the White Sox to spend money that has resulted in the failure to acquire one or two new men.

Willing to Pay for Players.

With about a month of the schedule to run, if the extension of the season does not carry by vote, the members of the board of directors of the club are at the present time spending money to get players and willing to spend more money in the effort to land any stars that can be secured.

Those behind baseball here are not in the game for the money. If the team breaks even in the financial sense these men will be very well satisfied. There has been no niggardly or small policy pursued, and at the present time the Dooks are one of the most expensive teams in the league.

It is believed that the Sox will be in the running for the remainder of the season. Steps are being taken to assure this end. At least there will be no quitting upon the part of those backing the team.

Duluth should brace with the remaining games on the home stand and it is believed that the long end of the series with the Peggers will be counted in favor of the Sox.

With the pitchers of the Canuck team going as they are at the present time the Maroons are one of the hardest propositions in the league to defeat. All of the games, if the Sox return to form, should be hard fought. There will in all probability be a double-header on the Sunday bill.

AMERICAN ASSN.

Allows Four Hits.

Kansas City, Mo., July 23.—Covington held Indianapolis to four hits and Kansas City shut out the visitors, 6 to 0. The locals put across their first run in the first inning when Walker rapped the ball into the left field bleachers for a home run. Five runs were added in the fifth. In that frame, with two out and the bases full, Walker doubled, scoring Moore and Williams. Livingston then tried to catch Roth off third, but the throw went wild and he scored. Baxter followed with an infield hit and Walker went in. Drake next up doubled to center, scoring Baxter. Score:

Kansas City ... 1 0 0 0 5 0 0 0 x—6 12 0

Batteries — Kaiserling, Harrington and Livingstone; Covington and Moore. Umpires—Johnstone and Handiboe.

Saints Finally Win.

St. Paul, Minn., July 23.—St. Paul defeated Columbus, 7 to 2, yesterday. Gardner shutting out the visitors until the final inning when a single by Benson, a triple by W. Hinchman and an infield out beaten them two runs. Davis proved no puzzle to the locals and he was relieved in the fourth by Eayers who stopped the hitting.

Because of showers early in the afternoon, only one of the two games scheduled was played. Score:

Columbus ..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2—2 7 2
St. Paul ..... 2 0 0 4 0 0 0 1 x—7 9 0

Batteries—Davis, Eayers and Smith; Gardner and James. Umpires—Murray and Connolly.

Batting Bee.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 23.—Baskette and Schlitzer were batted all over the field yesterday, and the home club ran off with a 12 to 0 victory. All but four of the home club's hits were for extra bases. Randall getting two triples and a double in five trips to the plate. Dougherty pitched a steady game and was especially strong with men on the bases. Score:

R. H. E.
Milwaukee .... 1 4 0 0 2 0 0 5 x—12 12 3
Toledo ..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 7 3

Batteries—Dougherty and Hughes; Baskette, Schlitzer and Land. Umpires—Irwin and Chill.

DOG TRAINING TIME IS NOT EXTENDED

Towner, N. D., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Professional dog trainers cannot work in this state earlier than Aug. 15. Representatives of the American Field Trial clubs took the matter up with the North Dakota Game and Fish board of control, hoping to get the lid raised at least sufficiently to permit dogs to be trained Aug. 1, but failed.

It was contended that it was not possible to condition and acclimate the dogs from Aug. 15 and have them in the best condition by Sept. 2. The members of the board sympathized with that position and were personally willing to permit the training to begin Aug. 1, but were bound by a rigid regulation of the game laws.

CLAY COURT TENNIS TOURNEY AT OMAHA

Omaha, Neb., July 23. — Rain last night did not seem to dampen the ardor of the players in the fourth National Clay Court tournament who were waiting early today for the sun and workers to put the courts in condition.

The fourth round in singles and the second in doubles were scheduled to be played today.

One of the interesting matches was that between H. H. Koch of Omaha and Drummond Jones of St. Louis. Koch is city champion. Jones is a familiar figure in Western tournaments.

The large gallery which has been present the past two days was today given the first opportunity to see some of the big men in action in doubles. Merrill Hall, holder with H. H. Mackett of the championship in doubles, was paired with F. H. Harris, holder of many Eastern titles.

Fighter Quits.

Boston, Mass., July 23.—Marcel Thomas, welterweight champion of France, was declared defeated by Mike Glover of South Boston in the fourth round of a bout here last night. After two minutes of fighting in the fourth round, Thomas dropped his hands and walked toward his corner.

GOLF STARS PLAY IN RAIN

Unfavorable Conditions for Second Round of Western Tournament.

Nine of Sixteen Survivors in Play Are From Chicago.

Chicago, July 23.—A drizzling rain was falling this morning when the sixteen survivors of the Western golf championship tournament started on the second round of match play over the Homewood course. Playing of the first few holes indicated there would be little of the quality of golf which brightened the tournament yesterday.

Western Champion Charles Evans, Jr., and Frank Welsh of Rockford, Ill., were the first to get away. They wore their rainproofs and found the going poor. The greens were soggy in the low stops and the putting greens, which have been lightning fast, were exceedingly slow, the change in extremes costing the players many strokes.

The first pair were followed by E. P. Allis, III, of Milwaukee, and J. N. McDonald of Wheaton, Ill. Allis' freak shot yesterday, when he made the first hole in one shot, has been the subject of much discussion. There are plenty of records of holes being made in one stroke, but it was the consensus of opinion among the competitors that the feat of the Wisconsin champion was a record for the country, the hole being at a distance of 306 yards.

H. Heyburn of Louisville and A. C. Perry of Chicago were the third pair away. R. A. Gardner of Hinsdale was matched with M. E. Phelps, Chicago. W. K. Wood of Homewood with J. Simpson of Galesburg. Frazer Hale of Chicago with C. B. Cory of Chicago, C. B. Devel of Chicago with H. W. Lockett of Chicago, and E. R. Morrison of Kansas City with J. C. Le Duc of Chicago.

The Gardner-Phelps match was expected to be the best attraction today and the largest gallery followed these two. The losers in the first round began the first round for the President's cup and the second round for the Vice President's cup was started.

Some of the best exhibitions of the present tournament came in the second eighteen holes of the qualifying round played yesterday. Honors rested with Chick Evans of the Edgewater club, who scored a marvelous 73 for a total of 151, giving him the gold medal score of the event. The champion was closely pushed by Mason Phelps, former title holder, who, playing in fine form, counted 153, and by Warren K. Wood, believed to be Evans' chief rival, with 152. Paul Hunter, ranked next with 156.

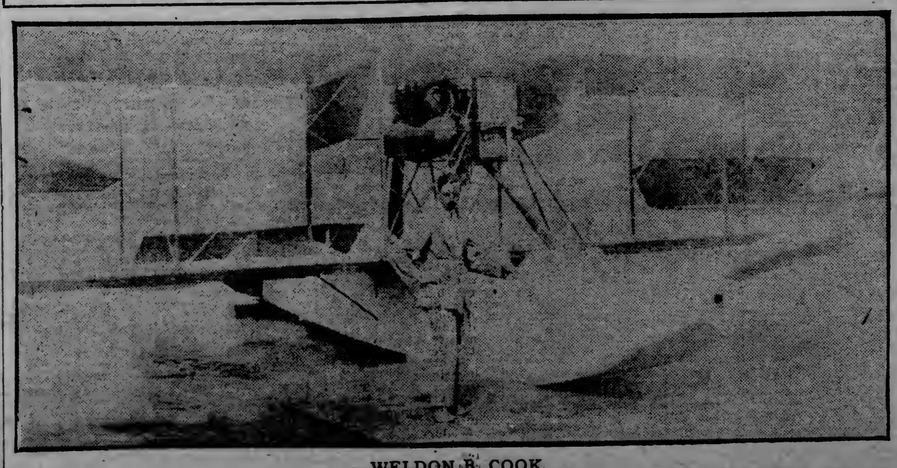

H. B. Lee, former Michigan champion, though handicapped by a boil on his neck, managed to break into the first match round, but there drew as opponent Warren K. Wood who, playing on his home course, easily disposed of the Detroit man, 6 and 5.

E. S. Armstrong expected to prove a strong contender, drew Phelps, and succumbed to the former champion after a hard struggle, 3 to 2.

WINS IN STRAIGHT HEATS AT BUFFALO

Buffalo, N. Y., July 23. — Straight heat racing marked the Grand Circuit races yesterday afternoon on the Fort Erie track. The only contest occurred in the Dominion of Canada stakes for 2:12 trotters. Tommy Horn carried away the first two heats, but in the final Peter McCormick, equal favorite with Tominy, crossed the wire with a scant lead. The track was a trifle

The surprise of the afternoon came in the opening event for 2:20 trotters, best 3 in 5 heats. Ed Geers' Bertha Carey won in straight heats. Bertha Carey sold as an outsider. Creosote, the Canadian gelding, ruled favorite, but the best he could do was second money, running second twice but dropped into third place in the third heat.

The 2:18 pace brought out Strethcorm and O'Brien Boy as the choices. Murphy had no trouble with the bay and won in straight heats, O'Brien Boy finishing second in each heat.

A GREAT MATCH IS PROMISED

Patrick and Leith Will Meet Legg and Dowd George.

One of the greatest golf matches ever been played in this section of the West has been scheduled for the Northland links on Saturday and Sunday.

R. S. Patrick, who with Harry Legg is classed as one of the greatest players of the Northwest, with Willie Leith, the great professional player of the Northland club, will pair against Harry Legg and Dowd George, the latter being the professional instructor of the Interlachen club of Minneapolis.

Recently in Minneapolis these four players paired in one of the greatest matches that has ever been played over any of the links of this state. All of the Minneapolis papers were ultra enthusiastic in their praises of some of the very clever work done by all of the stars.

Patrick and Leith won and lost on the links of the Interlachen club and they are filled with confidence in their ability to win both of the games scheduled for the links of the Northland club.

There has not been very much opportunity to see either Leith or Patrick play against two such stars as Legg and George. Patrick is ranked as one of the star amateurs of the Northwest, as his record in the state tournament will show, and Willie Leith is ranked today as one of the greatest professional players in the entire country.

Leith has never been beaten on the Northland links. It will remain to be seen whether George can lower the colors of this remarkable young performer, who seems this season to be coming into his own as one of the real professional golf stars of the United States.

During the present week the two Duluth players will be out on the links every day. The two contests are very important ones—games that will carry with them prestige and reputation, and it is believed that there will be a number of followers from the Twin Cities who will come expressly for the purpose of seeing this play, which should be about as classy as any games arranged for the West this season.

ST. PAUL YACHT WINS THE SERIES

St. Paul, Minn., July 23.—The yacht Nomad of the White Bear Yacht club, representing the United States, yesterday defeated the Verve, representing Canada and baring the colors of the Lake of the Woods Yacht club, Winnipeg, and retains the Cameron cup given by Lieutenant Governor D. C. Cameron of Manitoba.

The Nomad completed the 12-mile course in two hours and fifty-two minutes, finishing seven minutes and twenty seconds ahead of the Verve. A nine-mile wind swept the course.

Monday's victory and that of yesterday permitted the White Bear club to retain the cup and the third race will not be run.

BLENHEIM STABLES WILL BE SOLD

Baltimore, Md., July 23.—The Blenheim stables, owned by W. Wallace Lanahan and Walter R. Abell of this city and containing the famous Algoma, are to be broken up and the horses sold. The sale will take place at the Long Branch Horse show next week at which the animals will be exhibited.

Mr. Lanahan said yesterday the only reason for the sale of the stables is that neither he nor Mr. Abell can give their time to horse shows.

WARM WEATHER FOR TENNIS PLAY

Good Progress in Tournament on Longwood Courts at Boston.

Boston, Mass., July 23.—The elimination process in the tennis tournament at the Longwood courts reached the third and fourth rounds in the singles for the Longwood bowl and the third round in the Eastern doubles championship today.

Interest in the morning play centered in the singles match between W. M. Johnston of San Francisco and Gardner Beals of Boston. The players were favored with excellent weather, although the day was somewhat warmer than the two previous days.

William A. Larned and Beals C. Wright, both former national singles champions and partners of high standing a decade ago in tennis doubles, went into combination again yesterday and vanquished R. D. Little and T. R. Pell of New York in the best match of the second round of the annual tournament for the Eastern doubles championships. The scores were 7-5, 6-3, 5-7, 6-1.

The surprise match of the day was that in which Gustave F. Touchard and W. M. Washburn eliminated the former Princeton team of G. M. Church and Dean Mathey at 9-7, 6-3, 2-6, 10-8.

NEW SCHEDULE FOR THE SAILORS

At a meeting of the sailors at the main house of the boat club last evening, it was decided to change the sailing schedule for the next six Saturdays of the season, the change to take effect beginning with the coming Saturday.

The change will effect the 32, 22 and 18-foot class boats. The idea is to promote the sailors of the Toledo cat boats and thus make it possible for some of the younger fellows who have not sailed before during the present season to get into the game.

There was a large attendance at the meeting of last evening and a number of new men to the sailing game promised to get into the game.

Dr. Lyman's Feather and McRae's Zephyr will sail off a tie today.

FIRST DEATH FROM POLO IN ENGLAND

London, Eng., July 23.—Although polo is popularly regarded as a dangerous game to play, the first fatality in connection with the game here, since 1871, is recorded. Lieut. Harmon died Sunday from injuries suffered when his pony threw him in a match Thursday at Ranelagh.

OLD MAN ENTERS SWIMMING EVENT

Chicago, July 23.—The entry of John Rietz, 60 years old, was received yesterday for the Illinois Athletic club's sixth annual marathon swim over a three-mile course in the Chicago river to be held Aug. 16. This is the sixth time Rietz has entered this race and despite his age he has finished each time.

Put-in-Bay, Ohio, July 23.—Psammiad II, representing the Cleveland Yacht club, won the Class R. race, the feature of the opening day's program of the inter-lake yachting association's 1913 regatta yesterday.

Roque Play.

Chicago, July 23.—W. H. Lyman of Topeka, Kan., was twice defeated in the Western Roque championship tournament yesterday by L. H. Plummer and Joseph Kenneby, both of Chicago. H. S. Hanna won twice in the second division, defeating C. C. Kendall of Omaha, and N. Gerlach of Ambia, Ind. Kendall defeated G. H. Drummond in another second division match. A. F. Yeoman defeated E. E. Miller and M. Remschler in the third division.

Carr Signs Men.

Kansas City, Mo., July 23.—Pitchers Daniels and Younkman and Outfielder Hopper of the Paris league club of the Texas-Oklahoma league, have been signed by the local American association team, Manager Carr announced last night.

BIG CONVENTION COMING TO DULUTH

Independent Scandinavian Workmen's Association to Meet in July, 1914.

At the meeting of the executive committee of the Independent Scandinavian Workmen's Association of North America, which closed yesterday here, it was decided to hold the next convention of the grand lodge of the order in Duluth in July next year. The executive committee held a two-days' session at the Hotel Lenox, and the members closed their business yesterday, afterwards being taken about the city in autos. They expressed their pleasure over the scenic beauty of the city, and some of them said that they consider Duluth the most ideal city on the continent for summer conventions because of its climate. It is estimated that the meeting of the grand lodge will bring fully 5,000 visitors to Duluth next year.

The executive committee members were entertained by the members of the two lodges of the order in Duluth and by the lodge in Superior.

The financial secretary's report shows that the order has more than $100,000 in cash on hand, and it was ordered that $10,000 of this be invested in municipal bonds, making the holdings of the order $95,700. The officers attending the meeting were: P. J. Smith, president, Eau Claire, Wis.; Albert Nelson, chairman of directors, Eau Claire; directors, H. A. Johnson, Black River Falls, Wis.; Mrs. K. P. Sather, Minneapolis; Julius E. Baumann, Carlton, Minn., and Nels Myhre, Washburn, Wis.; and A. Mellsnes, Eau Claire, Wis., secretary to the executive committee.

McKERCHER SAYS WOMEN MEDDLED.

R. D. McKercher, humane agent, is not adverse to advice, but he would thank certain meddling women if they would let him run the affairs of the society according to his own notion of duty as agent.

The latest muddle he has had to straighten out is traced to two women who have been more or less prominent in the affairs of the society.

Yesterday they took it upon themselves to restore a child, which was being kept at the Children's Home, to its mother, an inmate of the municipal lodging house. The mother was formerly of the underworld.

The women were seized with the idea that it was not right to separate mother and child and notwithstanding the agent's disposition of the case united them again. At the Children's Home, they claimed to have authority from the society for their action.

Agent McKercher has separated the child from its mother and it will be returned to the Home.

MAN AGED 94 SAVES WIFE FROM FLAMES.

Iowa City, Iowa, July 23.—Charles Blow, aged 94 years, discovered his home on fire and his wife, aged 84, on the second floor, in peril. The aged man climbed the stairway, took his wife in his arms and, fighting his way through smoke and flames, bore her to safety. The blazing staircase fell in with a crash just as the old man left the bottom step.

THURSDAY WILL BE CIRCUS DAY IN DULUTH

ONE OF THE CLOWNS WITH THE BARNUM SHOW.

"Boys," who can still hark back to the old-time stunt with the water pail, and "girls," who in other days clung to their mothers in awe while bespangled performers flirted with death, can romp to the show grounds tomorrow and see the latest and best development of the circus ideas as carried out by the Barnum & Bailey show. The "boys" can take along their sons, and the "girls" their daughters and for three, happy glorious hours travel back over the road to yesterday. There is nothing like a circus. Its possibilities are illimitable. It provides enjoyment, clean-cut and refreshing.

Today the circus is showing in St. Paul and long before breakfast time in the morning the first trains will have arrived. Four trains of 85 cars are required for the circus simply will not stop growing.

Ever see a circus unload? Some years ago when the Barnum show was touring Europe, Prince Bismarck watched it detrain. Then he said to the kaiser:

"Hoch, Willie, I thought the German army had some discipline, but these guys can give us cards, spades and big casino and then win the pot without dealing from the bottom. Hadn't you better hire the boss and let him try to put a little system into the imperial cohorts?" That may be a liberal translation.

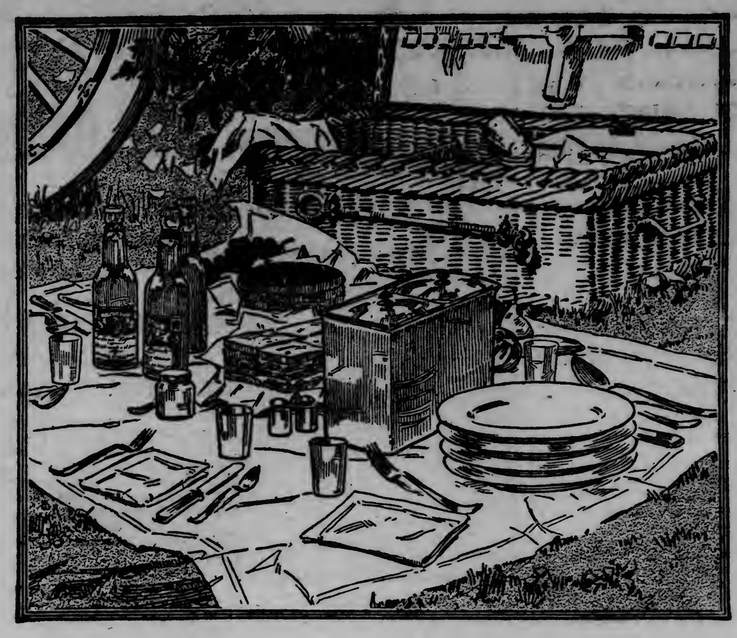

There will be a parade in the morning at 10 o'clock and it is promised to be a "whopper."

Two performances will be given at 2 and 8 p. m., doors being opened at 1 and 7 o'clock. Unusual features—new names, faces and "stunts" give this year's program distinction. The show starts with an elaborate spectacle entitled, "Cleopatra," thus doing away with the old-time grand entree. This wordless play of Cleopatra is given with a cast of over 1,000 people and a ballet of 100 dancing girls.

Three rings, two stages and a quarter-mile track are utilized. First comes the college-bred pachyderms with new surprises, including a ball game with all the appurtenances of the national sport. The riding corps is featured by May Wirth, an Australian miss of 18 years, who is hailed as the greatest rider of the day. Josefsson's "Glima" troupe of Icelandic wrestlers and the Mikado's troupe of wrestlers and jui jitsu experts are another novelty whose fierce, roaring, bustling combats make the spectator gasp.

But there are a hundred other marvels and the roster of the show comprises the very cream of the profession, including Lupeta Perea, daring trapezist—the Berne Brothers, Swiss strong men—the Siegrist—Silbons—Bird Millman, the "queen of the wire"—the Davenports—Bradna and Derrick—Stella Wirth—the Dekoes—the Les Jardy's—the Ducander's—Roland and Adriel—the Artist Model Horses—Maximo—Charles Siegrist and a host of other arenic celebrities.

There are fifty clowns and all funny. The zoo has been enlarged and offers many rare animals.

CARNEGIE "BOMB" IS CAN OF CHEESE

New York, July 23.—The mystery of a "bomb" sent to Andrew Carnegie Monday in care of the secretary of the Carnegie corporation, has been solved. It was a juicy cheese, enclosed in a smell-proof case of zinc—a Scotch cheese, according to an expert called into conference after the postoffice bureau had definitely determined that the bomb contained neither nitroglycerin, dynamite or other deadly explosives.

After deliberating nearly all the day yesterday on how to determine the contents of the bomb without causing an explosion that might injure somebody, officials of the bureau of combustibles took the "infernal machine" to a vacant lot. There, from a safe distance, while an immense crowd waited with fingers in their ears, expecting an awful report, an officer leveled a rifle at the "bomb" and perforated it with a bullet. A thick yellow substance oozed from the hole, and that was all that happened. Four more bullets were fired into the "bomb," and that was all that happened. Soon a pungent, self-explanatory odor became perceptible, and even the laymen present were able to recognize the true nature of the "bomb."

The cheese was returned to the Carnegie corporation resembling more the Swiss product than the Scotch.

MURDER SUGGESTED IN WOMAN'S STORY

Chicago, July 23.—Mrs. David Korshak, wife of David Korshak, under indictment for arson and a fugitive from justice, has made a confession before the grand jury investigating the "arson trust" that may bring a charge of murder into the case. Investigation will be made into the death of Leopold Dreyfuss, a wool merchant, who is supposed to have committed suicide at his home after having admitted that a fire at his place of business in 1911 was incendiary.

Dreyfuss named Korshak among others who, he said, conspired to set the fire. Dreyfuss' body was cold when found, and State's Attorney Hoyne said that investigation of his death might disclose that the man was killed by incendiaries to prevent him from testifying. Whether Mrs. Korshak's testimony was to that effect was not made public. Her testimony is expected to result in at least six additional indictments. Korshak is reported to be keeping a saloon in Canton, China.

CONVICTS DEFY DEATH AT FIRE

Ossining, N. Y., July 23.—Fire late Tuesday afternoon started in the matt shop at Sing Sing prison and quickly spread to the lumber, carriage and wagon departments and the ice houses. These buildings were destroyed, at an estimated loss of $150,000. About 200 convicts aided in preventing the flames from spreading to the prison proper. None attempted to escape. Several convicts, whose identity was not disclosed, entered the fire zone and rolled barrels of gasoline and benzine to a safe distance. The origin of the fire is unknown.

SEEKS CITIZENSHIP AND JOINS ARMY.

Chicago, July 23.—Dr. Otto Goldfield, who said he was a son of Jacob Goldfield, vice president of the corporation of the city of Hamburg, Germany, enlisted in the United States cavalry here yesterday. Dr. Goldfield also said that he was a graduate of the University of Goettingen, Germany. He also took out his first papers of naturalization. Dr. Goldfield said that he had squandered the fortune his father had given him. He is 25 years old and served four years as a German cavalry lieutenant.

Fight Fruit Pest.

Washington, July 23.—The United States public health service, with the co-operation of the agricultural department, is to prevent the threatened introduction of the Mediterranean fruit fly on the Pacific coast. Western states fear the approach of this scourge of fruit from Honolulu, where it made its appearance a few years ago. Sherman Allen, assistant secretary of the treasury, has taken up with the agricultural department the question of means of preventing an invasion.

Vote Machine Probe Begun.

Chicago, July 23.—Formal inquiry into the $1,000,000 voting machine contract for 1911 between the Chicago elect'on commissioners and the Empire Voting Machine company has been begun by the Butts legislative committee. Amos Miller of Hillsboro and Morris Emerson of Lincoln, members of the state voting machine commission, were the first witnesses.

Chemical Plant Burns.

Weymouth, Mass., July 23.—The main building of the American Agricultural Chemical company's plant at North Weymouth, and eleven cottages occupied by employes, were burned yesterday, the loss exceeding $500,000.

ON THE IRON RANGES

ELY WILL GET NEXT MEETING

That Is General Opinion at Opening of Firemen's Sport.

Annual Parade Marks Beginning of Tournament at Aurora.

Aurora, Minn., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The sixth annual meeting of the Mesaba Range Volunteer Firemen's association opened here this morning with the assurance of being the most successful tournament ever held by the association.

The Grand Rapids running team arrived last night and Ely, Proctor and Biwabik came in this morning. The village is swarming with firemen. The running track is in excellent shape and fast time is expected in all races. Many are predicting that the association records will all be smashed as the cash prizes have brought out the best men from every team.

Ely to Get Next Meeeting.

The Ely boosters are here in force and are making a strong bid for the next meeting of the association. This will be decided at a meeting to be held Friday but the odds are two to one on Ely landing the plum.

The big feature today was the parade in which several departments took part. The parade was a very successful affair. The departments having the most men in line, best appearance, etc., will win prizes, Aurora being barred. The association hose race is also a star event today. The programs for Thursday and Friday follow:

Thursday.

Combination hook and ladder and hose race—First, $30; second, $15; third, $10.

Flag race—First, $20; second, $15; third, $10.

Ladder climbing contest—First, $15; second, $10; third, $5.

Dummy race—First, $25; second, $15; third, $10.

Novelty hose race—First, $30; second, $15; third, $10.

Friday.

Hub and hub race—First, $30; second $15; third, $10.

Coupling contest—First, $15; second, $10; third, $5.

Firemen's footrace—First, $15; second, $10; third, $5.

Surface wet test—First, $25; second, $15; third, $10.

SECTION 30 ROW TO BE ADJUSTED

Expected That Payday Will Be Advanced and Men Return to Work.

Winton, Minn., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—There has been no trouble or anything pointing to violence at the Section 30 mine, where a number of men went out because they were not paid July 20 and will not get their pay until next Saturday. The men demand being paid every 10th of the month. They were not paid July 20 because that was Sunday and the payday was put over until July 26. Capt. A. A. Holter, who is in charge, is not making any statements but it is reported the men will be paid tomorrow, in which event it is expected all will return to work and the difficulty be ended.

It is also expected that hereafter the company will pay on the 10th of each month.

VIRGINIA FACES HEAVY EXPENSE

Building Storm Sewers to Carry Off Floods Will Prove Costly.

Virginia, Minn., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—It may cost Virginia $75,000 or $100,000 to provide means by which it may properly dispose of its sewage and guard against the trouble the city has had with basements flooding at the time of almost every heavy rain. City Engineer E. F. Johnson reported to the council last night, giving $75,000 as his approximate estimate of what the work required would cost. He recommends the lowering and widening of the creek beyond the outlet of the sewer, the building of a purification plant and the installation of a supplementary main to carry off the storm water more quickly.

During the torrential rain of Wednesday of last week, many basements were flooded and Morris J. Dower, barber in the Klink block, has filed a claim for damages of $750 for property and business loss, as his place is not yet in shape to occupy. The letter from R. J. Montague, attorney making the claim, was read to the council and referred to the city attorney.

To License Fortune Tellers.

The council gave first reading to an ordinance providing for the licensing of fortune tellers, clairvoyants, astrologists, shows, play games, concerts and theatrical performances. The price, $10 per day or $25 per week for fortune tellers and clairvoyants, is intended to be practically prohibitive. Circuses and carnivals will be required to pay $100 for the first day and $25 for each additional day. Gaines, concerts and such like will be charged $10 for the first day, with prices for longer periods graded down. Merry-go-rounds will be charged $10 per week and $25 per month.

Fines ranging from $5 to $50 for each offense are provided.

The city attorney gave notice of a requirement of the city charter that the conference committee, which is comprised of the president of the council and the heads of the various boards and committees of the city council, shall meet before the first of September each year and make estimates of what funds will be required for guidance in making the tax levy. The president of the council will set a date for the meeting. The council held a short session. The mayor was absent, being out of the city.

FRIEND'S ADVICE CAUSING TROUBLE

Eveleth Saloon Keeper Too Quickly Rushes to Court, Pleading Guilty.

Eveleth, Minn., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Going into court without an attorney on the gratuitous advice of a friend made a heap of trouble for Louis Baudek, proprietor of a saloon on Grant avenue.

Louis was arrested last week on a warrant charging him with selling liquor to a posted habitual drunkard. He pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs.

The story is a long one and the circumstances somewhat unusual, for the man really did not sell the posted man the liquor which was obtained in his place of business.

It appear that a few hours previous to the time the posted man obtained the liquor from the saloon operated under his license, Baudek had been forcibly ejected by Jacob Achon, who appears to be the real owner of the place, but who had the license taken out in Baudek's name because he (Achon) himself is not a citizen of the United States, and under the law cannot hold a license to sell intoxicating liquors in the state of Minnesota.

Not Running Saloon.

So it appears at the time it is alleged in the complaint that Baudek sold the liquor in question, he was not in the saloon, and in reality was not in control. Instead the saloon was in possession of Achon and his wife, and it was Achon's wife who sold the liquor unlawfully.

This fact it is claimed introduced into court would have raised a debatable question as to whether Baudek was really guilty of wrong-doing; but Baudek was ignorant of this and, being told by a friend that since the liquor was sold in his place and the evidence to that effect was strong, it would be better for him and would save him attorney's fee if he would go to the court and enter a plea of guilty, pay his fine and let that end it. This is what he did.

Then he was greatly surprised when Chief of Police Finnegan called on him and informed him that, owing to the fact that he had been found guilty on his own plea of violating the law his saloon license had become void and he must close his place and lose his license fee of $500 which was but recently paid in.

Then he concluded to take his troubles to an attorney and went to McGilvery & White. The attorneys informed him that he should not have pleaded guilty. That he really was innocent and would without doubt prove his innocence in court.

Mr. McGilvery secured an order from the court for a hearing on the petition to reopen the case for trial. Arguments for the reopening of the case were heard by Judge Moylan Tuesday afternoon. Attorney Boyle appeared for the state. The affidavit of the defendant setting forth the facts above related was read and Attorney McGilvery argued for the reopening. Attorney Boyle virtually granted the justice of the appeal and the judge ruled that while he hold a saloon man responsible for the acts of his assistants, the circumstances in this case warranted a retrial, and he so ordered, setting the case for Thursday afternoon, when Baudek will have a chance to prove his innocence.

$3.50 Recipe Free, For Weak Men.

Send Name and Address Today--You Can Have It Free and Be Strong and Vigorous.

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, failing memory and lame back, brought on by excesses, that has cured so many worn and nervous men right in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his health, quickly and quietly should have a copy. So I have determined to send a copy of the prescription free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope to any man who will write me for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men and I am convinced it is the surest-acting combination ever put together.

I think I owe it to my fellow man to send them a copy in confidence so that any man anywhere who is weak and discouraged with repeated failures may stop drugging himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what I believe is the quickest-acting restorative, upbuilding, SPOT-TOUCHING remedy ever devised, and so cure himself at home quietly and quickly. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, 4671 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid recipe in a plain ordinary envelope free of charge. A great many doctors would charge $3.00 to $5.00 for merely writing out a prescription like this—but I send it entirely free.

EVELETH MAYOR HAS CLASH WITH EDITOR

JACOB SAARI.

Eveleth, Minn., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mayor Jacob Saari and Editor Pfremmer of the News were pulled apart in the News office today by Ed Helps and George Perham after an exchange of blows. The mayor took exceptions to a story written by Mr. Pfremmer about the fight being made on saloon law violation and invading Mr. Pfremmer's office denied the charge. Mr. Pfremmer said he could prove it. Saari who is larger, made a a lunge at the editor and in the exchange of blows struck twice. Messrs. Helps and Perham stepped the trouble before either combatant sustained any injury. Up to a late hour no warrant had been issued, and Mr. Pfremmer said he did not contemplate such action.

GOING AFTER THEO. OAKMAN

Eveleth Committee Claims Saloon Man Should Forfeit His License.

Waits Upon City Council and Urges Revoking That Privilege.

Eveleth, Minn., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—A petition signed by a number of citizens was presented to the council last night for the purpose of having the license of Theo. Oakman, a saloonkeeper, revoked on the ground of running a disorderly house and one of ill-fame in connection with his saloon:

The petition follows:

"Gentlemen: We, the undersigned citizens of Eveleth, do respectfully petition you to summon Theo. Oakman before the city council and have him show cause why his license to run a saloon at 101 Grant avenue should not be immediately revoked.

"We believe that said license should be revoked on the following grounds:

"First and chiefly because the general reputation of Mr. Oakman's place has become and is notorious.

"And second, on the night of Wednesday, July 16, 1913, said place of Theo. Oakman was raided by Chief of Police Thomas Finnegan, and Nick Constantine and a woman were arrested there and held on a statutory charge. The municipal court record shows that Nick Constantine pleaded guilty to said charge and paid the imposed fine and costs. The woman was discharged. We are reliably informed that the woman had engaged a room at said Oakman's place and that Nick Constantine had been with her there for more than a week prior to the raid.

"We believe that said Theo. Oakman should also be held responsible inasmuch as said Nick Constantine has been a resident of Eveleth for a number of years and is known to be a married man with a wife and four children living.

"We believe that this is sufficient evidence that said Theo. Oakman has been running a disorderly house in connection with his saloon; and that common decency and the moral good of the community demand that the license of such place should be immediately revoked. We therefore petition you to investigate the matter and take such action as you deem best for moral interests of the community."

The petition was signed by a large number of representative citizens of Eveleth and Rev. P. A. Schaarws was present and spoke in its behalf. The members of the council seemed disposed to consider the same and take some action about it, but as some of them questioned the council's jurisdiction in the matter Attorney James P. Boyle was called upon for an opinion. He quoted chapter 16, section 1524, revised laws 1905:

"Bond—He shall also file with such officer a bond to the state in the penal sum of $2,000, to be approved by the board or council granting the license, conditioned that he will not sell or otherwise dispose of any intoxicating liquors in any place other than the room named in the license, nor on Sunday, nor on any general or special election day, nor at any time when the sale of such liquor is forbidden by law, nor to any person to whom such sale is forbidden; that he will keep a quiet and orderly place, and not permit gambling with cards or other means or devices for money or its representative, or other thing of value, in such house or place of business; and that he will not allow the place for which he is licensed, nor any room in the same or an adjoining building directly or indirectly under his control, to be used as a resort for prostitutes or other disorderly persons."

Mr. Boyle held that according to this statute the council had the right to start revocation proceedings. The council then requested him to prepare a written statement as to his interpretation of the statute quoted at the next regular meeting.

Louis Baudek, another saloonkeeper's case, also was discussed before the council and at the next meeting he will likely be asked to show cause why his license should not be revoked. The charge against Baudek is that of selling liquor to Dr. Denton, a "posted" man.

To Pave Adams Avenue.

The city engineer was instructed to furnish plans and specifications with estimate of probable cost of paving Adams avenue and report at the next meeting. A motion was made and seconded that the proposition of Mr. Burch to furnish plans and specifications to furnish the city with water be accepted and Mr. Burch will be notified to appear at the next regular meeting. The storm sewer proposition was discussed at great length and the committee on parks and sewers were instructed to confer with the city engineer and make a report at the next meeting.

The matter of building a public market was discussed and final steps on this proposition will no doubt be perfected at the next regular meeting. A number of minor subjects were also acted upon by the council.

To Work Night and Day.

Virginia, Minn., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—In order to hasten the construction work on the First National bank building electric arc lights will be used. Two and perhaps three shifts of men will be employed. The new building is greatly needed as the bank is transacting business in a shack on the street in front of the new building site while the new home is being constructed. The bank building will be the largest and finest office building on the range.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

FAIR

This is the kind of weather that is an asset to Duluth. All ye loyal Duluthians rejoice! The tourists are happy and many of them wish they could stay right on to enjoy Duluth's delightful climate for evermore. Fair and cool weather is predicted for tonight and tomorrow.

Cold, damp weather prevailed a year ago today.

The sun rose this morning at 4.37 and it will set at 7:52 this evening, giving fifteen hours and fifteen minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Temperatures in the nineties prevailed Tuesday in British Columbia, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Arizona, Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Missouri, Kentucky, Louisiana and Florida. The barometric depressions centered over Lake Superior, Oregon and Mexico caused showers Friday or last night over the Upper Lake region, upper Mississippi and Middle Missouri valleys, the Rocky Mountains, Nevada, California, and Gulf states. Indications favor fine weather at the Head of the Lakes during the ensuing thirty-six hours."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, July 23.—Forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Thursday:

Upper Michigan—Fair tonight and Thursday; slightly cooler tonight in east portion.

Wisconsin and Iowa—Generally fair tonight and Thursday; cooler tonight.

Minnesota—Fair tonight and Thursday; cooler in east portion tonight.

North Dakota, South Dakota and Montana—Fair tonight and Thursday; not much change in temperature.

Upper Lakes—Moderate westerly winds. Fair weather tonight and Thursday; slightly cooler tonight.

Hearing in Hibbing Robbery to Come Up Next Saturday.

Hibbing, Minn., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The hearing of the charge of robbery preferred against Herman Herbert arrested in connection with Delahaunte on the charge of being implicated in the robbery of Godfrey's store will come up next Saturday. The hearing was postponed today when called before Judge Brady as Herbert had engaged Attorney McMahon and proposed to put up a fight.

Delahaunte, who was shot twice by the Chisholm chief while trying to escape after the arrest at a roadhouse between here and Chisholm is doing nicely at the Rood hospital and no serious result from his injury is expected.

TOOK OFFICER'S CLUB.

Also Beat Him, Is Charge Against Pair Arrested in Crosby.

Virginia, Minn., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Nick Banovich and George Dancul wanted for attacking Officer Louis Larson, on duty on the North side, beating him with his own policeman's club and making their getaway taking along the club and the officer's cap, leaving him with his uniform badly torn and soiled have been arrested at Crosby. The men are also believed to be the same who attacked Officer Frank Rickel while he was on duty on the North side in the district which has given the police a lot of trouble. They will be brought here this evening. It is expected they will be prosecuted charged with an assault and also with theft, having taken the officer's club and cap.

DISMISSAL NOTICES FILED IN LAWSUIT

Virginia, Minn., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Notices of dismissal have been filed in the district court in lien cases against Edward Williamson and Frank Salmi as co-partners, the plaintiffs being Emil Lund, John Pelto, Matt Laurich and Alex Pelto. The plaintiffs were employed by and sold lagging to the defendants for use in the Larkin mine and some other properties of the New York State Steel company, which went into the hands of a receiver and which has gone out of business on the range. Payment was delayed by the contractors on the ground that they had not been paid and the lien was placed.

TWO HARBORS MAN IS FOUND GUILTY

Alleged to Have Sold Liquor Sunday and Will Take an Appeal.

Two Harbors, Minn., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—William Cooke, a local saloon keeper, who was arrested July 18 when Mayor Towl led police in a raid of several places was tried in municipal court yesterday on a charge of selling liquor on Sunday. He was found guilty. He announced he would appeal to the district court.

BODY BEING HELD.

Koochiching County Authorities Prevent Burial of Ranier Man.

International Falls, Minn., July 23.—Although funeral services were held from the Catholic church yesterday morning for F. J. Couture, the Ranier hotel keeper, alleged to have been beaten to death by Ed Kelly and others including Mayor Eck of that town, the body was not buried as the Koochiching county's authorities would not permit it, wishing to keep the corpse a few days that further examination may be made to secure evidence to be used in the trial of Kelly and Ek who are bothe accused.

County Attorney Jevne will be assisted in the prosecution of Kelly and Ek by Senator Peterson of Moorhead, while Kane & Palmer and ex-Judge Spooner of Bemidji will look after the interests of the defendants.

NORTH DAKOTA TO CELEBRATE

Twenty-fifth Anniversary of Statehood to Be Observed Next Year.

Fargo, N. D., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—North Dakota's twenty-fifth anniversary of statehood is to be appropriately celebrated by Fargo next year. It became a state in 1889. The enabling act by congress was in February, the constitutional convention assembled July 4, and the state was actually admitted on proclamation by President Harrison in November.

As neither February nor November present the most suitable dates for a monster celebration in this state, it has been decided to hold the big silver anniversary function in July of 1914.

An attempt will be made to show North Dakota's development from agricultural, commercial, financial, civic, social and religious standpoints.

State's Biggest Celebration.

It is planned to make the celebration the largest of its kind ever attempted in the state.

Speakers of national reputation will be present and it is proposed to have a representation of the old constitutional convention with the seats arranged just as they were twenty-five years ago and those occupied by members now deceased draped in mourning, while the others will be occupied by the survivors.

WOMAN LIKES HIKING.

Ohio Matron Tramping Around World With Husband Reaches La Crosse.

La Crosse, Wis., July 23.—Garbed in the khaki uniform of a Boy Scout, her face a wholesome tan from exposure to the elements, pretty 22-year-old Mrs. Lee Earl of Toledo, Ohio, accompanied by her husband, yesterday arrived in La Crosse on her walking trip around the world.

The couple, armed with credentials signed by Mayor Brand Whitlock of Toledo and prominent Indiana officials, left home on April 17. The trip, says Mrs. Earl, is for her health, which for years has been bad, as well as the novelty of seeing sights from the country roads. They expect to consume three and one-half years on the journey.

The trip has worked wonders for her health, avers Mrs. Earl, and with the exception of a slight attack of rheumatism and neuralgia, the result of being caught in the heavy rains that swept this state recently, she is in perfect health.

Cut During Row at Cass Lake and It Is Feared He May Die.

Cass Lake, Minn., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Arthur Collins, giving home address as 126 McDonald street, Oconto, Wis., was taken to the hospital at Walker this morning suffering from knife wounds received in a stabbing affray here last evening.

Collins was disputing with Peter Lopret and Louis Green when it is stated, Collins struck Green on the nose with such force as to break it, after which Collins walked away and was followed by Lopret, who it is stated struck Collins heavy blows in the back and ribs and believed that the cutting was done at this time. Collins received four cuts about the body, one of which is considered dangerous. His condition this morning is critical.

Lopret is in jail and Green is being held as witness. County Attorney Edward L. Rogers is expected from Walker this noon when a hearing will be held.

GRAND JURY WILL PROBE

Special Body of Inquisitors Called to Investigate Ranier Killing.

Coroner's Jury Finds Couture's Death Resulted From Fight.

International Falls, Minn., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—A special grand jury called by Judge McClenahan tomorrow will probe the death of Fred J. Couture in a local hospital last Saturday as the result of injuries he sustained the week previously when, it is alleged, he was set upon by a party of Ranier people led by one Edward Kelly and including Mayor Ek of Ranier, and assaulted for giving testimony before the regular grand jury here as to alleged law breaking at Ranier.

Kelly is in custody while Mayor Ek is under bonds as an accessory.

The coroner's jury held Monday after hearing some evidence, found that Couture's death resulted from injuries sustained during a struggle with Kelly.

What Witnesses Saw.

Scott Couture, the 12-year-old son of the dead man told the jury he was in the dining room of his father's hotel on the evening of July 12 when it is alleged a committee "waited" on Coutuer and called him to account for giving testimony as to alleged law breaking in Ranier. The boy said Kelly came in and called for Couture and the latter followed him outside where a fight resulted. Couture was thrown to the walk and Kelly landed on top of him. Frank Haney, who was in the front of the hotel, rushed out and pulled Kelly off of Couture. Then Harold Clark stepped up to Haney and asked him in a threatening manner what he was buting in for.

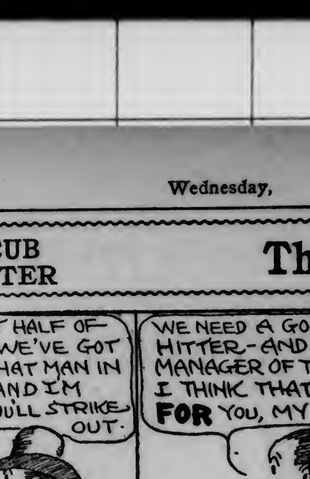

Couture started toward the rear of the hotel along the outside. Kelly then broke away and started after Couture, overtaking him before the latter reached the rear of the building and again attacked him. Kelly was once more pulled off. Couture then entered the house in the rear and walked to the front door, remarking to his wife that Kelly tried to hit him in the face but "I prevented that but I got a bad wrench in my back."

Threatened by Mayor.

While standing in the front door Mayor Ed Ek told him he was a dirty rat and had been driven out of two towns and he would put him out of Ranier if he had to carry him out. Couture told Ek he was drunk and had better go home. No more fighting was indulged in and Couture retired for the night. Next morning he arose and ate a light breakfast but returned to his bed. At noon he sat up in bed but could not eat. About 4 o'clock he was removed to a local hospital where he grew steadily worse until his death last Saturday.

Frank Haney, Mrs. Couture, W. E. Hitchcock all testified substantially to this effect.

NEW POSTMASTER IS ON CROOKSTON JOB

CHARLES L. SKOUG.

SINKING FINE SHAFT.

Duluthians Putting Presque Isle Property Into Good Shape.

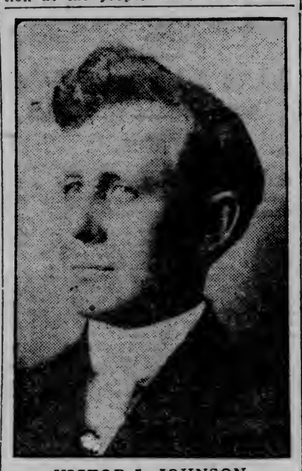

Bessemer, Mich., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mine Inspector Peter Becker has just returned from Presque Isle mine, six miles north of Marenisco which is operated by a Duluth company. A shaft is being sunk and has already reached a depth of 250 feet. It has a three compartment shaft 6 by 16 feet and is sunk through solid rock. A crosscut is being driven north 600 feet at the 250-foot level. The work at this mine is being done by two boilers, a hoist and an air compresser. The work is under the supervision of Capt. Barnaby of Ironwood. Mr. Becker thinks this shaft one of the best in Gogebic county.

SENATOR JOHNSON OUT FOR CONGRESS

Center City State Senator Would Represent New Tenth District.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 23.—Senator Victor L. Johnson of Center City announced his candidacy for congress in the new Tenth district while in Minneapolis yesterday. He has James Manahan, congressman-at-large, for his prospective opponent, Mr. Manahan having recently moved to Spring Park, Lake Minnetonka, to be in the new district. Senator W. S. Dwinnell of Minneapolis also may get into the race.

"The movement to make me a candidate for congress started without my knowledge," said Senator Johnson, "and I found it in progress when I got home from the session of the legislature. Since that time I have been looking the situation over somewhat, and I have decided that I will file for the nomination at the proper time. I have not done any campaigning yet, but I have been around the district quite a bit, and I have found the outlook favorable for my nomination."

The new district includes the counties of Wright, Anoka, Isanti, Chisago, Kanabec, Mille Lacs and Pine, also Hennepin county outside the city of Minneapolis, and the Third, Fourth and Tenth wards of Minneapolis.

Senator Johnson is a native of Minnesota, 42 years old, and a graduate of the law department, University of Minnesota. He has served eight years in the state senate.

GOING AFTER IDLERS.

Minneapolis Police Will Assist Unemployed in Getting Jobs.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 23.—Minneapolis policemen are to act as free employment agents, Mayor Wallace G. Nye having issued orders instructing policemen, beginning today to assist idle men in finding work.

Refusal on the part of the men to take work, if they do not have a visible means of support, will bring upon their heads a charge of vagrancy. Mayor Nye divides the present idle forces in Minneapolis in three classes, about 500 men earnestly looking for work, an equal number seeking to avoid work, and a few "preaching idleness as a profession." He declares that there are plenty of jobs offered to furnish more than double of the present force of idle men with work, and a little effort on the part of the policemen will place all in the way of securing a means of supporting themselves.

LOTTERY DECIDES LENGTH OF TERM

McClusky, N. D., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Chairman Albrecht drew the short term and Messrs. Bittz and Bickley the long terms in the lottery over the length of term. This drawing was under a special law enacted at the last session of the legislature for the benefit of Sheridan county, the terms of all the three members of the commission running simultaneously. It was done to make the body continuous. Some people claim that, being a special law for this county, the measure is unconstitutional.

On Soldiers' Home Board.

St. Paul, Minn., July 23.—Governor Eberhart has appointer Max Hoefer of St. Peter as a member of the Soldiers' home board, to succeed A. L. Sackett of St. Peter, who died recently.

Richard O'Brien of St. Paul, a member of the Spanish war veterans, whose appointment was announced Monday, succeeds C. C. Whitney of Marshall, who recently died.

PICK DULUTHIANS.

Three Zenith City Spanish-American War Veterans Honored.

St. Paul, Minn., July 23.—Samuel Skoog of St. Paul was elected department commander at the closing session last night of the Minnesota United Spanish war veterans' annual convention. George Sherman, Duluth, and C. E. Bradley, Minneapolis, were elected senior vice and junior vice department commander respectively, and Hallam Palmer, Winona, was named department chaplain.

Other officers are: Department surgeon, Dr. F. French, Duluth; department judge, H. A. Rudisoll, commander of Gen. Arthur McArthur Camp No. 2, Minneapolis; department inspector, Gus Koschell, Winona; department marshal, G. Hutchins, Duluth; department adjutant, Lucas Clement, St. Paul; department quartermaster, W. A. Curtis, St. Paul.

Women's Auxiliary.

A permanent organization of the women's auxiliary of the United Spanish war veterans was formed, following the closing session of the encampment. It was in substitution for the provisional department, and is to be known as the United Spanish War Veterans' Women's auxiliary. Officers elected are the following:

President, Mrs. Hilda Drake; senior vice president, Mrs. W. Anderson, St. Paul; junior vice president, Mrs. J. Pohlman, Winona, Minn.; chaplain, Mrs. Mary Gibson, Duluth; secretary, Mrs. Emily Kent; treasurer, Miss Edith Patton, St. Paul; judge advocate, Mrs. E. C. Cedarstrom, Minneapolis; inspector, Mrs. Dora Brant.

MILL CITY ROBBERIES.

Two Bold Affairs Pulled Off, One in Heart of City.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 23.—Safeblowers entered the store of W. H. Jacobson, located only two feet from the lobby of a downtown hotel, early Tuesday, broke open the safe and escaped with its contents, about $300. Jacobson told the police that he believed the robbers entered the store from the hotel.

Undaunted by the presence of the proprietor and a score of customers, burglars entered the grocery store of Frank Powell in daylight Tuesday and took away provisions worth $50.

FOR EMPLOYES' BENEFIT.

Calumet & Hecla Plans Clubhouses and Other Conveniences.

Calumet, Mich., July 23.—Plans decided upon several months ago by the Calumet & Hecla Mining company and subsidiary companies to develop the social side of community life among the employes will be carried out.

Clubhouses will be erected at each of the larger subsidiary mines exclusively for the use of the men. They will be equipped with reading rooms, smoking rooms, card rooms, bowling alleys, pool and billiard tables and other conveniences. These clubrooms will be managed by the men, admittance being obtained for a very small fee.

The directors of the Ahmeek company have already authorized an appropriation for such a club, as was mentioned some time ago, and others will be established to serve the Isle Royale and Superior miners, Centennial, Osceola and Tamarack and Calumet workmen.

Athletics of all kinds will be promoted to the fullest possible extent, the Calumet & Hecla Baseball league, with its free games being a step in this direction.

The company has already started work on a $200,000 hospital building which will be one of the finest in the state.

Upon the completion of this institution, it is planned to organize a corps of visiting nurses and domestic science experts, who will visit the homes of workmen and offer suggestions where it is deemed wise and where help is needed.

WAS BORN IN CLOQUET.

Aged Native of Minnesota Town Is Buried in Copper Country.

Hancock, Mich., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Mrs. Mary Picard, aged 67, a native of Cloquet, Minn., who came to the Copper country many years ago with her parents and who died Saturday, was held Monday from St. Joseph's church. She is survived by five sons, Joseph of Houghton, Alexander, Henry, Emery and Antoine of Lake Linden, and one daughter, Mrs. Frank Bourette.

LATE CONVICT TO RETURN TO EUROPE.

Stillwater, Minn., July 23.—"I am going back to my family and will be good."

So said Napoleon Kosko, who was released from the state prison here yesterday, at the end of a two years' term on the charge of assault in Chisago county. Since he has been in the prison here he has earned sufficient money to pay the fare to his home at Flora, Macedonia.

OSHKOSH MAY HAVE WOMAN POLICEMAN.

Oshkosh, Wis., July 23.—There is some probability that within a short time Oshkosh will join the ranks of other progressive American cities by having a woman added to the police force, the suffragettes of the city having filed a petition asking that a woman be appointed to handle juvenile court cases, public dances and bathing beaches.

Philanthropist Operated On.

Rochester, Minn., July 23.—B. P. Weggener, the philanthropist of Atchison, Kan., submitted to an operation here Tuesday for the removal of a growth on the lip. The operation which was the third Mr. Weggener has undergone, was considered a very delicate one.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Ashland—The twenty-sixth annual opening of Camp Stella, Sand island, will take place Thursday. Camp Stella is the oldest continuous private summer camp on Lake Superior. It was formed by Samuel Fifield, former lieutenant governor, twenty-five years ago and has been a success. This year's camp will be the largest in its history. Mrs. John Nelson of this city will be matron.

Fond du Lac—Peter Keifenheim, a farmer, died here Tuesday from injuries received when he fell on a pitchfork in descending from a hay mow three days previously.

Milwaukee—While cutting grain on the farm of the county insane asylum at Wauwatosa Monday, Edward Brown, a farm hand, discovered the decomposed body of Fred Hartman, aged 45, who had been missing from the asylum since June 26. It is thought he died from exposure shortly after escaping. He is survived by a sister in Hartford, Wis.

Fond du Lac—Marian Potthoff, aged 19, daughter of Prof. E. W. Potthoff of the St. Louis university, her two brothers and Donald Thayer, narrowly escaped drowning in Green lake when their yacht capsized. Miss Potthoff was saved by Rev. B. Talbot Rogers, warden of Grafton hall. The others saved themselves.

Darlington—A band of gypsies telling fortunes in Belmont accosted Lewis Caughey, a retired merchant, who had a wallet containing $165 in his pocket. Later he missed the money. The gypsies escaped over the state line.

Milwaukee—On July 1 there were 46,312 telephone subscribers in Milwaukee. This new figure shows an increase of 2,400 instruments in the city since the first of the year. The estimated increase for the whole year is 5,000 to 6,000 telephones.

Madison—Thousands of dollars damage by high water in the Madison lakes is feared by property owners. Excessive rains and interference with the flowage by floating bogs and roots in the Yahara river are blamed for this condition. The water is up to four feet above its usual level.

Oshkosh—John J. Moore, aged 91, one of the leading pioneer residents of Oshkosh, died suddenly Sunday morning.

Milwaukee—Seated in a chair in his room, aged William Beyer, 71 years old, committed suicide by cutting a deep incision in an artery in his left leg. The man made no outcry and slowly bled to death.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Washburn, N. D.—Washburn is to have a school building to cost $18,000. The plans have been submitted and the structure is to be ready for occupancy in August, 1914.

Garrison, N. D.—Garrison is to have a flour mill and it will be operated by C. H. Yeager, who has bought five lots for the site in the southern part of the village, and the machinery has been ordered.

Fargo, N. D.—Secretary Hardy of the Commercial club says that all arrangements have been completed for the reception here of the National Chamber of Commerce members who will arrive Thursday afternoon over the Northern Pacific road.

Bismarck, N. D.—The following patents were issued to North Dakota inventors during the past week: John Harbeck, music stand; John Johnson, music leaf turner, and Frank Reitmeir, Bowdoin, detachable blind for bridles.

Kimball, S. D.—Asserting her husband's nephew made some slanderous remarks about her, Mrs. Cal Graham shot Walter Graham down with a .22 caliber revolver. The man may recover.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Calumet—At the annual district convention of the National Temperance association held here officers were elected as follows: President, Carl Condland, Calumet; vice president, Ingerbred Nordtonne, Ishpeming; secretary, H. O. Hagen, Calumet; treasurer, Miss Clara Olson, Ishpeming.

Hancock—The funeral of Richard Carroll, pioneer of Ripley, who died Sunday, aged 87, will be held Wednesday. Besides the widow the following sons and daughters survive: Philip, James, Michael and Richard, members of the firm of Carroll Brothers of Houghton, the Misses Johanna and Catherine at home and Mrs. J. H. Dufresne of Fort Worth, Tex.

Houghton—Frank Rheault, aged 38 years, died Sunday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Joseph Picard of West Houghton. Death was due to the results of an operation for appendicitis.

Ishpeming—Mr. Holmberg of this city, and Al Rogers, formerly of Ishpeming, are prominently identified with the mining work being started in Alpha, a newly founded city in Iron county.

Hancock—The Copper Country chautauqua closed at Electric park on Saturday night with an entertainment by Robert O. Bowman, a prominent character impersonator, who pleased a large audience.

Calumet — Charles Flemming of Quincy suffered from the great loss of blood when he cut an artery in his arm with a large knife. Mr. Flemming was trimming a piece of moulding, when the knife slipped and severed an artery, a doctor had to be called.

Escanaba—The first annual convention of the Upper Peninsula Odd Fellows league will be held here Labor day. This will be the largest and most important gathering of Upper Peninsular Odd Fellows that has ever been held, and it is expected that there will be a large attendance.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

East Grand Forks—The Cummings school district Saturday voted to affiliate with the East Grand Forks high school as far as the teaching of the manual training subjects are concerned. This is the second district to thus affiliate, the Ryan school having joined with the school some time ago. Mallory will vote on the proposition on Wednesday, July 30.

Stillwater—Axel E. Sundborg, aged 60, had his left hand torn off at the wrist at the feed mill of the Stillwater Equity market July 21. He was taken to the city hospital in the patrol wagon, and two surgeons were summoned to remove the dangling fibers and dress the wrist.

Owatonna—L. I. Henry, station agent for the Rock Island railway at Hope station, about six miles south of this city, who was convicted of assault in the second degree at the June term of the district court here, has forfeited his bail bond of $100 and left.

Moorhead—The pump at the 10-inch artesian well on First avenue north has been installed, and as soon as the pump house has been erected the motor will be put in and connected up and the water from the artesian well will be pumped into the city mains at the rate of 150,000 gallons per day.

Spooner—Judge Stanton was the guest of honor at a banquet given by a number of Spooner citizens at the Queen River Friday night. About thirty were present, and the evening was very pleasantly spent.

Crookston—Josie Reynolds, colored, charged with maintaining a resort, was found guilty by Judge Gossman and sentenced to sixty days in jail. The two transients found in the place were given an option of a $25 fine or thirty days in jail, and paid the coin. Peter Stensrud was convicted of capping for a gambling game and paid a fine of $12.50.

Winona—Falling twenty-five feet through the second story to the concrete floor of a barn of his uncle, Charles Krenzke, five miles from Lewiston, Sunday, the 8-year-old son of Charles Krenzke of Eyota received fatal injuries. His skull is fractured and there is little hope for recovery.

Walker—There has been quite an amount of work done lately on the road from Walker to Cyphers, known as the Shingobee road. The bridges across the Shingobee river have been recovered, brush along the sides has been cut down, and the road has been bettered in many other ways.

Brainerd—Kelly & Williams, architects, of Duluth, have completed plans for a seven-room cottage for W. A. Barrows, to be constructed at Gull lake.

St. Cloud—Ferdinand Peters of Cold Spring has applied for a charter for the First State bank of Oak Park, with a capital of $10,000. The officers will be: President, Ferdinand Peters; vice president, M. Peters; Cashier, Frank Pallanch. The bank will be in operation in about thirty days.

Paynesville—Supt. of Schools W. A. Boerger sent 146 applications for special state aid to the state department. Of these applications seven are semi-graded schools, having more than one teacher, but no special grades. Each of these receives $300.

Albert Lea—The body of Fred Urfer, a farmer residing nine miles southwest of this city, was found back of his home last Saturday. He had been dead several hours. A revolver was found near the body with a bullet in his head, and it is believed he ended his own life. Urfer was married.

Winona—Joseph C. McCool, 60 years old, while chopping a tree on the boulevard near his home Monday evening, was stricken with apoplexy and fell dead. For years he had been foreman of the cars for the St. Paul road here, and was widely known among railroad men.

Makes Blotchy Skin Free of All Blemish

The Most Obstinate Skin Afflictions and Eruptions from Poisoned Blood Are Completely Cured Quickly.

This Picture Plainly Shows the Wonderful Change Wrought by S. S. S.

It is certainly remarkable how quickly the action of S. S. S., the famous blood purifier, shows itself in the skin. There is one ingredient in S. S. S. which peculiarly stimulates cellular or glandular activity to select from the blood, or from the fine net work of blood vessels in the skin, those elements which it requires for regeneration.

Thus pimples, acne, eczema, lupus, or any other blood condition that attacks the skin or seeks an outlet through the skin is met with the antidotal effect of S. S. S.

This is why skin troubles vanish so readily and why they do not return.

Under the influence of S. S. S. this fine net work of blood vessels in the skin is constantly selecting from the blood the nutrition required for healthy tissue and the cause of disease is just as constantly being removed, scattered and rendered harmless.

It is a great mistake to rely upon cathartics to cure pimples or other facial eruptions. Not only do cathartics cause chronic constipation, but they thin the blood of its valuable and essential preservatives.

Acne, or that condition of the skin known as pimples, often becomes so persistent that it will continue to old age if not checked by determined methods. And the same with blackheads. A knowledge of the skin and why it becomes the abiding place of so many eruptive conditions will show how futile it is to squeeze pimples or blackheads or put a coating over the skin with grease, powders or other external applications. To clear your skin and to make it stay so requires a stimulating influence in the corium, or the fine net work of tiny blood vessels below the outer and inner layers of skin.

You will be surprised and delighted at the quick change if you use S. S. S., the famous blood purifier. Its action in the skin is quite sensational. These facts are more fully explained in a book on skin troubles sent by The Swift Specific Co., 195 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. You will find S. S. S. on sale at all drug stores. Get a bottle to-day and banish all skin afflictions.

When you ask for S. S. S., look out for the common trick of trying to sell you something else Don't be misled.

COLLEGE DAY IN DULUTH

Every Undergraduate or Alumnus in City Invited to Take Part.

Committee Is Organized With Mrs. G. Herbert Jones in Charge.

The annual college day celebration in Duluth will be held Saturday, Aug. 9.

At a meeting at the Commercial club today the date was decided upon and arrangements were made for the arousing of interest in the event. Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Cornell and Dartmouth were represented at the meeting today. Mrs. G. Herbert Jones was chosen to head the general committee.

Each college alumni organization will arrange stunts for the carnival events at the Oatka branch of the Boat club. The afternoon events will be preceded by a parade on Superior street. The program generally will follow the plan of that of last year. The carnival in the afternoon will be followed by a camp fire, songs and athletic contests on the beach in the evening.

Every college man and woman in Duluth will be urged to take part in the college day celebration. Many colleges are represented in Duluth and rivalry is always keen between them in framing up stunts for the day. A representative of each college will work with representatives of the Duluth Boat club as an executive committee, and they will get down to work soon arranging the details of the celebration.

WALTZ TUNES FROM "WAITS."

London Globe: Even so old-fashioned an institution as the Christmas "waits" is beginning to be influenced by modern fashions. The nocturnal players who infest one part of London have made a clean sweep of hymns and other music of the kind their repertory consisting entirely of the most modern Viennese waltzes. Although this is less "melancholy to listen to in the small hours, its appropriateness is open to question.

SUBMARINE PHOTOGRAPHY IS LATEST

A SUBMARINE PHOTOGRAPH.

Some experiments in submarine photography have been made recently at Hampton Roads with the Williamson submarine tube. This tube is a well six feet square which is sunk in the water through the bottom of a barge. To take the underwater pictures, a funnel-shaped attachment six feet long with a two-foot heavy glass port at the large outer end was bolted to the work chamber. This gave an open space between the lens of the camera and the area of focus. This specially fitted work chamber, attached to sections of the submarine tube, was lowered into the water and a reflector with a luster of electric lights giving a thousand candle power was lowered from the deck of the barge in a position to light the area about the port through which the pictures were to be taken. The lights were then lowered and section after section of the tube was added till the workchamber was thirty feet down.

The operator, equipped with an ordinary camera, was lowered to the work-chamber through the tube, the lights were turned up and the photographs were taken. The experiment made at different depths showed that depth made no difference when electric lights were used to illuminate the water. Daylight tests were made also and it was found that at depths of ten to fifteen feet photographs of fish and other objects could be made with exposures of one-tenth to seventy-five-hundredths of a second with natural light. It is expected to get moving pictures with the aid of this machine in the clearer waters of the tropics.

ALIMONY CUT DOWN BY COURT

Oscar Nelson Is Also Given Custody of His Children.

Judge Bert Fesler of the district court has amended the decree of divorce granted to Louise Nelson from Oscar Nelson as to the matter of alimony and custody of the children.

The original order of the court made in January provided that Nelson should pay to his divorced wife $45 a month during the months from October to April and $40 a month during the summers months, April to September, and that Mrs. Nelson should have the custody of the children.

The amended order takes the custody of the children from the mother and gives it to the father and the alimony is cut down to $10 a month. This arrangement has been consented to by the mother, who claims to be unable to care for the children.

ASKS PROTECTION FOR AMERICANS

Charge at Pekin Calls on Admiral to Land Marines.

Washington, July 23.—To protect American citizens imperilled by the revolutionary movement in the southern Chinese provinces, Charge Williams at Pekin has called upon Rear Admiral Nicholson for a guard of marines from the Asiatic squadron to Kuling in Kiang Si province, which recently seceded. Martial law proclaimed yesterday in Kiang Si and Kiang Su provinces, according to state department reports.

At this time of year Kuling is filled with Americans and other foreigners. The principal city in Kiang Su province is Shanghai, which last week threw off its allegiance to the Pekin government.

It has become necessary to exercise extraordinary police power in Pekin in order to preserve order. The consulate at Canton reports that the action of the provincial government of Kwang Tung, in declaring independence of the central government, is strongly opposed by Chinese merchants and business is practically at a standstill.

M. & ST. L. ROAD FILES NEW RATE SCHEDULE

Duluth & Northern Minnesota Wants to Raise Fares.

St. Paul, Minn., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Minneapolis & St. Louis railroad today filed with the state railroad commission its new freight and passenger tariffs in conformity with its decision to put into effect the state rates wherever necessary to meet competition.

The company will meet the rates of competing roads at junction points, both on passenger and freight rates, and blanket back the rates at intermediate points to conform to the long and short haul clause.

Attorneys for the Duluth & Northern Minnesota, a logging road, today asked the commission for permission to charge a higher rate than the 2-cent fare and commodity freight rates. The request was taken under advisement.

Boston, Mass., July 23.—The strike at some of the copper mines in Michigan caused a decline in several local mining shares today, Calumet & Hecla dropping 15 points to 410. Copper Range and Osceola were also weak. Officials of the Calumet & Hecla company this afternoon expressed the belief that the difficulties would be adjusted speedily.

BREAKFAST FOR AN "OLD BACH"

The Range of the Menu Is From Cereals and Fruit to Zwieback, Toast, Jam and Occasionally Eggs, Fish or Bacon.

New York Sun: Far easier and cheaper than most persons imagine is a bachelor's breakfast made at home. The thing may be done at an actual cost varying from 9 cents to 20, according to the quality and quantity of food.

The 9-cent breakfast furnishes merely fruit, coffee and cereal, with evaporated milk to accompany the cereal and the coffee. The more expensive breakfast, which may range all the way from 15 to 20 cents, and in moments of self indulgence may reach 25 cents, consists of the articles going to make the 9-cent breakfast, plus some kind of meat and rolls or zwieback with jam or marmalade. In the 25-cent breakfast genuine cream, or what most householders consume as such, takes the place of evaporated milk.

This breakfast is sufficient for any intellectual worker who takes a moderately hearty luncheon, and some men find it sufficient with the simplest and lightest kind of luncheon. The two meals together, one at home, the other at restaurant or club, will cost from 45 cents to $1, according to the tastes and habits of the man, and may cost as much more as he chooses to put into the luncheon.

Some Items for the Menu.

The bachelor breakfaster has a considerable range of choice in the matter of the various items that go to make up his meal. In winter he may have apples, pears, grapes in their natural state and a variety of canned fruits. At other seasons he may have whatever is going in the market.

He will naturally choose the ready cooked cereals, though they cost from five to fifteen times as much as uncooked grain meals of one kind or another. By way of relish there is a choice of many potted meats and fish or of fresh sausage.

In winter eggs are ordinarily too expensive and somewhat untrustworthy. Jams may be had in little pots at 5 cents each, in larger ones at cheaper rates in proportion to quantity. Zwieback is more wholesome than crullers, and probably than rolls, but a robust digestion can stand either of the latter two or three times a week.

Fresh fruit is really essential to such a breakfast, since it serves as the corrective in whatever ills are threatened by a diet mainly of potted meats and evaporated milk. It is well also for the bachelor to allow himself fresh cream and eggs or fresh meat of some sort once or twice a week, and oftener if he finds his ordinary breakfast unpalatable. The palate is a pretty sound guide in these matters.

As to Fruit.

Fruit for the bachelor's breakfast costs from 2½ to 5 cents, according to variety, quality and quantity, and may be made to cost as much more as he chooses. A big apple or two small ones may be had at 5 cents or less all winter long, and grapes or pears at about the same rate. The apple is on the whole the cheapest and the most substantial fruit procurable and the one that is least likely to pall upon the palate. Besides it may be had hot, which fact counts for a good deal in winter if a man is breakfasting without meat. The fruit of the 9-cent breakfast should be kept to 3 cents or less; that of the 20-cent breakfast may come to twice as much.

A pot of coffee with sugar and evaporated milk costs from 3 to 5 cents, according to the quality of the chief ingredients. If cream take the place of evaporated milk the pot of coffee may come to 7, 8 or 9 cents, according to the consistency of the cream. A half pint of cream will do for two breakfasts and give something to moisten the cereal.

Cereals, at almost any price now current, are a small item of the breakfast cost. With milk or even with cream the heaping saucer of cereal need not cost more than 5 cents, and it may be had for as little as 3.

Meat or fish for the bachelor's breakfast will cost from 5 to 10 cents, and if he is luxurious he may make it cost as much more as he chooses. For 15 cents the heartiest eater can get a filling supply of potted meat or fresh sausage, bacon or sliced ham, more, in fact, than any intellectual worker should ordinarily eat.

Jam and Zwieback.

If the breakfaster must have bread in some form, and jam, he may buy Zwieback, oatmeal biscuit, rolls or baker's bread at such prices as shall make the item a matter of from 2 to 4 cents, according to quality. Jam need not cost more and the two together in sufficient quantities should be had at something between 3½ and 6 cents. They can be made to take the place of cereal on some mornings, so that both items need not appear in the breakfast budget on any one day.

Getting breakfast is a simple matter for the bachelor who knows how. He begins the night before by laying out his tools and preparing everything that can be prepared. His coffee is placed in the pot with the requisite amount of cold water, unless indeed he has a fancy pot and prefers distilled to bottled coffee. His cup with sugar and milk is made ready at bedtime and placed in a cool spot with a cover of paper. The apple to be steamed is placed in the skillet with sufficient water, and the meat, if meat there is to be, must be placed in another skillet. The tiny gas stove is attached to a jet, ready to be lighted at the proper time.

When the bachelor pops out of bed he starts his apple steaming with a saucepan turned over the skillet. By the time his bath is finished the apple is steamed and can be laid aside, with the saucepan still over it to keep it warm, while the coffee pot takes its place on the stove. Before the bachelor is shaved and half dressed his coffee has boiled up, been stirred down, has boiled up a second time and been cleared with cold water.

The coffee takes its place beside the baked apple, and the meat goes on the stove. It is sufficiently cooked before the fruit and cereal are eaten, and the breakfast is finished without haste, but in less time than the bachelor would have taken to go to club or restaurant and eat a meal cooked to order. If he is a really economical bachelor he will wash his own few dishes and other utensils before going to business, and the operation can be done with the aid of the gas stove in five or six minutes.

PINEAPPLE AND RHUBARB.

Pictorial Review: Pineapple, sugar, rhubarb. In combining these fruits, use one part of pineapple to two parts of rhubarb, allowing a large coffee cup of sugar to a pint of the cooked fruit. Shred the pineapple and cook until tender in just enough water to cover it. Cut the rhubarb, skin and all, in small pieces and add to the pineapple. Cook until soft, then add the sugar. Boil the mixture for twenty minutes, then seal. This makes a delicious preserve.

REPORTS BEARISH

Wheat Weakens on Heavy Primary and Terminal Receipts.

Flax Gains Again on Continued Heavy Demand for Seed.

Duluth Board of Trade, July 23.—The weakness in wheat continued and grew a trifle toward the end, and the close of all options was down; July lost ¼c, September lost ⅞@¾c. December closed ⅝c under yesterday, and July durum declined ¼c. September closed unchanged.

Oats gained ¼c, corn closed ½c off and barley advanced 1c.

The wheat market started off strongly this morning, although September was the only option that showed activity, the others not getting a quotation until within the last hour, and December being the only one then. Heavy exporting of wheat yesterday bolstered up the market, together with the dread that perhaps there is something to this black rust scare. However, later in the session other news came in which caused the cereal to fall off. Good reports from John Inglis and B. W. Snow, who are now in the spring wheat country, had quite an effect, in addition to which was the reports of primary receipts.

Yesterday almost 1,000,000 bu more were received at the primaries than on the corresponding day a year ago, and the receipts at the terminals continue to be heavy, Chicago reporting receipts of 690 cars yesterday as against 332 a year ago, Duluth receiving fifty-five cars as against fifteen, and the other terminal points holding up well as compared with last year's receipts.

These weakened the market and in the last hour September spring wheat had changed from being ½c up as in the first hour, to ⅝ off. December, with one quotation, was also ⅝c lower.

Demand Advances Flax.

Despite the fact that Fort William showed a decrease this week in flax stocks of only 253,000 bu, instead of a much larger decrease expected, flax advanced today on the Duluth board by reason of a strong demand, there being still much buying by crushers. Gains for the day: July ⅛@⅜c; September, ⅜c; October, ¼c; November ¼c, and December, ½c.

A telegram received at the office of the B. E. Baker Commission company says that crop reports of the Rock Island road for the last week show the need of rain in practically all sections of its territory. Harvesting of oats in Illinois is well under way and is averaging 25 to 30 bu to the acre, while in Iowa the general average runs from 30 to 40 bu with the test weight 30 to 35 pounds. Corn throughout these states shows good growth even with the lack of sufficient moisture. Wheat yield is showing 25 to 30 bu to the acre with a test of 60 to 63 pounds. In Oklahoma the yield in oats runs from 40 to 50 bu to the acre.

B. W. Snow wires from St. Paul: "Iowa corn through Missouri valley is in almost perfect condition. It is of deep color, clean and making remarkable growth. Large part is now tasseling and there is very little that is not clean. Through Southern and Central Minnesota corn prospects are equally good but further advanced and earing heavily. Spring wheat in Minnesota valley promises good yield."

John Inglis wires from Bismarck, N. D.:

"New England and Dickinson to Bismarck general condition shows improvement. Some fair yields in spots and largest acreage very thin and short. Filling well. Quality promised to be good. Will begin cutting next week. On the 1,000,000 acres west of the river doubtful if average exceeds 7 bu."

McCabe Bros. received word today that a severe hailstorm hit the country northwest of Bottineau, N. D., night before last, cleaning out a district one mile wide and fifteen miles long.

Otherwise crop news received by this firm is most encouraging. For instance one correspondent at Humbolt, Minn., who wrote a few weeks ago in a most pessimistic vein, writes now that there will be about a two-thirds wheat crop and a heavy crop of oats and barley.

A correspondent at Grand Forks, N. D., wires:

"The more I talk to people the more it looks as though North Dakota would do better than any one expected a few weeks ago. Rains helped wonderfully. Also I think flax acreage is much smaller. From Wahpeton here, I saw only six fields on the Great Northern railway and everybody says that the acreage is greatly reduced."

Price Current of Cincinnati, says: "Based on conditions reported July 17 and 18, Price Current estimates the growth condition of corn compared with the government term "normal" as follows: Ohio, 90.7; Illinois, 92.7; Iowa, 95.6; Kansas, 62; Indiana, 94; Missouri, 80.8; Nebraska, 90.5; Oklahoma, 47.2. Oat straw is reported generally short everywhere. The oat crop is practically a failure in Ohio, Kansas and Missouri. Conditions are extremely favorable for a crop in Minnesota and Wisconsin but spotted in Iowa, Nebraska and South Dakota. We have compiled the productions on the basis of estimates of yields per acre this week and find the results to be uniformly in excess of previous estimates. Our estimates this week on the basis of estimates of yields per acre compared with previous estimates on the percentage basis of conditions are as follows: Ohio, 49,896,000 bu July 21; 46,298,000 bu July 3; Indiana, 36,344,000 bu; 33,495,000 bu; Illinois, 94,584,000 bu; 82,761,000 bu; Missouri, 21,807,000 bu; 20,590,000 bu; Iowa, 144,502,000 bu; 133,000,000 bu; Minnesota, 96,869,000 bu; 90,489,000 bu; South Dakota, 31,015,000 bu; 32,983,000 bu; Nebraska, 53,803,000 bu; 62,020,000 bu."

International Wheat Review:

"Steadiness has been the salient feature in the market during the week although fluctuations have been mostly within narrow range. Steadiness was the direct result of the improved demand due to the unseasonable weather in western and central Europe and small supplies of old wheat in all importing countries. Shipments have been moderate. The firmness of offers of new American winters has been a feature of no small moment as buyers are without any other liberal source of supply in the near future. Harvesting is now quite general throughout Europe and therefore if rain continues the influence will be decidedly stronger as a market factor."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Bulls Buy Wheat and Prices Take Turn Upward.

Chicago, July 23.—Buying on the part of a couple of leading bull houses gave the wheat market today an upturn. Pit offerings were scanty, and there was fear of a wet harvest in France. More notice seemed to be paid to the continued export demand. Opening prices were the same as last night to ¼c off. September which started at 86⅞@87c deviating to a like extent as the market taken altogether, rose soon to 87⅜@87½c.

Hedging sales later caused a reaction. The close was steady with September ½c net higher at 87⅛c.

Rain in Iowa and parts of Illinois and Nebraska weakened corn. September opened ⅜c to ¾c down at 62c to 62⅜c, touched 61⅞c and rallied to 62½@62⅝c.

Spreading of the rain to Kansas led to renewed weakness. The close was nervous at 62¼@62⅜c for September, a net gain of ½@⅝c.

Oats suffered from a general rush to sell in sympathy with corn. September started ½c to ⅝o lower at 40¼c to 40⅜c, but reacted to 40⅝@40⅞c.

Provisions as a rule held steady, governed by the hog market. First sales varied from 2½@5c decline to an advance of 15c, including September options as follows:

Pork, $21.40 to $21.42½; lard, $11.87½; ribs, $11.87½c.

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Wheat Prices Decline Sharply Under Some Pressure.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 23.—Wheat was weak and prices declined sharply on moderate pressure. Outside markets were relatively stronger. July closed ⅞c lower than yesterday, September ⅝@⅞c lower and December ⅝c lower. Local elevator stocks decreased 700,000 bu for four days.

July opened, 87¼c; high, 87⅜c; low, 86½c; closed, 86½c.

September opened, 89¼c; high, 89⅜@88¾c; low, 88⅝@88½c; closed, 88½@88⅝c.

December opened, 92c; high, 92¼@92¾c; low, 91⅜c; closed, 91½c.

Closing cash: No. 1 hard, 90½c; No. 1 northern, 89@90c; to arrive, 88¾@89c; choice to arrive, 90c; No. 2 northern, 87@88c; No. 2 hard, Montana, 86½c; No. 3 wheat, 85@86c; No. 3 yellow corn, 59½@60c; No. 3 white oats, 37½@38c; No. 2 rye, 56@57½c.

Flax—Receipts 15 cars, year ago, 13; shipments, 1 car. Demand fair to good. Closing price $1.37½@1.38.

Barley—Receipts 39 cars, year ago, 3; shipments, 26. Demand strong. Closing range 44@56c.

The flour market was dull and easier. Prices were lower on account of the decline in wheat. Shipments, 60,696 bbl (in wood f. o. b.); first patents, $4.50@4.75; second patents, $4.15@4.50; first clears, $3.20@3.60; second clears, $2.70@3.10. Bran prices unchanged.

STOCKS ARE IRREGULAR

Market Flattens Out, Weakness Occurring in Government Issues.

Death in London of Anthony N. Brady Has Restraining Influence.

New York, July 23.—The stock market flattened out appreciably today, a depressing factor being a further weakness in government issues. The sudden death in London of Anthony N. Brady, who is supposed to have had large market investments, also exercised a restraining influence, although there is no reason to assume that his holdings will be precipitated upon the market at this time.

The only noteworthy feature of the stock market at today's opening was its irregularity. Copper stocks, Northern Pacific and the Atchisons made slight gains while the more important issues, such as Union Pacific, Canadian Pacific, Reading and Steel, were down from fractions to a full point. In the special group American Tobacco declined 4¼ points.

The initial hesitancy wore off when professionals began to put out larger short lines. Union Pacific, Can, Chesapeake & Ohio and Smelting were depressed a point. Sentiment was unfavorably affected by lower prices for government issues, and a drop of 3½ in New Havens 6's. California Petroleum slumped 2⅝ to 16¼, a new low record.

New Haven convertibles 6's sold 3½ points off to 107 a new low record. A similiar fate befell California Petroleum common and preferred. American Tobacco lost more than 4 points and American Express 5. Leaders like Union Pacific, Canadian Pacific and Lehigh Valley yielded a point or more. Government 2's fell to a new low level at 96½ bid.

More steadiness characterized the dealings of the early afternoon, despite further weakness in Canadian Pacific and New Haven, which were off 2 points each.

Realizing sales cut into yesterday's large rise in Republic Steel preferred and some other specialties also became heavy. General movements were toward a higher level, Reading advanced to above yesterday's close. Rallies in other popular stocks were not so extensive, the list ruling slightly under last night's close.

The market closed irregular. Improvement in coppers diffused a better tone elsewhere, some of the low priced railroad stocks showing unusual activity and strength. Amalgamated and Utah gained a point. New low prices for government 2's had a repressive effect on the demand for investment shares.

CUPID BECKONS AND CHIN ONG WILL SAIL ACROSS THE SEAS

CHIN D. ONG.

Cupid, that busiest of little gods, hurls his heart-piercing darts thousands of miles, over strange seas and foreign shores.

The first part of next month, Chin D. Ong, one of Duluth's foremost Chinese residents and manager of the Mandarin cafe, will leave for the Pacific coast, whence he will sail to the home of his fathers to claim a bride from among the daughters of his native land.

Chin Ong, one of the best-educated Chinese in the state, does not favor the intermarriage of distinctly different races, believing that it is not to the best interests of either contracting party. Chin is very loath to discuss his views in that respect, as he is diffident when any one asks him about his forthcoming trip if his marriage is mentioned, but those who have become well acquainted with him since he came to Duluth say that he has expressed that opinion when his personal intentions were not brought up. At any event, he starts next month on a journey of thousands of miles to wed a sweetheart of his childhood days.

Chin Ong has not seen his bride-to-be for twelve years, or since he left China to take up life in this country. Chin Ong is an American citizen, having been born in San Francisco. When a child he was taken to China by his father, a well-to-do merchant, and remained there until 15 years of age. He attended school there and 'tis said that it was during that part of his early educational career he met the maiden who will shortly become his wife.

Chin Ong expects to be absent from six months to a year, depending upon how affairs shape themselves after he reaches the other side of the Pacific. He says that the Chinese who have visited in the old country have always been glad to get back to the United States and he does not think that he will be any exception to the general rule. He does not know whether or not he will bring his wife back with him when he leaves again for this country, but his belief is that the journey back to the land of the stars and stripes will be part of the honeymoon trip.

Chin Ong will visit for a short time with relatives at Portland and Seattle and expects to sail Aug. 12 on board the steamer Empress of Russia. He carries with him letters of introduction from many prominent officials in this part of the country.

MUST PASS EXAMINATION

Thirty City Employes Run Afoul Civil Service Rules.

All city employes who have been attached to the city payroll since Dec. 3, last, will be obliged to take civil service examinations, arrangements for which will be made by the civil service commission at a meeting to be held one of the remaining nights of this week.

Ruben Johnson, secretary of the civil service commission, has sent notices to that effect to all such employes. With but few exceptions, all of them have filed their applications for the positions which they now hold. The secretary is without the names of several who have been appointed in the last few weeks, but they will be obliged to take the tests along with the others.

The city now has a set of working civil service rules which have been approved by the city commission. From the action which has been taken by the civil service commission thus far it is apparent that civil service is to be more than an empty form in the future.

The charter requires that all employes who were not in the employ of the city at the time the charter was approved, Dec. 3, must pass civil service examinations before their positions become permanent. Under that section about thirty employes will be obliged to take the examination. Some of them hold important positions.

PENNILESS AND DYING

Young Man in Last Stages of Consumption Applies to Police.

Penniless, without any means of support and in the last stages of consumption, Mike Tobach staggered into the police station last evening and asked for lodging and food.

The sight he presented was a most pitiful one, Tobach being but 20 years old, although he looks to be over 40. He came here from Montana, where he was employed as a laborer for several months, the disease finally getting the better of him and compelling him to stop work. He "bummed" his way here and, with just enough strength left, staggered into the station last evening. Tobach is unable to speak English, although by signs he indicated he was in severe pain. He slept in jail over night and was this morning taken to a local physician for an examination. Brown McDonald, local immigration inspector, has taken the case in hand and if the disease is in its last stage, the man will be taken to the county tuberculosis hospital. Otherwise, he will be deported to Australia, his former home.

TRACTION COMPANY HELPS MAKE FILL

Will Dump Earth Under Old Fortieth Avenue Bridge.

Whether Oneota street is improved this year or not, a considerable portion of the gulch at Fortieth avenue west and Oneota street will be filled this year.

Commissioner R. Murchison of the public works division has arranged with the street railway company to dump the material which it will remove from Fourth street at that point. This will amount to several thousand yards.

The culvert which is necessary was built last year, so that no delays will arise. Some dirt was dumped under the bridge when the culvert was completed, and the addition which will be made by the street car company will be a decided benefit to the city, as well as help advance the work.

Commissioner Murchison took the matter up with the street car company, and the officials readily assured him that they would be willing to dump the Fourth street material at Fortieth avenue.

Pope Receives Pilgrims.

Rome, July 23.—A group of sixty-four Canadian and American pilgrims were received in private audience today by the pope. They were conducted by Right Rev. Michael F. Fallon, bishop of London, Ont., who presented Peter's pence amounting to $2,000.

NORTH MICHIGAN ORE QUIZ ENDED

Commerce Commission Finishes Inquiry Into Rates There.

Chicago, July 23.—Investigation into the increase of iron ore rates by railroads in Northern Michigan was completed today by a special examiner of the commerce commission, and the testimony will be submitted to the commission at Washington for a decision.

The technical side of the iron ore freight question was taken up at the closing session, W. H. Finley of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad being the principal witness. The life of the railroad docks at Escanaba, Mich., and the equipment of trains were discussed.

RED WING PIONEERS' WISHES ARE GRANTED

Emanuel Gelstrom and Wife Die and Will Be Buried Together.

Red Wing, Minn., July 23.—Friends often had heard Emanuel Gelstrom, aged 75, and his wife, aged 62, express the wish that they might die together, and that they would be buried in the same grave. Both recently became ill. Mr. Gelstrom died yesterday. The news was broken gently to his wife. She smiled feebly, murmured a prayer, buried her face in a pillow and soon was dead.

A double funeral will be held Friday and the two, who were early pioneers in Pierce county, will be buried side by side.

STATE A. O. U. W. KEEPS ITS FUNDS

Wins Contest With Supreme Lodge in Federal Court.

St. Paul, Minn., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—The grand lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen of Minnesota scored a victory against the supreme lodge of the order under a decision by Judge Willard in United States district court yesterday, dismissing the bill of the supreme lodge as plaintiffs in the case.

Suit was brought by the supreme lodge against the state grand lodge to enforce the payment of $205,000 which it was claimed has been collected in Minnesota for payment to the guaranty fund and the fraternal aid fund of the supreme lodge, and had not been surrendered.

Judge Willard held that the state grand lodge is not indebted to the supreme grand lodge.

The state grand lodge separated from the supreme lodge completely in 1911, and the amounts claimed were computed to be due for the two years prior to the severance.

SECTION 30 MEN ARE AGAIN WORKING

Part of Miners Return and It Is Expected Trouble Is Over.

Winton, Minn., July 23.—(Special to The Herald.)—Section 30 mine resumed operations today, but is running shorthanded, payday being held today to satisfy miners, which caused many to return to work, but many still hold back. New help is being secured to take their places. Deputy sheriffs arrived from Two Harbors to watch the property, keep peace and induce the men to return to work. Date for future payday has not yet been decided, awaiting direction from head office at Duluth. It is expected no miners' request will be granted.

INDIANS ASK FOR PRO RATA DIVISION

Washington, July 23.—A delegation of Sioux Indians, headed by Chief Red Dog, from the Pine Ridge, S. D., reservation today asked the house Indian affairs committee to direct the distribution of the tribal fund of $1,800,000 pro rata. The committee referred them to the interior department.

NEW LAW TO BE ENFORCED

Chief of Police Orders Check on Cigarette Dealers.

Lid Goes on Sale of "Makin's" Without a License.

Strict enforcement of the new cigarette law passed at the last session of the state legislature has been ordered by Chief Troyer.

In today's issue of the police bulletin the chief calls the attention of all the officers to the new law and orders a close watch kept on the various cigar dealers and newstands in the city. The attention of the officers is also called to the law prohibiting the sale of cigarettes to boys under age. A violation of the last means the loss of a license.

Fifteen Duluth dealers have been granted cigarette licenses for the next two years, but have not yet taken out the licenses.

Chief Troyer calls the attention of the dealers in that class to the fact that although they have been granted licenses, they have not yet secured them. They are urged to secure the licenses at once to avoid any trouble.

An investigation is to be made of all the other stores and if the owners have no licenses and are selling cigarettes, they will be arrested and punished according to law.

The amendments to the old cigarette law were passed at the last session of the state legislature and allow the sale of cigarettes only to licensed stores. A license costs $25 and is good for two years after date of purchase, the license being granted by the city council. Anyone violating the law is liable to a fine not exceeding $100 or imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed sixty days.

HAD LICENSE TO SELL IN EVENING

Although the hawking ordinance permits the sale of articles on the streets only up to 7 oclock in the evening, it developed yesterday that Mayer A. Fingole, arrested Monday evening for violating the ordinance, had been given a license to sell up to 10:30 oclock at night.

Fingoles case was to have been up yesterday morning, but it was dismissed. He was arrested by Sergeant Roberg, who did not know of the special permit. The charge was dropped, his bail of $15 being returned to him.

LEGAL NOTICES.

MUNICIPAL WORK.
CALL FOR BIDS.

TOWNSITE OF MINNESOTA STEEL CO., DULUTH, MINN.

Sealed proposals will be received up to 12 o'clock noon on Tuesday, August 5th, at the office of Morell & Nichols, Landscape Architects and Engineers, 902 Palace Bldg., Minneapolis, Minn., for work to be done at the Village of the Minnesota Steel Co. in the City of Duluth.

The work comprises the grading of streets and laying of sewer, water and gas mains together with all the features connected with such work.

The quantities are approximately:
75,000 cubic yards earth excavation.
25,000 cubic yards earth in trench.
35,000 lineal feet water and gas mains.
23,000 lineal feet sewer pipe.
73 manholes.
74 intakes.

Together with house connections, hydrants and all details of such construction as outlined on the plans and specifications.

Plans and specifications will be on file after Wednesday, July 23rd, at the office of the Builders' Exchange in Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth. They may also be obtained from the office of the Engineers upon the deposit of $10.00 to insure their return.

Bids will be received only on the whole of this work.

A certified check for $3,000, made payable to the Minnesota Steel Co., shall accompany all bids. The owner reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

Bids shall be submitted upon the blanks to be obtained upon application at the office of the Engineers.

WHEREAS default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage which was duly executed and delivered by Max S. Shore and Frada Shore, his wife, mortgagors to M. M. Tibbetts, mortgagee, bearing date December 1st, 1909, duly recorded in the Register of Deeds office for St. Louis County, Minnesota on January 24th, 1910 at 4:45 o'clock P. M. in book 244 of mortgages on page 81 thereof, which said mortgage was thereafter duly assigned by the said M. M. Tibbetts to John Holleran by an instrument in writing dated January 22nd, 1910, and duly recorded in the office of said register of deeds on January 26th, 1910, at 2:15 o'clock P. M., in book 188 of mortgages on page 397 thereof; and said John Holleran having died testate, John Wickham and John Stark were duly appointed executors of the will and estate of said John Holleran, deceased, and letters testamentary were duly issued to them as such by the probate court of St. Louis County, Minnesota, dated June 19th, 1911, and a certified copy thereof was duly recorded in the office of said register of deeds on July 9th, 1913, at 11:15 o'clock A. M. in book 6 of Miscellaneous on page 584 thereof; and which said mortgage was thereafter duly assigned by the said John Wickham and John Stark as such executors, to T. A. Gall, as guardian of the estates of John Timothy Stark and James Alphonzo Stark, minors, by an instrument in writing dated October 11th, 1911, and recorded in the office of said register of deeds on October 12th, 1911, at 11:30 o'clock A. M., in book 303 of mortgages on page 95 thereof; and which said mortgage was thereafter duly assigned by the said T. A. Gall as such guardian, to Bridget Stark as guardian of the estates of John Timothy Stark and James Alphonzo Stark, minors, by an instrument in writing dated December 9th, 1911, and recorded in the office of said register of deeds on July 9th, 1913, at 11:25 o'clock A. M., in book 304 of mortgages on page 243 thereof; said T. A. Gall was duly appointed guardian of the estates of said John Timothy Stark and James Alphonzo Stark, minors, and letters of guardianship were duly issued to him as such by the probate court of said county, dated October 5th, 1911, and a certified copy thereof was duly recorded in the office of said register of deeds on July 9th, 1913, at 11:15 o'clock A. M., in book 6 of miscellaneous, page 583 thereof; said T. A. Gall was duly discharged as such guardian by an order of such probate court, dated December 26th, 1911, and a certified copy of such order was duly recorded in the office of said register of deeds on July 9th, 1913, at 11:15 o'clock A. M., in book 6 of miscellaneous on page 584 thereof; said Bridget Stark was duly appointed guardian of the estates of John Timothy Stark and James Alphonzo Stark, minors and letters of guardianship were duly issued to her as such by the probate court of said county, dated December 8th, 1911, and a certified copy thereof was duly recorded in the office of said register of deeds on December 11th, 1911, at 8 o'clock A. M., in book 310 of deeds on page 416 thereof, and she is now the duly appointed and qualified guardian of the estates of said minors. Such default consisting in the non-payment of the semi-annual installment of the interest which became due on June 1st, 1913, amounting to the sum of $150.00, and in the non-payment of the principal sum secured by said mortgage, and interest thereon to this date, said assignee of said mortgagee, and the present owner of said mortgage having elected to exercise the option to her given by the terms of said mortgage, by declaring the whole sum thereby to be due and payable, in accordance with the provisions of said mortgage;

AND WHEREAS, there is therefore claimed to be due and there is actually due, upon said mortgage debt, at the date of this notice, the sum of $5,156.57 principal and interest; and whereas said mortgage contains a power of sale in due form, which has become operative by reason of the default above mentioned, and no action or proceeding, at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof:

NOW THEREFORE, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of said power of sale in said mortgage contained, and pursuant to the statute in such case made, said mortgage will be foreclosed, by a sale of the premises described therein, situate in St. Louis County, Minnesota, described as follows, to-wit: The easterly one-half of lot seven (7) and all of lot eight (8) in block fifty-six (56), Portland Division of Duluth, according to the recorded plat thereof on file and of record in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said county. Which premises will be sold by the Sheriff of said St. Louis County, at the Sheriff's office in the county court house in the city of Duluth in said county on the 22nd day of August, 1913, at ten o'clock a. m. at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and $75.00 attorney's fees, stipulated for in said mortgage, in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale.

Dated July 9th, 1913.

BRIDGET STARK,
As guardian of the estates of John Timothy Stark and James Alphonzo Stark, minors, assignee of mortgagee.

LEO A. BALL,
Attorney for Assignee of Mortgagee.

OUR BEST FRIENDS

are those who tell us when things go wrong. It is our constant effort to make The Herald delivery perfect, but in spite of all we can do subscribers are missed now and then. The greatest favor you can do us is to let us know on such occasions. Call Bell 324 Melrose or Zenith 324 Grand, and ask for the Circulation Dept. If you cannot telephone, drop us a postal.

Every Vacant Room In Duluth

With practically no exceptions, whether furnished, unfurnished, with or without board, is advertised under "For Rent Rooms" in The Herald want ads.

If you want the best, or the least expensive, you can find it in The Herald if it's advertised.

The reason for this is that Herald ads rent the rooms quickly and certainly.

FARM AND FRUIT LANDS.

WE HAVE A NUMBER

Of small tracts near the city that we can sell you very cheap and on easy terms, or will trade for city property. We have some select improved farms that we can sell on easy terms. Also wild lands.

ENGLAND IS PREPARING TO SEND WARSHIPS INTO THE MEXICAN WATERS

Sir Edward Grey Keeps in Touch With Admiralty Office.

American Mediation of Revolution Meets Little Favor.

Wilson Asks Senators to Put Gag on Fiery Speakers.

London, July 24.—Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, is keeping in communication with the British admiralty in case the presence of a British warship in Mexican waters should be considered advisable. Thus far, however, the British minister in Mexico City has not reported British subjects in danger.

Uncle Sam as Arbitrator?

Washington, July 24.—Discussion of the Mexican situation today turned toward proposals that the United States act as a mediator while elections are held and a constitutional government established.

Although such suggestions have at various times been made to President Wilson, Secretary Bryan and members of congress by persons in this country and Mexico, the proposition has never reached the stage of serious consideration because of the insistent attitude of the Constitutionalists that they would not entertain mediation under any circumstances.

"Who will guarantee the honesty of an election? The only guarantee we can have is to take possession of the government by arms, put in a provisional president and hold elections when the country is pacified. Elections with most of the country up in arms would be impossible."

Think Plan Is Ruse.

This was the answer of the Constitutionalist representatives here today to reports that mediation was about to be undertaken through the offices of the United States.

The Constitutionalists profess to see in such a proposal an effort on the part of the Huerta government to secure a suspension of hostilities, during which it would take retaliatory measures to suppress the Constitutionalists cause. The Constitutionalists point out that the same kind of proposals were repeatedly made in the declining days of the Diaz administration.

Senator Bacon, a she left the White House today, said that so far as he knew no formal recommendation for mediation was being considered by the president and that the matter had only reached the stage of discussion.

A number of senators, in discussing the Mexican situation with President Wilson today, learned that he was hopeful that the senate would refrain from debate about Mexico at this time, or at any rate until after Ambassador Wilson returned and a definite policy was formulated. It was said the pres-

BOY'S LIFE SAVED BY FALLING INTO PAIL

Kansas Rancher's Son Is Pulled From Well By Sister.

Santa Fe, Kan., July 24.—Alighting head first in a water bucket suspended near the bottom of a well today probably saved the life of Lloyd Church, son of a rancher living near the Colorado line. While playing around a fifty-foot well, the boy fell into it. He was rescued by his 11-year-old sister, who drew the bucket and boy to the surface. Church's left arm and shoulder blade were broken.

HAYS LEADS IN THE ARKANSAS ELECTION

Bull Moose Candidate for Governor Runs Poor Third.

Little Rock, Ark., July 24.—Incomplete returns indicate the election of George W. Hays, Democratic nominee, as governor of Arkansas, by a majority smaller than that usually given the Democratic gubernatorial candidate. The returns also indicate that Harry H. Myers, the Republican nominee, has received more votes than George W. Murphy, Progressive.

Yesterday's election was made necessary by the selection last February of Governor Joel T. Robinson as United States senator to succeed the late Senator Jeff Davis.

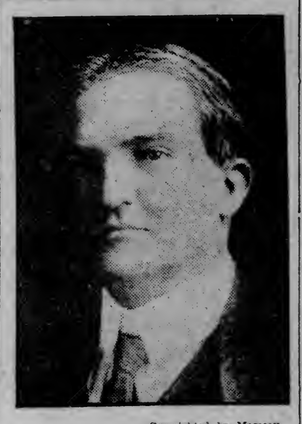

"SHOWERED FLOWERS ON OTTOMAN TROOPS"

Constantinople Gives Out Version of Kirk Kilisseh Affair.

Constantinople, July 24.—An official communication giving details of the reoccupation of Kirk Kilisseh by the Turkish troops has been issued by the Ottoman government to counterbalance the Bulgarian allegations as to atrocities committed by the Turks. It gives a picturesque account of how the inhabitants of Kirk Kilisseh welcomed the Moslem army. It says:

"Their emotion was indescribable, and flowers were showered from the windows on the Ottoman troops by women weeping from happiness."

GEORGE GORDON BATTLE, Whose Election as Governor of New York Mulhall Claims to Have Sought.

"START HELL" IN BALTIMORE

Mulhall Letter to Bird Declares That Was His Plan.

Tells of Showing Taft How Manufacturers Aided G. O. P.

Washington, July 24.—Martin M. Mulhall's correspondence put in the record of the senate lobby committee today concerned his efforts to beat Representative Herbert Parsons of New York for re-election in 1910; told of reading the "riot act" to Representative Ralph D. Cole of Ohio because of his opposition to Former Speaker Cannon, and gave further details of Mulhall's offer to aid the candidacy of George Gordon Battle for governor of New York.

Feb. 3, 1910, Mulhall wrote John Kirby, Jr., about the fight on Cannon and added:

"Mr. Sherman confidentially stated to me that President Taft is now being made aware of the many good things our association has done for the Republican party for the last seven years, and he assured me that the president would not press any labor bills at this session of congress; and at the close of my interview with the vice president I was more than ever confident of complete success in Washington this winter."

Writing to General Manager Bird, Mulhall said: "We intend to start more hell in Baltimore among the politicians than has ever been started there before."

The letter explained that the fight was to be made on William H. Stone,

POLICE CHIEF SHOOTS AND KILLS WRONG MAN

Pistol Duel Occurs Just Before Capture of Alleged Uxoricide.

Newark, N. J., July 24.—William Butler of Kenvil was shot and killed today at Dover by police officers who mistook him for William Corduan, husband of the woman who was murdered Tuesday night at her home in Newark. Corduan was arrested shortly afterward, near the scene of the shooting. The police theory is that he killed his wife by forcing a short rat tail file through the roof of her mouth into her brain.

The woman's husband disappeared after the murder, and the police learned that he had gone to the house of a friend near the Dover race track. Their story is that as they waited outside the house today, they saw a man who, in the darkness, looked like Corduan. They called to him to surrender, but instead of doing so he whipped out a pistol and began firing.

Chief of Police Ethelbert Byram fired three shots at the man, who fell dead.

FREIGHTER DAMAGED; SCHOONER MISSING

Boston, July 24.—The Holland-American line freighter Sloterdyk returned to this port late last night, badly damaged by collision with an unknown four-masted schooner off Nantucket. When they learned that nothing had been heard from the schooner, some of those on the freighter expressed fear that she had gone down with all on board. Capt. Metz of the Sloterdyk refused to discuss the matter.

The Sloterdyk, which sailed from Boston Tuesday for Philadelphia and Rotterdam, had a great hole torn in her port side amidships, thirty feet high and twelve feet wide, but her race back to this port was accomplished without other damage or loss of life.

WEEKS AND WORKS TALK

Senators Attack Tariff Bill as Framed By the Democrats.

Test Votes in the Senate Add Strength to Majority.

Washington, July 24.—In an effort to prove that tariff reductions by the new Democratic bill bear no relation to actual conditions of competition, Senator John W. Weeks of Massachusetts today read to senators an inventory of the foreign foods, supplies and furniture they were using about the senate chamber.

The inkwells, he said, were made in Austria. The bone letter openers in France; the hairbrushes in England or Japan. The senate stationary room, said Senator Weeks, sold knives and pens made in England; German razors were used to shave senators in the senate barber shops, and souvenir post cards with pictures of Washington's public buildings were sold in the capitol with the imprint of German manufacturers upon them.

"Many of the mineral waters in the cloakroom are imported from Europe," said Senator Weeks. "The French vichy bears the colors of France, and the label property of the French republic. Imported ginger ale is sold in the senate restaurant.

Matches From Sweden.

"We are large producers of matches in this country, and yet if a senator wishes to light a cigar in the cloakroom he finds a safety match manufactured in Sweden. A very large number of dishes served in the senate restaurant are prepared from imported articles, while the same articles are produced in large quantities in the United States."

Senator Weeks attacked the Democratic bill on the ground that it would not reduce the cost of living, curb the power of the trusts, nor stimulate healthy competition. Reduction in prices, he said, would be followed by

ELLIOTT MEETS NEW HAVEN'S DIRECTORS

Admits 'Friends in the East' Have Broached Presidency to Him.

New York, July 24.—The next president of the New Haven railroad may be chosen today by the sub-committee of directors appointed for this purpose when the board accepted the resignation of President Mellen. This committee has power only to recommend, and the name of the head of the New Haven may not be announced until the committee's choice is ratified by the directors at their meeting tomorrow.

Howard Elliott, now president of the Northern Pacific, has been in town since yesterday and Wall Street believed that he would be the man selected. Mr. Elliott has held frequent conferences with members of the sub-committee.

"I have been careful not to say that I would not accept the presidency of the New Haven," he said in an interview. "What I have said is that the offer has not been made to me officially. For a year past friends in the East have talked to me about my becoming president of the New Haven."

If the place does not go to Mr. Elliott, the belief in railroad circles was that Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio, or Vice President Edward E. Loomis of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, would be the man.

OUST GUARD AT VATICAN

Mutinous Swiss Threaten "Unpleasant Revelations" as They Leave.

Scenes Unprecedented in History of Holy See Enacted.

Rome, July 24.—A further detachment of the mutinous Swiss guards left the Vatican today. Some of them threatened to make unpleasant revelations.

The commander of the guardsmen promised the pope that the entire corps would be re-established within a few weeks, with new and more suitable men.

Yesterday brought scenes unprecedented in the history of the Vatican. Throughout the day the Vatican was in a veritable state of siege.

Three leaders in the mutiny were expelled from the Vatican. Four others left last night and twelve requested leave to depart for their homes in October.

Those who left were accompanied to the gates of the Vatican by their comrades. At the moment of separation they cried: "Viva Garibaldi!"

The guards were relieved of their cartridges on Tuesday, and yesterday even their rifles were taken from them, as it was discovered that they had concealed cartridges.

Count Ceccipore, commander of the gendarmes, has been ordered to hold his men in readiness for emergencies. The entire neighborhood is patrolled by strong forces of police.

HURRICANES WASTE PORTIONS OF ITALY

Serious Damage Is Caused in the Lake Region.

Milan, Italy, July 24.—The entire Italian lake district was devastated early today by terrific hurricanes. The damage caused was serious. The effect of the storms is felt throughout Italy, where the temperature has fallen considerably.

ILLINOIS EDITOR KILLED BY MOTOR

Galesburg, Ill., July 24. — Earl Horsely, editor of the Elmwood Gazette, was killed and two companions injured when an automobile which they occupied turned over between Elmwood and Farmington early today. Clifford Humphrey suffered a broken wrist and Gilbert Holliday was badly bruised and injured internally. All the members of the party were residents of Elmwood. There were five men in the car.

FAMILY LOSES FOUR CHILDREN IN ONE DAY.

Knoxville, Tenn., July 24.—Three children of Mr. and Mrs. John Cooper of Townsend, Tenn., were fatally bitten by rattlesnakes late yesterday, and while Mrs. Cooper sought for them an infant, she had placed near the bank of a stream, fell into the water and was drowned. Funeral services for the four children took place today.

OUTBREAK OF VIOLENCE IN THE MICHIGAN MINES CAUSES CALL TO GOVERNOR FOR THE MILITIA

ANOTHER FIRE IN SING SING

Second Blaze Within Week Is Laid to Mutinous Convicts.

Day of Disturbance Leads to Doubling of Guards.

Ossining, N. Y., July 24.—Another fire at Sing Sing prison today gave the mutinous convicts a chance for more riotous demonstrations. The blaze started in the clothing shop, and the prison fire brigade extinguished it after a hard fight without outside aid.

It was the second fire in the prison building this week, notwithstanding the fact that the guards had been doubled since $150,000 worth of property was burned up there two days ago. Although it is generally believed that the fires were started by convicts, the warden has been unable to place the blame.

One Thousand Yelling Men.

When the fire broke out today the whistles were blown and every precaution was taken to guard against the escape of convicts. While the guards and the "trusties" were attacking the flames more than 1,000 prisoners locked in their cells raised a chorus of yells that sounded high above the noise of the alarm. The men at work in the building were marched out in good order.

Warden Clancy attributes the recent disturbances among the convicts to an order for the transfer of some of them to the state prison at Auburn. Most of the prisoners at Sing Sing come from New York city and object to being sent up state, where their friends will

COOL TRAFFIC SQUAD FOR INDIANAPOLIS

Shirt Sleeves, White Caps, Roll Collars and Black Ties Ordered.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 24.—Shirt sleeves and white duck caps are to replace the heavy helmet and blue coat of the traffic policeman just as soon as the officers can be supplied with the changes in the uniform. The change is made on the suggestion of Mayor Lew Shanks of potato fame, seconded by Superintendent of Police Martin J. Hyland.

White roll collars and narrow black bow ties are to be worn with the shirtwaists and the traffic officers have been asked to have their "gun pockets" deepened so that their revolvers will not show.

Supt. Hyland said today that the shirtwaist privilege stopped with the traffic squad.

"A patrolman can hunt the shady side of the street, if he gets warm," the superintendent said.

SAYS TROOPS MUST GO ONLY AS LAST RESORT

WOODBRIDGE FERRIS, Governor of Michigan, Who Has Been Asked to Order Militia to Scene of Copper Mine Strike.

FIRE HORROR PROBE BEGUN

State and Local Authorities Open Inquiries at Binghamton, N. Y.

Number of Dead Will Aggregate at Least Fifty.

Binghamton, N. Y., July 24.—State and local authorities today began an investigation of the circumstances surrounding the fire in the factory of the Binghamton Clothing company, in which at least fifty persons, mostly women and girls, lost their lives. Representatives of the state department of labor, the state fire marshal, the state factory investigating commission and the committee of safety of New York were present at today's inquest, which was conducted by Coroner R. A. Seymour.

Workmen continued to search the ruins of the burned factory building. Of the twenty-eight bodies thus far recovered only three have been identified positively. The others are burned beyond possibility of recognition, and will be buried in a plot to be set apart by the city for the unidentified dead. A public funeral is planned for Sunday.

Four of Injured May Die.

The task of compiling a list of the victims of the disaster is progressing slowly. Of those in the hospital four are injured so badly that their recovery is not expected.

Beside the known dead, thirty-four have been reported missing and probably are dead. Fifty-four survivors have been accounted for.

Not until the office safe has been opened can a complete list of the employes of the clothing company, dead, living and missing, be made. The safe was uncovered late yesterday, but it was so hot that no attempt was made to open it.

EASTERN TRAINMEN CHAFE UNDER DELAY

Are Not Satisfied With Concessions of Railway Managers.

New York, July 24.—The truce between the Eastern railroads and their conductors and trainmen, pending attempts to adjust labor difficulties, continued today, but the employes showed that they were growing restive. The delay in settling terms of arbitration, they say, is costing the unions $8,000 a day, for they are obliged to pay the expenses of more than 1,000 members of committees representing the various locals, who have not gone back to their locomotives since the declaration of the strike vote.

The men said today they were not satisfied with the concessions made yesterday by the railroad managers. These concessions, it was understood were the dropping of three of the eight grievances the railroads have asked to have arbitrated in connection with the demands of the men.

The principal efforts of the mediators today were directed to this question. As yet the Federal commissioners have not been able to consider the original demands of the employes.

PACKING HOUSE DAMAGED $50,000

Chicago, July 24.—Energetic work of firemen prevented what is was at first feared would be heavy loss in a fire which today attacked two warehouses of the Omaha Packing company at Lumber and West Twenty-third streets. The seven-story buildings were heavily stocked with provisions. The greater part of the damage done was in warehouse B, where the blaze started. The loss is estimated at $50,000.

FERRIS SAYS HE THINKS IT PREMATURE

Calumet Guardsmen Are Assembled Ready for Action.

Three Hundred Men Take Stars From Deputies on Duty.

Calumet & Hecla Properties Are Center of Attacks.

SHERIFF IN HANDS OF MOB OF 500

Lansing, Mich., July 24.—The governor's office this afternoon received a message from the sheriff at Calumet stating that he was in the hands of a mob of 500 men and that another mob of 500 was on the way to Calumet from Ahmeek, a small mining town near Calumet.

FERRIS WITHHOLDS TROOPS.

Bay City, Mich., July 24.—Governor Ferris, on his way to Alpena, but delayed by a train wreck, said today that he would not grant Sheriff Cruse's request for troops in the copper mine strike district except as a last resort to protect lives. He said he believed the sheriff's message was "anticipatory."

Calumet, Mich., July 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Strike violence occasioned by yesterday's walk-out of copper miners in this district grew beyond the control of Sheriff Cruse today and he wired to Governor Ferris asking that state troops be dispatched to maintain order.

The local militia companies were ordered to hold themselves in readiness for service, pending word from the governor.

Mahoney in Charge.

Vice President Mahoney of the Western Federation of Miners arrived this noon and took charge of the strike. The entire situation is in his hands. He says he will enforce quiet among the strikers as far as possible, but will "stand to his guns." Federation officials intend to keep closed all the mines, shops, mills and smelters and auxiliary works, as well as to prevent the operation of the mining company railroads, until their demands are granted; but they will not prevent pumping leakage water from the mines. If the mines were allowed to flood it might mean three months before they could be reopened, while the loss would run into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The chief attack of strikers today was directed against the Calumet & Hecla properties. Shortly before noon 300 men armed with steel drills, clubs and stones, and with a few of them displaying and firing revolvers, divested of their stars all the deputies stationed at No. 2 Conglomerate shaft of the company. The strikers then moved over to the Hecla branch mine and repeated their tactics.

Several men were badly beaten and sent to hospitals in the fights that developed and it is said one may die.

The strikers also visited all surface plants of the companies affected and closed them.

Stamp Mills Closed.

Stamp mills as well as mines shut down in the Lake Superior copper district today because of the miners' strike. The tie-up was complete with the exception of smelters, some of which have enough mineral on hand to operate for a week or more.

The Calumet & Hecla Conglomerate shaft at the Calumet branch, which was worked yesterday, closed last night when the strikers prevented men from going to work. The Franklin and Hancock mines, which worked yesterday, also suspended last evening.

A large body of strikers went from one shaft to another at the Calumet & Hecla and Tamarack, and several loyal

'GERMANS' 'CAPTURE' TOWNS IN ENGLAND

London, July 24.—Germans, represented by the "Red fleet" in the annual maneuvers of the British navy now in progress in British waters, raided the east coast of Great Britain this morning and landed troops in the neighborhood of the Humber.

After the warships escorting the convoy had engaged and defeated the defending fleet, four transports laden with soldiers ran the blockade which had been established and upset the cherished belief of the British admiralty that the British isles were invulnerable.

Vice Admiral Sir John R. Jellicoe commanded the fleet representing the enemy, which made the successful descent on the coast.

The towns of Grimsby, Cleethorpes and Immingham were occupied by the enemy, who routed the territorial forces.

CIRCUS ARRIVES TOO LATE TO GIVE PARADE

Management Forced to Abandon Either Matinee or the Parade.

Express Regret at Disappointing Big Crowd on the Streets.

It is circus day in Duluth! Shoen, though the day was, of one of its attractions, the big parade of the Barnum & Bailey shows, it is a red letter day in the lives of young Duluthians and—whisper it softly—most of the old ones, too.

Out on the lot at Thirty-fifth avenue west and Third street a tented city has been erected. Around the "big top" are clustered nineteen smaller tents, like the tents of the Arabs at the foot of the pyramids. The flaming banners proclaim the wonders of the side shows. The shrill shrieks and hoarse roars that come from the menagerie tent tell of strange and wonderful specimens of the animal world within. There is a smell of sawdust in the air—but it is more than that, it is the "circus smell"—none like it anywhere, and it is sweet to the sense of young and old alike.

The parade was not given this morning and no one regrets it more than those in charge of the circus. They faced a situation in which they were forced either to abandon the parade or the afternoon performance and the parade had to be abandoned. The circus showed at St. Paul last night, and it took three hours for it to be loaded on the cars. The trip to Duluth required four special trains for the eighty-five cars. The special trains had to give way to regular traffic on the road and, though the first train arrived early this morning, the others came in at long intervals and the last train was not in until 11 o'clock. Before the parade could be assembled, it was too late to start.

Circus Men Sorry.

"We are extremely sorry we were forced to disappoint the crowds, but we were the victim of circumstances and the uncertainty of railroad traffic," said Dexter A. Fellows, publicity agent of the show. "Our last train did not get in until 11 o'clock. The parade would require three hours to be given in full, and we would give it in no other way. If we had given the parade after all of our equipment had been assembled, we would have had to abandon the afternoon performance, and that would have been more disappointing to the people than the fact that the parade was not given. Many tickets had been sold, and the calling off of the afternoon performance was simply impossible. The parade is part of our business, and it is never called off unless it is absolutely necessary. We are more than sorry to disappoint all the little folks."

Crowds waited along Superior street in the hot sun for two hours this morning. All along the circus people hoped for the arrival of the train in time for the parade, but when forced to bow to the inevitable, they sent an automobile over the line of march and a man announced through a megaphone the abandonment of the parade.

The circus grounds and the streets around were the scene of more than usual circus animation this morning, on account of the delayed arrival. Through the streets leading to the grounds passed a wonderful procession.

Every variety of animal, tinged, streaked, spotted, four-footed, flap-eared, feathered and smooth, was on the street. Some of the animals were in cages drawn by patient draught horses, while others moved majestically into port under their own steam, so to say.

"Happy Jack" Snellen, the architect of the canvas city, was unusually busy this morning, and he is usually the busiest man in the United States. He had to press into service extra labor and drive his regular crews to unexpected efforts in order to get the twenty tents in place and everything ready for the afternoon performance. But he succeeded, and by the time the crowds arrived this afternoon, one would not have known but the circus had been on the ground for days.

One performance was given this afternoon and another will be given at 8 o'clock this evening.

PRODUCE TRUST CASE UNDER ADVISEMENT

Decision Probably Will Be Given Next September.

Chicago, July 24.—Suit of the United States government to restrain the Chicago butter and egg board from publishing quotations on the market which it was claimed were arbitrarily made and not governed by the law of supply and demand, was taken under advisement today by Master in Chancery Morrison, in the United States district court.

In the evidence presented the government attempted to show that the publishing of the quotations resulted in restraint of trade in violation of the interstate commerce law. A decision in the case probably will be made in September.

Superior

Witness Brutally Beaten.

Charles Bushey, a one time pugilist, was fined $53 in police court when found guilty of having assaulted J. Gumphrey. The latter was badly beaten. Gumphrey was one of the witnesses in the Childs hotel raid case and a dispute regarding the testimony given is said to have led to the assault. Bushey was also one of the witnesses in this case.

Grocers Hold Picnic.

The Grocers Association of Superior is holding its annual picnic today at Billings park. Several hundred people are attending the affair. A program of sports and games is a feature of the program. All the stores of Superior are closed this afternoon in order that the clerks and employes may enjoy the outing.

Struck By Car.

Nels Nelson, a shoemaker, was seriously injured as a result of being struck by a Billings park car at Eighth street and Tower avenue. The man had alighted from one car and walking around the rear of it had stepped in front of another. The injuries are so serious that fears are held for his recovery. The man is 51 years old and single. He lives at 1801 Tower avenue.

Pioneer Dies.

Peter Flynn, 90 years old, one of Superior's pioneer residents died yesterday afternoon at his residence, 414 Baxter avenue, following an illness of four years. Mr. Flynn had resided in Superior for nearly thirty years. He leaves a widow and seven children. The funeral arrangements have not been made.

JOB IS OFFERED FRANCIS SAYRE

New York, July 24.—Francis B. Sayre, fiance of Miss Jessie Wilson, the president's daughter, said today that he had been offered the position of secretary to President Garfield of Williams college, but had not yet decided whether he would accept or decline. The offer, he said, was a renewal of one made more than a year ago.

CITY COMMISSION LAW HELD INVALID

Liberty, Mo., July 24.—The Missouri law providing for the establishment of the commission form of government for the cities of the third class is unconstitutional, according to a decision of Judge Divilbiss in the circuit court. The case will be appealed.

STRIKE AVERTED ON CHICAGO LINE

Chicago, July 24.—It was announced today that there would be no strike of the 800 employes of the Aurora, Elgin & Chicago electric road, who are asking an increase in pay and improved working conditions. The company is said to have agreed to grant the men a small increase in pay and to adjust the other objections made in their complaint.

BRYAN HURRYING BACK TO CAPITAL

Chicago, July 24.—Secretary of State William J. Bryan spent twenty minutes in Chicago today, en route from Iowa to Washington.

"I am hurrying back to Washington to confer with Ambassador Wilson tomorrow in regard to the Mexican affairs," said Mr. Bryan.

He left for Washington at 12:40.

Tailors May Strike.

Bloomington, Ill., July 24.—E. J. Brais, secretary of the Journeymen Tailors' International union, announced that at the international convention, two weeks hence, he will recommend a strike of tailors throughout the United States and Canada for increased wages and better working conditions.

Nothing has been heard by any local tailors of talk of a strike.

KAISER'S GIFT TO NORWAY.

This is the colossal monument which the kaiser is to present to Norway. It is the work of Prof. Max Unger and is of bronze. It is forty feet high. The kaiser is now on his way to the North Cape on his yacht, as is his annual custom. On the trip he will make the presentation of this statue, which marks the twenty-fifth anniversary of his reign and of peaceful relations with the Scandinavian state.

BAN ON "GUERILLA GRAB" PREVENTS ONLY ONE SHOW

"The Guerilla Grab" may be all right for the cosmopolitan devotees of sinful New York's great white way but it's quite too shocking for Duluthians.

"The Guerilla Grab" is a dance but not the kind of performance which meets with the approval of the safety division of Duluth's commission government. It's quite too dazzling and parts of it are said to be quite too suggestive. Not only is it claimed that the garments or rather lack of them, are not such as would be worn in polite society, but that the actions of the performers are of such a nature that many people object to them.

"The Guerilla Grab" was billed as one of the numbers at the Empress theater the first four days of this week. But it did not quite finish its full schedule in Duluth. Yesterday afternoon complaint was made to Commissioner Hicken that it was immodest and should not be permitted to continue.

Commissioner Hicken did not act as censor in person but at his request C. Dinwiddie, superintendent of the city's welfare department, visited the Empress yesterday afternoon. Upon his return he reported to the head of the safety division that the dance was all that was alleged of it, and then some. He said that he has had occasion to investigate certain dances in New York but that "The Guerilla Grab" put any of them out of the running, hands down. Upon hearing which Commissioner Hicken dispatched a policeman to inform the management of the Empress to "keep the hook" and stow the act on the shelf during the remainder of its stay in the city. The management complied. Yesterday was the last day of its appearance.

"The Guerilla Grab" entertained, or shocked, Duluth audiences just one time less than it was billed. And during the night the principals of the latest "Apache" departed from Duluth's midst to entertain, or shock, audiences at their next stopping place on the circuit.

TRAIN HITS OPEN SWITCH

Three Baseball Players Are Hurt When Engine Is Derailed.

Passengers Leave Canadian Northern Coaches and Walk to Car.

Three members of the Winnipeg baseball team were injured in the derailment of the Canadian Northern passenger train, just east of Fairmont park, shortly before 11 o'clock this morning. The engine is said to have gone through an open switch, derailing the engine and one of the cars.

The sudden stopping of the train threw many of the passengers from their seats. Rafferty, right fielder for the Winnipeg team sustained a badly wrenched arm in being thrown from one side of the car to the other, and Kirkham and Freer, also members of the team sustained bruises about the body and hands. Rafferty will be unable to play in the game scheduled for this afternoon on account of his injury.

The derailment of the train made it necessary for all of the passengers to get off at this point and walk to the street car line, six blocks away. They took this means of continuing their journey to Duluth.

None of the members of the crew received any injuries. The train was slowing up at this point and probably not running over twelve miles an hour. It had just left the park and was entering the company's yards at Seventy-second avenue and Raleigh street when the accident occurrd.

PASTOR IS GIVEN LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Rev. J. C. Rienartson, pastor of Our Savior's Norwegian Lutheran church, Fifty-seventh avenue west and Wadena street, has been called away by the serious illness of his son, Raymond, who is at Munger suffering with tuberculosis. The pastor has been granted a month's vacation in order that he can be at the bedside of his son.

The pulpit of the church will be filled and other duties of the pastor will be attended to during Rev. Rienertson's absense by Rev. B. L. Opdahl, 5715 Cody street. Rev. Mr. Opdahl will preach at both services on Sunday. He will also conduct the midweek prayer meeting next week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Larson on Fifty-ninth avenue and Elinor street.

JABBED HIM WITH A PITCHFORK

Mary Prozivich of New Duluth was found guilty in the West Duluth court of assault on Joe Beirne. She was fined $15 and costs, amounting in all to $22.90.

Miss Prozivich had used a pitchfork for a weapon of assault, according to the tale told by the witnesses. Yesterday afternoon Beirne is said to have been cutting hay on some land leased by the woman and this is said to have been resented by her. She attacked the man with the pitchfork, jabbing him in the leg with it.

FLAG RAISING.

New Park Will Be Opened With Music and Exercises.

Flag raising in connection with the formal opening of Merritt park, Fortieth avenue west and Eighth street, will take place Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A large crowd is expected to attend the ceremonies.

A program of addresses and band music is planned for the afternoon. Joseph B. Gibson, president of the Oneota and Hazelwood Improvement club will preside at the ceremony. Addresses will be given by Mayor W. I. Prince and Commissioner Leonidas Merritt. Following these addresses the band will play popular airs until 5 o'clock.

Sacred Concert.

A sacred concert is being planned for Sunday evening by the choir of the Westminster Presbyterian church, Fifty-eighth avenue west and Ramsey street. Talent from outside of the city will take a prominent part in the program. It is expected to have the program completed tomorrow.

Cabin Picnic.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Plymouth Congregational church and the Plymouth Home and Foreign Missionary society will hold a joint picnic tomorrow at C. C. Salter's cabin on St. Louis river. The party will meet at 11 a. m. at the foot of Sixty-third avenue west and take Mr. Salter's launch to the camping grounds. A basket lunch will be carried by the members. An informal program will be given during the day.

MAY REPLACE CEDAR BLOCKS

Fifty-ninth Avenue Property Owners Talk Paving for Next Year.

Property owners on Fifty-ninth avenue west will call a meeting soon for the purpose of discussing the paving of the thoroughfare next year. The avenue has not been improved for over twenty years and a large part of it is said to be badly in need of the pavement.

It is proposed to have the thoroughfare paved between Elinor and Raleigh streets, a distance of nine blocks. This street was paved in 1891 with cedar blocks, most of which have been washed out in past years by heavy rains or else worn out by the traffic.

Fifty-ninth avenue is the widest street in West Duluth, and is well adapted to parking purposes. It is this kind of a plan of paving that the property owners are considering and if carried out will make it one of the handsomest in the city.

The street is sixty feet wide from curb to curb. It is proposed to have a concrete or asphalt paving, from 15 to 18 feet wide on each side of the street and to park the center of the street to a width of from 24 to 30 feet.

The property owners will discuss the proposed improvement and if an agreement is reached the plan will be submitted to the city commissioners for their approval. A petition will be circulated among the property owners following the meeting which will ask that the improvement be made in 1914.

JOINT PICNIC AT AT FAIRMONT PARK

Euclid lodge No. 168, A. F. & A. M., and Euclid chapter No. 56, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold their first annual joint picnic Saturday at Fairmont park. It is expected that a large crowd will attend the picnic.

The committee in charge has planned a program of sports and games. Basket luncheon will be carried by members of the chapter and during the latter part of the afternoon this will be served to the crowd. Judge H. W. Lanners heads the joint committee in charge of the picnic.

FLORENCE PARKER LAMBERT.

This young woman has caused Adolphus Busch, the millionaire St. Louisan, to lose a bet of $10,000. Busch's grandson, Adolphus Busch 3rd, has been very attentive for some time to Mrs. Florence Parker Lambert, who is the divorced wife of Marion J. Lambert of St. Louis. She is 36 years old and the mother of three children. Busch is about 22. When the Busch family began to take notice of young Busch's attentions to Mrs. Lambert, one of his aunts predicted that he would marry her one day. Old Busch scoffed at the idea and offered to bet $10,000 to $1,000 with his daughter that the marriage would never take place. Now young Busch has announced his engagement and it is stated that the family entirely approves of the match. Mrs. Lambert in marrying again will lose her beautiful home and a large amount of alimony. But young Busch will have plenty.

POLICE SAVE THE PREMIER

Asquith Is Attacked By Suffragette in Yorkshire.

Two Women Arrested Setting Fire to Big Mansion.

Doncaster, Eng., July 24.—An attempt by a militant suffragette to assault Premier Asquith while he was on his way today to the town hall of Morley, Yorkshire, to receive the freedom of the city, was frustrated by the police.

Miss Key-Jones, a well known suffragette of this city, sprang onto the step of the premier's automobile shouting:

"Stop torturing women, you scoundrel!"

She tried to pull Mr. Asquith from his seat, but the police caught hold of her and dragged her away.

Caught Setting Fire.

Glasgow, Scotland, July 24.—Two suffragettes, Miss Margaret Morrison and a young woman who refused to give her name, were arrested here today as they were about to set fire to a large mansion which was at one time the residence of the late Sir John Muir, lord provost.

The attention of the police was attracted to the house this morning and they entered. Inside they found a woman standing with a match in her hand in front of some piles of combustibles which had been banked against the doors. Shortly afterward Miss Morrison descended a chimney in which she had hidden. She was covered with soot.

A quantity of suffrage literature was found in the house.

Fired Pistol in Parliament.

London, July 24.—There was another brief scare in the house of commons last night when a blank cartridge was exploded.

Hon. Reginald McKenna, home secretary, was replying to James Kier Hardy's question about the rearrest of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst when a shot was fired from the strangers' gallery. The culprit, a man named Washington and a member of a Socialist club at Leeds, was immediately seized and ejected from the building. There was considerable relief among the members of the house when the pistol was found to be a harmless toy affair.

On July 11 a man fired a toy pistol in the house and caused a panic, and since then a careful watch for such disturbers has been kept.

CUMMINS DENIES ALL

Says He Never Talked With Mulhall About Kendall Speech.

Lobbyist Declares He Is Tired of Being Contradicted.

Washington, July 24.—Senator Cummins, author of the resolution under the senate committee investigating the "lobby," today added his denial to statements of Martin M. Mulhall, one time lobbyist for the National Association of Manufacturers.

In a letter to John Kirby, president of the association, Mulhall told of meeting Senator Cummins in May, 1910, and going to the room of the late Senator Dolliver, where they talked about a speech to be made in the house by Representative Kendall of Iowa. Senator Cummins denied that statement categorically.

"I have no recollection of seeing Mulhall or speaking to him on any subject, but I am not prepared to say that I have not," said Senator Cummins.

Never Talked as Quoted.

"But I am certain that I did not have any conversation with him about the speech Kendall was to make on the eight-hour bill; I am certain I never went into Dolliver's room with him and I am certain that I never had any conversation with him there."

Mulhall leaned forward in the witness chair and shouted:

"I am getting tired of those denials."

"I don't care whether you are getting tired or not. It makes no difference to me; if you don't tell the truth, I am going to deny it," replied Senator Cummins.

Under a sharp fire of questions, Mulhall testified he did not know where Dolliver's room was.

Mulhall had written that he and Senator Cummins retired to a "private room" to confer.

"As a matter of fact," observed Senator Cummins, "the room then occupied by Senator Dolliver was a single room. I don't care to cross-examine this witness any further."

Was "Not Explaining."

Mulhall declared he had no intention of implying that Senator Cummins had done anything wrong, and the senator replied that he was not making an explanation because he believed himself involved in any way but because he believed Mulhall's statements were incorrect.

Before he got to the Cummins matter, Mulhall told the committee that he, Counsel Emery and others "had a secret room" in the basement in the house side of the capitol, where they conferred and made long distance telephone calls. He said that the room had been furnished by Representative McDermott of Illinois.

The committee did not go into the subject in detail.

Mayor Prince said that the sign was unsightly and directed its removal. The board was used to advertise union made cigars.

Must Watch Hawkers.

In yesterday's issue of the police bulletin Chief Troyer calls the attention of all the officers to the hawking ordinance, which prohibits the sale of any article on Duluth streets after 7 o'clock in the evening, on the principal corners of the city.

Must Warn Pedestrians.

Mayor Prince today requested the Board of Trade livery company to take precautions to prevent the injury of pedestrians who pass the Union station of Fifth avenue. The mayor pointed out that the teams of the livery company, which does most of the livery and delivery business at the station, cross directly over the sidewalk. Pedestrians can see them when they turn in from the street but there is little chance for them to know when a team is going out. Warning signs will probably be posted at the entrances used for team traffic.

Smoke Stacks Too Low.

C. B. Woodruff today pointed out to Mayor Prince that the stacks on the roundhouse of the Northern Pacific on Garfield avenue are so low that the smoke and soot deluge all who pass. He suggested that if the stacks are raised ten feet the smoke will blow overhead. The mayor said that he would take the matter up with the company at once.

Next Band Concert.

The next open air band concert of the city will be given the coming Sunday at Merritt park, which is located in the Oneota and Hazelwood district in the western part of the city. The program will be rendered by the Third Regiment band, beginning at 3 o'clock. There will be a flag raising and other features are being planned. The day will be like a "general opening," and it is expected that a big crowd will be present.

Fred McBurney Missing.

Chief Troyer received a letter this morning from Thomas McBurney of Rockford, Ill., asking for the location of his brother, Fred McBurney, who is supposed to be in the vicinity of Duluth. Fred was working in North Dakota last fall and sometime in November wrote home and told his brother that he was going to Duluth. Several letters addressed to this city have been returned to Rockford. The missing man is 40 years old.

Here on a Furlough.

W. F. Landon, first-class hospital apprentice on the United States steamship Dolphin, is in Duluth on a 15-day furlough. He is visiting here with his uncle at 1901 East Superior street.

Suburbanite Arrested.

Peter Fosness of Morningside park was arrested this morning on a charge of having discharged a revolver within the city limits. The complaint was made to the police by Frances Purchio, a neighbor of the defendant. Fosness pleaded not guilty when arraigned this morning and his case was set for 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Assistant Reappointed.

Chief Quartermaster Erickson of the local navy recruiting station received word this morning from the navy department at Washington that H. N. McClure, first gunner's mate, who has been assisting here for the past three months, will continue in the same capacity until Nov. 11.

Will Choose Delegate.

Court Duluth, No. 724, Independent Order of Foresters, will hold a meeting tomorrow evening at Forester's hall, Fourth avenue west and First street, for the purpose of selecting the delegate for the high court meeting. It is expected that a large representation will be out for the meeting.

New Grain Company.

Articles of incorporation were filed this morning with the register of deeds by the McKindley Grain company. The capital stock of the company is $50,000, divided into shares at $100 each. The incorporators are James N. McKindley, Joseph A. Schumacher and Stephen A. Gray.

Case Is Settled.

The suit for $50 and costs brought by the estate of Augustine Daly, the famous producer and playwright, as royalty for the use of his play by local amateurs, will not come up in municipal court, a settlement having been agreed upon.

Case Is Dismissed.

Upon motion of H. A. Courtney, attorney for the United States Land company, the court this morning dismissed the case against the R. B. Knox company of this city. The plaintiff company sued for $250 and costs, which it claimed was due as the final payment of a real estate deal made last December.

Pleads Not Guilty.

Axel Borg, 29 years old, pleaded not guilty this morning to a charge of disorderly conduct. Borg was charged with disturbing a religious meeting on West Superior street last evening. His case was set for this afternoon.

'Ware the Dog Catcher.

The dog catcher's wagon will be put in operation this week by the police department, according to the present arrangements. Every dog without a license will be taken by the dog catcher and placed in dog pound for two days, after which the animal will be killed, if it is not redeemed.

COURTESIES AND THANKS.

Edinburgh Scotsman: The earl of Balcarres had a field of turnips on which he prided himself. He once surprised an old woman employed in filling a sack with his favorites. After giving her a hearty scolding, to which she replied by the silent eloquence of repeated courtesies, he was walking away, when the woman called after him: "Eh, my lord, the bag's unco' heavy. Would ye be sae kind as to help me on to my back wi' it?" This he did, when the culprit decamped with thanks.

WHEN THE TRICK WENT WRONG.

Being a very ambitious conjurer, says David Devant in the Strand, I resolved—long before I had sufficient experience for the work—to present the vanishing lady illusion. I devised my own version of it, and employed two ladies exactly alike. They gave me a lot of trouble, because sometimes an anonymous admirer would leave a box of chocolates at the stage-door for "the vanishing lady," and then the two ladies would call me in, and they would both ask at the same time: "Aren't these chocolates meant for me?" But that little difficulty was nothing to the one they caused during a certain performance. I must explain that it was the duty of one lady to vanish mysteriously from the stage. In reply to my agonized inquiry: "Where are you? Where are you?" the other "vanishing lady" would pop up her head in the gallery and reply: "Here I am, in the gallery!" On the fateful night to which I refer, the first lady did not vanish, but the second lady, not knowing that there had been a little accident to my apparatus, appeared in the gallery and, to the surprise of the whole house, including the conjurer, exclaimed: "Here I am, in the gallery!"

A CAT CALLS THE DOCTOR.

New York American: A cat owned by Barreuther Brothers, local merchants of Winsted, Conn., which is nursing four kittens, took one suffering with a badly inflamed eye to the office of a veterinary surgeon next door and left the afflicted kitten in a chair. The doctor entered the office a few minutes later and was treating the kitten when the anxious mother returned. The feline waited patiently until the sore optic was open, purred contentedly, and then took her kitten back home.

find it difficult to visit them. It was this element that led the mutiny yesterday, which at first promised to develop into an organized attempt at prison delivery.

Day of Disturbances.

After a day of disturbances by several hundred of Sing Sing's 1,500 convicts, extra guards were called upon last night to be in readiness for further trouble. The situation is a sequel to the $150,000 fire that destroyed some of the prison buildings Tuesday.

Signs of dissatisfaction were exhibited at breakfast yesterday, when 312 second and third term prisoners, thrown out of employment in the shops by the fire, complained of the food, hurled bread and eggs about and protested against being locked in their cells. They finally went, sullenly, but after being released for their noon meal refused to return.

Pursued by armed guards when they fled to avoid being confined by force, the convicts backed against a mass of coal, picked up anthracite lumps and indicated their readiness to engage in a battle. At this juncture a countermanding order came that they were to be allowed to roam the prison grounds during daylight hours. The convicts agreed to keep the peace, and did so until the warden made a round of the cells after supper, when the prisoners showed their dissatisfaction by smashing windows and hooting.

ENGLAND PREPARING TO SEND WARSHIPS INTO MEXICAN WATERS

ident pointed out that expressions by senators might arouse bad feeling in Mexico.

No Arms for Any Faction.

For the present, President Wilson has determined that no faction in the present Mexican revolution shall obtain arms or ammunition from the United States, and that neutrality must be observed in its strictest sense. This was the interpretation of the neutrality laws decided upon after conference with Senator Bacon and Representative Flood, chairmen of the two congressional committees on foreign relations. While the Mexican rebels have been getting no arms heretofore, these developments mean that the Huerta administration will be deprived of the privilege previously given the Madero government, and the United States will treat all sides alike in the present dispute.

Peace Forum In Warlike.

New York, July 24.—The international peace forum in a statement to the public today, called on the United States government for an unequivocal declaration of its position in the question of intervention in Mexico.

"While the International Peace Forum," says the statement, "stands unreservedly on the platform of peace, nevertheless it is not unmindful of the fact that the resources of peace may be exhausted making drastic measures necessary."

Americans In Peril.

El Paso, Tex., July 24.—Huddled in two houses on the main street of Madera, Mex., the Americans who are besieged by bandits, had been reduced practically to starvation when a messenger left there fourteen days ago. He has arrived here after a hard experience traveling overland through mud. He said the bandits are surrounding the town bent on murdering the Americans for the protection they have given some cowboys who attacked and killed two members of the bandit band while stealing cattle, and are firing their rifles into the little settlement at intervals.

He declares all canned goods had been exhausted when he left and the Americans had been reduced to subsistence on meal and a little flour. There are some Englishmen and other foreigners in addition to the Americans.

Torcon Captured.

Eagle Pass, Tex., July 24.—Official announcement was made today at Constitutionalist headquarters in Piedras Negras of the capture of Torreon by Constitutionalists. Fifteen hundred prisoners, twenty cannon and large supplies of ammunition fell into their hands, the Constitutionalists claim.

Escaped Conviction.

St. Paul, Minn., July 24.—Because the evidence showed that the liquor was sold on a barge and not on the steamer, William McRaney, president of the company which owns the excursion steamer Purchase, was found not guilty by a jury yesterday afternoon of maintaining an unlicensed drinking place on the boat June 27. The verdict was instructed.

Philadelphia, July 24.—Henry Klein of Chicago was elected president of the National Shoe & Leather Finders' association in convention here. The new vice presidents include Henry E. Sternberg, St. Paul, George A. Knapp, St. Louis, was elected secretary.

COMPENSATION LAWS VIEWED

Meeting at Milwaukee Is Devoted to That Theme.

Dr. Fricke of Wausau Would Eliminate Careless Employes.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 24.—"Workmen's compensation in this country has come to stay," said Dr. W. A. Fricke of Wausau in an address today before the first annual joint meeting here of Liability Insurance Agents and the Industrial Commission of Wisconsin.

Dr. Fricke related at length the changes now being experienced in American labor conditions. He believed that the heavy immigration of unskilled labor today is chiefly due to European legislation designed to benefit the skilled laborer.

He related much of the recent experience in accident and disease prevention, and ventured a prediction that American employers, before they can face changing conditions successfully, must follow the example of Germany—successful co-operation between government, employers, workmen and the insurance companies.

Would Punish Carelessness.

He said that the reckless and careless employe is so much of a menace and danger to himself and to his fellow employes that any employe incurring two avoidable industrial accidents should be as unceremoniously eliminated as would be a dangerous piece of machinery.

Dr. Fricke advocated a proper spirit of co-operation all along the line as an incentive for reducing the number of accidents, and to stimulate the conservation of human energy, vitality and efficiency.

L. A. Tarrill, chief examiner for the industrial commission, told about the control of the compensation act with relation to employer and workman, after the accident occurs. He strongly urged the prompt payment of compensation, regardless of the period of disability. In this way, he contended, a better relationship between employer and employe would be established.

Duty of Agents.

Chairman Charles H. Crownhart of the industrial commission, in speaking on the relation of compensation to industrial safety, made a plea that more interest be taken by the agent soliciting the insurance, beyond collecting the premium. He said it was the duty of a liability agent to become a missionary of safety.

OUTBREAK OF VIOLENCE IN THE MICHIGAN MINES

employes were attacked with stones and painfully hurt.

Capt. Thomas Matthews of No. 4 shaft of the Calumet & Hecla mine was felled by a rock hurled by an unidentified striker last night. Matthews was stunned, but his condition is not serious. Two veteran employes working as sprinklers also were attacked but escaped injury.

At No. 2 cage house of the Calumet & Hecla, a body of strikers were prevented from taking possession by a mining captain, who drew a pistol and threatened to shoot.

This morning the strikers gathered about the shafts to keep men with dinner pails away. A large number of deputies were sworn in and it is believed they can control the situation for the present at least. It is understood the mining companies will make no effort now to reopen the mines.

The rioting is mostly among the Hungarians, Bulgarians and Austrians. The English, Scandinavians and Italians taking no part. Fresh accessions to the union forces from among all nationalities are being made and it is predicted that within a week the Federation will include a majority of the 18,000 miners and other workers of the district.

Ontonagon county is quiet.

All surface workings, shops, etc., of the mines at Calumet were forcibly closed by the strikers at noon today.

Financed by A. F. of L.

Officers of the Western Federation of Miners say that whole organization, as well as the American Federation of Labor, would support the strike, and that they had plenty of funds for a prolonged contest. They asserted they would not countenance violence, and would make every effort to prevent a clash of men at the mines.

Guy Miller, J. C. Lowney and Jacob Terlsch are in charge of the strike for the Western Federation of Miners. They have been working in this region for some time under the direction of Vice President Mahoney, who is expected to come here soon to give the strike his personal attention.

Many Hundred Deputies.

Twelve hundred deputies were sworn in today at Calumet and vicinity, and about 2,000 along the South Range district, where lie the Copper Range Consolidated mines.

Probably the saloons of the entire district will be closed tonight, and the sale of liquor forbidden.

All the mills of the Calumet & Hecla, Centennial, Osceola, Tamarack and Ahmeek mining companies are shut down because of lack of rock from the mines for crushing. All other milling plants, including the Quincy, Mohawk, Wolverine, Mass and Michigan, and Atlantic will be closed by tonight.

Not a pound of rock is being moved from the mines. Every shaft suspended last evening. Few surface crews remained at work.

The outbreaks during the night are believed to have sprung from the mingling of strikers with the firemen's tournament corwds at Calumet and the free sale of liquor yesterday. Thousands of visitors from all over the Northern Peninsula are in town for the tournament of the Upper Peninsula Firemen's association.

Many Men Satisfied.

Thousands of the miners live in houses owned by the mining companies. These men did not want the strike. They have free libraries, free schools, free baths and gymnasiums, free baseball, free winter and summer sports, free hospitals, the finest in the state, with free medical attendance at all times for themselves and families. But recognition of the union is what is wanting. Then, too, the union agitators have argued against the introduction of the one-man drilling machine, which is gradually superceding the two-man machine, at great saving to the operators. They claim it an overburden and a danger for a man to be compelled to work alone with one of these machines, which are very heavy, in distant working.

There are few fatalities in the mines here, only fifty-seven all last year among the 18,000 mine workers of Houghton and Keweenaw and Ontonagon counties, and many of these were due to the carelessness of the victims themselves.

Wages Were Raised.

A year ago in April all but one or two of the mines, and one of the exceptions was the Franklin, where there is no strike, increased the wage scale 10 per cent. There has been no decrease, although copper has gone down in selling price from 17 to 15 cents in that time.

Manager James MacNaughton of the Calumet & Hecla has refused to discuss anything regarding the strike, but the companies, it is generally understood, will stand firm. It has been predicted that the strike will come to an end by Monday but this is extremely doubtful.

Governor May Act.

Lansing, Mich., July 24.—The first direct information received at the executive office during the governor's absence was contained in a telegram received shortly before noon today from J. W. Black, a Houghton county politician. He wired:

"Local officials unable to handle. Lots of disorder, and you are justified in sending troops at once. Business men and best saloon keepers urge that all saloons in Houghton county be closed."

At noon today Adjt.-Gen. Vandercook of the state militia received instructions from Governor Ferris to have everything in readiness for the calling out of the state troops if the situation demands it.

The governor, who is at Bay City, Mich., said that he will immediately take the matter up with Michigan National Guard officials and will probably send a man to Calumet as his personal representative to advise him regarding the exact conditions.

"I dislike very much to order troops into Houghton county," said the governor. "The sheriff's message seems anticipatory to me, and I will not send troops up there except as a last resort to protect the lives, property and the men who desire to work."

Before leaving there Governor Ferris telegraphed to Sheriff Cruse instructing him to see that the liquor laws are obeyed to the letter throughout the strike zone.

WEEKS AND WORKS TALK

an equal reduction in workingmen's incomes.

Secretary Redfield's announcement that any closing of American factories would be investigated by the government, Senator Weeks alleged, was a suggestion intended to as far as possible coerce American manufacturers to continue running without reduction of wages and without regard to net receipts obtained.

Wilson's Methods Assailed.

Senator Works, attacking the tariff bill today, charged that President Wilson exceeded his constitutional authority by aiding in framing the bill and "using his powerful influence to have it passed in the form approved by him and known to have his approval."

The senator also assailed the Democratic caucus, which he declared forced a senator to "forego his own conscientious convictions and judgment and vote with his party, or come into disfavor and be branded as an apostate and betrayer of his party."

"The president," said Senator Works, "commits himself beyond recall to a bill not yet introduced, and without having heard the presentation of their views by the legislative representatives of the states where vital interests and important industries are to be affected by it.

"Vicious Doctrine."

"Thus we have a bill agreed upon and marked for final passage upon consideration of only a few men of the party, concurred in by the president acting with representatives of this one party. This comes in part from the vicious doctrine that the president is the leader of his party instead of, or as well as, the president of the whole people. The two are utterly inconsistent when it comes to the making of laws."

Senator Works did not doubt that the president acted from the purest motives, but feared that "this great power to mold legislation might fall into unworthy or treasonable hands and that revolution may follow, and this beneficent government of ours be disrupted."

Sees Finish of Nation.

"The time may come," he said, "when this great power in the executive government to rule and control congress, a power not given by law and wholly illegitimate, but established by the silent and unauthorized acquiescence of the people and their lawful representatives, may bring the institutions of this republic into deadly peril and possible overthrow.

"It makes the situation only more alarming that one of such high ideals and patriotic purposes should do anything that can reasonably be construed to be a usurpation of power or an infringement of the Constitution, that may some time be appealed to as a precedent by one less conscientious and patriotic."

Took Mass Plunge.

The senate took its first mass plunge into the intricacies of the Underwood-Simmons bill yesterday. At the end of a day of hard work, only a few paragraphs of the voluminous measure had been completed when adjournment was reached. On every test vote throughout the day the Democratic leaders were upheld, in some cases receiving the support of Republicans aligned with the Progressive element.

Detailed consideration of the bill began unexpectedly when it was found that no Republican senators were ready to deliver general tariff speeches. Tests of strength came upon a number of relatively unimportant issues, embraced in duties upon chemicals and drugs. The Democratic ranks held solidly upon each vote. Upon the first vote, when Senator Smoot opposed a reduction of the oxalic acid duty from 2.2 cents to ½ cent per pound, Senators Borah, Bristow, Crawford, Cummins, Jones, La Follette, Norris and Works, Republicans, and Senator Poindexter, Progressive, joined the Democrats in indorsing the proposed reduction. On a subsequent vote to increase the duty on pyrogallic acid from 10 per cent to 15 per cent, twelve Republicans voted with the Democrats.

Democrats Shun Debate.

Democratic senators evinced throughout the day the determination of the party managers to hold debate to the minimum. No Democratic senators participated in general discussion further than to give information as to the reasons for the reductions. The Democrats have determined to make but few speeches, and to use their efforts to minimize debate and hasten the final passage of the bill.

Republican senators criticized repeatedly the character of the estimates made by the Democratic leaders as to the basis for the reduced duties. Several minor errors in the "tariff handbook" prepared by Chairman Simmons and his staff of experts gave the Republicans an opportunity to question the authenticity of many estimates, and to declare that the Democrats had no adequate idea of the amount of revenue that would be realized under the bill.

The plan of the Democrats to take coal tar products and coal tar distillates from the free list and place them under duties ranging from 5 per cent to 10 per cent, was opposed by Senator Smoot, but without avail.

"START HELL" IN BALTIMORE

collector of customs, and spoke of Stone's friendliness to labor agitators.

"Eight-Hour Bill Cornered."

Mulhall wrote Secretary Schwedtman that the eight-hour bill was pretty well cornered in the labor sub-committee of the house and there was no danger. He wrote Kirby on the same subject:

"Gardner named his sub-committee as Mr. Emery and I had agreed. We feel that if the bill goes to this sub-committee there will be no danger for the rest of this session."

Feb. 10, Mulhall wrote Kirby about senators to be elected.

"Dick of Ohio has sought our aid; Scott of West Virginia; Depew of New York and Carter of Montana. Of course we have had Aldrich on our list for the last nine months."

Mulhall testified Carter never asked aid from the manufacturers, but suggested a personal visit by Mulhall to Montana.

Through the early part of February, Mulhall's letters continued to treat of his efforts to pigeon-hole the eight-hour bill in the house labor committee. He wrote of "Mr. McMichaels, one of our workers here" and testified he meant "J. H. McMichaels," the chief page of the house.

Gardner "Surrendered."

In May, 1910, Mulhall's letters told of his going to the Sixth New Jersey congressional district to help re-elect John J. Gardner, once opposed by the manufacturers. Mulhall swore Gardner had "surrendered completely" and that in consequence he had gone to his district to help him.

The house lobby committee expects to open hearings Monday with Mulhall as the first witness. Chairman Garrett was notified today by Chairman Overman of the senate committee that the senate inquisitors expected to conclude the examination of Mulhall this week.

Rushed the Work.

The senate committee put on full speed ahead yesterday and in an unusually short session got into the record nearly 500 of Mulhall's letters. Mulhall was on the stand only about an hour after the noon recess, but in spite of the short session, the committee made rapid progress.

Mulhall's testimony covered a slack period in the summer and fall of 1909 and the early part of 1910, when there was nothing to do in his line except to work on stocks, tinker at a few odd jobs in politics and keep things generally moving in Washington. In several letters Mulhall told of a desire on his part to see Charles F. Murphy, "boss" of Tammany hall, in the interests of the candidacy of George Gordon Battle for governor of New York. Mulhall was trying to see Murphy through Herman B. Black, who figured in the correspondence as an attorney on Broadway.

One Perfunctory Letter.

Mulhall swore that Black was a sort of "confidential lawyer" to Murphy. He said he never saw Murphy on this matter, and testified that Mr. Battle was a man of the highest character, and clean politically. A letter signed "Battle and Marshall" gave the only indication, so far as the committee had gone, that Battle had ever heard of the interest Mulhall took in him. It was a perfunctory acknowledgment that a letter from Mulhall had been received.

Nelson Charges "Politics."

Neither Senator Cummins nor Nelson, Republican members of the committee, appeared at the hearing yesterday. Although neither would discuss the matter, it is generally known that they claim the Democrats have been playing politics with the investigation, particularly in the case of S. W. McClave, Republican candidate for congress in the Sixth New Jersey district, defeated in a special election Tuesday. McClave was brought into the case a few days ago by Mulhall. Senator Nelson declared publicly the next day he did not know the committee was being used for campaign purposes, and Senator Cummins has not been present at any hearing since, except for a few minutes.

An extensive exposition held in Paris recently was devoted exclusively to acetylene apparatus.

MAKES PLEA FOR THE JEW

Judge Bregstone Says United States Should Not Bar the Immigrants.

Zionists Working Toward Re-establishment of the Jewish Nation.

The problem of the Jew is one of the great problems of the twentieth century, believes Judge Phillip P. Bregstone of Chicago, one of the leading Zionists of the United States. Judge Bregstone is a guest at the Holland.

"The government of the United States faces a very serious question when it bars the Jew from this country," said Judge Bregstone. "Mind you, I am not saying that he is discriminated against here. The Anglo-Saxon countries are the only nations of the world, which not only, do not discriminate against the Jew, but are practically the only ones which do not persecute him.

"When the Jew is turned back from the gates of this country he becomes an outcast upon the world; he has no country to return to, no home to receive him.

"Today there are 6,000,000 Jews in Russia who are in peril every day of their lives. The women are defiled, children murdered and atrocities too horrible to mention committed. It is the same in Roumania and even more terrible conditions prevail in Gallicia. Thus do we find conditions in this enlightened age and generation—a people persecuted.

"The Zionist movement has for its aim the providing of a place of refuge for the Jew. We desire to restore the national entity—to bring back to the Jewish people those great accomplishments with which the Jews as a race should be credited in the future—for the Jewish race has in the past never received credit for any of the great compositions, triumphs of art or various other remarkable products of the genius of a people. Other races have received credit for noble works of art or wonderful creations of literature or sculpture that should have reflected credit upon the Jews as a creative nation.

"Palestine was the original home of the Jews. It is here that we are planning the great refuge of the homeless wanderer; it is here that some of us, dreamers perhaps in a certain sense of the word, plan the future home and the reuniting of a race that through the long years of history, wandering up and down the world, has become separated and lost, and in becoming thus separated as a people, has lost credit and consequently reward for many of the great deeds that individual members of the race have accomplished.

Good Progress Made.

"Already vast strides have been made. Today it is a fact that only a very small per cent of the Jewish young men are allowed to enter the universities of Europe. Suicides have grown out of this discrimination against a race. We have already started a university at Palestine. Here will be the opportunity for the Jew to gain the culture he has so persistently sought, and which has equally persistently been refused him. Wealth is by no means the only reward of a people, and even the virtue of culture has been denied to the Jewish peoples in cetain countries."

Judge Bregstone stated that many colonies are at work gradually improving general conditions in Palestine and that the standard of living has considerably advanced as a result. Also that the land, after years of idleness, is being improved by cultivation to the extent where it can be called a fertile and productive land.

"I believe that the Zion plan will be crowned with success," said Judge Bregstone. "There are many Jews returning to their native land at the present time, and in the growth of years we believe that the number will be greatly multiplied. We believe that the Jews as a nation will progress as the individuals have progressed. We believe that it is only a question of time until present conditions regarding the Jewish people will change. They cannot continue as they are at present. But the Zionist movement will result perhaps in hastening this time and will also prove a potent factor in re-establishing the national entity of a race that long ago in the dim dawn of history, was one of the most cultured peoples of all the world."

SLAYER OF ROSSI TO STAND TRIAL

Pleads Not Guilty to Murder Charge—Claims Self-Defense.

Joseph Straffaccio, alleged slayer of Frank Rossi, pleaded not guilty to first degree murder in district court before Judge Fesler yesterday afternoon. He was arraigned on an indictment returned by the May grand jury. The March grand jury indicted him for murderous assault. Rossi was shot on March 2 and died March 15. The May grand jury found a true bill for murder and the assault charge was dismissed.

Straffaccio will plead self-defense. He has not yet secured an attorney, but will do so, he informed the court through Capt. Fiskett of the police department.

Straffaccio was brought back recently from Fort William, Can., where he escaped shortly after he had shot and mortally wounded Rossi. He was working at Fort William under the dead man's man.

He will be tried at the September term of court.

Amusements

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Motion Pictures.
EMPRESS—Vaudeville.

Amusement Notes.

Today, Friday and Saturday, will be feature days at the Lyceum. On these days two of the biggest features in black and white and in kinemacolor will be shown. The black and white feature for today is a four-part picture showing Miss Blanche Walsh in "Resurrection." Miss Walsh played in this production on the road for a number of years and met with great success. In addition to the "Resurrection" picture, the greatest feature that has ever been shown in kinemacolor will be included in the program. "Steam" is a three-reel feature telling the real love stories with the pictorial history of the discovery of steam power and its application to inventions that revolutionized the world. This characteristic kinemacolor combines historical, scientific, dramatic, biographical and educational interest, for it shows the development of steam power from the period when James Watt discovered its ability to lift the lid from a teakettle, and deducted therefrom the hoisting engine for use in the English mine pits—to its culmination in the modern high-speed locomotive.

A significant feature in connection with the long runs of "Fine Feathers" at the Astor theater, New York, and the Cort theater, Chicago, is the fact that so many people came to see the play again and again. The first visit was doubtless prompted by the all star cast, which included Robert Edeson, Wilton Lackaye, Max Figman, Rose Coghlan, Lolita Robertson and Amelia Sumers; but the play was found to be quite as strong as the cast, and proved to be an irresistible magnet. Eugene Walter, who wrote "The Easiest Way," "Paid in Full," and other big successes, is the author of "Fine Feathers," and acted by this wonderful array of stellar talent, it is without doubt the biggest drama of the century. It is coming here for a special engagement, almost fresh from Broadway, with its remarkable cast intact. It will be seen at the Lyceum Monday and Tuesday.

A new program of vaudeville opened at the Empress with the matinee this afternoon. As an extra feature a "Duluth Baby Show" will be put on. All people attending the Empress will receive coupons which will entitle them to a chance on a real, live baby.

The headline act in the vaudeville program is the Imperial Japanese troupe. Masters in the art of juggling and balancers. Some of the feats they perform are said to be marvelous and extremely hazardous. The Japanese people seem to be the only people who can give balancing and juggling acts the finish they deserve. The art is composed of three men and one woman, all of whom are adepts in this line of work.

Isabelle Miller will be seen on the bill in a farce entitled, "The Other Boarder." Miss Miller is said to be a clever actress and her players all people of artistic ability. The sketch is one of complicated situations and laughable lines.

Miss Josephine will give a "single act." Her voice is said to be pleasing and her talk witty. She has the make-up of "Sis Hopkins" and in many places has been termed the Sis Hopkins of vaudeville.

Another act that is expected to please is the oddity presented by Shaw and Everett. This oddity is a very funny burlesque on a big ship captain and a sailor. The captain appears in Irish make-up while the sailor is a Jew.

The usual high grade pictures will complete the bill.

GOVERNMENT GETS AVIATION TRACT

Dayton, Ohio, July 24.—Negotiations have been completed whereby the government obtains control of a 100-acre tract of land near Fairfield, Green county, on which to conduct aerial tests. The land is practically level, and the tract is a short distance from the aviation grounds of the Wright brothers. The land was leased for three months and it is said $150,000, which became available July 1, will be largely used for tests to be made here.

SEEK COMPROMISE ON DEMANDS OF MEN

Chicago Suburban Car Officials and Employes in Conference.

Chicago, July 24.—When conferences between officials and employes of the Aurora, Elgin & Chicago Electric line were resumed today it was hoped an agreement would be reached on the demands of the employes for an increase of 10 cents an hour and improved working conditions.

The meeting of the union representatives and their employers was held today at the offices of attorneys for the company. No information was allowed to become public as to what was taking place in the conference, except that both sides hoped for a compromise satisfactory to the company and its 800 employes.

Automobile Wrecked.

Waubay, S. D., July 24.—The engine of Charles Hjelming's touring car "died" on the track in front of a St. Paul road passenger train yesterday. Hjelming leaped from the automobile which was reduced to a pile of debris.

Burglars' Loot Found.

Marinette, Wis., July 24.—Several hundred dollars worth of silverware, gold watches and brooches, which evidently had been buried by burglars, was found today by boys at a lonely spot three miles from here.

SAMARITAN ROLE COSTLY

Befriending Homeless Not Profitable Custom in Duluth.

Another Added to List of Those Robbed By Men Befriended.

Stanley Kalinowski is another good samaritan and his name was this morning added to roll of those who let their kind hearts get away with their better judgment.

In the past three months many have taken their unfortunate brothers into their homes and given them clothing, food and lodging, only to awake the next day to find that everything of value in the house had been taken during the night, while the "poor unfortunate" brother had also disappeared.

Yesterday afternoon Stanley Kalinowski met Enoch Bogurski, with whom he worked in a Wisconsin lumber camp about five years. They had not seen each other since that time and their sudden meeting yesterday was the occasion for rejoicing to both. They had a couple of drinks and Enoch then volunteered the sad news that he was broke and without work. Stanley's kind heart got the better of him and he bought his old friend a supper and then took him to his room in the Sixth avenue hotel.

Earlier in the evening a friend of Kalinowski told Patrolman Harling to watch Bogurski, without the knowledge of the former. This the officer did and when Bogurski stepped out of the hotel at 1 o'clock this morning, he was arrested by Sergeant Roberg and Officer Harling, who were waiting for him.

The trio returned to Kalinowski's room, where he was still asleep and entirely unaware of what had transpired. He was awakened by the officer, and told to search his clothes, upon doing so which he discovered that $14 of his money and a gold watch, valued at $21, were gone, Bogurski was placed under arrest and taken to the police station.

In police court this morning Bogurski was arraigned on a charge of grand larceny in the second degree. He asked for an examination and his hearing was set for 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

MINING OFFICIALS DECLINE TO TALK

Boston, Mass., July 24.—While they admitted that disquieting advices had been received from the Michigan mines, where a strike is in progress, officials of the Calumet & Hecla and Copper Range companies declined to discuss the situation today.

Final adjustment of the difficulties will need the approval of the Eastern officials, including President Quincy A. Shaw of the Calumet and William A. Paine of the Copper Range.

SUPT. DENFELD AT ST. CLOUD NORMAL.

St. Cloud, Minn., July 24.—Superintendent Denfeld of the Duluth city schools delivered an address at the State Normal school here Tuesday, practically all the summer school students being present. The Duluth educator discussed the new state laws which will go into effect in two years. He said that after Aug. 1, 1915, all teachers must have at least 18 months' experience or be an advanced graduate. The new law, it is said, will simplify the educational system in this state and thus place it on a higher plane.

MISSING GIRL MAY BE WITH GYPSIES

Fond du Lac, Wis., July 24.—In the opinion of Mrs. W. F. McGowan, Katherine Winters, the missing 9-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Winters of New Castle, Ind., is with a band of gypsies that circuited the east shore of Lake Winnebago only a few days ago. Mrs. McGowan was approached by one of the gypsy fortune tellers while the outfit was camping near Appleton, and declares that the woman was accompanied by a white child that corresponded closely to the published photograph and descriptions of the Winters child.

Bright's Disease

is a disease, the thought of which holds terrors for most people, yet all cases are not necessarily fatal. Bright's disease follows neglect of the early stages of kidney disease and failure to take a good efficient remedy and correct kidney trouble in its incipiency.

DECORATED AUTOMOBILES

Big Parade Will Be Closing Feature of Lark of Lake.

Boosters Will Have Charge of Next Saturday's Program.

The biggest automobile parade in the history of Duluth will wind up the Lark o' the Lake carnivals Saturday evening, Aug. 2.

The committee has sent out over 600 letters to automobile owners, every man in the city known to own an automobile being included. All were urged to get into the parade and make it the biggest thing of the kind ever seen in the Northwest.

About fifteen prizes will be given for the best decorated automobiles, so every inducement is offered auto owners to make their machines attractive. Automobile owners are seldom called upon to decorate for parades in Duluth and it is expected many will welcome the opportunity of helping to make the closing carnival of the Lark o' the Lake series a big event. Already the acceptances are beginning to come in.

Preparations are going on for the boosters' parade Saturday evening of this week. Frank X. Gravel, chairman of the trade extension committee of the Commercial club, announced today that the parade will start from the Union depot at 7:30 sharp. He urges every man who has ever been on a Duluth trade excursion to be on hand. Linen dusters, caps and pennants will be issued at the Commercial club today, tomorrow and Saturday, and those boosters who are lacking any or all of the equipment may obtain it at the club. Mr. Gravel asks that all be ready when they arrive at the Union station Saturday evening so there may be no delay.

The boosters are entering enthusiastically into the spirit of the carnival, and Mr. Gravel has assurance from many that they will be on hand for the parade.

STATE LODGE WINS VICTORY

Judge Willard Gives Decision in United Workmen Suit.

Brainerd, Mich., July 24.—The grand lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen of Minnesota scored a victory against the supreme lodge of the order under a decision by Judge Willard in United States district court at St. Paul, dismissing the bill of the supreme lodge as plaintiffs in the case, according to a dispatch received by local Workmen.

Suit was brought by the supreme lodge against the state grand lodge to enforce the payment of $205,000 which it was claimed has been collected in Minnesota for payment to the guaranty fund and the fraternal aid fund of the supreme lodge and had not been surrendered.

Judge Willard held that the state grand lodge is not indebted to the supreme grand lodge.

The state grand lodge separated from the supreme lodge completely in 1911, and the amounts claimed were computed to be due for the two years prior to the severance.

Judge Willard says in his decision: "The case is bottomed on the claim that the defendant has actually collected money for the guaranty fund and the fraternal aid fund which it refuses to pay over. Proof that the defendant ought to have collected the money and was bound by the constitution and laws of the order to do so is not sufficient. The question is, has the defendant in fact collected any money for either of these funds which it has not paid over? All the money raised was for the beneficiary fund, and the fact that money could be taken from that fund to pay the ambount due the fraternal aid does not prove that it was raised for the supreme lodge."

SANITARIUM FOR INCURABLES

Mrs. Julia A. Wood, founder of the Mercedes sanitarium for incurable consumptives, has sent out an announcement stating that the institution will be opened about Aug. 1. Persons who cannot hope to live will be received at the sanitarium. It is stated that in many instances relatives are so afraid of contracting the disease that they refuse to care for those afflicted. The notice indes a statement that household articles as well as cash donations will be gratefully received.

TRAIN CREW IS UPHELD BY JURY

Testimony Shows Plaintiff Was Drunk When Put Off Train.

Because the testimony showed that Charles Mattson of 920 Mesaba avenue was drunk when he was thrown off of a Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific train on Feb. 8, last, a jury in municipal court yesterday afternoon returned a verdict for the defendant company in a suit for $499.99 alleged damages brought by Mattson.

Witnesses brought on the stand by the defense swore that Mattson was drunk on that day and that he had been drinking on the train. One of the brakemen testified that he had repeatedly told Mattson to stop drinking.

Mattson and several other men boarded the train at Duluth and when it arrived at Ellsberg, about fifty miles from here, the conductor put Mattson off. Just as the train pulled out Mattson attempted to catch on the rear coach, but the conductor pushed him off, Mattson falling into a ditch. In his complaint Mattson claimed that he was bruised about the head and body and that he suffered damages to the extent of $499.99.

A. G. McKnight appeared for the plaintiff, while Hector Baxter represented the defendant company.

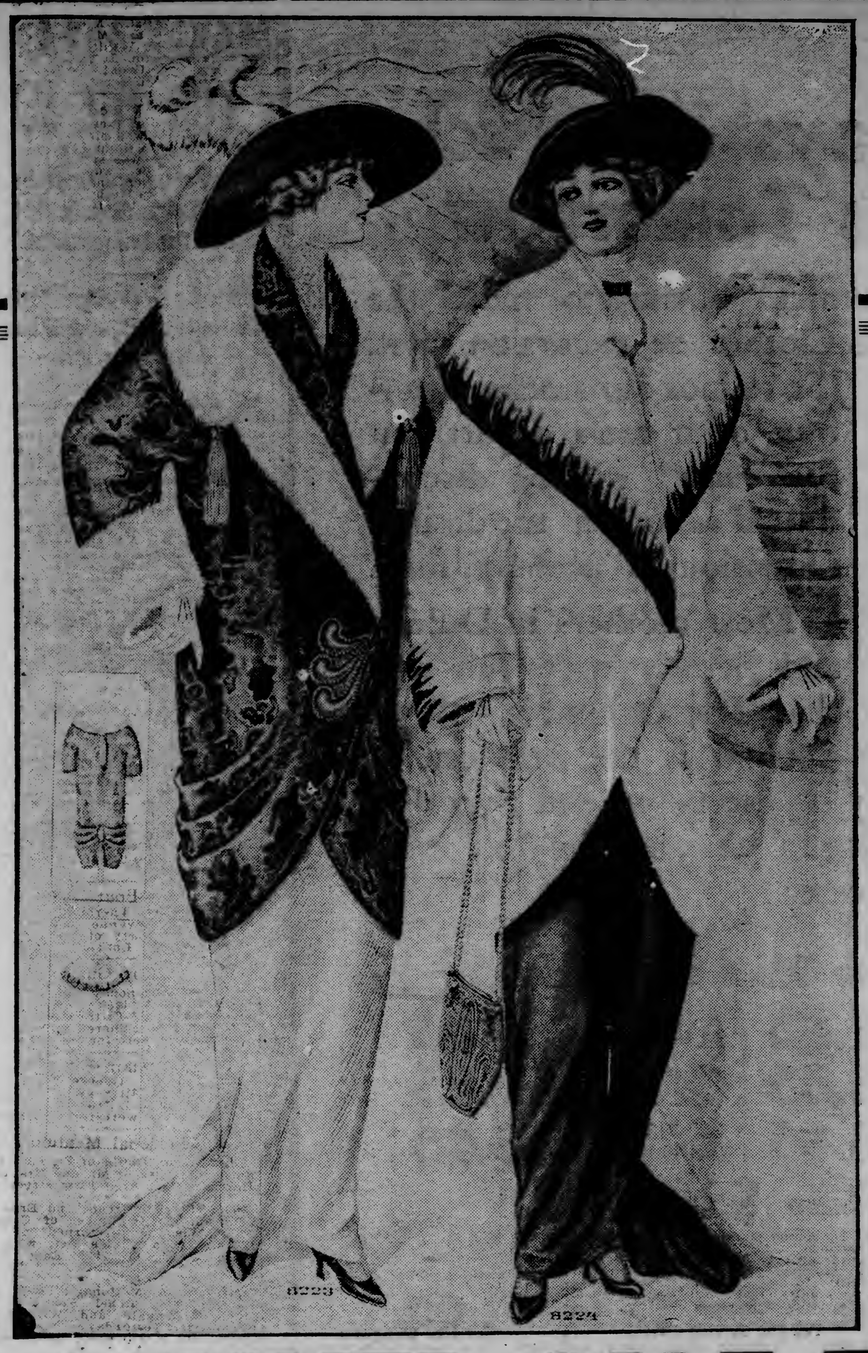

LOOKING FOR SISTER OF INSANE SUSPECT

Charles Johnson, an insane man held by the Canadian immigration officials at Edmonton, Alta., may be deported to Duluth, if the local immigration officers are successful in locating the whercabouts of a sister the insane man is supposed to have in Duluth.

Inpector Brown McDonald has been asked to look for Mrs. Henry Wagner, said to be Johnson's sister and a resident of Duluth.

CALLED HUSBAND BY TWO RICH WIDOWS

Kansas City, Mo., July 24.—A. O. Jacobs, a government horse buyer, has been bound over to the Wyandotte district court in Kansas City, Kan., on a bigamy charge made by Mrs. Mary B. Paul. His bond was fixed at $1,500, in default of which he was put in jail. In December Jacobs married Mrs. Cora Andrews, a wealthy widow of Kansas City, it is alleged. A month later she left for northern Nebraska on a visit.

On Feb. 8 this year, Jacobs met Mrs. Mary B. Paul, another wealthy widow, and married her the next day while his first wife was away.

Mrs. Mary Paul Jacobs learned of the dual life of her husband two weeks ago, and after obtaining a divorce, commenced suit for his citation on a bigamy charge. Mrs. Cora A. Jacobs, the first wife, has sent word she will appear against Jacobs. Jacobs is 40 years old and has been connected with the government a number of years.

Oatmeal Shampoo As a Hair Beautifier

(National Journal of Hygiene)

Hair to be healthy must be kept clean. But hair that's clean is not always healthy. Soaps and shampoos with much alkali, borax, ammonia and other things, are cleansing, but injurious. They dry and impoverish scalp and hair, taking away their natural oils. They cause hair to split, break, lose luster or color.

There's nothing better than oatmeal to keep hair and scalp both clean and healthy. There's enough oil in it to make use of olive oil or vaseline unnecessary. Caxined oatmeal compound makes a better shampoo than plain oatmeal. It is finely pulverized, free from bran and produces just enough lather. Stir a teaspoonful of it in a cup of hot water and rub thoroughly into the scalp. Rinse well afterward. There's no stickiness or muss about this. It not only makes hair beautifully soft, glossy and fluffy, but promotes its growth. Most druggists carry caxined oatmeal compound in convenient packages.

THIRD WEST VIRGINIA LEGISLATOR GUILTY

Dr. H. F. Asbury Convicted of Taking Bribe for Vote on Senator.

Webster Springs, W. Va., July 24.—Dr. H. F. Asbury, a member of the lower branch of the West Virginia legislature, was found guilty by a jury last night of having accepted a bribe for his vote in the recent contest for a United States senator. Dr. Asbury is the third of seven legislators to be convicted.

Socialist's Conduct Ordered Looked Into By Seattle Court.

Seattle, Wash., July 24.—Superior Judge John E. Humphreys, who last Saturday enjoined Mayor George F. Cotterill from suspending publication of the Seattle Times and from closing the saloons, has appointed a committee to investigate the conduct and utterances of Hulet M. Wells, a member of the bar and prominent in the radical wing of the Socialists of Seattle. The committee was instructed to look into Wells' record and advise the court as to what action should be recommended to the prosecuting attorney.

Mr. Wells was Socialist candidate for mayor at the last election. He is the author of a burlesque sketch to be presented by Socialists at a leading theater next Sunday night, which purports to be a dramatization of a recent trial in Judge Humphreys' court.

The public safety committee of the city council voted unanimously to recommend indefinite postponement of the resolution introduced by Councilman Griffiths, which condemned Mayor Cotterill's action last Saturday in taking command of the police and attempting to close the saloons and suspend publication of the Seattle Times for two days, because of soldier and sailor riots in the city directed against Industrial Workers of the World.

CRIPPEN LAWYER GETS THREE YEARS.

London, July 24.—Arthur Newton, a lawyer who came into much prominence during the trial for murder of Dr. Crippen, has been sentenced to three years penal servitude at Old Bailey sessions. He had been convicted of conspiracy to defraud Dr. Hans Thorsch, a wealthy young citizen of Vienna, out of $115,000 by false pretenses in 1911 and 1912.

Mandan After Agriculture Meet.

Mandan, N. D., July 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mandan is preparing to make a bid for the 1914 meeting of the agriculturalists in the employ of the United States department of agriculture, who this year will hold their conference at North Platte, Neb., experimental farm, Aug. 20, 21 and 22. About fifty men connected with the experimental work of the department of agriculture will attend the gathering.

DIES JUST BEFORE $165,000 IS DUE

Philadelphia, July 24.—Shipmates of Wilbur Martin, a young marine who died in the hospital here Monday night, declare that he was one of the wealthiest enlisted men in the United States navy. They declare that he was a beneficiary under the will of his uncle, who died in St. Louis, to the extent of $165,000, provided he completed his enlistment, which would have expired next September.

Harnessmakers Pick Mill City.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 24.—Minneapolis was selected for the next year's meeting of the Harnessmakers' convention. James Chambers of Troy, N. Y., was elected president, G. M. Scherz of Cincinnati was re-elected secretary and D. A. Hopkins, of Grinnell, Iowa, was elected treasurer.

Twenty Hurt on M. & St. L.

Woman's Realm

Those who attended the musicale at the Y. W. C. A. yesterday afternoon arranged by Mrs. D. H. Day for the benefit of the Children's Home were given a delightful treat with the charming music and dancing of a number of young people. The assembly hall was filled and every number had a distinctive charm of its own and merited the warm applause accorded every performer.

Master Louis Gomberg the cunning little musician who in his sixth year is attracting considerable attention by his piano work under the direction of Mrs. Day, opened the program with three numbers. "Musical Clock" by Spalding, two studies by Czerny and Bilbro's "Sandman," his good tone, conception of time and ability of expression featuring his work. He also appeared a second time on the program playing a group which ended Engelmann's "March Oriental," a difficult number which was given in most finished style.

Miss Mary Weiss played Schmoll's "Remembrance" with understanding and pleasing expression, the tone quality in her playing being especially good.

Miss Helen Hudson was the next performer playing two Schmoll numbers, Pastoral and Polonaise which were well done.

Marguerite DeLaMotte, a dainty little toe dancer gave the Gaiety skirt dance in almost professional style and in response to a delighted applause gave the Highland fling. She is a pupil of Prof. Leo.

Little Misses Marie MaGreevy and Helen Hudson sang two pretty little songs, "Sandman" and "A Surprise" with quaint and charming manner with Master Louis playing their accompaniments in the most approved style, and Miss Marie sang a little lullaby "Sing to Baby" sweetly and well.

Marie McGreevy also played two piano numbers displaying good technique.

Cordelia Collins played a Sartorio number, "At Evening" and her tone quality was especially good, bringing out the tone picture with ability.

Miss Violet Smith was received enthusiastically in her rendition of Dence "Tarantelle" which she played with smoothness.

Miss Mary Mendenhall in Thome's "Simple Confession" showed ability and Miss Isabel Jacobi played a Chopin Prelude, Op. 28, No. 20 which was heartily applauded and Bohm's "Glissando Mazourka" with good taste and a pleasing depth of tone.

Miss Helen Edwards played a Spanish dance which was particularly good showing a musicianly understanding of the piece.

Numbers which were of unusual interest were danced by Miss Charlene Bagley who gave a poetic interpretation of the story of Narcissus graceFully and effectively and responded to an encore with an esthetic dance which is part of the work of Miss Blair's classes this year and the closing number was the interpretation of a Greek idyll, by Josephine and Mary Cotton to the Rubinstein "Melody in F," which was charming and enthusiastically received.

The whole program was completely effective and proved a delight to the audience.

SUFFRAGE LUNCHEON.

Notable Gathering Will Open Convention at St. Paul.

St. Paul, Minn., July 24.—With a luncheon at which 1,000 women will be seated the Minnesota Woman's Suffrage association will open the state suffrage convention in St. Paul next October.

The suffrage luncheon will not only be the largest affair of its kind ever given by women in Minnesota, but it will be politically the most significant gathering of women ever held in the Northwest. Women from Illinois, California, Wyoming and other states where women vote, will speak informally at the luncheon and the progress of suffrage throughout the world, will be recounted in the toasts and informal talks.

The state suffrage association has invited several men of national reputation to speak at an evening session of that convention. Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, now in Europe making suffrage speeches, will be one of the speakers.

At a meeting of the local entertainment and arrangement committees held yesterday at the old capitol plans for the October meeting were discussed. The date of the convention has not been decided upon.

ST. JAMES' DAY.

Communion Service at Old St. Paul's.

The celebration of Holy Communion will be held at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning, St. James day, at the old St. Paul's Episcopal church, Lake avenue and Second street, Dr. A. W. Ryan officiating.

FOR VISITORS.

Luncheon and Dinner at Country Club.

Entertaining for Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Severance of St. Paul and their three guests, Miss Byrd of England, Miss Tighe and Miss Foster of St. Paul, was a part of yesterday's social activities here. Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Merrill entertained at a luncheon for twenty at the Northland Country club yesterday at 1 o'clock and Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Cole gave a dinner party there for them last evening.

FOR MISS NOYES.

Former Duluthian Guest of Mrs. T. J. Davis.

Mrs. T. J. Davis of 2104 East First street entertained at an informal afternoon affair yesterday for Miss Louise K Noyes of Boston who is her guest. Garden flowers adorned the rooms.

WILL GO EAST.

Rev. Gebauer Will Spend August Traveling.

Next Sunday the last service of the season will be held at the Unitarian church, Rev. George R. Gebauer leaving next week to spend the month of August in the East. He will go first to Rockford, Ill., where he will officate at the marriage of Miss Lucille Youngs, and Joseph Barlach, both formerly of Duluth and members of his church here, which will take place on Aug. 12. From there Mr. Gebauer will go to Brooklyn, N. Y., where he will conduct the services at the Church of The Savior on Sundays, Aug. 17 and 24. He will return to Duluth about Sept. 1.

AMERICAN SINGER ELECTRIFIES LONDON

FLORENCE MACBETH.

Another American singer has made a hit in London. She is Florence Macbeth. She made her debut recently at Queen's hall before an audience of London critics and their notices the following day compared her favorably with Patti, Melba and Tetrazzini. The London Standard said of her: "Since the advent of Mme. Tetrazzini we cannot call to mind a singer with so phenomenal a voice or one who uses it with such surprising fluency and ease." The first public appearance of Miss Macbeth was made with the London Symphony orchestra. She scored a triumph with the public also. She will appear shortly in opera under the management of Daniel Mayer of London, the well-known concert manager.

HEIRESS MAY WED POLO PLAYER

NANCY STEELE.

Nancy Steele, one of the prettiest girls in the Long Island set, is reported to be engaged to marry Devereux Milburn, who was one of the American team which recently defended the polo cup. Whether this is a romance of the polo field and Milburn is receiving the reward of the victor gossip does not say. Miss Steele is the daughter of Charles Steele, who is a member of the Morgan banking firm.

DINNER POSTPONED.

SWEETS FROM ROSES

In gathering roses for sweetmeats or the potpourri jar, it is well to profit by the methods of the Bulgarians who are the makers of the finest grade of attar of rose in the world, and the Armenians, who make the most delicate of rose conserves and preserves, says the Kansas City Star.

During the Bulgarian rose harvest the young men and maidens rise before the sun does, then tramp away to the great rose fields to gather the blossoms while the dew is still on their petals. After the sun has dried them their richest fragrance has vanished. On this account the picking is all done in the early morning. Their roses are of but two varieties, the damask and musk both of which contain the largest percentage of oleoptene, which is the liquid and odoriferous part of the attar.

As these roses do not grow in their full perfection anywhere else, we must content ourselves with any fragrant roses that we can obtain in their freshness.

Rose Syrup—Rose syrup is most delicate and delicious in summer when added to a glass of water by the spoonful. It also makes a delightful addition to a cake or pudding. Cut fragrant roses in full bloom and spread on a brown paper or tray to prevent mildew. When you have collected enough to make a glassful or two, put the leaves in a small saucepan, with just enough water to cover, and simmer until tender. Measure out as much sugar as you have bulk of leaves and cook together until a rich, sweet syrup results. Pour into bottles or pint cans and keep in a cool, dark place.

Rose Flavoring—An easy way to prepare rose flavoring for home use is to fill bottles or jars with rose petals, packing them down tightly to make the essence as strong as possible. Pour in enough fresh alcohol to submerge the leaves, cord tightly and set away for a few weeks until the alcohol is thoroughly impregnated with the flavor of the roses.

Crystallized Rose Petals—Select perfect fragrant blossoms, separate into petals, spread on an inverted sieve and stand in the air until dry but not crisp. Make a heavy syrup, using one cupful each of granulated sugar and water, and cook without stirring until it spins a thread. Flavor this syrup with a few drops of essence of rose and color with a tiny bit of cochineal. Now drop the leaves in one by one, using a fine wire; take out and drain on the greased sieve. Turn once in the process of drying, which will take several hours. If the leaves then look preserved and clear they will need no further dipping; but if the petals seem dry and not candied, dip again, dust with sifted sugar and dry. Serve on bonbon saucers.

Homemade Attar of Roses—Select two glasses, one small enough to fit in the neck of the other. Partly fill the larger jar with fresh fragrant petals and invert it over the smaller, in which has been placed a fine, absolutely clean sponge soaked in olive oil. Prop up the two bottles in the strong sunshine until the petals are withered, then remove and fill with the fresh. Keep this up during the rose season, utilizing all the petals that can be obtained. When the season is over rinse the sponge in alcohol and you have the essence of attar. If you have a large quantity of petals you may squeeze the oil out of the sponge without adding alcohol, which gives the real attar. By diluting either attar or extract you have a delicious flavoring.

Preserved Roses—Take a jar of the same dimensions top and bottom, like the Dundee marmalade jars—this straight-up-and-down shape is desirable because its contents may be turned out easily. On the bottom sprinkle a layer of granulated sugar, then a layer of rose leaves, and so on until the jar is full, the last layer being sugar.

When filled paste two or three layers of paper over it to make airtight and set away in a cool, dark place where the mice cannot get at it. The oil in the rose petals crystallizes the sugar, and by autumn you will have a delicious confection.

A FAITH RENEWED.

Children Were Trying Her Until She Heard a Man's Talk.

Youth's Companion: A tired mother was on her way home in a trolley car, after a long afternoon of shopping in town. She had bought trousers for one boy, shoes for another, and a hat for one of the girls. So many little bodies there were to clothe, so many little mouths to feed, so many young minds to direct, so many immortal souls to inspire! They were good children, but Phil was mischievous. Bert was quick tempered, and Kathie—was it true that Kathie was growing a little wild?

Could she keep patient and firm? Would good come out of it all? Would she live to see her children rise up and call her blessed?

She leaned her head against the window, and closed her eyes. Then the sound of voices came to her ears. A man and woman in the seat behind her were talking together. Evidently they were friends who had not met for some time.

"Yes, mother died two years ago," the man said, soberly.

The woman's reply was inaudible.

"No, she worked hard down to the very last. We hoped she might have an easy time before she went, she had slaved over us for so many years; but her easy time never came.

"Yes, Ben pulled through that all right—no, it never troubled her. She never doubted for a minute that he'd do well. She had great faith in us boys, and that's what made it seem so hard that she had to go just as we all began to do well."

"She always seemed happy," the woman's voice said, doubtfully.

"She was. It's queer. We were talking about it last Sunday. My wife and I go over to Ben's Sunday afternoons, and Harry and Lil come up and bring Eva—mother loved that child as if she were her own—and Lon generally gets round with Bess and their boys.

"'Wouldn't mother have been proud if she'd lived to see Lon where he is now?' says Harry.

"'She couldn't have been any prouder of him than she was all her life,' Ben says, 'and I don't know that she could have been any happier than she was.' She always had to work, and she had a hard life, but she was happy in spite of it all. Isn't it queer."

"Yes," said the woman's voice, as she rose to leave the car, "it is queer."

The mother who had been tired, but who was tired no longer, smiled. To her that other mother's happiness did not seem to be "queer" at all. It seemed to be the inevitable working out of a beautiful law.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

When Children Are a "Nuisance," the Parents Are to Blame.

It is an old story—the complaint of one mother about the other children of the neighborhood, that they make themselves a nuisance by coming to her house and making too free.

Every mother, of course, goes through some such experience as this. If one has children, they cannot be reared as wall flowers, and cannot be isolated from others of their kind. If they are, of course they grow up to be queer and selfish and unlike others.

Children should be allowed to have plenty of playmates of their own age, but mothers should be careful to see to it that these playmates are well selected. It is bad for children to play with other children who are much older. I know a little girl, a mere baby yet, of 3 years or so, who has become so spoiled and smart alecky that she has almost lost her childish sweetness and charm—all from playing with a lot of children much older than herself.

Some friends of mine recently moved into a strange neighborhood, where the children were numerous. They had a baby boy of not quite 3, and they had scarcely got settled in their new home until the house was filled with children, ranging in age from 6 up to 10 or 11. The mother at once saw that this would not do, for the children were too old to play with a mere baby; so she put a stop to it at once.

Some of these children, she found, were lacking in home training, for they ran all about the house and got into everything that they could get into. One or two others, however, would not even enter the house, because, they told her, their mother would not allow them to enter other people's houses without consulting her.

Of course, the child who is not taught to behave at home cannot be expected to behave elsewhere, particularly when it is some place where the mother is not along. The child that is properly trained at home will know how to behave properly when away, and will be pretty sure of a welcome from the neighbors, for her presence will be a pleasure rather than a nuisance.

Nothing is more delightful to behold than a well trained child, and nothing more distressing than one who is poorly trained or altogether lacking in training. It is to be pitied because its parents are either too unwise or too selfish to give it the proper attention.

YOUNG GIRL MAY HAVE BEEN KIDNAPED BY STRANGE MAN

"Guess we'll wauk around the block," said Helen Maleski to her young girl friend about 11 o'clock last evening, and walked off with a young man who had struck up an acquaintance with her on the street. She has not been seen since, and her brother has appealed to the police for help in finding his sister, whom he believes has been kidnaped.

The young girl, who is only 18 years of age, had been to a motion picture theater with two friends last evening. One of her companions was an out-of-town young woman who has been visiting her for a few days. The three girls started for home about 11 o'clock. The Maleski girl has been keeping house for her brother, Frank Maleski at 528 West Second street, and the other girl lived close by. As the three girls approached the courthouse they saw two young men ahead of them. The young men began a flirtation, and offered to see the three girls home.

All five went first to the home of the third girl, where they left her, and the four then started back to the home of the Maleski girl. When they reached the house the visiting girl went in and the young man with her left. The Maleski girl called to her friend that she was going to walk around the block with the young man who was accompanying her. She has not been seen since.

This morning the other two girls appeared at police headquarters and told their story to Chief Troyer. This afternoon the brother heard of it. He was thoroughly alarmed and feared that his sister had been detained against her will in some disreputable hotel, or kidnaped and taken from the city by the man.

HELEN MALESKI.

The missing girl weighed about 160 pounds, being quite fleshy. When she disappeared she was clad in a blue jacket, white towel skirt, white towel hat with a feather and a tan raincoat.

MARTIAL LAW IS DECLARED IN PEKIN

Action Is Regarded as Admission of Desperate Conditions.

London, July 24.—The Pekin correspondent of the Daily Telegraph sends the following dispatch:

"The declaration of martial law here shows that the northern government admits its desperate position. This synchronizes with the creation of a complete confederate government at Nanking. Parliament has not yet been dissolved, but it is not likely that it will survive a week.

"The principal newspaper organ of the Kwo Ming Tang party has been suppressed.

"The war news is baffling, but foreign military experts now believe the southerners are in far greater strength than has been supposed. They are pursuing aggressive tactics everywhere.

"All indications point to a great explosion in Hu-Peh province."

SAY ELLA FLAGG YOUNG WILL RESIGN

Chicago, July 24.—Three members of the Chicago public school board stated that Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of Chicago schools and one of the most prominent women educators of the country, had indicated her intention of resigning. Mrs. Young herself refused to discuss the subject, adding:

"I will not state what may come out at the next board meeting."

QUINLAN FREED ON $5,000 BONDS

Paterson, N. J., July 24.—Patrick Quinlan, the Industrial Workers of the World leader, who was sentenced to a term in states prison for inciting the striking silk mill workers to riot, was brought here from Trenton today and released under $5,000 cash bail. Quinlan will be free until his appeal from conviction is decided by the supreme court of New Jersey, which will hear his case in November.

STATE CIGARETTE LAW ORDERED ENFORCED

St. Paul, Minn., July 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Instructions to enforce the cigarette law passed by the last legislature and to prosecute all unlicensed dealers who sell or give away cigarets were given by State Dairy and Food Commissioner J. G. Winkjer today to twenty-one inspectors in the department whom he called to the capital for a conference regarding new legislation. Mr. Winkjer said he had frequent reports of dealers attempting to violate the law.

JUST A HABIT.

Chicago News: "When women get the going habit," remarked Dingan, "there is nothing to it! They get worse and worse. They want to see how many different places they can go in one week. And it is simply wonderful what a record some of these gaddors can make! Statistics prove that their endurance is terrific."

"We are not allowed to speed an automobile more than just so fast," commented the young lawyer. "So it seems to me that the functions each woman attends in one week should be limited to thirty-seven, or some such number. It is becoming necessary to conserve the poor things."

"They don't hurt anybody but themselves, do they?" inquired one of the women.

"Yes, I think they do. When a woman has the going mania she often has a way of crowding out others who deserve to get in. These maniacs have a way of hypnotizing people into inviting them everywhere.

"There's Mrs. McBillops. She is invited by all the people who have automobiles to ride every day. No one seems able to resist taking Mrs. McBillops out in a machine.

"It becomes a habit to take that woman, and also the fashion. It amounts to an epidemic. All Mrs. McBillops has to do is to look at a person and immediately she is invited to ride."

"She must have a machine of her own then," said the sad looking woman. "When an automobile owner wants to take any one for a ride he always takes some other automobile owner. Mrs. Morgan takes Mrs. Nims to ride on Monday, and reciprocally Mrs. Nims takes Mrs. Morgan on Tuesday."

"I suppose," said Dingan again, "that they think automobile riding unhealthful for the uninitiated. They don't want to see pedestrians get the swelled head. They realize that the pedestrians must be taught to know their place."

"Some must dance while others toot at them," suggested the fat man, although nobody paid any attention.

"If some one should ever invite you out in his automobile some one else is liable to ask you, too," explained Dingan, "and gradually others will seek you, and you will in time be irresistible. No function will be complete without you. You will be the first thought. Look at Mrs. Snibbins.

"Mrs. Snibbins never goes to church, yet when there is a church picnic she presides at the minister's table. It just naturally happens.

"With me, sadly enough, it is different. People see me walking down the streets and I get the reputation of being a walker. They naturally think I walk because I like it.

"The only time I get even is when I commit some crime. Then I get the limit of attention. There is something supernatural about it."

WIRE.

Indianapolis News: Wire was originally made by hammering, but is now produced by powerful machinery which draws the heated metal through a series of holes of gradually diminishing size. The first wire mill in England was set up at Mortlake in 1663. Enormous quantities of wire, of differing grades and sizes, are now used, ranking from a thickness difficult to bend to the finest thread.

IN A MAZE OF LOBBYISTS

Poor Lawmaker Has No Chance to Escape---Persistent Pursuit of the Illinois Legislator.

George Fitch in the Chicago Tribune: There was a time, embalmed in Biblical history, when a plague of locusts settled down over Egypt, making locomotion, business and the control of the temper exceedingly difficult. No one sympathizes with the woes of the beleagured Egyptians in that sad circumstance more keenly than the legislator, along towards the close of a session, when he spends his days fighting his way through swarms, droves, coveys, flocks, regiments and clouds of lobbyists.

This is the open season for legislators, as far as the lobbyist is concerned. The bills have all been introduced, the committees have worked most of them over, and there now remains the huge job of instructing the members as to the virtues and evils, the needs and menaces, the boons to civilization or the perils to the Constitution contained in said bills. This is the mission of the lobbyist, and no one can accuse him of being a shirker.

Lobbyists have filled the third floor of the capitol building almost to suffocation for the last week. They have jammed the aisles and floor of the house. They have "taken" committee rooms as dandelions take a fair green lawn. They swarm in the hotels, congest the corridors, make lairs in the elevators and lay ambuscades on the capitol steps.

Like the Planet Jupiter.

The legislator has become a human model of the planet Jupiter. He pursues his way with large numbers of satellites revolving around him—said satellites endeavoring, as he homeward plods his weary way, to acquaint him at the same time with the dangers of nurse registration, the horrors of electric headlights, the poverty of the state university, and the pressing need of more free hog serum. They buy his dinner for him, despite his shrieks, and tell him as he eats that unless the 13 amending section steen, article onth, of the civil code is killed, capital will wither and die or liberties will go permanently into hock.

They visit him in his room, and as the delegation which has been explaining the iniquities of the "puts and calls" bill leaves there enters a detachment of widely known business men to explain that this very bill will clean up the board of trade and make Chicago great. They talk to him until he is blind and dizzy and he goes to sleep in the shank of the morning while five men are sitting on his bed explaining to him that unless he votes against local option he might as well order flowers for his political funeral at once.

Lobbyists are hanging on the legislator's door knob as he emerges in the morning, fighting for precedence. The elevator boy is a lobbyist in disguise and slips him a circular. Nine men are waiting for him downstairs. Delegations claw at him as he struggles into the assembly chamber, and as he reaches his seat he finds a lobbyist in it, another in the offing and the page bringing him two bushels of assorted mail from the long distance lobbyists who stay at home and enrich their Uncle Samuel through the postoffice department by sending several tons of letters to Springfield weekly.

Sweep Them Back For a Moment.

All of this wears on the nerves of the statesmen and makes them shy and retiring as well as more or less jumbled in mind. Occasionally during an important vote some legislator rises and in horrified tones declares that lobbying is going on at that minute, and demands that the floors, the aisles, the cloak rooms, the chandeliers and the keyholes be cleared of lobbyists. Then there is a great scurrying of doorkeepers and they push the rising tide back for a few minutes. But it doesn't last. As the doorkeepers retire to their posts they are pushed from behind by the returning throng.

Long after each session has ended and the members have escaped, earnest workers stay behind checking up names in their doomsday books and waiting patiently for some victim who is treed in a committee room and must eventually come out or starve.

They are very severe on lobbyists in some states, treating them with contumely and other eradicants and compelling them to register, pay a license and wear a tag like any other chauffeur. Missouri even considered making all lobbyists wear green hats and red vests—or red hats and green vests—to distinguish them from college boys. In Iowa if a lobbyist were to venture on the floor of the senate he would be fed to the lions next morning. But Illinois is free and easy in its treatment of these persuaders and so long as they do not crowd the speaker away from his desk little objection is raised.

Good and Bad Lobbyists.

As a matter of fact, lobbying is generally education and there is a very distinct place of usefulness for it. Of course, there are some good lobbyists and bad lobbyists. The former come down armed with documents, maps, explanations and petitions and help the legislature, bewildered with the task of translating 900 bills into common sense English. The latter come down armed with soft words, harsh threats and methods that are dark and vain. A bad lobbyist wouldn't hesitate to steal a legislator when necessary, and if lobbyists have done all the things charged to them in past sessions, printers' ink would pale beside them.

Lobbyists indicate the interest of the people generally in legislation and their insistence on being heard regarding it. There are lobbyists who work through the whole session at their own expense for bills which they believe will help humanity; and there are lobbyists who are sent down at great sacrifice by associations of various kinds on bills which are vital to the prosperity of many.

There are lobbyists who present the cases of corporations and railroads as lawyers would present it in court. And there are lobbyists, sad to say, who present their case as the devil presents his. We should not condemn all lobbyists but the legislature should make a practice of hanging the worst one each session. That would discourage the bad ones and would not interfere in any way with the good ones.

HER PEN BETRAYS HER.

New York Mail: A maid whose fountain pen requires repairs, and borrows his wife's to use in the interval, has a chance to make an interesting study. A woman's pen, like a woman's watch, has a psychology of its own. It betrays the feminine temperament in every movement.

Generally you find that in order to get the pen to write at all, you have to tip it to one side, for women always write with the side or edge of a pen. If you can get it to scratch a little as it goes over the paper, it will write; if it can't, it leaves the paper blank. If you lay it down flat on the table, it leaks ink. It betrays by its general conduct that it is carried wrong end up when not in action—or sometimes one end up and sometimes the other.

It is a mystery why a woman, who can be so neat and orderly about her house, and who will not let you displace a dolly on the back of a chair, can always be relied on to get a watch out of order and demoralize a pen.

PRECOCIOUS GEORGE.

Kansas City Journal: "What's the idea, George?" inquired Mr. Washington. "Why do you chop down this cherry tree? Have you anything against cherry trees?"

"No, sir."

"Maybe you are in favor of deforestation?"

"No, sir."

"Doing this for a moving picture concern?"

"By no means."

"Then why chop down a tree?"

"I just thought of going on the stump," replied the future father of his country, and then Mr. Washington realized that George was a born statesman.

BIG CROPS FROM TWENTY-FOOT GARDEN

Enough Vegetables to Supply a Family of Four Nine Months Raised on a Tiny Plot of Ground.

By Mary Rankin Cranston in New York Times.

Last summer I measured off a space twenty feet square for a garden, just for the fun of seeing how much it could be made to produce. I had read about the large quantities of vegetables that could be grown on a little plot, and, although rather skeptical about the accuracy of the figures, I thought it would be interesting to see what could be done with a garden so small, really a "gardenette," as it were. The results far exceeded my expectations. I would never have believed that a 20-foot square could produce so many vegetables.

Success was due to careful planning, which arranged the different varieties in such a way that not an inch of space was wasted. Then, just as soon as a row of plants showed signs of decline, it was dug up and a new kind substituted. Quickly maturing varieties were planted between those of slow growth, so the late comers did not shade the others, nor did they interfere with each other, since the early plants were gone by the time the space they occupied was needed.

Nineteen different kinds of vegetables were planted. Some of them, such as peas, beans, lettuce and radishes, had more than one planting. The cost, which came to $1.90, was for seeds. Labor cost nothing, for I did all the work myself, even to spading up the plot. Nothing was spent for plants to set out beyond the packages of seeds, for I grew the cabbages, tomatoes and so on in the hot bed.

The soil was made very rich. As the gardenette was planned in January there was ample time to get the ground in first-rate condition, which was done by spreading over it henhouse manure and giving it a liberal application of commercial fertilizer when the seeds and plants went into the ground; about a third of a sack was used. Then, when lima beans were planted, a spadeful of horse manure went into each hill, as these beans require a great deal of heat for quick germination.

The arrangement was strictly utilitarian, for planting was done regardless of anything besides getting the greatest quantity of vegetables from that small space. Across one end were twenty hills of sweet corn in two rows of ten hills each two feet apart, one row being of Shaker, the other of Country Gentleman, with cucumbers planted in eight of the hills. At right angles to the corn, along another border line, there were a dozen Stone tomato plants, rather close together, but they thrived nevertheless because they were tied up to stout stakes.

A row of Extra Early Philadelphia peas stood between the two rows of corn, and a foot and a half from these hills a dozen Early Jersey Wakefield cabbages were set out. The next row was divided into two parts, ten feet being given to onions and the remaining ten feet planted with Valentine string beans, which were followed by Telephone peas, and then turnips.

Ten cauliflower plants were set in the next row. Two feet from them half of the row was planted with beets, the balance with carrots. Swiss chard took four feet of the following row, kohlrabi filled ten feet, and two hills of squash, three feet apart, finished out the twenty feet. Then came eight okra plants, ten hills of Burpee's Bush lima beans, then a row of early peas, followed by string beans that in turn were followed by celery.

The last two rows, two feet apart, were given to Green Mountain potatoes with green peas planted between the rows when the potatoes went in; the peas were out of the way before the potato plants had grown very high. No especial provision was made for radishes or lettuce, but several sowings were made wherever there was a small, unoccupied space. Only quick growing varieties of radish were used, such as French Breakfast and Scarlet Globe. Late in August a 10-foot row of lettuce was sown where kohlrabi had been and was transplanted to the hotbed in October. This gave a quantity of fine, tender hothouse lettuce that supplied the table until late in January.

It required very little time and not too much work to keep the little garden in order, for the plants were too close together for weeds to have much chance to grow. It had to be cultivated, to be sure, but the average amount of time required was about half an hour every day with an extra hour once in ten days.

In dry spells the soil constantly received shallow cultivation, which conserved the moisture enough to prevent a setback to the plants. A few moments of regular, daily work is worth more than six times as much once a week.

It takes time to look out for the garden pests, but they are not hard to keep in check when you know how to do it.

I never had a garden so prolific for so little money and labor. Hereafter I shall always have a small one for the smaller vegetables, because they are likely to recieve better attention and results are relatively greater than when they are allowed too much space.

Such vegetables as potatoes and corn ought to be planted by themselves, because they need a large space in order to yield enough to be worth while. Then, no garden is really complete without asparagus, and an asparagus bed, to give stalks enough for the average home table, would take up too much room in a tiny garden. So that goes elsewhere. But lettuce, peas, beans, tomatoes and such vegetables can be profitably grown in a 20-foot gardenette, as my last summer's experience proves.

This Week's Sunday School Lesson

WRITTEN FOR THE HERALD BY REV. J. S. KIRTLEY, D. D.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON: JULY 27.

Exodus v. 1-14; Moses' Request Refused.

CONNECTION.

After expressing his sense of his unfitness for such an undertaking and being taught to expect God's help in the overthrow of Pharoah, Moses at last accepted his commission and left for Egypt. On the way God met him with punishment for not having given his sons the rite of circumcision as a mark that they were in the chosen nation and his wife, Zipporah, may have returned to her father's home, with the understanding that Moses would lead the nation back that way and take them along. Later his brother, Aaron, was directed to go into Midian and meet Moses. They talked it all over, Moses telling him what he was going to attempt, and the two gathered the leaders of Israel together and Aaron informed them what God was doing for them, much to their joy when they felt that God had remembered them in kindness. Our lesson tells how they approached Pharoah.

THE LESSON.

I.

What the Request Was. 1-3.

"And afterward Moses and Aaron came, and said unto Pharaoh, Thus saith Jehovah, the God of Israel, Let my people go, that they may hold a feast unto me in the wilderness. And Pharaoh said, Who is Jehovah, that I should hearken unto his voice to let Israel go? I know not Jehovah, and morever I will not let Israel go. And they said, The God of the Hebrews hath met with us; let us go, we pray thee, three days' journey into the wilderness, and sacrifice unto Jehovah our God, lest He fall upon us with pestilence, or with the sword."

1. BOLDNESS.—Moses had been forgotten in the palace, perhaps considered dead. He showed none of that obsequiousness that Pharoah required. He didn't crawl on his knees and tell the king all sorts of lies about his being a god and the biggest and greatest of all the gods. Not he. Perhaps Aaron did the talking. Moses had already given some striking signs to the Jews that God was with him.

2. DISCRETION.—He only asked to take the people out for a religious festival in the wilderness. It was true. It was a rational request, as their God had visited them and required it of them, though they didn't say how much more He intended to do for them. The wilderness was evidently that between them and Sinai. It was usually a journey of three days. As Pharaoh had allowed them to worship their God all along he ought not to object to it now, and, as a matter of policy, it would have been wise in him to encourage such worship always.

3. RAGE.—His first question of contempt, which drew out their fuller statement, showed jealousy of their God as Pharaoh considered himself something of a god, vindictiveness toward them for trying to escape work even for a few days and fear lest they give him the slip in some way. He ought to have been sympathetic with their fear lest their God should punish them for never celebrating feasts in His honor. His suspicions were aroused.

II.

The Brutal Refusal—4-9.

"And the king of Egypt said unto them, wherefore do ye, Moses and Aaron, loose the people from their works? get you unto your burdens. And Pharaoh said, behold, the people of the land are now many, and ye make them rest from their burdens. And the same day Pharaoh commanded the taskmasters of the people, and their officers, saying, ye shall no more give the people straw to make brick, as heretofore; let them go and gather straw for themselves. And the number of the bricks, which they did make heretofore, ye shall lay upon them; ye shall not diminish aught thereof; for they are idle; therefore they cry, saying, Let us go and sacrifice to our God. Let the heavier work be laid upon the men, that they may labor therein; and let them not regard lying words."

1. FALSEHOODS. — Pharoah was afraid. He suspected the storm that was brewing. He had no doubt heard that the people were excited by the miracles and had paused in their work to see what the king would do. It was partially correct that Moses and Aaron had "loosed the people from their work," but he was false in his charge that they were idle and too lazy to work. It was forced labor and they had done much of it.

2. SEVERITY.—He made it still worse for them by commanding the foremen over them to require that they make the amount of brick each day and get their own straw wherever they could pick it up. The straw was supposed to be used in holding the mud together out of which the bricks were made till they fully dried in the sun. Also the straw was used to lay them on so as to keep the mud from mixing with the dirt till it was baked; also it may have been soaked in water and the acid used in "weathering" the brick. Any how they had to hunt for their own straw and still turn out as much work. It was a hardship imposed to take revenge and also to prevent any change. But, poor fool, Pharoah was doing the very thing that would drive them away from Egypt sooner or later. They would never have been willing to leave so comfortable a place and plunge out into the terrible wilderness but for such sufferings there. Some of the foremen, called taskmasters, were Jews. He accused them of wanting to go to that feast because they were too idle and were lying to him. He is blind.

III.

The Subsequent Hardships—10.

"And the taskmasters of the people went out, and their officers, and they spake to the people, saying, Thus saith Pharaoh, I will not give you straw. Go yourselves, get your straw where ye can find it; for nought af your work shall be diminished. So the people were scattered about throughout all the land of Egypt to gather stubble for straw. And the taskmasters were urgent, saying, Fulni your works, your daily tasks, as when there was straw. And the officers of the children of Israel, whom Pharaoh's taskmasters had set over them, were beaten, and demanded, wherefore have ye not fulfilled your task both yesterday and today, in making brick as heretofore?"

1. FAILURE.—The rest of the verses tell us how the taskmasters gave the command, the people attempted to obey and went all over the land hunting for anything that would pass as straw, but were so delayed as to seem to fail and their officers were beaten for not having them to succeed. The law was administered by brutes. We wonder that they could be called human beings, just as we wonder how the Bulgarians can be classified as human, when they are acting as fiends incarnate toward the helpless women in the path of their movements.

2. MARTYRDOM.—Trouble comes to Moses at once. The people who had been so elated at the first news that a deliverer had come and had seen the signs were now in the depths of despair and rebellion. Though Moses repeated the sevenfold promises of God, "they hearkened not for anguish of spirit and for cruel bondage." And they murmured all the way through the journey of forty years. Moses complained to God and told Him that it didn't look very much like the success promised him. But wait. Pharaoh will hang himself with his own halter.

WHAT THE MASTERS SAY.

The taskmasters became more and more cruel. Many of them were wild beasts in human shape, as cruel as poisonous snakes and carnivorous tigers, with hearts as hard as steel or adamant, utterly pitiless and unwilling to make allowance for any shortcoming, whatever its cause.—Rawlinson.

Coal mines without proper supports to protect the miners from falls and cave-ins, matches made with yellow phosphorus, laundries where the speed of the mangles is so great that exhausted, bewildered girls lose or have maimed fingers, willow plumes or nuts for candies handled by the fingers of tuberculosis patients in foul tenements, power grindstones, saws, etc., without shields to protect the operator against accidents, long store hours with no chance for salesgirls to sit or rest—all these are modern instances of requiring bricks without straw.—Cowan.

PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

1. Is it deception to withhold part of your plans as Moses and Aaron did?
2. What would have been the wise answer to their request?
3. In what respects was Pharaoh preparing for his own defeat?
4. Are the inhuman always paid back in their own coin or any other kind of coin?
5. What are the perils and sorrows of leaders of men?

FISHERMEN WILL ORGANIZE CLUB

Want to Better Conditions in the Streams Near Duluth.

A meeting of the followers of Isaac Walton will be held at an early date next week for the organization of the West End Fish club. A number of the residents in this end of the city are strong followers of the sport and intend forming the club for the purpose of bettering fishing in the vicinity of Duluth as well as to assist the game wardens in enforcing the game laws.

Among those who are at the head of the movement to organize the club are: Charles Mork, Joseph Olson, P. H. De Vohn, A. Lofgren and J. B. Anderson.

It is proposed to get as many of the fishermen of the West end to join the club as possible. The meeting will probably be called for Tuesday evening at which time the formal organization will be perfected.

MAKE OBJECTIONS TO "LITERATURE"

West End Residents Say Ordinance Should Prohibit Distribution.

Many of the residents of the West end are complaining of the manner in which handbills, patent medicine ads and other literature are being thrown about their homes. It is claimed that every day three or four various assortments of this class of literature are thrown onto their porches or yards.

It is suggested by some of the more irate ones that an ordinance be passed prohibiting this nuisance. They say that it keeps them busy cleaning up their premises and that if some ordinance were passed prohibiting the distribution of these articles that it would greatly help in keeping the city beautiful.

"We want a beautiful city, but how can we keep a city beautiful if every one who wants to can throw paper, handbills, patent medicine ads and other things about your premises," asked one of the residents. "It keeps us busy gathering up this litter, and the more careless ones never pick up any of it.

"Not only is the distribution of this stuff a nuisance but it may be very dangerous. The patent medicine companies throw samples of their dope on the porches and sometimes little children get hold of it. While the stuff may have some merit and may not, it is no stuff to allow little children to eat in the same manner as they would candy. I have known of two or three cases where the children have been made very ill after taking some of the stuff. There should be an immediate stop put to the practice."

Annual Picnic.

The Sunday school and congregation of the Swedish Bethany Lutheran church, Twenty-third avenue west and Third street, will hold a picnic tomorrow at Fond du Lac. The picnickers will take a steamer at the Twenty-first avenue dock at 9 a. m. and return by the boat at 6 o'clock.

A program of sports and games has been planned under the direction of the officers of the Sunday school. Small prizes will be awarded to the winners in each event. Rev. Carl G. Olson, pastor of the church will be in charge of the party. It is expected that about 400 will attend the picnic.

Carlson Funeral.

The funeral for Gust Carlson, 25 years old, the fireman, who was killed in the wreck on the Duluth & Iron Range railroad, was held this afternoon from the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street. Rev. J. J. Daniels officiated. The deceased had made his home with his brother, Louis Carlson, 2128 West Third street.

Church Social.

The Men's Welfare league and the Parthenoe society of the Swedish Mission church entertained at a joint social in the parlors of the church last evening. A literary and musical program was given following which the committee served refreshments.

West End Briefs.

The Rebekah guild of St. Peter's Episcopal church, Twenty-eighth avenue west and First street, was entertained this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Anderson, 1724 West Third street.

Dr. A. A. Giroux was called last evening to Montreal, Can., on account of the serious illness of his mother.

The Sunday school teachers of the Swedish Baptist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, will hold a business meeting in the church parlors tomorrow evening.

Miss Lottie Swanstrom, 2527 West First street, has returned from a week's visit to relatives at Hibbing, Minn.

The Rosary society of St. Clement's Catholic church held a business meeting in the parlors of the church this afternoon.

Frank and Henry Otto of Chicago, who have been visiting at the home of their sister, Mrs. J. H. Jensen, 2324 West Fourth street, have left for their home.

Misses Minnie and Florence Ramsted of Eau Claire, Wis., who have been visiting at the home of Mrs. A. J. Johnson, 323 North Twenty-third avenue west have returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred McCormick, 29 Eighteenth avenue west, are the parents of a son born July 19.

I wish to thank our many friends and relatives for their kindness during the sickness and at the funeral of my wife. KNUTE NELSON.

GETS TEN YEARS.

Young Express Thief Pleads Guilty to Taking $22,000.

Lake Charles, La., July 24.—Herschel Pierce, 17 years old, who confessed to stealing almost $22,000 from a Wells-Fargo Express chest in the railroad station here, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment. His brother-in-law, A. E. Amy, with whom he divided the money, pleaded guilty to receiving stolen goods and was sentenced to two years' imprisonment.

CROSS PACIFIC IN 60-FOOT BOAT

Vancouver, B. C., July 24.—Having crossed the Pacific ocean in a 60-foot sampan, with a six-inch map of North America and a primitive compass to guide them in their 70-day voyage, eight Japanese captured at a village on the coast north of here will be deported. A Canadian fishery cruiser is searching for the sampan, which put to sea after landing the men.

The prisoners say they were twenty-seven in the party which set out from Japan. They had paid the captain from $10 to $100 each to land them near Seattle. They understood the sampan to be bound for Alaska and back to Japan via the Aleutian islands. Eleven of the passengers were landed.

GUNBOAT WILL BE SENT KNOCKED DOWN

Vallejo, Cal., July 24.—The gunboat Calox, now being built at the Mare Island navy yard, is to be shipped across the Pacific ocean crated and in sections—"knocked down"—and will be reassembled at Cavite, P. I. Orders have been received at the navy yard to have the vessel ready for shipment by Nov. 7, and a sister ship, the Monocacy, also to be turned out at Mare Island, will be shipped in December. The vessels are light-draught craft and are designed for river service in China.

Jesse Grant Seeks Divorce.

Goldfield, Nev., July 24.—Jesse Root Grant, youngest son of former President U. S. Grant, has filed suit for divorce from Elizabeth Chapman Grant. Desertion is the only allegation. They have two grown children. Mr. Grant has made Goldfield his home for the last six months.

Catholic Union Adjourns.

Detroit, Mich., July 24.—The Catholic Young Men's National union concluded its thirty-ninth annual convention here with the election of officers and the selection of Cambridge Springs, Pa., for the 1914 convention.

To Look Young Is to Feel Well

From The Home Maker.

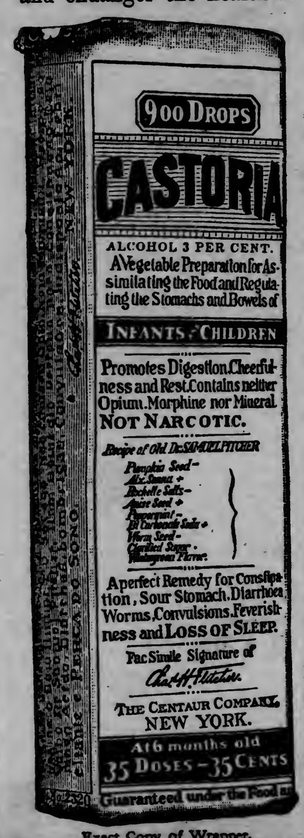

Facial indications of illness, age, fatigue or worry, are not easily hidden, even with the cleverest use of cosmetics. Indeed, efforts in this direction often only emphasize a pained or lifeless expression. As there are times when many, though feeling quite unfit, can hardly escape certain social obligations, here's something worth knowing: A perfectly harmless jelly-like substance, known to druggists as parafied plastoid jelly, possesses valuable attributes as a face-rester and quick rejuvenator. Spread over the entire face and allowed to harden, it form a supporting mask for the tired muscles. A soothing sensation is experienced and if the patient will lie down she will doubtless fall into sound slumber. The mask "firms up" the facial tissue underneath, and all flabbiness, hollows, rings beneath the eyes, etc., are noticeably improved at once. The face assumes a youthful pink color, a healthy, animated appearance, and its owner certainly would not be considered sickly.

The dried jelly should be kept on for 15 minutes to an hour; it is easily washed off with cold water.

What is Castoria.

CASTORIA is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic, all Teething Troubles and Diarrhœa. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels, assimilates the Food, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

Dr. Albert W. Kahl, of Buffalo, N. Y., says: "I have used Castoria in my practice for the past 26 years. I regard it as an excellent medicine for children."

Dr. Gustave A. Eisengraeber, of St. Paul, Minn., says: "I have used your Castoria repeatedly in my practice with good results, and can recommend it as an excellent, mild and harmless remedy for children."

Dr. E. J. Dennis, of St. Louis, Mo., says: "I have used and prescribed your Castoria in my sanitarium and outside practice for a number of years and find it to be an excellent remedy for children."

Dr. S. A. Buchanan, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "I have used your Castoria in the case of my own baby and find it pleasant to take, and have obtained excellent results from its use."

Dr. J. E. Simpson, of Chicago, Ill., says: "I have used your Castoria in cases of colic in children and have found it the best medicine of its kind on the market."

Dr. R. E. Eskildson, of Omaha, Neb., says: "I find your Castoria to be a standard family remedy. It is the best thing for infants and children I have ever known and I recommend it."

Dr. L. R. Robinson, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Your Castoria certainly has merit. Is not its age, its continued use by mothers through all these years, and the many attempts to imitate it, sufficient recommendation? What can a physician add? Leave it to the mothers."

Dr. Edwin F. Pardee, of New York City, says: "For several years I have recommended your Castoria and shall always continue to do so, as it has invariably produced beneficial results."

Dr. N. B. Sizer, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I object to what are called patent medicines, where maker alone knows what ingredients are put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use."

WISCONSIN ASSEMBLY HALTS LIQUOR PLANS

Refuses to Pass Bill Concerning Licenses in Milwaukee.

Madison, Wis., July 24.—The assembly went on record again against the introduction of a bill which would permit the common council of Milwaukee to grant liquor licenses to hotels of more than eighty rooms. By a vote of 53 to 35 the house refused to suspend the rules, a two-thirds vote failing.

The assembly also refused to throw down the bars by modifying the statutes relating to Sunday closing.

The Bosshard bill, providing that the term of office of the state banking commissioner appointed in June of this year shall expire on May 5, 1918, was passed.

In the senate the Richards bill, for eugenic marriages, requiring a health certificate from prospective grooms, was engrossed.

The senate revoked all leaves of absence, and messages were dispatched to all absent senators to return at once, as it is desired to wind up all business of the session in the senate by the end of this week. Governor McGovern signed what is known as the "corn syrup bill," which requires the labeling of the ingredients of all glucose products.

SURVEY OF ISLAND

Has Been Received By the Marquette Land Office.

Marquette, Mich., July 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Register Orozro A. Brown and Receiver Thomas H. Dawson of the local United States land office give notice as follows relative to the official plat of Birch Island in Lake Superior:

"An official plat of survey of Birch Island in McCargoes Cove, Lake Superior, in section 13, township 66, north of range 35 west, Michigan, more properly described as lot No. 6 of said section, township and range, containing 3.23 acres, has been received at this office, and the same will not be regarded as officially filed until Sept. 3, 1913, at 10 a. m.

"On and after said date, viz: Sept. 3, 1913, at 10 o'clock a. m., said land will become subject to entry, and we will entertain applications to make entry thereof."

RAISES SWEET TUBERS.

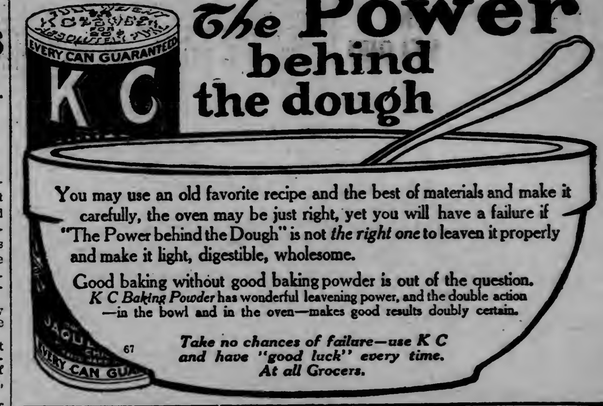

Minot Man Grows Sweet Potatoes for His Own Use.

Minot, N. D., July 24.—That sweet potatoes can be successfully grown in North Dakota is being demonstrated by A. G. Hagenstein, who has been experimenting with the vegetables at his home.

Mr. Hagenstein planted a number of sweet potato vines early this spring. They have come up in good shape and he will have enough of the vegetables to keep himself supplied during the winter.

Husband Not to Prosecute.

Devils Lake, N. D., July 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Attorney W. M. Lewis of Devils Lake, arrested at Everett, Wash., in company with Mrs. Edwin King of this city, will not be prosecuted. It is said the woman's husband, who brought about the arrest of the couple after trailing them all the way from Devils Lake, has decided not to prosecute.

BANDIT OUTWITTED.

Man Clenches Valuables in Hands When He Holds Them Up.

East Grand Forks, Minn., July 24.—With a revolver poked under his chin, held in the hands of a masked bandit, John Henway, aged 32, raised both hands, tightly clenched high above his head. In one hand he held 17 cents, his worldly possessions in the matter of cash, and in the other, he held his watch. The bandit searched his pockets without success. Henway had discovered the approach of the bandit in time to get his money and watch into his hands, outwitting the thug.

Indian Chief in Jail.

Fargo, N. D., July 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—For introducing liquor onto the Fort Totten reservation, Two Bears, an Indian chief, must servo sixty days in jail. He had already been in jail nearly two months before he decided to enter a plea of guilty.

THE END IS NOT YET.

By giving Duluth rail and lake rates equal to those of Chicago, the decision of the interstate commerce commission throws open to Duluth enterprise new territory for the peaceful conquests of commerce.

By increasing forty per cent the differential between Duluth and the Twin Cities, the decision cuts a way for Duluth into territory in which the Twin Cities heretofore have had a large advantage and an unfair one, as the commission justly pointed out.

But that isn't the end of it, by a long way.

The decision has so many facets that new beauties of brilliant promise appear in it every day.

As a local story in The Herald last evening put it, the comments of the interstate commerce commission "read like a Duluth booster article."

Without regard to the justice it does and the injustice it undoes, the decision, which was carried fully by the Associated Press and was given prominence in newspapers all over the country, sets forth the natural advantages of Duluth in such a striking manner that it forms about the best piece of advertising this city has had in some time.

And, beyond all this, it is unthinkable that the good effects of the decision will end when the orders so conveyed are carried out.

For instance, the commission has pointed out in a very significant manner that the Duluth-Minneapolis proportion of lake and rail rates is unreasonably low—so low that it not only yields no net revenues, but actually yields a loss.

Will the railroads leave it that way after the commission has taken such evident pains in pointing out its unfairness? CAN THEY?

If they do, what will their position be if any of these roads join the Oliver Twist chorus of "more," and ask permission to get more revenue through higher rates elsewhere? Will the commission not inevitably point to these non-remunerative rates and refer the railroads back to the decision in the Duluth case?

The suggestion from the commission that these rates should be increased to a remunerative basis is not an order, but on careful consideration the railroads running between Duluth and the Twin Cities are very likely to find in it almost the strength of a direct order to increase rates which the commission has condemned as unremunerative, unbusiness-like and unfair.

Sapphires comprised nearly two-thirds of the gem minerals produced in the United States last year. It wasn't nearly so good a year as that for Ananiases.

IT WOULD BE A WISE CHOICE.

Indications that Howard Elliott, president of the Northern Pacific, is the man that has been chosen to succeed Mellen at the head of the New Haven railroad, are multiplying.

If the rumors to this effect that are gathering strength so rapidly, and that have been expedited by the fact that Mr. Elliott is now in New York, are true, it is a certainty that the New Haven will be getting a mighty good man, and about the kind of man it seems to need very much.

If you want to feel real discouraged, just figure up how many of those twelve billion postage stamps recently ordered you will probably lick.

A LAW THAT SHOULD BE STRICTLY ENFORCED.

The police department is adopting a right policy in insisting upon the rigid enforcement of the new law passed by the Minnesota legislature last winter, relating to the sale of cigarettes.

No more reasonable or wholesome law was enacted at the last session. It takes the place of a ridiculous law that forbade the sale of cigarettes entirely, and that of course led only to hypocrisy and fraud because it is the kind of law that cannot be enforced because it has no backing of public sentiment.

The new law requires dealers in cigarettes to take out licenses for which they must pay twenty-five dollars; and this provision should be rigidly enforced, not only because of the revenue the city will derive from it but because it puts dealers under compulsion to obey the other provisions of the law.

Chief among these is the one prohibiting the sale of cigarettes to minors; and this, which is all that such a law should aim to accomplish, should be enforced rigidly and violations of it should be punished severely. It is a wholesome law, and the authorities cannot be too strict about enforcing its every provision.

The brother of that New York man who got into a wrestling match while he had a stick of dynamite in his pocket will at least know enough not to follow suit.

CAREFUL!

In treading the vicinity of the Mexican buzz saw, congress is lurking in a neighborhood full of pitfalls and trap guns.

There are behind the agitation for action toward Mexico powerful ones selfishly interested and willing to have the nation spend lives and money and risk its honor in their behalf.

Recognizing the Huerta government, a merely de facto government stained with blood and treachery, is not only unthinkable, but it would be folly because there is no telling whether that government would survive long enough to have a message of recognition reach it.

Armed action to protect Americans in Mexico and American property interests there, though an idea appealing strongly to unthinking patriotism, is a thing to be done only as a last resort, and very carefully.

Senators Fall, Lodge and others would have us fall upon Mexico forthwith, and probably before we got through they'd like us to annex that country and assume its management.

Senators Bacon and Works are wiser in urging caution.

American citizens still in Mexico are in a place of danger, and they have known it for some time. By remaining there they are voluntarily assuming the risk, unless they are permanent residents there who cannot get away. Still, wanton outrages against Americans, even in these circumstances, could not be tolerated.

As to property interests in Mexico, no lives and little money should be spent in their protection. Americans in distress in foreign lands appeal to patriotism. American dollars invested in foreign lands do not make any such appeal. It ought to be understood, whether it is or not, that Americans who make investments in other countries do so at their own risk, and cannot call upon the national resources to collect their bills or to protect them against the perils of politics that takes the form of rebellion.

The administration is pursuing as to Mexico a Fabian policy of caution, and it is wise and right in so doing. Congress should not be permitted to force it into reckless and unthinking activities the end of which no man can foresee.

A Wisconsin man is accused of contracting to sell porkers that didn't exist. Which might be termed one way of hogging the market.

SHOWING HOW THE WIND IS BLOWING.

One of the very big straws that are showing how the wind of destiny is blowing was the item in The Herald's West Duluth department last evening which told about the letting of contracts for two million dollars' worth of ore and coal docks and elevators for the Canadian Northern railroad.

This is one straw. The rate decision was a whole cloud of straws.

There can't be any question about that wind—it's blowing Duluth's way. and it's blowing a gale.

It wouldn't be a bad idea if we could arrango a fight to the finish between the senators who are opposing the parcel post extension and those who are so keen to force Uncle Sam into Mexico.

THE CITY SHOULD COLLECT ALL THE GARBAGE.

The item in The Herald last night to the effect that two more carts are ready to be added to the city garbage collection service is good news, because it shows that the city government is properly impressed with the advisability of taking over this work as soon as it is financially possible.

It is true that the two wagons to be added will make but three altogether; but three is a heap better than one—not to speak of none at all.

As fast as the money can be found this service should be extended until the city has complete charge of it from one end of the city to the other.

Governor Sulzer blames Tammany Hall for the Binghamton fire horror. Nothing doing, governor. Women are going to vote pretty soon, and you don't find Tammany getting rid of prospective voters in that fashion.

Summer Advice.

Collier's: He possessed a picturesque word sense who invented the term "sunstroke." One sees the bolt leap from the blue, the victim topple to earth with a dull and appropriate thud, and feels, in the very sound of the syllables, a Homeric fatalism. Lightning itself, one might suppose, is not a more blindly ruthless slayer than the day star.

Yet quite the reverse is true. The sun is, indeed, a strict respecter of persons. Not from him need the wise and careful anticipate any lethal blow. He strikes down only the careless and misguided.

Many and various are the rules set forth every year for the heated term, but they all simmer down to this: keep a cool control of your nerves, a firm grip on your habits, and a loose collar about your neck. "Du calme, du calme" advised the queer little doctor who sent Joseph Conrad's hero off into the superheated "Heart of Darkness." "Avoid irritation more than exposure to the sun." For the city dweller who lives in close and somewhat irritant contact with his fellow men, this is particularly sound hot-weather counsel.

Frazzled nerves are often the beginning of collapse. Keep away from alcohol. You can't put out flames by throwing coal at them, nor can you reduce bodily heat by pouring liquid fire into yourself. Dress comfortably, and let appearances go. You can be lovely next winter—if you insist.

Summer is the logical time of green things. Eat them—salads, fruits, uncooked vegetables. Go light on meats and sweets. Drink plenty of water, but not too cold. Stinting oneself in this respect is a mild form of torture which the nerves resent. To be sure, water drinking induces perspiration, and perspiration is uncromantic. But it is safe. The man whose pores are kept open is seldom a victim of heat prostration. If you find yourself to have stopped perspiring suddenly and without apparent reason, get your doctor at once. That is the danger signal.

Above all, keep your digestion and your sleep sound and regular. One more bit of advice in the interests of comfort, and this lesson is over. For him whose heart, lungs and circulation are normal, lying perfectly quiet in a tub of cold water until slightly chilled, and then drying off slowly and without towel friction, is a safe measure, the cooling effect of which will endure for hours even in the most severe heat.

Finally, cut this out, paste it in your hat (the lightest procurable), fear no more the heat o' the sun, don't worry, but go on your way secure against the slings and arrows of outrageous temperatures.

Down in the Lehigh Valley.

Let me sit down a moment, stranger,
A stone's got in my shoe—
You needn't start your cussing!
I ain't done a thing to you.

Yes, I'm a tramp, what of it?
Some folks say we're no good,
But a tramp has to live, I reckon,
Though some folks don't think we should.

Once I was young and handsome,
Had plenty of cash and clothes;
But that's before I tippled
And gin got in my nose.

It was down in the Lehigh Valley
Me and my people grew.
I was the village blacksmith—
Yes, and a good one, too.

Me and my daughter, Nellie—
Nellie was just sixteen.
And she was the prettiest creature
That valley had ever seen.

Beaux! Why, she had a dozen—
They came from near and far—
But most of them were farmers
And none suited her.

Along came a city stranger,
Young, handsome, slick and tall,
Damn him! I wish I had him
Strangled against that wall!

He was the man for Nellie,
Nellie who knew no ill.
Her mother tried to tell her—
But you know how young girls will.

Well, it's the same old story;
Common enough, you will say;
He was a soft-tongued devil
And he got her to run away.

It was less than a month after,
We heard from the poor young thing,
He had gone away and left her
Without a wedding ring.

Back to her home we brought her,
Back to her mother's side—
Filled with a raging fever,
She fell at her feet—and died.

Frantic with grief and trouble,
Her mother began to sink,
Dead in less than a fortnight—
That's why I took to drink.

Give me a drink, bartender,
And I'll be on my way,
I'll tramp till I find that scoundrel
If it takes till judgment day.
—Author Unknown.

A Hint.

Newark Star: A little girl came down to dessert at a dinner party and sat next to her mother. This lady was much occupied in talking to her neighbors and omitted to give the child anything. After some time the little girl, unable to bear it any longer, with sobs rising in her throat, held up her plate and said: "Does anybody want a clean plate?"

The District Government

By Savoyard.

Washington, July 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Here has been a great big ado over the selection of commissioners to administer the local government of the District of Columbia. The national capital time out of mind has been infested with a gang of politicians of both parties whose ideal in the matter of statecraft consists of a sagacity to discern or the luck to guess the winner in the quadrennial political national convention. To the victor belonged the spoil, and the city government of this town is a very rich slice of pie.

For the many long, weary, doleful years when the Democratic party was allowed to play the game of politics without any chips—1861-1885—there was a fierce warfare of faction in the district contingent of the G. O. P. When I first came here in 1880 it was a battle royal between Andy Gleason, an Irishman and a Blaine man, and Perry Carson, a negro and a Grant man. It was boot-top and boot-top between them, and on the day of the ward primaries Tammany might have profited had it sent a delegation here to learn something about practical politics as the game was played by Gleason and Carson. Sometimes they pooled their fortunes and divided the swag.

Every American boasts that no other country knows much about government; but there are few Americans brazen enough to deny that in municipal government our country is as dark as Africa. Our public utilities are not so much for the convenience and the advantage of the citizen as they are for the exploitation and profit of the gangster. The city government is the meat of the contractor who owns the city governors.

And Washington is no exception. Indeed there be folk, intelligent and sincere, who will tell you that the national capital of the great republic has long been the spoil of as rapacious a set of harpies as ever fatted off a people. Take our "public utilities." One street car line is capitalized at $750,000 a mile. It can be duplicated at one-tenth that sum. Another street car line is capitalized at over $1,000,000 a mile. Gas, electric power, telephone, etc., are all gorged with water on which a helpless public is forced to pay rich dividends.

Well, Woodrow Wilson does not believe in that sort of thing, and if it is in his power he will see to it that the city government of this town is run in the interests of the people and not for the profit of the gangsters. He looked around for commissioners who were absolutely independent of the interests, but he required more than that. He insisted that the commissioners should know something about city government, and so he chose men who had made a study of the problem.

One of those selected by the president is Oliver P. Newman, a young newspaper man, who has some practical and much speculative acquaintance with the subject. He is a young man not yet 40 years of age and stands high in his profession. Not only is he a competent journalist, but he is a magazine writer of enviable reputation. Nor is that all, he has the judicial temper and loves justice. The other commissioner is a prominent lawyer, F. L. Siddons, a direct lineal descendant of the great English actress of that name. He, too, has made a careful and laborious study of the question of city government, and no doubt his views and the views of his colleague are in perfect accord.

Here was a kettle of fish. The practical politicians were outraged. They hoped that the spoil of office would be purveyed for the men who ran the primaries. Last year there was nobody but Champ Clark in the running in the Democratic primary in this town, not that they cared a rap for Clark, but that they supposed Champ had the nomination at Baltimore nailed down. They would have been just as eagerly and just as unanimously for Wilson had they dreamed he would win. Underwood, or Harmon, or anybody else, would have suited them just as well as Clark. They were merely picking the winner, and they failed, as many a practical politician had before.

But being the "organization," the gang expected the president to turn the city of Washington and the District of Columbia over to them to run, as it had been run for half a century. The president, however, announced that it was his hope to give Washington a model city government and as a beginning he appointed Mr. Newman and Mr. Siddons commissioners. There was a great outcry. Public meetings were held. They could find nothing against either gentleman's character; but they insisted that Newman was not a citizen of the District of Columbia. That gentleman convinced the senate committee that he had lived here over three years, which made him eligible, and the report of the committee was unanimous in his favor. No doubt the senate will confirm him by unanimous vote. The bosses, or rather the ex-bosses, threaten to take the thing into court, but that is all bosh. I will remark that Mr. Newman is not of kin to me. He is a Yankee Newman; I am a Southern Newman.

"Do you know how it came that Cleveland, Ohio, passed Cincinnati the census of 1900? Cleveland had Tom Johnson; Cincinnati was run by George Cox. Do you know how Cleveland came to supplant Baltimore and gain sixth place the census of 1910? Cleveland had a pure city government; Baltimore was run by the gang.

In Cleveland you get eight rides on the street cars for 25 cents. In Cleveland you get gas for 60 cents per thousand cubic feet. In Cleveland the telephone and electric light service cost only 60 per cent of what they do in Washington.

And that is another reason why Newman and Siddons were chosen—their mission is to Tom Johnsonize this town. May their hands be as heavy as their minds are clever and their hearts true. May wisdom and strength and cunning be with them for all are needed for the job.

For Awhile, Anyway.

Gerald Stanley Lee in "Crowds": "If two great shops could stand side by side on the Main Street of the World and all the vice could be put in the show window of one of them and all the virtues in the show window of the other and all the people could go by all day, all night, and see the windowful of virtues as they were and the windowful of vices as they were, all the world would be good in the morning."

Tabby Couldn't Read.

New York Times: Mother, to little Ethel, sobbing as if her heart was broken—Well, well, what is the matter, dear?

Ethel—Tabby got losted.

Mother—Never mind, darling, we'll advertise in the papers for tabby.

Ethel, still sobbing—She'll never, never come home, 'cause she can't read.

A Practical Joker

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, July 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Hays Hammond, the celebrated mining engineer, is said to believe firmly in the possibilities of mind-reading. And this belief is based entirely on one of George A. McClellan's practical jokes.

McClellan is a former Indianapolis newspaper publisher, but he has devoted much of his life to the development of the practical joke; and just offhand we should say that he is about the most ingenious practical joker this country can boast of today. And none is too humble or too exalted to be picked for one of McClellan's victims. The greatness of John Hays Hammond bothered McClellan not one whit.

The story is that McClellan and Hammond and another man were dining together one night, and McClellan, with diabolical cleverness, turned the conversation to the subject of mind-reading, just because he had heard that Hammond took no stock in such stuff. He had arranged also with the third member of the party to act as his confederate.

They discussed a number of the perplexing feats of the professional mind-readers on the stage, and McClellan insisted that he believed in them. Hammond pooh-poohed any such idea, and said they were all just tricks.

"The reason I am inclined to believe in them," remarked McClellan, modestly, "is because I was born with a gift at mind-reading myself. For example, take a coin from your pocket—any coin at all—and note the date on it. I'll try to tell you what the date is. Obviously, there could be no trick about that. I have had no opportunity to see the money in your pocket."

Hammond took out a half dollar.

"Look at the date intently and think about it," directed McClellan.

While Hammond was doing so, McClellan's confederate sitting next to the victim glanced over and saw the date and immediately looked off into space with unconcern while he puffed his cigar. He gave eight little puffs for the second number—the first number being, of course, one—nine for the second number, and four for the third. So McClellan knew that the number on the coin was 1894.

"I guess there is something in mind reading," Hammond is said to have admitted.

Within a night or two after that McClellan played another little joke. He was dining at a hotel with a party that included George Oliver, Jr., son of Senator Oliver of Pennsylvania. Oliver was called to the phone just after the waiter took the order, and in his absence McClellan happened to think of the joke. He called the waiter over, explained to him that Oliver was on his way to a private sanitarium and that he was in a pitiable mental condition.

"Above all else," said McClellan, "the man must not have a knife or fork in his hand. We can trust him with a spoon all right, but the moment he gets hold of a knife or fork he loses control of himself and wishes to hurt somebody. Now, here's a dollar for you, and do be careful."

When Oliver came back the first course was oysters on half shell. The waiter gave him just a spoon to eat them with.

"Here, here!" yelled Oliver, "Where's my oyster fork?"

"That's all right," soothed the waiter, who disappeared nervously, as if to get a fork, and did not return for some time.

Oliver fumed and fretted and McClellan suggested that he might as well make the best of it and just eat his oysters with a spoon.

The next course was beefsteak, and again Oliver found only a spoon at his place. He gave a wild yelp of annoyance and the waiter thought he was already becoming violent. He told the waiter to bring him a knife and fork instantly if he didn't want to get killed. The waiter gave a frightened look at McClellan, muttered a promise to Oliver to bring the knife and fork, and then went into hiding in the kitchen.

After Oliver had stormed over the delay, McClellan patted him on the shoulder in comforting, motherly fashion, and bade him be of good cheer.

"I can't dope out what makes the service so rotten," said McClellan, "but there may be some reason for it, and meanwhile let me cut your meat for you and you can eat it with a spoon like a little man. Be game."

And Oliver ate his meat with a spoon.

The next day McClellan and Oliver were at the hotel again, with another man.

"Here's where you can get even," suggested McClellan, in a whisper: "you can play that knife and fork joke on Burke."

But it happened that after the meal started, Oliver was once more called to the phone, and while he was out, McClellan, to provide an even better joke, tipped Burke off.

When the waiter brought the man Burke a spoon instead of a fork for his oysters, Burke went right ahead, without cracking a smile, just as much as to say, "I always eat 'em this way."

"Stung again!" grunted Oliver.

The worst poker player in the country is a certain New Yorker of engaging personality, M. Koenigsberg, by name. Besides being the worst player, he also is the most persistent, and he is a welcome addition to any poker party.

"Yes," he remarked, standing in the lobby of the Waldorf recently, "when I come back to town after an absence, other poker players raffle me off, that is, they raffle off the privilege of having first chance at me before my money runs out. And the fact is, a number of very serious enmites have grown up between men who thought they didn't have a perfectly fair show for first crack at me."

Such Is Life.

The fuzzy little chicklet is no sooner from the shell than all the other wuzzy ones he has to fight like—well, around the coop they chase him till they make the welkin hum in their efforts to deprive him of his life-sustaining crumb. Alas! it seems so human-like it makes me feel to home.

And when he's grown a cockerel, just watch him fake and bluff and stall around his hen folk till they love him, he's so tough; he swells a front and gobbles as he treads his southeast wing; though he's only second money, biddy classes him "real thing". Ah, me! the bull con winneth, and, consequent, I sing:

If you want to quit a winner, copper everybody's play,
It's unholy satisfaction just to put them in the hay;
Though you're but a second plater, it's the wire in a walk
If you clothe communication in the proper line of talk.
Cubic qualities are quaint, thou honest chicken be a hawk!

Minnesota Opinions

Comments of the State Press.

Rush Back Home.

Biwabik Times: Canadian emigration has been checked and in the next few years the tide will turn in favor of the United States. Opportunities have been great in the Canadian Northwest, largely due to the rapid increase in population, but at present business is only normal, the good land has all been taken, and most lines of business are overdone. The rush back home is about due to begin. Get ready for it by owning a piece of Northern Minnesota land.

Disgusted.

Roseau Times: What a rotten, rotten deal the Republican congress gave the people for the past twenty years. It is well that the exposure of the methods are being brought to light. The people will demand the retirement of non-progressive members of congress.

Curious!

Walker Pilot: What in the world can be inside of those numerous beer kegs that are shipped into towns that voted out liquor at the last election?

Looks Good.

Sauk Centre Herald: Governor Eberhart's proposition for the different states to get together on some common plan for the physical valuation of railroad property and for agreeing upon a common uniform rate for intrastate traffic looks good. Something of that nature ought to give relief to the public.

Why Not Now?

Fairmont Sentinel: Eventually Minnesota should have a commission form of government.

A Thought for Mr. Hicken.

Brown's Valley Tribune: Nothing will do more to discredit the commission form of city government than a display of arrogant power by the men entrueted with the administration of public affairs. In the matter of government and public control, you can't take the people further than they are ready and willing to go.

There Are Others.

Cambridge North Star: The Minnesota bankers at Duluth were not enthusiastically in favor of the new currency reform bill, which is being backed by President Wilson. None of the bankers seem to want it—but you know there are other people in the world interested in money matters besides the bankers.

Where the Blame Belongs.

Fairmont Sentinel: The women of Illinois—2,000,000 of them—have been given the right to vote. The women of Minnesota should feel a sense of righteous indignation when they are compelled to take a back seat and see their sisters in other states given the ballot. Minnesota is far from progressive in many things.—Norman County Herald.

Don't blame the people of Minnesota. They are ready to give women the ballot at the very first opportunity presented. The ones to blame are the mossbacked, brewery-bossed members of the legislature who refuse even to let the question of equal suffrage be submitted to a vote.

The Long and the Short of It

Life: The necessity for making love to tall girls is becoming more and more evident.

Outdoor physical exercise and other activities, such as riding horseback in suffragette parades, public speaking, etc., have had, during the last decade, a remarkable effect upon the physical stature of women in this country. Our girls are growing taller every year. You see more tall women almost every day.

Our men do not seem to be keeping pace with women. Men are becoming more acratic. They do not shoot up as much as women do. A large proportion of men drive motor cars, attend to business, sit on the bleaching board, and avoid being aggressively physical. They are not shooting up.

This means that if you fall in love with a girl, the chances are tha she is all the way from six inches to two feet taller than you are. Now, making love to any girl under the most normal conditions is no easy job. It requires a man's undivided attention and is apt to keep him up a great deal nights; especially in these days when every girl expects to be entertained in the bargain. One of the important things about lovemaking is to know where to place the girl's head. It must be placed on your shoulder at the right moment—oftentimes sternly. When you are making love to a tall girl, to have to stop and get a step-ladder in order to reach up and kiss her is not a dignified proceeding. You have to be worth altogether too much money to neutralize this proceeding.

As a rule, tall girls are also rather broad, and in emergencies will overlook many things, including yourself, if you are deeply in earnest. With them it is largely a question of being made love to by somebody or other, and if he happens to be lacking a couple of feet or so there is no help for that. At the same time, it isn't conducive to any man's self-respect to feel that the girl to whom he is making love is tolerating him from a sense of magnanimity and because there is no one else in sight. At the present time there seems to be no measure of relief ahead. The gap is growing. It may not be improbable that girls will have to be kissed by wireless unless some kind of portable stilt is devised whereby love can be made on equal terms.

Microbes.

Life: A microbe is an imaginary being invented by doctors to scare people out of dying a natural death.

Microbes have taken the place of the evil spirits in vogue before the period when people grew so intelligent that they wouldn't believe anything they didn't hear.

Microbes come in assorted packages, and spend their entire time in multiplying, adding, subtracting and dividing. They multiply serums, add to the fears, subtract you from your money, and divide all the profits among the doctors.

Just as everything was once represented by a deity, so everything is now represented by a microbe. Some men are born with microbes, some achieve microbes, but all at some time have microbes thrust upon them.

"Chaperoned."

Canton, N. Y., Plaindealer: John Atwood, John Goodnough, James and Seymour Turnbull, Merton Eggleston and William Hilton, chaperoned by Howard Slocum, have been spending several days in camp at Cold Springs.

Recording Angel Weeps.

Newark News: "Tut! tut!" said President Wilson, as his niblick ploughed up the putting-green. And with a tear the recording angel blotted out the words.

•••Rev. E. Hilliard has moved from Duluth to St. Cloud, having been assigned as pastor of the Seventh Day Adventist church at that place.

•••Miss Laura Forbes of Silberstein & Bondy's is spending her vacation at Toronto, Ont.

•••July 22 was a proud day for the Merritts and the commencement of many benefits for Duluth. At last the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railway is completed to the ore docks, and the docks have received ten car loads of ore from the Mountain Iron mine. The train was in charge of Conductor Gallagher, and the ceremony of making the first dump of ore was a sort of an informal private Merritt family affair. Grandma Merritt headed the list, and then came Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Merritt, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Merritt, Mrs. Leonidas Merritt, John E. Merritt and so on ad infinitum. Nearly all the clerks and employes of the general offices of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railway were on hand, and also S. R. Payne, secretary, and J. B. Hanson, auditor. Former State Auditor Braden, a heavy stockholder in the Mountain Iron mine, was there.

•••Duncan & Brewer's sawmill at the foot of Cliff avenue, Oneota, was totally destroyed by fire on the evening of July 22. Nothing remains but a lot of twisted machinery in a smoking bed of ashes. The mill cost about $100,000 and was built three years ago. It gave employment at the time of burning to 125 men, and until a week ago was running a night crew also. None of the lumber on the docks nor the planing mill was damaged. The sawmill and machinery were insured for $40,000. It is the intention to at once rebuild the mill. The company has on hand about 18,000,000 feet of logs. The brick boiler house is still standing and the office building is intact.

Idler Not a Lazy Man.

Helen Coale Crew in the Outlook: This matter of idling is not quite so simple as it seems, and enforced idleness, having no spontaneity about it, should never be confused with the real thing. True idling comes from within, and to have the proper flavor should always be indulged in at the expense of a duty. There should be in one's subconsciousness a persistent but unheeded tug towards something left undone, just as there should be shadows under the trees to enhance the brilliant splendor of the sun. True idling is a bold breaking away from active aggressiveness to indulge for a time in a passive receptivity, as when one lays aside the noisome pestilence known as a grass cutter to throw one's self at length upon the fragrant sward with soul and sense open to the benign influences of the summer day. There is still tomorrow in which to finish cutting the grass—there has always been a tomorrow since the world began—but how can one be sure that ever again will come that evanescent mood of quiet ecstasy and of ecstatic quiet which is the divine right of idlers?

What Americans Believe.

Owen Hatteras in Smart Set: American—One who believes that George Washington never told a lie, that a dark cigar is always a strong one, that lotteries are immoral, that Charles Klein is a great dramatist, that the night air is poisonous, that a horsehair put into a bottle of water will turn into a snake, that champagne is the best of all wines, that it snowed every Christmas down to fifteen years ago, that a bloodhound never makes a mistake, that all Frenchmen are adulterers, that the jokes in Punch are never funny, that the Mohammedans are heathens, that a sudden shock may cause the hair to turn gray overnight, that a cat has nine lives, that "The Holy City" is a musical classic, that Moses wrote the Pentateuch, that maternal longings cause birthmarks, that Chili is less civilized than Ohio, that the Ibsen plays are obscene, that newspaper reporters carry notebooks, that whiskey is good for snakebite, that surgeons kill patients for the sheer pleasure of it, that every girl who falls has been seduced, that the music of Richard Wagner is all played fortissimo and by cornets, that the Masonic order goes back to the days of King Solomon and that all women who smoke cigarettes go further.

THE BEST WAY TO GET WELL OF ENLARGED NECK GLANDS

"J. C." asks to be told the best way he can get well from enlarged glands of his neck, located immediately below the ear. Enlarged glands of the neck may be caused by a number of factors. One of these is syphilis, one tuberculosis and one a mixed infection. This latter is composed of a number of different germ species.

Each type of enlarged glands of the neck has its peculiar symptoms. If the trouble is of syphilitic origin, the patient has a chain of symptoms characteristic of this infection. It was not until within the last few years that we knew the cause of syphilis to be due to a vegetable fungus known as the Spirocheta Pallida. Shortly after this discovery was made an European named Ehrlich worked out his powerful 606 anti-syphilitic remedy, after having failed it is said, on 605 separate previous tests.

If this poison enters the human system it attacks any portion of the flesh it wishes. One part of the body that show its presence is the glands. These enlarge very rapidly. The enlargement is usually upon both sides of the body. In the later stages of the disease one or more separate glands may be weaker than the rest. Swelling occurs and what is known as gummata develop. The bet procedure for treatment of glands affected with syphilis is to have the disease treated, and Ehrlich's Salvarsan, known as "606," or the newer preparation known as "Neo Salvarsan," injected intravenously into the blood. This is a dangerous step, and should only be attempted by your physician skilled in this form of aseptic work.

If the enlarged glands are tubercular, there are two courses open; one is to have the glands removed by the knife while they are yet hard and firm. The other course is to wait until the gland swelling breaks down and grows soft and then have each gland incised with a knife and the abscess cavity drained and treated until it heals from within. The quickest way to stimulate such healing is by deliberately living out of doors all day, and sleeping out of doors all night, eating three or four eggs a day, drinking at least one quart of milk and letting the sun shine on you all the time. The wound will have to be carefully dressed by your doctor skilled in aseptic surgical work. The remainder will then be up to nature and the manner in which you facilitate nature's efforts.

If the enlarged glands are the result of some outside infection from mixed varieties of bacteria, hot, wet applications should be applied by means of a thick towel, and the latter held in place by a bandage. The system should be thoroughly cleansed by a purgative, daily bathing in a tub of hot water should be carried out, and the simplest foods should be eaten until the swelling disappears. If the hot, wet applications are not practicable, a 40 per cent Ichthyol ointment dressing will act as an efficient substitute during daytime. At night, however, the hot, wet towel treatment should be reverted to wherever possible. It is a powerful remedy. In children the glands of the neck under the ear swell when mumps appears. This swelling is, however, a salivary gland and not the lymphatic glands above spoken of. Outside of being painted with iodine and kept bandaged warmly, the child's swollen glands should not be tampered with. They will disappear when the mumps disease is thrown off.

OLSON SUCCEEDS WEGENER AS PHYSICAL DIRECTOR

A. F. Olson, a native of Duluth, but for the past year physical instructor of the Y. M. C. A. at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, has been named to succeed A. B. Wegener, physical director of the Duluth association. The change will take place Sept. 1.

Mr. Wegener handed in his resignation two weeks ago, his reason being that he believes his health will be better in the East and that he has obtained an appointment as physical director at Camden, N. J.

Following Mr. Wegener's resignation the members of the executive committee of the Duluth Y. M. C. A. were much puzzled over the job of filling the place. It was at once agreed that if Mr. Olson could be obtained that would solve the problem. So he was sounded and his vacation taking place just about that time, he came here to spend the time with his relatives. He decided yesterday that he would take the place, and at a meeting of the executive committee held last evening he was appointed.

The news of "Al's" appointment was received with expressions of pleasure by many members of the association today. Many of them have been urging the members of the executive committee to name him ever since it was learned that Mr. Wegener had resigned. Mr. Olson was, for four years, assistant physical director of the Duluth association, and is one of the best known and best liked men ever connected with Duluth Y. M. C. A. work. He was born here, went to school here, shone in the Duluth association's athletics, and it is believed that his appointment to the important post given him, is merely a matter of his coming into his own. He is a son of Christopher Olson of 22 East Fifth street.

A. F. OLSON.

Mr. Olson was urged by the Cedar Rapids branch to renew his contract for another year as soon as it was learned that he was wanted here, but the home call had as much to do with his acceptance of the Duluth post as the fact that it meant a promotion.

WANTS SPECIAL SESSION HELD IN NOVEMBER

Charles W. Bouck of Royalton, a member of the Minnesota legislature, is in Duluth on a pleasure trip and expects to remain for several days. Mr. Bouck is in his second term in the legislature and is counted one of the live members of the lower house. He said today that he expects to see the special session called by Governor Eberhart, but hopes that the call will convene the legislature in November instead of October, as the latter month is a busy one for country merchants as well as for the farmers.

HAVOC IS WROUGHT BY DAMAGING STORM.

Beach, N. D., July 24.—A damaging storm near here wrought much havoc on the farm of Feldman brothers, where the barn was torn to pieces by the wind and the granary twisted from its foundation. The storm took in a strip about three miles in width and laid waste the fields of grain in a great many places, also considerable damage to farm buildings was done.

Thousands of dollars of damage was done to the growing crops, many of the owners suffering a total loss. In some places only enough of the crop is left to cut for hay. A portion of the farmers were protected by hail insurance, although in some instances insurance was not carried.

NAVAL MILITIAMEN WANTED

The Second Division Minnesota Naval Militia wishes to secure recruits at once for the fall cruise, which starts from Duluth Aug. 7th. This cruise will include a week with the Perry Centennial fleet at Milwaukee and Chicago. Applications will be received at the Armory every Friday evening. See Mr. Carhart.

RIGHT FOOT CRUSHED IN MILL AT CLOQUET.

Cloquet, Minn., July 24.—(Special to The Herald).—Francis Peacha, 19 years old, had his right foot crushed while riding carriage at the Northern Lumber company's upper mill yesterday morning. In some unknown manner Peacha got his foot caught between the carriage and the head block. At the hospital it was found necessary to amputate three toes.

Street Car Strike Ends.

Bloomington, Ill., July 24.—The strike of motormen and conductors of the Streator Public Service company at Streator has ended and the men resumed their former positions. The terms of settlement were not made public. The strike has been in progress since May 15.

Health and Beauty Advice

BY MRS. MAE MARTYN

Katie: I advise you to use this formula for a hair-tonic, because to my personal knowledge it does more for the hair and scalp than anything else and is easy to make: Into ½ pint alcohol pour 1 ounce quinzoin and add ½ pint water. This quinzoin tonic quickly stops the itching and cures the dandruff and is soothing to a sore or tender scalp. The regular use of this inexpensive tonic corrects dry, scaly conditions or excessive oiliness, because it makes the scalp and hair-sacs healthy; and to dull, brittle, faded hair will give a brilliance and softness, as well as restore the former color. For best results it is well to shampoo with canthrox. (See answer to "Lella").

Lydia: Yes, rubbing pyroxin on eyebrows will induce them to grow thick and glossy. Apply pyroxin at lash-roots with thumb and forefinger and they will grow long, silky and curly. This treatment is unfailing, but be careful not to get any pyroxin where hair is not wanted.

Mabel P.: A thick paste made of delatone and water and applied to those hairs for 2 or 3 minutes will entirely dissolve them. After the delatone is removed the skin should be washed and dried. This is quick, harmless and in no way mars the daintiest complexion. You must, however, be sure it is delatone you get.

Bertha: Yes, exercise and dieting sometimes reduce your weight. An easier and better way is to dissolve the unnecessary fat-tissues with the aid of the parnotis treatment. This reducer is made by adding 4 ounces parnotis to 1½ pints hot water. When it cools, take one tablespoonful three times each day. Keep up the parnotis treatment regularly and in a short while you will have gotten rid of the annoying fat and your figure will be gracefully plump and rightly proportioned and the skin will be tight and smooth.

Laura: Your dull eyes will take on a delightful sparkle and expression when 2 or 3 drops of cyrstos tonic are put in them daily for awhile. It is an old-fashioned and very economical remedy which also soothes the burning and relieves the aching after one or two applications. It is simply fine for granulated lids. To prepare, dissolve an ounce cyrstos in 1 pint cold, clear water and it is ready. It is absolutely harmless under all conditions.

Lella: In a case like yours where the scalp is so sensitive I should use canthrox. Get from your druggist an original package and dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water and your shampoo is ready. You will find canthrox shampoos very beneficial, because they remove every trace of dust, dandruff, excess oil and leave the scalp and hair-roots healthy and vigorous. Canthrox is beneficial to the finest head of hair and to dull, streaky, lifeless or brittle hair gives a fluffiness as well as restores the natural color.

Zoe: Loss of appetite and that bilious cast to your skin plainly indicate a derangement of your liver and kidneys. Prepare this excellent and inexpensive tonic and take a tablespoonful three times a day: Into ½ pint of alcohol put 1 ounce kardene (do not use whisky) and to this add ½ cupful sugar, then hot water to make a quart. This tonic will quickly correct liver and kidney troubles, and as a blood-purifier and system-tonic is has no equal. It is also greatly beneficial to people suffering from lack of vitality, and its regular use will give to a blotchy, pimply skin a rich color, healthy and delightful clearness.

Dorothy: It is a pleasure to know that you are so well pleased with quinzoin as a hair-tonic. I have great faith in a spurmax lotion, because it is far superior to powder and will surely overcome the shiny, "muddy" condition of your skin. Just get 4 ounces spurmax from your druggist and dissolve it in ½ pint witch hazel or rose water and add 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine. When the spurmax lotion is on it cannot be detected, and it lends an exquisite rose-tint and youthful charm to any complexion. Once you try this lotion you will much prefer it to any powder you ever used. It is especially nice for tan and freckles.

Cora H.: To remove wrinkles, I use this purely vegetable product which I make at home. It is unlike cream containing animal fat as it does not grow hair nor make the flesh loose. Just dissolve an ounce of ammozoin, which you can get from any druggist, in ½ pint cold water and add 2 teaspoonfuls of glycerine. Stir and let stand for one day. To remove wrinkles apply a thick coat of this cream-jelly and leave on over night. This protects the skin and allows all the blood action to be used in constructing new texture. In the morning wash it out of the pores and massage thoroughly with more of the cream. It makes the skin soft and velvety, while is is unequaled in reducing larger pores. Adv.

ALL RECORDS ARE BROKEN BY FAIR

North Dakota's Exposition Is Best Held in the State.

Grand Forks, N. D., July 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—With a record of 14,000 attendance yesterday for the second day of the state fair, officials of the exposition at noon today declared their belief that the attendance today would exceed that figure by several thousand. They anticipate about 20,000 paid admissions today.

The state fair is looming up as a big success. Today is the half way point, and with all previous attendance records broken up to this time, and with the promise of continued good weather, the association officials feel confident that they will make the 1913 exposition the best ever held in the history of the state.

This is East Grand Forks and Traill county day. East Grand Forks is enjoying a civic holiday under proclamation by Mayor J. J. O'Leary, while from Traill county there is a very large delegation. Over 100 automobiles were included in a single organized party sent out from Hillsboro.

Judging in many departments is completed, and the judges will conclude their work today. The dairy scoring is being handled by Joel Winkjer of Minnesota, and he will complete that task tonight.

In the better farming association camp the boys in attendance were engaged yesterday in the study of beef cattle. Several classes were held covering the different features. Military drills have been worked out by those in charge, and the boys are thoroughly enjoying themselves.

Last night a five-mile motor cycle race for twin machines was put on, with Eugene Secord of Grand Forks as winner, in 6:30.

Six bands are now furnishing music on the fair grounds, these including the Larimore, Lankin, Grand Forks, two Irwin bands and Inkster band.

In the women's department this year there were a total of over 450 exhibitors, the greatest ever had in that branch of the exposition.

Plans are being made for a big feature card for Saturday, the fair management seeking to match its wits against the crowd-drawing abilities of a circus. The fair managers believe they will be able to hold the crowds and expect to round out a week of unqualified success.

Inkster had an organized automobile tour to the city yesterday, over twenty cars participating in the run, with about 100 people in the party. The trip was made in the nature of a return visit for that made by the Grand Forks Commercial club to Inkster a short time ago.

PROF. VAN CLEEF TO SPEND YEAR ABROAD

Will Take Special Course in Geography at University of Leipsic.

Eugene Van Cleef, professor of geography in the state normal school, will leave for Europe shortly, sailing from New York Sept. 6, his objective point being Leipsic, where he will take a special course in geography in the University of Leipsic. He has been granted a year's leave of absence from the normal faculty to permit him to take this course.

On his way to Leipsic, Mr. Van Cleef will stop at Bremen and Hamburg to study the harbors, and will visit in Berlin for a brief period to see the capital. Christmas he expects to spend in Austria and Easter in tramping through Switzerland with Prof. Chaix, who was here last year with the excursion of geographers of the world. Besides his course at Leipsic, Mr. Van Cleef expect to spend two months at the University of Halle. On his return trip he will visit points in Italy, Algiers and Gibraltar.

Newly Found Obesity Cure in Great Demand

The announcement that the boranium jujube possesses remarkable virtues as an obesity remedy, has been received with considerable enthusiasm in this country by the corpulently inclined. According to one large wholesaler, the enormous demand for these jujubes has been occasioned not alone by the success of the experiments that have been reported, but because the new treatment seems to overcome practically all the objections to other treatments. For instance, as fat people usually lack energy, exercising does not strongly appeal to them; besides, this often involves too great a sacrifice of time. Then, with regard to internal medicines, it is generally known that these, to be powerful enough to reduce flesh, shock the nerves, create digestive disturbance and various other ill effects. Boranium jujubes, on the other hand, are quite harmless; anyway, it is not necessary to eat more than three or four a day. The inexpensiveness of this treatment is another factor. The palatableness of these boranium jujubes may also account somewhat for their large sale at the drug stores.—National Drug Review.

RICHARD V. LINDABURY AND PARTY ARE MAKING TOUR OF RANGES

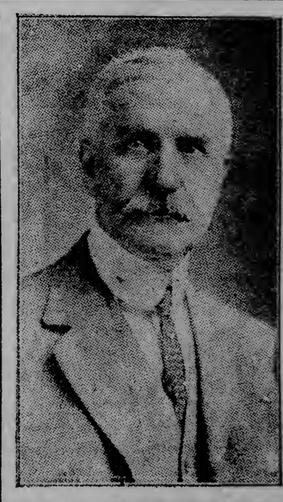

Richard V. Lindabury of Newark, N. J., one of the most prominent lawyers in the East, is traveling over the range on a special train today, the guest of President W. J. Olcott of the Oliver Iron Mining company and President W. A. McGonagle of the Duulth, Missabe & Northern.

Mr. Lindabury's party, including his wife, his son and his son's wife and a party of friends, arrived last evening on the steamer James A. Farrell. They left the boat at Fifth avenue west, being taken off a tug, and were met by Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Severance of St. Paul and a party. Mr. Severance and Mr. Lindabury were associated in the suit of the government against the United States Steel corporation.

Shortly after Mr. Lindabury arrived, the special train provided by the local steel corporation officials, left for the range. It will return this evening and Mr. Lindabury and party will leave immediately for St. Paul on their way to the Pacific coast. In Mr. Severance's party are Miss Byrd of England and Miss Tighe and Miss Foster of St. Paul.

Mr. Lindabury is 63 years old and has been a prominent figure in New Jersey for many years, but he has never visited the West before. In the last twenty years Mr. Lindabury has represented in his native state a large number of the most important corporations holding New Jersey charters, and has taken part in practically all of the cases which have arisen there. He also represented the Metropolitan and the Prudential Life Insurance companies before the committee that investigated life insurance in the state of New York in 1905. At the present time he is a director and the general counsel of the Prudential Life Insurance company.

Mr. Lindabury has taken part in some notable political campaigns, and was prominent particularly in the one which resulted in the final overthrow of the race tracks in New Jersey. He has never held political office, although he has led a number of fights on behalf of good government.

BRIDGE ELECTION BY CARD AT RED WING.

Red Wing, Minn., July 24.—The tax payers of Red Wing will be given an opportunity of expressing their sentiments on the free bridge proposition in a formal postal card election, to be held in the near future.

A resolution was unanimously passed providing that a committee of five with the city clerk, deputy city clerk, and city attorney acting as judges, prepare the election ballots and designate the date of mailing as early as possible, in order to give every one a chance to vote. Saturday, July 26, will be registration day.

IS KILLED BY TRAIN NEAR ROYALTON, MINN.

Royalton, Minn., July 24.—John Wojdula, Jr., of Bowlus, was killed just south of this village by the west bound Northern Pacific local No. 9. He had been in Royalton and had started for a farmer's home two miles south of the village. He was thrown from the path of the engine and his head crushed. He lived only twenty minutes and never regained consciousness. He was about 23 years of age and was the son of John Wojdula, Sr., a retired farmer living at Bowlus.

HENRY CLAY BLANCKE MAKES THREE REAL HITS

Incidentally the White Sox Defeat the Pirates, 11 to 2.

Darby O'Brien Makes Two Two-Basers, Showing Miracles Are Possible.

(BY BRUCE.)

Duluth via special airship correspondence, July 23.—Yesterday afternoon we were sailing over Athletic park, a baseball grounds in the suburbs of Duluth, a city where rates are made and oarsmen are trained to perfection. Suddenly we observed something shooting upwards from the dull background of terra firma. Some strange object, our pilot remarked. Nearer came the strange vision. Then it was that we discovered that it was a man, a mere youth, 'twould be better to say. He came into closer and clearer view and we observed that he wore a baseball uniform.

Grabbing the patent air exhaust whistle the pilot produced a siren shriek. Then the youth turned his face toward us. It was wreathed in pain.

"Come hither," we cried.

Slowly the youth altered his course, as if undecided, and then he approached our airship with neither interest nor enthusiasm. Grasping the bars running under the cage, he hung in the air, some 2,000 feet above the park, and held converse with us.

"Name, fair youth?" we asked.

"My name is Snow," he replied, "and I am a baseball player by profession and inclination, as you have probably wotted by this uniform. I was down there playing against the White Sox of Duluth and suddenly I had a balloon ascension all my own. It is the first of my experience, and verily, gents, I know not how to act."

We calmed the excited youth. We urged him to be calm and to consider the incident or accident as only one of the grave experiences that beset man down upon this mortal coil. Pilot Jones stroked the head of the youth, a comely blond, and after much persuasion he promised to return and finish the game.

Descending in company with the youth, we secured permission from young Joe, the ground keeper, to anchor the ship on the roof of the grandstand, and there watched the remainder of the game. To the credit of the youth it must be said that he stuck through the remainder of the contest, though several times it was with great difficulty that he was prevented from rising majestically into the air.

There is not the least use in the world in going into the devious detail of explaining how each one of the eleven scores of home manufacture was made. Far be it from such. Let us relate a miracle.

Oh it is a shame, brothers, that ye absent ones were not there yesterday. Never may it happen again. Old fans, those accustomed to the vagaries of the game, to its sudden and subtle changes, sat mute with astonishment, obmustescent with the strangeness of it all.

Listen: Henry Clay Blancke yesterday made three hits and accepted a fielding chance without falling down.

Don't take our word for it—we don't want you to. Go forth among those at the game and seek ye confirmation. Wonderful was it all; and yet there are other near miracles to relate. Darby O'Brien made two two-base hits. In addition to making the three hits and fielding the one offering without precipitously sitting down, Henry Clay Blancke, the poet pitcher, whiffed ten of the opposing batters and held the heavy clouters of the opposition eating out of his hand.

Elmer Miller hit another home run yesterday, and as the ball went over the fence, Joe, the young ground keeper was seen to smile, and this despite the fact that he was compelled to shag the pellet. This is the first time that Joe has ever smiled in public.

We have it from Tommy North, brother-in-law to young Snow, that the kid was not right yesterday. We guessed the same. But Tommy says for the past few days the Ashland phenom has been visiting a very prominent osteopath and that the twirler was in no shape for mound work. This statement was confirmed by Lefty Davis, the kid manager of the Pirates. Thus is the alibi established.

Not until the ninth round, when Blancke let down, could the visitors do anything with his curves. The big fellow had everything and did about as he chose with the visitors, even whiffing Lefty Davis. In the last round the poet eased up and it was then four hits were bunched for the last run of the afternoon.

Yesterday's series is the first, as far as we can recall, that the Sox have taken from the Corsairs during the present season. It looks as if the team has returned to form. The boys are hitting the pill, and with Elmer Smith once more smiting the sphere, the Dooks should go on and win most of the remaining games on the schedule.

Winnipeg is here today and one of the best series of the entire year is looked for. At the present time the Maroons are playing the best baseball of the season, as the games the Peggers have won recently will prove, and all of the games of the series starting today should be regular battles.

MAROONS WIN FINAL GAME FROM SAINTS

Winnipeg, Man., July 24.—The Maroons won the last from St. Paul here yesterday by the count of 10 to 2. Moe held the visitors to six scattered hits and the locals won easily all the way. Martin was on the hurling line for the visitors and was hit hard. The game was featured only by the heavy hitting of the Maroons. The work of Johnny Clothier with the bat standing out.

RANGERS LOSE TO SUPERIOR

Virginia, Minn., July 24.—Superior won again yesterday from Virginia by the score of 8 to 5. The game was devoid of features, both teams hitting the ball hard. The visitors bunched their hits and also played sharper ball in the field. Lally, a recruit, was in the box for the Rangers and in addition to being hit hard was wild.

FORKS GET CLEAN SWEEP OF MINNEAPOLIS GAMES

Grand Forks, N. D., July 24.—Grand Forks took the afternoon game yesterday by the score of 4 to 3, making the third straight game of the present series. The visitors led until the seventh inning. Here Jarnigan went in as a pinch hitter for Wells and the locals tied up the score in the next two innings. In the ninth the visitors went into the lead again, but the Flickers made two in the final half of the ninth. Score: R. H. E.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Yingling Maintains Record.

Brooklyn, N. Y., July 24.—Earl Yingling maintained his record of being unbeaten by St. Louis in two seasons when he pitched Brooklyn to a 7 to 2 victory yesterday. The game was close up to the seventh, when the locals bunched two singles, a double and a triple with a base on balls for four runs. The fielding was fast on both sides, four double plays figuring prominently. One was made, Wheat to Miller to Smith, when Oakes left third before a fly was caught. Wheat got three hits and a pass in four trips to the plate. He has made eleven hits in the last four games. President Ebbetts left today on a scouting trip around the southern league circuit. Score: R. H. E.

Heavy Scoring Game.

Philadelphia, July 24.—In the heaviest scoring game here this season, Chicago defeated Philadelphia yesterday, 13 to 8. Manager Dooin used six twirlers, some being driven off the rubber and others being taken out to permit pinch hitters to bat for them. Chalmers was taken out in the second inning on account of his wildness, Rixey finishing the session and was hit hard. The visitors kept up their attack on Brennan, the "southpaw" yielding seven hits and four runs in two innings. Marshall was touched for four hits and two runs in the next two innings and in the seventh forced the visitors to accept their first blank of the game. The Chicagos resumed scoring in the eighth by getting one run off Imlay, but Mayer blanked them in the ninth. Philadelphia also hit the ball hard at the start and drove Cheney into retirement in the fourth inning. Humphries took his place and put a check on the home players' slugging. In the fourth inning Humphries fanned Magee with the bases filled. Saier led in the slugging with three singles and a double in five times at bat, while Evers, Schulte, Phelan, Bridwell and Becker each made three safeties. Score: R. H. E.
Chicago .....2 4 3 1 1 0 1 0—12 19 2

Marquard Blanks Pirates.

New York, July 24.—New York made it three straight over Pittsburg yesterday, 2 to 0. Marquard, who won his eighth straight victory, held the visitors to two hits, both coming with none out in the sixth inning. McQuillen also pitched well for Pittsburg, but he had a bad first inning when the champions made three of their five hits and did all their scoring. Burns doubled off McQuillen on the first pitch, and scored on the infield outs of Shafer and Fletcher. Doyle walked and scored on Merkle's double. Murray followed with an infield single, and Meyers walked, but Viox threw out Snodgrass.

The fielding was sensational on both sides, Wagner making two great stops in the sixth inning. Score: R. H. E.

Reds Lose Out.

Boston, Mass., July 24.—With the return yesterday from Buffalo of Manager Stallings of the Boston club, after an absence of two days, a change was made in the batting order and Boston defeated Cincinnati, 4 to 1. Boston made three hits in a row off Packard in the third inning after two were out and this netted two runs. Long hits in the fifth and seventh innings in each case after a local player had reached second base scored two runs for Boston. The visitors' only score was made in the sixth when Bates doubled and scored on a single by Hoblitzel. Score: R. H. E.
Cincinnati .....0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0—1 6 0
Boston .....0 0 2 0 1 0 1 0 x—4 8 2

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Boehling Establishes Record.

Chicago, July 24.—Joe Boehling of the Washington club established an American league record for the season yesterday when he won his eleventh consecutive victory. His latest victim was the Chicago club, which he held to six scattered hits, the visitors taking the game 7 to 1. The Washingtonian was helped by the ragged fielding of Callahan's men, who booted and threw like amateurs. Pitcher Scott started for the locals, but in the second Morgan doubled, Calvo sacrificed and McBride, Henry and Moeller singled, and Chase contributed an error which netted three runs. In the sixth inning Chase contributed three more errors, while Chapelle, the high-priced outfielder of Comiskey's team, made one, which, with a sacrifice fly, gave Washington three runs without a hit.

Manager Callahan then replaced Scott by O'Brien. O'Brien was in fine form until the last inning, when singles by Boehling and Moeller and Chappelle's second error counted another run. Chicago was saved a shutout when Chase drew a pass on balls and scored on Collins' double. The Chicago team left for Boston last night, leaving behind them Pitchers Walsh, White, Lange, Catcher Sullivan and Outfielder Mattick. Rader, the recruit third baseman obtained from Seattle, accompanied the club. Pitcher Miller of the local club was formerly a member of the San Francisco club of the Pacific Coast league. Score: R. H. E.
Chicago .....0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—1 6 7

Batteries — Boehling and Henry; O'Brien, Scott and Schalk, Kuhn. Umpires—Dineen and Egan.

Winning Streak Broken.

St. Louis, Mo., July 24.—"Lefty" Hamilton's string of six consecutive victories was broken yesterday afternoon when Philadelphia, by bunching its hits with St. Louis' errors, won the final game of the series with St. Louis 8 to 1. With men on the bases, "Chief" Bender was almost invincible, retiring two batters at three different stages with men on second and third. Baumgardner relieved Hamilton after the seventh inning and was scored on once.

After making two rank errors, Williams made one of the greatest catches seen here this season, when he ran to second base, pulled down Collins' little pop and threw to first base, doubling Walsh.

St. Louis was saved from a shutout in the fifth when Lavan singled and went to third on Shotten's double. A wild pitch permitted him to score.

Walsh on the five trips to the plate got two singles and stole two bases. Score: R. H. E.
Philadelphia ....0 0 3 0 0 2 2 0 1—8 12 0
St. Louis .....0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0—1 9 4

Batteries—Bender and Thomas; Hamilton, Baumgardner and Agnew, McAllister. Umpires—Evans and Sheridan.

Naps Win Final.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 24.—Cleveland defeated Boston 5 to 3 yesterday, taking three out of four in the series. Falkenberg allowed the visitors but three hits after the first inning, while Cleveland drove Foster from the box in the sixth.

In the first inning Hooper got on by a fielder's choice, Speaker singled and Lewis and Gardner hit doubles, scoring Boston's three runs. Boston was retired almost in order for the rest of the game.

Cleveland scored two in the fourth when Jackson singled, La Joie was hit by a pitched ball, Turner sacrificed and Graney singled, scoring Jackson and La Joie. In the sixth Cleveland got three more on singles by Johnstone, Jackson and La Joie, Turner's sacrifice and Leonard's wild pitch. Jackson stole home as Leonard started to pitch the ball, and La Joie scored an instant later when Leonard made a wild pitch. Both Jackson and La Joie got three hits in four times up. Score: R. H. E.
Boston .....3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—3 6 2

Batteries—Falkenberg and Carisch; Foster, Leonard and Thomas, Carrigan. Umpires—O'Loughlin and Hildebrand.

AMERICAN ASSN.

Colonels Blanked Twice.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 24.—The locals played like champions yesterday, and won two shutout games from the Louisville club, 3 to 0 and 2 to 0. Comstock was in fine form in the first game, while Gilligan worked in great shape in the second. Comstock fanned ten men. Northrop was the visitors' offering in the first game and after the first inning allowed only two hits. The home team got their runs in the first game through a base on balls, an infield hit by Altizer, Williams' double and J. Delehanty's single. The locals won the second game by getting to Woodburn for two hits and these mixed with as many errors, made the two tallies which decided the battle. Scores:

First game—
Minneapolis ....3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—3 5 0

Batteries—Northrop and Clemons; Comstock and Owens. Umpires—O'Brien and Westervelt.

Second game—

Divide Double-Header.

St. Paul, Minn., July 24.—St. Paul and Columbus divided a double-header here yesterday, the home team winning the first, 2 to 1, and the visitors capturing the second, 8 to 2. Ferry and Karger had a pitchers' duel in the first game, the local southpaw having slightly the better of the argument. In the second game, Cook and Laroy fought it out on even terms until the ninth inning, when a pass to R. Miller, singles by Perring, Johns, Eddington and Benson, with W. Hinchman's slashing double and errors by Scott and H. Hinchman yielded seven runs and gave the visitors a safe lead. Scores:

First game—
Columbus .....0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0—1 6 1
St. Paul .....1 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 x—2 9 1

Batteries—Ferry and Smith; Karger and James. Umpires—Murray and Connolly.

Second game—
Columbus .....0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 7—8 8 2
St. Paul .....0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—2 5 4

Batteries—Cook and Murphy; Laroy and C. Miller. Umpires—Murray and Connolly.

AUTO PATHFINDER ENTERS CALIFORNIA

Bishop, Cal., July 24.—The vanguard of the Indiana automobile pathfinder on the Lincoln highway cross-continent tour crossed the California state line yesterday. Seventeen cars formed the procession.

A California delegation welcomed the travelers at the state line, where a metal monument was erected. The tourists will reach Carson, Nev., today.

YOUTH DEFEATS TENNIS CHAMPION.

Omaha, Neb., July 24.—The biggest surprise in the fourth national Clay court tournament, was sprung yesterday when Roland Hoerr, St. Louis, who won the Missouri valley tournament championship last week at Kansas City, was eliminated in the fourth round by R. Larmon, and 18-year-old of Omaha. Larmon's playing was sensational.

Driver Falls Dead.

Fremont, Neb., July 24.—Gus Hart of Lincoln, well-known Nebraska horseman, after driving De Pacey in the 2:18 trot yesterday, rushed excitedly to the judges' stand, where he fell over dead. Hart was one of the best known drivers on the Nebraska circuit.

FAMOUS WALKER IS NEARING MINNEAPOLIS

EDWARD P. WESTON.

INDIAN TWIRLER WILL JOIN THE SOX BRIGADE

Charles Boniosh, an Indian twirler, who has been strongly recommended to the owners of the White Sox, is expected to report here tomorrow, and in the event of making good will be a member of the pitching staff of the Dooks for the remainder of the season.

If the aborigine shows that he is the real goods five men will be carried on the pitching staff until the end of the present season. There are a number of double-headers to be played and all of the staff can be used very handily.

Late yesterday President Harry Blume purchased outright Elmer Smith, the heavy hitting outfielder of the Sox. The price will not be made public by the president of the association, but it can be stated that the members of the association were compelled to dig deep for the right to use the slugging daisy patch tender.

With Smith back in the game for the remainder of the season and the Dooks apparently hitting the stride that took them to the front in the fore part of the season, there is reason to believe that Duluth has a fighting chance for the flag.

It remains a question whether the Winona brigade has slumped. The team surely has not played the baseball in the series completed yesterday that it showed earlier in the season. Baxter, the ever hitting outfielder, is surely missed. He was a tower of strength that is now lacking.

Davis is playing a catcher in the outfield and the uncertainty in going after fly balls that are hit to right field is proving a source of worry. Yesterday Myer lost one from the bat of Smith that a more experienced fielder would have got, though the hit was a hard smash.

Winona has a fighting team, one that will take a lot of beating—and yet there is the chance that in the rush to the wire the Corsairs may be overtaken and passed.

The team does not seem to be showing the confidence that was one of the chief assets of the down river bunch.

Yesterday Collins, handsome devil that he is, lost his temper. When a team gets to going into the air it is sometimes an indication of the nerves. Maybe the members of the Pirate band are beginning to feel the strain of the race in the Northern, which is one of the prettiest in the country right at the present time.

Miller Going Badly.

It also looks as if the Millers are going badly. Now is the great opportunity for the Sox to make their rush for the wire.

The team appears to be going better than any time since the early part of the season. Miller, Smith and Meniece, the big stick trio, are all hitting. Schreiber is also picking 'em off. Moll hasn't been doing much with the stick, and this is also true of McGraw in left. Wilke is sticking nicely, and with any kind of pitching Duluth stands right now a fighting chance in the drive to the finish.

Winnipeg is here for four games and then we hop to the Peg for two games, which shows the wonderful inventive abilities of the man responsible for the present schedule. After the two game trip to the capitol of Manitoba, Minneapolis comes for a series, and as we are several games behind in the series with the Minneapolis bunch, it is very likely that there will be at least one double-header during the stay of Col. Bob Unglaub and his men. Also it might be stated that every man in the city is rooting for the Sox to clean on the Millers and thus go into second place, should the Red Sox weaken.

ALLIS MEETS CHICK EVANS

Only Outside Survivor at Chicago Plays Western Title-Holder.

Mason Phelps Eliminated, Being Defeated By Robert A. Gardner.

Chicago, July 24.—E. P. Allis of Milwaukee, the only visiting player to reach the third round in the Western golf championship tournament, and Charles Evans, Jr., the present titleholder, were the first pair to start over the Homewood course this morning. Weather conditions were perfect and a large gallery, expecting the Wisconsin champion to give the local veteran a stiff match followed them.

Robert A. Gardner, former national champion, had A. C. Perry for a partner and Warren K. Wood was matched with Fraser Hale. H. Lockett and J. Le Duc were the last pair to get away in the championship round. The elimination of the players from outside points, with one exception, has left the field practically in control of local men and of these Evans, Gardner and Wood are the favorites.

All of the matches in the championship and subordinate flights today were at 36 holes.

Great regret is expressed at the absence of John D. Cady, president of the Western association, who has been confined to his room since Monday, when he was taken ill during the qualifying round.

Gardner Defeats Phelps.

Robert A. Gardner of Hinsdale club, Chicago, former national champion, crowded in among the leaders yesterday by defeating Mason Phelps, twice Western titleholder, 3 to 2, in the second match round after thirty-six holes of brilliant play. "Chick" Evans, pres-

DREAM ON, KID.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: A little girl in Linwood is just about old enough to have a beau, and she is perfectly crazy about any pompadoured, green-hatted, bare-necked, tall, skinny lad that—well, let us tell our little incident without adding adjectives.

The maiden's lovely boy friend went out of town for a week, but he wrote letters. And the maiden's sister started kidding.

"What?" exclaimed sis, "another letter from Rob? When do you expect to marry him, dear?"

"Oh, very soon!" cried the little one, encouraged by such a display of sympathy. "Robert has only two years more in the preparatory school. And then he will go to Harvard and be graduated with the highest honors. After he gets his degree he will go out West and make his fortune, and then we shall be married. Oh, it all seems so beautiful.

"Dream on, kid!" exclaimed the older sister, tenderly. "Do you want to go to another picture show with me this evening? There's a long time to wait and we've got to put in the time somehow."

NOT EXPERT.

National Food Magazine: A negro boy was brought up in a police court for the fifth time on a charge of chicken stealing, and the magistrate decided to try the effect of an appeal to the boy's father.

"Now, see here, Abe," he said to the darky—"this boy of yours has been in court so many times for stealing chickens that I'm tired of seeing him here."

"Ah, don't blame you, sah!" replied the father. 'Ahs tired o' seeing him here, too!"

"Then why don't you teach him how to act? Show him the right way, so that he won't be coming here again."

"Ah has showed him the right way, sah," declared the old man, earnestly. "Ah has suttinly showed him the right way; but, 'spite that, he somehow keeps getting caught comin' 'way wid dose chickens."

ent Western champion, went through the rounds easily enough, defeating Frank Welsh, the Rockford star, 4 to 3. "Ned" Allis of Milwaukee downed J. N. McDonald of Chicago, 4 and 3.

Poor putting by Phelps in the afternoon was primarily responsible for his defeat by Gardner. Phelps' play in the morning was so good that his defeat was a surprise, through Gardner was in first class form.

Henry H. Heyburn, the Louisville crack, succumbed to A. C. Perry, a local player, in a match that furnished another surprise, for Heyburn was generally ranked among the players expected to go into the semi-finals.

J. S. Thompson of St. Paul won his match in the president's cup yesterday. E. C. Allen of Los Angeles and E. B. Boyle of Detroit lost by default.

Allis' Record Disputed.

Boston, Mass., July 24.—Members of the Braeburn Country club yesterday declined to recognize as a world's record the holing out of a 306-yard shot by E. P. Allis, III, for the play of the Wesern golf championship at the Homewood Country club, Chicago.

The amateur record is claimed for John G. Anderson of Newtona, who, on Sept. 23, 1908, ran down a 328-yard drive from the tee to the sixteenth green on the course of the Braeburn club.

DRIVER FINED FOR SHARP PRACTICE

Judges Declare All Pools Off on Races at Fort Erie.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 24.—Childs, the driver of Leita J., winner of the 2:14 pace, the first event on the card of the Grand Circuit at Fort Erie yesterday afternoon, was fined $250 and the judges declared all pools off on the race.

The Assessor and Blue Line were made equal favorites in the race pools and Geers won the first heat handily. Blue Line captured the second heat from the Assessor. The third heat went to the stient reinsman with Blue Line and Leita J. following closely. After Leita J. captured the fourth, fifth and sixth heats, Driver Childs was called into the stand and the judges announced the fine and the declaring off of the pools, claiming that the driver did not try in the early heats.

The feature event of the card, the King George V stake, $10,000 purse, for 2:16 trotters, was won by the Lexington mare, Tenara, driven by Benyon. Tenara sold a rank outsider in the pools.

The Queen City stake for 2:08 trotters resulted in another up set, Cheeney taking two heats and first money.

Drago F. had no trouble of disposing of the field in the 2:15 trot, winning easily in straight heats.

VETERANS PLAY IN OLD-TIME FORM

Larned and Wright Favorites in Tennis Doubles at Longwood.

Boston, Mass., July 24.—Mid tournament day on the lawn tennis courts at the Longwood Cricket club opened today with twelve players remaining in the competition for the Longwood bowl and eight teams struggling for the eastern championship in doubles.

A good sized crowd gathered about the championship court this forenoon for the doubles match between W. A. Larned and G. C. Wright, and two New York players, F. C. Baggs and S. H. Voshell. This was a contest of veterans against new comers. For the first time this week the weather was threatening.

Larned and Wright, maintained yesterday the winning form they exhibited Tuesday in their first joint play in a decade, and won their way into the fourth round of the Eastern doubles championship in a manner to make them pronounced favorites in the upper half. The match in which Wright and Larned disposed of H. C. Johnson and F. H. Whitney of Boston, was the most interesting of the day. The score was 6-3, 6-3, 2-6, and 6-2.

Tennis at Minneapolis.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 24.—Entries are being made for the Northwest tennis tournament to be held on the Burnis tennis courts at Deephaven, Lake Minnetonka, the week beginning Aug. 4. An innovation planned for the tournament will be a series of mixed doubles and women's singles.

DULUTH TO MEET CLASS OF COUNTRY AT NATIONAL

Argonauts and Con Riley's Famous Eight May Compete Against Local Oarsmen in the Boston Rowing Races.

According to the statement made today by Coach James E. Ten Eyck, it is not certain as yet how many oarsmen will be taken to the national regatta, which will be held on the Charles river course at Boston on Aug. 8 and 9.

According to the present plans the two eights will race it out. It is planned to have the two crews meet on Friday evening. This will be one of the greatest races that could possibly be rowed and the people of Duluth will see a contest worth going miles to witness.

In the event of the two eights making the trip to the National, Duluth will have an eight in the intermediate event and two eights in the championship eight event.

Also Duluth will have a four in the intermediate four event and possibly two fours in the championship four event.

Today John E. MacGregor, secretary of the club, received a letter from the Minnesota club, that was forwarded from the Detroit Boat club. The captain of the Detroit club expressed keen regret over the fact that Detroit could not compete at St. Paul, and then proceeded to say that the Detroit Boat club would have a full list of entries at the National and that it was the fond hope of every member of the Detroit crews that Duluth be at the National, as in that event the Duluth crews would entertain a higher opinion of the Detroit oarsmen than was held at the present time.

In other words it is intimated that the Detroiters are just naturally pining away to meet the Duluth crews and also hold the belief that they are going to defeat us at the National.

Suffice it to state that the Detroit eight won the People's regatta of Philadelphia, a series of races that brings together some of the fastest crews of the East.

Argonauts May Enter.

Jimmy Ten Eyck is of the opinion that the Argonauts may enter the National. In that event the famous Canadian Rowing club will have a four and eight in the Boston races.

The Argonauts have been to England and were beaten in the eight event by the famous Leander crew in the eight event, the time for the mile and 550 yards being 6:51.

It is also possible that Con Riley and the eight that is looked upon by some as the greatest racing combination in the country, will be at the National.

Any way, with the Mound City Rowing club, the St. Louis Rowing club, the Vespers, the New York Athletic club, the Worchester club, the Halifax club, not to name scores of others, the Duluth people can be sure that the crews that are sent East from this city will meet the class of the entire country.

Down at the club house it is a case of strict training. The old routine, irksome at times, has returned. It is early to bed and up with the sun and on the water. Every minute of time on the course is being utilized to its fullest extent. Every golden day is counted upon to bring its golden harvest.

The Duluth crews were right for the races at St. Paul—and every effort is being made at the present time to have them even better for the races that will dterming the championship of the United States.

Citiens of Duluth should realize the great importance of sending crews to the National. It is putting the name of Duluth before the athletic readers of the entire country, and a win means that the boat club and the city of Duluth will be advertised throughout the length and breadth of the United States.

There are going to be some great races and we are going to send some great crews.

SHADY METHODS ON TURF EXPOSED

Decision in Libel Suit Against Sporting Paper Shocks England.

London, July 24.—The fair name of the English turf received a blow in the decision rendered yesterday in a libel action brought by R. Wooton, a trainer, against Robert S. Sievier, editor of the sporting paper, Winning Post. Wooton is an Australian, one of the most prominent trainers in England. His two sons are jockeys and in the constant employ of the best stables. Sievier is a well known racing man.

Winning Post charged that Wooton and other trainers and jockeys belonged to a ring which made enormous sums by betting, first entering into an agreement as to which horses should win or lose, and by other methods.

The trial occupied eight days and several men conspicuous on turf, jockeys and stable boys testified for either side. The jury gave Wooton one farthing damages.

On the witness stand Wooton admitted that he had made a fortune by betting and had often won $25,000 on a race. His son, Frank, amassed more than $250,000 in a few years of riding in England.

Coming after the disqualification of Craganour in the derby by reason of the foul riding of the jockey, the case has caused widespread feeling that radical turf reforms are necessary.

TOURNAMENT SHOOT SUNDAY

The annual inter-club shoot between the Central Gun club and the Northwestern Gun club of this city will be held on the grounds of the latter club Sunday afternoon.

This is expected to be one of the best tournaments that has ever been held at the Head of the Lakes. Not only will all of the best shots of the two clubs take part in the competition, but there will also be some of the crack shots of the West representing the various powder companies and a special competition will be arranged for them.

Both clubs have been showing some remarkable shooting form this season, and as the rivalry between the two is very keen the sport promises to be very good.

CANOE RACES START FRIDAY

Everything is in readiness for the holding of the races of the Northwestern Canoe association, which will be held in front of the main club house on Friday afternoon.

Dr. Frank Lynam, Will L'Estrange, Lloyd and Dave Williams, A. J. Frey, J. E. Horak, Louis Ardouin and several others will represent the Duluth club.

The entrants from the Twin Cities and several other points of the state will come in today and early tomorrow. It is expected that there will be at least forty entries from St. Paul and Minneapolis.

CONRAD'S COLTS NOW LA CROSSE CLUB

St. Paul, Minn., July 24.—Owner Conrade of the erstwhile St. Paul Northern league club, has officially christened his club the La Crosse Colts, the change in title becoming effective yesterday. The team soon will play its first game at La Crosse.

Harvard Coaches.

Boston, Mass., July 24.—Harvard track and field athletes will be coached during the next two years by William F. (Pooch) Donovan and J. Fred Powers, and the Crimson cross-country runners will work under the direction of Alfred J. Shrubb. Donovan and Powers have signed contracts for two years, while Shrubb's term is for one year.

Weston Nears Goal.

Black River Falls, Wis., July 24.—Edward Payson Weston arrived on schedule time last night on his walk to Minneapolis. He was tendered a unique reception yesterday afternoon when a fast Chicago & Northwestern passenger train slowed down to walking speed and the passengers were given an opportunity to greet the pedestrian. He left early this morning for Fairchild.

Motorcyclists Meet.

Denver, Colo., July 24.—Three hundred motorcyclists from all parts of the country met yesterday for the annual convention of the American Federation of Motorcyclists here this afternoon. The business sessions will be concluded today and championship motorcycle races will be held at Overland park Friday, Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

LEARNS THE TRUTH AFTER MANY DAYS

News Tribune Finally Discovers That Great Northern Will Reduce Rates.

MONDAY NEWS.

"Hill railroad to cut 3-cent rate only in few cases."—The News Tribune.

"Great Northern to meet 2-cent fare in full spirit when new tariffs are adjusted."—The Herald.

TUESDAY'S NEWS.

"Hill's railroad fails to slash rate."—The New Tribune.

"Great Northern has no intention of ducking 2-cent fare decision."—The Herald.

WEDNESDAY.

Twenty-four hours' silence from News Tribune so readers will have chance to forget.

THURSDAY NEWS.

"Hill railroad will cut fare to 2 cents."—The News Tribune.

There it is, gentle reader. It took four days of consistent effort for the morning journal to get at the true situation that The Herald had been telling about for days.

Every time the great family newspaper came out with unalloyed truth, there was a strong denial from the News Tribune.

It was on Sunday by working overtime that the East Superior street journalists made the wonderful discovery that the Hill road—remember 'twas always the Hill road—had planned to buck the 2-cent fare decision. In plainer language, but with fewer big headlines, The Herald told just what was to happen. It stated that when the clerical force had finished its multitudinous and intricate duties in compiling the new tariffs the Great Northern would place them in effect, and that some of them were already in effect.

Again the News Tribune explained vehemently that the "Hill road" had no intention of making good on the 2-cent fare decision. It quoted a few rates between small towns in Minnesota to prove it. Again The Herald assured its readers there was no plan on hand to dodge the meaning of the ruling. Further it explained that neither had the Soo or Northwestern roads completed their through tariffs on a 2-cent basis.

On Tuesday there was a lull among the railroad experts of the morning newspaper. Not a word about the 2-cent fare in yesterday's edition. Then it comes out this morning with the statement that the Hill railroad will slash rates. Real news that. It even adds what The Herald had been telling for days that the new arrangement would become effective as soon as the clerical force completed its work on the tariffs. More real news.

RAILROADS OPPOSE PARCEL POST PLAN

Say Extension Would Cost Them Express Company Income.

Washington, July 24.—Representatives of railroads have formally protested to the interstate commerce commission against the increase of weight of parcel post packages, as proposed in the extension of the service by Postmaster General Burleson, on the ground that it would cost the railroads $20,000,000 of revenue they now receive from express companies. A delegation representing the railroads generally throughout the country, laid their complaint before the senators and representatives.

The movement in the senate itself to forestall the department changes by repealing the section of the parcel post law under which the postmaster general claims the right to regulate rates and sizes, further crystallized when Senator Bryan of Florida introduced a joint resolution to repeal the legislation in question. Another development was the postponement of the explanation demanded by the senate postoffice committee of Postmaster General Burleson of his authority to inaugurate the changes, from today until Friday.

"TOBACCO TRUST" COMPANIES CITED

New York, July 24.—An order citing the American Tobacco company and the United Cigar Stores company to appear in the United States court of appeals, Aug. 21, has been issued by Federal Judge Hand. The two companies are directed to show cause why the circuit court's dissolution decree against the so-called Tobacco trust should not be corrected to conform with the mandate of the United States supreme court.

The order is in response to the proceedings instituted eighteen months ago by Otto S. Jonas, acting for himself and other retail dealers.

HAMLIN PICKED FOR CUSTOMS JOB.

Washington, July 24.—Charles Sumner Hamlin of Boston has been selected as assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of the customs service, to succeed James F. Curtis, who will retire Aug. 1. Secretary McAdoo formally recommended the appointment to President Wilson, who is expected to send the nomination to the senate within a few days.

Mr. Hamlin occupied the same position during the second administration of President Cleveland. He has not been an applicant for the place and is understood to have declined it early in the Wilson administration, but will now be urged to accept because of his intimate knowledge of customs questions.

Mr. Hamlin has represented the government at various international conventions.

GERMAN ARCTIC EXPLORER SAVED?

Bremen, Germany, July 24.—The rescue of the missing German Arctic explorer, Lieut. Schroeder-Stranz, is apparently indicated in a wireless dispatch received here from the steamer Grosser Kurfurst, cruising in Spitzbergen waters. The message says:

"Dr. Robitzsch of the German observatory at Cross bay came on board yesterday at Moeller bay and made important communications about Schroeder-Stranz. Help has been received. A detailed report will be sent by wireless from Tromsoe."

The Grosser Kurfurst is due at Tromsoe on Friday.

THIRTY-FIVE NATIONS IN FIGHT ON OPIUM

Washington, July 24.—Dr. Hamilton Wright, who, with Lloyd Bryce, American minister at The Hague, represented the United States at the recent international opium conference there, has returned to Washington and reported orally the results of his mission to Acting Secretary Moore. So far as the United States is concerned, little now remains to be done beyond submitting to the senate for its approval the general convention, designed to prevent traffic in habit-forming drugs, and to enact certain bills now pending in congress, carrying out internally the provisions of this treaty.

Dr. Wright reported that up to date thirty-five governments have signed the opium convention, including the thirteen nations that joined in the first conference in Shanghai, after the movement had been initiated by the United States. Some of these countries, notably Great Britain and Germany, are withholding their ratifications until the last moment, taking the ground that to be really effective, the convention must have the unanimous support of all nations. Ten governments have not signed the convention. Of these Bulgaria, Greece, Turkey, Roumania, Montenegro and Servia were unable to do so because of the Balkan war, and Switzerland and Austria-Hungary, Norway and Sweden find difficulty in enacting the necessary international legislation immediately.

All of the signatory powers are to meet at a third conference at The Hague after Dec. 31, next, to agree upon the date when the prohibition of the use of opium and other baneful drugs shall go into effect throughout the world.

ASHURST EXPLAINS.

Reads Telegrams Bristow Said Were Sent as Graft.

Washington, July 24.—In reply to Senator Bristow's recent charges that he had spent as much as $100 a day sending telegrams at public expense regarding private affairs, Senator Ashurst addressed the senate, denying that he has misused public funds. He read telegrams he had sent regarding an advisory election for Federal judges; the release of John Kenneth Turner of Mexico, and the conference in Washington. He insisted they dealt with public affairs, and he offered to pay for them if the senate committee on contingent expenses would decide they were not official business.

"If the senator thinks these telegrams deal with public matters, his conception of the term is different from mine," declared Senator Bristow.

"To my mind, the senator has acquitted himself," observed Senator Owen.

BLAMES TAMMANY FOR FIRE HORROR.

Albany, N. Y., July 24.—Governor Sulzer, after characterizing the Binghamton fire as a "terrible catastrophe," declared in a statement that the people of the state "will hold Mr. Murphy of Tammany hall responsible."

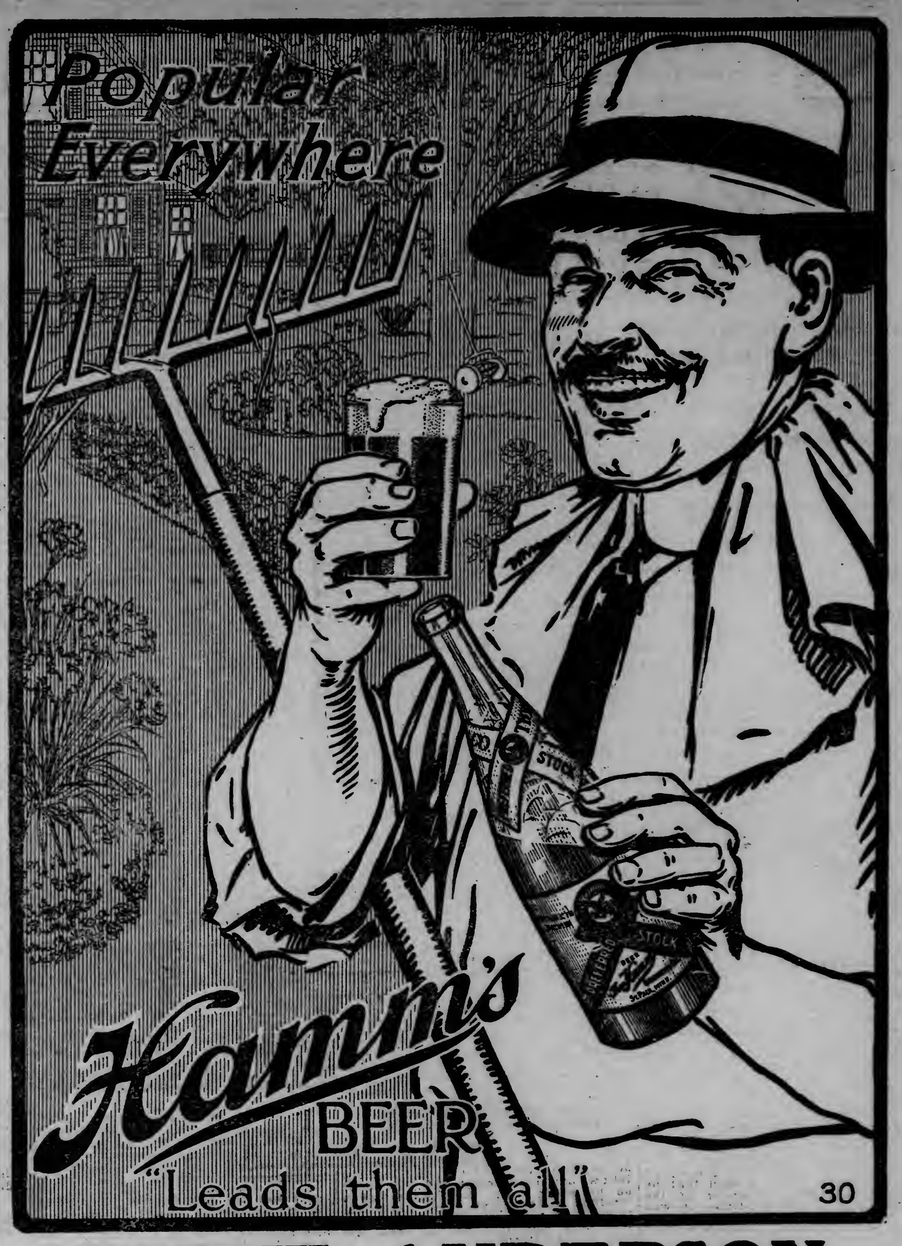

"It is a sad commentary on the present condition of the state labor department, which is tied up so that it cannot execute the laws on the statute books to prevent these tragedies," says the statement. "The fact is that Mr. Murphy will not permit his senate to confirm the nomination of John Mitchell or James M. Lynch for state labor commissioner; not that he can say anything against these men, who are peculiarly qualified to do the work, but because he cannot make me name his man for the position. The people understand the situation. They will hold Mr. Murphy responsible."

FUNK'S DEFAMERS' TRIAL DATE SET.

Chicago, July 24.—Attorney Daniel Donahue, Isaac Siefel, owner of a private detective agency, and Allene Hepner will be placed on trial before Judge Theodore Brentano, Aug. 11, on a charge of conspiracy to defame the character of Clarence S. Funk, president of the M. Rumely company. The indictment of the three resulted from the filing of a $25,000 alienation suit against Funk and the confession of Mrs. Joseph Henning, who filed the suit, that the charges against Funk were untrue.

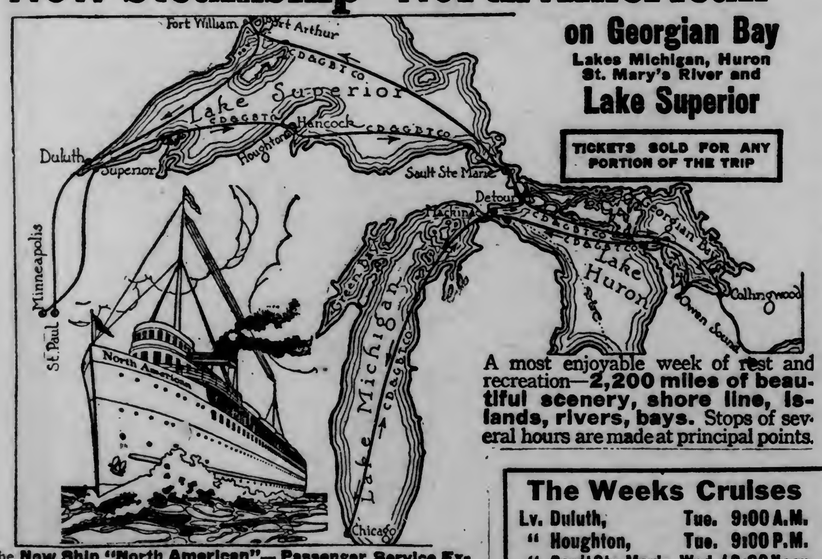

CONFESSED PATRICIDE IS NOT CONVICTED

Chillicothe, Mo., July 24.—At the conclusion of five days of deliberating, the jury in the case of Lee Hoyt, who confessed to murdering his father, a farmer near here, Nov. 26, 1911, failed to agree and was discharged. The jury stood seven for conviction and five for acquittal. Those voting for acquittal held that Hoyt is insane.

ON THE IRON RANGES

AGREEMENT IS REACHED

Chisholm Council and Brewing Companies Confer on "Blind Pigs."

Companies Agree Not to Sell to Those Deemed "Undesirable."

Chisholm, Minn., July 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Managers of brewing companies and other men interested in brewing products made up the audience which was before the council at yesterday's meeting. They were here upon request of Village Attorney Edward Freeman, who was instructed to have them present to assist in remedying the blind-pig evil which has given so much annoyance to retailers, wholesalers, the police department and others. It was claimed that men working in the underground mines demand a large quantity of beer and if it is confined exclusively to that class of men, few evil results are expected. The evil, it is found, comes in blind-pigging. Shooting and cutting become frequent, and to remove this evil the brewing companies were asked to meet with the council and go over the matter.

Represented by either Duluth or local managers, were the Fitger Brewing company, the Duluth Brewing & Malting company, the Peoples Brewing company of Duluth and the Virginia Brewing company, Schlitz Brewing company, Hamm Brewing company, J. Gund Brewing company, Minneapolis Brewing company and Pabst Brewing company. Mr. Shaw spoke in behalf of all the companies, and especially for the Fitger company, stating what the company would be willing to do and outlining what was being done in other towns. He was convinced that the council's attitude was to be fair, and after some of the other companies had confirmed his statement, an agreement was soon reached. It was agreed that a list of "undesirable blind-piggers" would be furnished to all the brewing companies and that they would not sell to these men; also that deliveries would not be made at locations or anywhere outside of regular licensed saloons after 6 in the evening, and that sales in kegs would not be made at any time except to saloons. The plan will be tried out, and if found incompetent to remedy the evil the brewers will again meet with the council and try to remedy the difficulty. Chief of Police Cole of the Oliver police force and Chief Madden of the Shenango also spoke, outlining the existing trouble.

Bids for furnishing approximately 400 cubic yards of beach gravel will be opened on July 29. The stone is to be used for foundation for paving blocks and to take the place of crushed rock.

A liquor license transfer was granted from John Lamuth to Frank Hren. John Champa was granted a license to sell cigarettes under the new cigarette law, making the thirteenth license so issued.

Numerous petitions for sewers and sidewalks and street improvements which have been in the hands of the sewer and street committee, were returned from the committee with favorable recommendations.

The council and village engineer will go to Bemidji to inspect some of their new concrete pavement which, it is claimed, is so laid that freezing does not affect it.

A committee, consisting of Messrs. Tramontin, McNiven and Hackett, was appointed to dispose of the band stand situation.

Salary raises were granted to patrolmen on the police force and to the firemen, amounting to $5 per month each, to the day and night sergeant, $10 each, to the street commissioner and assistant commissioner, $10 each, and to the chief of the fire department, $25 per month, the raises effective July 1.

BLUEBERRY SEASON.

Indians Are Busy Picking Berries Near Range Towns.

Virginia, Minn., July 24.—(Special to The Herald).—The blueberry season is on and the Indians from up near the border have made their annual journey to camps located near the range towns where whole families of the forest children pick berries and bring them to the towns to be marketed. The blueberry crop nets the pickers thousands of dollars and much of it is shipped to Duluth and elsewhere.

ITCHED AND BURNED TERRIBLY

Face All Covered With Eruption. Unable to Get Rest. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

383 No. Union St., Aurora, Ill. — "My ailment started with a little pimple and it always itched and burned terribly. I scratched it and in a few days my face was all covered with sores. It ran up to my eyes and the day after I could not see out of my right eye. I was unable to get any rest. I couldn't go to bed, being afraid of getting the clothing all soiled, although I had my face all bandaged.

"I was given two jars of salve but it kept getting worse. It was something like a running sore because every time I used some of the salve I had to wrap bandages around my neck to keep the water and pus from running down my body. After I had the trouble two months my mother told me I should try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I wrote for a sample and in a few days I received these and washed my face with the Cuticura Soap and put on some Cuticura Ointment and the next morning my face felt cool and somewhat relieved. After using the sample I bought some Cuticura Soap and Ointment at the drug store. I followed this treatment just twenty-six days and after using one cake of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was cured." (Signed) George Miller, Jan. 1, 1913.

Cuticura Soap (25c.) and Cuticura Ointment (50c.) are sold everywhere. A single set is often sufficient when all else fails. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

☞Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

SHOT TWICE TRYING TO ESCAPE OFFICER

M. DELEHAUNTE.

Chisholm, Minn., July 24.—(Special to The Herald).—M. Delahaunte, who was shot twice Sunday night by Officer George Donoghue while trying to escape after being arrested at a road house between here and Hibbing on the charge of stealing articles from Godfrey's store at Hibbing, is reported recovering in a Hibbing hospital. Delehaunte at one time was one of Pal Brown's trainers.

Many range families of the towns make the blueberry season their vacation season and with horse and wagon and camp outfit go to where the berries are plentiful and camp in the woods while they pick the wild fruit for the market and make their vacation earnings sometimes greater than what they earn at their regular work.

INSURANCE RATES TO BE REVISED

Chisholm's Fire - Fighting Facilities Expected to Be Adequate.

Chisholm, Minn., July 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. B. McLeran, head of the Duluth insurance inspection bureau, has been in town this week looking over local conditions, and met members of the water and light board, the superintendent of water works and engineer, to get all information possible relative to the water supply from a fire-fighting standpoint. He had been previously advised that Chisholm was making preparations to greatly improve its water supply, and before making recommendations affecting insurance rates, wished to know positively just how far the improvements would reach. He left with full faith in the sincerity of the commission's intentions, and believes that with a few additional changes Chisholm should have an adequate supply of water as long as the mines keep running.

The new 8-inch feed main from the Monroe will greatly relieve the situation and will carry a sufficient supply for all needs, and Mr. McLeran stated that if the pumps at the Munroe mine are in no wise hampered, he sees no reason why the water supply should not suffice for some time to come. He looks for a revision downward in insurance rates, but would not state just how extensive it would be.

The village is ready for its pumping station improvements ,and is only waiting the arrival of an 800-gallon per minute pump before the rebuilding process will begin. The work will require several months to complete, and when finished will add to the fire-fighting efficiency as well as to the consumers' supply.

WANTS $7,000 FOR ACCIDENT ON ROAD

Virginia, Minn., July 24.—(Special to The Herald).—In the case of Andrew E. Mack against the Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific railway, the court has filed an order overruling the defendant's demurrer to the complaint. Mack sues the railroad company for $7,000 damages for injuries by being thrown from a speeder which struck a dog on the track north of Virginia. He contends that the right-of-way was not clear as it should be, otherwise it would not have been possible for the accident to occur. The case will be on the calendar for the August term.

FOUR GIRLS SERVING TEN DAYS' SENTENCE

Grand Rapids, Minn., July 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Jessie Wilson, proprietress of the house raided Saturday night at Nashwauk, failed to return to Grand Rapids, to release the four other women who were taken in the raid and were unable to pay their fines Monday morning when arraigned in justice's court. The girls, who gave the names of Mertes Peterson, Gladys Brown, Amella Gardner and Dolly Gibson, are serving their ten days' sentence which was the alternative from the $25 fine imposed.

NEW MANAGER HAS REACHED VIRGINIA

Virginia, Minn., July 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—W. J. Durand of Minneapolis, special agent of the Western Union Telegraph company, arrived in the city yesterday on a tour of inspection. He was accompanied by J. H. Hopkins, also of Minneapolis, who will take charge of the local office. Mr. Hopkins has been in the employ of the company for several years.

FICTION IN FAVOR AT GRAND RAPIDS

Grand Rapids, Minn., July 24.—(Special to The Herald).—The report of Mrs. Elizabeth Huntley, librarian for the Grand Rapids public library, shows that during the month of June 754 volumes of fiction were circulated, and 269 volumes of non fiction were distributed. The daily average for the month was 46.

RAPIDS TEAM WINS BANNER

Ely Second and Aurora Third in Firemen's Big Event.

Woods of Proctor First in the Ladder-Climbing Contest.

Aurora, Minn., July 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the tournament of the Mesaba Range Volunteer Firemen's association yesterday afternoon, the association banner was won in 24 2-5 secs. by the Grand Rapids running team. Ely won second place in 24 3-5 secs. and Aurora was third in 29 secs. flat. This is one of the big events of the association and consists in laying 300 feet of hose and putting on nozzle ready for water.

Proctor is believed to have been the fastest team here, but owing to a distressing accident was unable to finish the race. The cart became unmanageable when they were about fifty feet from the finish, and the pole men lost their hold. Bob Matthews was thrown to the ground and the cart ran over him, dislocating his left ankle and fracturing one of the ankle bones. The tongue of the cart struck the ground with such force that it was broken. Matthews is being cared for at the Lenont hospital and is resting easily. The other men were scratched up some, but were not seriously injured.

Several who were keeping time stated that their watches showed 15 secs. when the accident occurred. From this it is estimated that the Proctor team would have completed the race in under 20 secs., which is phenomenal time.

In the ladder-climbing contest Woods of Proctor was first in 7 1-5 secs.; Sandberg of Aurora second in 7 2-5 secs.; Harry of Ely third in 7 3-5 secs.

The hook and ladder service contest was won by Grand Rapids in 23 secs.; Aurora second in 24 4-5 secs., and Ely third in 25 2-5 secs.

The Aurora department has headed a benefit fund for Bob Matthews with $50.

The attendance has been very large and every one is having the best kind of a time.

Ely's Delegation.

Ely, Minn., July 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ely sent a large delegation to the firemen's tournament at Aurora yesterday. The team representing the Ely fire department is composed of A. J. McPherson, Albert McMahan, Harry Homer, Alvin Schaefer, Joseph Gerzin, Thomas Hart, Frank Lindgren, Emil Erickson, Elias La Beau, Joseph Martinetti, Arthur Sheridan, Clarence Chinn, Wilson Carlson, Howard Nicholas, Harry Dalton, Willard St. Marie, William Walker, and Assistant Chief Richard Hodge. The team have combined faithful training with ability, and promise to give a good account of themselves.

Assistant Chief Hodge and J. Seraphine are leading in the effort to bring the next tournament to Ely. The city will have been placed in excellent shape for the races by next year, and it has been about five years since Ely had the chance of proving how good a host she is to the fire fighters. The invitation is backed by the whole community, which joins in the desire to see the next tournament held here.

JUDGE CHINN HAS A BUSY DAY AT ELY

Ely, Minn., July 24.—(Special to The Herald.) — Special Municipal Court Judge Chinn had a busy day yesterday, seven cases being heard by him. Three vagrants were arrested while sleeping in a box car, and were given the option of paying $10 and costs or leaving town before 6 o'clock last evening. They left. Erick Fajne drew a fine of $10 and costs as a result of fighting, while his opponent, Ben Kanlananen, drew a fine of $6 and costs.

The case of John Gouze, an Ely saloon keeper, was postponed until Monday at 2 o'clock. Gouze was arrested on a warrant sworn out by D. Swartz, charging Gouze with assault. George Barich swore out a warrant for the arrest of Anton Kotchevar, charging him with having made threats against him, but when the case was aired in court it was dismissed.

CHISHOLM MAN GETS ST. PAUL POSITION

Chisholm, Minn., July 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Albert Albertson, for a number of years connected with the Great Northern at Buhl and Chisholm and for the past couple years agent here, has removed to St. Paul, where he will have a position in the general auditor's office of that road. Mr. Albertson left yesterday for St. Paul, and his wife, formerly Miss Anna Carlson, will visit relatives in Ely and will join her husband later.

CHANDLER'S SOUTH FORTY TO BE MINED

Ely, Minn., July 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—A crew of men started work yesterday cleaning up around the shaft house on the south forty of the old Chandler mine preparatory to the reopening of the mine. This section of the mine is being worked by Martin Pattison and the Pattison estate, no option on it being given to the Chandler Mining company at the time they began operations on the other part of the old mine. This shaft house is near the Pioneer shaft and engine house, and near the Duluth & Iron Range tracks. While it is not probable that the mine will be on the shipping list this year, it is probable that next year will see it shipping a heavy tonnage.

The Perfect Baby Of The Future

A Simple Method That Has a Wonderful Influence upon The Future Infant.

Too much cannot be said for a wonderful remedy, familiar to many women as Mother's Friend.

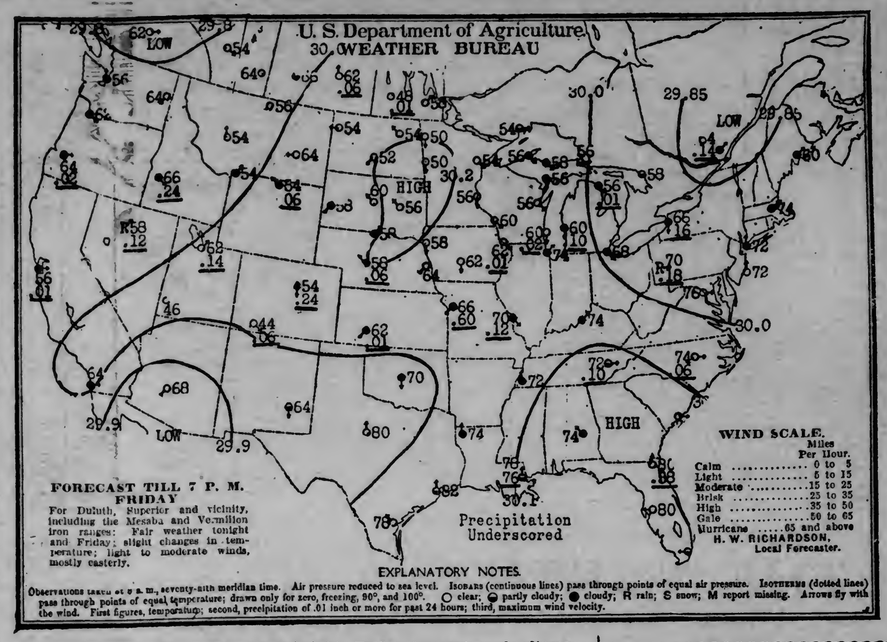

It is more eloquent in its action than all the health rules ever laid down for the guidance of expectant mothers. It is an external application that spreads its influence upon all the cords, muscles, ligaments and tendons that nature calls into play; they expand without pain, without strain.

Mother's Friend must, therefore, be considered as a direct influence upon the character and disposition of the future generation. It is a conceded fact that, with nausea, pain, nervousness and dread banished, there is stored up such an abundance of healthy energy as to bring into being the highest ideals of those who fondly theorize on the rules that insure the coming of the perfect baby.

Mother's Friend can be had of any druggist at $1.00 a bottle. It is prepared by Bradfield Regulator Co., 239 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Write them for an instructive book to expectant mothers.

FAIR

The weather man is certainly kind to the circus. The Lark o' the Lake committee ought to start an investigation. The Lark's wings have been clipped almost every time by the weather man, and here a foreign circus comes along and cops out one of the finest days Duluth has had this year. Such is life, alas! Fair weather is predicted for tonight and tomorrow.

Beautiful weather prevailed a year ago today.

The sun rose this morning at 4:38 and it will set at 7:51 this evening, giving fifteen hours and thirteen minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Hot weather continued Wednesday in Eastern Washington, Idaho, Arizona, Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Eastern Missouri, Kentucky and Florida. The barometric depressions centered over Quebec, Mexico and extreme Western Canada caused showers Wednesday or last night over Southern Oregon, Northern California, Nevada, Idaho, Utah, Colorado, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Eastern Iowa, Southern Wisconsin, Lower Michigan, Quebec, the Upper Ohio valley and South Atlantic states. Indications favor a continuance of fair weather at the Head of the Lakes until Friday night."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, July 24.—Forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Friday:

Lower and Upper Michigan—Fair tonight and Friday; warmer Friday in west portion.

Wisconsin—Fair tonight and Friday; slightly warmer Friday.

Minnesota—Fair tonight and Friday; rising temperature.

Iowa—Fair tonight and probably Friday; warmer Friday and in northwest portion tonight.

North Dakota—Fair and warmer tonight; Friday increasing cloudiness.

South Dakota—Fair tonight and Friday except unsettled in west portion; warmer tonight.

Montana — Increasing cloudiness with probably showers tonight or Friday; warmer in north and west portions tonight.

Upper Lakes: Light to moderate northerly winds. Fair weather tonight and Friday.

CHISHOLM TO HAVE WATER CARNIVAL

Hydroplane Flights Are to Be Given on Longyear Lake.

Chisholm, Minn., July 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Under the auspices of local Elks, with Attorney Ed. Freeman and William Brown as managers, three hydroplane flights will be brought off on Longyear lake in addition to the program of aquatic sports and grand display of fireworks by an Italian troup Aug. 2.

The services of Aviator Weymark, who has been making successful hydroplane flights at the Lark o' the Lake at Duluth, have been secured.

There will be log rolling contests, boat races, swimming races and in the evening a grand display of Italian fireworks under the management of an Italian troup.

MUCH BUILDING IN VIRGINIA EXPECTED

Rumored That the Missabe Road Will Erect New Depot.

Virginia, Minn., July 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—From dependable sources it is learned that several large buildings which have heretofore not been mentioned will be erected in Virginia, the work to be commenced this summer or fall. It is known that contractors who figure only on large jobs are expecting to be kept busy here for the balance of the year. There is a persistent rumor that the Duluth, Missabe & Northern road will replace its old depot with one which will compare favorably with the Canadian Northern depot at the other end of Chestnut street and which latter has cost about $30,000.

The Odd Fellows have appointed a building committee to make arrangements for the erection of a building on the property diagonally across from the new postoffice. Jereissati Bros., who own the property adjoining the new First National bank building, will erect a store building there which will conform with the material of the bank front. These buildings, with the exception of the Missabe depot, are not included in the large work which the contractors are expecting to have an opportunity to bid on.

To Teach at Coleraine.

Oconomowoc, Wis., July 24.—Ray Barker, Oconomowoc, graduate of the agricultural school of the Wisconsin university, has the position of agricultural instructor in the Coleraine, Minn., school, and will also have charge of the city landscape gardening.

ICE CREAM SOCIAL

Will Be Given By Tower Church Ladies Friday Evening.

Tower, Minn., July 24.—(Special to The Herald).—The Ladies' Aid of the St. James Presbyterian church will give an ice cream social Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Haley at Lakeside. The Tower band will furnish the music for the occasion.

Miss Fanny Stephenson who has been the guest of Mrs. G. D. Lizer and Mrs. W. G. Gallim the past few days returned to her home in Duluth Tuesday.

H. G. Oliver and Alice E. Ferrilund were married Tuesday afternoon by Justice of the Peace Murcen. The young people are well known in Tower. Mr. Oliver being associated with Frank R. Carr in the management of a summer hotel at the head of Lake Vermilion, while his bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ferrilund pioneer residents of this district.

Walter Wellander and Miss Esther Danielson, well known young people of Soudan went to Virginia a couple of weeks ago and were quietly married. News of the marriage leaked out recently and now they are busy receiving congratulations. They will make their home in Soudan.

Miss Esther Mork of Duluth, is the guest of her cousin, Miss Esther Strand.

FINNISH BROTHERHOOD.

Expected Election of Officers Will Take Place Friday.

Ely, Minn., July 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The sessions of the Finnish National Brotherhood are being held at the opera house, but only routine business has been transacted to date. Beginning with this evening, popular concerts will be given at the place of meeting, the proceeds to be given to the Finnish college at Hancock, Mich. By late tomorrow it is expected that the convention will reach the election of officers for the ensuing year, and Saturday a big picnic will be held at Sandy Point, which will be attended by many Finnish residents from other cities.

TOWER BAND TO GIVE EXCURSION

Dredging Outfit Arrives to Improve the River Channel.

Tower, Minn., July 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Commercial club band will give an excursion and dance this evening at McKinley park. The steamer Erma D. will carry the excursionists.

The dredging contractor has arrived with his equipment to begin the work of improving the river channel at this place. The Commercial club worked hard nearly all winter getting the necessary legislation.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church will give an ice cream social on Friday evening on the lawn at Mrs. William Haley's home at Lakeside. Music will be furnished by the Tower band.

It is reported that a former well-to-do citizen of Tower contemplates making Tower a gift of a market place. Such a convenience would be a great thing for this city and the neighboring farmers would enjoy the improvement.

William Pryor, formerly of Eveleth is now acting as cashier of the First State bank, succeeding O. W. Akerson, who contemplates removal to Minneapolis.

I. Goodwell of the Summer Home on Lake Vermilion was transacting business in Tower on Wednesday.

K. D. Martin, accompanied by his mother, were Tower visitors on Monday, coming down from Gold Island, where they are occupying the cottage Alvina for the summer.

Over thirty are enjoying the hospitality of the Goodwell Summer Home at present. The 1st of August a large number are again expected.

The members of St. Mary's Episcopal Sunday school enjoyed their annual picnic at Noelman's on Wednesday. The day, though cool, was pleasant and a general good time was had.

LUMBER BURNED AT DRUMMOND

Loss of $20,000 Caused to the Cutliff Lumber Company.

Two Harbors, Minn., July 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fire at the yards of the Cutliff Lumber company at Drummond, twelve miles north of here, destroyed about 1,000,000 feet of lumber, valued at $18,000 to $20,000, early this morning.

The fire broke out at 12:30 this morning and was discovered before it had made much progress, but inadequacy of apparatus and lack of a sufficient number of fire fighters allowed it to spread. The section men at Drummond helped the mill employes in fighting the fire, and a hurry call was sent to Two Harbors. Firemen and apparatus were sent out on a special train, but they were too late to save the lumber.

The loss is partially covered by insurance.

DID NOT KNOW HIS BRIDE-TO-BE'S NAME

Virginia, Minn., July 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The clerks at the district court office where the marriage licenses are issued know of many humorous incidents connected with the requests for licenses to wed, but recently there was the first instance of a man applying for a license who did not know the name of the bride-to-be. When asked what was the name of the girl, he said it was Rosie but it had never occurred to him to even wonder what her family name might be.

Deputy Clerk Ojanpera told the applicant it would be essential to know the name of the young lady and the groom-elect said he would go and find out. Soon he returned with all the information complete and a license was issued for Antonio Battista and Rose Baratono.

How to Cut Down Living Expenses

Any Duluth family can make a big saving and also be much healthier by eating the deliciously appetizing "Minnesota" Spaghetti at least twice each week in place of meat.

"Minnesota" Spaghetti is four times as nutritious as beef-steak and yet costs only about one cent a dish.

It contains more proteids than most foods and is therefore more strength giving and less fattening.

It is fine for children—making their bodies strong and healthy. And they are very fond of its rich, nut-like flavor.

Insist on getting the genuine "Minnesota" Spaghetti, made from the VERY BEST DURUM wheat with ALL the wonderfully nourishing Gluten left in. Adv.

NEW MANAGER FOR BASS BROOK HOTEL

Cohassett, Minn., July 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—G. A. Williams of Los Angeles, Cal., has arrived to take over the management of the Bass Brook hotel, which he recently purchased from John Nelson. Mr. Nelson has already gone to California, where he has purchased a ranch. Mr. Nelson will remain away until late in the fall when he will return to Cohassett for a visit.

Married at Virginia.

Virginia, Minn., July 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Among the recent marriages in this city was that of Leonard Pfeifer, Jr., of Chicago and Miss Irene Keith of Milwaukee. Both recently came to the range. They will reside in Virginia.

Sues for Balance Due.

Virginia, Minn., July 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—Charles F. Nordstrom has commenced suit in the district court against Emil Loff for $311.50, the balance on $650 which was the price of several boats the plaintiff built for the defendant to be used at a resort on Vermilion lake.

Marriage License Issued.

Grand Rapids, Minn., July 24.—(Special to The Herald).—A marriage license was issued this morning by Clerk of Court I. D. Rasmussen, to Miss Carrie Victoria Cochran and Peter Kanz, both of Bigfork.

Superfluous Hair Truths

De Miracle

The Cheapest in the End

If you use a simple toilet preparation and it proves to be worthless, you only lose money. When you use a questionable depilatory, however, it is a very serious matter because you not only lose money, but you take the grave risk of permanent disfigurement.

If You Value Your Face

use De Miracle, the one safe, perfected hair remover of proven merit. Remember, the injury caused by the use of doubtful hair removers will either result in permanent disfigurement or cost you many dollars because it will take months or possibly years to gain control of hair growths that have been stimulated by the use of such preparations.

Only Guaranteed Hair Remover

Others advertise "Guaranteed," but give no guarantee. De Miracle is the only depilatory that has a binding guarantee in each package. Avoid permanent disfigurement by refusing substitutes offered by dishonest dealers merely for a few cents more profit. If your dealer will not supply you, send $1.00 direct. Free information how to determine which depilatories are harmful and worthless sent in plain, sealed envelope.

PEDESTRIANS HAVE GRIEVANCE

Automobiles Obstructed the View Where Circus Was to Have Passed.

Before the next circus parade or other Superior attraction for which crowds line the sidewalk is held Chief Troyer will be importuned by many Duluth people to enforce traffic regulations that will give the mere mortals on the sidewalk a show.

There was no circus parade this morning, but the crowd was there. It was made up of some thousands of women and children who stood patiently for two hours or more, and some more thousands of men, who flitted in and out and stopped intermittently. The crowd had a grievance, although it was only potential because of the parade being called off. If the parade had been held, the grievance would have been actual.

On both sides of Superior street from Second avenue west to Fifth avenue west there was a solid line of automobiles, close together, many of them with tops up and all holding a full load of people, who sat in comfort waiting for the parade. At many places it was impossible for people to break through to cross the street. If the parade had been held the view of people on the sidewalks would have seriously obstructed, and the view of children would have been cut off entirely.

There were thousands on the sidewalks, and only hundreds in the automobiles. The impression was general that the thousands should have first consideration, and the automobile owners should be forced to take their stands either in some remote blocks where the crowd of pedestrians is not so thick, or the autos should not be allowed to stand anywhere along the line of march.

DULUTH WOMAN DIES AT OSHKOSH

Mrs. Margaret Whiting Is Called While on Visit in Wisconsin.

Word was received here this morning of the death yesterday afternoon of Mrs. Margaret Whiting at Oshkosh, Wis., where she was visiting for the summer.

Mrs. Whiting had made her home in Duluth for the last fifteen years, having lived with her sister, Mrs. Frank Spurbeck, 1417 East Fourth street, since the death of her husband. Mrs. Whiting was a prominent member of the First M. E. church and was very well known as a church worker throughout the city.

Three sisters and six brothers survive Mrs. Whiting. John Owens, a brother, lives at Lakeside.

The funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at Oshkosh. Dr. M. S. Rice of the First M. E. church will officiate at the services at Oshkosh.

RUN ON CHICAGO BANK IS OVER

Chicago, July 24.—The run on the Kenwood Trust & Savings bank, which began two days ago as the result of idle rumors, was halted today. When the doors of the bank opened there were twenty depositors in line, and after these had been paid President A. K. Brown announced that the run on the institution was at an end. Later in the day scores of persons who had withdrawn their savings from the bank returned to open new accounts.

A New Way to Use Buttermilk for Beauty

(From The Woman Beautiful

There's a new way to use buttermilk which is said to work real wonders for any complexion. While the rejuvenating effects of buttermilk are well recognized, the treatment is not without its disadvantages. For instance, the liquid, properly fermented, is not always easily obtainable; and many do not like its odor. Some emollients, creams and pastes are objectionable because they leave the skin oily, or because of the presence of certain acids or drugs. Buttermilk soaps should be tabooed for the same reason every soap should. Alkalies and other things in soap are not good for any skin.

The new presolated buttermilk paste overcomes all the objections named. A generous coating is applied at night, being rubbed in gently, and washed off in the morning with cold water. This is more cleansing than any soap, and won't clog the pores. Presolated buttermilk paste (obtainable at any drug store) may be applied to face, neck, arms, hands or wherever it is desired to have skin especially fair, smooth and soft.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

FARGO GIVES RECEPTION

Warm Welcome Extended to the Eastbound Business Representatives.

Shown Red River Valley Farms and Entertained at Banquet.

Fargo, N. D., July 24.—(Special to The Herald).—Eastbound representatives of the United States chamber of commerce received a warm welcome to Fargo when they arrived at 3:45 o'clock this afternoon. The missionaries for larger commercial activities will make a seven-hour stay in this city, it being the first stop since leaving Billings, Mont. Tonight they leave here for the Twin Cities.

The Fargo Commercial club arranged a program to include a thirty-mile auto drive into the grain fields surrounding Fargo to show the visitors at close range something of the wonderful possibilities of the fertile soil of the famous Red river valley. Several farms will be visited and the advantages of crop diversification and rotation shown. A local man will accompany each two or three visitors to explain conditions. The agricultural college, the city's park system and boulevards, including the new river driveway, will also be taken in by the visitors.

Representatives of every commercial club of the state have been asked to meet the Eastern visitors. These and the delegation from the United States chamber of commerce will be banqueted at 6 o'clock by the executive committee of the Fargo Commercial club, following which there will be a general reception attended by all the business and professional men of Fargo. At the conclusion of the reception representatives of the tourists will make several short addresses.

Governor Hanna has been asked by President Watson of the Commercial club to preside at the meeting and if he can possibly reach here from Minot, where he is attending the corner stone laying at the new normal, he will do so.

SUBSTITUTE FOR SNUFF IS SOLD

North Dakota Officials Are Again After the Tobacco Trust.

Fargo, N. D., July 24.—(Special to The Herald).—Commissioner Ladd's fight with the representatives of the tobacco trust over a substitute for snuff that is being sold in this state, has the indorsement of the attorney general, who has ruled that the "Right Cut" does not come under the head of the exceptions. Commissioner Ladd insists its sale is as much a violation as the sale of snuff direct. He claims it is treated in much the same way as snuff, is put up in similar containers, the only difference being it is chopped fine instead of being pulverized.

Representatives of the tobacco trust insist, if necessary, the cases started will be carried to the supreme court of the United States for a decision and it may require some years to definitely settle the matter. In the meantime large quantities of snuff are being shipped to individuals through the parcel post. Harvest hands coming into the state bring suit cases full and are doing a snuff bootlegging business, similar to the illegal sale of liquor.

MINNESOTA EDITOR LAYS DOWN PENCIL

GEORGE J. SILK.

Pine River, Minn., July 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—George J. Silk for eight years editor of the Pine River Sentinel is now referred to as "Former Editor" Silk having retired Monday from the management of the paper as predicted in The Duluth Herald of July 16 when announcement was made of his selling to G. A. Rell of Wacona, Wis. Mr. Silk will remain here for several weeks looking after Cass county's exhibit at the state fair. His plans after the state fair are defined.

HIS HEALTH SAVES HIM FROM PRISON

Fort William Man Arrested for Passing Worthless Checks.

Rochester, Minn., July 24.—Poor health saved Albert Hill of Fort William, Ont., from answering a serious charge in court and possibly from a term in the state penitentiary. Hill was arrested for passing checks on a local bank with no funds, three of $6 each having been passed, two on the First State and one on the First National bank. The payees were Ralph Rasmusson, Mat Fritsch and Arthur Hall, and a different signature was attached to each check.

Hill came here to consult local surgeons, and "going broke" adopted this method of getting funds. Investigation into his case having revealed the fact that Hill's condition was hopeless, the city deemed it advisable to allow him to return to his home. Hill settled for the checks he passed and was given his freedom.

ADDITION TO FARGO'S MASONIC TEMPLE

Fargo, N. D., July 24.—(Special to The Herald).—A bond issue of $25,000 has been authorized by the trustees of the Masonic temple for the erection of an additional 46x75 feet, three stories with basement. This lot was in the corner purchased by the Masons for the temple many years ago, but title could not be secured until certain heirs reached legal age. The Masons now own the lot and the addition will complete the temple according to the original plans. The Fargo temple is the third largest in the entire United States used exclusively for Masonic purposes. It has no stores or offices.

RASPBERRY CROP GOOD FOR INDIANS

Finding Ready Market for All Berries They Can Pick.

Couderay, Wis., July 24.—(Special to The Herald).—Several hundred Chippewa Indians on the reservation here and settlers are now busy picking one of the largest raspberry crops ever grown in this locality. The Indians are finding a ready market for all the berries they can pick, and it means a great deal to them financially as they always depend on the blueberries for their biggest harvest, but the blueberry crop is now proving to be a total failure through this section on account of the late May frosts and the very hot weather during last part of June.

LEGS CUT OFF ABOVE KNEES

Harry Randall Hurled Under Ore Train While Stealing Ride.

Cloquet, Minn., July 24.—(Special to The Herald).—While stealing a ride on a Great Northern ore train yesterday, Harry Randall, 20 years old, was the victim of an accident in which he suffered the loss of both legs, cut off above the knees. When near the station of Huson the train broke and the shock hurled Randall under the wheels.

The names of his parents and his home could not be learned, but it is understood that he has an uncle, William Brooks, living at Cass Lake. When he arrived at the Cloquet hospital his condition was quite serious on account of the great loss of blood, but his recovery now seems assured.

MILWAUKEE WILL SEND AMBULANCE

Problem of Moving 350-Pound Fugitive Has Been Solved.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 24.—Milwaukee poor officials today solved the problem of moving "Gibraltar" Frank Horatz, the 350-pound fugitive, who is wanted here on a charge of abandonment but who could not be returned from Janesville, Wis., because his legs were too weak to bear up the weight of his body, and because Janesville officials refused to permit a derrick being used in loading the man on the cars.

Commissioner William Spindler has decided to send a reinforced ambulance on the 142-mile trip and has made arrangements to have a slide made so that "Gilbraltar" can be slid down a chute from the second floor of the Janesville asylum into the ambulance. It is also planned to pack the fugitive in excelsior so that the movement of his body will not wreck the ambulance.

Horatz has been held at Janesville for several months with the hope that the strength of his legs would return and that he might be brought here on the train. But the recovery did not occur, and the board bill of the wanted man is said to have reached such an amount that the local officials decided to have him brought back here at any cost before his normal appetite returns.

NETHAWAY WILL BE PROSECUTOR

Will Appear for State in International Falls Case.

St. Paul, Minn., July 24.—J. C. Nethaway, assistant attorney general of Minnesota, departed last night for International Falls, Minn., where he will take charge of the prosecution in the case of John Kelly, charged with murder in connection with the death of Fred Couture July 14. Couture was attacked and fatally beaten July 14, after he had given testimony before the grand jury which was investigating the sale of liquor.

Mr. Nethaway's action followed reports that witnesses feared violence would be resorted to if they gave testimony unfavorable to the liquor interests.

CASS COUNTY WILL HAVE GOOD ROADS.

Fargo, N. D., July 24.—Cass county will have $7,000 for its good road work this year in addition to the amount raised by the different townships. About $1,800 comes from the county's share of the auto tax, and the commissioners fixed the levy for good roads under the new law at $5,200. With an annual fund of $7,000 for the next twenty years it is expected that Cass county can have the best dirt roads in the state.

SAME COMPENSATION FOR THE CHILDREN.

St. Paul, Minn., July 24.—If a married woman is killed in an industrial accident, her employer will have to pay the same compensation to her children as he would pay if the father were killed and left dependent children, Assistant Attorney General J. C. Nethaway ruled yesterday in reply to a question from W. F. Houk, assistant labor commissioner.

Mr. Houk presented an imaginary case of a husband and wife who were both employed, and who had three dependent children. He wanted to know the compensation to be paid if the mother were killed in an accident.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Dickinson, N. D.—It has been decided that the first Stark county industrial exposition will be held at Dickinson, Sept. 24, 25 and 26. The committee is arranging to use the armory for the main exposition building, and the surrounding vacant lots will be used for exhibits.

Max, N. D.—The Equity Farmers' elevator here has elected new directors. Those elected were: J. M. L. Ed Evenson, Roy Thompson, Thomas Jacobson, Joe Lakaduck, A. C. Freitag and James Reed. The company has had a big business the past year.

Fargo, N. D.—John Fichel, a former Fargo boy, who has been in Sapulpa, Okla., has been in this section for several days visiting his old friends. He used to be a train dispatcher in this city, but left here several years ago to take up his fortunes in the state of Oklahoma, where he has been doing exceedingly well and has made many friends.

Bismarck, N. D.—It is now thought that Fort Lincoln, just south of the city, will soon be utilized as a cavalry post. This fort was established after old Fort Abraham Lincoln, on the west side of the river, was abandoned years ago.

New England, N. D.—Eva Jung, the 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Jung, who reside south of town, was drowned in the well on the Jung place while playing near the opening with a number of children.

Flasher, N. D.—The big Farmers' elevator here, holding 6,000 bushels of grain that was just being prepared to be shipped, burned to the ground Tuesday morning. Manager Krueger and his assistant, Dave Ellesworth, of the elevator, barely escaped with their lives.

Carrington, N. D.—A. W. Blasky, arrested here for having forged his son's name to a check, has been bound over to the district. In his defense he claims he had a right to use the name of his son.

Mandan, N. D.—Examination of the tax records of Morton county, bearing on the question of property that has escaped taxation, indicates that approximately $500,000 worth of property has never been assessed. It will be possible to collect a total of only about $98,300 in back taxes, as taxes six years in arrears are outlawed when the property has never been assessed.

Minot, N. D.—J. H. Nelson, assistant county treasurer, has accepted the position of deputy state auditor under Carl Jorgenson at Bismarck. Mr. Nelson expects to leave for Bismarck soon to take up his new duties. He has had the position under consideration for some time past but has just decided to accept it.

Grand Forks, N. D.—That a national boycott on veal would be a protection to the public health, is the belief of Mrs. Marion Cole Fisher, formerly of Grand Forks but now a prominent St. Paul club woman and Chautauqua lecturer, who is here to give daily lectures on domestic science at the state fair.

Bismarck, N. D.—In an essay contest open to all the Indian boarding schools in the United States, the Bismarck school captured a fair share of the prizes, the following being winners: Jack Nagel, Fort Berthold; Oscar Horn, Fort Berthold; Lena Malnouri, Fort Berthold; Florence Sherman, Fort Totten.

Hettinger, N. D.—The Milwaukee road has a large force in its steel gang west of Mitchell, S. D., laying 65-pound steel rails to Chamberlain, and at the same time the force is surfacing the road from Mitchell to the river, to improve the roadbed.

Grand Forks, N. D.—The North Dakota National Guard is encamped near the entrance gate and present a very pretty sight. The boys have been on the job since early Tuesday morning and seem to know just what to do. The presence of the militia adds a very interesting feature to the fair.

Edgeley, N. D.—The junior class of the high school at Edgeley has issued a high school annual which contains about 100 pages of fine illustrations and interesting reading matter.

Devils Lake, N. D.—The Gram Construction company was awarded the contract for a Catholic church at Michigan City. Mr. Gram left for Michigan Tuesday with a crew of men and work on the structure will begin immediately. The church, which will be finished late this fall, is to be of Menominee red brick and will cost $15,000.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

St. Paul—A per capita tax of .30 cents has been levied this month against every member of the Brotherhood of American Yeomen in Minnesota, the purpose being to create a fund for the erection of a permanent Yeomen building on the state fair grounds in time for the opening of the fair in September.

St. Cloud—William Dobbs, age 41 years, brother-in-law of M. J. Cleveland of this city, and a former resident, died in the hospital at Minneapolis. Mr. Dobbs had been suffering with an abcess on the brain for nearly a year and underwent two operations for its removal. He is survived by a wife and two children, Ruth, age 16, and Willis, age 12. The body was shipped through here to Sauk Center Tuesday evening where interment was made.

Mankato—Sheriff Anton Osten Tuesday escorted to Stillwater five prisoners, John B. King, Anthony J. Connolly and William A. Lovejoy, charged with grand larency in the second degree for stealing a suitcase from the union depot.

Fairmont—At the school election the proposition of issuing $100,000 bonds for a new high school building was knocked out by a vote of 181 against bonds to 150 for bonds.

St. Cloud—The annual retreat for the fathers of the Order of St. Benedict is being held this week at St. John's university at Collegeville. Over 100 clergymen will be present during the week to take part in the ceremonies.

Fergus Falls—Ole Sletten, who has just returned from his farm near Wahpeton, says that rye there has been cut and the farmers are now cutting barley. A good crop of wheat in that vicinity is a certainty.

Stillwater—Word has been received here by Luke B. Castle of the death at his home at San Luis Obispo, Cal., of Dr. James Sinclair, formerly and for many years a resident of this city.

Little Falls—A. E. Drydell, a paper mill guard who was injured in a fight with a striker, will soon be able to leave the hospital. James Terpoff, a strike breaker, had his foot crushed by a steel roller at the paper mill Tuesday and was taken to the hospital. Terpoff is a Bulgar and his father and three brothers serve in the Bulgarian army.

Crookston—When Fred Fournier attempted to board the Great Northern southbound flyer he was nabbed by Officer Nelson and Sheriff Kelly for attempting to leave the city with property which did not belong to him. He was lodged in jail and County Attorney Hagen will draw up a complaint against him and he will be arraigned before Judge Gossman.

Bemidji—William Cassler, who ten years ago purchased what is now known as the Valley farm, for $10 an acre, Monday closed a deal whereby the farm becomes the property of Alvin Goodspeed, he having paid $56.25 per acre, the entire tract of 160 acres costing $9,000.

St. Paul—By arrangement with and through the courtesy of the officers of the Minnesota State Fair association Union soldiers of the Civil war and Mexican war will be the guests of the association again this year, being admitted to the grounds free each day.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Hancock—The summer schools which are being conducted in the city will unite in an outing to be given on Sunday afternoon next at the lake shore at the Uiseth addition in West Hancock.

Houghton—The Hall Electric company, which has the contract for the electrical work in the new Dodgeville school, which John J. Michaels is erecting for the Portage township school board, has started work on the building and is rushing the wiring work as fast as is expedient with good results.

Calumet—The funeral of the late Rev. Jesse Povey of the Red Jacket Congregational church was held from the church Monday afternoon. Rev. Luther K. Long of the Calumet Congregational church, the pastors of the Hancock Congregational church and of the Lake Linden Congregational church, officiated. The remains were taken to Brooklyn, N. Y., where interment will be made in the family lot.

Houghton—Prof. Leo M. Geismer, county farm expert, is laying plans for the introduction of the fruit tree plan that was outlined at the last meeting of the farm bureau.

Laurium—John T. Rowe, deputy food inspector, in discussing the local situation, stated that a considerable improvement is to be noted in the quality of the Copper country milk supply.

Marquette—A move to investigate the matter of the cost of living in this city as compared with the cost in other cities and towns of the upper peninsula was started Monday evening at the quarterly meeting of the Marquette Commercial club, held at the Town and Country club. The subject was the most important of the varied and interesting things on the program.

Negaunee—For causing a disturbanoe in the saloon owned by the estate of John Parala Saturday night, John Sedar was heavily fined in Judge Ver Ran's court, pleading guilty to the charge of disorderly conduct.

Gwinn—A steam shovel was started Saturday at the stockpile at the Stegmiller mine, shipping having been suspended for several weeks.

Ishpeming—The Sons of St. George convention in 1914 will be held in Ishpeming, the grand lodge at its meeting in Hancock having decided unanimously in favor of this city.

Marquette—Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Chambers left Monday for Duluth, aboard the Anchor line steamer Octorara. They will travel from Duluth to Minneapolis in their touring car and will be absent from the city about ten days.

Houghton—The Houghton members of the Major family were advised Monday of the death Sunday morning in Spokane, Wash., of their brother, Edwin Major. Mr. Major was a native of Baraga, a son of the late Charles Major and of Mrs. Ann Major, the latter surviving.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Milwaukee—J. F. Langan, president of the State Retail Liquor Dealers' association, will not be a candidate for re-election, according to his statement Tuesday. M. N. Niesen, secretary, also will resign.

West Allis—James Doyle, aged 19 years, drowned in Muskego lake Monday afternoon in four feet of water while swimming.

Milwaukee—George Kopetz, aged 48 years, according to Patrolman Gardner Goodman, stumbled into the street at Clinton street and Kinnickinnic avenue and fell against a stationary street car, while under the influence of liquor. The patrolman said Kopetz would have been killed if the car had been moving. He was fined $1.

Kenosha—Peter Meyer, aged 90 years, actively connected with the history of Racine county for sixty-five years, died at the home of his son-in-law, Michael Arents, Monday. Death came following a fall which resulted in his right hip being broken.

Madison—The Wisconsin board of pharmacy concluded its examination on Monday. Out of seventy-five applicants present forty-two were granted certificates.

Manitowoc—It is reported that Mrs. Anton Novak, the St. Nazianz woman who was shot by her husband last week, will die. Her condition is critical, as a result of blood poisoning which has developed from the wound inflicted by her husband. Novak, who is in jail here, it is expected will recover.

Racine—The properties of the Wisconsin Engine company at Corliss, a $10,000,000 corporation, now insolvent, will be sold at receiver's sale on August 18. The company failed a year ago, throwing several hundred men out of work.

Madison—The remarkable growth of the automobile industry in Wisconsin is shown in a comparative statement issued by Secretary of State Donald. The first year of registration, 1905-06, recorded 1,492 cars, as compared with 24,578 in 1912 and 31,550 in 1913.

Malden Rock—In the first clam picked out of a pailful gathered here, Louis Hall of this place found a pearl valued at $1,500. The gem weighed 58 grains. It is of a creamy white and perfectly round.

WHEAT GOES DOWN AGAIN

September Alone Shows Activity in a Very Dull Market.

Heavy Demand for Flax Continues and Prices Advance Again.

Duluth Board of Trade, July 24.—The general result of the session in the wheat pit today was a decline with the following losses, September alone showing activity: July, ½c; September, ⅞@1¼c; December, unchanged; July durum, unchanged; and September durum, ½c off.

Oats closed ⅛c up and corn also advanced ⅛c. Rye and barley are unchanged.

September puts, 87⅝ asked; calls, 88⅜c asked.

The wheat market is again weak today, this condition becoming apparent at the opening. Activity—what there is—is confined to the September option, the only other option getting into the quotations being December, and then for only two. There is a very distinct indication of a desire and determination to wait before getting active. The weakness has not crowded the market down so very much, but it is under yesterday and holds there with but little doing.

Crop experts are sending in such excellent reports from the wheat-growing country, corroborated by representatives of grain firms here, the weather and prospects in the Canadian Northwest are fine, and the heavy receipts at primaries and terminals, all combine to hold wheat down.

September opened unchanged to ⅛c off this morning, soon dropping to a loss of ¼@⅜c. About the middle of the session it went still lower but recovered and in the last hour was ⅛@⅜c off yesterday's close. December was ⅛c off. September durum with one quotation was ¼c off yesterday's close. There was nothing doing in the other options.

Flax Still Climbing.

All options of flax enjoyed more activity today and also registered another gain for the day during the session ending this afternoon. The demand for flax still continues, crushers still being the big customers. Following were the gains for the day: July, ⅛c; September and October, each 1c; November, ⅜c; December, ⅞c.

The Winnipeg Free Press publishes today the following dispatch from Regina, Sask., having reference to that province only:

"The total wheat field for the present season will be 125,567,000 bu, according to estimates, an increase of 17 per cent as compared with 1912. The total oat crop will be 121,435,000 bu, an increase of 13,815,000 bu, or 13 per cent; while the barley crop will be 16,137,000 bu, or 25 per cent greater than 1912.

"Flax will show either a slight falling off as compared with 1912 or the yield will be almost identical with that of last year. The acreage under crop to barley is very much less than in 1912, but the yield per acre will probably be greater. It is estimated that the flax harvest will total 13,539,000 bu.

Last year's yield of each of the four principal crops was: Wheat, 107,167,700 bu; oats, 107,619,948 bu; barley, 8,319,-584 bu; flax, 14,171,214 bu, or 4 per cent less than 1911. The area under crop to various grains at the present time is 9,654,500 acres as compared with 9,197,-814 acres last year. The wheat area totals 5,707,137 acres; oats, 2,639,905 acres; barley, 307,209 acres; flax, 967,-137 acres. In 1912 the corresponding figures were: Wheat, 6,284,092; oats, 2,421,932; barley, 267,139; flax, 1,111,510.

B. W. Snow reports from Fargo, N. D.:

"In south a part of the Red river valley wheat harvest will begin next week. Occasional plants with black rust spores can be found in nearly every field but nothing more than is present every year and is of no importance as a crop menace. Weather and plant growth to date make it practically certain there need be no serious outbreak. Lots of wheat seen today will make 30 to 35 bushels."

John Inglis wires from Valley City, N. D.:

"On the eastern slope of the Missouri river from Bismarck to Drake, wheat will average about the same as the western slope. Drake to Valley City, early wheat poor. Largest acreage late. Much of it only passing from bloom but very promising. It should run 10 to 18 bushels. Weather perfect."

The international institute of agriculture at Rome reports the total winter wheat crop of Belgium, Bulgaria, Denmark, Spain, Italy, Switzerland, the United States, India, Japan, Great Britain, European Russia and Hungary at 1,962,000,000 bushels, or ; 2 per cent more than last year; rye, 1,052,-000,000 bushels or 7.6 per cent less than last year; and oats, 1,410,000,000 bushels or 19.5 per cent less than last year. Russia is not included in the barley and oats figures.

William Grettum is back after a tour through the grain growing country of the Red river valley, the northern half in particular. Mr. Grettum says that there will be a big crop of wheat, oats and barley; that the rye crop is thin and will not be more than about 60 per cent of last year's and that as early as last week the farmers were in the middle of rye-cutting. Mr. Grettum says that the wheat is in good condition and the yield will be much better than is generally expected. Flax acreage will be very short, he says. For grain in general, Mr. Grettum says, there is sufficient moisture to carry it through to harvest, and the sooner the supply of moisture ceases now the sooner the ripening will take place.

ADVANCES IN STOCKS

Downward Trend at Opening Is Succeeded By Brisk Upturn.

Government Bonds, However, Drop to New Low Records.

New York, July 24.—Today's early stock market presented a curious contradiction of conditions, most of the potential issues showing a heavy tendency while various specialties made material gains. A prominent feature was New Haven, which declined to a new low record, but soon recovered to a fraction above yesterday's close. Baltimore & Ohio, which declined 1⅛, also made partial recovery. Can, Smelting, Cotton Oil and Colorado Fuel displayed some heaviness. People's Gas was strongest of the specialties, its rise approximating 4 points. Biscuit, Beet Sugar, American Tobacco and "Soo" gained from 1⅜ to over 2 points. Trading was dull and professional. In government bonds, 3's and 4's fell to low record prices.

The general trend of prices was downward at the opening of today's market. Canadian Pacific fell a full point in the early dealings and New Haven at 99⅜, equalled its recent low record. The only marked exceptions to the lower tendency were Biscuit and American Tobacco which rose 1½ and 2 points respectively.

New Haven scored a new low record soon after the opening, declining to 99⅜, from which it made full recovery. Pronounced weakness was shown by Baltimore & Ohio and Colorado Fuel, while the leaders which were lightly traded in were fractionally lower.

Fairly large buying orders gave the list an appearance of activity and strength at midday. Scarcity of stocks on the previous decline also disclosed a strong technical position which facilitated the brisk upturn. Steel, Union Pacific, Reading, Canadian Pacific and the coppers rose from 1 to 1½ above yesterday's close before realizing profits to check the movement.

The activity of the noon hour was soon followed by a relapse to the dullness of the forenoon, but prices evinced no tendency to recede. On the contrary, most of the active issues improved their position.

The market closed strong. The feature of the final hour was a sharp rise in Rock Island collaterals which helped to create a better sentiment in stocks. Government bonds, however, broke to new low records all around.

Ordinance No. 364.

By Mayor Prince:

AN ORDINANCE GRANTING TO THE NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY, A WISCONSIN CORPORATION, ITS SUCCESSORS AND ASSIGNS, THE RIGHT, POWER AND AUTHORITY TO LAY, CONSTRUCT AND MAINTAIN A RAILWAY TRACK AND FACILITIES ON AND ACROSS CERTAIN STREETS, AVENUES, ALLEYS AND PUBLIC GROUNDS IN THE CITY OF DULUTH, AND IMPOSING CERTAIN OBLIGATIONS ON SAID COMPANY.

The City of Duluth does ordain:

Section 1. There is hereby granted for the period of twenty-five (25) years from and after the passage of this ordinance, to the Northern Pacific Railway company, a corporation duly organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the state of Wisconsin, its successors and assigns, the right to enter upon and take possession of, excavate in and do any other thing which may be necessary in order to build, maintain and operate one (1) or more tracks of railroad in and upon, and to use, occupy and enjoy as hereinafter provided, for a right-of-way for steam railroad purposes, a strip of land upon, over and across the following described streets, avenues, alleys and public grounds in the city of Duluth, Minnesota, to-wit:

Those portions of Ramsey street, Forty-ninth avenue west, and the alley in block seventeen (17) of Oneota, as shown upon the recorded plat thereof on file and of record in the office of the register of deeds in and for St. Louis county, Minnesota, which lie within a strip of land one hundred (100) feet wide, the center line of which strip intersects the southerly line of Ramsey street at a point 59.3 feet westerly from the center line of the main track of the Wisconsin Central railway, as now constructed and operated, said 578 feet easterly from the easterly line of Fiftieth avenue west; and runs thence northerly by a curve to the left with a radius of 421.256 feet to the southwesterly line of said block 17; said center line intersects the northerly line of Ramsey street at a point 23.7 feet westerly from the southwesterly line of Forty-ninth avenue west; said center line also intersects the southwesterly line of Forty-ninth avenue west at a point 29.9 feet northwesterly from the northerly line of Ramsey street.

Sec. 2. The said rights as above and by this ordinance granted shall in no wise abridge the right of the public to use said streets, avenues, alleys and public grounds except as may be reasonably necessary in the use of the same by said railway company, which company is hereby authorized and empowered to lay, maintain and operate one or more tracks along said right of way, with all necessary side tracks, switches, turnouts and appurtenances.

Sec. 3. Said company shall, when thereto required by a resolution of the city council of said city, construct and maintain a well-planked crossing across any part of its track upon said street. If at any time while said track is maintained and operated by said company, its successors or assigns, the aforesaid street shall be paved or graded, the said company, its successors or assigns, shall cause its right-of-way over said street to be paved or graded in like manner at its own expense.

Sec. 4. Said company shall, when thereto required by resolution of the city council of said city elevate or depress its track on said street, at its own expense.

Sec. 5. The city of Duluth, its officers, servants and employes, shall at all times be permitted to enter upon said street for the purpose of laying gas and water pipes and conduits, and to construct thereon such sewers or systems of drainage or outlets as the city shall deem necessary; not, however, interfering with the operation of said railroad. The company shall, if necessary, at its own expense, shore up or support its track in such manner as to permit said work to be done.

Sec. 6. The rights herein granted are granted upon the express provision that the said Northern Pacific Railway company, its successors and assigns shall at all times save harmless and indemnify the city of Duluth from liability and damage to any person, persons or corporation by reason of the exercise or use by the Northern Pacific Railway company, its successors or assigns, of the rights hereunder granted.

Sec. 7. The rights herein granted are granted upon the express provision that the Northern Pacific Railway company shall take up and remove the railroad tracks now maintained and operated extending across that part of St. Anthony street and Ramsey street, the center line of said tracks being described as follows:

Commencing at the point of junction of said track with the center line of the track of the Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific Railroad company in St. Anthony street, between Forty-eighth and Forty-ninth avenues west and extending southerly, by a curve of 14 degrees to the right, through lot 2, block 11, Oneota, to the south line of Ramsey street, within thirty (30) days after the railway tracks, permitted to be laid and used pursuant to the rights hereunder granted, are in full operation.

Sec. 8. This ordinance shall take effect thirty (30) days from and after its passage and last publication, and the filing of the written acceptance of the terms of this ordinance by said company with the city clerk of the city of Duluth.

Passed July 17, 1913.
Approved July 18, 1913.

ORDINANCE NO. 344.

By Mayor Prince:

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND AN ORDINANCE ENTITLED "AN ORDINANCE GRANTING TO THE SUBURBAN TRACTION COMPANY, ITS SUCCESSORS AND ASSIGNS, FOR THE TERM OF TWENTY-FIVE YEARS FROM JULY 1, 1911, THE RIGHT TO CONSTRUCT, MAINTAIN AND OPERATE A STREET RAILWAY IN THE CITY OF DULUTH FOR THE CARRIAGE OF PASSENGERS AND FREIGHT, SUBJECT TO CERTAIN CONDITIONS AND LIMITATIONS, AND IMPOSING CERTAIN OBLIGATIONS ON SAID COMPANY," PASSED JULY 10, 1911, APPROVED JULY 12, 1911, AS AMENDED.

The City of Duluth does ordain:

Section 1. That Section 5 of the ordinance entitled "An ordinance granting to the Suburban Traction company, its successors and assigns, for the term of twenty-five years, from July 1, 1911, the right to construct, maintain and operate a street railway in the city of Duluth for the carriage of passengers and freight, subject to certain conditions and limitations, and imposing certain obligations on said company," passed July 10, 1911, approved July 12, 1911, as amended, which now reads as follows:

"Sec. 5. Said company shall have that portion of its track from the Maple Grove road to the intersection of Palmetto street and Highland avenue completed and in operation on or before July 1, 1913; and the remainder thereof completed and in operation on or before July 1, 1914. But if the remainder thereof or any part of such remainder is not completed and in operation by July 1, 1914, the failure so to do shall not operate to cause a forfeiture of this franchise, but it shall cause such franchise to lapse and be of no effect as to such portion only so not completed and in operation," be amended to read as follows:

"Sec. 5. Said company shall have that portion of its track from the Maple Grove road to the intersection of Palmetto street and Highland avenue completed and in operation on or before Oct. 1, 1915, and the remainder thereof completed and in operation on or before July 1, 1916. But if the remainder thereof or any part of such remainder is not completed and in operation by Oct. 1, 1915, the failure so to do shall not operate to cause a forfeiture of this franchise, but it shall cause such franchise to lapse and be of no effect as to such portion only so not completed and in operation."

Sec. 2. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force thirty days after its passage and last publication.

ORDINANCE NO. 345.

An ORDINANCE GRANTING TO THE NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY, ITS SUCCESSORS AND ASSIGNS, THE RIGHT, PRIVILEGE AND AUTHORITY TO CONSTRUCT, LAY DOWN, MAINTAIN AND OPERATE A RAILWAY TRACK IN, OVER AND ALONG TRAVERSE STREET IN THE CITY OF DULUTH FROM FORTY-FIRST AVENUE WEST TO FORTY-FIFTH AVENUE WEST.

The City of Duluth Does Ordain:

Section 1. That there be and hereby is granted to Northern Pacific Railway company, a corporation of the state of Wisconsin, its successors and assigns, the right, privilege and authority to construct, lay down, maintain and operate, by steam or other motive power, and with engines and cars, a single spur railway track, the center line of which is described as follows: Beginning at a point on the main line of said Northern Pacific Railway company and the westerly line of Forty-first avenue west, thence running in a general southwesterly direction, crossing Traverse street and Forty-second avenue west, to the northeast corner of block 64, Oneota, according to the recorded plat thereof; thence westerly, on the southerly side of said Traverse street, crossing Forty-third and Forty-fourth avenues west, to the east line of Forty-fifth avenue west, all in the city of Duluth.

The work of the construction of said track shall be done in a workmanlike manner and said street shall be obstructed no more than is reasonably necessary, and, by the acceptance of this ordinance, as hereinafter provided, said railway company hereby agrees that upon the removal of said track, it will restore said streets and avenues, to the extent affected by this ordinance, to a condition satisfactory to the division of public works of the city of Duluth. And said railway company shall save and hold harmless said city from any and all damages by reason of the construction, maintenance and operation of said track in, upon and over said street and across said avenues.

Sec. 2. The said railway company shall, and by the acceptance of this ordinance does agree that it will, when directed to do so by the city of Duluth, lay proper plank crossings over said track where such track crosses any of the avenues herein named, and that it will pay the proportionate cost to the city of Duluth of any and all street improvements on said Traverse street as to any property now or hereafter owned by said company on said Traverse street, between Forty-first and Forty-fifth avenues west, whether such property be used for railway purposes or any other purpose, and any and all assessments now or here after levied or assessed on said property for street improvements. Said company's proportionate share of such cost and the amount of such assessments shall be determined by the division of public works of the city of Duluth. All provisions of the city charter of the city of Duluth with respect to street improvements and assessments therefor, except as herein otherwise provided, shall apply to said property in all respects the same as if said property was not used for railway purposes or otherwise exempt from the payment of assessments for street improvements.

Sec. 3. The right granted by this franchise is temporary and shall be subject to revocation by the city of Duluth at any time, and such right shall be so exercised by said railway company as not to materially interfere with the improvement or use of the streets and avenues affected thereby, for public travel thereon.

Sec. 4. All existing ordinances granting to said Northern Pacific Railway company the right to maintain and operate a spur track upon said Traverse street, between said Forty-first and Forty-fifth avenues west, are hereby repealed.

Sec. 5. Before this ordinance shall become effective, said Northern Pacific Railway company shall file with the city clerk of said city its acceptance in writing, agreeing to the terms of this ordinance.

Sec. 6. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its publication and acceptance by said railway company as hereinbefore provided.

Passed June 30, 1913.

REORGANIZE NEW HAVEN

New Head, New System, New Methods, New Policy.

Sweeping Changes Are Proposed and Elliott May Make Them.

New York, July 24.—Not only a new head of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad system to succeed President Mellen, but radical changes in the financial and operating policy, with a revolution in the machinery of the executive management, will be recommended by the sub-committee of directors, which will report to the full board tomorrow.

This was indicated today by a leading member of the committee, who said that whoever was selected to succeed Mr. Mellen probably would have the title of "chairman of the board of directors," which would be supreme over the entire system, including the Boston & Maine and the steamship and trolley lines.

This director intimated that the title of president of the New Haven railroad proper would be conferred upon another man, who is also to be recommended at tomorrow's meeting. This official would be a subordinate of the chairman.

Elliott Most Prominent.

To the new head of the system, who, according to general expectation in Wall Street, will be Howard Elliott, president of the Northern Pacific, will be given the task of working out the proposed changes in policy. What these would be were not specified, but it was intimated that they might include the divorce from the New Haven of its control of trolley lines. This would meet one of the criticisms of the interstate commerce commission.

WOULD REGULATE THE "TUG TRUST"

Special Court Reports Against Plan for Dissolution.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 24.—Regulation, rather than dissolution, of the "tug trust," as the Great Lakes Towing company sometimes is called, is recommended in a memorandum opinion filed in Federal court here by the special court of three United States circuit court judges who last spring at Cincinnati decided that the company was a "trust."

The government then asked that the company be dissolved, but the tug company asked that they be permitted to continue business after certain features objectionable to the government had been eliminated. The opinion filed here by Circuit Court Judges Warrington, Knappen and Denison holds that the plan of dissolution filed by the government is not satisfactory without important modifications.

The towing company is asked by the court to solve certain problems in the consideration of plans for the elimination of rate cutting, methods for fixing tariffs and the establishment of a suitable arbitration tribunal to settle complaints.

COMPLAIN OF HEAVY FOGS

Vessel Men Say Conditions Are Much Worse Than Usual.

While the movement of vessels from the lower lakes is proceeding without apparent delay—this means for the past three or four days—masters complain that never in years have they encountered such fogs. Nearly every other trip they howl over the fact that "we hit fog all the way from the Soo."

Vessel agents, or some of them, put this down as a chronic kick, but the fact remains that there has been more fog this season than for years. Many are the reasons advanced. The most logical seems that because of the heavy ice that covered Lake Superior last winter and which remained up to June 1 the water is so thoroughly chilled that it never will warm up this year. The moment a southwest breeze comes there is a battling of the warm currents with the cold air rising from the lake. This naturally would cause a mist.

MEMORIES OF OLD STEAMER ST. CLAIR

Vessel Men Recall Boat That Burned Nearly Forty Years Ago.

Memories of the old steamer St. Clair, of Ward's Detroit-Lake Superior line came to several vesselmen today who read, a few days ago, that A. A. Cole of Marquette recently found an ancient chair on the shore of Lake Superior near Marquette with the name "St. Clair" stenciled on the bottom of the seat.

"Very likely I have sat in that same chair myself many times," says Capt. Charles H. Westcott, United States supervising inspector of steam vessels at Detroit. "I have no doubt it is from the old St. Clair of the Ward line. In those days it was the custom to mark a ship's belongings with a hot branding iron. The old chair may have become entangled in wreckage somewhere, preventing its coming to the light sooner.

Capt. Westcott was master of the steamer St. Clair in 1873-74. The vessel burned and sank in Lake Superior on the morning of July 9, 1876, off Fourteen Mile point, between Ontonagon and Portage lake, twenty of the thirty-one persons on board meeting death in the disaster.

Capt. Robert Rhynas of Detroit was in command at the time and the ship carried a crew of fifteen and sixteen passengers. Fire was discovered in the hold about 2 o'clock in the morning and spread so rapidly the crew had no opportunity to check it. The flames enveloped all the ship's boats except one large yawl. This was launched, but the rush to bowward caused the small craft to capsize six times before it was finally righted, with four men on board, including Capt. Rhynas, through whose efforts the craft is said to have been placed in serviceable condition.

A number of the passengers and crew who left the St. Clair with life preservers were unable to survive immersion in the cold water of the lake and it was afterward reported that several of the number, who were helped aboard the yawl, died soon after being taken out of the lake.

The St. Clair, like other steamers of her time, used wood as fuel. A vesselman who saw service aboard her recalls that sparks frequently fell from a hole in the backhead door of her boiler. She was built at St. Clair in 1866 as a steam barge and was transformed to a steamboat in 1875. She was bound down from Duluth at the time she was lost.

FORTY-ONE PUPILS GIVEN DIPLOMAS

Governor Eberhart Attends Exercises at Crookston School of Agriculture.

Crookston, Minn., July 24.—(Special to The Herald.)—The county graduation exercises held at the Crookston school of agriculture yesterday afternoon, when forty-one pupils who had finished the eighth grade work in the rural schools of Polk county were handed their diplomas by Governor Eberhart, was one of the most impressive and significant educational events in the history of Polk county. The program was simple but very enjoyable, opening with "Minnesota," and closing with "America," by the audience. Supt. C. G. Selvig of the school of agriculture presided and delivered the address of welcome, and after music, Governor Eberhart gave a very impressive address in which he referred to the wonderful progress in education in the state, and specially referred to the advantages of the rural schools of today as compared with the rural school of but a few years ago.

At 6 o'clock Governor Eberhart was the guest of honor at a dinner given by the joint summer school and school of agriculture faculty, at the conclusion of which Governor Eberhart and A. D. Stephens "the father of the school of agriculture" and newly appointed member of the immigration commission of Minnesota, spoke briefly. The dinner was followed by a reception, during which nearly 1,000 people attending the school and people from Crookston met the governor.

WOULD BLOCK MOVE TO CONTROL MINE

Stockholder of Chandler Company Seeks Injunction Against Directors.

In district court yesterday afternoon E. D. McNeill filed suit against the Chandler Mining company and its directors, John Costin, Jr., F. L. Austin, Joseph Austin, C. C. Carpenter and F. A. Kent, in which he seeks to have 8,500 shares of stock valued at $17,000, issued to Costin on May 10 last for his services as general manager, cancelled and the company restrained from paying dividends upon it. McNeill claims that the action is contrary to the articles of incorporation and that it was an attempt to give Costin a control over the manipulation of the stock and additional power in the manipulation of the company's affairs.

The company is also involved in another lawsuit which Kent has brought against O'Neill and Costin in which he seeks to have 41,667 shares of the stock of the company transfered to him under an agreement made prior to the organization of the company.

IMPORTANT POINT RAISED

Supreme Court to Decide on Liability on Administrator's Bond.

Lower Court Holds Bond Covers Trust Funds Collected for Heirs.

That the bonding of administrators by the probate court in cases where funds are collected and held in trust for the heirs and not for the estate proper will become a farce and meaningless formality unless the Minnesota supreme court reverses or modifies former decisions on the powers and liabilities of administrators, is the belief of attorneys and others who are watching the outcome of an interesting fight in the supreme court on a St. Louis county case, wherein a bonding company contends that it is not liable under its probate court bond for misappropriation of money held in trust for the heirs by the administrator.

If the higher court sustains this position, it will mean that in about 90 per cent of the cases brought in probate court wherein administrators have to do with trust funds, the requirement that a bond be given amounts to nothing. If the administrator embezzles the money or in anyway misappropriates it his sureties under the bond which he furnished the court are not liable, providing that the money embezzled or misappropriated is from the trust funds, such as insurance benefits, or settlement of a claim for wrongful death, and not from the estate proper.

Administrator Absconded.

The case at bar is entitled, Peter Vukmirovich, administrator of the estate of Philip Vukmirovich, against the Massachusetts Bonding Insurance company. The case is one in which it was shown that V. D. Nickolich, former administrator of the estate, had absconded with $1,350.41 of the money, most of the amount being from a trust fund of money received by Nickolich in a settlement of a claim for wrongful death. Nickolich, as the administrator appointed by the probate court, had the power under the law to act as representative of the heirs in a settlement of a death claim. This money under the statute is not considered one of the assets of the estate and a former decision of the supreme court is to the effect that the administrator is not accountable to the probate court for these funds. He must apply to the district court for an order of distribution.

The Vukmirovich case was tried before Judge Dancer, who after considering the evidence, ordered judgment in favor of the new administrator and against the bonding company. The bonding company, to get the case before the supreme court, asked for a new trial, which was denied. An appeal was taken from this order and the case is now in the hands of the higher tribunal. Judge Dancer's position necessarily is that the bond given by the administrator in probate court covers the trust funds, in spite of the fact that the administrator as custodian of the trust funds is not accountable to the probate court for the money.

The bonding company contends that in view of the fact that the administrator is not accountable to the probate court for the trust funds and for the heirs that there is no liability attached to a bond where there are any shortages in the trust funds.

Many Similar Cases.

Probate Judge Gilpin declares that in the majority of cases where administrators are appointed in the estates of men killed by accident and whose heirs have a cause of action for wrongful death, actual estates are small and do not average any more than $100. Yet the court selects the administrator and puts him under a bond. He is empowered to collect money on a settlement of a claim for wrongful death for the heirs and yet is not accountable to the probate court or any other court, except in the matter of final distribution of the money.

CERTIFICATE OF AMENDMENT OF ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION —OF— GREENE CANANEA COPPER COMPANY.

State of Minnesota, County of St. Louis ss.

We, Joseph B. Cotton, as Vice President, and Frederic R. Kennedy, as Secretary, of GREENE CANANEA COPPER COMPANY, do hereby certify that at the regular annual meeting of the stockholders of said Company, duly held at the office of the Company, in Duluth, Minnesota, on the 16th day of June, A. D. 1913, at twelve o'clock noon, pursuant to due notice given, as provided by the By-Laws and required by law, at which said meeting 1,650,468 shares out of a total of 2,427,743 shares of the capital stock of said Company issued and outstanding, were represented in person or by proxy, a certain preamble and resolutions were duly adopted by a majority vote of all the outstanding shares of stock of said Company (1,625,350 shares voting in favor of, and 25,118 shares against, the adoption of said preamble and resolutions), amending the Certificate or Articles of Incorporation of the Company, pursuant to and in conformity with the statutes in such case made and provided, to the extent and in the particulars hereinafter named, which said preamble and resolutions are in words and figures following, to-wit:

"WHEREAS, It is the sense of this meeting that it is for the best interests of all and every the stockholders of this Company that the par value of the shares of its stock be changed to One Hundred Dollars per share, and the number of its authorized shares be correspondingly reduced; therefore,

"RESOLVED (1), That the fifth sub-division or fifth article of the Articles and Certificate of Incorporation of Greene Cananea Copper Company, being the one relating to the capital stock of the corporation, be, and the same hereby is, amended so as to read as follows:

"'FIFTH:

"'The amount of the capital stock of this corporation shall be Sixty Million Dollars, which shall be divided into six hundred thousand shares of the par value of One Hundred Dollars each. Said capital stock shall be paid in from time to time as called for by the Board of Directors, and such stock or any part thereof may be paid for by property of the actual value of not less than the par of the stock so paid for.'

"RESOLVED (2), That the President or the Vice President and the Secretary of this Company be, and they hereby are, authorized and directed to make, execute and acknowledge a certificate, under the corporate seal of this Company, embracing this and the foregoing resolution, and to cause such certificate to be filed, recorded and published, in the manner required by law."

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, We, the undersigned, have, pursuant to the foregoing authorization, hereunto subscribed our names, as aforesaid, and caused the corporate seal of said corporation to be hereunto affixed, in tripilicate, this 17th day of July, A. D. 1913.

EVERY HOUSEWIFE IS A BUSINESS WOMAN---EVERY HOUSEHOLD A BUSINESS ESTABLISHMENT!

She who does the buying for the home has quite as important a business matter on her hands as the income-maker for the home!

The income-maker furnishes the capital on which the home is run. The housewife spends the money—manages the "business" in which that capital is invested!

She is responsible for the BUSINESS SUCCESS of the home—and no home IS a success unless its finances are managed prudently and wisely.

The housewife must KNOW VALUES—not merely "usual prices of things," but differing VALUES in commodities. She must know bargains—and the very word bargain news. When to BUY—what to buy, where to buy—she must learn from an intelligent and persistent study of the ads!

LETTER FROM BEDE TO MULHALL IS READ IN THE LOBBY INVESTIGATION

Contains Minnesotan's Expression of Willingness to Help Campaign.

Democrats on Senate Committee Will Not Cross-Question Lobbyist.

House Investigators Will Have Their Turn With Him Next Week.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, July 25.—Former Representative J. Adam Bede's name was brought out in today's session of the senate lobby investigation committee when the members read a letter written to Mulhall by Bede, accepting the former's invitation to take part in the Maine campaign. The letter is dated at "The Raleigh, Macon, Mo., Aug. 31, 1910," and addressed to Mulhall at 170 Broadway, New York. It reads:

"Dear Sir—Yours of August 26 to hand here, where I am on circuit. I finish this work next Sunday, Sept. 4, and may jump over into Maine for the close of the campaign there. As yet I have made no promises for the full campaign, and would be glad to do anything possible to aid the cause in Massachussetts. Anything to my home, Pine City, Minn., will reach me, and if I go to Maine I will see Mr. Hatfield in Boston. Very truly,

"J. ADAM BEDE."

Will Not Cross-Examine Him.

Mulhall's story of his lobbying activities for the National Association of Manufacturers, as unfolded before the senate lobby committee, is to be allowed to stand practically without cross-questioning from Democratic members of the committee.

Senators Nelson and Cummins, who yesterday began a severe questioning of the witness upon many of his statements, probably will continue to demand more detailed statements upon his letters as they are introduced into the records; but the Democratic members, Senators Overman, Reed and Walsh, expect to let the Mulhall story stand principally upon the evidence in the 5,000 or more letters.

Before House Next Week.

Mulhall will go before the house lobby committee early next week, and it is expected that there he will be subjected to a rigid examination as to the charges contained in his mass of correspondence that members of the house were his close associates in po-

OCEAN FREIGHTER WINS RACE WITH FATE

Millinocket Makes Harbor Safely After Collision in Fog.

Vineyard Haven, Mass., July 25.—The freighter Millinocket, from Stockton, Me., for New York, arrived here at sunrise today in a sinking condition. It had collided at midnight during a fog with the Persian, a passenger steamer, bound from Philadelphia for Boston.

A wireless message received from the Persian stated that her bow had been damaged.

The Millinocket's flight into Vineyard Haven was an exciting race against the water which was rapidly climbing upward in her hold. As she turned East Chop at the entrance to the harbor she was well down by the stern, and as she anchored her rudder touched bottom. Her stern also settled, but the bulkheads in the engine room and forward hold kept her bow afloat.

Collided in Fog.

The Millinocket last evening ran into a thick bank of fog off Cape Cod. At midnight, just before reaching Pollock Rip lightship, the Persian suddenly loomed out of the fog on the starboard side, close aboard. Neither vessel had time to stop or to veer. The Persian was heading diagonally toward the Millinocket, so that the blow was a glancing one. The Millinocket was struck on the starboard side aft of amidships, and her plating was ripped open to the water line.

The sea rushed into the hole and her pumps were started at once. The Persian, in the meantime, was lost to sight in the fog.

The Millinocket started for port under full steam, with all her pumps going, but the water in her after hold gained steadily.

HUMAN PIN CUSHION DECLARED INSANE

Polish Farmhand Is Sent to Wisconsin State Asylum.

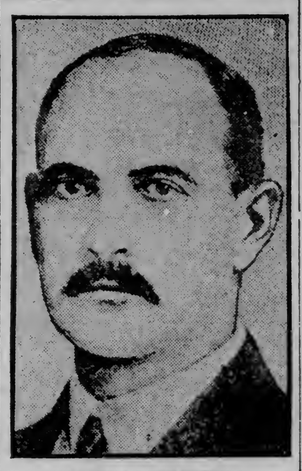

Fond du Lac, Wis., July 25.—Obsessed with the idea that he was a human pincushion, but harmless in every other respect, Constant Manapol, a Pole, was declared insane today and taken to the Northern hospital at Winnebago. Manapol was employed on a farm till his weird actions destroyed his usefulness.

He complained of itching sensations, and an examination revealed that he had persistently punctured various parts of his body with pins, using all sorts and sizes.

KING AND QUEEN OF SPAIN IN PARIS

Paris, July 25.—King Alfonso and Queen Victoria of Spain arrived here today, traveling incognito, on their way to the Cowes regatta. They were accorded an enthusiastic reception by a crowd which recognized them while they were out shopping. Their majesties were the guests of President Poincare at luncheon at the palace of the Elysee.

DAVID A. HOUSTON,
Secretary of Agriculture.

MEDIATORS WORK BEHIND SHUT DOORS

Railroad Managers Claim Gains Through Public Sympathy.

New York, July 25.—Secrecy invests the conferences of the Federal mediators and the railroad managers, conductors and trainmen so closely that little is known regarding what progress has been made toward an agreement upon the matters to be arbitrated between the railroads and the men.

When the conferences were resumed today the belief was that the railroads were demanding of the men a compromise by which the roads would be permitted to submit some, at least, of their own grievances to arbitration. The railroad managers say that public opinion is beginning to force the men to come part way to meet them in this attempt to adjust their differences.

BOY KILLED DURING FAMILY MOTOR TOUR

Brother Is Injured When the Car Overturns Near Maroa, Ill.

Decatur, Ill., July 25.—Stephen Keeling, 12 years old, of Fort Scott, Kan., was killed and his brother, Keith, aged 15, was injured when an automobile driven by the boy's father overturned near Maroa, Ill., today. Mr. Keeling, his wife and four children were touring from Fort Scott to Indianapolis. Both of Keith's legs were broken.

WIRELESS UNITES AMERICA AND ASIA

Communication Is Established Between Nome and Anadyr, Siberia.

Nome, Alaska, July 25.—Direct wireless communication between America and Asia is now an accomplished fact, the United States army signal corps stationed here having been in nightly communication since Sunday with the Russia station at Anadyr, Siberia, 500 miles west of Nome. A message from Baron Kleit, governor of the Siberian province of Kamtchatka, who visited Nome a short time ago, was transmitted, extending congratulations on the establishment of wireless communication between Asia and America.

The Russian government operates a chain of four stations between Anadyr and Vladivostok, and for the last six months the signal corps operators here have been trying, under orders from Washington, to establish communication with the Russian stations.

MILLER IS ON WAY HOME FROM CAPITAL

Duluth Congressman Will Sail for Philippines on Aug. 6.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, July 25.—Representative Miller left for Duluth last night, preparatory to a trip to the Philippines which will last until about Nov. 1. Mr. Miller expects to sail for the islands from San Francisco Aug. 5.

DANIELS IN DEN OF WOMEN VOTERS

San Francisco, July 25.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels arrived today from Los Angeles on his tour of the ports of the Pacific coast. He will be entertained at a banquet tonight by the chamber of commerce, which will be unique in that women will be in attendance. Mr. Daniels' speech will deal with woman suffrage.

BEAT REBELS AT SHANGHAI

Chinese Government Forces Repel Long and Furious Assault.

Seven Provinces United in Revolt Against Pekin Powers.

Shanghai, China, July 25.—The government forces here helped by the guns of Admiral Tsengs warships repelled a fierce assault by the rebels who had been reinforced during the night.

The southerners attacked furiously at 5 o'clock this morning, but were driven off after prolonged fighting.

The foreign consuls lodged a complaint with Admiral Tseng that shells from the warships had fallen in the foreign concessions.

Seven Provinces United.

Canton, China, July 25.—Seven of the Southern Chinese provinces with a population twice that of the United States, have come to an agreement for joint action against Provisional President Yuan Shi Kai and the Pekin government. In an eighth province, Kwang Si, the troops under Gen. Lung sympathize with the movement.

A force of 10,000 irregular troops, chiefly composed of Hakka hillmen, left here today by way of North river to fight the northern army. They will make forced marches over the mountain passes of the province of Kiang Si. Other armies are being organized among the peasants and hillmen.

There are 100 mountain guns in the arsenal here, and machine guns are being manufactured.

One of the principal officials here asserts that there are millions of dollars in the treasury, and that the revolutionaries will be able to carry on an energetic campaign for a long time. He declares that the Japanese are lending money to sustain the movement against Pekin, and are assisting in other ways.

The governor general, in a letter published today, asserts that he desires the establishment of a genuine republic in China, and not a dictatorship.

NO HEARING OVER PARCEL POST RATES

Commerce Commissioners Say They Can Act Only After Change.

Washington, July 25.—Public hearings will not be held by the interstate commerce commission upon the expediency of the changes proposed by the postoffice department in the rates and zones and weights of parcel post matter.

In a statement issued today the commission says it has no jurisdiction over the compensation paid by the postal service for hauling the mails. In part the statement follows:

"The commission does not consider that the provisions of the parcel post act, to the effect that certain changes may be made by the postmaster general with the consent of the commission, contemplate that the commission shall necessarily hold hearings on such proposals; but when, after such investigation as it deems fit, the commission is satisfied that the proposed changes are 'in order to promote the service to the public or to insure the receipts of revenue from such service adequate to pay the cost thereof,' it is proper for the commission to give its consent to the change.

"The question of compensation to the carriers for hauling the mails is a matter of contract between them and the postoffice department, in connection with which this commission has no jurisdiction."

MUTINEERS IN SING SING TAKEN AWAY

Sixty Are Chained to Seats in Train for Auburn Prison.

Removal Follows Night of Pandemonium in Prison.

Threats of Vengeance Against Officials Made in City.

Ossining, N. Y., July 25.—Sixty convicts, the dregs of the New York city criminal class, were taken one by one from their cells in Sing Sing prison today and placed aboard a train for the state prison at Auburn.

Recent riots in Sing Sing caused the warden to take no chances. Each convict was heavily handcuffed and shackled, and then chained to his place in the railroad car, which had been brought inside the prison enclosure.

A hundred prison guards did the work, while in the state armory a company of naval militia waited for a call to protect the town in case the transfer of convicts resulted in a prison mutiny.

Cursed, Howled and Yelled.

There was little sleep in the prison last night. At intervals some of the prisoners would start to howl and bang on their cell doors. The din would increase as it was taken up down the line of cells, and continue until the angry convicts had worn themselves out. It was scarcely daylight when the weary night shift of guards was relieved by the keepers who had charge of transferring the sixty second-term men to Auburn.

When the first convicts were brought out to the car, Sing Sing suddenly awoke. More than 1,000 prisoners pushed to their cell windows and cursed and howled and yelled threats at the keepers.

The task of the prison authorities was by no means over when they got the prisoners aboard the car. On the

MRS. PANKHURST IS CRITICALLY ILL

Immediate Transfusion of Blood Ordered By Surgeons.

London, July 25.—The consulting physicians in attendance on Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, who was yesterday released from Holloway jail, take such a serious view of her condition that they ordered today the immediate resort to a transfusion of blood.

Mrs. Pankhurst's weakness and inanition from the effects of her "hunger and thirst strikes" are so extreme that great apprehension is felt as to the outcome.

"She could be no worse," was the statement made today by one of the attendants.

Lady Sybil Smith, daughter of the Earl of Antrim, Mrs. Pethick Lawrence and Miss Evelyn Sharpe were sent to prison for fourteen days for attempting to hold a militant suffragette meeting in the lobby of the house of commons.

ALL MICHIGAN NATIONAL GUARD BEING RUSHED TO CALUMET TO KEEP ORDER DURING STRIKE

AMBASSADOR AT NEW YORK

Henry Lane Wilson on Way to Tell of Mexican Affairs.

Orozco Will Lead Army Against Rebels in Chihuahua.

New York, July 25.—Henry Lane Wilson, American ambassador to Mexico, arrived here today on his way to discuss Mexican conditions with President Wilson and the department of state. The steamer Mexico, on which he sailed from Havana July 22, was off Sandy Hook at the entrance to New York harbor at 10 a. m. Mr. Wilson is expected to reach Wasnington tonight.

Ambassador Wilson said that he was opposed to sending a commission to Mexico to try to mediate between the warring factions. He did not say what remedy he had to offer for the situation. He declared that he must reserve any opinion of this kind until he reached Washington and saw the president.

Orozco to Lead Attack.

El Paso, Tex., July 25.—Gen. Pasquale Orozco has wired an American friend here that he will lead 2,000 Federal soldiers to Juarez next week from Chihuahua city, to open a campaign against the Constitutionalists, especially those in the western part of the state.

The reopening of the Mexican National railroad by a Federal column of 1,000 men under Col. Gueva, which arrived in Juarez yesterday in four military trains from the south, is expected to be permanent, according to Federal officials. Passenger and freight service will be resumed to Chihuahua at once, they declare. All telegraph stations between the border and Chihuahua have been destroyed. Several of the depots have been burned, but the Federal officers say the track is passable.

Will Not Attack Juarez.

An American who passed through Gen. Villa's camp at Ascension, Chihuahua, four days ago, brings information that the projected attack on Juarez has been called off.

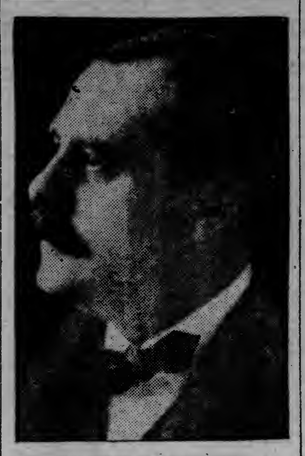

Of the reinforcements arriving yesterday, 600 were volunteers under command of Gen. Alberto Terrazas, former governor of Chihuahua. Two hundred and fifty were Orozco's forces. Their arrival precludes the possibility of a successful rebel assault on Juarez. Col. Terrazas discussed the possibility of a United States embargo on arms and ammunition.

"The Chihuahua revolution is now practically crushed," he said, "but we have to put down the bandits. Without arms we cannot protect our own property and people and foreigners."

Wolf Not Murdered.

Nogales, Ariz., July 25.—The report that U. G. Wolf of El Paso, Tex., connected with a mine in the Hermosillo district, had been murdered by Mexican bandits, is denied at the American consulate in Nogales, Sonora, where a telegram was received from Consul Hostetter at Hermosillo, stating that Wolf was alive and well.

ELECTED PRESIDENT OF THE NEW HAVEN ROAD

HOWARD ELLIOTT,
President of the Northern Pacific.

New York, July 25.—Howard Elliott, president of the Northern Pacific, was elected this afternoon president and director of the New York, New Haven & Hartford. His election takes effect Sept. 1, 1913.

MAY SUCCEED ELLIOTT.

St. Paul, Minn., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—With the announcement of the election of Howard Elliott, as president and director of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railway, interest locally centered in a successor to Mr. Elliott. Among those prominently named here are J. M. Hannaford, second vice president of the Northern Pacific, and George T. Slade, third vice president.

STRIKERS DRIVE OUT PUMPMEN

Attack Deputies and Drive Them From Mine at Baltic.

Situation in Copper Country Grows More Menacing.

Ball Games and All Other Amusements Are Forbidden.

Calumet, Mich., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the Baltic, south of Houghton, just before noon today 400 rioters attacked the deputies and robbed them of their stars, driving them away from the locations altogether. They then drove away the pump men and left the mine unguarded. Later they advanced to the village of South Range, where they are now meeting for the purpose of carrying out the same campaign against the Champion, Trimountain and Isle Royale mines.

Prosecuting Attorney Anthony Lucas, formerly in the state legislature and author of the workingmen's compensation act, today said:

"As soon as sufficient troops arrive here to take complete charge of the

RIOTING HAS GIVEN PLACE TO PARADING

Thousands of Miners Carrying Stars and Stripes March About Mines.

Sheriff Cruse Is Given Full Command of All the Forces.

Managers Refuse to Talk, But Union Leader Makes Statement.

GOVERNOR FERRIS GOING TO CALUMET; MAHONEY IS THERE

Calumet, Mich., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sheriff Cruse has announced that Governor Ferris will arrive tonight to take charge personally of the situation in the Copper Country. Gen. Abbey will arrive from Lansing with his staff this afternoon.

C. E. Mahoney, vice president of the Western Federation of Miners, arrived this noon as the representative of President Moyer, who is in Europe, and assumed personal conduct of the strike. He says he will stop all rioting, if possible, but will insist throughout the strike on a conference with the operators on the demands of the men. He will permit no non-union man to work even the pumps, "though the mines fill to the top with water." He is determined to win this strike, for losing it would mean the killing forever of the Federation in the Michigan copper district. He made no statement regarding troops.

Federation officials claim the strikers are in no way concerned with the operation of mills and smelters, but that these have been forced to close because of lack of work, caused by the closing of the mines.

Calumet, Mich., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—With six militia companies on duty and other state troops en route from both the Upper and Lower Peninsulas of Michigan, the strike of copper miners settled measurably towards a state of dull routine today, the third of its existence.

Some of the more enthusiastic unions organized parades, but there was practically no disorder up to noon.

The entire strike situation is under the command of Sheriff James Cruse of Calumet, who will order the disposition of the troops. Even Gen. Abbey of the brigade, will be subservient to the sheriff's orders, unless martial law is declared.

Keweenaw county miners, 1,500 in number, marched into Calumet at 9 o'clock and continued on through to Mohawk, after being joined by nearly double their number here. They marched quietly through the streets. A large American flag was carried at the head of the paraders, and many had small flags. The men joked and laughed in the line.

Artillery On the Way.

Two batteries of artillery and two troops of cavalry left Chicago last night and will be here today, coming from Detroit and Grand Rapids. The main brigade camp will be established in vacant mining property and public park and playgrounds, between the village of Red Jacket and the main Calumet & Hecla mining location. One regiment, probably the Third, will encamp at the Calumet armory.

Among those hurt during the riots yesterday were:

George Danblom, beaten about head, may die.

George Unsworth, chief engineer, Superior mine, cut about the throat, will recover.

Kennedy McLeod, engineer Red Jacket mine; nose broken with a stone.

William Richards, blaster, skull fractured with a stone; serious.

Simon Trestrail, 65 years old, severely beaten.

Alex McRae, night watchman, hit with stone.

William Gierson, machinist, bruised with club.

Thomas Matthews, mining captain, cut and bruised.

John T. Harry, miner, scalp wound.

Michael Mauren, miner, head hurt.

Michael Besing, bruises about body.

James Rowe, mine captain, knocked unconscious with stone.

John Opic, machinist, beaten with clubs and fists.

Wilbert Huntley, machinist; beaten black and blue.

John Johnson, miner, knocked down

WILL READJUST INTERSTATE RATES

Chicago, July 25.—A committee of seven, composed of lawyers and traffic officials, was appointed last night by the Central Passenger association, to devise in detail the best plan of readjusting interstate rates and berth reservation rules.

According to Francis C. Donald, chairman of the association, that work will take a year or so for completion. He asserted it is a tremendously difficult proposition to put through route rates on a basis of interstate rates. He said they were attempting to work out a plan that will allow for the utmost economy and the least expense and red tape.

FALSE STARTS IN MATRIMONY

Three Divorce Complaints Tell of Short Periods of Wedded Bliss.

Albert Witt's Bride Deserted Less Than Two Weeks After Wedding.

Wedded bliss was of short duration for Albert Witt, 31 years old, who has been granted a divorce from his wife, Clara Etta Witt, 20, by Judge Cant in district court.

Within two weeks after they were married, his bride deserted him. The marriage took place on April 19, 1910, and she left him April 27 of the same year.

Judge Cant yesterday signed findings and an order for a divorce decree in favor of Witt.

John Polzin, 49 years old, in a divorce action filed yesterday afternoon, declares that love's fire grew cold shortly after his marriage and that the wedding vows had scarcely dropped from his wife's lips before she started to scold and nag him. He asks the court to dissolve the bonds of matrimony which bind him to Hilda Polzin, 38 years old.

They were married on Oct. 18, 1910. In his complaint, Polzin alleges that immediately after their marriage she began to make life miserable for him. On many occasions, he says, she called him vile names. He asks for the decree on the grounds of desertion, claiming that she left him on March 10, 1912.

Cecil J. Freshette, 20 years old, claims that her husband, Joseph Freshette, 21, deserted her five months after they were married and she is now seeking a divorce, alimony and the custody of their son, aged about 2 years. The Freshettes were married at Two Harbors on March 23, 1911 and the alleged desertion took place on Aug. 15, of the same year, she claims. Shortly after their marriage, she states Freshette came home in a drunken and boisterous condition and started to abuse her.

TRAMPLED BY HORSE.

Bisbee, N. D., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. W. Morrow, a local farmer died yesterday from injuries received ten days ago. Morrow was leading a horse when the animal became frightened, trampling on him and inflicting fatal internal injuries. Morrow had lived here twenty-five years.

ADDITIONAL SPORTS

EVEN BREAK IN TENNIS

McLoughlin Loses to Parke But Williams Wins From Dixon.

Americans and Englishmen Are Tied on First Day's Play.

Wimbledon, England, July 25.—Play in the final round of the contest for the Dwight F. Davis international lawn tennis trophy began today under ideal weather conditions. Maurice E. McLoughlin, the American champion, lost to J. C. Parke of the English team, while R. Norris Williams of Philadelphia won from C. P. Dixon.

The famous center court of the All England Lawn Tennis association ground, although showing signs of wear after the strenuous season, was in fairly good shape.

All the reserved seats had been sold in advance but the crush at the opening was not so great as at the match between Wilding and McLoughlin a few weeks ago.

The American players spent the morning under the coaching of Robert D. Wrenn, president of the United States National Lawn Tennis association, and Harold H. Hackett, captain of the American Davis cup team. Both McLoughlin and Williams appeared to be at the top of their form.

The English players who had just returned from a series of tournament matches in various parts of Great Britain, seemed also in splendid condition.

Among the large crowd in the grandstand were many Americans including a number of veterans who had made the trans-Atlantic trip just for the purpose of seeing the challenge round played.

Parke appeared early in the practice court, passing balls with A. E. Beamish, a well-known English player.

The referee announced that no decision had been made in regard to the wearing of spikes, the American players being free to wear them if they choose.

McLoughlin won the first set by breaking into Parke's service at the eighteenth game. His last drive of the set touched the top of the net, where the ball lodged for a moment and then fell over without a bound.

The Californian had an opportunity to take a commanding lead when the games stood at 4-3 in his favor, but after taking it to vantage four times, he lost.

The games continued to follow service until McLoughlin brought the set to an end by a sensational net drive.

McLoughlin lost four love games to Parke's service by driving the ball out of the court or into the net.

The closeness of the play in the first set was indicated by the fact that each player scored the same number of points. Parke held his own in serving to the young American, and following the plan laid down by Wilding, played low and short to McLoughlin on every possible occasion.

The scores were 8-10; 7-5; 6-4; 1-6; 7-5.

William had an equally close fight with Dixon, winning: 6-6; 3-6; 6-2; 1-6; 7-5.

MANY ENTRIES IN TOURNAMENT

Sufficient entries have been made for the tennis tournament of the Duluth Boat club to insure its being one of the best ever held here.

Entries have been coming in faster than for any previous tourney staged at the Head of the Lakes. While the events are open to the members of the club only, there are so many players who belong to the club that it is believed that practically every player of note in the city will take part in the annual play for the trophies donated by the club.

Lauren Kennedy has two legs on the Hartman trophy. This brilliant player will be in the singles and in the event of winning out this year will come into the permanent possession of the handsome cup.

Lauren Kennedy and Courtenay Dinwiddie will defend their title of doubles champions. This pair won a leg on the Hartman trophy by defeating Colton and Amundson in the challenge round in the tournament of last year.

As the play in the tournament starts Monday, it will be necessary to have all of the entries in by Saturday evening. Those desiring to take part in the tournament can leave their names with Dennis Deighton at the board of trade or at the Oatka branch of the boat club.

CANOE REGATTA IS UNDER WAY

The canoe races being held at the boat club this afternoon under the auspices of the Northwestern Canoe association, are furnishing part of the program of the Lark o' the Lake entertainment. There are some crack canoeists here from St. Paul, Minneapolis and several of the small cities of the state and the races promise to prove both novel and exciting.

There will be the 100-yard dash, 16-foot canoe or over; 110-yard changing doubles; 200-yard doubles; 200-yard singles, 17-foot canoes or over; 100-yard singles, standing on gunwale; 100-yard novelty race; tilting contest.

The Minneapolis Athletic and Boat club; the Weequah Canoe club, St. Paul; the Minnesota River Canoe club, St. Paul, and the Lake Harriet Canoe club of Minneapolis have a large number of men here and some of them are classed as the fastest in the state.

With the Williams brothers, Louis Ardouin, Dr. Frank Lynam, Anthony Puck, Joe Horak, A. J. Frey and William L'estrange to hold up the racing ability of the Duluth Boat it is expected that there will be a number of first prizes won by the local entrants.

GOOD SAILING RACES PROMISED

Time of starting:

28-foot class, div. A.....3:00 p. m.
28-foot class, div. B.....3:05 p. m.
18-foot class.....3:10 p. m.
Cat boat class.....3:15 p. m.
B class boats.....3:20 p. m.

The sailing races at the Boat club tomorrow promise to be the best of the present season and among the best series of contests that have ever been put on at the club.

There will be six boats started in the Toledo cat boat class. Each of the boats will be manned by a crew of three. This will be the first race under the new schedule and it is bound to develop into a large amount of interest, as many of the sailors will be green men.

In the eighteen-foot class the Thistle, Kelly; Frolic, Mather; Spray, McNally and the Serf, Scanlon, will be the starters. As there has been some very keen competition among the eighteen-footers during all of the present season the contest of tomorrow promises to be one of the real races of the day.

In the A division of the twenty-eight-foot class boats the Merry Widow, and Arwindie have been advanced from the B class and will contest with the Feather and the Zephyr in the A class races of Saturday.

In the B class division of the twenty-eight division, the Viking, Trux; Voyageur, Williams; Scud, Ross; Northwind, Lynam, Jr.; Yankee, Jamar, and the Banshee will compete.

In the thirty-two-foot class there will be the Alegro, Charles Brewer's boat, the Dixie, Prick, and the Spray. This is expected to be one of the exciting races of the day, as all of the boats are closely bunched for standing.

GRAND FORKS WINS AGAIN

Grand Forks, N. D., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Grand Forks won its seventh straight game this morning by defeating Virginia, 9 to 4, in a game that was nip and tuck till the eighth inning, when the Flickertails broke a 4 to 4 tie by batting out five runs. Three times the game was tied. The contest was witnessed by a big crowd of state fair visitors. Harold Bond, an old Northern league pitching star, who plays the outfield for Grand Forks, pitched seven innings for Grand Forks, working in good shape. Wilson finished. Schulz was knocked out of the box. Two weeks ago he held Grand Forks scoreless. The score:

Virginia.....10000100—4 8 5
Grand Forks....01001115x—9 8 4

Batteries—Schulz, Lally and Hardgrove; Bond, Wilson and Edmunds.

Reception for Park.

Dr. J. D. Park, who won the A. A. A. trophy in the recent tour to Glacier Park from the Twin Cities, will reach Duluth this evening, and a number of the members of the Duluth Auto club, of which he is president, plan to meet him and give him a hearty reception. A dinner in his honor is planned for tomorrow evening.

OARSMEN WILL BE IN PARADE

The parade of the oarsmen who won so many victories in the Northwestern International regatta at St. Paul last week, will be one of the decided features of the Lark o' the Lake of tomorrow evening.

Floats have been arranged and on these will be placed members of the various crews. Also the numerous trophies won at the international water meet will be placed on the floats, thus giving the people of Duluth an adequate idea of the plunder brought home from the regatta by the great crews of this city.

The parade will leave the aerial bridge at 7:30 and will proceed up Lake avenue to Superior street and thence down that street west to Fifth avenue west, turning there and retracing the route.

As there are some twenty-eight oarsmen in the squad of the boat club, the parade of the victorious sweep men promises to be one of the decided novelties of this week's lark.

State Examiner Lauds Conditions Found in Beltrami County.

Bemidji, Minn., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—After having spent the present week here, investigating conditions at the courthouse, Charles Blosstrom, state examiner, authorized the following:

"While I have not completed my examination of Beltrami county offices and will not for a few days, I have learned enough to be able to say that the citizens of this county are to be congratulated upon the efficient and intelligent service of their officials.

"In no instance have I found any serious errors and I have found that, without exception, your public servants are competent and their service will improve with experience."

Mr. Blostrom addressed the students of the teachers' training school Wednesday morning and emphasized the fact that he was glad to do so because most people are unfamiliar with the work of the public officers. Mr. Blostrom, for several years, was at the head of the Austin college and was appointed by Governor Johnson as president of the board of control of the Owatonna state school, receiving his present appointment from Governor Eberhart.

STOCK PARADE AT GRAND FORKS FAIR

Animals on Exhibition Parade Race Course Before Great Throngs.

Grand Forks, N. D., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Nearly 1,000 head of livestock on exhibition at the state fair here this week were paraded around the race course this afternoon before a huge throng. The display of horses and other livestock elicited much praise. The attendance yesterday was 2,000, and a larger attendance is expected today. The exhibits have all been judged. Although a circus in East Grand Forks will be a rival attraction Saturday, it is expected there will be a big attendance the closing day. A stellar evening tomorrow will be motorcycle races.

The North Dakota Anti-Tuberculosis association has an exhibit that has been the means of enlisting considerable support for the movement. The North Dakota Votes for Women league also is using the fair as a means of spreading its doctrine, and has secured thousands of signatures to petitions.

The boys' encampment feature is continuing very successful. Today the boys have their last class work, and tomorrow they will disband. Before disbanding, however, each member of the encampment will be called on to give a complete written account of the work of the week. Instruction in agricultural subjects has been given and the week's work has been very profitable.

Wins Township Honors.

In the Grand Forks county township exhibit department Elm Grove won the honors. This is the second time that Elm Grove has won the first place, and it has to win but once more to retain permanent possession of the cup offered by the association.

In the agricultural department the contest was between Polk county, Minn., and Grand Forks county growers, and they divided honors quite evenly.

In the educational department the competition for honors was between the Hankinson, N. D., schools and the Grand Forks schools. The Hankinson showing was exceptionally creditable.

In the Grand Forks county workhorse contest, Joe Williams was winner of first place.

Grand Forks county girls made butter in an interesting competition. The winners were Mae Hunter, Annie Lund, May Bolack, Frances Jackson and Mary Cunningham.

DEATH OF A MINOT WOMAN TO BE PROBED.

Minot, N. D., July 25.—Officials are making an investigation of the cause of death of Mrs. Neal Brownlee, having ordered an analysis of the contents of her stomach. Retiring in the evening apparently in the best of health, Mr. Brownlee says he was awakened at 1:30 in the morning by a noise in the kitchen. He found his wife in terrible agony, lying on the floor and almost unconscious. Within five minutes she died. The body was shipped to Brookville, Pa., for burial.

SAMARITANS TO HOLD BIG PICNIC

Members of the Order Outside Duluth Are Invited to Attend.

Modern Samaritans all over the state are being sent invitations to attend the picnic to be held at Lincoln Park on Aug. 7 which is being arranged by the Modern Samaritan picnic committee of the city. The committee expects to have about 500 out of town visitors at the affair.

It is expected that representatives from many of the 200 councils of the jurisdiction will be represented. A program is being arranged under the direction of the committee and many valuable prizes have been secured.

Among the features of the afternoon's program will be tug of war, dancing during the afternoon and evening, races, ball games and other features. One of the prizes will be one given for the homeliest man on the grounds, and another for the handsomest baby.

A boulevard drive will be given in the morning for the visiting members. Immediately afterwards a big parade will be held, in which will be a procession of the Good Samaritans, high priests, levites and innkeepers, also the robbers in their ancient costumes. The committee expects to be able to borrow "Little Arthur," the original pet goat of the Shriners for this occasion. They have also recovered the original "Jack" which some of the early members will have good cause to remember, and he will also be in the parade, and serve to make the trip from "Jerusalem to Jericho" a realized fact.

The officers of the committee in charge of the arrangements are W. B. Henderson, chairman; A. A. Fider, secretary and A. Farrington.

IMPROVEMENTS TO PLAYGROUND

Ground Is Leveled and New Equipment Added—Open Next Week.

The Harrison playground at Thirtieth avenue west and Third street will be fully completed next week. Extensive repairs have been made to the grounds, and additional equipment has been obtained.

Included in the equipment now on the grounds are swings, slides and turning bars. The ground has also a baseball diamond laid out and a cinder path for races.

Lawrence Duby will have charge of a class of boys who will train for a field meet to be held later in the summer. These boys will again make their appearance on the grounds next week.

Miss Grace Ritchie is in charge of a class of girls recently organized in the neighborhood. Many of these are taking to athletics and some are proving the equal of the boys in this feature of outdoor life.

The ground has recently been graded and leveled off. In some places dirt has been packed into the ravines. The ground is a level spot and will, it is expected become the most popular place in the city for the young folks.

PLANS BEING MADE FOR CONVENTION

Swedish Baptist Churches of America to Meet Sept. 9 to 14.

Plans for the annual national convention of the Swedish Baptist churches of America which will be held Sept. 9 to 14 at the First Swedish Baptist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, are fast being made. The various church organizations assisted by the members of the Third church of West Duluth and the Bethel Baptist of the East end are taking a prominent part in making the arrangements.

It is estimated that about 400 delegates from various parts of the United States and Canada will be present. In addition to these hundreds of visitors who will be more or less interested in the proceedings, are expected.

Rev. Swaney Nelson, pastor of the local church, assisted by a committee is in charge of the arrangements. The preliminary arrangements include getting a list of those members who will entertain at their homes some of the visitors.

The program covering the six days will probably be ready early next month. Many prominent speakers will appear on the program, some of whom are from the far sections of the country.

The officers of the conference are Rev. M. Engstrand, Brooklyn, president; Rev. Swaney Nelson of Duluth, vice president; Rev. J. O. Becklund of Boston, secretary and Rev. C. W. Anderson of Chicago, corresponding and financial secretary.

SIDELIGHTS ON THE CIRCUS

It was not everybody in town who knew what circus was in the city yesterday. Several women who had been enjoying a picnic at Lincoln park got on a car late yesterday afternoon at the park. As they were opposite the show grounds one woman called out to another, who was sitting across the aisle from her and said:

"Say, Martha, what circus is this?"

The laughter of the crowd caused the answer to be lost.

A woman was tugging her 8-year-old boy home last evening from the show. The circus and the animals had made a big impression on the boy.

"Say, mamma," said the little fellow. "That was some awful big elephants, wasn't they?"

After a pause he again said:

"Mamma, if the show was to bust up and you could buy one of these smaller elephants for me for about $4 would you do it?"

ANNUAL PICNIC AT FOND DU LAC

The Sunday school and congregation of the Bethany Swedish Lutheran church, Twenty-third avenue west and Third street, are holding their annual picnic today at Fond du Lac. The crowd of about 400 took the steamer Columbia at 9 o'clock this morning for the picnic grounds and will return at 6 o'clock this evening.

A program of games and sports is held for the entertainment of the crowd. Rev. C. G. Olson, pastor of the church is in charge of the party.

West End Briefs.

Walter B. Erickson of Minneapolis, who has been visiting for the past week in the West end, left this morning for his home.

Miss Alma Anderson of West Fourth street returned yesterday from a week's visit at Solon Springs.

William Anderson returned yesterday from a short business trip to the Twin Cities.

Miss Harriet Blakely of Albert Lea is spending a week visiting at the home of West end relatives.

The Spaa Club of the Second Presbyterian church, 1515 West Superior street, have planned an outdoor entertainment at its playground in the rear of the church for this evening.

Oscar W. Lacke and George Wickstrom left yesterday for a week's outing on Vermilion lake.

NEW COMPANY WILL AID STOCK RAISING

Red Lake Northern Offers Farms and Buildings to Right Parties.

Bemidji, Minn., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—To demonstrate the possibilities of the livestock industry in Northern Minnesota, the newly organized Red Lake Northern Loan & Trust company, a co-operative association, organized for the benefit of homeseekers and represented in Bemidji by J. J. Opsahl, announces that it will offer to experienced livestock men cattle farms or ranches with buildings in each town through which the new Red Lake Northern line runs. These ranches are equipped with buildings and are said to afford a fair test of what can be done with livestock. The only condition imposed is that either this fall or next spring, from 50 to 100 herds of stock are brought in and that good stock will be kept for sale to settlers as needed. "The only object of this offer," said Mr. Opsahl, "is to get first-class men in who will help develop our livestock industry."

CURRENCY BILL CENTER OF CHAOS

Washington, July 25.—The administration currency bill became the center of chaos in the conference yesterday of Democratic members of the house banking and currency committee. After a stormy session the conference broke up with an interminable array of opposition and discussion, and the prospects of an agreement on the bill apparently reduced to a vague and shadowy hope.

Even Chairman Glass, champion of the bill on the house side, was about ready to abandon the idea of getting his colleagues together. President Wilson regarded the situation as so serious that he arranged for a conference at the White House with Representative Henry of Texas, chairman of the house rules committee, who has been advising with the "insurgent" committeemen. The interview lasted until well into the night.

THREE MEN JERKED TO TOP OF ELEVATOR.

Fessenden, N. D., July 25.—Frank Marpe, Henry Rex and "Babe" Boyce, three painters in the employ of Bolmeier Brothers, Erie, N. D., narrowly escaped death. They were working on a scaffold suspended from the roof of J. E. Garver's elevator, when a local freight train, switching cars below them, happened to come in contact with the rope hanging below to the ground, drawing the scaffold suddenly to the top of the elevator, 100 feet from the ground. The three painters miraculously managed to grab the life rope which was suspended near them, and crawled to the cupola to safety. The train was going nearly ten miles an hour and stopped after the rope was broken, but the scaffold remained at the top. The paint went in all directions. No one was hurt, but the men were greatly unnerved.

"AUSTRALIAN MACK" GETS NINE YEARS

Vancouver, B. C., July 25.—John McNamara, alias "Australian Mack," implicated in the robbery of the New Westminster branch of the Bank of Montreal, Sept. 15, 1911, when more than $271,000 was stolen, was sentenced to serve nine years in the penitentiary for the theft of an automobile which, it is charged, carried away the bank loot.

Costa Ricans Protest.

San Jose, Costa Rica, July 25.—A sensation was caused here by a private cablegram from Washington stating that Secretary of State Bryan projected a "United States protectorate over the Central American states." Protests were printed in the press and a public meeting of general protest was held.

Approves Burleson's Plan.

Washington, July 25.—Supporting Postmaster General Burleson in his proposed extension of parcel post service, Representative Lewis, one of the authors of the parcel post law, declares that sooner or later the government must take over the transportation of all parcels up to 100 pounds.

Sue for 30,000 Acres.

Portland, Or., July 25.—Federal land office officials here said that the state of Oregon and the government would unite in an effort to recover 30,000 acres of land alleged to have been irregularly obtained a few years ago by F. A. Hyde of San Francisco and others. Suits will be filed in six counties Saturday.

Car Upsets; Woman Is Killed.

Iowa City, Iowa, July 25.—Miss Mary Heinman, aged 26, of Matamora, Ill., was killed and Dr. B. C. Heinman, her father, was seriously injured and Mrs. Heinman had an arm broken when their car overturned near Malcolm, while en route from Iowa City to Des Moines. Mrs. Ed. Schlitz of Grinnell, a member of the party, also was injured.

Demand Covallo's Return.

Kenosha, Wis., July 25.—Joseph Covallo, a former Kenosha Italian wanted here on a charge of the attempted murder of Police Officer John B. Zievers, has been located at a small town in Southern Italy, and District Attorney A. L. Drury has taken up with the department of justice at Washington the demand for the return of the Italian to Kenosha.

BEMIDJI U. S. BUILDING.

Federal Officer to Select Site for the Proposed Structure.

Bemidji, Minn., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Before returning to Washington from Crookston this week, Representative Halvor Steenerson announced that he had information from the government department of public buildings that a Federal representative would come to Bemidji in the near future to choose a site for the new Federal building here. Mr. Steenerson secured from congress an appropriation of $75,000 for this building, the largest sum for a similar building in any town the size of Bemidji in the state. Although the government architect must draw the plans and award the contract for the Bemidji building as soon as possible, Mr. Steenerson does not believe actual work of construction can begin much before three years.

Stricken by Paralysis.

Bemidji, Minn., July 25.—Andrew Hand, aged 60 years, was found by William Haverly Wednesday morning in an unconscious condition, in a marsh on his farm nine miles east of Bemidji. Dr. E. H. Marcum was called and stated that as far as he could learn the old man had been taken suddenly ill with a paralytic stroke last Monday while berrying, and that he had lain in an unconscious condition. He died later.

DREDGING CONTRACTS

Work in Ontonagon Harbor Completed—New Harbor of Refuge.

The Great Lakes Dredge & Dock company completed its contract for dredging out shoals at the entrance of Ontonagon harbor on July 10, and the result is an improvement for the benefit of vessels having business there. There is now a channel 80 feet wide and 15 to 17 feet deep at low water from the deep water of the lake through the approach, and 600 feet within the piers. The next 700 feet is 50 feet wide and 15 feet deep, then the channel widens out to 80 feet for the remainder of the distance to the inner end of the piers. Besides this there is a narrow channel, 15 feet deep, to the Norton lumber dock on the west side of the harbor and a similar channel, 14½ feet deep, to the lumber dock on the east side.

Dredging on the proposed new harbor of refuge near Keweenaw point, to be called the Portage River harbor, was begun last Monday by the Great Lakes Dredge & Dock company, the first equipment put to work being the company's big No. 8 dipper dredge, which is being used for the excavation of the harbor basin. The harbor will be within the bounds of Portage river, and when completed, according to plans of the United States engineers, will be a half mile long, 800 feet wide and 20 or more feet deep. It will have a mooring pier 2,000 feet long on the west side of the harbor. The object of the harbor is to provide a place of refuge in time of storm for vessels bound either way. It will be so situated that a good view of the lake will be obtainable so that masters may know conditions outside without having to put out to investigate.

The dredging planned for the present season is for the excavation of the west side of the main channel to the extent of one-quarter of the entire basin, dredging out at this time, the site of the old range lights, and widening the channel in Portage river to give additional room. The appropriation for this work was made three years ago, but complications have prevented its use until now.

Steamer Iowa Floated.

Chicago, July 25.—The steamer Iowa, sunk in a collision with the Sheboygan in the mouth of the Chicago river a week ago, was floated yesterday. The Goodrich company intends to send the vessel under her own steam to Manitowoc, Wis., to be docked for permanent repairs.

Divers found that the gap in the ship's side extends downward clear to the keel. The gap was covered and battened. Most of the cargo, valued at $80,000, has been saved.

Superior

ACTION UNDER LINLEY LAW

An action will be brought by the city of Superior against the Childs hotel under the Linley law, charging it with being a house of ill-repute, according to a statement made this morning by police officials. The proprietor of the place, Louis Larson, was recently discharged in police court on a charge of operating a disorderly house.

It is probable that the action will be taken to the district court, where the case will be tried on its merits. The police officials claim that a fair trial was not given in the case of the proprietor.

While the proprietor was discharged, it is claimed that the action can easily be brought against the hotel. In case the jury decides that the house is one of disrepute then its license to do business can be revoked and the building closed up for a year.

Recall Petition.

Petitions for the recall of Mayor Konkel are being rapidly circulated and nearly enough signatures have been secured. Of the 1,006 required the committee now claims that over 700 of these have already been secured. It is proposed to have it ready to be presented to the commission to act upon the first week in August.

Board of Review Named.

The board of income tax review was named yesterday by the state tax commission. Those who will serve in Douglas county are E. A. Le Claire and W. R. Foley of Superior, and S. P. Carlson of Bennett.

New Superintendent Arrives.

C. O. Jenks, former general superintendent of the central division for the Great Northern railroad, who has been appointed superintendent of the Lake Superior division to take up the duties of the late J. H. Taylor, arrived in the city yesterday. He will take immediate charge of the terminals here.

New Club House.

Superior may have a new clubhouse if plans being formulated by the Superior Athletic association are successful. The followers of boxing, wrestling and other sports are said to be willing to back the scheme. The club has two locations in sight for such a building, one being located at Banks and Winter streets and the other adjacent to the Eagles hall.

Remarkable Corn Growth.

WILL EXPLAIN VIEWS ON PARK

T. J. Davis Has Suggestion to Make to the Commission.

Thomas J. Davis, well known local attorney, will appear before the city commission tomorrow morning to express his views relative to the lake shore park which the city proposes to acquire east of St. Croix avenue.

Mr. Davis sets forth his views in brief in a letter sent to Mayor Prince, and the council will meet tomorrow to hear him go into details on the project. Mr. Davis would first have the city fill the space between the lake shore and the line of Second avenue east, extended, down as far as Buchanan street, projected. Along the line of Buchanan street he suggests that a revetment could be constructed at comparatively slight expense. He explains that the ground could then be filled without any of the filling being washed so as to interefere with the holdings of the government.

Mr. Davis points out that this would give the city a large tract of level ground, with nothing to prevent further filling to the east. He says that this ground could have excellent railroad facilities and would provide sites for large manufacturing institutions, while part could also be utilized for park purposes.

State Liquor Men Elect.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 25.—The State Liquor Dealers association in session here elected the following officers: President, E. G. Hundt, Milwaukee; vice president, G. M. Gahlman, Watertown; secretary, C. Dittman, La Crosse; treasurer, C. A. Hartwig, Manitowoc; executive and managing board, J. F. Langan, Kenosha; A. A. Raiser, Appleton; W. J. Gleason, J. Killa, Milwaukee; William Schultz, Sheboygan. Former Mayor Rose addressing the dealers scored the Baker law and the anti-saloon league.

TOPOGRAPHY OF LOTS TO BE SHOWN

City Assessor Obtaining Material for Great Map of the City.

City Assessor J. Allyn Scott is now engaged in getting a detailed description of the topography of all lots and parcels of property in the city.

All peculiarities will be noted on maps which have been prepared or are being gotten out for that purpose. If a lot is in a gulch or depression or on a cliff that will be indicated, together with an approximation of its effect upon the value of the lot.

This work is an anticipation of the real estate valuation which will be made next year. Before that time the assessor expects to have a mammoth map, forty-two feet long, spread on the walls of his office. In this map he plans to show every detail which enters into the value of a lot, including all improvements, such as buildings, sewer, water and gas mains, etc.

Blank forms are being gotten out to be filled by those who have objections to make against their assessments. When he has filled the blank the assessor will be in possession of all the facts pertaining to the lot, having before him in concrete form the information which will enable him to determine the justice of the complaint. The statement must be sworn to by the complainant before a notary public. At the end space has been left to indicate the disposition made by the assessor.

MISSING DAKOTA MAN LOCATED IN CANADA.

Hettinger, N. D., July 25.—Andrew K. Warsla, a former Adams county business man who suddenly disappeared from these parts early last February, has finally been located through the aid of the Burns Detective agency, on the farm of N. H. Murray near Lethbridge, Alta., where he is employed as a laborer.

Speculation was rife after the disappearance of Warsla and so many stories were afloat that it led to an investigation by State's Attorney Moen. When seen by the Burns Detective agency man, Warsla stated he was contented to remain in Alberta and expected to do so.

A satisfactory explanation was made of his disappearance which clears up a peculiar situation in the minds of the authorities. He left his business here at the time in a very unsettled condition and that will now be settled.

—THE— HOMECROFTERS' CORNER

Conducted by C. E. ROE.

Questions will be answered by Mr. Roe in this column.

Trees, Shrubs and Hedges.

The making of a new home is a matter of vital interest to the whole family, and the permanent arrangement of the home grounds needs careful consideration. One can safely experiment with vegetables because a mistake is a loss for one season only, but shrubs are expensive because of the time lost in getting them started. People are sometimes in a hurry and plant willows or cottonwoods because they make a rapid growth. In after years, they are dissatisfied and conclude that something else would be far more satisfactory. If they make the change, the intervening years are lost.

There are two serious objections to willows for the small city lot. In the first place, the willow is comparatively short-lived. For a few years it makes a very pretty tree, but as the years pass it is difficult to keep in good shape and the old trees are likely to become unsightly if not unmanageable. But there is a more serious objection to the willow where the garden is to be considered—the roots fill the ground for rods around the tree, making a network which impedes cultivation and robs the soil of nutriment needed for other things.

Cottonwoods grow very rapidly but they, too, are short-lived; they are likely to be infested with insects and the cotton is a very objectionable feature. A very good substitute for the cottonwood is the Carolina poplar. This tree grows very rapidly, has a symmetrical, round top with beautiful, glossy foliage, and it is entirely free from the objectionable cotton. It is the best of the poplar family, although the Norway poplar is admirable for a wind-break.

For general city planting, the elm, the linden, the sugar maple and the red oak are among the best trees to be found. Many claim that the elm will not grow well here, but that is a serious mistake. Good trees, properly trimmed and well set will prove more satisfactory than anything else. When the elm is properly started, its growth is fairly rapid and nothing can surpass it in beauty.

The linden, maple and red oak are all native trees, and all of them will give satisfactory results if proper care is given.

Shrubbery, to be effective, should be planted in masses or groups where it will give the proper setting to the house and grounds. A bank of shrubbery with some hardy perennials in the foreground, often makes a very pleasing effect. Among the best shrubs for this climate are the following: Lilac, tartarian honeysuckle, spirea Van Houti, spirea sarbifalia, the Philadelphus or mock orange, hydrangea paniculata grandiflora and all of the barberries.

We have several native shrubs which are very effective. The native dogwood is beautiful both summer and winter, and the elder is very showy where large tall-growing shrubs are wanted. Height and manner of growth should always be carefully considered in arranging your groups.

Where hedges are used, they should be planted on the north or east side of the lot unless low. Otherwise they will shade the garden too much. For taller hedges, I would recommend tartarian honeysuckle, lilac, barberry (commora, or the purple leaf), caragana, and the Siberian dogwood. For lower hedges, all of the following are good: Spirea Van Houti, barberry thunbergi and the rugosa rubra rose.

GIRL POISONED BY CONTINUOUS PROCESS

Coroner Says Aunt Gave Small Repeated Doses to the Girl.

New Haven, Conn., July 25.—Mrs. Annie F. Monohan is held criminally responsible for the death last March of her 17-year-old niece, Miss Jennie McNamee, in a finding by Coroner Mix. The corner says death was due to white arsenic poisoning administered in "small, repeated doses." There was insurance on Miss McNamee's life to the amount of $2,000, says the coroner, Mrs. Monohan being named as the beneficiary. Mrs. Monohan was arrested some weeks ago.

At the time of her niece's death, continues the coroner, Mrs. Monohan was living with her third husband, "her second husband having died after about ten days' illness, during which he had symptoms similar to those which existed during the illness of Miss McNamee." He also was insured in a benevolent order, his wife being the beneficiary.

GIDEONS HOLDING BIG CONVENTION.

Toronto, Ont., July 25.—The first international convention of the Gideons, the Commercial Travelers' association widely known through their efforts to place Bibles in hotel rooms, is in session here. Though the movement is only a few years old, the Canadian and American organizations have an aggregate membership of 15,000 and they have distributed more than 200,000 Bibles. There are large repreesntations from Chicago, Michigan, Minnesota and Iowa.

GETS 14 YEARS FOR RUNNING OVER MAN.

Chicago, July 25.—A jury in the criminal court returned a verdict of guilty against Frej Prodek, a chauffeur, charged with the murder of Patrick J. Condon, who was run over and killed by an automobile driven by the defendant. His punishment was fixed at fourteen years' imprisonment in the penitentiary. Fred Cordez, who was in the car with Prodek when the victim was killed, was found not guilty.

BOY BURNS BABY SISTER TO DEATH

Greensburg, Pa., July 25.—Mabel, the 4-month-old child of Charles J. Powers, was burned to death when her brother, aged 4, built a fire under a baby carriage in which the child was sleeping.

JOKES WITH PISTOL AND KILLS FRIEND

Huntsville, Ala., July 25.—Emmet C. O'Neal, his best friend, Fulgham Hall, and the fiancee of each were together here completing plans for their double wedding, which was to have taken place soon, when Hall, it is said, playfully snapped a supposedly unloaded pistol in O'Neal's face. There was a flash and a report as a bullet entered O'Neal's mouth and penetrated the brain, causing almost instant death. O'Neal, a young newspaper man, was the son of R. L. O'Neal, editor of the Mercury Banner.

ONE DEAD; FIVE DYING.

Boy Lights Cigarette and Throws Match Near Oil Well.

Tulsa, Okla., July 25.—Charles M. Wright, a well driller, was burned to death, five of his fellow workmen were probably fatally injured and an oil well located two miles south of Tulsa, was set on fire late yesterday as the result of an explosion which occurred when a burning match, with which it is alleged a youth had lighted a cigarette, came in contact with gas escaping from the well. The probably fatally injured are: William, Peter and Steve Snyder, brothers, Harold Cook and Harry Brownfield.

FOUR KILLED IN COAL FIELD FIGHT

Charleston, W. Va., July 25.—Four men were killed and another fatally injured in a short, sharp battle yesterday between striking miners and watchmen employed by the Wake Forest Coal company at Wake Forest, on Cabin Creek, the scene of much rioting and bloodshed since coal strike troubles started in April, 1911.

The dead:

FRANK GINN, coal company watchman.

DON SLATER, coal company watchman.

TWO UNIDENTIFIED MEN, members of the attacking party.

Since the mining town of Ohley, on Cabin Creek, was attacked and shot up three weeks ago, it has been the custom of the company to have watchmen scout the hillside before the non-union miners are permitted to enter or leave the mines. Watchman Ginn and Slater were making the usual search. While going through the heavily wooded hillside, they were suddenly attacked by a band of men who opened fire on them. Ginn fell, fatally wounded, and Slater dropped, shot through the leg. Slater, however, returned the fire, killing two of the attacking party, and received another bullet through the body.

LARK OF DULUTH IN THREE FLIGHTS

Tony Jannus Takes Passengers Up to See Harbor From Above.

The Lark of Duluth, the noted flying boat, made three trips from its nest at the boat club yesterday and took in most of the harbor during the three times in the air. The first flight was early in the day, when J. H. Darling, assistant United States engineer of the Duluth district, was a passenger with Tony Jannus, and viewed the government work done in the harbor from an altitude of about 150 feet. The contractors at work for the government in various parts of the bay and river, were somewhat non-plussed to find the chief assistant of the district gazing down on them from above, and examining the work from a point of vantage with a critical eye.

Mr. Darling was charmed, and, to judge by his expressions of pleasure; were the government to sound its engineers as to their choice of locomotion for inspection tours, he would not hesitate long about choosing the air route.

Later in the afternoon Mr. Jannus took up Julius H. Barnes. This was Mr. Barnes' second trip and he says that it was far better than the first for this time he paid less attention to the sensation of riding in the air and more to his surroundings, seeing the country hereabouts at a height of about 300 feet. When the airboat went up, the aviator took her to about 300 feet, at which height he cleared the bridges, then lowering to about half that height, skimmed up the river, landing at the Spirit Lake branch of the boat club. Twelve minutes were consumed going up the river, and only ten in coming back.

W. D. Jones, who has purchased the Lark, is taking lessons daily in the secrets of aviation. He was up for about an hour and a half yesterday with Tony Jannus, and for a time ran the hydro-aeroplane himself, soaring up from the water a number of times, and seeming to have but little difficulty in handling the machine. He expects to take her up alone in a few days.

ROBS BANK TO GET CASH FOR WEDDING

Randolph, Utah, July 25.—Robbing a bank to get a wedding stake, being pursued through the hills by a posse and finally captured with the bank's gold in his saddlebags, put an end to Robert McGregor's hopes soon to become a benedict, according to his confession.

McGregor, it was said, entered the bank of Randolph, bound the cashier and escaped on horseback with $1,500 in cash. When a posse surrounded him four hours later, he threw his gun away and surrendered. The prisoner, who came here from Wyoming, said he was trying to raise a wedding stake.

WRONGED WOMAN KILLS JEWELER

New Orleans, La., July 25.—George W. Riehl, a jeweler, was fatally shot by Miss Augusta Agnes Edwards, a stenographer, on the street here last night. Riehl died on the way to the hospital. At the police station a note written by Miss Edwards was found in her hand-bag, which stated that Riehl had ruined her life and that she intended to kill him and destroy herself. Riehl was married and had three children.

$200,000 ESTATE GOES BEGGING.

Chicago, July 25.—An estate of $200,000 left by William Henry Lee of the Laird & Lee Publishing company, who died in this city June 30, is in the hands of Public Administrator James F. Bishop, awaiting claimants. Efforts of public officials to find heirs of the decendent have been unsuccessful. Under the law the estate reverts to the state within twenty years if no claimant appears.

LITIGATION AT 90 CENTS A CASE.

Kansas City, Mo., July 25.—Litigation at 90 cents a case is the unusually cheap price the city paid in settling 5,534 legal cases during the last twelve months. The record was achieved by the city's free legal aid bureau. The cases included the collecting of $10,963 in 936 wage claims, the handling of 304 non-support cases and 178 child and wife abandonment cases. In the three years the bureau has been in existence it has handled 20,000 cases and collected $26,000.

The citizen views
One item of news:
Our meat is to cost oven more!

The headlines proclaim that the Pankles
Are firing the dome of St. Paul;
That Chance is inspiring the Yankees
To play something looking like ball,
But what do we care
When sadly aware
That meat has gone up at the stall?

The kings may be halted in kinging,
The thrones of the emperors quake,
But all revolutions upspringing
Can't give us a half of the ache
We feel when we see
The butcher's decree,
"More money for porterhouse steak!"

—John O'Keefe.

You see, this is "The Overshadowing Subject," which, too, is the title of the verses. And meat is going up. The situation in regard to meats is getting to the serious point, and reaching that stage where it cannot be disposed of with merry quips and jests or joyous jingle. This week beef is about as rare as a day in June—and that rarity is no attempt at a joke either. Cattle are coming in slowly, and when one visits the Duluth branches of the big packers and enters the refrigerating rooms, it is impressed upon the visitor how exceedingly scarce is beef, for where the room is usually packed with hind quarters and other portions of beef, there are now only a few scattering ones, and empty space greets the eye. There are poorer grades of beef on the market, which sell at a cheap price, but a healthy amount is paid for the best stock, for there is little of it.

To make it worse, even that ever ready friend of man, the porker, is acquiring a retiring disposition. The hog arrivals have been very light and the meat is becoming scarcer. So the price of pork has raised, and unless there is soon some relief in the way of more liberal receipts, pork is going to go still higher. Veal is also ruling at high prices, for the same reason that affects beef.

Poultry has gone up in price, for the reason that receipts are light and at the same time the demand is good, for people like something like poultry to eat on hot days. You can stew them and then have them cold. Great scheme, but it is becoming expensive.

Eggs, too, have taken an upward turn in price. The dealers in eggs in Duluth claim that just now there are more poor eggs to a case received than for a long time, and by the time the good, salable ones have been selected and the poor ones thrown away, a large hole has been cut in the possible profit in a case, and consequently the price has to be boosted to make a showing. Butter, too, is in the ascendency.

As to other produce, it may be said that the plum market is strong because of light receipts from California; and, in fact, the fancy plums will be high all season. The Washington plums are reasonable in price, but receipts are late so far. The peach season is nearly over, and owing to the fact that both the California and Southern peaches are practically out of the market, and the extreme drought in Missouri and Arkansas has greatly shortened the crop, peaches will not be cheap this year, and are as low now as they will be; so that this is the time for preserving.

The pear market is easier in price and the pears offered are of better quality. Raspberries are still on the market, but fair warning is given that they will not last more than a week, and those figuring on preserving any of them for the winter have but a short time to collect their supply and get to work. Currants are scarce, and therefore the market is strong.

The orange market remains firm, but lemons have a tendency to be weaker than they have been. A more plentiful supply is the cause, the demand being just as good because of the continued hot weather throughout the country.

There are no more California cantaloupes left this season, and now the devotee of that luscious food must depend upon the Colorado and Utah varieties, which are coming in. The market is strong on them both. In fact, there is not a great deal of time left for cantaloupe eating.

The apple market remains strong, and present prices will likely prevail for the coming week. Duchess apples have all been moved, but all other fall varieties are still to be had. The old apples are all off the market now and the fine new fresh ones are in.

Good tomatoes are scarce and high in price, and just when there will be relief is a question. Green corn and green cucumbers and all heavy vegetables are reasonable in price, but potatoes are higher owing to the fact that the home-grown stuff will not be available for about ten days yet, and the market must depend upon the Kaw valley and Virginia Cobblers for the supply.

ST. PAUL LAWYER DISBARRED BY COURT

Thomas V. Novotny Held Guilty of Misconduct in Profession.

Thomas V. Novotny, a practicing attorney for the past ten years at St. Paul, has been disbarred by the Minnesota supreme court. Wilful misappropriation of money collected for his clients and misconduct are the grounds for his removal.

The supreme court syllabus in the matter is as follows:

"The evidence in a disbarment proceeding is examined and it is held that the respondent willfully misappropriated moneys collected for his clients, and that he willfully betrayed the trust and confidence of a client, the defendant in a divorce suit, for whom he appeared, and by reason of the facts found is guilty of deceit and willful misconduct in his profession, and of the willful violation of the duty imposed upon him as an attorney at law, and should be removed from his office. Judgment of disbarment ordered."

The supreme court now has under advisement the application for the removal of Joseph De La Motte, a Duluth attorney.

TWO MEN FALL OVER 200-FOOT BANK

Charleston, W. Va., July 25.—Samuel V. Mathews, state banking commissioner, and George Weekly, his assistant, were injured when a carriage in which they were riding across Sewell mountain, Fayette county, went over a 200-foot embankment. Commissioner Mathews is in a serious condition.

TEN DAYS FOR CONTEMPT OF COURT

Charles Pelcher was sentenced to ten days in the county jail by District Judge Dancer for failing to obey the order of the court in not paying alimony to his divorced wife and for failing to comply with an order requiring him to pay her attorney fees. It is claimed that he was behind about $200 in his payments. Pelcher is a longshoreman divorced by his wife on the grounds of cruelty. If Pelcher does not settle after he gets out of jail he stands a good chance of being sent back again.

ANNUAL PICNIC OF KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

The Duluth and Superior lodges of the Knights of Columbus held their annual picnic at Fond du Lac yesterday. They journeyed to the picturesque suburb on the steamer Columbia, leaving the city at 9 o'clock. In the afternoon an interesting program of sports was staged. The Superiorites were victorious in both the ball game and the tug of war, winning the former by a score of 7 to 5. The picnic was a pronounced success. The Duluth committee in charge consisted of J. T. Stack, Joseph McKinnon and Charles Nolan and the members of the Superior committee were J. L. Girourard, Thomas Mungavin and Edwin Conley.

TWO KILLED AT LODGE INITIATION

Birmingham, Ala., July 25.—Donald A. Kenney, a chauffeur and Christopher Guslin, an iron moulder, were killed last night by an electric shock at the local hall of the Loyal Order of Moose. An initiation was in progress and it is said that an electric shock was a part of the ceremony. In some way, not yet explained, Kenney and Guslin received too much current.

Flood Causes Bankruptcy.

Huntington, W. Va., July 25.—The Huntington Chair company filed a petition in bankruptcy here. Liabilities are said to be $157,246 and assets $70,451. Losses sustained through a flood of the Ohio river are held responsible.

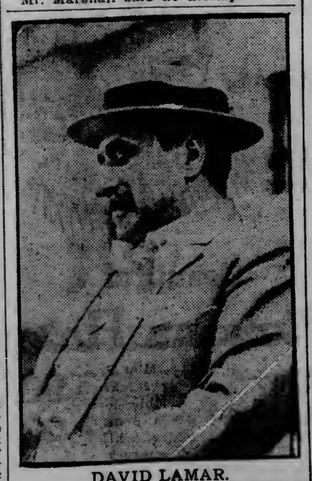

TRUE BILL FOR LAMAR

Impersonator of Congressmen Indicted in New York.

He Will Return From Washington to Face Charges.

New York, July 25.—The indictment of David Lamar, the Wall Street operator, on the charge of impersonating an officer of the government for purposes of fraud is announced by United States District Attorney H. Snowden Marshall. The indictment was found by the Federal grand jury several days ago, but publication of it was withheld owing to the fact that Lamar was not in this Federal district at the time.

Mr. Marshall said no attempt would be made to arrest Lamar, who is now in Washington, until he returns to this district. He explained that the warrant had not been served on Lamar in Washington because Lamar threatened to fight removal to this jurisdiction if arrested there, but offered to return voluntarily to New York and surrender after finishing pressing business in the capital city. Had Lamar chosen to fight in the District of Columbia against removal, he would easily have gained more than the time he asked. The government attorneys argued from experience in cases of this kind, as months might have passed before he could have been brought back. Knowing that, it is understood, the authorities decided upon their present course after Lamar's counsel had agreed to produce him when wanted.

DAVID LAMAR.

J. P. Morgan and the United States Steel corporation—both the late J. P. Morgan and the present J. P. Morgan—together with Mr Ledyard, Henry R. Davison, Temple Bowdoin, Arthur E. Newbold, William P. Hamilton, Edward T. Stotesbury Charles Steele, William H. Porter, Thomas W. Lamont and G. G. Lloyd, composing the partnership of J. P. Morgan & Co., are mentioned as persons Lamar is accused of having attempted to defraud.

Charge in Indictment.

According to the indictment, Lamar employed "cunning acts and deception" in an effort to fraudulently deprive said persons and corporations of divers sums of money."

The government bases its action on an opinion given in 1882 by Former United States Attorney General Benjamin Harrison Brewster that "in a broad and general sense, a member of congress is a government officer."

Section 32 of the Federal criminal code, under which the indictment was found, provides, as punishment upon conviction, a fine not in excess of $1,000 or imprisonment of not more than three years.

At the Federal building, opinion was expressed that Lamar would surrender himself here shortly, although no agreement to that effect was made with the defendant.

The indictment was the outgrowth of Lamar's testimony as a witness before the senate lobby investigation committee in the matter of the "Union Pacific scandal." Lamar told the committee of having impersonated various congressmen including Congressman Palmer, in telephone talks with New York financiers.

ARE WEDDED ON THE HIGH SEAS

Romance Begun in the Antipodes Culminates on Steamer.

Seattle, Wash., July 25.—News of Dan Cupid's latest prank at sea, a marriage on the bridge of the Pacific Coast Steamship company's liner Spokane, and the culmination of a romance begun years ago in the Antipodes, reached Seattle by wireless. The principals in the Neptunian nuptials were First Officer J. R. Burns of the Spokane and Miss Amy Stephens, a member of the party of 200 tourists who were aboard the vessel on the first of her summer cruises.

Burns and Miss Stephens were childhood sweethearts in faraway Australia. They met for the first time in many years aboard the Spokane as the vessel was steaming southward after her cruise of the inside waters of the north, and decided to wed. They consulted Capt. White, who consented to perform the ceremony on the bridge of the liner while she was in Queen Charlotte sound and steaming in the open ocean well out from land.

The nuptial arrangements were soon made, and with the tourists as guests, the ceremony was performed by Capt. White, and an entry of the time, the place and the hour made in the ship's official logbook.

The greater part of the Spokane's passengers were women, and a poll of the vessel previous to the ceremony showed that seventy-six widows from more than twenty states were present as witnesses.

GOOD COAL VEINS CAN NEVER BE MINED.

Pottsville, Pa., July 25.—While workmen were excavating here for the foundations upon which the Pennsylvania railroad will erect a $500,000 modern building, an outcrop of a vein of valuable coal was discovered. Its presence was unknown until it was partially uncovered by the picks and shovels of the digging workmen. Samples of the coal have been examined by mining men and pronounced to be peacock coal.

The find will be valueless, as the vein won't be worked for the reason that the railroad company will not alter its plans for the buildings and also because it is in the heart of the city.

These outcrops are found frequently, just in this way, throughout the anthracite region, and although in paying quantity, must remain untouched because of their proximity to growing communities.

NECK IS BROKEN BY HEAVY ROLLING LOG.

Ashland, Wis., July 25. — James Braaks, a woodsman employed by the Lac du Flambeau Lumber company in its camps near Mercer, was so badly injured Tuesday night about 6 o'clock that he died in a local hospital next morning.

A heavy log rolled over him, breaking his neck and fracturing his skull, but with these two frightful injuries he lived twelve hours after being hurt.

Nothing is known of his family, and his body will be held here for several days to see if any of his relatives can be located.

GOVERNMENT SEEKS TO APPLY SHERMAN LAW TO TELEPHONES

Suit to Dissolve Alleged Trust on Pacific Coast Is Filed.

Fraudulent Deals to Gain Monopoly Are Charged.

Portland, Or., July 25.—Dissolution of the alleged telephone monopoly on the Pacific coast by the American Telephone & Telegraph company, the so-called Bell telephone trust, is sought by Attorney General McReynolds in a civil anti-trust suit filed here. The government charges the giant corporation and its subsidiaries with absorbing independent telephone companies to destroy competition and create a monopoly in Oregon, Washington, Montana and Idaho, in violation of the Sherman law.

This is the first attempt ever made to apply the Federal anti-trust statute to the telephone situation. Telephone companies have claimed that the telephone, like the railroad, is a natural monopoly, and that a single system is conducive to the best interests of the public. The department of justice contends that it is a question of public policy for congress to determine.

No Clash With Probe.

It is declared that the suit now filed will not interfere with the sweeping investigation proposed by the interstate commerce commission into the general telephone situation, to determine whether the Sherman law should be invoked generally with the purpose of enforcing competition, or whether monopoly should be permitted or encouraged under regulation similar to that of railroads.

This step was taken in the West because the attorney general believed there existed a peculiar situation demanding immediate attention to cure evils said to have been brought about by unfair practices and illegal combinations.

The attorney general asks the court to compel the Bell companies to relinquish control of the Independent Telephone company of Seattle, the Home Telephone company of Puget Sound, the Northwestern Long Distance Telephone company, the Interstate Consolidated Telephone company, and the Independent Long Distance Telephone company. If necessary to accomplish the dissolution, the court is asked to appoint a receiver for the properties.

Dispose of Stock.

Attorney General McReynolds' well-known views that the pro rata distribution of the stocks of the Standard Oil and Tobacco trusts did not bring about a real dissolution of these combinations, are strongly reflected in this suit, in which he specifically requests the court to require the alleged telephone trust to dispose of the stocks, bonds and physical properties of the independents "to persons not connected with the Bell companies as stockholders or otherwise."

He asks for restoration, as far as practicable, of competitive conditions existing prior to the consolidations, and that the Bell companies, their officers and agents, be enjoined from acquiring interest or control of the companies relinquished.

Aside from the American Telephone & Telegraph company, with a capital of $393,30ñ,925 par value and assets of $924,260,818, the following corporations are named as defendants:

Atlantic & Pacific Telephone company, Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company, Sunset Telephone & Telegraph company, Pacific States Telephone & Telegraph company, Mountain States Telephone & Telegraph company, Northwestern Long Distance Telephone company, Home Telephone Company of Puget Sound, Independent Telephone Company of Seattle, Title Insurance & Trust company, Interstate Consolidated Telephone company, Corporsion Securities & Investment company, Independent Long Distance Telephone company, Washington County Telephone company, Granger Telephone & Telegraph company, McMinnville Local & Long Distance Telephone company, Lebanon Mutual Telephone company.

Individual Defendants.

Also these individuals:

Theodore N. Vail, Union N. Bethell, Edward J. Hall, N. C. Kingsbury and H. B. Thayer of New York; William R. Driver and Charles P. Ware of Massachusetts; B. E. Sunny, Illinois; Henry T. Scott, E. C. Bradley, F. W. Eaton, H. S. King, F. G. Drumm, Timothy Hopkins, W. H. Crocker, William Mead and George J. Petty of California; Edward B. Field, Edward Field, Jr., and E. M. Burgess of Colorado; A. E. Adams and W. H. Foster of Ohio; S. G. Hughes, Forest Grove, Ore.; and John F. Davies and Thaddeus S. Lane, of Washington.

The suit, filed by United States Attorney Clarence L. Reames, was prepared by Constantine J. Smyth, special assistant to the attorney general, under the direction of Attorney General McReynolds, James A. Fowler, assistant to the attorney general, and G. Carroll Todd, special assistant.

Ask Immediate Action.

An immediate injunction or restraining order is asked by the government to prevent any further steps in pending foreclosure suits to transfer the physical properties of the Northwestern Long Distance Telephone company to the Bell companies.

Bell companies, by reducing rates below a paying basis, by giving free service, and by threats, it is alleged, have forced several independent companies forming links in the long distance system of the Northwestern company to violate their contracts for connections with the Northwestern company, and to give their business exclusively to the Bell concerns.

In some places where public authorities required the restoration of the connections thus severed, the government declares, all interstate messages were sent by the Bell companies over their own lines except where the senders specifically requested that they be sent by the Northwestern. Even in the latter cases, it is alleged, the delivery of the messages to the Northwestern was delayed, and frequently patrons of the Northwestern were told that that company did not serve certain points which in fact it did reach.

In encouraging independents to violate their contracts with the Northwestern, it is charged that Bell companies in some instances agreed to pay attorneys' fees and other expenses incurred through possible litigation.

Destroyed Competition.

Acquisition by Bell interests of the Independent Telephone company of Seattle, a link in the Northwestern system, it is added, destroyed competition in that city. The stocks and bonds of this concern were bought Oct. 22, 1910, although it is alleged the transfer was kept from the public until March 1, 1912, when the physical properties of the concern were conveyed to Bell interests.

The bill recites the sale to the Bell interests for $550,000 of the Home Telephone company of Puget Sound, although the company was appraised at $2,927,132. This concern, it is alleged, was acquired at a foreclosure sale through a contract with William Mead, controlling the majority of the stock of the Home.

Mead, who organized a committee, with himself at the head, to represent holders of $1,817,800 of the bonds of the Home, is said to have represented to the bondholders that the property was not worth the amount of their bonds, and that it would be better for him not to bid in their behalf at the foreclosure sale. It is alleged he contracted with the Bell interests not to bid at the sale on behalf of the bond holders, and suffered the property to go to the combination, receiving for his services, it is declared, $33,000 and the conveyance of certain property in Tacoma valued at $15,000 to the National Securities company, owned chiefly by himself.

Agreement Alleged.

Mead, as treasurer of the Northwestern company, is alleged to have entered into an agreement with the Bell companies to procure for them control of at least two-thirds of the stocks and bonds and the physical properties of the Northwestern.

"To this end, and in order to afford ground for a foreclosure sale, Mead," the bill adds, "failed to pay the interest due in April and October, 1911, upon the company's bonds, although he had sufficient funds to do so, but instead of using them for that purpose he applied them to the payment of an alleged claim of his against the company. For his services in this regard the Bell companies agreed to pay him $68,000, part of which was to be withheld until they had received title to the property of the Northwestern company through the foreclosure proceedings to be instituted in consequence of the default mentioned."

Two-thirds of the $630,000 capital stock of the Northwestern and all of its bonds, valued at $750,000, have been sold to the Bell interests, it is said, for $500,000. The Title Insurance & Trust company, it is added, has taken possession of the physical property of the Northwestern company and has commenced foreclosure actions "in order," it is alleged, "that the acquisition by the Bell companies of the property of the Northwestern might have the appearance of judicial sanction."

MILLIONAIRE TO BEGIN FARMING

Tiring of Lead Mining, Girard Parsons Will Raise Stocks.

Bonne Terre, Mo., July 25.—Although he was brought up in the lead mining business and was assistant manager of one of the largest lead companies of the United States, at a salary approximating that of a cabinet minister, with a $14,000 house rent free, Girard S. Parsons has resigned his official duties with the St. Joseph Lead company, a $20,000,000 corporation, and will turn farmer.

Parson's official connection with the lead company will cease Aug. 1, when he will go to the farm at Riverside, Mo., with his wife, who was Miss Flora Bowman of St. Louis.

Parsons is one of the five heirs to the estate of C. B. Parsons, who first developed the lead belt of St. Francois county and left a fortune estimated at $6,000,000.

Farm Lighted Throughout Night.

The farm to which Parsons will remove, while it has no more than four hundred acres, probably is the best developed in Southern Missouri. Virtually the entire farm is lighted with large electric arc lights, the power being brought from Herculaneum, a few miles south, and the site of the St. Joseph company's smelting plant.

Tiled and graveled roads, built by the late millionaire miner, gridiron the estate, and along all these roads are electric lights which burn the night through. Along the Iron Mountain railway tracks, which bound the estate on the west, is a ten-foot wall of solid masonry one-half mile long.

The fields of the estate are in an intensive state of cultivation and there are large orchards of the best of grafted fruits.

Will Go to M. U. to Learn.

Not having had much experience in agriculture, young Parsons will add to his meager knowledge by taking the winter course at Missouri State university—that known as the "shorthorn course."

Parsons was one of the officials of the St. Joseph Lead company who were criticized for extravagances by Robert Holmes of St. Louis in his suit to have a receiver appointed for the Doe Run Lead company, a $10,000,000 mining concern affiliated with the St. Joe company.

It was when Parson's salary as assistant general manager was cut that he tendered his resignation and turned to bucolic pursuit. He will continue to do much motoring, but has disposed of his racing car, in which he was accustomed to make hair-raising records on the chatt covered roadways of St. Francois county.

In his new pursuit Parsons will devote his attention particularly to the growing of fancy livestock.

PRAYER IN SALOON WINS BIG LEGACY

Chicago, July 25.—David J. Byrne, a Pittsburg evangelist, is in Chicago to establish his identity under the terms of a will that will make him a rich man. The legacy was given him because his prayer, uttered on bended knees in the rear of a Chicago saloon six years ago, turned back to her Baltimore home a girl who had strayed.

The girl told the evangelist her name was Lucy Byrne, and that her father was wealthy. The two had a long talk. At its close the girl assured the evangelist that she would go home. A few weeks later he received a letter from her father, telling of his gratitude.

"One thing I want to do in appreciation of your work," wrote the father. "I want to support your undertakings. Help other women as you have helped my girl. Go out among them and preach. I will stand by you. And because I feel so toward you, I ask that you change your name to Byrne."

Complying with the request, the evangelist changed his name from David S. Kidd to David S. K. Byrne, and under that name he has worked the last few years.

Lucy Byrne died a few years after her return to Baltimore, but the evangelist continued to hear from the father. A few weeks ago he learned that the man was dead. Then he was informed that a large legacy had been left for him out of the Byrne estate, and that he was to be one of the executors of the will. He was asked to prove his identity at once.

COURT DECLINES TO NAME RECEIVER.

Covington, Ky., July 25.—Judge Matt Harbeson, in the Kenton county circuit court, has handed down an order declining to appoint a receiver for the Burley Tobacco company in the case of Elmer B. Stansfri on behalf of the stockholders of the Burley Tobacco company and on behalf of the Burley Tobacco company against Clarence Le Bus and others. Judge Harbeson said that there had been no evidence which would indicate that the assets of the Burley Tobacco company is of less value than $1,500, while there was evidence to the effect that these assets may be worth nearly $2,000,000 and its indebtedness is only $518,000.

Two Fined for Slander.

Baton Rouge, La., July 25.—Pleading guilty to charges that they had slandered Dr. R. W. Bodson, director of the state farm experimental station, E. O. Bruner, state commissioner of agriculture, and J. E. Halligan, former chief fertilizer inspector were sentenced to sixty days imprisonment and fined $200 each. Witnesses testified that Bruner had referred to Dr. Dodson as a "crook and a grafter."

Political differences were at the bottom of the trouble.

Brandon Exchange Burns.

Brandon, Man., July 25.—The Manitoba government telephone exchange here, together with valuable apparatus, was destroyed by fire Thursday afternoon. The loss is $100,000.

ALL PRAISE LABOR LAW

Wisconsin Compensation Statute Discussed at Milwaukee.

William Mauthe Says All Parties Gain By Its Operation.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 25.—The attitude of the physician toward the workmen's compensation act was voiced by Dr. Gilbert E. Seaman of Milwaukee at today's joint session of the Liability Insurance and Industrial Commission of Wisconsin.

Dr. Seaman said he believed physicians should acquire knowledge of the law in order to avoid serious pitfalls. He predicted that in the future, liability insurance and workmen's compensation acts will be administered under a system which contemplates an examination of all men entering employment, with reference to their physical fitness for the work they expect to do.

Dr. J. J. McGovern of Milwaukee spoke on "Infections Due to Industrial Accidents." His paper dwelt upon the treatment of wounds resulting from accidents.

Tribute to Lawyers.

Attorney General Walter C. Owen paid a tribute to the legal profession for its general attitude on workmen's compensation. He predicted with confidence that "as the lawyers who were the members of the legislature subordinated self-interest and made it possible for the workmen's compensation law to go upon the statute books, so will the practicing lawyers of the state take notice of its beneficial result and, true to that patriotism and the high motives characteristic of the profession, do all within their power to bring about a correct and perfect understanding of the law, to the end that its beneficent influences will multiply, thus brightening the lives and blessing the homes of the workingmen in this state."

"The employers' views of workmen's compensation" was the theme of a paper delivered by William Mauthe of Fond du Lac.

"The act," he said, "saves for the Wisconsin employers half a million dollars annually. It pays half a million more in compensation to the injured workmen, and through the industrial commission, annually saves for the people of the state a quarter of a million in court costs. Many employers who at first refused to approve of the act were misled. Practically all will eventually accept it."

train to which the car was attached they expected to find friends and relatives of the convicts, and threats had been made that attempts to release the men might be looked for anywhere between Ossining and Auburn. For this reason there were almost as many guards on the train as there were convicts.

Threaten Vengeance.

The town of Ossining last night and this morning was full of men breathing vengeance against the prison authorities.

After having rid the prison of the second termers to be transferred to Auburn, Warden Clancy expects to have no more trouble keeping order. The rest of the second term convicts are to be sent away tomorrow. To them and a few of their more desperate sympathizers the warden attributes the mutinies that broke out at Sing Sing this week, the two fires in the prison shops and an attempt to murder a negro convict whom the mutineers regarded as a traitor.

LETTER FROM BEDE TO MULHALL

lltical campaign work and in efforts to head off labor legislation.

The senate committee also has indicated that it will not permit a general cross-examination of Mulhall by attorneys or officers of the manufacturers, and those officials will attempt to make Mulhall defend his statements before the house committee next week.

Talked With Lodge.

Mulhall testified that he went to Massachusetts in August, 1910, and wrote General Manager Bird of the Manufacturers' association of a conference with Senator Lodge and Chase Hatfield, chairman of the state committee.

"Senator Lodge pays us all kinds of compliments for the work we are doing, and judge we will have his support more actively during the next campaign," wrote Mulhall.

In other letters Mr. Mulhall wrote that "through our efforts we have beaten the Hon. T. D. Nichols of the Tenth Pennsylvania and we also have beaten notorious George A. Pearre, of injunction fame, in the Sixth Maryland."

On Aug. 30 Mulhall wrote President Taft asking for an interview for Bird and himself.

"It will be a great help to have a number of the leaders of the associations in touch with the leaders of our party throughout the country in the present crisis," the letter ran.

Claims Letter From Norton.

Mulhall swore he received a reply from C. D. Norton, the president's secretary, arranging the interview for Monday afternoon, Sept. 12, at Beverly.

Senator Nelson questioned Mulhall closely about items in the expense accounts, which frequently showed $80 amounts "paid to two hasty workers" for services in the Sixth New Jersey district. Mulhall swore he dealt with a man named "Feeny," and that he paid him the money in cash, usually meeting him in a Philadelphia hotel. The item came nearly weekly.

Oct. 5, 1910, Mulhall wrote Former Senator Foraker about his talk with President Taft, saying he had submitted names of men who would help him in the campaign.

Says Taft Was Pleased.

"He seemed to scrutinize the list very closely," Mulhall wrote, "and talked as if John H. Taylor of East Liverpool and H. H. Hanna were not enthusiastic friends of his.

"He was greatly pleased with the work I told him had been done in Massachusetts and other states, and advised me to inform our people to do everything we possibly could to keep in touch with congress so they might be able to help in close congressional districts."

ALL MICHIGAN NATIONAL GUARD BEING RUSHED TO CALUMET

with pieces of ore.

Many others were bruised or cut, but all will recover with the probable exception of Danblom.

The attack on the deputies at Shaft No. 2, was exceedingly fierce for a few minutes. The deputies were unarmed. There was a scrimmage during which several of the deputies were knocked down by blows on the head or body. In this fight Unsworth, Danblom and Trestrall were injured. All were loaded into an ambulance and taken to the Calumet & Hecla hospital for treatment.

Yelled Around Shaft.

Large numbers of strikers gathered about No. 2 Calumet & Hecla shaft this morning, but made no demonstration other than letting out yells.

They threatened to go to the superior boiler house of Calumet & Hecla and draw fires, but so far have made no attempt to do this.

General closing of salonns is expected if more violence occurs. The coming of the troops probably will cause the abandonment of this year's encampment of militia which was to have been held next month.

Governor Ferris is being kept advised of developments, and is not expected unless the situation takes a critical turn. Troops were welcomed by the people generally, as the violence of yesterday presaged more serious trouble. Deputies unarmed were unable to cope with the strikers and the authorities were reluctant to permit the use of arms.

Last night's mass meetings and parades developed no disturbances. The Western Federation of Miners' organization is holding out for a conference with the mine managers. This, it is said, will not be granted.

Men Growing Sullen.

The plans for today of Maj. Guy Wilson of Flint, who is senior officer here, so far are not announced. Col. Boucher will take charge tonight. The strikers are sullen, changing with the arrival of troops from their former mood, and a great majority carry weapons of some sort. Any clash is certain to mean bloodshed. Miners' Federation officials and local union heads are trying to restrain the men.

Several false alarms of fire have been turned in since the opening of the strike, presumably by strikers, and the authorities are augmented by hundreds of especially sworn deputies to act in case the strikers really commit any acts of incendiarism. There are six well equipped fire departments in the Calumet district, and every mine is newly equipped with government-approved underground fire-fighting and life-saving apparatus and efficient crews.

Although half the Copper Country militiamen are mine workers, and most of the others have work about the mine shops, almost a full quota are out with both organizations. The strike is not at all in keeping with the feeling of the general class of workmen of the district, and although it was called by the Federation of Miners, who were successful in stopping all work by terrifying non-union men and mobbing those attempting to work, the Federation and its strike represent really only a small percentage of the 20,000 employes of mining companies of Houghton county.

Many Not Citizens.

Almost to a man the strikers are aliens and non-English-speaking. There are very few naturalized citizens, even.

The present situation is unbearable to a majority of the workers, who are thus thrown out of employment, and by these the coming of troops is heartily welcomed.

It is believed by some while troops are here the mines will be reopened.

It is said most of the non-union men are willing to go to work if shafts are guarded. Non-union English miners continue to leave the copper country on all trains.

In the strike area of seventy-five miles 25,000 or more men are idle. These include surface and stamp mill hands. The smelters are still operating. The strikers for the most part are young, unmarried Austrians, Finns, Hungarians and Bulgarians.

Mine Manager Silent.

General Manager MacNaughton of the Calumet & Hecla, which also controls the Osecola, Tamarack, Ahmeek, Allouez, La Salle, Isle Royale and Superior, has so far declined to be quoted as to his attitude in the trouble.

The union leaders hold fast to their previous attitude, demanding recognition of the Western Federation of Miners, but this was not even considered by the company managements.

Feel Pinch in Homes.

The pinch of strike conditions, however, spread more generally through the score or more of communities dependent upon the mines, mills and smelters. The action of Hancock retailers in refusing further credits to customers yesterday was repeated in other sections of the district, and it was announced that the wholesalers would take similar action Monday. As a consequence there was little of the holiday spirit which frequently shows itself in the initial stages of mine strikes.

Union and non-union men alike were showing their appreciation of the fact that the strike was likely to evolve into a long siege, with the companies abandoning work of all kinds as rapidly as conditions required such action.

Plan Big Meetings.

At union headquarters plans were laid for a big mass meeting next Sunday and for district and local meetings tonight and tomorrow.

Guy E. Miller, Colorado member of the executive board of the Western Federation of Minners, issued a statement in which he compared conditions in Calumet with those in other copper producing sections.

"The cause of the strike here was a deep-seated unrest, the extent of which the company managements failed to realize," he said. "In asking recognition of the union, an eight-hour day, abolition of the one-man drill and improved conditions generally, we have simply tried to put the miners and surface workers of the Lake Superior mines on a par with men doing similar work in other parts of America.

Compares Conditions.

"In Butte, for instance, the minimum wage with copper at 15 cents is $3.75 a day for underground men, and in no case does it go below $3.50. In Arizona it averages $3.75; but in the Calumet district the minimum is from $2 to $2.50 and the men have been working from 10 to 12 hours a day, whereas in other mining sections eight hours constitutes a day's labor.

"These facts should effectually dispose of any argument by the company that competitive conditions in the metal markets compelled them to keep their men on the long hours and low wage basis that have prevailed here.

"Insistence of the abolition of the one-man drill is made on similar grounds and also because the men employed on them undergo back-breaking labor and peculiarly dangerous conditions. The minimum weight to be handled on such a drill is 150 pounds, and it is a strenuous task to set up, brace and tend such a machine. Only a few days ago a miner working alone in stope was struck down by a fall of rock, and he lay there for hours before assistance reached him.

As to Recognition.

"Recognition of the union, we feel, is a reasonable request, inasmuch as we think that men who work in a given industry should be allowed some voice in determining conditions under which that industry is to be conducted, just as an ordinary citizen has a voice in the affairs of the government which rules him.

"The attempt to improve conditions here came to a climax July 14, when the Federation sent a request to all the companies that within a week they set a date for a conference. One company refused to acknowledge that such a letter had been received. The others merely placed them on file, but vouchsafed no reply. There was nothing for the men to do then except strike, and I believe the companies were considerably surprised by the extent of the movement. A union's strength is not always measured by the number of its active members."

At the Baltic location a body of strikers today clashed with deputies, removing their stars and ordering them away. The mine management considered calling for troops when one of the officers was beaten, but the disturbance ended quickly and the union men marched away to other mines on the south range.

All Militia Ordered Out.

Lansing, Mich., July 25.—It was announced in the adjutant general's office here this morning that practically every company in the Michigan National Guard was either on its way to the Copper country or would entrain as soon as cars are available, in response to the governor's orders late yesterday. It was expected that more than 2,000 state militiamen would be in the strike zone before tomorrow night. Several companies are already there.

Considerable delay was caused in Detroit and some of the other larger cities in the state in getting the troops away, because of the lack of transportation facilities. All of the companies spent the night in their armories, and were ready today to board the trains just as soon as they were made up.

Brig. Gen. P. L. Abbey, head of the state militia, left last night for Calumet, where he will take charge of the situation.

MUTUAL INSURANCE BANKERS' COMPANY.

Madison, Wis., July 25.—The first meeting of the incorporators of the Bank Deposit Mutual Insurance company was held Wednesday afternoon in the office of State Insurance Commissioner Ekern, and the following well known bankers were elected to serve as the first board of directors:

For three years—E. A. Dow, Plymouth; H. A. Moehlenpah, Clinton; Earle Pease, Grand Rapids. For two years—A. E. Bradford, Augusta; C. R. Thomson, Richalnd Center; F. W. Humphrey, Shawano. For one year—George D. Bartlett, secretary of Wisconsin Bankers' association, Milwaukee; E. F. Willams, Delavan; W. A. Beng, Mosinee.

E. A. Dow, ex-president of the Wisconsin Bankers' association, was elected president of the insurance company for the coming year; Earle Pease, vice president, and George D. Bartlett, secretary and treasurer. The officers-elect were instructed to prepare application blanks and to forward them to banks throughout the state. They will be sent out of Secretary Bartlett's office within the coming week.

GIRL FALLS INTO CISTERN BUT SAVED.

Beach, N. D., July 25.—The 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Arness came near meeting her death in a cistern. The little one was playing around a cistern with her sister when she suddenly dropped through the top. The oldest daughter ran to the house and notified the folks. In a few seconds Olaf Arness was in the cistern and had the child rescued. The little one was under the water and was unconscious when saved. A few moments more and life would have gone out. There was about five feet of water in the cistern at the time.

PUT LIMIT ON SALOONS

No More Licenses Will Be Issued for the Suburbs.

New Duluth Has Three—Four More Applications Received.

No additional saloons will be allowed at New Duluth.

The council granted a transfer last Monday to C. N. Inforzato for 1502 Commonwealth avenue, but no others will be permitted by the city to locate in the western suburbs.

Since Inforzato made his application four others have applied to the commission for transfer to that locality. Commissioner Hicken announced this morning that their applications will not receive favorable consideration.

When Inforzato opens his place, New Duluth will have three saloons. All of them will be on Commonwealth avenue, which is the only district within the patrol limits. It is claimed that blindpigging has been stopped in the vicinity of the steel plant, including Gary and New Duluth. That fact was used as an argument that a third saloon should be allowed to locate in that part of the city.

When Inforzato first applied for a transfer it was refused by a vote of 3 to 2, on the representation that the people were almost unanimously opposed to any new saloons. When the license came up last Monday no one appeared in opposition to it and it was passed unanimously.

CIVIL SERVICE BOARD MEETING

Examinations for City Employes Will Be Held Soon.

The city civil service board will hold its next meeting at the city hall this evening.

The board will pass upon the recent examinations for policemen and firemen and make arrangements for the next examination. This will be to fill city positions other than those in the police and fire departments. Among those who will take the tests are about thirty employes who have been appointed since the charter was approved, Dec. 3.

The charter went into effect Jan. 3, but the section relative to civil service provides that all employes within the scope of that chapter on the date of the charter's adoption shall retain their positions unless removed for cause. The examinations are competitive, so that it is likely that others will also take them.

WILSON IS GETTING CURRENCY AGREEMENT

Talks With Opposing Forces on Congressional Committees.

Washington, July 25.—President Wilson endeavored today to reconcile differences of opinion among the Democratic members of the banking and currency committees on the administration currency bill. It seemed that the administration supporters would make an effort to have their bill reported soon, with a hope that the fight on amendments would be settled in the Democratic caucus.

The president spent most of the forenoon with Representative Wingo of Arkansas, one of those opposed to certain features of the bill.

"The Democrats certainly can and will get together on a bill before long," said Mr. Wingo after the conference.

The president's conference last night with Representative Henry, who has been recommending certain changes, was described today as satisfactory, and administration officials were optimistic that the difference would be adjusted.

It was learned today that the president regards it as inexpedient to incorporate in the bill the findings of the Pujo money trust committee, and that he had pointed out the necessity for keeping recommendations based on the findings separate.

LEAVE CASE TO GOVERNMENT

Recruiting Officers Will Not Be Tried in Municipal Court.

Corporal Frank J. Buck of the United States Marine corps, who together with Corporal Henry A. Hill, U. S. infantry, was arrested a week ago Tuesday on a charge of disorderly conduct and whose case was continued till this afternoon, will not be prosecuted by the city. The entire affair has been turned over to the authorities at Washington and a decision is expected in a few days.

Corporal Hill was discharged following the trial in municipal court last Wednesday, while the case of Corporal Buck was continued until this afternoon to give the local recruiting officer time to take the matter up with the proper authorities of the war department.

It is understood that Corporal Buck will be reduced to the ranks and that he will be transferred to another recruiting station. An official statement has not yet been received from Washington, but the above disposition is expected by the local recruiting officer.

Corporal Buck has been out on $50 bail.

SOME GOING TO WORK.

Mill City Idlers Taking Hint From Threat of Mayor Nye.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 25.—Mayor Wallace G. Nye's order to the police to assist the unemployed in Minneapolis to obtain work and that those who refused jobs when offered them be ordered to leave town or face workhouse sentences, had the effect of thinning the ranks of idle men. Large numbers were shipped to railroad work in the Northwest, while hundreds who were not satisfied with the positions offered left the city to escape arrest.

One labor agent reported to the police that he offered jobs without fees to 200 men at $2.50 for nine hours' work. Most of them refused, he said. They declared they would wait until higher wages were offered, according to the agent.

No arrests were made yesterday, Chief of Police Oscar Martinson having been given orders by the mayor to give the men reasonable time. Beginning today, however, arrests are promised.

ELLIOTT TO REORGANIZE NEW HAVEN

Will Become Chairman of Board When Office Is Created.

New York, July 25.—It was announced late today that Howard Elliott will become chairman of the board of the directors in control of the entire New Haven system as soon as the by-laws of the company can be amended to create that position. This probably will be at the stockholders meeting in October. President Mellen will continue in office until Sept. 1.

It had already been determined that the new chairman shall have absolute control of the affairs of the system and be in entire charge of the radical re-organization of the New Haven and its interests that is to be made.

TODD WILL DIRECT WAR AGAINST TRUST

New York Lawyer Is Nominated for Job By Wilson.

Washington, July 25.—George Carroll Todd, a New York lawyer, now in the department of justice, was today nominated by President Wilson to be assistant to the attorney general. He will be in direct charge of anti-trust work, succeeding James A. Fowler of Knoxville, Tenn.

Other nominations were: Assistant secretary of the treasury—Charles S. Hamlin of Massachussets.

Register of the treasury—Adam E. Patterson of Oklahoma.

Assistant tresaurer of the United States at San Francisco—William J. McGee of California.

Superintendent of the mint at San Francisco—Thaddeus W. H. Shanlhan of California.

SAYS ALL SHOWS ARE CENSORED

Empress Theater Manager Claims Dance Was Not Objectionable.

William Abrahamson, manager of the Empress theater, said this morning that all shows which are staged at his theater are carefully censored by himself and others, generally before they make their appearance in Duluth. Referring to the complaint which was made against a dancing act the fore part of the week, he declared that the basis of it was that, in one place the dancers embraced too closely and that no other objection was voiced against it.

He stated that no one could have taken any exception to the clothing which was worn by either of the performers, as they were fully dressed in conventional garments. Several people who saw the act complained to Commissioner Hicken of the safety division that it was immodest and too suggestive in parts. At his request C. Dinwiddie of the welfare board visited the theater and upon receiving his report Commissioner Hicken directed the police to prevent any repetitions.

Mr. Abrahamson said he was always ready to receive any suggestions in regard to the performances at his theater and do his part in keeping them clean.

SUIT TO QUIET TITLE IN COURT

Before Judge Fesler this afternoon in district court the trial of the suit to quiet title to certain descriptions of land in 60-15, 56-18 and 58-21 brought by the Northern Abstract company of this city against Angus McEachin and thirteen other defendants will be brought to trial.

Later during the afternoon, Judge Fesler will take up the matter of granting or refusing a temporary injunction to the Ironton Park Land company which seeks to restrain Waldemar Nicholayson from selling lots as the company's agent under a contract which the concern now holds was made at an illegal meeting of the directors.

WILL REORGANIZE WEATHER BUREAU

Washington, July 25.—Reorganization of the weather bureau is soon to be made as a result of a report made today to Secretary Houston by a special committee appointed some time ago to investigate its workings. The committee consisted of E. H. Dowie, C. F. Marvin and E. B. Calvert.

The changes they recommend will not be put into effect all at one time. Secretary Houston said today he was not ready to announce what they would be, but it is known that economies will result in certain lines by doing away with duplications.

No successor to Willis L. Moore, dismissed as head of the bureau some time ago, has yet been announced, though a man has been selected.

BURLESON IGNORES PARCEL POST CRITICS

Washington, July 25.—Despite senatorial criticism of the proposed reduction in parcel post rates and the increased size of the packages, Postmaster General Burleson today announced he would issue the finals orders at once, putting the change into effect Aug. 15.

The announcement came after the wisdom of making the changes had been subjected to a searching review before the senate postoffice committee, in the presence of the postmaster general.

Chairman Clark of the interstate commerce commission, explaining why the commission had sanctioned the proposed changes, said he believed the postmaster general had ample power under the law to make the changes.

"I am convinced that the postoffice department ought to, can and will extend the parcel post until it will carry all packages up to 100 pounds," he added.

A DUKE WHOSE FREAK BETS AMAZED ENGLAND

From Pearson's Weekly: James Douglas, fourth and last duke of Queensberry, was not exactly a saint.

Indeed, under his universally known nickname of "Old Q." he figured in possibly more scandalous stories than any other man of his day and generation, which is saying a good deal, for his grace lived in an age when men drank deeply, loved lightly, fought fiercely and gambled recklessly.

But whatever might be said against his fair fame in other directions, no one ever whispered a word against his honor as an owner of race horses. For years he made it a practice to ride his own mounts, and he rode them straight.

This may not seem much of a distinction nowadays. But the standard of honor was lower then than it is at present. Even the holders of old and honored names were not always free from suspicion of "jockeying" the public.

James Douglas, however, was known to be averse from even the appearance of trickery, and he was in consequence the idol of the racing public whenever he appeared on the course. In the many strange wagers, too, in which he figured as one of the principals, he always found plenty of followers, for people knew that he bet to win, if winning were humanly possible.

An Amazing Wager.

Thus, when at the age of 25 he laid a wager of one thousand guineas that he would produce a carriage that could be driven nineteen miles in one hour, the public showed its faith in him by backing him to the tune of fifty thousand pounds, at odds on that averaged something like 3 to 1.

By the terms of the bet he was to have the carriage ready on Newmarket Heath, Aug. 29, 1750, and such was the public interest in the event that a crowd estimated to number in excess of 100,000 persons assembled there on that day, people coming from all parts of England on foot, on horseback and in vehicles of every description.

The carriage, when uncovered, proved to be an extraordinary contrivance. It was, indeed, not so much a carriage as the framework of a carriage, made principally of whalebone, steel springs and leather straps. It was drawn by four horses, each ridden by a postillion armed with whip and spur

The seat for the driver was placed very low in the rear, and consisted of leather straps padded with velvet. Ball bearings were not then invented, of course, but the ends of the axles revolved in brass sockets fitted with the old-time equivalent of the modern oil bath. The whole weighed less than one and a half hundred weight.

Before this carriage was decided on several others had been tried, about 700 pounds having been spent in preliminary experiments. Douglas won his wager, however, together with about 10,000 pounds in side bets, for the carriage covered the distance in fifty-three minutes and twenty-seven seconds, leaving fully time enough to have gone another mile.

Inclosed the Letter in a Cricket Ball.

Soon after this he made a series of bets, aggregating nearly 10,000 guineas, that he would have a letter conveyed fifty miles within an hour. As this was long before the days of steam, the feat was looked upon as an impossible one. But "Old Q." successfully accomplished it by inclosing the missive in a cricket ball, which was thrown from hand to hand by relays of expert catchers.

About this time he fell in love with Miss Pelham, the ravishingly beautiful daughter of the then secretary of state, and niece of the Duke of Newcastle. The Duke of Hamilton was also a suitor for the lady's hand, and to settle which of them was to retire in favor of the other, the two noblemen agreed to race against one another, each to ride his own horse. A wager of 1,000 guineas also depended on the result.

Queensberry showed superb jockeyship and won by a short head. The lady does not seem to have taken amiss this summary method of disposing of her person and soon afterward the couple became engaged.

Almost on the eve of the wedding, however, the engagement was officially declared "off," and, though the reason was never made public, it is fairly certain that the couple were genuinely in love with one another, and anxious to be married, and that the opposition came from the young lady's relatives. It is a noteworthy fact that both the lovers remained single to the day of their deaths.

Live for Pleasure Alone.

The disappointment had probably much to do with launching "Old Q." on that career of fashionable dissipation which was afterwards to make his name a byword even amongst the notoriously lax set in which he moved. Not that he ever did anything dishonorable according to his code of morality. In other words, he remained to the end of his life a gentleman, as the term "gentleman" was understood in those days.

But he openly avowed that henceforth he meant to live for pleasure alone, and as a first step towards the attainment of his object he had built for him at Richmond a villa which was a marvel of splendor.

Here his amours, however, exposed him to the vengeance of men whom he had supplanted, or whose wives and daughters he had played fast and loose with, and he was several times challenged to fight duels. "Old Q.," however, although not exactly a coward, seems to have had a constitutional aversion to meeting an adversary in mortal combat.

Most of his "affairs of honor" he managed to compromise, either by a money payment or an apology, or both combined. But on one occasion the aggrieved party, a fire eating Irish nobleman, would take no denial, and a duel was arranged to take place on Wimbledon common, the weapons to be pistols.

Brought a Coffin for "Old Q."

On the morning appointed for the meeting the Irishman appeared on the ground somewhat late, followed by a closed carriage of hearselike appearance, when two men presently withdrew a coffin, which they laid upon the grass. Considerably agitated, "Old Q." demanded of his antagonist what he meant by this strange proceeding.

"Well, my dear fellow," was the reply, "you know, of course, that I never miss my man, and as I feel in excellent form today I make no doubt but you will need a coffin before many more minutes are over, and so, you see, I have had the consideration and foresight to bring one along with me, in order to save your friends trouble."

This coldblooded speech, delivered with the most perfect nonchalance of manner, was too much for Queensberry's nerves. He turned deadly pale, dropped his pistol and bolted from the spot.

Milk and Brandy Baths.

Nevertheless, up to almost the day of his death, which took place at the advanced age of 86, "Old Q." continued to scandalize the Mrs. Grundies of his day by all sorts of mad tricks and wild pranks. "Country cousins," up in London for a holiday, would be escorted down Piccadilly in order to have the "wicked old duke" pointed out to them, sitting, as was his custom, on the balcony of his club, dressed in a blue coat and yellow breeches, and consistently ogling through his glasses everything in petticoats that passed within range of his vision.

Then, too, would be told with bated breath wonderful stories of how he sustained his flagging energies, and practically defied old age, with all kinds of wonderful restoratives, notably milk and brandy baths, followed by copious draughts of his world-famous Tokay wine, the remnants of which sold, after his death, for 100 guineas a dozen.

NO "STIMULANTS" FOR JIM.

Judge: "I think, madam," said the professionally polite young doctor to the wife of his first patient in the backwoods of a decidedly non-prohibition state. "I think that your husband needs a good stimulant of some sort, and I will leave for him some—"

"No, sir!" she said, with marked decision. "You ain't a goin' to leave Jim no stimmylants like ki-nine or tinkshur of iron nor that malt stuff some folks takes nowadays without knowin' what it'll do to their systems! 'Me an' Jim is both down on all stimmylants. I'm goin' to fix him up a quart or so o' good rye whisky to take first thing in the mornin', an I'll stir him up a good, strong whisky eggnog at noon, and let him have a steamin' hot brandy punch along in the middle o' the afternoon, an' give him a glass o' wild grape wine at night; but as for stimmylants, he ain't goin' to take none of 'em, long as I can help it."

THE NEW STYLE IN HOMES

Modern Colonial Is America's Distinctive Style.

Gardner Teall in the Craftsman: Within the last very few years, some of our most significant and some of our scarcely known-at-all architects have commenced really to build American homes. They have ignored Europe except historically, they have closed their eyes to this nightmare of imitation domestic architecture and have produced in the East and in the West houses elaborate and simple, large and small, suited to our way of living, to our bank accounts, to our climate, to our point of view toward life, beautiful, comfortable, definitely American.

A certain percentage of these houses has, consciously or unconsciously, linked back to the old Colonial styles, to the Southern great plantation house suggesting the English Adams period, to the beautiful stone Dutch houses still to be found occasionally in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware and to the houses which our English-Holland ancestors built from Connecticut to Maine, very simple, very sturdy, suggesting a bit of the warlike spirit that the old Puritans brought to the peaceful New England coast.

They are the so-called modern Colonial houses. I am not sure that the architects would so designate them. They are just called modern homes by these men. And yet so full of memory are they of the beauties of our first really fine architectural efforts that in writing we are rather proud to feel in them a certain aftermath of the first best architecture we were capable of in this country. Perhaps it is because they are country houses built in the same climate for somewhat the same way of living. It is significant to note how completely the Spanish-Moorish architecture fits the sunlit coast of California and how interestingly and wisely all the recent architects there have adjusted it and re-adjusted it to the life of the Californian people.

It is as definite a type of architecture as exists today in modern home building and as widely different from England and France and Italy, and even Eastern America, as could well be imagined. It is suited to the warm climate of the West, the long summers, the desire to live out of doors. Yet in every instance all along the California sea coast the new homes remind you of Spain and touch your memory of the old Moorish architecture of the Spanish sea country.

All of which shows us that we are at last beginning to do what we should have done back in the '60s, build the kind of houses we want for the kind of lives we must lead, forget Europe except as we are interested in what she has done for herself, and think as little of imitating what she has done as she would think of imitating our Spanish architecture, or our modern Colonial houses built for ourselves—in other words, create for the future our own architecture and take joy and pride in creating it.

THE GENTLE READER.

Cincinnati Times-Star: Where, oh, where is the gentle reader? Where is he whom the classicists and stylists addressed with deference? The writers of the long ago would lure their readers into fields of verbiage and then show them the rare flowers of rhetoric they had cultivated. It was all a very gentlemanly affair, and very charming, too, when done with the discursiveness of an Addison or a De Quincey. Did we say "discursiveness?" How time changes the definition of a word.

According to contemporary literature, the gentle reader is an institution of the past. If he exists, he retires far from the madding and yellow proffers of our "best seller." Instead of yielding to bright new bindings and illustrations in colors, he brushes the dust from the covers of an old friend.

The present world is not for the gentle reader. Literature has become a knock-down and drag-out affair. The author who will not assault his readers stands but little chance of receiving a hearing. The reader no longer cares for science in the mental conflict between himself and the author. If the author has him not groggy by the third chapter or on the ropes by the fifth, the book will be thrown aside as unworthy of attention in a busy world. And if the writer fails to deliver a knock-out in the final chapter, the volume seems as tame as a minuet at a tango ball. Mutilate our minds! Bruise our brains! That's the stuff! We are here but a little while, and while here we don't wish to waste our minds on such a bauble as thinking.

Pass on, gentle reader. You are as obsolete as domesticity.

TO KEEP WEEDS FROM WALKS.

Los Angeles Weekly Times: Several methods are resorted to in killing weeds in paths and roads. Perhaps the best, and in the end the cheapest, is the use of crude oil or petroleum. Better still, clean weeds out of roads and paths first. Shape the latter up as you wish them. Roll smooth and hard. Apply crude oil with a watering can having a coarse rose or sprinkler. Sift fine sand in the oil and allow it to get somewhat dry, then roll again, having enough sand on top so the oil will not stick to the roller. After a few days the oil will be dry enough to allow sweeping the surplus sand up and removing it. If such paths are frequently rolled, there will soon be weedless paths that are in good order for all time.

For simply killing weeds and rendering the soil unfit for their future growth, no poison is better than white arsenic. It is the cheapest of all poisons and effectually destroys all plant life. One pound of arsenic to a barrel of water should be strong enough. Dissolve the arsenic in a small quantity of hot water and add to the barrel of cold water. This solution may be applied with a spray pump or a sprinkling can. Care should be taken that the poison dries up or evaporates in the paths, for rain or a garden hose left leaking might carry this poison to some tree or shrub, resulting in sure death.

RATIONS REDUCED.

San Francisco Argonaut: Sir Leopold McClintock, the Arctic explorer, was once giving an account of his experiences amid the ice fields of the North.

"We certainly would have traveled much farther," he explained, "had not our dogs given out at a critical time."

"But," exclaimed the lady, who had been listening very intently, "I thought the Eskimo dogs were perfectly tireless creatures."

Sir Leopold's face wore a whimsically gloomy expression as he replied:

"I—er—speak in a culinary sense, miss."

LOOKING FOR THE ASSETS

President of Insurance Company Must Tell Where Money Went.

Ordered By Court to Appear Before Examiner and Make Disclosures.

Julius H. Block, former state treasurer and a former candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, who figured in a tilt with Representative H. H. Harrison of Stillwater in the latter's fight for the passage of the proposed "blue sky law," will be asked to disclose in supplementary proceedings what has become of the assets of the United States & Dominion Life Insurance company, of which he is president.

Judge Bert Fesler in district court this morning signed an order applied for by William P. Harrison, attorney for a number of judgment creditors of the company which requires Mr. Block and other officers and directors of the defunct insurance company to appear before James E. Gardner, to testify as to what has become of the assets of the concern.

During the last session of the legislature, Mr. Block and the United States & Dominion Insurance company were the subject of an attack made by Representative Harrison, who cited it as an example of why a "blue sky law" was a necessity for the protection of the investing public. The attack was answered by Mr. Block, who assured Mr. Harrison, who was a stockholder in the concern, that if he would attend a meeting of the stockholders to be held later, that the charges which he had made would be satisfactorily explained away. The explanations, however, were not forthcoming and a short time afterwards the company went under.

In district court recently, C. D. Rogers, the New England National Bank, the National Mahawie Bank, the First National Banw of Marysville, Kan., and others took default judgments against the insurance company on promissory notes secured by the company's stock as collateral. Some of the notes were signed by Mr. Block's son, and others of the notes were given by other persons who are understood to have been closely connected with the company. The court ordered the collateral sold. It now develops that the judgment creditors have not been able to sell the stock or realize anything from the collateral.

It is understood that the position taken by the judgment creditors is that the money secured on the notes was in reality secured for Mr. Block, who put up the stock of the company as collateral.

Under the order of the court today, he and other officers of the company will be obliged to appear and disclose what was done with the money and other particulars in the transaction.

The date for the hearing in supplementary proceedings is July 29.

Looking For Missing Man.
Relatives of Sivert Anderson are anxious to know of his present whereabouts, according to a communication received yesterday by Chief Troyer. Anderson was picked up here about eighteen months ago, suffering with fits, and was at that time placed in a local hospital. He left after a short time and has not been heard from since.

Lure of the Sawdust.
The lure of the sawdust proved too much for Walter Johnson, 18 years old, of Minneapolis, who is reported to have run away from home Wednesday evening to join the Barnum & Bailey circus, which played here yesterday. Chief Troyer was notified of the boy's disappearance by the Minneapolis police, but all efforts to find him last evening proved fruitless.

Another Victim.
Another good samaritan was yesterday added to the already long list of those who befriended their unfortunate brothers only to their own sorrow. This time it is James Bell of Superior, who reported to the police of that city yesterday that his roommate had stolen $6 in cash and a pair of tan colored shoes from his room on Wednesday night. Bell said he met the man Wednesday evening and upon learning that the latter had no place to sleep, offered to share his own room. The local police were notified of the robbery yesterday afternoon.

Bitten by Dog.
Oliver Hendrickson, 4 years old, was bitten by a small white dog shortly after noon yesterday, while walking near Sixth avenue west and Superior street with his mother. The police are now looking for the animal.

Cigarette Licenses Obtained.
All but two of the cigarette licenses which had been granted by the council were taken out yesterday and the city's cash balance was increased $350. A number of dealers had made their applications but had failed to pay the $25 fee after the council had acted favorably on them. The police will make a canvass of the city shortly to determine whether or not any one is handling cigarettes without having taken out a license. Each license is good for two years.

Will Is Filed.
In probate court yesterday afternoon, the will of the late Janko Martinovich of Eveleth was filed yesterday. The estate consists of property on the range and is valued at about $4,000. All is bequeathed to the widow, although there are seven minor children in the family.

Judge Bregstone Will Speak.
Judge Phillip P. Bregstone of Chicago, one of the most prominent Zionists of the country, will speak this evening at 8 o'clock at the Temple Emanuel, Seventh avenue east and Second street, on "The Importance of History."

Join the Ranks.
Against the common enemy! Impure milk.

It's a big fight but you can do a lot toward wiping out this menace to good health by using Bridgman-Russell's pasteurized milk. It's pure, clean and cold. Phone us for our wagon to make daily calls. Bridgman-Russell Co. 16 West First street.

"Columbia Larks" free to boys

It's a loud nd for tomorrow night's "Lark o' the Lake" doings—a whistle on which a tune can be played or a rooster imitated. One thousand of them will be given away free to boys in our second-floor office, between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. No sooner nor later.
THE COLUMBIA.

Wanted For Desertion.
John B. Loeyar, 602 East Sixth street, is wanted by the police on a charge of abandoning his family. Loeyar is a cement contractor, 43 years old. He is well known about the city, having lived here a number of years.

Would Oust Fish Company.
Suit was started in municipal court this morning by A. M. Marshall against the Scandia Fish company for unlawful detainer, the plaintiff claiming that the fish company has occupied a warehouse on Park Point since June 30, after having received written notices to vacate the building. Washburn, Bailey & Mitchell are representing Mr. Marshall and Fryburger, Fulton & Spears are appearing for the defendant company. Mr. Marshall asks for judgment and the costs of the suit.

For Sale—Shetland Pony.
Large enough to be useful, also with full outfit, harness, saddle, carts, sleigh. P 249, Herald.

Will Speak at Mission.
Charles Williams will speak at Gospel Hope mission at 108 Lake avenue south tomorrow night.

Pleads Not Guilty.
Philip King, arrested yesterday afternoon by Leo Bernhardt, meat inspector, on a charge of selling meat without a license, was arraigned in police court this morning. He pleaded not guilty and his case was set for 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Arrested for Begging.
Alfred Ciccase, 19 years old, who was arrested last evening by Patrolman Setterquist for begging at Lakeside, pleaded not guilty to the charge when he was arraigned this morning. His case was set for 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Closes at 6 P. M. Saturday.
Shop before 6, or you'll have to wait until Monday for the riddance bargains offered tomorrow at Gray's.

Charged With Trespass.
Louis La Prairie and Edward Wakazoo, Indians, were arrested last evening by Special Officers Tims and Bishop for trespassing. They told the court this morning that they came here from Cloquet to see the circus and that they have work there as soon as they go back. Sentence was suspended in each case.

Not an Old Shipmate.
Henry Peterson, who lives with his family on Park Point, met an old shipmate last evening. This was the cause for rejoicing and as a result Peterson was arrested shortly before midnight on a disorderly conduct charge. He pleaded guilty in court this morning, telling the judge that this was the first time he had ever been arrested. The court suspended sentence.

Distributers Arrested.
O. M. Scroggan and Armour Bartholomew were arrested this morning for unlawfully distributing medicine about the city. They were arrested by Detectives Toewe and Bradley, who claim that the men were handing out samples of medicine to small children, instead of adults, according to the law. Bartholomew pleaded guilty, while Scroggan pleaded not guilty when they were arraigned this morning. Their cases were continued over until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Jailor Is Named.
Sheriff Harry E. McKinnon of Carlton county has appointed William E. Beattie, jailor for Carlton county to succeed William Flynn, who resigned to take up his new duties as postmaster of Carlton. Judges of the district court this morning signed an order fixing the salary of Beattie at $50 per month, the same as his predecessor.

Thanks From Deaf.
Mayor Prince today received a letter from D. E. Tomlinson, secretary of the Minnesota Association of the Deaf, conveying to him and others who addressed their recent gathering in this city the thanks of the association. The association held its annual convention in Duluth this summer.

Delegates Elected.
Court No. 724, I. O. F., held its regular meeting last evening at the U. O. F. hall and elected delegates to the annual session of the high court to be held in Duluth on Aug. 13.

Wants Lien on Property.
In district court this morning George W. Newton started a mechanics' lien action against A. Anderson, in which he seeks to recover $90.81 for labor and material furnished in the construction of a house on lot 18, block 19, Endion division. In the event that the claim is not satisfied, he asks the court to adjudge the amount a lien on the premises and to order the house to pay the claim and costs.

Dies While on Visit.
James L. Crawford, undertaker, received word this morning from Wells, Minn., of the death there yesterday of Mrs. Maria Durham, the only surviving sister of M. J. Durkan, who died last May. Mrs. Durham had made her home here with her brother, and since his death was living with Mrs. Durkan, 205 South Sixteenth avenue east. She left two weeks ago for a short visit with relatives at Wells. The body will be brought here for interment.

MUSICAL STAR AT HOLLAND

Miss Florence Tanner of Chicago, recently of the LaSalle, one of the largest of Chicago's hotels, Sans Souci park, and the White City, has been engaged by S. Goldberg of the Hotel Holland and will be heard by the public of Duluth at that popular hostelry during the remainder of the summer.

Miss Tanner is well known in musical comedy. The young woman is not only gifted with a very good voice, but she is also an entertainer far above the average in ability. This fall the young woman is to go out with the "Passing Parade," a musical review. During the past season she was one of the principals of a popular musical company and is very well known in the musical comedy field.

During her engagement in Duluth Miss Tanner will sing between the hours of 6:30 and 8:30 p. m. and after 10 p. m.

SUFFRAGETTE "BACKSLIDES"

London, July, 25.—Mrs. Margaret Mackworth, the militant suffragette, daughter of the "coal king," David A. Thomas, has joined the ranks of the "backsliders."

Mrs. Mackworth had been sent to jail for a month for setting fire to a mail box. She was released after a hunger strike, but her license expired yesterday. Rather than return to jail she paid a fine of $50.

COOL BREEZE BROUGHT THEM

Traffic Experts Come to Duluth to Fight Southern Rate Case.

Important Hearing on Cotton Rates to Galveston in Progress.

The interstate commerce commission believes Duluth is the coolest spot on the map at this season of the year.

The evidence is offered today in a hearing being held at the courthouse before Special Examiner Ward Prouty, a son of Commissioner Prouty. The hearing involves rates from Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas to Galveston and other Gulf ports and has no local application. The only excuse for the hearing being held here is "It's Cool in Duluth."

The commission seldom holds hearings in July, but this was a pressing case as the cotton shipping season is in the fall and the parties to the action were anxious to have the case decided before shipping begins next fall. The commission was asked to set the hearing at any cool point and the parties would attend. The commission selected Duluth. Last year under similar circumstances a hearing was held here in a Southeastern case.

About fifty Southwestern railroad men and others interested are in Duluth to attend the hearing. Some of them made it an outing to the summer city of the continent, bringing their wives and daughters to enjoy the cooling breezes of Lake Superior while they are wrestling with questions of rates and service at the courthoue.

The American Round Bale Cotton Press company of New York, manufacturers of a patent gin compressor, and the Anderson-Clayton-Cotton company, operators of the compressor in Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas, and the Southwestern railroads are involved. The claim of the complainants is for a rate on cotton compressed by their process of two-thirds of the ordinary rate, the claim being based on greater density and greater capacity per car. It is claimed that the patent compressor will compress cotton from 30 to 35 pounds per cubic feet in round or square bales, while the usual big square bales will weigh 21½ pounds per cubic foot and load 25,000 pounds to a car against 50,000 pounds to a car by the patent process.

John D. Daish of Washington, D. C., and Judge Sam H. Cowan of Fort Worth are appearing for the complainants. R. W. Flourney and B. L. Anderson of Fort Worth appear as intervenors for the regular cotton compressors and railroad representatives are: Southern Pacific: J. R. Christian, Houston; James G. Wilson, New York; Frisco lines, Fred H. Wood, St. Louis; Rock Island, Wallace T. Hughes, Chicago; J. E. Johnson, Little Rock; Cottonbelt, E. A. Haid, St. Louis; W. F. Murray, Tyler, Tex.; Missouri Pacific, E. Calef, St. Louis; Fred G. Wright, St. Louis; I. & G. N., L. M. Hogstett, Houston; Judge Dabney, Houston; T. & P., I. M. Griffin, Dallas; Santa Fe, J. S. Hershey, J. H. Keefe, A. H. Cullvell, Galveston; James Peabody, Chicago; J. G. Burnett, Topeka.

Women in the party are: Mrs. Christianson; Mrs. Haid, Mrs. Murray, Mrs. Calef and daughter, Mrs. Johanson and child, Mrs. Hogstett.

TELLS TALE OF BITTER ABUSE

Three days after Carrie M. Carlson became the wife of Alfred J. Carlson, she was rudely and unceremoniously dragged from her bed by a drunken husband who shook her until she begged for him to let go.

That was in October, 1898, and only the beginning of a long course of cruel and inhumane treatment, according to allegations made against Carlson by his wife in a divorce suit filed today.

She recites instances of how he blackened her eyes, choked her, struck her cross the face with his fist, pulled her nose until it bled, broke a platter over her hand and kicked her out of the house on a winter night.

Mrs. Carlson is 35 and her husband 48. There are two children, George, 10, and Alverta, 12, of whom the mother asks custody.

This mornirg, Judge Fesler signed an order requiring Carlson to pay $35 attorney fees, $10 suit money, and $20 a month temporary alimony.

Mrs. Carlson claims that she left her husband on Sept. 25, 1907 and that since that time he has not contributed one cent to the support of herself or of the children.

EX-SOLDIER IS SENTENCED

For stealing several articles of clothing and other personal property from boarders and roomers at the West Hotel, Cloquet, on July 19 last, John P. Monroe, aged 24, an ex-soldier, will serve a term at the St. Cloud reformatory.

Monroe was sentenced this morning by District Judge Bert Fesler, following his plea of guilty on information. The case was a Carlton county case but the prisoner was brought to Duluth for sentence owing to the fact that no term of court is now being held at Carlton.

Harry E. McKinnon, sheriff of Carlton county, H. S. Lord, county attorney, and John P. Thompson, clerk of the district court for Carlton county, were attendants in Judge Fesler's court during the proceedings. Attorney J. E. Greene represented the defendant.

Monroe pleaded guilty to a charge of grand larceny, second degree. It was his first offense, so far as the authorities knew.

"CAVES" ARE A NUISANCE

Saloons on Wisconsin Side of River Cause of Many Complaints.

River Suburbs Are Full of Drunken Men on Sundays.

New Duluth people will ask the city commissioners to confer with Douglas county authorities in order to have a stop put to drunkenness and rowdyism which are said to originate in two saloons operated at the Wisconsin side of the steel company's bridge on St. Louis river.

It is claimed that last Sunday more drunken men had been seen in the village than ever before on any one day. These men are said to have been supplied with their liquor at the two saloons on the Wisconsin shore, one of which is known as "The Cave" and the other as "Casey's Cave."

"I never saw so many drunken men in New Duluth as I did Sunday evening," said Sergeant Robert McDermott of New Duluth this morning. "There were young men drunk that I never had seen touch liquor before. These men have secured their stuff at the two 'caves.' The proprietors of these places do not appear to care who they sell the liquor to, as long as they have the money to pay for it.

"With these two places doing business on Sunday, apparently in a free and open manner, it makes it very hard for the New Duluth police department to cope with the situation. The men come across the steel company's bridge and scatter all over the suburb before they are seen. The residents of the suburb intend asking that some step be taken to have the nuisance abated."

The Douglas county board recently refused to grant a license to the saloon which for years operated on an island on the St. Louis river, located opposite the end of Commonwealth avenue. This lessened, for a while, the number of drunks. Similar steps will be asked to be taken regarding the other two places.

MASONS WILL VISIT CLOQUET

A number of Masons from West Duluth are planning to go to Cloquet on Aug. 12 to attend the laying of the cornerstone for a new $20,000 Masonic temple which is being constructed for Dallas lodge, A. F. & A. M.

Invitations have been sent to all the various Masonic lodges of the city to attend this affair. The state worshipful master is expected to be present and officiate at the ceremonies.

It is probable that a special train will be arranged for to convey the Duluth contingents to Cloquet. The crowd will leave early in the forenoon and spend the entire day at Cloquet, returning home late in the evening.

SURPRISE PARTY BY LADIES' AID

When Mrs. C. G. Walters, 228 North Sixty-first avenue west, prepared to entertain the Ladies' Aid society of the Swedish Baptist church yesterday afternoon, she had no intimation that the members were planning a surprise on her in honor of her birthday anniversary. Fifty-five friends, members of the congregation, appeared and presented her with a silver set.

Following a short business session of the society, a social session was held at which Mrs. Walters was the guest of honor. The guests were:

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eklund, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hokanson, Mesdames C. W. Walters, A. Wekling, P. Holter, Charles Sundeen, A. F. Sundeen, Ed Peterson, Andrew Johnson, N. Nelson, E. TRIES TO "KNOCK DOWN" TWO DOLLARS ON COURT

"I'll fine you $15 and costs," said Judge Lanners. "That will be a total of $17."

"Please, Mister Judge, I have only $15 and I pay that right away and you won't have to wait for the money." That is the way Peter Cejovich attempted to save two simoleons after he had pleaded guilty to having assaulted Emil Meaghich of New Duluth with a club yesterday. The plea didn't go with the judge and Cejovich paid the $17.

Meachich was beaten by Cejovich when the former went to a well in the rear of the latter's place of business. The beating is said to have resulted from jealousy, Cejovich claiming that his victim had been trying to break up his home by stealing his wife. He says that Meachich had sent several letters to his wife, one of which, had requested Mrs. Cejovich to run away with him. These letters were not signed, but Cejovich claims that he is sure that they were in Meachich's handwriting.

Cejovich is a baker in the suburb while Meachich is a poolroom owner.

POINTS OUT ASSAILANTS

St. Paul Girl Causes Arrest of Two Circus Employes.

Claims Six Men Assaulted Her in St. Paul Wednesday.

Pointed out by Melba Sherman, 15 years old, as two of the men who assaulted her in St. Paul Wednesday evening, Erwin E. Proper and Frank Radigan, both employes of the Barnum & Bailey circus, which played here yesterday, were arrested at the conclusion of the performance last evening by Detectives Irvine and Schulte.

Detectives James Werrick and Michael Daly of St. Paul and Deputy Sheriff O'Connor of Ramsey county, who came here last evening with the Sherman girl to identify any of the men who assaulted her at the St. Paul circus grounds Wednesday evening, left with the prisoners this afternoon. The men will be arraigned in the St. Paul police court tomorrow morning and their examinations set for next Tuesday, when they will be heard, together with a third man, who was arrested in St. Paul late Wednesday evening.

It was when the Sherman girl appeared on the stand in the St. Paul courtroom yesterday morning that she gave out the story that more than one man had attacked her the evening before. The man arrested in St. Paul was found with the girl, according to one of the detectives who come here for the prisoners. Upon learning that there were more men implicated, the chief of police there ordered Detectives Werrick and Daly to come to Duluth with the girl and have her identify any of the other men. The party arrived here shortly after 7 o'clock and immediately went to the circus grounds, in company with Detectives Schulte and Irvine of the local force.

Girl Identifies Two.

The circus detective took the young girl and the other detectives through the grounds and had the girl look at every man in the company's employ. She pointed out Proper and Radigan as two of the men, but could not identify any more, although she claims there were at least two more in the gang that night. One, she believes, was colored.

According to information from St. Paul the man arrested there with the Sherman girl, claims that she had been hanging about the circus grounds all day Wednesday and had been repeatedly told to keep away. The girl stated this morning that she had been at the circus Wednesday evening with two girl friends and had stopped to talk with one of the employes. It was then, she said, that she was pulled away and attacked by six men.

There was no resistance on the part of the circus management as reported this morning, to having the two men arrested here. The manager of the circus did have an argument with Detective Daly and not with the local police about the taking of Proper to St. Paul. The manager claimed that Proper could prove an alibi and that he was needed in the circus. The St. Paul detectives refused to let their men go.

Proper is the assistant boss canvassman of the circus, while Radigan is one of the canvassmen. The former is 28 years old and married and the latter is 35 years old and single.

WORKS RENEWS HIS TARIFF BILL ATTACK

Washington, July 25.—Senator Gallinger, leader of the senate Republicans, could find no senator of his party ready to speak on the tariff today except Senator Works, who resumed his address, begun yesteray. Several Republicans have tariff speeches in preparation.

Senator Works today devoted his attention chiefly to the sugar schedule, defending the beet sugar industry of the West and assailing free sugar in 1916 as ruinous to that industry.

The senate planned to take the bill up again paragraph by paragraph when the California senator concluded.

CAN YOU BEAT IT?

The Herald has a good deal to say about Duluth's summer weather, and it says it both to encourage local enterprise to advertise the facts to the world and to encourage outsiders to visit here in summer and get the rest and recuperation that are possible only under such weather conditions as prevail in Duluth.

To show that The Herald's claims for Duluth as the greatest summer resort in the world are well founded, here are the official temperature figures for the past seven days in Duluth:

	Max.	Min.	Mean.
Friday	72	55	64
Saturday	67	58	62

And today is just like the rest—perfect.

A pleasant warmth in the day time, a pleasant coolness at night—this is twenty-four hours of summer blessedness in Duluth.

The average for these seven days is a maximum of 73, a minimum of 60 and a mean of 67.

Can you beat it, anywhere on earth?

CAN YOU MATCH IT, EVEN?

Having undergone an operation for appendicitis, its odds to nothing that Jack London's next story will have to do with hospital life.

WHAT A CITY CAN DO.

An Associated Press item elsewhere in The Herald tonight gives some interesting figures about the work of the free legal aid bureau maintained by Kansas City.

In the past twelve months this bureau has handled 5,534 cases, including the collection of $10,963 in wage claims and the handling of 304 non-support cases and 178 child and wife abandonment cases. This work was done at an average cost of ninety cents a case. This cost is borne by the city. The service is free to the needy.

This is good work. It is a branch of the work of the bureau of public welfare, an institution which the voters of Duluth created a few years ago, and which it is to be hoped the new city government will not permit to lapse.

The poor man with a few dollars coming from his employer and the poor woman whose husband has failed to support her or has deserted her and her children, cannot afford to employ a lawyer; yet they have as complete a right to justice and to full access to the courts as the man who can pay the most high-priced lawyer in town.

This is proper work for a city government, and the fact that the city government in Kansas City handles it is high tribute to the humanity, the democracy and the enlightenment of the people of that community. It shows, too, that the city is great in other things than size and wealth.

Will future generations change the old saw to "When Balkan meets Balkan?"

DANGEROUS DISSENSION.

The dissension over the currency bill in the house committee on banking and currency has evidently been created by the element led by Congressman Henry, an element which is commonly called the "Bryan crowd;" though it is to the credit of Mr. Bryan himself that he has given his approval to the banking bill, openly at least, in the form in which President Wilson is urging its passage.

The split is unfortunate, and even dangerous.

The proposals of the Henry crowd may be the wisest imaginable; but they are of course so revolutionary that it would be unwise to adopt them without thorough study. Indeed, they are so radical and new that there isn't the slightest possibility that they could get through the senate, even if they got through the house.

If, upon mature consideration, these revolutionary proposals are deemed wise and practical, they can easily be added at a later session as an amendment to the law then existing.

Obviously, the only possible effect of the present campaign for them will be to defeat all currency and banking legislation at this session, and probably at the next.

Beyond question, the duty of congress at the present session is to pass a banking and currency law about in the form which the pending bill has reached, and to permit the country to give it a trial.

Congressman Henry and his followers are assuming a responsibility very dangerous to themselves if they effect the defeat of all currency legislation at a time when the country needs it so much, is demanding it so earnestly, and is so confident in the ability of President Wilson and his advisers to frame a fair and effective law.

Iowa railroads are protesting against round trip rates to the Iowa state fair. Do they think folks will want to stay at the grounds forever?

SHOW THE HOTEL MEN A GOOD TIME.

The Northwestern Hotel Men's association is a very wise organization. It proves its wisdom by selecting Duluth as the place for its annual convention, and it will be here Aug. 19, 20 and 21.

No pains or expense should be spared to make this occasion a pleasant one.

Probably it's hardly necessary to suggest it, because there is nothing Duluth enjoys so much as entertaining company, and besides with Mr. Lee of the Spalding at the head of the entertainment committee there is perfect assurance that things will go well. It is to be doubted if even the weather man will dare go wrong under such circumstances.

But aside from the fact that Duluth wants every convention to enjoy itself here, there are peculiar reasons why it should lay itself out for the hotel men.

They are discriminating judges of entertainment, in the first place, being dealers in that article.

In the second place, they are about as handy a set of friends as a city could have. What we would like to see is that the visiting hotel men should have so good a time here that when any of their guests hereafter ask where is a good place to go, the answer will be: "Why, Duluth, of course."

That sounds a little selfish, perhaps, and as though Duluth's hospitality had a motive behind it; and we hope no hotel man will think because of it that Duluth's welcome to them is any less sincere and hearty.

The weather bureau is going to establish six stations in Wisconsin to keep track of frost. Must be horrible to live in a state that's so cold as that.

CONGRESS SHOULD BE CAREFUL OF ITS COMPANY.

Now the railroads have gone on record against the extension of the parcel post service proposed by Postmaster General Burleson.

Their reason is that the extension will lose them twenty million dollars a year out of the good thing they now get out of the express business.

That puts on the side of the opposition the express companies, the railroads, and apparently certain congressmen.

On the side of extension are Postmaster General Burleson with the administration behind him, the people and—we hope—a majority of congress.

If the proposed extensions will transfer from the express companies to the postoffice enough business to make a cut of twenty million dollars in railroad receipts from the express trust, that's mighty good evidence of the benefits these extensions will confer upon the people.

Unless congress has a notion that the government is to be operated for the benefit of the railroads and the express companies, instead of for the benefit of the people, it will call off the opposition to the Burleson plans, and instead of fighting the gradual extension of the parcel post system will co-operate heartily in that great work.

The poetic justice will appear when they take that man who claims to have raised topless potatoes to the bughouse.

A MOTIVE?

At the head of the pack which is barking at Bryan's heels because of his use of his vacation is Senator Bristow of Kansas.

Apropos to a discussion of whether it was Senator Bristow or Senator Borah who was the author of the resolution which brought about the popular election of United States senators, the Kansas City Star says:

> Secretary Bryan, at the time of proclaiming the amendment of the Constitution, invited Senator Borah to be present and left out Senator Bristow, thus giving the weight of his authority to recognition of the Idaho senator.

Maybe, if this incident and Senator Bristow's righteous indignation over Mr. Bryan's conduct are studied together, a connection will be discovered.

It was Senator Bristow, by the way, who in 1906, when he was a private citizen without a public office but in search of one, who wrote this letter to Senator Long of Kansas:

> I think I would like to have one of those advisory places on the canal commission. They pay $7,500, and require a visit to the isthmus once in three months. I could hold it and live in Kansas, being there, at least, half my time, and when the fight got hot, I could resign.

Most any man will admit that a mosquito bite is a mighty interesting proposition, but he will also be generous enough to let the other fellow have all the interest.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

NO CHANCE.

To the Editor Japanese Section:

If Hon. Japanese Scholar continue to write, one poor Japanese lady will be forced to separate from beautiful colored glass which now repose so peacefully in her jewel casket.

She laugh so much at humorous efforts of Japanese Scholar that much line come in face. She is forced to go to Beauty Doctor what deftly remove all line, also all coin from your lady's purse. As Japanese Scholar know, we have not the web foot. She is oblige to walk home. And now is she between two fire. If she see no more that is fine poetry she will be unhappy much. Also there is no more coin to feed to Beauty Doctor.

Hon. Jap. Scholar is so clever, will he please give unhappy lady advise how to read funny poetry and keep the straight face. Ver truly,

THINKS SOCIALISTS WERE INSULTED.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Your editorial of July 22 in regard to Mr. Daniels' attack on the red flag and its followers is an insult to every member of the Socialist party. First, you uphold Mr. Daniels for inciting the sailors to riot and you also say there is no room in this country for followers of the red flag. Have you forgotten that less than a year ago there was room at the polls for a million followers of the red flag? The Socialists have never tried to displace the Stars and Stripes with the red flag. But it was the followers of the red flag who raised the Stars and Stripes over West Virginia, where the Republicans, Democrats and Bull Mooses had trampled under foot it and all it stands for, along with the Constitution of the state and nation for a year or more and during all this time Mr. Daniels, The Herald and all other capitalistic papers were as silent as a tomb about the flag. The capitalist can defend the flag at a wine supper all right, but you never hear of them defending it when there is danger of them getting in front of a bullet. The day is not far off when the followers of the red flag will throw all the guns on the ships into the ocean and put the scum of the population (as Mr. Taft called them) making an honest living. Yours truly,

J. LANGIN,

The American Language.

H. L. Mencken in Smart Set: A language such as American, the common tongue of a curious and talkative people, is necessarily composed largely, if not chiefly, of what the intransigeant school teacher would call slang. Slang in itself, it must be obvious, does not differ essentially from any other material of speech. All that may be validly said against it is that it is new; that it has not yet won the support of the convention. No other objection uncovers a character that you will not find in equal flower in wholly orthodox metaphor. Say that it is extravagant and far-fetched, and you also attack some of our noblest similes and hyperboles. Say that it is vulgar and you also attack Shakespeare's. "There's the rub," a figure grounded upon the fact that a tight shoe is uncomfortable, and causes corns. No man can write English without using the slang of yesteryear; no man can speak English without using more or less of the slang of today. The distinguished trait of the American is simply his tendency to use slang without any false sense of impropriety, his eager hospitality to its most audacious novelties, his ingenuous yearning to augment the conciseness, the sprightliness, and, in particular, what may be called the dramatic punch of his language. It is ever his effort to translate ideas into terms of overt acts, to give the intellectual a visual and striking quality.

Always his one desire is to make speech lucid, lively, dramatic, staccato, arresting, clear—and to that end he is willing to sacrifice every purely esthetic consideration. He judges language as he judges poetry, not at all by its grace of form, but wholly by its clarity and poignancy of content. He has no true sense of the sough and sweetness of words; all he can understand is their crash and brilliance. He is like—or, more accurately, he is himself—a musician with an abnormal development of feeling for rhythm and resonance, and no feeling whatever for phrasing and tone-color.

Sunday Baseball.

New York World: "What does your city need most?" was a question at the mayors' conference to which Mayor O'Neill of Auburn replied, "Sunday baseball."

It was not a frivolous reply. In all communities the greatest needs are moral needs. The right to decent, harmless amusement and exercise on Sunday becomes a moral need when by hypocrisy and the tyranny of illiberalism that right is denied. The right of a workingman or boy on his only free day to play ball if he so prefers is as important to him as any other right of personal freedom open to arbitrary abridgment.

The rights of citizens make the issues of a community. Auburn would be a better town to live in, its youth would be more healthful, its illicit Sunday saloons less prosperous, its citizens less discontented and resentful, if the right of Sunday sports were recognized. Future civilization will look back with amazement upon a time when a minority in the great state of New York were permitted to dictate to a majority how they should or should not employ their one weekly day of rest.

The Pageant of Baseball

Editorial in Chicago Evening Post.

Who bothers to speak of baseball as a spectacle? "Yanks 11, Sox 1" is all that the game means to the rabid fans who grumpily read of it. It is covered under a mass of technique.

But out at the ball park it is no more cog in a pennant-winning grind. It is a big, glorious outdoor pageant. Color, sunshine, youth and play go into it.

"Chase tripled to center," says the ball-writer's story of the game. And that's all. The "c-r-ack" of the ball on the bat, the answering "start" in the stands, the white sphere arching up over the green, the blue figures running to "get" it and "back up," the twinkling feet of the runner racing the ball, the flutter of hands as he beats it to third, the "stop" of the coach and the powerful throw-in—all these sights and sounds are implied in the terse reportorial line "Chase tripled to center."

In the same way baseball takes it for granted that every man has in his mind's eye its gorgeous physical background. No one stops to tell of the grounds and grandstands, although they loom up from the street with the gay dignity of a Roman circus or a Spanish bull ring.

The massive brick walls, pierced by long narrow arches and decked with flower boxes and hanging vines, are wonderfully impressive. Within the gates the space below the banks of seats suggests instantly the "ways" upon which the silent people went up and down in H. G. Wells' dream of the world of the future. Those inclined paths run hither and thither, as cold and serviceable and unemotional as concrete makes everything which it creates.

And then out upon the upper deck of the stands. They "stretch out like a fan" is the trite simile. It is a poor one. They conjure up nothing so tiny as that. They are like a section of a mighty battleship, where there are curves and planes not related to the solid rectangulars of dry land. Thrust out into the air like a ship's bow, its slanting perspectives are absolutely nautical in their lilt and twist. It would be possible to feel like a landlubber in a grandstand.

Grandstands have a pathos of their own, anyway. Their roofs are always reaching out as if seeking to cover the whole grounds and always failing to do it. On the South side the architecture, in its spiritual effect, might be described as reinforced-steel-Chinese-pagoda construction. The pavilion roofs turn up Orientally, the slats through which the breezes sweep behind the seats suggest the openwork of warm climates. Gray, dun and dark green are the colors of it all.

Upon the hard masculinity of this background the fluttering audience looks strangely feminine. Its tints are white and blue, with spots of the spring's cerise scattered here and there upon it. Why do girls make so large a part of it? In order that they may talk interestingly to the boys?

The whole "plant" lies amidst surroundings that need only to be co-ordinated to furnish a setting adequate for the most picturesque spectacle of city life. The trees and grass of Armour park, the buildings of Armour Institute, the vacant lands to the east and the militant armory of the Seventh are the elements of a decorative center good enough for the great baseball stadium and the sport it personifies. But with this or without it the game is too gorgeous a pageant to be hidden beneath mere sporting technique. Everyone who reads or talks baseball should go out and watch its spectacle instead of the score book.

Our Biggest Fish

When in the halcyon days of old, I was a little tyke.
I used to fish in pickerel ponds for minnows and the like;
And oh, the bitter sadness with which my soul was fraught
When I rambled home at nightfall with the puny string I'd caught
And oh, the indignation and the valor
I'd display
When I claimed that all the biggest fish I'd caught had got away!

Sometimes it was the rusty hooks,
sometimes the fragile lines,
And many times the treacherous reeds would foil my just designs!
But whether hooks or lines or reeds were actually to blame
I kept right on at losing all the monsters just the same—
I never lost a little fish—yes, I am free to say
It was always the biggest fish I caught that got away.

And so it was when later on I felt ambition pass
From callow minnow joys to nobler greed for pike and bass;
I found it quite convenient, when the beauties wouldn't bite,
And I returned all bootless from the watery chase at night,
To feign a cheery aspect and recount in accents gay
How the biggest fish that I had caught had sowehow got away.

And really, fish look bigger than they are before they're caught
When the pole is bent into a bow and the slender line is taut,
When a fellow feels his heart rise up like a doughnut in his throat.
And he lunges in a frenzy up and down the leaky boat.
Oh, you who've been a fishing will indorse me when I say
That it always is the biggest fish you catch that gets away!

'Tis even so in other things—yes, in our greedy eyes
The biggest boon is some elusive, never-captured prize;
We angle for the honors and the sweets of human life—
Like fishermen we brave the seas that roll in endless strife;
And then at last, when all is done and we are spent and gray,
We own the biggest fish we've caught are those that got away.

I would not have it otherwise; 'tis better there should be Much bigger fish than I have caught a-swimming in the sea;
For now some worthier one than I may angle for that game—
May by his arts entice, entrap and comprehend the same;
Which, having done, perchance he'll bless the man who's proud to say
That the biggest fish he ever caught were those that got away.

Bill Nye's Mother

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Probably not one in a thousand of the admirers of Bill Nye knows that his mother, Eliza M. Nye—she from whom he got his sense of humor—is living in New York city.

She is nearly 87 years old, but her mind, her humor sense, and her interest in everyday affairs are all as keen as they were when Edgar Wilson Nye—that is, Bill Nye—was a small boy.

Mrs. Nye is a quaint, little white-haired woman, with bright, twinkling eyes, and, like most persons who keep up their interest in life, looks many years younger than she is. Every little while her point of view on things suggests Bill Nye. Those who know her well never wonder about where Bill Nye got his bubbling sense of humor. He got it unmistakably from his mother. She has always had it and in a similar vein—that is, she has always had a spontaneous way of seeing fun in the little everyday things. The main difference between Bill Nye's humor and that of his mother was that in the parent it was simply a quiet little trickling rill, but in the son it became a river.

Mrs. Nye is fond of all humorous literature. On the day I went to see her she had clipped out something by O. Henry from one of the papers, to paste in her scrapbook. However, she does not limit her literary interest to humorous stuff. As if for the purpose of getting a thorough contrast, she is extremely fond of Ibsen. Let us not pass over that too rapidly. Just think of the mother who gave Bill Nye his sense of humor reading Ibsen! And liking it!

* * *

Mrs. Nye says she cannot remember when Bill Nye—or Edgar, as she calls him—was not cracking jokes of his own brand. On one occasion when they were comfortably fixed in a new house they had built, some one was observing that it was time for mother to sit around and take it easy for a while.

"Yes, mother," said Edgar, "all you'll have to do now is just sit here and listen to the creak of the universe as it turns round."

"We used to think," says Bill Nye's mother, "that one of the best things Edgar ever got off in his youthful days was the remark about the horse. He was to drive a young girl to a little party one night and she was proverbially slow in getting ready. The horse he drove was a livery animal. It was a little aged and underfed, but it was the best he could get. He drove up in front of the house and waited an unusually long time for the girl to appear. When she finally did come she threw up her hands in horror at the sight of the horse and was free to say that she was ashamed to ride behind such a looking creature.

"'Why, my dear,' said Edgar, seriously, 'that horse was as fat as butter when I drove up.'

"Edgar and his older brother, Frank, used to have a great habit of losing farm implements, ropes, rakes, hoes, axes, and such things, and one day they mislaid the trace chains which were an important part of the horse's harness. They came and told me of the unfortunate affair and I insisted that they must tell their father, who was then some distance out in the field. Frank told Edgar that inasmuch as he was the older and had had more school advantages, he should be the one to do the talking. Edgar consented, reluctantly, and on the way over devoted himself to a serious mental rehearsal of his remarks. The thing that I remember about the confession was the way Edgar did not beat about the bush, but got right to the point. He said, as I learned a little afterward: 'Well, father, I know we have lost a great many things, to say nothing of the trace chains, but we have resolved to try to do better hereafter.'

"When we were living in Wisconsin, a steer strayed away one winter night and though the boys hunted it all the next day and off and on for a week or more, we never found it or even heard of it again. It was a great mystery whatever became of that steer. In a letter home about a year before his death, written in mid-ocean, and fully thirty years after the steer incident, Edgar said that he was about to make a trip around the world for a newspaper syndicate and write of his travels. 'I have always wanted to make this trip,' he went on to say, 'because it will be a great education in itself, and a rich source of good material, and then I have an idea that maybe I can get some trace of that steer.'

"You know, in one of Edgar's articles he tells how he used to get along well at school so long as he stood where he could get his toe in a certain knothole.

"'I could stick my big toe through a knothole in the floor and work out the most difficult problems,' he said. 'With my knothole I was safe; without it I would hesitate. A large red-headed boy, my rival, discovered that I was dependent upon that knothole. One night he stole into the schoolhouse and plugged it up. Then the red-headed boy, who had not formed the knothole habit, went to the head of the class, and remained there.'

"Now, when it came time for Edgar to apply for admission to the bar, he was examined in open court, and not having any knothole handy, the committee recommended that he study a little more and return at the next term of court for a further examination. Instead of being disheartened, he arose, and with great dignity addressed the court, inquiring:

"'May it please your honor, am I required to give bonds for my appearance, or am I released on my own recognizance?'"

Mrs. Nye has been in the habit of spending her time with members of her family in Minneapolis, Moorhead, Minn., and New York, but lately she has been staying in New York almost entirely. She was asked recently to tell the secret of her long life and good health, and her reply reminded one of Bill Nye himself. She said:

"I have always given rigid attention to keeping out of other people's affairs, have made it a point to eat just the plainer articles of food set before me, and I try to leave the table with a good appetite."

Another thing: Though a nice, quiet, little old-fashioned type of woman, Bill Nye's mother is a suffragist—not the militant kind, 'tis true, but, nevertheless, a suffragist.

A Different Ending.

Pittsburg Post: "Had quite an adventure lately. Gave an old gentleman my seat in a street car and he insisted on taking my card."

"And now he wants to give you $25,000, eh?"

"No: now he wants to sell me an encyclopaedia on dollar payments."

A Bad Habit.

Atchison Globe: Some men don't commence worrying about their career until after 9 o'clock in the morning.

Minnesota Opinions

Comments of the State Press.

Time Has Changed.

Hibbing Mesaba Ore: Before election, the Republican newspapers were saying that President Wilson was a fine man, but that he didn't know enough about the game of politics to make a good president. Now they are tearing their hair and shouting from the housetops that he is "playing politics" in his administration of the nation's affairs. But then, the dyed-in-the-wool Republican newspapers have developed Populistic tendencies during the past few years.

It Certainly Would.

St. Cloud Times: The Sauk Centre Herald is of the opinion that if the treating system were abolished it would eliminate much drunkenness. If each man would stop treating himself as well as the other fellow to intoxicating beverages it certainly would help the temperance wave.

Likes the Country.

Biwabik Times: A week spent in the South convinces the editor that the business and agricultural possibilities are greatest in this section of Minnesota. The grass is greener, the clover taller and thicker, the potatoes more promising than in any section visited. This is a new country, full of opportunities for the young man. Several thousand such could lay the foundations for independent fortunes by clearing cut-over lands.

A Word for the Progressives.

Fairmont Sentinel: We would advise our Republican friends not to be in too great a rush to write the obituary of the Progressive party. The spirit that animated the men who bolted their party and voted for Roosevelt is not quenched in a day and defeat is quite likely to cause increased activity and earnestness.

Funds Ought to Work.

Gheen Record: The Minnesota school fund is so large and growing so fast that as a matter of good business and economy for the taxpayers of the state it should be divided and put to some other use general to the state, such for instance as road building and repairing.

They Always Make Good.

Crosby Chronicle: The bottom has dropped out of the Canadian land boom and there is great business depression as a result. The bottom never drops out of Minnesota acres—they always make good on every promise.

The Herald Has Raised It.

Cambridge North Star: The first thing the state organization knows, someone will raise the issue of extravagance and high taxes. If this matter is ever agitated and the people get wise to the facts, public utilities control and the consolidation of rural schools will be as out of date as issues as a last year's bird's nest with the bottom gone.

Obviously Not.

Mankato Free Press: Minnesota is advertising its home for criminals as the "finest state's prison in the world." Can you beat it?

Ambition

Youth's Companion: Some familiar quotations have done their best to give the quality of ambition a bad reputation. 'From the days when the boy begins to read Shakespeare in school, he is likely to be cautionad against "vaulting ambition, which o'erleaps itself." Wolsey's sonorous, melancholy warning to Cromwell,

I charge thee, fling away ambition;
By that sin fell the angels.

sticks in the schoolboy's mind. Even in common intercourse the word has taken on a rather shady significance. When it is said of a man that he is ambitious, and especially when it is said of a woman that she is ambitious, the implication concerning the character thus designated is somehow not pleasant.

It is unfortunate that the word has acquired this sinister slant, for it does really denote one of the best qualities of human nature. Ambition means the looking and the striving toward accomplishment. It should not be regarded as a synonym for selfishness or for narrowness of interests. It supplies the motive force for the noblest and highest efforts; seldom has an unambitious man achieved great things. Ambition is not incompatible with forgetfulness of self. It is fruitful only when it is united with forgetfulness—only when it is so concentrated on a high aim, a fine purpose, that self-sacrifice and self-denial are cheerfully accepted as necessary to fulfillment.

It is in the nature of the young to wish to shine. A dream of glory should encircle every youthful head. Any attempt to make young people act out of nature and despise ambition will result in youthful cynics and ne'er-do-wells. To help each child to give his natural ambition worthily should be the ambition of every parent and teacher.

Report Cards.

Marion Hill in the "Aisles of Shame," in Ainslee's: "Previous methods of reporting monthly progress had all been fairly lucid. In the rosy first year, you advanced by bringing home picture cards. Enough of them meant promotion; not enough meant exclamations from your mother.

"Next, you became introduced to the words 'excellent,' 'good,' 'fair,' and 'poor,' of which the first three promoted you, and the fourth fixed you so that you were never heard of again.

"Later, when your mind was supposed to be capable of grasping analogy, you moved on the letters, A, B, C, and D. A, B, and C stood for the next grade; and D stood for—well, what it usually does.

"Still later, poets got on the school board and promoted you by 'stars' and condemned you by 'checks.'

"All your unhappy life how you suffer from the symbolical pleasantries of those in authority!

"This year it was per cent. A hundred per cent meant—but one wastes time talking about that which exists only in theory. Ninety per cent meant glory and safety. Eighty and seventy meant safety, but no glory. Sixty meant no safety, no glory, and notes home. And fifty meant that you were scum, really scum, fit for nothing but to be scooped off and thrown below whenever Miss Pragg felt like it.

"The fifty-per-centers occupied the last seats in the room, and were scuffy and scowly boys, always being kept half an hour after school to write pages of 'I have whispered'—and another half hour for leaving out the h."

Keeping Informed.

Detroit Free Press: "Two years ago you told me the Woggs car was the best automobile in the world."

"Yes."

"And now you say the Boggs is the only one worth having."

"I get my information direct. The salesman who sold me the Woggs car has gone to work for the Boggs people."

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1893.

Rev. W. W. Dawley, who was extended a call by the First Baptist church of Duluth, has accepted and will arrive here about Aug. 10. He is at present pastor of Woodlawn Park church in St. Paul.

Col. A. A. Harris has arrived in Duluth from Fort Scott, Kan. His son, Henry E. Harris, will arrive in a few days and they will engage in the practice of law here. Col. Scott resided in Fort Scott for twenty-two years and has ranked as one of the leading lawyers of Kansas.

Miss Minnie Johnson, Effie Watkins and Belle Scofield, all of Brooklyn, N. Y., are visiting Mrs. W. B. Wells of Tenth avenue east.

H. H. Good, manager of I. Freimuth's shoe department, has gone on a purchasing trip to the East.

Village Engineer Cooper of West Duluth has resigned to take a highly remunerative position on government work at Savannah, Ga.

J. C. Perry has sold his property at West Duluth and will remove his family to Chicago, where he has purchased a feed and coal business.

Rev. A. W. Ryan of Warren, Pa., who was extended a call by St. Paul's Episcopal church of this city, has telegraphed his acceptance and will arrive in Duluth Oct. 1.

Mrs. S. R. Stinson of Kansas City, Mo., is the guest of Mrs. Day K. Smith of Chester Terrace.

A Snake Center in Danger.

Chicago Evening Post: Winsted, Conn., must take notice, perforce, of Piedmont, W. Va., as a snake center. Winsted will hardly languish, even in rivalry, because of being in shorter striking distance of news centers, but can Winsted ingenuity, already hard pushed, equal a succession of narratives like this one from Piedmont?

George Ensor, a business man of this city, while fishing near Mountaindale, was attacked by snakes which came from a rotten log on which he was sitting, and before he could beat them off the reptiles had entwined themselves about him, binding his arms, hands and feet. The snakes, more than a dozen in number, measured from four to six feet in length.

Mr. Ensor, after vainly endeavoring to work his arms and feet loose, had the presence of mind to roll down a hill into a fire he had built to cook his breakfast. His clothes caught fire, and the snakes, scorched and sizzling, untwined from his body and made for the old log. Mr. Ensor ran to the stream and threw himself into the water, extinguishing his burning clothes. His body, arms and face were severely burned, but he managed to make his way to Mountaindale, where physicians say he has a chance for recovery.

There you have it—an attack from a new breed of constrictors that made their way back to the log, scorched and sizzling. And how much of a roll was it down the hill into the breakfast fire?

The Winsted correspondent has long battened on rattlers. He never dreamed of four-foot snakes that bound men hand and foot and could race away sizzling. The Piedmont correspondent dreams while the dreaming is good.

Lending a Hand.

Woman's Home Companion: Little Ella heard the cook say she was going to have green peas for dinner, so she went to the kitchen to offer her services in preparing them. While deeply engaged in this fascinating occupation, her brother came and wanted her to go and play with him.

"I can't go now," said Ella, "'cause I'm helping cook unbutton the peas."

Why Cupid Weeps.

Morrilton, Ark., Headlight: Miss Willie Aytes put her name and address in a box of strawberries and last week she received a letter from a man in South Dakota stating that the berries were fine, that they arrived in good condition and that he paid 15 cents per quart for them.

CIRCUS WAS TRULY "BIGGER AND BETTER THAN EVER"

Barnum & Bailey Performance Set New Mark for Clean and Wholesome Amusement----Consideration for Patrons.

Were you there Bill? No? Well then you're about the only person I didn't see. We've talking about the circus now, the Barnum & Bailey circus. "Bigger, better, brighter than ever," they used to say on the billboards, and, by gosh, it was.

The fact that there was no parade only sharpened our desire to see what was going on in the "Big top" (circus talk for tent) and we got there early. In the afternoon father, with nothing else to do, took out the boys. Naturally they enjoyed it—they always do, to say nothing of the old man. Altogether 25,000 persons took those board seats yesterday and not a soul went away saying he had not gotten his money's worth. For the show this year is a show clear up to the Barnum & Bailey standard and then a little beyond.

By hek, we almost remember when we were kids and we yearned to see a Barnum & Bailey show. We were glad in fact, to look upon "Johnson's great one-ring outfit with its collection of marvellous and mammoth monstrosities." But to see one of the big affairs kind of makes us bubble all over.

And yesterday's show made good from the opening gun to the curtain and that takes in the side show, concert and all. You must hand it to the Barnum & Bailey outfit from the boy who sold the peanuts to the death-defying chaps who hurled each other through the air like they were small Fourth of July bombs. There were clowns galore and they had new antics although their faces were chalked just as they were years and years ago. And we laughed just as heartily as we did then.

Of course there were men who hurled each other through the air only to be caught by hands and legs by partners. You remember we used to try it in the barn after the circus had left town.

The New Feature.

But the new feature after all was the Cleopatra pageant. This is just a little different and a whole lot more elaborate than anything we've had before, and was artistic to a high degree. From the time the first armored warrior started forth to the moment when Cleopatra mounted her throne it was one succession of pretty pictures, drills and artistic settings.

Then there was another new idea, and that hit every fan and fanette in the town. That was the act where the elephants played ball. It was so true to life that you couldn't help but wonder how those ponderous beasts could have so much intelligence. And the slide to the home plate! How we chuckled at that!

It would take more than a page to recite all the new and startling stunts that were presented one after another with lightning rapidity, but briefly, everything was new and everything was good.

One thing that impressed the thousands yesterday, however, was the wholesome atmosphere with which the whole show was operated. The ushers showed you to your seat as though it was a pleasure; the peanut boys with their loud cries were not too loud, and altogether it was a place where you felt safe in having your wife and daughter.

The Barnum & Bailey show has raised the standard of tent entertainment mightily. It has done more than that; it has elevated the whole moral tone.

MARKET BILL PASSES SENATE

Now Goes to the Wisconsin Assembly for Concurrence.

Madison, Wis., July 25.—A compromise marketing bill, having for its purpose the prohibition of monopolies, restraint of trade and unfair business practices generally in this state, passed the senate by a vote of 16 to 6. It now goes to the assembly for concurrence. The bill places the law's administration with the industrial commission.

The senate killed the bill drafted by the special legislative fire insurance investigation committee, for state control of fire insurance ratings by inspection bureaus. A similar bill was lost in the assembly in May after a hard political fight.

The assembly adopted the constitutional amendment resolution, permitting the state to contract debts of over $100,000 for the purchase of water powers and other natural resources.

The assembly concurred in the senate's amendments to the Milwaukee home rule bill, and it now goes to the governor. The same body engrossed the Hoyt bill for the sterilization of the epileptic, feeble-minded and criminal insane in state and county institutions, and killed the senate bill having for its object the raising of interest rates on one-year loans to a maximum of 24 per cent.

HIKE AND CAMP FOR Y. M. C. A. BOYS

Party Will Spend Early Part of Week at French River.

The last of the short camps to be conducted by the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. this summer will be a trip to French river Monday, July 28. The party will leave the boys' building at 10:30, take the car to Lakeside and hike from there to French river, a distance of eight miles. On the other camping trips held this summer the boys have slept in tents; on this trip beds will be made in the open. Each boy will do a share of the cooking. Fishing, swimming and athletics will take up the time. The party will return Wednesday. All boys desiring to take the trip will meet at the boys' building Friday evening at 7:30 to make final plans.

The outing for Saturday will be a trip to Park Point. The party will leave the boys' building at 3 o'clock. Swimming, games, bonfire, marshmallow roast and lunch will constitute the program.

The Wednesday swimming period for next week will be postponed to Thursday, when all members of the boys' department will be guests at Desmond swimming pool at Park Point. The party will leave the boys' building at 2 o'clock.

The special summer program will close with the big Camp Miller at Sturgeon lake Aug. 11 to 23. A new schedule of special events will go into effect Sept. 1.

ELLA FLAGG YOUNG IS ABOUT TO RESIGN

Cannot Get Along With Chicago's New Board of Education.

Chicago, July 25.—Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of public schools of Chicago since 1909, has announced her resignation. Mrs. Young gave no reason for resigning, but said that her intention had been known for some time to members of the board of education.

Lack of harmony between Mrs. Young and the board of education is said to be the cause. The board has changed complexion politically with a change of administration since Mrs. Young's appointment, and she has found it difficult recently to effectuate her plans.

"I can fight for a principle, I can fight for another person; but I am too old to fight for myself," said Mrs. Young.

Mrs. Young is 68 years old. She has been a school teacher since 1862, president of the state board of education, president of the National Educational association in 1910-11, and is one of the most prominent women educators in the United States. Her appointment as superintendent of the Chicago public schools at an annual salary of $10,000 created a sensation at the time.

Her administration of the position has developed many branches of training here, particularly along the line of vocational education, and improvement of teachers' positions.

STRANGE PLEA SUCCESSFUL

John Schaefer of Ely Pleads Own Case and Is Dismissed.

Arrested on Charge of Defaming Character of Samuel Rapson.

Pleading his own case, John Schaefer of Ely, who was arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge of slander preferred by Samuel Rapson, also of Ely, succeeded in having it dismissed on the grounds that the local municipal court has no jurisdiction over him, as Ely has a court of its own. Schaefer will be rearrested at Ely on the same complaint.

Schaefer was brought from Ely to answer the charge and when arraigned before Judge Cutting yesterday afternoon, he pleaded not guilty and then took out a statement which he had prepared and read it to the court. The complete statement follows:

"To the honorable judge of the municipal court of the city of Duluth, Minn.

"Your honor, I do not understand why I have been brought into this court, 116 miles or more away from my home, when we have courts in the town of Ely where both the complainant and myself live, courts with the same jurisdiction that this court has within the municipality of Duluth.

"It is an unnecessary hardship to be brought down here, 116 miles from home to defend a misdemeanor case of this kind.

"I am almost a stranger in this town. Should this court conclude to hold me and require bonds I can get bonds to a reasonable amount in the city of Ely but here I know of no one whom I can ask to go on my bond. Unless the court allows me to go on my own recognizance, or bonds can be arranged by wire, I would have to go to jail until bondsmen from my home town came to my relief.

"And it costs money to bring bondsmen 116 miles. I question the right or jurisdiction of this court to summon me from within the jurisdiction of a court that has the power to punish me for the offense of which I am accused.

"I beg your honor's pardon if I am not bringing this matter up according to legal ethics, for I am not an educated man and I haven't the money with which to hire a lawyer to bring it up for me.

"Considering the fact that we have courts of jurisdiction and power to punish me for the offense of which I am charged in the city of Ely, it looks to me as if trying to bring this case into court 116 miles away from the home of both plaintiff and defendant, is more a desire to do me an injustice and cause me unnecessary hardship, than a desire to have justice done.

Cites a Precedent.

"A similar case occurred in this court last fall, in which the question of jurisdiction had the same bearing.

"On Sept. 27, 1912, three men waylaid me a short ways outside of Ely and gave me a terrible beating. Each one of the three could have given me the beating alone, but each of them seemed anxious to show the other two how easy it was to beat me.

"One of the three was a squaw man, another was a young giant who has since left his wife to support herself and her baby, and the other was a man with some sort of a pull with the politicians up there.

"As soon as I got able to get around I came down here and made a complaint to James A. Wharton and swore out warrants for all three of them. Mr. Wharton told me that he would let me know when I should appear here against them. He never did let me know, although I wrote him several letters trying to find out what had become of the case. I finally came down here myself, and finding Mr. Wharton was not at home, I asked the clerk here what had become of the case and he informed me that it had been dismissed on the same grounds that I am asking your honor to dismiss this case.

"Now if the court was justified in dismissing that case I do not see why it should not be justified in dismissing this one. It seems that a poor man who works hard to support his family should have the same chance in court as those who have a little pull.

"In addition to the pecuniary loss of time, hardship and expense which I should be compelled to bear unnecessarily and unjustly if this case is tried here, over 100 miles from my home, there is also the expense of others to be considered.

"I have here a number of books containing indecent and obscene stories and several packages of cigars all sold by the plaintiff in this action to boys just a little above the compulsory school age.

Would Need Witness.

"If the court please and the prosecuting attorney will bear a little of my ignorance I will say that what I am trying to get at is this: That in order to support my contention that the plaintiff in this case pollutes the morals of the rising generation by selling those books and cigars to young people, unlawfully, I shall have to ask the court to summon at least six or more witnesses and bring those witnesses from Ely to Duluth and keep them here a day or two and pay their fare back. This is a large item of unnecessary expense that is not justified by the nature and circumstance of this case.

"I have found out from personal experience that coming to Duluth from Ely and going back is no small matter in the way of expense to say nothing of bringing witnesses and bondsmen.

"Therefore, your honor, I ask that this case be dismissed. I shall not run away; if the plaintiff wants to renew the case it his privilege to do so. There are two judges at Ely, also a session of the district court at intervals. A also understand that there are two justices of the peace at Winton, one at section 30 and one or two at Tower,: all not far away from Ely and all having power and jurisdiction in this case.

"I shall raise no objection to being tried somewhere near home, whether it is Tower, Ely, Winton or section 30. "If the court does not see fit to grant my motion for dismissal I will beg leave to submit the names of witnesses I would like to have called. I shall ask a jury trial.

"And if the court please, I would like to arrange for bail by, if that is possible. George L. Brozich of the First State Bank of Ely will guarantee my appearance at any time the court states. If any more surety is needed, I can get John Gianotti of Ely."

According to the complaint made by Mr. Rapson, who is a news agent on a D. & I. R. train, the defendant made a statement July 17 before the school board election that "Sammy Rapson, the chief high priest of Ely's high brow society goes right on making recruits for prostitution." Schaefer, it is said, made the statement while making a campaign speech against the man backed by Rapson.

Schaefer is a taxidermist by trade and has lived at Ely for thirteen years. He is married and has a family.

"WOMEN BEST PASSENGERS," SAYS TONY JANNUS, AVIATOR

Has Taken More Than a Thousand Women for Trips in Air and He Should Know.

"'Now I know why the little birds sing.' That is the customary expression of women passengers after a flight in an air machine," said Tony Jannus, aviator, who is in Duluth giving exhibitions of flying in W. D. Jones flying boat, "The Lark of Duluth."

Mr. Jannus was telling the society editor about flying and he was polite enough to say that women really make the best passengers in flying machines—whether he meant it or not.

"After a woman makes up her mind she wants to try it, she doesn't back out, and she usually enjoys it," he said. "I have taken more than a thousand women up in flying machines and flying boats, and most of them close their eyes for the first few minutes, clasp their hands and catch their breath, then relax and like it.

"I have also taken many men who looked pretty much as though they wished they hadn't started out, and a couple of them annoyed me so that I pretty nearly scared them to death before we landed again.

"An aviator's work has to be a good deal of it missionary work, if we want the flying machines to be popularized and used. A few years ago, when the automobiles were first out, you had to just about drag the people into them, and then after the first ride, you just about had to drag them out of the machines again. It is just the same with air machines. We have to give people a taste of flying if we want them to like it, and I have never taken a passenger who has not been ready for a second flight."

Mr. Jannus has taken a number of Duluthians on his flights over the harbor and up the river, and three women have been given the experience.

Of girls or women as operators of air machines Mr. Jannus was silent.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

A Few Rambling Thoughts Upon the Homely Virtues.

We hear so much nowadays from women who, in their own right or that of their husbands', are very much in the public eye, about the emancipation of women, suffrage for the sex, et cetera ad infinitum, that it is rather refreshing once in a while to hear the voice of some well-known woman raised in the interest of the homely virtues, once so popular, but now, apparently, sinking into innocuous desuetude.

So I feel like patting the wife of the governor of Indiana upon the back. This governor's wife—Mrs. Ralston is her name—in an address the other day to the wives of the Democratic editors of her state, boldly upheld the homely, native diet of our land by declaring that every editor likes a woman who can give him fried chicken, hot biscuit and peach cobbler!

Bravo, Mrs. Ralston! Only why confine it to every editor—why not every man? And why merely fried chicken and hot biscuit and peach cobbler?

Or course, what Mrs. Ralston meant was that ever man—for editors are much like other men, I know a lot of them—likes the homely virtues in his wife, just as he liked them in his mother, no matter how much he may talk, if he does, in favor of woman's suffrage and its accompaniments. And it is the smart woman who realizes this and acts upon it.

Sounds sort of old-fashioned and submissive, does it? Oh, well, what of it? I have no quarrel with suffrage and that sort of thing, if it keeps its place, and does not go mad, I want woman to have everything that is coming to her, and believe she is getting it.

But what I do not want her to do is to lose her old virtues and charms in gaining new rights and privileges. In reaching out after new things, let her not forget the fried chicken and the biscuit and the cobbler, for upon these things, and their accompaniments, depend the happiness of the home and family and the stability of the nation.

Let women have the ballot, if they will, but let them stick fast to fried chicken and biscuit and cobbler! Nothing has happened that I know of that makes any shorter cut to a man's heart than the well-known, tried and proved route through his stomach.

Remember, my sisters, and beware!

COUTURE'S DEATH IS BEING PROBED

Special Grand Jury Looking Into Ranier Tragic Affair.

International Falls, Minn., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The special grand jury called by Judge McClenahan to investigate the death of Fred J. Couture, keeper of a hotel at Rainer, who is alleged to have been beaten to death by James Kelly, after giving evidence before the regular grand jury of alleged lawlessness at Ranier, is looking into the affair. George A. Semon of Mizpah is foreman. The following comprise the jury: Big Falls, George A. Gowdy, A. R. Button, H. B. Paul, A. E. Solberg; Margie, A. J. Anderson, M. J. McHugo; Littlefork, C. S. Jameson, G. J. Vanderwalk, A. T. Scarlett, William Charters; Bannock, John Christie; Loman, Henry Metcalf; Laurel, Fred Smith; International Falls, Walter Anderson, E. W. Young; Northome—Martin Engelking, J. E. Parker, Robert Collar; Mizpah, Al. White, G. A. Semon, Sherman Buckmeister, Lawrence Christiansen; Ray, Frank Greenwalt.

Challenges Grand Jury.

Former Judge Spooner of Bemidji, chief's machine was going at the rate of 53 miles an hour, while Koepke kept in front of him.

Koepke pleaded guilty to the charge when arraigned yesterday afternoon, but claimed that there were obstructions in the street and that he was compelled to go fast in order to keep ahead and find a stopping place. He was sentenced this morning after the court had looked into the matter.

Amusements

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—Motion pictures.
EMPRESS—Vaudeville.

NEW VAUDEVILLE AT THE EMPRESS

Another interesting vaudeville program opened for the remainder of the week at the Empress theater yesterday afternoon.

Heading the bill is the Imperial Japanese troupe of jugglers and balancers. The members of the troupe are all masters in their work and the various balancing and juggling feats introduced during the act are nothing short of marvelous. There are three men and one woman in the act, the latter assisting the male members.

Two sketches are a feature of the bill the last half of this week, both of them being extremely farcical and presented by very able comedians. Isabelle Miller and her company of players present "The Other Boarder," a comedy sketch, which is full of complicated situations and humorous lines. The other sketch is presented by Shaw & Everett, who give a most amusing presentation of life on a ship. Shaw as the Hebrew sailor and Everett as the Irish captain prove to be a well-paired duo with their innumerable new jokes.

Josephine Edwards as the country girl in vaudeville is another Sis Hopkins. Her songs and jokes are all new, while her make-up is identical with the one which made Rose Melville famous.

Motion pictures open and close the bill, which will continue until tomorrow evening, with the regular daily matinees.

"FINE FEATHERS" A DRAMATIC EVENT

From a record of mail orders kept by the management of the Cort theater in Chicago, during the run of "Fine Feathers," the first half of the season, more than 200 people from this city saw this all star production in Chicago. This is outside of those who bought their tickets through the hotel bureaus. As "Fine Feathers" was easily conceded to be the biggest dramatic success in many years, and it was presented by a cast of prominent stars, including Robert Edeson, Wilton Lackaye, Max Figman, Rose Coghlan, Lolita Robertson and Amelia Summers, it is not surprising that those who saw the play in Chicago should have been praising the performance to the skies and sympathizing with their stay-at-home friends because they thought they would never be able to see this notable play with its wonderful cast. However, the announcement that 'Fine Feathers," with its original all star cast intact, will play an engagement at the Lyceum Monday and Tuesday comes as a most delightful surprise, for it was scarcely expected that the original production would be seen anywhere outside of New York and Chicago. Only a very few cities are to be given this privilege, for "Fine Feathers" returns to resume its interrupted Broadway run early in September, while four other companies are being organized to present this play on the road next season. The local engagement, therefore, is an event of the utmost dramatic importance.

KEPT AHEAD OF FIRE CHIEF'S CAR

Chauffeur Pays Fine for Showing Speed of His Auto.

Henry Koepke, chauffeur for Henry Turrish, who was arrested yesterday afternoon for speeding, was arraigned in municipal court this morning and fined $40 and costs, with the alternative of thirty days in the county jail. He paid the fine.

According to the testimony presented yesterday afternoon by the officer who made the arrest, Koepke was driving the automobile on Garfield avenue, going toward Superior, when the fire department came along. Instead of getting out of the way, Koepke kept on going in front of the chief's automobile, stopping only one block from where the other engines had gathered. The firemen claim that the one of the attorneys for Kelly and Mayor Ed Ek of Ranier, alleged to be an accessory, objected to the grand jury acting on the ground the body was irregularly selected but the court overruled him and charged the inquisitors to probe the affair to the bottom and spare no one.

DISTINGUISHED GUESTS COMING

Bar Banquet on Saturday Night Expected to Set New Mark.

All of the supreme court judges but Justice Holt, the members of the Douglas county bench, the Duluth judges, and many other distinguished visitors will be present at the annual bar banquet tomorrow evening at the Spalding hotel.

The bar banquet has come to be an institution in Duluth. The program never consists of set speeches, but is more along the lines of the famous Gridiron club banquets. The "stunts" are kept secret by the committee until given, but something even better than usual is expected this year.

About 125 acceptances have already been received to the invitations sent out, and the banquet is expected to be the largest ever held by the local association.

WOULD IMPEACH MAYOR OF FALLS

Council Asks County Attorney to Investigate Serious Charges.

Little Falls, Minn., July 25.—A resolution was passed by the city council at its last meeting asking the county attorney to investigate charges and take steps for the removal of Mayor F. C. Johnson for malfeasance of office. An affidavit from a saloonkeeper will be used in the case against the executive. In this it is averred by the saloon man that the mayor allowed him to violate the law by remaining open an hour after the closing time, according to the ordinance.

It is also charged that a tent show came to the city during the past week and that no license was taken out by it. This also is charged to the mayor. The council has been making an effort for the overthrow of the mayor for some time. The town is considerably stirred up over the fight and there is much sentiment against the city executive.

The council also passed a resolution instructing two saloonkeepers to appear before it and answer as to why their licenses should not be revoked. It is likely that this hearing will furnish further sensational evidence.

ORDER OF VASA PLANS PICNIC

Members of the Order of Vasa will go to Two Harbors Sunday for their annual picnic.

Gota Lejon lodge of that city has invited the members of the local lodges to be their guests. Duluth and Superior members will leave on the Easton and America in the morning, taking lunch baskets along. The picnic will be held in the park at Two Harbors, the program beginning at 1:30 p. m. It will consist of speeches and sporting events.

KILLED RIVAL AND TO PLEAD INSANITY.

Minot, N. D., July 25.—Thomas Allen, accused of murdering Brownie Emery, his rival for the affections of a 19-year-old school teacher, will be placed on trial in Minot next Monday. Insanity is the plea that Allen's attorneys will make for him.

Allen is charged with shooting young Emery as the latter was leaving the home of the school teacher. Allen having been previously ejected from the residence because of being drunk. Emery was shot from ambush when but two or three feet from the girl, and just as she shouted a warning to him.

KICK IN STOMACH

Delivered By Unruly Horse Fatal for North Dakotan.

Brinsmade, N. D., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Kicked in the stomach while punishing an unruly horse, Andrew Kinnsburg of this place, was so seriously injured that death resulted. Kinnsburg gave the horse a blow with a strap, and the animal reared and kicked, landing the full force of the blow in Kinnsburg's stomach.

Charles Jewell was badly injured while mowing hay, falling into the machinery, but will recover.

COMEDY OF THE CIRCUS

Some Amusing Remarks Heard Under the Big White Tops.

"Calico Mules," "Mrs. Nazimova" and "Deer With the Hay Fever."

Studying the visitors at a circus is scarcely less entertaining than studying the animals, and the "students of human nature" at the circus generally constitute about 90 per cent of the crowd.

In fact the excuse of "studying the crowds" is almost as shop worn as the one about "taking the children."

Nevertheless many amusing things are heard in front of the animals' cages and under the big tent. Yesterday the members of the Herald staff who attended attempted to collect some of the sayings, and they are given here for the benefit of the readers.

Young man watching giraffes feeding—"Mrs. Nazimova seems hungry tonight."

Girl looking at Zebras—"Look at the calico mules."

Several score of persons looking at the giraffe—"There ain't no such animal." (Note—This is an old favorite).

Boy, looking at baby lions—"Mama are those the kitty-cats?"

Youth watching hippo—"They say you can't shoot through his skin."

Girl looking at giraffe—"To bad his legs won't bend forward so he could rest his chin on his front hoof. He must get tired."

Several hundred different persons, looking at the stately king of the jungle—"How would you like to meet him out in the woods?"

Girl, watching llama—"It looks just like some girl I know here in Duluth."

A favorite "joke" of those watching the gnus—"I knew it was a gnu." (Note—This is subject to countless variations, the groundwork of the joke always remaining the same).

Almost everybody—"What if he should get loose." (Note—This is heard in front of almost any cage).

Girl looking at giraffe—"Imagine him with tonsilitis."

Fresh youth looking at tusked elephant—"Look at the little suitcases beside the trunk."

Fresh youth watching Cleopatra nonchalantly draping her flowing robes and leaving her right limb exposed—"She has a perfect right to do that." His young woman companion—"She also has a darned good left."

Man—"Funny what good bands they had in the days of Rome," apropos of the manner in which the musicians took part in the pageant.

Baseball fan, watching elephants play ball—"They must have got that twirler right from the bushes."

Woman, watching pageant—"Marc looks chilly. He didn't know it was cool in Duluth, poor man."

Mere man, watching Icelander wrestler handle three men—"They need him in England to handle the suffragists."

Man, watching aerial acrobat working without a net—"Wouldn't he spatter some if he fell."

Girl—"Isn't a camel a silly looking thing?"

Countless persons—"Danger, eh. They must be vicious."

Countless others—"I wonder if a tiger could whip a lion?"

Curious sportsman—"Where would you aim at if a lion was coming toward you?" Companion—"The nearest tree, and I'd get their first."

Fresh youth, watching lions—"Oh, you Daniel."

Iowa man, watching gnus—"Look at the deer with hay fever."

"Gee, Cleopatra has a good understanding, hasn't she?" said one enthusiastic fat man mopping his brow, when Cleo came in in tights.

"Yes," snapped the lean—oven skinny—woman who was with him, most probably his wife. "I'd like to see myself out in public in clothes like that."

"If this crowd did," observed somebody in a low tone, his location not certain, "there would be a panic in this crowd—getting out."

When the parade of Egyptian and Roman soldiers passed the reserved seats, some of the latter seemed to feel embarrassed and did not maintain that magnificent attitude attributed to the noble Romans. One man who was passing the reserved sections in a slightly inebriated condition, looked over the marching contingent carefully and said with a chuckle:

"Thim fellahs look noble as h—."

Woman, seeing Dexter Fellows, the genial and immaculate press agent, at the entrance—"That's Mr. Barnum."

When the elephant slid for home—"Darby O'Brien is getting fast."

Fat lady in audience, despairing: "What's the use of exercising? It don't seem to reduce that large lady's size in the least."

The large lady referred to was the one in vivid blue and with vivid proportions.

Lady at the suspicious age with severe cast of countenance and straight line mouth: "Really? I should think it would be beneath the dignity of a circus to make fun of so great a movement as suffrage."

Mail carrier, with tired look and several children; as the parcel post satire passed: "And that's no d—— joke, either."

FIRE HALL INSPECTION

City Commissioners and Others Make Annual Examination of Equipment.

First Fire Pump Used in Duluth on Display at No. 1.

The annual inspection of the fire department is being made this afternoon by the commissioners and representatives of wholesale and jobbing interests, the Women's council and the underwriting companies.

The party left the city hall in automobiles. The first hall on the list was that at Lakeside. From there the party went to No. 4 at Fourteenth avenue east and First street. The next stop was the new station, No. 7, at Seventh avenue east and Ninth street. From No. 7, headquarters station at Sixth avenue west and First street was inspected, whence the party went to No. 2 in the West end and No. 8 at West Duluth.

The men and horses were at their best, and the exhibitions were interesting and entertaining as well as quite exciting. Various phases of the firemen's work were demonstrated, including hose and harness hitches, night hitches, ladder climbs, the pompier drill, etc.

One of the interesting features was the city's first fire pump, operated by hand by the volunteer fire department. It is a diminutive affair and attracted considerable attention. It was brought to Duluth in 1868, previous to which it had been in use for several years in the East.

"COL." RAYNOR WEDS.

Octogenarian Keeper of Crooked Rapids Hotel Takes Aged Bride.

Couderay, Wis., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Al. Raynor, aged 83, living near Crooked Rapids, and Mrs. Craig, aged 65, a resident of Birchwood, were married yesterday and hold the record for being the oldest couple ever married in Sawyer county.

"Col." Raynor, as he is known among his friends, is a well known character in Sawyer county and among the old time lumbermen, as he has been running a famous stopping place at Crooked Rapids on the Chippewa river for the past fifty years. During most of that time the nearest railroad point was Chippewa Falls, 100 miles south, and he has entertained many of the millionaire lumbermen during his day while they were on their way from Chippewa Falls to the headwaters of the Chippewa river during the time that pine was the principal timber logged. His experiences with the early day lumberjacks at that time was more of the Wild West kind then the present day occurrences with the same class of men.

His stories of his early day life which he relates are very interesting to the tourists who now stop at his place.

TWO COUNTIES ARE MUCH INTERESTED

Question of Building Judicial Ditch to Be Heard at Cambridge.

Cambridge, Minn., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Residents of Isanti and Kanabec counties are much interested in the final hearing to be held in district court here Aug. 5, on the question of proceeding with the construction of Judicial Ditch No. 3 of those two counties.

By the proposed ditch system it is hoped to drain and render tillable the large portion of what has long been known as the "Big Bog," located in the northern part of Dalbo, Isanti county, and the southern part of South Fork, Kanabec county. The so-called big bog comprises an area about four miles wide and five long, without a road through it, either way, and has long been an obstruction to the settlement and improvement of the district in which it is located.

Is Level Basin.

It is comprised of an almost level basin, surrounded by a rim of higher land, and the only natural drainage is by means of small brooks which have cut through this rim on three sides, but the natural drainage is inadequate to carry off the excess water, so that even those most familiar with the tract long considered it an almost worthless swamp.

ON THE IRON RANGES

IRON RANGE COLLISION THAT CLAIMED THREE LIVES

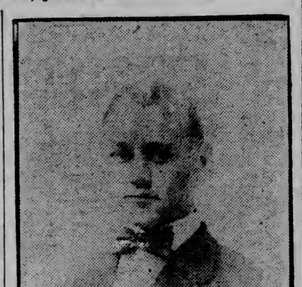

SCENE AFTER TRAINS COLLIDED NEAR COLBY, JULY 22.

Two Harbors, Minn., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—A thorough investigation is being made of the collison of ore trains on the Iron Range road near Colby, early last Tuesday, that resulted in three deaths.

One train was going north with a string of empty cars and the other coming south to Two Harbors with a full train of ore. The northbound train was in charge of Conductor Edward Gallaher and Engineer I. W. Foote, with Fireman Gust Carlson and Brakemen William Fortman and Fred Zahn. The southbound train was in charge of Conductor Lloyd N. Forgy and Engineer William H. Blake, with Fireman Albert Hattleback and Brakemen Harry I. Moe and Archie McCannell. Both the firemen were killed outright and Brakeman William Fortman died in a few hours from his injuries. Both the engineers were severely injured but not fatally. Brakeman Harry I. Moe, who sat in the engine cab, escaped with but a sprained ankle, which he received when he jumped out of the wreckage after the wreck was over. The collision was the result of the northbound train taking the wrong track at Allen Junction. They had gone five miles on the wrong track before they met the other train. None of the men who were riding in the cabooses were hurt in the least.

William Fortman was a town boy, having resided here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Fortman, for many years. He graduated from the local high school in 1912. He was exceedingly popular among the younger class of this city. His funeral was held yesterday afternoon from the First Methodist church. Rev. J. F. Pickard officiated. Interment was made in the Two Harbors cemetery.

BIG DAMAGES MAY BE SOUGHT

Rumored That Miners Who Were Trapped Want $100 Per Hour.

Eveleth, Minn., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Novel suits for damages will be started by the fifteen miners who were trapped in the Spruce mine last week, according to a well authenticated report. It is said each will file a claim against the Oliver Iron Mining company for $100 per hour for each hour detained underground.

In the case of first ten, who were taken out about six hours after the accident, this would amount to about $600 each; with the other five, who were imprisoned altogether about thirty-five hours, the amount demanded is about $3,500.

Men Never in Water.

Since last week the water has subsided and work of rehabilitating the mine has been pushed, but there is still much to do. That part of the mine where the men were imprisoned has been explored and it did not appear that the men were at any time of necessity in the water, neither did it appear they had been forced to do any great amount of labor to keep themselves clear of the water.

OLCOTT PARK POPULAR.

Young Deer and Elk Magnets at Virginia Pleasure Ground.

Virginia, Minn., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Two of the does in the native deer enclosure at Olcott park have fawns at their sides, the births having taken place within the last few days and there has also recently been an increase in the elk enclosure. Many are making special trips to the park to see the mother deer and elk and young. The park is more generally patronized by picnickers this year than ever. The superintendent's residence has been greatly improved, also the roads through the park and the board has a large force of men clearing, seeding and making improved walks. The white way along the automobile drive through the park will be installed within a week and the eight blocks of street paving on the Mountain Iron road and Virginia avenue, leading to the park, will soon be finished.

DERELICTS ROUNDED UP.

Twenty-three Haled Into Virginia Court, Seven Being Committed.

Virginia, Minn., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Twenty-three human derelicts, a greater number than have been herded before a judge for a long time were arraigned before Judge J. P. Carey of the municipal court yesterday. Chief "Dick" Rice ordered a round up as the city was becoming overrun with hangers on, beggars, vagabonds, pan-handlers, who do not care what becomes of them. All those who have been seen about the city for some time and who had been warned to get to work somewhere as well as the more recent arrivals who shudder at the thought of having a steady job and a regular place to sleep, were corralled.

Seven of the aggregation drew jail terms in Duluth. Others who offered more or less plausible excuses were advised to get outside the city limits within an hour. Chief Rice has adopted a policy under which the vagabonds will be dealt with summarily and by which it is intended to have it go abroad that Virginia is anything but a haven of refuge for able bodied men who find work distasteful.

CHISHOLM ORDERS SOME WATER MAINS

Chicago Firm to Furnish the Pipe From Pump Station to Mine.

Chisholm, Minn., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The water and light board last evening opened bids for furnishing of 7,160 feet of eight-inch and 510 feet of ten-inch water mains for a new feed main from the Monroe mine to the pumping station. Four bids were submitted, the contract being awarded to the United States Cast Iron Pipe & Foundry company of Chicago, who bid $27.35 per ton delivered F. O. B. Chisholm. The bids were: United States Cast Iron Pipe & Foundry company, $27.35; Massillion Iron & Steel company, Chicago, $27.60; James B. Clow & Sons, Chicago, $28.40, on standard Class B water mains, and American Cast Iron Pipe company, Kansas City, $26.15, on standard cast iron pipe.

The latter bid not specifying that it was Class B prevented their landing the contract.

The pipe was ordered and laying the new mains will be done as fast as the pipe arrives.

Mains were ordered laid on Cedar street from Fourth avenue and on Fourth avenue between Cedar and Elm streets which when laid will give better protection to the Lincoln school and vicinity.

Sanitary drinking fountains were discussed and the superintendent of water works will investigate before recommending them.

EVELETHIANS ARE BECOMING FARMERS

Lack of Suitable Roads Prevent More Rapid Farm Development.

Eveleth, Minn., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—George A. Perham reports a number of sales of farm land recently. Among the more recent purchasers are: Eighty acres on Moon lake in Fayal township to Theodore Oakman; 80 acres at Spruce Junction to Paul J. Palne; 40 acres in section 14, township 56-17 to Carl H. Hanninen.

The buyers in each of the above instances are Eveleth people and with a view to developing good farms in the future.

Poor Roads Big Drawback.

Mr. Perham says the great hindrance to the sale of lands near Eveleth is the lack of roads. Many people want to go on farms but will not buy lands apart from passable roads that will enable them to get their products to market.

SPECIAL COURT TERM.

Judge Stanton Will Hear Some Matters at Grand Rapids.

Grand Rapids, Minn., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge C. W. Stanton of Bemidji will hold a special sitting of district court here Saturday, and these cases are coming up: Charles Keith of Princeton vs. Mrs. Anna Dcpau Riley of Nashwauk, concerning tax title of certain land purchased by the plaintiff from the defendant; motions for trials in the cases of Henry Longmore vs. The Great Northern Railroad; The State vs. Anna Jones of Deer River; The State vs. Sam Patelle of Grand Rapids.

The Longmore case is a personal injury action and was tried at the last sitting of district court in April, when the jury returned a verdict of $550 for the plaintiff, and this was later set aside by the court. Attorney Ralph McOuat is now asking for a new trial.

Both the Jones and the Patelle cases were among the list of liquor convictions secured at the April sitting of the district court. The motion for the new trial in the Jones case is asked on grounds of insufficient evidence in the first trial, and the motion for the Patelle case is on the grounds of errors in the former trial.

LARGE ORE BODY NORTH OF SLIVER

Robert Whiteside and Martin Pattison Are the Fee Owners.

Virginia, Minn., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—A recent discovery of new bodies of ore in this region was made on the property of which Martin Pattison of Superior and Robert Whiteside of Duluth are the fee owners. Lying north of the Sliver and the new Allen mine operated by the Morris Mining company.

The holes reveal a body of ore estimated to contain 200,000 tons. The ore is said to be of extra high grade, similar to that of the Allen mine and the two bodies may be connected. It is expected this property will be operated as an underground mine and ore will be taken out and stock piled during the winter.

Explanations Near Kinross.

A. N. Petersson of Eveleth and associates who own or lease several forties near Kinrcss have been doing exploring on the property and have found indications which lead to the belief that ore may exist in larger quantities in that section of the range.

The Pickands-Mather company has taken over from the fee owners the Kellog mine at Old Mesaba which lease was surrendered by the New York State Steel company. It is said that other mines over the range, which were operated by the New York State Steel company will be taken over and operated by other companies.

INVITE ROAD BIDS.

Itasca County Commissioner to Proceed With Big Highway Jobs.

Grand Rapids, Minn., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The county commissioners decided yesterday to advertise for bids for the construction of the eight new roads to be built with the money from the $300,000 bond issue, to be voted on Aug. 19. There is little doubt but that the voters will agree to the expenditure of that sum, and the plan is to expedite the construction as much as possible by having everything ready to proceed as soon as the grant is made.

The only road not included in the advertisement for bids is the Deer River-Northome road, where there are preliminary steps to be taken before the bids will be available. It is plannod to get to work immediately upon the Cohasset-Deer River road, upon the granting of the bond issue. At present this stretch of road is impassable for autos, necessitating the shipping of machines from this point west. Every effort will be made to have a good road between these two points before snow flies.

The commissioners also granted permission to build a bridge between the townships of Bovey and Arbo. The contract was let to Contractor Bissonnette of Arbo.

PLANNING LARGER LAKE COUNTY FAIR

New Stock Building to Be Built and More Premiums Given.

Two Harbors, Minn., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a well attended special meeting of the Lake County Fair society held last evening in the Commercial club rooms the work of approving a new premium list for this year was taken up and partially completed.

The association has secured an appropriation from the county board and arrangements will be made at once for the erecting of a new stock building. In the past year it was found that the building which now stands on the fair grounds for accommodating live stock is much too small, and it is thought that the livestock exhibit will be much bigger this year than ever before. According to the officials there will be many changes made this year in the general way. It is expected that the premiums paid out this year will be increased over any former year by several hundred dollars.

There will be another meeting of the fair society Monday evening when it is hoped that the premium list will be completed. The directors desire to have the premium list in the hands of exhibitors not later than the first week in August. The directors have called for the co-operation of all the citizens in Lake county. It is their aim to make it the biggest and best fair that ever occurred in Lake county.

HIBBING SCHOOL'S SWIMMING POOL

Hibbing, Minn., July 25.—(Special to The Herald).—The swimming pool in the new high school building is completed and will be placed in use next Monday. This is the first swimming pool of its kind to be built on the range. It is 52x18 feet, 9 feet deep at its deepest point and 3½ feet deep at its lowest.

ROBBERY HEARING AT HIBBING JULY 26

Hibbing, Minn., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Herman Herbert, accused with William Delahunte of robbery committed here last Saturday night, will be arraigned before Judge Brady in municipal court tomorrow morning. Delahunte who was wounded twice by bullets fired from the gun of George Donoghue, chief of police at Chisholm, while endeavoring to escape, and who has since been confined in the Rood hospital here, is entirely out of danger and his hearing will likely be held early next week.

RED DEVILS WILL PLAY AT HIBBING

Hibbing, Minn., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Red Devils, a negro baseball organization of Indiana will open a series of three games with the Hibbing nine tomorrow afternoon. Hibbing is now at the head of the Trolley league, being more than 200 points in the lead. There will be games on Sunday and Monday.

AUTOMOBILE LOSES WHEEL IN COLLISION

Gilbert, Minn., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—James Crane motored to Eveleth Thursday. Tuesday night Mr. Crane had a wheel taken off his car by a man who was unable to stop his machine in time to avoid a collision.

TOWER BRIEFS.

Tower, Minn., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. G. D. Lizer and children left Thursday for Clear Lake, Iowa, to visit Mr. Lizer's parents.

Dr. R. L. Burns and W. E. Fay drove their autos to Duluth and attended the circus with some friends.

Gus Fabin of Fabin park was in Tower Thursday.

The excursion to McKinley park under the auspices of the Commercial Club band was well attended.

The annual Eagles' picnic will be held in a short time. Extensive preparations are being made. It will probably be held at McKinley park.

To Direct Athletics.

Hibbing, Minn., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Walter W. McMillan, a graduate of Monmouth college has been selected as director of athletics in the Hibbing public schools, and will assume his new work Monday. Mr. McMillan while a student at Monmouth was for three years captain of his college football team, two years captain of the baseball nine and for three years at the head of the basket ball five.

CROWDS WATCHING FIREMEN COMPETE

Contests at Aurora Appear to Be Absorbing Much Attention.

Aurora, Minn., July 25.—(Special to The Herald).—The contests between the volunteer firemen attending the tournament being held here draw many people, over 1,000 visitors, it is estimated, being on hand yesterday. Proctor carried off the flag race and the novelty hose race. Proctor's time in the flag race was 67 2-5 seconds; Grand Rapids, second, 69; Aurora, third, 69 1-5.

In the novelty hose race Proctor's time was 45 1-5; Aurora, second, 45 2-5; Ely, third, 56. Proctor won the 100-yard dash, 10 2-5 seconds; Aurora, second, 10 3-5. The events today are hub and hub race, coupling contest combination hook and ladder and surface wet test. Tonight officers will be chosen and the next meeting place selected. It is claimed Ely has a grip on the next convention having a large delegation here.

To Play International Falls.

Chisholm, Minn., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the new ball park Sunday afternoon at 3, the Hibbing Hooligans and the Monroe baseball team will play. The local ball team, under the management of James Leighty, will go to International Falls to play the team of that town on Sunday and Monday.

To Form Ladies' Auxiliary.

Chisholm, Minn., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The United Spanish-American War veterans camp, Major Wilkinson No. 15, Tuesday evening decided to form a ladies' auxiliary. A communication was read from the state headquarters on the coming election of state officers.

DIRECTORY SHOWS POPULATION GAIN

Advance Figures Give Duluth 90,000 People This Year.

City directory figures will give Duluth a population of 90,000 this year, according to C. J. Bonner, superintendent of the Duluth Directory company, who is in charge of the canvass which has practically been completed.

Mr. Bonner estimates that the 1913 directory figures will show an increase of about 8,000 people over last year.

For the past month, the directory company has had a large crew of men at work on the canvass. Thorough and painstaking methods have been employed and it is expected that the count will be about as an accurate as is possible.

West Duluth, Mr. Bonner believes, will show the greatest relative growth.

IN SUPREME COURT

Among the decisions of the week in the Minnesota supreme court, the following were handed down:

Hennepin County.

State of Minnesota, respondent, vs. Fred A. Briggs, appellant. Defendant appealed from judgment of conviction for highway robbery and from order denying new trial. Held that the evidence supported the verdict of guilty. Also held that there was no misconduct on the part of one of the jurors who read newspaper comments of the trial of a character to justify a new trial. Judgment and order affirmed. Brown, C. J.

Sandstone Spring Water company, respondent, vs. Kettle River company, appellant. An action to recover damages to plaintiff's property through the pollution of a spring by the waste product of defendant's creosoting plant. Held that the court did not err in refusing the additional findings proposed by defendant. Also held that the court did not err in denying defendant's motion for new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence. Order affirmed. Dibell, C.

Ramsey County.

Jennie E. Williams, et al, appellants, vs. city of St. Paul, respondents. Order affirmed. Held that the amendment to the city charter providing for the enforcement of local assessments is not unconstitutional because in the form of judgment therein prescribed the land on which an installment is adjudged a lien becomes the property of the city at the end of a year without a sale, the owner having a right to redeem. Bunn, J.

Anko Krulic, respondent, vs. Martin Petcoff, appellant. In an action for slander, defendant, under a general denial, may show in diminution of damages that plaintiff's reputation was bad but this must be shown by evidence of his common repute in the local community and not by specific acts of wrongdoing. If an instruction be desired upon a point omitted in the general charge, a request embodying such point should be presented. Order affirmed. Taylor, C.

Samuel A. Willett, respondent, vs. Illinois Central Railroad company, appellant. The Federal safety appliance act imposes upon common carriers engaged in moving interstate traffic by railroad, the absolute duty to equip their cars with couplers, "that will at all times, when operated in an ordinary and reasonable manner," couple automatically on impact. Held that the court cannot say as a matter of law that the couplers were not defective within the meaning of the safety appliance act, nor that the coupling was attempted at an improper place, and that these questions were properly submitted to the jury. Order affirmed. Taylor, C.

Martin County.

Fairmont Cement Stone Manufacturing company, respondent, vs. Cyrus E. Davidson, appellants. A statutory bond containing the statutory condition and also other conditions will be construed so as to give effect to the statutory condition unless the language of the bond precludes such construction. Order overruling demurrer to plaintiff's complaint affirmed. Taylor, C.

EYE SYMPTOM NOT FATAL

We have heard it stated that no case of Bright's Disease ever recovered that had progressed so far that the patient was becoming blind.

These are truly "last minute cases," but that recoveries have been reported in these cases under Fulton's Renal Compound is a fact. For instance, the following items were given us by the physician attending a Mr. Nash, an S. P. R. R. conductor of Oakland, Cal.

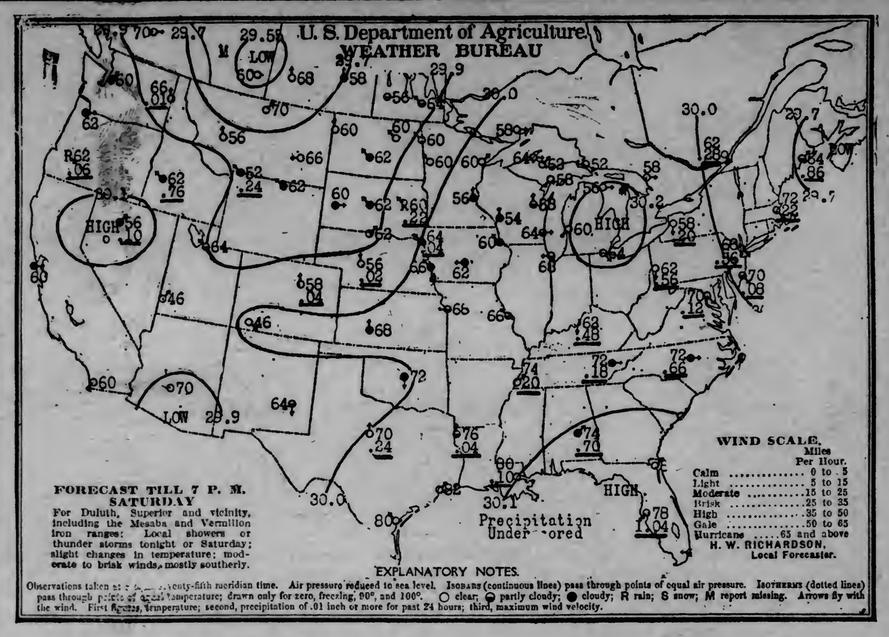

"There was five per cent of albumen casts in abundance, enlarged heart and almost bursting dropsy. Patient became nearly blind. The family physician in Napa said the case was hopeless and he was taken to the S. P. R. R. hospital of Oakland. He continued to fail and left greatly discouraged. The physician then called put him on Fulton's Renal Compound, aiding it with heart treatments, etc. In six months patient was ready for his train. The doctor handed us the following report:

Specific gravity	1020
Albumen	None
Casts	None
Eye sight	Normal
Weight and strength	Normal

People having Bright's Disease owe it to themselves and family to try Fulton's Renal Compound before giving up. It can be had at druggists supplied by Leithhead Drug company.

RAIN

The weather man's kindness to the circus didn't let up for a moment and yesterday was a day to draw out the crowds. Today is another beauty but the weather man predicts local showers to thunderstorms tonight or tomorrow. Fair, warm weather prevailed a year ago today.

The sun rose this morning at 4:39 and it will set at 7:50 this evening, giving fifteen hours and eleven minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"During the last twenty-four hours showers or thunderstorms occurred in Atlantic and Gulf states, the Ohio and lower Mississippi valleys, Colorado, Nebraska, Northwestern Iowa, Eastern South Dakota and the Far West in connection with the barometric depressions centered over Western Canada, Mexico and off the North Atlantic coast. Temperatures of 90 deg. or higher occurred Thursday in British Columbia, Alberta, Western Washington, Arizona, New Mexico, Texas, and the Middle and South Atlantic states. The easterly movement of the disturbance centered over Alberta will be attended by local showers in St. Louis and Douglas counties during the ensuing thirty-six hours."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, July 25.—Forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Saturday:

Upper Michigan: Fair and warmer tonight; showers Saturday or Saturday night.

Wisconsin: Increasing cloudiness with probably showers late tonight or Saturday; rising temperature.

Minnesota: Unsettled weather with showers tonight or Saturday; warmer tonight.

Iowa: Unsettled weather with probably showers tonight or Saturday; warmer tonight and in east and central portions Saturday.

North Dakota: Generally fair tonight and Saturday; cooler Saturday.

South Dakota: Generally fair tonight and Saturday preceded by unsettled weather in east portion; warmer in east portion tonight; cooler in west portion Saturday.

Montana: Generally fair tonight and Saturday; cooler in east portion tonight.

Upper Lakes: Moderate southeasterly and southerly winds. Fair and warmer weather tonight, showers Saturday or Saturday night.

TREATY MAKER DEAD.

Antonio Grignon, Pioneer Minnesotan, Dies in Wisconsin.

Winona, Minn., July 25.—Antonio Grignon, 86 years old, the oldest settler in this section, is dead at his home at Trempealeau, Wis. He was educated at Prairie du Chien, Wis., by Zachary Taylor.

In the early days Grignon became a fur trader among the Sioux and Winnebago Indians. He was later employed as an interpreter by the Federal government. He aided the government in negotiating treaties.

Grignon's contributions to historic volumes, treating on the Indians and their characteristics and habits, are considered among the best available. He was an honorary member of the Wisconsin Historical society.

SHOOTS YOUNG DUCKS.

Ada Auctioneer Fined $10 for His Fun on Lake Bemidji.

Bemidji, Minn., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—It cost Thoedore Salverson, an auctioneer from Ada, $10 for the amusement of sitting on the deck of the "City of Bemidji" and shooting at young ducks as the boat passed them on its way down the Mississippi river to the electric light dam. When S. C. Bailey, Bemidji game warden, learned of Salverson's amusement, he had him arrested, and in municipal court, before Judge Crowell, a plea of guilty was entered, and a fine of $10 imposed.

SEES WARRANT; KILLS HIMSELF

Peoria, Ill., July 25.—Glen Stone, 23 years old, brother of Congressman Claude U. Stone, committed suicide at his home at Middletown, Ill., by blowing half of his head off with a shotgun. The sheriff of Menard county had placed him under arrest on a peace warrant. Stone said he would die rather than go to jail, and ran into the house, grabbed a shotgun and pulled the trigger before the sheriff could interfere. The warrant was the result of a family dispute.

FINE BEMIDJI 'PHONE BUILDING PROMISED

Bemidji, Minn., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—By Jan. 1 next, the Northwestern Telephone company will have erected a modern pressed brick, story and a half exchange building on Beltrami avenue and will have installed a complete new flash signal telephone system for the antiquated hand ringing telephones now in use.

Plans for the new structure are in the hands of Bemidji contractors and the contract will be let within the next few days, the actual work of construction to begin at once.

ITCHING ECZEMA QUICKLY YIELDS TO POSLAM

Every day many skin sufferers are made happy through the use of Poslam.

It is a remedy that does over and over again what is expected of it, and much more besides. Often in a week or two it eradicates cases of eczema, acne, salt rheum, etc., which may have caused intense suffering for years.

Rapidity of action, intense power to heal, the reliability and uniformity of its work and its many beneficial uses render Poslam a necessity to all who seek perfect skin health. Itching stops at once. Unduly red complexions are cleared overnight. Keep a box of Poslam handy this summer for disposing of rashes, sunburn, prickly heat, mosquito bites, stings, etc.

POSLAM SOAP keeps the skin secure against infection and disease, improves its color and texture, soothes tender skin, makes complexions clear, hands soft. The best shampoo for dandruff.

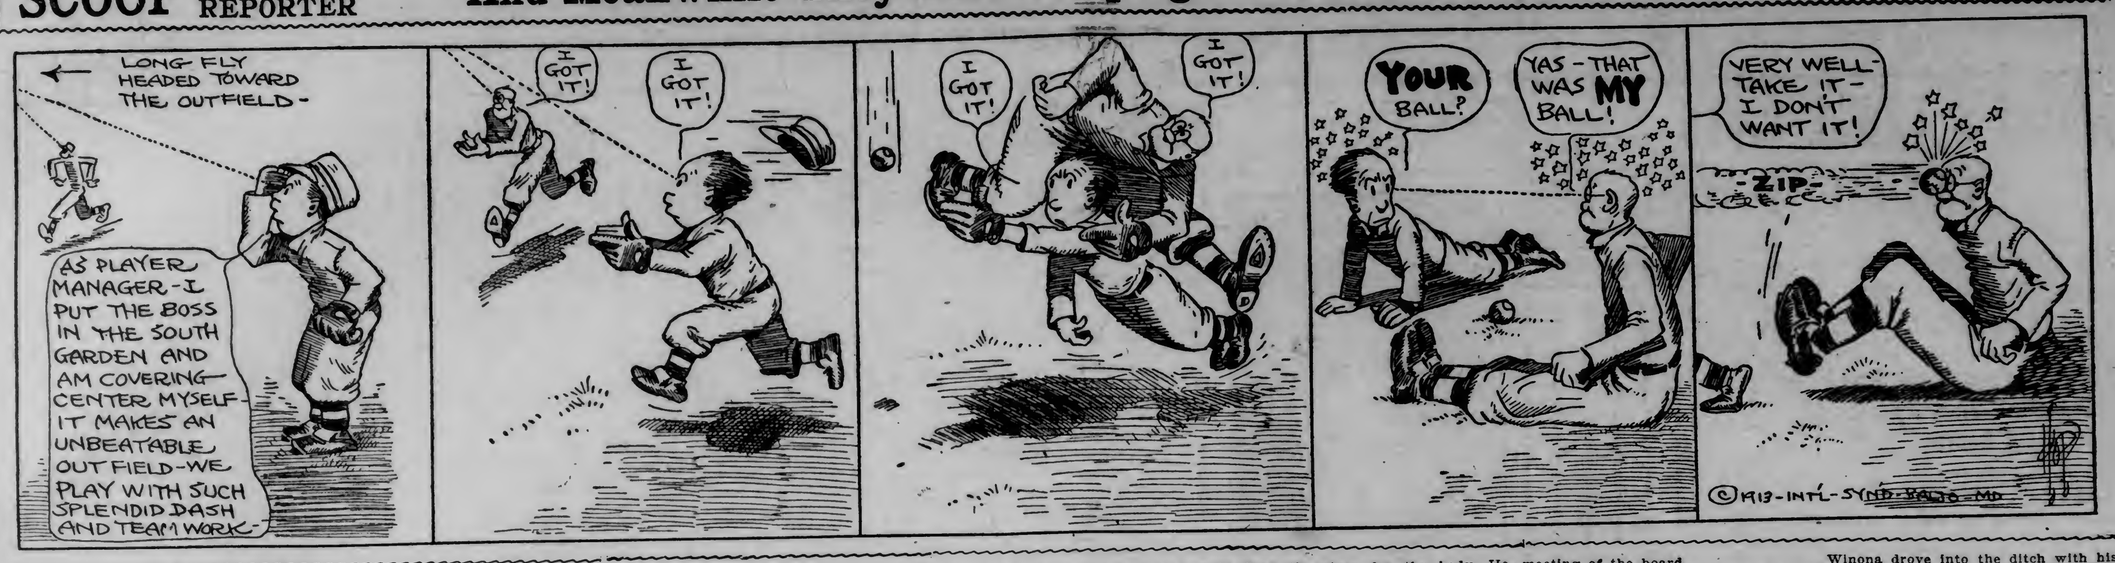

All druggists sell Poslam (price, 50 cents) and Poslam Soap (price, 25 cents). For free samples, write to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West 25th Street, New York City.

RESINOL SOAP PROTECTS YOUR COMPLEXION

A complexion protected by the regular use of Resinol Soap is almost always a complexion to be proud of—free from pimples, blackheads, redness and roughness, and glowing with natural health and beauty. This is because Resinol Soap is an extremely pure toilet soap, without trace of injurious alkali, and containing the soothing, healing medication which has made Resinol Ointment a standard prescription for skin troubles for the past eighteen years.

Resinol Soap is delightful to use, its odor is wholesome and refreshing, and its distinctive rich brown color is due entirely to the Resinol balsams and not to artificial coloring. For baby's delicate skin it is ideal, tending to prevent chafing, irritation and the eruptions so common in infancy. Sold by all druggists. Trial free; Dept. 8-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

TO GIVE AID TO FARMERS

Meeting at Bemidji Saturday Afternoon Expected to Be Fruitful.

Movement for Wholesale Land Clearing Is to Be Launched.

Bemidji, Minn., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fred D. Sherman, recently appointed immigration commissioner of Minnesota, will be one of the speakers at a mass meeting of farmers and business men at the city hall Saturday at 1:30 p. m.

A. J. McGuire, superintendent of the Northeast Experiment farm at Grand Rapids, also will be present and other speakers will include W. R. Mackenzie, secretary and immigration commissioner of the Northern Minnesota Development association; W. B. Stewart, county superintendent of schools; and Buford M. Gile, agricultural instructor of the Bemidji high school.

Jesse E. Dade, postmaster at Blackduck and president of the Beltrami County Development association, will preside.

With pledges of assistance from capitalists interested in the rapid development in Northern Minnesota, those in charge of the meeting will advance a plan, it is expected, whereby an incorporated company with a capital of $20,000 will be formed for the purpose of clearing land on a wholesale scale.

Another feature of importance to be considered will be that of obtaining loans for the benefit of farmers who may wish to purchase cattle. In this connection J. J. Opsahl of this city will offer assurances of financial backing by bankers and other capitalists.

First Appearance at Bemidji.

This will be Mr. Sherman's first visit to Bemidji, since having become immigration commissioner.

At the meeting here in June of the Northern Minnesota Editorial association, frank criticism was offered by Charles F. Scheers, editor of the Akeley Herald-Tribune, because of the absence of Mr. Sherman at that time.

Mr. Sherman's assistant, John W. Klenitz, was present and when he spoke as a representative of the immigration commissioner, Mr. Scheers apologized. The point, however, he had made that the immigration commissioner ought to get close to the people is believed to have had something to do with Mr. Sherman's present visit to Bemidji.

It is understood that Mr. Sherman will announce a definite policy in regard to the immigration commission and that he will bring to his Bemidji audience details of special assistance for this part of the state.

The meeting has been called for 1:30 and will begin promptly at that hour so that farmers can attend with the least inconvenience and the gathering will be dismissed in plenty of time for visitors to catch the outgoing trains.

ATTACKS JOHN BURKE.

North Dakota Democratic Editor Fulminates Against Former Governor.

Fargo, N. D., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Col. Ben G. Whitehead of the Bismarck State, a Democratic paper, surprised the Democratic organization of North Dakota by a two-column attack on Former Governor Burke, now United States treasurer. Recently there have been rumors of differences between Burke and National Committeeman Breugger over what was termed Burke's interferences with the recommendations for Federal appointments in this state.

As Col. Whitehead has always been bitterly opposed to Breugger, it was naturally supposed he would favor Burke as against Breugger. This makes his arraignment of the former governor astonishing. Ex-Governor Burke is charged with having played a selfish, single-handed political game in North Dakota.

As Whitehead was a former member of Burke's staff and was closely associated with the governor his comments are all the more surprising.

A. C. COLLEGE HAS FINE FAIR EXHIBIT

Fargo, N. D., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The North Dakota agricultural college assisted the state fair at Grand Forks by sending a large exhibit from the departments of botany, pure food, home economics and engineering. Incidentally the exhibits will also call the attention of the visitors to the fair to some features of the work being done at the big institution in Fargo for the benefit of the farmers of the state.

One exhibit shows the quality of seed that is sometimes sold to the farmers and is scored on a percentage of purity.

In the pure food department there are exhibits of some of the articles of food that are offered for sale in this state, including meats, canned goods of all kinds, soups and candies. The menace to the health of some of this is distinctly brought out and analysis made of some of the goods that claim to have been pure. A model slaughter house is shown, also an illustration of the menace of the common houseFly.

ARE ANXIOUS TO SEE WAR SERVICE

Members of North Dakota National Would Like to Serve Country.

Fargo, N. D., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—The members of the North Dakota National Guard are eager for service in Mexico if called. Fifteen years ago the state sent troops to the Philippines and the new crop of militiamen is anxious for a little actual service.

At the state encampment the possibility of being called out was the chief subject. The men eagerly read every line about the activity of the navy and the war departments, the movements of the battleships and the preliminary activity of the regulars. The boys are enthusiastic over the possibility of seeing active duty and if a call is issued for troops there will be no difficulty in recruiting every company to the maximum limit.

Some of the younger members of the regiment have made pools on the possibility of being called out and are confident there will be something doing before winter in the republic to the south.

IS GIVEN SIXTY DAYS.

Former Prominent Wisconsin Prohibitionist Sent Up for Drunkenness.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 25.—M. M. Riley, once a prominent and wealthy attorney here as well as the leading spirit of the Prohibition party in Wisconsin for many years, and a candidate for mayor on that ticket, was sentenced yesterday to sixty days in the house of correction on a charge of being a common drunkard. Riley came here from Detroit, Mich., twenty years ago and soon after, became one of the most prominent attorneys in Wisconsin. At one time he received a retainer of $30,000 in one case. He became wealthy and prominent in Prohibition political circles. He is now penniless, feeble, a mental and physical wreck and said nothing when sentenced.

HELD FOR ASSAULT.

Cromwell Young Man Is Accused of Hideous Crime.

Carlton, Minn., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—After a hearing before Justice of the Peace W. H. Hassing, Thursday, Harry Demire, son of a well known farmer living at Cromwell has been held to the grand jury on the charge of criminally assaulting 9-year-old Viola Violet of Cromwell. It is alleged the accused enticed the girl into the barn and attacked her.

NEW MACHINE.

Dakota Man Has New Labor-Saving Device for Farmers.

St. Thomas, N. D., July 25.—B. H. Nelson has recently been granted a patent on a combined motor truck and shock loader which promises to revolutionize threshing operations. The invention is combined in such a manner that it is claimed one truck loader can supply all the bundles and keep the threshing machine in operation. It does away with all bundle teams and pitchers, which will mean a saving of from $50 to $100 a day in threshing expenses, besides the saving that will occur from the fact that there will be less men and teams to feed during wet weather. The machine is also constructed so that when it comes to the separator the load is dumped on the ground without the necessity of a stop. The shocks are picked up cleaner and with less waste of grain than is the case with bundle teams. One of the machines is now being built in Minneapolis and it is expected it will be completed in time for use this coming fall.

WILL NOT DESIST.

Beaten in Courts, Club Members Will Appeal to Boundary Commission.

DeTour, Mich., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—Defeated in the courts in their efforts to exclude the public from Munoskong bay, members of the Munoskong Hunting and Fishing club, composed of Detroit men and residents of other cities, are reported to have revived the attempt to debar from the disputed grounds hunters and fishermen who do not belong to the exclusive organization. What was denied by the state's highest tribunal is now being sought through the International joint boundary commission. The nub of the controversy is whether Munoskong bay is an arm of Lake Huron or is part of the St. Mary's river. The club holds to the latter contention. Former Circuit Judge Joseph A. Steere decided to the contrary in 1909 and, on appeal, the supreme court sustained his view.

Former Congressman James A. Tawney of Minnesota is chairman of the American section of the joint commission and the attorney for the nonmembers of the club has written to him, requesting a hearing before any action is taken in the premises. Chippewa county people are confident that if the contest is taken up by the boundary commission the contentions of the club will again be decided negatively.

POSTOFFICE TO MOVE TO NEW BUILDING.

Bismarck, N. D., July 25.—Bismarck's postoffice will be moved Saturday into the new Federal building, just completed, and which cost $150,000. The Bismarck postoffice is one of the largest in the state and when it occupies its new quarters in the Federal building it will be as fully equipped as the offices of the big cities. A larger number of clerks will be added to the force, and after occupying the old cramped quarters for years, the new office will be a revelation to the public. This new building will be occupied by the United States landoffice and the Federal quarter which heretofore have occupied rented quarters.

Appointed by McGovern.

Milwaukee, July 25.—Governor McGovern sent to the senate the name of August S. Lindeman of Milwaukee as a member of the Wisconsin industrial commission to succeed John R. Commons, resigned.

John A. Hazelwood of Jefferson, was nominated a member of the highway commission and John Burns of La Crosse, and Senator E. F. Kilen of Wautoma, members of the fisheries commission.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Bowbells, N. D.—The last criminal case to be tried at the present term of district court was that of the state against M. H. Tveit of Lignite, who was charged with burglary. A verdict of not guilty was brought in. A. K. Tice was found not guilty of assault and battery after a jury trial.

Oakes, N. D.—The barn and granary on the John Munch place were burned to the ground. The fire was caused from a bolt of lightning that appeared to enter at the cupola and roll towards the open door. The two hired men were in the barn at the time, and the ball of fire passed between them and appeared to explode as it reached the end of the barn.

Rugby, N. D.—The 13-year-old son of L. A. Larson who lives near Tunbridge was shot in the foot with a .22 caliber rifle. The boy, who with a cousin about the same age, had been using the rifle and it seems were unloading the magazine and while the weapon was in the hands of the other lad it was discharged and the bullet lodged in the Larson boy's left foot just below the ankle joint.

Fargo, N. D.—State Superintendent Taylor at Bismarck is just commencing to receive the school census of the state from the various counties of the state and the first two counties to report so far are McKenzie and Ransom counties. Last year this time McKenzie county had a school population of 1,393 while this year it is 1,693. Ransom county has fallen off a trifle, as last year that county had a school population of 2,760, while this year it is but 2,709.

New England, N. D.—Eva Jung, aged 8, met death by falling in a well and striking her head on a rock. Her 9-year-old brother summoned the mother immediately, who was unable to rescue the child.

Kenmare, N. D.—B. J. Bertelson reports that he has struck a six-foot vein of coal, of unusual hardness, at a depth of 174 feet in his Spiral mine. In going down to this depth he passed through other veins and is certain that he has struck the deepest lying lignite vein and one which is not now being worked.

Brisbane, N. D.—W. L. Hone and two brothers, near here, have under cultivation 600 acres this year, barley, wheat, oats and corn, and all are "looming" up in good shape and only accident can prevent good yields.

Wolford, N. D.—Fred Hadley, near here, plowed down a big field of wheat that was grown from seed that stood in the shock until the middle of the winter. The grain germinated all right but soon rotted away.

Krem, N. D.—During the month of June the Krem creamery received 14,834 pounds of cream from which 5,686 pounds of butter was made. The amount paid to patrons was $1,124.70, some checks running as high as $75 a patron.

Bismarck, N. D.—The city health officers are attempting to have the city commission compel property owners and agents to destroy noxious weeds, claiming these weeds are a nuisance and cause for sickness. Under the commission law the city can destroy the weeds and assess the expense to the property.

Mandan, N. D.—Miss L. E. Clark of Fargo, will arrive in the city in a few days to assume the assistant superintendency of the Mandan hospital as successor to Miss Elizabeth Jones, recently resigned. Miss Jones, who had been here about three years, tendered her resignation some time ago.

Bowbells, N. D.—The Burke county seat case is to be tried before the district court at Bowbells July 28. This is a long drawn out case, being brought to determine the location of the county seat as between Lignite and Bowbells. Lignite claims to have won at the election held two years ago but the county commissioners of Burke county threw out a number of precincts, claiming irregularities.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Ishpeming — Miss Clysteria Dora Pemberthy and William Richard Sleeman, both of this city, were united in marriage Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pemberthy, on St. Angeline street. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sleeman. The bride was supported by her sister, Miss Florence Pemberthy, and James P. Teer, acted as best man.

Negaunee—St. Paul's church was the scene of a pretty wedding Wednesday morning when Le Roy Maye and Miss Sabina Barabe were united in marriage, the nuptial knot being tied by Rev. Fr. Buchholtz, the pastor. The bride wore a gown of white silk and carried sweet peas. She was attended by Miss Lily Goorich of Iron River, who wore a pale pink silk dress and carried white sweet peas. The groom was attended by Moses Barabe, brother of the bride.

Marquette—Mrs. Gilbert D. Johnson, a former resident of Marquette, died Tuesday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. S. Scoville of Chicago. Mrs. Johnson was ninety-three years of age. She and her husband, who was first superintendent of the Lake Superior mine, were pioneer residents of Marquette, having lived here over fifty years ago.

Hancock — Richard Carroll, pioneer resident of Ripley and founder of the well known family which bears his name, passed away at the family residence Sunday morning. The deceased was born in Ireland in 1826, coming to the United States in 1852. In the early 60's he erected the first Ball stamp in the Copper country, at the old Pewabic stamp mill and in 1866 he entered the employ of the Lake Superior Smelting company. For nearly a quarter of a century he has been retired.

L'Anse — The deadly dynamite cap has added another name to its list of maimed victims. He is Peter Pekkala, 7 years old, the son of a farmer near L'Anse. Road builders had stored a quantity of dynamite caps among the roots of a stump. The boy found the explosives. He experimented, with the result that two fingers and a thumb of one hand were blown off.

Marquette—Believed to hold the record for number of marriage ceremonies performed by ministers of the gospel in this state, if not in the country at large, Rev. T. R. Easterday of Sault Ste. Marie has rounded 2,500 mark in that particular and has prospects of tying a few hundred more knots in his nuptial string. Mr. Easterday is Upper Michigan's oldest clergyman. He is hale and hearty despite his years.

Hancock—Irene Lockhard, the valuable horse which was disposed of by the Hancock Aerie of Eagles at the Rouleau hall, was awarded to C. J. Johnson of Lowell, Ariz., a former Copper country boy, whose parents live at Greenland.

Osceola — Miss Winnie Bowden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bowden and Edward McCormick were married Tuesday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Reuben Crosby of the Hancock M. E. church.

Marquette—Mayor H. H. Rose of Los Angeles, who has just been elected, is a brother of Mrs. A. B. Eldredge and Selden Rose, of Marquette. Mr. and Mrs. Rose visited in Marquette several days last year. Mayor Rose has been in the West since 1885, and has been prominent in social and civic life.

Dollar Bay—Ground was broken this week at Dollar Bay for the new building which is to be erected for the Roebling wiremill, and for which the Worden-Allen company of Milwaukee are the contractors. The building will be a large and important addition to the wire plant and when completed will require an addition to the operating force.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Appleton—Orders for the state rifle camp at Camp Douglas from July 28 to Aug. 2 were issued by Col. R. B. McCoy, inspector of small arms practice. He has appointed Capt. S. E. Piasecki, First infantry, Milwaukee, camp adjutant, and Maj. C. R. Williams commissary and ordinance officer.

Fond du Lac—John Gedlinski, a wealthy farmer, who lived half a mile from Rosendale, committed suicide on Wednesday.

Green Bay—Henry Leonard, 25 years old, a brakeman employed by the Chicago & Northwestern railroad, was instantly killed when he fell off a box car and was run over by five cars and the engine of the train near Greenleaf.

Kaukauna—The recent dispatch saying the last survivor of the Mexican war had died at Green Bay is refuted by the presence here of Jerome Green, a resident of Stanley. Mr. Green was active in many of the big battles of the war.

Manitowoc—Mrs. Anton Novak, St. Nazianz, who was shot by her husband last week, may die. Her condition is critical, as a result of blood poisoning, which has developed from the wound inflicted by her husband.

Madison—A. J. Wimmie, supervisor of deaf schools under the department of public instruction, will leave that position in September to become teacher of the deaf in the Milwaukee normal school. This position was created under the Holmes bill, passed by this legislature.

Plainfield—The harvest of winter rye began here this week. This crop is one of the best in many years and the acreage is also large.

Racine—Alderman and Mrs. Anton Hansen celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage on Tuesday.

Marinette—After having been missing for two days, William Lefave, 5 years old, was found on Wednesday at the home of Patrolman Joseph Eggener just as the sheriff was starting to drag the river for the body. He had applied at the Eggener home for shelter late Tuesday night and the officer could not learn who he was then.

New Richmond — Twice knocked down and trampled by a mad bull, Martin Eliason, a laboring man, married, still managed to get to the fence and escape despite the fact that he was badly hurt.

Kenosha—John Youngblood, aged 54, committed suicide in the Garfield hotel here Wednesday morning, shooting himself. Youngblood had seen better days, but for sometime he had been serving as a porter at the hotel.

Ashland—John Thompson, a well known Ashland resident of Iron River died Wednesday morning at 2 o'clock from Brights disease. The diseased is survived by four doughters and two sons. The daughters are Mrs. Minerva Whiting, Mrs. Hector McLean, both of Duluth, Mrs. Charles Cargiel, Saskatchewan, Can., and Mrs. John McDougal of Ashland. The two sons are John Thompson, Ashland, and William Thompson, Mason.

Madison—Pardon to restore to citizenship was granted to George T. Gilbertson of Trempealeau county, convicted Dec. 5, 1910, of wife desertion. This action was taken upon recommendation of Speaker Merlin Hull of the assembly.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Hinckley—The village has purchased a block of land on the west side of town for a dumping ground and the marshall has been busy for a few days cutting brush and fixing the boundary lines.

Rush City—The Twin City-Duluth highway was not taken up with the county commissioners at their last meeting, as was intended, for the reason that the state surveyors had not yet completed their work so as to turn in their estimate. It is expected this will be accomplished before the next meeting of the board.

Pine City—Dr. Taylor, who owns the sanitarium on Pokegama lake, has had an injunction served on the county board restraining them from building a county road which will pass near the sanitarium. The road has been petitioned for the people living in the vicinity.

Isanti—Mrs. Andrew Erickson died on July 22, at her home, three miles east of Isanti, following a long illness. She was born in Sweden in 1858; was married in 1878; migrated to America in 1905, coming to Isanti county, where her home has been for the past eight years. She is survived by her husband and seven children. The funeral will be held Thursday.

Mora—Elnar Rudd, the 19-year-old son of Mrs. Thaager Rudd of Brunswich, died Sunday morning of appendicitis. Funeral services were held at the Fish Lake Mission church Tuesday afternoon and the remains were interred in the church cemetery. Rev. Nelson of Maple Ridge, pastor of the church, was the officiating clergyman.

Stillwater—Mrs. E. D. Buffington and son, Gilbert, have gone to Duluth, where they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Harper.

St. Peter—The replica of the statue of the late Governor Johnson has been received by the local committee and it is proposed to dedicate the same on the court house grounds on the anniversary of his death. This statue is an exact copy of the one on the capitol grounds and will be placed on the grass plot on the north side of the courthouse.

St. Cloud—Mrs. Peter Hammerel died at the family home in this city Tuesday, aged 62 years. She had been ill for some time and the end was not unexpected. The deceased was born in Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1851, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Goedker. The family came to Minnesota and St. Augusta township a few years later, and were well known residents. Her husband, six sons and five daughters survive.

Winona—While traveling a rough road near Ridgeway, J. C. Mayer of Winona drove into the ditch with his car, where the machine turned turtle, but fortunately none of the six occupants were seriously injured. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Mayer, Mrs. Marie Sonnelly and baby and Mrs. Lulu Strueber and daughter were in the machine.

Mankato—Charles Schwanenberg of this city and Clifford Babcock of Kasota report that a four-pound bass jumped into their boat at Lake Washington. These two boys with Louis Widell are camping near the Widell cottage.

Bemidji—Archie Brown, son of A. D. Brown who resides northwest of Nebish, accidentally shot and seriously wounded himself Tuesday while hunting. The boy was standing on a stump with the stock of the gun on the ground. In some manner the gun slipped, discharging the shot which entered the groin and came out near the kidneys.

St. Cloud—Mrs. Lucy Ahles, pioneer resident of Stearns county, died at the family home in Pleasant Lake Tuesday, death being due to complications. She had been a resident of the county fifty-six years and was here during the struggles between the Indians and the settlers. She was 67 years of age.

Mankato—John Wilbur, the oldest resident of Vernon Center township, died Wednesday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William Tallman. He was 87 years of age and had been in failing health for a number of months. Mr. Wilbur lived in Vernon Center township for fifty years.

St. Cloud—W. H. Anderson, a well known farmer of Watab, was appointed by the board of appointments as county commissioner of Benton county to succeed the late John Donovan.

Winona—John Davis, the laborer who shot and killed Frank Finn at Wabasha last week because he says Finn called him a "cheap skate," must remain in the Wabasha county jail until next November in spite of the fact that he pleaded guilty in justice court and asked for immediate sentence, because the court is in vacation.

Duluth Takes First Game From Winnipeg By 3 to 2 Score.

(BY BRUCE).

Yesterday's game was won in three heats. Winnipeg, under whip and spur and with a flying start won the first heat. Jockey Henry Howard Brackett was set down by the stewarts after the first heat and Jock Peggy Rhodes given the mount on Duluth. Rider Rhodes cut in on the turn on the last quarter of the second heat, after running all the way at the withers of Winnipeg, and lifted his nag under the wire in a whipping finish. This made the third and deciding heat one grand race. It looked like Winnipeg to the quarter. Here Rhoades took his mount wide on the turn and made the race to the wire from the head of the stretch, winning by two lengths in a beautiful drive home.

Yesterday's score was Duluth, 3; Winnipeg, 2.

Believe us, kind and noble friends, the game that opened the series with the Canadian cousins was some contest. Henry Howard Brackett, that noble soul who happens to be leading the pitchers of the league at the present time, shot in the arm three times in the first round and one luscious run was scored before Hank was led gently from the mound. Brother Peggy the pegger was then called to stop the attack of the Maroons.

With one gone and a man on third Peggy held the enemy hitless for that round and yielded but three hits during the remainder of the contest, and allowed but one run. He flung one grand article of baseball and was given support that fairly glittered at times.

Young Boly was on the mound for the visitors and heaved a game that a larger and heavier man might have been well proud of. Last time small Boly was here he became tangled up with some dill pickles, ice cream and hot sausage, and got considerably the worst of the internal complication that ensued.

At the luncheon of yesterday the youngster limited himself to a bowl of soup, some lukewarm team and three thin wafers, and as a consequence of this prudence pitched one of the nicest games we have seen here for some lurid days.

The First Run.

In the first frame Joe Wilkes singled, sizzling past the third bag. Freer promptly sacrificed and then Johnny Clothier shot one through the Lane at second, and the first run was over. Kirkland singled past first and Clothier advanced to third. At this distressing point of the contest Peggy the Pegger was wafted to the knoll. Rhodes passed Kurke, because he has just been made the manager of the Maroons and should be treated with the utmost respect and the greatest veneration. Graves went down from Schreiber to Meniece and Clothier counted. Joel Napoleon Bachante whiffed and the trouble was over.

The record of the game will show that eleven of the Peggers died on the paths. There was hardly a round but trouble poked its Medusa-locked head into the picture and threw a big scare into those who preferred the ball game to the circus.

Corbett walked to start the second, after we had failed to do anything in our half. Boly went out in easy fashion and then Wilkes walked. Freer forced Joe at station two, but Clothier drew the third walk of the round and the bases were choked.

It was up to Kirkham to produce and that worthy was unequal to the grand occasion. He hit to Meniece and that worthy chucked him out to Peggy the Pegger at first.

In the fourth, the Peggers had a runner on third and one on second and one down. Rhodes was in control and sent the next two down without any damage save to the heart valves of the fans.

The big piece of glittering work was pulled in the eighth round. With Brother Kurke down, Graves singled past third and Bachante lofted one out of reach of the infield. Corbett was walked and again the bags were filled and there was but one gone. She sure did look the worst ever.

Boly hit to Moll and the third sacker whipped the ball home ahead of the speeding Graves, and Wilke, good soul, pegged true and fast to Meniece before the Boly Kid could get his front hoof on the bag. Tumultuous applause from the grandstand and several impromptu and impassioned speeches followed in rapid and picturesque succession. Yesterday was surely some day, taking the circus and the ball game and all the rest.

The rally in the eighth round, or the rally that rallied almost, was the last stand of the visitors, just as Sitting Bull and several other well-known foreigners have been known to make last stands. We had 'em on the hip after that.

Our Side of It.

Let us turn to our own little athletes, who have been somewhat coldly neglected.

Mr. Elmertine Smith showed that he warmly appreciated the fact that a large sum of money was raised to keep him in our midst, by hitting one in the fourth round that Kurke knocked down but could not negotiate successfully. Two were down at the time, and we needed hits and runs. Elmer Miller, easy in mind again after the glowing report of Scout Doyle, hit one against the top of the free gazers' roost in left field. The ball just hit the top board and then fell back into the park. Horrid way to act. Elmer got two bases on his clout and Elmertine Smith galloped in.

After having the big scare thrown into our side in the eighth, as has been related, the boys of home associations went forth and gathered two runs. Two were gone when that grand old man Darby O'Brien stepped to the plate. He whaled one over second and the crowd rose en masse. Johnny Clothier erred on the offering of Smith and then Miller came trailing his big bat.

The hero of the boy scout's favorable report whanged one that curved beautifully out of the reach of Graves at first and traveled with gathering speed down the right foul line. O'Brien and Smith crossed and Elmer rounded up at third. More applause and general vocal pyrotechnics.

Let us close the chapter here. The visitors could do nothing in the ninth and we were safe.

RED HOSE TAKE OPENING GAME

Superior won the first game from Minneapolis yesterday by the score of 2 to 0. The contest was a pitchers' battle between Chicken and the veteran Horace Leverett. The youngster had slightly the better of the argument. The game was hard fought and abounded in some of the best fielding that has been seen at Hislop park this season. The score:

WINONA HAS EASY TIME WITH LA CROSSE

Winona Minn., July 25.—Bell was the master of the newly christened La Crosse team in the battle of yesterday, holding the visitors to six scattered hits and winning the game by the count of 11 to 0. Kramer and Breckenridge were rather easy for the home team. Bell whiffed twelve of the visitors and only two of the colts reached the third station. The score:

Play Eleven Innings.

Kansas City, July 25.—Milwaukee struck a batting stride in the eleventh inning yesterday, and, aided by errors, won a 10 to 5 game from Kansas City. Kansas City got away to a three run lead in the initial inning, but the visitors put across two runs in the next frame when Manager Clark hit for four bases with Jones on first. The game was all even in the fifth when the visitors scored three and the locals two. It remained that way until the eleventh.

With two out in the final inning, Blackburne walked, Beall singled and Blackburne scored when Walker made a bad throw to the plate. Beall took second on the error. Jones doubled scoring Beall. Clark walked. Woodruff was safe on Breton's error, filling the bases. Jones scored on a passed ball. Hughes singled over second, scoring Clark and Woodruff.

RAIN PREVENTS FORT ERIE RACES

Buffalo, N. Y., July 25.—A heavy downpour of rain yesterday afternoon resulted in the Grand Circuit races at Fort Erie being postponed until today. The deluge struck the track after the first heats of 2:09 and 2:11 pace had been finnished, and while the free-for-all pace was being called.

Weather permitting, the two unfinished races and the free-for-all pace will be run off today and the Grand Circuit stars will move along to Grand Rapids. The 2:06 trot, carded for yesterday, was declared off for lack of starters.

Billy M., after acting badly when scoring for the first heat of the 2:09 pace, won, driven out to stall off Walter Cox with the brown stallion, Cabel. Stetbrino Lad set the pace to the three-quarters in the Fort Erie stake for $5,000, but finished last after a bad break. Frank Bogash, Jr., led to 100 yards from the wire where Del Ray, the favorite urged on by Cox, caught him, crossing the wire a length to the good.

DARKNESS HALTS LONG TENNIS MATCH

Boston, Mass., July 25.—The all-comers' tournament for the Longwood tennis singles trophy was carried through to darkness yesterday by a match between W. M. Washburn of New York and E. H. Whitney of Boston, which was still undecided when play was stopped. The men had battled through more than three and one-half hours, playing four sets, when the contest was adjourned. Whitney won the first and third sets, 6-1 and 6-3, and Washburn the sceond and fourth, 7-5, 6-3.

FEW GAMES REMAINING ON THE HOME SCHEDULE

Not counting double headers and counting the games that are being played in the present series, the fans of Duluth will have just thirteen more opportunities to see the White Sox in action.

There are thirteen games on the remainder of the home schedule, not counting the postponed games that will have to be played.

Winnipeg comes here the middle of August for the concluding games of the season with us. Minneapolis is scheduled to make one more appearance. Grand Forks is on the home schedule for three games and Superior will wind up the season here with one game on Aug. 22 and one game on Aug. 24.

This is in the event that the directors of the league decide not to extend the schedule, and it looks very much at the present time as if the season of the Northern league will come to an official close on the afternoon of Aug. 24, thus bringing to an end the initial race of the new league and the most successful baseball from every viewpoint that we have had in these parts for many seasons.

President Blume has practically given up hope of securing the vote of the other club owners for the lengthening of the season. Therefore less than a month from the present date the season will come to an end and the winner of the race will have been declared.

There are five teams of the league which have a fighting chance for the flag at the present time.

Duluth, Superior, Minneapolis, Winona and Winnipeg are still in the race. If Duluth can hold the pace the team is traveling at right now, all hope is by no means lost. Minneapolis has been slumping. Superior is going strong. Winona has wavered just enough to make the drive to the wire one of the prettiest that is being witnessed by any of the leagues of the country.

Winona has something like nineteen games scheduled for home. Starting with the series that is on at the present time, the Corsairs are at home for the remainder of the season with the exception of a series with the Forks and the Peggers on the grounds of the opposition. This will give the Davis tribe an advantage that you may be sure will not be in the least overlooked by the wise old owl who has made a great success as the manager of the city beautiful bunch.

Every game counts now. The race is so close and the interest so high, that there is probably more enthusiasm upon the part of the fan at the present time than during any part of the season.

Duluth has a fighting chance for the flag. If the team plays the best baseball of the season it may be possible to nose in ahead of both Winona and Superior. But it will require the best baseball that the Docks have played during the entire year, and this is just what the directors of the team believe the Sox are going to give.

The Indian pitcher is due to arrive today and he comes up to the many nice things that have been said of him will be used in some of the double headers that loom ahead.

The Sox are going strong right now and barring a slump are going to make a grand fight for the rag.

OLD FITZSIMMONS SAYS BOXERS ARE TOO GREEDY

There is a lot of truth in the following from the pen of R. H. Kain, the boxing critic of the Philadelphia Record:

"Without intending to do so, Bob Fitzsimmons, the famous blacksmith boxer, has put up to the fight promoters of this country a situation that will be a money-maker to the man who has sand enough to try to solve it. Fitzsimmons declares the trouble with the sport today is the boxers want too much money for the amount of fighting they are willing to do. And there is not much doubt about it. Fitzsimmons is right. The fighters demand more than the promoters can pay, with any profit to themselves. Now, then, what can be done about it. Simply this, shut down on the fellows who want so much money and give the other men a chance. While the top-notchers' demands are so extravagant there is nothing for compel the club owners to pay it. There are hundreds of others just crazy to go into the ring and fight for the best they can get. The owners answer, the public won't come to see the second-raters. Well, perhaps they won't, and perhaps they will. Let the promoters try it and see. They can't lose any more than they are doing now, for the star fighters don't draw enough money to pay their demands, so it's about horse and horse.

Promoter Is Lower.

"The promoter is the loser, and he could not lose any more by giving the new blood a chance than he would by playing the old-timers to losing houses. Now the promoter takes all the risk and the fighter and his manager don't risk a nickel. It's the common thing for a fighter to demand too much money. We will say, for the sake of argument, $750. The majority of the men in the ring who demand that much can't draw half of it. The fighters say 'seven fifty or I don't fight.' Many a manager, feeling that the man won't draw half what he asks, but hoping that something may turn up to help swell the receipts, guarantees the amount asked, and drops a wad of bills. That $750 is 25 per cent of $3,000. If the promoter was to ask the fighter 'Will you guarantee to draw a $3,000 house if I give you $750?' the fighter will reply, 'No; I won't guarantee to draw anything, but I am worth that much money, and if I don't get it I won't go into the ring.'

"The boxing promoter who keeps on giving fighters the money they ask for can only come to one end—the loser's—and it is only a question of time when he will have to close his club. But there appears to be no reason why a club should have to close, neither should there be any reason for giving the boxers the extravagant sums they demand. There are today more good boxers in the country than there were ever before in the history of the sport. Through peculiar circumstances there are hundreds of them who cannot get engagements, although the club owners are raking the country with a fine-tooth comb for boxing talent. It has been proven that shows can be made up of fighting talent, not champions, who would put up a good, if not better, contests than the stars, and it would not take very long to develop a lot of young lads who could take care of themselves in any company.

Main Events Not Best.

"More than once during the past winter it has been shown that bouts between substitutes and contests in the preliminaries had more ginger in them than the star bouts. No more sensational contest has ever been pulled off in this city than the affair at the Olympic between Willie Mack and Neill McCue. It was a hair-raiser in every round, and no two champions ever left a ring in this city with more applause than those youngsters who probably did not get as much between them as was paid either of the men who figured in the windup on the same night. On Tuesday night at the Fairmount Athletic club a substitute bout, the semi-windup, was one of the most sensational contests in this city in a long time, and it brought to notice a young lad who is sure to develop into a rattling good lightweight if something does not happen to put a crimp in his career. Numbers of such instances could be enumerated in which the spectators would have been perfectly satisfied if they did not have to wait to see the star bout, for they had gotten all the fighting they craved by the time the windup was called. And there are cases every now and then when the semi-windup or the preliminary bouts discount the past bout by a long margin.

"With such a state of affairs confronting the promoters it would seem that there would be no difficulty in running a series of bouts that would satisfy the boxing public, and not be compelled to give up everything to the rapacious fighters, who, thinking they are in the limelight for the time being, want the entire receipts, the ring and gloves they box with. It has been proved more than once that a promoter can run a club without champions and make money. Fred Douglas did it with a moderate sized club. Lew Bailey has done it with a small club. But, it might be argued, they could not do it with the big clubs. Well, perhaps they could not, but the boxing critic of the Record would be willing to bet a big red apple that they could. At least they could try, and where there is a will there is a way, according to an old saying that has many times proved to be a true one. With opposition of baseball and other outdoor activities the boxing promoter has less opportunity for profit than in cold weather. Hence it is up to him to make the boxer share the risks.

A Percentage Plan.

"A percentage plan could be arranged by which the boxer and the promoter would both be protected. It is easy enonugh. In fact, it is really the method by which boxing should be conducted at all seasons of the year, not alone during warm weather. At first, perhaps, there would be some boxers who would refuse to take any part of the risk and still want the promoter to stand it all, but they should be put aside as not worth considering under the circumstances and the opportunity given to those who are willing to match their talents and drawing powers against the money and the work that the promoter has to invest in his clubhouse, the advertising and the carrying on of a boxing arena. There is every reason to believe that there are plenty of such pugilists ready to jump in at once and work in harmony with the club owner to the end that the risk, as well as the spoils, shall be divided and not all go one way. The promoter who has the sand to introduce such an arrangement will have no cause to regret his action."

MANY ENTRIES FOR POWER BOAT REGATTA

Toledo, Ohio, July 25.—For the Perry centennial speed boat regatta which opens here Monday, a total of forty-two written entries were filed yesterday. The list includes hydro-aeroplanes, monoplanes and electroplanes to the number of thirteen. More are expected tomorrow and Sunday. Ten of the fastest boats on the Atlantic seaboard were among the entrants. The remainder are Great Lakes craft. These nearly a mile-a-minute boats will compete on the Maumee river for national and international trophies.

PITCHER SOLD; ANOTHER BOUGHT

Indianapolis, Ind., July 25.—George Kaiserling of the Indianapolis American association club pitching staff has been sold to the San Francisco Pacific Coast team, according to a telegram received from Manager Mike Kelly, who is in Chicago seeking new players for the local team. Kaiserling is a good but erratic pitcher.

Kelly also announced the purchase of George Norton, a young left-hander from the Hastings club of the Nebraska State league. Norton has been the sensation of the Nebraska league all season, although it is his first professional ball. He will report to the Indianapolis team Aug. 15.

CARL MORRIS AND BENEDICT TO MEET

Joplin, Mo., July 25.—Carl Morris, the Oklahoma white hope, and Al Benedict of Brooklyn, N. Y., will meet here in a 15-round ring battle tonight. Both are in excellent condition. Morris weighs 225 pounds, having thirty pounds advantage over Benedict.

Schedule Changed.

Carson City, Nev., July 25.—After their arrival here last night, the Indiana automobile tourists held a meeting and changed their schedule. They remained here over night, left for Glenbrook, Lake Tahoe this morning, leaving Lake Tahoe Saturday morning over the California state highway to Sacramento, arriving in the afternoon. They will arrive at Oakland Sunday morning and leave Monday afternoon, arriving in San Francisco an hour later. They will remain in San Francisco until Thursday morning then proceeding south.

Naps Buy Pitcher.

Decatur, Ill., July 25.—Dick Staley, first baseman of the Danville baseball club, was sold yesterday to the Cleveland Americans for $2,500, of which $1,500 was received in cash and $1,000 to be paid if he becomes a regular. Scout George Huff made the deal.

Weston at Fairchild.

Fairchild, Wis., July 25.—Edward Payson Weston, is now within 128 miles of the end of the long walk from New York to Minneapolis having reached this place last night. He suffered considerably early in the day from a wrenched knee, caused by the rough roads encountered in leaving Black River Falls. L. H. Carley of New York joined Weston at Merrillan yesterday and is walking with him to Minneapolis.

ALLIS DRAWS BIG GALLERY

Milwaukee Man Plays Gardner in Semi- Finals at Homewood.

Defeats Chick Evans, Western Champion, in Third Round of Play.

Chicago, July 25.—The largest gallery which has followed a pair here in several years saw E. P. Allis, III, of Milwaukee and R. A. Gardner of Hinsdale tee off this morning at Homewood in the semi-final round of the Western golf championship. A large portion of the crowd was attracted by the remarkable playing of the young Wisconsin expert, who yesterday disposed of Champion Charles Evans, Jr., and expected some great golf from him in his match today with Gardner, who is a former national champion.

The sky was cloudless and a stiff east breeze made a coat feel comfortable. The greens were perfect and there was nothing to keep down fine quality of golf. Among the spectators was Louis Allis, father of the Badger champion, who yesterday forfeited his match in the semi-final round for the secretary's cup in order that he might see his son perform. Mr. Allis, Sr., said he would like to buy the first hole which the junior Allis made once in one stroke, four times in three and another time in four.

In the western championship at Minneapolis in 1910 Allis just failed to qualify. At Detroit he qualified tenth and was defeated in the first round.

J. C. Le Duc of the Calumet club and Warren K. Wood of Homewood formed the other pair to get away. Wood, who is the more experienced player, was the favorite.

Allis Wins With Putter.

Allis defeated Evans, western golf champion, 4 up and 3 to play, in the third round of the tournament here yesterday. The defeat came at the end of thirty-three holes of play in which the Milwaukee youngster bettered the play of his veteran opponent consistently.

Allis won on the putting green. His work with his putter was almost uncanny at times, and until he was 6 up late in the match, it seemed impossible for him to miss the cup. In the afternoon round he started with a 25-foot put on the first hole and an 8-foot put on No. 2 to win and then startled the gallery with a 50-foot put on the third green, also to win. From this on, he continually played safe, but several times his roll up shots rimmed the cup.

In driving through the first green, the wind bothered the Wisconsin champion more than Evans, Allis having a hard time to prevent his hooked ball traveling to the long grass. When going straight with or against the wind, however, he had little trouble in distancing his opponent.

Both players exhibited some wonderful shots in long pitches to the fast greens.

Evans, in addition to holding the western title for the last year was runner-up in the national event to Champion Harold Hilton. He has held the championship of France and practically all the honors he is eligible to in Western golf.

Warren K. Wood of Homewood survived his match with Frazer Hale of Skokie although the match went to thirty-nine holes, Wood getting a hard-won victory after the third extra hole. Robert A. Gardner of Hinsdale, former national champion, defeated A. C. Perry of Calumet, 4 and 3. J. C. Le Duc of Calumet, defeated H. W. Lockett of Homewood, 1 up in thirty-six holes.

SULTRY RACE IN NORTHERN

Five Teams Have Chance to Win the Cherished Gonfalon.

The Northern league race is beginning to attract the attention of the country. It has suddenly developed into the hottest thing going in baseball. Winona, after weeks and weeks of easy going has been caught and it is anybody's race now. All the teams have steadied down and if the race were beginning today with the teams as they are now, there would be no soft snap for anybody. Grand Forks, La Crosse and Virginia are playing fast ball and likely to make trouble for the leaders any day. The first five teams are all going grandly. Winnipeg's spurt has made the Northern team look decidedly dangerous and two more weeks may show the Peggers leading the procession. Superior and Duluth are playing rip-snorting ball, and Minneapolis, set back by the unexpected defeats at Grand Forks, is still in the hunt, despite the loss of Comstock.

It is a spectacular fight and the fans are getting their money's worth these days.

The scouts have not dropped the Northern league by any means, and Rube Schauer is not likely to be the lone star copped out by faster company. Four big league teams are ready to take a chance on the mighty Miller of Duluth. Schreiber's pick up in batting has made him a much desired man, and Clothier of Winnipeg, Collins of Winona, Derusha of La Crosse, Altman of Grand Forks, Bell of Superior, Briere of Minneapolis, are all being watched, while Brackett, Bell, Nelson, Sherrin, Jarnigan, are all likely looking twirlers due for advancement soon or late.

The Northern league is a winner and it is here to stay. Next season it will be on earth bigger and better than ever. That fact is absolutely assured.

Rain Stops Game.

Boston, July 25.—The contest between Cincinnati and Boston the only major league game started in the country yesterday, was halted by rain in the last half of the first inning. Cincinnati had scored one run in the last half of the first inning on a base on balls, a single and an error by Rariden on an attempted double steal. When the shower interrupted play, Boston had a runner on third with only one out.

Little Baseball Yesterday.

New York, July 25.—Not since the season's early weeks has such a baseball hiatus occurred as that of yesterday, when not a single major league game was played and minor league contests in the East were conspicuous for their rarity. It was an off day anyway for the American league, the western teams being on their way east to open new series tomorrow. Four games were scheduled in the National league, but rain prevented all of them, as it did numerous minor organization games on the day's program.

JOHNSON DENIES NEW YORK CLAIMS

Chicago, July 25.—President Johnson of the American league announced last night after investigating the claims in regard to the deal by which Hal Chase was procured by Chicago in exchange for Player Zeider and Borton, that the New York club did not have basis for its complaint.

President Johnson said he had found that Zeider had played, whenever needed for ten days previous to the trade, and for five days following the deal. This, Mr. Johnson said, refuted the claim that Zeider was not in proper physical condition. Borton played with the Highlanders until his weak hitting resulted in his transfer to the Jersey City club.

SEVENTY-SEVEN ENTER TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Chicago, July 25.—Entries for the Western tennis championship tournament, which starts on the Onewentsia Country club courts on Saturday, closed last night with seventy-seven players named in the singles. Thirty-six teams will compete in the doubles. The list for the women's singles and doubles, as well as mixed doubles will be announced Monday. Players of national prominence are entered in the Memphis single.

WOMEN SAIL AT PUT-IN-BAY

Put-In-Bay, July 25.—Mrs. Tjorma Johnson yesterday sailed Commodore S. O. Richardson's Aid Sam three miles in 56 minutes and 30 seconds, winning the ladies' catboat race. Pitted against her were six other craft, her closest competitor being Mrs. Kate Purtle with catboat No. 2, T. Y. C. Her time was 56 minutes and 38 seconds.

The veteran cruisers class was won by Alice Enright, also of Toledo. The boat left the starting point at 9:15 o'clock and finished at 10:42:24, covering the course in 1:27:24. The Whitecap was second to finish, elapsed time being fifteen minutes more than that made by the winner. Skip D. Y. C. was third in 1:45:03.

Today the closing day of the sail yacht regatta, will witness the sailing off of ties among the catboats.

YACHT PRIZES WILL BE GIVEN

Put-In-Bay, Ohio, July 25.—The Perry centennial regatta ball, the social event of the Inter-Lake Yachting association's regatta and the local Perry centennial celebration was held at the Coliseum last night.

The announcement that State Attorney General Hogan had ruled that State Auditor Donahue had no right to hold up vouchers of the Perry centennial commission, for money to be distributed among prizewinners in the yacht races will be received with a great deal of satisfaction. The vouchers had been held up for several days. Prizes will be distributed tonight.

ARMSTRONG OUT IN THIRD ROUND

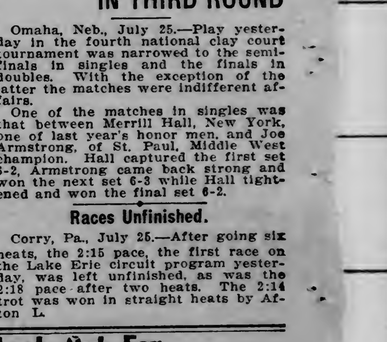

Omaha, Neb., July 25.—Play yesterday in the fourth national clay court tournament was narrowed to the semi-finals in singles and the finals in doubles. With the exception of the latter the matches were indifferent affairs.

One of the matches in singles was that between Merrill Hall, New York, one of last year's honor men, and Joe Armstrong, of St. Paul, Middle West champion. Hall captured the first set 6-2, Armstrong came back strong and won the next set 6-3 while Hall tightened and won the final set 6-2.

Races Unfinished.

Corry, Pa., July 25.—After going six heats, the 2:15 pace, the first race on the Lake Erie circuit program yesterday, was left unfinished, as was the 2:18 pace after two heats. The 2:14 trot was won in straight heats by Afton L.

Look Out For Poison Ivy

Strolling through the woods or clearing brush, picnickers, hunters, fishermen—look out for poison ivy. And in the meantime keep your blood pure by using S. S. S. If your skin is rough with eczema, pimples or any other eruption, S. S. S. stimulates the fine network of blood vessels in the skin to dry up and heal all sore spots.

S. S. S. will do this positively. It dominates the principle of osmosis, stimulates the cells of the skin to select their own nutriment from the blood, made pure and healing by the wonderful medicinal ingredients of this famous blood purifier. It is a safe remedy, as it contains no minerals, and yet its action is a marvel.

You can get S. S. S. in any drug store, but insist upon having it. The Swift Laboratory in Atlanta, Ga., prepares this famous blood purifier, and you should take no chance by permitting anyone to recommend a substitute. And if your blood condition is such that you would like to consult a specialist freely, address the Medical Dept., The Swift Specific Company, 186 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

TELLS STORY OF KIDNAPING

Helen Maleski Returns Home and Relates Strange Tale.

Says Two Masked Men Carried Her Away in Automobile.

Helen Maleski of 528 West Second street, who suddenly disappeared late Wednesday evening after leaving her girl friends, returned home at midnight last night and explained her absence with a strange story of two men who kidnaped her, placed her in an automobile and then after riding all night, assaulted her while several miles out of Adolph. According to her story, she was compelled to walk all the way back to Duluth.

The young girl, who is only 18 years old, keeps house for her brother, Frank Maleski, and the two of them came to Chief Troyer this morning. The girl told her story to the chief about as follows:

Helen, together with two girl friends, one of whom is visiting her from out of the city, went to a moving picture show Wednesday evening. The three girls started for home at 11 o'clock. As they approached the courthouse the girls saw two men ahead of them. The latter started a flirtation and offered to take the girls home. All five first went to the home of the third girl and, the four then started back to the Maleski home. Whe nthey reached the house, the visiting girl went in and the young man with her left. Helen and the other man decided to take a walk around the block.

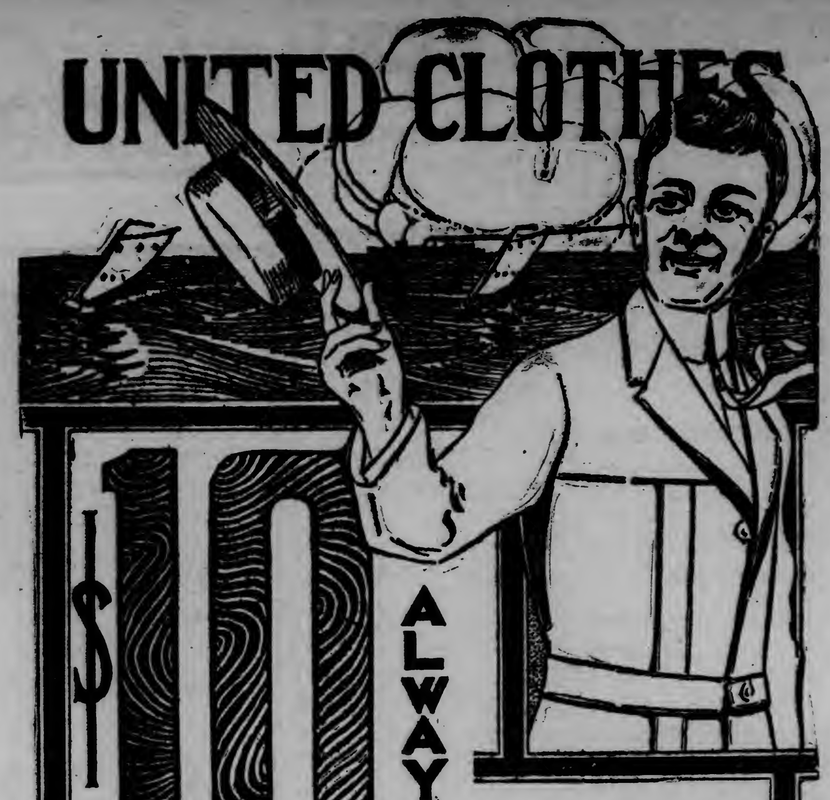

Helen left this man at Fourth avenue west and First street and was walking around the back of the courthouse on her way home, when two masked men jumped out of an automobile and seizing the young girl, carried her into the machine. They then drove off at a rapid rate, going north out of the city, she claims.

About 10 o'clock yesterday morning the machine ran out of gasoline and it was then that the two men assaulted her she says, later forcing her to walk back home. The young girl walked for about two hours, finally coming to a farmhouse where she obtained a light lunch from the farmer's wife, after which she continued her journey to Duluth, arriving at her home about midnight.

Yesterday morning the two girl companions of Helen called for her to go see the circus parade and it was then they learned that she had not been home all night. A search for her followed and the two girls came to Chief Troyer with their story.

The police are inclined to doubt some of the girl's statements, as apparently it had taken her as long to ride out to the place where the assault is claimed to have been committed as it did to walk back.

DONS TROUSERS AND WORKS AS FARMHAND

Wisconsin Woman's Physical Weakness Bares Fight for Family.

La Crosse, Wis., July 25.—A story of love, self-sacrifice and a woman's losing battle against the high cost of living, was told at police headquarters last night by Mrs. Ada Broughton, 30 years old. Before completing the story she fell in a faint to the floor.

Unable to support her two children and her invalid husband on the wages paid a woman, Mrs. Broughton, who is slight, scarcely weighing 100 pounds, donned man's attire and labored beside farmhands in Dakota wheat fields. The work became so heavy that she broke down under the strain, and came here in search of lighter employment. She heard that a circus was in need of a roustabout, and secured the position. Lifting heavy poles and canvas resulted in her complete breakdown. She then sobbed out her story to the police. She was taken to a hospital, unconscious.

Relatives are on their way here from Rice Lake, Wis.

"FINE FEATHERS" WELL RECEIVED

Advance Manager Says All-Star Cast Is Great Success.

Charles Hertzman, advance manager for "Fine Feathers," which is to be presented by an all-star cast at the Lyceum theater next Monday and Tuesday, arrived in Duluth this morning and is making arrangements for the appearance of the company in this city.

Mr. Hertzman is enthusiastic over the reception accorded his star players throughout the country in their appearance in Eugene Walter's latest play. "Fine Feathers" has socred a success in every city it has appeared, according to Mr. Hertzman, who is of the opinion that the company which will be seen here next week is the best now traveling in any production.

In the cast of "Fine Feathers" will be seen such old stage favorites as Robert Edeson, Wilton Lackeye, Max Figman, Rose Coghlan, Lolita Robertson and Amelia Sumers. The company will arrive here Monday morning.

JUDGMENT BY DEFAULT

N. J. Upham, as trustee for the defunct and bankrupt Hartman-O'Donnell real estate and insurance agency, entered judgment for $3,382.70 in district court today against Cornelius J. O'Donnell.

O'Donnell, in the suit brought by the trustee, is charged with having misappropriated money collected for and belonging to the company. Judgment was entered through default.

Default judgment was also entered this morning by the Crane-Ordway company against John Sheehan for $742.74.

SUPERIOR MAN IS FIREMEN'S TREASURER

Neenah, Wis., July 25.—The following officers were elected at the closing of the Wisconsin Paid Firemen's association: President, Edward Gullen, Milwaukee; vice president, G. W. Batcheider, Marinette; secretary treasurer, Ole Norman, Superior. Racine was selected as the next place of meeting.

BUTTER IS IMPORTED

Canada Not Producing Sufficient Butter for Home Consumption.

Beef, Veal and Mutton Also Brought From New Zealand.

Ottawa, Ont., July 25. — Canada's trade commissioner in New Zealand reports that 71,062 boxes of butter were shipped to Vancouver from Auckland during the fiscal year 1912-13. For the first five months of the current year Canada bought from New Zealand over 2,500,000 pounds of butter, besides 10,775 carcasses of beef, and a large quantity of veal and mutton. It is calculated that the year's imports of butter will be probably 10,000,000 pounds. This will be the highest on record. It is a great change from ten years ago when Canada exported 34,000,000 pounds of butter.

Canada cannot now supply the home market. In this connection it ought to be remembered that dairying is not by any means decreasing in this country, on the contrary, it has greatly increased. Instead of shipping to Europe, Ontario and Quebec are shipping their surplus products to the Canadian West, where the farmers are too busy with wheat to have much to do with dairy work. Saskatchewan and Alberta in 1912 produced over 4,000,000 pounds of creamery butter. But this was not nearly sufficient for the needs of the people. During the same period, Ontario and Quebec sent over 11,000,000 pounds to the West and beside this a large quantity was brought into the West from New Zealand.

It really seems extraordinary that an agricultural country like Canada should have to import butter and beef, and the Canadian farmers ought to see to it that this business does not slip out of their hands.

Military Mustaches.

There is some comment over the recent order issued by the militia department to the soldiers in camp that "upper lips must not be shaved." This is to encourage mustache production among the Ontario soldiers. Those who are always apprehensive of militarism say that the order, which is similar to that in existence in the British army, is another aspect of imperialism. They say it is the introduction of the thin end of the wedge and at no distant date another order will be issued making mustaches compulsory in the service. And still one cannot very well see how this could be done as long as the minister of war, Col. Sam Hughes, is at the head of the Canadian militia. Whatever may be the colonel's faults, a slavish imitation of British practice and procedure is not one of them. He is a good Canadian and not very long ago parted with Gen. Mackenzie of the imperial service, because the general, so it is understood, wanted to adopt certain British methods which were not in accordance with the views of the minister. However, this may be, it is certain that the general left Canada for home some six months ahead of time. Col. Sam, as he is popularly called, will never be bossed by Downing street.

Canadian Wheat.

Recent reports from the Canadian West are to the effect that there is every prospect of a good harvest, providing it can be secured. But the intense loyalty of the people of the soil is such that no one sends out information of any kind that is not of the optimistic kind, and therefore, it is only when the crop can be measured by bushels that Easterners are fully satisfied as to the real results of the harvest. The area under wheat is not much larger than last year. The statistical office at Ottawa estimates the total area under wheat in Canada at 9,816,000 acres. In the United Kingdom the area under wheat is about 2,000,000 acres, in Australia 7,500,000 acres, in New Zealand 350,000 acres, and in India 30,000,000 acres, or three-fifths the entire area under wheat in the empire. The crop reporting board at Washington estimates the area under wheat in the United States at 449,601,000 acres.

It is interesting to see how all these figures affect the supply of wheat to Britain in view of parties in England in regard to granting a preference upon wheat and the immensity of the crop of India. The wheat imports into the United Kingdom during the year ended August 31 last show that of the total of 192,000,000 bushels India supplied 40,000,000 bushels, Canada 36,995,000 bushels and Australia 28,317,000, or a total of 104,000,000 bushels as against 77,000,000 from the Argentine, Russia and other countries outside the empire.

POWER COMPANY GIVEN TITLE

Acquires 1,152 Acres Under Old Condemnation Proceedings.

After dragging in the courts for more than two years, condemnation proceedings started by the Great Northern Power company to secure title to land for additional reservoir dam purposes have been concluded.

Judge Fesler in district court this morning signed findings and the final order of judgment. The power company will acquire title to thirty-one parcels of land in the vicinity of Pike Lake or 52-15 and 16. The land acquired totals 1,152 acres.

Reservoirs and dams will be constructed on the property to be used for reserve purposes.

PARIS GREEN AND LEAD ARSENATE.

Some practical information for those who have to use these insecticides is given by the editor of the Pharmaceutical Era in a recent issue of that journal to a subscriber who propounds the following questions: "What amount of Paris green should be used in water for killing potato bugs on potato vines? Is arsenate of lead as effective as Paris green for the above purpose? How many applications of arsenate of lead should be applied to fruit trees and what strength should be used?

Agricultural experts give the following instructions for the preparation and use of Paris green by the "wet method": Make the Paris green into a thin paint in a small quantity of water, adding powdered or quicklime equal to the amount of poison used. Strain the mixture into a spray tank. Use the poison at the rate of a pound of dry powder in from 100 to 200 gallons of water. The stronger mixtures are for resistant foliage, such as that of the potato, and the weaker for sensitive foliage, such as that of the peach and plum.

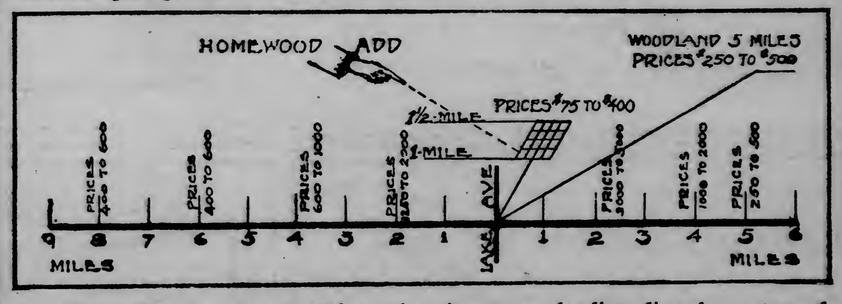

The advantages claimed for arsenate of lead are that it shows plainly on the leaves, indicating at once which have been sprayed; remains much more easily suspended in water, and may be used in comparatively large proportions without danger to foliage; it is also safer for the operator, and produces no "scalding" of the leaves. From 1 to 10 pounds of arsenate of lead are used with 150 gallons of water, some operators recommending the addition of about 2 quarts of glucose to cause the solution to adhere better to the leaves. From 2 to 5 pounds will answer for most larvae.

Directions for lead arsenate paste: Mix 1 pound of lead arsenate to 25 gallons of water, which is about equal to two even teacupfuls of lead arsenate to a barrel of water. Work the lead arsenate into a smooth paste with a little water and then gradually add the remainder of the water to make up the full quantity, after which it will be ready to be poured into the tank. Stir the mixture occasionally to prevent settling. Use a nozzle that will give a fine spray. Continue spraying until the leaves are well coated and commence to drip. Select a bright day, so that the coating may dry on the foliage, after which it will usually resist rain and atmospheric changes. The operation should be commenced with the first appearance of animalcule, and generally repeated in from two to four weeks, according to conditions. It is said that lead arsenate is now employed by leading entomologists and growers with very satisfactory results, and its use is steadily on the increase throughout the country.

The latest type of destructive war vessel is the Russian submarine cruiser, which is more than six times the tonnage of the next largest submersible. It is virtually an underwater torpedo dreadnaught.

STUDY THE LOCATION OF HOMEWOOD ADDITION

Examine the diagram below and you will notice that HOMEWOOD IS ONLY ONE MILE FROM THE CENTER OF THE RETAIL DISTRICT, then compare prices with other locations four to six miles further out.

Remember that the grade from the city proper leading directly up to and through Homewood is less than in any other part of the city, and it is the only direct route that can be used safely and economically by surface railroads and teams generally, leading into the country north, east or west, and it passes right through Homewood.

TWO VIEWS OF THE SAME COUNTRY TOWN

To One Girl It Was a Prison; to Another the First Place She Had Ever Known Freedom.

Youth's Companion: "Oh, dear! It's good to get a breath of real fresh air," said Margaret Curzon. "And yet I hate the country—to live in."

"Do you?" a pleasant voice asked, incredulously. "Did you ever really try it?"

The two girls had met in a country railway station. Already, after half an hour, they felt well acquainted.

"I was brought up in the country," replied Margaret. "We moved to the city only a few years ago."

"Why do you hate it?" asked Ruth Evans.

"It was so limited. There was no high school within reach and I had no chance for a real education. They couldn't afford to pay a minister, and we only used the church a few weeks in the summer. There was no place for amusements, and no fun going on anywhere. A girl had no chance to make any money for herself. Father and mother were satisfied, but for a girl—"

"Weren't there any other young people?" asked Ruth.

"A few, but they hadn't any spirit." Then Margaret added, "Do you live in the country?"

"Yes, and I love it," Ruth said. "But we were lucky. It's a dear little place we're in, nestling right under the mountains. To be sure, it's small, but we're happy there. I was like you. I wanted a high school education and didn't get it. I was sickly till we moved into the country. It wasn't too late then, but there was no high school. The country made me strong, though. What's the good of a school with a brain and body that won't let you study? I got the health, and then I made the school myself."

"How?" Margaret asked, with interest.

"I got the young people together and we started the Launch Out club. Every member had to launch out in some little enterprise that would make money to buy books. We applied to the department of agriculture for pamphlets that would help us. I had an outbuilding made into a pigeon house and sent squabs to market. Some raised hens; one girl bred a fine strain of ducks; another concentrated on cauliflowers. We soon had enough money to buy books for a course of reading. Then we read. We've done a lot since. We open the church every Sunday and have simple helpful services. We have sports and entertainments and a village improvement society. We have made the houses ever so much prettier. The one we bought had plenty of possibilities. Oh, I believe this is your train."

"Yes. I'm sorry to go. But if you'd lighted on Gilead, where I was born, you'd tell a different tale. Your village has some life in it. Good-by."

"Gilead! Gilead!" Ruth ejaculated. Gilead in Vermont? Why, that's where I do live. You must tell me your name before you go."

"Margaret Curzon."

"Why! It's the Curzon place we bought—your house. And oh, it had such possibilities!"

The train was moving.

FORM VERSUS FOOD.

Saturday Evening Post: A famous humorist says that a new rich family in Cleveland, who were beginning to put on a lot of airs, hired a colored girl just arrived from the South to act as serving maid. Her new mistress insisted that all meals should be served in courses. Even when there wasn't very much to eat, it was brought to the table in courses.

At the end of the week the girl threw up her job. Being pressed for a reason for quitting so suddenly, she said:

"I'll tell you, lady. In dis yere house dere's too much shiftin' of de dishes fur de fewness of de vittles."

WHEAT LOSES; FLAX GAINS

Reports Discounting Heavy Crop Damage Lowers Leading Cereal.

Apprehension Concerning Large Flax Crop Boosts Figures Four Days.

Duluth Board of Trade, July 25.—The close of the wheat market was at the lowest level of the day, July, September and October each losing ⅝c; July durum dropping ½c and September durum falling off ¾c.

Oats closed ⅜c off and corn ⅞c off.

September puts, 86⅞@87c asked; calls, 87½@87⅝c asked.

The wheat market is getting softer under the benign reports of fine crop conditions, and despite the protests of even some sanguine bears that the pounding down of wheat is being overdone, it still continues to say. The general belief is that the actual crop will prove to be far beyond expectations and that the government report of July 9 will be shown to be away off in its statement of conditions and of prospects. Every report that has come in has shown that the moisture which has fallen, beginning about July 3, has improved the condition of wheat wonderfully and that a really pronounced bearish condition exists.

July wheat is wholly inactive. September, which is the center of attention, was not any too brisk, for traders, while the general feeling is bearish, are not inclined as yet to take definite stands either way. This option of spring wheat opend ⅛c off and began to say at once, going down gradually until in the last hour of trading it was ⅝c off. December, while having very little attention, followed suit and to a similar extent. July durum is off ⅛c and September durum had lost ¾c in the last hour.

Flax Bulges Again.

The growing apprehension as to the short acreage and possible damage of the new flax crop, is causing heavy buying of the present crop and of futures, and the result is that flax for the fourth successive day bulges again this morning. July and October advanced 1c each, September and December gained 1⅛c each and November added 1¼c to its price of yesterday.

Fargo, N. D., July 25.—(Special to The Herald.)—A two-thirds of an average crop is assured in North Dakota if there is a late fall and storms are not too numerous and severe. This much is certain as a result of the recent precipitation. Nearly every section of the state has had rain during the past week or ten days, which coupled with the moisture of the week preceding has made a great change for the better in the crop situation.

There are a great many bad spots upon which little or nothing will be grown. This covers a considerable area. The early wheat is generally bad, but the changed conditions elsewhere is offsetting the bad districts. Late wheat, barley and oats are advancing so rapidly that every one is optimistic. Of course it will require a later season than usual for the late crops to reach maturity.

There have been frequent hail and other storms, but fortunately they have not been over extended areas.

Crops in the Red river valley, barring a few fields of early wheat, are almost as good as last year. Recent rains have been sufficient to mature the crop and heavy rains for the next few weeks are more likely to cause damage than to prove beneficial.

The straw will be shorter this year than last, but the heads are well filled. The crop will be easier and more cheaply handled than last season. Rye harvest is well advanced and velvet chaff wheat is rapidly reaching the ripening stage. Late spring wheat, barley and oats are still very green. Corn and potatoes could scarcely be improved upon.

The Van Dusen & Harrington company has just issued the following crop letter:

"Weather in the three Northwestern states has been favorable for maturing the crop. The latter part of last week the rainfall was general with moderate temperatures. So far this week the weather has been clear and fine, with temperatures from 56 to 70, with light winds.

"North Dakota—Wheat has made marked improvement since our last letter and with good weather should come near making a fair crop. Rye harvest is practically completed. We do not look for more than a light crop of oats and barley.

"South Dakota—There can be no black rust in the territory west of the line running north and south through Watertown because of the thinness of the stand. In Beadle and Kinsbury counties there is black rust on the leaves of late sown wheat, but none on the stalks and no sign of rust on early sown wheat. In Clear Lake county around Willow Lake, there were two fields that had black rust on the boot, but none on the stalk. Weeds are growing faster than the wheat. Rye and early oats harvesting is now on, with heads well filled. Some barley cutting will be general by the end of this week. Corn is tasseling and promises one of the largest crops in the history of the state.

"Minnesota—The crops are fast reaching maturity and past all danger of rust. Wheat has filled fine and velvet chaff is being cut. Hay and rye harvest is finished and barley near completion. Timothy seed and flax will be a small crop. Oats look pretty fair. Corn is the banner crop and some of it is tasseling out. There has been enough moisture and dry cool weather is needed from now on until after harvest."

B. W. Snow wires from Minot, N. D.: "Wheat through central and northwestern counties will yield decidedly above early expectations. I have never seen finer weather conditions for filling than now exists and heads are heavy and quality will be high. Effect of June drouth is apparent only in short straw. If the original stand had been good North Dakota would have raised another big crop, but so favorable has the past month proven for finishing wheat crop that she will get, in spite of the poor stand, at least an average rate of yield if not a little better."

Estimated week-end changes in grain stocks at Duluth tomorrow night: Wheat, decrease, 700,000 bu; flax, decrease, 450,000 bu.

Modern Miller of St. Louis says: "Weather this week is again favorable for winter wheat harvest, which is well under way in the northern sections of the winter wheat belt. While rains have had some effect on the condition of the grain in localities where there was considerable moisture, the quality of wheat sent to market nevertheless is uniformly good. Threshing returns generally satisfactory both as to quality and quantity. The movement to market is still free. There are indications in some localities of a letup in selling. Farmers seemed willing to part with the first threshing and relieved pressing need, but now show a tendency to hold back the remainder of their wheat. Some farmers are taking advantage of favorable conditions to begin breaking ground for fall wheat seeding."

REMARKS—Moderate temperatures prevailed; light showers fell over Eastern South Dakota, Nebraska, Northwestern Iowa and Ohio Valley states.

H. W. RICHARDSON, Local Forecaster.

‡—Not included in the district averages.
‡—Maximum of yesterday, minimum of last night.
*—Highest yesterday.
†—Lowest for twenty-four hours, ending at 8 a. m., seventy-fifth meridian time.

Note—The average highest and lowest temperatures are made up at each center from the actual number of reports received, and the average precipitations from the number of stations reporting 0.10 inch or more. The "state of weather" is that prevailing at time of observation.

ADVANCES IN STOCKS

Better Feeling in Regard to Money and Investment Conditions.

Traders Take Profits Liberally and Cancel Rise of Leaders.

New York, July 25.—In keeping with its recent course, today's stock market showed considerable early irregularity, leading issues inclining lower, while specialties and minor shares were up 1 to 3 points.

Before noon, however, the local market turned strong, New Haven rising almost four points with best prices for the present movement in Steel, Amalgamated and Union Pacific.

Over night news was of a mixed character, including information of a more definite anti-trust policy by Washington and lower prices for American stocks in London. This was offset by better news from Paris and Berlin. Government bonds were irregular.

Irregularity again characterized opening dealings in stocks today. Canadian Pacific and National Railways of Mexico first preferred were off a point with fractional declines in Union Pacific, Reading, Erie and Steel. New Haven opened at substantial fractional advance, soon gaining a full point. Amalgamated Copper, Colorado Fuel and the Rock Island issues also displayed some firmness.

Except for partial recovery in the more important issues and gain of 1 to 3 points in such specialties as Great Northern Ore, American Ice and National Enamel preferred, no change of note occurred in the first hour. Chesapeake & Ohio manifested some selling pressure.

The forenoon advance caused a better feeling respecting money and investment conditions. Buying extended to all classes of stocks, including those recently scrutinized in bank loans. Additional gains of ½ to 1 point were made in the active list, while specialties were up 1 to 3 points.

Harriman stocks figured conspicuously in the later rise, the excellent June earnings of Union Pacific inducing increased buying of that stock. In other quarters the advance was also significant, Coppers, Steel and Coalers ruling materially over yesterday's closing figures.

The market closed irregular. Traders took profits liberally and canceled the advance in the recognized leaders. Bear selling of Canadian Pacific, which depressed it 2 points, increased the desire to sell other stocks.

IMPROVEMENT IN BANK EXCHANGES

New York, July 25.—Dun's Review tomorrow will say: Bank exchange this week at all leading cities in the United States made a fairly satisfactory comparison with the same week a year ago, the total amounting to $2,649,327,179, as against $2,501,295,900, an increase of 5.9 per cent. While gratifying improvement is shown by almost every city, it is especially pronounced at the leading manufacturing and commercial centers in the Central and Western states, and this undoubtedly reflects well-maintained industrial activity.

Chicago Livestock.

Chicago, July 25.—Hogs—Receipts, 17,000; slow 5c under yesterday's average; bulk of sales, $8.05@9.30; light, $9.10@9.50; mixed, $8.75@9.45; heavy, $8.55@9.30; rough, $8.55@8.75; pigs, $7.50@9.25.

Cattle—Receipts, 1,500; slow; steady; beeves, $7.20@8.70; Texas steers, $6.90@8.00; western steers, $7.10@8.15; stockers and feeders, $5.50@7.75; cows and heifers, $3.65@8.25; calves, $8.25@11.25.

Sheep—Receipts, 8,000; strong; native, $4.35@5.30; western, $4.35@5.40; yearlings, $5.60@6.85; lambs, native, $5.65@8.00; western, $6.25@8.00.

"HOW DULUTH WOKE UP"--STORY OF A FOUR-YEAR FIGHT TO REVIVE A CITY THAT HAD LOST ITS GRIP

ABSOLUTE QUIET REIGNS IN MICHIGAN STRIKE DISTRICT

TROOPS ARE STILL COMING

Union Officials Disappointed at Tenor of Governor's Statement.

Companies Say That They Will Never Recognize the Union.

Calumet, Mich., July 26.—(Special to The Hearld.)—Absolute quiet reigns in the strike district of the Copper Country, with portions of the Michigan brigade and artillery arriving by special trains one to two hours apart. Gen. Abbey and staff arrived here this morning. Governor Ferris will not come until called again, but the troops will remain here until the settlement of the strike.

It is expected that the statements of the federation of miners and of the mining companies, headed by the Calumet & Hecla, which were issued last night, will bring trouble. This morning, a portion of the earliest arrived troops are holding selves in readiness to go to Painesdale to guard the Copper Range Consolidated mines, if necessity arises. There was considerable small rioting in that section, which is isolated, yesterday.

Trouble also is anticipated in Ontonagon county, fifty miles southwest of here, at the Victoria and White Pine mines, which are still operating, unless strikers are prevented from reaching those points. The Mass mine in Ontonagon county has suspended.

To effectually guard the district in case of serious trouble arises it will be necessary to extend troops almost north and south in two parallel lines for a distance of thirty miles, while the small group of mines in Ontonagon, fifty miles from here, will require not more than two companies at most. The mining companies were asked last night if they intended to ask the protection of the troops for opening the mines and refused to answer, but it is anaicipated this will be done.

Heavy Loss By Strike.

The daily loss in profit to the mining companies during the time they are closed is, roughly speaking, $40,000, and the loss in wages to the mine workers is about $45,000. This is the third serious strike in the district, the first being in 1871, when Federal troops settled the strike, and the second in 1893 when

MURDER IS SUSPECTED

Body of Young Woman Is Found on Shore at Chicago.

Jeweler Identifies Her as Having Sold Her Wedding Ring.

Chicago, July 26.—Circumstances strengthening the theory that the unidentified young woman whose body was found on the lake shore in Rogers Park last night was murdered near the water and then thrown into the lake were brought to light today.

Detectives found in the sand on the shore, near the spot where the body was found, evidences that the body had been dragged to the shallow water from a wooded spot about fifty feet from shore. An umbrella found near the body had bits of leaves sticking to it and a few briars were clinging to the cloth. The handle was bent. A tear in the skirt worn by the woman seemed additional evidence that she had made a struggle for life.

The name of a Milwaukee manufacturer was on the umbrella and this leads the police to think the woman may have come from that city.

A white veil such as is worn by automobilists was found wound around the woman's neck. The veil seemed to indicate that the victim may have come to a point near the shore in an automobile and left the machine there, as no wheel marks were found in the sand.

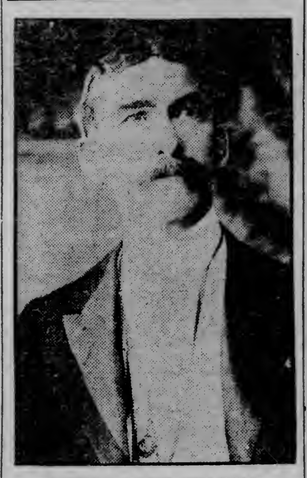

Sold Wedding Ring.

John L. Larsen, a jeweler at 6958 North Clark street, positively identified the body as that of a woman who entered his store about 11 o'clock yesterday morning and sold her wedding ring for 35 cents. About 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, he said, he and his son saw the woman sitting on the lake shore at the foot of Lunt avenue with a covered market basket beside her. Larsen said he did not know the woman's name.

The wedding ring bore two initials but only one of them, "F," could be distinguished. It bore no date.

The woman's body was considerably bloated though she had been dead only a short time and this condition, it was said, might be due to poison.

AT WASHINGTON TO CONFER ON MEXICO

HENRY LANE WILSON, United States Ambassador to Mexico.

ON WAY FOR FIVE WEEKS

Thousands of Non-Militant Suffragists March to London.

Parade the City and Hold Demonstration in Hyde Park.

London, July 26.—Many thousand non-militant suffragists paraded London this morning as a preliminary to a great service in St. Paul's cathedral and a subsequent demonstration in Hyde park.

The London women turned out to greet at the catheral the marching columns which arrived from all parts of the kingdom yesterday. The marching columns, in emulation of their American sisters whose march to Washington to influence legislation favorable to the suffrage cause attracted so much attention, converged on the capital along the five great roads leading to London, which end at the Mansion house, the center of the British world.

Formed Great Columns.

Every constituency in the country sent representatives to joint the various columns during their progress, and the small detachments of suffragettes who originally started from Land's End and John-O-Groats—the two uttermost limits of the island—were augmented on the way until they formed great columns.

The women started out on June 18 and were on the way for five weeks. They were cordially received in all parts of the country, clergymen, college professors and business men speaking at their meetings along the route.

At Bedford the trade unionists gave proof of their loyalty to the women by forming an escort for a speaker who was addressing a hostile audience.

No untoward incidents marred the march, and when the women reached London they made a triumphal entry. A cyclist corps of newspaper girls accompanied the marchers, selling the official journal of the constitutional suffragists.

JOHN D. SARGENT TAKES OWN LIFE

Body Found in Half-Million-Dollar Cottage in Wyoming.

Denver, Col., July 26.—News has reached here of the recent finding of the body of John D. Sargent, the solitary occupant of the famous half-million-dollar Swiss cottage built by Robert Ray Hamilton, a wealthy New York man, in the remote Jackson hole district in Northwestern Wyoming. Sargent was found in the house and evidently died from self-inflicted gunshot wounds. Two letters, one addressed to his aged mother in New York and the other to his wife in California, were lying upon a table and these were mailed without opening.

Hamilton built the house in 1890 and lived there several years with Sargent and his wife. One day Hamilton's body was found floating in the lake, and the mystery of his death has never been explained. Some months later Mrs. Sargent fled to a neighbor's, bearing evidence of terrible mistreatment which she refused to explain. She died shortly after and Sargent left the region, returning about two years ago with the second Mrs. Sargent.

FORCED TO WITHDRAW

Defeat of Southern Chinese Revolutionary Troops at Shanghai.

Baptist Mission Is Advised Revolution Will Be Short-Lived.

Shanghai, July 26.—The fighting between the rebels and the government forces, which was resumed at 9 o'clock last night, after fruitless negotiations for an armistice, ceased at daylight today, when the southerners withdrew. Their attack again was unsuccessful.

An American cruiser is expected here in a day or two.

The consular body is considering expelling Dr. Sun Yat Sen, Gen. Huang Sing and Gen. Chen Chi-Nei, who are conducting the revolution from the safety of the foreign settlement.

It is estimated that there are 100,000 Chinese refugees in these settlements and many are arriving from Nanking, Ku-Kiang and other Yang-Tse ports. The casualties of the southerners around Shanghai total 1,200. The losses of the northerners are much less.

Ardor Is Dampened.

NO SUNDAY BALL TRAINS ARE RUN

Northwestern Road Looks on Such Money as Tainted.

La Crosse, Wis., July 26.—Money for Sunday excursion business is considered tainted by the Chicago & Northwestern railroad which today instructed its agent at Onalaska, Wis., to refuse the money collected by baseball fans at Onalaska for a special train from that town to Galesville, Wis., tomorrow, when the two teams are to play for the amateur championship of Western Wisconsin. Disappointed fans were notified that the railroad would haul excursion trains on Sunday only for religious purposes.

OPPOSED TO PROPOSAL OF MEDIATION

Ambassador Wilson Confers on Mexican Situation With Secretary Bryan.

Severely Attacks Both William Bayard Hale and Reginald Delvalle.

Vehement in Criticism of Constitutionalists and the Madero Family.

Washington, July 26.—Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson, on his arrival here for conferences on the Mexican situation with President Wilson and Secretary Bryan, announced he had prepared a memorandum suggesting the policy the American government should pursue. While declining to divulge its nature until he had submitted his views to the President and Mr. Bryan, the ambassador characterized as impracticable proposals for mediation by an American commission.

Ambassador Wilson said he expected to return to Mexico City by a steamer sailing next Thursday from New York. As to his conferences with the officials here, he understood, he added, that he merely was to transmit information on the situation and resented a suggestion made in the newspapers that he would be called to account for his personal acts.

"I recognize that the president and secretary have a right, however," he said, "to question me about anything."

Attacks Hale and Delvalle.

The ambassador described his treatment by President Wilson and Secretary Bryan hitherto as courteous in every respect, except one—the sending of separate agents to investigate conditions in Mexico. He severely criticised both William Bayard Hale and Reginald Delvalle, whom he declared were acting for the administration there.

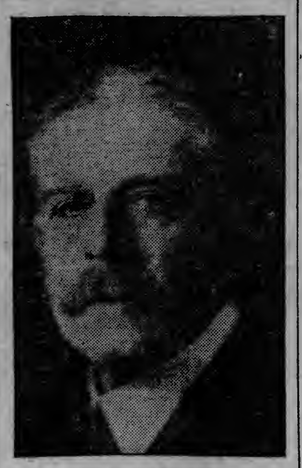

"I don't think Mr. Delvalle should have been given the state department code," said the ambassador. "I know he had it because he went to the secretary of our legation in Havana to get help in deciphering it. Indeed I believe the senate committee might investigate the distribution of the state department code to private individuals."

The ambassador said he had every disposition to carry out the wishes of the president and Secretary Bryan. Mediation, however, he looked upon as impossible because the Mexican Federal government would not entertain such a suggestion.

"I suggested mediation," he added,

MAN WHO RANG CALL FOR DULUTH'S AWAKENING

W. B. PATTON.

FIRE MAY HAVE STARTED IN RAGS

New Trend Given to Inquiry Into the Binghamton Horror.

Binghamton, N. Y., July 26.—A new trend may be given the inquiry into the cause of the fatal fire in the factory of the Binghamton Clothing company by the evidence offered by Mrs. William Whitney, one of the employes, who declares she called attention to the unusual heat in the building at 1 and smelled smoke at 2 o'clock and called the attention of the girls to it. The flames were discovered at 2:30 o'clock. This would sustain the theory that the fire started in a large number of rags stored in the basement.

The search for the bodies has ended, the last being found outside the ruins beneath a fallen wall, crushed and burned so as to be unrecognizable. The insurance companies have agreed to pay life policies without demanding identification of fire victims, and the Binghamton Clothing company announces it will resume work at once. The public funeral and interment of the unidentified will be held tomorrow. All of the injured at the hospitals are expected to live.

ANOTHER FLIGHT BY BIDER ACROSS ALPS.

Basel, Switzerland, July 26.—Another flight across the Alps was made today by the French aviator Oscar Bider. He flew from Milan to this city, a distance of about 160 miles, in three hours and forty-five minutes. He made one brief halt at Liestal to replenish his fuel. The greatest height attained was 10,000 feet.

HOW LISTLESS CITIZENS TURNED RE[AL] BOOSTERS

Minnesota Historical Society ST PAUL MINN

Inertia Gives W[a]y to Fighting Spirit That Is Attr[a]cting National Attention and Giv[i]ng Duluth Its Rights.

Lake and Rail Decision Is the Climax of Long Fight to Push Duluth "Over the Hill".

This is the story of the reawakening of a city.

The city is Duluth. The story covers a period of less than four years. But that short period is fairly crowded with developments that have brought Duluth today to a point from which it may look cheerfully, even enthusiastically to the future.

When The Herald spread the news last Saturday that Duluth had won its lake and rail case before the interstate commerce commission, there was no outward demonstration, but in the hearts of men—Duluth men who had put their means and effort and time and full capacity for hope into that case—there was a glad singing.

The Head of the Lakes has returned to Duluth!

The statement has a magic sound. It means more perhaps than any man can comprehend. It means that rights of which Duluth was deprived even before it knew they existed have been restored. It means that the commercial benefits to Duluth will measure up to the geographical location. It means that Duluth's commanding position at the western terminus of the greatest inland waterway in the world has been recognized. In short it means that Duluth has come into its own.

Four years ago comparatively few people in Duluth knew the importance of railroad rate adjustments to a city. Some Duluth citizens did know. They were of two classes, those who had studied the effect of transportation rates and facilities as abstract economic factors, and those who had learned by bitter experience. Of the last class there were several business men in Duluth, but they didn't know how to go at the remedy. They had encountered the problem, not generally, but as it applied to Duluth. They saw the promise of Duluth's location being defeated. They saw firms in the same line of business in other cities, not so favorably located, prospering far more than they. Every day they saw opportunities for expansion of territory and business shut off by a rate adjustment made without Duluth's rights being considered.

Today every man in Duluth who keeps abreast of the times knows what the old rate adjustment meant to Duluth and has a fairly clear knowledge of the recent developments that have made Duluth's place on the rate map of the Northwest conspicuous. The long fight for better rates and service for Duluth has been an education in Duluth opportunities for Duluth business men.

Civic Awakening.

Duluth's fight for its transportation rights has, however, been only one phase of a general civic awakening—an awakening that has brought unexpected and astounding results. It has transformed Duluth from a city of skeptics and knockers to a city of keenly enthusiastic boosters. It has forced for Duluth recognition not only from the transportation lines, but from the public generally in the Northwest and elsewhere. It has made Duluth known from coast to coast and from Hudson bay to the gulf, as a city of achievement. It is known as a port, as a distributing center, as an agricultural center and as a city of high grade, progressive citizenship. Duluth has broken into the magazines more often than any city in the country in the last four years—not on a basis of so-much-per-page, but as a subject of admiration and commendation on the sound basis of accomplishment.

Four years ago the Duluth spirit was at low ebb. The city had been outstripped by the Pacific coast cities, by Winnipeg, by the Twin Cities. Its jobbing houses were large and prosperous, but their territory was restricted by the railroad rates, they were forced to overcome handicaps of service and to make almost ruinous absorptions of rates in competition. It was a great grain handling market, but its territory was restricted. It was a way station for transcontinental traffic, which went through the Twin Cities. The Duluth man traveling through the West had to go and come through the Twin Cities to get the best rates and service.

Something Was Wrong.

Duluth knew something was wrong, but didn't seem to care. The city as a whole was drifting along. It didn't inquire as to the cause of its lack of growth and commercial progress. It didn't inquire as to the reason of other cities going ahead much more rapidly than it did. Some business men inquired, but there was no concerted action to find what was the matter with Duluth and what could be done to remedy it.

To W. B. Patton should go the honor of striking the spark that brought

OUTLOOK IS NOW HOPEFUL

Terms of Peace in the Balkans May Be Arranged Soon.

Bulgarians Reported Victorious Over the Servians in Terrific Battle.

Bucharest, Roumania, July 26.—The peace delegates of Servia, Greece and Montenegro left Belgrade this morning. They will arrive here on Monday, when they will be joined by Premier Venizolos of Greece and the Bulgarian plenipotentiaries. It is hoped in official circles that terms of peace will be arranged as soon as the armistice now being discussed at Nish is concluded.

Bulgarians Victorious.

London, July 26.—A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph from Bucharest, timed 9 o'clock Friday night, says: News has been received from Sofia of a terrific battle between Servians and Bulgarians near Tsarevoselo on the Borgailtezna river, in which the Bulgarians were victorious. The Greeks helped the Servians, whose casualties were 10,000. It is probable the story is greatly exaggerated."

Saloniki, July 26.—The Greek fleet has occupied Dedeagatch, the terminus of Adrianople-Saloniki railway on the Aegean sea. The Bulgarians set the town afire before evacuating it.

To Occupy Armenia.

London, July 26.—A dispatch to the Daily Express from Rome says the powers have authorized Russia to occupy Armenia in order to compel Turkey to withdraw behind the Enos-Midia line, the new frontier between Turkey and Bulgaria as fixed by the treaty of London.

LEGISLATION NEARING END

Longest Session in History of Wisconsin to Close Next Week.

Platform Pledges Are Redeemed in the Form of Laws.

Madison, Wis., July 26.—The Wisconsin legislature will adjourn sine die probably next week, after the longest session in the state's history.

Both legislative bodies practically completed their work early today. However, the governor has six days to sign or veto measures approved by the legislature, and the law-making bodies will be in session informally until the governor takes action on bills rushed through during the last few days.

The platform pledges of the Republican party, in control, were redeemed in the form of laws. This list includes the following:

A "blue sky" law for protection of investors against fraud in the buying of worthless corporate stock.

A minimum wage law for women and minors, the amount to be fixed by the state industrial commission after investigation.

Mothers' Pensions.

A mothers' pension act, administered by courts.

Gradual abolition of contract labor in penal and reformatory institutions and giving discretionary power to the state board of control to employ prisoners on highways and in various lines of industry.

Compensation for prisoners found to have been wrongly imprisoned.

A water power control law with ultimate state ownership as the goal.

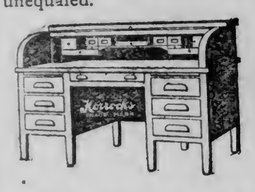

Final adoption of initiative, referen-

DR. MITCHELL

HE CAN CURE YOU!

The cures that Dr. Mitchell has made are very remarkable. Many have been published in the daily papers the past fifteen years and but for reliable witnesses would hardly be credited. The lame have thrown away their crutches and walked about after one or two treatments; the sick that have tried everything else and given up to die have been restored to their families and friends in perfect health. Rheumatism, neuralgia, stomach, heart, liver, kidney, blood and skin diseases and bladder troubles disappear. Headaches, nervousness, fevers, coughs, colds, asthma, catarrh, bronchitis, affections of any vital organs are easily overcome in a space of time that is simply marvelous. Paralysis, locomotor ataxia, dropsy, gout, scrofula and piles are quickly and permanently removed. Dr. Mitchell's treatments purify the entire system and perfect health is restored.

ST. FRANCIS IRON RANGE WAS SHORT LIVED

Brief Biography of the Little Baby Iron Range---John Monte of Superior Thought He Had Found Another Mesaba Range.

The St. Francis iron range died soon after birth and that, probably, is the reason you never heard of it, kind reader. The story of Minnesota's established iron ranges—the Vermilion, Mesaba and Cuyuna—contains much of historical interest and even romance. The brief, transitory biography of the little baby iron range, formally christened the St. Francis, from the St. Francis river, has human interest and merits a page in the story of good old Mother Minnesota's life.

In the spring of 1906, John Monk of Superior, Wis., was employed on ditch construction in Santiago township, Sherburne county, Minn., by W. D. L. Crozer, a contractor of Monticello, Minn.

In digging a drainage ditch through a farm belonging to a sturdy yeoman named O'Brien, reddish material, carrying dark, sparkling specks, was thrown up by the workmen.

In 1874 John Monk tried to get into the Black Hills to dig gold, but the United States soldiers nipped his plans in the bud. But, from that one experience, the incurable fever of a prospector got into his veins and, ever afterwards, he saw visions of quick wealth from suddenly discovered minerals.

"By the jumpin' bald-headed Mackinaw!" exclaimed John Monk to himself. "I believe that is iron ore."

Getting a leave of absence from the job, Mr. Monk came home to Superior to tell his tale and enlist financial aid, he being a private in the ranks of wealth.

Working in the Superior shipyards at that time was one C. J. McRae, who, in the Mesaba boom days, knew Franklin W. Merritt in Duluth.

He Told His Story.

To Mr. McRae Mr. Monk secretively told the story of his discovery and asked advice and financial help. The canny Scot was no capitalist himself, therefore he proposed to John Monk that they let Franklin W. Merritt into the secret and appeal to him for such help as he might be able and willing to give. It was so agreed.

I well remember the conference. My office was solicited for use at the time. I was expected to remain outside but I had glimpses of three heads closely together, heard whisperings over the matter; and noted the excited gleam and nervous movements of John Monk as he hoarsely whispered his weighty secret to one of the Merritts who helped explore the Mesaba.

"I'll go down there," said Merritt to Monk, "and if things are as good as you say I'll raise all the money needed to develop the entire range."

Monk accordingly took Merritt to Santiago township, Sherburne county, Minnesota, driving out there from Princeton, and showed him the red sand and the black, glittering particles therein.

Merritt came back hopeful but not highly enthusiastic. To me he said: "It's hard to tell what is there without doing some work, but it would not surprise me if Monk has stumbled onto a second Mesaba Iron range. I would like to have you make a trip down there with me." This was late in May or early in June, 1906.

I hunted up my hand compass, provided a Gurley "dip needle" and hiked to Sherburne county. I saw the "red stuff" and it seemed nothing but sand, stained with oxide of iron and carrying particles either of manganese or magnetic iron.

Magnetic surveys were started on the northerly side of Santiago township and the southerly side of Glendorado township. That work gave indifferent results and, finally, all hands moved down to the hospitable farmhouse of George Reed, a man who settled there nearly half a century ago.

Strong Field of Attraction.

Near the Reed home, on Mr. Walker's land, we were told of a place where the surveyor's compass needle "turned clear around." The result was, that I worked out and mapped a very strong, well defined field of local magnetic attraction. Going to the O'Brien land, nearby the ditch where Monk originally found the "red stuff," I worked out a second line of local magnetic attraction but not so wide nor so strong as that on the Walker land.

Later on, a few miles south of the Walker land, I found a third line of attraction that was narrow, persistent but not high. This was parallel to a long, wet marsh which fairly reeked with oxide of iron.

Outside of the magnetic attractions, indicating possible existence of iron, most of the wells tasted strongly and even nastily of iron. One big spring, on a creek flat below the line of local magnetic attraction on the O'Brien farm, spit up such quantities of reddish and yellowish iron rust as to half fill a drainage ditch from the spring to the creek.

All these things pretty badly excited Messrs. Monk, Merritt and McRae. Being pioneers in a new and large iron range gave very pleasing sensations. Aside from my connection with the matter, W. D. L. Crozier, Monticello, Minn., was in on the deal, being Monk's employer and owning a team and double carriage which he turned over for use of the prospectors. The George Reed home was made headquarters for "the iron men," as the farmers called us.

One Saturday, McRae said that he was going home to spend Sunday with his family. It was wondered why he did not return at the promised time but no special thought was given the matter.

"Double-Crossed."

One muddy, rainy day, Merritt, Monk and I were driving by the Riley farm when we suddenly beheld McRae, Alexander Hamfield and Matt Crosby taking their ease in the Riley barnyard.

"Double-crossed, By Godfrey!" groaned Monk, and it was too true.

McRae, being canny and apparently, unable to stand temptation, doubted the ability of his friends to finance the new iron range and, also, was looking out particularly for himself. Anyway, he told his secret to George H. Crosby in Duluth, and he was interested enough to send Matt Crosby and Alexander Hamfield back with McRae to investigate and then grab up options if the conditions seemed to warrant.

Monk nearly collapsed. After driving a short distance he insisted that we go back to Riley's and call McRae to account. When McRae, Hamfield and Matt Crosby saw us coming, they took to a hedge-row, heavily bordered with trees, weeds and grass and concealed themselves. We scouted up and down that thicket for half an hour but failed to flush the invaders.

Resuming our way down the road, Monk again determined to go back. That time, he saw the trio emerging from the thicket about eighty rods down the road. They flew across an open meadow like scared jack rabbits and finally gained the brush along a creek. Monk gave up the chase, and his hopes and mind went under a cloud for the rest of the day.

Hamfield afterwards claimed that he did not know the real facts in the case but, be that as it may, he did find that Riley's place was tied up; that O'Brien was in like fix and, outside of that, failing to find satisfactory attractions, they sadly quit the "rush" and returned to Duluth. Santiago saw them no more. George H. Crosby was enabled to center money and efforts on the Cuyuna range and, today, probably is glad the St. Francis iron range was a dream.

Scared and stimulated by the Hamfield-Crosby-McRae experience, Merritt got busy. He took up matters with E. V. Douglas and Robert J. Anderson in Minneapolis. Douglas had been vice president of the Clergue corporation at the Canadian Soo, where he dropped a great deal of his Philadelphia fortune. Anderson, a brother-in-law of Douglas, had been through bad luck with some western promotions. The two had sumptuous offices in Minneapolis and desired to recoup depleted finances.

Clergue Approached.

Mr. Douglas took up the matter with Francis Clergue at the Soo. He stated that if his expert reported favorably, he would advance $5,000 for preliminary drilling and then, if results warranted, provide as much money as might be required. The Soo enterprises had collapsed more or less some time before and Mr. Clergue clearly saw what the discovery and development of a second Mesaba iron range would mean to his fortunes.

Earnest A. Sjosted, head metallurgist at the steel plant of the Lake Superior corporation, was sent out to examine and report. He checked up my figures on dip needle work for half a day and swelled me all up by complimenting me on the accuracy of my work and a further statement that it was unnecessary to take time to check all of it for he plainly saw that my figures could safely be accepted. He tasted the nasty well water here and there. He saw that big spring and the ferruginous effluvia that it was spitting out into the drainage ditch. He compared indications and conditions with those coming under his experience in Sweden, Canada and the United States. He became firmly convinced that iron ore probably existed on the St. Francis range and reported favorably to Mr. Clergue.

Mr. Sjosted, by the way, not only was a clever chemist and metallurgist, but he was skilled in the Swedish methods of prospecting with magnetic instruments. He was a mining engineer of repute in Sweden, he personally operated iron furnaces. He was one of the men who so bravely went down with the steamship Titanic.

Mr. Clergue, true to his word, sent Mr. Douglas money to start drilling. The contract went to Henry Legge and work started on the Walker property, less than half a mile west of the George Reed home and a couple of hundred feet from the highway.

Wild Stories Afloat.

Curiosity and excitement mounted high in quiet old Santiago township. Some wild stories had broken loose while we were scouring the region, seeking local magnetic attractions. So many strangers, and such active ones, were bound to attract notice. The first report was that we were detectives. The next guess was that we were seeking oil. A story went all over Glendorado township to the effect that four inches of oil ran out of an oil spring into a creek and that the cows of a farmer nearby had died from drinking it.

A local wise guy, thinking to get in line for riches, declared that he had an oil spring on his land but that the waters of the St. Francis river, then overflowing the bottoms, covered it up.

The Glendorado Pioneer stated that Adolph Anderson was reputed to have been offered $60,000 for his farm and hoped that the report was true.

A corner grocery philosopher remarked that he, also, had heard such a report but feared that Anderson would be fool enough to refuse the offer.

When the diamond drill started, there was a rush of provincials to see the wheels go 'round. Certain wise ones wished to keep tab on results of that work. Schwab Brothers, bankers at Clearwater, Minn., and heavy owners of land in that part of Minnesota—ers of land in that part of Minnesota—were big loads in a little puddle—were stirred up to use of the "dip needle;" to take options on possible iron lands and, especially, to learn results at our drill. They were used like common people and strictly kept out of the field, much to their chargin.

Farmer Johnson crawled through the fence, past the "No Admittance" sign, presumably as a spy for Schwab Brothers.

"What did you find out at the drill?" he was asked.

"Not a d——d thing," was his crestfallen reply.

The Drill at Work.

There also was a rush to get employment on the drill. Several farmer boys hired and made good hands in time. Some wild stories floated around about the drills. Our machinery came in via Becker, Minn., twelve miles distant, but all kinds of stories were circulated to the effect that drills were being unloaded at Princeton. One story had it that sixteen men were working on our first drill. Another yarn told how five men were boarding at Reed's and six at Riley's. The "dip needle" was a source of much curiosity and talk. Some of the simple farmer folk were inclined to look on it as something uncanny, supernatural and to be avoided.

The very first hole drilled in Santiago was with a posthole auger, with an extension handle, by Merritt, Monk and McRae. Nothing but white sand under the sod was found, but that seemed to have incited McRae to desert his associates.

Two holes were drilled on the Walker land. The surface was about 100 feet deep. Black soil, then quicksand, then a bed of clay and boulders, very hard to penetrate, followed by white sand, gravel and then bed rock, were what we found. Enough paintrock was in the sand at one place to color the drill water quite red but it was soft, soapy and showed no grit to the touch. I very much doubt the existence of iron ore in connection with that local magnetic attraction, but I often have wished that a few holes could have been drilled clear across the valley and on the northerly side of the line of superior attraction, also nearer the range of hills on the northerly side. The trend of the field of local magnetic attraction was slightly from northwest to southeast.

The results of those two holes rather discouraged Mr. Clergue and his money commenced to dry up. But Mr. Merritt had spent too much time down there to be willing to quit. He had been an active and energetic scout all over the region. He established headquarters in a tent in the beautiful dooryard of the Reed farm house. He incited Minneapolis friends and acquaintances to come up there. It was not long until high-powered automobiles caused wild excitement by rushing to Santiago and honking along the quiet roads, especially on Sunday. Chicken dinners at the Reed home attained great and merited fame.

Small Bed of Bog Ore.

South of Reed's place six miles—about half way between there and Becker—Merritt conceived the rather clairvoyant notion that iron ore existed. He took an option on the Lind land, and Mr. Legge added a second drill. The first one, after leaving the Walker land, drilled one hole on the O'Brien land, but without result. I always have felt that it was poorly located for finding ore, if ore really does exist on that property.

On the Lind land a badger dug a hole in a bank, said bank being caused by soil filling into and behind an ancient beaver dam, this ancient dam evidently being at outlet of one small pond and a dozen or two feet above another small pond below. The seepage of water, carrying oxide of iron, resulted in the formation of a small bed of bog ore. The gray old badger, in digging his hole, threw out several pieces of bog iron ore. These Merritt saw, and a bit of digging revealed what seemed a solid bed of it.

"Here's a second Mesaba!" he shouted, and he at once proceeded to show and talk his find. Already, in Minneapolis, he warmed up C. C. Prindle, formerly of Duluth, now drawing royalties on the Mesaba and sitting up with a low-grade copper mine in Arizona.

Mr. Prindle's eyes grew large when he saw that bog ore. Some digging with a spade showed quite a body of it. Some of the ore showed a color just like soft ore on the Mesaba range. An iron pipe driven down in lieu of a crowbar apparently penetrated solid ore. When that pipe came up the last time, I saw white sand in the lower end, and I also noted that the ore body quivered and shook when I jumped on it, showing its unstable, sandy bed. But Mr. Prindle, and even Merritt, failed to notice that and being merely an onlooker, it was not up to me to speak. Assays of the ore ran about 45 per cent in iron, but, of course, very high in phosphorus and sulphur. Mr. Prindle was not up on bog ore, and he thought he had Mesaba ore.

Other Minneapolis Men Excited.

That set things to boiling. Hal P. Watson, the erstwhile plunger in grain speculation in Minneapolis, and Henry T. Little, both residents of Minneapolis, backed exploration work. Half a dozen holes were drilled, but white, coarse, beach sand, lying on bed rock, was the result. Diamond drilling in bed rock showed considerable white quartz, some of it mineralized, but I do not think any of it ever was tested for precious metals. I left there about that time, and, personally, never saw any of the quartz.

In the very beginning, I felt that it was folly to drill on the Lind land but that bog ore from the badger hole was "strong medicine" and excited the Minneapolis capitalists. Instead of pouring about $6,000 into a rat hole, they poured it into the badger hole, at least figuratively speaking. The incident also shows that money magnates can be excited and that they often are susceptible to a well selected line of "hot air."

Excitement in good old Santiago township and the little way station of Becker, and even other small burgs around about Sherburne county, was something like copper boom days in Duluth for a couple of months.

"There goes some iron men," we would hear wherever we appeared. The natives were deadly afraid of dynamite—"dimanite" some of them called it—and once let them see a box marked "dynamite" in one of our rigs, they would give us a wide berth.

There was a great scramble for options for awhile and some exciting experiences were had with farmers who would not stand without being tied. Many a dream of sudden and easy wealth went glimmering, with farmers and financiers in the small towns, as well as with us "iron men."

One rare old Irish lady in talking to her neighbors about the future of the neighborhood said: "Faix, there'll be no livin' here at all, at all, whin them iron men get to blowin' out the iron ore. They do say that chunks as big as cook stoves fly into the air whin they get to blastin.' Me ould man has opthioned the land and we do not wish to move away until next spring. But whin they get to drillin', I presume we will have to lave for it'll not be at all safe to sthay."

The boom bursted more quickly than it started. The drills disappeared and the St. Francis iron range was dead. With it, were burned many fond hopes and expectations.

When Merritt saw that he was pumping from a dry well, so to speak, he switched Messrs. Prindle, Watson and Little to the Cuyuna range. In the fall of 1906, Harry Legge sold them the drilling machinery and he and I hiked for California to placer mine for yellow gold. But that's another story.

DULUTH AGENCY LED COUNTRY

Record Attracts Attention of President of Big Insurance Company.

Walter R. Hoefflin, district manager of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance company, has just received official notification that he has been awarded first place among all the district agents of the company in the United States for the amount of new business written the first six months of 1913.

"To me, the fact that I have won first place among such agencies as New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Cleveland, St. Louis and Chicago reflects the great possibilities which the Duluth field offers for business," said Mr. Hoefflin. "The fact that it is a good insurance field, also demonstrates the fact that it is an equally good place for any other legitimate line of modern business.

"Duluth has certainly been put on the map so far as our home office in Hartford is concerned. Our president is extending me a personal invitation to come to Hartford, and when I get there what I'll tell him about Duluth and this particular end of the country, certainly ought to put Duluth right to the front.

"One of the important things that I intend to press home upon them is the big advantage that will accrue to them in offering a part of our loaning funds for developing this part of the country and especially Duluth and tributary territory. This I have been having up with them in correspondence for some time, but now that I have the opportunity, I'll press this as hard as I can personally."

Motorist's Neck Broken.

Negaunee, Mich., July 26.—Henry Wilson, aged 28, of Carson City, a brother of Don Wilson of this city, was instantly killed Tuesday when an automobile which he was driving went into a ditch and turned turtle, burying the driver beneath the car, breaking his neck, causing instant death. A little boy, who was riding with him, was thrown out of the car, but escaped unhurt. The accident occurred a mile west of Huberadston.

MAY COLLECT IN ADVANCE

Ordinance Prepared Permitting Advance Assessments to Be Levied.

Will Permit Larger Amount of Street Work Being Done.

City Attorney Harvey Clapp has submitted to Finance Commissioner F. J. Voss a form of ordinance which provides that the city can make advance assessments for street improvements.

The ordinance is drawn to regulate the making of special assessments to provide for the payment, in whole or part, of the cost of improvements. The making of the assessment is placed in the hands of the city assessor and the feature relative to advance assessments is contained in the last section. Under the old charter the city was able to collect 80 per cent of the estimated cost of the improvement in advance and the assessment was made in the office of the board of public works.

The finance commissioner states that advance assessments seem necessary, unless some other plan can be worked out whereby the issuance of certificates against the revolving fund will not consume it through interest payments, which seem difficult.

Under the charter the money for public improvements must be in the fund before the contract is let. The commissioner points out that ascertaining from the property owners, by postal or otherwise, would help little, if any. Even though all of the property owners signified that they would pay their assessments in full, this would not bring the money into the fund. With that knowledge, the commissioners would not issue certificates, experience having shown that the interest would absorb the fund in a few years. If advance assessments could be levied the money could be placed in the fund and the street work carried on. The finance commissioner does not believe that the advance collections should be arbitrary, but that provision should be made so that they could be legally made. He would retain the extension feature and have the situation so arranged that those who wished extensions would be able to get them. Up to date all but about 13 per cent of the property owners have paid their assessments in full. The finance commissioner's idea is that the city should be able to collect money of the big majority who are willing to pay in advance, enabling the city to carry on the work without endangering the fund, and at the same time accommodate the small percentage who would want the extensions.

Referring to short term certificates, Commissioner Voss asserts that they would also be costly. He says that none could be issued for less than six months, as that would allow the contractor but four months to complete the work and the city two months in which to make and collect the assessment. This year $214,000 of certificates were issued, the interest on which would be over $5,000 for six months. Last year $206,000 of certificates were issued, and the interest on them would be near the same amount.

The commissioner hopes that the combination of advance collections and extensions can be so arranged that the work will not be hampered, the fund endangered and the interests of both property owners and the municipality will be conserved.

PARK BACK FROM TRIP

Duluth Motorist Tells of Glidden Tour Which He Won.

Drove Twenty-Nine Miles Through Mountains in Last Hour.

Dr. J. D. Park made a remarkable record on the Glidden tour that was won by the Duluth man with his Locomobile. He returned last evening.

During all of the trip, which led over some of the worst roads imaginable, Dr. Park was up to the prescribed schedule all of the time.

To complete the record run it was necessary for him to drive forty-nine miles in the last two hours of the tour. Dr. Park made twenty miles in the first of these two hours, thus leaving twenty-nine miles to make in the final hour, and this over some of the worst roads of the trip, down over the mountains.

To make conditions even more hazardous, the brake of Dr. Park's car was so filled with mud that it was not working. He could not spare the time to repair it. Therefore he just "hopped to it" and resolved to beat it through, regardless of consequences. The twenty-nine necessary miles were made, and it is quite needless to go into details regarding the reckless riding and the bumps and jolts encountered.

According to the doctor the schedule of twenty miles an hour was really remarkable when one comes to consider the roads that the tour was made over.

Between Fargo and Grand Forks it was found necessary to lower the schedule to eighteen miles. The gumbo roads were very heavy and the going consequently hard.

Past Grand Forks there was an improvement in the roads. Further west there were some stretches of very good roads and also some stretches of very bad roads.

"My engine stood the grind very well," said Dr. Park. "My car was smashed as to running board, fender and pan, and all the trimmings were knocked off; but the internal parts, the real machine, one might say, stood the test much better than I had any idea.

"The constant travel at the very high scheduled rate of speed over all kinds of roads, hammers a car fearfully. But considering the test that my car was subjected to, I believe that it showed wonderful endurance."

Dr. Park had but one blowout. His longest delay during the trip was twenty-five minutes. He was never behind his schedule at the end of the day's run, and this fact was what won the first prize in the big three A competition.

Although his car was the last in, the fact that his score was perfect—that he had never been behind the schedule during the trip, made him an easy winner.

There will be a banquet for the doctor this evening at the Holland hotel. This dinner has been arranged by a number of his personal friends. He was accompanied on the tour by Victor Anneke and J. Fuller Stafford.

HAS RETINUE OF SERVANTS

New Yorker Descends on Duluth With Secretaries, Valet and Attendants.

Duluth is host today to a real Wall street captain of industry, in the person of W. R. Coe, who came here this morning on the Tionesta with his family, two private secretaries, a valet, and a retinue of servants, maids and attendants.

Mr. Coe appeared in the Spalding lobby about 10 o'clock. With him were two private secretaries. A Herald reporter attempted to interview Mr. Coe, but he refused to talk, only saying that he was here with his family on a pleasure trip, and that they are spending the day in the city. Not a word about Duluth, the cool weather, the trip on the lakes, or even about Wall street. He appeared very much engrossed in a recent copy of the Wall Street Journal.

Upon inquiry the information was forthcoming that Mr. Coe is a prominent man in Wall street's business circles, is one of the largest real estate holders in the metropolis, and occupies offices at 22 Wall street.

That was enough to prove Mr. Coe's right to travel with private secretaries, valets, servants, maids and attendants, have several state rooms chartered on the Tionesta for the round trip.

CITY TO CONDEMN STRIP OF LAND

Commissioners Decide to Go Ahead With Lake Shore Park Plan.

The city commission again went over the plans for the proposed lake shore park on the east side of South First avenue east at the mayor's office this morning.

After considering the situation with T. J. Davis, F. W. Sullivan and T. T. Hudson, all of whom have been deeply interested in the project, the consensus of opinion was that the city should proceed along the lines which have been mapped out. These call for the condemnation of a strip of land along the lake shore from the mainland to the canal and from the canal to the corporate limits. Attorneys have assured the city that this can be done without serious legal obstacles and that it will give the city the riparian rights. After that has been done the city can proceed as it is able to build a breakwater and make the fill, which would be a matter of years.

MUSICAL COMEDY STAR AT HOLLAND

MISS FLORENCE TANNER, Who Is Singing in the Holland Cafe Every Evening From 6:30 to 8:30 and at 10 P. M.; Sundays, 6:30 to 8:30.

BOOSTERS IN CHARGE

Apostles of Duluth's Greatness Will Give Saturday Night Carnival.

Will Stage Same Program They Gave Through the West.

This is booster night for the Lark o' the Lake.

The boosters will be in charge. Those sturdy Duluth citizens who have carried the message of Duluth's greatness throughout the Northwest will be on home display tonight at the Lark o' the Lake carnival on Superior street.

The boosters will assemble at the union station at 7:30 p. m. and will begin their parade from there. They will be headed by P. N. Gravel, chairman of the trade extension committee of the Commercial club and the Third Regiment band.

Every booster will wear a tan linen duster, a white cap and will carry a Duluth pennant attached to a cane. Every booster will be on his best trade excursion behavior and all will enter into the spirit of the carnival, putting on the same kind of a show that is given in the smaller towns around Duluth.

The boosters have responded generously to the call for veterans to turn out for tonight's parade, and fully 100 men who have made the various trade excursion trips will be on hand. At the Commercial club today dusters, pennants and caps are being issued to those who are lacking part of the equipment, and every man in the line of march will be fully equipped tonight.

At each corner, the boosters will stop, dance around the band, distribute souvenirs and show the crowd how Duluth is advertised when its business men are on the road.

MASONIC NOTICE

All members of Ionic and Palestine Lodges, A. F. & A. M. (and sojourning Master Masons) are requested to meet at Masonic Temple, Monday, July 28, 1913, at 1:30 p. m. sharp, for the purpose of attending the funeral of our late brother, Charles Scharr.

BURR PORTER, W. M.
C. E. LONEGREN, Sec.

IS BACKED UP BY THE PRESIDENT

Rev. A. W. Ryan Says McKercher Made No Mistake in Case of Women "Meddlers."

Rev. A. W. Ryan, president of the Duluth Humane society, today replied to an editorial attack on R. D. McKercher, agent of the Duluth Humane society, who was rebuked by the News Tribune for giving a story to the newspapers about meddling women.

"The Humane society generally knows what it is doing," he said, "and Mr. McKercher may have made some mistakes, but he is certainly right this time. In this case, certain women, who took a little child from the children's home to its mother in the municipal lodging house, did so without any authority from either myself, as president of the society, or Mr. McKercher, as agent. Even the mother did not know it was coming and soon after it arrived, the mother dispatched it back to the home.

"We have had trouble with some women, who have allowed their eagerness to get the best of them. Then, we have others in our work who are splendid helpmates. I do not know anything about the women who, claiming to have authority, took the child from the children's home. I do know, however, that a mistake was made and the mistake was not Mr. McKercher's. It was a mistake on the part of the women, probably a mistake of judgment and not of heart. It was an unwise thing for them to do."

In the editorial attack on Mr. McKercher, in which the latter is accused of "not being sufficiently informed as to the facts" and of "placing injured dignity above humanity," the "facts" given are slightly twisted, according to those who are in touch with the situation.

Murder Ends Montana Feud.

Lewistown, Mont., July 26.—Patrick Duffy, vice president of the Security State bank of Garneill and a wealthy ranch owner of that section of the Judith basin, was shot and instantly killed by L. S. McLaughlin, an old-time resident whose ranch adjoins that of Mr. Duffy's. The trouble appears to have started some twelve years ago over a line fence. McLaughlin's plea is self defense.

GRAIN RECEIPTS FOR CROP YEAR DOUBLE PREVIOUS YEAR

Increase of More Than 100 Per Cent In Total Receipts.

Tremendous Increase In Business of Board of Trade Shown.

Thursday of the coming week will be the last day of the official crop year recognized by the Duluth board of trade, and Secretary C. F. Macdonald is busy these days getting ready the figures for his annual report of receipts and shipments of the various grains that are handled in Duluth. It is noteworthy that the receipts and shipments of bonded grains show a marked decrease during the past year, while those of American grains show a tremendous increase, receipts, with the July figures estimated, being almost three times the receipts of the previous crop year. Shipments too, show an increase of much more than double of the previous crop year.

Total receipts of American grains of all kinds for the current crop year, with July figures estimated, amount to 130,136,706 bushels against 49,751,106 bushels during the previous crop year, a difference in favor of the current year of 80,385,600 bushels. The shipments of American grain this crop year amount to 108,190,778 bushels against 45,087,186 bushels a year ago, a difference in favor of the current year of 63,103,592 bushels.

As to bonded grain of all kinds, there is a falling off during the current year of about one-third in receipts and almost one-half in shipments. The receipts of bonded grains of all kinds during the current crop year amounted to 14,663,419 bushels against 22,166,507 bushels, a difference in favor of the previous year of 7,503,088 bushels. The shipments of this year amount to 12,764,578 bushels against 22,152,081 bushels a year ago, a decrease of 9,387,503 bushels.

Receipts Double.

As to both American and bonded grains, combined, there were received in Duluth during the current year 144,800,125 bushels against 71,917,613 bushels a year ago, an increase this year of 72,882,512, making this year's receipts more than twice as much as the previous year. The combined shipments during the current year amounted to 120,955,356 bushels against 67,239,267 bushels a year ago, an increase this year of 53,716,089 bushels, very close to twice as much as in the previous year.

Following is a table of the receipts and shipments of all grains by months:

CONFERENCE ON THE CASE AGAINST STREET RAILWAY

The city commission has arranged for a conference at 3 o'clock this afternoon with the attorneys who are handling the city's side of the legal fight which has been started against the franchise of the street railway company.

Among those who will probably be present are Attorney General Lyndon A. Smith, Attorney Severance of St. Paul, Attorney Francis W. Sullivan and City Attorney Harvey Clapp. When the street car case has been discussed by the commissioners in past secret conferences the opinion has been expressed that the city will win out in its action.

Some rumors and suggestions of compromise have been floating about the city hall but inquiry has failed to disclose that there has been anything definite in that direction. It is claimed that advances with tendencies of that kind were made some time ago to the city, but they were not of any positive nature. From present indications it would appear that the case will be tried on its merits and pushed to final determination as rapidly as possible.

Attorney General Smith was a visitor at the city hall this morning, where he met the mayor and the commissioners. The attorney general said that he while here desired to get additional information relative to the street car case in which the state is interested. The state case is pending in the district court and a second action is now in the Federal court. Substantially the same issues are involved in both. The state case is set for trial at the September term.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF TRADE

New York, July 26.—Dun's Review says: There is the customary midsummer pause in mercantile and industrial activity, yet the volume of transactions continues large and confidence is fully sustained. Conservatism remains general in most channels, but this is tempered with a degree of optimism that reflects favorable sentiment as to the future. That the trend of business is still forward is evidenced by current statistics of trade movements.

The transporting companies continue to limit purchases of equipment to well-defined needs, but signs of improvement are apparent in iron and steel, with the leading producers reporting a slight enlargement in new orders.

The aggregate of foreign commerce for the latest week reported was smaller than for the same period of the two years immediately preceding, the decline being due entirely to a falling off in merchandise exports.

Failures this week numbered 298, in the United States, against 266 last year and 29 in Canada, compared with 30 a year ago.

HOUSE PROWLER STEALS $40

While the members of the family were out yesterday afternoon the home of W. H. Leath, 718 West Fifth street, was entered.

Mr. Leath reported the theft to the police this morning, claiming that $40 was taken from the house. No one saw the house entered during the afternoon and there is no description obtainable of the thieves. The robbery was discovered when members of the family returned late in the afternoon.

TICKET AGENTS ON AN OUTING

Thirty Minneapolis Men Will Visit Lake Vermilion Sunday.

A party of about thirty Minneapolis ticket agents and their wives will pass through Duluth tonight en route to Vermilion lake for an outing tomorrow.

The ticket agents will have a special sleeper attached to the Northern Pacific train this evening. The sleeper will be attached to the Duluth & Iron Range mixed train leaving Endion station late tonight and will be spotted at Tower while the party is enjoying the beauty of the lake. The ticket agents will be accompanied to Tower by M. H. Hanna, who will personally conduct the excursion over the lake.

CARLTON COUNTY IS TO HAVE NEW JAIL.

Cloquet, Minn., July 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The new state law, which gives the state board of control more power in the matter of proper housing for criminals, has forced the county commissioners of Carlton county to take action in this line. At this week's meeting the commissioners passed a resolution levying $30,000 on all taxable property in the county for the year of 1913 to pay the cost of building a new county jail at Carlton. The present jail was condemned two years ago, but no action was taken on the matter until now.

PUTTING IN NEW RATES

Great Northern and Soo Lines Checking Over Their Tariffs.

Roads Will Comply With Spirit of Decision, Says Hall.

G. Roy Hall, traffic commissioner of the Duluth Commercial club, returned today from the Twin Cities where he looked into the matter of the new Minnesota rates being extended to Duluth. Mr. Hall announced that the Great Northern and the Soo line, which had left Duluth out of the new adjustment on account of pressure of time in complying with the supreme court's decision, were now checking in the rates.

"I am satisfied that the two roads will give Duluth an adjustment that will be perfectly satisfactory to Duluth shippers," said Mr. Hall today. "The rate clerks are now busy checking in the rates and the conditions now obtaining will continue only until the new rates can be put into effect."

President R. B. Knox, Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the trade extension committee, and Secretary H. V. Eva of the Commercial club also returned this morning from Minneapolis where they attended a dinner last evening in honor of the president and members of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. Dr. B. M. Rastall, secretary of the industrial bureau, who was in Southern Minnesota on a business trip, also joined the party at Minneapolis and returned to Duluth this morning.

Railroads

DISCHARGED FOR BREAKING RULES

Employes of Two Marquette Railroads Lose Jobs for Drinking.

Marquette, Mich., July 26.—Following the policy of Eastern railways, which are zealously protecting themselves against liability in accident cases, wrecks and similar occurrences where responsibility for injury or death lies with the employes, the L. S. & I. and M. M. & S. E. Railway companies since Wednesday have discharged ten of the men employed in the yard and train service for using intoxicants while on duty or for being under their influence on duty.

Worked While Intoxicated.

In a number of cases the men were released for permitting other employes to work when intoxicated, or when drinking on the job. Others were discharged for not knowing the men were drinking or intoxicated on duty, when it was their business to know.

H. R. Harris, general manager of the roads on May 14 issued a circular letter, a copy of which was sent to every employe, which was to have been taken as a warning against employes drinking.

EXPECTED IN FEW DAYS.

Results of Northern Pacific Operators' Strike Vote Awaited.

St. Paul, Minn., July 26.—Results of the Northern Pacific telegraph operators' strike vote are expected in a few days, according to Sam Johnson, chairman of the committee for the operators. The committee is waiting the result before taking up the disputed points again with the officials of the road. Some of the far Western points on the system have not been heard from.

As to the nature of the returns already received, no statement by the operators would be made.

TO EXPEDITE CASE.

Great Western's Rate Trial to Be Early In Fall.

St. Paul, Minn., July 26.—As a result of a conference between representatives of the Chicago Great Western and the state railroad commission, the announcement was made Thursday that every effort would be made by both sides to expedite the Great Western's rate case, and to save expense for the state and company. It is expected that the case will go to trial this fall.

The Great Western's attorneys claim that the enforcement of the United States supreme court ruling with regard to the Minnesota rates practically will mean confiscation.

NEW EQUIPMENT FOR CANADIAN NORTHERN.

The first half of a consignment of new refrigerating, box and flat cars which the Canadian Northern road is acquiring, arrived here yesterday from the car shops at Mount Vermon, Ill. There were 250 in the bunch and they will be used on the Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific portion of the road, which is that part on this side of the Canadian line. The total number to be acquired is 519, of which thirty-six will be Bohn refrigerating cars. The cost will be many hundreds of thousands and the equipment is purchased by the road in preparation for the hauling of grain and other commodities during the coming fall and winter.

GREAT NORTHERN TRACK WEAKENED.

Fergus Falls, Minn., July 26.—Drenching rains that have fallen here recently resulted in the softening of a section of the Great Northern track near Melby, a short distance from this city, and a sort of sink hole seemed to develop. Hundreds of carloads of gravel were poured in, but the track sank about as fast as it could be filled up and from Monday until late Wednesday, all of the passenger trains except the light day local and all freight trains were sent around over the Breckenridge division.

ASKS TO BE NAMED AS EXECUTOR.

James F. Sexton yesterday petitioned the probate court for the appointment of his brother and himself as executors under the will of their late mother, Mrs. Amelia Sexton, 616 East Fourth street, who died July 17 last. She left an estate of about $18,000, which will be divided between two sons, one daughter and others. She left a bequest to her sister, Mrs. August Beier, to her daughters-in-law and to grandchildren. J. A. P. Neill is attorney for the estate.

Mrs. H. W. Coffin has been appointed administrator of the estate of her husband, who died recently.

TOO MUCH STEW; GIRLS ON STRIKE

Twenty Employes of Holland Hotel Walk Out at Noon Hour.

Too many stews caused eighteen girls employed as chambermaids, linen girls, scrub girls and at other work at the Holland hotel, to walk out at noon today. Two of the men employed as housemen also quit work.

The striking girls claim that they had been continually fed on stews at the noon and evening meals, and when sitting down to the noon meal today they objected.

The objection brought forth the reply that those who did not like it could quit, and the entire crew left. Several of the striking girls told a reporter that the stew was their regular bill of fare for noon and supper. They also said that the bread given them was of such character as to require an unusually good set of teeth to make an impression on it.

REGINA HIT BY SEVERE STORM

Regina, Sask., July 26.—Regina, which suffered heavily from a tornado about one year ago, early today again suffered considerable loss from a severe electrical storm, accompanied by heavy wind and rain. The loss probably will be about $50,000.

Among the buildings damaged by the storm was the Holy Rosary church, a new Catholic structure. There was no loss of life.

Runaway Kills Infant.

Wales, N. D., July 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The runaway of a team attached to a buggy being driven by Mrs. August Reuger proved fatal to her infant child. Both were thrown from the vehicle but Mrs. Reuger was not seriously hurt.

DENVER NEWSBOY FOOLED DULUTHIAN

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Graham returned yesterday from Denver and other Western points, where they have been visiting for a month. Mr. Graham tells a story about the way a newsboy "got to him," that is amusing his friends. The boy was trying to sell Mr. Graham a paper, but was turned down. Mr. Graham had in his hand a Duluth paper, which he had just finished reading, and handed it to Mrs. Graham, who was seated in an auto along with some friends. As she spread it out the newsboy slipped around the back of the auto, took a flash at the paper, saw a heading, "Duluth," and returning to Mr. Graham's side of the auto, yelled:

"Noon extra of the Post. All about the big fire in Duluth."

Mr. Graham instantly grabbed a paper and the youngster got away with the change. There was no fire in Duluth that Mr. Graham could find.

CLOQUET I. O. O. F. PICNIC

Head of Lakes Three Linkers Gather at Pinehurst Park.

Cloquet, Minn., July 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Odd Fellows at the Head of the Lakes will hold their annual picnic here Aug. 7. A special train will bring a large number of Odd Fellows and their families from Duluth and Superior. A fine program of music, entertainment and sports has been arranged and if the weather is agreeable a great day of fun is in store for the citizens of Cloquet and their visitors.

"Cloquet day," an annual affair, will be held on the same day in Pinehurst park in conjunction with the Odd Fellows' picnic and will add considerably to the success of the day. Governor Eberhart has promised to be present and deliver an address.

ATTORNEYS RETAINED IN ABATEMENT CASE.

John H. Norton and B. M. Goldberg have been retained as attorneys by Mary Le Flohic, alias Madam Gain, who figures in the abatement suit against the Clifton hotel, 321 West First street. Mr. Norton will represent August Le Flohic, a brother of the woman who claims ownership to the furniture which has been tied up by a temporary injunction. Mr. Goldberg will appear for Madam Gain. Notice of appearances were filed with the clerk of the district court today.

CITY FIRE DEPARTMENT IN FIRST-CLASS SHAPE

Annual Inspection Reveals the Greatest Neatness and Efficiency.

Superiority of Motor Apparatus Is Fully Demonstrated to Visitors.

The annual inspection of Duluth's fire department, made yesterday afternoon by Duluth's city commission, representatives of the wholesale and jobbing interests and a committee of the Woman's council, found men, horses and equipment in first-class condition.

The visitors were highly impressed with the efficiency and training displayed as well as by the neat condition of all the stations and their accessories. The men went through the various drills with clock-like precision, the horses, endowed with almost human intelligence, seemed to know they were on exhibition, and good time was made.

The conditions at the various halls are so different that time comparisons cannot form an accurate basis for judging the work of the men in the several sections of the city. The competition between the men of the stations was plainly in evidence, and although they knew that they might not make the best time, all of them were on their tip toes, keenly alert, and left excellent impressions throughout.

Motor Apparatus.

The members of the party were greatly impressed with the possibilities of motor apparatus for fire-fighting. Reviewing the entire trip they had an excellent opportunity to witness its superiority over the horse-drawn equipment. Not only do the gasoline-propelled machines eliminate the cost of maintaining the horses and reduce the number of men, but they cover a much wider range of territory in a shorter time, greatly adding to the efficiency of the department.

At Lakeside an alarm was sent in from box 72 at Forty-third avenue east and London road. The house is equipped with a combination chemical and hose motor. The run of approximately a mile was made in two minutes and thirty seconds. Horses could not begin to equal that record.

At headquarters the salvage corps, equipped with an 82-horse power cart, had the engine roaring and the wheels turning in four and two-fifths seconds. The 105-horse power combination hose and chemical got under way in five and one-half seconds.

The blacksmith and repair shop contrasted strongly with that which was in use last year. The old shop at No. 8 hall, First avenue east and Third street, has been replaced with a modern brick structure. Fully equipped, it is large enough to serve as a municipal garage, where all the city's motor apparatus, which is steadily increasing, can be repaired and refitted as well as repainted.

Women in Party.

Yesterday was the first time that women have been members of the inspecting party. Those who made the trip yesterday were representatives of the Woman's council, Mrs. J. L. Washburn, Mrs. E. A. Silberstein, Mrs. O. L. Mather and Mrs. C. E. Spring. They expressed themselves as being greatly delighted and impressed with all they saw. Among other things which appealed to them was the excellent "housekeeping" of the men, who are obliged by the nature of their work to spend their nights as well as their days on constant duty.

The most elaborate drills were seen at headquarters, the largest station in the city. The night hitch and the pompier drills vied with each other for the honors. In the former the men retired to the dormitories upstairs, as they would at night. At the clang of the gong they leaped out of bed and into their clothes almost in the same motion. Another jump and they were shooting down the rods and racing for the apparatus. In just twelve seconds the apparatus was on its way out of the hall. In the ladder drill a company of men went up the equivalent of five stories and back to the ground in two minutes and twenty-five seconds. Capt. Larson went up the same tower single-handed, going up in fifty-eight seconds flat, and making the round trip in the very short time of one minute and fifty-three and two-fifth seconds. The feat is difficult, requiring skill, steady nerves and constant practice. Capt. Larson cut down the time he made a year ago a quarter of a minute.

Hydrant Hitches.

The hydrant hitches were spectacular. With the driver urging his galloping horses to the top notch the hose cart flew down the street. At the hydrant the men made a flying leap and hooped the hose to the hydrant. Continuing at full speed the cart strung 150 feet of hose, at the end of which other men dropped to the pavement and screwed on the nozzle. In the next second or two water was shooting down the highway.

The fastest time in both the floor hitch and the hydrant hitch was made by Company No. 8 at West Duluth. The floor hitch of the two-horse hose cart was made in the remarkably short time of 6 seconds. The hydrant hitch was made in even less time, the stream coming from the hose in 5 4-5 seconds.

The other companies made the hydrant hitch in an average of 10 seconds. The other floor hitches were made in 8 to 12 seconds. The fastest three-horse floor hitch was made at No. 3, the hook and ladder getting away in 8½ seconds. Headquarters was close behind with 9 seconds for the three-horse engine hitch.

The party left the city hall shortly after 1:30 o'clock, traveling in automobiles. The procession was headed by Commissioner W. A. Hicken, head of the safety division, and Chief Joseph Randall, the quiet-spoken leader of one of the most efficient fire-fighting forces in the country. Chief Randall was yesterday the recipient of many compliments upon the excellent showing made by his branch of the municipal service. First Assistant Chief Fred E. Granzow was in command in the West end and Second Assistant Chief C. W. Wilson was in charge at headquarters, where Chief Randall also remains. Assistant Chief Granzow responds to all alarms in West Duluth, the West end and the downtown district. Assistant Chief Wilson responds to alarms in the West end, downtown and in the eastern part of the city. Chief Randall responds to all downtown alarms and all alarms of fire of magnitude in any part of the city.

Numerous comments of the poor condition of the building which houses Company No. 3 at West Duluth were heard. The structure is dilapidated and old. Commissioner Hicken hopes that a new fire hall and police station will be erected in that part of the city next year.

"HOW DULUTH WOKE UP"

the flame of civic awakening to Duluth.

Aug. 14, 1909, there was published in The Herald an interview with Mr. Patton, then chairman of the municipal affairs committee of the Commercial club. He had just returned from a trip to the Pacific coast. He had seen the growth of cities there. He had seen their boosting methods. He had encountered the vexations of passenger service to and from Duluth. He had looked around and learned.

"Don't Hustle."

"We don't get out and hustle," he told The Herald. "We keep talking about our bad climate, our high rents, our unsettled country around us, our scarcity of labor and the railroad discrimination against us.

"Out in the West they talk only of the good features of their climate; here we talk of the bad features of ours. They tell you they have the best climate in the world and they make you believe it. They don't tell the visitor that they have rain a good many months in the year.

"The living in the growing cities of the West is as high as the living here. They have stretches of country around them. Labor is just as difficult to secure as it is here. The only complaint that the citizens make of Duluth that has any foundation is the statement that the railroads discriminate against Duluth. That statement I believe is true."

Mr. Patton declared that the climate of Duluth is infinitely better than the climate of the cities of the West, better than the climate of Minneapolis and St. Paul, and better than the climate of any interior city. He urged Duluth people to stop growling, and issued the clarion call to civic duty:

"We should get out and hustle; we should stop depending upon others; we ought to go out and get things that are needed for the growth and prosperity of the city. We should treat the manufacturing interests that contemplate coming to the city with more courtesy. We should be more enthusiastic. When certain interests have come here, we have taken it as a matter of course; we have not shown that we have appreciated it.

Lacked Patriotism.

"We lack patriotism and civic pride; we lack concerted and persistent effort; we are not studying our advantages and making the most of them. We are depending upon others to do things that we should do ourselves. We are not doing the utmost to make Duluth a large and growing city."

Mr. Patton's statements attracted attention. Duluth people knew they were true, but they hadn't recognized the condition. Commenting editorially on the interview Monday, Aug. 16, 1909, The Herald said: "We suffer from railroad discrimination, but what have we done and what are we doing to secure the removal of this discrimination and have the city accorded the freight rates to which its location entitles it?

Duluth had done nothing that promised results, and was doing nothing up to that time. But action was to come soon after.

One thing that was the matter with Duluth was pointed out from another angle in a communication to The Herald Tuesday, Aug. 17, 1909:

"I was out in the vicinity of Deerwood last week, and I was surprised, in talking to farmers and truck gardeners, to learn the light in which they view—or do not view—Duluth as a market for their products. Only one man in the Bay Lake district, so far as I could learn, is shipping produce to Duluth; the others ship to Fargo and the Twin Cities." The communication went on to state that the commission men of Duluth discriminated against the farmers and truck gardeners around the city, and followed an established policy of obtaining their products through the regular commission channels.

Commenting on the communication, The Herald urged the Commercial club to take up the question. "If they (the statements contained in the communication) are true, they should be corrected, even if it is necessary for the commercial club to start a commission house to deal fairly with its patrons," it said.

The Commercial club had started on its agricultural work at that time, but it had not been able to overcome that same marketing difficulty. It was increasing acreage and production, but had not grappled successfully with the problem of getting the increased production to the market, or creating a market for it. That, too, was to come a little later.

The Call Grew.

The call to Duluth to shake off its shackles of inaction and get busy grew in volume. Duluth citizens talked, and began to bestir themselves. They at least faced Duluth's problems and talked them over. There was still no concerted action, but Duluth people were getting in the mood to take action.

An interview with John A. Stewart of New York, published in The Herald Wednesday, Aug. 18, 1909, added fuel to the flames. Mr. Stewart furnished good boosting material and called Duluth's attention to the possibilities for the future, with proper development of the agricultural resources of the surrounding counutry. In summing up Duluth's resources, he said:

"Duluth has cheap coal; it has seven months of water transportation; it has iron mines at its very doors; it has lumber and it has grain. These four things are essentials for innumerable manufactures. But in order that manufacturers may prosper, there must be a home territory and a country population with means to buy. There are hundreds of thousands of acres of valuable truck land contigious to Duluth, a vast territory which could support a village and farming population."

"Duluth has the making of its future largely in its own hands," The Herald remarked editorially at that time. "Nothing is made by inaction; nothing is gained by blinking at the truth; nothing is helped by concealment or evasion. The time has come for everybody in Duluth to talk right out and say what he thinks and do what he can to make use of the glittering opportunities that surround and fill the city."

Question of Market.

The question of a market for the farmers' produce was raised again Monday, Aug. 30, 1909, when letters from two farmers, exposing market conditions in the city were published, with comment. "What is wanted is a very simple thing—some sort of an organization to handle farm produce," the story said. "An association of market gardeners could do it. But they are scattered from Hermantown to Hinckley, and from Dunham to Deerwood. The organization will get forward more quickly if it starts from the center, not from the circumference."

That was all in August, 1909. Duluth heard unpleasant truths and recognized them as such. Duluth was jarred from its complacancy. It's business men were talking rates and traffic adjustments. The problem of agricultural development was being discussed, both from the standpoint of production and marketing. Duluth people were beginning to see that they had not been true to their city or to themselves in neglecting so long the problems that pressed for solution.

In each case, the first move seemed to be up to the Duluth Commercial club, and the club was not wanting. The first definite action came when the agricultural committee of the Commercial club at a meeting Wednesday, Sept. 1, 1909, adopted resolutions providing for the organization of an association to provide channels to the market for the production of the farming country around the city.

Market Association.

Out of that meeting grew the Producers' Co-operative Market association, which was backed by the Commercial club and into which the Commercial club sank $5,000 in the two years it operated, 1910 and 1911. The money was well spent and brought good results. The headquarters of the association conducted on Michigan street were abandoned in the fall of 1911. The association went out of the commission business, but it did not go out of existence. It is still in existence. It brings the farmer into co-operation for sales in bulk, for the adoption of uniform varieties of production, for mutual protection against those who would prey upon them.

But the association accomplished also an object that brought about its ruin as a competitor of the commission merchants on Michigan street. It aroused the commission men to the possibilities of Northern Minnesota production. Instead of repulsing the farmers who sent in their stuff, the commission men encouraged their good will. After the Producers' Co-operative Market association was organized the Duluth commission men, and those from other cities, for the first time sent buyers through the farming district of Northern Minnesota. There are potato warehouses at many points near Duluth now. When the Producers' Co-operative Market association was organized there wasn't a co-operative potato warehouse or any other kind of a warehouse near Duluth. The spirit of co-operation was instilled into the farmers. They got together to raise staple crops that find a ready market. In one year, Duluth was transformed from an importing to an exporting market for staple vegetables and garden products. It has reminded that ever since, and it all may be traced to the Producers' Co-operative Market association, an apparent failure, but an actual triumph.

Into New Quarters.

Monday, Sept. 27, 1909, the Duluth Commercial club, which had been housed in inadequate quarters on Superior street, moved into its new home at the corner of First street and Fourth avenue west. The greatest work the Commercial club has done dates from that time. The club had been taking on new life for months. Over a year before it had engaged A. B. Hostetter to arrange the St. Louis county display at the state fair and then had given him an appointment of agriculture. Its wholesale committee, made up of traffic managers of wholesale houses, had been making a study of railroad rates. The club had embraced civic work with better spirit than at any time in its previous years of its existence, but its real accomplishments have come since it moved into its new home. Then it blossomed out as the center of civic discussion and activity in Duluth and it has strengthened its position each year.

At the housewarming of the new quarters Sept. 27, 1909, W. A. McGonagle summed up some of the things the club had to do and declared that Duluth must look to the future for its greatest growth and prosperity. E. M. Ferguson struck the keynote of Duluth's fight for its rights from the railroads when he declared that Duluth was discriminated against principally because its industrial and jobbing interests and failed to assert its rights. He suggested that an experienced traffic man be employed to study Duluth's transportation problem and to suggest the remedies that should be applied.

Real Awakening.

The civic awakening, and the awakening of the Commercial club, appeared in concrete form Oct. 1, 1909, when the old wholesale committee was turned into a committee on transportation and mail service and a new wholesale committee appointed. Another special committee was put at work studying the cost of living, while still another special committee took up the subject of the farmers' market.

"Nothing in all the history of Duluth speaks fairer promise for the future of the city than the present accumulation of evidences that the community has awakened to the need of positive effort to make it what it ought to be," The Herald said editorially Saturday, Oct. 2, 1909. "But there will be work for everybody. Whether it be a large part or a small part, every citizen will have his share of the responsibility and the labor. Soon we shall know just what needs to be done; and then everybody will take hold and do it. In the awakening of this new energy and public spirit, Duluth has advanced more in a few months than it has in years past."

Even in that day the extent of the awakening was recognized. The promise of that day has been fulfilled. Building on the developments of two months in the fall of 1909, Duluth has accomplished more in less than four years than it did in forty years before. It was an awakening that was complete and permanent.

Cost of Living.

Tuesday, Oct. 5, 1909, the report of the committee of the Real Estate Exchange, which studied the cost of living, was made public. It summed up the situation in the concluding paragraph:

"There is no problem relating to the growth and development of Duluth but what can be worked out to the benefit of the city and the advancement of all our interests if it is earnestly undertaken. The competition among cities is as keen as in private business, and if we are going to hold our own we must engage in the same line of activity in our own behalf which is pursued by others in theirs. We must advertise our advantages and correct our delinquencies and shortcomings. The cost of living, if excessive, must and can be reduced to a fair comparison with that of other towns, and nothing is more vital to the interests of our city. There are some indications that Duluth has been sleeping and lagging behind in the efforts that are being made all through the country to promote growth and the development of progressive towns. There is every inducement for every Duluth citizen to put his shoulder to the wheel and bring Duluth into the position that she ought to occupy among the cities of the country."

The report was signed by C. P. Craig, N. J. Upham and the late O. H. Simonds.

The Traffic Commission.

"Wednesday, Oct. 6, 1909," should be written in letters of gold in the records of the Duluth Commercial club.

The public affairs committee meeting of that date brought the agitation, discussion and reflection of the previous two months to a focus. Out of the meeting came the traffic commission and its work, the real work of the agricultural committee, and the revitalization of the whole public affairs committee and its various branches.

At the meeting the Stone-Ordean-Wells company, Kelley-How-Thomson company, Marshall-Wells Hardware company and F. A. Patrick & Co. offered the public affairs committee $10,000, if a similar amount were raised by the committee, one-third of the whole fund of $20,000 to go to the public affairs fund, and the remaining two-thirds to be available for the then committee on transportation and mail service, which afterwards became the traffic commission.

Supplementing the offer was a report from the committee on transportation and mail service, which expressed the conviction after a study of the rate structure as affecting Duluth that the city was shamefully discriminated against, and in many important particulars completely ignored by the railroads.

"We have found that it is not an uncommon thing for the railroads which issue tariffs supposed to contain rates from both Duluth and the Twin Cities to entirely overlook Duluth interests in making up the rates and either leave us out entirely or put us upon a basis that puts us out of competition for business," the report said.

How very different today!

At the same meeting the committee on agriculture reported on the plan for the Producers' Co-operative Market association.

"Do It For Duluth."

Friday, Oct. 8, 1909, The Herald inaugurated its "Do It For Duluth" campaign, which continued for several weeks, a campaign that had its effect in creating a better appreciation of the extent of Duluth industries, the quality of their production and the virtue of the civic loyalty that induces one to buy at home.

The awakening that came that fall has endured. It reached almost every business man in the city. It reached thousands of salaried men, who ordinarily gave little attention to civic problems. It interested every man, woman and child in the city, and Duluth took on a new lease of civic life. The slogan "Do It For Duluth" was accepted in its literal meaning. Duluth people began to look at their city from a different angle. Their fighting blood was aroused. The fund of the public affairs committee, which had dropped sadly in former years, has never been niggardly since. With the funds, with the spirit and with the knowledge of the wisdom of its course, the Commercial club, backed up by the business men and citizens generally, has swept away the obstacles that blocked Duluth's path of progress and the way is now clear for Duluth to travel to the destiny so often claimed for it.

Soon after the eventful meeting of Oct. 6, 1909, the traffic commission of the Commercial club was organized with C. R. Rust as chairman and the traffic men of the wholesale houses as the other members. The plan suggested by E. M. Ferguson at the housewarming of the club was followed out. G. Roy Hall, then with the Duluth, Winnipeg & Pacific railroad and a traffic man of long experience, was engaged as traffic commissioner.

Mr. Hall came to the work with an intimate knowledge of rate-making and the whole subject of transportation. He had well defined ideas on the effect of rates on communities. He was no stranger to the Duluth situation, as he had encountered it from the railroad side. He was well equipped for a work that has proved of tremendous importance to Duluth.

Mr. Hall took hold Dec. 1, 1909, and his first work was the study of the Duluth situation, as to rates applying to and from the city and the relation of those rates with rates granted other points. From the first, with Mr. Hall as traffic commissioner, the traffic commission worked on the lake and rail rate structure as its big problem. It saw the key to Duluth's future commercial and industrial prosperity, it was given first consideration. The traffic commission has done much more than push the lake and rail case to a successful issue, but all through the years its greatest hopes have been wrapped up in the lake and rail case.

Julius H. Barnes succeeded C. R. Rust as chairman of the traffic commission about a year after its organization, and Charles F. Macdonald, secretary of the Duluth board of trade, was added about two years ago. W. N. Hart, as a representative of the retail men, was appointed to the commission last winter.

Position Appalling.

Duluth's position when the traffic commission took hold was described as appalling by the committee on transportation and mail service in its preliminary report to the public affairs committee Oct. 6, 1909. Duluth was given no consideration in the making of rates. The lake and rail rate structure was built on the Twin Cities. Duluth was considered merely a gateway, a point of transshipment, rather than a city with industrial and commercial interests to be considered. Twenty years before, Duluth had been hailed as a city with a wonderful future, a future insured by its commanding location at the Head of Lake navigation, but the promise had not been fulfilled.

The traffic commission took hold of each transportation problem in turn. In the lake and rail case it laid the injustice of the rate structure before the interstate commerce commission, and after fifteen months of consideration the commission responded with a decision that is epoch-making. In ringing phrases, the injustice of the railroads' treatment of Duluth is pointed out, and justice for the city demanded.

The harbor of Duluth is declared to be such that a difference of ninety-six miles in the haul in favor of Chicago is declared to be overcome by the better dispatch in the harbor of Duluth and Duluth is put on the same rate basis as Chicago.

The differential, Twin Cities over Duluth, is extended from 15 cents to 21 cents, an increase of 40 per cent, and the commission declares that only partial relief is thus given Duluth. The way is left open to the railroads to complete the relief, but even if they fail Duluth's position is wonderfully strengthened.

The decision serves notice on the railroads that Duluth must be considered in rate-making in the future; that Duluth is entitled to the benefits of its favorable location at the Head of the Lakes.

Railroads Change Attitude.

The railroads have already shown a more favorable disposition toward Duluth. The other roads are beginning to appreciate Duluth's growing importance, and, perhaps more, Duluth's growing tonnage. But in the face of the decision of the interstate commerce commission they dare not do otherwise in the future, and that in itself is a victory of immeasurable benefit.

Grain rates to Duluth were out of line when the traffic commission took hold. Minneapolis was favored as a consuming market and Chicago as a market for forwarding East and abroad. There was a large territory which Duluth could not enter in competition for grain business. The grain rate case, so called, was brought before the interstate commerce commission. Duluth's case was laid before the commission and in the decision handed down in June, 1912, Duluth won its first great victory. Rates were reduced, adjustments were made and discriminations were abated that put Duluth in a much more favorable position than it had ever been as a grain market.

The full effect of the grain rate decision did not apply until June 14 this year, when the commission handed down its final order, but the effect has already been evident in the increased interest in the Duluth market in Southern Minnesota, South Dakota and Northern Iowa, the territory opened in greater measure to Duluth by the decision.

Passes Minneapolis.

The Duluth market in the last year for the first time in history passed the Minneapolis market in receipts of grain for the first five months of the crop year, August, September, October, November and December. Duluth has this year handled more grain by 40 per cent than it did in any previous year in its history as a grain market. In the year ending July 31, 1912, the receipts of bonded grain in Duluth were 22,166,507 bushels and of American grain 49,751,106 bushels. In the year ending July 31, 1913, the total receipts of bonded grain will be about 15,000,000 and of American grain the astounding total of 123,000,000 bushels will be reached.

The receipts this year show the possibilities of Duluth's development as a grain market. The territory opened to Duluth by the grain rate decision will send to this market for forwarding more oats and barley than have ever been received here before. Duluth has never been known as a coarse grain market, because the coarse grains could not be shipped here advantageously. The grain rate decision wipes out the discrimination that made that true.

But there is a still greater effect to the grain rate decision. In it the interstate commerce commission laid down the principle that the percentage of difference in distance between points of shipment and Duluth and Milwaukee and Chicago must be reflected in the relation of rates from the point of origin to the different lake ports. The members of the traffic commission have hope of having the same principle applied to outgoing distribution rates and if such should be the case, Duluth's position as a distributing center would be materially strengthened.

In times gone by Duluth appeared before the interstate commerce commission only when it brought a formal case, and that was seldom. Tariff after tariff materially affecting the welfare of Duluth went through without Duluth people even knowing what was going on.

About two years ago the railroads in C. F. A. published new tariffs making rate advances, lake and rail, to the Northwest. Duluth filed objections to the tariffs, they were suspended and finally the railroads were not allowed to put them into effect. The traffic commission of the Commercial club has appeared in many other proceedings of the kind, none so important, but all important in their way.

Every Tariff Checked.

Every railroad tariff that is published is checked up by the traffic commission. Not only the rates to and from Duluth are checked with reference to their justice, per se, but rates to and from other points are checked with reference to their relation to the Duluth rates. The traffic commission is constantly on the job safeguarding Duluth's transportation interests.

Before the traffic commission was organized, nearly all freight from Duluth to Northern Minnesota and Northern Dakota points in less than carload lots went first to Minnesota transfer and was forwarded from there, with a loss of one to three days, which was a handicap in favor of the Twin Cities. At one time after the traffic commission presented the matter the Great Northern put twenty-two package cars in service from Duluth to North Dakota and Northwestern Minnesota. Others were added this year. Duluth now has service just as good if not better than the Twin Cities in the North Dakota territory, and in Northwestern Minnesota.

Up to this year there hadn't been a rate check on the Soo Line and the Northwestern in Wisconsin for twenty years. After taking the subject up with the railroads, the traffic commission obtained a new adjustment that has opened up a wide new territory in Wisconsin in which Duluth jobbers may compete with the Twin Cities and Chicago on a fair basis. Nobody thought to go after such improvements in rates and service before.

Complaints on Duluth's passenger service to the West have come down in countless number through all the years. It remained for the traffic commission to remove the cause, with the help of the railroads. Now Duluth has through passenger service on the Great Northern by connections with the Oriental Limited at Grand Forks, and last spring the Northern Pacific put a splendid modern train on the road from Duluth to Staples to connect with the North Coast Limited, its finest train to the coast. Negotiations are now under way for a new Soo Line passenger service that will mean practically through coast service through Portal.

Covers Big Field.

The traffic commission has not stopped with questions of railroad rates and service. It has obtained better postal service to many points, between long distance telephone rates and better express rates and service. In many cases the railroads and other corporations had only to have Duluth's needs called to their attention to supply them. Rights had been denied because they had never been applied for. In other cases greater pressure was needed, but the pressure always came either by personal negotiation or through the interstate commerce commission.

Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the traffic commission, made a significant statement at the annual meeting of the club last spring. He declared that the railroads have adopted a new attitude toward Duluth, that they show a solicitude alike pleasing and surprising. He said Duluth's fight for its rights has not been in vain, but the railroads no longer ignore Duluth, but stand ready to listen to Duluth's pleas and grant those that are just.

The traffic commission all through its work has sought not to antagonize the railroads when nothing could be gained by it. Peaceful negotiation was tried first in every case, but when negotiation failed Duluth has not hesitated to assert its rights before the interstate commerce commission. The traffic commission has been fair and firm and although it has obtained much that the railroads were not disposed to grant, it has also obtained much that the railroads could have withheld, and it has commanded the respect and consideration of the railroad officials.

The traffic commission has adopted the attitude of a quasi-public institution. It stands ready to serve anybody, whether a member of the Commercial club or not. It gives advice on rates and routes; it helps people in presenting claims; it offers to assume anybody's troubles as its own. It has even invited small towns around Duluth to submit their traffic troubles, and it offers free advice and service.

Agricultural Work.

Last winter a bill drafted by C. P. Craig of Duluth was passed by the Minnesota legislature. It authorizes counties to appropriate a certain sum for the maintenance of a agricultural agent, the state to furnish financial aid also and the work to be under the direction of the state agricultural college. As a result of that law, a Northeastern Minnesota Agricultural district has been organized with St. Louis, Carlton, Crow Wing and Itasca counties as members. A. B. Hostetter is superintendent of the district and the headquarters are at the Duluth demonstration farm.

The agricultural district, the county agricultural agents, the Duluth demonstration farm school and the wonderful development that has come in the last four years in the agricultural district of Northeastern Minnesota may be traced to the Duluth Commercial club.

A. B. Hostetter entered development work in this section as the representative of the Duluth Commercial club. Only when the club had shown conclusively the wealth of the agricultural resources of St. Louis county did the state take hold of the work. The Commercial club was the pioneer and it is now in the position of being able to sit back and see the superstructure rise on the foundation it built.

When the civic awakening came to Duluth four years ago the agricultural work was not well advanced. The story of the Producers' Co-operative Market association has already been told. But that is only an incident in the history of agricultural development in Northeastern Minnesota. Since Duluth's 1909 awakening, the demonstration farm school has been obtained. C. P. Craig and A. B. Hostetter as representatives of the Commercial club obtained the passage of the bill through the legislature. The schools in poultry and gardening were started at the Y. M. C. A. The Commercial club ran first a potato special and for succeeding years a general agricultural special that has proved a traveling short course for the farmers. Duluth potatoes won prizes at the New York land show and at the Northwest land show at St. Paul in competition with potatoes from all other potato raising states in the nation. The skeptics who doubted the wisdom of the Commercial club's agricultural propaganda have been silenced. The agricultural possibilities of the land around Duluth have been proved.

Back Yard Gardens.

When Duluth was being jarred from all sides in the fall of 1909, A. B. Hostetter came out with a statement that every resident of Duluth could raise enough vegetables in his back yard to supply his table. A little later George H. Maxwell, the apostle of homecrofting, visited Duluth. The result was the homecroft movement. Today every man in Duluth who has a few square feet of ground has a garden. Duluth is known as the homecroft center of the United States and has obtained thousands of dollars worth of publicity through that fact.

Duluth's climate, regarded as a curse four years ago, is now recognized as Duluth's greatest asset. Three years ago the Commercial club began a campaign for recognition of Duluth's climate. Duluth temperature reports were wired to suffering inland cities in the heated season. "It's Cool in Duluth" became known over a wide territory. Duluth for the first time made efforts to attract summer visitors on the strength of its climate, and to make the stay of the visitors pleasant.

Business men have a new appreciation of the climate here. All through the year manual and mental labor is at 100 per cent efficiency. In inland cities efficiency drops to 50 or 60 per cent in the heated season. The labor efficiency Duluth's climate makes possible is a commercial and industrial asset of incalculable value.

Duluth has conducted a persistent and successful campaign for the good will of the surrounding towns. The first trade excursion ever given by Duluth was given two years ago. Four in all have been given and they have established relations that will be of immense benefit to the city in future years. The advertising campaign conducted in the papers of the Northwest last winter had a similar object, and it accomplished it. Duluth is recognized as an asset to the Northwest, and the water highway that starts from Duluth is recognized as a highway for cheap transportation not only for Duluth but for hunderds of miles around.

The industrial commission of the Commercial club was organized a little over a year ago. It has already brought eight new industries into the city. It has started sanely and intelligently to develop Duluth industrially and success already achieved promises more for the future.

The commission form of government was a direct result of Duluth's awakening. The playground and civic center movements found fertile ground in Duluth. Duluth people have a higher civic consciousness, a greater regard for civic duty than they ever had before. All Duluth people show the spirit of co-operation. The work has just begun, but Duluth people are in the mood to continue it. The highway is clear and Duluth may go ahead.

LEGISLATION NEARING END

dum and recall amendment to the state constitution.

Creation of a county board of education.

A minimum wage of $40 per month for rural school teachers.

Taxation of mineral deposits under ground on the tonnage basis.

Abolition of the defense of contributory negligence in the workmen's compensation act.

Settlement of Lands.

Settlement of farm lands through agricultural credit associations.

Long time loans to settlers to lessen farm tenancy.

A law defining monopolies, trusts, and conspiracies in restrain of trade, to be enforced by the attorney general.

A state commission to supervise boxing contests.

A law requiring a certificate of health from prospective brides and grooms.

Sterlization of feeble minded, epileptics and criminal insane in state and county institutions.

Establishment of the budget system for all state appropriations.

Establishment of tuberculosis camps in the state forestry reserve.

Investigation of the subject of occupational diseases by a legislative committee.

"as venturing on dangerous seas."

Criticises Maderos.

Mr. Wilson was vehement in his criticism of the Constitutionalists and the Madero family.

"The Madero family" asserted the ambassador, "have maintained a paid bureau in Washington to poison the public mind. As to the rebels there really is none except in Sonora where there is an organized government. Elsewhere there are bandits."

The ambassador was asked about Coahuila where Governor Carranza is in charge of the Constitutionalist cause.

"There are bandits in Coahuila, too," he answered. "I don't mean to say that Carranza is a bandit, but in order to keep his men together he has to allow them to loot and they therefore become bandits."

Mr. Wilson suggested that hardly any one in Washington really understood the Mexican situation and the characteristics of Latin peoples.

Dribblings of Children."

"Some of the proposals I have heard," he remarked, "sound like the dribblings of mere children. For instance, the proposal to have foreign powers from Central and South America act with us in mediating the trouble in Mexico. Why that would be an overthrow of the principles of the Monroe doctrine, and the Mexicans would resent that interference. I know this proposal was once made by John Barrett, director general of the Pan-American union. Mr. Barrett and I are personal friends and I have great respect for him, but I don't think much of that suggestion."

The ambassador met Mrs. Henry Lane Wilson and his two sons who had preceded him here. Asked just how soon he would finish his conferences, he said:

"I'll certainly hurry them," and then added with a laugh: "I understand from the newspapers that my presence in Washington is costing Mr. Bryan $2,000 a day by losing his lecture engagements. Well, I must be an expensive visitor."

Talks With Bryan.

After he had breakfasted, Ambassador Wilson hurried to the state department where Secretary Bryan was waiting. President Wilson had gone to play golf. It was determined definitely that the president would not see the ambassador until Monday.

At the end of a half hour's conference with the ambassador, Secretary Bryan, saying the talk would be continued at 3 o'clock this afternoon, hurried to the capitol to meet the foreign relations committee. He said he would only discuss the Nicaraguan treaty there.

Secretary Bryan would make no announcement of his conference with the ambassador further than to say that Mr. Wilson had made a preliminary report.

Mr. Bryan was asked about the statement that Delvalle had been furnished with a copy of the state department code, but beyond saying he never had announced that Delvalle was an agent of the state department, he refused to discuss the question.

Ambassador Wilson, however, received the correspondents in Mr. Bryan's office. While he was questioned Secretary Bryan's private secretary made a stenographic record of the interview, which turned out to be not at all illuminating on the situation, further than bringing from the ambassador a denial of the statement that he had been asked to prepare a report on the mediation proposition. The ambassador spent the first part of the day going over copies of his previous reports to the state department.

Staff Murder Trial On.

Towner, N. D., July 26.—The murder trial of John Staff, a farmer living near Minot for murder was begun here yesterday. Staff is accused of having shot and killed his wife several weeks ago, while the latter was hiding in a barrel on the Staff farm, to escape from her husband.

pened the ardor of the people of the provinces of Fo Kien, who sympathize strongly with the rebel movement but now seem inclined to remain passive unless the southerners achieve an important military success.

War is generally deprecated, but there is a small minority of the more youthful and hot-headed element which clamors for redress of its grievances.

When some of the military were withdrawn from this city on Sunday, a detachment of Japanese marines was ordered ashore. In the foreign colonies here the general opinion prevailed that the landing of the marines was unnecessary. A strict censorship has been imposed on outgoing telegrams as well as upon the newspapers. The five-colored Republican flag continues to float over the municipal government office but the flag staffs over the forts are bare.

Many of the Christian missionaries have been recalled from the interior districts owoing to the possibility of outbreaks.

Missionaries Not in Danger.

Boston, Mass., July 26.—The belief that the present revolutionary movement in China is destined to be short lived was expressed in a cablegram received today by the American Baptist Foreign Mission society here from its representative at Shanghai. The cablegram follows: "Revolution not likely to continue long. Are in no danger."

Su Chow Has Fallen.

St. Petersburg, July 26.—A despatch from Shanghai says it is officially announced there that the city of Su Chow has fallen into the hands of the northern forces and the garrisons of the forts at Wu Sung also have joined them.

Foreigners Ask Guard.

Hankow, China, July 26.—Urgent appeals were received today from the foreigners residing in Kuling, for a naval guard. There are over 2,000 of them there, mostly women and children. The authorities have not yet taken any action.

The northern forces, according to a despatch from Kiu Kiang, started a general advance yesterday and the rebels retreated before them in confusion. A column of northern soldiers crossed the Yang Tse Kiang and captured Oliphant island, from which position they began shelling the Pu Kow forts.

REARRESTED AFTER SERVING FIVE YEARS.

Leavenworth, Kan., July 26.—Charles Stevens, alias Charles Savage, the negro convicted five years ago for the theft at the Kansas City union station of a mail pouch containing $50,000, was released from the Federal prison here this morning. He was re-arrested at the gate on new charges covering the crime. The order for his re-arrest was issued recently by Judge Sanborn of the Federal court of appeals on a writ of habeas corpus.

FIRE DESTROYS HALF SASKATCHEWAN TOWN.

Brock, Sask., July 26.—Fire which broke out late last night here, and which at an early hour today was not under control, caused a loss of $225,000 and wiped out nearly one-half the town. The annual fair is in progress here and it is reported two visitors have lost their lives.

An explosion of gasoline helped to spread the flames.

GRATEFUL TO THE DOCTORS

Duluth Man Says Their Treatment Relieved a Bad Case of Heart Disease and Indigestion.

Had Been Treated By Others—Feels Like New Man and Many Years Younger.

John Olson, who lives at 112 East Superior street, knows whereof he speaks when he recommends the Electro Medical Doctors to his many friends and neighbors, for he had been in bad health for many years and could not find a doctor or specialist who understood his condition well enough to cure, until at last he went to the Duluth Institute of the Electro Medical Doctors who have their elegant offices at No. 26 West Superior street.

Only after a short course of treatment he was so well pleased with the wonderful results of the Electro Medical Doctors' treatment that he has written the following letter for publication:

Duluth, Minn., July 22, 1913.

To the Electro Medical Doctors:

I want to express my gratitude to you for the great improvement I have made after taking only a few treatments.

I was very nervous and run down as my heart was palpitating on the least exercise and I felt exhausted most of the time and nearly lost hope of ever getting well again.

I took all kinds of drugs and medicines which helped me nothing, in fact I got steadily weaker. I am treating only a short time with the Electro Medical Doctors, and I am glad to let all my friends know that I am improving rapidly under the wonderful treatments I am receiving.

My digestion is very much better and I am sure it will not take many treatments more before I will be completely cured. I heartily recommend these specialists to all heart-troubled, to the nervous and dyspeptic sufferers.

To them I can say that each treatment feels to me as if there is new life going through me that makes me stronger and younger every day.

Your thankful patient,
JOHN OLSON,
112 East Superior St.

The Electro Medical Doctors have their institution on the second floor at No. 26 West Superior street. People come here from far and near to be treated for the most obstinate diseases, for it is here that they find health again after every doctor had given them up. They have pleasant separate waiting rooms for men and women. Their examinations are free to all men, all married women must be accompanied by their husbands.

NEWS OF THE WEST END

HERALD BRANCH:— HERMAN OLSON, Manager, 1823 West Superior Street.

TO HANDLE PARCEL POST

West Enders Will Ask for Delivery Station of Their Own.

Think 20-Pound Limit Will Bring Big Increase In Business.

With the installing of a 20-pound parcel post service it is proposed by the merchants of the West end to ask the government to establish a delivery station in this end of the city. According to statements made by the merchants they will ask for not only a station which will receive the parcels, but one which will distribute them as well.

The postal department is now maintaining a branch office at J. J. Moe's store which is kept open from 8 a. m. until 5 p. m. It is proposed that the parcel post station be operated in connection with this station and located in some other building where it can be maintained open from 7 a. m. until 8 p. m.

At present it is claimed that the majority of the West end merchants are compelled to keep on hand a quantity of stamps and other postal stationery in order to accommodate the patrons of the stores. This is said to be on account of the early closing of the branch which they claim does not give the workingmen an opportunity of purchasing this material at the branch office.

"We will need a branch office located separately from that of any other business when the government installs its 20-pound service in the parcel post department," said S. H. Hill this morning. "There will be many of the merchants who will want to have their goods delivered in this manner to customers in this end of the city. There will also be many of the merchants who will have their parcels directed to this office from the wholesale houses of the East. We will want regular deliveries in this department as well as the regular mail department, and it will pay the government from the start to install this service.

"The need of a separate building is shown every day in this end of the city. Hundreds of working men, railroad men and others who wish to purchase stamps after 5 o'clock are unable to be accommodated by the present station. These men have been compelled to go uptown to get their money orders or stamps after this hour. The West end station should be kept open the same regular hours in vogue in the uptown station."

Open Saturday Evenings from 6 to 8

Will Preach in Park.

Rev. Milton Fish, pastor of the Central Baptist church, Twentieth avenue west and First street, will preach tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock at Lincoln park. The pastor will preach on "The Fascination of the Cross." This is the eighth sermon of a series of addresses given by the pator on the subject of "The Cross." Special music will also be given during the services. The pastor will be assisted by Rev. George E. Silloway, pastor of the Grace Methodist church and Rev. J. A. McGaughey, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church.

SIXTY DELEGATES TO THE VASA ORDER CONVENTION

A delegation of about sixty members from Duluth, Superior, Two Harbors, Virginia and Hibbing will leave next Saturday evening for St. Paul, where they will attend the annual district meeting of the Vasa order. The convention will be held at the Ryan hotel on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 3, 4 and 5.

Andrew Horngren, district president, will head the delegation from the Head of the Lakes. Arrangements are being made for a special car to take the local contingent to the convention.

Among the delegates who will represent the Duluth lodges are the following:

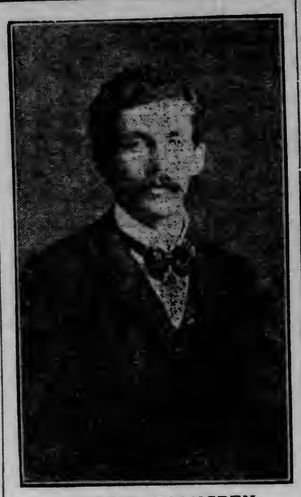

Swedish United Sons lodge—Andrew Horngren, Otto Gafvert, C. E. Johnson, George Johnson, C. G. Loff, C. F. Hoffman, August Hammer, A. T. Lind, William Wicklund, Victor Juten and N. N. Nelson.

Duluth lodge—J. W. Nelson and M. N. Nelson.

Gusta lodge, West Duluth—Gust Anderson, Charles Ek, Charles Strom and Dr. D. E. Seashore.

Sophia lodge, West end—Mrs. A. Wohlin, Mrs. Peter Olson, Mrs. O. ... Olson, Mrs. Elof Anderson and Miss Minnie Olson.

The principal business to be brought before the convention will be proposed changes in the lodge's by-laws, the election of officers and changes in the district jurisdiction. Among the features of the entertainment to be provided will be a banquet at the Ryan hotel, a sight-seeing trip about the Twin Cities and an excursion on the Mississippi river.

ANDREW HORNGREN, District President.

Vasa Order Picnic.

The members of the four Duluth lodges and three Superior lodges of the Vasa order will leave at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning on the steamers Columbia and Easton for Two Harbors, where they will take part in the annual picnic given at the uplake city by Gota Lion lodge. It is estimated that more than 1,000 members from the two cities will join in the excursion.

The local lodges participating in the excursion and picnic will be the Swedish United Sons, No. 170, and Sophia lodges of the West end, Gusta lodge of West Duluth and Gustaf Adolph lodge from uptown. The Superior lodges are Svea, Freya and Barnadotte.

A program of sports, including a baseball game, will feature the celebration at Two Harbors. The local contingent will take the Zenith City band with them and will also participate in the parade to be held at Two Harbors during the early part of the afternoon.

The local men in charge of getting the crowd out are Andrew Horngren, district president of the order; John Anderson and Swan Sessen.

The steamer Plowboy will leave dock at Twenty-first avenue west at 9 a. m. tomorrow. Fare, 50 cents; children, 25 cents.

WILL GIVE CONCERT AT LINCOLN PARK

PROF. ERICH HOLM.

The Scandinavian Salvation Army will give a special sacred concert tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at Lincoln park. A feature of the concert will be a number of instrumental selections given by Prof. Erick Holm of Sweden.

Prof. Holm is a former Swedish grand opera player. He is now touring the country in the interest of the work of the Salvation Army.

The program will include in addition to many instrumental selections, vocal selections given by the choir of the Swedish Mission church. Maj. O. Engvall of Chicago, general secretary for sacred work in the Western states for the Salvation Army, will be chairman of the proceedings and will also speak.

PUBLIC MARKET IS AGAIN OPEN

Three Farmers Visit West End and Sell Their Produce.

The West end public market is again becoming popular with the residents of the West end. This morning three farmers from the vicinity of Hermantown were at the place with an abundance of fresh vegetables.

The residents who passed the place readily purchased the stuff and before noon every bit of garden truck offered had been purchased.

"We expect to be in the city every Wednesday and Saturday morning," said one of the farmers this morning. "The garden stuff this year is probably better than in former years. The yield of the gardens has been splendid. The tempting array of fresh crisp vegetables found ready buyers. There probably would have been many more purchasers at the place if they had been aware that the farmers were ready to offer their stuff. It is expected that in the future there will be considerable rush to the place in the mornings when the farmers arrive.

Song Service.

Rev. C. W. R. Wermine, pastor of the Swedish M. E. church, Twentieth avenue west and Third street, has planned a special song service for tomorrow evening. The program will include a number of instrumental selections as well as vocal selections by an octette.

West End Briefs.

Wilfred Anderson returned yesterday from a week's outing at Boulder Lake.

Misses Anna Peterson and Harriet Johnson who have been visiting relatives at Minneapolis have returned home.

William Thomas, who has been spending a few days visiting friends in this end of the city left yesterday for his home at Madison, Wis.

Oscar and Erick Johnson of West Fourth street, left this morning for a two weeks' camping trip to Lake Vermilion.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Larkins of Wabasha, who have been visiting relatives in the West End left yesterday for the Twin Cities.

The Sunday school of the Bethany Swedish Lutheran church held its annual picnic yesterday at Fond du Lac.

Miss Rae Ness of 1915 West Superior street has returned from a three-weeks' trip down the lakes.

Will build you a new house at West Duluth on very easy terms. This offer good for only a short time. See us. N. J. Upham company, 714 Providence building.

Rev. R. Swift of Grand Rapids, Minn., has been a guest this week of his school chum, F. L. Anderson, at the home of Rev. W. E. Harmann, 113 North Twenty-eighth avenue west. Rev. Mr. Swift left last evening for his home.

EFFORT TO INCREASE STATE LABOR FORCES.

As a result of a conference held yesterday between E. G. Hall of Minneapolis, president of the State Federation of Labor, and W. E. McEwen of Duluth, secretary-treasurer of that organization, an effort will soon be started to increase the membership of the federation by 1,500 members. There are now about 30,000 members, with 320 lodges, and Mr. Hall hopes that in a tour of the state to take place very soon, he will be able to bring about the desired increase. Mr. Hall was accompanied by George Schneider, vice president of the International Brotherhood of Papermakers, who is spending his time in Little Falls, conducting the strike of the papermakers there. Mr. Schneider says that they expect to win, but it has come down to a case of endurance. Both returned to Little Falls last night.

TENTH ANNIVERSARY OF ST. PETER'S CHURCH

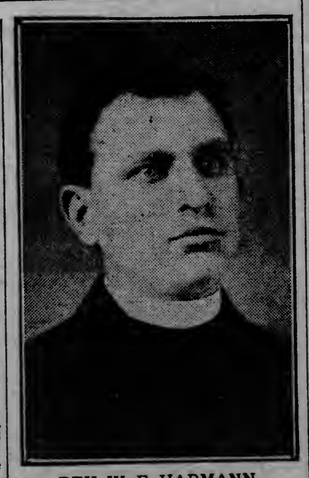

The tenth anniversary of the first services held in the St. Peter's Episcopal church, Twenty-eighth avenue west and First street, will be celebrated on Thursday, Friday and Sunday, Aug. 7, 8 and 10. An elaborate program of music, speaking and entertainment is being arranged for the occasion under the direction of Rev. W. E. Harmann, pastor of the church.

The celebration will commence on Thursday evening, Aug. 7, with a lawn social. A program of music and speaking will be given outdoors if the weather is pleasant. Otherwise this part of the program will be held in the church parlors.

On the following evening the program will be given in the main auditorium of the church. Among the speakers will be Rev. William Bloomquist of Minneapolis, one of the best known Swedish pulpit orators in the country, and Rev. Carl A. Nybladh of Chicago. Special music will be rendered during that evening by the choir.

Sunday will be the principal festal day. Services will be held at 11 a. m. with a celebration of the holy communion. Rev. Mr. Bloomquist and Rev. Nybladh will give the principal sermons. In the afternoon a song service will be the feature. Addresses will be given by Rev. Philip Broberg of Rush City and Rev. P. A. Brunner of Minneapolis. Services will be held in English in the evening at which some of the visiting pastors will speak.

The St. Peter's Episcopal church was erected ten years ago. When first constructed it was built for the Swedish Episcopal congregation. Three years ago the St. Peter's Swedish and St. Luke's English congregations decided on combining forces and using the same church. The services are now being held alternately in Swedish and English by the pastor.

REV. W. E. HARMANN.

FORMER PRESIDENT OF PERU ARRESTED.

Lima, Peru, July 26.—August O. B. Leguia, former president of Peru, and his son were arrested and sent to the penitentiary. Their arrest followed a riot during which six persons were wounded by shots fired from the windows and the roof of the Leguia residence.

The affair has caused a great sensation and probably will bring about a ministerial crisis.

SLEEPING MAN KILLED BY TRAIN

Farmer Thought to Have Sat on Tracks to Rest.

Sleeping on the railroad tracks caused the death of an unknown man, about 60 years old, shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The accident happened between Grand Lake and Saginaw, a southbound D., M. & N. train striking him.

There is nothing on the body of the dead man to identify him. It is believed that he was a farmer and was walking into the city and had sat down on the tracks for a rest. He must have fallen asleep, for the engineer on the train blew his whistle several times without being able to awaken the man. The engineer applied the brakes as soon as possible, but was unable to avert the accident. Death was instantaneous.

The body was brought to Duluth last evening and taken to the Stewart undertaking rooms, where it is being held pending identification. The body will be held until Monday, when it will be interred at the county's expense.

RAILROAD PAYS $6,500 TO WIDOW

Family of Thomas McNulty Provided for By South Shore.

Mrs. Frances McNulty, widow of Thomas McNulty, locomotive engineer who was killed when his train plunged through a washout on the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railroad three miles east of Saxon, Wis., on April 17 last has received $6,500 from the company in full settlement. In district court yesterday, she filed an application for an order of distribution. There are seven children in the family. The hearing on the order will be held on Aug. 2.

CLARK HYDE MAY NOW BE FREED

Kansas City Doctor May Not Be Tried Again for Murder.

Kansas City, Mo., July 26.—Dr. B. Clark Hyde may never be tried again on charges of murdering Col. Thomas Swope, the millionaire philanthropist.

The judges of Jackson county court yesterday informed Floyd Jacobs, prosecuting attorney, that they doubted their authority for paying $8,000 debt incurred by the state in the last trial and would not pay it until they were shown where they were authorized by law to do so. The state could not conduct another trial without expense money to bring witnesses here and to pay the experts.

Dr. Hyde has been tried three times.

"Borax" Smith Cited.

San Francisco, Cal., July 26.—F. M. (Borax) Smith, multi-millionaire manufacturer and promoter, must appear before Judge Morrow in the United States district court on Aug. 5 to show cause why he should not be adjudged a bankrupt. The date was set in answer to the petition in involuntary bankruptcy filed by Leo D. Dickery, C. E. Gilman, Albert Hanford, and the Union Land company, who allege indebtedness aggregating about $150,000.

SMITHVILLE POST-OFFICE EXAMINATION.

The United Staes civil service commission has announced an examination to be held on the afternoon of Sept. 15 to fill a contemplated vacancy in the position of fourth-class postmaster at Smithville.

Information and application blanks may be obtained from the present postmaster at Smithville or E. M. Barker, superintendent of the registry department at the postoffice, who is secretary of the local examining board. The examination is open to any male over 21 years of age, or woman over 18. The salary of the postmaster for the past year was $216.

The fourth class postmastership was xced under the civil service rules by a bill passed by congress last year. This is the first examination scheduled for Duluth to fill a fourth class position. The postmaster was formerly appointed by the president.

Report Was Erroneous.

Christiania, Norway, July 26.—The steamer Grosser Kurfurst, which arrived yesterday from Spitzbergen waters, reports that the recent wireless dispatch received from the vessel at Bremen indicating that Lieut. Schroeder-Stranz, the missing German Arctic explorer, had been rescued, was erroneous.

Two Deaths in Storm.

Watertown, N. Y., July 26.—A severe wind and hail storm, which swept the St. Lawrence river yesterday, resulted in the death of two persons and heavy damage to crops.

Hays Has 20,000 Majority.

Little Rock, Ark., July 26.—Practically complete returns from Wednesday's special election show that Judge George Hays, Democratic candidate for governor, won by about 20,000 majority. The Republican, Progressive and Socialist candidates finished in the order named.

FOR THE WOMAN JEALOUS OF HER FIGURE

MANY women, every time they see something new, are anxious to try it.

¶ But it absolutely ruins a woman's figure to experiment by changing from one make of corsets to another.

¶ The wise woman finds out what the best corsets are, and then always wears that make. C/B a la Spirite Corsets are made to conform each season to the new style requirements. But they never lose and never change the essential principles upon which their reputation has been established.

¶ This is why the new models in C/B a la Spirite Corsets, for this season's new styles, are not freaks of the hour, but safe investments for the woman who is jealous of her figure, and for the woman who wishes to improve her figure.

DULUTH BOYS PREPARING FOR ANNUAL CAMP

More Than 600 Boys Have Spent Vacation at Camp Miller---New Camp Site Will Be Dedicated This Year.

One of the most important features of the boys' department Y. M. C. A. work is the annual summer camp for boys and it is a time that is eagerly looked forward to by many boys each year

More than 600 Duluth boys have spent their vacations at Camp Miller during the past fifteen years that the camp has been conducted. This year will mark the sixteenth camp and from the way the applications are coming in it will eclipse all previous years.

The new camp site at Sturgeon lake is rapidly coming into shape and will be in readiness when the campers arrive Monday morning, Aug. 11. The camp will be under the leadership of Norman D. McLeod, who has conducted ten of the camps. He will be assisted by a number of college men who will act as leaders. The club house will be used as a dining room but can easily be converted into a club room. A large fireplace is being built in one end of it. The boys will sleep in tents which will be pitched on a dry spot overlooking the lake.

Boating is a big part of camp life, seven row boats and two canoes form the fleet. A branch of the Volunteer Life Saving association is organized each year and boys are taught how to handle a boat, and are also given lessons in life saving. Swimming is always a popular sport. The fine sand beach will afford ample opportunity for swimming. Lessons are given boys who do not know how and a bronze button is awarded every boy who learns to swim while at camp. The slide, the chutes and diving standard add to the fun. The headquarters tent, contains the office, store, postoffice and library.

The rules at Camp Miller are few because of the splendid spirit that always prevails. Gentlemanly conduct is the rule. For the safety of the party the following rules are enforced: Swimming at the appointed times, boats in charge of a boatmaster, no tobacco.

A sample day at Camp Miller is like this: At 7 o'clock, reveille is sounded; 7:10, setting up exercises, followed by a dip in the lake; flag raising at 7:45; breakfast at 7:50; chapel, 8:30; afterwards come camp duties, games, boating, fishing, and the morning swim at 11 o'clock; dinner is served at 12:30; the afternoon is spent in games, rambles, athletics, etc., with the afternoon swim at 4:30; supper is served at 6 o'clock; at 7:30 come sounding of retreat and lowering of flag, camp games, tossing in the blanket, and then follows the big bonfire with its good times; taps is sounded at 9:30 and the light are out for a good 9-hour sleep. The commissary department will be in charge of a competent chef and assistant and plenty of good wholesome food is supplied.

Camp Life.

The activitits of camp life are varied and there is sport to appeal to every disposition including baseball, tennis, basket ball, quoits, minstrel show, entertainments, marshmallow roasts, ice cream socials, fishing, boating, swimming, etc. All activities will be under expert supervision. Lovers of fishing will delight to fish in the many lakes around Sturgeon, black bass, perch, and pike are to be found in abundance

An annual Camp Miller field and aquatic meet is held the first Saturday of camp. The boys will be divided according to weight, giving every boy an equal chance. Boys' division will be for those under ninety pounds. They will compete in the following: Fifty-yard dash, standing broad jump, running broad jump, twenty-five-yard swim, fifty-yard swim, dive for form.

Juniors—105 pounds and under, fifty-yard dash, running broad jump, running high jump, twenty-five-yard swim, fifty-yard swim, dive for form.

Intermediates — 120 pounds under, 100-yard dash, running high jump, running broad jump, twenty-five-yard swim, 200-yard swim, dive for form.

Seniors—Unlimited weight, 220-yard dash, twelve-pound shot put, running broad jump, twenty ¾ five-yard swim, 200-yard swim, dive for form.

Special aquatics such as trick dive, floating contest, dive for objects, blind race, caidle race, walking greased pole, regattas, singles, doubles, fours, canoe races doubles, doubles, singles and novelty are held. Medals, pennants and badges are awarded the winners.

To win a Camp Miller honor is something that is coveted by every camper, and every boy who wins one considers himself an all around camper. The F. A. Patrick company has presented a beautiful silver cup to be given to the boy getting the most points. A shield with a big "M." sewed on and made in the camp colors is awarder every boy who secures 300 points. Points may be secured for the following things:

Swim, fifty yards, 2 points; swim, 100 yards, 2 points; in a place in athletic contest 2 points; sleep out all night and erect a temporary shelter, 5 points; take part in entertainment, 5 points; take picture of animal, 5 points; name and identify ten trees, 5 points; identify twenty-five different kinds of flowers, 10 points; in Red Cross emblem, 5 points; mount fifteen knots, 10 points; make improvement to camp grounds, 5 points; listen to story and write up in your own words, 10 points; light a fire with one match, 1 point; find the south with aid of watch, 1 point; identify five birds, 5 points; punctuality at setting up exercises, 5 points; morning plunge, 2 points; punctuality at breakfast, dinner and supper, 5 points; neat tent, 5 points; unknown point, 10 points; punctuality at chapel, 5 points; points are given for athletic attainments.

Hall of Fame.

To win a point on the Camp Miller Hall of Fame is something that every camper aspires to. Nominations and voting take place on the following things, the winners having their names hung on the club room wall:"

Most popular boy, best athlete, most courteous boy, camp humorist, most generous boy, brightest boy, boy with biggest pull, heavenly twins, winner of loving cup, boy who has done most for camp, best natured boy, must popular song, boy with best table manners, favorite game, neatest boy, hard luck boy, mascot, best swimmer.

Camp Miller pennant for best collection of knts.

Saturday, Aug. 16, special exercises will be held in connection with the formal opening of the new camp site, all friends and parents are cordially invited to be present and inspect the camp. An advance party will leave four days before the main party goes, to erect the tents and take the camp equipment up.

TIPPING IN ST. LOUIS NOW MISDEMEANOR.

St. Louis, Mo., July 26.—The city council last night passed a bill making it a misdemeanor to give or receive a tip in a hotel or restaurant. A fine of from $10 to $50 may be levied for each offense.

CONVICTS WORN OUT BECAUSE OF CONDUCT.

Auburn, N. Y., July 26.—Sixty convicts from Sing Sing prison reached here last night. They were worn out and hoarse because of their conduct en route. At nearly every station where the train stopped the men made noisy demonstrations. Following their arrival, the convicts were placed in the administration building until their shackles were chiseled off and then they were locked up.

IS IN NO HURRY TO GET DAVID LAMAR.

New York, July 26.—United States District Attorney Marshall said that no attempt would be made at present to serve a warrant upon David Lamar in Washington.

"If Lamar will not come here voluntarily," he said, "we shall take steps to bring him, but we are in no hurry, as his trial cannot take place until fall."

HELP! THAT JAP IS BACK AGAIN AFTER BURYING HIS IRISH FRIEND

Hon. Japanese Ed. of Herald paper, which are progressive in Japanese improvements;

Excuse that I don't write long article piece today on account of having to attend quick funeral of Hon. P. Flaherty, Irish man what died last night from attempt of Hon. M. D. Doctors to unite his neck anatomy from Jiu Jitsu knots into which it were tied by humble servant after attempt to shoot humble servant in head with brickbat.

Jiu Jitsu, noble Japanese art of self-defending, are not fatal to victim joyously receiving same, but attempts of inexperienced Hon. M. D. Doctors makes it necessary sometimes always, to cut knot in which neck are tied in order to unite such knot. In such cases Hon. patient loses his head, which comes off loose. In which case funeral occurs.

In Japanese country it is good manners and customs of country to go to funeral of dear friends what try to shoot you in head with brickbat but don't, and die soon afterwards. Therefore I follow custom here. Excuse me for doing so.

I am sending beautiful poem on Lark o' the Lake, wonderful Bird of Happiness, which have rained joyously in Duluth for six weeks nearly.

Ruin of the Lark.

There was tootings from trumpet and rattle from drum,
With much eating of popcorn and chewing of gum,
And great blowing of whistles, with lungs and with steam,
While the Lark o' the Lake she was raining supreme.

Oh, much joy of the people! Such spirit is there!
There was boats in the water, and boats in the air;
And away up above, like a silvery stream,
The great Lark o' the Lake she was raining supreme.

The boat paddlers were paddling; the sailors set sails;
The boats bobbed along like ducks without tails.
There was much of a joy, and of pleasure extreme,
While the Lark o' the Lake she was raining supreme.

The skyrockets shooted right up in the skies
And busteod with noise that make shouts of surprise;
And everything seemed like a chop suey dream,
While the Lark o' the Lake she was raining supreme.

But the show it got ended, the crowd went away,
And the night settled down at the end of the day;
While the water came down in a manner extreme,
For the Lark o' the Lake she was raining supreme.

P. S.—These are written from county jail, where I am arrested by Hon. Game Warden on account of violating Hon. game laws by killing Irish man out of season. Hon. Game Warden says season for hunting Irish do not open before March 17, th. Excuse me.

P. S.—I brought myself bunch of yellow orange flowers to funeral of Hon. Flaherty, tied with bunch of yellow orange ribbons of much expense. Such polite attentions is not appreciated in this country, judging from reception of floral gift by Irish friends.

WOMEN'S SUFFRAGE IS BOUND TO COME

Secretary Daniels Talks to the Women of San Francisco.

San Francisco, July 26.—Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels told the women of San Francisco Civic league last night that whatever the opinion of individuals about the wisdom of women's suffrage, "we may as well get ready for the inevitable, for women are going to vote."

"Only last month," he continued, "Illinois gave them the ballot for all except constitutional officers, and the present generation will witness complete woman suffrage in every state in the American Union, and when it comes, the Constitution will not be broken and the home will not be dethroned."

TYREE PRESIDENT OF PHOTOGRAPHERS.

Kansas City, July 26.—Manley W. Tyree of Raleigh, N. C., first vice president of the Photographers' Association of America, was unanimously elected president of the association yesterday. He represents the section of the association that has been working for a changed organization. Atlanta, Ga., was given the 1914 convention.

A tie vote was cast for W. H. Towles of Washington, D. C., and Harvey Galbreath of Minneapolis for vice president, Mr. Galbreath withdrew and moved unanimous acceptance of Mr. Towles.

CANNOT FIND HEIRS TO $200,000 ESTATE.

Chicago, July 26.—Further efforts to learn the ancestry of William Henry Lee, head of a publishing company, who died several weeks ago, leaving an estate of $200,000 but no will, have brought only baffling mystery.

Whence came Lee, who were his relatives and what was his life secret that caused him to discard those friends who sought to learn something of his past, are some of the details the public administrator desires to know.

Unless an heir appears within twenty years, the estate will go to the state of Illinois.

RESTRICTIONS ON CABARETS URGED.

Chicago, July 26.—Restrictions on Cabaret entertainments, where "turkey trots" and other dances are permitted, are recommended by a sub-committee of the council license committee. It was the first official step toward the decision to banish dancing from the entertainments.

"These dances, the turkey trot, tango and others, are supposed to amuse," said Second Deputy Supt. of Police Funkhauser, "but they disgust."

The committee will recommend to the council an ordinance prohibiting dancing, the appearance of women performers in tights, and other reforms.

ARTISTIC WORLD MAKES PROTEST

Belgian Prelates Forbid People to Visit Fine Arts Show.

Brussels, July 26.—A storm of protest has been raised in the artistic world by a pastoral letter signed by Cardinal Francois Joseph Mercier, primate of Belgium, and all the Belgian bishops, in which the priests, the principals of schools and parents are forbidden to visit a number of sections at the Ghent expositions, including the building devoted to the fine arts, the bureau of engraving and dressmaking.

The letter utters a warning against the moral dangers attendant upon the amusements usual to the vacation season, and especially condemns moving picture shows.

OPPOSES MARRIED WOMEN AS TEACHERS.

New York, July 26.—Opinion against the employment of married women as teachers in the public schools is expressed by Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard university, in a letter to Abraham Stern, of a committee which recently presented a report recommending the dismissal of a married teacher.

"In my opinion," said Dr. Eliot in his letter, "the employment of married women in the schools is not for the interest of the pupils, the teachers, or the community as a whole."

Robbers Forced to Skip.

Blaisden, Cal., July 26.—Two masked highwaymen armed with revolvers and rifles halted the Blaisden, Golf Lake & Green company stage yesterday near Gold Lake, a summer resort district in Sierra county. A second stage that had been following the first came upon the scene while the robbers were relieving passngers of valuables, and the two beat a retreat under a fire of bullets.

PROTECT WOMEN AND CHILDREN

Bill to Regulate Hours of Work Considered By Committee.

Washington, July 26.—Legislation designed to prevent the employment of children under 14 years of age in mines and factories and to prevent the employment of women in manufacturing establishments for more than eight hours a day, were considered yesterday by the house labor committee.

The committee took up bills introduced by Representative Taylor of Colorado to forbid the transportation in interstate commerce of the products of mines or factories employing children under 14 and the products of factories which work women more than eight hours a day.

BEES ATTACK HORSES AND WOMAN KILLED.

Mason City, Iowa, July 26.—Mrs. S. R. Strand, aged 30, wife of a farmer living near Thompson, was thrown from a hay wagon and instantly killed at her home when a swarm of bees attacked the horses and caused them to plunge. A wheel of the wagon passed over the woman's head, crushing it.

Verdict of Suicide.

SUSPECTS THE "BLACK HAND"

Husband Telephones Police His Family Has Been Stolen.

The police of West Duluth have been asked to locate Mrs. Peter Polda and her three children, two boys, 2 and 5 years old, and a daughter 7 years. The request came from the woman's husband at Virginia, who alleges that his wife had run away with another man, taking her children.

The telephone message was received last night by Sergeant Barber. The husband stated that he suspected that the man who had stolen his family was in some way connected with the "black hand." He told the sergeant that he had received communications from alleged members of the "black hand" and that this probably was the method they had taken in persecuting him.

The woman is described as being good looking, 28 years old and probably dressed in white. She is supposed to have left the D., M. & N. passenger at Fifty-seventh avenue yesterday afternoon.

MANY VALUABLE PRIZES OFFERED

Automobile Owners Getting Into Line for Parade Next Saturday.

Three cups and eighteen valuable prizes, including horns, goggles, tires and other equipment, will be given for the best decorated automobiles in the parade next Saturday night.

The committee has been working hard to get prizes that will be worth while, and has apparently had good success. The cups will be given for the best decorated commercial car, the best decorated car driven by a man, and the best decorated car driven by a woman. The eighteen prizes will be given the eighteen winners, the winning of a cup not standing in the way of winning a prize. The prize winners will be given their choice of all prizes in the order of their standing.

Already twenty-five written acceptances have been received by the committee, and the most prominent business men of the city are getting into line. Among those who have already accepted and promised to decorate their cars are: George W. Buck, J. L. Washburn, Julius H. Barnes, M. H. Kelley, Alexander McDougall and C. H. Bagley. The Edison Electric company and the Burgess Electric company will have electrically illuminated cars in line.

REMOVES OBSTACLE TO ARBITRATION

New York, July 26.—The Eastern railroads today withdrew their demand that their grievances against the employes should be considered by the Federal board appointed to arbitrate the demand for better wages and working conditions made by conductors and trainmen.

This concession apparently removed the only remaining obstacle to arbitration and averted a strike. With this issue disposed of the railroad managers and the labor leaders expected to reach a speedy agreement upon the text of the questions to be laid before the board of arbitration.

IS STEALING REWARD A CRIME

Is stealing a reward a crime in the eyes of the law?

This point will be threshed out this afternoon in district court before Judge Fesler, who will hear habeas corpus proceedings in which Axel Imbleau of Chisholm is seeking to be liberated from the county jail, where he was committed by the Chisholm municipal court.

Imbleau was found guilty of having stolen a $3 reward from one Charles Le Blanc. It appeared from the evidence in the case that Le Blanc had found a Masonic and K. of P. emblem on a sidewalk. The owner, Dr. Yates, had offered a reward for it. Le Blanc claims that before he had an opportunity to return it, Imbleau stole it from his possession, took it to the owner and secured the reward.

The court sentenced Imbleau to thirty days in the county jail. The alleged offense took place on July 3 last.

TOOK POLICEMAN ALONG WITH HIM

Commissioner Murchison, head of the works division, took two husky policemen with him yesterday when he went to investigate complaints that the contractor erecting the building at Third avenue west and Michigan street was exceeding the privileges conferred upon him by his permit.

The wholesale men telephoned him that they had made persistent but unavailing efforts to get relief. The commissioner said that it was the first he had heard of it.

Cutting out the red tape and the dilly-dallying, he took the bluecoats with him. He wasn't going to waste any time if the facts were as represented. He found that the contractor was occupying much more of the busy street than he was allowed to under the permit. He directed that the conditions be remedied. They were—right away. The two coppers stayed right on the job until they were.

Smoke Inspector Patterson was with the party in response to objections to smoke from a tar kettle, which the commission men said was damaging their produce and fruits. The cause for the complaint was removed, the kettle being moved to a place where the smoke did not hurt anything but the atmosphere.

COUTURE'S BODY BURIED AT FALLS.

International Falls, Minn., July 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The body of Fred J. Couture the Ranier hotel man, who died as the result of an assault, alleged to have been made by Ed. Kelly, and whose death is now being probed by a special grand jury, was buried in the City cemetery here yesterday afternoon. Prof. Corbett of the University conducted an autopsy and gave his evidence before the grand jury now in session. The grand jury may make its finding late today.

NEGRO DIES IN POLICE STATION.

Brought into the police station yesterday afternoon in a drunken stupor, William Revebes, a negro, died shortly before 6 o'clock. Coroner McComb conducted an autopsy last evening and declared that acute alcoholism was the cause of the man's death.

The body was taken last evening to the Flood & Horgan undertaking rooms, from where it was sent this morning to St. Paul. A brother of the dead man arrived this morning and took charge of the body. Revebes was about 45 years old. He was unmarried.

IVERSON DENIES REPORT OF HIS PLANS.

State Auditor S. G. Iverson, on his return to the capitol from a tour of the state, issued a statement denying that he has made any agreement with the state organization by which he will run for auditor again and not oppose Governor A. O. Eberhart for the nomination for governor next year.

"In the political column of the Journal of June 24," said Mr. Iverson, "appeared a statement to the effect that I had hoped to become the 'organization' candidate for governor next year, in place of Governor Eberhart, but that, as there is no likelihood of such an opening, I had decided to again become a candidate for state auditor. I desire to emphatically deny any and all rumors and reports of that nature. I have not been in the past, am not now, and in the future will not be, in the confidence of the 'organization' referred to. I have authorized no one to speak for me about my political plans in future. The people of Minnesota have been very kind to me, and in due time I shall publicly announce any hopes or ambitions I may have—in such clear and definite terms that there will be no misunderstanding."

HUSTIS PRESIDENT.

When Elliott Becomes Chairman of New Haven Board.

New York, July 26.—J. H. Hustis, of Boston, vice president of the Boston & Albany railroad, will become president of the New Haven railroad as soon as Howard Elliott, Mr. Mellen's successor as head of the system, becomes chairman of the board. This was announced in Wall street today on authority of a director. The date upon which Mr. Elliott would assume the chairmanship was announced as Nov. 1.

DULUTH ROAD'S TAX LARGELY INCREASED.

St. Paul, Minn., July 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Duluth & Northeastern railway will pay more tax for the first six months of 1913 than for the wholes year of 1912 according to report submitted to the state tax commission today under the new law requiring payments semi-annually.

The gross earnings for six months ended June 30 were $127,078, on which they will pay, at 5 per cent, a tax of $6,353.95. For the year of 1912 their earnings were $130,237 and the 4 per cent tax amounted to $5,209.50.

AMERICANS WIN DOUBLES

Take Exciting Five Set Match From English Players.

Hackett in Poor Form During First Part of Match.

Wimbledon, Eng., July 26.—Lowering skies and a chilly wind today greeted the lawn tennis teams representing the United States and England when they came on to the courts to contest the doubles match in the challenge round for the Dwight F. Davis international lawn tennis trophy.

Maurice E. McLoughlon of San Francisco and Harold H. Hackett of New York represented the United States, while H. Roper Barrett and C. P. Dixon were the English pair. The Americans won after a real battle, the Englishmen getting two of the five sets.

Barrett was suffering from a sprained knee and had a slight limp, which, however, was not serious enough to interfere greatly with his play.

McLoughlin apparently had fully recovered from the effects of yesterday's hard match in which he was beaten by J. C. Parke.

The crowd was not so large as that of yesterday but the stands were well filled and the standing room space was very popular with people enjoying the Saturday half holiday.

Princess Mary, daughter of King George, was an interested spectator from the royal box.

Barrett and Dixon carried off the first set seven games to five after a fight in which the greatest brilliancy on the part of McLoughlin failed to make up for the weakness of his partner, Hackett. The Californian's smashing and terrific service had the spectators on their feet several times. Recognizing the weakness of the American combination the Englishmen played constantly to Hackett, who netted many returns after desperate rallies at the net.

The second set, which lasted only twelve minutes, was won by the American team, 6 games to 1. McLoughlin, playing in his old-time form, smashed and drove with deadly accuracy. Hackett improved and his accurate lobbing paving the way for many of his partner's smashes. After the set had reached 4 to 1 in favor of the Americans, McLoughlin took a love game on Dixon's service. Then Hackett ended the set by taking a game on his service.

Barrett and Dixon won the third set 6 games to 2.

McLoughlin and Hackett won the fourth set 7 games to 5.

In the fifth set the Americans beat Barrett and Dixon by 6 games to 4.

WOOD LEADS IN MORNING ROUND

Chicago, July 26.—Warren K. Wood of Homewood finished the morning round of the finals of the Western Golf association tournament 4 up on E. P. Allis III of Milwaukee. Over the links of the Homewood Country club, his home course, Wood seemed to have the advantage of the sensational young Wisconsin player. Allis was erratic and missed many putts that were easy for him earlier in the tournament.

GOLF STARS AT NORTHLAND

Some of the best golf played in the West during the present season is scheduled for this afternoon and tomorrow afternoon on the country club links, when R. S. Patrick, one of the amateur stars of the Northwest, and Willie Leith, the Northland club instructor, pair against Harry Legg, the state champion, and Dowd George, the instructor of the Interlachen club of Minneapolis.

As the score stands at the present time, there is no advantage. Each pair won one of the Minneapolis contests. If one of the pairs wins both of the contests here, it will carry with it the supremacy of the Northwest.

Both Leith and George are professionals. Leith is one of the greatest golf players in the United States and George also enjoys the reputation of being one of the best of the professionals, as his remarkable playing in Minneapolis will testify.

There is little need to mention the reputation of Harry Legg. He has been the state champion for years, and, morever, he is today regarded as standing in the first flight of players in the West.

GRAND FORKS RACES.

Iowa Horseman Has Two Winners on Friday's Card.

CATCHER IS COMING.

Bert Sweeley Will Play With Sox During Rest of Season.

Bert Sweeley, a catcher, will join the White Sox tomorrow. This announcement was made by Darby O'Brien today.

The new catcher is a young fellow who is coming to the Duluth team with very high recommendations and also with a great record this season in semi-professional baseball. The Orator is under the belief that he has discovered a find and that the new backstop will add strength to the Sox in the fight that is being made at the present time for the flag.

OLD SETTLERS' PICNIC.

Pioneers at Head of Lakes Enjoy Outing at Billings Park.

Old Settlers at the Head of the Lakes are holding their annual picnic today at Billings Park. About 500 members and friends of the old settlers are expected to be in attendance during the day. The picnic will be featured with a number of addresses from the "old-timers."

SUPERIOR GIRL IS DROWNED AT WHITE BEAR

St. Paul, Minn., July 26.—Search for the body of Miss Alice Shattucker, aged 21, who is supposed to have been drowned at White Bear lake near here late last night continued today. Miss Shattucker, whose home is at Superior, Wis., was considered an excellent swimmer. The canoe in which she last was seen today was found on the beach, partially filled with water.

Miss Shattucker was a member of a house party staying at the cottage of O. R. Strong.

Grocers Arrested.

William O'Corron, N. L. Gill and Joseph Wangel, Superior grocers, were arrested yesterday on warrants sworn out by F. B. Downing of the state weights and measures department. The grocers are alleged to have sold berries in short-weight packages. All pleaded not guilty yesterday afternoon and will be given a hearing Tuesday.

Marksmen Leave.

Sergeants Ackerman and Lund and Privates Hoover and Zeman of Company I, Third Wisconsin National Guard, left last evening for Camp Douglas to take part in the state championship rifle competition. The local men are the best shots in the company and are expected to make a good showing against the crack shots of the regiment.

Marine

DULLNESS IN THE LAKE TRAFFIC.

There is a general dullness in the marine freight movement. Despite the fact that there is considerable grain on hand, the inquiry for cargoes is comparatively light.

The coal movement continues light from the fact that boats at the lower end of the lakes are not receiving sufficient tonnage.

Steamers Collide.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., July 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The steamers Ashley and Carruthers, down, collided above the Canadian canal Thursday night. The Ashley struck the Carruthers in the stern, damaging the plates and rudder post. Temporary repairs were completed this morning on the Carruthers, but she will have to have a new rudder stock on arrival at her distination. The Ashley proceeded after the collision with only minor damage.

SOCIETY

MONDAY—Dinner and dance at Main house of boat club in compliment to the members of the rowing crews of the club; Ladies' Guild of St. John's Episcopal church will hold business meeting at 4 p. m. at Lakeside town hall; Porter Alexander will be host at stag party at his home.

TUESDAY—Mrs. Albert Baldwin of 1529 East Second street will receive at tea from 2 to 6 o'clock.

WEDNESDAY—Probable college tea at Spalding to make arrangements for college day at boat club; mid-week water sports and dance at the Oatka branch of the boat club.

THURSDAY—Bridge afternoon and dinner dance at the country club; Gate City Temple No. 10, Pythian Sisters, will have outing at Smithville; King's Daughters' reception from 3 to 9 p. m. at day nursery at new Patrick factory.

FRIDAY—Lark o' the Lake celebration at boat club; Central W. C. T. U. will meet at Y. W. C. A. hall at 2:30 o'clock.

SATURDAY—Weekly dances at boat club houses; Lark o' the Lake celebration at boat club in afternoon with automobile parade in evening.

The past week has been crowded full of teas, bridge parties, luncheons and dinners and dances at the Country and Boat clubs for tourists and visitors here. Two weddings of special interest in the social circles took place on Tuesday, that of Miss Josephine Peyton and James C. Hunter taking place at 12:30 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Peyton in the presence of relatives only and that of Miss Margaret McKindley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. McKindley, to Walter Gilmore Amundson taking place at 8:30 at St. Paul's Episcopal church followed by a reception at the McKindley home. Dr. A. W. Ryan, rector of St. Paul's church officiated at both.

The King's Daughters have been making plans for the reception which they will give next Thursday at their new Day Nursery in the new Patrick factory and for their Country Fair which will be given on Aug. 13, and college people are unusually interested in the arrangements for College Day at the boat club which will be an event of Saturday, Aug. 9. All week meetings of the students and alumni of the various schools have been having meetings to arrange their stunts for the day among the colleges whose plans for celebrations are already under way being, Minnesota, Michigan, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Cornell, Princeton, Harvard and Yale. The members of the Collegiate Alumnae will plan a special entertainment for the day and the women of all colleges will help the men in planning for their stunts.

The parade which will start the affair will be longer and better than ever and all next week, luncheons, dinners, tea and stunt parties will be worked into place on the social calender for the perfection of plans.

DULUTH GIRL RETURNING FROM THREE YEARS ABROAD

MISS SENTA ERD.

Miss Senta Erd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Erd of 202 South Nineteenth avenue east, has sailed for home and will arrive early in August after an absence of three years abroad during which time she has completed a practical course in the scientific study of music at the Royal Academy of Music at Munich, Bavaria, Germany, at which school her mother, Mrs. Marie Geist-Erd, cellist studied.

Miss Erd went to Germany to study music expecting to specialize in the violin work, but was encouraged by Madame Bianca Bianchi Pollini, her vocal teacher, to choose a grand opera career and she has been working towards that end. She has met with encouragement from all sides, among those who have heard her and who predict a great future for her are Heinrich Knote, the celebrated tenor of grand opera renown; Prof. Courvoisier, whose compositions she read with him in manuscript, and Prof. Joseph Werner, Prof. Schmied Lindner and others all of whom are prominent in the musical world.

Miss Erd, who was a graduate of the Duluth Central high school, is an unusually gifted girl who has shown her ability in varied lines in amateur performances, in concert work and in her school work and it is with interest that her friends here have heard of the success with which she has been studying in Germany, and they are anticipating pleasure in her return. She has not definitely decided upon her future plans.

Lodge Affairs

CHILDREN'S MUSICALE HELPED CHILDREN'S HOME FINANCES

MARGUERITE DE LA MOTTE
In Dancing Costume.

Mrs. D. H. Day has announced the sum realized from the little musicale which was given on Wednesday afternoon at the Y. W. C. A. hall for the benefit of the Children's Home to be $37.10 after all expenses were paid.

Mrs. Day originally planned a little recital for the children at the home but the play finally developed into the musicale at the Y. W. C. A. which was thoroughly charming and was enjoyed by an audience which filled the hall.

Some of the young piano pupils of Mrs. Day played, assisted by Mary and Josephine Cotton, Charlene Bagley, pupils of Miss Blair and Marguerite De La Motte, pupil of Prof. Leo, who gave delightful little dance numbers. The piano numbers were given by Mary Weiss, Helen Hudson, Marie McGreevy, Cordella Collins, Violet Smith, Mary Mendenhall, Isabel Jacobi and Helen Edwards.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Farm As Haven of Refuge When Misfortune Comes.

The world is full of improvident people, who go on living from day to day, apparently with no thought of the morrow, and living up their all in an attempt to keep up with the general procession and stay abreast of the social swirl.

Such people, if their income is increased by some windfall or stroke of good fortune, immediately proceed to advance their plane of living accordingly, and save nothing. How foolish!

Providing for the future may, of course take various forms, but I have a hobby that I think is as good as any plan, and better than most. My idea is for the family of moderate income and modest means to save enough to buy a little land, preferably near a city, and hold it against the future. As means will permit, it can be added to, an acre at a time, if necessary, until in time one may acquire fifteen or twenty or twenty-five acres, or even more. Then, there is no good reason why one would not have a place to "light" in case sickness, reverses or any misfortune overtook them.

Anyone with reasonable ingenuity and common sense can make a fair living off a small piece of land, especially if it is near a city. Poultry farming, fruit raising, truck farming, dairying or any similar line offers a good means of livelihood. One need not pack up, sell out and follow the railroad prospectus to the far West or Northwest or anywhere else. One may find a place near home that will suffice.

An investment in land is the safest and best investment that can be made, and it offers a wonderful boon to the city man who is tied down to a desk, with only his salary to depend upon. What a dreary prospect ahead of the man who works for someone else, and who has no other outlook for the future! When he reaches the point where he is no longer economically useful, he will give way to a younger man, and be down and out unless he is provided for by a pension or has made some provision for himself.

I think the plan of buying a little land and getting a house on it solves the problem. That is one field that is not overworked, and it offers big opportunities—I mean agriculture. It is worth while for the family of moderate means in the city to think it over.

MEMBERS OF THE D. A. R. REFURNISHING SIBLEY HOUSE

SIBLEY HOUSE.

The Two Crosses Indicate the Room Being Furnished By Duluth Women.

MEMBERS of the two chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution in Duluth, the Daughters of Liberty and the Greysolon du Lhut chapters are much interested in the furnishing of Sibley House at Mendota, Minn., which was built in the year of 1835 and which has been reconstructed by the D. A. R. of the state and is to be kept as an object of historical interest.

Trees, shrubs, and vines are being massed there by capable gardeners to make the large yard effective and the Duluth women are furnishing the room marked with a cross in the picture, known as the birthroom. They already have a handsome mahogany bed of four-post style with a large mahogany bureau, and pictures of Gen. Sibley, of his mother, and brothers, given through Mrs. H. L. Paddack by Miss Sarah Sibley of Detroit, Mich. A quaint mahogany crib is also in the room and bedding will be given for it by women here.

A valuable relic in a map of the early surveys of the Mendota lands, before Minnesota became a state has also been procured through Mrs. W. H. MacCourt showing that at different times the house has stood in five different territories. At times part of the house was in one state and the rest in another and some of the Sibley children were born in Minnesota, some in Michigan and some in Wisconsin as the survey happened to stand at the time.

Mrs. J. H. Darling of 532 West Third street has just given a valuable mahogany clock which is ninety years old which was owned by her grandmother, Mrs. Sherman, who was a "real daughter" and who had received the gold teaspoon given to such members by a Michigan chapter of the D. A. R.

A flax wheel that was brought from England to New York in 1760 and which has been at Roanoke Island, N. C., since has been secured for the chapters here. The following history of the wheel which will be a gift to Sibley house from the Greysolon chapter is of interest. The "flax wheel" was brought from England to New York in 1760 and was purchased by Capt. Thomas Dougt and taken to Roanoke Island and given to his sweetheart, Polly Etheridge. After forty-five years her daughter, Cynthia, received the wheel who in turn, after another forty years, left it to her daughter, Bethany Wescott, whose daughter, Fannie Frost, now an old lady in Manteo, Roanoke Island, parted with it to be placed in Sibley house.

Coming down to the modern furnishings, the rugs, of blue and white, have been made by the chapters here, the rugs having been woven in Duluth. An old fashioned quilted counterpane has also been made by the members.

The furnishing of the house does not have to be confined to the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Duluth chapters would be glad to receive gifts of more or less historic value to help their project.

The women hope to have the furnishing complete by September, as the annual meeting of the Sibley House association will be held there at that time.

Mrs. George Squires, the state regent will be in Duluth, a guest of honor at the banquet to be given by the Greysolon du Lhut chapter on Oct. 18.

"RAGGING" MUST STOP

Boat Club Will Set Aside Two Numbers for the "Boston" on Each Program.

"Ragging" not allowed!

Boat club members simply must not attempt to dance the rag dances if they want to keep their membership in the club. The boat club officials decided this the first of the year and posted notices to that effect in the clubhouses asking the members to comply with the rule which they felt to be necessary for the good of the club.

But the rag dances are fascinating and the young people find it hard not to try them out and see it they can't "slip them over." Any way they have been trying them and a new ruling has been made by the officers.

Until now the inoffensive Boston dance has been allowed and has been popular, but those who are "Bostoning" and those who are dancing the good old waltz and to-step have a good many collisions and the rag dancers have been worked in—the dancers declaring they are only "Bostoning." So now reins are being tightened and there will be only two dances during the evening when those who wish to may Boston. Two extra dances will be set aside every evening for the Boston and if there is any transgression then the offenders will be asked to leave the floor and their case will be taken under advisement by the committee in charge with the probable outcome that their tickets will be cancelled.

The officers of the club have given the matter careful advisement and they have decided that that course is the only safe one for the protection of the standard which they have set for the club and they mean to stick to it. Most of the members have accepted their judgment in the matter as wise and final and have been keeping the rules but a few have taken advantage and have called forth another admonition from headquarters.

Notices have been posted in the club ballrooms to the effect that two dances will be set aside for the Boston and an appeal is made to members to protect their club. The majority of members are perfectly satisfied with the ruling and parents are well pleased in the protection given in making the clubs a desirable place for their young people to enjoy the summer.

And there will be no "ragging."

CLUBS AND MUSICAL

COURSE FOR CHILDREN.

Drama Class Will Instruct Young People in Good Plays.

A COURSE that will give children an idea of the good dramas and familiarize them with that form of literature has been decided upon by the members of the Drama class of the Twentieth Century club and steps were taken for the organization of a class of children at a meeting held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. O. A. Oredson, director of juvenile work of the club. After enrollment in the membership book the children were taken to Lincoln Park where they had their first reading, Longfellow's "Evangeline" being the play chosen. Mrs. J. C. H. Engle, chairman of the Drama class has been assisting in the work.

The class members are: Eva Atwood, Elizabeth Cooper, Florence Helmick, Helen Hclahan, Katherine Kaltenbach, Eleanor Keyes, Grace La Londe, Gertrude Lee, Elsie Mitchell, Frances Mitchell, Irene Samuelson and Hortense Spiegel.

VISITED DULUTH.

Singer Who Electrified London Is Cousin of Duluth Woman.

FLORENCE MACBETH, whose picture appeared in The Herald Thursday evening, with a statement that she had electrified all London with her voice, is a first cousin of Mrs. M. H. Stanford of 1415 East Superior street, Duluth, and Mrs. George H. Prudden, the dramatic reader of St. Paul, who is now visiting here.

Miss Macbeth visited Mrs. Stanford here just before she left for abroad.

The London Standard said of her singing: "Since the advent of Mme. Tetrazzini we cannot call to mind a singer with so phenomenal a voice or one who uses it with such surprising fluency and ease." The first public appearance of Miss Macbeth was made with the London Symphony orchestra. She scored a triumph with the public also. She will appear shortly in opera under the management of Daniel Mayer of London, the well-known concert manager.

Irene and Aline of 2122 Minnesota avenue returned Monday from Winona, Minn., where she was called by the illness and death of Mrs. Henricksen's mother.

RECEPTION AND FAIR.

King's Daughters Open Day Nursery and Plan Day of Fun.

An invitation is extended by the Kings Daughters to all who are interested in their Day Nursery, to visit the rooms at the new Patrick factory, at Twenty-ninth avenue west and Superior street next Thursday from 3 to 9 o'clock. The members of the society will receive during those hours and refreshments will be served.

Country Fair.

One of the enjoyable events of the summer which is now being planned is the Country fair which will be given on Aug. 13 by the Kings' Daughters. The eighty members of that society are planning unique stunts, booths and entertainment which will they hope make it a bigger success (if possible) than that of last year. They plan to accommodate more people and to offer more varied amusements.

The officers under whose management the fair will be given were elected at the annual meeting last week and are as follows: President, Miss Katherine Hubbell; vice president, Miss Esther Adams; second vice president, Miss Julia Morrow; secretary, Miss Judith Hartley; treasurer, Miss Lucile Bradley; custodian, Miss Helen Wall; chairman of relief committee, Miss Mary Paine; chairman of day nursery committee, Miss Dorothy Olcott; chairman of junior league, Miss Barbara Rupley.

Girls Give Play.

GIRLS who are taking the summer course at the Duluth state normal school gave the little play "Bianca" yesterday afternoon at the assembly hall of the school house before an audience of students and their friends. Bianca is an "operatic tragedy" one of the series of little plays given by characters in Louisa M. Alcott's "Little Women" and the girls took their parts cleverly and artistically. The cast was composed as follows:

Adelbert, betrothed to Bianca.....
.....Miss Ruth Monger
Huon, his rival.....Miss Hazel Tobin
Juan, a page.....Miss Grace Cosgrove
Bianca, a Spanish lady..Miss Lydia Cox

ON THE IRON RANGES

ACCUSED MAY ADMIT GUILT

Two Hibbing Young Men Accused of Larceny May Plead Guilty.

Waive Preliminary Hearing When Arraigned Today Before Judge Brady.

Hibbing, Minn., July 26.—(Special to The Herald).—William Delahunt and Herman Herbert, the two young men arrested late last Saturday night at a roadhouse between here and Chisholm on the charge of having stolen several hundred dollars worth of goods from T. J. Godfrey's store in Hibbing, were arraigned before Judge Brady in municipal court today for preliminary hearing. They waived a hearing and were held for trial without bail. It is expected that they will plead guilty before the October grand jury and receive sentence. If not they will be held till the grand jury passes on their case.

Delahunt Limps Into Court.

Delahunt who gave his age as 22, limped into court as a result of a bullet wound he got in the leg when arrested for trying to escape from Officer Dongohue of Chisholm. He also got a wound in the shoulder but the leg wound seemed to give him more trouble today as he had to use crutches. He has been in the hospital since Sunday night but is now able to go to jail. Herman is about the same age as Delahunt, both appearing boyish.

They had no lawyer and after hearing the clerge of grand larceny in the first degree read against them they told Judge Brady they would waive a preliminary hearing. The judge said he understood they wished to plead guilty and if so he would order their return to jail until next Tuesday, when, if they desire, they can go before Judge Hughes in district court, plead and receive sentence; otherwise they will be held to the grand jury which meets in October. Neither said anything when the court mentioned the possibility of their pleading guilty which tends to confirm that report.

No mention was made of bail but if the accused decide to fight the charge it is expected they will apply for bail, the offense being bailable.

Delahunt was at one time Pal Brown's trainer while his companion is said to have had no visible means of support being chiefly a hanger-on around the resort where arrested.

About all of the goods stolen from Godfrey's store have been recovered and it is said that the state has such a clear case against the accused they could hope to gain little by putting up a fight that would only procrastinate the eventful punishment.

TOURNAMENT IS GREAT SUCCESS

Mesaba Range Volunteer Firemen to Meet in Ely Next Year.

Aurora, Minn., July 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The most successful tournament ever held by the Mesaba Range Volunteer Firemen's association closed here Friday afternoon with four of the best races on the entire program.

Ely was awarded the next tournament at the business meeting held here last night. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, chief E. T. Sandberg of Aurora; vice chief, Chief I. G. Cox of Ely; secretary, Dave Childers of Ely; treasurer, Iver Wisted of Ely.

The Ely and Proctor teams made splendid showings in the contest, and the judges decided that they should be called a tie. The teams agreed to this and the prize of $15 was added to the benefit for Bob Edwards.

Friday Afternoon Races.

The combination hook and ladder and hose race Friday afternoon was tied by Grand Rapids and Proctor in 26 1-5 seconds. Instead of running the tie off it was agreed to let it stand at a tie and gave the $30 prize to Bob Edwards, the Proctor man who was injured during the races on the first day of the meet. This gave Ely second place with 26 2-5 and Aurora third with 27.

The hub and hub was won by Grand Rapids in 17 4-5 seconds. Aurora second in 18 seconds, and Ely third in 18 3-5 seconds.

The coupling contest was tied at 4 3-5 seconds by Darbyshire of Proctor and Lofberg of Grand Rapids. In running off the tie Lofberg won out, giving Proctor second place. Ely was third in 5 1-5 seconds.

The surface wet test was the last race run and was won by Aurora in 84 seconds. Grand Rapids was second in 3 7seconds, and Proctor third in 41 seconds. This race was the cause of much merriment as it was the only race in which water was turned on. Many a ducking was given and taken by the firemen from the various teams.

The evening was spent in merriment and the firemen turned many pranks on each other, but everything was conducted in the best of spirit and a grand time was had by all.

The hook and ladder service race was won Thursday afternoon by Grand Rapids in 23 seconds flat. Aurora was second in 24 4-5 seconds, and Ely third in 25 2-5 seconds.

The novelty hose race went to Proctor in 45 1-5 seconds, Aurora second in 45 2-5 seconds, and Ely third in 56 seconds.

The firemen's foot race went to Ely in 10 1-5 seconds, Proctor second in 10 2-5 seconds, and Aurora third in 10 3-5 seconds.

TEACHER WAS TOO ACTIVE AT POLLS

Virginia Schoolma'am Is Dropped Because She Canvassed Votes.

Mrs. J. E. Brandmeier has returned to her home in Floodwood, after a week's visit with her mother, Mrs. E. C. Kiley.

ITASCA COUNTY ASSESSMENT CHANGES

Grand Rapids, Minn., July 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The county board of equalization made the following changes in assessments: Horses, under 1 year, $5; 1 year, $10; 2 years, $20; 3 years and over, $35.

Cattle under 1 year, $1; 1 year, $5; 2 years, $8; three years, $12; bulls and all other cattle, $20; sheep, $1; hogs, $2; dogs, $5; wagons, $12; melodians, $10; pianos, $70.

The valuations on the stocks of merchandise of a number of the towns in the county were raised, to equalize them with those of other towns. Bovey, Coleraine, Keewatin and Nashwauk were included on the list, with raises of 33 1-3 per cent. Deer River, 15 per cent and Taconite, 50 per cent.

Firemen Beat Bankers.

Hibbing, Minn., July 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—In one of the best played ball games of the season the fire department team yesterday defeated the bankers, 7 to 8. The game was nip and tuck from the start, and the beginning of the ninth inning found the bankers three runs to the good. In the last half of the ninth the firemen succeeded in sending four runs across the plate on hits by Chief McIllhargey and Hughes. Chief McIllhargey played short for the firemen and said after the game: "Seems funny but they all seemed to hit them my way."

IS KILLED BY BROTHER

Virginia Sawmill Employe Is Another Victim of "Unloaded" Gun.

Younger Brother Fatally Shoots John Ulick While Berry Picking.

Virginia, Minn., July 26—(Special to The Herald.)—John Ulick, a sawmill employe, aged 18, was shot and killed at Smith's farm, fifteen miles north of this city yesterday by his brother, Joe, aged 16. The shooting was accidental, the younger brother pointing the rifle and not knowing it was loaded. The boys who were berry picking are sons of Mrs. August Ulick, 308 Walnut street, this city. The bullet, a 22-caliber, struck the breast and death followed in a few minutes.

Peter Ulick, the father, was killed in a mine accident at Virginia in October, 1909. The body was brought here today and the funeral will be held from the Polish Catholic church Monday.

ISHPEMING MAN NEW PRESIDENT

Mikko Skytta Heads National Finnish Temperance Brotherhood.

Ely, Minn., July 26.—(Special to The Herald).—The Finnish National Temperance Brotherhood in annual session here today is celebrating the twenty-sixth anniversary of the founding of the order with a picnic today at Sandy Point. There was a parade to the picnic grounds this morning where the following program was carried out: Sampo band; greetings, John Porthan of Ely; music, Sampo band; address, Rev. E. F. Stidd of the Methodist church; recitation, K. V. Mantyla of Ishpeming, Mich.; selection, Wiesti choir; lecture, J. H. Jasburg of Hancock, Mich.; music, by band; speech, J. F. Niemi of Ishpeming, Mich. The program was interspersed by a number of selections given by the female quartet of Hancock, Mich., and the mixed quartets of Gilbert, Virginia, and Ely. This evening a program will be given at the hall consisting of a number of recitations given by the female quartet of Hancock, and the mixed quartets of Gilbert and Virginia and also a recitation by Mrs. W. Vouti; selection by the Wiesti choir, and an address by E. Torkko of Soudan, Mich.

A special train from Virginia and Eveleth, connecting with trains from Hibbing and Chisholm was run to Ely this morning reaching here about 10 and bringing parties from each Mesaba range town to the picnic.

The brotherhood held a very busy business session yesterday. Officers for the coming year were elected, the place for the 1914 session chosen, and the decision for establishing a Finnish Temperance paper made.

The officers chosen are: President, Mikko Skytta of Ishpeming, Mich.; vice president, Henry Mollanen of Hancock, Mich.; secretary, K. V. Mantyla of Negaunee, Mich.; trustees, J. Syta of Ishpeming; N. Teppo of Wakefield, Mich., and Esa Torkko of Soudan, Mich. Wakefield, Mich., was chosen as the meeting place of 1914.

To Publish Weekly.

An arrangement was made to arrange for the publishing of a weekly Finnish newspaper devoted entirely to temperance, which would receive the support of all the Finnish Temperance societies. Ernest of Fitzburg, Mass., was chosen as editor of the paper, and Hans Lankinen of Mass City, Mich., as business manager. The place of publication has not yet been definitely decided upon but Duluth seemed to be the favored place. Another matter that claimed attention yesterday was the proposed consolidation of the Finnish National Temperance Brotherhood with the Society of the Friends of Temperance, it is understood that overtures were made by the Friends of Temperance with the larger society. The sentiment yesterday seemed to be in favor of the consolidation. Reports read showed a nice gain in the membership during the year of the brotherhood.

Tomorrow the silver jubilee of the Wiesti lodge of the Finnish National Temperance Brotherhood will be held at Sandy Point. The program for the day will begin at 10:30 and will consist of the following numbers: Song, by all; "History of Wiesti Lodge for the Past Twenty-five Years," M. Porthan; musical selection; speech, Henry Mollanen of Hancock, Mich. The program will be continued in the evening at the Temperance hall with the following numbers: Selection, Wiesti choir; remarks, Mrs. R. Vouti; address, A. V. Havela of Duluth; address, Pastor J. Hirvi of Ely. Both programs will be liberally interspersed by musical selections by the different quartets in attendance at the grand lodge session.

Sunday Gun Club Shoot.

Hibbing, Minn., July 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The gun shoot which to have been held last Sunday at Virginia between the Mesaba Gun club of Hibbing and the Virginia Gun club will be staged tomorrow. The Hibbing Gun club is a new organization but was successful in a shoot with Virginia several weeks ago, winning by a large score. Much interest is being shown by the members of the club and shoots are held twice a week.

VASA ORDER'S PICNIC.

John Dwan of Two Harbors and Mayor Towle to Speak.

Two Harbors, Minn., July 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The local lodge of the Order of Casa is making elaborate preparations to welcome the big crowd of members and families expected from Duluth and Superior tomorrow morning on the steamer Easton for the annual picnic to be held here.

Mayor William Towle will welcome the vistors while the principal address will be delivered by John Dwan of this city. C. E. Johnson of Duluth is also expected to speak.

The Two Harbors Marine band will furnish music, and several races and sport events will be pulled off. Prizes have been donated by the business men of the city. The park has recently been put in condition and the pavillion has been reshingled and tables and chairs installed.

CLEARED TWO HARBORS.

SECTION 32 STRIKE.

Rich Ore Said to Have Been Found North of Virginia.

Virginia, Minn., July 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—A rich body of ore has been revealed by test pits sunk at the Section 32 mine, north of the city, in which William Merrill, Walter J. Markham and others of Virginia are interested. The ore is said to be very high grade. The mine is in the vicinity of the Allen and the Pattison & Whitesides properties on which discoveries of ore have recently been made.

Winton Gets Very Good.

Winton, Minn., July 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—As the village officials clamped the lid down tight on saloons preventing any more tilting, the liquor dealers retaliated by demanding that all Sunday laws be enforced and as a result Village President A. G. Stein has ordered pool halls, cigar stores and all similar places closed all day Sunday.

Twenty-seven of the 200 miners who quit the Section 30 mine here early in the week because they wanted an earlier payday were refused work when they applied yesterday, presumably because the mine officials deem them disturbing elements. The mine is rapidly taking on men and is running about normal again.

GETS HOUR IN JAIL ALSO GOOD DINNER.

Grand Rapids, Minn., July 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—One hour in jail was the sentence given Mat Sutari of Cloud Lake, when he pleaded guilty before Judge Kearney, to having assaulted John Marila of the same place, with a scythe. The actual assault was not proved.

Sutari said he had hay was on the ground, cut and ready for the barn, but he had no money. Justice Kearney considered the wife and family at Trout lake, and the sentence was the result. Sutari began to serve his sentence just as the noon whistles blew, and he left the jail for home at 1 o'clock, plus a first-class dinner, served him at the Hotel de Riley.

Teachers' Examinations.

Virginia, Minn., July 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Teachers who wish to qualify for certificates to teach in the common schools of the county will be examined at the Virginia high school building July 31, Aug. 1 and 2. The first two days will be devoted to first grade subjects and the third day to other grade subjects.

Odd Fellows to Build.

Virginia, Minn., July 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The new building the Odd Fellows will erect at the corner of Wyoming avenue and Maple street will cost about $30,000 and will be designed with store rooms below and large and well equipped lodge and clubrooms above. The members of the building committee are Edw. C. A. Johnson, A. E. McKenzie, Andrew Hawkinson, Joseph Roman, Martin Nelson, Henry Kauppi, George W. Trimble, Isaac Van Domlin and W. E. Hannaford.

IS ON LONG JOURNEY.

Chisholm Man Riding to Alabam in Cab of Locomotive.

Chisholm, Minn., July 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—H. W. Wisner left yesterday on a 1,500-mile ride in a locomotive, his destination being Ocampa, Ala. The engine was sold by the Shenango Furnace company to McArthur Bros., and is being shipped there to be used in some construction work they are interested in. Mr. Wisner will ride the entire distance in the engine, and was supplied with a bed conveniently arranged in the cab. Meals will be taken at convenient places along the line, and the trip will be interesting as well as novel. In shipment of an engine of this kind any distance, it is found profitable to protect the parts and see that the engine arrives at its destination in good condition to send a man in charge.

MORE DRILLING ON THE HIGGINS LAND.

Biwabik, Minn., July 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Three additional drills have been placed at work on the Higgins land west of town which is interpreted as meaning the location of the shaft being fixed and that development work on a large scale will soon proceed.

It is reported that the Steel corporation expects to begin development work on this property this year, and that several shafts are to be sunk on the Higgins property between Biwabik and McKinley.

Don C. Anderson, former village attorney, left this week on an auto trip to New York.

Herman Lundblad is at the home of his parents at Pine City, where he went to spend a month. He will assist during the harvest.

D. J. Eyer is improving his dwelling on East Main street.

Rev. K. Winberg of Virginia will hold services in the M. E. church Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

CHISHOLM TEAM TO PLAY FALLS NINE.

Chisholm, Minn., July 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Chisholm baseball team of the trolley league left for International Falls today for a game with the aggregation of that city on Sunday. Hibbing took last Sunday's game from the Falls team, and it is expected, with ordinary good luck, that Chisholm will win on Sunday's game. Chase and Shaw will be the batteries for Chisholm.

Capt. Burt Goes to Vermilion.

Virginia, Minn., July 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Capt. John Burt, for several years at the Norman mine at Virginia as captain, has gone to the Vermilion range to superintend the old South Chandler property which is to be reopened and worked by the fee owners.

Headquarters in Virginia.

Virginia, Minn., July 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. R. Beatty, late of Tower, who has been game warden working in the Vermilion lake region, has come to Virginia to make his headquarters as directed by the state game and fish commission.

To Sing in Virginia Church.

Virginia, Minn., July 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Miss Sara Hurd of Chicago, who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Watt, will sing a solo at the First M. E. church Sunday morning. The selection will be "Calvary."

Ely Church Services.

Ely, Minn., July 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Work is nearing completion on the repairs that have been made at the Ely Methodist church, and services will be held at the regular hours tomorrow.

Play Superior Team.

Grand Rapids, Minn., July 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The local baseball team will play the Golden Rules of Superior Sunday afternoon on the local diamond.

ABSOLUTE QUIET REIGNS IN MICHIGAN STRIKE DISTRICT

400 striking trammers was put down here by 700 deputies.

Vice President C. E. Mahoney of the Western federation said this morning: "We will keep our pickets out all over the district and are receiving fresh accessions of strength daily. The mining operators claim we have brought gunmen into the district and that the rioting and disturbances have been caused by outsiders who have been brought in by the federation during the past few years while we were organizing, and that they have destroyed the old established peace of this great copper district. This is not so. It is absolutely false. The statement that the trammers only are interested in the strike is also false, as is the statement that only 15 per cent of the men in the mines are sympathetic. There is as much dissatisfaction among the machine men, miners, as among the trammers, for the institution of the one-man drilling machine by the mining companies has caused more unrest and dissatisfaction than any other one thing. We wired the governor and he told us the troops are to be kept here to maintain peace. We rely on his word. The companies still deny us a conference."

In their statement at midnight the mining companies refused to hold a conference with any men coming in the name of the federation.

Union Men Disappointed.

Union officials plainly were disappointed at the tenor of Governor Ferris' reply to their proposal of yesterday that he intervene to settle the strike. They asserted that the governor had failed to give the men's side of the controversy consideration equal to that accorded the companies, arguing that no request for troops had come from the union men, and that no act of theirs justified the presence of the militia.

Stress was laid upon the fact that no destruction of property had taken place, the strike leaders claiming that such damage as has occurred was incidental to the closing of the mines. Sooner or later it was stated there would of necessity be an investigation of industrial conditions hereabouts.

Troops Arrive in Rain.

Reinforcements of state troops began arriving at Calumet today at daybreak. Companies from Big Rapids, Grand Haven and Muskegon, comprising the First battalion of the Second regiment of infantry, reached the Copper country early, and special trains carrying troops fom the Lower peninsula followed at intervals of a few hours.

The men from the southern regions of the state met a chilly reception, a fine drizzle mixed with Lake Superior fog greeting the troops and keeping them huddled in "pup" tents and swathed in overcoats and blankets.

The rain failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the strikers, however, the first delegations of marchers appearing in Calumet from locations north of here before the troops had finished breakfast. The mine workers, used to the vagaries of the climate, paid little attention to the elements, but there was no early morning reports of trouble.

Payday Prevented.

This was to have been payday at the Baltic mine on the south range, the scheduled disbursements including pay for last month and settlements for the twenty days of July preceding the strike. The company clerks, however, were not at their posts, having been driven away from the mine offices late yesterday while they were completing work on the payrolls. Mine officials said that the "outsiders" who are alleged to be directing the parade features of the strike evidently made a mistake in this instance.

The following telegram was sent to the governor's office in Lansing yesterday afternoon by C. E. Mahoney, vice president of the Western Federation of Miners:

"We respectfully request that you come here and investigate the industrial dispute and use your good offices to effect a settlement and to direct that the troops be used to preserve peace instead of to operate the mines, as seems to be the present intent."

The company managers stated unofficially that they, too, would welcome the governor's presence, but would give no intimation that proposals to arbitrate the strike would be accepted by them. This would be construed by the strikers as a tacit recognition of the union.

In reply to Mahoney's request that he go to Houghton, Governor Ferris sent the following telegram:

"Troops are there to protect life and property. Miners and mine owners must make every possible effort to settle their industrial disputes. This can be done without the presence of the governor. I expect both sides will see the wisdom of asking for only what is right."

Statement By Union.

The union officials held a lengthty conference and last night issued a statement supplementing that given out earlier in the day. The statement was as follows:

"When the laborer is driven to use the weapon of last resort—the strike—it is but fair to the community to give the reasons for that action. For every other species of grievance or wrong, society has provided a remedy; for those of the workers, there is none, if the employers refuse to consider them, none except the strike. That compels the public to recognize that there is an unconsidered factor in the production of wealth which demands a hearing, which will be heard.

"A strike was not called until peaceable means had failed. Not even the courtesy of a reply to our requests for a conference was extended.

"A strike or silent submission was the only alternative presented to the miners of the district. The latter, naturally, suggests itself to those who derive profits from the miners' labor. It is so easy to bear the troubles of others.

"The only statement that we have received from the companies was to the effect that they have never treated with the Western Federation of Miners and did not feel that it was necessary to do so now

"The wages of the underground workers throughout the copper mines of the country, with the exception of Michigan, would average $3.30 per day. It would take several increases for them to reach that figure.

"We submit to all fair-minded citizens that the employes of any company have the right to organize and negotiate through their chosen representatives with their employers for a redress of grievances, and that such a method of procedure makes for the general welfare and industrial peace in a community."

Companies' Views.

Attempts to get from the companies an expression on the mediation proposals of the union officials failed. It was stated, however, that the principal employers would welcome a talk with the governor if he later sees fit to come to Calumet.

Controverting the claims of the union that minimum wages for underground work were $2.25 a day or less, the companies urged that trammers this year have averaged $2.60 a day, and that in the Osceola amygdaloid workings the average has been $3.16 a day for this class of work, while the miners proper have averaged $3.50 a day.

"The companies will never recognize the Western Federation of Miners," was one determined sentence in the statement. It was intimated that individual strikers, innocent of violence, and not outspoken enemies of the corporations, would receive their old positions when the mines reopen. The statement reviewed at length the history of the copper industry and dwelt upon the various benevolent and self-help projects open to employes.

"Men who have been with the company for forty-five years," the statement says, "have been driven from their work by individuals imported from other states and who brought with them unrest and sentiment for higher wages and changes from working conditions which never before had been questioned as to their fairness."

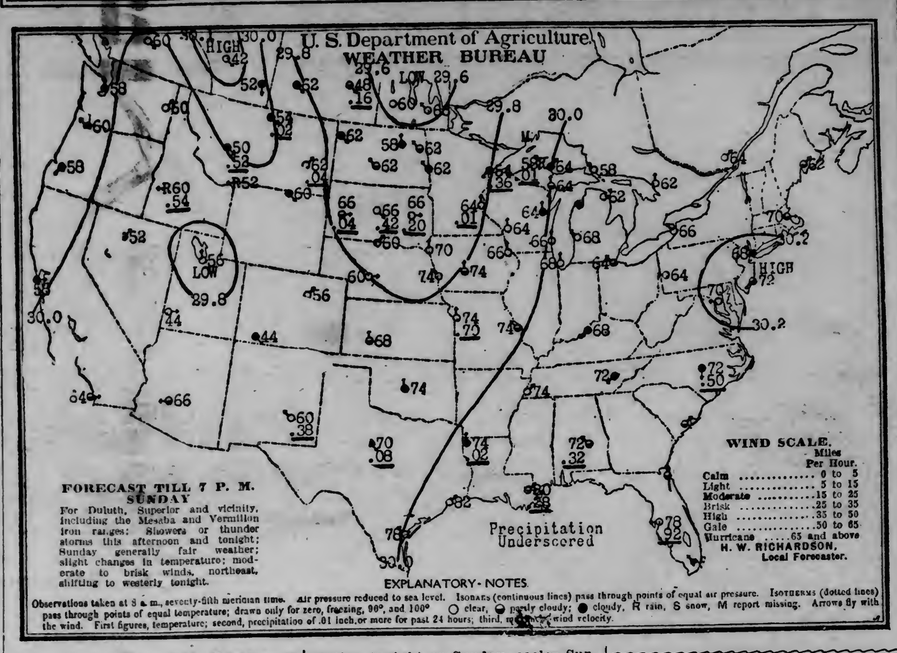

FOREST FIRE IS GAINING HEADWAY

Large Quantity of Timber in Jasper Park Is Destroyed.

Edmonton, Alta., July 26.—The forest fire which broke out in Jasper Park, the Dominion government's reserve in the Rocky mountains one week ago, is gaining headway fast, and a large quantity of valuable timber has been destroyed according to word which reached here today. At one time the fire approached within ten miles of Fitzhugh, the Grand Trunk Pacific's divisional point, 350 miles west of here, but a change of wind started the flames in a northwestern direction and saved the town.

The blaze now has swept over the divide into British Columbia, where the coast province rangers have taken up the battle of fighting the flames.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

RAIN

The showers or thunderstorms predicted for last night, arrived early this morning when Duluth people were sleeping peacefully. Today is unsettled, and more showers or thunderstorms are predicted for tonight, but let's hope the booster parade isn't interrupted.

Fair weather prevailed a year ago today.

The sun rose this morning at 4:40 and it will set at 7:49 this evening, giving fifteen hours and nine minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Showers or thunderstorms occurred during Friday or last night in Saskatchewan, Montana, Idaho, Wyoming, South Dakota, Minnesota, Northwestern Wisconsin, New Mexico, Gulf states and North Carolina in connection with low pressure areas centered over Manitoba and Utah. Temperatures of 90 deg. or higher occurred Friday in Montana, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Arizona, New Mexico, Texas, Louisiana, Florida and South Carolina. Indications favor further showers this afternoon and tonight at the Head of the Lakes followed Sunday by mostly fair weather.

How to Avoid those Pains and Distress Which so Many Mothers Have Suffered

It is a pity more women do not know of Mother's Friend. This remedy softens the muscles, enables them to expand without strain and enables women to go through the ordeal without pain, nausea, morning sickness or other dreaded symptoms so familiar to many mothers.

There is no foolish diet to harass the mind. Thousands of women no longer resign themselves to the thought that sickness and distress are natural. They know better, for in Mother's Friend they have found how easy it is to banish all those dreaded experiences.

It is a subject every woman should be familiar with, and even though she may not require such a remedy, she will now and then meet some prospective mother to whom a word in time about Mother's Friend will come as a wonderful blessing. This famous remedy is sold by all druggists, and is only $1.00 a bottle. It is for external use only. Write to-day to the Bradfield Regulator Co., 227 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a most valuable book to expectant mothers.

LATEST HAPPENINGS IN AUTO WORLD

VICTORY WAS UNEXPECTED

Dr. Park Surprised Friends By Winning A. A. A. Trophy.

Locomobile, Four Years Old, Stands Up Under Hard Test.

During the past week, or, rather, with the beginning of the week, Duluth, through one of her citizens, won honors that—to be frank about it—were unlooked for, in the automobile line. Dr. J. D. Park, president of the Duluth Auto club, won the much coveted A. A. A. trophy in the Glidden tour from the Twin Cities to Glacier Park, Mont., in a drive which took all week and in which cars were put to a test that demanded about all there was in cars of whatsoever type.

Dr. Park ended the tour with a perfect score, but because of delays through the hill country towards the end, had to "open 'er up" and hit a pace that had others flabbergasted. His brakes wore out and he and his fellow travelers had to empty their milk and water cans on the brakes to keep the care from igniting. They got into the final control one minute ahead of the limit and had to run into an embankment to stop, the brakes being useless; and wrecking the car.

Now another interesting thing in connection with this winning is that the machine with which the doctor won is a 4-year-old Locomobile and is considered a back number. Other cars of the more modern type were not in it with this old Loco, and some of the more modern kind were put out of the race entirely.

The Locomobile, by the way, is sold in Duluth by the Electric Service and Repair company, of which N. L. Blake is manager and chief spirit. Mr. Blake handles two great cars—the Locomobile and the Hudson, and he is willing to talk about either by the yard, so to speak, for he thinks that they are the greatest cars on earth. So far as records are concerned, he can show you reams of them, and that of Dr. Park in the old Loco, is only adding to the list, he says.

J. T. Peacha, Jr., who is manager of the Interstate Auto company, agents in Duluth and the surrounding territory for the Kissel Kar, is just "a wee bit daft" these days. The reason why is that the new 48-h. p., 6-cylinder touring carriage has arrived. This car has been advertised as the surprise of the auto world for the 1914 types, and the impression it has given so far is that it carries out that idea. It is a surprise. Its price is advertised elsewhere, but that is one of the surprises realized when the car is seen. It is the lowest priced "medium priced car" so far on the market for the stuff it gives for the money. It is not a little six, nor a medium six, although it is referred to as a "little six." For character and completeness it establishes a precedent in price, as well as in many of its mechanical improvements and refinements. It is a real-sized car built to carry five passengers comfortably and compromising nothing in outline or construction. It is best described as a roomy, high grade carriage of medium proportions, clean cut and graceful in design, notably convenient, powerful, and altogether classy.

The tonneau is without boxes, brackets or afterthoughts to mar the effect of compact and simple completeness. It has a low hanging body, yet with "kick-ups" at front and rear so cleverly and scientifically designed as to provide perfect clearance under any conditions. The front axle is built after an imported idea, which adds strength to the knuckles and main parts and permits of very easy turning. The rounded pressed steel fenders are of new foreign design. The cowl is equipped with a mahogany board on which all meters and indicating instruments are so placed and illuminated as to be most easily and readily read at night, as well as in daylight. It has left hand drive and center control. It is electrically lighted and started. The doors are twenty-one inches wide. It is upholstered in black leather of A-1 quality over eleven inches of the highest grade of gray cattle hair, mixed with the finest German imported hog hair. Its wheel base is 132½ inches, tread 56 inches, tires 36 by 4½ inches. It has the patent Golde top—eliminating front brackets and easily operated by one person—used heretofore only in the highest priced cars.

Lifting the hood, the first thought is the complete accessibility of the power plant. Motor, starter, generator—every part is reached with ease. The engine and transmission are integral, forming one unit and enclosing the clutch and universals. The power plat is supported by a special construction with the bearing in front, one in rear and one on either side, giving perfect flexibility. All parts are notably accessible and easily removed without disturbing other parts. The transmission is of the sliding gear selective type with Chrome Vanadium steel gears and imported F. & S. annular ball bearings. It has four speeds forward and reverse, with direct drive on third, geared up on fourth.

C. G. Obermeyer, manager of the Duluth Cartercar company on First avenue west, is also agent for the famous Metz car. Mr. Obermeyer points out the fact that the Metz team was a team winner of the recent tour from the Twin Cities to Glacier Park, finishing in superb fashion and with perfect scores. A Duluth man, as mentioned above, won the individual trophy, but the Metz cars won the team event. This car is gaining in popularity in Duluth and Mr. Obermeyer says that he is not only selling many of them but that they are creating a good deal of inquiry.

The Cartercar should not be forgotten either. This car, ever since its demonstration of pulling power on Superior street a while ago, has been the object of much inquiry and a great deal or purchase.

The Touring club of America, with headquarters at Broadway and Seventy-sixth street, officially announces that:

"The suit for infringement of the copyright laws, brought by the Automobile Blue Book Publishing company against the Automobile Club of America, for the infringement of the copyright in the publication of the tour book issued by the club, has been settled out of court.

"In the settlement the club makes a substantial cash payment to the Blue Book, and withdraws its contemplated road book from publication for this year. The club also indorsed the blue books by the purchase of a thousand copies for distribution among its members."

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE AUTOMOBILE WORLD

Did you, as a motorist, ever dream of crossing the Rockies? Here is the laconic message of two drivers who just accomplished the feat:

"The steep grades and high elevations of the Rockies cleared tonight. The two Americans did not falter once. Was a fine test for the Underslung cars and they came through in perfect shape."

The above is an extract from a telegram sent to the American Motors Co., Indianapolis, by E. I. Lewis, a newspaper man and their special representative in the Indianapolis-Pacific coast tour. In a long night message from Glenwood Springs, Colo., Mr. Lewis points out the fact that these two American Underslung cars have completely upset the calculations of a number of people who thought it impossible for the car to clear the terrible rocks and bunkers that are found in these mountain trails.

Another significant fact that brought joy to the drivers of the American cars: They were among the few to pass through the day without experiencing carburetor trouble. In this they were extremely fortunate as many of the drivers found it almost impossible to get any adjustment of their carburetors that would enable them to climb the steep grades.

It was more than thirteen years ago—and that's a long time, too, in the motor-acr business—that the builders of the now internationally famed National cars sought a name for their product. It was the desire of those dreamers of that day to produce a car that would be favorably known and accepted over all the nation. At first it was the dream of car builders to produce cars that would "make good" in the immediate vicinity of their homes where manufactured. The National was one of the first companies to go after a nation-wide market. That this company has succeeded is shown by the fact that the National is not only in demand in the "nation," but all over the world. This, then, is why the name "National" was adopted by the National Motor Vehicle company of Indianapolis. This name "National" was selected so that it would stand for such superior qualities that the car would be able to give service in any territory and compete with cars built in any city in the country.

The National car holds today the world's stock championship. Last year a National car, made almost entirely of stock parts, won the famous international 500-mile race. This year the National was not entered, but the National's record remains supreme, as it was not lowered by the splendid European cars that came across the water to win the race.

Close upon the heels of the announcement of the Kissel Kar "48" Six, comes the details of the other new Kissel Kar models, the "60" Six and "40" Four. Shipments have started on all three types and Kissel Kar agents are consequently congratulating themselves over a good start on most of their rivals.

The "60" Six, which for several years has been held in high esteem among the higher powered first grade automobiles, is faithful to its traditions. It is a luxurious, roomy and extremely handsome car, with the best points of foreign and domestic conception in design, together with several distinctly individual characteristics. Among these is noted the graceful rounded fenders and octogon-shaped Solar lamps, both head and side.

Comparing specifications with the 1913 "60," it is noted that the wheel base has been lengthened from 140 inches to 142 inches and the rear springs from 52 by 2¼ to 52 by 2½, thus providing the additional comfort that big wheels and big springs insure. Comfort has always been a Kissel key note and it is in evidence throughout this latest product. The French "Commodite" seats, so conspicuous in the 1913 "60," are retained with the same 11-inch depth of solid ease.

The lighting facilities, as in the "48" are strikingly original, especially the illuminated instrument board, the special lights that sweep the full length of the running boards and the bullseye in the tail lamp, whose rays reach directly the gasoline gauge.

The motor of the "60" six has undergone a decided refinement in design, although its dimensions and essential mechanical characteristics remain the same as last year. The cylinders are cast in pairs, the bore and stroke measuring, respectively, 4½ and 5¼.

The new "40" is but little changed from its successful "40" predecessor except in the reduction of the price by $150. The size of the rear springs are increased from 48 by 2 inches to 48 by 2¼. The wheels are two inches larger, being now 36 inches, and the tires are 36 by 4 inches. The gasoline capacity is two gallons greater. Motor cylinders are cast in pairs. The bore and stroke remain the same as in preceding Kissel "40's", having 4½-inch bore and 5¼-inch stroke.

The price of the "40" with either semi-touring or semi-racing body is $1,850 and the "60" seven-passenger touring and semi-racer bodies, $3,150. These, with the "48," which is listed in touring and semi-racing bodies at $2,350, offer a good range of selection.

E. M. Pierce, a New York lumberman whose predilection is for automobile globe-trotting, and whose private office is the tonneau of his Cadillac, has started again on a tour through the White mountains, Canada, Michigan, Indiana, and Ohio, in the same car which since February, 1912, he has driven 37,000 miles. After this strenuous excursion Mr. Pierce accompanied by Mrs. Pierce and a companion, will hit the transcontinental trail in September for Southern California, where they will spend the winter.

The big mileage piled up to date is due to a remarkable trip last season which consisted of a tour all the way around the United States in the same car. Mr. Pierce claims a unique record on his ride from New York to the Pacific coast, which he says was negotiated without a single mechanical adjustment.

On this summer's trip the Pierce party will retrace part of last season's route, especially in the Southwest and Southern California. For pure touring enjoyment, Mr. Pierce declares America without a rival.

The Allis-Chalmers Company of Milwaukee has a 3½-ton Kissel Kar truck that has not only displaced three horse drawn wagons but a switching locomotive besides. Between the West Allis and Milwaukee plant of this company, a switch engine was in daily use before the Kissel Kar truck was placed in service. The truck now does all the haulage between the two plants, besides city and freight house deliveries.

The Packard Motor Car company announces the addition of four six-ton trucks to its line of motor vehicles. These two new units, with the well establishe two, three and five-ton Packards, offer a range of capacity to meet all requirements for heavy-duty hauling.

The Packard company also has announced a hydraulic hoist and dump body to meet the growing demand for such motor truck equipment.

During the last twelve months, the Packard truck organization broke all of its earlier records for sales and eclipsed the previous year by the sum of $1,980,000. Sales made last month showed a gain of $267,000 over the corresponding period last year. The record month was March, when trucks were sold to the value of $225,100. The former record was made in December, 1912, when over $800,000 worth of Packard trucks were sold.

C. H. McCausland of the Kissel Kar has a letter from James H. Brown of the American Tobacco company which he very justly terms "a treasure." In his letter Mr. Brown says:

"Within the last seven years I have purchased twenty-seven automobiles, both foreign and domestic, and I must say that I am better pleased with the Kissel Kar than with any other one of my purchases; in fact, I consider your car a masterpiece of workmanship, regardless of price."

Mr. Brown owns two Kissel Kars, a six-cylinder touring and a limousine.

To ascertain the weight per wheel of a car, run the first half of it on the platform scales, noting the weight, then the last half of the car, making record also of its weight. The weight carried by each tire is one-half of either of these respective amounts. If this is carefully done the combined weights should come within twenty or thirty pounds of the weight of the car when it is all on the scales at one time.

Roads between important centers of population are now recognized as necessities and are demanded as essential to greater prosperity by states which have awakened to real highways progress. Coupled with it is the call for a better type of construction for these main roads, for not only are good roads required, but they must stay good for a period of time which will justify their building.

One of the most recent examples of this understanding, observed by the A. A. A. national good roads board, emanates from Tennessee, where a concrete road is being projected between Chattanooga and Knoxville. The primary movement for this highway was inaugurated by the Chattanooga Times; it was then taken up by the Chattanooga Chamber of Commerce and the Knoxville Board of Commerce, both working in conjunction. Then the cities and counties along the route became enthused, and the work is proceeding as rapidly as the conditions permit.

A first-class road between the two Tennessee cities will form an important link. Another movement is for a main highway from Chattanooga to Louisville, Ky. C. E. James of Chattanooga states that this road will be built in two years if Kentucky does its part. Mr. James at his own expense has built, from Chattanooga to the top of Signal Mountain, a permanent road which forms part of the route and takes care of the heaviest portion of the construction. The routing in Tennessee will be about 35 miles shorter than any other route between Louisville and historic Chattanooga.

Another indication that the "signs of the times" favor better and more durable road construction, is found in the report of the board of consulting road engineers recently appointed by Governor Sulzer of New York state to examine into the condition of existing contracts. On two state highways where the work has not yet reached the surfacing stage, the committee found 146 miles of road where, to carry out the original contracts, would be to practically waste the money. An upper course of first-class material, probably concrete, is the only method by which the money already put in can be saved.

State Highway Engineer A. N. Johnson, has recommended either concrete or brick for the state aid main roads to be built under the new highway law of Illinois.

According to many leading road engineers, too much emphasis cannot be placed on the importance of a type of construction that will stand the stress of the constantly increasing traffic. Motor trucks carrying heavy loads are being put into use everywhere, and the roads must be built for durability under the combined light and heavy motor and horse traffic. For the main roads of the country, it is claimed, ordinary macadam has had its day. It has now become too expensive because of its short life. Economy as well as utility demands a higher type of construction.

SAYS WIFE WAS DISLOYAL AT LOYAL.

What's in a name?

Theodore Keenlyne, aged 31, Proctor, has applied for divorce from his 21-year-old wife, Esther H. Keenlyne.

He claims that she has been living with other men and has been disloyal.

And when the process servers found her, she was at Loyal, Clark county, Wis.

The Keenlynes were married Nov. 9, 1911, at Stevens Point, Wis., and came to Proctor shortly afterwards.

In his suit for divorce, Keenlyne accuses her of having on Aug. 1, 1912, committed adultery with one Louis Z. Rethy.

He also claims that since Aug. 15, 1912, she has been assuming the relations of man and wife with one F. C. Blake.

He declares that he will not forgive or condone her action.

Under an order signed by Judge Bert Fesler in district court yesterday, Mrs. Keenlyne is given until Aug. 23 next in which to file an answer.

UNABLE TO AGREE ON CURRENCY BILL.

Washington, July 26.—In another stormy session yesterday, the Democratic members of the house banking and currency committee found themselves unable even to agree to disagree on the administration currency bill. They adjourned until Monday, when, after President Wilson has had a talk with Representative Ragsdale of South Carolina, who presented to the committee the so-called insurgent amendments to the bill, the struggle to reach some sort of an agreement will be resumed.

Murder Trial at Juneau.

Juneau, Alaska, July 26.—The defense has rested in the trial of Joseph MacDonald, general manager of the Consolidated Mining & Milling company of Guanajuta, Mex., who is on trial here on a charge of murder in the first degree for the killing of N. C. Jones, a mission worker at Treadwell, May 1, 1902, when MacDonald was superintendent of the Treadwell minc. The government began the examination of witnesses in rebuttal, and the case probably will go to the jury Monday.

ZABEL HOLDS WHITE SOX TO ONE VERY SMALL HIT

Cy Bennett Gets Only Blow Yielded By Visiting Twirler.

Winnipeg Takes the Second Game of Series By 3 to 1 Count.

(BY BRUCE)

Bang! Bang! Bloole! Whoole! and many other such noises.

Please, gentlemen, these are the sounds that the bats of the members of the Duluth team did not make in hitting the curves of Zabel.

The count yesterday was 3 to 1 in favor of the lads from across the boundary line. Mr. Zabel, who came from Kansas City, held us to one hit. Mr. Bennett, a well known Duluthian, secured this hit. Such well known and respected business men in the world of batting as Elmer Miller, Elmertine Smith and Samuel Meniece, went hitless.

Let us proceed to analyze further. But two of our brave and sometimes bold athletes were left on the bases, for only four of us reached the initial sack. One man, as the score indicates, reached the land of promise, the good old home plate, and one man succeeded in getting to third.

This Zabel boy issued one pass and whitted eleven of our side. Some going, you may remark in passing—yes, indeed it was.

In eight of the nine rounds the White Sox went out in one, two, three order. The only round that we failed to go down in perfect order, like a first-class fire drill, was the fourth stanza, the one which was fruitful of the one little run.

In two innings of the nine the hateful Zabel person whiffed two of the three batters that faced him. In the ninth round Bennett, O'Brien and Smith whiffed in sweet succession.

And He Had a Sore Arm.

Last evening we learned that Zabel had a sore arm yesterday. Immediately we wondered how good this fellow is when right. With his arm in first-class condition and all things favorable, judging solely from the performance of yesterday, Zabel ought to make a good pitcher.

Funny all this, when you come to think of it. Zabel only used about three or four curves balls during all of the contest. The Winnipeg players say that his curve ball was not working yesterday. Also they state that this bird has one swell curve "when his arm is right."

As a matter of fact Zabel depended upon his smoke ball in the conflict of yesterday, and take it from us, he has some smoke.

In the first inning Bennett reached first through the error of Kurke and was promptly doubled when O'Brien bunted into the hands of Zabel and that worthy threw to Wilke and Joe relayed the heave on to Graves.

In the second we were out in order, ditto the third. In the fourth Bennett was first up and electrified the crowd—yea, that's the right word—by singling. O'Brien lofted gently to Kurke, and Smith was safe when Graves dropped the chuck at first. Miller drew the only pass of the afternoon. Meniece hit a high bounder over the head of Zabel and Miller was forced at second, Cy skidding over with the run.

In the remaining rounds not a single White Sox saw the first bag.

Hard on Monty.

Bottineau, N. D., wanted 100 words on the result of yesterday's game—the home of Woods, you know.

At the request of the great young pitcher and the future mayor of Bottineau, these words were filed with the Western Union: "Wild and unsettled."

Woods pitched a game that would win under ordinary cirks, but the circumstances of yesterday were not of the everyday make. Someone has to lose some time and yesterday it was Woody.

Woods passed two in the first and yet there was no score. Graves singled past Meniece in the second and then Napoleon Bachante doubled into left and the first was over.

A double play, O'Brien to Schreiber, set the enemy down in the third and in the succeeding round the Peggers were sniffed out in order. Another double, O'Brien to Schreiber to Meniece helped in the fifth.

Freer singled to start the sixth, Moll knocked the ball down with his nude hand, making a great stop, but could not recover to make the throw. The stop prevented a double. Clothier sacrificed and then Freer swiped the third sack. There was a dispute over the decision at the third corner. Some believed that the runner was out. Anyway, be that as it may, after Kirkham had flown to Smithy, Kurke singled past Meniece and the second run of the enemy was in.

In the eighth Freer lived through the error of Schreiber on a bad bounding ball. Clothier was out in attempting to bunt three of 'em, and then Kirkham singled. Kurke also singled and the third run was over.

Graves hit a long one to Miller and Kirkham attempted to make the dear old plate from third. Right here Elmer showed why he is the sweetest outfielder in this league. The peg was perfect, the pellet coming on a line to within a few feet of the plate and then hitting the ground, as the perfect throw should, and bounding into the glove of Percy Monahan, who had relieved the injured Wilke.

Play Is Fast.

Four fast double plays marked the play. She was one battle all the way through. We were placed on the defensive because of the great flinging of Zabel, and yet from the first to the last the Sox fought for the lead and at one time tied up the score.

But such baseball as Zabel flung yesterday is so rare as to be beautiful. It is more rare than the day in June that poets have been known to rave about.

It was not because Duluth played poor baseball; rather it was because the man secured but recently from Kansas City showed all the goods in the case.

Zabel has started three times in the Northern. He pitched a twelve inning tie game with Bell if memory serves us right, and then came back and defeated St. Paul at the Peg with little effort.

GRAND FORKS WINS FROM VIRGINIA JOKERS.

Grand Forks, N. D., July 26.—Grand Forks won yesterday afternoon's game from Virginia by the score of 5 to 2. Rhoades was on the mound for the visitors and was hit fairly hard by the home crowd. Wells was relieved by Wilson and the latter pitched a pretty game. The win of the second game marked the eighth straight win for the Flickers. The score: R. H. E.

MILLERS LOSE TO SUPERIOR

With Cyrus Augustus Dahlgren pitching some great baseball, the Minneapolis team was defeated yesterday by the White Sox by the count of 4 to 1. Sherrin worked for the Millers and was hit freely by the home team. Up to the latter part of the game it looked as if the Superior hurling star (Shauer please notice) would hold the enemy hitless. NATIONAL LEAGUE

Pirates Have Easy Time.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 26.—Nine bases on balls, two hit batsmen, wild pitches, eight hits off Philadelphia pitchers, enabled Pittsburg to walk away with yesterday's game, 12 to 2. Seaton, Chalmers and Marshall were equally bad and Pirate hits following their walks piled up the score. Carey made what was believed to be a record, scoring five runs though he did not get a hit in the entire game. He landed in the first inning on a fumble by Knabe. On his next four appearances at the plate he walked and scored all five times. Knabe protested Umpire Byron's decision on Wagner at first base in the fifth inning and was put out of the game. Score: R. H. E.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Play to Tie.

Washington, July 26.—In the longest American league game on the local grounds this season, Washington and St. Louis yesterday battled to an 8-to-8 tie. The game had to be called on account of darkness in the fifteenth inning. Baumgardner and Engle started in the box but both were hit hard and forced to retire. Wellman succeeded the former in the first inning and pitched a superb game, as did Johnson, who was called on in the fourth after Hughes had failed to stop the heavy hitting of St. Louis. The game then resolved itself into a pitchers' battle between Wellman and Johnson. Johnson struck out sixteen men.

Agnew was hit on the jaw by Engle in the fourth inning while at bat and sustained a broken jawbone. He probably will be out of the game for two weeks.

Before the game, Gandil, Washington's first baseman, was given an automobile by some of his local admirers. The score: R. H. E.

Champs Win Opener.

Boston, Mass., July 26.—A victory for Boston over Chicago, 7 to 5, signalized the first appearance of Manager Carrigan here as the leader of the world's champions.

The game was a slugging match, each team having to resort to relief pitchers and pinch hitters.

Catcher Schalk was put off the field for disputing a decision of Umpire O'Loughlin, who made his first appearance here this season. The score: R. H. E.

Chicago	1 0 1 1 0 2 0 0 0—6 9 2

Yankees Lose in Thirteenth.

New York, July 26.—Cleveland defeated New York, 3 to 2, yesterday in the first game of the series, a 13-inning struggle. The game was a hard-fought pitchers' battle between Mitchell of Cleveland and Fisher and McConnell of New York. Mitchell struck out twelve men, but was frequently wild, issuing eight passes. The score: R. H. E.

Tigers Are Blanked.

Philadelphia, July 26.—Two hard-hit grounders which bounded off Dubuc's glove in the seventh inning, prevented him from getting a no-hit game here yesterday afternoon and paved the way for a victory by Philadelphia over Detroit by 4 to 0. The break in the pitching duel between Dubuc and Shawkey, the former Baltimore twirler, who made his debut here, came in the seventh. The score: R. H. E.

Brewers Lose Out.

Kansas City, July 26.—Kansas City defeated Milwaukee yesterday 10 to 2, principally by bunching hits on Buster Braun, a recruit pitcher, in the first inning. The locals left last night for Cincinnati and Chicago, playing a swing around the circuit, playing twenty-three games before returning home.

Kansas City took the jump in the opening. Roth walked and Baxter sacrificed him to second. Breton hit a Texas leaguer to left, Roth stopping at third and Breton taking second on the throw-in. Walker followed with a single and while Roth and Breton were scoring, Walker took second. Drake's single sent Walker home and then Moore hit one into the left field bleachers for a home run.

Milwaukee scored in the third on singles by Young and Lewis and Blackburn's sacrifice fly. The visitors repeated the feat in the fourth on infield hits by Gilbert and Hughes, Powell's error and Lewis' infield out.

The locals got their last five runs in the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth by consistent batting. The score: R. H. E.

Milwaukee	0 0 1 1 0 0 0 0 0—2 13 4
Kansas City	5 0 0 1 2 1 1 0 x—10 13 1

Millers Score Victory.

St. Paul, Minn., July 26.—Minneapolis defeated St. Paul yesterday, 11 to 6, through consecutive hitting and numerous errors by the home team. Each team used two pitchers.

In the sixth inning Umpire O'Brien called "Dixie" Walker out for sliding to first base, although he beat the ball several feet. O'Brien informed Man. Friel he would call any player out who slid to first, and Friel announced his intention of protesting the game in order to get a ruling on this point. The score: R. H. E.

Minneapolis	0 2 2 1 0 2 0 0 4—11 11 5
St. Paul	0 0 0 4 2 0 0 0 0—6 13 5

Batteries—Patterson, Burns and Owens; Brandt, Walker and James. Umpires—Westervelt and O'Brien.

Pitchers' Battle.

Toledo, Ohio, July 26.—Lefty George defeated Loudermilk here yesterday in a tight pitchers' battle, the Toledo team scoring the only run of the contest in the sixth on Kirk's single, a sacrifice, a forceout and an error on an attempted double play. Lefty George was in the hole on several occasions, but was not scored on. The score: R. H. E.

Toledo	0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 x—1 6 1

Batteries—George and Land; Loudermilk and Clemons. Umpires—Murray and Connolly.

Play Seventeen Innings.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 26.—Schardt blew up in the seventh inning here yesterday and Columbus won the first game of the series, 3 to 2. Cole, who had pitched air-tight ball in pinches, scored the winning run. The visitors' pitcher opened the seventeenth with a base on balls, went to second on Benson's sacrifice and to third when Schardt walked Miller after giving Hinchman four wide balls. Cole scored on a wild pitch. The score: R. H. E.

FOUR SURVIVE IN TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

Boston, Mass., July 26.—Having worked their way through numerous and strong field in the all-comers' tournament for the Longwood tennis singles bowl, William J. Clothier of Philadelphia, William Johnston of San Francisco, N. W. Niles of Boston and G. P. Gardner, Jr., of Boston, were the survivors last night in the semi-final round.

Clothier will meet Johnston and Niles will meet Gardner in the semi-finals today.

Pitcher Sold.

Bloomington, Ill., July 26.—Pitcher Charles Picket of the Bloomington team of the Three Eye league was sold yesterday to the Madison, Wis., team.

ALLIS PLAYS IN FINALS

Milwaukee Youth Meets Warren K. Wood for Western Title.

Robert A. Gardner Goes Down Before Wisconsin Star 6 and 5.

Chicago, July 26.—E. P. Allis III of Milwaukee and Warren K. Wood of Chicago started the title match for the Western golf championship shortly after 10 o'clock today. It was another day of the almost perfect weather which has favored the tournament and the followers of the game, anticipating one of the stiffest matches in the history of the championship, composed a gallery of a size rarely seen on any course.

Earlier in the week Wood would have been a favorite over the square-jawed Milwaukeean who has twice won the Wisconsin title and once has been champion of Harvard, but the high grade of golf the latter has displayed in his defeats of Champion Evans and Robert Gardner, led to the belief that the thirty-six hole struggle today would be one of the greatest in Western golf.

Allis began to play golf at the age of 5 with his father as tutor and that parent was foremost in the ranks of the spectators today aiding his son by his moral support. The elder Allis for four days running has seen every stroke his son has made.

Wood, the opponent of the Wisconsin wizard, was a Western finalist today for the third time and is the veteran of many hard campaigns. He is playing over his home course, the Homewood, his familiarity with its peculiarities giving him an admitted advantage. He is in top notch form, his 34 in the second round yesterday being a new record for the course.

During the fifteen years of its existence the Western championship has been held by a Chicago expert and with one exception the runners up also have been from local clubs.

Allis Defeats Gardner.

In the semi-finals, played at the Homewood Country club yesterday, Allis defeated Former National Champion Robert A. Gardner of the Hinsdale club, Chicago, 6 and 5. Wood defeated Joseph Le Duc, Calumet, 3 and 7.

Allis' progress throughout the tournament had been the feature of the event. If he scores a victory over Wood today he will have won the championship by defeating two of the best golfers in America, Wood and Western Champion Charles Evans, Jr., whom Allis defeated decisively Thuraday.

Allis took the lead on Gardner at the second hole yesterday. He had command of the match from the start. Gardner, national champion in 1909, was wild at times and missed a number of chances to take advantage of Allis' few lapses. The youthful Wisconsin player, though often in trouble, played out with the stoicism of a veteran. He owed his victory to all-around playing as there was nothing remarkable about his putting yesterday as was the case Thursday. Both men picked up their balls several times in the afternoon rounds, Allis conceding two holes and Gardner three.

Wood's match with Le Duc was uneventful. Le Duc is a local player of sterling caliber, but he is not much known in tournament play and his good work in fighting to the semi-finals was a surprise to many of the visitors, though not to the Chicago players.

"BEANED" PLAYER IN SERIOUS CONDITION.

Washington, July 26.—Samuel Agnew, catcher for the St. Louis Americans, who was hit on the head by a pitched ball in the Washington-St. Louis game yesterday, was rushed last night to a local hospital. It was found that a bone beneath the left eye had been broken, causing sight concussion of the brain and the player had suffered several hemorrhages. Late last night physicians said his condition was serious.

CHANCE WILL TRADE WITH BIRMINGHAM.

New York, July 26.—A trade involving Pitcher Kahler and Outfielder Ryan of Cleveland and Long George McConnell, pitcher of the New York Americans, is near consummation. Manager Birmingham has for some time been trying to secure McConnell and is willing to give Ryan and Kahler for him, it is understood. Manager Frank Chance had a talk with Birmingham yesterday and they parted with the understanding that Chance was to let the Naps manager know his decision today.

HALL AND STRACHAN IN FINAL MATCH.

Omaha, Neb., July 26.—Merrill Hall, New York, and John Strachan, San Francisco, won their matches in singles yesterday and today will play for the singles championship of the fourth national clay court tournament. Hall beat Clarence Griffin, San Francisco, 2-6, 6-4, 7-5, 12-10, while Strachan defeated Fred Harris, Brattle Brook, Vt., 5-7, 6-2, 7-5, 6-4.

"LEFTY" FLYNN'S WIFE IS GIVEN DIVORCE.

Syracuse, N. Y., July 26.—A decree of absolute divorce to Mrs. Maurice B. Flynn, wife of "Lefty" Flynn, the Yale football player, was granted in a referee's report here yesterday.

SUPERBAS PAY $7,000 CASH FOR PITCHER.

Montgomery, Ala., July 26.—Montgomery yesterday sold Pitcher Elmer Brown to the Brooklyn club for $7,000 cash. The sale was made for the St. Louis Americans, who held a claim on the pitcher and the money was divided.

Meet Ends.

Cory, Pa., July 26.—The Lake Erie circuit meeting for this city ended yesterday with Susie M. winning the 2:13 pace and Gladys A., the 2:15 pace, both races being unfinished from yesterday.

Morris Wins Fight.

Joplin, Mo., July 26.—Carl Morris, the Oklahoma heavyweight, knocked out Al Benedict of Oklahoma, in the fifth round of a scheduled fifteen-round fight here last night. Morris never was forced to exert himself.

DULUTH AND WINNIPEG PLAYING GREAT SERIES

The Two Remaining Games May Have Important Bearing on the Closest Race in the Country--O'Brien Says Sox Are Still in the Race.

Baseball fans around the circuit are awakening to the fact that there is a real race on in the Northern. There is not a league in the country that has a pennant chase on its hands that can compare with the sultry gallop in this circuit.

Superior is claiming at the present time that the Red Sox will cop the flag.

Winnipeg players last evening declared that they are still in the running and will make a great fight for the old gonfalon.

Darby O'Brien is of the opinion that the White Sox are not yet out of the running.

It is quite needless to state that "Lefty" Davis is of the opinion that he will be the winner of the race.

For the first time since the first month and a half of the season it begins to look as if Winona is weakening.

Yesterday the Corsairs lost and the Red Sox won. Maybe the nerve and fighting ability of the Winona crew has been shaken. Sure it is that the other teams are closing in on the Corsairs, as the baying pack chases the quarry to cover.

Every game, as was stated in these columns yesterday, counts like the very mischief. The race has narrowed to the stretch; all of the racers have rounded the final turn and are being driven under lash and rowel to the wire.

Which team will win?

Two weeks ago nearly every rabid fan would have said Winona; today the pendulum of sentiment has swung the other way. It begins to look as if the long looked for slump of Winona has come.

Snow has a bad arm. This is about the first injury that has come to the Winona team during the present season. Collins has a sore foot and Lefty Davis is limping slightly.

On the other hand Winnipeg, Superior and Duluth are going at the fastest clip they have shown during the present season.

If Winnipeg had its present pitching staff at the start of the season it might have been in the lead at the present time.

Superior had one bad slump. The Red Sox lost considerable ground owing to injuries and some internal dissensions. Now the team is back on its feet and is playing some remarkable baseball. The addition of Bell, who is leading the hitters of the league at the present time, has worked wonders with the hated rival from across the bay. Benrud's return has also made a great change.

Fans here should realize that the White Sox and Winnipeg team are engaging in one of the greatest series played during the present season.

There will be two more games in the series—one today and the concluding engagement tomorrow. The game of Sunday will end for a short time the home engagement of the Sox. We jump to Winnipeg for a two-game series, and there will be some hard fighting at the Peg.

The Sox are going to make the effort of their lives to take the two remaining games with the Peggers. The Winnipeg bunch say they will win both of the remaining contests.

O'Brien refuses to admit that his team is out of the race. So does Kurke of Winnipeg. The two remaining games between the two teams will have a very important bearing on the pennant race.

DULUTH MAKES GREAT SHOWING

Zenith City Men Carry Off Lion's Share of Prizes in Canoe Regatta.

Duluth made a great showing in the first day's events of the Northwestern Canoe association race. The men entered under the colors of the Duluth Boat club carried away the largest number of prizes and showed that the big club is supreme in the canoe world as well as in the rowing game.

One of the features of the sports of the afternoon and early evening was the flight of the flying machine. Tony Jannus made a pretty and spectacular flight and wowed the large crowd some very clever maneuvers in front of the grand stand.

The race between the senior and junior eights was also one of the events of the sport card. There is a question as to the winner. Some say the senior came across the line leading by a quarter of a length, while others are equally positive that the juniors won.

Because of the choppy sea the race was cut down and rowed diagonally across the bay. The fact that the two boats crossed the line at a diagonal angle made it difficult to choose the winner.

Ed LeRoy, tied with innumerable knots into a sack, jumped from the bow of the launch North Butte and in 23 seconds rose to the surface of the water, free of all encumbrance.

Following is the list of winners in the various canoe events:

100-yard singles—A. Z. Landry, A. B. C.; Lloyd Williams, Duluth; Curtis Sprague, Tri-Lake.

100-yard changing doubles—Horak and Frey, Duluth; McMillan and Sprague, Tri-Lake; Williams brothers, Duluth.

100-yard doubles—Williams and Arbouin, Duluth; Horak and Frey, Duluth; Landry and Stensrud, A. B. C., tied for second.

200-yard singles — William L'Estrange, Duluth; A. C. Smith, Weequah; Frank Lynam, Duluth.

100-yard singles, standing on gunwales—Lynam, Duluth; McMillan, Tri-Lake; L'Estrange, Duluth.

100-yard doubles, standing on gunwales—Horak and Frey, Duluth; Williams brothers, Duluth; McMillan and Lister, Tri-Lake.

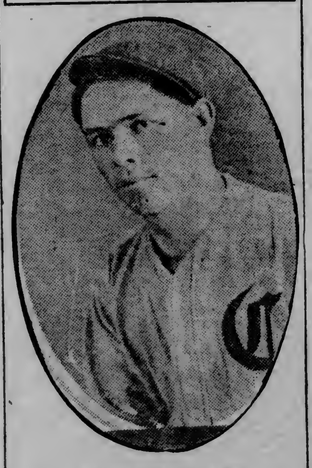

Horak and Frey were tied, each running 12 points. As a result they are the individual champions, and the cup for the event won by them will be placed among the other trophies at the Duluth Boat club.

Regatta officials were: Starter, Guy Warren; clerks of course, R. B. Odell and Hy Barnum; fouling judges, A. F. Olson, J. R. Batchelor, J. W. Swanstrom, Robert George; finish judges, A. M. Gordon, R. Howarth, H. B. Haroldson, A. C. LeDuc; announcer, H. L. George; timers, R. D. Close and A. Horn.

Yokel Loses.

Salt Lake City, Utah, July 26.—Chris Jordan of Cleveland last night defeated Mike Yokel of Salt Lake, Yokel gaining one fall and refusing to continue after 1 hour and 33 minutes rough work.

SPORT CARNIVAL AT COOPERSTOWN, N. D.

Cooperstown, N. D., July 26.—(Special to The Herald).—There will be a sport carnival held here Tuesday. In the forenoon there will be a trap shooting tournament, foot races, tug of war, potato and pony and other races, to be followed in the afternoon by ball games and in the evening with tennis matches. Band music will be furnished and the day will close with an annual ball for the young people.

Cantillon Takes Fiene.

Kansas City, Mo., July 26.—Louis Fiene, released by the locals a few days ago, has signed to play first base and outfield for the Minneapolis American association club.

CONNIE MACK'S GREAT INFIELD MAKES ATHLETICS HARD TO BEAT

McInnis, Collins, Barry and Baker Compose the Greatest First Defense in the Country and Are All Great Hitters.

Philadelphia, June 26.—More than once the question has been asked how is it that the Athletics are in first place, although the pitching is so erratic excepting when Bender and Plank are on the hill.

The answer is not hard, says the North American. It's the infield that has kept the Mack team from sliding. Praise for the four nonpareils who form Connie's $100,000 infield group is nothing new. Even hostiles admit that it's the best innerworks four in baseball.

The fan tongs here have become blase to the miracles these daredevils perform every afternoon at Shibe park. They are inclined to take their thrillers as a matter of course. They often forget they are watching the Raphael of infields.

It was the tall tutor who pointed this out. He said the other day to a knot of friends:

"My infield has always been a top-notcher, but in no season has it performed so excellently as this year. Collins, McInnis, Barry and Baker have saved many a game for us by giving the mediocre efforts of some of our pitchers stonewall support. The infield can't receive too much credit."

Couldn't Be Disputed.

Connie's remarks were devoured by the listeners. They were having the situation analyzed by the fountain head, an authority who couldn't be controverted.

Look at Edward Trowbridge Collins. Every season is a big season with the Columbia card, but he is hitting higher spots this year than at any time since joining the Athletics in 1906.

Collins means as much to the Athletics as an engine does to an automobile. The Lansdowne county gentleman is about as near perfection as it is possible for mortal balltosser to attain. His value covers a wide scope and he is a master in every department.

Of some star player it is said that he is a good hitter and fielder, but the can't throw. Another star is a good hitter, fielder and thrower, but he can't think. Last we have the good hitter, fielder, thrower and thinker, but he lushes.

You can take a whole day off itemizing Collins' virtues in all points of play without having a single time to run in a "but."

He is a wonderful fielder, a great batsman, a lightning base runner, an unerring tactician and completely amenable to discipline. There is not one thing in baseball where there is an opening to take a slam at Collins, with the exception that he is weak on opening oysters with a darning needle.

This season he has outcolinized Collins. He is hitting close to the .400 mark, stealing bases by the bunch and fielding like a madcap. Collins' defensive play this season has been positively uncanny. Nobody can understand how a human can make some of the plays he does.

Collins is Pacemaker.

Eddie has been the pacemaker for the whole team this season. It was his batting, fielding and base running that kept the Athletics in first place on the trip West. He has sent in runs by the droves with his timely belts. Those that he didn't send in he scored himself. One can scarcely find a victory this season in which Collins didn't have a big part in gaining the result.

Since Captain Danny Murphy has no post on the team, Collins is virtually the directing general on the field. He engineers the infield plays and comes many things to the pitcher and garden trio. He has a hair-trigger thinking apparatus and his brains are always of a big help. He has the power to divine the plans of the common enemy and with this knowledge forestall them.

Collins is unquestionably the monarch of all major league infielders. There is nobody in either league who approaches him in all-round worth. It is known that the sage of Lehigh avenue thinks so well of his second-sacker that he wouldn't trade him for any player in the United States of America, not even excluding T. R. Cobb or Walter Johnson.

Stuffy McInnis, the first baseman mite, has only one rival in the business. He is Jake Daubert, the Brooklyn captain, who has an advantage in height over the Gloucester youth. But the difference in their work, if there is any, is so small that it is hardly noticeable. Both are peers.

McInnis is as agile as a bumble bee. He covers all the topsoil in the vicinity of his post and he absorbs badly thrown balls with the ease of a lesion catching a fish in his mouth. One opening to take a first base play at Shibe park is the perfect accord with which McInnis works with Collins and his pitcher.

On very few occasions is first base left uncovered. On bunts or ground smashes, the right man always goes after the ball and there is always somebody perched on the hassock to take the throw. The most dazzling stop around first base is worth nothing if the sack is left unguarded.

A Great Clean-up Man.

Stuffy has always been one of Mack's most dependable clean-up whalers and so he continues this season, although his percentage is not quite so high as this time a year ago. But Stuffy is steadily improving and will be well up in the .300 class before long.

If Collins works with a smooth, quick-witted performer on his left, he has another master on his right. Like Collins, Barry is fielding more sensationally this year than ever before, although he has always been a wonder at the shortstop spot.

The reindeer Barry is one of the cleanest fielding shortstops in the country, even if he covers such a wide range. No matter how far he has to go or under what difficult conditions he has to make the play, if the ball hits Barry's hands it will stick.

He is an expert in whipping the ball to first, no matter if off balance or if from a disadvantageous position. Barry ranks high although associated with an all-star group of infielders. It wouldn't be the infield it is today, if Barry wasn't a part of it.

In discussing Barry's skill as a batsman, all it is necessary to do is to say that he is one of the best and surest clean-up wallopers on the team. The question of percentage doesn't have to get into the subject. Barry is the only member of the $100,000 four who doesn't bat above the .300 mark, but yet, with the exception of Collins and Baker, there is no player who drives in more runs. In his case averages are deceiving.

J. Franklin Baker has often been maligned. Possibly because his batting feats overshadow his fielding feats he has been set down as a weak man on the defense. This charge is absurd. It probably grows from the fact that Baker is not a graceful fielder like Jimmy Collins. He is a little awkward, but he gets everything that the graceful fielders get.

One would think that a major league manager would have a good idea of what is going on in his league. Sometimes, however, a directing boss, either from ignorance or prejudice, will make a statement that shows his opinion is not one to put any confidence in.

For instance, Clark Griffith, manager of the Washington team, smarting under the setbacks the Athletics have handed Washington, told a reporter the other day that Baker was a detriment to a team because of his weak fielding ability.

This is probably inspired by Griffith's hatred for Baker of the long hits J. Franklin has made in games against Washington, but certainly no manager of any standing would be guilty of a break like that when it could be so easily refuted.

Baker a weak-fielding third baseman! That's the joke of the season. Now let's get down to facts: In the race last year Baker accepted 538 chances in 149 games. No other third baseman in the league accepted so many chances, which is the surest gauge of a fielder's ability. Baker made thirty-four errors.

Eddie Foster, a rattling good third sacker, who is a member of the Washington team, and whom Griffith believes to be the best in the business, played 154 games or five more than Baker played. Yet the official records show that Foster not only made 45 errors, or 11 more than Baker did, but he accepted 516 chances, or 22 chances less than Baker did.

It only goes to prove that Baker is the most maligned star player in the profession. He has been called yellow, and yet he breaks up games with home run drives when least expected; and he has often been spiked, but never leaves a game. Even if he were only an ordinary hitter, Baker would be a star for his work on the defense, notwithstanding the foolish argument advanced by Griffith, a one-year flash in the pan.

IT REALLY TAKES THE IRISH

By M. J. DONNELLY.

I.

The Macks are in the saddle and the Macks are on the top,
Av shportin' men av ivery kind there's raly quite a crop
And if ye want an athlate that ye'd pin a ribbon to,
Mc this or that's the fellow that is apt to cop the blue;
In ivery quarther av the globe the name is to the fore,
From India's coral sthrand, I'm towld, to auld Brittania's shore.

So take yer pick from McIntosh, McFetheridge or McHugh,
McKelvey or McInnis, McDoodle ought to do,
McMullen or McNally, McNulty or McSwat,
Mc annything-ye-want-to and we'll let it go at that.

II.

Way over there in London where no Irishman should go,
McLoughlin av Frisco is there I'd have ye know,
And he's makin' quite a racket in the tennis coorts av fame,
And batin' ivery forriner that wants to thry his game.
For he's got the Irish shpirit and he's got the Irish grit,
And he wins because his name is Mac, and that accounts for it.

So take the name McPadden, McPartland or McPhail,
And wear it in a tournament and shure ye'll niver fail,
Take McIntyre, McLogan, McMackin or McQueen,
They honor min and women now for wearin' av the green.

III.

And aven golf that only min ov money ought to thry,
Is now an Irish pastime—ye can guess the rayson why,
For it takes a son of Erin to wield the blackthorn shtick,
Or a mashie or a brassie in an eight-hole golfin' thrick.
And McDermott has been dhressin' down the min the cracks adore,
And dhrink the highballs afterwards and fraquintly before.

So here's to McElroy, McGill, McGreevy and McGinn,
McSorley and McFadden, they're all proud Irishmin,
McGeary and McMeachy, McPartland and McGlone,
In ivery shport, in ivery coort, the Mack min hold their own.

IV.

In baseball why it's only Mac where thrue success is found,
In all the games where skill ye want, the Irish lads abound,
And leaders, who but Jawn McGraw and Connie Mack are there
Right out in front to give their dust and plenty room to shpare?
They say there's nawthin' in a name, that's sintimintal quite,
Shtill ye've got to have a Mac in it, if yer goin' to have a fight.

Then here's health to Jawn McGraw, McGillicuddy, too,
And Irish boys who're all the noise in 'ivery diamond crew,
McCarthy and McKelvey, McQuillian and McGurk,
The bird whose feathers niver dhroop, the grate immortal Turk.

V.

Av coorse the harps are divils in the game av feint and jab,
And the counthry that produces is auld Ireland, begab,
McFarland av Chicago is the boy that pugdom sings,
For his qualities av mind and arm in uppercuts and swings.
Shmall wondher that Italians who yearn for fistic fame,
Add a little Macaroney as a flavor to their name.

Thin three cheers for McAroney, McDavitt and McColl,
McDonough and McDougall, McPherson and McFall,
McLellan and McMahon, McKilligan, McBride,
And it ought to be McWilson wid McBryan on the side.

JOE JACKSON AND TY COBB ARE TIED

Cleveland and Detroit Stars Have Batting Average of .400.

Chicago, July 26.—Ty Cobb has tied Joe Jackson for the lead among the American league batters. Unofficial figures for this week give the Cleveland slugger and the star Detroit man an average of .400 each, Jackson for 89 games and Cobb for 66. Dan Murphy of the Athletics is third with .390; Speaker of Boston fourth with .380; Caldwell, New York, fifth with .364 and Blanding, Cleveland, sixth with .359.

Earl Yingling, the Brooklyn pitcher, leads the National league with .393 for 22 games. Charles McDonald, Boston, ranks second with .377 for 56 games. Miller of Philadelphia is third with .355; Daubert, Brooklyn, and Walsh, Philadelphia, are tied for fourth with .346 each, though Daubert has played in 86 games against Walsh's 22; and Cravath of Philadelphia winds up the first half dozen with .340.

Forty-eight stolen bases are now credited to Milan of Washington. Marsans of Cincinnati leads the National in stolen bases with 31.

WILL PREPARE ITS REPORT THIS YEAR.

New York, July 26.—Back from Europe, where it has been investigating agricultural conditions, the American commission on agricultural co-operation announced last night that it has obtained a wealth of information which it believes will enable it to prepare its report and submit the document before the end of the present year.

Thirty-six states of the Union, as well as four provinces of Canada, are represented in the personnel of the commission.

AMBASSADOR PAGE TALKS AT DINNER.

London, July 26.—Walter H. Page, United States ambassador to Great Britain, was the chief guest at a dinner of the Hardwick society last night. Replying to a toast to his health proposed by Lord Halsbury, former lord chancellor, Mr. Page said that the aims and inclinations of Great Britain and the United States were the same. He added that the day the United States took over the system of English common law marked one of the greatest epochs in its history, for which the United States was profoundly and eternally indebted.

Referring to his reception in London, Mr. Page said that if ever a man abroad felt at home, he was that man.

INDIVIDUALISM—A DREAM.

The Los Angeles Times, staunch and consistent advocate of the let-it-alone type of individualism, quotes with huge approval this picture of individualism, drawn by John B. Miller, president of the Southern California Edison company:

> A condition of society that will permit the individual to acquire the full measure of reward for labor, be it done with brain or brawn; that will restrain the strong from impinging on the weak; that will nurture a kindly humanity for the helpless and afflicted; that will not coddle in indolence the degenerate progeny of worthy parents; that will assure to the thrifty the necessaries and a fair share of the pleasures of life, and yet permit of an accumulation to this end—that they may provide for themselves and for their dear ones against the time of the lengthening shadows, when the day's work shall have been done.

Very pretty indeed, sir. So that's individualism!

But—

To "permit the individual to acquire the full measure of reward for labor with brain or brawn" it is obviously necessary to diminish the rewards of the cunning who avoid labor by the use of their wits, and to prevent a few from over-paying themselves out of the common store.

To "restrain the strong from impinging on the weak" we must regulate and restrain big business enterprises and their monarchs and dukes.

To "nurture a kindly humanity for the helpless and afflicted" we must pass laws putting the government in an attitude of paternalistic tenderness toward the downtrodden and the afflicted.

Not to "coddle in indolence the degenerate progeny of worthy parents," we must limit inheritances, restore surplus estates to the common store, and require self-expression through labor of those who now inherit wealth which they cannot appreciate and cannot fairly administer because they did not learn its value by earning it.

To "assure to the thrifty the necessaries and a fair share of the pleasures of life, and yet permit of an accumulation * * * against the time of the lengthening shadows," we have got to see that a fair share of the fruits of toil go to the toiler.

And these measures, all of them and each of them, as any Tory like the Los Angeles Times will tell you, do not constitute a state of individualism, but a state of "socialism."

And, since we must shun every effort which anybody chooses to label "socialism," of course we can do none of these things.

Therefore this pretty picture of "individualism" never can be realized, never can be materialized out of the dream stuff it is made of, never can be used to hearten and brighten the lot of mankind.

The chief of the Grand Forks fire department arrested a man for robbing a house. To make it real good, the chief of police ought to have been busy about that time putting out a fire somewhere.

THE SUGAR TAX.

Defending the tariff tax on sugar, the Spokane Spokesman-Review says: "The duty on sugar, if for no other reason, should be retained because sugar is a staple of consumption, because the tax is not a burden, and because the revenue from the duty is a universal, and therefore equitable, contribution from all classes of taxpayers."

In other words, because sugar is a food article in common use, and because everybody shares the tax, the sugar tax is an ideal tax; and because it is equal it is equitable.

In point of fact the form of taxation which the Spokesman-Review eulogizes is the most iniquitous and inequitable form of taxation imaginable.

The fairest tax taxes all according to their ability to pay; but the sugar tax reaches all not in proportion to ability to pay, but according to needs. A poor man with a wife and five children pays seven times as much of the tax on sugar as a rich man with neither wife nor child. The rich man ought to be paying such proportion of the public expense as he is able to pay; but by the sugar tax he is enabled to shoulder most of his dues off upon those whose only assets are their health, their capacity for labor, and mouths to be fed.

The sugar tax is an easy tax to collect, it is true; but not ease of collection and the comfort of tax-collecting officials, but justice, should be the aim of all tax systems.

The Spokesman-Review says that this tax is not a burden; yet it admits in the same article that it costs the American people fifty million dollars a year.

And that burden of fifty millions is divided not according to ability to shoulder it but according to acute human needs!

There could not possibly be a more barbarous plan of distributing taxes than that on which the sugar tax is based.

The Chinese are said to be making rapid advancement in music, but this can hardly apply to the stage, for they are admittedly the most addicted of any nationality to dropping their cues.

A BUMPTIOUS OFFICIAL

Henry Lane Wilson, American ambassador to Mexico, returning to Washington by request to consult with the president and the secretary of state, no sooner reaches New York in his leisurely progress than he rushes into print with a cocksure condemnation of the administration's plans as to Mexico.

This judgment is based on a hearsay understanding, of course. He has had no direct intimation of the administration's plans. He has had no opportunity to hear the administration's reasoning. He simply erupts before the first reporter he encounters.

"I have been blamed for a good many things," he said to the reporters.

Our judgment of him, based on his New York loquacity, is that he acts like the kind of man who is always being blamed for a good many things, and always perfectly sure that he is right and everybody else wrong.

It is much easier to understand, now, why relations between this country and the republic of Mexico, as carried on through Henry Lane Wilson, have been difficult.

Constantinople authorities say that when the Turkish troops entered Kirk Kilisseh the "emotion of the inhabitants was indescribable." Which accords pretty well with the stories of the affair told by the Bulgarians.

COMMISSION GOVERNMENT FOR THE STATE.

Both the Mora Times and the Albert Lea Tribune took it from recent remarks in these columns on commission government for the state that The Herald advocated the abolishment of the legislature.

Perhaps we expressed it unfortunately, though we thought we made it clear; but it does not by any means follow that because The Herald proposed a change in the make-up of the legislature that it advocated abolishing it.

Details are matters for discussion, and there is plenty of time to discuss it; for it is not likely that any radical change will be made immediately. But what The Herald suggested, in lieu of the present legislature of sixty-seven senators and a hundred and thirty representatives, elected from and responsible to each of as many districts, and not at all to the state as a whole, was a legislature of, say, one from each congressional district, sitting permanently or as nearly so as necessary.

Instead of 197 lawmakers to propose bills and to dip into the treasury, there would be ten.

Instead of 197 men to pay, there would be ten; and the state could pay attractive salaries to the ten, enough to keep them on the job permanently, and still save money.

Instead of a fixed session of three and a half months every other year, with occasional special sessions, to disturb the state and revolutionize, often unnecessarily, its system of statute law, the legislature would be in session throughout the year, with plenty of time to consider every measure and with the situation cleared by having before it the proposals of only ten men instead of the proposals of nearly two hundred men.

Instead of two or three thousand bills, inevitably resulting in three to six hundred new laws, most of them unnecessary, there would be only such measures as the legislative commission deemed actually necessary.

Instead of a three-months' junket, with a vast amount of half-done work crowded into less than a month, there would be a leisurely and business-like consideration of the state's real needs, and a levying of taxes and appropriations of money based on careful consideration instead of upon a scramble to see which districts could extract the most from the public treasury.

The Albert Lea Tribune, discussing The Herald's proposal, says:

> The same trouble would confront the state with the commission form of government that confronts a city. If you get good men, you can obtain good government under most any form. If you elect bad men you get poor government even though you have the commission form. It is the people who need awakening to the condition which confronts them. In the commission form of city government, the jar which comes in the radical change usually awakens the people, and in an enthusiastic outburst they usually elect a good set of men. But when they drop back into the old ruts again, the interests find it easier to control the few in power than the many.

Except that the last sentence is pure speculation, there being no record of any commission-governed city having gone that far, the above is absolutely true.

But the state is getting only fair results from a very ordinary class of men in the present legislative system. Its chances of getting good men are just as good under the proposed plan as they are under the present one; and by electing all the legislators by the votes of all the people the state would compel them to consider invariably its general and common interest instead of each seeking only the good of his own district, while by electing one from each congressional district it would prevent congestion of power in any section.

The Albert Lea Tribune puts much of the argument for the change in a few words when it adds:

> There is little question, however, that ten men from all over the state, carefully selected, would legislate much more intelligently than the overgrown legislative body we are getting. There would be less tendency to lumber up the statute books with unimportant legislation, and more careful consideration of just what the people want. The trouble today is that we have too much law, and it is growing worse every year.

And it will continue to grow worse so long as legislation is left to an unwieldy body of a couple of hundred members, each striving for the limelight and seeking to attract popularity by ingenuity in devising new subjects for legislation and new laws on old subjects.

A skeleton has been dug up in Marinette. Did it come out of Ike Stephenson's political closet?

WHO SHALL HAVE A VOTE?

If you base the right to vote on property, you disfranchise many who need the ballot most.

If you give the franchise to all alike you put on the same footing the ignorant and the learned, the foolish and the wise, the bad and the good.

So far, no successful and truly democratic experiment has gone farther than this; and out of it, on the whole, has come good results when the electorate has been vigilant.

In a letter in the Independent Charles W. Jerome of Duluth proposes an interesting innovation. He wants to base the franchise on social productiveness; that is, to give the vote to those who produce and not to non-producers. An extract from his letter follows:

> Suppose we should say: Let him only be permitted to exercise the suffrage who is an economic producer, or who, having been a producer for a sufficient number of years, has now retired from the heavier duties of his life's work. By producers, I mean exactly what Francis G. Walker meant in his use of the same word: one who directly with his brain and hands or with his brain alone produces property values, and those, as well, engaged in the transportation, distribution and protection of property, and in government, which is primarily its most general administration. The railroad president, the scientist, the civil engineer, the foreman, the editor, the minister, the doctor, the actor, etc., all render necessary or highly valuable service to mankind, and should, under Walker's definition, be accounted producers: and by virtue of the service they render in relation to property, should be and are each entitled to an equal share in the government.

Mr. Jerome cannot see where the mere possession of property, or the mere accident of birth or a specified period of residence in a community, should alone entitle one to the suffrage. He adds:

> Suppose that a man inherits property, however vast, and renders no service, through his productivity, to society. By what right is he entitled to a voice in the making of laws that regulate and tax not only his own property, but as well to govern those who do produce and to regulate by statute their labor and the conditions of their production and taxation? Is it heretical that only the producer, and not at all the idler, whether millionaire or tramp, has an inherent right to a share in the government? Would not PRODUCTIVE qualifications for voters be sounder or more just than property qualifications are or ever have been?

This is ingenious and interesting.

But we can imagine there being some difficulty about deciding whose work is productive, and even about determining who is to decide a fact that would become tremendously important if this plan were to be adopted.

The Walker definition manifestly is too narrow. It is narrower than Mr. Jerome's construction of it. It seems to limit the franchise to those who produce "property values." What property values does a teacher or writer produce? Yet who is better fitted to be a voter? And Mr. Jerome should not have omitted housewives and mothers from his list of qualified producers and voters.

Equal suffrage, open to all of proper age and citizenship not barred by criminality or pathological mental deficiency, and with no sex discrimination, on the whole seems a pretty fair solution which it would be hard to improve upon.

The manuscripts of Burns' poems have been sold for $25,000. Oh, wad some power the giftie gi'e us to see oursel's as ithers see us after we've been dead a few years!

A new law in Texas makes it a felony for a man to get drunk anywhere but in his own home. If Col. Mulberry Sellers were alive he would sight a fortune in the business of selling brass foot rails for Texas homes.—Denver Republican.

"If Col. Mulberry Sellers were alive!"

Bless your ignorant soul, sir, Col. Mulberry Sellers did not die—he never can die!

He always will be alive so long as there are human breasts in which hope surpasses practical judgment.

Col. Mulberry Sellers dead? No, indeed! Why, we were talking with him only yesterday, and he was detailing, with fine enthusiasm, a most enticingly rich and promising and delightfully impractical scheme that was sure to make everybody connected with it rich—and that did, for the moment, make him rich indeed with rosy fancies and warm with highly colored hopes.

Wonder if some of those eager critics would kick if Postmaster General Burleson were to take a vacation?

THE MIGHT OF SIMPLICITY.

"He was not only sincere, but he was genuinely simple," says David Grayson in the American Magazine, speaking of one of the characters he met in his travels.

These are high qualities. Sincerity is sterling, but simplicity is, continues David Grayson, "a much higher virtue, as Fenelon says. For while sincere people do not aim at appearing anything but what they are, they are always in fear of passing for something they are not. They are forever thinking about themselves, weighing all their words and thoughts and dwelling upon what they have done, in the fear of having done too much or too little; whereas simplicity, as Fenelon says, is an uprightness of soul which has ceased wholly to dwell upon itself or its actions. Thus there are plenty of sincere folk in the world but few who are simple."

Mighty is the grandeur of simplicity!

A mountain is a simple thing—just a plain, stark, cloud-piercing shaft; but grand and awe-inspiring, making us think of the immensity of time and the staggeringly greater immensity of eternity. Compared with it in form, a rat-trap is intricate—but how little and insignificant!

An ocean is a simple thing—just a mighty expanse of water; but vast and terrible, even in its calm. Compared with it a tiny waterpower is complex indeed.

Lincoln's Gettysburg speech is a simple thing—just a few small words, humbly and directly spoken. Compared with it the latest joke in a comic paper is a work of intricacy—but what a comparison!

President Wilson is simple and direct as a rifle ball. Roosevelt is uproarious and complex as a comic acrobat. Yet compare the results of a few months of Wilson with seven years of Roosevelt!

Mighty is simplicity!

According to the stories some of these fishermen tell, you'd almost think they started the idea of a 100-pound parcel post so they could mail their catches back home.

THE NEW HAVEN'S WISE CHOICE.

The directors of the New Haven system have chosen wisely, as the people of the Northwest well know, in picking Howard Elliott, president of the Northern Pacific, to be its head.

That he is an able and experienced railroad man his record makes it unnecessary to say—particularly his record as president of the Northern Pacific railroad. He has worked up from the ranks, this former rodman, and today he is the thoroughly good railroad man the New Haven needs.

But the New Haven needs more than that, and to the difficult field to which he is now called Mr. Elliott brings additional qualities which he will find most useful there—the high qualities of humanity, of geniality, of thoughtfulness for his employes and for the public. These are qualities which the New Haven system seems to need greatly, for it appears to be completely out of tune with its public and in none too harmonious a relationship with its employes.

The Northwest loses a good man, and it will miss him; but it will wish him well in the difficult task that has fallen to him and in the high responsibility to which he has been called.

Christmas savings clubs are now in order, it is said. What's become of the movement for a safe and sane Christmas?

WALL STREET'S TRADE AND THE COUNTRY'S.

Occasional flurries do not disguise the fact that business has been wretched of late in Wall Street.

Trade there has been in the doldrums. Therefore Wall Street has been a center of pessimism and despair.

But business outside of Wall Street is good. Even if the public has not been speculating in the securities of railroads and industrial corporations, the public has been patronizing them and they have been making money. Railroads, manufacturers and merchants, on the whole, have been doing very well indeed. Labor is fully employed and wages are good.

Wall Street has shut itself in a dark closet and swears there is no sunlight. The country outside, in the open, knows better.

What's the matter? Nothing whatever except that the people have not been playing the game; that's all.

That's bad for Wall Street, but good for the people. It would be bad for Wall Street, but good for the people, if the present practice of not playing the Wall Street game should become confirmed as a habit.

The Conquest.

He brought her gifts of Araby,
Deep-tinted beryl and magic jade,
Red coral from a ravished sea,
And scarabs by a Bedouin made;
But Phyllis smiled and fingered long
The string of passion's golden verse
That I had wrought of every song
Within a poet-lover's purse.

Bright-jeweled ropes of fabled worth
He hung about her dove-soft throat;
Flame-rubies from the womb of earth
That burned in centuries remote;
Pale opals steeped in desert lore
And fraught with mystic burgeoning;
But Phyllis turned and whispered o'er
A sonnet of my golden string.

Upon her hair of raven's sheen
With reverent hands like priest he laid
Tear-pearls that dreamed of some sad queen
Who loved and lost and knelt and prayed;
And knelt and prayed as he had done
To her gray eyes that danced above,
While Phyllis with a lilting run
Hummed sweet my triolet of love.

'Tis true of rhyme and other arts
That errant fancy rears and balks,
And knowing much of maiden hearts
Apollo weeps where Midas stalks;
Alas, for poets all, I fear,
Their hopes ephemeral grow dim,
For Phyllis with a parting tear
Smiled up at me and married him.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

MODEL TOWN BUT DROP IN BUCKET.

To the Editor of The Herald:

A few weeks ago there appeared in your paper on the front page, in large type, an article announcing the steel corporation would build a model city adjoining its new steel plant at Gary. The writer is familiar with all operations at that place, and believes that the article referred to above was somewhat misleading, giving the public the impression that the steel company would build a small metropolis.

In the Wednesday issue of your paper is a news item relative to the so-called model city, wherein "The Minnesota Steel company is advertising for bids for the installation of sewer, water mains and street improvements, the area to be so improved being one-half mile long by one-fourth mile wide."

Now, if this is the area of this new model city then it consists of but eighty acres, for two forty-acre tracts have these dimensions, one-half by one-fourth mile.

When one stops to consider that today there is within the corporate limits of Gary, Ind., an area of thirty-one square miles, and that the steel plant site here consisting of approximately 1,700 acres, all the Gary townsite, all of New Duluth townsite, in fact the entire area of that beautiful plateau bounded partly on the north by Smithville, on the east and south by the St. Louis river, on the west and north by a range of high rocky hills, consists of but eight square miles, it is absurd for anyone not informed to think that the building of some houses for employes on an area consisting of about eighty acres, can seriously affect present developments, or future developments, adjoining this great steel plant; in fact, it becomes a benefit, for it is a part of the district, the new steel plant city. At Gary, Ind., the steel corporation built 608 houses for its employes, which are a part of Gary, Ind., today. In the event the Minnesota Steel company builds some houses for its employes, the writer cannot understand any differently than that this becomes a part of the whole district, the new steel city, which is somewhat limited, being eight square miles in area. The best authorities state that without a doubt 25,000 people will within a few years inhabit that district adjoining the new steel plant, that an industry the size of this one with a few subsidiary ones will support a population of this size.

The writer volunteers this information for the benefit of those who have taken fear of something entirely imaginary, and are making it difficult for those optimistic enough to believe that Duluth is to have an increase of 25,000 population due to the coming of the new steel plant, and are working to get that additional population. In brief, Duluth's worst enemies today are her own knockers.

The Breakdown

Collier's: Once the virtue of women was safeguarded by three great controls. These were the religious control, the family control, and the control by public opinion in a watchful community. In the earlier times the evening hours of the girl were watched over. When she went out it was a friend's house with an older woman within call. When she made an outing, a picnic, a dance, a theater party, it was with a group of young persons, all of them known to each other. And all the group were personally known to the community in which they did their merrymaking, so that a social control wrapped round each one of them. No hour of recreation but was passed within hail of older, friendly persons. That was the life of the girl in the American community in earlier days. And now in the large cities comes a sudden removal of almost all observation from the girl's daily life. Her evenings are her own, as never before in history. She is free to go out among strangers, to be introduced by a stranger, and so passed along to whatever unknown predatory male deems it worth his while to reach out for her. She is free to wander into the public dance halls, which are the chief form of recreation in the cities, and spend five hours in dancing with strangers till excitement, and possibly also wine, have weakened her will. And among those crowds of pleasure seekers not one person cares whether she emerges innocent or tainted. And all that night life is surrounded by the vast secrecy of the city. Of the home restraint we have the testimony of many girls that they have grown weary. Parents state that the girl is "wild" and cannot be controlled. The girl tells how, being tired of the home, she came to the town and boarded. In the anxious, toil-worn life of the family, her situation is not searched and analyzed. Families are absorbed in the struggle for existence. The father's wages have not kept pace with the steady increases in the cost of living, but his family is larger every little while, more costly, more of a burden to his perplexed mind and aging body. The mother is spent with childbearing and the constant fret of the meal getting and the younger children under foot. Often this situation is still further intensified by outside work added to the day's duties—work of washing clothes or floor scrubbing in an office building. She is troubled and overwhelmed by the insistent duties lying straight ahead of her, and she has no strength with which to cope with the more hidden problems of the daughter's life. Those subtler matters are never voluntarily set before her to solve, because the girl is reticent of her perplexities.

SATURDAY NIGHT TALK

Eyes That See.

Two men have lately returned from Europe, having completed practically the same itinerary. Yet of the same scenes they have quite different accounts to give. One has looked at Europe with his physical eyes and the other with the eyes of his mind as well.

One traveler can a tale unfold of certain obvious and commonplace experiences. He discriminates between the menus of famous cafes. He can tell of tricky cab drivers, of the attractions of shops and concert halls.

The other man, having taken his food and lodging for granted, has returned with a mind enriched. He has become acquainted with cathedral, cloister and gallery. Great pictures have yielded their inspiration; historic places and buildings have burned themselves into his memory. One learns more about Europe from this observant man than from his friend.

It is only an illustration of the fact that some eyes may look and see, and that other eyes may look and see—nothing.

Bayard Taylor related how, on an Alpine holiday, he gazed on the wonderful Mere de Glace in company with an Englishman whose only comment was: "All that ice would bring a lot of money in Calcutta in the hot season, don't you know."

People see about what their tastes and training allow them to see. They notice what fits in with their interests and meets their point of view. A barber who had been presented at court was asked regarding the glories he had seen. He replied: "Oh, the king was exceedingly well trimmed."

There is a higher and a lower kind of vision. The higher sort is less dependent on eyes than on mind and heart. Your dog has sharper eyes than you have. In the physical sense he sees more than you see. But he cannot apprehend a noble picture or read an inspiring book. Facts that make your mental world form no part of his.

He really sees who beholds not only the thing itself, but grasps its meaning and significance. A man's eyes are open when he has sensed the fact that we live in an invisible realm of motives, feelings, purposes that give significance to all else.

The natural world is not merely a quantity of dull, dead matter to be weighed and analyzed but the garment of deity.

Earth's crammed with heaven
And every common bush afire with God
But only those who see put off their shoes
The rest sit around it and pluck blackberries.

Simply to observe phenomena and to tabulate material facts is not the highest wisdom. It is possible for a scientist with reams of data at command to be blind as a bat at the highest visions.

Of old, the prophet, Elisha, prayed for his young friend, "Oh, Lord, open his eyes that he may see." It is a prayer each may well offer for himself and for his neighbor. If it were answered for us as for the young man, we, too, should look out upon a universe pervaded by spiritual forces. For us, too, the mountainside would be filled with horses and chariots of fire.

THE PARSON.

No Question About It.

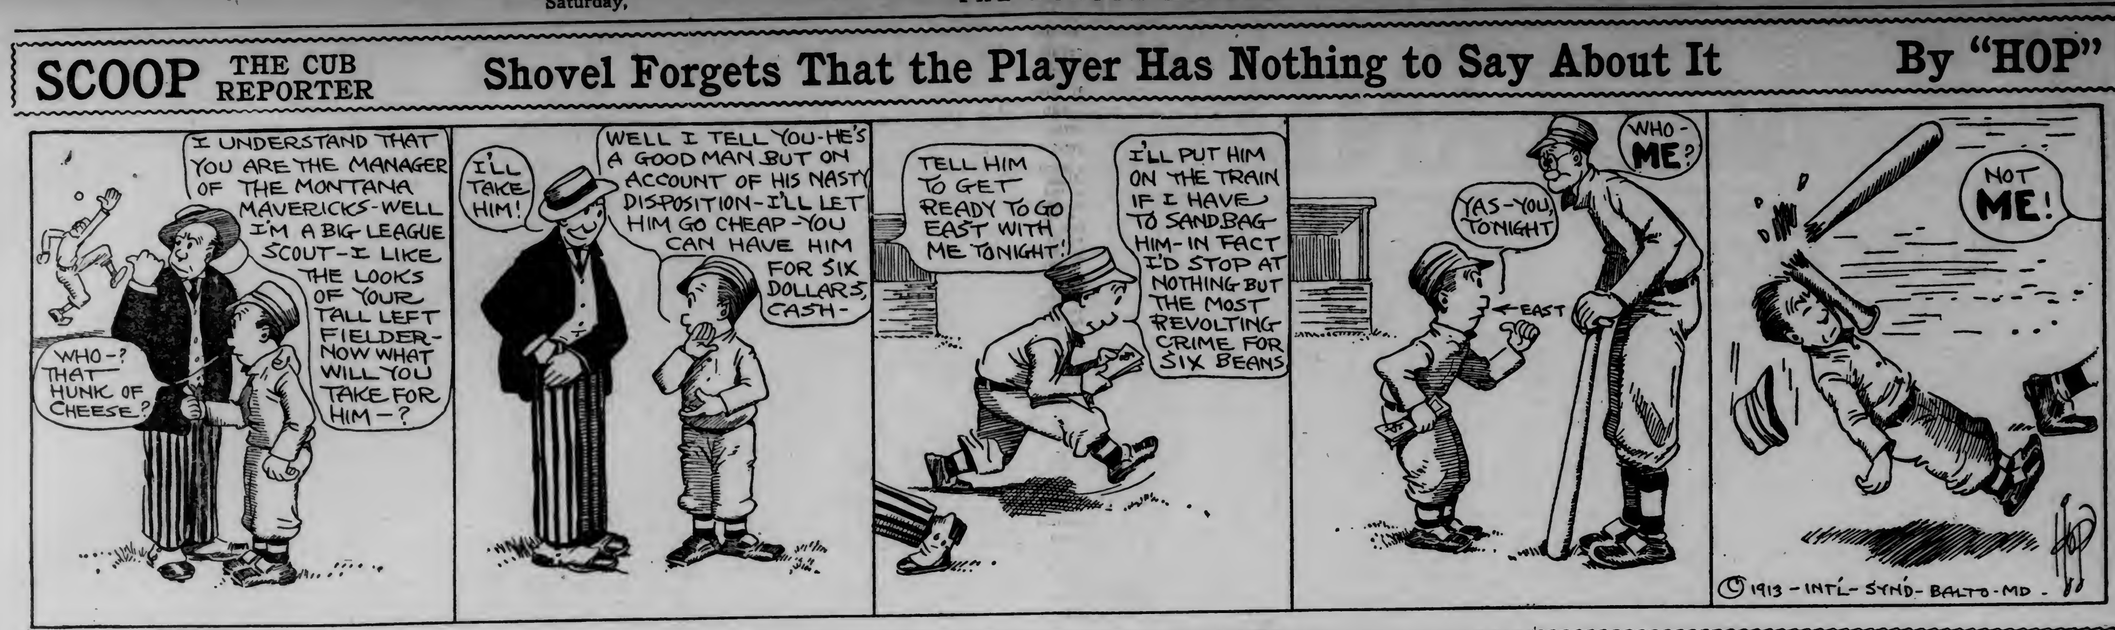

Life: A child adopted from an orphans' home was being ridiculed by the other children because he had no real parent. The conversation went about as follows:

"Aw, you haven't got any real father and mother."

"Maybe I haven't, but the ones I have got love me as much as yours do you."

"They do not. Ours are our real parents."

"Well, mine love me more than yours do you 'cause mine picked me out of a hundred other babies and yours had to take what they got," replied the adopted son.

CAPTAIN POTTS, "PLUCKED."

By SAVOYARD

Washington, July 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—In strict conformity with law and in routine of duty the retiring board of the United States navy department, better known as the "plucking" board, selected Capt. Templin M. Potts as one of the naval officers to be retired. The "plucking" board was composed of five rear admirals of the United States navy, and there is no pretense that there was the slightest evasion or violation of the law or custom in their act. But in certain circles they are seeking to raise the devil about it because Capt. Potts had not attained to the rank of rear admiral. It is an echo of the Sampson-Schley controversy of over a dozen years ago, the most discreditable episode in the annals of the navy—indeed, the sole disgrace that service ever labored under.

Templin M. Potts is his name. It was my fortune to be present at the navy yard here when Potts deposed as a witness in the Schley court-martial. He and one other officer, a midshipman whose name I do not recall, made oath to the effect that Admiral Schley discovered a timidity in the battle of Santiago that amounted to downright cowardice. The murmur of dissent and disgust that come from the audience on that occasion was but the expression of the American people from ocean to ocean. Though the tribunal, except Admiral Dewey, was hostile to him, the court in its findings gave testimony to the valor and intrepidity of Schley in the battle, a rebuke to Potts.

The president and navy department were inimical to Schley. They insisted that Sampson, ten miles away, was the hero of the day and that it was an outrage to give any credit to the man in immediate command. Until Josephus Daniels got on deck there was a nest of favorites in the navy department. The newspaper boys call them the "high-binders." For years the department had been what Charles Dickens called the "Circumlocution Office." Thackeray called it the "Tape and Sealing-Wax Office." It was a bureaucracy as rotten at the core as that which Balzac pictures to us, and if undisturbed it would have visited on our navy all the plagues France suffered under Napoleon the Little.

This here Templin M. Potts was one of the pets of the high-binders, who ran the navy under Roosevelt and Taft. Instead of going to sea they sent him to Berlin, there to be naval attache and to hobnob with the darlings of the diplomatic corps. He came back, and instead of going on the ocean wave to endure some of the hardships of his profession he was given a desk in the department and his service, such as it was, was easy. But the law requires that an officer must experience a certain amount of sea service before he is promoted to the rank of rear admiral, and finally Potts went to sea in order to "earn" the promotion. Ere he had been to sea a sufficient length of days requisite to lay claim to promotion he attained to the age of retirement and was retired according to law. Had he been at sea while he was gallavanting around in Berlin, or during some of the years he was lounging in the gorgeous parlors of the Army and Navy club in this town, he would now be rear admiral, and independent of the "plucking board."

That is the case of Potts. He was given soft berths in reward for his hostility to a hero. It never entered into the calculations of the "high-binders" that a man like Josephus Daniels would ever get to be head of the navy department. The very first thing that Josephus did was to order every naval officer should go to sea a part of the time, and that every fellow should be equal to every other fellow in this respect. His idea is that sea duty is for all, and shore duty for all, the services apportioned without favor and according to the ordinary canons of plain justice.

Drake and Frobisher, Nelson and Collingwood of the British navy; Paul Jones and Decatur, Preble and Farragut, Perry and Truxton of the American navy, got to be sailors by treading planks at sea. A. Potts, though he were Nelson and Farragut combined, could never learn to fight a ship while ornamenting society circles at Berlin or holding down a bureau of the navy department at Washington. He must be on the water—that is the way Josephus looks at it, at any rate, and the people are certain to agree with him.

If in 1898 we had been fighting a man of our own size and the war had been conducted as, in theory, the war with Spain was waged, it would have had disastrous effect. There was that absurdity, "the board of strategy," that sat here in Washington to sail our ships on water and direct our army on land.

But there was history for it. In her wars against Napoleon Austria had a board of strategy that bulked the Aulic council sitting as a bureau in Schomburne palace, this council directed the Archduke Charles and his brother John and sought to teach them how to lick the mighty Corsican. The sad mess they made of it is history. Again the directory with a real great war minister a member of it, Carnot, made a plan for Bonaparte to follow in Italy; but he paid no attention to it. And Napoleon himself, by this time first consul, took the army of Italy, and gave to Moreau the larger army of the Rhine. He made a plan for Moreau to follow that was as brilliant as that he himself subsequently so successfully and so splendidly executed, culminating in the capitulation of Ulm; but Moreau, stout soldier that he was, did not have the genius to execute Napoleon's plan and was allowed to act on his own initiative. He succeeded beyond expectation and was hero of Hohenlinden.

"On Linden when the sun was low
All bloodless lay the untrodden snow."

You constantly heard it in this town, when the highbinders were running the navy department, that it was perfectly proper and absolutely necessary to keep certain exceptionally capable officers in the department bureaus to study plans and systems and things—in case of war.

According to Mr. Secretary Daniels the way to fit a sailor for battle is to make him familiar with his ship as she sails the seas, apportioning his service on the water and on the shore with some idea of proportion and discretion. And there is a heap of reason in it, too.

Capt. Potts threatens to go into the courts and have his action of battery against the navy department.

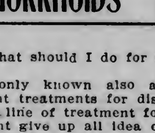

Of Nelson a great British statesman remarked: "In the opinion of the world the one unrivalled thunderbolt that England has forged." And Nelson learned the art of war at sea, not as naval attache, or at a desk at the admiralty. And it is to be hoped that Capt. Potts now realizes that what goes over the devil's back sometimes comes under his belly.

The DOCTOR'S HELPS

FOR A FLOATING KIDNEY AND HEMORRHOIDS

A Wisconsin reader writes:

"I would like to know how to treat piles. Also, what should I do for a dislocated kidney?"

There are all sorts of treatments for piles, commonly known also as hemorrhoids. Likewise, there are a number of different treatments for dislocated kidney. The simplest and most effective general line of treatment for these two conditions jointly has been to have the patient give up all idea of doing any work for at least one month. The patient should go to bed, and remain there. The reclining position and the rest will enable the organs to regain their natural tone and vigor very quickly. It is often most inconvenient for a sufferer from either one or both of these complaints to go to bed and remain there for one month. But it is the quickest method of relief, and the most lasting.

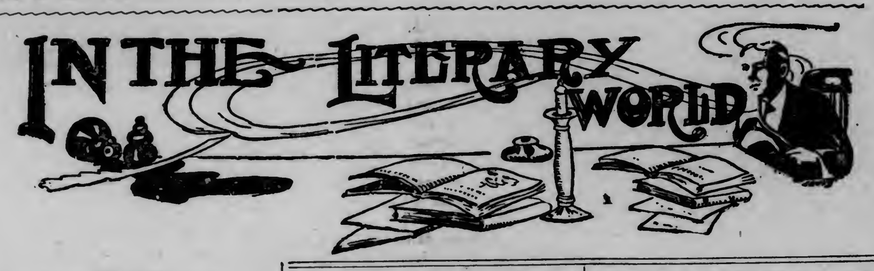

Now for the supplementary treatment. Do this: Once a week, for four successive times, say, upon each Monday, take one-quarter of a grain of Calomel every half-hour. Chew this up finely and wash down with a glass of hot water. Take twelve of these tablets, making three grains in all. Two hours after the last dose has been taken, swallow two tablespoonfuls of Castor Oil. Place an ice cap or rubber bag filled with cracked ice at the rectum. Keep the hemorrhoids as cold as possible. Eat freely of a rich vegetable diet, such as potatoes, corn, beans, peas, cabbage, carrots, and if these are eaten preferably boiled they will agree better. Eat all the cream dressing upon them that is desired. A bowlful of bread and milk, into which has been poured a half glass of cream, will do much good in putting on fat. Three good meals should be eaten each day according to the above outline.

The purpose to be accomplished is two-fold: One is to increase the fat pad which envelops and supports the loose kidney. When this natural fat pad has become firm and large it will perform its function and prevent the kidney embedded within from moving or growing dislocated. The position of lying on the back for one month will also hurry along the relief from this distressing symptom, as the kidney does not slip out of place because of any force of gravity.

There are artificial belt made which are supposed to act as a support to a dislocated kidney. Invariably, they prove to be failures, besides being a continual nuisance and physical source of discomfort. They cannot reach the seat of the trouble, which lies several inches from the skin, and the attempt to restore a dislocated or floating kidney by this method merely results in a waste of time, money and patience. Quiet rest in bed, good, rich, fat-producing food and a month's time for the fat to formulate is the best medicine. Many patients nowadays are having their loose kidneys sutured to the muscle and held in fixed position by means of this surgical operation. I always prefer to give the one month's rest in bed a thorough try-out first. It usually wins.

As to hemorrhoids, if they persist, in spite of the ice cold applications and the weekly cleansing of the liver and bowel veins, they should be removed by an operation. Ordinarily, however, if the liver has nothing organically the matter with it to dam back the blood and thus engorge the vessels which compose the hemorrhoidal veins, the trouble will disappear, provided the month's treatment is properly carried out. When the nervous system is overtaxed and the patient is very tired, it frequently happens that hemorrhoids will manifest themselves. A prolapse of the rectum also occasionally develops. But with adequate rest of one's nerves, simple foods and no undue physical strain, these temporary developments will quickly subside.

Strong Narrative Poetry.

THE STORY OF A ROUNDHOUSE and other poems. By John Masefield. New York: The Macmillan company. $1.30 net.

What a tremendous story-teller this poet is! "Dauber," a single tragic tale in verse which fills half the volume, is an immensely "gripping" thing that wrenches the heart cords. It is the story of a lad who shipped on a clipper bound around the Horn, to learn the sea and ships and sailors so he could paint them; of how his shipmates jeered and cruelly plagued him; of how, off "Cape Stiff," he found his mettle after the terrible storm and cold and danger had all but frozen the heart within him. It is a hundred and sixty pages of stark power, of poetry strong as Hercules, of descriptions so vivid as to make the blood creep, then leap. "Gripping," we said—a much abused word seldom so apt as here. The rest is half a hundred poems in many themes, most of them strikingly illustrating the genius of the poet. The salt tang of the sea and its boisterous freedom blow through the pages of this book of beauty and power.

A Tale of Rare Charm.

A PRISONER IN FAIRYLAND. By Algernon Blackwood, author of "John Silence," "Jimbo," etc. New York: The Macmillan company. $1.35 net.

Henry Rogers, a rich man with a vision and with continuing kinship with his childhood; Herbert Montmorency Minks, a London city clerk with a poetic soul; John Frederic Campden, better known as "Daddy," an author whose cleverness shot just above popularity until his soul was illumined by golden gorgeous from the Starlight cave, and his exceedingly interesting family: these, as well as others, are the heroes and heroines of the piece. There is a lot about some very human folks, and about the Starlight Express to the Star cave, where lost starlight collects and you go and get dusted with it and bring a lot back to brighten the lives of others. The author is a poet, writing in whimsical prose to tell us that thoughts are the only enduring things, dreams the only realities, and to make the telling very rich in fancy and imaginative charm—a charm so elusive that it makes quite impossible any attempt to describe it. Sympathy and doing for others are the keynotes. You are glad when "Daddy" dipped into the Starlight cave and got his thoughts "unwumbled" so his ideas got clear through. It may be said of the author of this book, as Rogers said of Daddy's story: "You have caught Beauty naked in your net of stars, but you have left her as you found her—shining, silvery, unclothed."

And of the book the author may again be quoted: "For the key of it all was sympathy, and the delicate soul of it was tender human love."

Good Vacation Reading.

THE DEVIL'S ADMIRAL. By Frederick Ferdinand Moore. New York: Doubleday, Page & Co. $1.25 net.

THE CRYSTAL STOPPER. By Maurice Leblanc, author of "Arsene Lupin," "813," etc. New York: Doubleday, Page & Co. $1.25 net.

PRECIOUS WATERS. By A. M. Chisholm, author of "The Boss of Wind River," etc. New York: Doubleday, Page & Co. $1.25 net.

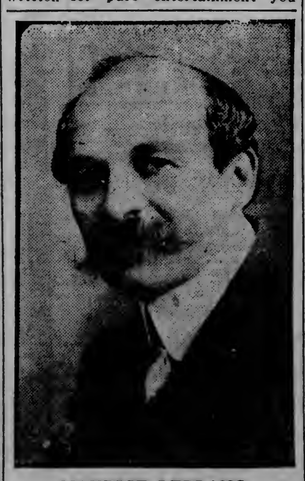

One should be as exacting in his vacation reading as in hours devoted to serious reading. Only you want a different kind in vacation. Then, what more suitable than pirates, hidden treasure, detectives and the free open air?

In this interesting trio of novels written for pure entertainment you have all of these, and it is a set very well suited for your vacation trip.

"The Devil's Admiral" is the pirate story, and it is a good one. The publishers say that an office boy on whom they tried it before publication said that "it is all to the good and has Old Sleuth skinned a mile," and you can hardly do better than to let an office boy pick out your vacation reading.

"The Crystal Stopper" is about Arsene Lupin again, but this time he is pictured baffled at every turn by the most unscrupulous criminals in Europe and involved in dense struggle for his very life. There is "something doing" every minute, and it's mostly hair-raising.

"Precious Waters," though an entirely different type of story, fits well in this five-inch shelf of books for the outing trip. It is a tale of the foothill country of the Western arid belt where the ranchers face the problem of irrigation and a struggle to save their streams from the railroads. There is lively action, spirited humor, with the love theme more strongly developed than in the other two.

How to Make a Garage.

MAKING A GARAGE. By A. Raymond Ellis. New York: McBride, Nast & Co. 50 cents net.

Mr. Ellis set himself, in this little book, the task of telling how to make a garage that is easy to enter and back out of, that keeps a car in good condition, that is a suitable workroom and conveniently equipped, that is fireproof and attractively built, and that still is of moderate cost. This information should be of great value to those contemplating the construction of garages on the home grounds, for the author has performed his task well, and has included a wide range of practical and useful instruction. The volume is a new addition to the series of house and garden making books put out by this firm.

A Nice Story—Not.

THE VOICE OF THE HEART. By Margaret Blake. New York: O. W. Dillingham company. $1.25 net.

"The Voice of the Heart," by Margaret Blake, an author who also admits responsibility for "The Greater Joy," is a nice bunch of filth encased in a perfectly good binding and printed on acceptable paper.

This book is not so good as "Three Weeks," which at least contained a natural woman; nor is it so well done or so wise as "Life's Shop Window." It probably mimics either or both, poorly.

The story is not unusual. The wording is. A young woman with a mistaken case of scruples against the flesh impulses of the opposite sex is the magnet for quite a few men with evil designs. There is the boy she loves. They two work in a music store. He plays the piano; she sings. Comes a contest wherein a rich, eccentric and capable music master of the Old World is seeking a prima donna. The girl, Bessie Garside, proves to be "it." But there remains the boy, Richard! "Now to get rid of the boy!" exclaims the music master, who meanwhile falls desperately in love with Betty. To keep the reader's mind open for the success of Dick, let it be stated that the music master looks like a toad! But said music master is resourceful, if not handsome. He finds an actress who resembles "except in the eyes" the heroine—Bet. She uses her alleged corrupt wiles on Dicky, and he falls. • • • "You cannot be married for three years," the doctor tells Dick.

"Now," says the heroine, after she has heard of Richard's "sickness," "I must raise money to get him well!" So she starts out to get the money. Result: Every one offers her money, but—.

She finally marries the old toad—to get the money. Meanwhile she becomes a great singer and goes to Europe. She hands Dick money and he "gets well." Finally the old toad gives her a divorce and she marries her mercury-soaked Richard, and, so far as the neighbors can ascertain, they live happily ever afterwards.

Nice story, is it not? It is not!

Children's Books.

LADY LINDA. By Amy Brooks, author of the Prue Books, "Dorothy Dainty," "Randy," etc. Chicago: M. A. Donahue & Co. $1.

This is a pretty story for girls, about Linda Melville, a bright and cheery sprite, and her adventures and those of her friends. There is a circus, there are flower parties, and a poor little girl to be helped.

PARTNERS THREE. By Ralph Henry Barbour. Chicago: M. A. Donahue & Co. $1.

Jack Herrick, skipper and owner of the Crystal Spring, a sailboat in which he sold water to vessels—for irrigation, not navigation—and Harry Folsom and Bec Mansfield, rich lads, are the heroes of this lively story for boys. They go treasure-hunting on nobody's island and have innumerable adventures, the telling of which makes good reading, especially as it is enlivened by clean humor.

BEE AND BUTTERFLY: A Tale of Two Cousins. By Lucy Foster Madison, author of the Peggy Owen books, "A Maid of Salem Towne," etc. Chicago: M. A. Donahue & Co. $1.

Beatrice Raymond is a girl of 15, very lively and very human, and greatly interested in nature. Her father is a scientist who has been abroad ten years engaged in scientific work, but is coming home when the story opens. Beatrice's cousin, out of mischief, substitutes her picture for that of Beatrice and sends it to the latter's father, which very bad joke makes very bad consequences for a while as the father has been away so long that he does not know the difference, and is disappointed to find that Beatrice is not so pretty as he supposed. What came of it, and how it worked out, makes the story, and a very pretty story it is, with an undercurrent of easy and likable natural science to give it value as well as additional interest.

Those who have taken the cure at Carlsbad, and those who have not, will read with interest the article in Harper's for August on "Carlsbad the Cosmopolitan," by Harrison Rhodes, with illustrations in tint by Andre Castaigne. It is a splendidly written story about the Carlsbad springs and the people who take care of the thousands who visit them annually. "Atoms" is the title of an article by Sir William Ramsay and it tells about molecules and ions and various other things. "On the Banks of the River Jordan," by Stephen Graham; "What Makes a Story Great," by A. Maurice Low, and "A Naval Victory of One Hundred Years Ago, the Battle of Lake Erie," by Benson J. Lossing, are other articles of particular interest. The fiction includes "On the Instalment Plan," by Cora Harris; "The Iron Star," by Perceival Gibbon; "The Imperturbable Duchess," by J. D. Beresford; "Big Sister Solly," by Mary E. Wilkins Freeman; "The Critical Bookstore," by W. D. Howells.

Scribner's Magazine for August is a fiction number, containing short stories by Thomas Nelson Page, James B. Connolly, Katharine Fullerton Gerould and others, with instalments of the notable serials by Mrs. Wharton and John Galsworthy. Vernon Lee, who spends most of her time in Italy, has made notes of several English pilgrimages which have the point of view of one seeing her native country with a fresh eye. They are entitled "Things of the Past," and give glimpses of "Oxford With a Foreigner," "A Country Town," "A Castle in Devonshire," "A Cathedral Town," with most charming illustrations by Howard Giles, who made a pilgrimage to illustrate the actual subjects. James B. Connolly's story, "Sonnie-Boy's People," which leads the number, is a striking presentation of loyalty and patriotism, and draws the contrast between duty to a government job put up to an engineer by the president and great material gain offered by a private corporation. The story is not a preachment, but is a charming revelation of several attractive characters. Thomas Nelson Page contributes "Thomas' Baptism," a negro story, in his most amusing vein.

The ever increasing popularity of the "World's Series" in baseball is the subject of an article by C. H. Claudy, author of "The Battle of Baseball," which appears in the August St. Nicholas. This authority tells how when the series started in 1903 only 100,429 fans saw the game, and the newspapers gave very little space to accounts of them, whereas last fall the attendance was 251,901, and the newspapers talked of little else. And he gives a live account of all the big contests that took place during these ten years.

In the Survey for July, a vigorous and searching discussion of widows' pensions appears from the pen of Dr. Edward T. Devine. Not as associate editor of the Survey, nor as secretary of the New York Charity Organization society, nor as director of the School of Philanthropy or as professor at Columbia—not as any of these, but as an individual, he answers the question: "When is a pension not a pension?" "Social work at present lacks a plan to make it effective," Dr. Simon N. Patten of the University of Pennsylvania, tells Survey readers. The crying need of this 138th year of our independence is not for more social agencies but for a comprehensive social philosophy.

The August Metropolitan contains a letter from the West Virginia Mining association attacking Alan L. Benson's article in the June issue and the author's reply. This puts before the readers of the Metropolitan both sides of the question as to who was right and who was wrong in the recent strike war in West Virginia. "Repressing the Irrepressibles" is a live and interesting article by William Leavitt Stoddard, telling about the new insurgents in the house of representatives at Washington. In "Why Leave Home?" Richard Harding Davis tells about the people who visit the West Indies and how they abuse their chances really to enjoy themselves.

In the Engineering Magazine for July the leading place is devoted to an article by Arundel Cotter, on "The Conservation of the Worker." The paper is an expose of the methods adopted by the United States Steel corporation for the safeguarding of its employes and contains numerous illustrations showing the precautions taken about machinery, together with the warnings posted around its plants. Mr. Cotter explains the work of the corporation's committee of safety, and how this committee endeavors to educate the workmen so that they will observe every precaution, not only in their own work, but in the safeguarding of others. The spirit of the "Safety First" movement, Mr. Cotter shows, is spreading into numerous other fields of labor.

In the August Century Marshall Whitlach, a noted golfer, explains why particularly brainy men often make a poor showing at that sport. They think so hard about hitting the ball in just the proper manner, he says, that their muscles are tensed, and the free swing of the stroke is spoiled. His theory, suggested to him by the Montessori system, is that the player should relax his mind as well as his muscles, feel out the correct position and aim in action; in short, that good golf is all a matter of subconscious habit. The soundness of his theory is upheld by his recent scores in the Knickerbocker club contest at the Oakland course.

A remarkable contribution to the August Woman's Home Companion is an article entitled "Ethics and Cooks" by Zona Gale, in which the author shows how scientific cooking is really in its infancy. Various foods have various values and various human beings have various requirements, yet food is seldom cooked except in hospitals with a view to the special requirements of the body. Miss Gale thinks that a great revolution will take place along this line. Other interesting articles in the August number are: "Talents and Vocations Shown by Handwriting;" "The World's Greatest Lovers;" "A Garden Fair for Summer Time;" "Where to Spend Your Vacation," and "Make Your Christmas Presents Early."

Cornelia A. P. Comer's essay, "Intensive Living" given the place of honor in the July Atlantic, is an interesting discussion of the limits of woman's personality. This attempt to express certainties of the intuition under formulas of the intellect is singularly provocative of discussion. Samuel O. Dunn, editor of the Railway Age Gazette, comes out in favor of a practical plan for the diminution of railroad accidents, a subject which he has studied for many years. Ellen Key, "the prophetess of Sweden," contributes the first of two papers on "Education for Motherhood." There is a Confederate Portrait of Alexander H. Stephens, by Gamaliel Bradford, Jr., a pleasant picture of "Pepys at Church," by George Hodges, a discussion of "Eugenics and Militarism," by Vernon L. Kellogg, and a paper full of observation on "The Wild Mother," by Dallas Lore Sharp.

The August American Magazine is a fiction number and leads off with the first instalment of a new serial by Inez Haynes Gillmore entitled "Angel Island." Mrs. Gillmore is the author of the celebrated "Phoebe and Ernest" stories. The scene of this new story is laid on an uninhabited island where, owing to a shipwreck, five men are stranded and there put to work out their problem under primitive conditions. In the course of the story five women are to be introduced into the community and the tale is to center around the solution under the various difficulties that arise. Mrs. Gillmore is an ardent suffragist, and while in her new story the romance is always paramount, the story symbolizes the whole feminist movement with a vividness, a concreteness, impossible in the most ably written narrative of fact.

Among the articles in Science for the past month are "Heredity and Microscopical Research," by Professor Edmund B. Wilson of Columbia university, the leading American authority on this subject; a tribute to Joseph Leidy, the great zoologist and anatomist of the University of Pennsylvania, by Professor Charles S. Minot, of the Harvard Medical school; "Concerning the Figure and the Dimensions of the Universe of Space," by Professor Cassius J. Keyser, of Columbia university; "Some Problems of Medical Education," by Dr. Egbert Lefevre, of the Cornell Medical school, and the "Psychiatric Clinic and the Community," by Dr. Stewart Paton of Princeton university.

The August issue of Lippincott's contains an unusually fine complete novel, entitled "The Egerton Standard," by Eleanor M. Ingram. "The Egerton Standard" has for its theme family pride—two kinds. Egerton, the hero, is a very wealthy young business man, the son of an exacting, tyrannical father. Both father and son pride themselves upon their unswerving honesty. But young Egerton falls in love with the daughter of an impoverished old Spanish aristocrat, and the old Don will not permit his daughter to wed a man who cannot show an unblemished line of ancestors. Egerton's grandfather made and peddled soap—the foundation of a business which has grown to be worth millions. Egerton gets his own way—and the girl—by a trick. Of course exposure follows, and there is a merry rumpus. All ends happily, but for a time we are reminded of the immovable-body-and-irresistible-force problem. It is really a novel situation and very cleverly worked out.

Henry C. Rowland's latest novel, "The Golden Goddess," is printed complete in the August month-end number of the Popular Magazine. It is a romance of the Balkan war, and is one of the most realistic stories Dr. Rowland has ever written. He is one of the few American writers who know the Balkans and the people who live among the dark mountains. It is a stirring and vivid picture of one of the greatest military exploits of the last fifty years, a picture of the latest and most thrilling episode of history, painted wonderfully on a large canvas.

The August Smart Set presents at the top of its table of contents, as its most striking feature of the month, a story by Julius Grinnell Furthman called "The Inn of Youth," which pictures middle-class American family life in a quite unusual manner. It is a story of some of the grimmer phases of the relations between father and son, unrelieved by much sentiment. The whole action occurs between the dinner hour and bedtime. There are a great many families who will recognize themselves in this story, although few magazines probably would publish a story of domestic conditions treated in just this way.

"When Sailors Were Sailors" is the first article of the big August Outing. It is a true story of life aboard a sailing ship twenty years ago. For the fan there is "Finding the Stars of Baseball," an interesting account of how a baseball scout earns his salary. For tennis players, there is "How to Play Doubles," by Raymond D. Little; for the fishermen, there's "The Angler and the Weather-Man;" for the dog lover, "Dogs That Think."

Articles of interest in the July Sports Afield are: "Our Southern Red Deer," "Life and Sport in Alaska," "In the Rainy Lake Country," "Pan Fishing on the Atlantic Coast," "The Annihilation of Bandit Tornow," "In the Demerara Bush," "Pike Fishing in the Leech Lake District," "A Hunting Trip in Western Florida," and "Goose Shooting in the Texas Panhandle." The department "Around the Camp Fire" is as full of "ginger" as ever, and the entire number is beautifully illustrated.

The August Ainslee's should prove unusually attractive to readers of fiction. "The Idealist," by Charles Saxby, is the opening novelette. One of them, the idealist, reaching out in his heart for the One Woman, be-

At the Lyceum

Pictures will be shown at the Lyceum tomorrow and Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week, with a change of program on Wednesday and Thursday. The program for tomorrow in kinemacolor shows some very interesting scenes aboard an American man of war, and a two-reel comedy, "Rise of Dr. Mabley." The black and white program for tomorrow comprises a two-reel story of the South Sea islands, "Quicksands," and a Tanhauser comedy featuring the Tanhauser kids in "The Crepe Bonnet."

On Wednesday, a special kinemacolor program showing the Pigeon Indians on the Glacier Park reservation will be shown. This is the film which these Indians themselves saw at the recent travel show in New York and pronounced "Heap great—but make Injun homesick." Also on Wednesday a powerful dramatic production made with great attention to scenic detail, and based on a plot of more than common interest entitled, "East and West," will be shown in kinemacolor together with the regular black and white program.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday, kinemacolor's greatest feature, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," from the famous story by Robert Louis Stevenson, will be shown. The photoplay follows closely the story. One realistic feature of this story which would be impossible in black and white is the mixing and changing of the drug. A red liquid poured into another liquid becomes pure white, which in turn by the use of a powder is turned grass green. The latest styles in bathing suits will also be shown in kinemacolor on the above dates, together with scenes showing the contest for the Jackson Challenge cup for curling at Grindelwald, Switzerland.

Direct from it's triumph of Boston, Chicago and New York, with it's sensational runs of 200 and 150 nights in each city, comes Lew Fields' big production, "Hanky Panky" to the Lyceum theater for an engagement of two nights, commencing Monday, Aug. 4.

The piece was originally intended for the use of Lew Fields himself, and "Bobby" North was cast to play the part until the time for it's New York premier when Mr. Fields would succeed him.

The book is by Edgar Smith, and the lyrics and music are by E. Ray Goetz and A. Baldwin Sloane.

In the company are Max Rogers, the surviving member of the immortal Rogers, Harry Cooper, the famous comedian tenor; Hugh Cameron, transatlantic favorite; Clay Smith, musical comedy's "fashion plate" dancer; Arthur Carleton, Christine Nielsen, the golden voiced prima donna, Myrtle Gilbert, Virginia Evans, Flo May and William Montgomery and Florence Moore, favorite vaudevillians, and a typical Lew Fields' production de luxe, with a beauty chorus of fifty.

All-star casts are a rarity on the stage. Once in a while they are gathered for special engagements in New York or Chicago, and when they are taken on the road, only one of the original company may be retained, while the rest of the cast is made up of lesser lights. The case is different with "Fine Feathers." This all-star production, which broke all records at the Cort theater, Chicago, the first half of the season, and then went to the Astor theater, New York, where it duplicated its success, comes here almost direct from its Broadway triumph, with not a single change in its original cast of stars. The company still includes the names of Robert Edeson, Wilton Lackaye, Max Figman, Rose Coghlan, Lolita Robertson and Amelia Sumers—a group of stellar actors who have made "Fine Feathers" the biggest dramatic sensation in many years. So far it has not been seen anywhere outside of New York and Chicago, and only a few cities will be given an opportunity to see the original production. The engagement here is for Monday and Tuesday.

At the Empress

Almost directly from a tour of the largest vaudeville house worthy of mention in the United States, there will come to the Empress theater for four days starting Sunday afternoon, July 27, Knute Erickson's greatest successful musical comedy tabloid, "The Seminary Girl."

This simple announcement will probably be sufficient to send hundreds of theatergoers to the popular Empress for no musical comedy tabloid presented in this city in the past season has made a better impression than "The Seminary Girl" all over the country.

Young Mr. Woolfolk may condense, in fact has condensed several other successes, but it is in "The Seminary Girl" which playgoers will ever remember him for, not so much because of its big success, but because this musical play contains so many elements that tend to attract amusement seekers.

Apart from the coherent story and a well-sustained plot, with a very pretty love story running throughout its one long act or rather two beautiful scenes, "The Seminary Girl" contains enough song numbers to stock half a dozen plays of its kind, and they are all of that peculiarly fascinating kind that only Mr. Woolfolk and Knute Erickson know how to write. In "The Seminary Girl there are no less than twelve songs of this character.

The company which will interpret "The Seminary Girl" here is headed by the eccentric comedian Knute Erickson, who is very funny in this show. Mr. Erickson first created his present role about eight years ago with the original production. A large and well drilled chorus, the members of which are said to be not only fascinating to the eye but who can sing, and some very elaborate scenic and costume embellishments are the promise held out by the manangement for the presentation of this musical play.

Ben Toy, who has been playing his tabloid comedies in the East and South, expects to enter the western field this season. His tabloids include: "A Day at Sunnyside," "King of Tokio," "The Diamond Bracelet," "The Duke of Kankakee," "A Night in Loveland," and "The Four Twins."

• • •

Menlo Moore will not produce any tabloid musical comedies this season. This announcement is made after serious thought being given to the tabloid field by Mr. Moore, who believes that there are enough producers in the field to supply the demand very adequately. Mr. Moore has confined his operations in the past to the vaudeville field, producing, in the main, little sketches, which have been seen in Chicago and vicinity in the regular vaudeville show houses.

GOSSIP OF THE RIALTO

Ten years ago Madame Nazimova was barred by the government from ever appearing in any Russian theater because of her appearance in the nihilistic play "Tsar Feodor." But every other important country, especially wherever there are English speaking colonies, will be visited with a repertoire consisting largely of the plays of Ibsen, and a single J. M. Barrie play in three scenes, entitled "Half Hour."

The actual mechanics of the trip will be worked out in Charles Frohman's London offices, where the collapsible scenery necessary for a repertoire of eight plays will also be built. Madame Nazimova will not appear on the New York stage again before the completion of her tour around the world, but before that is undertaken she will fill the contracts made for the performances of "Bella Donna" at Detroit and a few Western cities, closing her "Bella Donna" season next March and then leaving for Sydney, New South Wales.

Madame Nazimove's tour around the world, commencing at Sydney, will have Melbourne as its second stop. Then the company will cross to China, Japan and India, and play throughout the principal theaters in South Africa. The project then includes her first appearance in England, after which France, Germany and Italy will be visited.

"Milestones" is approaching the end of its long run in London. It is now on its way to the 600th performance, and will probably attain that record before it is withdrawn.

Frances McHenry, who is well and favorably known for her distinctively clever work at the Olympic two years ago, has been engaged by Charles Frohman to head the Western "Conspiracy" company.

It is announced by Joseph P. Bickerton, Jr., that the premiere of "Adele," a new musical play, will take place at the Longacre theater on Aug. 28. The statement brings with it an element of surprise, inasmuch as Thomas A. Wise in "The Silver Wedding" has been announced as the opening attraction at that house, which ought to run more than two weeks. In fact, pictures of scenes in "The Silver Wedding" now decorate the front of the Longacre.

The American adaptation has been made by Adolph Philip and Edward Paulton. The cast, which contains several well-known players, includes Georgia Caine, Hal Forde, Aubrey Maple, Jack Henderson, Edith Bradford, Dallas Welford, William Danforth and Harry S. Bradley. Lesser lights are Jane Warrington, Florence Peshon, Jane Hall, Dorothy Berry, Helen May, Edna Dodsworth and Betty Brewster.

Rehearsals have begun at the Park theater under the direction of Ben Teal. A week's engagement in Montreal will precede the New York premiere.

"Adele" is not the only theatrical work with which Mr. Bickerton is concerned. Following its production he will place on the stage the comedy by Anna Steese Richardson and Edmund Breese, entitled "The Love Leash," which was given preliminary hearing in Atlantic City and Washington last spring. Grace Elkins heads the company.

A satrical comedy called "The Rule of Three," from the pen of Guy Bolton, is next on the list. Its production is scheduled for Jan. 1.

Mr. Bickerton still devotes much of his energy to the exploitation of motion pictures. Six different sets of the Paul J. Rainey African Hunt pictures will be on tour in Europe under his direction. Last season no less than thirteen sets were exhibited at one time in various sections of the United States. The "North of 53" pictures also will be sent on a tour of the country.

Frances Demarest has been engaged by A. H. Woods for the prima donna role in the new Julian Eltinge production.

Klaw & Erlanger will produce William J. Hurlbut's "A Strange Woman," with Miss Elsie Ferguson in the title role. The play is in three acts, and the scenes are laid in Delphi, Iowa. Miss Ferguson will act an advanced woman of rather unusual type. Mr. Hurlbut is the author of "The Fighting Hope."

Until a day or two ago Sir James Matthew Barrie had consistently declined propositions to present "Pantaloon" in vaudeville. Mlle. Dazie, however, with the assistance of Martin Beck, has obtained from Charles Frohman this romantic little piece for her exclusive use, and she will tour in it over the B. F. Keith and Orpheum circuits. "Pantaloon" was originally produced in this country as a curtain-raiser to "Alice Sit-by-the-Fire," in which Ethel Barrymore appeared at the Criterion theater. Sir James Matthew called it his "plea for an ancient family," and he always has been adverse to parting with the rights. The role of Columbine is exactly suited to Mlle. Dazie's dancing and pantomimic training.

To Charles Dillingham will go the glory of opening the Garrick theater this season. On Sept. 15 Mr. Dillingham will produce there, under the title of "The President," a farce that has been running at the Palais Royale, Paris, for a year. Another Frohman theater—the Lyceum—will be opened on Aug. 25 with Harrison Grey Fiske's production of a play by Ferenz Molnar, the Hungarian dramatist. The original title of the piece is "The Guardsman," but Mr. Fiske will find a new name for it.

• • •

At the Abbey theater, the Dublin home of the Irish players, "The Post-office," by Rabindranath Tagore, an allegorical tragedy with its scenes in India, was recently produced and created a profound impression. The Irish Players also revived Lady Gregory's adaptation of Moliere's "The Miser," written in the Kiltarian dialect, during their London season.

• • •

Frank Kingdon will return to the part of Father Roubier in "The Garden of Allah" next season. Mr. Kingdon is one of the "old-timers," with years of service under old masters to his credit. More recently he appeared in leading character roles with Sothern and Marlowe.

• • •

Florence Rockwell closed her engagement at the Colonial theater, Salt Lake City, last week and returned East at once to arrange her plans for the coming season. Miss Rockwell won a brilliant success last season as the leading woman with Robert Mantell, the Shakespearean actor. "I believe the interest in the plays of Shakespeare and other standard authors," declares Miss Rockwell, "will justify the ambitions of the new producers who are to revive such plays the coming season." Miss Rockwell has been an important element in popularizing such plays, as she has appeared over an extensive territory and sown the seed that now reaps the harvest.

• • •

Howard Kyle, who achieved an artistic success last season in the magnificent production of "Joseph and His Brethren," has reorganized the Howard Kyle Players, and will appear throughout the East in a series of pastoral plays, notably "Twelfth Night," "As You Like It" and "Nathan the Wise." Among the excellent members of his company will be Grace Fisher, Ethel Grey, Therese Ralchka, Kathryn Wilson, Mary Halton, Horace James, Charles Flemming, Robert Hamilton, Clifford Devereux, Leslie Palmer and Charles Newsome. One of the first appearances of this company will be under the auspices of the League for Equal Suffrage at fashionable Greenwich, Conn.

• • •

Fuller Mellish, who is now associated with Jessie Bonstelle at Toronto, is to remain with this company until late in the fall, when he returns to New York for his regular engagement with one of the important new productions. Mr. Mellish is the first character leading man that has been featured in the many stock companies this season.

"A Lovers' Quarrel," which Mme. Charlotte Nelson-Bralley and her company introduced in the East the past season, is to be done under the auspices of the Redpath Lyceum bureau this season. Mme. Bralley won a signal success in the soprano role of this delightful one-act opera, which, in all likelihood, will be offered as a part of the Metropolitan Opera company program this season.

"America will be honored this year by a visit from Sir James M. Barrie if he does not change his present plans," says Whitford Kane, the English character actor, who has just returned from London and who is highly admired by Sir James for his work in many of the latter's plays. "He is a great admirer of America and is not unmindful of the great popularity of his plays in this country and the delightful productions that have been made by Mr. Charles Frohman."

Maude Leslie will present for the first time on any stage a new romantic playlet. "The Stolen Courtship," by Grace Griswold, next week. Miss Leslie will be supported by a cast of dramatic players and will be surrounded by a complete scenic production that will mark a new era in vaudeville. It is set in the romantic period of 1800 and is to be the most pretentious act to be seen in vaudeville.

Robert Hilliard will shortly commence rehearsals of "The Argyle Case," the play in which he is to make a transcontinental tour this year under the management of Klaw & Erlanger. "The Argyle Case" was one of the big hits of the year in New York where it ran throughout the season at the Criterion theater. It is a modern detective play and not to be confused with the numerous "crime" plays. Everyone with red blood likes a detective story and in this new play all the up-to-date methods of the detectives, such as dictographs and finger prints, are utilized.

Otis Skinner has completely recovered from the effects of the surgical operation for mastoids of the ear which he underwent at Indianapolis in April, immediately after the close of his second season in "Kismet," and is now recuperating in the mountains of Virginia. He reports that he walks eight or ten miles a day; devours great quantities of wonderful Southern food; sleeps the sleep of the just, and altogether is in better health than he has been for several years. Mr. Skinner's fortitude in continuing to play the exacting and very fatiguing role of Hajj the Beggar until the end of the "Kismet" engagement in Boston afforded a notable instance of the actor's devotion to duty. He went almost directly from the stage to the operating table, and for a week after the operation his life was in peril. To those who knew the gravity of his illness his complete recovery in so short a time seems little short of miraculous. After a few weeks more of rest Mr. Skinner will return to New York to prepare for his third season in "Kismet," under the direction of Klaw & Erlanger and Harrison Grey Fiske. The tour will extend to the Pacific coast.

One of the first of the big Klaw & Erlanger musical plays to start on tour will be "The Count of Luxembourg," the musical romance with the famous staircase waltz, by Glen MacDonough and Franz Lehar. After a short Eastern tour, starting in Toronto, it will head for the Pacific coast, stopping in such cities as Detroit, Grand Rapids, Indianapolis, Omaha, Denver and Salt Lake City on the way.

The announcement of Messrs. Klaw and Erlanger some months ago that they were about to embark in the moving picture field naturally attracted a great deal of attention. Since then a corporation has been formed with a paid-up capital of $500,000, and it is now announced that Messrs. Klaw and Erlanger have made an association with the Biograph company for a long term of years. The province of the new corporation, called the Protective Film company, embraces an exclusive service of copyrighted plays at frequent intervals, large special films. Already 400 plays have been secured for this purpose and 600 people will be employed in carrying out the project. The biograph studios in the bronx section of New York city, the largest in the world, will be utilized. Here the scenario writers, stage managers, actors and others will congregate. The first of the film plays will be released about Oct. 1. The moving picture idea is not entirely new with Messrs. Klaw and Erlanger as they became interested in the subject and saw the first moving picture exhibited in New York seventeen years ago. They entered into negotiations with the proprietors, Messrs. Raff and Gammon and they still have in their possession a contract made between them, and Messrs. Raff and Gammon and Thomas A. Edison for an interest.

The all-English company of actors, who will appear in the famous Arnold Bennett-Edward Knoblauch play, "Milestones," this season, will arrive from London late in August and at once begin rehearsals. Under the management of Klaw and Erlanger and direction of Joseph Brooks they will tour the entire country, including Western Canada. They will travel, from the time they leave London until they return next summer, over 25,000 miles. Milestones will mean something to them by that time.

"Oh! Oh! Delphine," the remarkably successful Klaw & Erlanger musical play, will start on tour early in September with the original company and the same elaborate production identified with its run which continued throughout all of last season in New York. It will be recalled that this remarkable play, written by C. M. S. McLellan, with music by Ivan Caryll, was the one conspicuous musical comedy hit of the year in New York. It will be seen in the principal large cities of the country during the coming season and the tour, which will continue for nearly twelve months, will extend to the Pacific coast.

The season at Klaw & Erlanger's New Amsterdam theater, New York, will open in September with Miss Christie MacDonald, the Werba and Luescher star, in "Sweethearts," written by Harry B. Smith and Fred de Gresac, with music by Victor Herbert. The production is staged by Fred G. Latham and the ensembles and dances are by Charles S. Morgan, Jr. "Sweethearts," on its preliminary tour in Philadelphia and Boston last spring, was a sensational success.

The leading members of the theatrical profession are the country's greatest travellers and of them all, Mrs. Fiske is perhaps the one who has traversed the greatest mileage in transportation history. Her tours have repeatedly been a comprehensive as the map of the country itself, there is no corner of it that she has not visited, and yet she will next season undertake one of the most unique tours ever projected. She will leave New York Sept. 12, opening her season in Toronto, Sept. 15, with one preliminary night, en route, and will terminate her tour in Charleston, S. C., Feb. 7, arriving in New York Feb. 9. The extraordinary feature of this five months' itinerary is that it will touch every border state in the Union with the exception of Florida and those in New England, while on the other hand, points in only five interior states will be played. Mrs. Fiske will thus girdle the country and as her Edward Sheldon success of last season is to be her medium of appeal, her tour in a double sense will be "The High Road" around the United States.

STORIES OF THE STAGE

Whitford Kane, the English character actor, who has just returned from Europe, possesses the most benevolent physiognomy of any player on the stage. He has been likened, in his benevolent impersonations, to David Warfield in his incomparable "The Music Master." All this by way of introduction to his first meal in the United States since his return from London. It chanced on a very warm day, and he entered a simple little restaurant not far from Broadway. Setting himself at a table and wiping the perspiration from his brow, he examined the menu as the waitress stood by at attention. In his usual fatherly way Mr. Kane commented upon the heat of the weather and was about to proceed when he was interrupted.

"Yes, it is," she answered stiffly, evidently on her guard because of recent newspaper accounts of working girls' temptations, "and so was yesterday, and my name is Ella, and I know I'm a little peach and have pretty blue eyes, and I've been here quite awhile and like the place, and I don't think I'm too nice a girl to be working in a cafe; if I did I'd quit my job. And my wages are satisfactory, and I don't know if there is a show or dance in town tonight, and if there is I shall not go with you, and I'm from the country, and I'm a respectable girl, and my brother is cook in this cafe, and he weighs 200 pounds, and last week he wiped up this floor with a fresh $50-a-month traveling man who tried to make a date with me. Now what'll you have?"

Mr. Kane wiped his heated forehead.

"I think, if you don't mind, I'll have a glass of milk and a piece of apple pie," he responded meekly.

A rather talkative visitor was interviewing Maude Leslie, the clever comedienne, recently, and after two or three ineffectual attempts to sidetrack her, Miss Leslie settled down for another hour of boredom. All things come to an end, however, and the end of this interview finally came.

"I want to thank you so much, Miss Leslie," she said, "for the delightful interview. I am going now. Is there anything I can do for you?"

Miss Leslie sighed with relief.

"No; thank you," she answered, "Going is sufficient."

"It was purely by accident that I was engaged for "The Follies," declared a rather insistent conversationalist to Jose Collins during a rehearsal of that frivolous katzenjammer recently.

Miss Collins smiled her most winsome smile.

"Don't confess. The management is insured in an accident company, and they might claim damages," was the reply.

Clare Weldon makes the excellent suggestion that the stock companies could serve the cause of intelligence in no better way than by placing on the boards during the usual commencement period the great English classics, in order that the students might be afforded an opportunity to see visualized the stories they have read in literature.

"One remembers what one sees rather than what one hears, thanks be," Miss Weldon piously declares. "We are using the stage for nearly everything these days, and why not to apply the principles of education in a manner that will be most effective? Shakespeare's plays and poems are now textbooks in all schools where the English language is taught, and in no better way can the beauties of our language be brought to the attention of students than by a proper stage presentation of the plays of Shakespeare and other masters of the English language."

"The greatest incentive to native music," observed Mme. Charlotte Nelson-Bralley, who is a well known prima donna, "is an appreciative public. This can be best secured by the education of the younger generation to an appreciation of our music. In foreign countries music is essential to the education of children, but in this country such a course is optional, with the result that when a child becomes old enough to impress its personality on the life of the community it usually follows the course of least resistance, which generally adds one more devotee to the ragtime and other forms of entertainment noted for lack of intelligence. Music more than any of the arts should be inculcated into the young, especially an appreciation of standard compositions."

Louise Randolph declares that the success of an actress is due in a very large measure to the care with which she dresses, "on and off," as the phrase goes. "There is more character in dress than most people imagine," she declares.

"There is a great difference between the well dressed man and the well dressed woman. You never notice that the well dressed man is dressed at all, while you feel instinctively the moment she dawns upon your delightful vision that the well dressed woman is the latest thing in beautiful clothes. And yet if one were put into a witness box and cross-examined as to the precise

WHY I WROTE "FINE FEATHERS"

Eugene Walter, Brilliant American Dramatist, Talks of His Most Recent Success

HITS THE HIGH COST AND HIGH STANDARD OF LIVING

EUGENE WALTER

Author Says Business Is the Romance of the American Drama

MODERN CONDITIONS PRECLUDE THE SEX PROBLEM AS A DRAMATIC BASIS

Eugene Walter, foremost of modern dramatists, who wrote "Paid in Full," "The Wolf," "The Easiest Way" and other big New York and London successes, and who has this season brought New York and Chicago to his feet by the tremendous success of "Fine Feathers," which H. H. Frazee has produced with an all star cast including Robert Edeson, Wilton Lackaye, Max Figman, Rose Coghlan, Lolita Robertson and Amelia Sumers, believes that the drama should keep pace with the trend of the times. This dramatist's views are always interesting, especially now, as "Fine Feathers" is coming, with its great cast, to the Lyceum, Monday and Tuesday.

Walter claims that plays of today must be stories of life rather than of romance, and must treat of material rather than of social morals. He claims that the sex problem is rapidly dropping out as a basis of modern drama. The greatest question before the public today is the intricate co-ordination of all sex and economic questions. He claims that the system of government and industrial advancement of recent years has so vitally affected the interrelations of male and female that the sex question is reduced, not to a plain basis of morals as they affect the physical relation, but to the ground where woman and her mode of living powerfully influence the man's mode of industrial attack and progress in order to meet her peculiar desires and temperamental necessities.

According to the author of "Fine Feathers," the great era of prosperity which this country has known in the past decade has taught the woman to indulge in luxury which, as the price of living has advanced, made it more and more difficult for the husband to meet. If this infraction of the rule of economy is not stopped, a false system of living is established. The man goes into consumption beyond his means of production, and as surely as this is done, there will be a day of reckoning, as in "Fine Feathers."

It is of these principles that the play treats—but not in set speeches or words of preachment. The story is unfolded in a series of vivid scenes and brilliant situations, and as portrayed by its company of famous stars, "Fine Feathers" becomes the most important contribution to the drama of which the modern stage can boast.

reasons why a certain woman is perfectly dressed it would be a difficult matter to explain in detail. It may be a plume in the hat, or a curl falling over the ear, or a bunch of soft, flowery lace around a swanlike throat, or a knotted ribbon, or, in fact, anything that gives the touch of perfection."

Ethel Wright, the actress, now in Paris, writes entertainingly on styles. "Slashed skirts are indeed plentiful, but none of the best dressed women wear them," she says. "They are merely a reminiscence of a fashion that has been and as such are likely to be seen during the summer. Elegant women now affect old world tints and designs with rich lace, ethereal tulle and soft chiffon. The mania for freaks has disappeared, as well as the gaudy colors which were features of the early fashionable gatherings of the season."

"Mary of the Movies," opening novelette in August Young's Magazine, is a dashing tale of the matrimonial venture of an English girl who is employed by a moving picture company as leading woman. "The Acid Test," by Jane Belfield, is a strong story of a woman tried almost beyond her powers of endurance. She learns that the man she is to marry in less than a month has betrayed a girl who trusted him absolutely, and that he is the father of her child. In a moment of supreme renunciation she gives him up to the other woman.

The cover design for the August issue of Popular Mechanics is drawn from the series of West Point pictures which are still running and which have attracted so much attention everywhere as a graphic portrayal of cadet life. Six pages of these views appear in the August number. The magazine contains many other page views and groups of views. Among the topics so handled are the astronomical sphere installed by the Chicago Academy of Sciences; "Securing Copper From Scrap Iron and Tin Cans"; the opening of the lock of the Keokuk dam across the Mississippi river; the fatality at the English Derby, when Emily Davison, militant suffragette, stopped the king's horse; "Panama Canal Nearing Completion"; "Ten Thousand Boys in Athletic Contests"; features of the liner Imperator; "Teaching the Farmer the Value of Alfalfa"; "How Walls Are Affected by Fire and Water"; etc.

Some thrilling stories and articles make the August Wide World Magazine a notable one. Capt. Robert Thomas describes "The Wreck of the Cricieth Castle," and George D. Abraham writes an inspiring account of his mountain climbing, "Twixt the Matterhorn and Mont Blanc." One of the most remarkable stories is contributed by H. H. Dunn, special correspondent for the Wide World Magazine in Mexico. This is an account of "The Escape of Manuel Gonzales" from that grim castle of San Juan de Ulua, situated on an island in the harbor of Vera Cruz, Mexico.

The August Strand is a special fiction number and contains a great many short and long stories written by leading novelists. Conan Doyle brings to a conclusion his thrilling story entitled "The Poison Belt," while Baroness Orczy continues her serial of Roman days, "Unto Caesar." Contributors of short stories include Bertram Atkey, J. J. Bell, James Barr, Martin Swayne and Horace Annesley Vachell. Among the interesting articles may be mentioned "Amusing Children I Have Met," written and illustrated by that famous delineator of child life, Hilda Cowham; "Animal Studies From 'Life,'" by Leonard Larkin, and "A Study in Hats," by Gertrude Bacon.

Mexico Is Getting Hungry

One Egg Selling for a Peso in Chihuahua and Eight Pesos Paid for Two and Two-Fifths Pounds of Sugar.

Mexico City, July 26.—Mexico is getting hungry, and early in July it was evident that this condition would become much worse before relief could be had. Failure to plant crops in thousands of fields formerly cultivated, the increasing number of idle men due to the closing down of numerous industrial concerns, and the indirect siege instituted against scores of cities have resulted in reducing to a deplorable condition regions where a great majority of the population asked only to be permitted to work.

Lack of money resulting from lack of work had its effect in increasing the prices, but the most direct cause has been the cutting of the railroads in all parts of the country.

The fall of Durango revealed that the people of that town had been paying fabulous sums for certain ordinary commodities, and that meat was an unobtainable luxury. Torreon for a time was in a situation almost as bad. Reports from Chihuahua were that one egg was bringing a peso and that 8 pesos were paid for a kilo, or two and two-fifths pounds, of sugar. Conditions in Saltillo and Monterey became serious, notwithstanding that the government was able most of the time to keep open the line from Tampico. In all towns the neighboring country is depended upon to supply a large part of the food supply, but even where railroads were kept open, marauding bands of rebels made it their business to prevent the entry of supplies from the neighboring truck farms brought in on the backs of Indians or in carts. The effect of these tactics has been keenly felt in the capital itself, where prices have more than doubled in the past year.

Must Buy Abroad.

Failure to plant crops has not yet had its full direct effect. The season for the maturing of most crops has not come, but when it does, it is inevitable that the country will find itself forced to buy abroad, and money is scarce. In previous revolutions, the planting has not been so seriously hindered, but since this is the most widespread revolt the country has seen, there are hundreds of thousands of unplanted acres.

Those who were attempting to keep in touch with revolutionary activities by marking a map realized early in July that the most simple means was not to block in with black those regions held by the rebels, but to block in the portions where the government's control was unquestioned. It was much more simple and required much less time.

Keen expectations of success were created by the determined efforts to reopen the railroad from the capital to Laredo, but in spite of some success attained the rebel movement continued to grow and the government was forced to concede the seriousness of the situation in the extreme south in the states of Campeche and Tabasco, as well as in the north, while the rebels operating in Veracruz along the coast line between Veracruz and Tampico forced the attention of the war department.

From time to time marked progress in the campaign against the Zapatistas was announced, and undoubtedly thousands were brought from that district and sent into the army, exiled to Quintanoo Roo or shot. But the Zapatistas continued active, carrying the warfare characterized by fire and loot into neighboring states and even into the Federal district. That bands were operating in rifleshot of Tlalpam or San Angel ceased to excite interest on San Francisco street.

As an example of the nervousness felt in official centers was the fact that soldiers were detailed to ride on the suburban cars early in July.

Rebels Come Into Their Own.

Rebels on whom Pascual Orozco last year conferred the title of a commissioned officer, and whose title was used with quotation marks in the newspapers of the capital, have come into their own. They were taken into the army with the same rank, but in a division styled "irregular militia." The army had become topheavy with classifications, and President Huerta has issued a decree converting all affiliated bodies into the regular establishment. It was announced that hereafter Gen. Orozco and Gen. Salazar and Gen. Campa and all other holders of titles should be generals or such as their rank might entitle in the regular army.

In connection with his program for upbuilding the army, Huerta has ordered a nulmber of changes that have created comment, some of which is not altogether favorable. One of these was the order to purchase lances with which a portion of the cavalry will be equipped instead of with sabers. The fact that the British used them with some success in South Africa is said to have caused Huerta to insist upon their use in his army.

The use of more automobiles also has been insisted on by the president, and the column which went north along the line of the National railway carried about fifty cars. When the order reached the war department to use more automobiles there was no time to deal with factories, and agents of the department went on the streets buying where they could from private individuals. It was Huerta's idea to use the cars not so much for the rapid transportation of officers but for the speedy movement of reserves from the rear.

Rose From the Ranks.

Gen. Blanquet, the successor of Gen. Mondragon as minister of war, rose from the ranks and wears on his watch chain a gold coin commemorative of a duty he performed when a non-commissioned officer. He was in the army that besieged Emperor Maximilian at Queretaro. When the order came for the execution of Maximilian, Blanquet was detailed on the firing squad. After the emperor fell life was not extinct, and Sergeant Blanquet was ordered to advance and deliver the final shot. Just prior to the shooting, Maximilian gave to each of his executioners a gold coin, and it is one of these coins Blanquet still wears.

Suppressing Use of Opium

Drastic Measures Adopted in China to Wipe Out the Traffic—Confiscated Opium Burned in Tientsin.

Peking, July 26.—From Lanchowfu, the capital of Kansu province, comes the report of a man named Hai who was arrested last February with two coffins in his possession containing the remains of near relatives, around which were packed 4,000 ounces of opium which he was taking with the corpses into Shansi. It is the custom of the Chinese to take their dead in huge wooden coffins back to the place of their birth.

The prisoner was tried and sentenced to ten years' imprisonment. The case then was referred to the central government in Peking, and the man was sentenced to death. The execution has just taken place, the prisoner being shot instead of decapitated, as was the practice in the old days.

In connection with the suppression of the use of opium news reaches Peking from time to time of some drastic measure which the government is able to enforce in spite of the disorganization it is experiencing as a result of the revolution. Reports tell frequently of fighting between farmers who have formed bands and armed themselves with the object of successfully harvesting a crop of opium. Sometimes the reports tell of Christians being made special objects of attack and even murder because they oppose the growing of the poppy. The rule of keeping hands off the missionary and his property, however, is still generally observed, as it was throughout the revolution.

Big Stocks Burned.

Other reports tell of proclamations threatening death for a third offence in selling or smoking opium. Still others tell of great stocks of the drug being burned amidst festival celebrations. Some $25,000 worth of confiscated opium went up in smoke in Tientsin a few weeks ago, while bands played and people drank tea and listened to speeches telling of the harm opium had done the Chinese. It is believed by forigners and Chinese alike that such drastic measures would not be possible at this period of reconstruction if the feeling of the nation were not in favor of the reform.

The restriction of the importation and growth has caused the value of opium in China to be enormously enhanced. Those who persist in using it must now do so not only in secret but at prices which only the rich can afford. It is now said to be beyond the reach of the poor man, selling as it does for many times what it cost before the suppression began. In consequence there are great inducements to carry on the trade illicitly, and much smuggling and growing in remote hill countries is attempted.

The cleverness of the Chinese police in discovering smuggled shipments is shown by the instance given above of the big burning at Tientsin. But in the country they are not always so clever, and many reports of fields of growing poppy come to government notice directly or indirectly through foreign missionaries and their converts.

An American missionary, E. W. Thwing, representing the International Reform bureau, which has its headquarters at Washington, has been devoting practically all his time for a number of years to the suppression of the opium habit. He has been leading the campaign for the Chinese where it came in conflict with foreigners, and, as a result, he has acquired many enemies among those foreigners interested in the continuance of the trade. Thwing has shown the Chinese how to organize anti-opium societies and how to deal legally and to the best advantage with the white men in the business, who are subject to no Chinese laws but only to the jurisdiction of their own consular courts.

Opium Shops in Shanghai.

Thwing recently stated in a public speech in Shanghai that, while Chinese officials and people have suppressed the greater part of the traffic throughout the country, and stamped it out altogether in some provinces, the foreign quarter of Shanghai was licensing more opium shops each year. The suppression in what is known as the Native city had forced the opium traders and the smokers into the foreign settlements controlled by the foreign consuls subject to the orders of their governments. This, Thwing contends, is contrary to the Hague opium convention, where all the interested powers agreed to reduce the number of opium shops in the Chinese territories controlled by the Chinese government.

Comment is frequently made on the fact that two of the foremost American interests in China, the sale of cigarettes and the propagation of Christianity, seriously conflict. Agents of American and British missionary societies distribute Bibles, and agents of the British-American Tobacco company, which controls the sale of cigarettes in China, both penetrate to the far interior. In some remote little towns in the provinces bordering Mongolia, Thibet or Turkestan the only white men will be two small hostile groups of Americans, of two or three men each, one trying to induce the Chinese to give up their little water pipes for the cigarette, the other arguing that all things American are not good to adopt. Generally these two little groups of men are not on speaking terms.

MULHALL SHOWS SIGNS OF STRAIN

Committee Adjourns Until Monday With 1,000 Letters Not Read.

Washington, July 26.—With only about 1,000 more of Martin Mulhall's letters to read into the record, the senate lobby investigating committee adjourned until Monday, expecting to wind up the correspondence of the "Lobbyist." Toward the close of the day's session Mulhall showed signs of the strain he has been under. He became confused during the reading of one letter and, when Senator Walsh suggested that he needed a rest, exclaimed:

"I'm just about broke down. For God's sake let me have mercy if you can. I don't want to say I'm breaking down, but I don't want to answer questions, if you will let me go."

Chairman Overman announced that attorneys for the National Association of Manufacturers and the American Federation of Labor would be allowed to question the witness through the committee, provided they submit questions twenty-four hours beforehand and receive the committee's approval. Senator Nelson had a talk with the Democratic members before the decision was announced, and it is known that he protested vigorously against allowing Mulhall's story to stand without examination by the lawyers of the organizations involved.

"914" DR. EHRLICH'S FAMOUS REMEDY "606" —IMPROVED—

THE CURATIVE TREATMENT FOR BLOOD DISORDERS AND BLOOD POISON SYMPTOMS BEGIN TO VANISH IN TWO DAYS

When Prof. Ehrlich announced to the medical world the discovery of his now famous "606," the remarkable results accomplished by its use were at first not believed. However, the continued wonderful success of this specific remedy soon caused leading specialists throughout the world to regard it as the most remarkable discovery of the age.

However wonderful the results of this "606" were, Prof. Ehrlich himself set about to improve, if possible, upon his discovery. After conducting a number of experiments in his laboratories he finally produced a preparation which he now calls "914." This "914" has all the benefits of the original "606" and

STATE FAIR'S CLOSING DAY

Motorcycle Races and Wild West Stunts Ending N. D. Show.

Jean Du Luth Farm of Duluth Has Made Fine Stock Exhibit.

Grand Forks, N. D., July 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—This is the closing day of the most successful state fair ever held in North Dakota and when the gates close tonight it is predicted the admissions for the week will total 80,000. Chief events on today's program are motorcycle races, an elaborate card of which were prepared for this afternoon. Wild west stunts, etc., also are being staged by the fair in competition with the drawing powers of a circus, being shown in East Grand Forks.

Duluth Cup Award Made.

Awards of the several silver cups offered to fair winners follow: Minneapolis butter trophy, A. J. Hed, Argyle, Minn.

Duluth Commercial club, young dairy herd cup, M. L. Enright, East Grand Forks, Minn.

Great Northern draft horse cup, Crystal Springs stock farm, Larimore, N. D.

Northern Pacific registered beef cattle cup, R. A. Candor, Cogswell.

Nicollet hotel cup for best swine display, A. R. Sherritt, Blanchard.

Elm Grove township won the cup for the best township exhibit from Grand Forks county.

Miss Anna Lund won the cup for the best butter made by a Grand Forks county school girl, while Mrs. L. B. Medrebro of Gardner, N. D., won first place in dairy butter. W. E. Redman of Montrose, Minn., had the highest creamery score, but was barred from competition because of his residence. Competition being confined to North Dakota and the Ninth congressional district, Minnesota.

Boys participating in the North Dakota Better Farming association will break camp late this afternoon. This morning they made a written report of the week's work, taking up all the studies covered and indicating benefits derived. The encampment was an exceptional success.

Jean Duluth Stock Exhibit.

The exhibit of the Jean Duluth farm of Duluth has been one of the features of the stock exhibit. The famous Duluth stock farm is showing here for the first time, though George P. Grout, superintendent of the farm, is well known here, having been the judge in the dairy department last year.

The Jean Duluth farm has twenty-seven head of cattle in the exhibit, among these Jean Duluth Beauty, the world's record heifer for Red Poll cow with first calf. She has produced 420 pounds of fat and 504 pounds of butter in the past eleven months. Another aristocrat is J. D. Boney Boy, a son of Jean DuLuth Beauty. He has been loaned to the North Dakota Agricultural college and heads the herd there. The dam of Liza Lass, heading the Jean Duluth herd here, holds the world's record, having produced 996 pounds of fat in two years. Dolly Trainon of the same herd holds the record for any Guernsey in Minnesota. One of her calves was recently sold to a North Dakota man. May Rose Starlight is also on exhibit. Six of her first dams have an average production of 659 pounds of fat, which record, Mr. Grout claims, can not be equalled.

SHOOTS AT WOMAN, KILLING ANOTHER

St. Paul Bulgarian Makes Fatal Mistake in Wreaking Revenge.

St. Paul, Minn., July 26.—Angered, it is said, because of a verdict rendered against him yesterday by the state supreme court awarding damages of $1,500 to Miss Anko Krulic for slander, Martin Petcoff, a Bulgarian, late Friday attempted to shoot Miss Krulic, and instead shot Blaze Pavlio and Matthew Ozbolt. Ozbolt died shortly afterward at the city hospital, and physicians say Palvic cannot recover. Palkoff is in jail.

According to the testimony in the case, which first was tried in Ramsey county, Petcoff sought to marry Miss Krulic, a sister-in-law of Palvic, and then, when she refused his advances, threatened to ruin her reputation and tried to make good his threat. The district court awarded damages of $1,500 and Petcoff appealed.

Brooded Over Decision.

Yesterday the supreme court affirmed the finding of the lower court. For hours, it is said, Petcoff brooded over the court's decree, and then started for a hotel in Miss Krulic was employed. Shouting incoherently, he rushed into the kitchen of the hotel and began shooting at the woman, who ran unharmed to rooms above. To her aid rushed Ozbolt, a bartender in the saloon owned by Pavlic. He was shot just as he reached the stairs as was Pavlic, who was attracted by the shots. The police then appeared and subdued Petcoff.

CHARTER DRAFTED.

Mill City Getting Ready to Vote on the Commission Form.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 26.—The draft of the proposed commission form charter for Minneapolis, signed by nine members of the commission, together with minority representatives, was submitted to the city council and referred to the ways and means committee and one alderman from each ward, who are expected to set a date for a special election to vote on the charter and to find some means of financing the election.

Chairman Sejover of the charter commission recommended that the special election be held either on Sept. 30 or Oct. 7. The committee will be instructed to report next Thursday.

Though the new Minneapolis ordinance reducing the rate on gas to the private consumer from 85 to 70 cents has enough support in the city council to pass it with a rush, it is thought that opponents of the ordinance will muster strength to force postponement of action for at least two weeks.

FIGHT DUEL OVER BRIDE'S EYES COLOR.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 26.—Fighting a duel with knives and with blood streaming from their wounds, two men, giving their names as John Loch and George Holber, were arrested Friday. The combatants had apparently been fighting for some time before they were discovered, and the police summoned.

The men explained to the police that they had been guests at a wedding and, while on their way home, had begun a dispute over the color of the bride's eyes. It was said that Loch probably will die of his wounds.

CANARD DISPROVED.

Old Sitting Bull Still Sleeps in Fort Yates Cemetery.

St. Paul, Minn., July 26.—The recently circulated story that the bones of Sitting Bull, the famous Sioux Indian chief instead of being in a cemetery, where they were placed at Fort Yates, S. D., twenty-three years ago, were in a local undertaking place has been disproved.

In 1908 when the bodies of Indian warriors were ordered removed from the Fort Yates cemetery to the national cemetery at Keokuk, Iowa, vigorous protest was made by Indians, against the removal of Sitting Bull's body and it was not disturbed.

ROBS BUCKEYE JUDGE.

Minneapolis Pickpocket Relieves Cincinnati Jurist of His Money.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 26.—Judge Benton S. Oppenheimer of Cincinnati, judge of the Ohio supreme court, had to have a check cashed here last night before he could resume his journey homeward from the Glacier National park. The judge is credited with having sentenced more pickpockets and other thieves to jail than any other man in Ohio and it was a pickpocket on a Lake Harriet car who proved the judge's undoing yesterday when he relieved him of his pocketbook. The Ohioan was subjected to much chaffing by friends when he explained his predicament and sought funds to continue his journey.

WARDEN SEEKS PARDON.

Promises Steady Job to Mill City Forger If Released.

Stillwater, Minn., July 26.—Warden Henry Wolfer, of the Minnesota state prison, is endeavoring to secure a pardon for William Carruthers, who was sentenced two and a half years ago in the district court in Minneapolis to five years' imprisonment for forgery. If the pardon is granted, Warden Wolfer says he will give Carruthers employment in the prison offices at a good salary.

Carruthers, who is an expert accountant, since his imprisonment, has virtually had charge of the bookkeeping department in the prison offices.

EX-CONVICT ATTEMPTS MURDER AND SUICIDE.

Stillwater, Minn., July 26.—Harry Mitchell, an ex-convict at the Minnesota state penitentiary, is in jail charged with attempting to murder Mrs. Joseph Armstrong at her father's home at Oak Park, a small village near here.

After stabbing the woman, he attempted suicide with a pocket knife. Both probably will recover.

FATHER PERISHES ALONG WITH SON.

Dodgeville, Wis., July 26.—Henry Smith and a son, Alfred, of Muscoda, were drowned yesterday. They were hunting clams in the Wisconsin river when the son got into a whirlpool. The father, in attempting to save his son's life, lost his own.

Emigrant Boy Thanks Governor.

St. Paul, Minn., July 26.—Governor Eberhart has received a letter from Alois Lermer, the little German boy, whose release from the immigration station at Ellis Island, the governor procured a week ago, in which the youth expresses his thanks for what the governor did for him.

Governor Eberhart said he will keep the letter as one of the most pleasant mementos of his administration.

ELOPERS HALTED.

Sidnaw, Mich., Couple Arrested at Saxon, Wis., and Returned Home.

Hurley, Wis., July 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sheriff Duffy received a message from Sidnaw, Mich., Thursday to arrest Mrs. Lacrose and James Bovee, who had eloped from that town and were expected to stop off in Saxon. Deputy Sheriff John Welsh went to Saxon and arrested the couple as they were taking the train for Ashland, and brought them to Hurley. A deputy sheriff from Houghton county came here Friday morning and took them back to Sidnaw. The woman has a husband and several children, and, it is alleged, stole a sum of money from her husband, while Bovee is charged with running away without paying his board bill.

SHOT TURTLE DOVES.

La Crosse Man Violated Law to Prepare Daughter's Wedding Feast.

La Crosse, Wis., July 26.—Turtle doves would be just the thing to serve at his daughter's wedding, thought Dan Sady, leader of the Syrian colony at North La Crosse, but the game warden thought otherwise, and today preparations for the wedding were halted while the bride's father was haled into court on the charge of shooting doves protected by state law. Sady finally paid a fine, but the proceedings occasioned so much delay that the marriage of Rosa Sady to Nejeeb George of Canton, Ohio, went over until tomorrow.

VALLEY CITY MAN HAS FLYING MACHINE.

Valley City, N. D., July 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—B. M. Metcalf has the flying machine upon which he has been experimenting for some months about completed. It is claimed it has many advantages over other machines. The machine is practically completed except the propellers which will be attached in a few days, when a public test will be made.

MUNISING GIRL HURT.

Skull Fractured When Machine Driven By Father Turns Turtle.

Munising, Mich., July 26.—Miss Frances Clement, daughter of Charles E. Clement of Munising, a member of a party of six driving from Munising to Au Train Falls Thursday morning, had her skull fractured when the automobile, which was owned by and driven by her father, turned turtle in the ditch. She is in the Munising hospital with but slight hope for recovery. None of the other members of the party was injured, with one exception, and the latter, a young man, received minor bruises and scratches. The cause of the accident is not known.

ST. PAUL MAN SHOT.

St. Paul, Minn., July 26.—Nick Thelfo last night was shot and fatally injured by Dominick Gachari during a quarrel. The bullet entered the man's mouth and passed completely through the head.

PASS BLUE SKY LAW.

Wisconsin Legislature in Closing Hours Does Considerable.

Madison, Wis., July 26.—The Wisconsin legislature passed a bill yesterday requiring a certificate of health from both parties to a nuptial agreement as a preliminary to the granting of a marriage license. Examinations by physicians are required. Both houses also passed a bill for the sterilization of the feeble minded, epileptic and criminal insane in state and county institutions.

One of the last acts of the session drawing to a close was the assembly's action in defeating a bill to empower the state industrial commission to regulate the marketing and trade problems. The senate body, however, passed a senate bill prohibiting monopolies and acts in restraint of trade, giving the enforcement of the law to the district attorneys and the attorney general. A "blue sky" law was passed. The state railroad commission is given power to authorize and supervise the issuance of stock by all investment companies except those organized with less than $25,000 capital stock.

GLENCOE WOMAN FATALLY BURNED.

Glencoe, Minn., July 26.—Mrs. Joseph Felepe of Biscay was so badly burned as the result of a gasoline stove explosion Thursday morning that she died several hours later. Her husband was badly burned in trying to put out the fire.

Fire Near Buffalo, N. D.

Buffalo, N. D., July 26.—The granary on the H. B. Smith farm eight miles from here was burned while the family were absent. It was 30x60 and besides about 10,000 bushels of barley and oats, contained some harness and other materials. The loss is about $6,000 with $4,000 insurance. The other farm buildings were saved.

To Examine all Offices.

Forman, N. D., July 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—In addition to the examination of the records of the office of the register of deeds for the past eight years, the county commissioners requested the deputy public examiners to investigate the records of all the other county offices during the past four years as a result of rumors that shortages existed in other offices.

PAIR ARRESTED ON MEDICINE HAT CHARGE.

St. Paul, Minn., July 26.—Mrs. J. F. Bradford and H. M. Cherron were arrested here Thursday by a city detective on the complaint of J. F. Bradford of Medicine Hat, Alta. Both Mrs. Bradford and Cherron, who are held at the police station, are said to be half-breed Indians, while Bradford is reputed to be a millionaire ranchman and also president of the Federal Oil & Gas company of Calgary.

According to the police, the arrest of the two here came after a pursuit of almost one year.

FACE DISFIGURED WITH ERUPTION

Spread Over Entire Face. Itched and Burned Terribly. Heavy White Crust. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Made Complete Cure.

810 East Elm St., Streator, Ill. — "A running sore broke out above my right eye, which spread over my entire face. It started as a small pimple. I scratched it open and the contents of this small pimple ran down my face. Wherever this ran a new sore appeared. They itched and burned terribly; I couldn't touch my face it burned so. It disfigured my face terribly and I couldn't be seen for everyone was afraid of it. It looked like a disease of some kind; it was all red and a heavy white crust on it. Everybody kept out of my way, afraid it would spread. I lost rest at night and I couldn't bear to have anything touch my face, not even the pillow. I had to lie on the back of the head. I was always glad when morning came so I could get up. It was extremely painful.

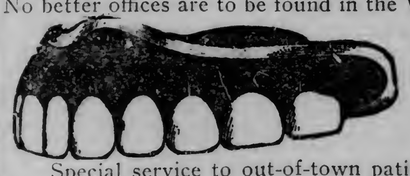

"I used ——— salve with small results. At last I thought of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I commenced using them. I used the sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment, one twenty-five-cent cake of Cuticura Soap and a half box of the fifty-cent size of Cuticura Ointment. It took three weeks to complete the cure." (Signed) Miss Caroline Miller, Apr. 30, 1913.

Cuticura Soap 25c. and Cuticura Ointment 50c. are sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

☞Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

OUTPUT OF COPPER BEING CURTAILED BY PRODUCERS

Butte District Production Reduced About 4,000,000 Pounds a Month.

Second Section of Butte & Superior Mill Is Nearly Completed.

Butte, Mont., July 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—That there is either a larger stock of copper on hand than has been made to appear in the recent reports or the big producers realize that consumption is not going to be on a large scale for some time to come, seems almost certain in view of the fact that a curtailment policy has been introduced. It is true that it is not on as extensive a scale as during the last period of curtailment, nevertheless it is sufficient in this district alone to reduce the output about 4,000,000 pounds a month. Until after the tariff legislation is finished and congress has adjourned it does not seem that the consumers of the red metal will purchase any more than is absolutely required. The force of men in this district has not been reduced, but instead of hoisting as much high grade ore as a couple of months ago the quantity and quality have both been reduced and development work increased. The mines of the Anaconda company have got a greater reserve supply than possibly ever before and at any time the output can be ran up to 30,000,000 pounds of copper a month. Wages are now but $3.50 a day for the miners and as long as copper remains below 15 cents a pound this rate will be maintained.

Butte & Superior.

The second section of the Butte & Superior company concentrator, according to latest advices, will be ready to go into commission about the first of the month, when the company expects to be in a position to increase its output to about double the production of the last several months. It is stated that the section in operation has been got down to a point where the very best results are being obtained, and that when the second section is put in operation no further difficulty will be experienced. From the offices here nothing of an official statement can be obtained as to the results and all sources of information are very carefully guarded.

Pilot Butte and Tuolumne.

There is still an agitation going on among a number of interested parties seeking to have Pilot-Butte taken in with Tuolumne and Butte Main Range in the proposed merger on which the Tuolumne company stockholders are to vote on Aug. 18. The feeling among many of the stockholders of Tuolumne is that more territory is required and the sooner it is secured the better. With but six acres of ground in which to work there is little prospect of the property ever becoming a veluable one, but with Main Range and Pilot Butte there might be a chance to develop a good-paying property from which the men who have invested their money might get a return. While the three properties are practically all controlled by the same parties, there is a strong opposition to Pilot Butte going into the merger, as there is a strong impression that the property is an exceptionally good one, but up to the present time expectations have not been realized.

Davis-Daly.

Davis-Daly is shipping on an average of 250 tons a day from the Colorado mine and the company is earning considerably more than its operating expenses. A few days ago a fine body of ore averaging 5 per cent copper was opened up on the 1,400-foot level. A large amount of development is in prgress and the amount of ore being blocked out will enable the company in the course of another month, it is announced, to increase the shipments to about 400 tons a day.

Butte and Great Falls.

The Butte & Great Falls Mining company, which is controlled by St. Louis capitalists, has its shaft down to a depth of 190 feet. At 200 feet a station is to be cut and it is proposed to run a cross-cut to intersect a vein showing good mineralization. The company recently installed a modern steam hoisting plant, including a compressor and promises to thoroughly explore the ground to a considerable depth.

Barnes-King.

The Barnes-King company earned $35,378.14 last month, and by the first of October there is every reason to believe the company will be in a position to pay off its entire indebtedness to the North Moccasin company. If the earnings continue for another six months at the rate they have been for the past three months, the stockholders may expect to receive a small dividend.

Butte & Duluth.

There is no property in the district where more activity is to be seen than that of the Butte & Duluth. Capt. Wolvin has not only a large force of men at work shovelling out the ore, but there is a large force about the leaching plant building the addition, which will be completed in about thirty days. Capt. Wolvin says that when the enlarged plant is in operation he will be in a position to treat 500 tons of ore a day and it is for this reason that he has added extra men to his mining force so that he may have plenty of ore stored up to run the plant to full capacity when the time comes. When spoken to a few days ago as to people doubting his ability to produce the pure copper around seven cents a pound Capt. Wolvin said that he knew what it was costing him to operate the mill and he did not care whether there were any doubters abroad or not. In the course of time the captain proposes to secure a steam shovel for mining and thus do away with the laboring men for shovelling. The ore being treated averages 4 per cent.

Iron Mountain.

The Iron Mountain property, which is located in the Missoula district and which is being operated under the direction of W. Q. Ranft with capital largely supplied from New York, has considerably increased its force of men in the past few weeks. The recently installed electric equipment is running smoothly and is giving every satisfaction. There is a good average quality of ore showing up and it would seem from present indications that it will not be so very long before the company will be in a good financial condition.

Radersburg District.

The people who are operating mines in the Radersburg district are very much disappointed over the failure of those who undertook to build the railroad into the district to resume work as promised about the middle of last month. The reason assigned is that these who had promised to furnish the capital withdrew their offer on the grounds that money was scarce and the rate of interest too high. If the railroad had been completed it is stated that at least half a dozen mines would enter the producing class at once, but with a heavy charge for hauling the ore twelve miles to a point on the line of the Northern Pacific railroad only ore of a high grade could be mined and there was not sufficient of this in sight, except possibly in the Ohio and Ohio Keating mines.

Great Falls Smelter.

The work of rebuilding the Great Falls smelter is going ahead rapidly. Some ore is being treated, but not as much as usual for the reason that the Washoe smelter with its improvements can care for more ore than before and a large quantity of the rock which went to Great Falls is now going to Anaconda, the company thus saving the cost of the long haul over the Great Northern railway.

Electric Haulage.

In three weeks or a month at the most the Anaconda company will be sending its ore to the smelter in Anaconda by electric haulage. Everything is about in readiness, only a few more miles of road having to be gone over. Experiments have demonstrated that heavier trains can be hauled from this city to Anaconda with the electric motor than by the steam locomotive and this fact together with the fact that electricity will be operated at least 35 per cent cheaper than steam means quite a large saving.

Clark Concentrator.

The W. A. Clark concentrator building is practically completed, but as yet there is no sign of any of the machinery required being installed. There is a report to the effect that pending an adjustment of the dispute between the Butte & Superior company and Mr. Clark as to ground rights, nothing more will be done in the way of completing the plant.

IS OPENING RICH GROUND

South Lake Gets Good Results on the 300-Foot Level.

Hancock Giving Full Time and Attention to Development Work.

Houghton, Mich., July 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The South Lake Mining company continues to open copper ground of exceptional richness in the crosscut west on the 300-foot level. About twenty-seven feet of very rich ground is revealed in the cross course taken by this opening. A second and a third vein are looked for within the next 100 feet. All three beds were intersected by the shaft between depths ranging from 110 feet to 230 feet, and each revealed copper though only the first and the third veins were found sufficiently well mineralized to warrant further work being done upon them. They will therefore, according to present plans, be opened by crosscuts and drifts on the 300, 400 and 500-foot levels. The shaft which has reached a depth of 500 feet is sinking steadily, the work in the crosscuts giving little interference. The "big show" in this acreage is in the South Lake lodes, so-called. These lodes, four in number, will be reached by a long crosscut south on the 600-foot level. As they lie at distances ranging from 1,000 feet to 1,400 feet from the shaft at this depth, a full year will likely pass before the first of these promising lodes is intersected. In the meantime much work can and will be done in the Evergreen bed which has again been opened in the crosscut on the 300-foot level referred to.

Mass.

The Mass has been gradually increasing its working forces. The daily output is around 400 tons of rock. Closer selection made in the rock picked for milling is resulting in a higher average yield, recent returns being close to twenty pounds fine copper per ton of rock stamped. Fully 25 per cent of the mineral product is in the form of mass copper. The Butler lode tributary to the "C" shaft is yielding stamp rock of exceptional quality, and is rapidly developing into the mainstay of this property.

Hancock.

The Hancock is giving full time and attention to development work in the several lodes traversing this property. Production which has reached up to 6,000 tons of rock per month is entirely incidental to opening work. The character and quality of the ground under development is reflected in the mill returns, which have shown an average recovery well above sixteen pounds fine copper per ton of rock stamped, and not infrequently run over eighteen pounds. The big main shaft has been permanently bottomed on the 4,000-foot level and all work is now centered in cross-cutting and drifting on the 3,000, the 3,300, the 3,650 and the 3,900 levels and in development work above these levels. An unnamed lode on the eighteenth level is making a most satisfactory showing. The so-called No. 4 lode, originally opened in the course of shaft sinking, at a depth of 3,105 feet, is showing rich in spots, but inclines to bunchiness in which respect it is not so very different from other and better known lodes of the Lake Superior district. The Quincy lode, under development at greater depth, is not opened sufficiently to warrant a statement of its condition at this time, but appears promising and will undoubtedly meet all expectations with further development.

Franklin

The Franklin expects soon to have important developments as a result of exploratory work in progress on the thirty-second level. The long crosscut started on this level several months ago should intersect the Boston & Albany conglomerate within a very short time, and it will be interesting to note its condition at this depth. This bed was opened to a depth of 2,300 feet several years ago, work finally being suspended in favor of development work in the Pewabic amygdaloid in which all activity since has been centered. The conglomerate promised well at surface and carried considerable copper in pockets, but was never dependable. That conditions at greater depth may show improvement is quite possible, but in the nature of things highly improbable. The company's operations in the Pewabic lode are altogether satisfactory. Depth has brought material improvement in the quality of the ground, and though the vein continues rather narrow in places this fault is compensated to a degree by enrichments in the vein elsewhere. The situation below the 2,000 level generally is good. As was the case in the neighboring Quincy shafts, Nos. 8 and 9, values lie deep down in this formation at this point, the best ground appearing below the 3,500 level and often below the 4,000.

Adventure.

The Adventure continues engaged in exploratory work in the horizon of the South Lake lodes. One diamond drill outfit is in service and will be employed in an effort that promises to result in one of the deepest drill holes made in this range. No other work is in progress nor planned, and should the drill hole now sinking fail to yield copper showings of the quality and grade desired, this work too will be suspended.

DRILLING AT IRON RIVER

New Company Has Options on Waite and Hendricksen Properties.

R. J. Whiteside, W. G. La Rue and Others Operating in New Fields.

With the district already a scene of operations conducted by more mining corporations than are active in any other field of the Lake Superior iron country, a newly organized concern has been added to the list of those interested in the Iron River region of the Menominee range. This concern is the Minneapolis & Michigan Development company. The new corporation has procured options on the White and Hendricksen properties in section 20, 43-34, and will thoroughly test both tracts with the diamond drill. The company is understood to be subsidiary to the Bennett, Longyear and Pillsbury interests, which control extensive mineral holdings in the Lake Superior region and which are now engaged in developing mines on the Mesaba, Marquette and Menominee ranges. The properties will be explored by the affiliated Longyear & Hodge- Drilling company. The work already has commenced.

The various organized interests active in the Iron River field, either as miners or explorers, are: The United States Steel corporation, Corrigan, McKinney & Co., the Swallow, Hopkins & Holland syndicate, Jones & Laughlin and the Republic Iron & Steel, Cleveland Cliffs, Verona, Munro, Brule, Davidson, Mineral, Bates, Youngs, Buffalo, Spring Valley, McGreevy, Wickwire, Iron River Steel, Iron River Ore and Minneapolis & Michigan companies—twenty concerns in all. The largest and most prominent operators in the Lake Superior country are, with few exceptions, represented in the Iron River rosters either directly or through subsidiaries. Some of the most valuable ore deposits ever discovered on the old ranges have been found in the field of late years and there is no question that the district is in the infancy of its development. The Waite and Hendricksen properties are adjacent to the Rogers, Michaels, Blair and Bates tracts, all four of which contain ore, some of which is being mined. It is believed the Minneapolis & Michigan development company will be successful in its quest here.

Zimmerman Active Again.

The fact that the Spring Valley Iron company temporarily suspended operations at the Zimmerman mine led to reports the property was to be idle the balance of the year, it being said the furnaces to which the ore was consigned had found it would be overstocked. However, the mine is in commission again and full shifts of men are at work. Ore latterly has gone forward from the James property of the Mineral Mining company of Milwaukee at a lively rate. The shipments from the stockpiles, where a steam shovel is at work, have averaged sixty cars daily, and in addition 750 tons daily have been sent direct from the underground workings. It is expected that 100,000 tons or more of stock piles will all be forwarded this season. The Fogarty mine at Pickands, Mather & Co.'s Verona group also is now shipping both from stockpile and pocket. Additional dwelling houses for the accommodation of employes are in course of erection at the property of the Jones & Laughlin Steel company. A coal dock also is under construction. The Forbes is well on the way to development and is proving a valuable addition to the big Pittsburg concern's Lake Superior holdings.

While all of the active properties in the Crystal Falls district of the Menominee range are shipping, very little ore is being taken from stockpiles, except at the Mansfield, where the United States Steel corporation is winding up its operations, and it is apparent that a large accumulation will remain at the close of the season. It has been rumored that the Crystal Falls mine, now being abandoned by Corrigan, McKinney Co., was to be taken over by the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company. This report is denied, however. The company is expected shortly to begin the development of an Iron River tract explored the last few years and it is believed it will find ore in quantity in the vicinity of the big Mastodon find, where it has been drilling for several months. Otherwise, all the numerous Cleveland-Cliffs' holdings are on the Marquette range, with the single exception of the Crosby property, on the Mesaba. The future of the Crystal Falls mine is uncertain. Corrigan, McKinney & Co., are dismantling the property. The big ore crusher has been removed from the shafthouse and the equipment of the engine house is now being taken out. The mine will soon be stripped of all of its machinery and its surface plant. With this work accomplished the property will revert to the owners of the fee. What will be done thereafter is not known.

The Big Balkan.

Contracts have not yet been awarded for stripping work at the big Balkan property of Pickands, Mather & Co., in the Mastodon district of the Crystal Falls region, notwithstanding bids from various concerns were received several weeks ago. On the contrary, there appears to be doubt whether an open pit will be created or whether the underground system will be adopted exclusively. An exploratory shaft will be sunk, at any event. In the meantime, a steam shovel is excavating a new channel for Mastodon creek, which is to be shifted to a course further away from the prospective mine. At the Judson property, which comprises the other half of the so-called big Mastodon find, and which is to be developed by the Bennett, Longyear & Pillsbury interests, discoverers of the great ore body, now leased in part to Pickands, Mather & Co., active operations preparatory to opening the deposit are in progress. A boiler and engine house, 50 by 125 feet, is being erected by the Foster Construction company of Milwaukee, a large boarding house and several dwellings are nearing completion, and the Chicago & Northwestern is employing a large crew in track-extension work. It is expected that shaft sinking will be started about the first of August.

Should the operation be determined to be advantageous, the Erie Ore company plans to strip the Groveland mine, a property in the Randville district of the Menominee range. The Erie company recently succeeded the Groveland Mining company in control of the tract. Trenching and other surface exploratory work is under way, with a force of thirty men employed under the direction of Capt. C. H. Grant, lately of Hibbing, Mesaba range. The Breitung-Kaufman interests of Marquette, which several years ago explored their lands adjoining the Groveland, finding ore that outropped in places, have as yet made no move to develop their holdings in the Randville district. The ore is not of fancy grade and material of this class, ample for present needs, is now being mined at the Breitung-Kaufman properties on the Marquette range. In time, the Randville property will be developed as an open pit. Eventually, also, more mines will be opened in the Randville country.

Athens Being Opened.

The work of opening another mine at Negaunee, Marquette range, has been started. The Athens property is the scene of the operations. While Pickands, Mather & Co. have a part interest in the tract, the mine will be developed and wrought by the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company. It will be many months before production is possible, the ore lying at great depth. Part of the shaft will be concreted. An engine house will be erected this year and, in the spring, a shop building and a combination warehouse and office, all three of strictly fireproof materials. The headframe at the shaft will be of steel. The machinery will be operated by electricity. The Athens will be a big mine, taking rank with the largest producers in the field. Negaunee was the scene of the first discovery of ore in the Lake Superior region—that nearly seventy years ago—and mining has been in progress for six decades, yet there is more ore in sight at present than at any previous time in the history of the district. The field is long-lived. Decades will elapse before its deposits are exhausted. A mine scheduled to be added to the producing list next year is the Lucky Star, now being opened by the Breitung interests. As in the Athens, the ore extends to great depth.

After having had the work in progress for several years, the United States Steel corporation has suspended diamond drill operations on Michigan Land & Iron company lands in the Witch Lake district, south of Republic, Marquette range, and north of Iron Mountain, Menominee range. A large extent of territory was covered and some holes were put down to considerable depth. The work was mapped out by the corporation's geologists, after thorough examination. What the results have been is not publicly known. It is surmised, however, since the operations were conducted for so long a time and since in two separate localities they were prosecuted steadily for nearly two years, that the work was not altogether futile. West of North lake, on the Marquette range, the Cleveland-Cliffs company is exploring the Peterson "forty." The diamond drill is employed. As the Peterson is on the strike of the North Lake formation, on which the Cleveland-Cliffs is developing the Barnes mine, it is regarded favorably. The property will be tested thoroughly.

Two exceptionally large ore skips have been installed by the Steel corporation at its Pabst mine, Gogebic range. The capacity of each is seven tons. The largest skips heretofore in use in the district are of five-ton capacity.

Duluth Interests Active.

Operating in a new field of the Gogebic range, Duluth interests headed by R. J. Whiteside and W. G. La Rue have the development of the Presque Isle mine well under way. The property is on the Presque Isle river, in section 47-23, five miles north of the village of Marenisco. It was explored by diamond drill prior to the institution of development work and a large deposit was found, some of the ore lying less than 300 feet from the surface. One of the finest shafts on the range—6 by 16 feet and of three compartments—has been sunk in solid rock to a depth of 250 feet. A crosscut is now being extended at that point to cut the ore body 600 feet distant. The mine is equipped with two boilers, an air compressor and a hoist. The Presque Isle is the pioneer in a new district and developments there are being watched with keen interest.

The Steel corporation's "rest home," out from Ishpeming, Marquette range, was formally opened for the season with a whitefish dinner served to 125 guests. The institution is for the accommodation of old employes and members of the families of employes. The building is of large capacity, occupies a charming site in the country and has been put in excellent condition and thoroughly equipped. The grounds contain a baseball diamond.

John E. Jones, metallurgist, of Iron Mountain, Mich., inventor of the so-called Ardis furnace, has been in California latterly, in conference with interests in control of large deposits of low grade copper ores. Ore from the deposits was tested in the Jones experimental furnace at Iron Mountain several years ago, and it is said the results were satisfactory. It is understood that the installation of several furnaces of the Jones type is now proposed.

LEIGHTON TO HEAD BUTTE & CORBIN

Fifty Thousand Shares of Treasury Stock to Be Sold.

Butte, Mont., July 26.—When the directors of the Butte & Corbin Mining company elected at a meeting of stockholders held in the company's office in Silver Bow block last Monday meet in Helena today they will organize and elect president, vice president and secretary-treasurer from their number. On very good authority it was given out last night that Dr. Ira A. Leighton of Boulder will be the new president, State Senator E. O. Sulway of Dillon, vice president and E. R. Eidell of Helena, secretary-treasurer.

These three were elected directors at the meeting of the stockholders, at which more than 400,000 shares of the capitalization of 700,000 shares were represented in person or by proxy. Senator Leighton was re-elected, while E. O. Sulway succeeds J. L. Templeman of Butte and E. R. Eidell takes the place of J. B. Fitzpatrick.

At Monday's meeting a resolution was provided for the sale of 50,000 shares of the treasury stock at 50 cents a share, the revenue derived from this source to be used in pushing development work. The capital consists of 700,000 shares at $1 par value. There remain in the treasury 275,000 shares, and it is the opinion of the stockholders and directors that the sale of the stock proposed will provide ample funds for the development of the property to the high states of productiveness that is aimed at.

The property, situated near the Boston-Corbin, is said to be in a very gratifying condition, well managed and giving great promise for the near future.

ADDING MORE ORE TO THE RESERVES

Development at Calumet & Arizona Mines Giving Good Results.

Bisbee, Ariz., July 26.—The Junction shaft concreting is coming along fine, as is all other Calumet & Arizona work. Immediate work of this company in the district has been somewhat lost sight of recently by reason of the interest claimed by the new property in the Ajo district, which continues to look bigger all the time. But in all the Warren district mines of Calumet & Arizona there is development going on with the best of results attendant and all the time they are gathering in more and more ore in the reserve column. Also they are immediately ready to meet increased smelter needs and have been picking up on output lately. July production, notwithstanding two extra holidays, will show better than June in all likelihood.

PROJECT OF IMPORTANCE

Boston & Montana Development Company Formed With $15,000,000 Capital

To Open Mining Districts of Elkhorn and French Gulch.

Butte, Mont., July 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The most important mining and industrial project undertaken in Montana in recent years has been started through the organization and incorporation of the Boston & Montana Development company, capital $15,000,000, and the Butte, Wisdon & Pacific Railway company, capital $3,000,000, the purpose of which is to open the big mining districts of Elkhorn and French Gulch, and the famous cattle country of the Big Hole valley in Southern Montana. In the French Gulch district the Development company takes over twenty quartz mining claims, several of them developed to a producing stage, and a number of placer mining claims, in addition to extensive and valuable water rights, camps, etc. The French Gulch mines are situated in Deer Lodge county and will be reached by a 7-mile branch of the proposed railroad, extended from Ralston, the entrance to the Big Hole valley.

In the Elkhorn district, Beaverhead county, the company has secured the transfer of thirty mining claims and two or three producing mines, yielding big values in copper, gold, silver and lead. In the Elkhorn district copper was mined in the early '60's and some remarkably high grade ore shipped to Swansea, Wales. However, with the big increase in copper production elsewhere the Elkhorn mines were closed because of the extreme difficulty in getting ore out of the district and supplies in, the mines being from fifty to sixty miles from a railroad even at this date, but can be reached by a railroad branch extended from Dewey, Mont., on the line of the proposed new road, up the Wise river, a distance of only seventeen miles.

Like the Butte Ore.

The ore in both the Elkhorn and French Gulch mines is remarkably like the ore from the Butte district, and the country and vein formation is identical. Ore running as high as $1,000 a ton has been shipped from the Elkhorn district. A lot of has been mined in the Aspen that runs 22 per cent copper, 250 ounces in silver and $18 in gold to the ton. The Big Hole valley, through the center of which the new road will be run a distance of about seventy-five miles, is world-famed as a winter feeding ground for beef cattle, but at present and for years the stock has been and is driven 50 to 100 miles to railroad stations.

The new mining and railroad project is backed chiefly by Montana capital, stockmen, ranchers and mine owners turning large holdings into the Development company, which will finance the railroad company and provide some of the capital for the development and operation of the mines.

The Central mine in the French Gulch district is extensively developed and a vein 32 feet wide has been opened by a 900-foot tunnel, the ore from which, according to engineers' reports, carries 17 per cent copper. In the Spain mine in the French Gulch district there are 30,000 tons of ore blocked out, having an average gross value of $17.64 a ton.

Stock in Big Hole Valley.

In the Big Hole valley the stockmen put up 250,000 tons of hay this season, and are feeding about 20,000 head of beef cattle. In addition to the hay land there are 500,000 acres of fertile land fit for winter grain growing, which cannot now be used because of an absence of transportation facilities. The high mountains surrounding four different valleys which the railroad will open are thickly covered with timber, there being millions of feet of it, according to the estimates of the forestry department. Among the officers and directors of the two companies are W. R. Allen, capitalist and former lieutenant governor of Montana; Sir Frederick W. Borden of Ottawa; W. C. Siderfin of Butte, general manager of Senator Clark's interests; William Wallace, Jr., former chief counsel for the Northern Pacific railway; Charles E. Miller of Wisdom, one of the ranchers and big stockmen of the Big Hole. Three Eastern directors have not yet been announced.

HOW COPPERMINES OWNS SUBSIDIARIES

Has 1,195,680 Shares of Giroux and Merger Is Successful.

A high official of the Consolidated Coppermines company has furnished the following figures, indicating absolute stock control of Giroux, the Coppermines company, Butte & Ely and Chainman, all in the Robinson mining district, Ely, Nev.:

Of the 1,441,420 shares of Giroux outstanding, 1,195,680 shares were turned in for exchange. The new company is issuing certificates for 364,175 shares of old Coppermines company stock, out of 381,178 outstanding.

Physical control of the four properties is thus assured by the amount of stock turned in for exchange. It will be some months, however, before the old companies are dissolved, and are taken over by the Consolidated Coppermines company. In the meantime, according to an announcement by President Charles F. Rand, the moneys realized from the sale of the bonds will be loaned to the subsidiary companies until they are formally taken over. The money will be loaned for the purpose of liquidating floating indebtedness, prospecting and developing new ore bodies, or for the further development of ore bodies already explored, and for carrying on a comprehensive series of experiments with a view of determining the method of securing the highest percentages of extraction of metals, and at the lowest possible cost. When such methods have been determined the company will construct and equip an adequate concentrating and smelting plant for the treatment of such ores as the Consolidated Coppermines or any customers may have.

MUCH WORK PERFORMED

North Butte Does 5,000 Feet of Work in Three Months.

Snowball and Adirondack Veins Reported to Be Looking Good.

The report of the North Butte Mining company for the quarter ended June 30, 1913, submitted by General Manager Pope, has been forwarded to the stockholders by President Thomas F. Cole. It shows the North Butte to have been a very busy mine during the past three months, nearly 5,000 feet of development work having been accomplished. Following is the report of the work done:

Granite Mountain Shaft.

The Granite mountain shaft was sunk 220 feet during the quarter, and a connection was made with the crosscut driven from the 2,400 level of the Speculator shaft. On July 1, 1913, the shaft was timbered 40 feet below the 2,400 station, and the sinking was in progress.

Speculator Shaft.

During the month of June and early in July 70 feet of the Speculator shaft near the 400 station was retimbered and put in first-class condition; this work was done without interfering with the regular mine work, by taking advantage of holidays in June and the early part of July, so that our regular work continued as usual.

Adirondack Vein.

On the 2,000 level continued drifting has been done on the Adirondack vein since April 1, and we have disclosed on this level a body of ore 2½ feet wide, assaying 8.6 per cent copper and 9.2 ounces silver per ton for a length of 140 feet, with additional ore showing in the eastern face of the drift. On the 2,200 level the portion of the Adirondack vein upon which our work has been done has been low grade, and we are now cross-cutting to locate the ore lately found on the 2,400 level in this vein.

On the 2,400 level a crosscut has disclosed the western extension of the ore which had been found on this level, and which seemed to diminish as drifting was prosecuted to the west. Where the vein was found in this new crosscut, it carried a width of ten feet, assaying 3 per cent copper and 4.25 ounces of silver per ton, and drifting to the westward from the crosscut has shown that the ore widens in that direction without losing any of its value, and this discovery promises a large addition to our ore reserves as development work progresses.

A drift west on the 2,600 level upon this vein has shown a width of four feet, assaying 3 per cent copper and 1.5 ounces silver per ton, and we expect greater widths as we reach the portion of the vein developed on the 2,400.

Edith May Vein.

On the 2,400 level our footwall band on the Edith May vein has been traced for a total of 300 feet in length, showing an average width of seven feet of ore assaying 5 per cent copper and two ounces silver per ton and a further extension from the Edith May drift to the west has developed another body of ore seventy feet long and five feet wide, assaying 4 per cent copper and 1.3 ounces silver per ton. Additional work at this point should give us a further extension of this ore to the west.

On the 2,600 level a drift on the hanging-wall of the Edith May vein has disclosed a width of four feet of ore assaying 5 per cent copper and 1.6 ounces silver per ton, for a length of fifty feet, with ore showing in both the east and west faces of the drift.

Jessie Vein.

The west drift has been started on the Jessie vein on the 2,600 level, but the vein was faulted fifteen feet from the crosscut, and the drift is being driven in country rock beyond the faulted section before picking up the vein. The vein near the crosscut showed a width of four feet of ore assaying 3.5 per cent copper.

South Gem Vein.

On the 2,000 level our drifts on the South Gem vein were advanced both east and west without disclosing anything of value.

On the 2,200 level our west drift has developed two feet of ore assaying 4 per cent copper and 6 ounces silver per ton for a length of 140 feet.

South Croesus Vein.

A small amount of development work has been done on the South Croesus vein on the 1,600 level, disclosing a small body of ore.

Snowball Vein.

On the 1,800 level we have developed a band of ore 1¼ feet wide, assaying 4 per cent copper and 4 ounces silver per ton for a length of 100 feet, a short distance east of our main crosscut, and further drifting is now being done to the east to determine whether the ore bodies developed on the lower levels extend upward to the 1,800 horizon.

The east drift on the 2,000 level has advanced 250 feet in ore of an average width of four feet, assaying 3 per cent copper and 5.5 ounces silver per ton.

On the 2,200 level east of the main crosscut we have developed for 200 feet in length an ore body five feet wide assaying 8 per cent copper and 8 ounces silver per ton, and ore of the same width and grade still shows both east and west of our present development.

The west drift on the 2,400 level has advanced for the quarter 150 feet in ore which has averaged 6¼ feet wide, assaying 4 per cent copper and 7.25 ounces silver per ton, the ore in this drift having been regular both in size and grade. The east drift on the 2,400 level has passed through a portion of the vein which has been faulted, so that the ore has been irregular both in grade and size.

Development.

During the quarter the following development work was done:

Granite mountain shaft	220 ft.
Crosscuts	1,596 ft.
Drifts	2,452 ft.
Upraises	501 ft.
Total	4,769 ft.

The continued development of the Edith May and Adirondack veins on the 2,400 and 2,600 levels, together with the continued eastward development of ore in the Snowball vein on the 2,000 and 2,200 levels, have more than replaced the ore which has been mined during the quarter.

IS INCREASING ITS PRODUCTION

Shattuck's Output to Be Raised When Smelter Is Ready.

Bisbee, Ariz., July 26.—The Shattuck-Arizona is gradually increasing its production, which is to reach 500 tons per day as the Calumet & Arizona smelter gets its new units going. Shattuck is plenty able with ore in readiness to go to the higher output at any time. All development in this mine is continuing with more ore attending. Beside work from the hundred level down, they are now exploring in the attic, as it were, with the tunnel being driven in the mountain side well above the collar of the shaft. It is looking very good up there, too. Surface indications are strong for the finding of the lead-silver body, which has made into a bonanza on the 300-400 levels, in the higher ground. And there may be other things up there. Shattuck has the producing habit strong and is never averse to springing surprises in new ore.

SONORA MINES ARE NOW IDLE

Many Properties at Standstill and Others Must Close Soon.

Cananea, Mex., July 26.—Mining is almost at a standstill in the southern portion of the state of Sonora, especially in that section tributary to Tonichi, the northern terminus of a branch line of the Southern Pacific of Mexico road which runs up the Yaqui river, a distance of 155 kilometers. Many of the properties have been closed down indefinitely, while others still operating are soon to be idle as supplies are very low and additional necessities cannot be brought in except overland and at a great cost.

Mina Mexico will probably be shut down by the end of the month. There are at present about 100 men employed, mostly on development work. The 85-ton smelter is using charcoal as a substiute for coke, the charcoal being burned on the ground.

British capitalists have been granted a concession to construct a railroad from Ensenada, Lower California, to Mexicali, on the border between California and Mexico. The road is to continue east of Mexicali, cross the Colorado river and traverse the northern portion of Sonora to Magdalena, where it will connect with the Southern Pacific lines. Engineers are at present at work on this survey. The road will prove of great value to the mining enterprises located in the regions to be traversed, especially those located in the Altar district of Sonora.

WHEAT UP ON WEATHER

Cold and Too Much Rain in Northwest Affects Market.

Flax Given Hammer Downward Because of Over-Buying.

Duluth Board of Trade, July 26.—Wheat and flax reversed positions today, the former closing at an advance and the latter at a decline. July, September and December spring wheat closed at ¼c up. July and September durum closed unchanged.

Each flax option except December, closed at a decline of 1¼c. December falling off 1c. Oats closed ¾c up, barley 1c up and corn 1¼c up.

The wheat market was nervous all morning and for a long time, after September had opened at ⅛c off, the market remained around that level. But about the middle of the session the advance began, the cause of the start being bad news from Canada and the American Northwest, cold weather prevailing and too much moisture falling. At any rate it has been believed that wheat is pretty nearly low enough, in the face of a yield shortage of 100,000,000 bu in spring wheat and a yield shortage of 30,000,000 bu of all wheat, and the reactionary movement was not unlooked for. It is believed that the advance was held down by reason of the fact that this is the short session day and that Saturday is always dull.

Flax Has Reaction.

Flax opened unchanged this morning, but soon began to slide downward. An attempt to resume the upward movement of the past four days, developed the fact that there was a superabundance of selling orders, and this started the downward movement. During the upward movement of the past few days, flax has been heavily purchased, perhaps over-bought.

Todd W. Lewis wires the following from Kenmare, N. D.:

"Poor crop in northern tier of counties of North Dakota. Wheat will average about half a crop or about 7 bushels. Oats and barley worse. All grain green and no general harvest before Aug. 20. Late sown grown may help general results, but bulk won't head before first week of August, and won't mature before September. Flax acreage very small."

The following is from B. W. Snow at Grand Forks, N. D.:

"Weather conditions since July 1 have been uniformly favorable for all parts of North Dakota and the wheat crop will show up materially larger than indicated by the last government report. The total should reach 100,000,000 bu at least. Harvest will begin next week and quality has been unusually good."

Lecount wires from Lakota, N. D.:

"From Grand Forks here, crop below average; some fields fair, others poor. Think wheat here will make half crop and expected to be of good quality. Crop needs two weeks more favorable weather to mature. Weather clear and favorable."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Steady After Early Dip and Purchasing General.

Chicago, July 26.—Buying on the idea that prices were dangerously low and that any change would probably favor holders gave steadiness today to wheat. Purchasing became general after an early dip due to weak cables and to favorable weather in the Northwest. The opening was a shade to ¾c lower. September which started at 86c to 86⅛c, a loss of ⅛c to ⅜c, rallied to 86¼c.

Additional hardening ensued as a result of export sales. The close was steady with September ⅜@¼c net higher at 86½@86⅝c.

Scantiness of moisture in the chief producing states made the corn market strong. September opened ¼c to ½c higher at 61⅜c to 62c and rose to 62¼c.

A further upturn occurred in consequence of higher temperature Southwest. The close was nervous at 62¾@62⅞c, for September, a net advance of 1¼@1⅜c.

Oats developed firmness on account of offerings being light. September which at the outset was 39¾c to 39¾@39⅞c, a gain of ⅛@¼c to ¼c, climbed to 40c.

Provisions tended to harden with coarse grain. First sales were unchanged to 5c higher, including September options as follows: Pork, $21.30; lard, $11.75; ribs, $11.77½ to $11.80.

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

Wheat Opened Lower But Had a Gradual Advance.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 26.—Wheat opened at a new low, but as the session progressed there were slight and gradual advances. Trading continued of small volume and without any new speculative features. July closed ¼c higher than yesterday, September ⅛@¼c higher and December ¼c higher. Local elevator stocks of wheat decreased 200,000 bu for one day. July opened 85¾c; high, 85¾c; low, 85¾c; close, 85¾c. September opened 87c; high, 87¾c; low, 87c; close, 87½c. December opened 90c; high, 90¾c; low, 90c; close, 90½c.

Closing cash: No. 1 hard wheat, 90c; No. 1 northern, 88@89½c; to arrive, 88@89c; choice to arrive, 89½c; No. 2 northern, 86@87½c; No. 2 hard Montana, 85½c; No. 3 wheat, 84½@86c. No. 3 yellow corn, 61@61¼c; No. 3 white oats, 38@38½c. No. 2 rye, 55@57c.

Flax receipts, 4 cars; year ago, 8, shipments, 2. Demand good for choice but slow for other grades. No. 1 flax closed $1.38½@1.40½.

Barley receipts, 34 cars; year ago, 2; shipments, 48. Demand good for choice malting grades but slow for all other varieties. Prices unchanged.

The flour market continued active for this season. Sales were of fairly good volume and included some export business. Prices unchanged. Shipments today, 61,639 bbl.

Bran prices unchanged.

‖REMARKS—Showers fell over Saskatchewan, Montana, South Dakota and Minnesota; hot weather prevailed in Eastern Montana, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma.

H. W. RICHARDSON, Local Forecaster.

‡—Not included in the district averages.
‡—Maximum of yesterday, minimum of last night.
*—Highest yesterday.
†—Lowest for twenty-four hours, ending at 8 a. m., seventy-fifth meridian time.

Note—The average highest and lowest temperatures are made up at each center from the actual number of reports received, and the average precipitations from the number of stations reporting 0.10 inch or more. The "state of weather" is that prevailing at time of observation.

TRADING ON SMALL SCALE

Moderate Buying of Hill Stocks Causes Slight Gains.

Steel and Amalgamated Decline But Recover Near Close.

New York, July 26.—There were no changes of importance in the early dealings on the stock exchange today. Some of the active issues including the Harriman and Hill stocks made small gains, while Reading, Amalgamated Copper and Canadian Pacific declined as much. The volume of trading was extremely light in contrast to yesterday's early activity.

Prices showed some inclination to improve soon after the opening, and trading became a trifle more active for a brief time. One point gains in Great Northern preferred, Northern Pacific and Lehigh Valley, a similar loss in Louisville & Nashville and a five-point break in American Express were the only features.

The market closed firm. Prices were maintained with some difficulty when the moderate buying of the Hill stocks abated. Union Pacific, Reading, Steel and Amalgamated were depressed slightly under yesterday's final figures, but made some recovery toward the close Chesapeake & Ohio and Missouri Pacific were rather heavy London Stocks.

London, July 26.—Money was in moderate demand and discount rates were fairly firm today. Trading was quiet on the stock exchange, operators awaiting more favorable news from the near east. The approaching settlement also checked transactions. Home rails were steady despite profit taking. Rubber and oil shares were dull. Kaffirs hardened on the better labor outlook and Mexican rails closed strong.

American securities were quiet and featureless. Prices opened about unchanged and later moved irregularly within narrow limits. The closing was steady with values from ½ above to ¼ below yesterday's New York closing.

STRENGTH SHOWN IN COPPER STOCKS

The usual Saturday dullness prevented much trading in the stock market today, but in coppers, while there was quietness there was undoubted strength and prices held up well around yesterday's close, which was at an advance. Only one or two stocks had changes, and those very slight ones. The activity in East Butte was quite pronounced today and the stock advanced in price several points.

Gay & Sturgis received the following closing letter from Boston: "The market was practically stagnant during the entire session. There is little that can be said of the market today with the exception that it is acting contrary to the expectations of the traders. The bears found little consolation in the Union Pacific statement. With so many warnings in regard to the money market by the banks it is becoming apparent it has been overdone. Call money continues abundant and the bank statement was even better than expected. Loans decreased over $13,000,000 while the reserves increased very nearly $8,000,000. The moneyed interests are not in sympathy with a rise in the market at the present time. Meantime the man with money and sound judgment has opportunities seldom offered."

BUTTE & ELY CASE GIVEN CONTINUANCE

Joseph B. Cotton Gets Modification of the Restraining Order.

Butte, Mont., July 26.—(Special to The Herald.)—The hearing on application of I. A. Heilbronner, for a restraining order and appointment of a receiver for the Butte & Ely Copper company, which was to have come up at Butte this morning, has been continued to Sept. 15, with the express understanding that the restraining order be so modified as to permit the company and its officers to transact business in the usual way.

By permission of the court, Joseph B. Cotton, one of the individual defendants, addressed the court and stated that the defendants, Cotton, Maney and Neukom, had come to Butte fully prepared for the hearing, had voluntarily submitted themselves to the jurisdiction of the court, and he demanded an immediate hearing pursuant to the original order. Mr. Cotton further stated that these defendants had brought all books, papers and records of the company, that such hearing would take only a short time—at most two or three days—and that they would be greatly inconvenienced by any continuance.

The court stated that at the time the temporary restraining orders and order for the appointment of a receiver were signed he did not anticipate or understand that the matter would come up for final hearing at this time, and that in view of the fact that his court reporter and the clerk of court were out of the city, and as he understood counsel for the plaintiff was not ready or prepared for the hearing, the case would have to be continued till September and he fixed Sept. 15 for the hearing, with the restraining order immediately modified as above stated.

ASK SEATTLE MAYOR TO FORBID PLAY

Spanish-American War Veterans Object to Its Presentation.

Seattle, Wash., July 26.—A committee of Spanish-American war veterans waited on Mayor Cotterill yesterday and demanded that he forbid the presentation of the comedy "The Colonel and His Friends," in a leading theater here next Sunday night. The play, according to the author, is founded on a recent trial in Judge John E. Humphreys' department of the superior court, and the actors will repeat the exact trial as reported by a shorthand man. Among the characters is "Judge Humpty-Dumpty."

The committee represented to the mayor that scurrilous references to the American flag, the Spanish-American veterans and the Daughters of the Revolution were expected to be in the play.

WOMAN ARRESTED FOR IOWA MURDER

Sparta, Wis., July 26.—Mrs. George Browne, residing with her four children at Pleasant Valley in this county, was arrested yesterday by Sheriff Bergmeyer of Clayton county, Iowa, on suspicion of murder committed near Elkader in that county several weeks ago, and with her four children was taken back to Elkader. The body of the victim, who was a man boarding with the Brownes, was found two weeks ago after the family had disappeared, and with considerable difficulty they were traced to this county. The husband of the woman arrested was also sought but had disappeared a second time before the officer arrived.

TEN INDICTMENTS FOR ARSON RETAINED.

Chicago, July 26.—True bills charging complicity in incendiary fires, were voted by the grand jury against Joseph Fish, head of Joseph Fish & Co., public fire insurance adjusters, and nine others, two of whom are reported to be women.

Action followed the testimony of Mrs. Annie Korshak, whose husband is now a fugitive from justice in connection with indictments previously returned by the grand jury as a result of its investigation of the operations of the alleged arson trust.

KILLED AS HE SAT ALONGSIDE HIS WIFE.

New Virginia, Iowa, July 26.—T. J. Allen, proprietor of a meat market, was shot and killed as he sat alongside his wife of little more than a week, on a train at the station here yesterday afternoon. About a week ago Mr. Allen married Mrs. Addie Shetterly. Mrs. Shetterly's former husband, W. S. Shetterly,

REAL ESTATE

GOOD DEMAND FOR ACRES AND LOTS IN CITY SUBURBS

Sales in New Sub-Divisions Continue Despite Mid-summer Quietness.

Few Transfers of City Property Reported in Last Week.

WEEKLY REALTY RESUME.

	Number of Transfers.	Known Consideration.
Monday	25	$ 4,450.00
Tuesday	19	1,515.00
Wednesday	37	16,910.00
Thursday	17	2,550.00
Friday	10	4,275.00
Saturday	13	4,510.00
Total	121	$34,210.00

Keen interest is still being shown in subdivision property, and real estate firms having selling campaigns under way, report that a substantial number of sales have been made during the week just past. Inquiry for acre tracts close to the city continues brisk and, as one dealer puts it, people are just beginning to wake up to the opportunities which have been offered them in the line of a safe and sound investment. The "own your own home" movement is on and the heavy sale of subdivision property is expected to be followed by a healthy building campaign.

Except for the movement reported by the subdividers, the Duluth realty market for the past week has been rather quiet. Real estate transfers show a falling off although there is no indication that July will not measure up to the usual midsummer standard.

The Alliance Real Estate company reports that Exeter farm tracts are finding much favor with investors and that the "get an acre and live on it" slogan is being quite generally adopted. During the past week, according to George E. Lynott, sales manager, the company disposed of thirty-five more of the Exeter tracts, a number of the purchasers being Superior people. The same company also disposed of four lots in the steel plant district at Ironton-Spirit Lake, two of which were purchased by local people. Two lots were also sold at Glenwood park, a subdivision near the end of the Woodland car line.

* * *

Two-thirds of the lost in the recently platted Harbor View division, located about three-quarters of a mile from the end of the Piedmont avenue car line, were disposed of at the opening sale of the tracts by Stryker, Manley & Buck last Saturday. Those in charge of the sale expect to close out on the remaining lots during the next week or two. A number of choice lots are said to be left. At Ingleside park, another subdivision out from the end of the Woodland car line on the Howard-Gnesen road, a number of tracts have been sold recently by the same firm.

The Gary Land company disposed of nineteen lots at Gary during the past week, according to A. W. Keuhnow, sales manager. Four of the lots were purchased by Elmer Swanson of Chisholm on Commonwealth avenue. Mr. Swanson, it is understood, may improve the property in the near future. Buding at Gary continues at a lively clip. Between twenty-five and thirty buildings are now under construction there now. Five or six small residences were started this week. A new boarding house is being erected on Ninety-eighth avenue west and Gary and Reis streets. The size of the building will be 24 by 60. George H. Lounsberry was this week awarded the contract for the construction of a branch telephone exchange building for the Duluth Telephone company on One Hundred and First avenue west between McGonagle and Gary streets. It will cost $5,800.

* * *

H. B. Fryberger has purchased the southeast corner of First avenue west and First street fronting 100 feet on First street and forty feet on First avenue west, from William R. Faries. The property is improved with a two-story brick building, numbered 34 West First street and occupied by the Sanitary Plumbing company. The consideration involved in the transfer was not made public.

* * *

Among the sales of the week in residence properties were the following:

From J. W. Hunt to John A. Johnson, 50-foot frontage on upper side of Fifth street between Seventh and Eighth avenues east. Consideration, $900.

From Alfred E. Watson to John A. Johnson, 50-foot frontage adjoining the purchase from Mr. Hunt. Consideration $900.

From Oscar B. Bjorge to Standard Investment company, frontage of 100 feet at the southeast corner of Fourteenth avenue east and Tenth street. Consideration $1,150.

From Lyman W. Hurley to Cooley & Underhill company, house and lot fronting fifty feet on the upper side of Jay street between Forty-ninth and Fiftieth avenues east. Consideration $1,750.

From David Sang to Byron W. Brooks, 50-foot frontage on the west side of Fifty-ninth avenue west between Worden and Medinah streets. Consideration $750.

* * *

The Steel Plant Investment company reports the sale of eighteen lots and three houses during the last three weeks.

FALL MONTHS PROMISE AN ACTIVE BUILDING MOVEMENT

Many Big Contracts, Including Model City, in Prospect.

New Factory Building, Docks and Elevators Are Planned.

Duluth's building program for late summer and fall months promises a lively movement in construction circles. Already a number of good-sized propositions are brewing and architects do not hesitate to say that the next few months will be record-breakers.

Assurance has just been given by the Western Linen company of the erection of a factory building occupying ground space to the extent of an entire block on a site which has been chosen in the western end of the city. The site selected has not yet been announced. The building will be a two-story fireproof structure and will employ about forty-five people in the manufacture of flax fiber linen rugs. The factory will be the only one of its kind in the world.

Duluth is also promised a few more good plums in the line of railroad terminal improvements. The Canadian Northern, it is understood, will soon announce the letting of contracts for an ore dock, coal dock and two elevators to be built on its terminal property at Forty-seventh avenue west. The new construction will entail an expenditure of $2,000,000. It is understood that the ore dock will be located west of the newly constructed lumber dock and that the coal dock will be built east of the lumber dock.

Morell & Nichols, engineers in charge of the work of building the "model city" which the steel corporation will erect for its workmen adjacent to its Duluth plant, this week advertised for bids. The preliminary surveys have been made.

Among other things, the bids call for figures on the construction of seven miles of water and gas mains and five miles of sewer. A duplicate system of water mains will be laid, one to be used for drinking purposes only. The territory embraced by the "model city" is a half mile long and a quarter of a mile in breadth.

The work of laying the sewer, water and gas mains alone is estimated to cost $100,000, and is only a small part of the whole undertaking.

Outside school construction continues to attract the attention of local architects. This week Holstead & Sullivan were awarded the commission for furnishing plans for a $40,000 addition to the Grand Rapids high school. The Grand Rapids school district voted this week to issue bonds to cover the cost. Other schools which will be built in the vicinity of Grand Rapids and their cost are: School at the east end of Trout lake, $600; addition to the present Trout Lake school, $1,000; new school at Dora Lake, $1,000; Max, $600; north end of Squaw lake, $600; south east of Wawina, $600; Bergville, $1,200; section 1, township 62, range 25, $600; section 15, township 148, range 29, $1,000; lot 4 section 19, township 148, range 28, $600; west end of Deer lake, $800; Togo, $800; town of Good Hope, $600.

Three new hotel jobs on the Cuyuna range are being handled by Architect Anthony Puck of this city.

He is preparing plans for a fifty-room hotel, to be erected at Riverton, at a cost of $25,000, bids to be called for next week.

Plans for the $20,000 hotel to be erected for the Johnstown Land company at Manganese were given out for figures this week.

The same architect this week let the contract for a thirty-two-room addition to the Spalding hotel at Crosby, to A. Roberts & Co., for $20,000.

Richard Hanson was this week awarded the contract for the construction of the R. H. Draper residence, which will be built at Eighteenth avenue east and Second street, at a cost of $20,000. The home when completed will be among the finest in the East end residence district. The plans were drawn by Architect Anthony Puck.

* * *

It is expected that the contract will be let next week for the new Swedish Lutheran church to be erected at Midway at a cost of about $7,000. The congregation owns tens acres of ground on the location and it is proposed to use the present church edifice for a parochial school and later to build a parsonage on the property. Tho new church will have a large basement and its main auditorium will seat 800.

Plans for a brick garage to be built for Dr. J. M. O. Tufty at his home in the East end have been prepared by Wangenstein & Giluison, architects, and are now out for figures.

AGENCY OF WIDE SCOPE

International Realty Associates Will Operate Over Entire Country.

Plan of N. J. Upham Adopted By Real Estate Association.

A monster agency for handling real estate, having the entire country as its field of operation and backed financially by the members of the National Association of Real Estate exchanges, an idea originated by N. J. Upham of this city and fostered by the executive board of the national association, will spring into being at the Winnipeg convention of real estate men next week.

Mr. Upham, originator of the scheme, will explain the working plan at the Tuesday session of the convention. The International Realty Associates has already been adopted as the name of the new organization. The agency is an organization comprising only members of the National Association of Real Estate exchanges and the maximum amount of stock allowed to any one member will be $500. Any member of the association is eligible to buy the stock. The idea of the organization is to provide an agency to invest in property in the various cities of the country, where returns are the most promising. It is figured that the ripe experience of real estate men in buying investment properties will be one of the most valuable assets of the organization.

The plan has been enthusiastically received by the executive board of the national association, and already subscriptions for stock have reached a substantial figure. Duluth real estate men have practically subscribed their limit.

ENJOINED FROM SELLING LOTS

Agent Must Wait Until Contract Is Passed on By Court.

Waldemar Nicholayson was enjoined by District Judge Bert Fesler yesterday from continuing to act as agent for the Ironton Park Land company under his contract to represent the concern in the sale of lots at "Iron Park." The court, upon the application of the land company, yesterday afternoon after a hearing issued a temporary injunction against Nicholayson.

The temporary injunction ties the case up until the September term of court when the matter will come on for final disposition. The court will then determine whether or not a permanent injunction will issue against Nicholayson, restraining him from selling lots under the particular contract in question.

Nicholayson was employed on June 6 last to sell lots at Iron Park at $137.50 net to the company. Later he was informed that the meeting at which the contract was authorized by the directors of the company was not a legal one, because John H. Hill, a director had not been notified in due form and was absent from the meeting.

John Swinlund is attorney for the land company and B. M. Goldberg for the defendant.

Francis X. Mathieu, Oregon pioneer of 1842, and the man whose vote saved the Oregon country to the United States, is seriously ill at the home of his son, S. A. Mathieu, in Portland, Me.

CONVENTION AT WINNIPEG

Duluth and Superior Delegates Will Leave on Special Sunday.

Three Days' Program Will Be Followed By Long Junket.

Duluth real estate men are off for Winnipeg tomorrow.

A special train which will leave the Omaha depot at 7:30 o'clock and which will run over the Canadian Northern, will take twenty-four Duluthians and an equal number from Superior to Winnipeg, where the sixth annual convention of the National Association of Real Estate Exchanges will be held.

Mayor W. I. Prince will go with the real estate men on their trip and is expected to be among the speakers at the convention. N. J. Upham of this city, who is a vice president of the national organization, will represent Duluth on the program of five-minute talks. He will present a rhyme which tells of Duluth's greatness in verse. A number of copies will later be circulated among the convention delegates.

E. D. Field of the local exchange left last evening for Winnipeg with the exhibits which the Duluth real estate men have arranged. A number of Duluth souvenirs will be distributed at the convention in the shape of little bags of iron ore. The exhibit will include samples of various grades of iron ore mined in St. Louis county, pictures and hearts showing the importance of the mining industry and photographs and panoramic views of the Zenith City.

Duluth Delegation.

The Duluth delegation will be quartered at one hotel and will be comprised of the following:

Mayor W. I. Prince.
H. W. Cheadle of Richardson, Day & Cheadle.
J. D. Stryker and A. H. Brown of Stryker, Manley & Buck.
E. F. Spink of J. D. Howard & Co.
C. R. Haines.
N. J. Upham.
Henry Nolte of Little & Nolte
George G. Newton, Angus Grant and G. T. Eagling of W. M. Prindle & Co.
H. R. Kohagen of Hoopes-Kohagen company.
C. H. McLennan of Corporate Investment company.
H. O. Hanson of P. George Hanson & Son.
W. C. Sherwood and Williard G. Rich of W. C. Sherwood & Co.
F. B. Rossom.
J. A. Stephenson.
E. D. Field of E. D. Field company.
C. F. Graff.
T. W. Wahl.

A number of the local delegates will take their wives with them for the trip.

Convention Program.

The convention will start at 8:30 Monday morning and will last for three days. A good deal of interest has been shown in the affair throughout the country and it is expected that the attendance will be very large.

The "Sunrise breakfasts," which are scheduled to begin at 7 a. m., will close at 9:30 a. m., in time for the regular convention session. It is proposed at these breakfasts to get together different classifications of real estate men. Those interested in sub-division, rentals, home building, farm lands, colonization and other work will each have an occasion on which they can get together and meet men in their own line of work.

Program for Ladies.

Attractive plans are being formulated for entertaining the ladies. Auto rides around the city are planned for Monday afternoon, July 28, and the "get-together-get-acquainted" entertainment for that evening includes both men and women. On the second day of the convention, the ladies are to be taken in automobiles to upper Fort Garry for luncheon. The fort is by far the best preserved of any of the old forts erected by the Hudson Bay company. It has a historic past and its walls, loop holes, bastions, gateways, etc., are in perfect state of preservation. Being picturesquely situated, it is now the delightful and romantic summer home of the Winnipeg Auto club.

On the same evening there will be a garden party at Government House, the official residence of Lieutenant Governor D. C. Cameron. The governor and Mrs. Cameron will receive informally for all delegates and their ladies. The Seventy-ninth Highlander regiment and their celebrated Kilty band will parade in full regimentals and among the ceremonies will be the unique "Trooping the Colors."

On Wednesday evening there will be a mammoth banquet in the Queen's room at the Royal Alexandra, the splendid C. P. R. hotel in Winnipeg. This affair will bring the convention officially to a close. On the following morning at 8 a. m., the delegates will leave for the 1,100-mile trip through the Canadian wheat belt, provided free through the courtesy of boards located along the route to be visited.

Real Estate Exhibits.

A program of unusual interest to real estate men is being prepared in connection with the three days' business session, to be held July 28, 29 and 30. Meetings will be held in the big convention hall and the feature will be a large display of real estate exhibits. Cities all over the country are expected to participate in this display and what space is not utilized by visiting delegations will be filled up with Canadian products.

Special trains will carry delegations from most of the large cities.

The Steel Corporation

Just at this time when the big work of the Steel Corporation is under way, Proctor is feeling the influence and will share in the development and "boom" now in sight for this region.

The same people own and control the railroad, shops and terminals here at Proctor that are building the Steel Plant on the bay below, and it is believed that the big Proctor shops will be used as an adjunct and auxiliary in the construction of the Steel Plant buildings and improvements.

Already the Railway Company has made the survey to extend a new ore road from the Yards to the Plant and another immense ore dock is being constructed on the bay.

Those improvements will be direct feeders for Proctor, and with its two shop plants, yards and terminals, Proctor is really an important part of the Steel Plant. The position is such that when the street cars come from West Duluth, it is said, they will be extended from Proctor and make a "loop" around by the Steel Plant and back to West Duluth. Adv.

New Yorkers Appeal to Special Commission to Keep Fifth Avenue Unspoiled.

New York city is trying to solve the problem of the limit of height. Individuals and organizations who want to keep Fifth avenue unspoiled have appeared in the past few weeks before the heights building commission and said that it would be impossible unless something was done to regulate the height and character of buildings now being erected on that thoroughfare.

Every person who has appeared before the commission has suggested that something should be done promptly to save the avenue. The decline in the value of property on Fifth avenue near Thirteenth street was given by one as an example of what might be expected if the present haphazard building methods should be continued. This property only a few years ago sold for $380,000, but today it is going begging at $240,000. The commission in gathering its facts takes up different phases of the problem one by one. It sums up the information that has been given about the Fifth avenue district as follows:

"While the land on the avenue is worth from $10,000 to $20,000 or more a front foot for an inside lot, land just back from the avenue on the side streets is selling for from $3,000 to $5,000 a front foot. Because of the settled factory development on lower Fifth avenue and on Fourth avenue, these side streets are far more desirable for salesrooms, sample rooms, and warehouses than for any other purpose.

"Manufacturers are convinced that the salesroom and the factory must be together, and for this reason they are crowding large plants into the loft buildings near the avenue above Twenty-third street.

"After various tall office buildings were built some years ago along the avenue between Twenty-third and Thirty-fourth streets, it became difficult in some cases to fill them, partly because of the constantly increasing crowd of factory operatives from the side streets filling the avenue during the noon hour, thereby damaging it as a high-class shopping and office street.

"In many cases the office building managers tore down partitions and changed unlet office floors into loft floors, although these let at one-half as much per square foot as the offices did. This helped to drive out the best retail trade and values dropped to nearer the factory loft level.

"Except for a short stretch on Fifty-seventh street, absolutely the only place left in Manhattan for high-class shopping of a certain kind is on Fifth avenue below Fifty-ninth street. For the best interest not only of New York, but of the whole country, this stretch of Fifth avenue must be reserved for this class of shopping.

"They would, however exempt from this height limit hotels and high-class office buildings, for a certain number of both are for the good of the avenue; yet, to pay, they often have to be higher than eight stories, especially on land worth $20,000 or more per front foot.

"If the courts would not allow a direct discrimination against factories within the Fifth avenue zone, then they would urge the passage of a law from the standpoint of safety and health which would raise the minimum permissible space per person, especially on the upper floors of the buildings."

PROVIDENT NEWSBOY IS ON ROAD TO WEALTH.

One of the youngest buyers of real estate is John Eisennour, 12 years old, who sells newspapers on the streets of Los Angeles. He goes to school every day, but his school work has never interfered with his business, and for several years he has bought his own clothes, school books and other supplies, and has had no help from any one. Eisenhour has a bank account in his own name, makes deposits every other day and draws checks on the same like any other man of affairs.

During the time a Los Angeles company was seeking a name for a subdivision, John became very much interested in the advertising, so much so that he visited the tract and picked out and purchased one of the best lots in the whole 300 that were placed on sale by the company, sixty days or so ago. He drew a check for $110 as first payment and is paying up the balance on his property twice as rapidly as is required under his contract. He wants to get the lot clear and then expects to build a house and rent it. John never forgets a face, and has made scores of friends, who walk a block out of their way to purchase a paper from the alert and smiling youngster, who is laying the foundation for a fortune at an age when most boys are accumulating only baseball fingers and stone bruises.

WHY PAINT CRACKS.

The causes for the cracking of paint are manifold, says the Painters' Magazine. Formerly the most common cause was the use of boiled oil in priming that was in vogue some years ago. Priming with cheap ocher or cheap white lead in it was another cause. Unseasoned or poorly dried lumber used in buildings is another reason for the cracking of paint. This refers to outside painting mostly.

On interior work the cracking of paint is due mostly to the kiln-dried or green lumber, to green or limot walls, inferior size or imperfectly dried undercoats, always providing that the finishing paint is properly made and well balanced for the purpose.

When paint cracks with appearance of an alligator skin it may be assumed that the wood may have been green or the undercoat not hard enough, or if in a wall, a sizing was imperfect, or that the wall was too hot for sizing and painting. This effect will show in deep ridges, or rather furrows.

When a plastered wall such as, for instance, that in a kitchen or in a laundry, is repainted without being first washed down with soap and water and thoroughly rinsed, and shows, after painting, large furrows in the new paint, it is not necessarily the faul of the paint, but the grease on the wall that does not permit the new coating to obtain a proper hold on all of the surface.

These garden tracts are on the Jean Duluth farm road three-quarters of a mile beyond the city limits and actually adjoining the new State Demonstration Farm School. Buildings costing $30,000.00 are now under construction at the state school and courses will be held there this coming winter.

A street car line must soon be built to accommodate the school. Our lands are just a few minutes' walk from the end of the present car line. The county is spending thousands now building through our lands the finest crushed rock road running out of Duluth. The neighborhood is well built up NOW with a good class of people.

Our lands are the very finest quality of clay loam, easily worked. Our prices are low, our terms can be arranged to suit. Can you afford to miss the opportunity?

CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION —OF— McCABE BROS. COMPANY.

We, the undersigned, do hereby associate ourselves together and agree upon the following certificate of incorporation, under the provisions of Chapter 58 of the Revised Laws 1905 of the State of Minnesota, and acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto:

ARTICLE I.

The name of this corporation shall be McCABE BROS. COMPANY.

ARTICLE II.

The general nature of the business of this corporation shall be to buy, sell and otherwise deal in grain and other personal property and in real estate; to deal in and handle grain and other personal property as brokers and on commission; to loan money on grain and other personal property and upon real estate, as security, and do all such other business as may be deemed advisable or convenient for the welfare of this corporation.

ARTICLE III.

The principal place for carrying on the said business of this corporation shall be Duluth, Minnesota. But the board of directors, from time to time, may decide upon the principal place where such business shall be carried on.

ARTICLE IV.

The period of duration of this corporation shall be thirty years.

ARTICLE V.

The names and places of residence of the persons forming this corporation are as follows:

William J. McCabe, Milton M. McCabe, S. R. Clark of Duluth, Minnesota, James McCabe of Glasston, North Dakota, and George H. McCabe of Grafton, North Dakota.

ARTICLE VI.

The government of this corporation shall be vested in a board of five directors, who shall be stockholders, and a president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, and such other officers as the board of directors may decide upon. The incorporators above named shall compose the first board of directors. Two or more of said offices may be held by one person, if the board of directors shall so decide. The board of directors shall be elected by the stockholders at their annual meeting, and the other officers shall be chosen by the directors at their first meeting after each annual meeting of the stockholders. The directors and officers shall hold their respective offices for a term of one year and until their successors are elected and qualified.

ARTICLE VII.

The annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held on the third Wednesday in August in each year, at such hour and place as shall be fixed by the by-laws of the corporation.

ARTICLE VIII.

The capital stock of this corporation shall be of the par value of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00), and shall be divided into five hundred shares of the par value of one hundred dollars ($100.00) each. The same shall be paid in as called for by the board of directors, either in money or in property.

ARTICLE IX.

The highest amount of indebtedness or liability to which this corporation may be subject at any time is the sum of eight hundred thousand dollars ($800,000.00)

PERSONAL.

PERSONAL—LOST—HEALTH; FOUND —Remedy: Dr. Dolor Dufresne Indian Roots and Herbs. Health and happiness are twin sisters. If sick, remember there is a way out. Thousands have found it in Dr. Dolor Dufresne Indian Roots and Herbs. Dr. Dolor Dufresne Indian Roots and Herbs bring the sunshine of health into the home by relieving suffering and curing disease. The strongest evidence of the merits of a medicine is the testimony of those who have used it; they are most competent to speak. Sickness falls with heavy hands on the rich as well as the poor; but burden rests heaviest on the one who toils for his daily bread. No man lives longer than the time God has allotted him; but thousands shorten their lives by careless living and ignoring Nature's laws. The baby in the cradle, the man in the noonday of life, the aged at the passing of the day, all find in Dr. Dolor Dufresne Indian Roots and Herbs a blessed spring of health and vigor. If there is no agent for Dr. Dolor Dufresne Indian Roots and Herbs in your neighborhood, invest $1 for a box or six boxes $5. You will feel it is money well spent. PRESIDENT SEES NO IMMEDIATE CRISIS IN MEXICAN REVOLUTION

Will Hold Extended Conference With Newly Returned Ambassador.

Compliance With Demands in Dixon Incident Is Reported.

Engineer Is Said to Have Been Victim of Plot.

Washington, July 28.—President Wilson does not believe the public mind in the United States is excited over the situation in Mexico, nor is he convinced that a crisis has been reached in the revolution itself.

This information was obtained in official circles today, with an authoritative denial that any proposal looking toward a co-operation between American military forces and the Mexican government at restoration of peace had been suggested.

Those who approached the president today on the Mexican situation found him disinclined to discuss it, as later he was to confer with Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson. Secretary Bryan arranged to see the president before the conference. The secretary also continued his reticence on Mexican affairs.

Reports Are Unfounded.

It was learned at the White House, however, that reports crediting Ambassador Wilson with having advocated a set of proposals contemplating military co-operation with Mexico or intervention were unfounded. The president has received from Ambassador Wilson a historical account of events in Mexico in the last three years.

The ambassador himself declared today he had not mentioned any remedies on the situation to anyone, and had not even put on paper the plans he had in mind. He had reserved these, he said, for his personal interview with the president.

Contradictory information has reached the Washington government regarding the stability of the Huerta administration. It was said today to be a question of reliability of informants. Officials declined to state which reports were being credited. It was said, however, that in the last ten days there had been little or no change in the status of affairs in the Southern republic.

The Dixon Incident.

The shooting of Charles B. Dixon, Jr., at Juarez, is regarded as a serious incident, but its bearing on the general Mexican situation is being minimized by officials here today, as the American demand for the investigation and punishment of the offenders apparently were being complied with.

At the White House it was said the

WINNIPEG HOST TO REAL ESTATE MEN

Several Hundred Will Tour Western Canada This Week.

Winnipeg, Man., July 28.—Hundreds of delegates from the larger cities of the United States and Canada are here today for the opening session of the National Association of Real Estate Exchanges. The convention will last three days. Fifteen hundred delegates are expected.

Buffalo, Pittsburg and Seattle are rivals for the honor of entertaining the next year's convention, and Los Angeles is claiming the 1915 meeting. Thursday morning, as guests of the Winnipeg real estate exchange, the entire party will leave on three special trains for a tour of Western Canada's wheat fields.

C. L. Simpson of Kansas City, vice president of the National exchange, probably will succeed Edward S. Judd as president.

One of the principal events scheduled for today is a series of five-minute talks by delegates on topics of interest to the members. The Chicago exchange is to give a silver cup to the one making the best address.

KILLED JOY-RIDING AFTER FAMILY ROW

Rochester, N. Y., Lumberman's Car Is Hit By Express Train.

Rochester, N. Y., July 28.—E. J. Sankpeal, vice president of a lumber company, and Miss Martha Hartlebin, a young woman of this city, were instantly killed early today when an automobile driven by Sankpeal was struck by the Wolverine express on the New York Central at a crossing in Penfield, a few miles from the city.

Mrs. Sankpeal identified both bodies at the morgue. She told the coroner she had quarreled with her husband last night and he left her in anger. She was at home awaiting his return when notified of the accident.

POSTMASTER LOSES JOB; KILLS HIMSELF

Earl B. Riddle of Laroy, Ill., Commits Suicide.

Bloomington, Ill., July 28.—Earl B. Riddle, aged 43, ex-postmaster of Laroy, committed suicide today at his home. Despondency over financial troubles and loss of the postmastership was the cause, it is said.

SERVED UNDER CLEVELAND, IS SELECTED BY WILSON

—Copyrighted by J. E. Purdy.

CHARLES S. HAMLIN.

Washington, July 28.—Charles Sumner Hamlin of Boston is understood to have been chosen by President Wilson for appointment as assistant Secretary of the treasury in charge of customs. He will succeed James P. Curtis, another Boston man and, like Mr. Hamlin, a Harvard graduate. Mr. Hamlin served as assistant secretary of the treasury throughout the second Cleveland administration. He has been active in Democratic politics and has run for office several times, but has always been defeated.

RUNS FOR LONG FLY; KILLED BY IRON PRONG

Young Farmer Sustains Fatal Accident During Ball Game.

St. James, Minn., July 28.—Dashing back into deep center field in an effort to get under a long, high fly during a baseball game here yesterday, Richard Bloomquist, a young farmer living near St. James, crashed into a hay bucker and was pierced through the chest by an iron prong. He died shortly after.

FIFTH VICTIM OF WRECK IS DEAD

Walter Way, Scalded at Pembine, Wis., Dies of Injuries.

Iron Mountain, Mich., July 28.—Express Messenger Walter Way, who was horribly scalded and mangled in the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul wreck at Pembine, Wis., Saturday night, and who begged his rescuers to kill him, died today from his injuries. This makes the fifth fatality of the wreck.

WOMAN SAVES SON BUT BURNS TO DEATH

Can of Varnish on Stove Explodes and Ignites Clothing.

Sheboygan, Wis., July 28.—Mrs. John Stanisch is dead and her 10-year-old son is seriously burned as the result of an explosion today of a can of varnish which the woman had placed on the stove. She mistook the varnish for floor oil.

Mrs. Stanisch, although her clothes were aflame, rushed to the assistance of her child, extinguished his burning clothing and then lay in a pool of water. She died several hours later.

HOLLIS TESTIFIES IN THE LUMBER CASE

Hearing of Trust Suit Is Resumed at Chicago.

Chicago, July 28.—Hearing of testimony in the government's suit against the alleged "lumber trust" was resumed today when W. G. Hollis of Minneapolis, secretary of the Northwestern Lumbermen's association, was recalled to the stand.

Mr. Hollis was questioned regarding the lumbermen's bureau of information, against whose members criminal indictments were dismissed by the government three weeks ago.

Mr. Hollis said that the bureau was organized with fourteen members for the sole purpose of gaining new information and new ideas in the handling of the retail lumber business. He denied that the bureau used any force against manufacturers who sold lumber direct to consumers.

Dr. Mayo Goes to London.

Rochester, Minn., July 28.—Dr. and Mrs. William J. Mayo have departed for London, where the degree of fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons will be conferred upon the doctor. While in England, Dr. Mayo will deliver several addresses.

WAS SUICIDE, SAYS BROTHER

Winona Man Goes to Identify Woman's Body at Chicago.

Supposed Murder Victim Believed to Be Alice Lees.

La Crosse, Wis., July 28.—That the young woman whose body was found on the beach at Rogers' park, Chicago, on Saturday was his sister, Miss Alice Lees, aged 37, of Alma, Wis., was the positive opinion expressed today by Andrew Lees of this city. So certain are members of the family that she is the girl that another brother, Edward Lees, of Winona went down to Chicago last night to claim the body.

Mr. Lees' suspicion was aroused by the Associated Press item on Saturday afternoon giving a report of the finding of the body, and his investigation Sunday convinced him he was right.

Was in Ill Health.

The case is one of suicide, and not murder, in Mr. Lees' opinion. Miss Lees had been in ill health and under treatment of physicians for a nervous disorder for five years or more. She had no love affair and no wedding ring, he said, but was simply discouraged by ill health. He had been in close touch with his sister's affairs, and said that she was kept well supplied with money and never was in need.

She had not been missing, but had written members of the family on Friday, her letters on that day, just before her death, showing that she was discouraged because of constant illness.

The Lees family is one of the most

SAYS WOMEN CAN BE JUDGES OF ELECTION

Chicago Court Gives Opinion on New Suffrage Law.

Chicago, July 28.—In an opinion given today, County Judge Owens held that all women are eligible for appointment as clerks of election, and that all women who can qualify as householders (that is, who are the head of the family; supporting it independently) may serve as judges of election, under the new woman's suffrage law in Illinois.

SILK STRIKE COST EMPLOYES $5,300,000

Paterson Trouble Is Over But All Cannot Obtain Work.

Paterson, N. J., July 28.—The big silk strike is over, but not all the employes who left the mills were able to find work today. The manufacturers said they had all the hands they could use until they received orders withheld pending the settlement of the labor trouble. The central strike committee of the Industrial Workers of the World has been delegated to make official declaration of the end of the strike tomorrow.

It is estimated that the strike cost the employes $5,300,000 in lost wages. The manufacturers lost their spring and summer orders, and twenty-one small plants went to the wall.

WILL OPPOSE TARIFF BILL

Eleven Progressive Republicans Line Up for La Follette Ideas.

Townsend of Michigan Speaks Against Democratic Measure.

Washington, July 28.—Eleven progressive Republican senators tentatively agreed today to support Senator La Follette's substitute schedules on wool, cotton and several other sections of the tariff bill.

The conference marked the first effort on the part of the progressive Republican element to take a definite stand on the tariff revision.

Votes on amendments last week showed many of the progressive Republicans at variance with the remainder of the Republican side on certain items. It is understood now that an attempt will be made to substitute the La Follette wool schedule for that which already had been introduced by Senator Smoot, and which the latter expects to present as the Republican measure.

Clapp presided.

In today's conference, presided over by Senator Clapp, were Senators Borah, Bristow, Crawford, Sterling, Cummins, Kenyon, La Follette, Gronna, Norris and Works.

Another conference will be held in a few days, and each member will present amendments which he proposes to support in the senate.

Senator La Follette outlined substitutes he will propose to the wool and cotton schedules of the Democratic bill. Senator Kenyon will urge amendments placing on the free list all articles in control of a monopoly, one of them being aluminum. He expects to speak this week on the general policy of free listing all trust controlled commodities.

Senator Cummins has an amendment to tax all commodities sold through stock exchanges, similar to the cotton futures stamp tax included in the Democratic bill.

Speech by Townsend.

Senator Townsend of Michigan, in a speech in the senate today, characterized the Payne-Aldrich tariff law as "the Gettysburg

ANOTHER MURDER IN OLD FEUD IN CHICAGO

Man Is Shot as He Leaves House to Escape Police.

Chicago, July 28.—A feud which began ten years ago and which is said to have been marked by several previous homicides, claimed another victim today in Michael Orsino at Blue Island, a suburb. Orsino was shot by Michael Biossa and John Sinece as he jumped from a window to escape policemen who had broken open the door of his room to arrest him on a charge of shooting at Michael Costello several months ago.

Biossa and Sinece, friends of Costello, lay in wait for Orsino, and as soon as he jumped from the window they shot him four times in the neck and back, causing instant death. The slayers were arrested soon afterwards and, the Blue Island police say, confessed the shooting.

Michael Costello, whom Orsino is accused of trying to kill, but who escaped because his assailant's aim was bad, is said to have killed a brother of Orsino a year ago. Orsino is survived by a widow and six children.

CONFIDENT OF CURRENCY LAW

President Is Certain Bill Will Pass With Little Change.

Will Go to Caucus Monday and Be Made Party Measure.

Washington, July 28.—President Wilson believes the administration currency bill will be reported by the house banking committee substantially as it was framed.

In discussing the situation with callers today he made it clear that the bill would not materially be altered, and that the differences in the committee would be reconciled. It now practically is certain that the administration bill will be carried to the caucus, where it will be made a party measure. That is the impression gained at the White House from those who have talked over the situation with the president.

Representative Wingo of Arkansas today predicted that the administration bill, without any important changes, would be reported this week from the committee, and would be taken up next Monday by the caucus and adopted in much the same form.

Senator Owen and Representative Glass, chairmen of the congressional committees on banking and currency, had short conferences with the president regarding the currency situation.

Chairman Glass announced at the White House that the program in his committee would be to vote on the various amendments to the administration bill. He counted on a vote of at least 10 to 4 for the administration measure.

BRITISH MAJESTIES MAY VISIT AMERICA

Pall Mall Gazette Predicts Trip to Washington and Maybe New York.

London, July 28.—A report from Australia that King George and Queen Mary were to lay the foundation stone of the Australian commonwealth parliament house at Canberra next year, is denied today by the Pall Mall Gazette, which declares that Canada is to be the next British dominion visited by their majesties. The Gazette adds:

"It may be taken for granted that while so near the United States they will cross the border, and it is probable that they will pay a brief visit to Washington and perhaps New York."

St. Paul Man Caught in Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Man., July 28.—C. N. O'Brien, who escaped from bailiffs in St. Paul on July 16 while being taken to court to face a swindling charge, was arrested here early today. He will be returned to St. Paul.

NOMINATED FOR THE SOLICITOR GENERALSHIP

JOHN W. DAVIS.

Washington, July 28.—Representative John W. Davis of Clarksburg, W. Va., has been nominated for solicitor general of the United States. Mr. Davis is a member of the house committee on the judiciary. He was a candidate to succeed Nathan Goff, who resigned as a Federal judge to go to the senate. Mr. Davis has the reputation of being an excellent lawyer. As solicitor general he would be the principal assistant to Attorney General McReynolds.

NEARING THE END OF MULHALL'S LETTERS

Senate Committee Has Less Than 1,000 Yet to Record.

Washington, July 28.—Less than 1,000 of Martin M. Mulhall's letters as a lobbyist for the National Association of Manufacturers remained to be put in the record when the senate investigating committee met today. Attorneys for the association and the American Federation of Labor, granted the right to cross-examine the witness through the committee, will attempt to shake Mulhall's story before he is turned over to the house lobby committee, about the middle of this week.

STEFANSSON SAILS FOR THE FAR NORTH

Steamer Karluk With Expedition Leaves Port Clarence Bay.

Teller, Port Clarence, Alaska, July 28.—Vilhjalmar Stefansson's Canadian polar exploration expedition, which will spend three years in scientific research work in the Arctic, set out for its destination today when the old whaler Karluk sailed from Port Clarence Bay. The Karluk was accompanied by the gasoline schooner Mary Sachs. The power boat Alaska, which will be used by Dr. R. M. Anderson's southern party, remained at Port Clarence to complete repairs and probably will not leave until Wednesday.

LOYAL CAPITALIST COMMITS SUICIDE.

Loyal, Wis., July 28.—G. W. Allen, aged 63, a retired capitalist, wrote letters of farewell to his wife and children, and then committed suicide yesterday by shooting. Financial worry is said to have been the cause.

USES CLOTHES PIN TO FIRE FATAL SHOT.

Carrington, N. D., July 28.—Placing the muzzle of a shotgun in her mouth and using a clothespin to release the trigger, Mrs. Anna Blading, aged 26, committed suicide yesterday. She had been ailing for some time.

HOUSE.

Met at noon and adjourned at 12:03 p. m., a record short session, because of Republican Leader Mann's filibuster for debate on Caminetti-Diggs white slave case.

NO EFFORT IS MADE TO OPEN MINES AGAIN

Pumping Is Resumed and Repairs Made to Apparatus.

Gen. Abbey Says He Has Situation Well in Hand.

Governor Ferris Will Not Answer Protest Against Militia.

Calumet, Mich., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first shots were fired by soldiers early this morning in the copper strike, when a detail of men was rushed to shafts 3 and 4 and the powderhouse of the Isle Royale mine, to clear out a large crowd of strikers and strike sympathizers.

The strikers did not attempt any damage but were understood to be gathering to prevent the resumption of pumping operations at the Isle Royale and Superior mines of the Calumet & Hecla group. They at first refused to disperse, but a volley of guard ammunition over their heads scattered them.

This morning an "army" of several hundred alien strikers all clad in the uniforms of their native countries in Europe, Bulgaria, Austria, Russia and Sweden, marched through the streets of Houghton and Hancock, but there were no disorders.

At the Tri-Mountain mine non-union men are repairing damage to the skips, which are used in hoisting rock, and attaching cables which were cut by the strikers Friday. Pumping operations were resumed this morning at all the mines in the south end of the camp.

Military Zone Extended.

At the Hancock there was also resumption of pumping, while up in Keweenaw county, where Sheriff Hepting called for troops last night, the militia is in charge and pumping has been resumed at the Ahmeek, Allouez and Mohawk mines and at the Kearsarge, Wolverine and Centennial in the north end of Houghton county.

CALL FRANK MURDER TRIAL AT ATLANTA

Alleged Slayer of 14-Year-Old Girl Will Claim an Alibi.

Atlanta, Ga., July 28.—Prosecution and defense were ready today for the trial of Leo M. Frank, charged with the murder of 14-year-old Mary Phagan. The girl's body was found Sunday morning, April 27, in the basement of the National Pencil company's plant, where she was employed.

Frank, who was superintendent of the factory, was indicted on a charge of murder May 24.

The most damaging testimony against him probably will be the statement of James Conley, a negro sweeper at the factory, that he helped Frank dispose of the body. Frank expects to prove an alibi.

STEAMER IS ASHORE ON NEW JERSEY COAST

Chalmette Sends Wireless Call to New York for Tug.

New York, July 28. — The steamer Chalmette, from New Orleans for New York, went ashore during the night on the New Jersey coast, off Barnegat. In response to a wireless call from the vessel early today a tug was dispatched from New York to her assistance.

News of the Chalmette's plight was received by her owners, the Southern Pacific company, in a wireless message this morning from Capt. P. M. Midloe. The message said simply, "Ashore off Barnegat; send tug." At the offices of the Southern Pacific company it was said that the steamer probably was not in a dangerous position, otherwise Capt. Midloe would have made his message more urgent.

The Chalmette sailed from New Orleans July 23, and was due here today. She carried a cargo of general merchandise and a crew of forty-eight, but no passengers. She is a boat of 2,000 tons, 321 feet long, built at Philadelphia in 1879.

Sea Is Smooth.

Philadelphia, July 28.—A long distance telephone message from the Little Egg life saving station on the New Jersey coast states that the steamer ashore is not on the Barnegat shoals, but near the beach between the Barnegat and Loveladies island life saving stations, twenty miles north of Little Egg. The sea is smooth and the vessel is in no immediate danger.

Life saving crews are not on duty during June and July but Capt. C. D. Thompson, keeper of the Barnegat life saving station, mustered a volunteer crew and went out to stand by the Chalmette.

CAPTURE THE DAVIS CUP

Americans Win International Tennis Trophy From English Team.

McLoughlin Defeats Dixon in Decisive Match of Challenge Round.

Wimbledon, Eng., July 28. — The United States lawn tennis team carried off the world's championship today when Maurice E. McLoughlin of San Francisco won the fourth and deciding match in the contest with England for the Dwight F. Davis' international trophy.

McLoughlin, the American national champion was drawn against Charles P. Dixon and won in straight sets, 8-6, 6-3, 6-2.

The first set was hard fought but Dixon was in the lead only once. As soon as McLoughlin steadied down to his task, he had the Englishman at his mercy. The second and third sets were easy for the American who was playing at the top of his game.

There was an immense crowd in the stands. Summer skies and a high temperature greeted the players. These conditions suited the American competors better than the weather prevailing during the preceding two days. McLoughlin especially profited by the heat.

Dixon had shown considerable confidence before the game started, declaring in characteristic English slang: "I am going after McLoughlin baldheaded!"

The American players took a complete rest yesterday. They indulged in light limbering-up practice on the courts this morning.

The United States lost the Davis' cup to England in 1903. Australasia took it away from England in 1907. It remained in Australasia until 1912, when it was won again by England, which has now lost it to the United States.

The preliminary contest this year was participated in by seven nations—the United States, Canada, Australasia, South Africa, Germany, France and Berglum.

Parke won his match from Williams by three sets of two, the score being 6-, 5-7, 5-7, 6-4, 6-2.

CHIVINGTON UPHOLDS UNWRITTEN LAW.

Chicago, July 28.—An "unwritten law" promulgated by umpires under which they declare out a batter who slides into first base was upheld today by President Chivington of the American association on the ground that the slide to first serves no purpose but that of confusing the umpire. President Chivington's statement was made in answer to an informal protest by Manager Friel of St. Paul regarding a play made at St. Paul the other day when Umpire O'Brien called out "Dixie" Walker for sliding head first into the base.

DULUTH CLUB WINS TROPHY

Canoe Association Regatta Proves Easy for Boat Club Paddlers.

Frey and Horak Win Medals for Individual Championship.

Duluth won by far the greatest number of points on the closing day of the two-day regatta of the Northwestern Canoe association, which was completed with the races of Saturday afternoon.

All of the important races of the second day were captured by the representatives of the Duluth Boat club, and this fact taken with the wins of Friday gives to the local club the supremacy of the association for the present season.

Dr. Frank Lynam, Joe Horak, Gus Frey, the Williams brothers, Will L'Estrange and Louis Ardouin were the stars of the Duluth club and showed plainly that they rank with the greatest canoeists in the Northwest.

Frey and Horak won the individual championship medals. In addition to these medals, the Duluth club will be presented with a banner in token of being the winner of the 1913 regatta.

Following is the detailed result of the various races:

100-yard singles, 16-foot canoes or over—Lynam, D. B. C.; Landry, A. B. C.; Stensrud, A. B. C. Time, 35 seconds.

100-yard changing doubles — Williams brothers, D. B. C.; Frey and Horak, D. B. C.; Smith and Saul, Weequah. Time, 26 seconds.

200-yard doubles, 17-foot canoes or over—Horak and Frey, D. B. C.; Williams brothers, D. B. C.; Landry and Stensrud, A. B. C. Time, 60.4 seconds.

200-yard singles, 17-foot canoes or over—Lynam, D. B. C.; L'Estrange, D. B. C.; Landry, A. B. C. Time, 69.8 seconds.

300-yard doubles, 17-foot canoes or over—Landry and Stensrud, A. B. C.; Taylor and Maitland, A. B. C.; Seeberg and Erickson, Weequah. Time, 90.8 seconds.

100-yard singles, standing on gunwales—Lynam, D. B. C.; Dubauer, Minnesota River club; Landry, A. B. C. Time, 36.2 seconds.

100-yard doubles, standing on gunwales—Williams brothers, D. B. C.; Horak and Frey, D. B. C.; McMillan and List, Tri-Lake. Time, 33.8 seconds.

300-yard relay race—Duluth; Athletic and Boat club, Minneapolis; Tri-Lake Canoe club, Minneapolis. Time, 92.5 seconds.

Sailing Races.

Class A—28-footers—Zephr, 1:44-10; Merry Widow, 1:45-20; Feather, 1:46-15; Agwinde, 1:48-45.

Class B—Scud, 1:44-35; Viking, 1:45-45; Voyageur, 1:52-15; Yaqui, 1:52-20.

18-footers—Frolic, 1:22-25; Thistle, 1:26-10; Spray, 1:26-20; Surf, 1:27.

Toledo catboats—Sylph, 1:32; Oneota, 1:40.

32-footers—Spring Maid, 1:32-20; Dixie, 1:33-10.

VENETIAN FETE NEXT

Annual Celebration Will Be Climax of Lark o' the Lake.

Will Be Held at the Boat Club Next Friday Evening.

The Venetian fete will be held at the boat club on Friday evening.

It was stated today that all those wishing to decorate canoes could have the canoes by Wednesday, when all the boats and canoes owned by the club will be placed at the disposal of those who wish to take part in the water parade.

It is desired to make the fete this year better than ever, a sort of crowning climax to the Lark o' the Lake efforts, and members of the club are urged by Secretary J. E. MacGreggor to get in the game with the largest number of canoes in the history of the annual mid-summer frolic.

PLAY TO START IN TOURNAMENT

Draw Made for Preliminary and First Round in the Boat Club Tennis Meet.

Play in singles of the annual tennis tournament of the Duluth Boat club is on today. Practically all of the cracks of Duluth are entered in the singles and doubles and some good matches should result.

The time of play has been left in most instances to the convenience of the players.

There is a great deal of interest in the defending of the Hartman cup by Lauren Kennedy. This player has two legs on the trophy at the present time, and with Courteney Dinwiddie also is the present possessor of the Hartman trophy in the doubles.

Following is the draw for the preliminary and first round:

Preliminary—C. C. Colton vs. C. Grogan, T. Hansen vs. R. M. Smith, A. P. Barnes vs. H. J. La Bree, A. J. Frey vs. A. W. Withrow, J. B. Becher vs. W. E. Wright, D. B. Conner vs. Dr. Amundson, W. Gude vs. H. Ferry.

First Round—Winner Gude, Ferry vs. C. Dinwiddie, J. E. Horak vs. J. E. McGregor, W. Tobben vs. F. J. Brocker, Ed Ingalls vs. C. Lesure, F. M. Fuller vs. R. Smith, C. E. De Witt vs. L. Cooley, J. D. Deighton vs. W. Arpur, R. Hawkes vs. Nat Davis, H. Tufty vs. C. Lonegren, W. H. Sanford vs. A. R. Burquist, R. Pinea vs. G. A. Taylor, C. Cannen vs. J. E. Moffitt, J. Courtney vs. C. K. Dickerman, W. Johnson vs. P. Grady, H. Cerf vs. A. Tufty, H. S. McGregor vs. O. Kincaid, Dr. Gillespie vs. Dr. Winter, Dr. Cheney vs. F. Falk, John Lynam vs. A. B. Rosenkranz, J. J. Robinson vs. W. Fraker, K. Finkenstaedt vs. C. Fraker, A. W. McMillan vs. R. E. Johnson, J. F. Thompson vs. Max Washburn, M. Wisted vs. T. Hawkes, Jr., C. Steele vs. W. H. Kilchil, S. S. Baker vs. A. Guthrie, C. H. S. McMillan vs. C. E. Shafer, H. Morrison vs. H. Ellinson, C. Graff vs. R. Close.

BRAINERD BEATS WALKER INDIANS.

Brainerd, Minn., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Brainerd beat the Walker Indians captained by Chief Ed Rogers, 5 to 0. Cook was on the mound for Brainerd and the former St. Paul man allowed but one hit. He struck out ten. Joe Graves pitched for the Chippewas and had Manypenny held him the score would have read 1 to 0 instead. Graves struck out nine, but errors by the Indians let in a bunch of runs. The only long hits made were two baggers by Bud Roderick and Chief Rogers. The Indians play Staples today. Brainerd's schedule of games for the next few weeks follows: Friday, Aug. 1, 6 p. m., Brainerd vs. the "Red Devils;" Sunday, Aug. 3, Superior Golden Rules; Sunday, Aug. 10, Ballards of Minneapolis; Sunday, Aug. 17, St. Joe-Deckerts of Minneapolis; Sunday, Aug. 24, Anoka.

COMISKEY ON WAY TO DULUTH

Old Roman Will Come to Head of Lakes By Automobile.

St. Paul, July 28.—Charles A. Comiskey, the "Old Roman" of the baseball world, is in St. Paul, revisiting the city that was his home for many years. With Mrs. Comiskey, John Agnew and two children, his grandniece and grandnephew, the White Sox magnate is on his annual summer automobile trip, a journey that will extend from Chicago to Duluth and return.

Comiskey held an impromptu reception for friends here at a local hotel today.

PATRICK JUNIORS DEFEAT FARMERS.

The Patrick Juniors defeated the Caribou Farmers team at Twig by the score of 13 to 8. The pitching of Amundson was too much for the Caribous, striking out seventeen men. The Patricks are willing to arrange games with any junior team in the city by calling up John Walski, care F. A. Patrick & Co. The lineup of the team is: A. Amundson, pitcher; H. Hargraves, catcher; Larson, first base; Ed. Swanstrom, second base; John Walski, shortstop; L. Luftholm, third base; Cavanaugh, left field; John Werchy, center field; Sam Thorsen, right field.

Early Tennis Results.

Early games played in the annual tennis tournament of the boat club resulted in victories for Dennis Deighton in his match with W. Arpur, the scores being 6-0, 6-1. John Lynam defeated A. B. Rosenkranz, 6-4, 6-3, and Jack Moffitt won from C. Carlnen by the score of 6-2, 6-1.

TOURIST TRAVEL IS BETTER THAN IN 1912.

Railroad and steamship officials in Duluth report that the summer travel through here this year is heavier than it was in 1912 by a large margin.

Duluth as a point for summer tourists is becoming one of the first in the country. The travelers have opportunity of both lake and rail facilities and this is one of the attractions that brings them, say the transportation men.

DUNN COUNTY, N. D., AFTER MILWAUKEE.

Manning, N. D., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Co-operation with Mandan in securing the Milwaukee road for Dunn county is sought by the citizens of this place. A committee recently visited Mandan and discussed the matter from many angles.

It was decided to engage a competent engineer and await his report before further action. Mandan promised all kinds of co-operation if the engineer's report was favorable.

Will Probe Bond Issue.

Washington, July 28.—Formal orders for an inquiry into the New York Central's proposed $167,000,000 bond issue to take up other bonds of that company and also stocks of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern have been issued by the interstate commerce commission, pursuant to a senate resolution. Hearings at dates to be announced later will be held. The commission at the same time will investigate whether the consolidation of the roads, which would be affected by the proposed bond issue, would be unlawful.

Must Furnish New Bond.

Minot, N. D., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Under orders of Judge Amidon of the Federal court, David Cohn was rearrested and must provide $5,000 bonds to insure his presence on the charge of attempting to defraud creditors. Cohn recently filed papers in bankruptcy court, but creditors became suspicious and secured a warrant for his arrest. He was released under a small bond which Judge Amidon, on new charges laid before him, demanded should be increased.

ENDS LIFE BY HANGING

Maid Commits Suicide in Her Room in Duluth Home.

Despondency Brought on By Ill Health Motive for Act.

Despondency brought on by ill health caused Sophie Niemi, 27 years old, a maid for Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Power, 17 South Seventeenh avenue east, to hang herself some time last night, her body having been found hanging in her room about 8:30 o'clock this morning.

According to Mrs. Power, the young woman had been ill for the past few weeks and had become extremely melancholy and morose as a result. She would sit about for hours without saying a word, said Mrs. Power this morning.

On Saturday afternoon Dr. K. V. Arminen was called to attend the young woman, who was apparently suffering from anaemia. He told the girl, however, to call at his office some time this afternoon for a thorough examination.

The last the members of the Power family saw the girl was at the dinner table last evening. She served the meal, removed the dishes and left for her room, saying she was not feeling very well. Her body was found hanging over a trunk, near a dresser, when Mrs. Power came to see why she had not appeared this morning.

Nothing is known about the girl, except that she came here from Finland about seven years ago. She had been employed at the Power home for over five years and was a very good worker. About three years ago she was taken ill and after taking a rest for several months, no one knowing where she had gone in the meantime, returned again to take up her work.

As far as is known the young woman has no relatives in this country. The body has been taken to the Crawford undertaking rooms.

According to an examination made at the undertaking rooms this morning it is probable that the young woman hanged herself early last evening. She had tied a short rope about her neck and climbing onto the dresser, tied the rope on a large hook and then jumped off. There was a trunk directly underneath, but the girl avoided stepping on it by bending her knees, in which position the body was found this morning.

TEXAN IS GIVEN COLD SHOULDER

His Wild West Air Deprives Horseman of Minnesota Welcome.

Crookston, Minn., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—T. A. Henderson of Sierro Blanco, Texas, one of the contestants in the overland ride from Kansas City to Winnipeg, under the auspices of the Stampede management of Winnipeg, says if he ever makes this territory again, he will either have an auo trailing with a complete camp outfit, or carry an official along with him to pacify the farmers. From Twin Valley to Crookston he tried in vain to get a farmer to permit him to "put up" and give his tired nags a rest, but his broadbrimmed hat, leather leggings, belt, etc., and the fact that he was riding one horse and leading another, resulted in his being spotted as either a horse thief or a bank robber. Every plea he made was met by an emphatic "barn and house both full," after which the farmer would whistle for faithful "Shep," or the the bull dog, and the weary traveler was forced to proceed. He reached Crookston at 11 Saturday night and rested until Sunday noon.

Had Long Route.

He had drawn a longer route than some of the cowboys, and had given up hope of winning the $1,000 prize offered for the first cowboy to reach Winnipeg. Mr. Henderson, however, was the winner of the prize in the race from Texas to Kansas City. His two nags were pretty well petered as a result of the long ride. He made Grand Forks Sunday evening and expects to get to Winnipeg Tuesday, while the first man reached there Saturday night. Henderson said Red River valley land would be no place for a Texas rancher. He has 5,000 acres in Texas which cost him $2 an acre and he found his $10,000 would not buy some eighty-acre tracts in this vicinity. He said the two bronchos such as he had with him could be picked up for from $8 to $10 each in Texas.

FIRST OFFENDER GETS SIXTY DAYS.

Enoch Burgorski, aged 25, was sentenced to sixty days in the county jail by Judge Dancer in district court this morning as punishment for stealing a watch and $14 in cash from Stanley Kalinowski. The court had been informed that it was Burgorski's first offense and explained to the prisoner that if he got into trouble again he would likely be sent to the state's prison.

Burgorski declared that he was drunk and did not know what he was taking when he took the money and watch from Kalinowski. The theft took place in Kalinowski's room on the Bowery on July 23 last. Burgorski was last employed on coal docks at Superior.

MERRITT PARK IS DEDICATED

Commissioner for Whom Recreation Spot Is Named Speaks at Exercises.

Flag Raised to Top of Pole to Strains of "Star Spangled Banner."

Merritt park, Fortieth avenue west and Eighth street, was officially dedicated with impressive services, including the raising of the national flag, addresses and patriotic music yesterday afternoon. The principal speakers were Mayor W. I. Prince and Commissioner Leonidas Merritt, in honor of whom the park is named.

The ceremony began at 3 o'clock. Joseph B. Gibson, president of the Onecota and Hazelwood Improvement club, presided. Following a short address by the mayor the flag was hoisted to the top of the flag pole by Miss Helen Bemis, while the band played "The Star Spangled Banner."

In his address Commissioner Merritt said he had many times been honored by the people residing in this vicinity. He paid tribute to the flag and to the patriotism of the people.

Mayor Prince complimented the members of the Oneota and Hazelwood club on their progressiveness in pushing the purchase and improvement of the park and promised all assistance possible in developing this end of the city. He urged the women to take a more active interest in the political life of the city and predicted universal woman suffrage in the near future.

CHURCH OUTINGS.

Many Outdoor Entertainments Are Planned for the Coming Week.

Many outdoor amusements are being planned for evenings this week by church societies of the West end. These will be held at the various parks of the city.

This evening the Epworth League of the Norwegian Danish M. E. church will entertain at a marshmallow roast at Park Point. The young people will meet at the church at 7 o'clock and go in a body to Minnesota Point.

On Friday evening members of the Spaa club of the Second Presbyterian church will hold a similar affair at Lester Park. The crowd will take a special car leaving the church at about 6 o'clock for the picnic grounds.

The Young People's Society of the Swedish Baptist church will hold an open air meeting followed by a social at Lincoln park Friday evening. A program of music and addresses is being arranged.

CUMMING MOVES FROM WEST END.

After a residence in the West end for twenty-eight years, Joseph W. Cumming former county commissioner from the Third district and prominent groceryman, has sold out his business and will move to the eastern end of the city. Mr. Cumming and his family will reside at Fifty-fourth avenue east and Wyoming street.

Mr. and Mrs. Cumming have resided in the block where they now live for the past nineteen years. He has been in the grocery business at this place for the past eight years. The sale of his store to F. B. Welch was completed Saturday and he will move to his new home tomorrow.

Mr. Cumming has been active in politics in the third precinct of the Seventh ward for the past decade. He served as county commissioner for four years and was instrumental in building a number of good roads leading to the West end. During the past year he has been president of the West End Commercial club.

Mr. Cumming stated this morning that he had not decided what line of business he would enter in the future.

Swedish M. E. Notes.

The octette of the Swedish Methodist church, Twentieth avenue west and Third street, will hold rehearsals Wednesday evening in the church parlors.

The ladies' aid society will be entertained Thursday afternoon at Lincoln park by Mrs. O. Norberg, 614 North Twenty-fifth avenue west.

Rev. C. W. R. Wermine, pastor of the church, will conduct mid-week services in the church Thursday evening.

The young people's society will be entertained Friday evening at the home of Misses Olson, 1511 East South street.

WILL OPPOSE TARIFF BILL

where the factions of the Republican party were formed in battle array" that led to triumph of the Democratic party, giving it an opportunity to write the pending tariff bill, which he condemned.

"This bill," Senator Townsend said, "was conceived in hatred of the American policy of protection and brought forth in the darkness of the secret caucus chamber, under the professional charge of one who has never had any experience in business obstretrics. Is it any wonder that the thing is misshaped and deformed? Is it any wonder American progress and prosperity look with disfavor upon it?"

Senator Townsend also criticized "executive interference" and caucus domination.

The Lobby Inquiry.

Injecting comments on the lobby inquiry in the senate and house, Senator Townsend said that criticism of improper action should be based upon unquestioned facts, and not upon innuendo or falsehood; and he continued:

"Today, as at all times in the past, the sensational is too prominently featured and too little attention given to the truth. Indeed, a saturnalia of abuse and misrepresentation seems to be resigning, and congress has been stampeded into investigations of itself and the two houses are struggling between themselves to get possession of self-convicted scoundrels who have capitalized for financial gain the existing disposition to abuse the national legislature. Too frequently investigating committees of congress become the instruments of partisan politics, and contempt is thereby heaped upon the national legislature."

Referring to "fears of business disaster," the senator declared:

"If business disaster prematurely comes, its coming will be due more to the oft-expressed fears of this administration than to any efforts by wicked businessmen who, as patriots, are expected to be happy the while their business is threatened with destruction and themselves with prosecution.

"Looking For Scapegoat."

"There is one thing which stands out clearly at this time, and that is this: The administration would be supremely happy if it was well assured that the condition of the country would be no worse than it is today. It has no real hope that things will be better; it justly fears they will be worse, and it is looking everywhere for some scapegoat for its own handiwork."

TROOPS AT CALUMET FIRE OVER HEADS OF STRIKING MINERS

sarge, has Keweenaw county under his jurisdiction. He has removed his headquarters to Copper City and Ahmeek, border Houghton and Keweenaw towns.

The pumps are working today in the Calumet & Hecla conglomerate mine, and there is no trouble with the strikers.

Disorders early this morning in Raymbaultown, where the strikers manhandled miners who did not march in the strike parade yesterday afternoon, was quickly settled.

Abey Expects No Trouble.

Gen. Abbey says this morning that he has the situation well in hand and anticipates no trouble.

Although James A. Waddell, the noted strikebreaker, has been here for a week, it is not anticipated that strikebreakers will be brought in in any number. Fifty detectives were brought in by the mining companies from New York, yesterday, and are at work with the county authorities. Although the mining companies are at liberty now to resume operations under guard, they have not done so, and it is unlikely they could find sufficient men among the non-strikers who would dare return to work.

In most of the locations groups of non-union men, closely watched by union members, gathered to discuss the advisability of returning to work. Recognizing that such lineups of the opposing interests might result in clashes, the state troops were ordered ready for instant service at all the militia camps.

Gave Rival Demonstrations.

Sunday was a day of demonstrations by the military as well as the unions. While the men and their families were marching through the streets, a full battalion of infantry under Maj. Kramer was sent through Laurium, the command dividing into companies to traverse side streets and uniting in full strength as it reached the principal thoroughfare. Thousands of spectators watched the rival parades, but the crowds were apathetic and demonstrations were noticeably lacking. Most of the cheering came from the marching miners, who followed American flags and stepped to the cadence of a band composed of miners with a musical bent.

Speeches in five languages were made at the meeting, the chief address coming from Guy E. Miller, a Colorado member of the executive board of the Federation. He pleaded for "industrial justice," asserting that the companies had violated fundamental ethics in refusing a conference with representatives of their employes, and criticizing indirectly the action of Governor Ferris in sending troops into the country.

Urged Passive Resistance.

He counciled passive resistance saying: "All the working people need to do is to fold their arms for the next ten days and then Manager McNaughton of the Calumet & Hecla will not be talking so freely about the blacklist. Instead he will be asking you fellows to save the whole Conglomerate lode from caving in, and you will do it, too, when he treats you right. We bear no grudges against anybody, but fight for better homes and better dinners. If that interferes with dividends, the dividends must take the worst of it."

In proposing the address to Governor Ferris, which again invited the state executive to make a personal inspection of the district, Mr. Miller wished that the governor could become a trammer for one day.

"One hour would be enough," called out one of the workmen, and the crowd cheered.

"I fear the governor has made a fatal mistake in turning his ear towards the corporations instead of the toilers," said Miller. "If that is so, history will put him alongside Peabody of Colorado. We might have had more charity for him if the press had not been filled for weeks with the revelation of strike-breaking methods of the National Manufacturers' association. Yet, in the face of these disclosures, he hurls troops into Houghton county and then advises us to get together and settle our difficulties. That is possible just as soon as the companies will meet us."

Pumping Resumed.

Pumping was renewed at some of the mines Sunday, notably the Wolverine and Quincy No. 8 shafts. No trouble developed as a result of these activities during daylight hours, and last night every shaft house in the county contained a detachment of troops.

James A. Waddell of New York, who represented the Guggenheim interests during the copper mine strike in Utah several months ago, arrived yesterday to take charge of the company's interests in this section. He said that it had not been decided as yet whether non-union workers were to be brought here, but acknowledged that such action might be taken later.

Extend Military's Scope.

The military jurisdiction of Gen. Abbey was extended to Keweenaw county last night when Sheriff John Hepling asked Governor Ferris for troops to protect the Allouez, Ahmeek and Mohawk mines. Headquarters of Maj. Guy M. Wilson, who Saturday night was placed in command of the north end of Houghton county, were to be moved across the county line today.

Reports of minor disturbances were frequent last night. At practically every location bands of strikers kept together after the mass meeting of the afternoon, and jeered non-union men. At Centennial, where a store was burned Saturday night, several families left their homes in fright. An incipient riot was reported at Raymanbaultown. Two motor truck load of soldiers from Calumet headquarters were dispatched to preserve order.

Protest Reaches Governor.

Big Rapids, Mich., July 28.—Governor Ferris today was handed the formal written protest against the presence of state troops in the copper district, which was drawn up at a mass meeting held yesterday at Laurium. After reading it, he stated that he would make no formal reply, but intimated that the protest contained nothing of a nature sufficiently important to cause him to shift from the stand which he has thus far taken.

"The mine operators had nothing to do with the calling out of the militia," said the governor. "The order was issued after the authorities in the copper zone informed me that they were powerless to control the situation. I believe the troops are necessary in that district to protect lives and property.

"I will return to Lansing tomorrow, and at present see no reason why I should go to the Upper Peninsula. There is nothing that my presence could do to relieve the situation."

Seek Places For Children.

Marquette, Mich., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—To organize them to assist the Copper Country mines in procuring the things they demand, and not to incite a strike in the iron region, is declared by Western Federation leaders to have been the sole purpose of a meeting of Marquette Iron Range mine workers held at Negaunee Sunday afternoon. The event also was the sixth annual picnic of the Ishpeming and Negaunee unions. Several hundred men were present.

The miners were told it might be necessary for the Copper country men to send their children out of the district until the strike was settled, and all union men able to give these youngsters temporary shelter were requested to send their names to the union office.

The membership of the federation on the Marquette range represents only a small percentage of the men employed. There has been no talk of a strike, and there apparently is no prospect of agitation of that nature.

WAS SUICIDE, SAYS BROTHER

prominent in Buffalo county, Wis. For many years the father of the deceased girl was a county judge of that county.

Family Well-to-do.

Andrew Lees is a member of a law firm here and Wisconsin counsel for the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad. Edward Lees is a practicing attorney at Winona. All members of the family are well-to-do and prominent socially.

Miss Lees formerly was employed on special writing by a Minneapolis paper. Later she lived at Milwaukee and Chicago, where she was under treatment of physicians.

Get Trace of Identity.

Chicago, July 28.—Police continued today their efforts to identify the woman whose body was found Saturday on the lake shore at the foot of Lunt avenue with a bullet in her forehead.

Word received from Alma, Wis., indicated that the victim may be Alice Lees, formerly of the Wisconsin town, who it is said came to Chicago to live several years ago. She is reported to have been in ill health and to have been under the treatment of nerve specialists in St. Paul and other cities.

Edward Lees, an attorney of Winona, Minn., a brother of the girl, has been called to Chicago to view the body.

She is said to have another brother, Andrew Lees, who lives in Chicago, and the police are searching for him.

A report from Elmo, Wis., states that the body may be that of Miss Minnie Geyer, who left there ten years ago and recently was heard from in Chicago, according to George and August Geyer, her brothers, who live on a farm near Elmo.

Sold Her a Revolver.

F. Stone, clerk in the sporting goods department of a downtown store, today identified the victim as the woman to whom he sold an automatic revolver last Wednesday. When the sale was made she gave her name as Miss E. Lee of St. Elmo, Wis.

PRESIDENT SEES NO IMMEDIATE CRISIS IN MEXICAN REVOLUTION

United States would pursue a course of diligent inquiry into the affair and would insist on summary action against the guilty

Made Strong Demands.

Strong representations, the most drastic in phraseology that have been made since the present American administration came into power, were made to the Huerta government in Mexico Sunday.

The United States government demanded not only the prompt arrest, courtmartial and punishment of the Mexican Federal soldiers who shot Charles D. Dixon, an American immigration official at Juarez, Mex., but the immediate release of Charles Bissell and Bernard McDonald, mining managers imprisoned by Federal soldiers at Chihuahua city, and said to be threatened with execution.

So serious were these incidents regarded in official circles that they overshadowed largely the policy, which the visit of Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson had brought to a climax. The ambassador himself was so exercised over the developments in Mexico that he dictated two strong telegrams, one to the embassy at Mexico City and the other to the American consul at Juarez, and while Secretary Bryan slightly modified their tone, they were approved and promptly dispatched.

Ambassador Wilson declined to discuss the affair.

The president had Ambassador Wilson's long report in hand Sunday and studied it carefully.

In the meantime the ambassador would give no inkling of the recommendation he has in mind beyond the general statement that his plan would conserve the friendly relations between Mexico and the United States, and protect likewise the interests of Americans in the southern republic.

One an English Subject.

The demand that the soldiers at Juarez be courtmartialed and that the guilty be punished was a much more pointed request than has hitherto been voiced by the American government. Although McDonald, who is Bissell's fellow prisoner at Santa Rosalia, is reported to be an English subject, the demands for protection covered both men, and the American consul at Chihuahua was ordered to go to the extreme of precaution to prevent harm from befalling the two mining men.

Wounded Man Released.

El Paso, Tex., July 28.—Charles B. Dixon, Jr., the United States immigration inspector who was shot in Juarez Saturday by Mexican soldiers, was released from the Juarez hospital and brought to El Paso at 1 o'clock Sunday, after American Consul T. D. Edwards had made a demand for his release and for the arrest of the men who shot him.

Mexican Consul Miranda and Guillermo Porras, ex-secretary of state of Chihuahua, also interceded for the release of Dixon, after a conference with United States officials, who represented to the Mexicans the grave impression that had been produced in Washington by the news of the shooting of the inspector.

Made Vigorous Demand.

The demand of Consul Edwards was in vigorous language. First telling the Mexican authorities that Dixon must be delivered up to his friends and permitted to be brought to El Paso without delay, the consul said:

"I do not merely request the arrest of these men, but in the name of the United States government, which I have the honor to represent, I demand their immediate arrest and their trial and punishment for this crime. My government will hold the military authorities of Juarez personally responsible for failure to obey this command."

Arthur Walker, the negro whom Dixon was investigating when he was arrested, and the soldiers who made the arrest, were immediately placed in jail, according to the report of Col. Castro, commanding the Juarez garrison, to E. W. Berkshire, supervising inspector of immigration for the United States on the Mexican border.

Dixon's physicians believe he will recover.

Told of the Shooting.

Mr. Berkshire said he made no demands on the Mexican officials, but had reported the facts to his superiors concerning the arrest of himself and Inspector Clarence Gatley, when they went to Juarez Saturday following the shooting of Dixon, the negro, Walker, when he learned that Dixon was in Juarez investigating a white slave case in which Walker had been implicated, informed the Mexican officials that Dixon was there with a bottle of chloroform, ready to chloroform and kidnap him.

It is said the negro then bought drinks for the soldiers who were to make the arrest When the Mexican soldiers had apprehended Dixon, they marched him to the suburbs of the city instead of the military barracks or city hall. This, according to Dixon's statement, gave rise to the suspicion that he was going to be executed.

Took to His Heels

As a matter of self preservation, he declared, he took flight, and became the target of many bullets, only one of which took effect, striking him in the back and penetrating his body. Another bullet struck his shoe, but did not wound him.

Wounded, he was taken to Juarez hospital by his captors, and there, under military guard, he was kept from Saturday until he was removed to El Paso.

Mexican Consul Alfredo Miranda, in this city, places the blame for the shooting of Dixon on a Mexican-negro lieutenant named Sainz, of the command of Gen. Inez Saleszar, and two American negroes. Miranda says the American negroes, whom Dixon was interrogating in regard to a white slave case, conspired to make way with the inspector, taking the halfbreed into the plot to do the shooting. The consul says there were no regular Federal soldiers implicated.

No Order to Arrest Dixon.

Investigations made by the Federal authorities, Miranda asserts, showed that no order had been issued for Dixon's arrest by either military or civil authorities. He declares that the seizure was made by the Salzar soldier at the instigation of the negroes, and that Sainz did the shooting, firing six times at Dixon before bringing him down. Dixon confirms the statement of the actual shooting.

The American negroes, who are under arrest and will be tried by the Federals, are Arthur Walker, said to be the organizer of the plot to assassinate Dixon, and Henry Bell. Bell is also one of the irregular soldiers of the Salzar command. Both of the negroes are wanted by United States immigration officials for white slavery.

Hope for Recognition.

Mexico City, July 28.—Great hopes that the United States will recognize Mexico have been aroused here by statements in a portion of the press alleged to have been made by Ambassador Wilson to the effect that he has received information that recognition is assured.

The newspapers laud Mr. Wilson and the view he has taken since his arrival in the United States with regard to Mexico.

Eighty Rebels Killed.

Eighty rebels of Castillo Brito's command were killed or wounded while trying to escape from pursuing Federals in the state of Chipas, according to official report received here. The government troops had forced a fight at Pichucalpo, near the Grijalva river and killed 100 of the rebels. Eighty others attempted to swin the wide stream, but the troops on the banks picked off many of them while others, weighed down with their equipment, drowned.

HOLD CONFERENCE ON FRANCHISE CASE.

City officials went over the pending action against the street railway company with the attorneys who are handling the case for the city and with Attorney General Lyndon A. Smith at the city hall Saturday afternoon. The case has been set for trial at the September term of the district court. The city is contesting the company's franchise. The principal points involved are the alleged rights of the company to charge what the city and state claim to be excessive fares, the perpetuity of the franchise, and the exclusive right of the company to occupy the city streets. The city's attorneys express the greatest confidence of winning their case.

SLIGHT DECREASE IN THE WHEAT ACREAGE SHOWN

Average Yield Will Be 12.26 Bushels to the Acre.

Herald's Annual Report on Growing Crops in Duluth's Territory.

Some time ago The Herald sent out its first series of crop inquiry letters, and at that time published the results. Within the past ten days another inquiry was sent out to widely scattered stations throughout Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Montana. The replies have begun to come in and the returns of the first fifty received are presented herewith. These replies come mostly from different stations than those reporting last time and it is interesting to note that the predictions made at that time and the statements concerning the amount of acreage employed in the growing of wheat and flax this year, are pretty well confirmed.

In the fifty stations reporting, an average has been struck and the following ha sbeen found:

The average wheat acreage is 90.44 per cent of last year's; and the average yield will be 12.26 bushels to the acre.

The average flax acreage will be 67.02 per cent of that employed last year; and the average yield will be 8.8 bushels to the acre.

It will be noticed in the case of flax that the average is shorter by about 3 per cent than the last reports gave it.

Some Answers.

Concerning the condition of the crops, such of those answering the injuries made the following comment:

Crookston, Minn.—About two weeks late.

Nashua—Very unseasonable weather for grain.

Olivia—Too much rain at present.

St. Peter—Crops fine in this county. Full acreage of all kinds of grain.

Vining—All crops good to date.

Ashley, N. D.—Crop very spotted.

Carrington—Durum about 5 per cent better than last year. Yield would indicate about 15 to 20 bushels per acre.

Lisbon—Crops look good around here.

Mandan—Will not begin harvesting before Aug. 15.

Steele—The flax crop condition is just "fair." As to wheat, about 40 per cent of the acreage has been sown on the "stubbled in system" and this is practically worthless.

De Smet, S. D.—Very little flax in this county. Oats good. Barley probable yield about 20 to 25 bushels to the acre, or about half that of 1912. The yield of barley last year was abnormally heavy. Corn prospects best ever seen in this section.

Elk Point, S. D.—Winter wheat good but big part of spring wheat poor.

Groton—No rain in June; too dry. What there is will be of fine quality.

Highmore—We had an extremely dry, hot June, which cut the small grain short; but corn and flax are doing fine.

Huron—The acreage of flax is less; also barley has a smaller acreage; and the crops of each will be very short on account of the June drouth. Wheat has a big acreage and recent rains, since the drouth broke have done wonders with the wheat.

Rockham—There is a lot of wheat acreage here that will not be cut over. Flax is not in good shape and is very backward.

Harlowton, Mont.—Conditions very favorable. Ample moisture early and splendid ripening weather now.

Plentywood—Wheat heading out very short. Early flax in bloom. Late flax will be a quarter crop unless we have very favorable weather.

CURED TERRIBLE HUMOR ON FACE

Could Not Go on Street Without Veil. Tells What Resinol Did for Her.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"In December, 1908, my face became sore. I tried everything that was recommended, and my face got worse instead of better. I spent over $100 and got no benefit. The face and nose were very red and the eruption had the appearance of small boils, which itched me terribly. I cannot tell you how terrible my face looked—all I can say is, it was dreadful, and I suffered beyond description.

"I have not gone on the street any time since 1908 without a veil, until now. Just four months ago a friend persuaded me to give Resinol a trial. I have used three cakes of Resinol Soap and less than a jar of Resinol Ointment, and my face is perfectly free from any eruption, and my skin is as clear and clean as any child's. It is about four weeks since the last pimple disappeared." (Signed) Mrs. M. J. Bateman, 4256 Viola St., Dec. 6, 1912.

Practically every druggist sells Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap. Prescribed for eighteen years for itching, burning skin troubles, sunburn, pimples, blackheads, dandruff, ulcers, boils, stubborn sores and piles. Trial free; Dept. 9-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

MILLER WILL STUDY PHILIPPINE CONDITIONS

Goes to the Islands to Prepare Report for Congress.

Congressman Clarence B. Miller has been selected as the representative of the minority party of the house of representatives to make a study of conditions in the Philippines and to obtain information on which the house Republicans may base their course on the Jones bill providing for independence for the islands.

Mr. Miller arrived in Duluth Saturday afternoon and left last night for San Francisco. He will sail Aug. 5 as the only passenger on an army transport bound for Manila.

Provided with letters of introduction and instruction that will insure for him every courtesy from government officials on the islands and every opportunity for prosecuting his study, Mr. Miller will spend nearly three months in making a complete tour of the islands. He will spend ten days in Manila and will then go to the interior. Part of his trip will be made on horseback, and in many places he will be accompanied by soldiers for protection. His study will be directed principally toward the question of whether the Filipinos are ready for independence, but he will also study agricultural conditions with a view to determining the effect on the country and present and proposed tariff adjustments.

Mr. Miller spent Saturday afternoon and yesterday at the Spalding attending to business matters that brought him to Duluth en route for the coast, and meeting Duluth friends.

Mr. Miller doesn't believe the currency bill will go through at the extra session of congress, although in that view he disagrees with the leaders of the administration.

Wilson Is Leader.

"There has never been a president who has completely dominated the administration in all its branches as does President Wilson," said Mr. Miller. "He will use every effort to obtain the passage of a currency bill that will satisfy him and the other leaders of the Democratic party in Washington. There is a real need for currency reform, but I am doubtful of it coming at the present extra session.

"The Democrats will be able to make the bill an administration measure and put it through the house without trouble, but in the senate they will encounter serious difficulties. The representatives in congress are tired of Washington and especially tired of Washington weather. The air is stifling, day after day and night after night. No man can live there without his energies being sapped by the depressing heat. Every man there is anxious to get away and there will be an exodus when the tariff bill is out of the way. Even if the currency bill gets through the house, its consideration will be so long drawn out in the senate that I believe there will be an adjournment without action.

"I think the tariff bill will go through about the first week in September. It will go into conference some time next month, and will be put on its final passage late in August. I have no doubt that it will be put up to the president early in September."

Personal Views.

Mr. Miller was asked as to his personal views on the two measures.

"I cannot express an opinion on the currency bill because I do not know what form it will take finally," he said. "I believe there is need for currency reform, but whether the bill offered by the administration will be satisfactory to me is a question I cannot now answer. I do not claim to be an expert on the currency, although I have general ideas on the subject. The experts in the house are few and far between, and until they agree it would be folly for me to express an opinion.

CONGRESSMAN CLARENCE B. MILLER.

"As to the tariff bill I believe there are good features in it, but also I believe there are features that are not for the best interests of the country. I am a protectionist. I believe that American industry is entitled to protection and the Democratic bill does not accord with my views in that respect. It is admittedly a consumers' bill, drafted without regard for the rights or privileges of the producers of the country. I do not believe that it will do what is claimed for it, that is reduce the cost of living. If governmental bodies will direct their attention to the economic features of distribution and exchange, I believe they would accomplish much more for the consumer than by reducing the tariff. Providing sane and secure markets, easy of access to the farmers and so conducted that the farmer may ship in mixed carloads and have his products honestly and fairly handled is much more important, in my opinion, than the reduction of the tariff.

"As I said there are some features of the tariff bill with which I am in hearty accord. Among them is the income tax, which I believe to be a good thing when properly administered."

The committee of the house on merchant marine and fisheries, which conducted the investigation into the shipping industry last winter, is likely to report an unhealthy condition in lake shipping, according to Mr. Miller. He said the committee is framing its report, and he is not in a position to say what will be reported, but he believes the committee will report that the domination of package freight business on the lakes by the railroads is not in the interests of public policy.

Mr. Miller will return to the United States the latter part of November and will have his report ready for the committee on insular affairs before the regular session of congress begins in December.

"ONE LARGE NIGHT" WHEN "SIWASH LAW '88" REUNITES

Bar Banquet Passes Without the Reserves Being Called Out.

"Ole Skjaarson" Has His "Classmates" Draped Over the Tables.

"Mr. Thomas H. Catt's" Bibulous Remarks Form a Glorious Climax.

Siwash '88 law held its annual reunion at the Spalding hotel Saturday night.

They were all there from Ole Skjaarson (Hans B. Haroldson) to "Dean" Ensign. All the old "Alfalfa Delt" gang was back for the reunion, some of them looking portly and prosperous, others lean and hungry. The Eta Pies were out in force. The Eta Pies were always a tough gang back at Siwash. They were the ones who tied the cow on the roof of the college chapel, and they were generally suspected of being "fast" by the townspeople. Albert Baldwin was an Eta Pie. Albert ended up by being chief legal advisor of the Congregational church, although it was rumored he was the man who held the cow's horns. Albert was president of the class in the old days, and he acted as toastmaster at the reunion banquet Saturday night. Albert it developed, during the evening, had prospered because he was "the inconspicuous brother of a bald headed partner, mentioning no names."

Poor Ole had had a tough time of it during the twenty-five years since he left Siwash. Ole said he had been educated to believe all men were created to be skinned but he found them "purty tough skinning." Ole accordling to his own admission made during a speech which left his classmates draped over the tables in helpless mirth, had gone down into "Yaller Medicine county" to practice law. Ole tried to be chief legal advisor to the farmers of that prosperous community, but found that all the farmers were members of the legislature and made the laws, so they had about as much use for Ole as "A guinea pig has for Teddy Roosevelt's essays on race suicide." So Ole got a job "being natural on the vaudeville stage" and he earned

CLASS SONG.

"Here's to dear old Siwash, and the happy days of yore;
You can hear her sons a-calling way from Kitchie Gammi Shore;
You can feel their hearty greeting as they re-unite once more;
In the town of old Tail-holt.
CHORUS.
Grad-u-ates, oh graduates, of Siwash
The fact you can't be judges now, is all bosh.
The worst of us have landed there, and by-gosh,
There's a chance for you and me."

"two dollars every day—sometimes one."

Ole's Peroration.

Ole's peroration at the close of his speech was a masterpiece that will never see the light of day. The official class secretary, A. A. Farrington who has taken court testimony ever since he left Siwash, dropped to the floor in a dead faint, surrounded by butchered samples of Pitman's best shorthand, before Ole had fairly warmed up to his work. "Bert" was dragged out by the heels and revived sufficiently by four strong waiters to return and take the rest of the evidence against the class of '88, but he will probably never be the same man again. It is a certainty that Ole can never repeat that speech and it must forever be a secret, but it had old Demosthenes at his best looking like a man who has cured himself from stuttering by Christian Science.

Jennings Beverage Gray, who travels in Duluth under the name of Elmer F. Blu, gave a sample of his best platform oratory, telling what had happened to some of the graduates of old Siwash. "We break the silence of a century" began Elmer, and it broke right there. When quiet was restored he related in glowing terms the success of Thomas S. Wood, the eminent dramatist and author of the problem play "Mr. Warren's Profession." He regretted the manner in which J. L. Washburn, one of the distinguished graduates, had dropped from public gaze. "His oratory which once gushed from the spigot like seltzer water from a fountain, now drips from the bunghole," said the speaker. Mr. Washburn hung his head in shame.

This Grape Juice Orator of the Wabash also paid a neat little tribute to "Dean" Ensign as a serious climax to an amusing and very witty talk.

The Poet.

Ellis Wheeler Bilcox is better known to Duluthians as E. M. Morgan. "Ed." it developed, had turned out to be a poet after leaving college, and threatened to read one of his poems, a parody on Kipling's "Danny Deever." When he was threatened with violence, he stated that he had a poetic license, and that the meter in his verse had been tested by the Edison Electric company and found correct. "Show us the license" yelled one obstreperous and indignant victim.

"I thought some fool would ask for that, so I bought it," said the poet, and produced the permit signed by the mayor and Commissioner Hicken. He was then allowed to proceed after objections had been duly entered by everyone in the room. His poem was so bad it wasn't considered worthy of being printed in The Herald except at advertising rates (see business manager for details), and at its conclusion the audience called loudly for air and water. They all stayed through it, however, and waited to see if H. Irving Mutt, alias J. H. Whitely, would be any better. He wasn't. Sir Irving Mutt launched into a dramatic recital of his life as an actor. Without anybody knowing how he did it, Sir H. Irving Mutt got himself locked up in a prison cell waiting to be hanged in the morning for murder.

"And must I die before morning?" he declaimed in his most dramatic vein.

"You must," chorussed the entire audience. "You are going to die before morning if you don't stop." Somebody finally prevailed upon Sir Mutt to stop, and he sat down breathless and uninjured, amid wild applause.

Pastor Wandered.

The Very Rev. Merritt Hicken Bellclapper proved to be City Attorney Harvey Clapp. Harvey didn't say what he was talking about, so nobody knows. He probably talked about five minutes. (Joke.) He dodged the first two glass successfully and was just getting his eye in, when somebody hit him from behind and he dropped in his tracks, being removed from the room, but returning later none the worse for the unfortunate occurrence.

Count Enrico Caruso Paul Bray, in private life Harry Gearhart, then volunteered to sing a baritone sole. They let him do it without any overt act, and Harry's guest from Minneapolis, whose way he paid, applauded. The guest will recover.

His Cruel Revenge.

Woodrow Reynolds McNab proved to be H. S. Carmichael. A little earlier in the evening the assembled multitude had requested Mr. Carmichael to rise to his feet, in tones which would not be denied. Mr. Carmichael rose. Then Mr. J. K. Lewis was forced to his feet. Then the class of '88 in one voice demanded that Mr. Carmichael and Mr. Lewis shake hands. Each had his left hand strapped behind him and all table cutlery removed from his person, and then amid silence like that of a boiler factory, they strode to the center of the room and grasped each other's hand. Thus ended an ancient feud. The hatchet was buried. The seconds reached the two pacified ones before they buried any other weapons.

But anyway Mr. McNab gave a talk on "The Successful Lawyer." Mr. Carmichael improved the occasion to deliver some choice wallops in the direction of some of his former classmates who had aimed well directed stabs at the region of his fifth rib in a recent campaign. He adopted the style of the famous Stirrup club report, and using as an excuse some alleged applications for jobs in the gift of the government, he reported on the qualifications of the various candidates, and hung a few hides up along the fence to dry. Here are some extracts from his report:

Timid and Tearful Hudson—Applied for position as member of Hague tribunal.

"Formerly a member of the constitutional convention. Says he favors government ownership of the Great Lakes, fortifying the Panama canal, Jim Crow cars and the segregation of races. Declares against private ownership of cabbage patches and against lobbies.

"The day before he made his application he was caught lobbying to "Hatch" something without "Meritt."

"After the lobby investigation was commenced, he declared against insidious lobbyists, unless they were members of the Loyal Liberty Destructive league. Later public sentiment became so strong that he stated that all appointive lobby boards should be abolished and not revived.

"His first act being unguarded, likely represents the true state of his mind.

"The Loyal Liberty Destructive league, an organization composed of inhabitants of Y. M. C. A.'s and other charitable institutions, insurance agents, real estate dealers, and others without any visible means of support, at a meeting at Lake Nebagamon held on the Sabbath day in conjunction with a picnic which constituted a breaking of the Sabbath in Minnesota, but no offense in Wisconsin, indorsed his candidacy.

"It is understood that he is a candidate of the Wrought Iron Pipe Manufacturers.

"Timid and Tearful Hudson is capable, intelligent, and is considered a man of integrity, however, his position on lobbying and his political supporters would make him a most dangerous appointee."

Alfred Jaques—Candidate for position as territorial governor of Hawaii.

"Commonly known as judge. Answering questions declares strongly in favor of government ownership of the Great Lakes. Is not in favor of a lobby. Was Bryan's office boy for 16 years. Believes that the more frequent use of water would obviate the necessity of Jim Crow cars in Northern climate. He has contributed generously to all reform movements in this country. The character of the man, and his record warrant confidence in his qualification for the office which he seeks."

Aeolian Eaolian McManus—Applicant for position with weather bureau—department of winds.

Automobile agent. Member of Modern Samaritans. Failed to answer questions submitted. Record in council of Modern Samaritans bad on all questions Is without ability and a member of the 'gang.'"

Alphabetical Ross—Applicant for position as minister plenipotentiary and ambassador extraordinary to the Fiji islands.

"Graduate of Harvard letters and Siwash law. Delegate to woman's suffrage convention for two years. Has failed to answer questions. He is capable and cunning and shares with McKnight the leadership of the 'gang' in the present commission lobby. He is a dangerous man and wholly unfit for the position he seeks."

Elinore F. Blu—Applicant for position as minister to Monte Carlo.

"Y. M. C. A. inhabitant—object of charity—aesthetic and asthmic tastes cause him to favor Jim Crow cars—well known as a chronic agitator. His experience and training do not qualify him for administrative or executive work."

F. Crasaweller—Applicant for position as postmaster at town of Buyck.

"Employe of Steel trust. Commonly known as Frank Crassweller. For many years employed as real estate clerk in the office of Frank Adams. Opposes the government ownership of the Great Lakes for Pittsburg Steamship company reasons. In favor of fortifying the Panama canal by placing a statue of Hicken at each entrance to the canal. Fails to answer other questions. Is acceptable to every special interest. Is accepted by the Loyal Liberty Destructive league. His candidacy is promoted chiefly by the lobby interests, though he declares against the lobby principle. He is a dangerous man and should receive no appointment."

A Glorious Finish.

The evening's program was brought to a finish—a glorious never to be forgotten finish by Thomas H. Catt, the husband of a distinguished woman, who proved to be Warren E. Greene. During the evening Mr. Greene had been imbibing too freely, and when he arose to his feet his hair was in his eyes—that distinguished iron gray mane—and he was undeniably drunk. (Note—Mr. Greene did not touch anything but water all evening, and he was not drunk, except for the purpose of his speech).

"(That lankey legal adviser for the Congregational church intimates I'm drunk," said Mr. Greene. "Thas' all rig'. Maybe I am. May be I am. But lemme tell you somethin'. If none of his deacons ever got drunker'n I am now, he'd lose the best part of his practice.

"Perhaps I am an inconspicuous husband of an distinguished woman. Perhaps I am. But if Judge Dibell and Harry Gearhart were married they'd be just as inconspicuous as I am. They'd be mor'n that. They'd be justt as inconspicuous as they are now.

"I wanna say Mrs. Catt's a great woman. Caesar's wife didn't have anything on Mrs. Catt. She's the official lecturer for the Harvey Clapp chapter of the women's suffragists. But somebody in this family has to make some money. I haven't got a clever brother who supports me like that Swedish Lutheran chairman of ours. Mrs. Catt's all right'. I don't mind her bringin' home poets to dinner. I don't mind her makin' speeches. I don't mind her entertaining literary geniuses, but when she brings Charley Mitchell home to dinner, she's goin' too darned far."

Mr. Catt also had a poem his wife had written on the Carmichael-Lewis affair, which nearly caused a hurry call for the police.

By the way—this all took place at the annual banquet of the Bar Association of the Eleventh Judicial District held at the Spalding hotel Saturday night. Judge Amidon gave the only serious speech of the evening, and was given a respectful hearing. The rest was one large riot. His address which was a most interesting one, will be found in another column of The Herald this evening.

It was one large night.

BABY MOOSE IS CAPTURED

Little Animal Wanders Into City and Slips on Creosote Block Pavement on First Street.

When that seasoned and city-bred animal, the horse, shod with iron shoes, frequently fails to keep his footing on the treacherous First street pavement, what hopes could be held out to a frightened, unsophisticated baby moose on its first visit to see the sights of the town?

The gold-brick artist, the con man of various artifices, dazzling, painted women and the bright lights have frequently proved the undoing of the countrified youth on his initial splurge into the great, wide world—as heralded in song and story—but the slippery creosote blocks caused the downfall of his nobs, the infant bull moose, yesterday afternoon.

The embryo lord of the pines and the swamps was first seen marching sedately on First street about 5 o'clock, having evidently wandered down from the hills back of the Point of Rocks. Carefree and innocent, too young to have acquired the man-fear of its elders, the infant adventurer sedately marched eastwards, as though without a care in the world. Unsuspecting of danger, he went past the Zenith Sales stables at Sixth avenue west.

One of the employes was taking his ease in a chair in the main doorway. He saw what looked like a small cow coming towards him from the west. When it was opposite him he glanced at him again. He thought it was a rather funny looking cow. He studied it for a minute.

Was Young Moose.

"Hanged if it ain't a young moose," he concluded to himself. Quickly he summoned others at the stable. They verified his opinion. As the moose continued eastwards they quickly harnessed a horse. By the time they reached the street his baby mooseship was in the middle of the next block. Starting the horse into a trot they took after him.

Hearing a strange clatter behind him the infant forest denizen threw a glance over his shoulder. He couldn't imagine what was the matter. But it was something foreign to him and after the second look he broke into a clumsy trot. The noise behind him increased. He tried to make it a gallop. But it was woefully difficult. The surface under him was not that to which he had been accustomed. He had a hard time keeping his feet. His hoofs would not stick as they did out among the hills of his native haunts. He couldn't leap away with the big jumps which were natural to him. He continued his precarious and desperate struggle to make his escape as far as Second avenue west. Just after he had passed the intersection the unfriendly ground jumped up and struck him a terrific blow. His legs went from under him and he sprawled in an inglorious heap on the pavement. The men with the horse were close behind him and others quickly gathered about, apparently from nowhere as the crowd always does when anything out of the ordinary happens in the city. The wild calf did his best to break away and once more regain the sheltering woods. But it was no use. His enemies were too numerous and the traitorous blocks continued to trip him.

A rope was slipped about his neck and he was allowed to stand up. He was led back to the Zenith Sales stables, which he had so shortly passed under such different circumstances. He is still there. He has recovered from his fright and today fed freely on the grass and young tree shoots which were thrown to him.

Local game wardens have been apprised of his capture and will determine his future disposition. If he does not become a ward of the state he may be returned to the woods. Before a private individual can keep him a permit must be secured from the state game and fish commission.

KILLED HER CHILD.

Is Charge Made Against Clementson, Minn., Young Woman.

Baudette, Minn., July 28.—(Special to The Herald).—Deputy Sheriff Frank Johnson of Koochiching county has left here to arrest a 16-year-old girl by the name of Benedict, daughter of a homesteader, living about twenty miles south of Clementson who is alleged to have killed her 11-day-old baby Friday evening and buried the body in the woods about 300 feet from the road. The imprint of the heel of her shoe near the grave is said to have led to the discovery of the body. It is claimed the child was born in International Falls and that the young mother strangled it to death. An inquest is being held at Clementson today.

MEN BECOME WHAT THEY LOVE

Worship of Beauty Brings Beauty, Says Duluth Pastor.

"There is a spiritual law of compensation, blessing, which is as absolute as the law of gravitation," said Rev. George R. Gebauer at the First Unitarian church, yesterday. "We become in spirit the thing we love. So far as we give ourselves to the service of goodness, we become good. So far as we truly worship truth, so far do we become truthful. And the worship of beauty makes us beautiful within.

"On the other hand so far as we give ourselves to the sacrifice and to the service of what is mean, we become mean. The soul which refuses to sacrifice from time to time to what is sublime and true, will decline, it will gradually pass into the outer darkness. People who habitually keep away from all that is ideal in life, become coarse grained in thought, and their ethics become prudential and materialistic. Our present generation stands in some respect much higher than past ones. But in the eager worship of the temporal we lose sight of the eternal, and the highest, the spiritual life of man and his moral efficiency is the worse for it. Only after everything else has been cared for, will men give a thought to the highest and sublimest.

"I do not mean to say that for the attainment of the higher life a man should read the Bible indiscriminately. He perhaps could hardly do anything worse. Nor do I mean that we should sit down and sing pious platitudes written in long meter and short in thought. I mean that our spiritual self should from time to time approach the deeper issues of being. And in this approach we shall come to the source of all things, which for a better name we call God. That name stands for all that is good and beautiful and true in life, and as we give ourselves to it in worship we shall become partakers of the Godly life. And this partaking of the divine nature becomes a wellspring for good, it becomes an inspiration to do good. When we are filled with the spirit of a living ideal, when we have a living faith, then this spirit will pervade every nook and crevice of our life and make this commonplace life divine, and help us solve some of the great problems of living, and open us to the social work about us in the spirit of eternal love."

DELL RAPIDS, S. D., MAN IS CREMATED.

Dell Rapids, S. D., July 28.—Superintendent Marvin Maule of the Municipal Gas and Water Works, lost his life when the building housing the plant was burned Saturday afternoon. An explosion caused the fire. Maule's charred body was found after the fire had been subdued, lying beside one of the pumps. He was alone in the building at the time, and the cause of the explosion is unknown. The water and gas plant will be out of commission for some time.

BABY BULL MOOSE EXCEEDS SPEED LIMIT ON ITS WAY TO THE GLASS BLOCK

Stopped Within One Block of "The Shopping Center of Duluth."

"Defying civilization with a series of bellows, a baby bull moose galloped down West First street yesterday afternoon, and took Duluth by storm until he reached Second Avenue West, where he was arrested by Patrolman Kreager on charge of disorderly conduct."—News Item.

This is a clear case of false imprisonment because, with all due respect to the police department, the Moose was not disorderly but was greatly excited over the wonderful bargains advertised for the House Furnishing sale all this week at the Glass Block. Had he been allowed to continue his course, he would today have enjoyed the excellent bargains and refreshed himself repeatedly with cooling drinks at the Glass Block Soda Fountain.

EXHIBIT AT STATE FAIR

St. Louis County Will Have Its Own Building This Year.

St. Louis county will be on hand at the Minnesota state fair this year with a big agricultural exhibit in its own building.

The agricultural committee of the Commercial club, at a meeting at noon today, decided to start immediately assembling material for the exhibit. They will endeavor to get in touch with people having produce that will earn a place in the exhibit and will make plans for a show that will measure up to those of former years.

Other attractions will be provided for the Minnesota building, and St. Louis county will attract as much attention as ever if the plans of the committee go through.

The agricultural committee will also make a display this year at the St. Louis county fair at Hibbing. Another meeting of the committee will be held Thursday, when the question of exhibiting at both places will be considered again.

Violin sale this week at Boston Music Co., 18-20 Lake avenue north.

NORTH DAKOTA FAIR WAS WELL ATTENDED.

Grand Forks, N. D., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The state fair, which ended here Saturday night, had an average daily attendance of near 15,000, the greatest attendance in the state's history.

The total attendance for the week was slightly over 70,000, and there were good crowds present Saturday, although the fair had to compete with a big circus at East Grand Forks.

Home Near Brainerd Burns.

Brainerd, Minn., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The story and a half farm home of August H. Marohn, five miles northeast of Brainerd, was burned to the ground, the fire starting from a stovepipe on the second floor. Nothing was saved and the insurance is but a small amount. The farmer and his family were in the field and were unable to check the flames.

Five Years for Assault.

Noonan, N. D., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—For a statutory crime against a 13-year-old girl, Jack Morrows was arrested and later, on a plea of guilty, was sentenced to five years in the state penitentiary.

GIVES HOT WEATHER ADVICE TO BLONDES

DR. W. C. RUCKER,
Assistant Surgeon General of the United States.

Are you a blonde? Then don't be surprised if someone asks you the color of your underwear. Blame it on Dr. Rucker. The doctor, who is connected with the health service in Washington, has issued suggestions for comfort in hot weather and one of them is that blondes should wear colored underwear because of the effect of light on skins containing little pigment. The doctor also suggests that a good way to avoid feeling hot is to keep away from the thermometer.

MOSQUITOES TOO MUCH FOR CONGREGATION.

The congregation of the First Baptist church was stampeded by mosquitoes at the evening services last night. The congregation is temporarily housed in a tent pending the completion of repairs to the church building and in the course of the service the tent was invaded by a swarm of mosquitoes which soon emptied the place. Rev. D. B. Cheney, the pastor, was the last to leave.

New Club House.

Construction work on the new boathouse of the Superior Boat club, being erected at Billings park, is rapidly being pushed. It is expected that the clubhouse will be completed within the next three weeks. The club is making arrangements for a special program in connection with its formal opening which will probably take place the latter part of next month.

Scheidecker Funeral.

The body of Alice Scheidecker, the Superior girl who was drowned Saturday at White Bear lake, arrived in the city yesterday. The funeral was held at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon from the residence, 718 G street. The girl's body was found lying in fourteen feet of water late Saturday afternoon, after a search of several hours.

Held for Burglary.

Nathaniel Armstrong, a negro, was arrested Saturday afternoon at Sandstone as he was bound for the Twin Cities. He is charged with having entered the Golden Key clubrooms on Third street and to have stolen $50. He will appear before the court this morning.

OBITUARY

John O'Callahan, secretary of the United Irish League of America since its foundation in 1901, died at a hospital in Boston July 27 after an illness of two days. He was 48 years of age.

D. R. Dingwall, a prominent jewelry merchant and pioneer resident of Winnipeg, Man., is dead at his home in that city. He was 68 years old.

DECREE NOT FILED.

Question Whether Woman Was Divorced When She Married Again.

Grand Rapids, Minn., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge Stanton holding court here Saturday afternoon took under advisement the petition of Maude S. Newman of this village for temporary alimony, and counsel fees, pending her divorce suit against Herbert Newman. The suit is scheduled to be heard at the September sitting. The court's decision will hinge on the question whether the woman is the lawful wife of Newman. She was married to a man in Wisconsin, and was later divorced from him, in that state, but the decree was not filed until a short time ago.

The other cases taken under advisement were motions for new trials in the Patelle and Jones liquor cases, and the Longmore personal injury case, and the Riley-Keith tax title case.

TWO MONTHS FOR RESISTING OFFICER.

Because Allen Stewart resisted Sergeant Roberg and Patrolman Iverson when they came to arrest him Saturday evening on a charge of assaulting H. P. Thomas, house detective of the Spalding hotel, he was this morning given a straight sentence of sixty days in the county and after he finishes his term he will be brought up again on the assault charge.

Thomas made the complaint Saturday to Sergeant Roberg, who went to a saloon near Lake avenue and found Stewart. The officer told Stewart that he was under arrest, but the latter resisted and the affair ended in a fight. Sergeant Roberg was shoved through a window and Stewart might have made his escape, but for the lucky arrival of Patrolman Iverson.

In police court this morning Stewart pleaded guilty to the charge of resisting an officer and he was then given the two months' sentence. The other case has been continued over to Sept. 28, when Stewart will be released from jail.

FARMERS PLAN TO BREED GUERNSEYS

Organization Perfected at Cromwell of Guernsey Breeders' Association.

Cromwell, Minn., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Local farmers propose to improve their breed of stock and to that end aided by A. B. Hostetter of Duluth, supervisor of the experimental work of the agricultural station, met here Saturday and organized a Guernsey Breeders' association with the following officers: President B. A. Beck; vice president, Louis Knutson; secretary, Ed Benson; treasurer, Pat Maher; additional members for board of directors, Ole Holme, Louis Pohl and Joseph Richards.

Eighty-five cows were pledged at $2 per cow per year for two years. This number will be increased to 150 cows per year.

Twenty-three Farmers Members.

Twenty-three farmers became members. Three pure bred registered Guernsey bulls will be purchased at once. Banker Barstow of Cromwell will advance the money at a moderate rate of interest. The farmers will be divided into three blocks and a Guernsey sire located in each block, the location of the sire to be decided by a majority of those living in each block. Some one will be paid a liberal price for the shelter, feed and care of the sire, so that he will always be in good condition. So far as possible all the farmers will be induced to breed only from Guernsey sires. The farmers of Cromwell are being congratulated on the advanced steps. There is already a creamery here.

OPEN REST HOME FOR OLD EMPLOYES.

Marquette, Mich., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—A "rest home" established by the United States Steel corporation in the country out from Ishpeming, Marquette iron range, has been opened for the season. Formally marking the event a whitefish dinner was served to 125 guests, the great majority of whom toil in the mines. The institution is for the accommodation of old employes and members of the families of employes. The main building is of large capacity, occupies a charming site and has been put in excellent condition and thoroughly equipped. The grounds contain a baseball diamond.

FOSSTON YOUNG IS RETURNED TO HOME.

Bowman, N. D., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Iverson of Fosston, Minn., arrived here to take his son back to the parental home. The young man was found demented here two weeks ago. It is thought that after proper medical treatment he will recover his mental condition.

Released Convict Rearrested.

Fargo, N. D., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Only two weeks of freedom was enjoyed by John Carney after his liberation from the state penitentiary. Two years ago he was sent up from Larimore on a charge of theft, and created some excitement by jumping from a train going at thirty-five miles an hour while being taken to the state penitentiary. Here he is charged with highway robbery. During his imprisonment his wife at Larimore secured a divorce.

New North Dakota Town.

Mandan, N. D., July 28.—With the public lot sale which was held Thursday afternoon at Harmon, a new Missouri Slope town eleven miles south of Mandan on the Stanton line, was established.

THIS WEEK'S WEATHER

Washington, July 28.—Except for local thunderstorms, generally fair weather is predicted for the coming week by the weather bureau, and no unusually high temperatures are expected.

"A moderate depression now extending from the Lower Missouri valley northeastward to Lake Superior," said the weekly bulletin, "will move eastward, attended by local thunderstorms during the early days of the week over the Ohio valley and lower lake regions. The showers will be followed by rising pressure, with fair weather that will probably continue during the week.

"Over the central and western portions of the country generally fair weather will prevail, although local thunderstorms are probable early in the week over both slopes of the Central and Southern Rocky mountains.

"A cool wave that now covers the Northwest will spread eastward and southeastward in modified form."

PANAMAN CLAIMS HE IS MESSIAH.

Panama, July 28.—Word from Penome, a small town in the interior, reaches here that Sagundo Sanchez, a native of that section, has proclaimed himself the Messiah. He has predicted the destruction of the world by a deluge in a short time, and some of his eighty adherents are building an ark, while others are busy collecting in pairs animals of all species found in their region. His followers also have armed themselves, and in view of this fact the government is taking steps to avert possible trouble.

Two Ice Plants Burned.

Chicago, July 28.—Five firemen were injured and 600 tons of ice destroyed by a fire which swept the plants of the Consumers company and the Illinois Terra Cotta company at One Hundred Nineteenth street and the Calumet river Saturday, causing a property loss of $350,000.

"WHO PUT THE WATER IN THE BAY?"

J. E. Cooley Answers Question in Rhyme Read at the Old Settlers' Picnic.

"Who Put the Water in the Bay?" is the title of a poem read at the Old Settlers' picnic at Superior, Saturday by J. E. Cooley of Duluth. It was a take-off on some of the veterans of the Old Settlers' association and was greatly enjoyed by the crowd. It follows:

There are many weighty questions
That confront us every day.
One of the worst to settle is—
Who put the water in the bay?

Some say Jim Barden was the man
While others seem to doubt
And claim that Zachau was the one
Who brought the thing about.

Some seem to think half breed Bungo
Brought the water from the Sioux,
He being the first white man here,
As he's often said to you.

Some say that Wheeler took a hand
And wheeled it up the lake
And put it in behind the point,
And never made a break.

A break, I'm told, has not been made
'Til Merritt started out
To regulate the water board
And bring reform about.

When we come to look around
And make inquiries of the mob
We find there's many in both towns
Who were here and on the job.

Camille Poirier says that he Came here with a canvas sack,
And helped Van Brunt and J. P. Johnson
Bring the water on their back.

La Vaque declares that might be so
As he can testify.
He got some from them to mix his paint
As they were passing by.

Billy Sargent thinks that he Should hold the honored place today
As he was the man who first proposed
Putting water in the bay.

Alf Merritt now comes to the front,
Says "this is a pretty note—
I got the water from Beaver Bay
And brought it in my boat."

The Wieland's say that's a mistake
As they owned Beaver Bay,
No water for three hundred years
Has ever gone away.

John Rakowsky now comes out and
Says these claims seem awful queer.
"I got the water all myself
To help string out my beer."

Tischer claims he was the man,
And can prove it clear enough.
'Twas he who made the beer and
He sure had to have the stuff.

Bobby McLean put "soup" in Superior
As I've often heard him say,
But that was many years before
There was water in the bay.

Col. Hays and H. M. Peyton built
The point of drifting sand;
Commodore Saxton then came here
And surveyed out the land.

Then Mendenhall and Charles R. Haines
Cocked their weather eye
And put up a sign with "Land for sale"
To "ketch" the passer-by.

Butler, no doubt, took a hand
To settle all their strife.
The mistake he made when starting
He did not take a wife.

There are many other questions
To be settled every day
Of just as much importance as
Who put the water in the bay.

We will fret and fume and worry as we Journey through the land
And in everybody's mix-up
We will wait to take a hand.

We think that we are competent
And no doubt but what we are
To settle every question
From Mexico to the Balkan war.

But that is not our mission
On this garden spot of earth
We're here to cheer the feeble ones
And honor truth and worth.

This old settler band of heroes
Have braved earth's fiercest blasts
That the coming generations might
Wend their ways in pleasant paths.

The numbers are getting small of those
Who were first to take a hand
To bring about this mighty change
In this fair and fertile land.

May this band of pioneers
As they journey down the slope
Be sustained by the cheering words
A home in heaven is my hope.

CRIME AND CASUALTIES DISTURB DAY OF REST

FOUR MURDERED ON FARM IN ALBERTA.

Rumsey, Alta., July 28.—George Robinson, his wife Maggie, and their two children, Alice and Matthew, both aged 12, were found dead at the Robinson farm home near here last night. All four had died from the effects of bullet wounds. Authorities believe that Robinson, near whom a repeating rifle and empty shells were found, shot his wife and children and then turned the gun on himself.

Friends of the family are at a loss to account for the motive that could have actuated the deed.

THREE DASHED TO DEATH IN ALPS.

St. Maurice, Switzerland, July 28.—A terrible sight was seen from Salvan last night. Three Alpine climbers were observed to be in difficulties and then to drop 2,500 feet off the Sallieres tower of the Dent-Du-Midi. The mountain climbers are believed to have been Frenchmen who ascended the peak without a guide, despite warnings of danger.

TWO DETROIT MEN IN MOTOR KILLED.

Detroit, Mich., July 28.—Dr. Frank M. Singer and Walter J. Puhl, both of Detroit, were killed Sunday when their automobile was struck by a Lake Shore passenger train at a grade crossing in the outskirts of the city.

AUTO LEAVES FERRY; TWO WOMEN DROWN.

Montreal, Que., July 28.—Two women were drowned in the St. Lawrence river Sunday when an automobile in which they were sitting ran off the deck of the ferry steamer South and plunged into the river. Mrs. Charles Morrison, 28 years old, of this city, and Mrs. J. Cheyne, 26 years old, of St. Henry, were the victims.

SPECTATOR KILLED BY BATTED BALL.

Chicago, July 28.—William McCoy, a spectator at an amateur ball game Sunday, was struck in the temple by a batted ball and died before a physician could reach him.

TRAIN HITS MOTOR; ONE GIRL KILLED.

Aurora, Ill., July 28.—Lillian Sanderson, the 7-year-old daughter of Seward Sanderson, was killed, and her mother and 4-year-old sister Violet were badly hurt Sunday when a Burlington train struck the automobile in which they were riding. Sanderson, his wife and six children were in the car when the engine stopped on the grade crossing. All but the three leaped from the automobile in time to avoid injuries.

GEORGIA MOB LYNCHES NEGRO.

Dunbar, Ga., July 28.—A mob, after several hours' search through swamps, late Sunday captured John Shake, a negro, hanged him to a telegraph pole in the local negro settlement and riddled his body with bullets. The corpse was left hanging. Shake was believed to be the burglar who Saturday night shot and dangerously wounded D. J. Hammock, a merchant, in the latter's store. Hammock, it is believed, will recover.

TWENTY-SEVEN HURT IN COLORADO WRECK.

Boulder, Colo., July 28.—Twenty-seven passengers were injured, six probably fatally, when five coaches of the Denver, Boulder & Western train overturned near Eldora, Colo., Sunday. In the five coaches were 125 passengers, mostly tourists from the East who were viewing the scenery of the "Switzerland trail."

The train had left Eldora about noon and was attempting to make the customary wye turn when the rear coach left the track. The train crew endeavored to draw the coach back upon the track, when it overturned and carried with it the next four cars.

The passengers were thrown from their seats, bruised and cut by flying glass. Thise most seriously hurt were injured internally by the fall. The train was a narrow-gauge one.

A partial list of injured follows:

Miss Irma Wyerbacher, Boonville, Ind., back injured.

Miss Mabel Beck, Dexter, Iowa, internal injuries.

Miss L. P. Symmes, Dexter, Iowa, internal injuries.

Mrs. E. L. Downey, Dexter, Iowa, arm broken.

Mrs. John Henson, Chicago, internal injuries.

Miss Laura Henson, Chicago, internal injuries and cuts.

Miss Sadie Frank, Nashville, Tenn., face cut.

Mrs. Martha Chalfont, Shinnston, W. Va., internal injuries.

Miss Blanche Chalfont, Shinnston, internal injuries.

Harry Packer, Kansas City, Kan., internal injuries and cuts.

Ethelyn Hal, Lexington, Neb., wrist broken and face cut.

The most seriously injured were taken to the University hospital here and given treatment. Physicians said that in the cases of those suffering from internal injuries it would be impossible to determine their exact condition for another twenty-four hours.

A relief train was hurried from Boulder to the scene of the wreck, bringing back the injured. Those less seriously hurt were taken to Denver and there placed in hospitals.

THOUSANDS SEE DIVER DROWNED.

St. Louis, Mo., July 28.—Within sight of thousands of spectators, Oscar E. Stuber, a diver, leaped from the center span of the Free bridge into the Mississippi river and was drowned Sunday. His body never reappeared after the 100-foot plunge.

On the shore and in the boats of the St. Louis Rowing club and the Missouri naval reserves' steamer the Luzon were crowds that had come to witness a five-mile swim to which the dive was a curtain-raiser. All efforts to recover the diver were futile.

Stuber had twice successfully dived from the Eads bridge into the Mississippi river. He undertook the fatal performanco on a $75 wager.

Thrown From Street Car.

Kansas City, Mo., July 28.—Jacob Slupsky of St. Louis, millionaire real estate operator, was severely injured here Sunday by being thrown from a street car that started forward while he was in the act of alighting from it. He was unconscious for some time. He will recover.

SLIT TROUSERS FOR MEN ARE PREDICTED.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 28.—A Fifth avenue tailor, rather well known in Pittsburg male fashions, predicted today that men will in a short time be wearing slit trousers, prototypo in their own way, of the feminine flashed skirt.

"I have too large a conservative clientele to come out with the slit trouser myself," he said. "I don't want a reputation for freakishness, but I believe that in a very short time men in the large cities all over the country will be wearing trousers slit at the sides. And it will probaby mean that they will have to take to wearing stockings for the slits will likely go to the knee.

"Too long have women enjoyed the privilege of summery things. Too long have men sweltered in dark woolens when the mercury was flirting with the top of the thermometer."

BLACK HAND ACTS ARE LAID TO NEGRO.

Iola, Kan., July 28.—Rice county's mysterious "blackhand" case, which has stirred the western part of the state for several months, is believed by officers to have been solved Sunday when J. C. Bowen, a negro, was arrested and placed in jail here at the request of the county attorney at Lyons, Kan. Bowen had been sought for several weeks.

FAST WORK BY POSTAL CLERK

Parelius Landfald Leads Duluth Clerks in Distribution of Mail.

Records Set in Washington Exceeded in Duluth Postoffice.

Efficiency tests conducted among the clerks of the local postoffice have shown that the records established at Washington last spring have been exceeded by far, according to the reports just prepared by Oscar R. L. Johnson, foreman of the mailing division.

Parelius Landfald, one of the clerks, at a recent test made a correct score of distributing forty-eight cards a minute. He distributed 344 cards in all, making a percentage of 99 in the whole test. These cards have the names of the cities on them and the clerk distributes them in the various shelves or bags.

According to reports from Washington the clerks in the national capital averaged forty-two cards a minute, without errors. This is the best record made by the assorters there, while in Duluth several of the clerks have averaged better than forty-two cards a minute.

Mr. Landfald has been employed at the postoffice since last March and although a comparatively new man is the most rapid assorter on the force. The cards used for his test had the names of Michigan cities on them and took in the entire northern section of the state. Edward C. Ebner and Swan Erickson both averaged forty-three cards a minute, slightly bettering the record made at Washington.

The efficiency tests are conducted two or three times a year, the clerks being allowed to study the various cities before the examinations. There are, for instance, 1,472 cards for the state of Minnesota, and it is up to the clerk to be able to distribute these in the various railroad pouch bags. The clerk must know on what train mail for a certain city must go and he then throws the card into the bag for that train.

Foreman Johnson also has a demerit system for the clerks, so that every mistake a man makes in the distribution of his mail comes right back to him and the demerit is marked against that man. If the clerk should send a letter or postcard on a wrong train, he gets ¼ of a demerit. If he missends a package, he gets 10 demerits and a misdirected pouch brings 30 demerits.

During the year each man is allowed 300 demerits, more than which brings reduction in salary, while more than 500 demerits means the discharge of a man. When a man comes late to work he is fined 1 demerit.

The undersigned, trustee of Joseph Kenny, will offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder, for cash, all the stock, goods, and merchandise, pool tables, furniture and fixtures, dining-room furniture and kitchen utensils, and all personal property owned and used by Joseph Kenney, and now being in the building know as the Metropole Hotel on Lake Avenue South, City of Duluth. The sale is to be made in entirety or separately as to the bar fixtures, restaurant fixtures, and pool-room fixtures. Reserving to myself the right to reject any or all bids. Such sale to be made on Thursday, July the 31st, at ten o'clock A. M., on said hotel premises.

L. S. LOEB, Trustee.

THOMAS HAYDEN, FORMER CITY DETECTIVE, HERE

Thomas Hayden, who, for years, was patrolman and later detective on the Duluth police force, and was the giant officer of his day, is in the city visiting friends. Mr. Hayden is now chief of detectives at Seattle, Wash., and has not been in Duluth in a number of years.

Always unusually tall, Mr. Hayden has added to his stature considerable flesh. His appearance has been so changed by two features that his old friends would hardly know him. These are, aside from his added flesh, the acquisition of pince nez glasses and the cropping down of his former flowing mustaches.

ASSAULT ON GIRL LAID TO TWO OLD MEN.

Muldrow, Okla., July 28.—J. F. Rogers, aged 50 years, and N. J. Brogdon, aged 70, two of the most prominent merchants of Sequoyah county, were arrested at their homes late Sunday charged with an assault upon Torzah Coker, 14 years old, daughter of a prominent farmer. The alleged crime was committed last December, it is said. Both men were released under bonds of $5,000 each. Both are married and have families. The arrests caused a sensation and feeling is running high.

SAYS HARRY THAW HAS NO PROPERTY.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 28.—Counsel for the Fidelity Title & Trust company has filed an answer in Orphans court, to the petition of Harry K. Thaw which asks that the trust company be directed to pay him $30,000 from the income and funds he avers the company is holding in trust for him.

The answer recites that Thaw has no property or estate, and no income except that accruing from the trust estate of which the respondent company is trustee. It is further declared that much money has been spent for Thaw's release from Matteawan, and that he has not yet been declared sane, and further that he is anticipating the institution of further proceedings for his release, which would require a considerable amount of money.

A hearing probably will be held soon.

Merges Revenue Districts.

Washington, July 28.—President Wilson by executive order has consolidated the Fourth internal revenue district of Iowa with the third, to be known as the Third district, and with Louis Murphy as collector.

Soo Man's Big Begonia.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—A mammoth begonia, claimed to the largest in Upper Michigan, is owned by Benjamin S. Rothwell of this city. The plant is 6½ feet in height and measures 5½ feet across. It is said it has a value of several hundred dollars. The begonia is 4 years old. It is blooming this season for the first time.

BOOSTERS' CARNIVAL

Duluth's "Trade Getters" Take Charge of Lark o' the Lake.

Superior Street Enjoys Real Carnival—Scramble for Souvenirs.

The carnival spirit was abroad in Duluth Saturday night.

Led by over 100 boosters, men who had represented Duluth in trade excursions through Duluth territory, thousands of Duluth people engaged in a riot of fun and frivolity in the Lark o' the Lake carnival. Starting with a parade that aroused the watchers to a high degree of enthusiasm, the carnival resolved itself into a go-as-you-please, fun-making festival.

From 8 o'clock when the parade started from the union station until late at night there was a constant whirlpool of activity moving up and down Superior and First streets. The Third regiment band played stirring tunes, boosters danced strange and fantastic dances, red fire burned with dazzling brilliancy, children and men who were like children swarmed over the streets, created weird noises with the aid of squawkers and whistles, threw confetti and engaged in the thousand and one other frivolities to which the carnival spirit prompts men.

There was much of the college spirit in the carnival also. The oarsmen played no small part in the parade, and their partisans played a large part in the carnival that followed. College boys led in the serpentine dances on the pavement, and started the yells that arose every few minutes in staccato chorus. The crowd merged with the boosters to make the night the biggest Duluth has had in many moons.

The Parade.

The parade, headed by Frank X. Gravel and the Third Regiment band, moved from the union depot at 8 o'clock. Mr. Gravel was dressed in immaculate white and carried the parasol that was the insignia of the leader on many a march in the towns in Duluth trade territory. Behind the band came about 100 boosters, drawn up in minstrel array, with their tan dusters, white caps and canes and pennants. Following the boosters were the floats of the oarsmen. Each crew occupied a separate float suitably decorated and bearing inscriptions such as "Duluth, the Natural Home of Oarsmen," "Cold Springs, High Winds, Rough Water Produce Good Oarsmen." The oarsmen were given an enthusiastic greeting as they passed between the crowds on Superior street.

The parade moved to Third avenue east in splendid rank and without interruption. When the march back began the riot started. There was no distribution of souvenirs on the way down Superior street, but the boosters were free to distribute what they would on the way back. They were rushed by the crowd in a wild scramble for souvenirs that took every conceivable form.

At each avenue on the return, the band stopped for a lively air and the boosters danced. Two "rubes" in an exaggerated exposition of the "bear" made a pronounced hit with the crowd. At Fifth avenue west, the boosters went up to First street for a serenade of The Herald and red fire was burned in generous quantities in front of the building, while the band played and the boosters danced as well as they could in the midst of the crowd. On the return to Superior street, serpentine dances up and down the pavement were in order and the fun kept up until the crowd was exhausted.

The carnival was a pronounced success. The crowd was jammed on Superior street and everybody enjoyed the fun. Duluth has seldom had such a night.

For the final Lark o' the Lake carnival next Saturday night there will be an automobile parade that will be quite the finest thing Duluth has ever seen. Two or three hundred decorated automobiles will be in line and there will be some unusually beautiful decorative features shown.

WANTED IN SAWMILL

Two carriage riders and one green lumber grader.

W. T. BAILEY LUMBER COMPANY, Virginia, Minn.

SWIMMER WITHOUT SKIRT IS ARRESTED.

Chicago, July 28.—For swimming in bloomers without a skirt, Dr. Rosalie M. Ladova was arrested at the Jackson park municipal beach here Sunday, and taken to a police station after she had put on her street clothes. Dr. Ladova took off her skirt at the water's edge, placed it under a stone so it would not blow away, and started to swim. A policeman caused a life guard to pursue Dr. Ladova in a rowboat.

Dr. Ladova asserted that she swam without a skirt as a matter of principle, and will fight to have the sexes separated while bathing, or else to have women allowed freedom in swimming costume. She was freed on bail.

REAL ESTATE MEN LEAVE

Duluth and Superior Well Represented at Big Convention at Winnipeg.

N. J. Upham Will Set Forth Glories of Zenith City in Verse.

On a special train over the Canadian Northern last evening, Duluth and Superior delegates left for Winnipeg, where they will attend the three-days session of the sixth annual convention of the National Association of Real Estate exchanges. The Duluth and Superior real estate men are well prepared for boosting their respective cities.

E. D. Field left for Winnipeg Saturday with the exhibit which the local real estate exchange will have at Winnipeg this week. The convention proper will last three days after which the delegates will be given a trip through the wheat belt of Western Canada as guests of the Winnipeg exchange.

Members of the Party.

The following make up the Duluth delegation: Mayor W. I. Prince, H. W. Cheadle, C. R. Haines, E. F. Spink, A. H. Brown, J. D. Stryker, Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Upham, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Stephenson, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nolte, Mr. and Mrs. George G. Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Graff, Fred Rossom, C. H. McLennan, Angus Grant, George T. Eagling, H. R. Kohagen, W. C. Sherwood, H. O. Hanson, Willard Rich and E. D. Field.

The members of the Superior party are: O. E. Dunn, J. M. McCabe, B. C. Cooke, L. E. Waterman, Henry A. Butler, George G. Newton, H. H. Van Vleck, Robert Stewart, W. R. Gillis, Rufus Stephenson and Mrs. Stephenson, Col. Hiram Hayes, Charles A. Erhart, W. H. Webb, Frank R. Crumpton, B. B. Giffin, Robert Kelley, Jr., E. L. Heimbaugh, Philip Stratton and Messrs. Bardon, Kirkpatrick, Nichols and Robertson.

Upham to Read Poem.

One of the features of the afternoon program at the convention today will be five minute talks which will be given by representatives of the cities having delegates at the convention. N. J. Upham who will represent Duluth will read the following poem of his own composition as a story of Zenith City enterprise.

DULUTH.

"To impress you with the facts
About Duluth, and all her acts
By speech of any common sort
The time allowed, is far too short.
So it occurs to us, to state in rhyme
In words though few—and not sublime,
Yet different from the ordinary run.
Be easily remembered, and make some fun.
Comparisons are odious, 'tis said, and yet
We mean no offense—on that you can bet.
So what we say about your city
Is in kindly spirit, to fill in our ditty.

"Philadelphia is slow but on the square,
Pittsburg is rapid—much in the air,
Duluth is slow, only it wants to be sure,
And then quick to establish things that endure.
St. Paul is somewhat pious and easy,
Minneapolis gay—naughty and breezy,
Duluth combines characteristics of both,
But to give you details, we're rather loath
Chicago is known as being windy,
Milwaukee with beer kicks up many a shindy,
Duluth, too, can furnish some rather fresh air,
And spirits so good as to remove all care.

"Kansas City's virtues who can tell?
Good old St. Louis is hot as h—.
Duluth's virtues are well known as truth,
It's proclaimed abroad, 'It's Cool in Duluth.'
Cleveland's pride is being sixth city,
In beating Baltimore, who has our pity.
Duluth won't be satisfied with any such place,
But will keep on growing till it heads the race.
Detroit boasts much of her fine motor cars,
But gives to her buyers cares and jars,
Duluth won't to anyone pass trouble or pain
For health, wealth and happiness to all is her aim.

"Louisville's great hospitality to you all is known
Come with us to Duluth—ours will be shown—
Omaha—great; because her statistician is no ignoramus,
But with greater Duluth, Harrison sure would be famous.
Saskatoon, Saskatoon, with a name most euphonious,
Makes a claim we believe wholly erroneous.
As 'THE City of Opportunities, Duluth can't be beat
Though we're willing to grant Saskatoon second seat—
Winnipeg is Canada's gem and pride,
I could not say less, however I tried,
Duluth is the pride of Uncle Sam,
I'm bound to say that, wherever I am.

"To compare every city with greatest Duluth
Would take hours of time, to tell half the truth,
With the moments remaining we want it imprest,
Our port the greatest, north, south, east or west.
There's no port in the world with tonnage larger
But London alone—Then comes our great harbor.
Furthest inland port reached by any craft
1,500 miles from the sea—yet having deep draught.
Eastern terminus of five transcontinental railways,
Millions of tons of freight comes, goes or stays,
For use, for export, or for manufacture
In her many industries, substantial and sure.
With hydro electric power from the St. Louis river,
And cheap coal for all uses. We've no need to shiver.

"The commerce commission decrees to Duluth the same rates
Chicago has long enjoyed, in lake and rail freights.
Five hundred miles farther west, yet with same freight charge
Makes Duluth the port of territory so large,
So vast—so tremendous—beyond comprehension—
Unless you study the map with the closest attention.
With leaps and bounds Duluth's jobbing has grown,
Until all over the West her merchants are known.
New York and Chicago are eclipsed handling grain,
While our boats leaving port, form a long endless chain.
Our iron ore mines are the richest extant,
We're now spending millions on a U. S. steel plant.

"All these things, and yet many more
Show the great future Duluth has in store.
The Zenith City of the Unsalted Seas,
With her hustling people, as busy as bees.
Time warns me to cease—Does Duluth get the prize?
We think that she should, from judges so wise.
Anyway! Come to Duluth, it's our advice,
Without saying more—Let this suffice.
Though built on a hill, we're not making a bluff.
Remember what's said—it is surely enough
To prove to you that Duluth is the stuff."

PLANS FOR BIG COLLEGE DAY

University Clubs of St. Paul, Minneapolis and Milwaukee Invited.

College Delegations in Duluth Preparing Features for Parade and "Pike."

College men and women throughout the northwest will take part in the annual college day reunion and carnival to be held Saturday, Aug. 9, at the Oatka branch of the Duluth Boat club.

The affair this year promises to be the biggest of its kind ever held in the country and should the present plans materialize the annual college day in Duluth will in the future be a northwestern affair. Invitations are now being sent out to the university clubs of Minneapolis, St. Paul, Milwaukee and several universities in the northwest, asking the members to bring delegations to Duluth and to prepare stunts for the show.

It is probable that the clubs in Minneapolis and St. Paul will combine for the affair and send about 100 members to the Duluth carnival. Should the delegation come, President George E. Vincent of the University of Minnesota, will be invited and if the Milwaukee club accepts, President Charles R. Van Hise, president of the Wisconsin university will be asked to attend the festivities.

The Duluth Boat club and Commercial club are both behind the affair this year and Dr. and Mrs. G. Herbert Jones are in general charge. It is the aim of those at the head of the work this year to make the carnival as big as possible.

Alumnae to Take Part.

Mrs. Jones announced Saturday afternoon that for the first time since college day was inaugurated the Minnesota alumnae would prepare a stunt for the "pike," one of the features of the carnival. The women will entertain at a tea at the Spalding Wednesday afternoon, when tentative plans will be arranged, committees appointed and active work started for the stunt. The graduates of Smith college and other institutions for women in the east have also promised to prepare stunts for the "pike."

The standing rule is that every college man and women from the year 1840 to 1912 is invited to take part in the celebration. They are all asked to report their names to Dr. Jones, giving the colleges they were graduated from and any ideas they may have for the carnival.

College day was inaugurated two years ago, when the college men held their carnival at the Oatka branch of the Boat club. This year a "pike" and cabaret show will be among the features at the Boat club, while a parade downtown will start the festivities. The men are asked to get together at once and prepare their stunts for the day. The officials of the Boat club have promised their support and any expense to be incurred preparing the stands and booths at the "pike" will be borne by the club.

Parade in Afternoon.

The celebration this year will begin with the parade at 2 o'clock, the line of march starting in front of the Spalding hotel. Each college will march together, the members being decorated with their colors and banners. A number of stunts are also being planned for the parade, the nature of which is being withheld for the present. Every automobile that can be secured will be used in the line of march and owners of machines are requested to donate their cars for the parade. The Third Regiment band will lead the march.

The line of march will run east on Superior street to Lake avenue and then south to the aerial bridge. The crowd will follow the parade and go out to the Oatka grounds with the college people. At the grounds will be featured the "pike" and circus, together with the band concert up to 6 o'clock. A number of new stunts will be featured this year by the various colleges, the rivalry among them being very keen.

Following the circus a picnic lunch will be enjoyed by the crowd, after which the races and bonfire will be held along the beach. The lunch will be served on the grove to the rear of the clubhouse. As soon as it is dark the bonfire will be started and the colleges will then start giving their songs and yells. This will end the festivities for the day.

Invitations are to be sent by the Boat club to all college men and women in Duluth, the range towns and Superior. Undergraduates who are now spending the summer at home are also asked to take part in the fun.

How to Heal a Stubborn Abscess

A Home Method Sure to Restore Flesh to Natural Health.

Do not cover any external sore so as to interfere with perspiration and the formation of protective scabs. Keep it clean and bandaged. If it is a stubborn case, flush your blood with S. S. S. This famous blood purifier works wonders. And you can easily give your blood a good, thorough cleansing by using S. S. S. There is no need for anyone to be despondent over the illness of blood impurities. No matter how badly they attack the system or how unsightly becomes the skin, just remember there is one ingredient in S. S. S. that so stimulates the cellular tissues throughout the body that each selects its own essential nutriment from the blood.

Do not fail to get a bottle of S. S. S. to-day. You will be astonished at the results. If your abscess is of such a nature that you would like to consult a specialist, write to the Medical Dept. The Swift Specific Co., 187 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

BETROTHED TO FORMER KING OF PORTUGAL

PRINCESS AUGUSTE VICTORIA.

This is a portrait just taken to celebrate the betrothal of Princess Auguste Victoria to ex-King Manuel of Portugal. It has been said that the princess was a beauty; but this portrait hardly bears out that claim. At all events she has a great deal of money and that is more needed than good looks in the family of the exking.

FRENCH SOPRANO WILL SING HERE

MARTHE CHENAL.

Marthe Chenal, the famous French soprano, has been engaged to sing in the United States for Oscar Hammerstein. She will sing in Baron Erlanger's "Aphrodite" with the composer conducting the first performance. She will also appear in "Louise," "Thais," "La Tosca" and practically the whole of Mary Garden's repertoire. She is one of the handsomest women on the operatic stage. She has sung for the past ten years at the opera and the Opera Comique in Paris, alternating in these houses every other week.

Amusements

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—All star cast of "Fine Feathers."
EMPRESS—Tabloid musical comedy.

FINE FEATHERS AT THE LYCEUM

The Pullman company constructed a special sleeping car for the accommodation of the all star company appearing in "Fine Feathers" on the special six weeks' tour this summer. H. H. Frazee's contract with these stars, including Robert Edeson, Wilton Lackaye, Max Figman, Rose Coghlan, Lolita Robertson and Amelia Sumers, provides each of them with a drawing room on all "jumps". As this is impossible to secure in the ordinary course of travel, the special coach was ordered. The car contains six drawing rooms for the accommodation of the stars, two compartments for the manager and stage director, and twelve berths for the lesser members of the company and the operating staff. There is also one stateroom fitted up as a nursery, as Robert Edeson's 2-year-old daughter, and Lolita Robertson's year-old infant, with their nurses, are on the trip. "Fine feathers," after breaking all records during a five months' run at the Cort theater, Chicago, and a half year at the Astor theater, New York, left Broadway a few weeks ago with its all star cast intact, and this will be one of the few cities visited before they return to New York. The engagement here is for tonight and tomorrow.

TABLOID COMEDY AT THE EMPRESS

Catchy music, good singing, amusing parodies and unusual dancing make up the entertainment provided by "The Seminary Girl," a fabloid musical comedy that opened a four days' engagement at the Empress yesterday.

Knute Erickson of "Yon Yonson" fame appears as Depey Dan, the principal comedian of the show. He has good opportunities for comedy work and his monologue between the acts found favor with yesterday's audiences. Jack Lewis also appears in a rich comedy part, playing the double role of the German count, and Schultz, the waiter. He gave a series of parodies of latest song hits that "got across" in good style.

Eleanore Bergere appears as the seminary girl and Harry Le Monde as her affinity. They appear in most of the "straight" songs, and succeed in pleasing. Their waltz number is especially good.

"The Devil's Rag," and a burlesque of the Texas Tommy are among the dancing numbers.

The moving pictures are up to the usual standard, and fill out an entertaining bill.

TAKE NO CHANCE ON CIGARETTE LAW

Many Applications for Licenses to Be Submitted to Commission.

Duluth tobacco dealers do not want to run any chances of being arrested for dealing in the insidious cigarette or the "makin's" without a license.

Since the announcement that the police would make a canvass of the city to ascertain whether the law is being violated, applications for cigarette licenses have been pouring into the office of City Clerk Palmer. A big batch will be presented to the commission at its meeting this afternoon. All of them will probably be granted.

The contract for the erection of the reservoir of the middle system will be finally awarded to D. H. Clough & Co., the cost being about $37,000. Contracts for a number of extensions for the water and light department will also be approved.

Since C. N. Inforzato has been granted a transfer of a saloon license to 1502 Commonwealth avenue, the applications of the others who desired to move to the same locality will be turned down. Commissioner Hicken stated last week that it will be the policy of the commission to allow no further additions to the number of saloons in that part of the city. With Inforzato, there will be three saloons at New Duluth and Gary.

HARD LINES FOR SNEEZE SQUAD

Health Department Inspector Reports Rag Weed Prevalent in City.

Rag weed, said to be conducive to hay fever, is prevalent throughout the city, according to the report which has been submitted to Health Director Webster by Inspector A. F. Braun.

The inspector gives it as his opinion that the weed is as common and so plentiful it would be impossible to stamp it out this year before it blossoms.

A committee of the Commercial club recently called the attention of the health department to the fact that Duluth is a resort sought by persons seeking relief from hay fever and that in the public interest every effort should be made to eliminate rag weed in the city. From the report of the inspector it would appear that this may not be possible this season, but the department will probably file the report with a view to giving the matter attention early next summer.

HOMEWOOD ADDITION.

Many Prospective Buyers Visit New Sub-Division on Sunday.

Homewood addition, the new subdivision which has been offered to real estate buyers by the Whitney Wall company, was visited by more than a hundred prospective buyers yesterday afternoon, who looked over the property with the view of investment.

The firm advises that the prospects for a heavy sale following the inspection of the property are bright. The addition is located within a mile from the center of the downtown retail district, four blocks north of the East Ninth street car line.

Pair Face Murder Charge.

Devils Lake, N. D., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Chloral was found in the stomach of Harry Freese, the Edmore, N. D., pool hall man, who died at Lawton several days ago. Dick Behnke and George Moriarity, held as suspects, will be given a preliminary hearing Wednesday charged with first degree murder.

It also was found that Freese had been hit on the head.

GREAT CROP OF BERRIES

Hundreds of Duluthians Are Gathering Fruit to Be Preserved.

Loaded Bushes to Be Found in All Directions From City.

Berries! Berries! Berries!

Millions of them and then some are now ripening and being harvested by the industrious housewives of Duluth. The harvest is being picked just outside of the city and in some cases just within the city limits.

Hundreds of men, women and children went to the woods yesterday carrying pails, boxes, baskets and other receptacles of all descriptions and sizes with which to carry the fruit home. The berries are said to be larger and more juicy than for several years past. Every clump of brush carries its load of berries and all that is necessary to get them is to go to the end of the nearest street and then break into the woods.

Several carloads of people went to the woods north of Woodland. This is said to be the best place for the fruit. Others sought the berries at the nearest point from home and were scattered among the shrubbery from Fond du Lac to Lakeside.

Thousands of quarts of the fruit will be picked within the next three weeks. At the end of that time the red raspberries will have disappeared. Next week will be time for the blue berries to make their appearance and the picking of these will attract hundreds. While the blue berries are not heavy near the city the pickers will go to Cloquet and points on the range railroads to get this fruit. The blue berry crop will be light, according to reports given by people from the country districts.

Shortly after Aug. 1 the cherries will also be ripe. Thousands of trees in the vicinity of Duluth are said to be loaded with the cherries. Jelly made from the cherries is said to be more delicious than that made of any other fruit to be found at the Head of the Lakes.

MILL CITY AUTO OWNER DISGUSTED

William Carlson Says Road to Duluth Is in Disgraceful Condition.

That the roads between Minneapolis and Duluth are in frightful condition is testified to by William Carlson, a furniture dealer of Minneapolis, who reached here last evening at 8 o'clock. Mr. Carlson left the Mill City Saturday at 2 o'clock p. m.

Mr. Carlson was in the mud so often that he lost count. Once he was pulled out of the mud with a team of oxen, and another time he hired a team of horses from a nearby farm and after some strenuous labor succeeded in getting the machine out of the mud.

Mr. Carlson declared today that the condition of the roads was simply a disgrace to any state. Also he declared that he knew of hundreds of owners of machines in the Twin Cities who had contemplated driving to Duluth this summer, but had been dissuaded from trying to get through on the heavy roads.

Mr. Carlson left for the range today. He declared that until there is some kind of a road, something worthy of the name between here and the Twin Cities, that he will never again attempt to make the trip by automobile.

Call and see our violins on sale this week only at one-third to one-half off. Boston Music Co., 18-20 Lake avenue north.

DULUTH RATES ARE ADVANCED

New Tariffs on Omaha Road Approved By Commerce Commission.

Washington, July 28.—Increases in commodity and class rate averaging 14 to 40 cents per hundred pounds to and from points on the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railroad lying between Sioux City and Duluth and South Pacific coast terminals and Southwestern inter-mountain territory were today approved by the interstate commerce commission.

Points between Sioux City and the Twin Cities henceforth will take Mississippi river rates while those north of the Twin Cities and including Duluth will take Chicago rates, an advance of 40 cents per hundred pounds first class. The commission, however, makes an exception in the rate on salt, which was to be advanced from 50 cents to 60 cents per hundred pounds. It is said that the road has before the commission an application to put a 50-cent rate on salt, from Chicago which has not yet been acted upon.

No Objections Made.

No objections to the proposed new adjustment were offered to the interstate commerce commission on behalf of Duluth. Certain inequalities in the relative adjustment of rates were submitted to the railroad and the Omaha has agreed to straighten them out. Otherwise Duluth took no part in the controversy, the objections to the proposed rates having come mainly from Minneapolis.

PORT ARTHUR MAN DIES IN ARIZONA

James Conmee of Canadian City Was Frequent Visitor in Duluth.

James Conmee of Port Arthur, Ont., and very well known in Duluth, died last Wednesday in Prescott, Ariz., where he had gone for his health. He was a well known figure here, his visits to Duluth being very frequent during the last twenty years. Many in Duluth will feel keen regret at hearing the news of his passing.

Mr. Conmee was 64 years of age and was a native of Sydenham, Ont., but was raised in Owen Sound, Ont. He served in the Civil war of the United States in the Eighth New York cavalry under General Custer and was severely wounded in one battle in which he took part. When the war ended he returned to Canada and entered the contracting business; and in later years was one of the leading pioneers of the new Canada in the Northwest. In fact he attained such prominence in the development of the western part of the dominion that he has been called the father of New Ontario. He has served several terms in both the Ontario legislature and in the dominion parliament.

HERZL AS THE MODERN MOSES

Zionists Pay Tribute to the Founder of Their Order.

Dr. Benjamin Horwitz was the principal speaker at Adas Israel synagogue last evening when the ninth annual memorial service that the synagogue has held in memory in Thedor Herzl took place. Herzl was the founder of Zionism and is considered one of the greatest figures in Jewish modern history. Dr. Horwitz gave a review of the Zionist movement and of the success which Dr. Herzl attained in the face of strenuous opposition in his movement to free the Jews of Russia, Galacia and Roumania and send them back to Palestine. He declared that so great has been the work of Dr. Herzl for the Jews that his name can never fade until the race will have been wiped out.

Another speaker was A. Mordecai Shulman of Chicago and he declared Dr. Herzl to be a modern Moses. Rabbi I. S. Teplitz of the synagogue also spoke, urging the Jewish mothers to instill into the minds of their children the love of race and a strong Jewish spirit. H. Zein, the cantor, chanted the memorial hymn, the audience rising as a mark of honor to the memory of Dr. Herzl.

Harry E. Weinberg was chairman, the services being held under the auspices of Ohave Zion gate.

CIRCUS ANIMAL CAUSES PANIC

Escaped Panther or Leopard Scares People Around Mentor, Minn.

Crookston, Minn., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—A panther or leopard, supposed to have escaped from the Barnum & Bailey circus or one of the carnival companies passing through, has created a panic about four miles north of Mentor. A horse, two calves and a cow were killed in a pasture during the past three days, the affair causing great mystery till Saturday afternoon, when two men working in a hay field saw the animal and jumped onto a hay rack and raced for home. The beast followed for a ways and then disappeared in a grove. As a result the country side in that vicinity is very much excited and the milking is all being done before dark.

Admits Assaulting Husband.

Forman, N. D., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Hamilton McQuay of this county pleaded guilty to assaulting her husband and also to using obscene language. It was the first case of this kind ever brought in Sargent county. Sentence in each case was suspended. The husband is planning to secure a divorce.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Extreme Sacrifice, When Useless, Serves No Good End.

Perhaps you may have read one day recently of the young woman who made such an astonishing record for economy in getting through a musical conservatory. Well, if the facts were as stated, I think the young woman is deluding herself into the belief that she has done something really fine, when, at least from my way of thinking, it was merely foolish.

According to the story, this young woman says she lived on 50 cents a week for twenty weeks, while studying the violin at a musical conservatory. The menu consisted largely of meat, toast, potatoes, peanut butter and cocoa. The story says that she won a scholarship in the conservatory, and, although she might have received assistance from her parents, she preferred to educate herself without any help.

Such self-denial is worthy a much better cause, don't you think? If this young lady did live on 50 cents a week, which I very much doubt, as far as I can see the only result that has accrued to her has been to win her some unenviable newspaper notoriety. Certainly it could have served no other end. If so, what?

I do not believe, in the first place, that any healthy young woman, who is studying music or making any other mental effort, can live on 50 cents a week, and do herself justice, either physically or mentally. Whether it was 50 cents or a dollar or what, matters not so much, as the fact that someone was foolish enough to essay such a thing.

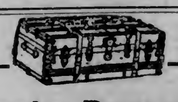

If this girl had been compelled to live economically or go without her musical education, there might have been some justification for her course. But, according to the story, she could have had assistance, only—and this sounds to me like mere bravado—she wished to educate herself.

Educate oneself for twenty weeks for $10! If she had had to do it, she would better have taken the time off and earned and saved money enough that she could live on a different scale. Since she did not, it smacks to me of the bizarre, the foolish and the ridiculous.

I have but small sympathy with such sensational methods of winning an education, although I do respect any young man or woman who has spunk enough to earn one when it is necessary. But common sense should rule in this matter, as in all else.

THE NICARAGUA PROPOSAL.

It is unfortunate that there still is so much partisanship that many reputable newspapers permit it to color their views of every important public issue—a practice which is, at least should not be, reputable.

New evidence of this comes in the discussion of the proposed arrangement with Nicaragua.

Nicaragua owns a potential canal site. For a long time there was debate whether our great canal should take the Nicaragua route or the Panama route, and the latter was chosen.

Nicaragua has made this country a proposition. For three million dollars it will give this country a ninety-nine year lease, subject to renewal, on a valuable naval base, and the exclusive right to build a canal. The acceptance of this proposal would make it impossible for any other nation to build a competing canal. The money is to be spent by Nicaragua exclusively for public works and for education.

In return, this country is to establish a quasi-protectorate over Nicaragua. It is to acquire no property rights and no rights over the people of that country other than those specified in the treaty.

Nicaragua agrees to the following things: That war shall not be declared without the consent of the United States; that no treaties will be made that would tend to destroy Nicaragua's independence, or that would give any other country a foothold in Nicaragua; that no public debt will be contracted beyond the ordinary resources of the government; that the United States shall have the right to intervene at any time to preserve Nicaraguan independence or to protect life or property; and that the United States shall have the exclusive right to build a canal, and a ninety-nine year lease, subject to renewal, on the naval base referred to.

Because President Wilson and Secretary Bryan have welcomed this proposal, their critics are charging inconsistency and imperialism. These charges might lie if the deal involved any acquirement of territory or right of government over the people of Nicaragua; but it does not. It is no more imperialistic than what this country now is doing in Santo Domingo, and not nearly so imperialistic as our relations with Porto Rico.

Nicaragua wants this country to act as a sort of elder brother, and in return it is willing to grant valuable concessions which in no way affect its independence as a state.

That is all there is to it. No moral issue is involved. It seems purely to be an issue of practical business dealing, and the only question is whether the assurance that there will be but one canal is worth the trouble it will be to do what Nicaragua wants done.

President Wilson and Secretary Bryan think it is worth while. Not even the most fervid critics of the proposal have charged that it isn't worth while.

They made a mistake in letting Mrs. Pankhurst's doctors transfuse blood from another militant woman. The authorities should have insisted on getting it from a non-militant woman.

A NICE THING TO DO.

Vincent Astor, who came into millions by the death of his father in the sinking of the Titanic, is finding things to do with his money that are a little out of the ordinary run of monkey dinners and other social distractions which millions can buy but which no amount of millions can make as productive of happiness as the real and simple pleasures common to all.

Mr. Astor has arranged for a series of steamboat excursions for the disinherited of the New York slums.

Recently he chartered a steamer and took five thousand women and children for an outing, giving them a glimpse of the sea and a breath of the clean, open air.

Now, that's a very pretty thing to do! Probably it cost about as much as it would have cost to entertain a hundred jaded and blase "society people" with conventional up-to-date elaborateness and expensive display.

But piercing with a shaft of light the dark days of the afflicted slum-dwellers, and making a "red letter" day for thousands which they will look back on for years, is an investment that pays dividends prodigiously out of proportion to those received on the other investment more favored, usually, by those who have come into abundance.

Mrs. Bryan has gone back to Nebraska to put up preserves. That is one way to hit the high cost of living, and hit it hard.

A CHICKEN COME HOME TO ROOST.

One Amos T. Luther, we learn from the Boston Traveler, is a candidate for mayor of Boston. He would sit in the chair that has been warmed so long by Honey Fitz.

But it can never be.

A back yard gardener—may his tribe increase!—has exposed the candidate's feet of clay, and the speedy end of his boom is easy to see.

It seems, we gather from the Traveler's account, that Luther had held himself forth as something of an authority on horticulture, and that his frequent conversations about his horticultural experiences emboldened this back yard gardener to present to him a problem that he had encountered, connected with his difficulties in raising muskmelons.

He got a prompt reply, which follows:

> Your troubles with muskmelons are those which are encountered by almost every amateur. At the Quohaughurst experimental station muskmelon culture has been studied for several seasons. Last year we crossed muskmelons with mink muffs. The result is a shaggy fruit that does not ripen until after the frost comes, and which is as juicy and sweet as it should be. The melons may be left on the ground until desired for use, and the fur, which grows steadily until the melons are opened, may be used for garments. The melons have not been placed on the market, for we wished to make certain that we had actually made a genuine discovery. They will be known as muff-melons.

"I want to ask you," appeals the back yard gardener to the Traveler, "whether such a man should be encouraged to run for mayor or anything except his life."

The Traveler, being a neighbor, is guarded in its reply, though it has not hesitated to make the correspondence public.

We, being far enough way to hazard nothing by doing so, do not hesitate to pass judgment on this man.

He should be defeated for mayor, and for any other public office to which he may aspire. A man who will treat thus lightmindedly the problems of one so deadly in earnest as a back yard gardener, could not be trusted to keep a steady hand on the helm of the ship of state. He'd be running it in circles and cutting figures-of-eight with it, just for his own amusement and heedless of the public welfare.

A man down in Panama is predicting the early coming of the end of the world. He's probably been reading some of those ancient pessimistic writings about the completion of the canal.

GOAT'S MILK.

The Chicago Journal quotes a Buffalo physician's panegyric on the goat as a household appendage in the interest of health and economy.

"A goat that will yield as high as two quarts of milk daily," says the Journal, "may be purchased for as little as two dollars, and children and invalids may be thus assured of hygienic food at low cost. Goat's milk is richer than the milk of the cow, and more easily digested, and the goat is practically immune to tuberculosis, which is the bane of the dairy herd."

Therefore, says the Journal, "get a goat."

It's not bad advice, either; and there should be no ribald suggestion that too many people are too busy getting some other fellow's goat to be in a position to heed the suggestion.

Goat's milk is good milk—rich, nutritious, easily digested and wholesome. European countries which get most of their milk from goats have healthy people. Some of the finest cheeses, cheeses which people import and pay fancy prices for, come from goat's milk.

Probably the people of this country are making a mistake in neglecting the economic and hygienic advantages of having a goat of the milk-giving sex in the back yard.

Now they are shooting messages by wireless between America and Asia. What does California think of that?

PROSPERITY COMING? IT'S HERE!

A curious situation has existed in this country for the past two or three years.

There has been more or less dissatisfaction with business conditions, and a hope that presently they would improve.

Yet all this time railroads, manufacturing enterprises and wholesale and retail business concerns have been doing a good and profitable business.

There have been few failures, and labor has been fully employed at good wages as wages go.

The incorporated capital of the United States last year earned three billion three hundred and four million dollars.

THAT'S FOUR HUNDRED MILLIONS MORE THAN THE INCORPORATED CAPITAL OF THE UNITED STATES EVER EARNED IN ANY PRECEDING YEAR!

Also, in the last twelve months the foreign commerce of the United States totaled four hundred millions more than the previous record!

The inference is irresistible that the slight depression of spirits that has existed in recent years is a mere psychological hang-over from the panic of 1907.

All the country needs is a little faith cure; and the settlement of the tariff agitation and the enactment of a sound currency law will do it.

A newspaper dispatch states: "At a luncheon tendered by the chamber of commerce to Secretary Daniels, he was handed the Pacific ocean, a miniature replica, on a silver platter. As a replica is a copy made by the creator of the original, it would seem that the Almighty's specific and pacific gift should have commanded the exclusive use of the first page. And "on a silver platter!" In wicked California—"Who'd a-thunk it?"

ENGINEERS GRATEFUL.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The fourth annual convention of the Minnesota State association of the N. A. S. E., in convention assembled on July 18, the following resolutions were unanimously passed:

"Resolved, That this convention assembled express the thanks of the officers, delegates and visitors to his honor, Mayor Prince, and the citizens of Duluth for the kindness and friendship extended and which has been the means of making our stay in your beautiful city one which will be long remembered. The address of Mayor Prince was greatly appreciated and had a tendency to make the delegates wish they were all residents of your Zenith City of the Lakes.

"Resolved, That the thanks and gratitude of the officers and delegates be and are hereby tendered to the management of the Spalding hotel for the use of their commodious hall and accessories; also for their courteous treatment which they kindly extended.

"Resolved, That we express our appreciation for the timely remarks of the national president and secretary; of the N. A. S. E.; their expressions, supplemented with their good advice and encouragement will have a telling and lasting effect on the membership of this order.

"Resolved, That we hereby express our most hearty appreciation to the members of No. 3 association, and the committee that arranged the program for our entertainment and to the Northwestern Fuel company, the Central Exhibitors' association and every citizen who left no stone unturned in their efforts to make this one grand, happy and beneficial meeting of the engineers. They have been successful."

I. W. W. APPARENTLY HAS ONE FRIEND.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Today there is much said in condemnation of the radical labor element, including the I. W. W. The recent riotous declarations of Secretary Daniels are but a fair sample of what is being circulated by the press and propounded upon the platform throughout the country. From the amount of comment they receive, we gather that the I. W. W., etc., are an important factor in our social state. These organizations are revolutionary in so much as they rebel against the existing order. Some of their tactics show the crudities of the psychology of an oppressed class.

I wish to compare their revolutionary status with that of another body of men well known to every reader of American history. All have heard of the minute men of the American Revolution, those men whose eternal vigilance was so largely instrumental in preserving those liberties which our forefathers instinctively claimed. No one doubts, now, the important part played in the pre-Revolutionary period by those minute men who were ready to act, at a moment's notice, in their own interests. Nobody today denounces Patrick Henry or the Adamses as "pernicious agitators" who should have been shot down for their unpatriotic utterances. Yet at the time of their greatest activities they had no clear idea of how they were going to carry on affairs of state after they had attained their end. They naturally at times resorted to questionable tactics, such as the Boston Tea Party, at which much private property was destroyed, and the Boston massacre, at which the armed assassins of the established order shot down men who engaged in violent protest against their tyranny.

The I. W. W. exists today for the same reason as did those men, because man naturally resents oppression and will in some form give expression to his dissatisfaction. They are the minute men of the industrial revolution, ever on the alert to prevent any transgression on the natural rights of their class and continually urging that class to throw off the yoke it bears.

In future times history will rank the names of Quinlan, Flynn and Ettor, despite their shortcomings along with those of Adams, Henry and Garrison.

THE DODGING DOMINIE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I love to go on Sunday morn and listen to our preacher, if anyone makes inquiry, believe me, he's some teacher;
he tells of Mary Magdalene and also who begat her; how St. John (Eng.
Sinjun) wore his head upon a platter;
how David slew Goliath and also slews of others, and Herod with his baby farm assisted left-hand mothers; how Jonah, swallowed by the whale, which never tried to chew him, but carried him around the world to find a place to spew him; how Lot, his wife, became too fresh, and how they had to salt her, and Absalom, his pompadour was used in lieu of halter. Our reactionary preacher, years two thousand antedating, excepts the present company, its working, loving, hating; ignores the cause of poverty, the product of our system; "the poor are with us always"—of a truth we've never missed 'em!

Dream on, thou placid pulpiteer; there's history in the making
Which has no place for sycophants, their toll of talents taking!
March on, thou, Brotherhood of Man,
no sleek deceiver heeding,
Thy slogan is Humanity, with Truth and Justice speeding!

LAUGHING INSIDE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Here is answer to Cho Fa, who have ask for way to laugh without using face.

LAUGH INSIDE.

It often happens during life
That circumstances rise
When we would like a hearty laugh,
But find it rather wise
To check the muscles of the face,
Our inclination hide,
Let mirth to soberness give place,
And only laugh inside.

When childish impropriety
Employs a deed or word,
That in polite society
Is seldom seen or heard,
We scarce refrain from levity
With faces petrified
Into affected gravity,
And only laugh inside.

Perhaps our neighbor's speech or dress
Provokes our merriment
And we our feelings would express
In laughter violent.
We should our countenance compose,
Our feelings override,
Our kindly tactfulness disclose
And only laugh inside.

Serenity and Charity
Are very very dear,
And tragedy to comedy
Is often very near.
There are no wrinkles of disdain
Where kindly thoughts abide.
Remember when the laugh gives pain
To only laugh inside.

The Debate Ridiculous

Cleveland Plain Dealer: Twenty-three Republican senators have given notice that they desire to deliver "general" speeches on the pending tariff measure. Presumably, they will deliver them. One of the twenty-three wants to talk seven full days; none of the speeches will be brief.

Yet everyone knows that these twenty-three denunciations — studied and earnest though they are—will influence not one vote on the tariff bill. They will not affect the measure in the slightest degree. They will not alter the public attitude toward the bill. They will be delivered largely to empty seats in the senate; delivered and printed, they will be dropped unread into a million waste-baskets.

These valiant twenty-three propose to waste their own time, their colleagues' time and the American nation's time.

No one, of course, argues against freedom of debate in congress. There is nothing novel in the proposal that a minority shall squander time trying to avert a foregone conclusion; that has been the history of important legislation perhaps ever since representative assemblies were established. Equally certain, it is useless to protest now.

In spite of the inevitability of the performance, however, one cannot well escape the conviction, that the senate of the United States does not appear quite at its best when a handful of minority members spend several weeks urging before empty seats the defeat of a great measure certain of enactment. Freedom of debate ought not to be made ridiculous.

The Eternal Bromide.

When Adam dolve and Eve span,
And thro' the paths of Eden strayed,
He cut for her a fig leak fan—
'Twas ninety-something in the shade.
For days the temperature ran high.
'Twixt ninety and a hundred ranging;
Said Eve: "What funny weather! My!
I think the climate must be changing."

When good King Arthur held his court,
And Guin with all her maidens gay
Went forth in flowery meads to sport,
All in the merry month of May,
The day fell hot, and Guinevere
And Miss Elaine exclaimed together:
"The climate must be changing, dear;
I never knew such funny weather."

From neo-lithic days to now,
Recurrent this phenomenon;
The world has mopped a dripping brow
And passed the hoary saying on.
And while the sun pours forth its heat,
The wits of mortal men deranging,
We'll echo that bromidic bleat,
"I think the climate must be changing."

Duluth's Great Victory

Comments on Lake and Rail Rate Decision.

Reason for Rejoicing.

Browns Valley Tribune: Duluth has reason to be jubilant over the ruling of the interstate commerce commission which removes the discrimination against Duluth and in favor of the Twin Cities.

Watch Duluth Grow.

Wadena Pioneer-Journal: By a recent decision of the interstate commerce commission Duluth has been granted its rights as a shipping port, and discrimination is removed which has kept the Head of the Lakes out of its own for so many years. Until this decision the city of the Head of the Lakes had been commercially throttled by discriminatory freight rates from Eastern points, but which actually placed Duluth at a disadvantage. Under the old system which has built up the Twin Cities at the expense of the state, Duluth jobbers had to pay just as much freight as the Twin City jobbers, even when the latter shipped through Duluth, and in addition, the Twin City man could leave his goods in storage at the Duluth warehouses free of cost, while the Duluth merchant had no such privilege. By this discrimination Duluth was greatly retarded in its advancement. Its position at the most inland point of navigation of the Great Lakes was overcome. St. Paul and Minneapolis were given the advantage. From now on we may expect the city of Duluth to grow by leaps and bounds and soon take her proper place among the really great cities of the world.

The Underdog No More.

Cass Lake Times: We are pleased to congratulate The Herald and the News Tribune on the successful issue of the long-winded persistent fight they have made to secure equal freight rates and privileges for their city. For many years Duluth has served as the under dog in the fight and that city, if equal and not discriminate privileges had not been forced upon her by the railway companies, should have been a city of much more than double the present population and really the most important commercial point in the state. With an indiscriminate rate we may expect to see Duluth jump to the front and before five years have expired to be the most populous city of Minnesota. It has all the natural advantages and with fair treatment will soon overcome the restraint put upon her.

Duluth Wins.

Sauk Rapids Sentinel: Duluth has won a substantial portion of its freight rate fight before the interstate commerce commission, according to a Washington dispatch, when reduction of class rates to that city from Eastern points was ordered and the present rates were held to be discriminatory. Duluth for years sat back relying on manifest destiny, certain that its commanding position at the junction of lake and rail highways assured its industrial and commercial supremacy. Meanwhile cities much less favorably situated, spurred to action by their natural handicaps, contrived to bring about a structure of freight rates that deprived Duluth of the advantages that nature intended for it. But Duluth woke up at last and realized what had happened. The decision of the commission is the culmination of a decisive battle, and Duluth wins. She is to be congratulated over her victory.

Rejoices With Duluth.

Mora Times: Duluth has won its fight before the interstate commerce commission for a readjustment of through freight rates. The readjustment will give Duluth the advantage which it is entitled to as the head of navigation and should result in the bringing of many new industries to that rapidly growing city. We in this community naturally rejoice in the growth of the Head of the Lakes as it is our best market and anything which benefits that section will naturally be to our advantage as well.

Making Progress.

Indianapolis News: Although it is somewhat late to be congratulating the country on the possession of the interstate commerce commission—that body having been in existence for many years—the recent controversy between Duluth interests and those of Minneapolis and St. Paul, demonstrated the worth of the commission in a case where a railroad, usually a contending factor, was merely a third and inactive party to the affair. The Twin Cities, as distributing centers for the inland Northwest, have grown rapidly in population and commerce within the last few years. Duluth, although situated at the head of the Great Lakes navigation, and nominally benefiting by their location, sat on the edge of things, and watched St. Paul and Minneapolis forge ahead.

Duluth's business men concluded that Duluth's growth was retarded by a discrepancy in freight rates from Eastern points. And so the case came to the attention of the interstate commerce commission in the form of charges that the class and commodity rail-and-water rates to Duluth were unjust in comparison with those of St. Paul and Minneapolis. The discrepancies were so great, it was alleged, as to result in the removal of prestige as head of navigation from Duluth to St. Paul and Minneapolis. The Twin Cities were said to have a favorable rating West and Southwest, the whole working to the commercial disadvantage of Duluth.

The commerce commission has made a ruling that is generally in favor of Duluth. The rates from Eastern points to Duluth were held to be excessive and reductions were ordered. The petition of Duluth that rates on lake-and-rail traffic break at its wharves was rejected. But Duluth has gained much that it asked for. The ruling shows that we are making progress in removing obstacles to the growth of some communities—a work that once seemed formidable.

Duluth's Victory.

St. Cloud Times: For several years Duluth has been making a fight against alleged discrimination of the railroads in favor of the Twin Cities. The matter has been before the interstate commerce commission, and has been argued before that body pro and con by able representatives of the contending interests. On Saturday a decision was rendered which is hailed by the Duluth Herald as "A Sweeping Victory in Duluth's Fight for a Readjustment of Rail and Freight Rates!" The decision is lengthy. We print elsewhere, an announcement of it from Washington, and also a Herald editorial. The latter designates it as of more importance to Duluth than the location there of the plant of the Steel company.

Wages and Temptation

Editorial in Omaha World-Herald.

A notable exponent of the theory that "there is no connection between wages and morality," a prominent Chicago banker, appeared the other day before the Illinois vice commission. In the course of his illuminative talk to the commission he mentioned incidentally, that he had discharged an employe in his bank, a young man in a clerical position, because he got married when his salary was only $50 a month. The young man in getting married was living beyond his means, said the benevolent banker, and it is living beyond one's means, and not low wages, that causes all manner of immorality and crime.

Precisely. It is the desire to eat that causes a hungry man to steal when he has not the means to buy a loaf of bread. It is a dangerous desire, because it leads him to a reprehensible action—but it is a natural one, nevertheless. So with the desire of a young man, even a $50 bank clerk, to take unto himself a wife. To be married, to have a home, to raise a family of children, may be beyond his means—but for him to desire it is the most natural thing in the world. But he can't afford it—and so he musn't. Whether the denial of the privilege tends to make him moral or immoral the esteemed banker-sociologist failed to make quite clear, and we think that it would have been interesting had he treated this phase of the subject. It would have been delightful, indeed, had he been able to demolish the pernicious theory that the fact that young men, and young women, too, cannot afford to be married, because it means "living beyond their means" makes for immorality through the establishment of loose, irregular and fleeting relationships between the sexes.

We cannot help feeling a curiosity as to the fate of the discharged bank clerk. Did he marry the girl of his dreams, having lost his job, or did he seek another job and give up forever the pernicious desire to live beyond his means by establishing a home? If he established the home, in spite of philanthropists and sociologists, what then? Perhaps the testimony of Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of the Chicago city schools, before that same vice commission a day or two later, will serve to shed light on the mystery. Mrs. Young had the audacity to fly in the face of the wealthiest authorities by declaring that too low wages make for a weakened moral and mental caliber; that human beings insufficiently nourished and poorly clad cannot be expected to make a winning fight. And she added:

"Thousands of children go to school hungry in Chicago every day. Poor wages for the father and others contributing to the support of the family mean underfed bodies. And they can't do with an underfed body what they could if their bodies were nourished so as to be efficient supporters of the brain. If their mental capacity is weakened or dwarfed, so is their moral fiber, their physical capacity and their possibility of great attainment when at maturity. I believe that the inadequacy of wages thus has a primary effect in weakening the moral capacity of girls, and boys as well."

It may be heresy and unsound, but it sounds reasonable. And it gives us a notion that, if the discharged bank clerk failed to marry, he lived in a state of highly moral celibacy for the rest of his dreary days—perhaps. If, on the other hand, he did marry, Mrs. Young's testimony prophesies a picture of his underfed children going hungry to school, their moral fiber weakened and mental capacity dwarfed by reason of the unreasonable demands made upon their young bodies by their clamoring little stomachs.

The question of sufficient wages may have nothing to do with it—morality may be something independent of the body and its needs; the richer people solemnly assure us it is so—and yet, we wonder.

Trust the President

Chicago Tribune: The policy of the administration respecting Mexico has had the approval of public opinion. Jingoism and selfish interest have tried to discredit it without success. As tension grows and critical events once more loom up, there is only one rule the level-headed American public can afford to follow.

Trust the president.

The president is better informed as to all factors of the situation than any editor or politician. He has the fullest knowledge, the fullest powers, and the fullest responsibilities. His will, his intelligence, and his patriotism can be relied upon. He is on the bridge. He is in command.

Tariffs and Bounties.

Edwin C. Eckel in the Engineering Magazine: There has been so much of purely partisan argument presented in the course of most discussions of the tariff question that it is difficult to realize that it is, after all, not an ethical matter but a purely economic problem. Partisans on both sides have too often spoken as if there were some moral question involved—as if either free trade or protection were necessarily right, or patriotic, or natural, or criminal, or artificial. None of these adjectives can be understood as properly applying to either free trade or protection. Under certain circumstances a given country may advisably protect a given industry; under other circumstances, it may be advisable that trade be free; in either case is anything more than an economic problem involved.

A careful and impartial study of the matter might bring the inquirer to the conclusion that no definite single rule will cover all cases; that for example a purely agricultural community, lacking coal resources, would do well to have free trade: that a growing nation, with abundant fuel supplies, will best develop the prosperity of its citizens by a protective policy; and that perhaps a nation whose manufactures are developed up to the maximum of their efficiency, as measured by the available fuel supply, might again revert to free trade. It might be suggested, as illustrations, that Argentina would fall in the first class, Germany, the United States, Canada and Australia in the second, while it might be ungracious to mention the only possible occupant of the third class.

Preserves.

Youngstown Telegram: Mrs. Shimmerpate was surprised when she visited her husband's office with a friend and found that the force included half a dozen girls, all in the "squab" class, and all very pretty.

In the course of the conversation the friend inquired:

"Did you put up much fruit this season?"

With a glance about the room, Mrs. Shimmerpate replied:

"Not yet, but I have made up my mind to can a few peaches."

Apprenticeship and Industrial Training.

Bureau of Education: That apprenticeship is the main reliance of industrial training in Germany, and that it might be desirable to revive it in some form in this country, is the conclusion of Dr. Holmes Beckwith, who has prepared for the United States Bureau of Education a study of German industrial education and its lessons for the United States.

"Wasteful though the old apprenticeship was of the apprentice's time and effort, apprenticeship in its newer forms, both in Germany and the United States, has in it much of promise for the future training of industrial workers," says Dr. Beckwith. "No better way, or even as good, has yet been devised for the main training of the mass of industrial workers than in the shops where they are employed and by those who supervise their work."

Dr. Beckwith suggests that if all employers pay the cost of adequate training for any youthful workers whom they may employ as apprentices, the burden will not be serious. He points to instances both here and abroad to prove that "firms employing bona fide apprentices today find that their apprenticeship system pays."

Revival of apprenticeship alone will not solve the problem, however. "What we should strive for,' declares Dr. Beckwith, "is such broadening industrial training as will supplement the narrower range of skill and knowledge, and give the specialized worker greater resource. Specialization is probably more widespread in the United States than in Germany, and this constitutes an added need which we have for industrial education greater than that in Germany.

"Industrial schools, then, we must have, and in far greater numbers, to meet the needs of far more workers than at present. Otherwise we can make little claim to really popular education of the sort closest to the worker's activities."

Dr. Beckwith notes the present awakened interest in industrial education in the United States, but issues a word of caution. He fears that unless the vocational movement is carefully guided it will lead to waste of money by states and cities and unwise choice of schools to do the work. He describes in some detail the German industrial-education system and typical schools, with a view to presenting the best of German experience as a guide to American practice.

FEAR FOR ALIENS IN SOUTHERN CHINA

British Steamers Ready to Take Women and Children Away.

Hongkong, July 28.—The British river steamers at Canton have been ordered by the consul to have steam up in readiness, if necessary, to embark the women and children from the suburb of Shameen, where most of the foreigners reside.

There was an abnormal exodus today of the better class of Chinese from Canton to Hongkong.

Americans on Guard.

Shanghai, July 28.—The United States cruiser Rainbow's bluejackets, who were landed Saturday for a demonstration, are surrounding the foreign settlement. The Rainbow was struck three times during the fighting last Friday.

The wherebouts of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, one of the leaders of the revolt, is unknown.

The Standard Oil company's houseboat was commandered near Stow Show. Much of the money on board was taken. Afterwards the boat was released.

Disarmed Rebels.

In accordance with a proclamation issued Saturday, the municipal police, reinforced by a strong body of Shanghai volunteers, went to the rebel headquarters at Chapei, immediately north of the foreign settlement boundary, where they disarmed 300 soldiers and twelve officers and took six 3-inch guns. There was no actual resistance on the part of the rebels, but for a brief period there appeared to be the prospect of a conflict. The rebels, however, were over-awed by the firm attitude of the municipal police.

The rebels Saturday morning captured the Lienching, a Chinese admiralty yacht, which it is believed was bringing dispatches to Shanghai. The departure of transports from Chefoo points to the probability of a battle at the Wu Sung arsenal.

Wu Seeks Peace.

Wu Ting Fang, former Chinese minister to the United States, is actively engaged in negotiations for peace, but the Northern generals are not empowered to treat with him, as Shanghai forms only an item in the general revolt.

Owing to the escape of all the prisoners from the city jail, lawlessness in the native districts surrounding the foreign settlements is increasing. There have been not a few cases of incendiarism for the purpose of plunder.

The Chinese are loud in their denunciations of the Japanese, whose assistance is held to have been mainly responsible for the success of the revolt, from which the business community, unlike in 1911, has markedly abstained from taking part.

RICE WILL GO TO DETROIT

Popular Duluth Pastor Will Be Transferred to Michigan.

Will Preach His Last Sermon as Pastor Here Sept. 28.

Rev. Merton S. Rice, pastor of the First M. E. church of Duluth, will preach to his congregation only eight more Sundays after which he will go to Detroit, Mich., to become pastor of the North Woodward Avenue M. E. church, the leading church of the denomination in the auto metropolis.

Dr. Rice will preach his last sermon in Duluth as pastor on Sept. 22 and will preach his first as pastor in Detroit on Oct. 5.

The matter of his transfer has been finally determined by the official board of the Duluth church withdrawing its objections to Dr. Rice's removal in order to avoid embarrassment all around, the bishops having expressed their determination to transfer the Duluth pastor to Detroit.

REV. M. S. RICE.

Dr. Rice will be absent in the interim, during the second week in September, as he is to make two addresses and several lectures before the meeting of the Illinois conference which will take place that week in Shelbyville, Ill. He will be away on Sunday, Sept. 14, and will preach here two Sundays after that. Thus he will have eight more Sundays here as pastor.

In district court this afternoon the First National Bank of Biwabik filed suit against George H. Mayhew to recover $4,614.12 on a promisory note given by Fred J. Stone to the defendant in 1911 and assigned by Mayhew to the bank. It is claimed that Stone has not paid the note.

Dog Catcher On Job.

In today's issue of the police bulletin the attention of all the officers is called to the pound ordinance and to the fact that the new dog catcher's wagon is now in use. Any patrolman turning in a dog without a license will receive 25 cents. The dogs caught by the dog catcher will be kept in the pound for forty-eight hours, after which they will be shot. It costs $2 to get a dog out of the pound, after a license is obtained for the animal.

"Viewers" Sworn In.

W. B. Getchell of West Duluth, Thomas McArthur of Culver and Harry Johnson of Floodwood were sworn in by County Auditor Halden this afternoon as ficial viewers in St. Louis county for the proposed Duluth-St. Vincent road, otherwise known as State Highway No. 4. The viewers made plans for going over the route of the proposed highway this week for the purpose of assessing the benefits to be charged against the abutting property. Thirty-one miles of the new road will be built within St. Louis county.

WHEN GRASSHOPPERS SOLD FOR $5 A BUSHEL

Duluthian Tells of Early Days in Southern Minnesota When Crops Were Destroyed By Insects---Left As Suddenly As They Came

The recent plague of grasshoppers in the Southwest recalled to Julius H. Block the similar plague in Minnesota in the 70's. He describes the trying time in the following article written for The Herald:

"There is, probably, no section of the country in which the early settler endured the hardships and privations incident to pioneer life to any greater degree than was experienced in Minnesota during the years from 1870 to 1880. In the early '70s the grasshoppers invaded the state in southern and central parts destroying all the crops during the years 1873-4-5. Many of the settlers lost courage and left the state for their old homes or sought some other locality to escape a repetition of disaster. The two succeeding years the crop was very light, just about half, and in the year 1878 a total failure. A more promising yield of wheat and oats is seldom seen. However, when the wheat was changing from the milk to the dough, a spell of excessive wet weather followed by extreme high temperatures simply shriveled the berry reducing it to practically nothing. The stand of straw was exceedingly rank and all the grain lodged in its blighted condition. Not any of the grain could be cut with the reaper and an effort was made to save a little of it in spots with a grass mower, stacking it loose without binding it into bundles. None of the grain when threshed yielded to exceed three bushels to the acre—of a shriveled rejected grade—and did not pay for the threshing of it.

"During this period we lived on a farm in the Minnesota valley in Le Sueur county. Each year we would put in our entire crop hoping that the grasshoppers would leave. All was in vain. The stand of the wheat and other grain in the fore part of the season of these years was most promising. The grasshoppers would strike a field in the morning and in a few days the entire crop was consumed by them leaving the field with the appearance of fresh ploughed ground—not a spear of grain or grass was left. Many experiments were made in the effort to check the ravages of the saltatorial, devouring insect scourge. Deep trenches were dug with the idea that they might not cross, but nothing seemed to stop them. Machines were invented in which tar was burned hoping that by fire and smoke the invader might be subdued. This, also, proved a failure. Arrangement was then made by the state officials whereby the township officers were authorized to pay a bounty per bushel for the grasshoppers. This bounty proved a boon to the needy settlers. Men were appointed to receive the catch which was buried in deep holes after being weighed and receipt rendered. These receipts were taken to the office of the township clerk and an order was given in turn. These orders were redeemed by an act of the legislature creating an appropriation therefor.

The First Bounty.

"I remember the first bounty paid was $5 per bushel. Our whole family were out in the field the first day and we were rewarded with a receipt for three bushels, totaling $15. The deliveries became so heavy that the officials found it necessary to reduce the bounty to $2.50 per bushel. The following day we captured seven bushels out of which was realized $18.59. The authorities were compelled to make a still further reduction this time to 25 cents a bushel which price remained throughout the campaign. We constructed a frame out of wood about twenty-five feet wide and four feet high. To this frame was attached a bag made of coarse muslin about twenty feet long. A horse was hitched to each end of the frame which was standing on edge and the same was dragged through the fields. As soon as the sack contained a bushel, or even a half bushel, the "hoppers" were shook back to the narrow end and emptied from this into any old sack we could get hold of and were thus ready for the wagon to take them off. I remember one evening after a desperate days' campaign we hauled two big wagon loads to the receiving station. The two loads showed eighty-three bushels on our receipts. I think it was the latter part of July or the first of August in the year 1875 when the grasshoppers made their exit. They made a rise into the air filling it so densely that we were unable to see the sun and when night came they had all disappeared—not a sign of them was seen or heard of after that time. It might be said that they left as unceremoniously as they came.

Great Rejoicing.

"It would be difficult to describe the rejoicing that was on every hand among farmers, merchants, in fact the whole people. Everybody took a new lease on life. I never heard of any one thing that was the means of placing so many farm mortgages in so short a time. There were no markets, no prices, and what little dressed pork that could be obtained brought from 1¾c to 2c per pound. I want to tell you those were poor times and never to be forgotten by those who were participants. It is a fact that during this time the people were so poor that they were unable to provide proper clothing and books enough to enable the children to attend school and the old log school house, that bulwark of American citizenship, was sadly neglected till the first available chance to recuperate was obtained.

"In those days the impression prevailed among the farmers that no corn could be raised in southern Minnesota. If an effort was made by them in that direction it was limited to the early varieties, such as flint corn. There has been a wonderful change since that time. The farmer of Minnesota today considers corn his most important crop. The immense wheat fields which once made Minnesota famous are now greatly reduced in size. Corn, clover, tame grasses and pastures now luxuriate much of that acreage with the result that most of the land formerly used for wheat is used by dairy interests. Two reasons account for this: First there seems to be lacking an element in the soil necessary to make good wheat, whether it is on account of overworked ground by reason of crop rotation or not wheat does not now do as well as it did many years ago in the same fields. Second, even though it did do as well as formerly experience proves that diversified farming is much more profitable than the raising of small grain. It is a well established fact that the farmer, with very few exceptions, found it a hard struggle to make both ends meet when he depended entirely on small grain. Those who were fortunate in this respect were those whose land was more rolling and farms that were better adapted for the raising of small grain. Otherwise they would have shared the same fate. There are a number of elements that must be taken into consideration in connection with this: One important factor is that the producer is nearer the market; transportation facilities are much better and quicker. Another is a demand for all the farmer produces. Then, too, where money is realized at the end of every month from the dairy it takes care of running expenses and leaves the amount realized on the single crop so much the larger."

THE NURSE AND THE COMMUNITY

Her New Service to Protect and Promote Public Health.

By LILLIAN D. WALD,
Head Residents, Nurses' Settlements, New York.

(Exclusive Service The Survey Press Bureau.)

During the last decade there has been wide propaganda upon public health measures, and perhaps at no time before in the history of the world have there been so many "campaigns" for instruction concerning health and hygiene and the prevention of illness. To the trained nurse has properly fallen the responsibility of making practical application in the homes of the people of the results of scientific thought and research.

How best is it possible to expand for the community the nursing care that has been cherished for centuries by women everywhere as their duty to their own sick, and which trained nurses, since the days of Florence Nightingale, have been taught to give in institutions, on the battle field and in the homes of the rich? This was what nurses from the West and the East, from the North and the South sought when they met recently in convention at Atlantic City. Three national organizations of trained nurses came together to discuss and to gain inspiration from each other on matters affecting their profession and its place in the community. The conference was distinctive and, it may be said, epoch-making because the national organization for public health nursing met for the first time. This organization, created a year ago, but in actual existence not more than seven months, demonstrated throughout its own meetings and the meetings held jointly with the other national organizations, an eagerness for guidance and a longing for the word from pioneer nurses who had established themselves in the service of the people. In all its conferences there was not a word or implication of desire to promote nurses' interests for themselves. Although many represented visiting nurses' associations or city departments of health and education, almost all paid their own expenses out of salaries that are meagre, and the whole spirit was one of service. A thousand nurses were in attendance. They were eager to promote methods by which people of small means might secure nursing when ill, on the most dignified basis possible. They were gratified that insurance for nursing had made such great advance. They reminded each other of the fact that the greater proportion of people who are sick are sick at home, and urged that the technique for visiting nursing and the standards of efficiency which had been promoted by a few, should be adopted by all. Visiting nursing service in many instances had been established in a casual way. They wanted it recognized as a community necessity.

Other forms of public health work were represented, and reference was made to almost every phase of public health and the promotion of right living. Nurses were at the convention who are engaged in prenatal work, before life itself is brought forth; others are at work for the reduction of infant mortality, for instruction in sex hygiene, with its touching appeal to repair the omissions of the past and finally to help potential parents to do better for themselves and the oncoming generations. Nurses came to the convention to testify to their responsibility to help in the prevention of premature employment of children, and in the protection of men and women who work, that dangers may be removed from them, and that they may not risk health or life while earning their daily bread. Nurses who are engaged in the inspection of school children, and in follow-up work, entrusted with the mission of completing the treatment that patients receive in hospitals, were there. Nurses discussed their interest in mental hygiene measures, in the abuses of the midwifery practice, in blindness that may be prevented, in school feeding, in the segregation of defectives, in the facts of physical deterrence that bring children before the courts, in general movements for welfare in the homes, shops, factories and schools.

Society needs the new nurse, needs her inspired, needs her well-trained, with such training as was not conceived of before, excepting, perhaps, in the master mind of Florence Nightingale. The significant fact about this convention was that the nurses felt that their call is not only to the care of the sick, but to seek out the deep-lying and basic causes of illness and misery, and to use their training so to protect and prevent that there may be in the future less sickness to nurse and to cure.

FORT RICE, N. D., NOW STATE PARK.

Mandan, N. D., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Many people participated Sunday in exercises held at Fort Rice when the formal transfer of the fort to the state took place.

Many Indians of the Standing Rock reservation attended, including Chief John Grass of the Sioux and Red Tomahawk, accepted as the Indian who killed Sitting Bull. Governor Hanna and Justice A. A. Bruce of the supreme court were the principal speakers.

An elaborate military program was carried out.

FIREMEN WILL PLAY BALL GAME

There'll be a redhot ball game tomorrow afternoon at Athletic park.

The scorching contest will be between the Duluth and Superior firemen.

Each team has declared that it is going to burn up the other.

The conflagration is scheduled to start at 2 o'clock. When the smoke has cleared away, the damages appraised, the insurance adjusted and the cause ascertained, any smouldering embers which may remain will be left to die out on the blackened and desolate diamond. The visitors and their hosts will journey downtown to enjoy the banquet for which arrangements have been made. Commissioner Hicken will be master of ceremonies and will call upon those present for impromptu toasts.

Check Was Worthless.

Edward O'Rourke, 31 years old, was arrested Saturday night, charged with passing a worthless check on Walter Gram.

O'Rourke was arraigned in police court this morning and pleaded guilty to the charge. He will be sentenced this afternoon. The maximum penalty in this case is $100 fine or three months in the county jail.

The defendant told the court this morning that on July 15 he deposited $600 in the American Exchange National bank, having secured the money from the Pittsburg Steamship company as a settlement for injuries he received while in its employ. On the same day he drew $400 and had knowledge that he had used up the remaining $200.

The check was made out for $25 to Walter Gram, who attempted to cash it Saturday, but received word that there were no funds in the bank. The arrest followed that evening, O'Rourke having been taken into custody by Sergt. Butchart and Patrolman Sears.

Pembina County Fair.

INDICATIONS OF SUICIDE

Police Abandon Murder Theory in Case of Stephano Arbucci.

Body Found Under Viaduct With Four Wounds in Breast.

Developments in the investigation into the death last Saturday afternoon of Stephano Arbucci, 40 years old, whose body was found under the Sixth avenue viadict by a longshoreman, further advance the suicide theory. Arbucci was found with four knife wounds in his left breast, one of the wounds having pierced the man's heart.

Chief Troyer and the city detectives, who have been working on the case since the finding of the body Saturday afternoon, are of the opinion that the man committed suicide. Although it hardly seems probable that a person could stab himself four times, the circumstances in the present case all point to a suicide.

If Arbucci had been murdered, as was at first thought, it would have been necessary for the murderers to take the man under the viaduct past several buildings and a number of workmen. There would have been a struggle, which these laboring men would have readily heard and probably witnessed. It would have been impossible for a murder to have been committed without the notice of some one being attracted, in the opinion of the police.

Had Feared Death.

The suicide is further borne out by the fact that Arbucci had feared death for several days, he having even appealed to Patrolman Danielson last Thursday evening, telling the officer that his life had been threatened. The man was possessed with the idea that some men were after him and that they would sooner or later take his life. He was of the belief that these men were intending t seuparate him from his wife and family, who live in Kitchi, Minn., a small town just outside of Brainerd.

Friday Arbucci quit his job at the Steel plant, claiming that he was afraid to work with his countrymen there. He secured employment through an agency on West Michigan street and it was these checks in his pockets which later enabled the police to identify the body. During the day, it is claimed, Arbucci attempted to purchase a knife, but where he got one, the police have so far been unable to find out.

That Arbucci went under the viaduct and there took his own life, is the belief of Chief Troyer. The head of the police department stated this morning that in his opinion Arbucci first waded out in the water, as his clothes were wet and then returning to shore, stabbed himself. It is probable, said the chief, that the first three cuts failed of their purpose and that the last one went right through the heart, bringing instant death. Throwing his hands in the air Arbucci must have dropped the knife in the water, according to the chief.

Knife Is Missing.

The police have attempted to find the knife near the shore where the body was found, but have so far failed. It is believed that it fell between some rocks. Another effort will be made to find the knife today.

Arbucci's body was found about 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon by longshoremen who were sitting within thirty feet of the spot for several hours, they claim. Thomas Cunningham, one of the members of the party, notified the police and the body was later removed to the Crawford undertaking rooms, where the four knife wounds in his breast were disclosed. An autopsy held Saturday evening by Coroner McComb developed nothing further.

A report received this morning by Chief Troyer from the Brainerd authorities that Arbucci was there last Thursday and had acted rather queerly at the railroad station. He has a wife and family living at Kitchi, a few miles out of Brainerd and Chief Troyer this morning wired there, notifying the relatives of the death of Arbucci.

The body will be held at the Crawford undertaking rooms pending the arrival of relatives.

At Brainerd Thursday.

Brainerd, Minn., July 28.—Stephano Arbucci, who was found Saturday under the viaduct approach to the Sixth avenue dock in Duluth, with four knife wounds in the breast, one through the heart, is claimed by Brainerd police to have been in this city Thursday. He acted queerly and hung around the depot. He came from International Falls. When he was questioned about the rifle he carried, he said he did not want to hurt anybody and he took the weapon and smashed it to pieces on the rails. The police considered him demented and kept him in the city lockup until evening train time, when he left for Duluth. He said he had a wife and two children. Some of his wife's relatives live in a hamlet called Kitchi in Northern Minnesota. He had $15 with him when in Brainerd. So far as known the man had no relatives in this town or vicinity.

LA MOURE PROGRESSING.

North Dakota County Advancing Along Up-to-Date Farming Lines.

La Moure, N. D., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—La Moure county is making rapid advancement this summer along lines that will improve the agricultural conditions. J. M. Humphreys, who was selected by the Better Farming movement to have charge of the work in this county, has arrived and begun active work.

Fifteen silos are to be constructed in the west side of the county as a result of the activity of J. H. Scofield, the silo expert of the Better Farming association.

The soil survey work by State Geologist Hard of the North Dakota Agricultural college and his assistants is progressing finely. Tests have been made so far in every quarter section of seven townships and more work will be done this season. Next year it is hoped to complete the entire county, after which a map will be made and published for the benefit of the farmers.

MORE KICKS ON SLOW TRAIN

Northern Pacific Refuses to Improve Service From Steel Plant.

Extra Conductor Would Give Relief Demanded By Passengers.

The Northern Pacific railroad threatens to make a reputation for slow trains. Fifty-five minutes is the time consumed by the Northern Pacific's passenger train in its trip from Fond du Lac to West Duluth, a distance of eleven miles, and forty minutes of that time are consumed in traveling the distance between the steel plant and the West Duluth station, a distance of less than five miles.

Refusal to put on an extra conductor is said to be the principal reason why the train is run slowly. Nearly 900 men, packing eight coaches, take this passenger train at the steel plant at 6:20 p. m. At 7 o'clock and sometimes not until 7:15 o'clock the train drags into the West Duluth depot at Central avenue.

Similar time was made by the morning train leaving the West Duluth depot at 6:35 a. m. It got into the habit of arriving at the steel plant after 7 o'clock, causing many of the men to be late in getting to work. An objection was raised by officials of the steel company with the result that an extra conductor was put on to help in the morning.

The men now want the railroad to put on an extra conductor on making the return trip at night. The men are not getting home until a long time after 7 o'clock. Niggardliness on the part of the railroad is said to be the principal reason. The cost of the extra conductor would be small, but the benefit large, especially to the men.

A number of the men have threatened to quit their jobs at the steel plant unless something is done to provide means for getting them home earlier.

PAYS HEAVY FINE FOR WIFE-BEATING.

Andrew Ford was fined $50 and costs by Judge Lanners for wife-beating when found guilty this morning of having abused his wife when he came home drunk Saturday evening. Ford is said to have come home and when chided by his wife about drinking to have turned on her and according to her own testimony this morning he threw her on the floor, pulled her hair and beat and kicked her. The fine was given with an alternative of sixty days in jail. He paid the fine.

Birthday Party.

Mrs. G. Lindor of Proctor entertained Saturday afternoon for a number of little folks in honor of the birthday of her daughter Inez. Games were played, fololwing which refreshments were served. The guests were: Inez Linder, Helen Nelson, Vera Thorberg, Elvira Reitzloff, Mildred Reitzloff, Gladys Anderson, Millard Sunden, Milford Reitzloff. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Sunden, Mrs. F. Reitzloff, Mrs. Andrew Johnson and Mrs. Ed Anderson.

Had No License.

Jack Holloway was picked up on Central avenue Saturday evening peddling shoestrings and pencils without a license. He appeared before Judge Lanners this morning and pleaded guilty to peddling without a license. He was given twelve hours to get out of West Duluth, and he promised to get out within a good deal shorter time.

Birthday Surprise.

Edward Little, 217 South Fifty-ninth avenue west, was pleasantly surprised Saturday evening by a number of his friends in honor of his birthday. Games and music featured the evening's entertainment. The guests were:

Misses Dorothy Theeman, Jane Bousane, Esther Olson, Louise Olson, Margaret Lunding, Mary Little, Margaret McEachen, Emma Little.

Messrs. Marshall Knapp, Arthur Peterson, George Wood, Fred Detlaw, Earl Detlaw, Clarence Wallace, George Knutson and Edward Little.

THREATENED WITH ARREST

Royal League Member Refused to Obey Orders of "Special Officer."

Members of the Royal League of Duluth will picnic no more at the private picnic grounds at Fond du Lac, according to expression of opinion given by officers of that lodge last night. This decision was reached not because they do not like the suburb, but because of treatment accorded them by the management of a private picnic ground at the suburb.

Officers of the league say that after each member in the party had donated a dime for the privilege of staying on the grounds and later had refused to pay 10 cents a quart for boiling water, that the manager had attempted to bluff the members out of building a fire on the river bank when they had intended boiling water for coffee. Manager A. Strubb who has charge of the grounds, threatened arrest and when asked his authority showed a "special" star, intimating that he had the authority to make arrests.

When the members told him to go ahead and arrest the party he left. Members of the league inquired last evening of Chief Troyer as to the man's authority for carrying a star and were informed that he had no commission from the police department.

"It is the only time and the only park in the city to which I have gone where we have been refused permission to build a fire for making coffee," said George L. Hise, archon of the West Duluth lodge No. 255. "The refusal I am certain came as a result of the members refusing to be held up for one dollar to pay for hot water for cofee. The man was insulting, threatened arrest of the entire crowd, and showed a policeman's star, which I understand he has no authority to use."

"We were not the only parties which were treated in a shameful manner by the management," said Thomas Brain, vice archon of the lodge. "Language of a most disgraceful kind was used by the manager in a dispute with guests of the place whom I understand were superintendents and foremen of the steel plant enjoying a picnic. No one appeared to refuse to pay the admission of 10 cents to the place and when there should have been accorded decent treatment. Several games of chance, amounting to gambling were also run on the place."

The four Royal League councils of the city were represented at the outing. A baseball game between the two men's council featured the afternoon's outing the West Duluth men winning by a score of 17 to 7. A baseball game between the women and a number of other sports were also a feature of the afternoon's entertainment.

Berry Picking Party.

A party of West Duluth people left this morning for L. A. Stevenson's camp on Knife river to spend a week picking berries. Those in the party are: Mrs. P. Gilley, 322 North Central avenue, Mrs. Dora McDowell, 5201 Ramsey street, and Mrs. C. Tracey. Mr. Stevenson accompanied the party to the camp.

FALLS DEAD IN HOTEL HALLWAY

Well Known Grand Rapids Man Is Suddenly Summoned.

Eugene H. Lufkin, 45 years old, dropped dead in the hallway of the Grace hotel, 528 West Superior street, shortly after 7 o'clock yesterday morning, his body, clad only in a nightgown, being found a few minutes later by the clerk.

According to the clerk of the hotel, Lufkin complained of no illness whatever on Saturday night or yesterday, death having been instantaneous. Heart failure is given as the cause.

Miss Ida Lufkin of Chicago, a sister of the dead man, was located yesterday by James L. Crawford, undertaker, who found her address in one of Lufkin's letters. She arrived in Duluth this morning in answer to a telegram and made arrangements for the disposition of the body. It will be shipped tomorrow morning to Grand Rapids, Minn., where it will be interred some time Wednesday.

According to his sister, Lufkin was a lumberman by trade and had worked for the Shevlin-Carpenter company at Grand Rapids for many years. He had been in Canada the past few weeks and was on his way to Grand Rapids, having stopped off at Duluth for a few days.

Lufkin was single and is survived only by his sister. He had lived at Grand Rapids for over fifteen years and was very well known in that part of the state.

HALF CANDIDATES PASS CITY TEST

Approximately half of those who took the recent civil service examinations for firemen and policemen succeeded in passing.

The papers were gone over and marked at a meeting of the civil service commission this morning.

Secretary Ruben Johnson was instructed to prepare immediately for the examination of other candidates for the other branches of the civil service. The date was not definitely fixed but will be advertised as soon as the secretary has made his arrangements. The tests will be given the first part of next month.

Among those who will take the examinations are about thirty present employes of the city. All of them have been appointed since Dec. 2, the date on which the new charter was approved. They are scattered through all divisions of the city, including clerks, stenographers and inspectors. The examinations are competitive and it is probable that others will take them in addition to those who now hold positions.

HOME BERRIES ON THE MARKET

Minnesota Product Bidding for Favor Against Imported Raspberries.

Minnesota raspberries are coming into the market and offering strong competition to the berries shipped from other states. The home product is expected to lower the prices on the red fruit. The present market price at wholesale is $2.50 per crate of twenty-four pints and there is a strong demand for the berries at that figure.

The first barrel apples are arriving in Duluth. The Duchess variety can be had for $5.50 per barrel, wholesale. Indiana "gem" melons also are coming in strong and watermelons are getting better.

TOO EARLY FOR HARVESTERS YET

Rush to the Wheat Fields Should Not Begin Before Aug. 10.

The Duluth headquarters of the Minnesota State Free Employment association is receiving letters from commercial clubs in North and South Dakota relative to the crop and labor situation.

All the letters are optimistic in regard to the crop conditions but they warn against an influx of harvesters before the crop is ready to cut. Most of the letters set Aug. 10 as the earliest date for activities to commence. The harvesters from Nebraska and Kansas are drifting into the Dakotas and are getting the first chance at the work there. There will be plenty of work for the men from Minnesota and the East as soon as the harvest gets into full swing.

Labor agencies report that there is plenty of work for Duluth men nearer home. Haying is now going on in various parts of Minnesota and there is a steady demand for men. Hay makers are being offered $2 a day and board. There is also a demand for saw mill men. The mills are offering $2.25 to $2.50 per day.

Duluth has few idle men at the present time, according to labor agents, and the few that are not working are waiting for the harvest to start.

GARBAGE WAGON IN COMMISSION

Vile Smelling, Open Carts Will Gradually Be Replaced.

Duluth's second garbage wagon was put into commission in the West end this morning.

The new outfit is hauled by a team of horses secured from the fire department, where they had seen the last of active service. Their driver was instructed to watch them carefully, to the end that they might not dash away upon hearing the fire apparatus dashing down the street in response to an alarm. Other former fire horses have been known to respond to the instincts of long training under such circumstances.

The city has not yet placed the remodeled garbage cart. The plan which is now being considered is to turn it over to one of the private collectors for a modest rental. This would reduce the number of obnoxious, open, garbage-saturated wagons, which make a noise louder than a brass band and unpleasant in the inverse ratio. Commissioner Hicken said that the fire department has one or two abandoned chemicals which will probably be remodeled into sanitary garbage wagons and put into commission in that way. By so doing, he figures that he will be able to pull most of the reeking outfits from the streets. The charge would be just enough to pay interest on the investment and the wear and tear of the wagons. The public would be relieved from present conditions, which seems about all that can be done in view of the city's financial inability to install a municipal collection of garbage.

Big Michigan Orchard.

Gould City, Mich., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—An orchard which it is claimed will be the largest in the state is being established in the vicinity of Delto Junction, Schoolcraft county, by the Michigan Fruit company, organized by St. Paul, Minn., men. The company is clearing and planting 2,000 acres to cherries, apples, plums and other varieties of fruit. A town will be established also.

DULUTH PIONEER DIES AT HIS HOME

William S. Wakelin, 55 Years Old, Was Born at Superior.

Born in Superior fifty-five years ago and having lived all his life at the Head of the Lakes, William S. Wakelin, well known as a pioneer throughout this section of the state, died yesterday afternoon at his home, 323 West Second street, after a long illness.

Mr. Wakelin was one of the oldest pioneer residents living in this section of the state. His parents moved to Duluth when he was a boy. He had been ill for the last ten years, death finally ending his suffering.

Mr. Wakelin was well known in Duluth and Superior. He was chief clerk for the Armour Packing company for the last fifteen years, before which he was connected with several other local firms. He was a member of the I. O. F. lodge, and was one of its best workers during the latter years of his life.

Besides his widow, Mr. Wakelin is survived by one son, William, and one daughter, Mary, both of Duluth. An uncle, E. W. Wakelin, of Grand Marais also survives him.

The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the residence. Dr. M. S. Rice of the First M. E. church will officiate and interment will be at the Forest Hill cemetery.

Walking Around the World.

St. Paul, Minn., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—On a walk around the world for health and pleasure, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Earl of Toledo, Ohio, are spending a few days in the Twin Cities before proceeding westward. They have been on the road since April 17.

Boy Accidentally Shoots Self.

Spooner, Minn., July 28.—John Laffin, 12-year-old son of a homesteader residing near Williams, is at the Spooner hospital with a gun shot wound in his side. He was taking a .22-caliber rifle from its place on the wall above a bed when it became entangled in a blanket and was discharged, the bullet entering his side and tearing the flesh.

Several North Dakotans Are Reported Caught By Swindling Scheme.

One Gives Section Land for 200 Mythical Horses in Arizona.

Hettinger, N. D., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—What is said to be a swindling game of national proportions is being worked over the northwestern states and H. B. Halversen of this place is out a section of land as a result of his participation in the affair. It is reported that victims are numerous in this state and in South Dakota. Fargo is reported to have one. Halversen saw an advertisement in a Minneapolis paper by a man who wanted to trade horses for land. He went there to investigate his proposition and found a man who seemed to have good indorsement.

Trades for Arizona Horses.

He traded a half section of land and received a bill of sale authorizing him to select 200 head of horses from a herd of 1,800 in Coconio county, Arizona. Through the first man he heard of another in Iowa who also wanted to trade horses for land and made a similar deal for his entire section. Going to Flagstaff, Ariz., he attempted to record his bill of sale and was told it was worthless. He found others there with bills of sale and learned that it would cost more to round up the horses than the animals were worth and in some instances the reality of the horses was doubled. Halversen is now endeavoring to have the deeds set aside as fraudulent.

RANIER'S MAYOR UNDER INDICTMENT

True Bill Against Ek and Kelly for Death of Fred L. Couture.

International Falls, Minn., July 28.—The special grand jury that has been probing the death of Fred J. Couture, Ranier hotel keeper, fatally assaulted after he gave damaging testimony before a grand jury against several people in Ranier charged with liquor law violation, returned true bills against Mayor Edward Ek of Ranier and Fred J. Kelly for manslaughter in the first degree.

Ten other persons, six saloonkeepers and four keepers of disorderly houses at Ranier, were also indicted.

Kelly Fellon Couture.

It is claimed Kelly assaulted Couture in front of the latter's hotel, the evening of July 12, and during the altercation, Couture dropped to the walk and Kelly fell on him. Couture complained after the affray that his back was hurt. The following morning he was taken ill. He died at the hospital here, where he was removed when it was learned his condition was serious.

The case of Kelly and Ek will be taken up at the present term of court. Ex-Judge Spooner of Bemidji and M. V. Kane have been retained to defend them. Assistant Attorney General Nethaway will have charge of the prosecution for the state.

WIND PUTS HAYRACK ON SHACK, SAVING IT.

Bowbells, N. D., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—During a severe windstorm in the hills west of here, several shacks and outbuildings were blown down. A hayrack was whirled off a wagon and landed across the roof of a settler's shack. He insists the added weight prevented the wind from upsetting his home.

PLAN LAND CLEARING.

Enthusiastic Meeting at Bemidji Takes Up Idea Born in Duluth.

Bemidji, Minn., July 28.—The recent land clearing convention held in Duluth bore fruit here Saturday when an enthusiastic meeting of farmers and business men organized a company to clear Beltrami county lands on a large scale. State Immigration Commissioner Sherman was present. Harry E. Reynolds and A. P. Richie of Bemidji were named a committee to perfect plans for the company.

A. J. McGuire, superintendent of the North Central experiment station at Grand Rapids; D. E. Willard, development agent of the Northern Pacific; W. B. Stewart, county superintendent of schools; Bueford M. Gile, agricultural instructor at the Bemidji high school; Jesse E. Dade of Blackduck and George Winter, superintendent of the land sales department of the Crookston Development association, were other speakers at the meeting, which was presided over by Frank S. Lycan of this city.

Mr. MacKenzie announced that a rate of $9.75 for stump-blasting dynamite has been secured for Northern Minnesota.

JOKES ABOUT SHELLS THEN KILLS HIMSELF.

Marshall, Minn., July 28.—While he was buying a box of shotgun shells at Amiret yesterday, David Munson, a farmer living near here, was joked by his friends and asked if the prairie chickens were large enough to kill. He replied that the shells were not for chickens but "for the other fellow."

The next day Munson was found dead in his home by Louis Larson, a neighbor. A gun lay by his side, with the box of shells he had bought the day before. One shell was missing.

The coroner's verdict was suicide. Despondency over domestic affairs is supposed to have been the cause of Munson's act.

After Reckless Auto Drivers.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 28.—The police have declared war on reckless drivers of automobiles and motorcycles. Richard Swanson for whom the officers had been looking since Thursday, accused of running down a newsboy and then riding away without stopping to ascertain the extent of his injuries, was arrested Saturday and given a ten days' jail sentence, in municipal court.

GRANITE FALLS MAN IS KILLED

Ole Moe's Headless Body Found By Track at Keldron, N. D.

Hettinger, N. D., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The authorities are investigating the death of Ole Moe, an immigrant from Granite Falls, Minn., having a wife and four children who was killed at Keldron presumably by a negro track gang. Moe and a brother arrived there in an immigrant car.

Hearing a noise during the night Ole Moe went out. The next morning his body, with his head severed, was found a half mile down the track. It is thought he was murdered and his body placed on the rails.

TRACED TO BUTTE.

Capture of Would-Be Montana Train Holdups Soon Expected.

Butte, Mont., July 28.—Sheriff O'Rourke and posse expect soon to capture the three men who tried to hold up the eastbound North Coast Limited train of the Northern Pacific late Saturday night, at Homestake, twelve miles east of here. The officer and possee claim to have traced the trio here. The would-be holdups who apparently were young and intoxicated, got nothing. Very few of the passengers knew what was delaying the progress of the train.

A posse, headed by the sheriff, early Sunday morning, took up the trail of three bandits. Their tracks led to a wagon road, where evidences of the recent passing of an automobile traveling toward Butte convinced the authorities that the bandits had come here. It is said that the authorities have a clue to the identity of the highwaymen.

FOUR KILLED IN WRECK.

Copper Country Limited Hits Tree Across the Track.

Iron Mountain, Mich., July 28.—Four people were killed, one seriously injured and six slightly bruised late Saturday night when the Copper Country Limited passenger train on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road from Calumet, Mich., to Chicago, struck a tree which had been blown across the tracks at Cadeling, Wis.

The dead:

ENGINEER FRANK O'CONNOR, Green Bay, Wis.

FIREMAN ALBERT KLINESMITH, Green Bay, Wis.

WALTER WAY, 11 years old, son of Express Messenger Way.

ONE UNKNOWN MAN, thought to be from Cleveland, Ohio.

Express Messenger Way was seriously burned and mangled when he was caught beneath the wreckage directly in front of a broken steam pipe. While pinned beneath the wreckage he begged for the rescuers to kill him and put him out of his misery. For two hours a score of men worked before he was rescued. He has been removed to a hospital here where his condition is said to be critical.

The train was traveling at a rapid rate in an attempt to make up lost time, and had just turned a short bend when the engineer saw a large tree lying across the track. He attempted to stop the train, but did not have time. Both he and his fireman jumped, but both were buried beneath the wreckage.

The engine, mail car, baggage car and express car went into the ditch but all of the passenger coaches remained on the tracks.

The unidentified man had letters on his person addressed to "Mrs. Willie Harin, Cleveland, Ohio." It is thought he was riding on the pilot of the engine.

A relief was sent out from Iron Mountain with doctors and nurses aboard and all the injured were brought here.

PLANS BIG HOSPITAL.

Franciscan Order Offers to Buy Delta County, Mich., Institution.

Wells, Mich., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—A bid for the purchase of the Delta county hospital has been made by the Franciscan order of the Roman Catholic church. The proposal will be considered at the next meeting of the board of supervisors. Provided it procures the institution, the Franciscan order will erect a larger and more modern building and will demolish the present structure in whole or in part. The hospital has been a burden upon the county, its operations each year being conducted at a loss, and the board of supervisors has decided to discontinue the institution. The property either will be sold or the building will be razed and the grounds platted into lots and be put on the market. The hospital is at Escanaba.

KILLED BY BRONCHO HE WAS DICKERING FOR

Beach, N. D., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—While examining a broncho for which he wished to trade John McClellan fell underneath the animal and was kicked to death. The horse was owned by William O'Connor and was attached to a wagon. McClellan was 19 years old and lived until recently with his parents near Bismarck.

PIONEER OF TWO STATES IS CALLED

Col. E. C. Gearey of Fargo, Formerly of Minnesota, Passes Away.

Fargo, N. D., July 28.—Col. E. C. Gearey, aged 72, a resident of North Dakota since 1877, when he came to Fargo to take charge of the United States land office to succeed T. M. Pugh, now of Duluth, as receiver, died Saturday night.

Col. Edward Coburn Gearey was born in Hudson, Columbia county, New York, June 11, 1841 and was the son of Hamilton B. and Harriet E. Macy Gearey.

He was educated in the common schools of New York state and at the age of 21 manifested his patriotism by enlisting in the war of rebellion in Company E of the 149th New York infantry and was assigned to the Army of the Potomac. He saw long and hard service.

Comes to Minnesota.

Retiring from the service late in 1865, he removed to Wabasha county, Minn., and engaged in farming.

He was prominent in the civic and political activities of the new state and held many important positions, being a member of the Wabasha County Agricultural society and served three successive terms in the legislature of the state of Minnesota in the formative period of that commonwealth.

In 1863 Col. Gearey removed to Fargo to become the receiver of the United States land office, which position he occupied four years. During the early years of his residence in Fargo he studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1885.

He was elected police magistrate of the city of Fargo and re-elected three successive terms.

Mason Forty-nine Years.

Col. Gearey was made a Mason on March 26, 1864, and was always prominent and active in Masonry; was a Knight Templar, Royal Arch Mason, 32nd Degree Scottish Rite Mason and Shriner, and one of the early potentates of El Zagal temple.

March 25, 1864, Col. Gearey was married to Miss E. Amelia Wells, also a native of New York.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. E. Amelia Gearey; H. W. Gearey, vice president of the Merchants' National bank; Mrs. Lucia Griffith, who is now at the home of her mother; E. C. Gearey, Jr., clerk of the district court for Cass county; Mrs. Frances Divine, living near Mapleton, N. D., and John W. Gearey, whose home is in San Diego, Cal.

River May Break Loose Again.

Williston, N. D., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Unless some early repairs are made on the government revetment work at this point, the Missouri will break away from its present confines and resume its course along the old river bed it used forty or fifty years ago.

Elevator for Flasher, N. D.

Flasher, N. D., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—As a result of the fine crops in this part of the state, Flasher is to have another elevator. It will be built by a recently organized company here and is to be ready for use Sept. 20.

Stolen Limburger as Clue.

Monroe, Wis., July 28.—With the oder of limburger cheese as a clue, Green county officials expect to capture the thieves who Friday night stole a valuable horse and buggy and a large quantity of merchandise. Among the latter taken from a railroad storehouse was a case of rich, mellow and odorous limburger cheese valued at $8.

Wisconsin Automobile Tragedy.

Eau Claire, Wis., July 28.—Mrs. W. D. Steinberg is dead and her husband seriously injured as a result of an automobile accident near Meridian, Wis., Saturday. Mr. Steinberg and his wife were returning from Durand when the machine ran up an embankment, tipped over and buried the two beneath it.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Milaca—Donald McClure accidentally shot himself with a revolver while visiting at the lake, but sustained only a light flesh wound.

Pine River — The Pine River Sentinel and Blaze have been consolidated and will hereafter be published as the Pine River Sentinel-Blaze. E. B. Dahl is sole owner and publisher.

Slayton—L. C. Johansen, living just east of town, sold $2,200.00 worth of hogs the past year from his 160-acre farm.

Wahkon—Prof. McCann who will be principal of the Wahkon high school the coming year is taking a special course at the state agricultural college this summer.

Raseau—William Haugen, a prominent farmer, and Miss Gunda Nilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Nilson of Moose are to be married next Sunday.

Bemidji—While sailing on Lake Bemidji in a frail craft Thursday, James Carter and Harry Barnes of Lavinia narrowly escaped drowning, when the boat capsized out in deep water near the middle of Lake Bemidji. The young men were thrown into the water, but succeeded in clinging to their overturned craft until James Harklers reached them in a launch.

Crookston—Officer Godbout will get the first $5 prize which the Automobile club offered for the arrest and conviction of a man throwing a bottle on the street or on a roadway anywhere. Mike Mahoney was the offender, and was caught smashing a bottle on the street near the Rauch corner.

St. Cloud — An electric hoister and derrick has been installed at the great Northern freight depot. The new machine is one which will eliminate nearly 75 per cent of all the accidents occurring from the handling of freight and it also will save a large amount of time for the granite teamsters.

Red Lake Falls—Farmers are busy harvesting rye and barley and putting up hay. Both of the grain crops are good. The hay crop is a little light, owing to the dry spell early in the season, but it is not so extremely light as to be called a short crop.

Oslo—Arnt Olson, a prosperous farmer living south of the village about three and a half miles, is having a new and spacious house built on his farm this summer.

Piers—M. Wermerskirchen is building a 36x76 barn to the rear of his hotel building. The new barn will have a large hay loft and will have installed in it electric lights and water works.

Moorhead—The estate of the late N. Z. Woodward of Oakland, Cal., in which Flavel Woodward of Glyndon is one of the three ultimate heirs, has been settled to the satisfaction of Mr. Woodward and the other heirs. The estate is valued at $60,000, and under the will a trust was created, and a number of persons were given annuities under this trust.

Albert Lea — Without a dissenting vote to the contrary the Albert Lea Woodmen voted to join the new state order at the special meeting Friday night. The petitions to join the new order were signed and financial assistance given the cause. About 1,000 in Freeborn county will join the new order.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Hancock—The Hancock lodge of Elks is preparing for a busy time this winter, to consist of a series of entertainments to be given at the lodge rooms for the benefit of the local people, to afford a pleasant pastime and show them the bright side of life.

Negaunee—The Breitung hotel has one of the finest flower parks of any hotel in Northern Michigan. Mr. Suess, the proprietor has been working on it for the past few years and has transformed it from a weed filled space to a beautiful garden, in which some of the finest shrubbery procurable is to be found.

Shingleton — Blueberries will be a bountiful crop in Upper Michigan this season. Conditions for the growth of the fruit have never been better. The bushes are well laden and the berries are exceptionally large and luscious. The fruit is already making its appearance on the market. Pickers will begin going to the field in large numbers within a week or two and from that time until the killing frosts of the fall, hundreds of cases will be shipped from favored districts daily.

Ishpeming—The program for the annual meeting of the Lake Superior Mining Institute which will be held in Duluth and on the Mesaba range from Aug. 26 to the 30th, inclusive, is being prepared by A. J. Yongbluth, secretary of the institute.

Negaunee—Rev. R. T. T. Hicks, pastor of St. John's Episcopal church, in a recent sermon on "Social Service," took to task the city council for its delay in passing the proposed milk ordinance.

St Ignace—A petition has been sent to Governor Ferris, asking the parole of Claude E. Vallier from the Marquette reformatory. The young man has gained the confidence of the prison management and has been a trusty at the institution for sometime. His release is asked by a number of the most prominent citizens of Mackinac county. Vallier was sentenced here for robbery.

Ishpeming—Karl Lehto and Gunner Grunlund, well known Finnish wrestlers who have appeared in a number of contests in this city, are in the city making arrangements for a catch-as-catch-can wrestling tournament to be held next Saturday night.

Marquette—Mrs. John F. Wilson, aged 54, died at St. Mary's hospital after an illness which began Wednesday evening.

Ironwood—Work is progressing very satisfactorily on the new addition to the St. James hotel and it is expected that it will be finished by Sept. 1.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Devils Lake, N. D.—Whether Devils Lake shall have a county fair is again being discussed. Formerly the plan has failed to receive a great deal of support because of the energies that must be expended annually on the chautauqua and on the mid-winter agricultural meeting and clover and corn display.

Fargo, N. D.—The funeral of Dr. Oscar F. Anderson of Christine, the veterinary surgeon who lost his life while canoeing on the Red River of the North, Thursday afternoon, was held from the family residence at Christine Saturday afternoon. Dr. Anderson was about the fifth victim of the Red river in this vicinity this year. His drowning has caused a feeling of horror among all those who witnessed the tragedy.

Jamestown, N. D.—Fred Brewster, members of the state board of control has returned from a trip to Minnesota, where he has made purchases of a few thoroughbred cattle for the state institutions. The cattle were from well known herds at Northfield and other points.

Bowman, N. D.—During June the Bowman creamery paid out to its patrons $3,300 for cream. Up to July 15 the amount paid out for the same was $2,000.

Jamestown, N. D.—Judge J. A. Coffey is confined to his home with a mild attack of smallpox, which presumably was contracted from the children who some time ago had a light attack of a prevailing malady termed chicken pox.

Minto, N. D.—In accordance with the decision of the county commissioners to expend the automobile license money on two thoroughfares through the county—one north and south, and the other east and west—the Meridian road has been selected as one of the routes upon which the money will be laid out, and Commissioner Schuster is delegated to look after it.

Minot, N. D.—Frank Rogers of Berthold was found guilty of selling liquor, in the district court. The jury accompanied the conviction with a recommendation to the court that Rogers should be leniently dealt with on account of his youth.

Jud, N. D.—A family house dog severely bit the 15-month-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Bierley of this place. Rescuers arrived just in time to save the child's life, as the dog appeared maddened after tasting the child's blood. The parents are now afraid the child will have hydrophobia.

Portal, N. D.—A number of people here are anxious for the present address of Charles White, who suddenly disappeared. He was formerly manager of the electric light plant.

Granville, N. D.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Iver Hjelstad south of here was the scene of a happy celebration recently in honor of the golden wedding of the aged couple. About 150 guests from all over this part of the state assembled there.

Sykeston, N. D.—Admitting that he was guilty of robbing the house on the Davis farm, north of here, Roy Kinch was brought back from Carrington to answer to the charge. It is also claimed that he burglarized other houses in this and Foster counties.

Lisbon, N. D.—Three unsuccessful attempts were made to burglarize as many stores here. For some reason the work, which was probably by amateur transients, failed. The police are after the floating population in this vicinity.

Finley, N. D.—Being run over by a wagon loaded with a ton and a half of coal and escaping death was the remarkable record of Arthur Nelson. He was standing on the tongue of the wagon when the team started and he fell underneath the wheels, which passed over his hips and abdomen.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Janesville—Following her husband and his alleged affinity from Janesville to Whitewater and locating them in the woman's parents' home, Mrs. O. J. Gleason, Chicago, called the police, broke into the house and arrested the couple, Mrs. Glen Railey, aged 22, and O. J. Gleason, who has been employed at a local garage. Gleason has two children.

Tony—Bert Orvis, aged 26, of Waukegan, Ill., lost his life trying to run the rapids at Big Falls on the Flambeau river north of here. A searching party cannot locate the body.

Eau Claire — The Eau Claire board of education is deadlocked over the selection of a high school principal to succeed Prof. M. S. Frawley, who has been in charge of the local school for over thirty years.

Ripon—John Gedinski, aged 40, a farmer of West Rosendale, committed suicide by hanging. He had been in poor health and despondent.

Manitowoc—Charged with forging a check for $980, misappropriating money and obtaining money under false pretenses, Earl F. Diamond, secretary of the Boys' club, was arrested and is unable to secure bail. He came here four months ago from San Francisco to take charge of the club.

Oshkosh—It was discovered by the city sealer of weights and measures that berry pickers have been filling the bottom of boxes about an inch deep with leaves.

Eau Claire—Hugh McManus, aged 12, pounded a Winchester shell with a hammer. The doctor says he has a chance for recovery.

Madison—The state highway commission has apportioned among the seventy-three counties of Wisconsin their apportionment of state aid money for highway construction for 1914. The appropriation of $1,200,000 for state aid is now available, Governor McGovern having signed the bill.

Milwaukee—Eschines P. Matthews, president of the Matthews Building company, owner of the Matthews building, Grand avenue and Third street, a resident of Milwaukee since 1857, is critically ill at his home with a complication of diseases. Owing to his advanced age, it is feared that he cannot recover.

Oconomowoc — The Oconomowoc school census, recently completed, shows 799 children of school age in the district, a gain of three over last year. The number of girls are 375 and 424 boys.

Janesville—The United States weather bureau service has established an office in Janesville and will co-operate with the tobacco growers, furnishing them information as to weather conditions.

Monroe—Four horses were gored by a mad bull on the Gorham farm owned by John Meyer, near Monroe, one day last week. One of them had to be killed owing to the severity of the injuries, but the other three will recover.

Fond du Lac—Eighteen insane persons have been committed to the asylum in this county since Jan. 1. The majority were farmers. Physicians assert that the hot months is the cause.

Madison—Governor McGovern has appointed Thomas A. Hogan of Antigo to be judge of the municipal court of Langlade county in place of John A. Ogden, recently deceased.

LUCK ASSISTS WINNIPEG IN WINNING FINAL GAME

With One-Hit Zabel Pitching, Invaders Cop Game By 3 to 1 Score.

Peggy Rhodes Pitches Nice Ball But Is Out Horse-Shoed.

With all of the breaks of the game going to the Peggers, the Invaders yesterday won the final game of the series by the score of 3 to 1. Zabel was on the slab for the visitors and took the contest by identically the same score as the victory of Friday. Peggy Rhodes, with ordinary luck would have won the contest.

Darby O'Brien, the G. O. M. of the game in the minors of the world, walloped what would have been a corking home run, and this with one on the paths. The wind carried the ball to the left of the foul line and the clout that would have tied up the score was thus spoiled.

This is only one instance of how fate checkmated the Sox. Kirkham out in left made a circus catch of a liner from the bludgeon of Menlece and Kurke in right made several catches of balls that would have under ordinary circumstances gone for hits.

Both twirlers worked nicely. Six hits were garnered off the delivery of both Rhodes and Zabel, but had not the players of the Maroon organization been pulling off so many circus stunts the hits of the Sox would have far outnumbered those gathered by the Cousins.

Duluth counted the first run of the game in the fourth round. Smith lofted and Miller walked. Elmer moved along to second when Zabel let loose a wild fling and scored the first run of the game when Bunny Schreiber hit for a single. Menlece lofted and then Schreiber was caught between first and second.

Winnipeg took the lead in the sixth. Schreiber erred on the offering from the bat of Joe Wilke and then Freer walloped the pill out of the park. This lead was never headed, and to make the thing good the visitors gained another in the ninth, though this was quite superfluous.

In the final rounds Kirkham singled and was advanced by Kurke's sacrifice. Ronan flew to right and then Graves came through with a single and Kirkham was over.

Bert Sweeley, the new catcher, made his first appearance of the season and sure did make a decided hit with the fans. The youngster, who, by the way, had a trial with the Sox a few years back, has the looks of a real backstop. His throwing arm, judging by the exhibition of yesterday, is one of steel, for he whipped the ball to second and nipped the only runner who attempted to pilfer by a wide margin.

ARMSTRONG AND BURTON ENTERED

Minnesota Pair Favorites Against Strachan and Griffin at Onwentsia.

Chicago, July 28.—The Western lawn tennis tournament was in full sway today at Onwentsia, the out-of-town experts getting into action. There was a large gallery about the courts keen to watch the work of John H. Strachan and Clarence Griffin of San Francisco, who are fresh from important victories in the national clay court championships at Omaha last week.

Strachan was matched with Jerry Weber, the interscholastic crack, and Griffin was pitted against D. F. Wiley of Evanston. Ward C. Burton and Joseph Armstrong of Minneapolis, the latter the Western intercollegiate champion, are the best of the entries from the Northwest and this pair, with Hayes and Winston, the local doubles team, are the favorites of the field against the Pacific coast players.

The first matches in the doubles and the first and second rounds of the late arrivals in the singles were scheduled for today.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Ninth Game for Marquard.

St. Louis, July 28.—"Rube" Marquard won his ninth consecutive game yesterday afternoon, when New York defeated St. Louis, 2 to 1. The contest was called at the end of the seventh because of rain. A double-header had been scheduled for the afternoon, but the rain left the diamond in poor shape that the second game was called off after a hall of half an hour.

New York tallied its run in the second inning on singles by Murray, E. Snodgrass, Burns and Shafer. Singles by Oakes, Whitted and Cathers in the fourth saved St. Louis from a shutout.

Magee had a busy day in left field, retiring six batters. Three of his catches were sensational.

Because of the soggy diamond due to the morning's rain many drives that would have been easy outs went for singles. Today's postponed game will be played off in a double-header Tuesday. Score: R. H. E.
New York .....0 2 0 0 0 0 0—2 7 0
St. Louis .....0 0 0 0 1 0 0—1 7 0

Batteries — Marquard and Meyers, Wilson; Griner and McLean. Umpires—Brennan and Eason.

Cubs Score Victory.

Chicago, July 28.—Pitcher Hess' generosity in issuing passes, coupled with opportune hitting by the locals, gave Chicago a 6 to 5 victory over Boston yesterday. Chicago took an early lead on the visitors' errors by Zimmerman, who returned to his regular position for the first time since his ankle was injured, coupled with hits by Clymer, Sweeney and Whaling enabled Boston to tie the score. Chicago again forced ahead when a pass to Leach, coupled with Phelan's double, Zimmerman's sacrifice fly and Saier's home run scored three runs. The Boston Indians scored two more on a base on balls to Connolly, a triple by Smith and Sweeney's sacrifice fly. They added another run in the ninth when a batting rally with pinch hitters scored Rudolph, who ran for Titus and forced Lavender to retire. Cheney came to the rescue and retired the side without further damage. Chicago's winning run was made on Zimmerman's double, Saier's out and Mitchell's long fly. Catcher Archer of Chicago was hit by a foul tip and had to leave the game. He will be out for several days. President Murphy announced today that he had purchased Earl Moore, the former Philadelphia twirler. Moore was sold to St. Louis, but would not report to Manager Huggins. R. H. E.

Reds Lose Two.

Cincinnati, July 28.—Brooklyn took both games of a double-header from the locals here yesterday, the first by a score of 7 to 4, and the second, 8 to 1. In the first game Cincinnati used three pitchers, Herbert, a youngster doing good work for the final innings. Brooklyn on the other hand used two, Curtis, who relieved Ragon, holding Cincinnati safe. Heavy hitting by both teams marked the game. In the second, Rucker had Cincinnati at his mercy at all times, while Benton for Cincinnati was hit hard and often. Groh was ordered off the field by Umpire O'Day following an argument. Cutshaw obtained two singles, a double and a home run out of five times up in this game. Brooklyn's fielding was sensational.

First game— R. H. E.
Brooklyn .....0 0 1 0 0 6 0 0 0—7 14 0
Cincinnati .....0 2 1 0 0 0 0 1 0—4 13 2

AMERICAN ASSN.

Indians Win Both.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 28.—Indianapolis won both games of a double-header from Columbus here yesterday afternoon, 2 to 1, and 4 to 2. Timely hitting was responsible for both the victories.

In the opening inning, Reilly walked, Downey reached first when Davis fumbled his grounder and both men moved up a base on Gettman's out and scored on Stewart's single to left. The visitors scored their lone tally on three singles in the ninth. In the second game Columbus had the bases filled four times but was unable to score more than one run. Merz was taken out in the fifth after he had filled the bases with none out. This contest was called at the end of the eighth, a state law, prohibiting Sunday baseball after 6 o'clock. Scores:

First game— R. H. E.
Indianapolis ....2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 x—2 5 2

Divide Double-Header.

Louisville, Ky., July 28.—Toledo and Louisville broke even yesterday in a double-header, the visitors winning the first game, 3 to 1 and the locals the second, 5 to 3. The latter game was called after the first half of the sixth inning on account of darkness. Play was not started until 3:30 o'clock because of the arrival of both teams from Toledo, from where the games were transferred. Baskete held control of things in the opener while R. Clemons who made his reappearance with the locals, was effective in the final. Both teams played snappy ball. Scores:

First game— R. H. E.
Toledo .....0 0 0 1 0 2 0 0 0—3 6 3

Batteries—R. Clemons and V. Clemons; Collamore and Devogt. Umpires—Murray and Connolly. (Called after first half sixth account darkness.)

Brewers Lose.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 28.—The visitors scored enough runs in the second inning without making a hit to win the game, scoring four runs on two hit batsmen, three passes and Blackburn's error. The final score was 8 to 2 in favor of the visitors. Dougherty, who relieved Watson in the second allowed but two hits until the ninth when three hits and an error gave the visitors three runs. Vaughn was unsteady all the way but fast fielding prevented any runs except in the eighth. Score: R. H. E.
Milwaukee .....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 0—2 10 2
Kansas City ...1 4 0 0 0 0 0 0 3—8 7 2

Batteries—Braun, Watson, Dougherty and Hughes; Vaughn and O'Connor. Umpires—Johnstone and Handiboe.

Pitchers' Battle.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 28.—In a pitchers' battle between Ralph Comstock, the Minneapolis favorite twirler and Eddie Karger, left hander of the Saints, Comstock was beaten, the visitors winning by a score of 3 to 2. The honors so far as hits were concerned, were evenly divided, each club registering seven safe clouts. Comstock's support was at times ragged, but the visitors booted two chances behind Karger, Hemphill and Riggert committing the errors. Score: R. H. E.
Minneapolis ....0 0 2 0 0 0 0 0 0—2 7 0
St. Paul .....0 0 0 1 0 2 0 0 0—3 7 0

Batteries—Comstock and Owens; Karger and James. Umpires—Westervelt and O'Brien.

CLOQUET DEFEATS AITKIN WINNERS.

Cloquet, Minn., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—With a string of ten straight victories behind them, the Aitkin ball team played Cloquet yesterday and lost their first game this year by a score of 6 to 0. Cloquet bunched hits off Postom in the fifth and sixth frames and scored five runs. Cunningham held the visitors to two hits and struck out thirteen men. Score: R. H. E.
Aitkin .....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 2 1
Cloquet .....1 0 0 0 3 2 0 0 x—6 10 0

TENNIS TOURNEY AT MINNEAPOLIS.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 28.—The twenty-fourth annual Northwestern Tennis tournament will be held on the courts at Deephaven, Lake Minnetonka, beginning Aug. 4, and continuing until Saturday. Crack players of Minnesota, Iowa, North and South Dakota are entered in the contests.

WINONA HAS ADVANTAGE IN CLOSE PENNANT RACE

Corsairs Play Majority of Final Games at Home While Duluth and Superior Have Long Schedule on the Road.

Last evening the Sox left for Winnipeg. Two games will be played at the Peg, one today and the final one of the short series, tomorrow.

Upon the completion of the jump to the Manitoba capitol the Dooks come home for three games with Minneapolis, the final clash with Col. Bob Unglaub's forces on the home grounds during the present season. Grand Forks follows Minneapolis here and will also make the final appearance at Athletic park for the present season.

Following the completion of the games with the Flickers the Sox again hit the road and play at Virginia, Minneapolis, Winona and La Crosse.

If the Sox take a decided brace for the remaining games of the season there is the opportunity for us to climb during the last road trip of the season of 1913.

Virginia and La Crosse should prove rather easy and enable us to break even with losses that may be encountered at Minneapolis and Winona.

Just now the Corsairs are making a desperate stand and the Davis bunch should prove a very hard aggregation to defeat on their home grounds. La Crosse and Virginia are jokes and have been out of the running since the race, and we should come nearly making a clean sweep of both of these series.

Minneapolis, Grand Forks, Winnipeg and Superior will be the only teams to be seen here again during the present playing season. The others have made their farewell appearance, and the fans will have to await the coming of another year to greet members of the teams that have furnished baseball entertainment during the waning season.

Ten More Home Games.

There are just ten more home games scheduled for Athletic park, barring several double-headers that may be played. We have nineteen games that will be played on the road, so the fans can see the Sox are up against a hard proposition for the balance of the season.

It might be interesting to note the games at home and abroad of Superior and Winona, two of the other contenders for the flag.

The Red Sox have eleven games chedduled for Hislop park and sixteen for the road.

Superior plays three at Minneapolis, three at La Crosse, three at Winona, and here may come a grand battle; two at Virginia, two here and three at Grand Forks.

Winona has eleven on the road and nineteen at home, so it will be seen at a glance that the advantage lies with the Pirates. Winona has been able to maintain its lead, though the margin has been reduced during the trip, but recently ended. Not it remains to be seen whether the Dooks or the team across the bay can cut into the lead of the Corsairs, when both of the contenders have more games on the road than at home.

Right now Superior is playing great baseball. Duluth is playing some classy ball also, and with any luck would have taken three of the four games from the Peggers. The Sox made a grand record on the last road trip. If O'Brien can keep his men playing the same article of baseball that they part of the circuit, it may be that the showed during the last swing around Sox will close up and make a finish fight of it.

To show how close the fight is in the Northern, it is only necessary to point to the coming into fourth place yesterday of the Peggers. Minneapolis has been placed out of the running temporarily, at least, and the Peggers believe that they have a fighting chance for the flag.

The race is a beauty and with less than a month remaining of the season, the interest of the fans should reach the highest point of the season.

No one can pick the winner with any degree of certainty. While Winona has been the most consistent leader during the season, both Superior and Duluth have played some gilt-edged baseball. A slump upon the part of the leaders would change the standing of the teams. It is this uncertainty that makes the interest so great and draws attention to one of the prettiest fights in any of the leagues of the country.

Next Saturday there will be a field meet with the Grand Forks team. The events of the program will include foot racing, circling the bases, fungo hitting, distance throwing, running out a bunt and perhaps a special race between Darby O'Brien and Henry Clay Blancke.

There has been a dispute during the present season over the sprinting abilities of these two and the players of the team have been endeavoring to get the disputants to settle once for all the question of their relative speed. It has been suggested that the field day would be a great time to test the sprinting abilities of the two men, and Darby and the poet may be persuaded to run in public.

ALLIS LOSES IN FINAL MATCH

Western Golf Title Won By Warren K. Wood of Homewood.

Chicago, July 28.—Warren K. Wood of Homewood is the new Western golf champion. He defeated 4 up and 2 to play, E. P. Allis, III of Milwaukee, in the finals of the Western Golf association tournament played over the links of the Homewood Country club Saturday. Allis, one of the youngest players of Wisconsin, has the championship of Wisconsin to his credit and took the measure of such redoubtable golfers as Former Champion Charles Evans, Jr., and Former National Champion Robert A. Gardner of Hinsdale.

In Wood, however, Allis met one of the steadiest tournament players in the United States playing over his home course, and the Milwaukee lad was behind all the way after the first

A HOPEFUL SOUL.

Do you believe there is anywhere in the world any person of great wealth who would slip you $5,000,000 just for the pleasure of seeing what you would do with it? Would you have faith enough in your ability to find such a sucker to cause you to pay for an advertisement several inches long setting forth your wants?

There is such a person in London, says the Kansas City Star. he has set forth his wants in the London Times. He has an ambition to acquire £1,000,000, a fact which he first set forth in an advertisement in 1909. There were no takers, or rather givers, at that time, as he admits in his latest advertisement, as he repeats it.

Heading it in bold type, "Notice to Millionaires," he refers to his advertisement of Nov. 24, 1909, and says that no millionaire at that time came forward. He continues:

"Once more, therefore, the proposition is put forward. The millionaire will receive back his capital at the end of two years, and the temporary loss of income will be amply compensated for by the arrangement which the advertiser would make with him."

After stating that "this is a serious proposition," he repeats his advertisement of 1909:

"To millionaires only—It has constantly been stated in the press that many millionaires have expressed views to the effect that their great wealth is a burden to them; that wealth does not bring happiness; and that, in short, they would rather be without it.

"The advertiser, a gentleman whose occupation has precluded him from 'making money,' but who would know how to direct its use sensibly and unostentatiously in a manner befitting the responsibilities of wealth, and who at the same time would derive pleasure and benefit from the handling of large sums, invites some dissatisfied millionaire to present him with £1,000,000 in order that the fallacy of 'the burden of wealth' may be proved.

"The advertiser undertakes to keep a daily diary of his "investments, disbursements, thoughts and doings as a 'millionaire,' the diary to be produced at the end of two years before a selected committee of business men for their opinion as to the success or otherwise of the venture.

"The advertiser must in the meanwhile have the sole and unhampered control of the money.

"It is against human nature to expect any genuine reply to this notice, but should any one care to seriously consider it the advertiser will communicate with principals only, whose letters will be regarded as confidential.—Write, N., etc."

THOUGHT SAMUEL WAS A THIEF.

Strand Magazine: It was the Scripture lesson. The subject was the call of Samuel. The children had sung, "Hushed Was the Evening Hymn," which describes the call. The teacher then asked a few questions, one being, "What did Samuel do while Eli was asleep?"

"Stole his watch," was the prompt reply from one of the girls.

The teacher, somewhat annoyed at such an apparently senseless answer, called for the second verse:

"His watch the Temple child,
The little Levite, kept."

Now came the child's turn.

"Please, teacher doesn't that mean that Samuel kept the old man's watch for himself?"

LIKE OLD-FASHIONED STEAK.

Los Angeles Times: Frederick Townsend Martin said, after a visit to one of the Bowery missions, in which he takes a profound interest:

"The misery we encounter in these missions saddens and at the same time edifies. If the rich would only be more charitable!

"But the very rich, the very successful, are prone to look on failure and defeat with cruel, hard eyes. It 's from the lowly that true charity may be expected."

With a smile and a sigh Mr. Townsend Martin added:

"Like the old-fashioned New England beefsteak, man needs a great deal of pounding before he is even a little tender to others."

M'GRAW AND MACK AGAIN

Giants and Athletics Picked to Play for World's Title.

Washington Only Team Appearing to Have Chance in American.

New York, July 28. — The approach of August days finds in the major league baseball races down almost to the vanishing point, so far as the premier berths are concerned.

With Pittsburg's upward rush rudely checked by three straight defeats by the Giants and neither Philadelphia nor Chicago displaying sustained winning power, there seems to be nothing to prevent New York from taking another National league pennant if McGraw's team continues playing the kind of ball of which it has shown itself capable.

In the younger organization the situation is much the same, with the Athletics in the commanding position and only Washington seriously refusing to concede Connie Mack's men another chance at the major slice of world's series money.

The breaking up of the Pirate attack on the Giants pennant aspirations was the big feature of the baseball week just ended. The other most notable feature perhaps was the small number of contests staged, instead of the usual fifty to sixty or more games, only forty were played in the National, and forty-eight in the American league. A shift between East and West in the schedules and a rainy day in the East accounts for the comparative paucity of the engagements.

Senators Are Climbing.

Among other points of interest is the showing of the Senators. Griffith's lively crew has lost but two games in the last two weeks and is gaining in percentage rapidly. Only a game and a half separates them from Cleveland, who while playing in improved form only managed to keep pace with the Athletics, each of these last two clubs having won four and lost two games in the seven days' play.

Washington is eleven games behind the Mack men—a gap it might be possible for them to close up or materially lessen if the leaders were on the road, where their showing this season has been poor.

Washington's success is attributable in very great part to the sterling work of its great pair of pitchers, Johnson and Boehling.

The case of Chicago next down in the league list, is hard to fathom. The team was going well until within a few days when it struck a streak of poor batting and worse fielding and failed to get pitching of the class it had been accustomed to from its twirling stars. Chappelle, the new high-priced outfielder, has been of little service. For some reason he has been sitting on the bench most of the time for the past few days.

St. Louis In Hard Luck.

The Bostons, after a poor road trip during which they made their quick change of managers, are playing better ball at home. St. Louis ran up against Washington's winning streak before leaving the West and is now struggling with the aforesaid streak in the Senators' home pasture. The New Yorks are now playing a far better game than during their last home stay. Some promise has been shown recently by Detroit's work, the club apparently finding it especially easy to beat Philadelphia.

Aside from the Giant-Pittsburg clash, the recovery form of the Philadelphias—shown by continuation of their good work of the week before—and Brooklyn's brace were about the only notable features in the National league week. The trip West of the Eastern clubs, started late last week, ought to furnish points of interest enough, however. The Giants begin poorly, losing to their old master, Sallee, in St. Louis, but evened up yesterday by taking the first game of a scheduled double-header, of which rain prevented the second part.

SIOUX CITY'S BALL PARK BURNS

Sioux City, Iowa, July 28.—Fire that originated late last night in the grand stand or clubhouse at the Mizzou baseball park, the home of the Sioux City Western league team, destroyed the grandstand and clubhouse, the city planing mill company's plant, and Warnock Tank factory. The total loss is placed at about $75,000. All the Sioux City ball team's equipment was burned.

It is thought the fire was started by tramps who took shelter in the baseball grounds for the night.

Manager Clarke of the Sioux City club announced that today's game was called off and probably Tuesday's game, pending the arrival of new uniforms, bats, gloves and other equipment, which have been ordered from Chicago. When these arrive play will be resumed at Riverside park, Manager Clarke stated. Temporary stands will be erected at once to replace those burned.

DAZZLE PATCH SHOWS GREAT SPEED.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 28.—Dazzle Patch, 4-year-old son of Dan Patch, owned in this city, paced the last half of a work-out mile Saturday in 56¾ seconds. The first quarter mile was made in 29 seconds, and the final one in 27¾ seconds. Dazzle's best mile this season is 2:07. Dan Patch's official half mile record is 56 seconds, made in 1903.

Paul Cobb Released.

Lincoln, Neb., July 28.—President Jones of the local club, Western league, yesterday announced the unconditional release of Paul Cobb, outfielder, and Tom Tuckey, pitcher.

GOLF STARS BREAK EVEN

Patrick and Leith Win and Lose Against Legg and George.

Large Gallery Witnesses Some of the Best Plays Ever Seen Here.

R. S. Patrick and Willie Leith again tied in the games with Harry Legg and Dowd George of Minneapolis. On Saturday the Northland players were returned the victors. In the game of yesterday Legg and George won the contest. As each pair won one of the games in Minneapolis, it will probably be necessary to play the fifth and deciding game sometime during the present season.

A large gallery witnessed the games Saturday and yesterday and it is generally believed that the quality of golf played was the best ever seen on the Northland links. There was little to choose between the players in either of the games, so evenly were they matched and so close was the play.

In the game of Saturday Patrick and Leith led from the start, finishing 5 up and 4 to play.

In the contest of yesterday the Minneapolis men defeated the Northland players, 2 up and 1 to play. Legg scored 72, Patrick and George 73 each, and Leith 74. The visitors evened up at the fourteenth hole and at the sixteenth the visitors had a lead of one. The victory was scored on the seventeenth hole.

In the mixed medal foursome play of Saturday Mrs. E. P. Alexander and William Harrison tied with Mrs. W. C. Winton and F. E. House.

The tie was played off and Mrs. Winton and Mr. House defeated their rivals for first honors by the score of 52 to 50.

Following are the other scores: Mrs. T. F. Cole, C. S. Wilson—49; Miss Marjorie Ferguson, Dr. M. B. Cullum—50; Mrs. E. H. Windom, John Markell—50; Mrs. Ward Ames, Jr., E. P. Alexander—52; Mrs. A. W. Hartman and J. Q. A. Crosby—52; Mrs. W. W. Walker, Dr. Robert Yost—54.

WESTON ANNOYED BY CLAIMS OF UNKNOWN.

Menomonie, Wis., July 28.—Edward Payson Weston, who is resting here over Sunday, after completing all but seventy-seven miles of his tramp of nearly 1,500 miles from New York to Minneapolis, was annoyed yesterday when he read in the newspaper that a man who claimed to have walked with Weston years ago, would walk with him from St. Paul to Minneapolis. The veteran said he had never heard of the man.

No one will walk with him from St. Paul to Minneapolis, he announced, unless it be Governor Eberhart, if he wishes; L. C. Carley of New York, who jointed him Friday, and a newspaper correspondent who has been with the aged pedestrian since leaving Chicago.

IS BREEDING CRIMINALS

Modern System of Punishing Crime Is Barbarous, Says Judge Amidon.

Country Should Never Build Another City or County Jail.

Within the past ten years America has awakened to the needs of the administration of criminal law and has made three great contributions to the subject of dealing with criminals—the juvenile court, the parole and the indeterminate sentence—according to Hon. Charles F. Amidon, United States district judge, Fargo, N. D., who delivered the address of the evening at the sixth annual banquet of the bar association at the Spalding hotel Saturday evening.

Judge Amidon took for his subject, "The Criminal Law and Its Administration." The speaker deplored the present administration of criminal law and declared that Former President Taft was correct in asserting that the criminal law as administered in the United States was a disgrace to civilization. "Travel in any country in Europe," he said, "and you will be told that we are stepping back into barbarism."

"But bad as it may seem, dark as the picture is," declared the speaker, "yet I believe that we have signs of encouragement." He then made reference to the three great reforms—the juvenile court, the parole and the indeterminate sentence, declaring that they were contributions to the world's best thought and practice on this great subject. "Of course," he said, "those are by no means perfect as yet. This is because we have not yet developed an experienced administrative body which is capable of carrying out the plans."

Insanity Pleas.

The judge gave as an example of the "crude" administration of criminal law at the present time a murder case in which insanity is made an issue by the defense. "It is insane from the examination of jurors to the charge of the court. It is insane in the examination of experts on insanity. It is as insane for a jury of twelve laymen to pass upon a question of insanity in a criminal case as it would be for them to attempt a difficult surgical operation."

The medical science, declared the speaker, has contributed much to the subject of penology. "It has gone into the causes of crime," he said, "and in some cases we are now able to say what measures ought to be adopted to prevent recurrence. Scientific inquiry, which has been conducted in a number of states, has disclosed that crime is a biological rather than a legal problem. We find that today we are breeding crime as accurately as a farmer breeds Holstein cattle.

"Statistics show that 25 per cent of the men in our prisons are feeble minded and that they are suffering from a mental weakness. Many others are the progeny of habitual drunkards, idiots and insane.

Breed True to Type.

"The insane, the epileptic, the habitual drunkard, and the feeble minded breed true to the type. In an Eastern state, a scientific research developed that 646 feeble minded people could be traced back to a common parent who was afflicted with insanity.

"Golden Rule Jones of Toledo, who hung the motto, 'A Criminal Act Does Not Make a Criminal,' over his desk demonstrated the truth of his assertion. After his death, in the safety deposit vault was found a list of 114 names of men who he had helped on their appeal when on the verge of crime. All but two proved faithful to their trust. The list was destroyed, according to the wishes of Golden Rule Jones, who only wanted to prove the truth of his motto.

"In the court room, a criminal act does make a criminal. It is the duty of the judge to brand a man as such. In most cases, especially with the first offender, it is the worst thing he has ever done in his life and yet the court brands him a criminal and declares to the world that the judgment is a true index to his character."

The speaker declared that criminals should be treated as individuals, in such a way so as to first protect society, the supreme end always to be obtained, and second to protect the rights of the individual. "The court," he said, "has no right to indulge in sentimentality. If imprisonment will best serve the purpose and protect the rights of society, then let it be imprisonment, if parole will do it, then let it be parole."

40 Per Cent Return.

Judge Amidon declared that 40 per cent of the men sent to a penitentiary return again and that the same is true in England and in European countries. "It is as well established as a fact, as small pox is as a contagious disease," he said.

"The city and county jails," the jurist declared, "are but schools for the criminal, into which first offenders and those charged with misdemeanors are forced to mingle among criminals and felons, to remain in absolute idleness and to think and brood over their wrongs.

"There ought not to be another city or county jail built in the country. Instead a small structure to restrain people who are held for serious offenses without bail. The trial ought to be speedy and prompt. If the defendant is found guilty, he should be sentenced to the proper institution. If he is a drunkard, let him be sent to an institution which is equipped to handle such cases, if he is feeble minded, let him be committed to the proper place, and if a first offender let him be dealt with accordingly.

"The coming of the juvenile court, the parole and the indeterminate sentence, speak the highest word of hope and is a great step forward in the right direction. It is dealing with crime in its causes."

KEEP THE CURRENCY BILL IN COMMITTEE

Democrats Expect to Get It Passed at This Session.

Washington, July 28.—Confronted with apparently irreconcilable disagreement among the Democrats of the house banking and currency committee on the pending currency bill, the administration has again changed its plans for getting the measure through the committee and the house. The scheme of Chairman Glass to take the unfinished bill out of the hands of the committee Democrats and send it to the Democratic house caucus, which failed on Friday, was abandoned after Chairman Glass conferred with President Wilson yesterday.

The bill will be kept in the conference of the Democrats this week, according to the new plan, and they will be forced to vote on the essentials of the measure. The administration supporters believe they will be able to outvote the so-called insurgents by 10 to 4, or 11 to 3. The administration forces were apparently encouraged and advance the belief that the president, despite the unhappy outlook, will be able to get his bill through both ends of the capitol, practically unchanged.

Wise Picnic-ers

Always Leave A Place In Their Baskets For A Few Bottles Of

Fitger's Beer

IF you have never taken a bottle or two of Fitger's Beer with you on a picnic—there's a mighty fine treat in store for you at your next outing. Cool the bottles well in your refrigerator before starting. Then wrinkle up pieces of paper, (newspaper is good) and pack it around the bottles in your basket. This will protect the bottles and keep them from getting too warm. If it is convenient to pack the bottles in ice, so much the better, but this is not necessary.

Then when dinner time comes and you spread out the sandwiches and the pickles and the cake and the fruits—Um-m-m- how good it is to have such a delicious drink as Fitger's Beer! There's nothing like it—Just try it and see. And let us suggest that the best way to be prepared for such a picnic is to keep a case in your cellar all summer.

GEORGE WOOD IS ARRESTED

Former Game Warden Alleged to Have Interfered With Virginia Police.

Refuses to Leave Police Office When His Advice Is Rejected.

Virginia, Minn., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—George E. Wood, formerly game warden, was arrested today by Chief of Police Richard Rice charged with interfering with an officer. Wood was offering Chief Rice advice on how to catch Ed. Dawson and others charged with selling liquor to Jack Sam and other Indians.

Rice rejected Wood's plan and arguments followed.

Declines to Leave.

Wood declined to leave the police office when ordered to and was locked up for two hours, when released on $25 cash bail. He will have a hearing in municipal court Tuesday. Dawson is also under arrest in the liquor case.

MOHAMIS WINNERS IN SUNDAY GAMES

Takes Both Contests From Eveleth Trolley League Nine.

Virginia, Minn., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Mohamis, with Meeghan pitching and Anthony receiving, defeated the Eveleth Trolley league team in two games at Oliver park Sunday, the first being a shut-out and the second 3 to 1, when the game was called at the end of the seventh inning. Neither team played up to the standard of the earlier part of the season. Meeghan and Reid as opposing slabbists, both did classy work. FIREMEN ARE PALLBEARERS

Brother Employes of Victim of Colby Wreck Bear Body to Grave.

Two Harbors, Minn., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Albert Hattleback, the fireman killed in the head-on collision early Tuesday morning near Colby, on the Iron Range road, was held yesterday afternoon from the undertaking rooms of Alex Holliday. Rev. Mr. Carlson, pastor of the Norwegian Lutheran church, preached the funeral sermon. Interment was made in the Two Harbors cemetery.

The following brother firemen acted as pallbearers: Henry Vireth, Lars Anderson, Edward Nelson, Erwin Larson, Alexander Waxlax, Oscar Erickson. A brother of the deceased, who resides in North Dakota, was finally located by the local order of firemen and was present at the funeral. The deceased also has a father and mother and a brother and a sister residing in the old country.

WIDOW OF MURDERED MAN RECOVERS $1,000

Sued Widow of Owner of Saloon Where Fatal Fight Started.

Saloon Keeper Was Also Killed in the Same Brawl.

Widow Mathilda Koski of Virginia has won out in her legal fight to collect damages from the widow of Axel Pakkala, wealthy saloonkeeper, in whose place of business her husband, Jonas Koski, farmer, and Pakkala himself were murdered on Christmas day, 1911.

Widow Koski sued for $2,000 for the loss of her husband, but she accepted a settlement from the Pakkala widow for $1,000. A stipulation and order for judgment was filed Saturday afternoon with the clerk of the district court.

The lawsuit was an aftermath of the fatal saloon brawl which started on the eve of Christmas day, 1911, in in Pakkala's saloon at Virginia. At 4 o'clock on Christmas morning Jack Drexler, half crazed with drink, stumbled into the saloon and "shot up" the place. Two men were victims. Pakkala was killed and Koski mortally wounded. Drexler is now serving a penitentiary sentence for the murder.

Mrs. Koski sued Mrs. Mary Pakkala, administratrix of the estate of Axel Pakkala, and his sureties, the Bankers' Surety company of Cleveland, for $2,000, claiming that her husband's death had been caused indirectly by reason of the fact that the saloon had been kept open all night in violation of the law and that it was a scene of riot and disorder.

It was also claimed that so much liquor was furnished Koski that he was left defenseless and at the mercy of Drexler when he came into the saloon. Koski died from the effects of his wounds on Jan. 9, 1912. He left a widow, 48 years old, and five children, ranging in age from 3 to 14 years.

The case never came to trial on its issue but was fought out on the legal points involved. It was carried to the supreme court and when it was remanded back for trial it was then that a settlement was effected.

The first step in the legal fight was the overruling of a demurrer to the complaint by Judge Dancer, who held that the complaint was sufficient to show liability on the bond. The supreme court upheld the lower court in this particular and affirmed the order overruling the demurrer.

In the stipulation for judgment made today, the case as against the bonding company is dismissed and the whole liability is assumed by the Pakkala eseate.

Mrs. Koski and her five children have been living in Duluth for the past several months, and most of that time have been dependent upon charity. They have been charges of the Associated Charities.

SIXTY-SEVEN SIGN PLEDGE ON SUNDAY

First of Two Harbors Temperance Revivals Considered Success.

Two Harbors, Minn., July 28.—(Special to The Herald).—A. C. Rankin, of Philadelphia, known as the "Iron Moulder Orator," commenced a two-week temperance campaign last night at a union meeting of the members of the Presbyterian and Methodist churches, held in the Presbyterian church. The church was crowded.

Meetings will be held every night this week except Saturday night in the Presbyterian church, at 8. A union service will be held in the Methodist church next Sunday morning and the following week the meetings will be held in the Methodist church. Sixty-seven people signed the pledge last night which is considered very good for the first meeting. Mr. Rankin is a very persuasive speaker. He is assisted by Rev. J. F. Pickard of the Methodist church and Rev. L. C. Sherwin, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

CHISHOLM ELKS PLANNING SPORT

Hydroplane Flight and Other Events Are to Be Pulled Off.

Chisholm, Minn., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Earl Weymark has arrived from Duluth with his hydroplane for the flights over Longyear lake to be given next Saturday in connection with the Elks' celebration.

Harry Austin and Frank Austin are interviewing business people in support of the big Elks' show planned to bring about the establishment of an Elks' lodge here. Young ladies will visit range towns and sell the buttons designed to boom the affair. It is expected the mayor will make Saturday a half holiday. There will be various aquatic and other sports.

Delegates From Late Finnish Brotherhood Convention Leaving.

Ely, Minn., July 28.—(Special to The Herald).—The delegates who have been here attending the Finnish National Temperance Brotherhood grand lodge or convention are leaving today, the last of the program having been given yesterday.

While the number of delegates here was smaller than anticipated, not quite all of the 160 lodges being represented, yet it is claimed by those present that the Ely convention has been one of the best on record. The 1914 convention will meet in Wakefield, Mich.

TOWER NOTES.

Tower, Minn., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Lake Vermilion has again appealed to H. W. Gilson and family of Muskogee, Okla., who arrived Saturday to enjoy the famous fishing found here. They have visited Yellowstone park, the Puget Sound cities and Vancouver and Winnipeg.

The streets were dotted day and night with the cars of touring autoists.

The dredging contractor is getting his equipment set up and before many days active operations will probably begin.

The cottages of Messrs. Lenroot and Griggs of Virginia are nearing completion.

G. C. Carlson, recently appointed agent of the Duluth & Iron Range, is moving into the house vacated by G. D. Lizes.

The ice cream social at Mrs. William Haley's Lakeside, was a big success, the ladies of the Presbyterian church taking in about $25. The Commercial club band discoursed several of their popular airs.

About all the cottages on Lake Vermilion are engaged until the latter part of August. Parties who have not arranged some months in advance find it rather difficult to get cottages at this time.

Mrs. T. E. Penny and sons of Minneapolis, who are spending the summer at Lake Vermilion, were in town Saturday.

Virginians Playing Tennis.

Virginia, Minn., July 28.—(Special to The Herald).—The Virginia Tennis club is holding a tournament and the play will continue all week with the finals Saturday.

Two Harbors Beats Ely.

Ely, Minn., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Two Harbors baseball team came to Ely Sunday and captured the game with Ely 14 to 8. Roberts and Lambert were the battery for Two Harbors, while Ely tried two pitchers and two catchers, Delburn and Williamson doing the pitching, and Erickson and Martin receiving. The game went to Two Harbors because of the poor support given the Ely pitchers.

POLICE AT BANQUET.

Money Won in Virginia Fourth of July Contest Spent for Feed.

Virginia, Minn., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Thirty policemen and deputy sheriffs, including city officers, Oliver Iron Mining company men and the deputies stationed on the range attended a banquet at the European hotel Saturday night. The city police department won the cash prize given for the best appearing organization in the Fourth of July parade and it was decided to spend the amount on a banquet. The chiefs from neighboring towns were invited as guests. Fred Witte, chief deputy on the range, was the toastmaster. Chief Rice, Dave Foley, chief of the Oliver police force, and others spoke. Nearly all of the local men were able to take a couple of hours off for the banquet.

WAS VETERAN OF CRIMEA.

Last Rites at Iron Mountain for Father of Virginia Man.

Iron Mountain, Mich., July 28.—The funeral of William Hopper, a pioneer stone mason of this city, who died last week, aged 76, was held Saturday.

He was born in England and had lived at Iron Mountain for twenty-three years. He is survived by a wife and eight children—Edward in England, William of Chicago, Samuel of Salt Lake City, Mrs. John Strong and Bradden of Iron Mountain, Allen of Aurora, Ill., Mrs. Wm. Buzzell of Tatten, N. Y., and Harry of Virginia, Minn. Mr. Hopper was a sailor in his younger days and was a veteran of the Crimean war.

NORMAL STUDENTS LIMITED TO TWENTY.

Virginia, Minn., July 28.—(Special to The Herald).—Supt. Colgrove of the schools contends the number of students who should be taken care of the first year of the normal course should be limited to twenty and the board has approved his recommendation. No student will be admitted to the normal department until two years or more have been spent in the high school and it is recommended that the student take three years of the high school course before commencing the normal. The purpose of the normal is to give those who want to earn money by teaching in the country an opportunity to make an earlier start.

GASOLINE SPEEDER RACES AUTOMOBILE.

Chisholm, Minn., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Gus Anderson and friends in an automobile had a lively race from Sturgeon lake to Chisholm, about twenty-two miles, yesterday afternoon with Maitland Tripp, Flip Harrington and George L. Train in a railroad gasoline speeder yesterday afternoon. The speeder won by a few seconds but the race was exciting and at times the auto was ahead.

Chisholm Dairy Test.

Chisholm, Minn., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Health Officer Dr. W. P. Schmidt and Supterintendent of Waterworks C. J. Sullivan completed a test Saturday of five of the largest dairy herds tributary to Chisholm, which disclosed the following results:

	Butter Fat.	Solids.	Total.
Hayes dairy farm	4.9	9.15	14.05
Island farm cream	4.8	8.71	13.52
Messabe dairy	4.4	8.64	13.04

SUPERIOR GIRL DROWNS IN LAKE

Annie Kron Moves in Canoe on Lake Ely With Fatal Result.

Eveleth, Minn., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Men today are still dragging Ely lake for the body of Miss Annie Kron, aged 24 of Superior, who was drowned last evening when the canoe in which she was riding with John Abrahamson capsized. It is said that she attempted to move from the bow to the other end of the canoe causing it to upset. Abrahamson attempted to save her, and grasped at her head as she was going down. She was wearing a hat, and this prevented securing a hold on her hair. She sank and did not come up again.

The water at this point is about thirty-five feet deep. The other canoe was near by, but the accident happened so quickly that they could give no assistance. John Burns and William Wardstron, expert swimmers, attempted to recover the body and only ceased on account of darkness. Men were sent out with grappling irons this morning.

Miss Kron was employed as a domestic at Virginia.

LESS STRAY ANIMALS.

Enforcement of Herd Law in Tower Bringing Good Results.

Tower, Minn., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The enforcement of the herd law is bringing good results as less stray stock is seen about the streets and walks and streets are kept cleaner.

SEEK AN EARLY WATER CASE HEARING.

Virginia, Minn., July 28.—(Special to The Herald).—City Attorney Morgan and L. C. Harris representing the city and Arnold & Pickering representing Joseph Backus are at St. Paul today seeking to have the supreme court set the appeal from Judge Hughes order denying an injunction to Backus in the water and light bond case on or before Aug. 27 as the city's option on the plant expires Oct. 1.

Hibbing Beat Plutos.

Hibbing, Minn., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hibbing again defeated the Plutos, the Hoosier negro ball team heer yesterday, 5 to 4. The same teams play again today. Tedisco twirled for the locals and allowed only six hits. Carroll caught. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Plutos	1 0 1 0 0 0 1 1 0	4	9	6
Hibbing	2 0 0 0 0 0 3 0 0	5	6	2

Virginia Eagles Picnic.

Virginia, Minn., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—The biggest picnic ever held by the local aerie of Eagles was enjoyed Sunday at Kinrose park with many visiting Eagles present.

Leave for Eastern Canada.

Keewatin, Minn., July 28.—Mrs. W. C. McMillan and little daughter, Katherine, and her niece, Miss Loretta O'Hern, of Hibbing, left last week for Eastern Canada.

Better Baby Contest.

Grand Rapids, Minn., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—One of the features of the county fair to be held here in September will be a "Better Baby" contest. Prizes are offered for the best baby 6 months and under 18 months, $5; separate prizes, one for the best boy and one for the best girl. Prizes are also offered for the best boy and girl 18 months and under 30 months, $5 each. The further details of the contest are to be announced later, with the exception of the notice that the entrance fee is free.

WIRELESS SERVICE TO BE IMPROVED

Marconi Company Will Have Equipment to Operate at Greater Distance.

The local branch of the Marconi Wireless company has taken over the station of the defunct Great Lakes Radio company and will equip it with the most modern apparatus, giving Duluth the best wireless service on the Great Lakes, according to Manager O. R. Redfern. With it messages can be handled a distance of 500 miles during summer days, 1,000 miles during summer nights, and three to four times that distance during the winter.

Manager Redfern explains that experts believe the difference in range is due to the fact that the wireless waves are affected by the sun. He says that the present station has a radius of not to exceed 200 miles on summer days. With the new outfit he states that communication can be had with the Atlantic coast. The tower will be 350 feet high.

DIGITALIS AND BRIGHTS DISEASE

There are more cases of Bright's Disease on Digitalis and Basham's Mixture than anything else. One is for the heart and the other is an iron tonic. Yet if the case is chronic the books admit the oucome will be failure.

Then why give them?—Because there is nothing in the pharmacopeia to counteract degeneration in the kidneys which is the real trouble and by holding up the heart and giving a tonic the patient may last a little longer.

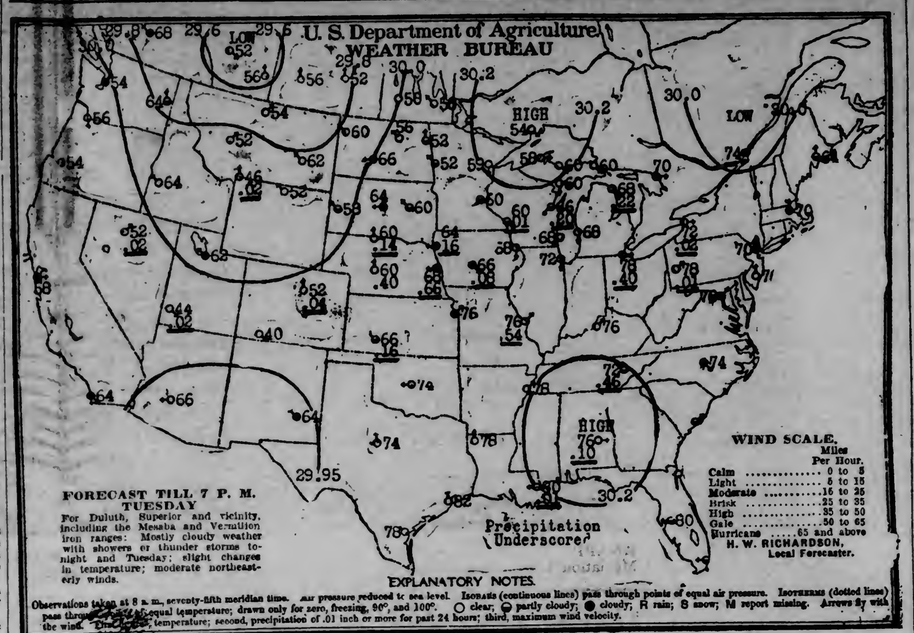

But is it not clear that if an agent has been worked out that counteracts Renal degeneration and thus prevents the escape of albumen that there is hope? That is the motive of Fulton's Renal Compound, a new result not reached by the pharmacopeia. That it gets this result can be proven by chemists with a little Picric and Citric acid.

We know of no chronic cases recovering under Digitalis and Basham's Mixture without Fulton's Renal Compound but thousands are getting results under the Renal Compound without Digitalis or Basham's Mixture. But they can be continued if necessary. There is no conflict.

If you have Bright's Disease you owe it to yourself and family to try Fulton's Renal Compound before giving up. It can be had at druggists supplied by Leithhead Drug company.

Ask for pamphlet on our investigation into the curability of Bright's Disease, or write John J. Fulton Co., San Francisco.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

FORECAST TILL 7 P. M. TUESDAY

For Duluth, Superior and vicinity, including the Mesaba and Vermilion iron ranges: Mostly cloudy weather with showers or thunder storms tonight and Tuesday; slight changes in temperature; moderate northeasterly winds.

EXPLANATORY NOTES.

Observations taken at 8 a. m., seventy-fifth meridian time. Air pressure reduced to sea level. Isobars (continuous lines) pass through points of equal air pressure. Isotherms (dotted lines) pass through points of equal temperature; drawn only for zero, freezing, 60°, and 100°. ○ clear; ◒ partly cloudy; ● cloudy; R rain; S snow; M report missing. Arrows fly with the wind. Figures: first, temperature; second, precipitation of .01 inch or more for past 24 hours; third, maximum wind velocity.

RAIN

Visitors atracted by Duluth's summer climate are getting their money's worth this year. The highest temperature yesterday was 72 deg., and the lowest last night was 50 deg. That's the kind of weather that appeals to the Duluth visitor even more than it does to the Duluthian, who is accustomed to it.

Rain fell a year ago today.

The sun rose this morning at 4:42 and it will set at 7:46 this evening, giving fifteen hours and four minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Temperatures of 90 deg. or higher occurred Saturday and Sunday over the Ohio, Mississippi and lower Missouri valleys and most of the Southern states. During the last twenty-four to forty-eight hours showers fell over the Rocky mountains, Middle Western states, the Lake region, Ohio and upper Mississippi valleys and Southeastern states. Indications favor showery weather in St. Louis and Douglas counties during the ensuing thirty-six hours and cool temperature in sections near Lake Superior."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, July 28.—Forecasts for twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Tuesday:

Upper Michigan—Fair tonight; Tuesday increasing cloudiness and warmer.

Wisconsin — Increasing cloudiness with probably local thunderstorms tonight or Tuesday; warmer tonight and in east portion Tuesday.

Minnesota—Showers tonight or Tuesday; warmer tonight.

Iowa—Probably thunder showers tonight or Tuesday; warmer in north and west portions tonight.

North Dakota—Generally fair in west, probably showers in east portion tonight or Tuesday; warmer in east portion tonight.

South Dakota—Generally fair in west, probably showers in east portion tonight or Tuesday; warmer tonight.

Montana—Generally fair tonight and Tuesday; cooler in east portion Tuesday.

Upper Lakes—Moderate easterly to southeasterly wind; fair weather tonight followed by increasing cloudiness Tuesday; warmer over the north portion.

DIES FROM HIS INJURIES

Collision of Street Car and Delivery Wagon Fatal to Boy Driver.

Boy Thrown to Pavement and Never Regains Consciousness.

Unconscious for three and one-half hours after being hurled from his seat on a delivery wagon, which was struck by a westbound car at Fifth avenue east and Third street, at 9 oclock Saturday evening, Eugene Potswald, 17 years old, died at St. Mary's hospital shortly before 2 o'clock yesterday morning.

Young Potswald was driving a delivery wagon for the Toben meat market, and had just left a package at the Toben residence, 1012 East Third street. He was driving the wagon along Third street, back to the store, when the accident happened. The street car, according to witnesses, was coming down the hill, and Potswald, realizing the impending danger and the inability to stop his horse, attempted to race across the tracks. The horse and front end of the wagon had crossed the tracks when the street car hit the rear end, precipitating Potswald and his companion, Emil Rusch, 16 years old, who was driving with him, to the pavement.

Potswald fell on his head, sustaining severe wounds about his head, neck and shoulders. The Rusch boy was slightly injured and was last evening able to leave for his home, 514 East Seventh street. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Rusch, and was riding about the city with Potswald and helping him make the meat deliveries.

EUGENE POTSWALD.

Eugene was unconscious when picked up by bystanders and was immediately rushed to St. Mary's hospital. He never recovered consciousness, and passed away shortly before 2 o'clock yesterday morning. The Rusch boy was also unconscious when picked up, but he regained consciousness at the hospital after a short while.

The Potswald boy had been driving the delivery wagon only on Saturdays, having obtained the position only two weeks ago. He was formerly a messenger boy for the Western Union.

Eugene was born in Duluth and had lived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Potswald, at 524 East Fourth street. He was graduated from the Franklin school two years ago. Besides his parents, he is survived by five sisters, Ella, Anna, Louise, Florence and Leona, and two brothers, Carl and a baby born on July 10. The mother is frantic at the death of her son, and it is feared that the sudden shock may have serious results.

The wagon was completely smashed by the street car, while the fender and front windows of the car were broken. the horse was uninjured.

The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the German Evangelical Lutheran church, Sixth avenue east and Fourth street. Rev. E. Lehne, pastor, will officiate, and interment will be at the Park Hill cemetery.

Call and see our violins on sale this week only at one-third to one-half off. Boston Music Co., 18-20 Lake avenue north.

SEE NO HOPE OF CHEAPER MEAT

The cost of meat, which is becoming more and more expensive, may be reduced by the removal of tariff on meat, and again it may not. The Wall Street Journal does not think that it will. In an editorial on the matter it has this to say:

"In anticipation of the removal of the tariff on meat, the department of agriculture is sending a deputation of meat experts to Argentina. The object is to explain conditions here to the Argentine packers and instruct them how to prepare meat for the markets.

"Our secretary of agriculture is a man who does not act unadvisedly. It is therefore to be assumed that he thoroughly understands the position. Also, to make food cheaper and more plentiful is so meritorious, that it seems almost a sin to criticise the endeavor. Yet, the facts do not warrant one in assuming that this effort will deliver a solar plexus to the high cost of living.

"If the United States looked like an inviting field to the Argentine steer he could easily vault over the tariff fence. But England has looked more inviting to him. That country takes now practically all the Argentine output. She must have it to feed her industrial population. Let the United States enter the market and two large buyers competing will raise the price. The bars are also being let down on the continent of Europe. This means a still wider market. We can get meat from Argentina, but it will be at a price on a parity with what other markets must pay.

"Demand is increasing, but the supply is not. The report of the Argentine minister of agriculture shows there has been no increase in cattle in the past four years. The number in 1908 were slightly larger than in 1912. Prices for cattle have felt the stimulus of a large demand, and have increased 50 per cent in ten years. Grain farming is pushing the cattle industry back on the frontiers. The area under cultivation has doubled in ten years. In short, our own experience is being repeated in Argentina. For years to come that country will probably have large quantities of beef to sell, but with the world clamoring for it how long will it stay cheap?"

In Duluth at the present time, meat prices are about at the highest point they have ever been.

BERRY BOXES STILL "SKIMPY"

New Law Does Not Take Effect Until After Sept. 1.

Duluth people will continue to get "skimped" pints and quarts of berries until after Sept. 1, which means that all of this season's sales will be made on any basis the packers may choose.

On Sept. 1 the law passed at the last session of the legislature requiring that berries be sold in containers holding a full quart or pint or half-pint will go into effect.

Charles C. Neale, commissioner of weights and measures under the state railroad and warehouse commission, is in Duluth today. He says the department is preparing rigidly to enforce the new law, and that after Sept. 1 the consumer who buys a quart or a pint of berries will get full measure, or the seller will be in danger of the penalties provided by the new law.

The law prohibits the sale of the boxes to fruit growers or shippers.

High Cattle Prices.

Mandan, N. D., July 28.—(Special to The Herald.)—Receiving as high as $9[illegible] for some of a recent shipment of cattle, Flus Zueger reports the entire shipment averaged $75, and he believes it is more profitable than raising wheat

No girl should allow herself to become pale, bloodless and weak and thus lay the foundation for a life time of ill health and misery. Let every girl ask herself today if her blood is as pure and rich as it should be. Crullers or Fried Cakes

Never Greasy

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

Everyone likes fried cakes or crullers. Here's a very superior recipe. Follow directions closely—success is certain. 44

K C Crullers or Fried Cakes

Three cups sifted flour; 1½ level teaspoonfuls K C Baking Powder; ½ teaspoonful mace or nutmeg; ½ teaspoonful salt; 2 eggs, beaten light; ½ cup granulated sugar; 3 tablespoonfuls melted butter; ½ cup skimmed milk.

Sift together, three times, the flour, KC baking powder, mace and salt. Add the sugar, butter and milk to the beaten eggs and stir into the dry ingredients to make a stiff dough. Knead slightly; then cut with fried cake cutter. Drop into a deep kettle filled with hot fat; drain on soft paper or colander and roll in powdered sugar.

To fry have fat at smoking point, turn crullers several times while frying to insure all parts being equally light and thoroughly cooked.

By all means, send for the K C Cook's Book—it's free and it contains 90 just such appetizing recipes. Send the colored certificate packed in 25-cent cans to the JAQUES MFG. CO., Chicago, and write name and address plainly.

REFERENDUM IS ASSURED

Petition for Submission of Ordinance Said to Be Complete.

Other Subjects to Be Submitted---Report of a "Dry" Movement.

It was reported at the city hall this morning that the required number of signatures has been secured for the petition to have a referendum on the new Hicken liquor ordinance.

In view of that statement some expected that the petition would be filed with the city clerk today. Attorney Hugh McClearn, who was retained as counsel by the business men who attended the meeting at which it was decided to have the code submitted to a vote of the people, said that the petition will not be presented today. Saturday is the last day on which the petition may be filed, so that it may be expected any time during the remainder of the week.

After the petition is filed City Clerk Charles S. Palmer will examine it to ascertain whether or not it contains the names of 1,029 qualified voters, or 10 per cent of the number of votes cast at the last municipal election. The clerk will then attach a certificate of sufficiency and present it to the commission. The commission is then required to reconsider the ordinance, repeal it or submit it to a vote of the people. As there is small prospect of its repeal it will go to the voters for approval or disapproval. In the meantime the measure is suspended from going into operation.

Other Subjects May Come Up.

Several other matters have been suggested for submission at the same time. One is an ordinance having as its object the establishment of a water and light board, similar to that of the old regime. Another is an amendment allowing the commissioners to make purchases up to $200, instead of $100, without advertising for bids. A third is to amend the charter to enable the city to make advance assessments for public improvements, while still remaining the feature which will enable those who want extensions to get them. Relative to the last City Attorney Harvey Clapp has submitted a tentative ordinance to Finance Commissioner Voss in which provision is made for advance assessments, which is taken to indicate that he believes advance assessments can be made without altering the present charter.

Bert Wheeler of the Civic league said Saturday that certain citizens have under consideration a proposal to initiate an ordinance giving the voters an opportunity to vote upon the proposition whether Duluth should be "wet" or "dry." In answer to a question as to the legal status of the proposition he stated that the laws have been examined and that the people could make Duluth "dry" at such an election. He said that the plan suggested has been to have such an ordinance submitted at the same time as the referendum election on the liquor ordinance.

SNYDER CARRIES RECORD ORE CARGO

One Steamer Holds Records for Ore and Grain Cargoes.

The steamer William P. Snyder, Jr., cleared yesterday morning with 12,360 tons of iron ore for Lake Erie, making a new record, after having broken the old one six weeks ago, at which time she took 12,222 tons of ore down the lakes. The increased draft at the Soo locks has made it possible for the big steamer to get over the sill with the greater cargo.

Only recently the Snyder broke another record, that of wheat carrying. She took to Buffalo 464,000 bushels of wheat from local elevators. The Col. James M. Schoonmaker, sister ship to the Snyder, Jr., will try to break the records made by the latter, and it is expected that the rivalry between the crews of the two steamers will prove to be very keen before the season is out.

Shoal Disclosed.

Capt. E. D. Peck, United States engineer at Duluth, has reported to the Detroit office of the United States lake survey that a temporary buoy now marks a shoal, hitherto uncharted, at the entrance to the Presque Isle harbor. The steamer William G. Mather struck this shoal June 23 and sustained considerable damage. Inspection disclosed a shoal about 100 feet long by 40 feet wide. In the shallow places the water was but 17.2 feet deep. A permanent bouy will be placed to mark the shoal.

Company Incorporated.

W. H. Gratwick of Buffalo and John Mitchell of Cleveland, owners of the freighter J. J. McWilliams, have incorporated the Gratwick Steamship company to operate the vessel. The other incorporators were C. W. Fuller, L. R. Canfield and J. L. Bradley.

COWS AND PLOWS IN THE NORTHERN MINNESOTA WILDERNESS

Farmer's Weekly Has Interesting Article on the Work of A. J. McGuire of Grand Rapids Experiment Station.

A. J. McGuire, superintendent of the Minnesota experiment station at Grand Rapids, is the subject of a most eulogistic article in The Country Gentleman of July 26 under the caption "Pathfinder for the Poor Man's Farm. The Crooked Cow-path is a Straight Road to Profits." The author of the article is Forrest Crissey, and he deals with Mr. McGuire's methods in developing cut-over lands so that they will pay the farmer from the start. The article is reproduced here, and follows:

"The Minnesota experiment station found itself with a lanky young Irishman on its hands whose individual architecture didn't seem to fit into the subdued landscape about the college grounds. He looked to be built for sterner things. So when he developed an interest in the problem of conquering the cut-over pine lands he was told to go to it and see what he could do. Not that much was expected of the experiment—but if anybody could extract blood from a turnip or crops from a timbered Sahara, McGuire was the man for the job.

Eager to Go.

"And McGuire was as pleased to go up into the stump country as if he were being sent to the Court of St. James! McGuire wanted to do something for the state—something real and practical—and if he could show how to convert cut-over pine land into paying farms that would certainly be something substantial. Wasn't a full third of Minnesota just that sort of land? The bigness and hardness of the task appealed to him. Besides, this idea of helping to show the poor man how to take cheap land and make it pay without fighting through a pioneer period of semi-starvation before getting the little farm on a productive basis got right next to his big Irish heart. In the job that was given him he saw opportunity, not banishment, and he went to it with a will.

"After looking over the ground he came to the conclusion that the average settler on cut-over pine lands generally began at the wrong end of the task by starting on the basis that the amount of land he could clear, plow and put into crops was the measure and the limit of activities. McGuire looked at it this way:

Two Main Problems.

"'The two main problems that every new settler on the cut-over pine lands faces are: First, getting a living—and a little more, if possible—from his place right from the start; second, building up the fertility of the soil so that it will do better by him each year. The average settler seems to think that the whole problem of getting on is focused into the question: "How many acres can I clear and put under the plow?"

"'It had been drilled into me that the surest and quickest way to build up the fertility of soil was to keep livestock on it. Now a cow can go round a stump, but a plow has never acquired the habit of stump-dodging. By going over acre after acre of that cut-over land I saw that there was quite a crop of grass between the stumps. There was some native clover. It was not fancy pasturage by any means, but there was enough grass to give a limited number of cows ample grazing.

"'So I made up my mind that the right way to begin was to make the uncleared land pay from the start, and to build up its fertility against the time when it could be cleared and put under the plow. Clearing cut-over land is a slow and expensive process, as every pine-land settler knows to his sorrow. He generally gets discouraged before he can clear enough land to yield him, in the form of field crops, a meager living. My plan was a reversal of this order, and my motto was: Start with the milk pail instead of the ax, with the cow instead of the plow; make the uncleared land carry the burden of keeping the family and pulling the stumps.

"'Again, I was located in the heart of what you might call a milkless territory. The pine country had never been strong on cows; but its woods swarmed with lumber camps and the great iron mines were right in our territory. We had an eager and unfailing market for milk, cream and all dairy products right at hand.'

Experiment a Success.

"McGuire started his demonstration with grade cows, but headed his herd with a registered Guernsey bull. The cows did not disappoint him. They picked up a good living 'between stumps' during the pasturing season. The dairy experiment was a success from the very start. Last year his herd of forty cows brought an income of $4,720 from milk and cream, $272 from calves and $74 from miscellaneous sources, a total of $5,066. He declares that this rough, uncleared pasture has yielded as large a net revenue, acre for acre, as any pasture land in the United States. The average milk production of forty cows for 1912 was 5,629 pounds or 247 pounds of butter fat a cow. The present dairy herd contains sixty milking cows and an equal number of young stock. Last winter the dairy sales were from $550 to $600 a month.

"Although McGuire began his task of taming the pine wilderness with the dairy herd, instead of waiting until he had cleared and cropped a large part of the land before venturing to put on cows, he has pushed the work of clearing as fast as convenience dictated. Today he has 110 acres under cultivation.

"The total sales from this cut-over farm last year were $7,144.55. How many farms of 110 tilled acres in the fattest regions of the corn belt have done better than this? Some have—but those that have not are legion.

"What was the big money-getter of the crops? Potatoes! He has made his soil yield, under practical field conditions, 396 bushels of good marketable potatoes to the acre. And he didn't spend a dollar for commercial fertilizer to produce this yield. He did it all with barnyard manure—and plenty of it! His careful cost-accounting system shows that these potatoes were produced at an expense of not quite 15 cents a bushel.

"'Our farmers,' he remarks, 'can make good money from potatoes at 25 cents a bushel—but we're thankful that we don't often have to sell them at that price.'

Sheep Profitable.

"Sheep on this pine land farm has been found decidedly profitable. The books show that their wool has paid for their keep and that the lambs have been a net profit—to say nothing of the clearing and fertilizing services of the flock.

"Clover is the keynote in the process of soil building—the rotation being oats, fodder corn and potatoes or field roots. As a hay crop, clover is a mainstay on this sand farm.

"'In 1912,' says McGuire, 'our yield of medium red clover was five tons to the acre—three tons from the first cutting and two from the second. Clover just fits this soil—in fact, we find it growing wild. Anybody who thinks that land producing clover in this way is not fit for profitable farming has another guess coming!

"'And this same despised and unpromising soil has been made to yield as high as 32 tons of rutabagas to the acre! The normal yield, however, has been 15 tons. This root crop has been one of the main features of profitable milk production on this cut-over farm. All the creatures on the place, from the chickens to the cattle, thrive on these roots.

"When Mr. McGuire started the North Central experiment station nine years ago, the cut-over land in that locality near Grand Rapids, Minn.—was selling for $7.50 an acre. Today the buyer must pay double that price. Why? Because the work done by this pathfinder to the 'poor man's farm' has shown that the short cut in conquering the cut-over pine lands is by way of the cow path. The cow that goes 'round the stump is able to carry the heavy end of financing the clearing opera-

The incorporators above named shall compose the first board of directors. Two or more of said offices may be held by one person, if the board of directors shall so decide. The board of directors shall be elected by the stockholders at their annual meeting, and the other officers shall be chosen by the directors at their first meeting after each annual meeting of the stockholders. The directors and officers shall hold their respective offices for a term of one year and until their successors are elected and qualified.

ARTICLE VII.

The annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held on the third Wednesday in August in each year, at such hour and place as shall be fixed by the by-laws of the corporation.

ARTICLE VIII.

The capital stock of this corporation shall be of the par value of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00), and shall be divided into five hundred shares of the par value of one hundred dollars ($100.00) each. The same shall be paid in as called for by the board of directors, either in money or in property.

ARTICLE IX.

The highest amount of indebtedness or liability to which this corporation may be subject at any time is the sum of eight hundred thousand dollars ($800,000.00).

Sale of School and Other State Lands

State of Minnesota, State Auditor's Office.
St. Paul, July 8, 1913.

Notice is hereby given, That on Aug. 20, 1913, at 10 o'clock A. M., in the office of the County Auditor at Duluth, St. Louis County, in the state of Minnesota, I will offer for sale certain unsold state lands and also those state lands which have reverted to the state by reason of the non-payment of interest.

Terms: Fifteen per cent of the purchase price and interest on the unpaid balance from date of sale to June 1st, 1914, must be paid at the time of sale. The balance of purchase money is payable in whole or in part on or before forty years from date of sale; the rate of interest on the unpaid balance is four per cent per annum, payable in advance on June

WHEAT DOWN ON VISIBLE

Report Shows It Surprisingly Heavy and So Are Receipts.

Good Growing Weather Also Affects Both Wheat and Flax.

Duluth Board of Trade, July 28.—The net fall off in wheat today was heavy, the visible supply report being the final touch to a situation that was already weakened by the heavy primary and terminal receipts and good weather reports. Declines: July, ¾c; September and December spring, each 1@1⅛c; July durum, 1⅛c; September durum, 1@1⅛c.

Rye is 1c off, corn is ¾c up, and oats and barley are unchanged.

September puts, 88¼c bid; calls, 86⅞c bid.

Wheat is on the toboggan today, and is doing a fairly fast slide down the incline. Cause is plentiful. To begin with, there was a big surprise in the reported visible wheat supply of wheat. This shows an increase of over 3,000,000 bu, and it was a jar to the bulls to find that much in sight. Continued good reports from the Northwest also serve as a further inducement for wheat to decline. Reports have it that the weather for growing and filling in most parts of the Northwest and on both sides of the boundary is practically perfect and the indications for a first-class crop are better and better as time goes on.

September and December spring wheat and both durum options are each off 1c as a result of this bearish combination and the market is still going down. July wheat, with but little activity, is ¾c off. All the options but July spring started off immediately after the opening this morning for a decline, and there have been few halts during the session.

Decline in Flax Also.

Good reports of growing weather from all parts of the flax growing country is causing many offers to sell, and making the acceptances scarcer these days. The result, as always in such cases, is a decline in price, and one, slight only, happened today in the Duluth market. July and September flax each lost ⅛c, October was unchanged and November and December each lost ⅜c.

George W. Spalsbury of the Duluth-Superior Milling company returned this morning from his first visit to New York city in many years. He is a native New Yorker and therefore took keen interest in viewing the changes. His story of his reintroduction to Broadway and Coney Island is worth listening to and the board of trade habitues are getting an "earfull."

Samuel Hoover and B. F Stone are back from separate tours of North Dakota, during which they viewed the crops.

World's shipments of wheat last week amounted to 9,392,000 bu against 10,320,000 bu the week before and 10,352,000 bu a year ago. The world's shipments were divided as follows:

LeCount wires from Leeds, N. D.: "From Grand Forks here crop below average. Some fields fair, others poor. Heads filling well and expected to be of good quality. Think wheat here will make 7 to 10 bushels per acre. Weather clear, cool and favorable."

* * *

T. W. Lewis of Minneapolis wires: "Returning from Minot I found the central counties of North Dakota with a condition at least equal to an average crop. There is every indication that the outcome will be greatly above expectations, and I look for North Dakota to produce at least 90,000,000 bushels this year."

G. M. Lecount wires from Devils Lake, N. D.:

"The weather continues very favorable. Wheat is spotted but there is great improvement in this county from Lakota and there is a lot of very good wheat also lots of poor thin fields but the general average is very much better than it was last trip here. I believe this section will average about ten bushels."

MINNEAPOLIS MARKET.

New Low Prices Are Reached in the Wheat Pit.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 28.—Further improvement in spring wheat and ideal weather for late planting and early harvest caused prices to go to new lows. Estimates on Northwestern crops being raised, July closed ⅞c lower than Saturday, September ⅞c lower and December ⅝@¾c lower. Local elevator stocks decreased 375,000 bu for two days.

July opened 85½c, high, 85½c, low, 84⅝c, closed, 84⅝c; September opened, 87¼c to 87c; high, 87¼c; low, 86⅜c; closed, 86⅜c; December opened, 90⅝c; high, 90¼c; low, 89⅝c; closed, 89½@89⅝c.

Closing cash: No. 1 hard, 89¼c; No. 1 northern, 88⅛@88⅝c; to arive, 87⅛@88⅛c; choice to arive, 88⅝c; No. 2 northern, 85¼@86⅜c; No. 2 hard Montana, 84⅝c; No. 3 wheat, 83⅝@85⅛c. No. 3 yellow corn, 61½@62c; No. 3 white oats, 38¼@38½c; No. 2 rye, 55@57c.

Flax—Receipts, 26 cars; year ago, 27; shipments, none. Demand fair for choice flax, slow for other grades. Closing price, $1.38@1.40⅝.

Barley—Receipts, 53 cars; year ago, 3; shipments, 27. Demand good for choice barley only, prices unchanged.

The flour market was not as active today. Millers reported a falling off in sales and demand was generally quoted only fair. Prices unchanged. Shipments today, 48,505 bbl. Bran—Prices unchanged.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Declines on Weak Cables and Fine Weather.

Chicago, July 29.—Wheat declined today on account of weak cables and because of the fine weather Northwest. Nearly all the pit traders took to the bear side. Commission house demand on resting orders, however, checked the downward turn. The opening was ¼@⅜c to ½c lower. September, which started at 86⅛c to 86¼c, a loss of ¼@⅜c to ⅜@½c, fell to 86@86⅛c.

Subsequently a further setback resulted from the poorness of export call and from a big increase in the visible supply. The close was nervous with September ¾c net lower, at 86@86⅛c.

Active buying rallied corn after an early dip due to a little rain in Kansas and elsewhere. September opened ⅛@¾c off to a shade up at 62⅝c to 62⅞c and rose to 63¾@63⅝c.

Any important reaction was prevented by assertions that the crop was firing in Iowa and Illinois. The close was firm at 63⅛@63⅜c for September, a gain of ½c.

Oats took the same course as corn. September started 1-16 to ⅛@¼c down at 40⅛c to 40¼c and climbed to 40⅝c.

Provisions weakened with hogs, but developed strength when the coarse grains bulged. First sales varied from 2½c lower to an advance of 10c with September options as follows: Pork, $21.27½; lard, $11.77½; ribs, $11.80.

REMARKS—Showers fell over South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, Southern Wisconsin, Michigan and the Ohio valley; hot weather prevailed in the Ohio, Middle Mississippi and Lower Missouri valley states.

H. W. RICHARDSON, Local Forecaster.

‖—Not included in the district averages.
‡—Maximum of yesterday, minimum of last night.
*—Highest yesterday.
†—Lowest for twenty-four hours, ending at 8 a. m., seventy-fifth meridian time.

Note—The average highest and lowest temperatures are made up at each center from the actual number of reports received, and the average precipitations from the number of stations reporting 0.10 inch or more. The "state of weather" is that prevailing at time of observation.

STOCKS ARE IRREGULAR

Market Opens With Rise in Prices and More Activity.

Final Hour's Dull Dealings Are Marked By Substantial Recessions.

New York, July 28.—In the first hour of today's stock market a decided broadening of activity was seen, together with a further advance in prices. Virtually all the leaders were up a point or more, with greater gains in some specialties. Trading was largely professional, however, and no small part of the rise resulted from a retirement of the short interest. With the approach of noon, business slackened in a marked manner, but without much effect on prices.

A favorable factor was the withdrawal by the Eastern railroads of their grievances, thus opening the way to amicable arbitration of matters now in dispute. Panama 2's were weak, breaking into new low ground on the bid price of 95.

Bonds were steady.

The features of today's strong opening were New Haven and Amalgamated Copper, each rising 1½ points. Great Northern, Reading, Chesapeake & Ohio and other active issues rose from material fractions to a point. Trading was active with indications of unusual breadth.

Bull operators maintained the upper hand and put the list considerably higher despite realizing sales and offerings by the bears. Chesapeake & Ohio was run up 2⅝ to 56 and numerous other shares gained from 1 to 2 points.

Commission business expanded and there was further absorption for foreign account, contributing largely to the market's strong tone. The rise failed to bring out the supply of stocks instrumental in the early rise. This encouraged more buying for the bull account. Among specialties, American express lost another 6 points, declining to 145.

The only feature of the later session, was its comparative dullness. Business fell to the level where it failed to possess any significance, but prices showed little tendency to yield, even when moderate pressure was directed against certain issues.

The market closed irregular. Some very substantial recessions extending to over a point in Union Pacific marked the final hour's dull dealings. There was little or no demand at the lower level and no renewal of operations by the shorts.

You Reach the RIGHT People in the Right Way—When You Put Your Want Ad in THE DULUTH HERALD.

YOU WILL BE SURPRISED

AT THE NUMBER OF UNUSED THINGS YOU CAN FIND AROUND YOUR HOME — OLD COATS AND SUITS, ODD PIECES OF FURNITURE, BOOKS, OLD SEWING MACHINES, ICE BOXES, GAS RANGES, COUCHES, ETC.

You will be surprised again, if you will advertise these things in the "FOR SALE" columns of The Herald Want Ads, to learn how quickly you can sell them, how very little it will cost you and

HOW EASY IT IS TO GET MONEY!

Hunt up a few things that you don't want, and put an ad in the "FOR SALE" columns of THE HERALD for three or four days, and see how easy it is to sell them.

If you can't come to The Herald office, phone, either line, 324, and a Want Ad clerk will help you write up an ad that will get you good results.

PUT YOUR "FOR SALE" AD IN THE HERALD.
